Baldwin Speech Taken As Prediction Of Early Elections

SEPARATISTS ROUTED BY GERMANIS

Ottawa Pulpwood Session To Open Monday

ELECTION IN ENGLAND PREDICTED

Premier Baldwin's Speech Strengthens Belief of Early Voting.

TARIFF DISCUSSED

January or February Stated as Time to Go to the Polls.

(By Canadian Press.)

London, Nov. 3.—One effect of Premier Baldwin's speech at Manchester has been to strengthen the conviction that a general election is inevitable within a comparatively short time.

Some observers see significance in the phrase the Premier used when, after asserting that the problem of unemployment necessitated recourse "to radical and drastic measures," he said he proposed to do so.

"Let others say how they would set out to achieve the end we all have in view, and then let the country decide."

Need of Election. Neville Chamberlain in a speech at Cardiff last evening referred pointedly to the need of an election on the tariff question and intimated no time would be lost in appointing a committee to construct the framework of a general tariff on manufactured goods.

The chancellor added that the names of the committee men would be made public within a few days.

There is still general expectation that an election will be held in January or at the latest February.

Election Coming. London, Nov. 3.—A general election in Great Britain is coming within 12 months. At least that much seems assured out of a string of indefinite political speeches.

Sir Laming Worthington Evans, Postmaster General, speaking at Cardiff yesterday, pointed out the impossibility of framing a general tariff until the advisory committee, which was being appointed, had lifted the matter in conjunction with representatives of industry and has presented its report.

The committee's proposal, he said, would be submitted for the decision of the country before winter next year.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 3.—A twenty-four hour vacation will be the reward of any policeman who arrests a gambler in Los Angeles, Chief of Police August Volmer has announced. If the gambler is a particularly prominent one the vacation will be longer. Former gamblers, as well as those actively engaged in the "profession," are good for vacations, the chief said, unless they can show that they have returned and taken up a legitimate occupation.

While travelling in those provinces, he said, the commission found that a very keen interest was displayed on the question of the pulpwood embargo, as well as on the general question of forest conservation. BLUENOSE RAPPED

Halifax Chronicle Says Nova Scotia Schooner Should Obey Rules.

Halifax, Nov. 3.—The Halifax Chronicle has the following comment on the schooner race:

"The fate of the schooner race is most unfortunate from every point of view. While every allowance may be made for the feeling of disappointment of Captain Walters and his crew over the losing of a victory which they had virtually won, still it is to be regretted that they did not cheerfully and sportsmanlike accept the decision of the sailing committee and abide by the result. Then final victory would be all the more to their credit. Having entered the contest they were in honor bound to accept the decision of the committee. The admirers of the Bluenose have ample confidence that she would have sailed home again with flying colors."

PRINCE OF SWEDEN IS WED TODAY

Cousin of King George Becomes Bride of Heir to Throne

EVENTFUL WOOING

Many Members of Royalty Attend Ceremonies at St. James Palace.

(By Canadian Press) Stockholm, Nov. 3.—The marriage in London today of Lady Louise Mountbatten, great-granddaughter of the late Queen Victoria of England and second cousin to King George, the present sovereign, to Gustaf Adolf, crown prince of Sweden, is received with deep interest here. The Swedes are eager to meet the woman who one day will become their queen, and England is believed to be gratified at the new royal tie that binds Stockholm and London into still closer friendship.

Lady Louise is a sister of Lord Louis Mountbatten who last year married Miss Edwina Ashley, said to be one of the richest women in England. Lord Louise has been betrothed to her betrothed since the start of their honeymoon in the United States.

An Eventful Wooing. It was an eventful wooing which led to the wedding in the Chapel Royal at St. James Palace.

Lady Louise's father was Prince Louis of Battenberg, later known as the Marquis of Milford-Haven. The Battenberg family has sprung from Germany by way of Austria, where the title of prince was bestowed, and because of strained feeling in England during the war the name was anglicized to Mountbatten. Lady Louise was setting this question in favor of the latter name.

The betrothal was announced when it was reported that the prince and princess were to be married in the chapel of the Crown Prince's residence in London. The news that the press of foreign lands was broadcasting the tale that Lady Louise had changed her mind about becoming a crown princess anyway, and was going to marry an obscure English painter of modest income. As the summer passed by these rumors were gradually discredited by the fact that Lady Louise had been seen in London and France.

Finally, the elder woman, excited at discovery, talked louder and the man could hear.

"Here it is! That's the very one I thought I had lost! Well, he bought you a better one than I thought he would."

Scotch Tweeds

CUSTOM TAILORED A slip of the pen. Little did the Scot who hurriedly made out some invoices over a century ago think that his poor penmanship would give the world a new word. Seems that the Scottish word for a diagonal weave or "twill" is "tweed." In his haste "tweeds" were invoiced "tweeds." Thinking the change intentional and the new name appropriate, the goods being made on banks of the River Tweed, the London merchant used it when next ordering—and it's stuck ever since. Scotch Tweeds! A good showing here in our Custom Tailoring Department. $45 to $58.

ANOTHER FINED IN MILK PROSECUTION

Magistrate Adams Suggests Appointment of Inspectors for Farms.

Fred B. White, of Lakewood, who was before Magistrate Adams yesterday on the charge of selling milk diluted with water, was fined the minimum amount of $5.

Magistrate Adams, in striking the fine, said that he thought the Government should appoint an inspector for the farms. The Board of Health had an inspector who inspected the milk after it arrived in the city but the farmers had no means of knowing until their milk was taken to town whether it was weak or not.

K. J. McEneaney, who appeared for the defendant, argued that the first intimation milk producers were given that their milk was not up to standard was a summons to appear in court to answer a charge for having it diluted.

After the first conviction in a watering of milk case was secured by the Board of Health it was found that the quality of the milk arriving in the city began to improve immediately.

Inspector J. E. Tilley said yesterday that the improvement had continued. The milk was decidedly richer in butter fat. It was quite usual, he said, to notice this sudden improvement in the fat percentage in milk when there had been successful prosecutions in watering or skimmed milk cases.

Labor Council Urges Vocational Building

Favors Erection of New Structure Properly Equipped—Training Needed.

The regular meeting of the Trades and Labor Council was held in their rooms, Prince William street, last evening, with a good attendance.

It was felt that much of the opposition to vocational education was due to the fact that many people did not know what it meant, or the purpose of it. It was the opinion of the Council that vocational education was needed more now than ever before since the apprenticeship system, in many cases, was extinct.

IS CHARGED WITH MURDER OF HUNTER

Peterboro, Ont., Nov. 2—John Schell, charged with the murder of George W. MacNeal in a lonely hunting shack near Silver Lake on or about Sunday last, was committed for trial today.

In the absence of direct evidence the Crown claimed statements made and signed by the accused, confided. He is reported as claiming he turned the dead body over and saw no blood or wound.

He stayed in the shack all night of the tragedy and heard no shot. Police testified the prisoner locked the door of the shack with the dead man inside. The clothes of the dead man were saturated with blood and the floor bore stains.

Sydney Disturbances Are Laid at Door of Communist Body

That the disturbances of the last two years in Cape Breton have been largely due to Communist propaganda and activities was an opinion expressed under oath by F. W. Gray, assistant to the vice-president of the British Empire Steel Corporation, at the second formal session of the royal commission on unrest held in Sydney yesterday. He presented data, which included documents and official statements which had passed between the workers and the company, the Provincial Government and the Federal Department of Labor.

Lewis Fulton, chairman of the recently inaugurated "plant council" system of employee representation, testified as to the first election of members of that body. He said he had been a member of the union and was one yet and saw no reason why the union and friction. It was too early yet to express a strong opinion as to results, but so far the men seem satisfied with the progress made.

Labor circles here are jubilant over the acquittal yesterday of John MacDonald, of Toronto, who was charged with making seditious utterances during the recent strike.

The Young Men's Club of St. Andrew's church held its twenty meeting on Tuesday night at 7.30 with Fred Smith in the chair. Twenty-two were present. Rev. J. S. Bonnell, the minister, spoke on the subject, "The Value of Public Speaking." He said that no matter what profession was taken as a life work, a thorough training in public speaking would be of incalculable value. The essence of public speaking, Mr. Bonnell said, was self-expression. No other form of self-expression developed a man so thoroughly and effectively as expression before an audience, especially in debate, he said. Mr. Bonnell was for years the coach of the intercollegiate debating teams of Dalhousie University and has undertaken the training of the members of the St. Andrew's Young Men's Club which is open to all young men of the congregation and also to visitors to the city.

The Evening Times-Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., NOVEMBER 3, 1923

The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Canterbury street, every evening (Sunday excepted) by New Brunswick Publishing Co., Ltd., J. D. McKenna, President.

A NARROW WESTERNER.

Prof. W. H. Alexander of the University of Alberta does not see much hope for such Canadian ports as St. John and Halifax. Indeed he does not appear to be overburdened with optimism about Canada as a whole.

"Thousands of our native-born people are leaving for parts of the United States every year, and can we blame them? The trouble is that there is not the same opportunity for advancement here as there is in the United States."

"Our coast line and harbors are really limited. Halifax and St. John cannot compare with the American ports of Boston, New York and Baltimore. These ports are centers of access to the country that are the Canadian ports. Proof of the advantage of these ports is that when the St. Lawrence freezes so as to discontinue shipping through the lakes to Montreal, the greater part of Canada's wheat goes by rail to the American ports for shipment overseas instead of Halifax and St. John. Montreal is assuredly a good port and it is an advantage to have such a port where ocean-going vessels can enter halfway into the heart of the country. Still, it must be remembered that for four and a half months of the year it is closed to shipping and this detracts from its desirability. Vancouver is Canada's greatest seaport, larger part of Canada's wheat will find an outlet through British Columbia and Vancouver to Europe via the Panama Canal."

Not a word here about the importance of developing our own ports, but only a suggestion that the people of the west must pin their faith to Vancouver. If the members of the teachers' convention have no broader view than Prof. Alexander, there is not much hope in that quarter. He agrees that our nationality, customs, laws and government are worth retaining; that our potential wealth is great; that our climate is fit for a great, strong and virile people; and that we should begin seriously to consider what can be done to promote unity among the four sections of the country. It does not appear to have occurred to him that to direct Canadian trade through Canadian channels, and cease to enrich the United States by our traffic might be one way to promote unity and create national sentiment. If the people of the west take their opinions from him there can be little hope of western sympathy for eastern aspirations of a national character. Evidently, there is need of a clear presentation in the west of the point of view of the east regarding what will make for national unity and national development. It is the cue of the politicians to call upon the east and west to get together. The east is willing but it wants to know the terms.

Touching the tri-partite agreement, does not a wharf or pier involve a warehouse? If a warehouse why not a grain conveyor? In any case this port needs those grain conveyors, and cannot afford to be without them. It is necessary let the city stage a comeback and prove its own faith in the port.

The Irish Republican sympathizers in New York who tried to worry Lloyd George are foolish persons whose conduct does more harm than good to their own cause.

A TORONTO EXAMPLE.

St. John still awaits action in the matter of vocational training. Perhaps it may stimulate interest to tell of what is being done in Toronto. That city had a great technical college and excellent preparatory schools, but was not content; and there has just been opened what is called the Riverdale Branch Technical School, erected at a cost of $800,000. Its auditorium, seating nearly a thousand, was crowded at the formal opening, showing how deeply interested the people are. There are no less than six hundred students enrolled in the day, and seventeen hundred in the evening classes. The Mall and Empire gives the following report of a part of the speech of Mr. H. L. Kern, Chairman of the advisory industrial committee of the Board of Education: "The High Schools were doing an excellent work in training students for the professions, but more and more it had been felt necessary to supply the educational needs of those who were not going into the professions. And this school had been the result of the realization of that need. Half the cost had been borne by the Federal and Provincial Governments, and from these sources would come a percentage of the salaries of the instructors."

"If St. John decides to have a vocational school, wholly or of the composite type, it will get the same financial assistance. It is worth while to quote, also, some remarks made by Mayor Maguire: "In the past twenty-five years a great change had come over the minds of those governing the country in their attitude towards matters of education, he declared. The day had gone when only the professions should be considered. The welfare of the people as a whole had to be regarded, and an education should be given to every child. Another milestone had been passed in the progress of the civil educational system, and in the broad field of education Toronto had nothing to fear in the future."

Dr. A. C. McKay, director of technical education for Toronto, added that Toronto must have a series of technical schools, and the Riverdale branch was just a beginning. When will St. John make a beginning?

THE WILD EAST.

The American Wild West of Bret Harte and the forty-niners and the later hold-ups and Indian wars has lost all of its wildness. Today the Wild East holds the record for excitement. In noting the change the New York Tribune says the daily happenings in the eastern states must make the Canadian Mounted Police and the Texas Rangers envious as they go about the job of collecting trifling offenders. The "Mounties" get a good many whose offenses are not trifling, but there is much truth in the Tribune's claim for the American East as the conspicuous badlands of the continent. Just now—the place "where the bootleggers are hitting their nefarious trail, and the high-jackers are holding up the bootleggers, and the police and posse comitatus, armed with sawed-off shotguns, are stalking the high-jackers." The Santa Fe trail was a tame boulevard beside the up-state highways where the linked lawlessness is going on. Those late inventions, the automobile and the Volstead act, have combined to make life eventful on the smuggling route from Canada. There are speed and power in the new handi-craft. The James boys hadn't the modern advantages of the high-jackers. They were pickers, after all. Our own vicinity puts Cripple Creek to shame. We have offshore the run-runners and the brand new pirates that prey upon them, gentlemen who would once have decorated yardarms. Moreover, if there is any species of desperado to whom New York and the environs thereof do not belong as an El Dorado he is a rare bird.

So one might judge from the daily records of crime in the American newspapers. Luckily the crime record is shy a one-sided exhibit. The people who attend quietly to their knitting do not get into the spotlight that is reserved for the criminals, and even in the territory so gaily described by the Tribune the ordinary folk are still the vast majority. It is true none the less that the East has robbed the West of its old reputation for wildness. But there was a tinge of romance and chivalry about the old western days that is missing now. The East's wildness is milder and more sordid. Bret Harte's gentlemen adventurers would have been disgusted with it.

Lunenburg, has "got in Dutch," and a man with an English name did it. Nova Scotians and Maritime Province people generally will have cause to resent the application of the term "Bluenose" to them hereafter. In the interests of good sport the conduct of Walters is greatly to be deplored. It is the more senseless because he appeared to have an excellent chance to win the series of races. He has given what promised to be an interesting annual contest a very black-eye.

(Katherine Oakes in Boston Transcript.) October, fold your golden arms about And let me lie on some enchanted hill Where color and the Autumn sun's calm thrill May win my soul to that sure peace without me.

O June! You wooed me with your symphonies of wind, and rain, and sun, Of vivid, shifting, wild gay bursts of song; You swept my heart and dancing feet along— The joy of life blew sweet on every breeze!

Now—gleaming ferns of high, distilled yellow Silently echo the alms beechwood's hush. That glows against a sky of burning blue Meeting in tenderness where hills blur and melt. Dull, drowsy crickets drone their lullabies; While underneath deep visions of contentment, Prick thoughts of that harsh season imminent!

AN AWFUL ATTACK OF PIMPLES ALL OVER HIS FACE. Pimples breaking out on the face and other parts of the body is a sure sign that the blood is not in proper shape. While the skin is the object of the attack the real seat of the disease is in the blood on account of the entire circulation being poisoned.

Mr. Conrad Anderson, Kelfield, Sask., writes—"A year ago I had an awful attack of pimples. They broke out all over my face and I could not get rid of them in any way. One day a friend told me about your Burdock Blood Bitters and let me have a bottle he had to spare. After using it I noticed a change, so I bought three more bottles, and now I don't know there is such a thing as pimples."

Toronto Newspaper's Summing Up of Trade Conditions in Canada.

Commercially Canada approaches the close of the year 1923 in a secure condition, says the Toronto Mail and Empire. Not since the slump and trade depression of 1921 have the dominating factors that make for sound business been so well defined. During the past year some lines of trade and industry have been active, but there has been no overreaching in Canada, as was the case in the United States. Building has been the key to a good deal of the activity enjoyed in business, but this work was intensified, because for several years preceding little building had been done. Steel and equipment companies carried on more active operations, because railroads and builders had put off rehabilitation, construction and building until recently, because of the depression. It may be said that activities so far have been a matter of making up for lost time, and as conditions stand at present demand for products of most kinds should develop at least on a normal scale. "The country has behind it a season of abnormally big crops, of excellent quality. While prices of farm products will not be high, the aggregate return will be large. The improved financial position in which farmers find themselves is a result of being reflected in ability to spend more money. The distribution of goods, which has been slow to develop in volume, is showing vast improvement now. Wholesale dry-goods houses report that not only are current orders and collections augmented, but the placing of orders for spring delivery is much better than it has been for several years. The industrial companies have been very cautious in operating plants, not to over-produce. The result is that no great surplus exists, and industries can go ahead with operations as orders come in, without having to dispose of a carryover. Railroads have had as good a year or better as compared with 1922. Now that shipowners are filing tariffs after their deal is made instead of in advance, United States ships can carry Canadian grain to the head of the lakes, and this will stimulate the movement of grain from the West and expand railway traffic. November and December railway traffic earnings should show a material increase. One other feature is that it is whether this will be a hard winter in Canada. Indications are that it will be less subject to hardships than usual. Very little unemployment exists. Harvesting operations in the West reduced the numbers of unemployed temporarily, but there are other occupations to which men can turn, providing they are willing to enter in the history of Northern Ontario were mining activities so widespread. There is work in the gold, silver and nickel mines and wages are favorable. Lumber yards in the country have been pretty well cleared of stock, and lumber activities in the bush will be on a liberal scale this winter, thus providing constructive work for men. GIVE ST. JOHN PREMIER PLACE AS
WINTER PORT OF EASTERN CANADA

Montreal Gazette Comments on This Port and Dry Dock Opening.

The official opening of the new dry dock by His Excellency the Governor-General at St. John on Monday marked an important advance in the provision of necessary harbor facilities in Canada, says the Montreal Gazette. The immediate glory, it continues, belongs to a just and proper one, and will be shared by those in other parts of the Dominion who appreciate the national importance of so notable a public work. The dock, which is 1,225 feet in length, is said to be the largest of its kind in the world, being capable of accommodating the largest naval or merchant ship afloat. It takes its place with the dry dock already in operation in the St. Lawrence and with that under construction by the Government at Victoria, B. C., all these being of the same class and, when in commission, fully equal to the requirements of shipping on the three principal steamship routes of the Dominion. The port of St. John, as mentioned by the Minister of Public Works, has benefited from an expenditure under this one Department aggregating $18,285,980 since Confederation, and private enterprise has also done much for the improvement of the harbor and the upbuilding of its trade. These efforts and these expenditures, says the Montreal newspaper, have given St. John the premier place as a winter port in eastern Canada, with the result that a large volume of trade has been retained which otherwise must have been lost to the all-Canadian route. The new dry dock will serve to make this route even more attractive and should be, in no small degree, instrumental in the enlargement of Canadian trade.

CHAPEL GROVE HAS A COUNTRY CLUB

Young Men Clear Land and Will Put Up Building in the Spring.

A Country Club has been formed at Chapel Grove, which is situated along the northern shore of the Kennebecasis river. The object of the new organization is to provide many popular pastimes for summer residents and weekend visitors and give all an opportunity of thoroughly enjoying their hours of recreation.

Chapel Grove is situated on one of the most picturesque sections of the Kennebecasis and is within a short distance of Sea Dog Cove, Branch Brook, Moss Glen, White Head and White's Mills. As Chapel Grove is centrally located the club building will be erected there and will be known as the "Chapel Grove Country Club." Although lacking either train or steamboat service this district boasts of an exceptionally large list of summer residents and the need of a community centre was frequently in evidence.

An energetic crew of young men have devoted all of their spare time this fall clearing off a section of land and putting in foundations for the new club house, so that an early start erecting the building can be made in the spring. The club building will be 40 x 60 feet having a clear dancing space, without pillars, 30 x 40 feet. There will be a rest and dressing room for ladies and a smoking room for the men. A ten foot verandah will be built on the front and sides of the building. A hedge of young cedars will be placed on either side of the club by James Edwards of Branch Brook, who also will prepare the land in front of the club for a lawn. Other residents are also taking a keen interest in the enterprise as it will make an exceptional building for their social meetings etc. The lumber for the building will be cut at Chapel Grove and will in all probability be sawn in Walter Edwards' mill, which is only a short haul from the site.

Those interested in the new club are making a drive during the winter months to raise the necessary funds and they have high hopes that success will attend their efforts. The officers of the club are as follows—E. S. G. Hansen, president; H. J. McCarthy, vice-president; M. Maxwell, secretary; H. Corcoran, assistant secretary; John Creary, treasurer; S. Aitken, assistant treasurer; J. Russell, chairman of the social committee; J. Boland, chairman of the finance committee; W. Evans, chairman of the sporting committee; P. O'Connor, chairman of the house committee.

DIED THIS MORNING. After an illness of several months, Mrs. Helen Charlton, wife of the late Walter Charlton, passed quietly away at an early hour this morning, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Walter Stone, 870 Main street. She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Stone, Mrs. Chas. Gallagher, Mrs. Wm. Ramsey, all of St. John, and Mrs. Jack Dawson of Montreal; also 12 grandchildren. The funeral will take place on Monday afternoon at 2:30 from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Stone, 870 Main street.

BOYS TAKE LEAD. The boys outnumbered the girls this week in the 28 births recorded, sixteen being boys, and 12 girls. Eight marriages were reported for last week.

WANDERERS VS. ORIOLES. The Fairville Wanderers will tackle the North End Orioles on the Shamrock grounds this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the second meeting between these teams. Last Saturday, the Wanderers won, 6 to 0. The Wanderers' lineup today will be as follows: Forwards, Scott, Quigg, Myles, L. Reid, Hayes, F. Reid, Doherty, Desroches; play golf to take my mind off my work, but I got so interested in the game that now I have to work to get my mind off golf."

THE EVENING TIMES-STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1923

APPEALING TO THE PEOPLE OF CANADA

Halifax Seamen's Institute Wants $150,000 — Sam Harris Endorses.

President Sam Harris of the Navy League has sent out a letter endorsing an appeal to the people of Canada to subscribe $150,000 to put the Halifax Seamen's Institute in a position to operate free of debt. By reason of business depression, he says, the Institute cannot finance itself and, falling assistance, is liable to be closed up.

At a meeting of the Executive Council of the Nova Scotia Division of the Navy League of Canada, held on 20th July, 1923, the following resolution was unanimously passed:—

"That, in view of the imminent closing of the Institute at Halifax, due to financial troubles and inadequate support by the general public, an earnest appeal is hereby made to the people of Canada for sufficient funds to meet all current liabilities, and enable the Institute to again operate and renew its activities in aid of seafaring men, and objects connected with them and their work. These activities have been on a very generous scale in relief of cases of need and distress of the sailor, and in alleviation of the hardships incident to his calling. Falling such support, the closing of the Institute is inevitable. Every effort has been made by the Local Council to carry on, but a point has now been reached where a liberal measure of financial assistance is absolutely necessary."

In endorsing this appeal President Sam Harris writes:—

"When the British Empire was threatened by disruption in 1914, through the action of Germany, the first to respond for defence of the Empire were the men of the Navy and the Merchant Service. The great work they did in carrying supplies and men, and keeping the seas free was appreciated by the general public, who showed their appreciation by subscribing generously for the men of the sea. money was applied to look after the widows and orphans of the men of the Merchant Service, who laid down their lives for Empire security, and when we realize that many of these men were not killed until the ships they were on were torpedoed several times, we can readily see that the money subscribed then was only a slight return for the services rendered and sacrifice made. Part of the money, after making allowance for pension claims, was set aside to assist or build homes in the different parts of Canada, where the men of the sea who are always transient and cannot possibly provide a home for themselves, may be made comfortable while in port.

"Quite recently, a retired sea captain declared that seamen were virtually prisoners when at sea. They were enclosed within walls of steel, and living and sleeping within their workshop, among their tools and machinery for weeks and months, with no possibility of visiting places of amusement for relief from the monotony of their existence.

"About 160,000 seamen are cared for annually in our Atlantic ports alone. In these homes we furnish, at cost, food and lodging, but if the sailor has nothing it is free. In addition, comfortable rooms are open, social entertainments and religious services are provided. Sailors' money received for safe-keeping and sent home, and his mail handled. In fact, nothing is omitted which experience proves is of permanent benefit to the men, and these homes take the place of the former cheap boarding houses and dens, and positively run out of business. The barbers and scoundrels who once preyed upon the sailor and brought ruin to seamen—spiritually, physically, mentally and morally. All this is done by voluntary contributions received.

"Throughout the world, all Sailors' Homes are provided for in the same voluntary manner, because it is felt by all that the sailor is a national asset. Admiral Earl Beatty declares: 'The life of the Empire is dependent on the sailor.' The greatest of these in Canada is the Memorial Home to the men who will never come back, erected in the City of Halifax. Into the Port of Halifax alone there cleared outward and inward, last year, 5,224 ships, carrying 111,000 men.

"Many of the above vessels made several visits, and it was found that when a man had experienced comfort and the friendly atmosphere of the Home he never failed to return to it as soon as his vessel arrived in port. Fifty thousand meals have been supplied to sailors in distress, 21,000 men have used the beds, and 105,000 men have made use of the buildings.

"The Navy League also looks after the seamen, who, through no fault of their own, are penniless frequently, when their ship is lost, all the man possesses goes down with it, and during the war there were hundreds of these cases. The letter, as under, tells its own tale, but is only one of many received.

"November 30, 1922.
"Sam Harris, Esq., Navy League, Toronto, Ont.
"Sir,—I have the honor to request that you will be good enough to inform me if I am entitled to any recompense for what I suffered and I am still suffering from the effects of the war. I joined the S. S. Robson on the 8th of November, 1917, at Sydney, C. B., in Canada, and went across in convoy H. H. S. Corcoran, conveying the 83 ships to Split Head, and from there to Dunkirk in France. On the morning of the 27th of November, 1917, about 8 o'clock my vessel was struck by a 17-inch shell on the forecastle head. I sustained a broken shoulder, and I am not able to do anything. Then again on the 2nd day of February, I lost my eye by being struck by splinters from the iron deck during a bombing raid. I am at the present time in a starving condition. I cannot find any ship, and I am staying with a man getting no wages, and I am almost naked—nothing to keep me warm when the cold weather comes but my overcoat.

"If you can do anything to help me out I shall esteem it a favor, for God knows I am in need—not a friend, not a penny. I do not know which way to turn when I leave this place. Please reply as soon as you can, for I do not know when I shall be told to take the road.

"Believe me, Dear Sir,
"Yours sincerely,
"Eight bells and all's well. Good night!"

"Such men gave their whole earning power that the Empire might exist and that our liberty may be secure. There is no Government allowance for these men, and were it not for the Navy League they would be without hope and subjects of charity."

FARM FOR ORPHANS.

A farm colony for dependent orphans on the outskirts of the city was strongly advocated by Mr. Justice Hodgins of Toronto this week at the 72nd annual meeting of the Protestant Orphans' Home. The decreasing number of children in the institution pointed to the advisability of such a course. Dr. C. J. O. Hastings heartily endorsed this idea, suggesting that the different institutions be grouped together under one administration, reducing the overhead expenses.

This Policyholder received $426.94 MORE than he paid in HERE'S a Mutual policy taken out in 1888—a long-term endowment. It matured this year and the Mutual Life paid $1,000.00, the amount of the face value, plus $17.58, being the last dividend due—in cash. But, that was not all.

This man's premiums, over thirty-five years, would, ordinarily, amount to $823.20, but he elected to apply his yearly profits to the reduction of his premiums. His profits amounted to $232.56, and reduced the amount he actually paid into the Company to $590.64.

When his policy matured, he received its face value and final dividend, amounting, in all, to $1,017.58. Thus, you see that he received back $426.94 more than he paid in and enjoyed thirty-five years' protection, besides.

The first year his premium was $23.52, but the final premium on this policy (in 1922) was only $6.11, showing the way in which the yearly dividends steadily reduced the cost of his insurance.

That illustrates what is meant by Mutual profit-participation. Profit-participating policyholders in the Mutual Life of Canada receive their insurance at net cost; that is, the bare cost of providing the protection. The Mutual Life is a company of policyholders. All dividends from investments, after expenses are paid, belong to the policyholders. There are no shareholders and no shareholders' dividends. Therefore, participating policyholders receive a good profit on their investment, as well as the protection.

Let our nearest agent tell you about Mutual long-term endowment policies. They combine the three features of systematic Saving, economical Insurance and profitable Investment, with absolute surety, confidence and strength.

AMERICAN SONGBIRDS RIVAL IMPORTED VARIETY IN WINNING GRAND OPERA ROLES

(By George Britt, NEA Service Writer.)
Chicago.—"Between artists of equal ability, the American gets the contract every time."
This policy of making the Chicago Civic Opera Company the American company shows itself in a roster of American-born and trained singers assembling here for the opening of this winter's season.
Home-Grown Songbirds.
Not only the singers for principal roles, such as Edith Mason, Louise Homer, Cyrena Van Gordon, Florence Macbeth and the Chicago-reared Mary Garden, are United States products. But also are the newer singers, the developing stars of the future.
The history of such singers shows American earmarks in the way of graduation from state universities, singing in church choirs and teaching in small towns.
Kathryn Brown, for example, never has been outside the United States. The middle-western University of Ill-nois was her starting point in the musical work.

"I expect to go abroad some day, of course," she says. "But I'd like it possible to show that American blood and home training can win out in grand opera. That is contrary to tradition, but I shall keep trying."
And Kathryn Meiss, who makes her debut this year, has had absolutely no foreign training. The extent of her voyaging has been to commute from her home in Philadelphia to New York for music lessons.
Americans All.
Margery Maxwell went to high school in Missoula, Mont., and then to the University of Montana. Her first notice outside of the home town was when she sang as "Miss Missoula" at an Elks state convention. Nothing very foreign or "high-browish" about that!
Mary McCormick, who made her debut under the regime of Mary Garden, has studied and sung a bit abroad, but is as American as pumpkin pie. Florence Macbeth, who has sung widely in concert and opera here and abroad, is another of the red-white-and-blue collection.
The director of the company, Giorgio Polacco, is Italian by name and birth, but naturalized here. And if the question of nativity is raised, his wife, Edith Mason, has an answer that is a good one, even if it does reverse naturalization laws. Says she: "Of course, he's American. He married me."
Paris police suppressed Griffith's film, "The Birth of a Nation."

YOUNG BOY KILLED IN MILL ACCIDENT

Angus Poirier, of Athol, Restigouche, aged 14 years, was caught in the driving gears of a set of live rolls at Frapp's mills on Monday last. The little fellow, who very frequently goes to the mill to assist his father in clearing away the refuse about the mill, in some unaccountable manner got caught in the gears and was badly mangled. He was rushed to the Hotel Dieu Hospital, Campbellton, and although all that medical skill could for him was done he passed away some four hours after the accident.

GIVE ADDRESSES TO BUSINESS SCHOOL

Miss H. I. Hanington, Miss Jean McNeil and Mrs. James Fortness were in the rooms of the Standard Business College last evening, when about 50 young people, most of them pupils of graduates of the college, enjoyed a social time. W. B. Creed, of Charlotte town, P. E. I., and recently graduated from the Maritime Business College, of Halifax, was one of the hosts, having arrived to take over the commercial end of the college work. Mr. Creed is a returned soldier and fought in the 25th Nova Scotia Battalion. A. M. Belding and Rev. Cecil J. Markham were the speakers of the evening and received hearty applause. The decorations were well carried out in Halloween designs, the large globe of yellow cotton with the axonic mystic figures being a striking feature.
Miss Mona Sewell had charge of the arrangements for the programme and dancing. The following took part in the musical programme: Miss Marjorie Long, Kenneth Stanley, Benjamin Goldstein, John Legate, Eric Dykeman, Miss Margaret Rice, Miss Olive Estabrook and Miss Florence Dunham. Ernest Givan, of Sussex, gave the class prophecy, which was responded to by Alton Flewelling, of Hampton.
Mr. Belding and Rev. Mr. Markham both spoke with pleasure at the appearance of the college room and praised the students for their intelligent interest in their work and their efficient carrying out of the excellent programme. They urged the young people to see the opportunity in life to do earnest things, as well as to enjoy the lighter side of life. Mr. Belding spoke especially to the young women entering the business world, and said that they could now turn the world upside down with their use of the Franchise if they used their power aright.
Dancing was enjoyed throughout the evening.

Halifax, Nov. 2.—There will be no international schooner champion for 1923. Believing that their vessel fairly won the two races required to secure the fishermen's trophy, the crew of the Lunenburg Bluenose refused to heed the plans of Premier E. H. Armstrong, of Nova Scotia, Hon. J. J. Kinley, Mayor John Murphy, of Halifax, and others, that they sail a third and deciding race tomorrow and this afternoon disappear off headlands of Halifax harbor on their way home. Captain Ben Pine, of the American challenger Columbia, did not wish to sail over the course tomorrow alone and win the trophy and prize money through the refusal of the Bluenose crew to recognize their technical disqualification on Thursday and tomorrow. Bluenose by her refusal went home without the international trophy which was considered as good as won here as the result of the wonderful sailing qualities which the vessel showed on Monday and Thursday in light winds and fishermen's gales, and also went home without either the long end of the prize money, $8,000, or the short end, $2,000. Columbia will go home with $2,500 awarded her by the international committee as expense money.

was trouble afoot. Admitting they were fairly beaten according to fishermen standard by a boat which had sailed through as much water as they had, there was still a disposition to take advantage of any technicality in the offing. The technicality which looked most promising had to do with the fact that the Bluenose, in violation of a rule made this year, passed to landward instead of seaward of a navigation buoy. The protest followed and the sailing committee made up of three Canadians and two Americans found that the only course opened to them was to insist on a strict observance of the rules which they themselves in their wisdom laid down. This meant the disqualification of the Bluenose and the awarding of yesterday's race to the Columbia.

Halifax, Nov. 2.—Arthur H. Zwicker, managing owner of the Bluenose, issued the following statement tonight: "I was prepared to send the Bluenose to the line for tomorrow's race against the Columbia and was making preparations for providing substitutes for any members of the crew who did not want to sail. Before my arrangements were completed I was informed that Captain Angus Walters had left the wharf, engaged a tug, and was under way for Lunenburg. Captain Walters' action in this respect was done entirely upon his own responsibility, and without the knowledge or consent of myself or associates as our intention was to abide by the decision of the sailing committee and have the Bluenose go to the line for the third race with the Columbia." (Signed) ARTHUR ZWICKER, "Managing Owner of Bluenose."

WITNESS TELLS OF MER ROUGE KILLING

Says Klan 'Spread-Eagled' Two Victims and Rolled Them Down Hill.

Atlanta, Nov. 2.—The assertion that J. J. Bracwell, a Ku Klux Klan investigator, has told him when he went to Bastrop, La., to investigate the disappearance of two men that "there was no use for him to go to Mer Rouge; that the two bodies found in the lake had been tied or 'spread-eagled' on logging cart wheels and rolled down the hill, and that that was what crushed the heads of the two bodies," was included in a deposition made by S. N. Littlejohn and read at the hearing in Fulton County Court in the suit of E. M. Littlejohn and others for retribution for the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. Littlejohn said that he was employed at the time as an investigator for the Ku Klux Klan. He was sent to Bastrop about January 12 to make investigations. There he met Bracwell, to whom he said other investigators seemed to look for advice and instructions. It was at this time, he said, that Bracwell advised him to go to Mer Rouge. Littlejohn said that he operated at Bastrop under the name of George K. Lawrence.

RADIO FANS HEAR WARTIME PREMIER N. Y. Speech Broadcast, but Disturbances Interfere With Hearing.

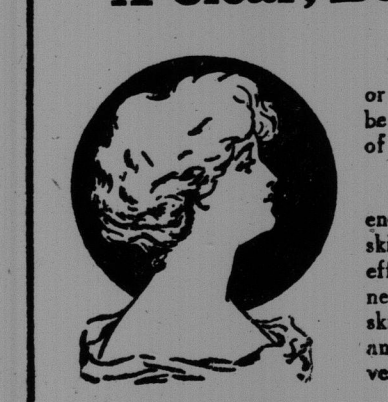

If the famous little Welshman, Lloyd George, was unable to include St. John in his itinerary, that unfortunate circumstance did not quite debar St. John residents from hearing him deliver one of his stirring addresses.

Several things conspired against the proper transmission of the speech, however. The atmosphere here was also clear and moved about from under the amplifier which had been fixed to catch his speech and send it back to the huge audience.

The local radio fans were able to get a good idea of the kind of accent which Lloyd George has and they declared it was pronounced one, but the whole trend of the speech eluded them.

INSPECTORS' ACTION APPROVED BY COURT

The Evidence, However, Not Strong Enough in the Carleton Case.

In the case of David Carleton, 198 King street east, charged with unlawfully keeping liquor for the purpose of sale, judgment was given in the police court yesterday afternoon by Magistrate Henderson who dismissed the case.

After referring to the finding of the liquor by Police Matron Ross in beds occupied by women and children in the Carleton house, Magistrate Henderson, in delivering judgment said: "The finding of the liquor in conjunction with the conduct of Max Lampert, who drove an automobile early in the morning from defendant's premises at a furious speed through many of the streets of the city, pursued as far and closely as possible by prohibition inspectors, constitutes grounds for making this charge. These facts have all been proved and are not denied so far as proceedings in this case go."

"It is not unlawful to have liquor in a private house, but unlawful to have it kept for sale or trafficked in. Had it been the defendant operating the car in the manner mentioned, instead of Max Lampert, the suspicion would have been greatly increased, but by having been the brother of Carleton's wife and occasionally getting his meals at Carleton's house, and sometimes staying there, for neither of which he paid anything, except now and again to bring things into the house, is there anything to make Carleton responsible for Lampert's actions?"

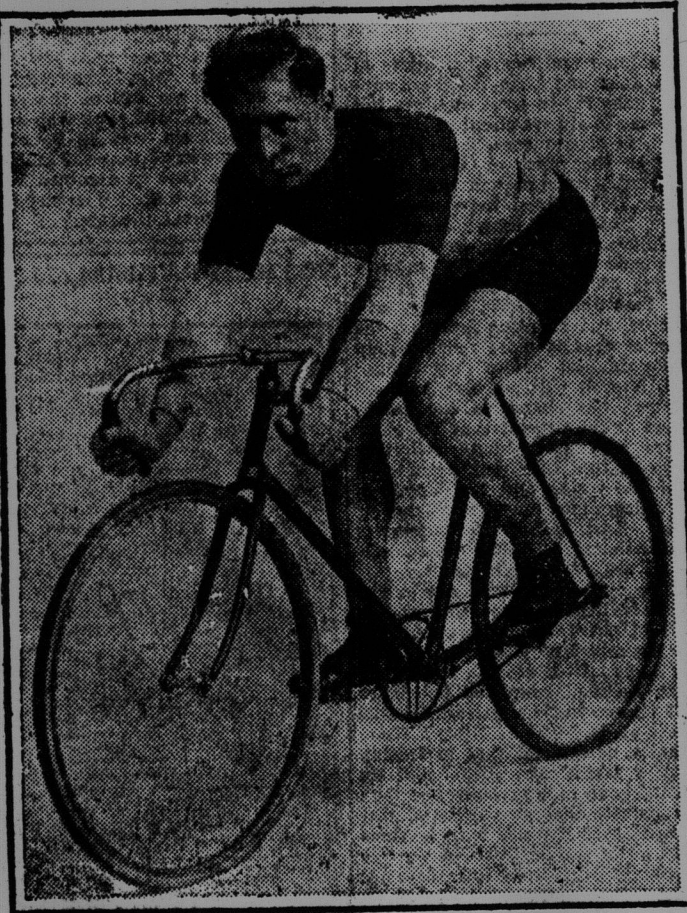

"The placing of the liquor in the beds was a very ridiculous act and created one of the humorous situations of the year. It is claimed their house was their castle and in it they could put their liquor where they pleased, and what was done is not evidence that the liquor was kept for sale. Moreover, Mrs. Carleton has sworn that the liquor was there for her own use and for that of her husband, and in this she is not contradicted."

"The miser is said to love his gold, and the lover of precious stones, his diamonds, and they are so interested in their goods that they hold on to them after retiring at night. In this case the precious property might have been taken into bed as against thieves, or sudden attack; this is a charitable view. Hot water bottles are sometimes taken to bed, but in this case the articles in question would furnish cold comfort."

"The suspicions are very strong, and the explanations not entirely satisfactory, but, until rebutted, have to be accepted, even though reluctantly. I am of the opinion that the officers were right under all the circumstances in doing what they did and that a prima facie case was made out sufficiently to put the defendant on his defence."

"In reaching a conclusion I may not be in line with public sentiment, but I am bound to decide the case according to the evidence and the fact is that there is not sufficient evidence to convict the defendant of the offence with which he is charged."

After the judgment was given Mr. Ryan contended that His Honor stated that the case was under section 5 while it was really being tried under section 104.

The magistrate said that he took section 5 as regards the law, and while the defence had no right to appeal the prosecution had.

Mr. Hinton asked for the return of the $200 deposit and the materials taken from the defendant's house.

Mr. Ryan objected to this being done as he intended to appeal the case.

Mr. Hinton said that the defendant had been found not guilty and the goods should be returned.

The magistrate said that he would return the deposit, but in the meantime the liquor would be held owing to Mr. Ryan's notice of appeal.

There is but one REMEDY for the prevention and positive relief of throat, bronchial and pulmonary ailments so common to our climate. It is the result of scientific research made following the grippe epidemic of 1889-1890 and officially placed at the disposal of the public in 1891, when, at an important conference, Dr. J. O. Lambert, speaking of this specific, said: "I offer mankind, by a purely vegetable product, positive means to successfully prevent and vanquish chest ailments."

Such was the introduction of the wonderful and unequalled specific of the respiratory organs.

DUELLIST'S BULLET HITS INNOCENT MAN

One Participant in Shooting on New York Street is Arrested.

New York, Nov. 3.—A stray bullet in a pistol duel, in which two men stood between Tenth and Eleventh streets on Second avenue and fired ten shots, struck E. Feldman, 38 years old, in the head. He is at Peoples' Hospital in a serious condition.

Antoine Galatioto, a clothing presser, of 184 Christie street, was walking down Second avenue when an unidentified man who took refuge behind a wagon turned his gun toward Galatioto and fired at him three times. Galatioto hastily drew a large automatic pistol and sent seven shots in the direction of the ambusher. The aim of the two was poor.

Feldman was driving a truck along Second avenue when the shooting started. A bullet struck him on the right side of the head and knocked him off the truck. He sustained a fractured skull from the fall. A passing taxicab took him to the hospital.

Galatioto was placed under arrest on charge of assault. He had a permit to carry a gun.

Police are inclined to the belief that the battle was the result of a personal grudge rather than a gang war. Detectives from the Fifth street station, who drew a net around the scene shortly after the duel, had information that a man with a bleeding hand entered 323 East Tenth street. They followed a trail of blood through the house there, through the backyards and over the fences to 318 East Eleventh street, but found no one suffering from a gunshot wound. A call has been sent to all hospitals to look for a wounded man.

TRIPARTITE PACT IS REFERRED TO

Opinions Differ as to Government's Obligations for Conveyer.

In view of the admitted necessity for a grain conveyer at No. 16 berth and the suggestion of Hon. Dr. J. I. King, Minister of Public Works, that St. John should put its harbor under commission, the tripartite agreement has been referred to by several citizens, some holding that this agreement binds the Government to erect grain conveyers when they are proved necessary, while others are of the opinion that the agreement does not bind the Government in this regard.

The tripartite agreement was entered into between the City of St. John, the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Federal Government on Sept. 12, 1911. Under it the city and the C. P. R. consented to certain things in conjunction with the Government, that portion of the agreement which relates to its undertaking is published here in full and a synopsis is given of other clauses which have a bearing on the situation.

The purpose of the agreement was to create and develop harbor improvements and facilities on the western side of the harbor. The city agreed to provide the land and the C. P. R. to provide the structure and the Government to provide the funds therefor by vote of Parliament, and by means of a special charge on the western side of the harbor.
