BEAVER BOARD
If you are building or going to complete some unfinished rooms, let us show you some colored sample, illustrating the beautiful color effects obtained by using this sanitary and durable board for walls and ceilings in all classes of buildings.
We carry a large stock in assorted sizes.

MAIL ORDERS
We solicit out of town orders which receive our personal attention. The length of time taken to fill orders is governed very largely by how busy we are in the department of our factory in which the particular goods are made. While we have exceptional facilities for promptly turning out goods, it is important to place orders as far ahead as possible. Orders are filled by us in the rotation, in which they are received, and customers can always depend on our doing everything in our power to give prompt despatch.

132ND BAND FUND REPORT RECEIVED

Amounts Received and Dispersed.—The Regimental Fund

There has been considerable demand for a statement re Band Fund from some people of the North Shore. The writer, while Field Officer one week, for the whole Camp had ample opportunity of inquiring into matters, and he found that the 132nd Battalion was the only Battalion asked to give statement of funds supplied by the people for whatever purpose used. There are Battalions here with thousands of dollars for Regimental Fund, Field Kitchens provided by their own home town, or by the ladies of the section from which they come, whole Battalions with Thermos water bottles provided by friends. All Battalions have Bands whose instruments cost from several hundred dollars to four thousand seven hundred dollars, to say nothing of Music, polish, etc., these have been given to the Battalions by friends and no accounting for the funds necessary.

There has been considerable comment in certain sections of the North Shore about the "cheap instruments". This is done by the "cold feet" Brigade, who stand on the street corners swapping gossip about people who are trying to do something of worth for the Empire, or by those who used appointment in the 132nd Battalion Band as a leverage to get more pay out of the firm for which they work.

These tongues are still wagging, while men are giving their best and all on the far off field of struggle for them, home, and Empire. The Empire was not made by such, preserved or expanded by such, nor will it be saved by such, but by him who fights, suffers, and in so many cases dies for the country for which he lived.

The Band takes its place with the others and is a Military Band and not a Concert Band. The 132nd Band was given the honour of playing an Overseas Battalion to the station, when their own "Concert" band was sent away.

The Battalion is most thankful to those who have helped us and soon our turn will come to go overseas and then pass along to the trenches to take our places with the others who have done so well.

STEAMER ELAINE NOT SUITABLE

Has No Accommodations For First Class Passengers to Gaspe

The steamer "Elaine" has arrived and has made a trip down the coast. Those who have looked the boat over and who are competent to judge, say that she is not at all suitable for the route even with extensive alterations.

After waiting three months, when it was expected all necessary alterations and improvements would be made to meet the conditions of travel on the proposed route, the boat arrived here with not a state room or other necessary improvements made, and looking so dirty and weather beaten that first class passengers would not care to take a trip in her, and it looks from all outward appearance as if the owners have come to the Bay Chaleur, not to serve the public, and endeavor to encourage tourist traffic, but solely to make the necessary number of trips to earn a part of the subsidy offered.

The boat is too small to comfortably sail the Bay Chaleur, and while she may have been a useful boat on the St. John River route, we venture to predict that she will be a worse failure than the steamers which served the route in the past two or three years.

LIEUT. ALF. GILLIS ARRIVES HOME

Was at Hotel St. Louis This Morning and Warmly Greeted by Friends

Another of Campbellton's wounded heroes has arrived home quietly and unexpectedly. Lieut. Alf. Gillis arrived home last night and registered at the St. Louis. He is quite lame.

Lieut. Gillis is a son of Coun. H. C. Gillis of Tide Head and was a member of Anderson's battery. Before the war he was employed with E. Sullivan here and is well known throughout the country.

CAMPBELLTON CITIZENS PUBLIC MEETING

Anniversary of Declaration of War Duly Observed on School Grounds Friday Evening

Campbellton Citizens WPT
The public open air meeting called to commemorate the anniversary of the entrance of Great Britain into the war, took place on the public school grounds last Friday evening.

Unfortunately the evening was not fine and rain began to fall when the meeting was fairly under way, consequently there was not a large attendance.

The Campbellton Band rendered a number of selections and then Mayor Andrew called the meeting to order, and after a few remarks in reference to the object of the meeting, introduced the speaker of the evening, Rev. J. H. Woodside of Toronto.

The Reverend gentleman made a most eloquent address, touching upon the war and its progress, together with the part Canada has played in it. His remarks were frequently applauded.

At the conclusion of the address, His Honor Judge McLatchey in a few remarks moved the following resolution:

"That on this, the second anniversary of the declaration of a righteous war, this meeting of the citizens of Campbellton records its inflexible determination to continue to a victorious end the struggle in maintenance of those ideals of Liberty and Justice, which are the common and sacred cause of the Allies."

This was ably seconded by Capt. A. T. LeBlanc, and upon being put was carried unanimously.

Rev. Geo. M. Young then moved a vote of thanks to Rev. Mr. Woodside for his interesting address. This was seconded by J. L. Ryan, Esq., and also carried unanimously.

The meeting dispersed after the National Anthem was rendered.

These tongues are still wagging, while men are giving their best and all on the far off field of struggle for them, home, and Empire. The Empire was not made by such, preserved or expanded by such, nor will it be saved by such, but by him who fights, suffers, and in so many cases dies for the country for which he lived.

Acadiens Meet at Moncton.—Choose Prominent Edmundston Barrister

At a meeting of Acadiens held at Moncton on Tuesday, the names of all the French-Acadian lawyers were placed before the meeting, and on a vote being taken Maximilian D. Cormier, B. A., of Edmundston, obtained a two-thirds vote which was subsequently made unanimous by the meeting.

There were about one hundred present and letters of regret from others unable to be present were read.

When the vote was taken, Mr. Max. Cormier was found to have a majority of the whole about 65; Mr. A. J. Legere of Moncton, 24; Mr. A. D. Richard, 8. Mr. Ferdinand Robitoux, some scattering.

"I had a fight yesterday with the boy next door," a lad confessed to his father.

"Yes, I know; his father is coming to see me about it at my office."

"Well, father, I hope you will get the best of it, the same as I did yesterday."

AUSTRIAN ARMY SUFFERED TERRIBLE LOSSES AT BRODY

The Enemy Had 27,000 Casualties Apart From the Prisoners

Petrograd, Aug. 7.—It is semi-officially announced that the confluence of the Stokhod and Pripet rivers to twenty or thirty miles northwest of Tarnopol, and the districts specified in official bulletins, merely as those where the fighting is hottest. Austro-German counter attacks became more and more frequent, but they are no more successful, and the appointment of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, as supreme commander, has so far introduced no novel feature. Austrian prisoners say that their army has suffered terrible losses at Brody. For example, the twenty-fourth infantry lost 3,100 men in killed, wounded and prisoners. This is merely typical of several regiments. A captured Austrian officer admitted that apart from prisoners, the Austrians had 27,000 casualties. The positions from which the Teutons have been driven were of extraordinary strength, and since last autumn, the Russians had made more than one unsuccessful attempt to take them. The Austrians seemed to have believed them impregnable.

AMERICANS WILL BUILD PAPER MILLS IN CANADA

Newsprint is Scarce and High in Price.

Washington, Aug. 1.—Newspaper publishers and printers were given a hearing to-day by the Federal Trade Commission on the scarcity and high price of newspaper paper. J. H. Zerby, representing the National Publishers, charged that the International Paper Company was holding more than a million dollars worth of newspaper paper, and he compared that with the fact that publishers all over the country are facing increases in price and the possibility of the difficulty to make new contracts. P. T. Dodge, representing the International, arose at that point and told the commission the reserve stock to which Mr. Zerby referred was held to sustain the company's record of never having failed to supply its customers for any cause whatever—fires, floods or strikes. Mr. Dodge added that new mills his company is about to build will be in Canada because of present tariff conditions.

CHILD SEVERELY BURNED

Another near fatality occurred at Chatham Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when the six year old son of Albert Knowles, St. Andrew's street, was very severely burned about the face and body. It is supposed the little fellow was playing with matches and set his clothes alight. Neighbors hearing his cries rushed into the house and extinguished the flames. Mrs. Knowles was not in the house at the time.

English Soldier's Description of a Fight

A tall, thin private of an English North Country regiment, wounded in arm and thigh and hand, told a story of action from the soldier's point of view. "Aye, it were half-past seven when we started, sir. 'Twas in a kind of a bit wood, ye know, sir. The third line, like, we was; B and C Company been afore us, ye see, we could see them movin' in the open, like, past the wood—till the fire caught 'em an' they went down like grass. I was beside the Colonel in the front trench. I carried bombs, ye see. The Colonel, he was to go 'til the last line, after us. But when he sees the second line cut down that way an' our time come, 'Oh, damn!' says he—just like that—an' he ups an' over the parapet. 'Come on, me lads,' he said—like that—an' just that moment he was hit, and kind of staggered, an' afore I could get till him, like, he fell backward into the trench again. I doubt it killed him. But we had to go. I had no bombs. We was singing 'John Peel' like mad, all the while, an' three near, who saw the Colonel, an' cheerin' to raise the dead. "I got a bullet in me arm here directly I was on parapet, an', somehow, it made me stumble like, an' I fell. But I went on as quick as I could, me havin' the bombs, ye see. But ye'd have wondered to hear how loud our lads were singin' 'an' cheerin', like at a football match. Aye, 'twas a pity I lost me rifle, an' me havin' an' 'all when I fell then. But I'd the bombs, ye see. I knew well we'd need the bombs. Wonderful thick them bullets flew, to be sure. You'd hardly believe it, not havin' 'em there, like. Aye, but ye know that part too. Aye, there's aas trees left there now, I'm thinking. It was just past their first line I go on this one in me hand. A bit sore like, that was, more'n than the arm, but not so very bad, but what I got on all right; till this third one got me here, and I fell in a shell hole near the second line. The pity was, I could ha' used me bombs, like; aye, I could from there, but I was afraid of 'em an' our own lads. But Lance-Corporal—me took 'em on from me, an' I lay a long while. Near along evening time I could see our stretcher bearers comin' out behind, an' hoppin' back w' a wounded man when they could. But them Boches is dirty devils. They saw the stretchers, an' every time the bearers showed up they turned a gun on 'em, an' they sweep the ground very low to kill off the wounded. They got all our stretcher bearers that way, after a bit, just one after the other, as they tried to work. They've no decency like, they Germans. "So I just kind o' humped myself along as ye might say. But they fixed when they saw a move, an' then I got into a trench, an' they couldn't see me crawl. I same to where the dead lay blockin' the way, an' I didn't like to crawl on top of 'em. But I saw they was 'em, an' outside ye see, the bullets come pretty thick, so I crawled on 'em, till I found I was on one of our own lads. I couldn't crawl on them, an' I got out again, an' then I don't seem to mind much, after. 'Twas all-

SWITZERLAND SHOWS FEELING FOR ENGLAND.

When Wounded British Soldiers Arrived From German Prison Camps

The wonderful reception which the British wounded prisoners of war who have been transferred to Switzerland received on their arrival in that country is told in an official despatch from the British Minister at Bern. "It is difficult to write calmly about it, says the minister for the simple reason that I have never before in my life seen such a welcome. "Within sight of the German sentries the cheering began. At Kreuzlingen, Zurich, Olten, Bern, Fribourg, Lausanne, Montreux, and Chateau d'Ex, thousands upon thousands of people crowded the platforms. They greeted the soldiers with flowers. "At Fribourg the cheering is described as having been quite deafening; at Lausanne, some 10,000 people at 6 a. m. were present at the station. "As the train drew up at Chateau d'Ex the scene was really extraordinary. While the band played 'God Save the King,' the soldiers covered with roses, carrying armfuls of presents, some in tears, some actually fainting with emotion, gradually left the train. "First, those who could walk were conducted through lanes of cheering people to the tables laid out for them. Then those who were very ill were brought in on stretchers smothered with flowers. "It is impossible to avoid that impression that this extraordinary reception of our men was a national demonstration in favor of England. "Our men were simply astounded, and naturally so, after being many of them treated with every obloquy for two years or nearly so. "Many of them were crying like children; a few fainted from emotion. As one private said to me, 'God bless you, sir! It's like dropping right into heaven from 'el.'"

HENDERSON—WARD

A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday, July 26th, at eight o'clock, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Henderson, when their eldest daughter, Ella Henrietta, was united in marriage to Henson P. Ward of Harcourt. The house was tastefully decorated for the occasion, and the bride, who was given away by her father, was charmingly gowned in white Georgette crepe trimmed with white satin, bridal veil and orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of roses and sweet peas. Little Elizabeth Miller acted as flower girl. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. H. McLean in the presence of about 60 guests. The sister of the groom played the wedding march. After the ceremony a very dainty supper was served. A large number of beautiful and costly gifts were received by the bride. The groom's present to the bride was a handsome pearl pendant. They spent their honeymoon in Harcourt. The bride's travelling suit was of putty serge with hat to match.

OUR PEACE TERMS

The beginning of the third year of the war reveals definitely the approaching end. There can be no longer any doubt that Germany is beaten, and destined to be thoroughly subjugated. The German people now see, and as good as admit their failure. One of the latest declarations made in their behalf by a great semi-official newspaper organ is that they must fight on, should the path of battle "lead straight to hell." There is a world of confession in such an utterance. Except as a confession it is not impressive. The Germans are not the sort of people who fight in the way suggested. Their habit is to bluster and bluff as long as possible and then to "lie down." They are still blustering and trying to bluff. Their "lying down" time is at hand. Preliminary "squalls" from them have already been heard even from "the All-Highest."

It is high time, therefore, for the Allies to discuss among themselves, and agree upon the terms of peace, to be imposed. The British Dominions also will be entitled to a voice in the final settlement. It is for us to make up our minds with reference to matters which may affect our future. So far as Canada is concerned, we have little to consider, as Germany is no neighbor of ours. Whatever terms the Motherland may make with her are likely to be satisfactory to us, in so far as they tend to guarantee the future peace of the world, and prevent any renewal of the present conflict.

VALUE OF SHADE TREES

That the shade tree increases the value of property, and adds much to the beauty of surroundings is being more and more appreciated. Municipal corporations are encouraging the planting of trees in greater numbers, as well as protecting those they already have. Many estimates have been made as to the actual cash value of a growing shade tree, but all concede that its aesthetic greatly exceeds its monetary value. In the transfer of real estate, a favorably situated shade tree will enhance the value of the property out of all proportion to the intrinsic value of the tree. From a financial standpoint, therefore, the shade trees should be protected.

REVENUE FROM CROWN TIMBER LANDS

Since Confederation, in 1867, Quebec has derived a total direct revenue to the provincial treasury of more than $40,000,000 from the sale of cutting privileges on Crown timber lands. The revenue from this one source now averages well over $1,500,000 annual-

Every 10c Packet of WILSON'S FLY PADS WILL KILL MORE FLIES THAN 50¢ WORTH OF ANY STICKY FLY CATCHER

Clear to handle. Sold by all Drug-gists, Grocers and General Stores.

The area of Crown land under license to cut timber is approximately 44,500,000 acres, while 78,000,000 acres remain unlicensed. About 6,000,000 acres of timber land in the province are in private ownership.

PROTECT OUR BIG GAME

Judging from the rate at which the wild creatures of North America are now being destroyed, fifty years hence there will be no large game left in the United States nor in Canada, outside of rigidly protected game preserves. It is therefore the duty of every good citizen to promote the protection of forests and wild life and the creation of game preserves, while a supply of game remains. Every man who finds pleasure in hunting or fishing should be willing to spend both time and money in active work for the protection of forests, fish and game.

In the settled and civilized regions of North America, there is no real necessity for the consumption of wild game as human food; nor is there any good excuse for the sale of game for food purposes. The operation of market hunters should be prohibited everywhere, under severe penalties.

DANGEROUS RATE OF SPEED

That the automobile that killed little Edith Nelson on the highway road in front of her own home at Boiestown, North Co., on Sunday evening, was an unlicensed car and was driven by an unlicensed chauffeur at a dangerous rate of speed, was the finding of the jury at Boiestown, on Monday. The jury further recommended that the speed limit in villages in Northumberland County be reduced to 8 miles per hour.

From the evidence submitted, the jury found that the little girl contributed largely to her own death by running in front of the car, which was driven by Robert Rice.

"We dined out last night. Pa disgraced us, as usual." "How was that?" "He got to the end of the dinner with three forks and two spoons still unused."

"I really don't believe," said Gladys, coyly, "that you particularly wanted to hear me sing." "I did indeed," her admirer protested. "I had never heard you."

Willis—I wonder if there will ever be universal peace? Gillis—Sure. All they've got to do is to get the nations to agree that in case of war the winner pays the pensions.

Life Insurance Examiner—Ah—you have suicidal impulses, do you—yes, I got 'em every time your agent oozes into my office.

"Sometimes," said Uncle Eben, "a man gets de notion dat he's upliftin' human race when he's only tryin' to boss it around."

BISHOP BARRY'S GOLDEN JUBILEE

Celebration at Chatham, To-day Presentations, Etc.

Chatham, Aug. 10th.—The Right Rev. Thos. F. Barry, D.D., Bishop of Chatham, was 50 years a priest on Saturday, having been ordained on August 5, 1866. To-day is the day chosen for the celebration of His Lordship's golden jubilee, and priests of the diocese are present to offer His Lordship their congratulations and a token of their filial love and esteem.

In the morning at 9 o'clock, Pontifical High Mass was celebrated and a sermon, followed by the presentation of an address and a purse from the priests. At noon, a banquet was given to His Lordship at St. Thomas College by the priests of the diocese. At 7.30 o'clock there will be a presentation of an address and a purse from the parishioners of St. Michael's Cathedral parish, followed by a solemn Te Deum and Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

CANADIAN NICKEL

The strain of the war has set the people's nerves on edge and it may seem easy to stampee them politically. Because of this condition patriotic citizens and newspapers will weigh their words carefully and abstain from reckless statements likely to make mischief and work injury to the state. As a contemporary points out, from half a dozen sources have been coming streams of manufactured rubbish about nickel. Canada could not have stopped the flow of nickel matter to the American refinery without checking the production of vast quantities of munitions in American factories for the British and Allied armies. The shipments of Canadian nickel to the continent could not have been prohibited without shortening the supply of the metal for the British and Allied navies.

We have the assurance of the British Government and the Admiralty that a complete check is kept by British inspectors at the American refinery upon every pound of nickel handled at the plant, and that not an ounce goes to the enemy. If any did get into hostile hands, it could not pierce the British blockade of Germany. Even the Deutschland will find it a long way to go. This country has blundered for years in not having nickel refined at home, or the whole industry nationalized for the benefit of the British Empire. Steps are now well advanced to produce the finished nickel in Canada but it is idle to abuse Governments for not being more loyal than the British Admiralty or the King.

CANADIANS

Those residents of the northern half of this continent who sometimes feel indignant over our neighbors to the south applying to themselves, and to themselves only, the appellation "Americans" by the residents of the following from the Montreal Herald:

As a matter of fact we have always had very little sympathy with those who have been disturbed by the cool assumption of the use of the word "Americans" by the residents of the United States. We are quite content to be known as "Canadians," and, as a matter of fact, have resented being called by the folks at home "Americans." Geographically we have every right to call ourselves "Americans," but from choice we prefer to call ourselves and be called "Canadians." There is something distinctive about it. We could, if we wanted to do it, call ourselves "British North Americans," but we don't even want to do that. As Canadians we have a standing in the world to-day that we never had before. We cannot say the same of those who have arrogated to themselves the exclusive use of the word "American." But let them have the word. We find it useful in describing them. How else can you designate a resident of the United States? "Yankee" does not fill the bill, as it refers only to natives of certain states. We don't want to have to call them "United Statesians." Let us keep on calling them Americans, and when our Old Country friends call us "Americans" let us gently tell them that while they are geographically quite correct there is something stronger than geography—sentiment—that binds us to our love for the simple but comprehensive term, "Canadians."

The thoughts and sentiments here expressed are the thoughts and sentiments of practically all Canadians to-day. Time and the obligations of service in a common cause have so eliminated old feelings and prejudices that even the most ardent blue nose would no longer set up the claim that he is a Nova Scotian by birth and a Canadian by act of parliament. All who have answered the call of Empire; all who

CROP REPORTS ARE VERY FAVORABLE

Ottawa Says N. B. Crops Are Generally Good.—Hay Crop Above Average.

Ottawa, Aug. 2nd, 1916.—A special press bulletin issued to-day by the Census and Statistics Office reports on the condition of field crops in Canada at the end of July, as summarized from telegrams received from the Dominion Experimental Farms and Stations in accordance with arrangements made between the Departments of Trade and Commerce and Agriculture.

MARITIME PROVINCES. PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND: All crops have made strong growth; hay is an average crop; potatoes and roots look well. NOVA SCOTIA: Cereals have made good growth; corn and potatoes are good; turnips are fair, but man-golds poor. NEW BRUNSWICK: All crops have made good growth, except where damaged by June floods; hay much above the average; grain mostly headed and indicates an average crop; potatoes and roots promise well.

QUEBEC: All reports agree that the hay crop is very abundant, and of good quality. Grain crops have suffered considerably from drought during the month, and apparently the harvest will be earlier than usual. Potatoes are reported as good, except from Ste. Anne de la Pocatiere, where they have suffered from drought, and from Cap Rouge, where they were hurt by too-much rain. Corn is reported as doing well.

have contributed their bit to the country's service are Canadians in the truest and best meaning of the word. Never again, even in the heat of political strife, should the flag of our common country be flaunted in the faces of one half the people as the emblem of party; never again should the unworthy attempt be made to claim that the loyalty of the country is centred in one party or one class. Canadian graves in France and England and the far away points of battle for Empire and world liberty are proof of the loyalty of the Canadian people. Fellow citizens of these who have fought and died for King and country who attempt for party or other purposes to make capital out of loyalty are unworthy of the name Canadian, unworthy the glorious heritage our soldiers overseas have secured to Canada. The flag of Canada is no more a party emblem than is the loyalty of Canada a party attribute.—Globe.

WHERE THE SHOE PINCHED.

Sometimes mail order houses offer a leader, that is, they sell some article at less than cost, in order to induce buyers to make up an order which will include many things at a great deal more than cost. The big firm comes out ahead on the whole transaction, all right—that is what they are there for.

We heard of an experience of a certain lady the other day who thought it would be a good scheme to simply order that leader, the article sold at less than cost. The particular bargain offered was a pair of shoes at $1.69. When the shoes arrived there was a charge of 25 cents for express which she paid. After she got the shoes home, she discovered that they did not fit, so she packed them up again and returned them by express. The firm said she could return the goods if not satisfactory, at least that was in the advertisement. She paid another 25 cents to return them. After waiting about a week the new shoes arrived, and she had to pay another quarter for express. Unfortunately they were no better than the first ones, as far as fit were concerned. She had now paid $2.44 for a pair of $1.69 shoes, with more to follow. She tried to exchange them with a local dealer, but, of course, that would not work, but while in the local store she saw as good a pair, in every respect which the dealer sold for $1.65 regularly. She may find a lady friend to fit the shoes. If so she may not lose more than a dollar. If not, she is out $2.44.

When you come to think of it, is it not rather foolish to buy things just from seeing a picture of them? A farmer would not buy a cow from a catalogue, because he knows something about cows. How much more important is it to see what you buy and know with whom you are dealing when you are getting something about the quality of which you are not able to judge. The Campbellton merchant wants your Siisioberperflycandiceurea'abe—trade and he knows that the best way to secure it is to be perfectly candid about the quality of the goods he sells. He knows more about quality than you will ever learn unless you go into business for yourself. If an article is not the best he will tell you so, and charge you fairly for what you get.

When Pigs Were Cheap. In your grandfather's day—ask him about it—you could buy a dressed hog for three dollar; a nice big pig. And a live pig would cost no more. Everything in those bygone days was cheap—that is, the things of common use. Clothes, boots, milk, bread, beefsteak, eggs, butter, lumber, farm labor, domestic servants—they all cost a good deal less than they do today. It cost less to live—and less to be born—and less to die fifty years ago than today. And it cost much less to publish a country weekly fifty years ago than it does today—very much less. Yet you paid—or your grandfather did—just a dollar a year—the same as you are paying today. But the dollar must yield to the pressure of necessity. We must do now what we ought to have done years ago—raise the price of The Graphic to $1.50. The tremendously increased costs of paper, ink, supplies, and the more-than-doubled cost of living have made us "furious" to think." And so, the price of The Graphic will in future be $1.50 a year. Good Readers All. If you were in our place, and knew all we know, about the higher costs of publishing you would wonder how we did't make the advance long ago. We trust you to meet the new rate with a smile. Not for 50 cents a year will you say "Stop my paper"

ITALIANS WIN IMPORTANT VICTORY

Austrian City of Gorizia Captured and 10,000 Austrians Taken Prisoners

Rome, Aug. 9 (via London)—Italian troops entered the Austrian city of Gorizia this morning, the War Office announced today.

Thus far 10,000 Austrians have been captured.

Italian troops have crossed the Isonzo in the vicinity of Gorizia and consolidated the further bank. Occupation of the heights west of Gorizia has been completed.

Italian cavalry is pursuing the Austrians beyond the river.

London, Aug. 9.—The Austrians, pursued by Italian cavalry, have abandoned nearly all their principal positions on the Isonzo and Carso fronts, following the taking of the Gorizia bridgehead by the Italians, according to a wireless despatch from Rome this afternoon.

London, Aug. 9.—A further advance by the British on the Somme front north of Pozieres was announced today by the War Office.

IS DEUTSCHLAND IN HIDING?

NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 7.—British authorities here declare that the German submersible Deutschland has not yet gone to sea.

This claim based on the fact that the sounding apparatus on the British warships has not detected the submarine passing. It is declared these "listeners" would have recorded the presences of the submarine had she been within ten miles of a warship.

There is a report in marine circles here that the Deutschland is hiding in the bay, after having made as if to start out to sea.

GASOLINE DROPS IN PRICE WEDNESDAY

Not Expected to Advance Again This Year

Gasoline has dropped in price, according to official word given out at the Imperial Oil Company's headquarters this morning, and it was said that probabilities were gasoline would not be any higher this year. A decrease is reported of one cent per gallon on barrels and 1 1/2 on steel drums. The reduction went into effect Tuesday.

HAD LEG BROKEN

Allen Callahan, youngest son of Mr. John Callahan, had the misfortune to have his leg fractured above the knee while at work in the Lounsbury Co's mill recently. The lad was assisting in making some repairs, and was up on a high platform steadying a rope, when the rope parted and he was precipitated to the ground, a distance of about 30 feet, with the above disastrous results. He was removed immediately to his home and medical assistance summoned. He is progressing most favorably, although it will be a considerable time before he will be around again, and being a general favorite, will be greatly missed.

FELT LIKE A NEW PERSON

After Taking Only One Box Of "Fruit-a-lives"

EAR SHIP HARBOUR, N. S.

"It is with great pleasure that I write to tell you of the wonderful benefits I have received from taking "Fruit-a-lives". For years, I was a dreadful sufferer from Constipation and Headaches, and I was miserable in every way. Nothing in the way of medicines seemed to help me. Then I finally tried "Fruit-a-lives" and the effect was splendid. After taking one box, I feel like a new person, to have relief from those sickening Headaches."

CAMPBELLTON BOY IN ONTARIO BUSH FIRE

Had Exciting Time But Came Through Safely.—Welcome Rain Saved Him

The following letter has been received by Mr. and Mrs. John A. Travers, from their son Alfred F. Travers, who is doing mission work in Northern Ontario.

Hunts,
Via Cochrane, N. Ontario,
Aug. 1, 1916.

Dear Mother:

I just got into town today for a little time. I have been through this terrible forest fire that you no doubt have heard about. There have been about four or five hundred lives lost. I am safe and sound, but have had an exciting experience. The Campbellton fire was nothing to be compared to this awful bush fire. The forest fires are terrible, and are of course started by settlers fires.

Here is the program I went through the day and night of the fire, which was on Saturday, July 29th. Had breakfast, wrote a few letters and started out on an eight or nine mile jaunt through the bush to a barn-raising at a settler's home. The first barn-raising in the country. I got through about two o'clock. When I arrived the terrible forest fire was well underway over the whole country. The smoke there was almost unbearable. In a way, those people were well situated, however, because they were near a nice large lake, into which in the event of things getting real bad, it would be possible to go, and where as a matter of fact, I have since heard they did go in the night. Well, things looked so badly that it was absolutely necessary to make back for the purpose of endeavoring to save, if possible, the little church we had in the woods near the railway. Away I started. I travelled south about two miles, as far as that road went, for at that point it joined the road going west and the one I wanted, for by that I would proceed about three or four miles, then arrive at a cross road which leads by the church lot and the shack I live in. To make a long story short, I arrived at the west running road O. K. Then proceeded west about a mile. Here the fire and smoke were so bad that I could go no further. I left the path and endeavored to circle behind it, but could not do it and got so filled up with smoke I had a very hard time to get back to the path. The wind was blowing toward me, so I had to turn and retrace my steps as quickly as possible. I was of course making for the house I had been at, when I got to the road running north, and so to that house I was again cut off and could not return there. I had to keep going right ahead of it, and it was catching up all the time. I now had fire to north, south and west of me. It was relentlessly following me at quite a rate. I got along about a couple of miles further to a plot of cleared land and shack owned by a Mr. Clark. When I got there the fire passing north and south of the road and his place joined forces last of the clearing, so here I was in a regular death trap. A small clearing, if it could be called a clearing, with fire on all sides of me. I had tramped for miles and miles in a temperature of 106 degrees above and had at last been hemmed in. The smoke was practically unbearable. Rabbits and other animals were huddled up with me like household pets, we were all in the same state, with no fear save one, that of the ever approaching fire. I was trapped there for almost 16 hours, the fire for hours creeping nearer and nearer. Any possibility of escape had long since vanished. It was just a matter of waiting for what looked like certain death, and hoping for the best.

Fortunately about ten o'clock at night, the wind abated and so the fire died somewhat and ceased to travel so rapidly and praise be to God, at about 2:30 a. m. a thunder shower came on. The first bit of rain in this country for over a month.

Sunday morning the fire and smoke had died sufficiently to make it possible to get through, so away for what I call home, arriving at about 9:30 a. m. My shack had been saved by the two

RENEWING ACQUAINTANCES

Last week, Dr. C. Doherty of San Francisco, Cal., who had been a practitioner here a number of years ago, renewed many old acquaintances in town, to their unbounded delight. Dr. Doherty, with his host, Mr. Sydney DesBrisay of Madisac, enjoyed a very pleasant fishing excursion at Anterior Lake. Rev. J. Z. Lambert of St. Hilaire, also spent last week in town and needless to say, his numerous friends were pleased to greet and welcome him to their midst once more. Father Lambert also improved his sojourn, by a profitable as well as pleasant fishing trip up Jaquet River.

CHATHAM CHILD BURNED TO DEATH

Chatham, N. B., Aug. 7.—A fire which had great headway in the rear portion of Mrs. Angelina Burk's house, off Wellington street, when it was discovered at 5:30 o'clock this morning resulted in the complete gutting of the house, the scorching of Clem Breniol's house next door, and the probable loss of a young child of Mrs. Burke's, a four year old boy, who is missing. The remains are thought to be buried in the debris which marks the site of the kitchen and rear shed. It is thought that the little boy, playing with matches, had set the fire, and as there was a quantity of hay in the rear, the fire may have spread with such rapidity that he also was engulfed. The blaze had complete possession of the kitchen and shed when discovered, and only some furniture could be saved. A fireman fought an uphill fight, but confined a dangerous looking blaze to the one house, except for the scorching of Breniol's house, received at the rear end.

At 10:30 o'clock the body of the little child was discovered close to the back door, badly charred and the face downward, and beside it the remains of a little dog, which had shared its playmate's fate, perhaps voluntarily.

Five rangers who live near me. They had a hard time to pull through it, but I must stop. I am safe and thank God for it. He alone saved me. I expect to leave again for Hunts in a few hours. I am in Cochrane now. I wired today to let you know I am safe.

Kind regards to all friends.
Your loving son,
ALFRED.

Amatite Roofing

NEEDS NO PAINTING

Amatite stands alone in the ready roofing world. It is the one roofing you don't have to paint. Once laid, it will last for years without any attention from you. For scintillating steep roofs it is supreme. If you could only see how it is made—see the tough, fibrous felt, the dense, non-volatile saturating compound that keeps it water-tight, you would understand our claims. Try some.

A Roofing Triumph

The durability of Amatite is only one of its fine points. The same structural feature which makes it unnecessary to paint Amatite, gives it a distinctive and beautiful appearance. We refer to its sparkling, mineral surface. Improves the appearance of any building. The best buy in the ready roofing market.

BARACHOIS

A concert given on the evenings of the 28th and 29th of July by some of the young people of Barachois in the town hall, in aid of the Belgian Relief Fund, was a pronounced success and the returns from the sale of seats show a handsome sum, which will go to help the fund.

All numbers were well rendered and show that although they had only a short time at their disposal to prepare, no trouble was spared by those taking part. The management and those taking part are to be congratulated on the success which attended their efforts. A large and appreciative audience taxed the capacity of the Hall and manifested by their frequent applause that the program was greatly appreciated.

Those who took the most prominent part in the organizing were: Messrs. Herbert S. Sorer, President; A. W. J. McNally, Treasurer; W. A. Tapp, Secretary.

Mr. H. S. Sorer is deserving of great credit for the manner in which he so quickly and successfully organized and guided the work as follows: He was ably assisted by Mr. Simon W. J. McNally, who acted as musical director.

Amongst other things were a few well rendered solos by Messrs. Oswald Tapp and S. McNally. Also a duet by the Misses Mollie A. Tapp and Gertrude McNally.

A few organ solos by the young ladies were well given. The two short dramatic pieces were much appreciated by the audience.

The Silent Scene was well presented and staged, the lighting effect being splendid.

The management is very grateful to all those who lent assistance in any way, particularly Rev. J. G. C. Plourde, Messrs. Maloney, Segros, Ellis, who were kind enough to supply a number of things necessary for decoration, etc.

The program was as follows: 1. Overture, "Manhattan Beach March" by Miss Katie McNally.

2. Patriotic Song, "We'll never let the Old Flag Fall," solo by Mr. Oswald Tapp. Chorus by members. Acc. Miss K. McNally.

3. "The Old Madrid," "The Minstrel Boy."

4. "A Comic Recitation," translated from the Belgian by Mr. Herbert S. Sorer.

5. The committee on Platforms. Misses Mollie A. Tapp, Agnes Ingrouville, Ada St. Croix, K. McNally, Flora Tapp, Margie Tapp.

6. Organ Solo by Miss Flora Tapp.

7. "The Meeting of the Waters" and "The Harp that once through Tara's Hall." Acc. Miss K. McNally.

8. Recitation, "Number One" by Miss Florence St. Croix.

9. "The Pensive Boy," by Miss Stella St. Croix, Messrs H. S. Sorer, S. W. J. McNally, W. E. Tapp, Ed. Tapp, T. McNally, J. Tapp, Ed. St. Croix.

10. Organ Solo by Miss Winnie Ingrouville.

11. Song, "Driven from Home" Miss Ida McNally. Acc. Miss K. McNally.

12. The Barachois Singing Quartet, Misses Imelda Ingrouville, Winnie Ingrouville, Gertrude McNally, Mollie Ingrouville, Messrs. Oswald Tapp, Simon McNally, J. A. Tapp, Ed. St. Croix.

13. Song, "I'm on my way to Dublin Bay and 'My little Girl'." Acc. Miss K. McNally.

14. Songs, "She's the daughter of Mother Machree" and "That dear old Mother of Mine" by Mr. Simon McNally.

15. "Faith, Hope and Charity." Miss M. Deane. Miss P. Tapp, S. St. Croix, M. Tapp.

PORT DANIEL WEST, QUE.

Information has just reached here of the safe arrival in England of the 94th Batt., C. E. F., after a quick voyage, which was marked for the magnificent weather experienced throughout.

Amongst those sailing with this battalion was Peter Ramier, (son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ramier), who will be well remembered by the community as a young man of sterling quality, who left here some four years ago to take up a lucrative position in the West, which he resigned at the call of his Country, and to quote his own words, "I don my King's uniform in the full appreciation and knowledge, that this is the only course open to men, who realize their responsibility as the Sons of Empire, and with the sincere hope that other able bodied young men of this community may follow my example and do their bit for the common weal."

It is universally and sincerely expressed that Peter Ramier's wish, and example, may be realized, and copied by others in this district, who would rather be classed with the heroes, than the slackers, and these will be marked, and clearly distinguished by and by.

NEW CARLISLE

Miss Ida Smith left by train Saturday the 5th for Montreal, where she will remain a few days with friends, and then she will take her departure back to the front, likely until the war is over.

Miss Hench of Montreal, who has been visiting Mrs. Theo. Christie for the past 3 weeks, returned Saturday the 5th.

Rev. Capt. Belford of the 171st, gave a very stirring address on the evening of the 2nd in the Parish Hall. A goodly number was present and his words seemed to cut deep, especially to those who think they should go and yet make up weak, silly excuses and hang back. The speaker referred very plainly to the shirker and the young man with cold feet, and appealed to the young men to come forward like men and do their bit for the nation that is in great need of men. This is the time for me to identify themselves in a worthy cause. For the sake of the Empire, Great Britain, and her Allies, for Canada, for home, for Righteousness.

Miss Lillian A. Astles underwent a serious operation at the Hotel Dieu, Campbellton, on Wednesday, 2nd, and is doing as nicely as can be expected.

GASPE COAST A

SUMMER TONIC

Pretty Towns in Rock Bound Coast Lure Summer Tourists

A visit to the Gaspé Coast is a tonic for both body and mind. The invigorating sea breezes, that hit one a kindly greeting, the healthy fare that is so abundantly provided by the harvests of the land and sea, and the warm sympathetic nature of the people, all tend to uplift the spirits and to build up the body and soul of those who visit this pretty and historic part of the Canadian coast.

The eye could dwell on no grander scenery than the lovely Metapedia Valley, the forests, in all their fullness of foliage, the fertile lands, and the swift flowing rivers being convincing proof of the wealth of this portion of Quebec. When Carleton is reached the blue expanse of water of the Bay of Chaleur draws on the eye and brings the thought, which afterwards is fully justified, that here is a haven of rest and pure enjoyment.

Along the coast are many pretty little towns that are well worth more than a hurried visit. The people are a mixture of the real French-Canadian; the descendants of the old Huguenots of France, who emigrated to the Channel Islands, and afterwards came and settled on this coast line; and English-speaking Canadians, many of them descendants of Empire Loyalist families. They are principally engaged in fishing and farming, and in both respects nature seems to bestow her favors with a lavish hand.

Salmon, cod, mackerel and lobsters are in abundance in the Bay of Chaleur, and the Gulf of St. Lawrence, while the crops this season, especially hay and potatoes, are better than for many years.

New Carlisle, Paspebiac, Port Daniel and Cape Cove, are pretty little towns, with lovely beaches, where salt water bathing can be indulged in to the heart's content. Perce, where the famous pierced rock stands close to the shore, is a historical spot with a most invigorating air. The hotel accommodation at Perce, as at Gaspé, further along the coast, is of an excellent nature, and every effort is made to please visitors, and to entice them back again.

A visit to the last mentioned would not be complete without a sail across the bay to the Peninsula. It is only three miles across and makes a delightful trip.

CAMPBELL-BRASH

On Thursday evening, Aug. 3rd, at the home of the bride's parents, a very pretty wedding was solemnized by the Rev. E. J. Rattee, who united in marriage Richard Harry Campbell of New Richmond and Ruth Wardrobe Brash of New Richmond West. After the ceremony, luncheon was served.

The bride was charmingly gowned in white taffeta and nixon and wore a veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses and ferns and was attended by two flower girls, Lorraine, the daughter of Mrs. McNichol and Queenie, the sister of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell left for a trip to Gaspé. On their return they will reside in Grand Caspédia, Que.

LEARNING TO SWIM.

A professional swimmer, who learned to swim in the Danish Royal Navy says that any person can learn to swim in fifteen minutes.

"Have you ever seen a fish making a knot of itself. The water will support you if you tie yourself into a knot."

Lie down here on your back on the sand; straighten your body like an arrow; raise your chin as high as possible. In this position the ocean will float any human body almost any length of time. Why, because every square inch of your body surface is spread upon the water, so to speak, giving it a chance to support you properly.

"Your head weighs about twenty-five pounds. Now the minute you raise your head—and every beginner does that instinctively to see where he is—you go down. You are simply trying to break a natural law which refuses to be broken. As soon as you raise that twenty-five pound lump of bone and brain from contact with the water, Ewing's cash drawer had been taken by two tramps, who buried part of it in Henry Morton's garden merrily to throw suspicion from themselves and point it toward Henry, who was employed in Ewing's store."

As the door of the inner office opened, Mamie stopped talking and started from her seat as Senator Thomas entered, followed by the Governor. Her eyes searched pitifully for some sign

FRAILTY, OR FIDELITY?

By ELSIE SEE.

Abigail Thomas was seated in the visitors' gallery of the State Senate one morning, and in her smartly-tailored black silk suit and a flowered hat her fair beauty was even more pronounced than usual. The Senate was discussing a bill for the control of public utilities by city governments, and Abigail's father had just concluded a speech in its favor. Representatives of corporations, public-spirited citizens and lovers of oratory filled the visitors' section. The discussion became more heated with each speaker's contribution.

While the interest was at its height the heavy swinging doors of the Senate chamber opened slowly and there entered a pale, sad-faced young man who looked at the strange scene about her in a confused way. In her plain, dark blue suit and hat she would have attracted little attention had it not been for the searching look in her half-frightened, half-determined eyes.

As the woman slowly approached the brass rail which formed a semi-circle dividing the Senatorial desks from the seat section for visitors, Abigail Thomas recognized her as Mamie Morton, who, as Mamie Ellis, had been her classmate in grammar school, but who was now the tired and patient little dressmaker of Thomasville. Only a day or two before Senator Thomas had spoken of the efforts Mamie was making to have her husband pardoned from State prison, and when Abigail saw her standing there, looking so timid, yet so determined, she felt a desire to help her.

Perhaps the desire was more strong, because Abigail was beginning to feel remorseful about a quarrel she had had with Stanley Worth the night before. Stanley Worth was Governor of the State and a suitor for Abigail's hand. After proposing to her four times in three months and being given a different reason each time for her refusal he had told her that, although he honestly loved her, he would no longer furnish her opportunities for indulging her capriciousness.

Abigail's estimation of him went up many points upon this show of spirit, but a moment later it was consumed in the heat of her wrath, as he gave a semi-tragic quotation of "Frailty; thy name is woman." So the quarrel continued until Abigail said to herself that she would make him suffer for that contemptuous slander of her sex and until Stanley Worth said to himself that if he ever married any woman it would be because she did the proposing and inveigled him into acceptance before he knew what he was doing.

From her seat in the visitors' gallery Abigail went over toward the woman standing beside the brass rail. A recall call having been demanded, the secretary was calling the names of the Senators, whose eyes and noses were being given in voices ranging from high-pitched nasal wheezes to guttural growls. Mamie Morton approached the Sergeant-at-Arms and told him she must speak to Senator Thomas. The big officer shook his head doubtfully and reluctantly approached the Senator, who left his seat and went at once to the woman.

"I cannot promise that the Governor has taken any action," said Senator Thomas in answer to her eager question. "Many matters of State claim his attention at this time, and he may not have had time to look into this."

"But, sir," protested the woman, becoming bolder in her suspense, "it has been a whole week since the petitions from our citizens and the Judge and jury who tried poor Henry were sent to his office. Henry is innocent, sir, and has already served a year in prison."

"I believe he is innocent," said the Senator, "in spite of the circumstantial evidence indicating that he took the money from Jabe Ewing's cash drawer. I hope the Governor will come to see it as I do, but his decision may seem slow to you. Come with me, though, and we will see what has been done."

"And let me go, too, won't you, dad?" asked Abigail, who surprised her father by joining them and greeting Mamie cordially.

"Why, certainly, daughter, but I thought—you know, we're going down to the governor's office."

"Yes, I know, but I want to go, and perhaps I can be of some comfort to Mamie while she is waiting." Her father knew better than to question Abigail's whims.

When they reached the Governor's suite of offices Senator Thomas gave his seat to a smiling secretary, who took it at once into the Governor's private office, and returned a moment later, bidding the Senator enter the square inch of your body surface is spread upon the water, so to speak, giving it a chance to support you properly.

As the door of the inner office opened, Mamie stopped talking and started from her seat as Senator Thomas entered, followed by the Governor. Her eyes searched pitifully for some sign that the pardon was forthcoming. As the Governor recognized Abigail, who had quickly risen, and was standing looking out of the window, so that her face could not be seen, he stopped short for an instant, but quickly recovered his composure and brought his right hand from behind him and handed Mamie Morton a long, folded paper bearing the State seal.

"I am happy to give you this paper, Mrs. Morton," he said kindly. "When you present it to the warden of the prison he will give freedom to your husband."

Senator Thomas quickly guided Mamie to the door and out through the long corridors to the entrance of the building, talking quietly to her all the way, as if to stem the tearful current of her gratitude.

In the Governor's office Abigail turned and walked up to Stanley Worth in a way that made him wonder whether his good fortune was a dream. The smiling Secretary had discreetly withdrawn to another room.

"Stanley, I came here partly to help that poor woman by being with her in her distress and partly to be present when you have to recognize that the name of one woman, at least, was not frailty. But do you know why I have remained?" Her face changed from pink to white, and from white to pink.

"No, I do not," he said, and his voice sounded queer and unnatural.

"I've remained to say that the fidelity shown by that woman has made me ashamed of what you called my frailty, and to say—" Abigail paused, and her lovely head went higher and her clear blue eyes looked fearlessly into Stanley Worth's gray ones. "that if you're determined not to propose to me again, then I'll take advantage of leap year and propose to you."

The blissful expression brought to the Governor's face by this startling confession was partially dimmed the next instant by the shadow of Senator Thomas re-entering the doorway, but he managed to whisper a reply, and the Senator wondered what on earth it could be that Abigail had been asking of the Governor which brought from him an impassioned assurance that an official confirmation of his decision would be given her at the earliest possible opportunity. But Abigail's whims were always more or less of a puzzle to her father.

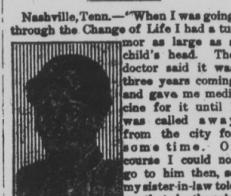

Mrs. Youngbride—I'm getting our ice from a new man now, dear. Youngbride—What's wrong with the other man? Mrs. Youngbride—The new dealer says he'll give us colder ice for the same money.

"Has the furnace gone out, Bridget?" "It didn't come through here, mum."

Clark—Do you believe in preparedness? Cluebleigh—Sure! I never go home late without having an excuse all framed up.

HOW MRS. BEAN MET THE CRISIS

Carried Safely Through Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Nashville, Tenn.—"When I was going through the Change of Life I had a tumor as large as a child's head. The doctor said it was three years coming and gave me medicine for it until I was called away from the city for some time. Of course I could not go to him then, so my sister-in-law told me that she thought I should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would cure it. It helped both the Change of Life and the tumor and when I got home I did not need the doctor. I took the Pinkham remedies until the tumor was gone, the doctor said, and I have not felt it since. I tell every one how I was cured. If this letter will help others you are welcome to use it."

—Mrs. E. H. BEAN, 525 Joseph Avenue, Nashville, Tenn.

"RULE BRITANNIA" "HYMN OF HATE."

Then British and German Bluejackets Paddle for Respective Ports

London, July 25—Here is an unpublished glimpse, of the Jutland battle, or rather a glimpse of a sequel. For scene, imagine an empty waste of waters in the grey of the summer twilight. Enter from the east a raft, bearing an inordinate number of British bluejackets paddling themselves at a mile an hour in the direction of England. Enter a raft loaded with Germans, laboriously travelling in the opposite direction. The rafts slowly approach. The British bluejackets debate what to do. They have hardly a clasp knife amongst them, the Germans outnumber them, and attack is ruled out. They sit up and sing, "Rule Britannia." The Germans at once reply feelingly with the "Hymn of Hate." Each crew gives three cheers, and resumes its journey in the general direction of England or Germany as the case may be.

ASSIGNMENT Mr. F. Joseph Bertrand of the Parish of Grimmer has made an assignment to Sheriff Stewart for the benefit of his creditors.

OBITUARY The death of Mr. George McMaster took place under very sad circumstances here Sunday evening. Deceased, who was 72 years of age, had been in poor health for some time. Of late he became despondent, but his daughter, Mrs. A. E. O'Donnell, at whose house he lived, did not notice any dangerous symptoms. On Saturday about noon he went to the bath room, and later Mr. O'Donnell found him with a severe wound in his throat, which he had inflicted with a knife. Dr. Murray and Dr. Pinault were summoned and did all that could be done, but he passed away Sunday evening. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon. The services at the house and grave were conducted by Rev. W. Camp.

PAY YOUR TAXES Already Town Treasurer Lingley has received a considerable amount of this year's taxes. Pay up and save the discount.

"Alack! we lack lactical fluid," said the German Chancellor. "We'll get milk from Cannes if I can break through the French line," said the Crown Prince. "Or I could send our navy over and get some from Cowes," put in Von Tirpitz's successor.

Tax Notice

I have received the Assessment List, and all persons assessed in the Town shall be entitled to a reduction or discount of FIVE PER CENTUM on the amount assessed against them respectively upon the payment of their respective rates to the Town Treasurer within THIRTY DAYS after the first publication of the said notice; after which time no discount shall be allowed, and all rates and taxes must be paid within sixty days after the first publication of said notice; after which date interest shall be charged on any balance due at the rate of five per centum per annum.

S. H. LINGLEY, Town Treasurer. Campbellton, N. B., August 2nd, 1916.

WANTED AT ONCE A Blacksmith for general work. None but a good sober man need apply. Apply to McLennan Foundry & Machine Works, Ltd. Campbellton. Aug. 8-2 wk.

Publishing a weekly newspaper at $1.00 per year is a losing game. While this price was sufficient five years ago, prices of raw material, labor, equipment, etc., have advanced to such an extent that publishers are selling their product at a loss. This loss has had to be made up by increasing advertising rates, and from profits from the job printing department.

The war has further increased the cost of production and publishers are face to face with a heavy deficit in their subscription departments. It is not possible, even if fair, to further shoulder the increased cost upon the advertisers, so we have decided to ask our subscribers to pay their fair proportion of the increased cost. Therefore on and after July 1st, 1916, the yearly subscription price of the Graphic will be $1.50 in advance and $2.00 to the United States.
