ent cloths in one or two suit lengths. This is the 'rule with others in a similar business. The makers of the clothing which we are about to handle, buy hundreds of yards in every instance where the Custom Tailor procures a suit length; thus in buying immense quantities direct from the mill the minimum of cost is secured. This fact, together with the method of manufacture explained in a previous ad., enables us to of-fer the public Ready-to-Wear Clothing, which the best dres-sers in town will gladly wear, and at a price much lower than we can duplicate in Custom Made. We will announce the exact date of our opening in a few days.
