Enemy Weakens Front In East To Prosecute Drive Through Serbia

Russians Likely to Take Advantage and Make Early Attack on Weakened Forces—Italians Gain More Successes—Austrians Hurl Big Guns into Ravines

London, Nov. 3.—The Times Petrograd correspondent says that more Austro-German troops are being sent from the Russian front into the Serbian campaign. He anticipates that an opportunity will soon come for the Russian commanders to strike at the diminishing Teutonic forces confronting them. He says that interference with the German sea route to Libau by submarines has compelled the Germans to hurriedly a branch railway from Krotting, near Memei to Muraviovo, on the Libau-Drinsk railway, supplementing the existing line from Tiliat to Shavil.

RUSSIAN CAST GUNS INTO RAVINES

Reims, Nov. 3.—Austrian regiments fighting on the Isonzo-Carnio lines on October 21, 22, 23 and 24, lost more than half their effectiveness, says the Times. Unable to save pieces of heavy artillery, the Austrians rolled them into ravines and torrents. Twelve and seventeen inch guns in positions on Mounts Santo and Sabatino to defend Gorizia were dismantled and sent to the front. The Austrians occupied by the Italians before Gorizia enable them to bombard the Austrian defenses located farthest to the east of the city.

New Governor in Massachusetts Wins by 6,663—Prohibition Decried in Ohio and Drys Win in Virginia

New York, Nov. 3.—Elections there of ten states yesterday emphatically defeated woman suffrage amendments—New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania. The voting also gave the Republicans an additional representation in congress and a new governor in Massachusetts. The Democrats, apparently, elected a governor in Maryland and an entire state ticket besides a majority in the state legislature.

Vivid Story of the Charge of the Picked Band From the 26th—William McKay Tells of His Own Escape From Death and of Efforts to Save Sergeant Frank Cotter

A vivid story of his experiences is given by William McKay, one of the gallant leaders of the 26th Battalion, who made the now famous attack on the crater, in a letter to his brother, Robert McKay, 479 Main street. He tells of the death of Sergeant Frank L. Cotter and of his own efforts to save the sergeant after he was first wounded.

The letter is as follows: Belgium, Oct. 31, 1915. Dear Brother—I would like to tell you something of the charge we made on October 13. It was a hard fight, but we got what we went after. We lost sixty or seventy men killed and wounded, but I think they lost six or seven hundred. That is very nearly ten to one.

Poor Bob Keenan and I were together in the charge, but in the smoke he got away from me and went too close to the German lines and got a bad wound in the side of the neck. He was also shot in the leg, and had his arm broken. He was almost dead, so I went on. There were seven of us in the crater, and they all got out but me. I was on the wrong side, and I ran into four big Germans, bigger than Sanford Spight; they seemed to be very much scared, and I found no trouble in getting away from them.

Sergeant Cotter was badly wounded, but he stuck there until I got out, and I was the last one to come out of the crater on Monday. The new lieutenant went up in smoke, and then I saw Sgt. Cotter fall over. After that I got him on my back, and we went for another soldier, but he got shot again in the head and fell very much scared, and I found no trouble in getting away from them.

London Papers' Opinions—Carson Likely to Lead Opposition in Commons Composed of Some Unionists and Radicals

London, Nov. 3.—Among the London morning papers which have been the most severe critics of the government, the Post is today its strongest antagonist. The Post, in a downright editorial criticism says:—"We find little ground for hope from the Asquith speech and little consolation in his rhetoric. The country is being forced to see by the mere pressure of events that our affairs are being grossly mismanaged, and we rejoice that Sir Edward Carson had the honesty and courage to make a veracious report to the country of the state of affairs and indecision, which, if we are to avoid disaster, must be ended somehow or other."

HALLOWEEN EVENT

A very pleasant Halloween treat was given by the members of Miss Edna Wright's Sunday school class on Monday evening at her home in George street, Fairville. The little tots enjoyed themselves with games and music suitable to the occasion. Later in the evening the silent ghost arrived and treated the kiddies to many good things. The social was brought to a close by the singing of the national anthem.

Seek To Overthrow The Rumanian Government;

New One With The Allies Would Require Allies, However, to Land Half Million Troops

Milan, Nov. 3.—The Rumanian opposition, led by Take Jonescu and M. Filippesco, is doing its utmost to overthrow the Rumanian cabinet and form a new national ministry favorable to the allies, says a Bucharest despatch to the Secolo. It is semi-officially stated, however, that Rumania would enter the war only after the allies had landed half a million men, as otherwise it would be impossible for her to carry on a war on two fronts.

RECRUITING MEETINGS TONIGHT, THURSDAY, BIG RALLY ON MONDAY

St. Michael's Hall and Recruiting Headquarters This Evening—Those Who Will Speak

In St. Michael's Hall, Main street, North End, opposite Adelaide street, there will be an inspiring gathering tonight in the interests of the 104th Battalion. Hon. R. J. Ritchie will make one of his man to man appeals and he will be followed by the returned wounded Highlander, Sergt. Knight. Ruskon, Rantoujce, the eminent Hindoo and editor of the Oriental Review, Bombay, will also speak. Steve Matthews, entertainer, will recite and sing and there will be some instrumental selections. It is expected the capacity of the hall will be taxed. Tonight in the recruiting headquarters, corner Mill and Union streets, there will also be music. Sergt. Knight and others will speak to the large crowd of passers-by who drop into these spacious quarters during the evening.

The returned soldier is always sure of a most welcome hearing and his remarks are always manly and to the point. On Thursday evening three great meetings are on the cards. In the drill hall on the west side, a free and easy men's meeting with the smoking privileges will be held at which Rev. M. E. Fletcher and others will speak. Good entertainment is being provided to be interspersed. Carleton has already done so handsomely by the 104th regiment and it is expected more recruits will be forthcoming from that loyal end of town.

In Victoria rink building tomorrow evening the Valley district recruiting committee will continue their efforts with another of their rousing gatherings. Singers, reciters, and instrumental soloists have volunteered their services and arrangements are being completed for a frisson for several notable speakers. In Temperance Hall, Fairville, on the same evening a rally, encompassing the whole Lancaster district will be held and Sergt. Knight and Hon. R. J. Ritchie will speak.

The Friday night meeting in Queen's rink will be another gathering of general public character for the discussion of quickly filling the ranks of the new 104th regiment. Lieut. Col. Fowler has already secured about 1,000 men and it will need only another effort such as was made last week to round out the crack new battalion in splendid shape. It is truly remarkable that the 104th has been recruited so quickly and so splendidly as to its types of soldiers. It certainly holds the record for speedy mobilization although there are many already ready that any succeeding New Brunswick regiments will receive equal prompt treatment. The Friday night meeting will be addressed by Hon. James A. Murray of the local legislature and Sergt. Knight. Five bands will march from the outer edges of the city towards the rink and bring with them their own folk. Women are not to be allowed in the rink until after 8:30 o'clock.

The loan will be offered by subscription at the end of the month. Mr. White has been in conference with insurance companies, banks and other financial institutions, which are counted upon for wide subscriptions.

"GRAUSTARK" AT THE IMPERIAL

"Graustark" by George Barr McCutcheon, is one of the most popular romances in fiction and is the first and best of a class of rosy love stories which has attained great popularity. In its picture form as shown in Imperial Theatre tonight and tomorrow it will undoubtedly attract every reader of the novel and also those who particularly enjoy this special kind of story. It is doubtful if two players are better suited to the principal roles in "Graustark" than Francis X. Bushman and Miss Beverly Bayne. Both are handsome types and Gentell Leroy, the wealthy and intriguing young American, Mr. Bushman excellently himself. Miss Bayne as Princess Yette, portrays the part charmingly. The cast in support of these leading players brings out all the strength of the splendid Essany forces and the scenic settings are gorgeous successes of the high class in the new order of show film pictures. The Imperial will also show His Weekly News photos and Madame Furlong-Schmidt will sing.

Dean Hole, of Rochester, England, tells of an innocent and obliging curate who went to a Yorkshire parish where many of the parishioners bred horses and sometimes raced them. A few Sundays after his arrival he was asked to invite the prayers of the congregation for Lucy Gray. He did so. They prayed for three Sundays for her. On the fourth Sunday the church clerk told the curate that he need not do R any more. "Why?" he asked "is she dead?" "No," said the clerk; "she's won the stephacks."

The curate became quite a power in the par.

Edith Cavell, A Maiden Martyr. (Montreal Star.) The martyrdom of Edith Cavell, gentle nurse and sister of succour, shrinks back, as if it were a younger brother, before her friends could intervene. And, as this Christian English girl faced death in the first hours of the morning, she must have found comfort in remembering that other martyr of the Divine exponent of infinite pity whose "executions" also hurried through the night under cover of night, and thrust Him before Pilate in the early morning ere "the common people" who loved her were any more able than the friends of Edith Cavell to intervene.

FRENCH ADVANCE Paris, Nov. 3.—A Bulgarian attack on French troops in Southern Serbia, near Krivolak, has been repulsed. In the region of Strumitsa, the French are advancing on the mountains near the frontier. BUBBLED TODAY The funeral of Robert Barry took place this morning from the residence of Edward Hayes, 7 Millidge avenue, to St. Peter's for instance, died a great factor in health, and you are responsible for it, then again as any member of your family gets into a run-down condition, when the children are delicate, cross and ailing, when somebody takes cold and develops a cough, they look to you for help. Do you know that our local druggists, The Ross Drug Co., and Wasson's Drug Store have a non-secret constitutional remedy known as Vinol which they guarantee for just such conditions. Many families in this vicinity have found it so reliable they are never without it.

It is the request of the Patriotic fund executive that this should be done until some other arrangement for their collection can be devised.

THE BEST QUALITY AT A REASONABLE PRICE Little Eye Troubles Lead to Big Ones! Neglect of the eyes is responsible for almost all of the trouble with vision and many cases of total blindness. And because the eyes are adjusted so unconsciously, the troubles are often neglected for the simple reason that the sufferer doesn't know they exist. They are not found out until they have become big troubles. If you know you have eye troubles, or if you suspect that your eyes are not all right, you ought to consult Sharpe's optometrists. Doing so is being sure of the right care for your eyes.

LAST NIGHT'S WAR CABLES
London, Nov. 2.—Premier Asquith's stinging speech in the house of commons today on the policy and plans of Great Britain monopolizes the attention of Europe tonight, and the fighting, although it has been severe on some of the fronts, is receiving little thought.
The Austro-Germans and Bulgarians continue their advance in Serbia, and are daily drawing closer to Nish, making the position of the Serbian army in the north more precarious. It is believed here, however, that the Serbians will be able to withdraw to the mountains and resist the invaders until the assistance which the Entente Allies have promised draws some of the pressure from them.
The British and French troops which were landed at Saloniki already are doing this in the south, and the news of a Russian contingent, which is variously reported as having landed at Varna, or to be approaching Bulgaria, through Roumania, is anxiously awaited.
On the western front, except for some fighting in Champagne, there is little or nothing doing, but on the eastern front at least three or four big battles are in progress.
The Germans continue their efforts to approach from the west, the Russians are attacking west of Dvinsk, and along the lakes south of that city wild attacks and counter-attacks are almost continuous on the Styria river, in Volynia and along the Stripa in Galicia. Both sides are claiming the advantage.
The offensive of the Italians against the Austrians also continues, although Vienna reports that it is meeting with no success.

JOFFE AND KITCHENER TALK ONE-STAFF PLAN
Closer Co-Ordination of the Allied Armies Reported Aim of Two Chiefs
London, Nov. 2.—A new plan of centralised military control for the allies, and particularly for France and England, is believed to have been the subject of the conference between General Joffre and Lord Kitchener. The Balkan situation, it is stated, made the conference of the two military chiefs.
No doubt is felt here that the subject of the conference concerned a more closely co-ordinated military policy among the allies.
For some time the necessity for a more unified effort by Germany's enemies has been voiced by both political and military leaders. The inclusion of the Balkans in the field of general operations has brought the issue to a head.

SAYS MANY DISEASES TRACED TO SMOKING
New York, Nov. 2.—Dr. John Aikman, of Rochester, gives in the New York Medical Journal the results of experiments to determine the effect of smoking on the circulation. He suggests that the great increase in circulatory diseases during the last hundred years may be attributed to smoking.
"the effect on the pulse of smoking but one cigarette was marked, writes Dr. Aikman, sixteen out of twenty-seven subjects showing an increase of more than eight beats a minute. In some cases the rise was spectacular and came on in one or two minutes or almost as soon as the pulse was taken. Of the twenty-seven cases, all gave an increase, except four, and two of the four had an abnormally high pulse at the start."
"The results show that cigarettes often do cause a marked rise in pulse, make the pulse irregular, and cause a change in blood pressure, the effects being more marked if the smoke is inhaled."
BELLBOY MAKES $11,000 ON A WAR STOCK TIP
New York, Nov. 1.—Bellboys at the Waldorf-Astoria were waiting for their chance, John O'Boyle, with curious interest yesterday. They formerly knew him as "John O." but had altered his name to "John D."
But "John O." gave little heed. At the cry of "Front!" he answered the call with his usual alacrity—and it was said that his disposition showed no change in the matter of a few minutes. The same was a pleased smile on "John O's" lips all day and his mates shared it whenever they caught his eye.
The secret of the smile was not hard to learn. Some good patron whose bag "John O." carries regularly had given him a tip when the war babies came to town and the bell boy had plumped with the whole of his savings—$850. On Saturday he sold out and found himself the possessor of $11,000.

DANDRUFF ON HEAD IN DRY CRUST
Hair Came Out, Scalp Itched and Burned. Scales Like Sawdust. Cuticura Healed in Six Weeks.
"THE PAIR, Manitoba—"Four years ago I began to lose my hair. It used to come out any time that I combed it. I think it was because my head was full of dandruff. Whenever I brushed in the scales fell off like sawdust. My scalp also itched and burned and my hair was like a dry crust. The dandruff showed very plainly.
"I applied several remedies but found no improvement till I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. After using Cuticura Soap and Ointment a few days I found a great difference so I continued with them six weeks and they completely healed me." (Signed) L. D. Lockwood, June 4, 1914.

THIS TREMENDOUS STOCK MUST BE SOLD!

Just the mere fact that we are selling these Pianos at a fraction of their actual value, does not for an instant impede the real artistic merit of these wonderful Pianos. Every man, woman and child in the Maritime Provinces is thoroughly familiar with the quality of such Pianos as the "Amberst," "Gerhard Heintzman," "Kaufman," "Blondely" and the other pianos we carry. Imagine coming to this store and buying a real, genuine "Gerhard Heintzman Piano for $180, and on terms of $10 down and $2 a week. This is the spirit of this sale. Think of coming to this store and buying a real, genuine $600 Amberst Piano, guaranteed for twenty years, and buying it at a direct factory price. We do not dare to advertise the prices we are asking for our best Piano at this sale, as it would hurt the chances of our dealers throughout Canada. The spirit of this sale is just this. Every Piano must be sold at some price, and the mere fact that it happens to be a brand new "Amberst" or a "Gerhard Heintzman," or some other well known make, will not stop us from slashing the price to fit the pocket-book. Every Piano, regardless of former price, must be sold, and any honest man or woman in the Maritime Provinces can come here and buy a piano at a price so low that it will beggar comparison. The pianos will soon be all sold at this present rate. Come today or tonight—but be here.

READ THIS CAREFULLY!

Here is a real, genuine Gilbert Piano, and if you were to purchase this piano from any piano house in christendom, the price would be at the very least $250. But prices are not an issue. Terms are a secondary consideration. This piano must be sold, and we will not let price or terms stand in the way.

LOOK AT THE TERMS, $5.00 down, $1.50 a week.

Money Talks at This Great Sale!

Here is a brand new guaranteed "Augustus Baus" Piano that would cost at least $500 in any piano store in Canada. We want cash, and we are not going to split hairs. Money talks and the first man, woman or child that lays down $182 buys this piano. This is cash on hand on the spot. We have only a few of these pianos. Come at once. Look at the price again.

CASH PIANO BUYERS, ATTENTION!

Europe's mighty war would be a failure without cash. The same is true of any commercial enterprise. We have scores of Pianos, but our workmen cannot cut Pianos, nor their wives and families cannot cut Piano Keys. They must have money to get the necessities of life with. Therefore they look to us to get the cash money to get the necessities of life with. So when a man says cash, we leave out the commercial side of the question and go after the money. That is the thing that counts. We do not expect to sell Pianos at a profit when the buyer has the money in his pocket. We will go a step farther, and if a man's note is good, we will call that cash and we will give you a price so low that that to even mention it here would be considered silly, as we would have to expect you to believe that we would sell Pianos such as we have on these floors for such ridiculous prices even for cash. Come here at once.

TIME PIANO BUYERS, READ THIS!

The money you make belongs to you and you can spend where and with whom you please. This has been an off year in the Piano Business, and if the Piano Business were not at a standstill, you could not buy Pianos at such undreamed-of prices as you see depicted here in this paper here today. While we want all the cash that we can lay our hands on at the same time, we will take any kind of terms, either weekly or monthly, that will give us a half a chance to see daylight. Here is our motto for this sale: Come here, pick out your Piano, then it is time enough to talk price and terms, and if the best that you can do is within the bounds of reason, we will close the deal on the spot.

WE ARE OPEN EVENINGS UNTIL 9 O'CLOCK!

COMPARES WAR TO THAT OF SECESSION

Louisville Courier-Journal Says it is no More in the Books For Germany to Win Than it Was For Confederacy

(From the Louisville Courier-Journal). There are some striking similitudes between the war of the secession in Europe and the war of secession in America. The secession in the Old States there was in 1861 no strong secession sentiment. The Gulf States drew the border States after them. An overwhelming majority of the Confederate armies clung to the Union until the fall of Sumter and the call for troops from Washington made a decisive line of cleavage between the sections. Then it was, and only then, war actual and the debate ended, that they went with their own section. Here we have a contrast rather than a parallel for in Germany the people had nothing to do with it. War was upon them before they knew it.

The extremists of the south clamored for "our rights in the territories." The theorists of Germany clamored for "a place in the sun." In each instance it was as a cry of a child for the moon.

There was no territorial "right" from which the south was excluded, carrying into the full of Sumter was already doomed. It could not go, or be taken, where it was not wanted, or where the physical and climatic conditions were hostile. The institution was ete and dying. The trend of modern thought all over the world was set against it. But had it been otherwise a war inaugurated by the Gulf States in its defence was bound to end with its destruction, no matter which side might win.

Now for the parallel. There was no "place in the sun" from which Germany was excluded. Her ships laden with her wares and products sailed every sea in freedom and security. She was meeting and beating her commercial rivals in many markets. "Made in Germany" had become a laudable trade-mark. What had Germany to get by going to war? As little as the Southern States of America. "A place in the sun," like "our right in the territories" was wholly illusory and misleading.

That "that one Southern could whip six Yankees with a cornstalk," where-with gullible minds at the South were inflated, corresponds to the German claim of superman.

Had a Like Beginning

In each case war began in a fury of uncalculating passion. Blind hysteria possessed the Southern people. The immense disparity between the resources of the South and the resources of the North was unconsidered. That "the South was bound to win" was the universal belief. Cotton was king. Europe would be forced to intervene.

In like manner Germany set out to rush Belgium, and reduce Paris—England's hands tied in Ireland—and then, having overrun France and overcome the French—to turn her resistless arms upon Russia. It made a pretty enough showing on paper. But, as we have seen, "the best laid schemes of mice and men gang aft a-gley." England's hands were not tied by Ireland. Belgium resisted long enough for England to get there. The failure before Paris marked failure upon the whole theory in which the general staff in Berlin had so confidently laid its plan of campaign.

The South was not prepared for war as Germany—it had no such fighting machines—but it was better prepared than the North, and winning the first victories was able in spite of the disparity of forces and resources, to prolong the struggle four years.

As late as 1864 a national convention, nominating General McLean for President, declared the war a "failure." Throughout the succeeding presidential campaign, Mr. Lincoln was often in sore distress of mind. Yet at that very moment both General Lee and General Johnston knew that the Confederacy had but a short time to live, while among the better advised among Southern men it had begun to be whispered that "the bottom must soon drop out of the tub." And, sure enough, after an example of prowess, endurance and skill never surpassed, in the early days of 1865, the starved and ragged remnant of the Confederacy fell in a heap, a helpless mass. "You didn't whop us," said an old Confederate soldier, holding on to the hand of General Grant affectionately on the occasion of the dedication of the statue of General Stephen D. Lee in the National Cemetery at Vicksburg. "You didn't whop us, Fred—you jess wore us out!"

Something like this will happen to the Kaiser alliance. It is no more in the books for Germany to win than it was in the books for the Confederacy to win. If Germany could win the world would not be fit to live in. We can now easily picture to ourselves what would have followed the triumph of the South and the establishment of a Southern confederacy upon the North American continent, leaving two exhausted contestants to become the prey of European intrigue, setting the clock of freedom back a century, and splitting a noble union into perhaps a dozen weak and warring fragments to repeat in the New World the mistakes and misadventures of the Old.

Stirring Speech by Mr. Asquith

Germans Have Not Gained Foot in West Since April — Allies to Save Serbia — Many War Questions Covered

London, Nov. 2.—In his address before the house of commons this afternoon, Premier Asquith stated that Field Marshal Sir John French, commander-in-chief of the British forces, on the Franco-Belgian front, was now in command of nearly 1,000,000 men.

SERBIA'S INDEPENDENCE MAINTAINED. Reviewing the work of the British submarines in the Turkish campaign, the premier said that in the Sea of Marmora they had sunk or damaged two battleships, five gunboats, one torpedo boat, eight transports and 197 supply ships.

Mr. Asquith said there was full agreement between Great Britain and France to maintain the independence of Serbia and not let her "become the prey of the sinister and nefarious combination of Germany, Austria and Bulgaria."

The premier asserted the financial situation of Great Britain was serious and that the nation must be prepared to make far greater sacrifices than it had yet done, to enable it to sustain the burden imposed by the war.

The announcement was made by Premier Asquith that former Premier Venizelos of Greece whose advocacy of intervention in the war on the side of the Entente Allies led to his resignation, asked France and Great Britain on September 21, for 150,000 men, with the express understanding that Greece would mobilize.

In referring to the situation at the Dardanelles, Mr. Asquith pointed out that the Allied forces were holding 200,000 Turks and added:

"The situation in the Dardanelles is receiving the most anxious consideration of the government, not as an isolated thing, but as part of the larger strategic question raised by reasons of developments in the Balkans."

Sir Edward Carson Advises Small Body. Sir Edward Carson, who resigned last month as attorney-general, addressed the house of commons today, following the speech of Premier Asquith. He said that in his opinion, the cabinet, however useful in times of peace, was an organization and machine utterly incapable of carrying on the war under present conditions.

It was his preference that the premier should cut down the cabinet to five or six men who would take the whole burden of responsibility.

Sir F. E. Smith New Attorney-General. Sir Frederick Edward Smith, who has been solicitor-general, has been appointed to succeed Sir Edward Carson as attorney-general, Premier Asquith announced today.

John Redmond, the Nationalist leader, declared that the attacks upon the premier and the persistent pessimism of a portion of the press had had no weight

QUEBEC WOMEN DENIED THE RIGHT TO PRACTICE LAW. Montreal, Nov. 2.—The right of a woman to enter examinations for the practice of law in the province of Quebec was denied today by the court of king's bench, appeal side, Sir Horace Archambault presiding.

THE CASE OF MRS. ANNIE LANGSTAFF, whose application for a writ of mandamus ordering the bar association to admit her to the examinations held at Quebec was denied by Mr. Justice St. Pierre about a year ago. Mrs. Langstaff appealed from the ruling of the superior court justice to the court of appeal.

THREE SONS IN THE WAR; ONE KILLED AND ONE WOUNDED. Mrs. Kane of Amherst Gets Letter From Third Telling of Experiences With 25th Battalion

Mrs. Kane, of Amherst, N. S., has received a letter from her son, Bernard, who enlisted with the 25th Battalion in Halifax, and is now fighting for the empire in Flanders. She has sent her entire family of boys to the war. Her first two sons, George and Harry, enlisted with the 17th Battalion and on arriving in England were transferred to the 16th. Since that date George met his death, fighting bravely against the foe, while Harry received wounds in the foot and head. Harry and George are both well known in Amherst, but Bernard had been living in Halifax.

He states that he has been at the base for some time, and is contented with the soldier's life. "A little scrap with the Germans made one night very exciting and the 25th stuck gallantly to their trenches although out numbered." During that night he saw and smelt every kind of explosive ever known. "The Germans had thought to surprise the 25th, but the Canadian artillery gave them—well something to worry about. When a number of guns several miles away can put just a few rounds just barely over your heads and blow up the enemy trenches only twenty yards away, that should be called some shooting. We get all the papers from Montreal cast to Halifax, and know how that little spot of earth across the big pond is getting along."

The other day when I came out of my trenches everyone was surprised to see me. I had been knocked down and had a small bump on my head, and can not account for it. I was badly shaken up but managed to stick with the boys until we were relieved a couple of days afterwards.

"I am pleased that we were nearly at the front before there were any recruiting posters in Canada. A fellow who needs bright colored pictures and silver tongued orators to force him to fight, cannot be classed in the same category as the soldier who goes when duty first calls. When we get back to Nova Scotia we may remember the fellows who sing 'Oh Canada, and wear Union Jack socks and ties, while someone else is doing their fighting for them in another country. The second Canadian contingents are having an easier time than the first division, as they had no artillery to support them, but they made a name which will never die. We have some of the greatest artillery in the world, though others who only read the papers may think differently. Our regiment had a great old time the last few days we were in the trenches, and may have a better one soon. The Germans now tremble with fright at the mere mention of a Canadian name."

You Can't Brush or Wash Out Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have. You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work. Have you a piano in your home? You've a chance to get one for fifty cents in the patriotic drawing.

Acid Stomachs Are Dangerous

A famous physician said in the course of a recent lecture that nearly all intestinal troubles, as well as many diseases of the vital organs, were directly traceable to a deranged condition of the stomach which in turn was due nine times out of ten to excessive acidity, commonly termed sour stomach or heartburn, which not only irritated and inflamed the delicate lining of the stomach, but also set up gastritis and stomach ulcers. Remarkable results have been obtained by the use of ordinary bisaturated magnesia, which, by neutralizing the acidity of the food, removes the source of the trouble. It is foolish to treat the stomach itself, neutralize the acid and the stomach troubles will disappear. Irritating medicines and medical treatments are useless, so long as the contents of the stomach remain acid; remove the acidity, and there will be no need for medicine—the inflamed lining of the stomach will then heal itself. Sufferers from acidity, sour stomach or heartburn should get a small bottle of bisaturated magnesia from their druggist, and take a teaspoonful in a quarter of a glass of water after meals, repeating in fifteen minutes, if necessary.

A PAPER MAKING TOWN.

Atami, a pretty town in Japan, is famous for the manufacture of paper. This paper is so fine and soft that it is used for handkerchiefs and napkins, yet so firm that it can be manufactured into air cushions, so soft that it is used for lint in bandages, yet so strong as to be used for lanterns and screens and durable umbrellas. The Japanese have two faiths, or religions. The first, the original faith, is Shintoism; the younger faith is Buddhism. The first, Shintoism, literally means the way of the gods. It has no Bible, no dogmas, no creeds. Its gods are either national heroes, who in the minds of their devoted followers have become deities, or the personifications of nature, as the sun, the rivers, the rocks, the all-surrounding and glorious ocean. Its shrines for worship are severely plain.

The Shinto priests marry, but the priests of Buddha take the vow of celibacy. The furnishings of the Buddhists' temples are marvels of beauty and magnificence, ruby red and black lacquer everywhere, rosewood and ebony in abundance; exquisite bronze; tall lotus flowers of gold everywhere abound. In spite of the hold the Buddhist religion has obtained upon the people, the official religion of Japan is the Shinto, for since 1889 the government has officially recognized the latter form of worship.

A minister who had resigned from his church was making his farewell call. He called at the home of one of his parishioners who sent her little girl down to the parlor to entertain the minister for a few minutes, the mother not being dressed to receive him. After a few customary remarks about the weather the little girl said to the minister: "I hear we are to have the sad pleasure of losing you."

T. LAWSON OF SASKATOON

Western Man Hurried Home From World Tour to Enlist—His Officers Were His Former Employes

In the latest list of casualties in the 10th Battalion appears the name of Pte. T. Lawson, his next of kin being his brothers in Saskatoon. Behind the bald announcement of his death is a story of which Canadians may well be proud, for Pte. T. Lawson was a western millionaire who cut short a globe-girdling tour to join the colors. The company of which he was a member was commanded at the time of his death by a young man who in time of peace was an employe of Pte. Lawson. His sergeant, too, was on his payroll. We have no details of the engagement that cost the life of Pte. Lawson and many other brave fellows, but those who knew him in civilian life knew that he would be a happy warrior; that he valued his own life not at all, and that, though he was in the very morning of a career that might well have been an honorable and distinguished one, he would have chosen no

Unsightly Pimples Covered His Face.

All diseases and blemishes of the skin are caused by the blood being in an impure condition.

You cannot make a good complexion from the outside; you must get to the seat of the trouble. You must make the blood pure and rich by taking a medicine that will drive out all the impurities and poisons from the blood; one that drives out everything from the system that is the cause of these unsightly skin eruptions.

The best blood cleansing medicine on the market to-day is Burdock Blood Bitters; a medicine that has been used with the greatest success for the past forty years; a medicine you don't experiment with when you buy it. Mr. Lennox D. Cooke, Indian Path, N.B., writes: "I am writing you a few lines to tell you what Burdock Blood Bitters has done for me. Last winter my face was covered with pimples. I tried different kinds of medicine, and all seemed to fail. I was one day to a friend's house, and there they advised me to use B.B.B., so I purchased two bottles, and before I had them taken I found I was getting better. I got two more, and when they were finished I was completely cured. I find it is a great blood purifier, and I recommend it to all." B.B.B. is manufactured only by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

was the son of Rev. O. T. Lawson, an Irish Methodist minister, who went west with his family in the early pioneering days. The boys were accustomed to the rifle and the saddle almost from their infancy, and became locally noted for their skill. Talmaage was a cowboy, and for many miles there was not his equal at throwing and branding a steer, breaking a pony, supplying the day's meal with gun and taking care of himself in any of the sudden crises that the pioneers had to face in unsettled countries. Particularly was he famed for his gentleness with the dumb brutes in his care. It was said that he could ride a horse faster and have him fresher the next morning than any plainsman in the west. In the course of time he saved up enough money to buy a ranch near Calgary. He prospered there, and when a favorable opportunity offered sold his property and bought more in the neighborhood of what is now Saskatoon.

The Saskatoon Millionaire. He added to his possessions in this district, but it is doubtful if he had any idea that Saskatoon was to become one of the most thriving cities in the west. One morning he awoke to find that he owned a ranch upon the outskirts of a growing city, and that he had been made wealthy by the determination of thousands of people to own building lots in his immediate neighborhood. He sold his farm, whose whole section between Saskatoon and the suburb of Factoria, he was able to sell through the Herald, and later on bought the Saskatoon Capital, whose name was immediately changed to the Saskatoon Star, which is said by Mr. Knowles to be the most outstanding example of newspaper success in Saskatchewan. He returned to his home to enlist.

Men Refuse To Work For The Germans

Pay Dearly For Patriotism—Invaders Hampered by Stubborn Resistance to Violations of Hague Convention

After the million German crimes in Belgium, crowned by the murder of Miss Cavell, it is almost an anti-climax to receive the eighteenth report of the commission of enquiry which has been set up to investigate Germany's violations of the rules of civilized warfare, and which has been forwarded by the Coma-Gen-eral for Belgium in Canada. There is nothing here for tears, and yet we gain from the report an idea of the steady heroism of the hundreds of thousands of Belgian workmen who remained at home after the German invasion and have since come under the authority of the Germans. We are told how in the face of the German bayonets and machine-gun fire they have steadily refused to work for their taskmasters. They have ignored wages wages that would give them in one day more than they have earned in any week, and knowing that they were at the mercy of their conquerors they have persisted in their refusal to do any work that might be in the interest of Germany.

Convention which Germany subscribed to forbid an occupying force to exact from the districts of an occupied country forced labor which obliges those who perform it to take part in an act of war against their own country. That is to say if the Germans occupied Toronto, they could not oblige Toronto motomen to run cars carrying German troops to a point where they could engage the Canadian army. At the Hague Convention Germany agreed to this; and it is to be observed that at this convention Germany was not the polite second of every proposal put forward. She advanced ideas of her own, and other ideas she dissented from. That she should not observe the rules to which she objected at the time is not to be wondered at; but this particular rule she approved. In Belgium she has persistently violated it. She has sought by every means in her power to force railway employes to return to their throbbles and move German armies to and fro across the country. Owing to their refusal, it is said that several accidents have occurred, the German engine drivers being unaccustomed to the steep grades upon some of the Belgian roads. Banned from Belgium. When the mechanics first refused to accept the high pay offered them it was announced that they would be starved into submission. Steps were taken to cut them off from the food supplies sent to Belgium by Great Britain and the United States. They survived, however. Then they were told that unless they returned to work they would be sent to Germany where they would be forced to do whatever work was assigned them without pay. Some hundreds were thus expropriated, and those who refused to accept their fate, it is safe to assume that if they did not obey orders they were shot. However, this did not solve Germany's problem in operating the railroads of Belgium, where special mechanics were required. The German invaders sought to apply pressure to the municipal authorities as well and obliged them to issue instructions to all engine-drivers that they would never be prosecuted in Belgium should they resume work. When they disregarded these announcements and failed to report their mayors and councillors were fined and imprisoned. Wire Workers Strike. At Sweveghem there is an important barbed wire factory. When the Germans occupied the place and ordered great quantities of barbed wire the employes revolted. The Germans arrested the municipal officials and eventually forced every able-bodied man in the town to report at the factory for work. The citizens still refused to work for the destruction of their fellow-countrymen. Many of them were imprisoned, and their wives and families were ill-treated. They remained firm, however, and whatever wire was turned out of the works was due to the efforts of German soldiers who had to drop their weapons and become mechanics for the time being. The recalcitrant workmen

Mr. Lawson did not, apparently, enter the newspaper business with the idea of making a fortune, but rather for the purpose of stimulating the growth of the west. He was delighted with the fact that he had made all the money he could ever spend, but said that what pleased him most was the thought that he would be able to help the fellows who needed it. His one unfulfilled ambition was to travel, and some eighteen months ago he set forth on a tour around the world. He was in Egypt when the European war cloud began to form, and by the time war was declared he was enroute to London. His first thought was to enlist there, but he heard that Canada was to participate in the great struggle, and he lost no time in getting home. He was too late to join the first Canadian force, but enlisted as soon as possible, and last January was moved to Winnipeg with Saskatchewan volunteers. Mr. Knowles says that in conversation with Pte. Talmaage in the Star office, the young millionaire appeared to have thought of nothing but the fact that the Empire was in danger, and that he should go to the front. It was as a more after-thought that it occurred to him that he ought to make a will and go to the bank and arrange his affairs. When he left Saskatoon he would not allow his newspaper to make any reference to his departure. He was displeased when the other papers made a feature of the fact that he was going as a private instead of as a commissioned officer, although he was a born leader. When he got to the front he found that his platoon was commanded by Lieut. Austin B. Smith, one of his reporters, and that one of his linotype operators was Joe B. Shaw, his sergeant. So Pte. Lawson served under the men who were drawing their wages from him, and took their orders as cheerfully and obeyed as faithfully as would any other private soldier. Mr. Knowles says that his death removes one real man and gentleman from the ranks of Canadian journalism. "I wouldn't marry you if you were the last man on earth," said the girl. "Well," replied the young man who takes everything seriously, "if I were the last man on earth I'd be mourning so many friends and relatives that I don't suppose I'd feel much like taking part in a wedding, anyhow."

The scrap was a thriller through out.

About one-half of the estate, estimated at $5,000,000, is to be divided among the nine children. One-half of the estate is left outright to Mrs. Mary C. Ward, the widow, three sixty-fourths is to be divided among charitable organizations to be designated by her, and the remainder goes to the children.

Donnelly Playing With M. A. A. A. (Hamilton Herald)
It would be well to know how Job Donnelly, of the Montreal Big Four club, is eligible to play Rugby when it has been proved that he played semi-professional baseball and was barred from the intercollegiate union for so doing.
The Big Four had two cases of professionalism to greet them at the beginning of the season, that of Donnelly and also the case of Bush of the Ottawas. Bush was ruled ineligible last year when he played with the Ottawa St. Pats in the

One week ago the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada met, but it didn't take up Bush's case. It was laid over until after the Rugby season, which means that he can't play. Donnelly, on the other hand, is playing regularly with M. A. A. A.
One is as bad as the other, we think, and Donnelly should not be given any more leeway than Bush.

JOE SYMONDS WINS FLY WEIGHT TITLE
Interesting Account of Bout For Lord Londale Belt and The Championship
London, Oct. 1.—A great and stubborn fight was witnessed at the National Sporting Club last night when young Joe Symonds of Plymouth, defeated in sixteen rounds, Tony Lee, of Leth. The bout was for the English flyweight championship and the Londale belt, both of which were held by Lee, in consequence of his win over Jimmy Wildie. Symonds was a real challenger for after the third round Lee had as good as lost and he had as much as he could do to counter the perfect hurricane of blows Symonds tried to get in. Many of the spectators were convinced that the belt holder never won a round. Symonds was better and faster in his ring work, but Lee was a game champion and was always on the look out for the win by a knockout, which chance never came.
The fight which was to go twenty rounds was not without the usual sensational rumors for it was common talk at the club that Lee was overweight, but Lee who appeared a little overtrained weighed in four ounces under the limit. Symonds was eight ounces underweight and no doubt in a finer condition than the champion. Odds of 6 to 4 were freely offered on the champion, but the Devonians caught up a lot of money at two to one.
At ten minutes past ten the men stepped into the ring where almost at the first sound of the gong Symonds commenced to take up the aggressive.
In round sixteen which was the last, Lee was sure game, but Symonds sent him to the boards three times in a minute and then Lee clinched. Breaking away Symonds got the left to the head and again Lee fell and while the latter was struggling on the boards his seconds threw the towel into the ring.
Symonds the new champion is only twenty one years of age. He showed the finest ring work seen at the National for a long time. Lee who was ten years older than the new champion seemed to feel the effect of age and appeared in a comparison to the speedy youngster.

Afflicted with Lame Back
THREE WEEKS AGO
COULD NOT SWEEP THE FLOOR.
Women are coming to understand that weak, lame and aching backs from which they suffer so much excruciating pain and agony are due to wrong action of the kidneys.
The kidneys are overtaxed—given more work than they can do, and when the back aches and pains it is hard for a woman to look after her household duties, for no woman can be strong and well when the kidneys are out of order.
On the first sign of any weakness in the back Doan's Kidney Pills should be taken. They go right to the seat of the trouble, cure the weak, aching back, and prevent any serious kidney trouble liable to follow.
Mrs. L. Conshaw, 683 Manning Ave., Toronto, Ont., writes: "I take great pleasure in writing you, stating the benefit I have received by using Doan's Kidney Pills, and before I had used one box there was a great improvement, and my back was completely cured. I highly recommend 'Doan's' for lame back."
Doan's Kidney Pills are 50c per box, 3 boxes for $1.25; at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto.

SOON MORE THAN THEY CAN BEAR
Germany Wilts Under the Strain of War
Many Ready for Peace
Discontent Growing More Pronounced—Lack of Money, Food and Clothing Breaking Down Spirit of Nation
A neutral who professes some knowledge of military history asserted the other day that Britain was never able to bring the war to a successful end. He said that it was not until the end of the war that it was possible to see any of her wars, but that it always happened to be the last one. Beneath the exasperation of this opinion may be discerned the distinctive military quality of the British, namely, their ability to hold on, and in the face of repeated reverses to come cheerfully and confidently to the final struggle, where they have been sure ever since there has been a British nation. In the present war it has been made plain that the British are not one of the nobler qualities, and there is doubt in no quarter as to the final issue of this war. Every month's progress in Germany, finds that a great change has come over the people in the last six months.
He hears talk of quitting; the uppermost word is not victory, but peace, although most of the people continue to hope for victory. Nevertheless, it is peace they desire above all things. Their fighting spirit is not rising, though the tide of their armies' victories shows little sign of turning. On the surface the people are with the government, and no open criticism of the Kaiser appears; but underneath they are growing restive and discontent with the continuance of the war, which the Germans had expected to be over before now. Every month's progress takes its heavy toll of German lives and imposes fresh hardships upon the masses of the German soldiers, the papers are now venturing to publish letters from the front which discourage the notion that the German soldiers are supermen. Germans in the trenches are allowed to inform the people at home that bravery and military readiness are not exclusive German characteristics, and even to rebuke those who continue to nudge cheer for the war.
Rhine Ready for Peace.
He says that the recent peace demonstration ordered by the Cardinal Archbishop of Cologne would have been impossible months ago and though the actual procession was frustrated at the last moment by the authorities, they feared to interrupt the preparations which had preceded it, knowing very well that the archbishop represents the feelings of the Rhine provinces and in other parts of Western and Southern Germany, where the majority of the people are Roman Catholics. For months past the archbishop has been advocating peace, and when he announced that upon September 28 there would be a procession in Cologne of those in favor of ending the war at once, thousands of Roman Catholic clubs and societies prepared to take part in it. The authorities hesitated to interfere until it was announced that the Socialists were to participate, when they forbade it on the ground that it would lead to disorders. So the demonstration was cancelled, but nobody has ventured to rebuke the archbishop, who continues his demands.
It is the rise in the price of living, and especially in the price of food, that increases more than anything else the growth of war weariness. A remarkably outspoken comment on the food question which appeared in the Socialist Vorwarts was as follows:
"One of the most dangerous deceptions perpetrated during the war is the pretence that Germany although cut off from all her overseas supplies can feed her own population. The fact is that the population of Germany cannot be properly fed by products of our own country. The war has proved beyond all doubt that it is impossible to produce enough articles of nourishment or to raise a sufficient number of cattle to feed the German people without foreign assistance. It is true that we shall be able to hold out for some limited time, but only at the cost of the health and strength of the nation, now being undermined by systematic deprivation and underfeeding."
Textile Industry Ruined
From another source it is learned that the great textile industries of Germany are stagnant. This is caused by a lack of raw materials and means that not only are hundreds of thousands of people out of employment, many of whom, of course, are serving as soldiers, but that there is increasing difficulty in supplying the forces with clothing. The government is being called upon to provide for the idle men who are not fitted for military duties on public works, to furnish temporary financial assistance to those without means and to keep the insurance policies of all of them in force until the end of the war. The German government has been able to solve this problem as it has solved others in the course of the past fifteen months, but it is in the position of a lifeline now obliged to face one fence after another each higher than the one before. Pressure from within and from without increases, and while such enterprises as Germany is now conducting in Serbia may temporarily cheer the people it does not less unemployment, reduce the cost of existence to the masses of German people, nor does it lessen the terrifying lists of dead and wounded which stare the readers of the newspapers in the face each morning.

Country Doctor Found The Right Liniment
"Down East," as they say in Maine, is the good old Doctor Abner Johnson. It was in a little country town where every family knew the value of keeping a good liniment by hand. They were hard working people, often exposed to cold, and nobody ever had the "rheumatism," especially muscular rheumatism, and hard work gave them sprains, bruises and such pains.
The doctor studied and experimented and finally found a recipe for a liniment that took the pain right out of these ails. In some way, somehow, seems to get right at the trouble and takes the pain away quick. Yet it is so harmless you can take it inside as well as rubbing it on the skin.
So the recipe found by good old Doctor Abner Johnson was put up in bottles and called "Johnson's Anodyne Liniment." Probably you have heard of it many times. Whenever you want a good liniment remember and buy "Johnson's Anodyne Liniment," the recipe of old Doctor Abner Johnson. It can be bought wherever medicines are sold.

Bower's story breathed the very atmosphere of western cowboy life, and the characters were so cleverly pen painted that most of us had them well defined in our mind's eye; now we are shown in this Selig production the living embodiment of the prototypes, and follow them through all their exciting and mortifying escapades with shaming sides or with eyes that mirror both apprehension and amusement.
NOTICE!
In this production Tom Mix, the undisputed king of the plains, performs a dare-devil feat that has never before been attempted. It is known as being "saddle jorced." When you see it you will not wonder why it has never before been attempted. But what kind of nerve is in the make-up of Tom Mix and how he got away with a whole skin.

BEHIND BARS AGAIN.
Having been born in a prison cage, it was only natural that a canary, regretting the breaking of home ties at a moment when the door was left open, should pause in his recalcitrant career when he saw the hundreds of barred windows of the Tombs prison, New York. He always had associated bars with a well-filled seed dish.
A "down and outer" at the penny coffee stand under the Tombs wall caught the little fellow for days, gave the out-cast fifteen cents for the bird and took him inside the prison.
There the canary was happy again. He flew about the caged walls, ate greedily from the birdseed dishes, took a splashing bath in the bright sunshine and sang joyously. The bars made him feel at home, and he may serve a term for life there.

SIXTY YEARS OF MARRIED LIFE

Mr. and Mrs. Mayes Case Celebrate Interesting Anniversary

On completion of sixty years of happily wedded life, Mr. and Mrs. Mayes Case of Wickham, N.B., were the recipients of hearty congratulations and substantial remembrances on Monday evening from the members of their family and friends. Still in the enjoyment of good health, with full possession of their faculties, and residing at the old homestead which has sheltered them through three score years, Mr. and Mrs. Case are held in the highest esteem by a great circle of friends in Wickham and other parts of the province, and numerous good wishes will be extended to them for many more years of happiness together.

Ten of their twelve children are living and some of them were able to be present at the enjoyable reunion. The sons and daughters are Mrs. Mary Paulus, of Portland, Ore.; Councillor A. D. Case of Wickham; Mrs. L. T. Nass, Mrs. Ruth Smith and A. B. Case, St. John, N.B.; Julius T. Mayer of Portland, Ore.; Dr. Mayes Case of St. John, N.B.; George McIntyre of Oakland, Ore., and Gay L. Case of Portland, Ore. The bride and groom of sixty years ago were married in Hampstead and have resided all their lives at Wickham. Mr. Case is now close upon eighty years, while Mrs. Case is seventy-nine, and both are still quite active, Mrs. Case particularly so.

TWO BROTHERS ARE AMONG THE RECRUITS TODAY

Eight Signed Roll of 104th This Morning

Capt. Justin Gallagher of Dental Corps Here—Lieut. Don Skinner Through Recent Heavy Fighting

With eight men signing the roll of the 104th this morning, and many others waiting to be examined, today promises to be satisfactory in recruiting. Twenty-one joined yesterday, though up to noon only eight had registered. The men passed today and accepted included two brothers, Fred and Augustus Gallant of P. E. Island; Charles Cassidy, John Palmer, Walter Samory, St. John; Craig H. Parker, Whitehead, N. B.; Perley Adams, McAdam Junction, N. B.; and George Smith, of Jacques Mines, N. S. Dental Branch.

Captain Justin Gallagher, of Moncton, senior maritime province officer in the Canadian Army Dental Corps, has taken up his quarters in the armory, where he has established offices preparatory to the arrival of the 52nd from Fort Arthur. Capt. Gallagher has many friends in the city who are congratulating him upon his appointment. He expects to remain here about two months or so before going overseas. He has been at Valcartier Camp with the Corps and the work done there by the dental unit is familiar to all Canadians, for they helped make three thousand volunteers acceptable for service through work on their teeth. It is in connection with such work among members of the 52nd or other military units here, that a detachment of the corps will make their stay in St. John for a time.

INTERESTING GATHERING OF KNIGHTS OF ROUND TABLE

The Knights of the Round Table, of the Portland Methodist church, held a banquet in the Y. M. A. rooms last evening. The tables were artistically decorated and bountifully supplied. The chair was occupied by President R. H. Maxwell.

Rev. W. H. Barraclough delivered an eloquent address on matters of interest to the knights. Addresses were also given by Rev. George Steel, R. T. Hayes, S. A. Kirk and A. C. Powers. A vote of thanks to Rev. Barraclough was moved by Frank Merrill and seconded by Chester Brown. A vote of thanks was also tendered the ladies who assisted in making the function such a success. It was moved by George Kirk and seconded by Charles Higgins that the Rev. Barraclough, Glendon Cunningham and William Atherton, who were delegated to attend the Older Boys' Convocation in Leicester Street Baptist Church last week, give a report of the proceedings.

President Maxwell then read the response to the call to arms by the members of the Round Table, ten members having enlisted.

LETTER FROM HAROLD MURRAY

Harold E. Murray, of the 6th C. M. R., writing to his mother, Mrs. C. R. Murray, 22 Clarence street, says that at the time of writing October 24, they were all ready to leave for the front, but were still in England. He remarks that they might almost as well be on the fighting line for, a few nights earlier, there was an air-raid only eleven miles from them.

"You should see the boots we wear here," he says. "They weigh about five pounds. We call them Charlie Chaplins. Murray acknowledges with evident appreciation a parcel of cigars sent to him by Mr. Smith and the employees of the fish market."

ADVANCE PARTY OF 52ND TO ST. JOHN

Mayor Frink received this morning a reply to his telegram to the commanding officer of the 52nd battalion as follows: "Many thanks for your telegram. Anticipate that new armory will be entirely satisfactory to requirements of this battalion. Am sending Quarter-Master Sergeant Brooks and advance party with authority to decide on arrangements for accommodation and commissary."

"COL. A. W. HAY,
"O. C. 52nd Overseas Battalion."

NOON DAY RECRUITING

Sergeant Knight and Rev. M. E. Fletcher were the speakers at the noon recruiting meeting in Market square and were heard attentively by a fairly large although constantly shifting crowd. The band of the 104th Battalion furnished music. These meetings reach a large number of men who might not go out of their way to attend an indoor meeting and Sergeant Knight's vigorous manner of setting forth the issues of the war as applied to the individual cannot but aid materially in the work of recruiting.

POLICE COURT

In the police court this morning two men arrested on drunkenness charges were remanded for sentence.

Ralph Andrews, taken into custody last night by Detective Barrett and Assistant Detective Briggs for acting suspiciously in St. Patrick street and being unable to give a satisfactory account of himself, was remanded by request of Chief Simpson. He said he was a stranger in the city, having come here from Magaguadavic to enlist, but while getting off the train fell and sprained his ankle and fearing he would not pass the examination he was staying in the city until his ankle was better.

RECEIVES WRIST WATCH

Last evening a very pleasant visit party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Peacock, Sandy Point Road, in honor of Sergt. Frank H. Peacock of the 3rd C.S.A., now stationed in Halifax. During the evening Alex. Peacock, in behalf of relatives and friends, presented to the sergeant a handsome gold military wrist watch. Sergt. Peacock made a suitable reply. A dainty supper was served, and an enjoyable time spent by all. Sergt. Peacock left this morning for Halifax.

DIED IN MONCTON

H. O. McInerney yesterday received a telegram telling him of the death of his aunt, Mrs. John Sutton in Moncton. She was well known here some years ago, a half sister of the late Geo. V. McInerney, and Dr. J. P. McInerney. Besides her husband, who is a member of the I. C. R. general office staff in Moncton, Mrs. Sutton is survived by one son, Raymond, and several stepchildren.
