Klan Issue Overshadows All Others In Maine Election Today

HALF OF CHANG TSO LIN WILL WAR

MAINE BALLOTING HOLDS CENTRE OF INTEREST IN U. S. State is Regarded as Political Barometer of Coming Election.

EXPECT LARGE VOTE Both Republicans and Democrats Predict Big Margins for Favorites.

(Canadian Press.) Augusta, Maine, Sept. 8.—The nation watched today as Maine voters went to the polls in the biennial state election. Years ago Maine separated the state and national elections to isolate state affairs and decide local issues without confusing them with national affairs. Since then, in presidential election years, Maine has been regarded as a political barometer. A Republican slogan has been "As Maine goes, so goes the nation."

Democratic leaders, while not conceding so much importance to the state election, have made every effort to carry the state today.

The largest vote in the history of Maine was expected to be cast in today's election, in which the contest for Governor, waged largely on the Ku Klux Klan issue, overshadowed all other considerations.

Both Sides Confident.

Officers of the Democratic State Committee today predicted that William R. Pattangall, former State Attorney-General and Democratic candidate for Governor, would carry off a plurality of from 15,000 to 30,000. In his campaign speeches Mr. Pattangall denounced the Klan, pointing to the fact that State Senator Ralph O. Brewster, his Republican opponent, was supported by the Klan in his primary campaign.

Chairman George L. Emery, of the Republican State Committee, on the other hand predicted for Mr. Brewster a victory by from 20,000 to 40,000 votes. The Republican candidate in his campaign made no mention of the Klan, but emphasized national issues and his support of President Coolidge.

The largest vote cast in Maine was 250,400 in the 1920 gubernatorial election. United States Senator Bert M. Fernald and all the four congressmen from Maine have been re-nominated by the Republicans.

PARIS NOW FROWNS ON CROPPED HAIR French Girls Say Bob and Shingle Must Go—Men Dislike Them. Paris, Sept. 8.—(United Press)—Bobs and shingles are failures—they must go. Such is the growing sentiment of the fashion centre of the world. The superciliousness of the French girl is reacting because she has discovered that she does not like cropped hair on their women. That is reason enough, for its virtues in comfort and simplicity mean nothing if it dulls the rapier of feminine charm.

PARIS NOW FROWNS ON CROPPED HAIR (Continued) The arts of the milliner and the hairdresser now working on winter styles are insatiable by the necessity of concealing that ugly shaven neck. Jeweled bandeaux are the fashion for evening wear and afternoon hats drop down in back.

Poland is represented by an impressive group under the leadership of Foreign Minister Skrzyński. Besides Viscount Ishii, Japan has M. Adachi, one of the drafters of the statutes for the world court of justice, which will now be reframed.

Another Session Another bomb affecting the same situation was exploded today in the publication of correspondence which passed in 1922 between Lords Balfour and Birkenhead when both were members of the coalition government which signed the Irish treaty. Lord Balfour would be valuable in the treaty, which was completed but returned to London disquieted over its tenor, fearing especially the possible effects of Clause 12 which provided for the delineation of the boundaries of Northern Ireland being settled by a commission.

TO PICTURE WORK OF MISSIONARIES

It Will Be a Feature of Holy Year Celebration in Rome.

Rome, Sept. 2.—(United Press)—A complete picture of the history of Catholic missions through all the ages amongst all the races of the world will be given in the missionary exhibition to be held in the Vatican courtyard and gardens in connection with the celebration of holy year in 1925.

The retrospect of the civilizing influence of Catholic missions will be divided into four periods. The first will deal with the sacrifices and travels of the first Christians, the martyrs and apostles until the fifth century; the second will portray the spread of Christianity through Europe from the fifth to the 12th centuries; the third will show the work of the minor brethren and monks who traversed central and eastern Asia from the 13th to the close of the 18th; while the fourth will show the widespread missionary work of the Catholic church in America, Asia and Africa from the 16th century until the pontificate of Pius IX. in 1846.

Many Exhibits. Six large pavilions are to be built to house all the multitude of exhibits. There will be models of houses and huts and tents used by all the missionaries through the centuries. There will be maps which some of the missionaries drew themselves to help the brethren following them through many untrodden paths to carry Christianity to the heathen.

By the expressed wish of Pope Pius XI, there will be a special session set apart for the medical activities of the missionaries. This will depict the heroism of the missionaries who do not fear the grave diseases which prevail in numerous countries where the work of Christianity is still in its infancy.

Great Care in Collecting. Great care has been exercised in collecting the objects which demonstrate the ignorance of numerous races. Much will be devoted to point out the superstitions existing in some lands and the practice of witchcraft and sorcery.

Portraits of all the great missionaries of the Catholic church will be hung in a special gallery. Their vestments have also been preserved and will be shown.

The Pontiff has manifested the greatest interest in the collecting of the exhibition and often inquires of the executive committee how the work is progressing.

ATTENDANCE GOOD AT KINDERGARTENS

The five free kindergartens in the city had a large attendance of pupils during the first week of the season with the exception of the South End kindergarten at which the pupils have not been encouraged to attend during exhibition week when there were so many automobiles to be seen to small people.

The teachers in charge and their assistants are as follows: North end, Miss Edith Stevens and Miss Florence Kierstead; Wellington Row, Miss Lou Estey and Miss Ritchie; St. James Sunday school, Miss Edna Colwell and Miss Mary O'Connor; St. Mary's Sunday school, Miss Winnifred Ross and Miss Bernice Flewelling and Miss Jean Johnson; Mabel Peters' kindergarten, Miss Ruth Manks and Miss Doris Woodrow.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

SILVER WINGS DOES AN ERRAND.

"All right, your Royal Highness," said Silver Wings. "Dear, dear!" said the Fairy Queen...

hadn't holes in them. And what Jemima had outgrown all of her dresses three mouse inches, and that the hems had been let down so many times they couldn't be let down another single bit.

"That's just what I thought!" nodded the kind Fairy Queen. "And I'm glad you told me, Silver Wings. Take these magic shoes to Nancy and Nick, the Twins, and tell them that I need their help very much, indeed."

"Who will you send?" asked Silver Wings. "Of course it isn't at all the thing to ask a queen a question, but then Silver Wings knew the Fairy Queen so very well she was almost like one of the family."

"Mister Snip-Snap," said the Fairy Queen. "He knows all about cutting and fitting. He's the best fairy tailor I've got. He'll be there waiting no doubt when the Twins get to the place. I'll telephone to him at once."

"All right, your Royal Highness," said Silver Wings. "I'll go and see the Twins at once and take them their magic shoes. I am sure they will be willing to help."

She tucked the magic shoes under her arm and then flew away to the meadow where the children loved to play.

There they were, right under the big shady chestnut tree, that was now full of green prickly burrs instead of yellow tassels. Jack would blow his breath and turn them brown.

FABLES ON HEALTH
Teething Ring

Many mothers blame teething for many of the ailments attacking their young children. But investigation has shown digestive disturbances to be due to bad feeding and chilling of the baby's body more than to the teething troubles.

on. A hard dry crust of bread is fast supplanting the teething ring. When the teeth are coming in, the baby's mouth should be left alone. Erupting teeth may be kept clean with a piece of clean gauze or cotton, wrapped about a well washed finger and dipped in a salt solution. This can be used to swab the mouth and clean the first teeth. To make a salt solution use one-half teaspoonful of salt to a glass of boiled water.

MAYOR TELLS OF OTTAWA MEETING

Views are Exchanged at Session on Unemployment Matters.

In speaking last night of the conference on unemployment at Ottawa, called by Hon. James Murdock, the Minister of Labor, Mayor F. L. Potts, who represented St. John, said it had been a great gathering of men representing the Governments, municipalities and cities of Canada from the Atlantic to the Pacific and that a great deal of good had been done in the interchange of views and ideas from the various sections.

National Railways, to the Mayors of ten of the important cities of Canada. Potts represented St. John. Those who were Vancouver, Winnipeg, Calgary, Edmonton, Montreal, Hamilton, Ottawa and Halifax. These city officials had exchanged views and information. Mayor Potts said he was greatly surprised to learn how little one part of Canada knew about the other.

The delegates had been allowed a great deal of latitude in expressing their views during the debates on the subject at the conference, the Mayor said, and he believed a deal of good had resulted. He had suggested, when the subject of unemployment here was spoken of, that we could take care of our own unemployed by shipping their wheat through the Dominion to co-operate with shipping their wheat through Maritime ports during the winter instead of using those of the United States.

Another help to employment would be the erection of the new Canadian National station in St. John, he contended. The plans for this station had already been prepared, he said, and the work was a necessity for some time in the future so he thought it might be taken care of now.

No matter what the outcome of the meeting in so far as the reason for its being called was concerned, Mayor Potts said the discussions carried on between all classes of the professional business and laboring men from all parts of the Dominion had brought to the minds of the representatives a great many facts of interest and of possible value. In fact, he said, he thought it would be a good idea for the Federal Government to send all its members for a tour through all parts of the Dominion in order that they might be able to see more clearly and broadly the needs of Canada as a whole.

ARMY OFFICERS HERE. Major and Mrs. Burton have arrived in St. John to fill the places vacated by the departure of Brigadier and Mrs. W. H. Burrows from the local Salvation Army staff. Adjutant and Mrs. J. T. Wright are due soon from Stratford, Ont., to replace Adjutant and Mrs. Ritchie, who are in Sydney. Colonel Miller, field secretary for the Canada East division, is expected here this day to install the new officers.

CAR DAMAGED. Saturday afternoon at 12:15 o'clock automobile 11414, owned and driven by Harry Wheaton, was in collision with automobile 8192, driven by Thomas Stephen at the corner of Charlotte street and the south side of King Square. The front fender of the Stephen car was damaged.

LOST CHILDREN ARE RESTORED TO HOMES

Rose Marie Parsons, aged 4 years, was found by a policeman wandering in Charlotte street on Saturday afternoon. Her father, Roy Parsons, located his daughter at headquarters and took her to his home, 48 Sewell street.

Mr. Hurley, 48 Pitt street, reported to police headquarters on Saturday evening about 8 o'clock that his daughter, Anna, aged 7 years, had been absent from home since 5 o'clock. Mr. Hurley reported later in the night that the child had returned home after taking in the sights at the exhibition.

At 9:50 o'clock Saturday night, John Johnson, aged 8, who strayed from his mother in the Exhibition building was found wandering about by two girls who placed him in the care of Police Constable McInnis, who was doing night duty at the corner of Sydney and Britain streets. Later on a woman recognized the young boy and took him to his home at 146 Rockland Road.

CHANGES MADE IN TRAIN SCHEDULES

The end of the summer season is marked, not only by the change from daylight to Atlantic standard time early yesterday morning, but also by a lessening in the number of suburban trains run by the Canadian National Railways, the decrease taking effect this morning. The 9 o'clock train for Hampton and the one reaching here about 11:20 o'clock have been discontinued for the season. Other changes in the schedule have been made to co-ordinate with the change in time, all the suburban trains running one hour later than during the summer months. The Halifax train is now due to arrive in St. John at 7:20, the Sussex express at about 8:50, the afternoon suburban at 2:45 and the evening suburban at 8:35. The noon suburban for Hampton will leave at 12:20, the Sussex at 5:15, and the evening suburban at 6:15.

tion into the death of the last of the Hauptrief children, Anna, and a charge of murder was filed against the stepmother. A charge of assault to murder also was filed in connection with the attempt to poison Hauptrief.

Investigation Ordered. The state took a hand and ordered an investigation into the death of the other three children.

Four little graves in the hillside cemetery gave up their dead and state chemists examined the little bodies. Three more murder charges were filed and Mrs. Hauptrief was ordered held without bail until the grand jury meets this month.

During the course of investigations, officers found two containers of poison under the Hauptrief home and, placing these on a table, ordered Mrs. Hauptrief brought in.

The containers were the first things seen by the woman as she was led into the room.

She then made a written statement, according to police officers, and the children and attempting to poison Hauptrief.

They were in the habit of drinking coffee each afternoon upon returning from school, the statement said, "so I put arsenic in the coffee until all of them died."

Hauptrief Wants Divorce. Hauptrief has filed a petition for divorce and has asked for custody of their one-year-old daughter, Leonard. The baby is being kept by Hauptrief's mother while Mrs. Hauptrief is in jail.

YESTERDAY IN CITY CHURCHES

The majority of the city clergymen have returned to their summer vacation and yesterday the greater number of the congregations which had united for the summer met separately once more with their respective pastors conducting the services.

The newly appointed curate of St. John's (Stone) church, Rev. John Unsworth, preached at the morning service in the church yesterday and his sermon was heard with interest and appreciation. Mr. Unsworth is a native of London, England, and is a graduate of Wycliffe College, Toronto.

In the morning, Mr. Britain conducted the service in Knox church and preached his farewell sermon. Mr. Britain is leaving shortly to return to Woolston, Mass., to continue his theological studies. Arrangements are being made for securing other supply ministers until a permanent pastor is called.

At the evening service in the Ludlow street Baptist church on Sunday the solo, The Holy City, was most impressively and beautifully sung by Ralph Madison, who has so well entertained the crowds at the St. John exhibition by his vocal selections in the grandstand performances and at the band concerts in the buildings. R. C. Holder also gave a pleasing vocal solo in the church last night and Miss M. E. Mullin presided at the organ. The service was conducted by Rev. W. A. Robbins, who gave a forceful address.

yesterday morning in Queen Square Methodist church. William MacGowan, bass soloist, sang in the evening with Mrs. Blair McLean at the organ. Rev. Neil MacLaughlin, pastor of the church, preached to large congregations at both services.

In the Waterloo street Baptist church yesterday Rev. E. R. MacWilliams, pastor, conducted both services and preached inspirational sermons. His theme in the morning was "The Christian's three-fold relationship, and his subject in the evening was "Is my way the right way?"

For three weeks in the month of August the large auditorium had been in the hands of the decorators with results that were highly pleasing to the large congregations who attended yesterday. In the morning before commencing his sermon Mr. Miller took occasion to voice his appreciation of what had been done. God, he remarked, had filled the world with beauty of every kind, and He was pleased to see His sanctuary beautified. Personally, the preacher said, he liked to see the church made beautiful, although this movement should never be carried to extremes.

HUSBAND AND FOUR STEPCHILDREN VICTIMS OF DESIRE TO POISON

Mrs. Hauptrief Held For Murdering Five; Trying to Kill Sixth.

(United Press.) San Marcos, Tex., Sept. 8.—William Hauptrief, 46, farmer, fell in love with his wife, Annie, at the funeral of Court Schroeder, her first husband. He did not know that Schroeder died from poison administered by Annie Hauptrief.

Mrs. Hauptrief, in the Hays county jail here, confessed to District Attorney Blundell that she not only poisoned Schroeder and attempted to poison Hauptrief, but she also caused the deaths of her stepchildren by giving them arsenic.

Before Schroeder's death, Hauptrief told interviewers, he had been a friend of Blundell that she not only poisoned Schroeder and his wife for a long time, and the grief of the young widow as Schroeder was being lowered into the grave struck a sympathetic chord in Hauptrief's heart.

There followed a short courtship, betrothal and marriage. Sympathy for the seemingly grief-stricken widow governed Hauptrief's actions. He gave her the solace of a home and the comforts of a cheerful bedside.

Hauptrief heard of his wife's confession to killing her first husband only a few days ago, as his condition had been too serious. Annie's grief at Court's burial was natural and unassuming, as far as it could tell, Hauptrief said. "Clad in black, and with her young eyes red from long weeping, my heart was filled with sympathy for her as she became near-hysterical when they began throwing earth into the grave."

MAKING MONEY ON THE SIDE

The St. Catharines Standard tells of a St. Catharines vacationist back after a trip down the St. Lawrence, who reports a novel way one of the boat crew had of making a little extra money during the summer season at the expense of the Canadian post office department. Picture post cards to the number of 20 were purchased by the St. Catharines man and his wife, and when he went to the office on the boat to purchase stamps he was told politely not to bother with mailing them himself, it would be taken care of for him. It was a payment of forty cents covered the postage.

TROTZKY ATTACKS UNITED STATES

Still the Idol of Russian Bolsheviks But Not of Government.

Moscow, Aug. 16.—(By mail)—Leon Trotsky, Soviet minister of war, retains a dominant place in the minds and hearts of the Russian Bolsheviks.

All efforts within the Communist Party and Soviet government to subordinate him have failed.

Trotsky's services as a speaker are in great demand because of his ready and eloquent expression of a scientific and social program.

VAGRANT CATS IN IMPERIAL PALACE

Where Trojan Lived Rome Keeps Its Homeless Felons At Public Expense.

Rome, Sept. 8.—(United Press)—Hundreds of homeless but well kept cats inhabit what was the imperial palace of the Emperor Trajan.

These cats are all on the municipal payroll just the same. For long centuries the city representatives who attend the municipal council employ who do the daily ration from a fund especially provided for the purpose.

For cats, living in such a felicitous community, they are well beloved. They never give any trouble to the neighborhood with nocturnal serenades or digests.

RECORD OF PAST INTERNATIONAL POLO CONTESTS

United States Wins Nine and Britain Six—Prince Attends This Year.

New York, Sept. 8.—(Associated Press)—Britain and the United States each has won four series of polo matches since the famous International Challenge Cup, which will be at stake in the 1924 play at the Meadow Brook Club beginning Sept. 6, was put into competition in 1886.

One of these contests, however, played in 1890 and won by England, does not rank as an official cup affair, so that the standing in the trophy series up to this year gives America the advantage with four triumphs to three. The 1890 play was prompted by the initiative of certain Americans, including Foxhall Keene, who were in England at the time, and they lost the only game played.

The International Cup, one of the most coveted of athletic trophies, first was offered for competition between the two countries in 1886 by the Westchester Polo Club, of New York, R. I. That year the Harringham Club, of England, sent over a team which won two straight matches and took the trophy overseas.

The most official series was played in 1902 when Britain successfully defended her honors, winning two out of three matches from a team headed by Foxhall Keene and Larry Waterbury, two names famous in American polo history.

A lapse of seven years followed during which America, under the leadership of Harry Payne Whitney, built up its original and famous "Big Four." This combination composed of Whitney, Larry and Monty Whitney and Devereux Milburn, brought the cup back from England in 1909 and successfully defended it in 1911 and 1913 without sustaining a single defeat.

This combination was shifted the following year, when England again challenged, and after two hard fought matches, broke through for her first triumph in a dozen years. America still had her "Big Four" available, but as a team they had passed the crest of their ability, and the substitution of Louis Stoddard and Rene LaMontagne at No. 1 failed to check the tide of defeat.

The war caused another long interval, but in 1921 the United States entered a new team which won two matches decisively from Britain and brought the trophy once again to this country. This new "Big Four" was composed of Milburn and Stoddard, veterans of international play, and two new stars, J. Watson and Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., who was the sensation of the series.

Stoddard has since withdrawn from international competition, but the quartet which will defend the cup against the British team at Meadow Brook in the games scheduled Sept. 6, 10 and 12, Webbs, however, has been moved up to No. 1 and his place at No. 3 taken by Malcolm Stevenson, veteran of many national campaigns, with Robert E. Strawbridge, Jr., Earl Hopping and Eric Pedley, new stars from the Pacific Coast, as substitutes.

Including England's 1900 victory, the international shows that America has won altogether nine matches while Britain has captured six.

Dazzy Vance of Brooklyn Pitching Sensation of Year

Dazzy Vance

Joe Wood of Boston, in 1912, won 85 games and lost only five. His club won the pennant and the world series, his pitching featuring both the pen and the curve ball.

Most of the records that Vance is shooting at were made before the advent of the lively ball. In giving proper recognition to Vance's great pitching it must be remembered that he has heaved a "jack-rabbit" ball.

Vance should register about 230 strikeouts this year, a remarkable performance. With 22 wins and only four defeats charged against him, he has 193 strikeouts to his credit.

The Chicago Cubs have been easiest for Vance. In one game he whiffed 11 Cubs, in another 14, and in his last appearance against that club he set down 15 in strikes.

In 10 of his starts this year, Vance has struck out nine or more men. His poorest showing in this respect was in a recent 4 to 3 win over Pittsburgh, in which he struck out only two men.

He had promised his publishers a book, and his illness had prevented him from going forward with it. "I kept my book, I could look at it and handle it," said Mr. Wright, "because I dared not put it away. I realized that my work alone could save me. Most people, I think, die because they have no real purpose in living. Had it not been for this book which I felt I must write in order to provide for those dependent upon me, I should certainly have given up."
