MORE ELECTRIC LIGHT AND POWER

G. F. Sealey is Enlarging His Plant and Will Commence an Eighteen Hour Service

At last Hartland is going to have not only an all night electric service, but will have a day service for power as well. G. F. Sealey of the Red Ball Garage, who for two years has been giving the townspeople a limited volume of current, is putting in new machinery that will make sufficient electricity to supply the present needs of the entire town.

Mr. Sealey purposes operating his plant from twelve noon to daylight of the following morning. He will have no difficulty in disposing of current for lighting, but the sale of the day current will be a business that will have to be worked up. At the very commencement of the new service, The Observer will discharge its gasoline engines and run its plant by electric motors. The people of the town will be able to secure light power for any purpose and the women of the community will have an opportunity to lighten their household tasks by the use of electric washers, irons, etc.

The enlarged plant will mean an outlay of much money and the people of the town should at once take advantage of the boon that electricity will prove to be.

Hartland is said to be the only incorporated town on earth that has absolutely no form of street lights. The first act of the new town council should be to supply this need.

Woodstock Track Notes

The season for ice racing has arrived but owing to the mildness of the winter so far, there has been no chance to induce in the sport. However the roads have been in pretty fair condition and horses have been jogged and speeded more or less as to be in readiness for Xmas Day racing.

The Woodstock Driving Club with their accustomed energy have already a quarter mile straight-away track and are now finishing forward for some good brushes Xmas Day. This winter we have three high grade ice racers and a bunch of good second raters. Lucky Strike, last year's King is still on the beat and his present owner, Bobt. Hamilton, will have him ready to meet all comers. St. Peters, owned by H. M. DeWitt, is another one of the first class and from the showing she made last spring can make any of them stop. Walter Mott now owns "Tour" and he confidentially expects to beat the party. We have not forgotten College Swift but after his hard campaign last summer and a prospect of a harder season next summer Mr. Gallagher would be foolish to scrap him on the ice. Included in the rest of the horses are some mighty good ones liable to be No. 1 Class before Spring. Likely a little later races will be arranged between Hartland and Woodstock, and Hartland again this year should be able to hold her own in any company, especially if Ben All takes to the ice. Anyway get them all ready, boys, and let us have some fun this winter to live up things a bit.

A NEW PICTURE HOUSE

H. P. Burpee, whose lease on the Star Theatre expires at the end of this month, has with other interested parties concluded arrangements for the purchase of the Burtt building on Main street, north end, and will at once commence alterations and enlargements necessary to transform the building into a first class picture house. It is intended to make a 30-foot addition to the rear of the building which will make possible a ground-floor auditorium about 30x70 feet.

"SNOWBLIND" THE XMAS SPECIAL

A Splendid Feature Secured for The Star on Monday Evening

Manager Burpee will on Monday evening (Christmas Night) present the clever and remarkably dramatic photoplay, "Snowblind." Here is the story:

In a little cabin hidden away in the wilderness of Canada's Great North-west lived Hugh Garth, a big, brutal, misshapen fugitive from justice, his younger brother, Pete, and Bella, who have shared his exile for fifteen years. One day Hugh stumbles across a young girl, Sylvia Doane, a member of a vaudeville troupe, who has been blinded by the glare of the snow. He carries her home and proceeds to fall in love with her.

Sylvia soon gives her heart to Hugh, believing him the big, heroic man that he pictures himself to be. Pete also falls under the spell of the sweet, girlishness of Sylvia, but his devotion to his brother prevents him from giving any inkling of that fact save to Bella, the companion of Hugh's night and shaver of his exile despite his harsh and brutal treatment of her. Bella has seen the growing attraction between the two young people and encourages Pete to give expression to it, hoping thereby to retain Hugh for herself, for in spite of his cruelty she still loves him.

One day Sylvia recovers her sight and she knows Hugh for the man he really is—a bodily and mentally distorted man who had killed his best friend and fled to the wilderness to escape justice. She does not tell him that she can see, but one day when Pete starts for the trading post for supplies she follows and overtakes him. On the return they are caught in a blizzard and take refuge under the spreading branches of a great tree where they spend the night and where at length they confess their mutual love.

On their return home, Hugh, believing that Pete has lured Sylvia away from him, is about to shoot his brother when Sylvia discloses to him that she can see and tells him exactly what kind of a man he is. He realizes the truth of her description, gives her up to Pete and tells them he is going to shoot the rapids through which no man has yet come alive. If he passes through the gorge alive he will start life anew. Faithful Bella enters the canoe with him. While Pete and Sylvia are avowing eternal love in the cabin, Hugh and Bella come safely through the rapids into the lower river and start on their new life together.

MAKE HARTLAND WHAT GOD INTENDED

Helpful, Even Complimentary Criticism Comes From Perth Man

Dear Editor: While in Hartland a few days ago, I was placed in a position to get a better view of the town than ever before. I have been in and around Hartland many times, and every time there, the impressions carried away with me were stronger than the last, but this last visit has shown to me more clearly than all the others the "brightness" of the town, which is now, and has been for many years covered up "under a bushel."

The bridge itself across the St. John River which is just completed is one that the people of the town and country should be proud of, and should be an incentive towards great activity on the part of the executives of the town to lift the "bushel" and now to let the brightness of that neat little town be shown to the world.

From my position, while riding down from Middle Simonds, I had an opportunity of a splendid view of the town, such as I had not before had the pleasure of seeing. I saw that the town was gradually spreading itself out along the river bank down past the old McMullin property, and that the terrace back of the town is receiving its share of the new growth.

There are some things which the town in my opinion, is lacking at the present time—improved streets and electric light. Why should a town like Hartland be afraid to embark at once and launch out with a firm determination to secure these improvements, without which there is not much chance of an added population?

I was not a little surprised to see so much cheap power running to waste, power which could be quickly utilized to give the town light, heat and power. I am satisfied that a bonded indebtedness on the town would yield a return of 8 per cent on the investment over and above the interest and upkeep on the whole plant. I am sure that Hartland could be made to be one of the brightest towns in the province if it were only to do so.

The one addition of an electric light plant would rapidly increase the population, manufacturers would quickly find it to be a good place to locate. It can be made to be the chief centre of Carleton County. I wish to make a special appeal to the people of the town, DO NOT ALLOW YOURSELVES TO LAG BEHIND. You know it is said of New Brunswick that its people are narrow and forty or fifty years behind the times, and those of our people who have visited other parts of America know that this saying is true, and so, why not the people of Hartland, while they have it within their grasp, seize the present opportunity, regardless of the cost, and make of Hartland WHAT GOD INTENDED IT TO BE?

I have made some study of the resources, and would be pleased to discuss the matter further at any time.

MANLY H. CRAIG.

Tie just a little bunch of love
Fast with a memory.

Be you dear friend I wish the best Of all good gifts that are,
Good health, and wealth, and fame, and love,
The last more precious far.

COMPLAINT AT LAKEVILLE

Dear Editor:

I wish to draw your attention to an item in the Lakeville items which were published in your paper in the issue of Dec. 15. I think you will see by reading it that it was meant for a mean slur on our school and also more especially on our teacher.

Now I know it is hard for you to watch everything that is sent to your paper and I am not going to blame you for I know that you are not a man that would publish anything that would be meant for a slur to injure or hurt anyone or cause trouble in a community, and I feel that the item referred to was meant for no other cause.

I think if anyone is going to write items to a paper they should write common sense and not resort to mean, dirty slanders and if they do I don't think people should be called upon to stand it so I am going to ask you to kindly print an apology in the next issue of your paper and I also demand that you send in the name of the one who had no more principle than to make such a cowardly attack and then hide behind the columns of your paper.

Now Sir, I suppose it would be necessary for me in making this request to give the facts of the case which I will do. Our school is taught by Miss Ethel O. McCrea of Perth, who holds a first class superior license and has taught two years before coming to Lakeville. Our school has an enrollment of about thirty scholars divided into six grades and you can see that in order to attend all the classes in a school of this kind a teacher has not much time for anything but work. The teacher mentioned in the item, that are looking after the primary and intermediate classes are little girls in the school that are sometimes allowed by the teacher when she is busy at other work to hear lessons of classes made up of scholars younger than themselves, but this is always done within the hearing of the teacher. I don't consider that is any crime as it has always been done in this school more or less as long as I can remember. Now in regard to the statement that advanced scholars that are preparing for Normal, getting extra lessons from teachers outside the school, I might say that to the best of my knowledge there is only one scholar that has taken any extra lessons out of the school and that was not necessary as our teacher is well qualified to teach anyone in the school and more than that she expressed herself to the advanced class that she was willing to give them any extra help they might come to her with.

Now Sir, this is a statement I am prepared to make oath to if necessary and I think it throws a different light on the subject than what the item was intended to convey.

The item may not have done any harm but it is just possible it may have had some influence in causing some of the ratenayers of our district to sign a dirty petition which was handed to me today asking for the removal of our teacher. I therefore feel justified in demanding an apology in the next issue of your paper and also the name of the writer. I have no doubt that I know who it is but I want to know that I know, as I feel it is well to know who you are living along side of.

Hoping for an early reply, I remain Yours truly,
R. Burns King,
Sec. to School Trustees,
Lakeville District.

SHE CAN HARDLY REALIZE CHANGE

Popular Business Woman Says She Never Dreamed Tanlac Could Do So Much For Her

I am only too glad to praise Tanlac, for it has done for me what I never dreamed was possible, and I now feel so well I can hardly realize that only a short time ago I was in such a miserable condition," said Miss Alythe Perth, 251 Carlton St., a popular young Winnipeg business woman, conducting a public stenographic office.

Just about three years ago I had a nervous breakdown which kept me in bed for several weeks and left me in such an awful state of health I had but scant hope of ever getting better. I was so nervous I trembled all over, couldn't sleep, and even after I went back to the office, I seemed to have no strength at all and only through sheer force of will power was I able to attend to my duties. My stomach soon became disordered, and indigestion caused me the most frightful pains, bloating and shortness of breath. My kidneys also bothered me and I had a pain across the small of my back that made life positively miserable.

"Well, despite the fact that I was trying one medicine after another, I found I was going down hill rapidly. But after taking only two bottles of Tanlac I could see it was doing me a world of good, and seven bottles have relieved me of all my ailments and now my health is just fine. My whole system seems to be in the best of condition, and I eat, sleep, work and enjoy life better than for years. Tanlac is simply grand."

Tanlac is sold in Hartland by Estey & Curtis Co., Ltd., and by leading druggists everywhere.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Elias Ketch, Bristol, was the scene of a happy event on Wednesday, Nov. 30, when their daughter, Maude Beatrice was united in marriage to Otis Bailey Dingee, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Dingee, of Glasseville. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. O. Howlett, of Andover.

I'm So Tired

Fatigue is the result of poisons in the blood. So when the kidneys fail to purify the blood one of the first indications is unusual and persistent tired feelings and pains in the back.

Neglected kidney troubles lead to years of suffering from rheumatism or develop into such fatal ailments as Bright's disease.

The kidney action is promptly corrected by use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills—the best known regulator of kidneys, liver and bowels.

Mrs. John Ireland, R.R. No. 2, King, Ont., writes:

"I was a great sufferer from severe headaches and bilious spells. I tried a number of remedies without obtaining any benefit until I was advised to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. These completely relieved me and made me feel like a new person. I am very grateful to Dr. Chase's medicines for what they have done for me, and you may use my letter for the benefit of others."

HARTLAND, N. B., DEC. 22, 1921.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

To every reader, far and near, without discrimination of race, creed, color, condition of servitude or of estate—to all and every one—The Observer wishes a very Merry Christmas.

May there be no home in the land without its Christmas Joys.

May there be no one in the land without a home.

May Santa Claus visit every child.

CHRISTMAS TRADE

Owing to the disappearance of snow Christmas trade has not been what was hoped for this week, but a leading merchant states that up to Saturday night the sales had been equal to those of last year. The public has not the buying capacity that they possessed when potatoes were higher, nevertheless most merchants in town and country show a good deal of optimism and say trade is as good as they expected.

THE DARK BRIDGE

At a special meeting of the town council held on Saturday night to consider the question of lighting the bridge it was decided that the matter was one for the provincial government to deal with. The Mayor and one or two others were of the opinion that the town should order the bridge lighted at once and follow up with an attempt to have the government pay the bills.

It would seem that it is certainly the duty of the government to provide the light since it was the government which insisted that the bridge be covered while the town people were opposed to the covering. If enclosing the bridge was out of special consideration for the town and surrounding country the local people might well consider it their duty to furnish the light but the covering is to prolong the life of the bridge and for the benefit of the people of the province at large. The government should light the bridge. If there is any doubt as to their liability the courts will decide when, before very long, they will be called to adjudicate a claim for damages for the disasters that will surely occur.

There is no traffic over the bridge at night as no one will venture across even on a bet. From sun-down to sunrise Hartland is practically without a bridge.

"SLURS"

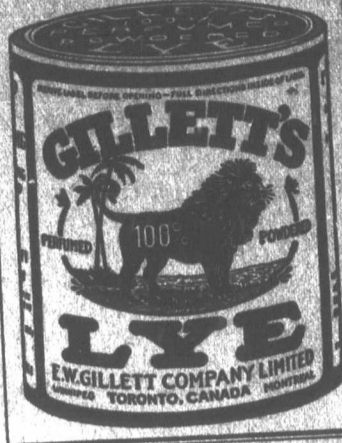

Elsewhere in this issue is a letter from a Lakeville man who claims that our correspondent in that town wrote slurringly of their school. The Observer cannot believe that its correspondent meant to injure anyone and the editor regrets that it is apparent that injury has been done. Correspondents should not spoil their usefulness by sending, in the guise of news, items which stir, ridicule or criticize any individual. It is always against the policy of The Observer to publish anything of this nature, but often an unkind innuendo is completely camouflaged and tricks the editors' closest scrutiny.

About the meanest thing a person can do is to have published in a newspaper something which they would be ashamed to have appear over their own name.

Notice of Meeting

Ten Annual Meeting of Agricultural Society No. 122 will be held in the Town Hall, Hartland, on Dec. 29, at 8 o'clock. It is to the interest of all members and those interested in fertilizer prices for this season to be present. Election of officers.

H. WARD GINSON, Sec.

Windsor Whisperings

We are glad to welcome in our midst Miss Kathleen Hutchison who left her parents home and friends in England on Dec. 9, arriving here the 19th to make her home for a while with her sister, Mrs. Clifford Dickinson.

Mrs. Dora Shaw and son from Portland, Me., is spending some time at her uncle Geo. Faulkner's, also her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Faulkner.

Our local store kept by S. R. Hatfield, is resplendent in holiday attire. A good place for Santa Claus to stop when he finds his goods running low. We miss J. E. Tedford and family since they moved to Esdrasdon to run the boarding house for H. A. Smith's crew that is working there. The men there from this place are, Wilbur Dickinson, Robert Faulkner, Horace Mean and George Elliott.

FLORENCEVILLE FACTS

Mrs. Claude McCoin entertained a very large crowd of her friends at a party in her home on Friday night. Dancing and cards were indulged in after which delicious refreshments were served, and everybody had a most enjoyable evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Barry McKay and Madeline spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Estey.

Mrs. James Peters spent Monday with friends in Woodstock.

Mary Miller was at Fred Turner's at Summerfield over Sunday.

The Women's Institute held a public meeting in the assembly hall on Wednesday night. A very nice program was given. Every member was supposed to take some little Xmas gift, and then these were all opened and auctioned off. Home made candy was sold after which refreshments were served. Meeting was closed by the National Anthem.

On Sunday night there was a "sing" at the home of Mrs. Fowler which many of the young people attended.

Miss Nancy Pierce took tea at Hartland on Sunday.
Winston Nicholson of Simonds the week-end at Jamie Nicholson's.

FRANCES L. ALEXANDER

One of the oldest residents of the county, Mrs. Frances L. Alexander, passed away at the home of her son, David F. Alexander, on Nov. 29, aged 90 years. She was born at Jacksonville, daughter of the late Charles Miller. She professed Christ and was baptized in her early years, and united with the Free Baptist church, and always lived a consistent Christian life. She leaves to mourn her loss, one daughter, Mrs. George Grant, Waltham Mass., one son, David, with whom she made her home. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. L. A. Fenwick at the Jacksonville United Baptist church (Text: Heb. 4-5) where interment was made.

THE RETURN AT YULETIDE

CHRISTMAS comes and the old world fondly back to its fairy days—
Days that saw him whose splendour bore, Bright through arched of mure and make
Back to the Star whose speaking rays
Wise men spied as it beckoned them
Over Judea's winding ways—
Back to the Babe of Bethlehem!

Christmas comes, and the old heart goes Gayly back to the dear days past—
Days whose breath of the budding rose Scents the years that have followed Fast;
Back to the Star whose spell was cast
Over young eyes and dazzled them, Filling rapt youth with a wonder vast—
Back to the Babe of Bethlehem!

Christmas comes, and the old faith lives, Summoned back from the days gone by—Days begotten with the joy that gives Mortal pain for their sob and sigh;
Back to the Star in the smiling sky,
Pilgrims haste as it urges them
On to the haven ever nigh—
Back to the Babe of Bethlehem!

Christmas come, when the world shall see Bounding back to the best of days—
Days when He in a manger low,
Began charmed into prayer and praise;
Back to the Star whose speaking rays
All men spy as it beckons them
Over Judea's winding ways—
Back to the Babe of Bethlehem!
—James C. McNally, in St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The Joy of the True Spirit of Christmas

ARE you willing to forget what you have done for other people and remember what other people have done for you; to ignore what the world owes you, and to think what you owe the world; to put your rights in the background, and your duties in the middle distance, and your chances to do a little more than your duty in the foreground; to see that your fellow men are just as real as you are, and try to look behind their faces to their hearts, hungry for joy; to own that probably the only good reason for your existence is not what you are going to get out of life, but what you are going to give life; to close your book of complaints against the universe, and look around for a place where you can sow a few seeds of happiness—are you willing to do these things even for a day? Then you can keep Christmas.

Are you willing to stoop down and consider the needs and the desires of little children; to remember the weakness and loneliness of people who are growing old; to stop asking whether your friends love you, and ask yourself whether you love them enough to bear in mind the things that other people have to bear on their hearts; to try to understand what those who live in the same house with you really want, without waiting for them to tell you; to trim your lamp so that it will give more light and less smoke, and to carry it in front so that your shadow will fall behind you; to make a grave for your ugly thoughts and a garden for your kindly feelings, with the gate open—are you willing to do these things even for a day? Then you can keep Christmas.

Are you willing to believe that love is the strongest thing in the world—stronger than hate, stronger than evil, stronger than death—and that the blessed life which began in Bethlehem nineteen hundred years ago is the image and brightness of the eternal love? Then you can keep Christmas. And if you can keep it for a day, why not always? But you can never keep it alone.—Dr. Henry Van Dyke.

CHRISTMAS 1921

RUSH OF TRAVEL AT CHRISTMAS SEASON

Heavy Travel Looked for by Canadian National Railways

Western People for the Old Country

The Christmas Season is the time of travel. "Home for Christmas" is a custom that has come down to us through the ages. In the old days it was the stage coach. Now it is the solid steel trains of our great Transcontinental Railways that annihilate distance and make a long journey a period of comfort and pleasure.

The Christmas rush to the old country is already over. A few days ago a special train of tourist cars and standard sleepers passed through Moncton en route to Halifax, filled with people from Western Canada, who sailed from Halifax for England. Nearly all were British born Canadians, some of whom were making their first trip to the old land since they left it. From Winnipeg this special carried them to Halifax over the lines of the Canadian National Railways—the "National Way from Ocean to Ocean." The train equipment was of the finest—the tourist cars being of most modern type and the standard sleepers the acme of comfort. They had made the journey in record time and all were delighted with the train service afforded them.

Christmas this year happening on Sunday, with Monday observed as a holiday, gives an opportunity of an extra day for a week-end trip, and this is being taken advantage of by many. A large flow of local travel is being looked for, and the Canadian National Railways are making every preparation to handle the expected rush.

Enquiries at ticket offices and consequent reservations also show that there is to be considerable travel between East and West, and from coast to coast. The through services of the Canadian National offer splendid opportunities for those who desire the quickest and most comfortable journey. From the Maritime Provinces the finest of train service is afforded to Montreal, where connection is made with the famous "Continental Limited" leaving Bonaventure Station at 9.00 p. m. daily, for Ottawa, North Bay, Cochrane, Winnipeg, Saskatoon, Edmonton and Vancouver.

At Montreal connections are made by the Grand Trunk train for Toronto, and at Toronto with the famous express "The National" for Parry Sound, Sudbury, Port Arthur, Fort William, Winnipeg, Saskatoon, Edmonton and Vancouver.

Connections at Quebec are made with the Transcontinental train which connects at Cochrane with the Continental Limited. All these through trains are the very finest in their appointments and assure the traveller of the most delightful journey.

What is therefore more fitting for Canadians than a trip through Canada—across Canada's National Highway, by the trains de luxe of the Canadian National Railways!

Celebrate Christmas with the AMBEROLA

If there is one day in the year when good music should be in every home—that day is Christmas! Joyous Yuletide carols—hymns—old songs that everyone loves—will make the day a real festival if you own an Edison Amberola!

The Amberola is a sensible and lasting purchase, and a beautiful and welcome gift. It is not a shrill and metallic "talking machine," but a mellow-toned instrument which plays vocal and instrumental music of all kinds with startling realism.

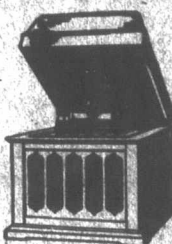

In addition to being the world's greatest phonograph value, the Amberola is remarkably cheap to operate. The permanent Diamond Point Reproducer does away with the bother and expense of changing needles, and the Amberol Records—low-priced to start with—are practically indestructible.

Have an Amberola in your home this Christmas—it will furnish years of entertainment to your family and yourself! And if you have some dear friend to whom you would like to present a really worth-while gift—

Give an AMBEROLA

Come in today and select an Amberola to be delivered for Christmas. Make it your gift to the family.

HELEN E. TURNER

(Intended for last week)

Seldom has such a deep and unexpected sorrow come to a home and community, as that which came on Wednesday morning, Nov. 30, when Helen, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
G. Fred Turner, Somersfield, Carleton county, suddenly passed away. Less than two days before, she was operated on for appendicitis. Her condition at the first seemed favorable, but later complications developed which in spite of all that medical skill could do, proved fatal in a few hours. The deceased was only fifteen years old, unusually bright and clever, musical, full of life, and endowed with such lovable qualities as endeared her to all who knew her. In the home circle her place can never be filled, and by her relatives and friends she will be sadly missed. In addition to her natural qualities she was spiritually endowed, having taken her stand in the Christian life some time before, during a series of meetings held by Rev. F.
A. Wightman when he was pastor of the Methodist church at Summerfield.
She was devoted to the Sunday school and church services, a member of the choir, and for sometime had been organist. The Sunday before she died, she filled her place in the choir, and her voice was heard not only in song, but in testimony of God's redeeming love. The funeral service which was held at her late home and conducted by her pastor, Rev. Mr. Chowen, was very largely attended by relatives and sympathizing friends. The choir with Mrs. Wilbur Lunn at the piano, feelingly rendered the following hymns:
When the Mists Have Rolled Away,
Does Jesus Care and Abide With Me.
Among the beautiful floral offerings was a wreath from the Florenceville school which Helen was attending when she became ill; and another from the Summerfield school, each school with their respective teachers attending her funeral in a body. It was a touching scene, when her schoolmates and young associates

COMPLETELY FREE OF CONSTIPATION

Tried for Years to Find Relief

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" GAVE IT

Chronic Constipation or insufficient action of the bowels, is one of the great causes of disease. Some authorities even claim that Constipation cannot be permanently corrected.
This is a great mistake, because here is the proof that constipation can be cured and the bowels made to act regularly and naturally.

YARMOUTH, N.S.

"For years, I was troubled with Constipation, and had to take laxatives and purgatives all the time.
If I neglected to take these, the bowels would refuse to do their work."

About two years ago, a friend advised me to try "Fruit-a-tives", which I did. The first box helped me so much that I obtained further supplies of the remedy and continued the treatment. After using about eight boxes, my bowels were able to perform their particular function without aid.

The relief in my case has been lasting, as up to date, I have never had any further trouble. I can recommend "Fruit-a-tives" to all suffering as I did and I am sure they will derive equal benefit."

A. W. FRANKLIN.

"Fruit-a-tives" are sold by all dealers at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c, or sent postpaid by Fruit-atives Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL ITEMS

Sunday Dec. 25 (Xmas Day), there will be service at St. James Church, Centreville, at 11 a.m. (Holy Communion). Every communicant in the parish is asked to make a special effort to make his communion at this service. The services at the other churches are arranged.

The young people of the United Baptist church will hold their annual Christmas concert in the church on Monday evening, Dec. 26. A Christmas tree with all kinds of good things for the kiddies will give added interest to the occasion, and prove a source of delight to both old and young.

S. W. Burt and S. T. Gallagher were delegates, on Tuesday and Wednesday of last week, from the local church here to the U. B. quarterly convention which was held at Jacksonville.

D. H. Burt is spending a few days with friends in St. John.

Mr. Reddy, who has spent the last three or four weeks in the vicinity, playing a lucrative trade in the sale of chemical fire extinguishers, left on Tuesday to spend his Christmas vacation at his home in Ontario.

Mrs. Roy Huggard of St. John arrived on Friday to spend the holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Crane.

Local members of the U. F. Branch with their wives to the number of over one hundred met on Saturday evening at the supper hour, in their hall and enjoyed a sumptuous stew of succulent oysters. The stew must have been pretty good, as I met one man who ate three quarts and was still able to carry on.

A number of local Massons attended Lodge at East Florenceville on Thursday evening.

The dance held in the hall on Tuesday evening was much enjoyed by all who attended. Another one is scheduled for the evening of Monday 28th.

All those interested in horse racing will be glad to learn that the local bunch are planning a meet on the ice on Monday afternoon, Dec. 26. Any person possessing a horse that seems to be threatened with speed will find here a good opportunity to show off. Bring along all your fast ones.

Robert Bell of Woodstock was here on Thursday and Friday.

Leo A. Moore, inspector of schools, was at the Kennedy House on Thursday and Friday while paying official visits to nearby schools.

The new hotel is in full swing, and receiving very liberal patronage already. The proprietor has decided to change the name of the place from Centreville Hotel, under which name it has been doing business over a long period, to Kennedy House. In the future it will be conducted under the latter caption. In the spring, Mr. Kennedy anticipates further renovation and the building of a fine new verandah across all that part of the structure on Main Street.

Charles Lunn arrived home from Calgary on Friday where he has spent the two past years and is visiting at Mr. and Mrs. Herb Agnew's.

Miss Dorey Burt is spending a few days with her friend, Mrs. J. R. D. White at Aroostook Junction.

An epidemic of whooping cough is occurring centre stage now, and is very general in its activities. No one is slighted and young and old are enjoying long draughts of vaporesoline. Verily "by their whoops ye shall know them."

Rev. H. R. Bell will preach on December 25 as follows: Centreville 11 a.m. and 7 p.m., and Carvell at 2 p.m. The subject at Morning service will be "What is the meaning of Pentecost?" Evening subject—"The gift of the Spirit, or is the present day tongues movement of God?" There will be special music rendered at both services. You are cordially invited.
