AURORA, No. 1884, Chesnut Stallion, foaled 1876, imported to New Brunswick. 1887, sired by Daniel Lambert, 1922 and out of Fanny Jackson. Daniel Lambert was sired by Ethan Allen (43) and out of Fanny Cook. Fanny Jackson was sired by Stonewall Jackson and out of Fathy Condon. Elhan Allen was by Hill's Black Hawk [5] dam not traced. Eanny Cook was by Abdaliah [1]. Stonewall Jackson was sired by Williambon's Black Hawk, no by Hill's Black Hawk [5]. Stonewall Jackson's dam was a daughter of Bridge's Emperer, he by Eur's Napoleon out of Fanny Pullen. Betty Condon was sired by North American and out of a daughter of Sherman's Black Hawk.

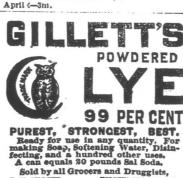

Daniel Lambert [102] the sire of Aurora [1884] was the sire of 2's in the 2.30 list and was the sire of sires and dams with get in the 2.30 list and Annie Page, record 2.27; Aristos [771] record 2.27; was full brother to Aurora and was the sire of the R. Winsblp, with a record of 2.20;.

By a careful study of the above pedigree, it will be observed that the Government Stallon Aurora, is well bred on both sides, and that both his sire and his dam were great producers of speed, It will also be observed that Aurora is inbred to Hill's Black Hawk [5]. Aurora is a very handsome horse, of a light chestnut color, with a beautiful head and neck, sine body, and makes a very supersparance in harness.

Cabinet Changes

Some important changes in the personnel of the Dominion Cabinet, have been announced within the past week, Sir Charles Tupper, Minister of Finance, has resigned and returned to England as High Commissioner, and is succeeded by the late Minister of Marine and Fisheries, Hon. G. E. Foster, M. P. for Kings. The vacancy caused by Mr. Foster's promotion, is filed by the appointment of Mr. C. H. Tupper, M. P., for Pictou, who enters the cabinet at the early age of thirty-three. It cannot be denied that the absence of Sir Charles Tupper from the Cabinet will be a serious loss to his party and country, but he will be able to serve the latter quite as ably in London. The FARMER joins with Hon. CHAPTER XLIX, NEW-BORN HOPES.

Richard had written almost immediately to the Earle of Radoliffe that Pearle was found, and two days after the events related in the last chapter he had arrived at Vannes, and, with inexpressible thankess, clasped his only and dearly beloved sister to his heart once more. It was almost like receiving the dead back to life again, and a strong man he was, he bowed his head over her and wept tears of joy,

"How these dear hands have toiled and suffered," he said, kissing them tenderly. "Pearle! oh, Pearle! how could you hide yourself from us so?" he added repreach-

"I should think you were bidding me baronet, the accident which was the result of it, and the renewal of their friendship, and how he had learned that Miss Melfert visit to the little church, and the strange discovery they had there made.

"It was wonderful," Richard said. "When I looked upon the names which Sir Harold had stumbled upon in the register, I could scarcely believe my eyesight. The knowledge that Adison Chee-tham had actually been married before he ever saw Pearle, and that in all probability his was living, came like a thunder bolt to me. It stunned me. He committed himself to nothing, and though I had a strong hope that something could be proved against him in connection with that woman, whom every one believed to bave been killed by the railway train, yet I went away quite discouraged. I can understand now why he was so sool and indifferent. He too believed her dead, and the matter shrouded in such mystery that

"To-morrow," Peerle answered eagerly.
"And the wedding?" whispered Rich "No, not to morrow," she said, with a saucy glance as she beckoned Alice, who had just entered the room, to come to Ten days had elapsed since the fire, and Pearle's burns were now so nearly healed that Dr. Murdock thought it would be if she desired, and the day was set for, not to morrow, but the day after. No one could know what it cost to grant this permission, for he knew that when Pearle went Alice would go also since she had been invited to go home and remain with her until Sir Harold's residence was ready to receive them.

George Murdock had never dreamed, during his ceaseless, tender care of the unfortunate girl, while in her state of imbecility, that he was going to love her with all the strength of his great heart and he probably never would have discovered it if she had remained in that helpless condition. He would have gone on tending her kindly and faithfully, deto her dark eyes, when her face began to brighten and glow with intelligence, and her manner to change from its helpless dependence to sweet and matronly dig-

But pride now stung him with its poison pointed arrows. She was very rich, and he a poor, strug-gling doctor would be deemed calculating and presuming if he should seek to win Sir Harold Cheswick's wealthy ward, and so he set a seal upon his heart and lips, and suffered in silence.

Mrs. Murdock saw all this, and it troubled her deeply. She, too, loved the beau-tiful woman who had been so gentle and patient during her helplessness, as she would have loved her daughter, and it would have comforted her greatly if her noble son could have won her for his wife. Did Alice herself-mistrust-this state of things?—If the lovely color which crept into her cheeks at the sound of George Murdock's step and voice; if her shyly averted eye, when she found him regard ing her with a mournful, wistful look; if the sudden trembling of her white hand whenever he laid his finger upon her

Pearle had no bride-maids this time but the fair maidens who had officiated in that capacity before were all present, even to the croaker, Miss Charlotte Brenton, who was Miss Breton still and with no prospect of becoming anything else.

Gentle Alice Armut was instantly attracted toward Alice Renau, who looked very lovely in the finest and whites of India muslins, garnished with charming India muslins, garnished with charming little clusters of purple violets; and the two hovered continually about Pearle, many other bills were presented, of sympathy they had with her joy.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery acts powerfully upon the liver, and through that great blood purifying organ, cleanses the system of all blood-taints and impurities, from whatever cause arising. It is equally effectious in acting upon the Kilderys and other exerctory organs, cleansing strengthening, and healing their diseases. As an appetizing, restorative tonic, it promotes direction and nutrition, thereby building upon both flesh and strength. In malarial districts, this wonderful medicine has gained great celebrity in curing Fever and Agun, Chilis and Fever, Dumb Ague, and kindred diseases.

Br. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery Alice Renau reigns in her elegant home Her husband has attained fame and reputation as a skillful physician, and is now employed in families where he from a common Blotch, or Ecuption, to the worst Scrofula. Salt-rheum, "Fever-core," Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine. Great Eating Ulcers rapidly heal under its benign influence. Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Terior, Eccena, Erystpelas, Boils, Carbuncles, Sone Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Hip-hoirt Disease, "White Swellings," Goltre, or Thick Neck, and Eplarged Clands. would not have dreamed of being allowed to enter.

which is Scrofula of the Lungs, is arrested and oured by this remedy, if taken in the earlier stages of the disease. From its marvelous power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this now world-famed remedy to the public, Dr. Pierce thought seriously of calling it his "Consumption Cure," but abandoned that name as too restrictive for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, anti-bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for Consumption, but for all Chronic Diseases of the Liver, Blood, and Lungs.

For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Chronic Nasal Catarrh, Bronchits, Asthma, Severe Coupts, and kindred affections, it is an efficient remedy.

Sold by Druggista, at $1.00, or Six Bottles for $5.00.
