WILL HOLD CONFERENCE ON GASPE RAIL PROBLEM

Next Step in Work of N. B. Tuberculosis Ass. Will Be Taken To-morrow

PRESIDENT DR. PINAULT WILL PRESIDE AT FRIDAY MEETINGS OF PROVINCIAL ORGANIZATION

Secretary H. M. Armstrong Left For Moncton This Morning To Prepare For Sessions—Important Work On Program—Dr. Wherrett Appointed as Travelling Diagnostician—Several Local Men Chosen As Officers—Campbellton To Have T. B. Clinic.

The next important move in the organization of the New Brunswick Tuberculosis Association which had its inception here last summer, will be made tomorrow in Moncton at sessions which will be held at the City Hall there when a Travelling Diagnostician will be appointed and other important work undertaken. Mr. H. M. Armstrong, Secretary of this new provincial organization, left on this morning's limited to prepare for the meeting. Dr. L. G. Pinault, President of the association will go to Moncton tomorrow to preside at the different sessions.

Will Represent

It is gratifying to know that Campbellton is well represented in this splendid work to check the spread of tuberculosis. There is some discussion in having two local men appointed to the responsible positions of president and secretary and in these offices the Association may feel assured of faithful and efficient service. Dr. Pinault, as well as other local physicians, has taken an interest in the organization of the N. B. Tuberculosis Association and, perhaps, a leading part in getting the new association properly formed. In Secretary Armstrong the organization has secured the services of an active and competent executive. In view of these facts and also because of its worthy purpose it is fitting that citizens here should take a strong interest in the agenda of the association.

The Meetings

There will be three sessions tomorrow in Moncton. The executive committee will meet at an early hour in the afternoon and a general meeting will follow at 8 o'clock. A public meeting will be held in the evening. A large attendance of provincial physicians as well as other officers of the organization from various parts of the province are expected to be present.

Dr. Wherrett

Dr. Wherrett, an eminent Ontario physician will be decided on as the Travelling Diagnostician to be appointed by the Association. The work of this official will be to cover the province in connection with the work of association to collaborate with the resident doctors and aid in the work of the various T. B. clinics which it is the intention of the association to establish through New Brunswick in their efforts to combat this dread disease.

Other Details

Many other details in connection with the program of the new association will be dealt with tomorrow. It is the intention of association to have local committees in each town throughout the province and also to have temporary centres for T. B. clinics, Campbellton, Bathurst, Newcastle, Chatham, Richibucto, Moncton, Fredericton, Woodstock, Edmundston, St. Stephen, Sussex and Sackville. Limited clinics will be established.

Local Appointments

Mr. A. McG. McDonald, secretary of the Restigouche Sub-District Board of Health has been appointed on the Advisory Committee. Messrs. D. A. Champoux and H. A. Carr have been appointed to the Executive Committee and Mr. John Harquail to the membership committee.

Probably no movement reflects the province-wide concern over the growing danger of tuberculosis as does the formation of the N. B. Tuberculosis Association. Until the present there has been no organized effort made to fight the scourge of tuberculosis except at River Glade Sanitarium and the St. John County Hospital and the foundation for this purpose should mark a new era of progress in health work. It is estimated that over 2500 children under 19 have active tuberculosis and that 19 have active tuberculosis and 19 have active tuberculosis. It is further estimated that there is a probability of 2500 T. B. cases in this province and not over 2500 cases in this province and not over 2500 cases in this province. This undoubtedly shows the great need of preventive work such as is planned by this new provincial organization.

OPTIMISTIC ABOUT EUROPE

Lord Bradbury, retiring British member of the Reparations Commission, speaking at a farewell banquet tendered him by the Anglo-American Press Association of Paris said that he believed "the economic future of Europe seems better now than at any time since the armistice."

LOCALS DEFEATED

HUB CITY BOYS

Give Moncton Fourth Trimming In League Series—Heavy Ice Retards Speed.

Campbellton won their fourth victory over the Hub City boys here last night in a game of warring interest on heavy ice. The final score stood 10 to 6. Because of the heavy condition of the ice, last night's match was rather disappointing and play was, at times, of brief duration in the second stanza, the locals had the edge on their opponents and the greater portion of the play was in the visitors' territory. The Moncton boys made several spirited rallies but to no avail. Their most promising efforts were repeatedly frustrated by the snappy work of the local defence and Campbellton forward line consisting of Howard, Miller and Matthews, frequently at a pace that the visitors had difficulty in duplicating. The locals were all in good form, although they were not taxed to the limit and give every promise of a spectacular performance when they clash with St. John's on Monday night in the closing game of the N.B. season.

MILL ACCIDENT

Arnold Ferguson of Dalhousie Jct. Had Narrow Escape In Mill Near Bathurst.

Arnold Ferguson, of Dalhousie Junction, was very seriously injured at Hick's Mill, about two miles from Bathurst Tuesday afternoon. His arm caught in shafting and he was whirled around the shaft. All his clothes were torn off except his boots, one arm and both legs were broken. The left leg was so badly mangled that it had to be amputated above the knee at the J. H. Dunn Hospital. The operation was performed by Dr. R. G. Duncan, assisted by Drs. Desrochers and McKinnon. A late report is to the effect that the unfortunate young man died from his injuries but as telephone lines are out of order because of weather conditions, we have been unable to confirm this report.

NO MORE DETAILS AVAILABLE YET

Stetson Cutler Fraser Deal Completed Final Arrangements Are Still Unknown.

No further information regarding the Fraser Stetson Cutler deal was available yet today and all that is known is what has already appeared in the public press.

It is understood that Fraser Companies, large pulp and lumber manufacturers of Edmundston, N. B., have purchased control of Stetson, Cutler & Company, Limited, who for many years have operated a valuable and extensive lumber business in the provinces of Quebec and New Brunswick.

Through this transaction, Fraser Companies acquired control of approximately 2,100 square miles of leasehold timber lands in the Province of Quebec and New Brunswick, and about 50,000 acres of freehold timber lands in New Brunswick. It also obtained control of the operation of several large saw mills located for the most part of the vicinity of Campbellton and St. John, N. B., which have an annual manufacturing capacity of approximately 60,000,000 feet b. m. of lumber.

It is understood that no change in the corporate identity of Stetson, Cutler & Company, Limited is contemplated, and it is labelled that the operation of the company, as heretofore, will be continued under the name of Stetson, Cutler & Company, Ltd.

As a directors meeting of Stetson, Cutler & Company held at Montreal on Thursday last, Archibald Fraser was elected president and general manager of the company, and Donald Fraser, W. Matheson, W. F. Napier and W. G. Pithel were elected directors.

GIRL HOCKEYISTS

PLAYED WELL

Local Girls Put Up Spirited Fight For Honors In Bathurst Game.

Although the final score stood 2-0 against them the Campbellton girls hockey team put up a very creditable fight for honors in their first game of the season with the Bathurst girls hockeyists in the arena of the Paper Town on Tuesday night. The match showed that the two teams are pretty evenly matched and it is more than likely that in a game on home ice, Campbellton's lady hockeyists would give their opponents a very neat trimming.

It is probable that the local girls started out a little too easy in Tuesday's game. Apparently the Bathurst girls took the offensive with a bang. Play was pretty rough at times and in less than five minutes Gladys Duncan on the defence line got such a tumble that she was unable to finish the first period although she resumed her position in the second section. This necessitated a temporary change in the line-up however and Bessie Baird and Lena Parker were given a chance to demonstrate their ability. The entire local team played a good game, considering the few practices they have had. The Bathurst girls got the rubber past Vera Campbell in the first period but they held their opponents steadily until the closing section when a high shot from centre ice dropped in over Vera's shoulder at an unexpected moment. The score would doubtless have been more one-sided had it not been for the good work of the defence line. Vera in the Campbellton net played a good game. The three forwards also played well, Edna Farrar and Marion Jamieson taking some severe bumps with their usual skillful work.

It is expected that a return match will be arranged for next week and if this event materializes, there will likely be a big crowd on hand to see our lady hockeyists in action.

The line-up of the team follows: Goal, Vera Campbell; Defence, Gladys Duncan and Ivah Gillis; Wings, Edna Farrar and Jessie Allan; Centre, Marion Jamieson; Subs, Bessie Baird and Lena Parker.

Several of the local swains accompanied the team to Bathurst on Tuesday and a good crowd was on hand to see them off. Mr. Reg. McLean, the coach attended to all business details. Chas. Brown of Bathurst refereed the match.

NEW TERMS OF LEASE FIXED

Capucin Fathers Awarded Increase of Amount for Use of Property.

Twenty-two years ago the Capucins Fathers, whose Monastery is at Cross Point, leased a part of their land to the Chaleurs Bay Mills, for the purpose of erecting buildings, piling lumber, etc.

The agreement provided that a rental of $200.00 a year should be paid, and at the end of twenty years the Company would have the right to renew the lease for another twenty years at a figure to be then agreed upon, or to be settled by arbitration. Two years ago the Company and the Reverend Fathers tried to arrive at a settlement but failed. Arbitrators were then appointed and took evidence at Cross Point and New Carlisle, etc. When the proceedings commenced the Company was represented by Mr. O. Brady, Member in the Quebec Legislature for Sheerbrook, who died a short time ago, and by Mr. Fabien Bugeaud, then Member for the County of Bonaventure and now District Magistrate. The Reverend Fathers were represented by the Honorable John Hall Kelly.

The death of Mr. O'Brady and the appointment of Mr. Bugeaud to the Bench, Mr. Elzear Sasseville, of the firm of Sasseville & Gagnon, was selected to represent the Chaleurs Bay Mills.

The case was argued before the arbitrators in the City of Quebec last week, and the decision handed down increased the rental from $200.00 per annum to $1,200.00 per annum, which shall apply during the balance of the eighteen years during which the lease has to run.

The property is situated immediately opposite Campbellton, adjoining the spot where the mills of the Chaleurs Bay Mills are erected.

Another important move has been made in connection with the proposal to incorporate the Gaspe Railway with the Government system and as a result of this a conference will be called shortly to solve the problem satisfactorily.

On Saturday afternoon a delegation from the Gaspe coast was received at Ottawa, in the Prime Minister's office by the Premier and Honorable George Graham, the Minister of Railways, Honorable Mr. Lapointe, Minister of Justice, and Honorable Mr. Beland.

The Delegation

The delegates were Messieurs Ross, Bishop of Gaspe, the Honorable J. E. Parnett, Minister of Colonization, Mines and Fisheries, representing the Government of the Province of Quebec; Honorable Frank Carrel, Legislative Councillor, Honorable John Hall Kelly, Legislative Councillor, Honorable Philippe Paradis, Legislative Councillor, Mr. P. E. Cote, M. L. A. for Bonaventure, Dr. Lemieux, M. L. A. for Gaspe, Mr. J. C. Beideman, Director of the Federal Zinc and Mine Company, Mr. E. L. Montgomery, president of a Dispensary & Sons, Mr. David Champoux, president of the Canadian Lumbermen's Association and Mr. E. Reid, manager of Lincoln Mills, of New Richmond.

The delegates were presented by the Honorable Rodolphe Lemieux, Speaker of the House of Commons and member for the County of Gaspe, and Honorable Charles Marcl, member for the County of Bonaventure.

Made Strong Appeal

Monsieur Ross made a strong appeal in favor of the government acquiring the full ownership of the coast railways, as this is absolutely necessary for the full development of the Gaspe Peninsula.

Honorable Rodolphe Lemieux and Honorable Charles Marcl both advocated that the government should come to the assistance of the people of the Gaspe Coast.

Move Essential

Honorable J. E. Parnett, on behalf of the Quebec Government pointed out that the Provincial Government was doing to develop the Gaspe Peninsula but in order to fully develop the great natural resources of that part of the country it is essential that these railways should be under the government control.

Honorable Mr. Carrel pointed out that he was interested in a large development that would shortly take place on the North shore of the St. Lawrence and that his company would depend upon to a great extent upon labor to come from the people of Gaspe district.

Hon. John Hall Kelly

The Honorable John Hall Kelly submitted that from a business standpoint it would be a good thing for the government to acquire these railways. These railways at the present time were one of the best features of the Canadian National system, and under government ownership, greater opportunities would exist for developing the natural resources of the Gaspe coast and thus giving more traffic to these roads and to the present government lines.

Offer Help

The Honorable Prime Minister and the Minister of Railways declared that they were willing to do anything that possibly could to help develop the Gaspe Peninsula, which is one of the oldest parts of the Dominion, but at the same time, referred to the heavy financial burden that the Canadian government is obliged to shoulder at the present moment.

While the government could not immediately see its way clear to purchase these railways, another solution, however, might be found which would however the same purpose.

Another Meeting

It was therefore finally decided that a meeting should be arranged between the Honorable George Graham, Minister of Railways, Sir Henry Thornton, and Honorable John Hall Kelly, acting on behalf of the railway companies, in order to find solution which would be satisfactory to all concerned. The meeting will take place shortly.

N. Y. BANDITS MAKE BIG HAUL

Six Armed Thugs Beat Up
Watchman and Stole Furs
Worth $100,000.

New York, Feb. 9.—Six armed bandits yesterday forced their way into the West 18th street warehouse, 447-451 West 18th street, beat a watchman bound and gagged two other employees and escaped with thirty bales of fur valued at $100,000. The loot had been stored by the United States Customs.

Shortly before 9 o'clock, at a time when hundreds of persons were passing and when traffic was flowing in a steady stream toward the foot of 18th street, a truck drove up to the warehouse and when the door was opened by a watchman six men leaped on him, pushing him into the building, where they stifled his cries with a blow on the head with a club.

At the time George Bushman, the manager, and Wm. Robinson, United States storekeeper, were just opening the offices. The bandits surprised them, tied them, and while two stood guard, the others went to where a shipment of valuable squirrel skins was stored and leisurely carried them out to the truck. One of the bandits even took time to light a pipe and borrowed a patch from a pedestrian.

One of the robbers stayed in the truck and methodically arranged the bales of fur as they were brought out. He carefully tied them in when the truck was filled and sat on the running board of the machine until his five companions joined him. At no time was there anything suspicious about the actions of the bandits.

All the victims had been threatened with death if they made an outcry, and the robbers had been slipped and the police notified.

LUMBERMEN SEEK TO LOWER FREIGHTS

John H. Harquail Wants Delegation of Lumbermen Sent to Ottawa.

Quebec, Feb. 5.—A strong appeal to the directors of the Canadian Lumbermen's Association, in convention here, was made today by John Harquail, of Campbellton, N. B., to have a delegation of 50 or 60 members appointed to go to Ottawa and lay before the Government the very pressing need of a reduction in freight, express and telegraphic rates, all of which played an important part in the cost of lumber transportation.

The lumbermen should demand, he said, that the Government should compel the railways to accept a 10 per cent. reduction in their rates to start with, and let the railways set to work and reduce their cost of operation as much as possible. If such a reduction seriously affected them, of course, they would not accept it.

Since the war the Canadian Pacific Railway had not suffered any losses, according to their annual reports, whereas many lumbermen, especially in Eastern Canada, had been wiped out.

He demanded that this special delegation be sent to Ottawa within the next two weeks and continue to press their demands thereafter until they got results.

SERIOUS EPEDEMIC OF SMALLPOX AVERTED BY THE BOARD OF HEALTH

Nearly 800 Persons Vaccinated At Time Of Outbreak of Dread Disease Last Spring—County Saved Several Thousand Dollars Through Timely Action of Board.

Although few people know it a serious epidemic of smallpox which would doubtless have spread through the whole North Shore district, was averted last spring by the organized efforts of the Board of Health and a nominal cost which saved the county by several thousand dollars. In an article last week the Graphic stated that splendid progress was being made here in health work. Something of this work may be realized when it is known that about 800 people in this county were vaccinated at the time of the outbreak of this dread disease.

Last spring a Sanitary Inspector out on the I. N. R. noticed a Postmaster with what he took to be smallpox. He came to town and made known his suspicion when the nearest Doctor was at once wired to, to go and make a thorough examination. It was smallpox all right. The place was quarantined, the Postoffice closed and the Postal Authorities notified. The Doctor vaccinated all people in that vicinity and kept a sharp lookout for other cases and found only two. On investigation it was discovered that this disease came into New Brunswick from a lumber camp in Maine. A young man who had been in contact with some of the above mentioned cases, wandered out and stopped for a night at a house on the Seven Mile Ridge and next day went in to a lumber camp about 32 miles from Campbellton. Parties in the camp noticed his condition, believed he had smallpox, put him in a sleigh and had him driven to town where arrangements were made for him in the old Chapel. A Doctor was sent out to this lumber camp to vaccinate all who had not been, or who had not smallpox previously. No cases developed in the camp and broke out in the home where the young man spent the night. A Doctor was sent out to look after it and vaccinated all people in that vicinity. Three cases were discovered in Campbellton and were promptly looked after. One case, an Indian, was found in Dalhousie and was looked after by the Indian Department. All the Indians at Eel River had to be vaccinated. A case was reported at Richfieldville, and was looked after by Dr. H. Cyr, Medical Inspector of Schools.

Balmoral and some of the further back settlements got the worst lot of it. As news could be learned, this came from the same source. Many had it very light so would not report or engage a Doctor. The Sanitary Inspector reported his suspicion by phone and a Doctor was sent in from Dalhousie and another from Campbellton. When these Doctors reported the condition as very bad, Dr. H. Cyr, Medical Inspector of schools, was appealed to. Schools were closed for holidays, and they did not wish to have anything more to do with these smallpox cases, so he looked only that we pay for gasoline for his car, and his board, $48.50 in all, took charge. He consulted with the Parish Priest at Balmoral getting his kindly assistance, and with the Sanitary Inspector to show him around he looked after the cases and vaccinated over four hundred. To do this work done otherwise would have cost this county from $25.00 to $30.00.

One case, which apparently came in from P. Q. was discovered at Shives Athol. Necessary precautions were taken and only one other case developed, and that was in the same home. The total cost of all this work was $501.91. In all about 800 persons were vaccinated and a serious epidemic, over the whole North Shore averted.

of the flocks of some dirty merchant "tub." Probably if it has entered my head it would have been thrown unceremoniously out as lacking in the tang of adventure so necessary to the victim in the first stages.

I wasted no time in acquainting my parents of the lure of distant lands and strange adventures which I had acquired, expecting of course the parental arguments, which I had read about. You may judge my surprise when I tell you of the matter-of-fact manner in which they received this announcement.

My father laughed it off, told me it was natural at my age, that he would have been surprised if I had not been bitten and promised me a sea voyage when I graduated from college. At first my arguments were swept away by his manner. It was not till I was off by myself that I was about to rally my few symptoms of fever for another attack. I was determined to leave right away, and told them so. What a wise man my father was, as I think back over it now! He knew better than to argue with a foolish boy and probably lose him. He straightway told me he would look to a berth for me so as to see that I was well cared for.

The next day—after a bit of my eagerness had worn off—he informed me that he had obtained a good position for me as cabin boy with an old sea-going friend of his. The fact that he obtained it for me so conveniently should have warned me. Instantly I was to sail the next day, which he said, he had thought would please me most.

Now all of these arrangements were not to my liking. I could have remained firm against a storm of parental disapproval—and run away if need be. Though I really don't know what from, it was not as if I had been ill-treated. Instead I began to worry for fear that they were glad to see me leave. The ideal rushing me off like that the next day. I had forgotten entirely, you see, that I wished to leave immediately as I had told them.

The next day arrived. My things had been packed for me and I was ready to depart for parts unknown. Father took me to the wharf where he left me with the captain.

The ship was a large four-masted schooner, loaded with what I never found out for some forsaken place in the South Seas—the kind of ship and destination I had often dreamed of. The bare facts, however, were not so alluring. The ship was not so clean looking nor romantic as I had expected. Worst of all, it had a name, such a name—Mary Ann Start—as I had not thought of for an adventurous voyage. Too plain, it should have been, so I thought, such a one as Sea Swallow, Sea Rover, Sea King or Queen, Swift Arrow, or some other such high sounding or romantic name. But though I was fast being disillusioned, I rallied myself by saying that a little thing like that should not worry me, when I should soon own my own ship and be able to name it as I pleased.

Again, the old "tub" was not built like a "Sea Arrow" should be, but was short and squat. In fact she would have looked far better with one or two less masts. If she carried coal and anything happened, well, there'd not be much hope. She should have carried nothing but lumber, as a matter of insurance.

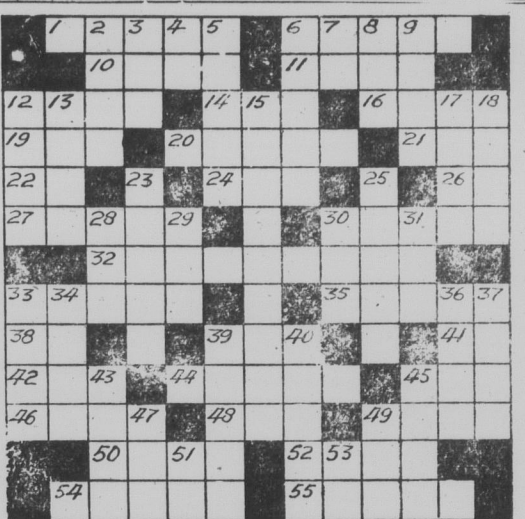

Father had hardly left, when I was two or three hours. I was given a bunk forward, but such sleeping quarters. The dirt was caked everywhere and on everything. The cabin was bellowing around, like an angry bull as I thought at the time.

Taking it all in all, I was not only lacking in eagerness for the sea, but also knew it. I realized I would have to do something, think of something, or be lost. I decided on the first two courses. I braced my conscience with the knowledge that I could find a better ship somewhere. In reality I

MR. ANGUS McLEAN
 In the matter of divergent opinion upon the proposal to establish an embargo on the exportation of pulpwood it is a gratifying relief to come across a view which, on the face of it, is not colored by personal or party interest. Speaking the other day before the Keweenaw Club Mr. Angus McLean, who is president of the Bathurst Power Company, and one of the leading delegates to the Canadian Lumbermen's convention said that there would be no occasion for all this embargo talk if the Canadian newspaper manufacturers would make up their minds to come into the open market and buy their pulpwood. Now, it must be borne in mind that Mr. McLean is one of the heaviest buyers of pulpwood in the country. Turning pulpwood into pulp represents the high spot of his business. And one would imagine that his interest lay in being able to get his pulpwood as cheaply as possible. Yet he cheerfully foregoes this opportunity by deliberately opposing an embargo, the first effect of which would be to cut off the competition of the American buyer and force the pulpwood owners to sell to Canadian mills at a cheaper rate per cord. What is the answer to this seeming anomaly? It is that Mr. McLean is something more than a business man. He is a business man with an international eye, and he believes that any advantage which might accrue to the newspaper manufacturers and the pulp manufacturers in consequence of the proposed embargo would be offset by reprisals instituted at Washington. "Buy your pulpwood in the open market" is his advice to the newspaper manufacturers of Canada. And there is nothing gratuitous about his advice for that is where he buys his own. He may be entirely wrong about the international effect of an embargo, but it is distinctly refreshing to hear such a viewpoint expressed by someone whose interests would appear to be entirely at odds with that of the embargo eye altogether.—Quebec Telegraph.

way yard. It is contended that there is little enough work here for laborers who live in Campbellton without bringing in more workmen from outside places. It is understood too that some of these outside workmen are from across the county boundary and, in all fairness, should be employed on the railway in Gloucester if the C.N.R. is desirous of keeping them on the payroll. There are two sides to every question but evidently the best course to adopt is to appeal to the proper authorities and demand a satisfactory adjustment of the matter.

CHATHAM UPSETS BATHURST, 9-2

Northern Section Leaders Fail Again to Win Two Games on Successive Nights.

Chatham, N. B., Feb. 10.—Chatham won from Bathurst, sectional leaders, in a hotly contested game here Tuesday night, by a 9 to 2 score.
 The home team secured a five goal lead in the first period and added two more in each of the succeeding periods. Bathurst secured one tally in the second period and their other tally in the final period.
 The game was played on slow ice and at times the play grew listless.
 The locals had the best of the territory play and every man on the team turned in an excellent game. In the last period Bathurst tried every trick in the hockey bag in vain endeavor to overcome the seven goal lead. This ends the locals' games in the northern section.

Of Interest to Women

Some Cakes and Candies for St. Valentine's

Holidays mean a lot to young people and they give us an excuse for the making of many dainties dear to their hearts. Home-made sweets are always wholesome and are never equally by any others, in the children's minds. In making the cakes, use the heart-shaped pans, large and small, use the best coloring to tint the frostings pink or red or delicate green.

FAIRY ALMOND CAKE

Cream together a cupful of butter and two cupfuls of sugar. Beat smooth and slowly the beaten whites of four eggs, stir for ten minutes then add a cupful of rich milk. Beat in gradually two cupfuls of sifted flour. When blended add another small cupful of flour in which there are two level teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Beat light then add a teaspoonful of almond flavoring and pour into a buttered and flour dusted heart-shaped pan. Bake in a moderate oven. Frost with a delicate soft frosting, flavored with a few drops of almond flavoring, and don't forget to tint the frosting.

GOLD SPONGE CAKE

Break one dozen eggs into a mixing bowl, without separating the yolks and add to them two cupfuls of sifted powdered sugar. Set the pan in a pan of boiling water over the gas hole and keep it at boiling point. Beat the mixture constantly with an egg beater for a half hour without stopping. Remove from the fire and stir in a cupful of sifted flour, the strained juice of a lemon and a little of the grated rind. Pour into a well buttered chimney pan and bake in a medium oven for half hour. When done invert the pan over a plate and let cool before removing it, unless it sweats out of the pan itself as so often happens. Tint the soft frosting yellow and flavor it with lemon juice.

SPICE KICKS

Beat to a cream five fresh eggs and two cupfuls of sugar, beating for five minutes. Add the strained juice of a lemon and a little of the grated rind, then stir in gradually two cupfuls of flour in which four level teaspoonfuls of baking powder and a half a teaspoonful each of cinnamon, nutmeg, and cloves have been mixed. Beat well, then add slowly two cupfuls of flour. Drop by the spoonful upon greased baking pans and bake in a medium oven, eight to ten minutes. This makes about four dozen cookies and if desired they may be frosted.

MOLASSES COCONUT STEEPLES

Put into a saucepan a cupful of granulated sugar, a cupful of golden syrup, and a half a cupful each of Southern molasses and rich cream. Add a teaspoonful of salt and cook until it forms a soft ball when tried in a little cold water. Add a pound of grated coconut and turn into a buttered pan to cool. When cool enough to handle, shape into steeples the usual size and wrap them in wax paper.

PECAN DREAMS

Melt a small half cupful of butter in an iron candy pan, add a half cupful of sugar, two cupfuls of dark Southern molasses, and when melted together add gently a tablespoonful of vanilla. Boil for five minutes, then add a little form a hard ball tried in cold water, then add a teaspoonful of vanilla and a cupful of finely chopped pecans. Pour into a buttered pan and when cool enough to handle, pull a few minutes then cut into small pieces and wrap in wax paper.

VALentine MINTS

Put two cupfuls of sugar into a saucepan with three-quarters of a cupful of water and cook gently until it forms a soft ball when tried in cold water. Add a cupful of mint, wintergreen or cinnamon, enough coloring matter to tint them the desired shade; beat with a silver fork until creamy, then drop by the teaspoonful into wax paper.

HEAR SOUND TALKS Sir George Foster Regrets Canada Has No Calvin Coolidge.

TORONTO, Jan. 11.—(Canadian Press.)—"Be more careful in the future, than you were in the past to stand by those who have stood by you," was the advice given to prohibitionists by Sir George Foster, who last night addressed the session of the national convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Canada.

"I want that to sink into your minds," he said. "It is not only bad manners and bad companionship, but bad policy, for you lose by it every time."

Mrs. Victoria Booth-Clibborn Demarest, granddaughter of the late General William Booth of the Salvation Army and Mrs. John Scott, of Montreal, W. C. T. U., national superintendent, also addressed the meeting, which was well attended. Mrs. Gordon Wright, of London, Dominion president, occupied the chair.

Sir George further advised his hearers not to relax their efforts because they had apparently obtained their objective, but to realize that it was more important now than ever before, for them to "carry on." Because a law which was very weak, and which he said it would be observed, and no where was this more the case at the present time than in the United States and Canada. He recalled a recent gathering of a thousand leading business men of the United States, in which a resolution was passed to launch a nationwide campaign not only to promote law observance, but also law enforcement. In this, they had been promised the hearty co-operation of President

Waging Successful War Upon Dust.

Some one asked not long ago about the correct way to clean a room. It is hoped that the answer to this question will lift a burden of drudgery from those who work in the dark and at a disadvantage.

Taken as an example the living room, as it likely to have the greatest number of things in it. First empty all waste paper baskets, cigar ash trays, remove all old papers, and any trash there may be about. Next shake the bottoms of the curtains and pin them up. Dust all the light chairs, brush the sofa and upholstery, and set them out in the hall.

Then dust the mantel and cover the things closely with a dust cloth. Dust the book shelves, if they are open, then cover all with another dust sheet. Next take all sofa cushions to the window or out doors, and brush them, then lay them on the chairs. The couch cover is then shaken and follows the pillows. All small rugs are then taken out to be shaken and the room is ready for sweeping.

A good way brush is next used to get all the dust from over pictures, in corners and on the side walls. Scatter damp tea leaves, wet wadded papers or some of the stuff that comes for the purpose before sweeping. Turn back the edges of the rug and sweep the wrong sides, then brush around the base of the rug with a brush. If the rug is very dusty it may be gone over a second time. A vacuum cleaner may be used, or a good carpet sweeper, to get what the broom may have missed. Next dust surface and furniture with a soft duster and a flannel dust cloth, dusting around the windows and the worktop as well as the large pieces of furniture. Wax the floor around the edge of the rug. Run over the furniture with furniture polish. Carefully remove the dust sheets and finish dusting the things under them. Wipe the light fixtures, the globes and the bulbs. Then bring in and lay down the small rugs, turn down the curtains, cover the rearrange the tables, put on the couch cover and return the pillows, bring in the chairs and fix the curtains and shades as usual. If it is the week to clean picture glasses, mirrors and windows, they should be done before bringing in the furniture.

Coolidge, and the speaker regretted that Canada did not possess such men at the head of affairs. The difficulty was that many of those who expressed themselves as sympathetic to law enforcement were not any too strict in observing the law themselves.

The W. C. T. U. in Canada, Sir George said, had a chance to follow the lead set in the U. S., and not only launch a campaign for law enforcement but also for law observance. He strongly advocated the use of the radio furthering such a campaign.

The cordial Evangelist, Mrs. Victoria Booth-Clibborn Demarest, now conducting a series of revival meetings in Toronto, and who had just recently completed a speaking tour of the United States, declared that the W. C. T. U. in that country had been given full credit for having brought prohibition there. She said that the W. C. T. U. there were now launching a national campaign against the cigarette and she hoped the organization in Canada would also enter a fight to banish it here.

Mrs. Scott, pointed out that it was less than a hundred years ago when slavery was not only condoned in Canada, but was also, upheld, from high pulpits, while at the present time an advocate of slavery was not to be found. She predicted that in less than a hundred years from now, as an advocate of moderate drinking would be equally as scarce.

USE HOME GROWN RED.

(Experimental Farms Note.)—Red clover seed has been a failure or partial failure during the past season in a great many districts where seed is usually produced. Such a condition always means danger for the farmers in Canada, particularly in those sections where severe winters sometimes interfere with our red clover stands.

The danger to which I refer is that of securing imported red clover seed from regions where sorts, not hardy for our conditions, are produced. A shortage of domestic red clover seed on the American continent always means heavier importation of foreign seed. Seed has been coming from France and Italy and therein lies, at least in part, our danger. Tests of the relative hardiness of domestic and foreign red clovers have been conducted on the Dominion Experimental Farms for a number of years past. Without exception, French and Italian clovers have winter killed badly under most conditions, while English seed and that secured from the southern portion of the red clover areas in the United States have been less parly than Canadian grown seed.

Because of the difficulty of securing accurate information as to the origin of imported red clover seed, our Canadian farmers are urged to secure locally grown seed where possible, providing such seed can be secured reasonably free from noxious weeds. It would be much more profitable to plant a larger quantity of local seed, the germination of which was impaired to some extent, than to take a chance of winter killing in the case of imported clovers the origin of which was not known.

PAINS IN BACK AND SIDES

Ended by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Fuller, Sask.—"For two or three days every so often I would have such pains in my back and sides that I could not do anything—could not even lie quietly in bed, and my head ached, too. I was this way about three years, but was worse after I was married. I was on a farm with not a house nearer than five miles and there was not a person to advise me, as my folks live in Manitoba. My sister-in-law told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and told me to try it. I took her advice and have been thankful for it ever since. After taking the medicine for three months I can say it has helped me a lot and I am doing fine. I am glad to recommend the Vegetable Compound to others and you may judge my testimony."—Mrs. HILLY BALANOFF, Fuller, Saskatchewan.

One Bottle of Carnol
relieved his weakness

Three bottles of Carnol restored him to perfect health.

Don't let yourself get run down. When you do, your system is weakened and you are likely to take any kind of medicine. If you feel tired, depressed, weak, nervous, watch yourself. These are the warnings to you that something serious may follow. It's at a time like this that you need a tonic—something which will tone up your system, purify your blood, quiet your nerves, give you strength. This is the way Mr. Collins felt before he took Carnol. He says, "I was in a run down condition. For six months, I was very weak and suffered from loss of appetite. I tried all kinds of drugs. I thought might possibly bring relief, but without success. Then I met a friend. After stating to him my condition of health I referred to different drugs I had taken without benefit. Then he advised me to try Carnol immediately. He told me not to spend another cent for useless drugs that would not even bring temporary relief. It will bring back to you the lost health you once enjoyed."—Mr. R. G. Collins, 150 Ridge Street, Sydney, N.S.

CAPTAIN BLOOD
By RAFAEL SABATINI

SYNOPSIS

Peter Blood, a young Irish physician, is sent to the Barbadoes as a slave under orders of King James. There at the behest of Arabella Bishop, niece of the military commander, Colonel Bishop buys him. A Spanish galleon, under Don Diego de Espinosa y Valdes, captures the city. Blood saves Mary Traill and Arabella. He leads his fellow rebels-convicts on board the Cinco Lagas and captures the ship and Don Diego. Don Diego betrays him and navigates the ship to Hispaniola, where his brother's ship is in port. Captain Blood binds Don Diego to the mouth of a cannon and offers the Don's son Esteban, the alternative of seeing his father die, or sell his uncle that all is well on board the Cinco Lagas. The boy accepts and they visit the galleon, where the youth makes peace with his uncle. They return to the Cinco Lagas and young Esteban learns that Blood had tricked him; his father was dead when the body was bound to the cannon. Blood sails for Tortuga, the rendezvous of buccanniers on the Spanish Main.

CHAPTER XIII
TORTUGA

At daybreak Don Esteban and his followers were put off in a boat. Two days later, the Cinco Lagas sailed into the rock-bound bay of Cayona. But in the four weeks of waiting at Tortuga for a ship to convey him to one or the other of these countries, his resources dwindled and finally vanished. Also, there was a good deal to oppress Peter Blood. There was the thought of Arabella Bishop. He was maddened by the tormenting fars of the unattainable. He desired Arabella, yet knew her beyond his reach irrevocably and for all time. He was, when all is said, an escaped slave, an outlaw in his own land and a homeless outcast in any other. There remained the sea, which is free to all, and particularly alluring to those who feel themselves at war with humanity. And temptations proceeded not only from adventures but from the acquaintance of the buccanniers.

Don Pedro Sanger, and a Frenchman may call me Le Sang if he pleases. "Good! My name," he informed the three men, two of whom at least were trying him advance, "it is Levasseur. You have heard of me?" They had, indeed. He commanded a privateer of twenty guns that had been in the bay a week ago, and was a Frenchman of the English. Levasseur had brought them back to Tortuga from an indifferently successful cruise. A roaring, quarrelsome, hard-drinking, hard-gaming scoundrel, his reputation as a buccannier stood high among the wild Brethren of the Coast.

It was current gossip that even Mademoiselle d'Oregon, the governor's daughter, had been caught in the snare of his wild attractiveness, and that Levasseur had gone the length of audacity of asking her hand in marriage of her father. M. d'Oregon had thrown him the door.

This was the man who now thrust himself upon Captain Blood with a proposal of association, offering him not only his sword, but his ship and the men who sailed her. Because he disliked the man, Captain Blood would not commit himself at once. But, because he liked the proposal he consented to consider it. Being afterwards pressed by both Hagthorpe and Wolverstone, who did not share his own personal dislike of the Frenchman, the end of the matter was that within a week articles were drawn up between Levasseur and Blood, and signed by them and, as was usual, by the chosen representatives of their followers. These articles contained the common provisions that, should the two vessels separate, each vessel must afterwards be rendered of all prizes severally taken; the vessel taking a prize should retain three-fifths of its value, surrendering the fifth to its associate.

That night Levasseur slept upon his ship, which, with characteristic flamboyance he had named La Foudre, and there on the following day he received a visit from Captain Blood. He greeted him mockingly as his admiral. Levasseur entertained his admiral to dinner, and jointly they drank success to the expedition, so copiously on the part of Levasseur that when the time came to separate he was as nearly drunk as it seemed possible for him to be and yet retain his understanding. Captain Blood was a little heavy-hearted. I have said he was a judge of men, and his judgment of Levasseur filled him with misgivings, which were growing heavier, in a measure, as the hour of departure approached.

CHAPTER XIV
LEVASSEUR'S HEROICS

It would be somewhat about ten o'clock on the following morning, a full hour before the time appointed for sailing, when a canoe brought up alongside La Foudre and a half-caste Indian stepped out of the boat and the ladder. He was the bearer of a folded scrap of paper for Captain Levasseur. Its contents may be roughly translated thus:

"My well-beloved: I am in the Dutch brig Jongvrou, which is, about to sail. Resolved to separate us forever, my cruel father is sending me to Europe in my brother's charge. I implore you, come to my rescue. Deliver me, my well-loved hero! Your desolated Madelon, who loves you."

The well-beloved hero, was moved to the soul of him by that passionate appeal. His swelling glances swept the bay for the Dutch brig, which he knew had been due to sail for Amsterdam for a cargo of hides and tobacco. He roared out the question in his mind.

In answer, the half-caste pointed out beyond the frothing surf that marked the position of the reef coral, indicating one of the stronghold's main defenses. Away beyond it, a mile or so distant, a sail was standing out to sea.

"There she goes," he said. The Frenchman gazed and stared. The half-caste shook his head and his fingers. "Then up anchor and let us after the Dutchman," he cried.

crow will be none too willing. For another, there's Captain Blood. "I care nothing for Captain Blood." "But it is necessary that you should have the power, the weight of metal and of men, and if I know him at all, he'll sink us before he'll suffer interference with the Dutch. He has his own views on this matter, and Captain Blood as I warned you."

Cursing in his soul, and even before the anchor was weighed, the association into which he had entered, already sundering ways of evasion. What Chausac implied was true: Blood would never suffer violence to be done to a Dutchman. But it might be done in his absence; and, being done, Blood must perform condone it, since it would then be too late to protest.

Within the hour the Arabella and La Foudre were beating out to sea together. Without understanding the change of plan involved, Captain Blood, nevertheless, accepted it, and weighed anchor before the appointed time upon perceiving his associate to do so.

All day the Dutch brig was in sight, though by evening she had dwindled to the merest speck on the northern horizon. The course prescribed for Blood and Levasseur lay eastward along the northern shores of Hispaniola. To that course the Arabella continued to hold steadily throughout the night. When day broke again she was still alone. La Foudre under cover of the darkness had struck away to the northeast with every rag of canvas on her yards.

Chausac had attempted yet again to protest against this. "The devil take you," Levasseur had answered him. "A ship's a ship, be she Dutch or Spanish, and ships are our present need. That will suffice for the man."

Dawn found La Foudre close on the Dutchman's heels, not a mile astern, and the sight of her evidently flustered the Jongvrou. They sent a warning shot across her bow. The Jongvrou veered, showed them her side, and opened fire with her stern chasers. The small shot went whistling through La Foudre's shrouds with some slight damage to her canvas.

Five minutes after that they were board and board, the Jongvrou held tight in the clutches of La Foudre's grapnels, and the buccanniers pouring noisily into her waist.

The Dutchman's master, purple in the face, stood forward to beard the pirate, followed closely by an elegant pale-faced, young gentleman in whom Levasseur recognized his brother-in-law captain.

"Captain Levasseur, this is an outrage for which you shall be made to answer. What do you seek aboard my ship?"

"At first I sought only that which long to me, something of which I am bereft. But now I seek to avenge my ship and my life of loss of life to five of my men, war it is, and your ship a prize of war."

From the quarter rail Mademoiselle d'Oregon looked down with glowing eyes in breathless wonder upon her well-beloved hero. He seemed as he stood towering there, masterful, audacious, beautiful. He saw her, and with a glad shout sprang towards her. The Dutch master, who had been standing by, stepped across the body and came on in his way with hands upheld to arrest his progress. Levasseur did not stay to argue with him: he was too impatient to reach his mistress, and swung the poleaxe that he carried and the Dutchman went down in blood with a clouven skull. The eager lover stepped across the body and came on in his way with hands upheld to arrest his progress. DALHOUSIE NEWS

The first large whist party of the New Year was held on Thursday evening, Feb. 5th, in Dalhousie, at the home of Mrs. Ed. Cannon, President of the C. W. L. of the parish and under the auspices of the Society. The object was to aid the poor of the place, and the ladies in charge are delighted with the result. Besides those who played cards at twenty-two tables, a large number of people attended and enjoyed music during the evening, and several, who were unable to be present, bought tickets and the handsome sum of $50.10 was realized. Dainty refreshments were served after a very enjoyable game of plain whist. The prize winners were: Ladies 1st, Mrs. J. W. Cooke, 2nd, Miss Eliza Valdran, 3rd, Miss Carmen LaVoie, 4th, Miss Matilda Valdran; Gentlemen 1st, George Elsliger, 2nd, Chas. Stewart, 3rd, E. Valdran, 4th, Vincent Harquail.

Much credit is given to Albert Mucille, who for the convenience of the travelling public, keeps a team at the disposal of all those who wish to take the Maritime Express trains, the morning local and the Limited on Sunday at Dalhousie Junction.

During recent months, the people of the Shiretown have been deprived of a morning mail, consequently all letters and papers, which come by the Maritime Express going North and South, are not delivered in Dalhousie until about two o'clock, p. m.

On Friday last, when the Limited was so late coming from the North, no mail was received until late in the evening, and much credit is given Miss Kate Bateman of the Dalhousie Post Office, who up until 9 o'clock every evening, places the box holders in a position to get their mail, which is very much appreciated by the citizens of the place.

Among the social entertainments given recently in Dalhousie, was the very enjoyable card party at the pretty home of Mrs. Bernice Delaney, Victoria St. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Doucet, Sheriff and Mrs. S. Blanchard, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Gaudet, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Arsenault, Mr. and Mrs. A. St. Laurent, Mrs. LaBlanc, (Maria Carpes), Mrs. Charles Nelson, Mrs. Leon Samson, Miss Nita Doucet, Miss Bessie Delaney, Miss Eva Gaudet, Doctor Leo Gaudet, Mr. LaBillette. Dainty refreshments were served.

Austin McNeill drove to Dalhousie Junction on Sunday evening to take the Limited, en route to North Bay, Ontario, to resume his work on the C. N. R. after enjoying a holiday at his home in the shiretown, the guest of his parents H. H. and Mrs. McNeill.

Mr. and Mrs. McNeill is spending the winter months, her husband to return to the C. N. R. service in Northern New Brunswick towards spring.

Miss Eva LaBillette, Marquasha, P. Q. was a recent visitor to Dalhousie and was the guest of the Misses Allain.

P. W. Hamilton, River Charlottetown, who was in the Shiretown on Saturday is of the opinion that the Farmers Store will be rebuilt.

Mr. G. S. Gagnon, Campbellton, spent Sunday in Dalhousie.

P. McEvoy of Sydney, N. S., who spent Sunday with his family in Dalhousie, has just returned from the Lunenburg Convention, which he attended with his son, Mr. Harry P. McEvoy.

Mr. McEvoy in speaking with your correspondent said that all at the nature of the past fifty years at least, he spoke with optimism. The foundation for success had already been well established in the forming of Co-Operative Associations. With a few more such as the Dalhousie Creamery, the farmers raising nearly enough wheat to supply their own needs, the wheat ground on a modern mill and with the shipments of poultry, etc. under Co-Operative management and the splendid prospects in the lumber business, manufacturing in future to be more extensive at Bonaventure, matters seemed to him to be of the best, and encouraging for the young people to remain at home.

He also stated that Hon. Charles Marcell, M. P., intended residing at Bonaventure River, during the summer months, that he would build a home there, having sold his property at Carleton.

Dalhousie, N. B. Feb. 11th. A Bean Supper will be held in the Basement Hall of St. John's Presbyterian Church, in Dalhousie, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society, on Friday evening Feb. 13th between 8 and 9 o'clock.

Miss Margaret Duncan, who was appointed Secretary of the Dalhousie Branch of the Society to prevent cruelty to animals, and who is now residing in New York, will have to be replaced, as it looks to the Society if the shiretown, as if some action would have to be taken, to prevent any further cruelty to the faithful animal, the horse.

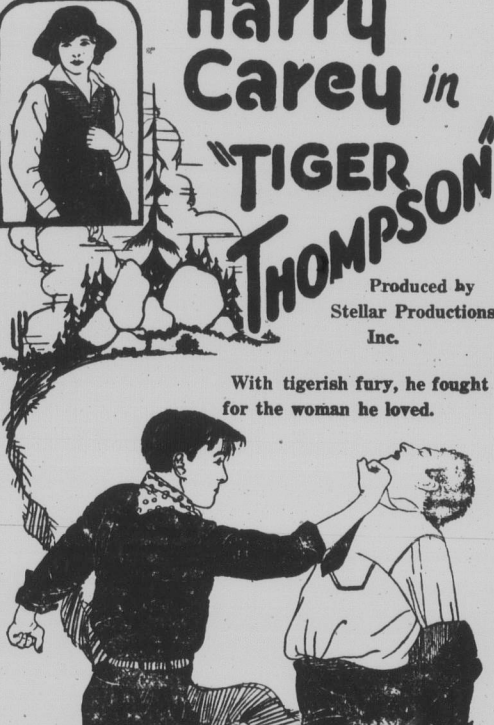

It is difficult to understand how men can be so cruel. If continued the law will be put in force.

Councillor P. P. Morais of Caracquet, Gloucester Co. N. B. was among the visitors to Dalhousie this week.

PLAN TO RE-ESTABLISH THE MILK LUNCH FOR CHILDREN IN CAMPBELLTON

Local Red Cross Society Proposes of Town Next Week—Great For This Work—Many Und In Lower Grades—Much Ca At Small Cost—Other Parti

In their energetic efforts to promote public health work in all its different phases in Campbellton, the local Red Cross Society has decided upon a canvas of the town for funds to re-establish the system of providing "free milk" for undernourished children in the local schools. It is likely that this drive for funds to promote this worthy work will be started early next week and the hope is expressed that the response may be generous enough to create a substantial Milk Fund.

The Need Only those totally ignorant of conditions in this community will deny the necessity of this work. The Public Health Nurse, Miss McPhail and local Red Cross workers all agree that there is urgent need for the milk lunch being instituted in our public schools. And their opinions are based on personal observation. To verify this one has only to look into the pinched faces of so many of the children of the first two grades. Abundant evidence of lack of proper nourishment is easily seen and the fact that the local branch of the Red Cross Society is planning to undertake this work reflects much credit upon it as an operating body of workers.

Small Cost Did the inauguration of the "milk lunch" in our schools necessitate the expenditure of a large sum of money in order to assure its success, citizens might be excused if they rebelled against "another demand" for money. But in this case the request is a very minimal one. The cost of providing milk in schools is, in view of its potential benefits, very light indeed. The small sum of sixty cents will provide the regular daily milk lunch for one child for the whole term. In view of this fact the drive for funds should be met with the same alacrity that collection" but should rather be computed in a more practical way. If each contributor will just stop and figure out how many children he is in a position to help in this way or how long a period he is able to provide milk for one child, then the result of the proposed canvass should be most satisfactory and the work stretch an auspicious start.

The Benefits If it was necessary to utilize uncontradicted reports of the benefits of milk in schools from other places many might be skeptical of its value. But its benefits have already been demonstrated here. A few years ago when the scheme of free milk lunch in schools was being tried as an experiment in various other places, it was given a trial here and those familiar with the results know that the marked physical improvement in many undeveloped children here was a sign of its value.

In view of these facts the proposed drive should meet with hearty responses on all sides. Gratifying progress in all phases of Public Health work is being made in this province and Campbellton is keeping in step. The local branch of the Red Cross Society and the Public Health Nurse, Miss McPhail, who recently took up these duties here, all are doing splendid work. The inauguration of the milk lunch in our schools is only one of the many commendable activities of this organization which are being promoted by well sustained efforts to promote this important work and safeguard the health of our children. The project if it is generously supported will augment the program that has already been made and will probably have beneficial effects much further-reaching than can be estimated at present. It is therefore to be hoped that when the proposed drive is begun next week the canvass will be heartily supported in their efforts.
