At Guayaquill, the President Moreno seiz ed an English steamer of the Pacific Steam Navigation Company, loading at the Mole, of the bayonet, placed troops, cannon, and munitions of war aboard, and started for the mouth of river where revolutionists were ly: ing at anchor in vessels seized from Governamidships to water's edge and sinking her after short engagement. Others surrendered. Bulk of the people aboard including leader, Urbica, making their escape into the woods. The prisoners were brought to Guayaquil ad seventeen of them instantly shot.

After this Moreno started for Tumbes, where he expected to capture more victime; if so, they shared a similar fate after his re-surn to Guayaquill.

The President returned the steamer to eaptain, who received her under protest, and got at the same time £20,000 for three day's services of the vessel.

The siezure is still an open question, having heen refered to the manager of the Company at Callao.
