LOCAL NEWS ITEMS.

Keep Thursday night in mind for the big Patriotic Meeting.

Mrs. D. J. Miller, of Montreal, has been spending a few days with friends in town.

There was the usual large influx of home comers for Thanksgiving -- a lengthy list.

Miss Hazel Pattie, professional nurse, of Stamford, Conn., is holidaying at home at present.

Rev. Mr. Scott is improving gradually in health again and is able to be out day by day in the open.

Rev. Mr. Drysdale, of White Lake, has received a call to Middleville in the Lanark and Renfrew Presbytery.

When the County Court opened at Brockville last Tuesday there were no cases and the court immediately adjournd.

Taylor's are the Cool people. See us about your winter supply now.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. J. Montgomery arrived last week from Winnipeg, and purpose spending a month amongst friends hereabouts.

Mrs. Adam Torrance, of North Bay, accompanied by her little daughter and son, spent the holiday with Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Torrance.

Publication day after a holiday is a vexed problem for the editor of the local weekly -- as it is simply impossible to do two days work in one.

Yesterday was quietly observed, there being a large number of home-comers and goes to town. In the evening there was a social dance given by a committee of young men.

At the meeting of the Smith's Falls Council C. A. Phillips, who has been Acting Chief of Police for the past few months, was appointed Chief at a salary of $75 per month.

There is a little lake back of Watson's Corners that is inhabited by a huge snake or sea serpent. It has been seen several times by the people both on land and in the water.

Mr. and Mrs. James Boyd, of Arnprior, announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Eva Jessie, to Mr.
R. Delbert McComb, Union Bank, Newboro, Ont. The marriage will take place at an early date.

Four hundred delinquent subscriptions at $1 would buy considerable coal;
the same number with half at $1 and half at $2 would increase the amount by 50%. Enough, dear reader, how does your label read?

What looks to be the biggest squash that ever was, is on exhibition in the Record office, Smiths Falls. It is from "Elmhurst" garden, owned by Mr.
Lowrie Rice, and weighs exactly 100 pounds. Alongside it from the same garden is a citron weighing 26 pounds.

Sergt.-Major "Jack" of the Second Battalion, Canadian contingent, has arrived from the front. He escaped the conflict without any wounds, although he went through the thickest of the fighting at St. Julien and Langemarck, and was on duty for many a day in the trenches. Sergt.-Major "Jack" left here over a year ago when but a puppy
-- for Jack is a dog -- in charge of Private A. Knight, of Renfrew; he was the mascot of the battalion. Private Knight was wounded three months ago.
Through the battles and later through the different hospitals followed Sergt.- Major "Jack." Accompanied by his master, the little Scotch terrier paid a visit Friday morning to the Khaki League Home at Montreal, and was duly inscribed on the books. A number of wounded Canadians arrived in the city from the front. The majority are suffering from the poisonous gases of the Huns. Among the soldiers were several First Royal Montreal Regiment men.

in St. Andrews.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mrs. Mary O'Brien, Smiths Falls, last Tuesday evening, when her only daughter, Miss Annie Jessie, was united in marriage to Mr. William Layne Tait, D.D.S., L.D.S., only son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Tait, Pakenham. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. L.
Fraser. The young couple were unattended, the bride entering the drawing-room on the arm of her brother,
Mr. J. F. O'Brien, while Mrs. W. A.
Riddell played Lohengrin's wedding march.

A conference of the Y.W.C.T.U. will be held next Monday afternoon, the 18th inst., in the Council Chamber at 3 o'clock. All interested in the work are cordially invited.

The Methodist choir appeared in surpluses on Sunday for the first time, black gowns with white collars and mortar boards. The gentlemen wear the same as the ladies except the caps.

A meeting to consider the advisability of submitting a local option bylaw to the ratepayers at the next municipal elections will be held in the vestry of the Methodist church to-morrow (Wednesday) evening, at 8:30 o'clock. All interested are invited to be present.

Rev. Mr. Henry, of Douglas, occupied the pulpit in St. Andrews on Sunday, in pursuance of the Presbytery's arrangement for an exchange of pulpits. Rev.
Mr. Mackenzie, of Pakenham, who was to be in Zion church, took Rev. Mr.
Scott's appointment at Appleton and Ashton.

In our report of the organization of the Speakers' Patriotic League last week the name of Mr. W. A. Nichols was inadvertently omitted. Mr. Nichols is one of the most faithful of our leading citizens in attending meetings of this nature and we know not how the omission occurred.

A patriotic rally is to be held on Thursday evening in the Town Hall, when Hon. Sir Geo. E. Foster and other prominent speakers are to be present to address the meeting. There is to be music, and a packed hall is anticipated.
No charge of admission. Come out and hear for yourself.

Rev. Dr. Guthrie, who has been located at Ottawa for a year or two, a preacher of rare ability, occupied the pulpit in Zion Church on Sunday, and delivered two very able discourses to large congregations. The morning discourse was Gethsemane to Calvary, and was a new picture to most of his hearers of the sacrifice made by the infallible Son of God for fallen humanity. The evening theme was "The love of Christ,"
a gospel sermon of exceptional power, and highly appreciated by all who heard it. Dr. Guthrie enjoyed his visit to town fully as much as those who had the privilege of hearing him. There was special Thanksgiving music by the choir.

Home From the War.

Mrs. Alfred Harness, who was among the first to leave for Overseas service, being united with the famous Princess Patricias, arrived home yesterday on a three months furlough, bearing the honor marks of the war, but having come through the fierce experiences without serious wounds other than general wear from the nerve-racking work of the battlefield. He is receiving a hearty welcome from his friends and the congratulation of citizens in general.

Allan Brown Has Marvellous Escape.

Master Allan Brown, only son of Mr.
A. C. Brown, had a most remarkable escape from at least serious injury on Saturday morning, if nothing worse.
He was standing opposite his uncle's place on Judson street when his father drove along with a load of wheat from the siding. The little fellow ran out to the road and shouted to his parent
"Give us a ride." The parent replied,
"Get on behind," but before he could prevent the boy's action he had jumped sideways toward the load, with a view to grasping the bags and so climbing up.
He fell to the roadway and the rear wheel of the wagon passed over one foot and across the thigh, his nose and one hand also being injured. The father was almost paralyzed with fear as he realized what had happened, but strange to say not a bone was broken, and although the boy suffered considerable pain he was quite himself again in a very short time, much to the relief and joy of the family.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

Pleasant Evening Reveries dedicated to tired Mothers as they Join the Home Circle at Evening Tide.

WHEN THE "BABY" STARTS TO SCHOOL.
My baby boy has gone away, my precious baby boy,
My little, helpless baby boy; my weak and helpless one,
Has grown so fast, and now, at last, I have to let him go.
He needs much more than I can give but ah, it hurts me so,
And oh, it makes me choke, and oh, my heart is very sore,
To think that he won't need me as he used to any more.
The stories that his mother tells, the songs that mother sings
Will not be all important now. They just are little things.
And there will be so much that's new; his world is quite another,
From that he's known, in which his greatest love and friend was mother.
New work, new play, a whole new life, built on a different plan.
My clinging baby boy replaced by this—a sturdy man.
But when he trotted off to school, he looked so small, so young.
My arms so ached to hold him, and my very heart was wrung.
And now I hoped he'd be afraid and beg he need not go,
But off he went, and then at noon, his face was all aglow,
Because he loved it all so much, for him it's just the dawn
Of everything that's good; but ah my baby boy is gone.
—Detroit News.

USE LIFE'S GOOD THINGS.

How much better to use some of the good things of this life as we go along to make our humble homes as cheery and bright as possible now. Do not starve to-day, either body, mind or soul, thinking that poverty will knock at your door to-morrow. Don't hoard and scrimp through the best years of your life that you may be generous in your wills. Life is uncertain and it is better to make your children happy while they are under your home roof; to call to that home every agency that will make their lives sweeter and better, than to deny them these that you may leave them a large bank account when you are gone. It will be too late for them to return kindness to you then. Don't keep the parlors shut up and live in the kitchen, unless you want the boys and girls to be anxious to leave you. Don't think that they must not go anywhere else but to Sunday school and prayer meeting. Remember that you were once young yourself. Do not ask them to walk two miles to a singing or a lecture after working hard all day, when there are two or three horses in the barn that would enjoy the trip as much as they. For God's sake, show them that you think as much of them as you do your beasts, if not more. Take time to enjoy the companionship of your friends, especially the society of your children; it will only be a

A Not-Too-Well-Known Goat.

"Most parts of Canada where live stock production prevails are suitable to the raising of Angoras, especially if the land is high and dry the greater part of the year. They will withstand the rigor of even the coldest winter and do not require any greater shelter than a shed to protect them from wind and storm, providing a sufficient quantity of nutritious food and pure water are supplied. The Angora goat performs a two-fold service in the Canadian scheme of farming. It produces a high grade of mohair and at the same time may be used for the destruction of underbrush on lands to be broken for subsequent cultivation." Such is one of the opening paragraphs of Pamphlet No. 12 of the Sheep and Goat Division of the Live Stock Branch devoted to the Angora Goat and a general discussion of methods of management, feeding and breeding, and of mohair production, by T. Reg. Arkell, B.S.A., B.Sc., and Horace V. Bent, B.S., that can be had at no cost whatever, by application to the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. The Pamphlet gives a brief sketch of the origin and history of the Angora, which from being a native of Turkey in Asia has travelled somewhat extensively into South Africa, is fairly well known in the United States and not as well known in Canada as desirable. Mohair, of which Turkey, in times of peace, supplies 10,000,000 lb. annually, South Africa 15,000,000 lb. and the rest of the world 6,000,000 lb., is the technical name given the hair of the Angora goat. The word is derived from the French "moher" and, primarily, from the Arabic "mukhayyar," meaning mohair cloth. This, with a vast deal more information about a particularly useful goat, is furnished in the pamphlet under notice. Nature and the necessary treatment for breeding and raising are set forth with details of market possibilities, of shearing, of grading, and of preparation for shipment. Extracts from letters written by successful breeders in Canada and the United States telling of their experiences are printed as well as some account of the complaints to which the animals are occasionally subject, with advice as to preventives and remedies. Illustrations of types and the fleeces carried at various ages lend impression, expression and interest to the pamphlet.

L. T. Marechal, K.C., of Montreal, is to be a Judge of the Superior Court of Quebec, succeeding Hon. Justice Louis Coderre, who has resigned on superannuation.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

few years at the best that they will be with you and these ought to be years of happiness to both you and them. Would you rather have them look back when out in the world to that blessed home, (though it may not have been a mansion) where they received more joy and comfort than the world can afford, than to have them forget home in a week and hardly return to your burial? If we are happy in this life, we must enjoy what every day brings us. We should be grateful and glad for all the good things that come into our lives, and patiently bear our trials, believing that all things, if rightly used will fit us for the enjoyment of perfect happiness hereafter.

"Look at this day," said the philosopher, "for it is life, the very life of life. Yesterday is but a dream, and to-morrow is only a vision, but to-day, well lived, makes every yesterday a dream of happiness, and every to-morrow a vision of hope."

It makes little difference in home happiness whether you own your house, or have one little room on the sixth floor of an apartment house. You can make that one little room the perfection of all that is worth living for, a quiet harbor to which a husband will turn, feeling that he has run out of the storm of his day's work into the security of something that is real.

Heaven's best gift is a hopeful heart, which rises superior to every adverse element and stems every opposing tide. One such spirit in a family is a blessing beyond estimate and if a whole family would give out all the sunshine it could generate by continually striving to outshine every other member there would be few cloudy days in the year.

Be contented with what you have; you may butter your bread until you are unable to eat it.

Bear in mind that you are largely responsible for your children's faults whether inherited or acquired, and so be patient with them.

There are a hundred successful men and women where there is one that is contented.

The rarest feeling that ever lights the human face is the contentment of a loving soul.

Enjoy the blessing of to-day, if God sends them, and the evils of it bear patiently and sweet.

Do You Think of Safety?

When you leave your home for your day's work, do you remember that constant care is necessary? Do you, when you arrive at the office, factory, or shop, bear in mind your own safety and that of others? To think first of safety means consideration for others; it means lives spared and fewer vacant chairs. Most accidents can be prevented, but what is each one of us doing to prevent accidents? We must not expect that care will be taken for our safety and never take thought for that of another. It is estimated that a man's average earning power is $700 per annum. Some of us receive more and some less, but whatever we earn each year will be reduced after a serious accident and will be stopped by death. What are you going to do about it? The obvious thing to do is to learn safety—to insist upon others doing their work in the safe way—to point out to the proper officials unsafe practices and unsafe machines—to take no chances. You may seem unnecessary to tell you this, but what of each year's toll of life and limb? Get the safety habit and pass it along as an heritage to the children.—Bulletin issued by Ontario Safety League.

"The Carnivora as Destroyers of Game" is the subject of a thoughtful article by Edward T. Martin in October issue of Rod and Gun in Canada published at Woodstock, Ont., by W. J. Taylor, Limited. H. C. Haddon contributes a serio-comic Western tale entitled "The Desperado" while among the actual "been there" experiences may be mentioned Sport in the Tomogons: The Hunt for the Lost Moose in New Brunswick; Experiences at a Winter Camp in the Laurentians; A Trip by Motor Boat after Moose in Northern Alberta, and The First Day out, the latter being an account of a day's shooting of partridges by F. V. Williams who is also the designer of the October cover. The regular departments are as usual splendidly maintained and the whole issue is one that will make a strong appeal to sportsmen and lovers of outdoor life.

J. E. H. Barnett, the eldest son of Mr. Alex. Barnett, the well known lumberman and financier of Renfrew, died at his parent's home at an early hour last Tuesday morning. WALL PAPERS AND LIGHT.

How Money May Be Wasted by Selecting the Wrong Colors.

"Talk about handing out free gas ranges or renting them out at a nominal rental," said a man in the employ of a gas company; "there is another item that encourages gas consumption, and that is wall papers."

"If I were running the business I would hand out free wall papers. But I would do the choosing. Rich deep greens and browns—they are the colors that bring up your bills and our profits."

How many people realize that a big percentage of their gas money may be sunk into their walls and wasted? It may be only a matter of color of your wall paper whether you light one or three burners.

White walls, of course, absorb the least light, only 30 per cent, but nearly everybody wants some color to meet the eye. A chrome yellow absorbs only 85 per cent. Paper of an orange shade robs you only of 50 per cent of your light.

It is when you get into the reds and greens and browns that the light begins to dim. A dark green wall paper, so restful to the eye, absorbs 82 per cent of the light. And paper of a deep chocolate leaves only 4 per cent of the light rays for use. Its power of absorption is 96 per cent.—New York Sun.

When Ice Cream Sticks.

Ice cream is sometimes frozen so hard that it does not come out of the mold easily. When this happens let the cold water run over the outside of the can. The water is so much warmer than the ice cream that it melts it sufficiently to start it out and does not melt it enough to spoil the shape of the mold.

How to Clean Matting.

When matting is soiled rub it with a soft flannel cloth dipped in lukewarm salt water. Rub the spots with molten cornmeal; then go over the whole surface again with salt water, this time cold. Wipe with a dry cloth. This method of cleaning does not turn the matting yellow, as water usually does.

If You Need More Fat.

If your physician advises you to eat more fat see that your diet includes plenty of cream, butter, olive oil, bacon, walnuts, pecan nuts, egg yolks, suet, salt pork, salmon and beef and mutton fat. All these foods contain a very large percentage of fat.

Cleaning Mackintoshes at Home.
Spread the mackintosh out flat on the table and scrub with warm water and yellow soap, in which a little carbonate of ammonia has been dissolved. Rinse in cold water and hang in the air to dry. On no account put it near the fire.

This Drives Mosquitoes Away.
Wind a piece of paper around a pencil and fill the tube so formed with Persian powder. Stand it in a dish of sand and burn it an hour before bedtime. This drives the mosquitoes away and so insures an untroubled night's sleep.

Bran For White Paint.
A plain cloth dipped in hot water and then in a saucer of bran will clean white paint and not injure it. The bran acts like a soap on the paint.

Brightening Rugs.
Throw coarse salt over rugs and carpets before sweeping them to prevent the dust from rising. This will brighten the color also.

To Sharpen a Knife Quickly.
A strip of emery cloth tacked to a small square board will be found useful for quickly sharpening the carving knife.

Ironing a Bias.
Be sure to iron garments with the straight of the goods and thus prevent stretching of the bias seams.

Acting in One Lesson.
"Do you think I could learn to be a moving picture actor?"
"Sure you could. Just remember this one thing. A heaving chest denotes surprise, fear, hate or any other emotion."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"It's a figure of speech, my boy—like trying to tell something to a graduate class that it don't know."—Pittsburgh Post.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson III.—Fourth Quarter, For Oct. 17, 1915.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, II Kings v, 1-14, Memory Verses, 7, 8—Golden Text, Ex. xv, 26—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

In our last lesson we saw the triumphant entry into glory, without dying, of the discouraged man who wanted to die. If we would keep our eyes on the glory which surely awaits us we would not be so easily cast down (Rom. viii, 18). We also saw the Spirit of God in Elijah so manifestly upon Elisha that others recognized it. So it should be with us. Elisha longed for a double portion of Elijah's spirit and by his unwavering beholding he obtained it. The Lord wrought through Elisha six miracles and through Elisha at least twelve. Like Elijah he divided Jordan, restored a boy to life, multiplied bread and oil and did other wonders which Elijah did not. Previous to the lesson of today, besides those just mentioned, there was the healing of the waters at Jericho and of the poisoned pottage and the waters that filled ditches without wind or rain.

The multiplying of the widow's oil to pay her debt and save her sons (iv, 1-7) suggests what might be our privilege if we were empty vessels and believed God. The bringing to life of the Shunammite's son brings us face to face with Him who is the resurrection and the life, who alone doeth wonders and still liveth. The people in today's lesson are a proud, mighty man, captain of the host of the king of Syria, very self important, but a leper; a little maid of Israel, who loved to magnify the God of Israel; a man of God, who lived before God and sought nothing from man, and some servants who were wiser than their master.

How sad and how suggestive the words concerning this mighty man in valor who had wrought deliverance for Syria, "a leper," an incurable sick man with the most loathsome of all diseases. What did his greatness amount to under these circumstances? Leprosy is the most remarkable emblem of sin in the Bible, and all are by nature children of wrath, dead in trespasses and sins, spiritually lepers (Eph. ii, 1-3). What profit was there in the abundance or the riches of the men of Luke xii and xvi when their souls were required of them? What does it profit a man to be great in this world or to have millions of money if he is not a saved man? If he dies out of Christ the fate of the rich man of Luke xvi must be his.

This little captive maid of the land of Israel, if she had been an ordinary child, might have said: "I am glad that he is a leper. Why did he take me away from my home?" and other such rebellious words; but, though she must have had an aching heart, she was evidently a true child of God and, like Joseph in the house of Potiphar, sought to glorify God even in her very trying circumstances. She was like Pollyanna. She was sorry for Naaman and told his wife, on whom she waited, of the prophet of God in Israel who could do such wonderful things. How she puts to shame the complainers who are so prone to murmur because of their circumstances and also all who know of the redemption that is in Christ Jesus, but never tell others of it. Where is the spirit of him who said, "As much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel." "By all means to save some" (Rom. i, 14-16; I Cor. ix, 22). Because of the little maid's testimony kings are moved and health brought to the leper, but we do not hear of any reward for the little maid. The Lord will not forget her in the resurrection (Luke xiv, 14; Matt. x, 42).

The king of Syria sent Naaman to the king of Israel with a letter and much silver and gold and ten changes of raiment (verses 5, 6). The king of Israel was the wrong man to go to, but Elisha heard of it and said, "Let him come now to me, and he shall know that there is a prophet in Israel" (verse 8). Can you see the great man, with all his retinue, at the door of the house of Elisha, expecting the prophet to come out to him and with some great display give him health? Do you see the man of God calmly abiding in his house and sending a messenger to say, "Go and wash in Jordan seven times" (Verses 9-11). Then do you see a great, proud man going away in a rage? (Verse 12). What a fearful thing is pride and self importance, and how foolish are our thoughts! Yet Abraham suffered because he had his own thoughts, and Mary had three days' sorrow because she supposed (Gen. xx, 11; Luke ii, 44).

By the reasonable advice of his servants Naaman became calm and obeyed the voice of God by the prophet and was thoroughly healed, made clean (verses 13, 14). Now see him and all his company again before Elisha acknowledging the God of Israel as the true God and urging the prophet to accept a reward or a blessing. But the man of God refused, reminding us of Abram and the king of Sodom (Gen. xiv, 22, 23). There is no salvation for the sinner except by the blood of Jesus Christ, who went down into the waters of Jordan, or judgment, for us. We cannot recompense Him for salvation, but we can serve Him because He saves us. The gift of God cannot be purchased (Acts viii, 20).

The Importance of Grain Screenings.

Weed-seeds make up 16 per cent of the total weight of a car of western-grown flax. A sample representing over 25,000 bushels of wheat contained only 92.6 per cent by weight of pure wheat, the remainder being largely made up of weed-seeds. Such are the statements embodied in a pamphlet issued by the Seed Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa and that can be had gratuitously by addressing the Publication Branch of the same department. The pamphlet is entitled "Grain Screening" and R. Dymond, B.A., Seed Analyst, is the author, he having been assisted in the work by E. S. Archibald, B.A., B.S.A., Dominion Animal Husbandman, and F. C. Elford, Dominion Poultry Husbandman, who contribute "Results of Feeding Experiments" at the Central Experimental Farm. These are given with elaboration of detail that add much to the pamphlet, which the dedicatory announcement truly says "is of importance to all concerned in the production, handling and uses of grain and its products."

The importance of proper screening to the grain grower, thresherman, miller and feed manufacturer is minutely detailed and a summary given.

That more attention to the cleaning of grain as it is threshed will save the cost of transporting the screenings to the terminal elevators, and will leave the grower in possession of much valuable feed which, if he does not need for his own use, will find ready sale among live stock men.

That the growth of weeds entails an enormous loss each year to farmers, and while it is desirable to utilize everything in grain screenings of good feeding value, it would be better to burn them than to permit their use in ways that will bring about any increase in the number or distribution of noxious weeds.

HEALTHY CHILDREN.

A child's health depends upon the state of his stomach and bowels. If they are kept regular and sweet the little one is sure to be healthy. Baby's Own Tablets are the mother's best friend in keeping her little ones well. They act as a gentle laxative; are absolutely safe and are pleasant to take. Concerning them Mrs. David Label, Ste. Perpetue, Que., writes:—"My baby was so troubled with constipation that he could not sleep day or night. I gave him Baby's Own Tablets and now he is a big healthy boy." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The St. John Ambulance Association will agree for coarsers in first aid in preparatory schools throughout Canada.

Train Of Thought Inspired By A Letter About "Fruit-a-tives"

MR. D. McLEAN
Orillia, Ont., Nov. 28th, 1914.
"For over two years, I was troubled with Constipation, Drowsiness, Lack of Appetite and Headaches. I tried several medicines, but got no results and my Headaches became more severe. One day I saw your sign which read 'Fruit-a-tives' make you feel like walking on air. This appealed to me, so I decided to try a box. In a very short time, I began to feel better, and now I feel fine. Now I have a good appetite, relish everything I eat, and the Headaches are gone entirely. I cannot say too much for 'Fruit-a-tives', and recommend this pleasant fruit medicine to all my friends'. DAN McLEAN.

A New O'Leary Story.
There is a new story in circulation about Michael O'Leary, the Irish V.C. During his visit to London a compatriot greeted him enthusiastically and begged a single button from his coat.
"O'Leary, without a smile, answered: 'I'll do better than that. A single button is too little for you. Just go across the street there and tell the man inside that I sent you and he will give you an entire set.'
The place was a recruiting office.

WAR ARTICLES WORTH FOLLOWING

The "Witness" articles on the war situation are appreciated throughout Canada by the best informed people, for their clearness and sincerity, as well as for their fine spirit, breadth and foresight.

The Montreal "Weekly Witness" is a truly great national paper. It always has been and still is absolutely owned and edited by Dougalls, Mr. John Redpath Dougall being its editor.

While some papers are notoriously and obviously at the beck and call of predatory interests, there are others, like the Montreal "Weekly Witness" that have maintained their independence. It has never grovelled. It has never flattered. It has never pandered. The "Witness" is its unique self, loved by friends, hated by its enemies.

During the past three generations it has conscientiously, devotedly and very efficiently, served its country in many ways, notably in its campaign for Temperance, Righteousness, Religious Liberty, Education, and everything looking towards lower cost and higher plane of living. If Canada is not yet enjoying to the full the benefits of these things, it is far ahead of many other countries in most of them, and this is due in no small measure to the stand, or, more correctly, the splendid campaigns of the "Witness" whenever opportunity afforded. The welfare of the Canadian farmer in particular has always been considered of prime importance by the Editor of the "Witness" and the "Witness" has done yeoman service to agriculture.

Generations of our finest Canadian families have literally been "brought up on the 'Witness'" as many of the most eminent Canadians will testify, and they continue its devoted admirers.

Besides the moral and political aspects of this great newspaper, it has attractive features embracing all the interests of the family and a splendid Farm and Poultry Department. Its short and serial stories are strong and fresh, and they alone are worth several times the price—one dollar a year. To bona fide New Subscribers mentioning the name of this paper, one trial year may be had for only 65 cents, or three months on trial only 15 cents. The publishers are as always, John Dougall & Son, "Witness" Office, Montreal.

The "Weekly Witness" has now no connection with any daily newspaper and is the healthier for it.

To Mothers of Canada.

No fewer than 683 fires, one million and a half dollars damage to property and the loss of thirty-eight lives occurred during the year 1914 as the direct result of children playing with matches.

Matches should, therefore, receive attention as a danger of primary importance. Keep the matches away from the children. Place them on a high shelf far out of their reach, for they love to play with fire, and matches form an ideal toy from their point of view.

If it were only possible to convey in its horrid detail the account of the fires in Canada where thirty-eight children lost their lives, the excitement and nervous tension, the loss of property, the anguish of parents, the pain of the little child, some measure of reform might soon be effected.

Mothers should ever after guard their children against matches, as they would protect them against a terrible and menacing enemy.

New Inventions.

Patents recently secured through the agency of Messrs. Marion & Marion, Patent Attorneys, Montreal and Washington:—Canada—Arthur Gagnon, Augusta, Me., U.S., Saw handle; Carl Thorsell, Gothenburg, Sweden, Process for the production of ammonia; Mrs. Andre Turcotte, Price, Que., Wrench; Horace Cormier, Carstairs, Alberta; Harvesting machine for putting up sheaves into upright standing heaps; John M. L. Spangenberg, Forsbaga, Sweden, Sorter for paper pulp; Joseph Arseno, St. Alexis des Monts, Que., Medical plaster. United States—Lewis W. Barker, Fredericton, N.B., Skate clamp; Omer Caron & George Surprenant, Maisonneuve, Que., Pipe bender. Great Britain—Jules Gauthier, Quebec, Que., Identification tag.

As a recognition of the important part played by the Canadian National Exhibition in recruiting this year, Mr. Joseph Oliver, the president, has been appointed Honorary Colonel of the Canadian militia.

Ontario's Prominent Men

Answer Lord Lansdowne's
Call For Aid For Red Cross

A LOUD and insistent call for funds to supplement the work of the British Red Cross Society and the Order of St. John has been issued by Lord Lansdowne, President of the Red Cross Society in Great Britain, and October 21 has been set aside for an Empire-wide collection. The appeal is made in view of the great demand upon the resources of these organizations on account of the extent of the war front at this time and the increasingly large number of men who are engaged in fighting the Empire's battles.

Sir John Hendrie, Lieutenant Governor of Ontario, received the following cable on Thursday from Lord Lansdowne, asking for help and co-operation:

"I beg to inform you that the British Red Cross Society and the Order of St. John, in view of the great demands upon their resources, both in France and in the near east, have decided to make an appeal throughout the Empire, by street and other collections, upon the 21st day of October next. The money received from this appeal will be devoted entirely to relieving the suffering of our wounded soldiers and sailors, from home and overseas, at the various seats of war, from all parts of the King's Dominions. We have already received generous assistance in our work, but with the increase of British and overseas forces at the front, there is a corresponding increase in our expenditure, and we shall be truly grateful to you if you will help us by organizing an appeal and sending the proceeds to us, for the objects which I have named. I shall be greatly obliged if you will kindly communicate the foregoing to your Government. Their Majesties the King and Queen and her Majesty Queen Alexandra are giving us their gracious patronage, and I trust that you will also be able to see your way to help.

LORD LANSDOWNE.

(Signed) LANSDOWNE,
"President of the British Red Cross Society, 83 Pall Mall, London."

Promptly upon the receipt of this message, Sir John Hendrie communicated with Premier Hearst, who called his colleagues in consultation with the result that a meeting was held in the council chamber of the Parliament Buildings in the afternoon, attended by the following prominent gentlemen: President Falconer, Surgeon General Ryerson, Sir John Willison, Colonel Noel Marshall, Canadian Red Cross; Mr. N. W. Rowell, K.C., Colonel Sweeney, Mr. W. S. Dinnick, Mr. Geo. H. Gooderham, M.P.P., Mr. W. H. Price, M.P.P., Hon. Thos. Crawford, M.P.P., Mr. C. A. C. Jennings. They decided to constitute a central organizing committee consisting of the following: Sir John Hendrie, Chairman; Hon. W. H. Hearst, Hon. T. W. McGarry, Treasurer; Mr. N. W. Rowell; Dr. A. H. Abbott, Secretary.

It is the intention to make a direct appeal through the entire municipal organization of the Province, and letters will be addressed to the reeves and councillors of every municipality so that the collection on October 21 will be as large as possible. The committee has made it plain that this special effort in no way is to supersede the regular organization now maintained by the Canadian Red Cross and Patriotic League.

The permanent organization has been constituted as follows: Honorary President, Sir John Hendrie; President, Hon. W. H. Hearst; Treasurer, Hon. T. W. McGarry; Secretary, Dr. A. H. Abbott; Committee, Sir John Gibson, Sir John Willison, N. W. Rowell, J. E. Atkinson, W. S. Dinnick, Mayor Church of Toronto, Noel Marshall, E. R. Wood, Hon. Jas. S. Duff, E. F. Brown, N. F. Davidson, K.C., and J. W. Flavelle.

Scientific Farming

FARM ELECTRIC MOTORS.

Variety of Work Which These Machines Can Accomplish.

A very important feature is that a few motors properly selected may be used to operate all of the machines on the farm instead of having a steam or gasoline prime mover attached to each machine, writes Frank Koester in his book, "Electricity For the Farm and Home." In this feature lies a great advantage of electrically operated farm machinery. For instance, a motor may be placed on a low wheeled truck and connected by means of a belt to a thrashing machine, taking its electric supply from the mains by a flexible cable plugged into a suitable outlet. On the throwing of a switch the motor starts and operates continuously without attention. After the thrashing is completed the motor may then be connected to the baling machine, which packs the straw into bales, while if necessary the motor may be used in loading the bales upon wagons by operating a hoist. At other times the same motor may drive a water pump, wood saw, etc.

It is readily seen that the electric motor can be operated without the attention necessary for steam or gasoline prime movers, which have to be supplied with water and fuel. With all other prime movers, when placed in the barn or hay mow, or beside the stack in the field, the risk from fire is a thousandfold greater than with an electric motor. In fact, an inclosed

electric motor may be placed anywhere on the farm without such a risk or the fear of an explosion.

The motors used on dairy appliances and for the various household operations are of such small size and weight that they may readily be carried around by one or two persons and applied to one machine or another wherever needed. Thus many farms can get along with one large and one small motor. As the various farm machines operate at different speeds the motors are supplied with suitable regulating devices, so that the desired speeds may be obtained.

The great advantage of cold storage is not properly recognized today by farmers. By means of electrically operated cold storage systems, butter, milk, eggs and other perishable goods may be saved from spoiling. In many cases, especially with fruit, a farmer is forced to let his product lie on the ground and rot, because the price offered does not pay the expense of picking, packing and shipping to the commission merchant. A private cold storage system would enable him to pick his fruit in season, when the market price was low, and store it until he received his own price.

For such purposes electric ice making machines for refrigerating plants are preferable. The motor applied to this equipment can be arranged to start and stop automatically and will keep the temperature in the cold storage room within a few degrees of that desired.

For irrigation purposes electric pumps are of great service, whether on a large or a small scale. As these pumps work only in certain seasons of the year and at certain hours of the day public service corporations have recognized of late that they are a means of keeping up a uniform power demand on the plant, and consequently energy for this purpose is offered at exceptionally low rates. The motor driven pumps may be stationary or portable.

Large sums are yearly spent for irrigation purposes, waterways regulation and drainage systems and seemingly in almost all cases without due consideration for the possibilities of utilizing the energy of the water for generating an electric current which might advantageously be used for farming or rural industries.

Planting of Forage Crops.

(Prepared by Kansas State Agricultural College.)

Where a stand of corn has been obtained on a part of the land and it is necessary to plant the remainder to a spring crop, kaffir or sorghum is recommended. In southern Kansas kaffir planted from June 15 to 20 will mature. If the weather continues wet until the last of June or the first of July feterita maturing from eighty to ninety days may be planted. Freed's sorghum will mature in from seventy to eighty days. Sudan grass can also be planted as late as the last week in June or the first week of July. Cowpeas planted the 1st of July as a hay crop may be removed in time to seed a crop of wheat in the fall. Soy beans will mature if planted the last week in June and millet can be seeded for hay until the first of July.

Silent Soldiers.

Almost the first thing that strikes you about the British army is its quiet men, writes a United Press correspondent. I saw six horses try to run away the other day when a regiment of men cheered Sir John French after he had thanked them in his quiet, hesitating way for their part in the battle of Neuve Chapelle. Cannon the horses know. Cheers are strange to them.

"Don't have any ceremony," seems to be the British army man's idea of doing his job. A young officer was moving about a headquarters room in a farmhouse, up near the front, where we had gone in for some hot tea. He chatted with the officers at the table about various things; about the colonel's little daughter, who was fourteen and had lived on four different continents; about a Hindu who had learned to speak French almost perfectly within a few weeks; about other trivial things; and all the time he was packing his bag to take his men through a night march to the trenches where he would spend several days.

They were talking about their mess. "We ought to have a French cook," he said, as he threw his bag over his shoulder and started for the door. That was his good-bye remark. He might never come back again. I saw him pat the old farmer's dog on the head as he passed through the yard, and the officers went on talking just as if a fellow-man had not started for death land.

THE HERALD

TUESDAY, OCT. 12TH, 1915.

CANADA'S war expenditure is now $484,000 per day. The financial statement of the Dominion, shows the war costs of September were $14,541,003. For the last six months the cost has been $44,427,893.

So far the fighting in Europe has been without decisive result. To some extent the unreadiness of the Allies and the readiness of Germany, at the beginning of the war have brought nearer to a condition of standstill at the present stage of the contest. The best guess of impartial outside observers as to future operations seems to be that from this time forward the Teutonic Powers will be put more upon the defensive, and that another year will see the end of the exhaustive struggle.—Philadelphia Record.

SUMMARY OF NEWS.

Several Canadian aviators have arrived in London ready for service.

Harry Hunter, aged 19, of Tamworth, was killed in an automobile accident at Strathcona.

Mr. Albert Grigg, M.P.P., Algoma, has been appointed deputy minister of lands and forests.

Toronto citizens resolved to do their share in raising $500,000 in Ontario for the British Red Cross.

Petrograd reports officially that a German transport has been sunk in the Baltic by a British submarine.

Since the Grand Duke Nicholas took charge in the Caucasus the Russians have been making steady progress.

The Salvation Army has applied for a building permit for a $90,000 training school in Davisville, near Toronto.

Great honors were bestowed upon James Whitcomb Riley, the Hoosier poet, by his native State, Indiana.

An order in Council has removed the restrictions upon export of potatoes from Canada to the United States.

The Turks are mistreating Greeks, Russians and British now that know a German attack on Serbia has begun.

The Students' Council of the University of Toronto has decided to raise $3,000 for the British Red Cross Fund.

Six hundred invalided Canadian soldiers have already been provided for in convalescent homes by the Hospital's Commission.

The St. Thomas Journal suffered serious loss by fire, and the paper will be published temporarily from The Times plant.

The unemployment situation in Canada is now by no means serious. In some branches of industry there is a scarcity of labor.

The Department of Militia will supply larrigons to the soldiers at the front and in England, as well as an extra pair of boots for each.

It is definitely stated that 70,000 Anglo-French troops will land at Saloniki; over half that many are already under way.

The Orillia brewery, after being in existence fifty years, has gone out of business. The premises are being transformed into a grocery.

Bulgaria and Germany agreed on joint military action last April, according to The Tribune, of Rome. An attack on Serbia had been planned for May.

The Minister of Agriculture has ordered the British War Office the whole of Canada's exportable surplus of canned meats and dressed beef during the next six months.

Sir Rodmond Roblin and the three other ex-Ministers of his Cabinet, were committed for trial by Magistrate P. A. MacDonald. The preliminary hearing lasted nearly three weeks.

Pte. Geo. H. Reid of Petrolia, a member of the 34th Battalion, recently enlisted was killed by a G.T.R. train near London, having wandered away in a delirious condition, following inoculation for typhoid.

Mrs. Kingston, of Groveton, and her six stalwart sons in khaki carried off the special prize at Spenceville Fair for the biggest family on the grounds. One son is a captain in the 56th Liasar Rifles, another a private in the 2nd Battalion, invalided home wounded.

Hon. W. T. White, honorary treasurer of the Patriotic Fund, has received cases remittances to date from the branches of the Fund in various parts of the country totalling $5,285,000. Disbursements total $3,477,000. The monthly payments amount to over $400,000.

Toronto's new Technical School is already over-crowded and hundreds are turned away unable to secure registration. The great demand for skilled mechanics, arising out of the manufacture of munitions of war, is given as one of the causes. Nearly six thousand students are already enrolled and there is a big waiting list in some departments.

After an hour's deliberation the jury at the assizes last week found Mrs. Elizabeth Coward guilty on a charge of murdering her husband, James Coward, on the family preemption, near Fort St. James, on Sept. 6. She was sentenced to be hanged at Kamloops December 23, the same day on which Albert Lester Klinger will face the gallows for the murder of his partner, Burton Smith, at a camp near Fort George.

NEW FOOTHOLD GAINED

French Troops Now Well Into German Second Line.

Two Forts and Several Trenches Are Captured Near Tahure, and Salient Protecting Enemy's Second Line Has Been Penetrated—British Repulse Violent Attack on Loos—New Road with Explosives

LONDON, Oct. 11.—After successfully resisting all German attempts to shatter their offensive, the French in Champagne have further extended their conquest on the front stretching eastward from Hill 119 at Tahure, capturing two forts and several trenches, and penetrating the salient protecting the German second line of defence.

The German works known as the "Trapeze"—substantially opposite the very point where the Germans have been attempting by bombardment and by assault to dent the French front and thereby further expose the newly-acquired advanced French position on Tahure Hill—was the scene of what the Paris War Office terms "new and noticeable progress." More than 200 prisoners, several machine guns, and a bomb-thrower were captured by the attackers.

Simultaneously, the British in the sector of Loos were likewise successful, though theirs was a defensive role. Gathering for the assault after an intense bombardment from guns of every calibre, with the fire concentrated on their recently-lost positions at Loos and at points immediately to the north and south of there, the Germans launched an attack of exceptional violence against the British works. The British stood firm and met the assaults with a withering fire from machine guns backed by artillery and aided by unsparring use of hand grenades and the bayonet, at close quarters. The German losses were heavy, hundreds of bodies lying the British front when the last wave of attackers finally was forced back.

Albert Thomas, French Minister of Munitions, who has just returned from a visit to Lloyd George, declares that the road to Berlin must be hewn out by explosives. M. Thomas went to England to arrange for the exchange of raw materials.

BLEW UP CULVERT.

British Officer Performed Unparalleled Feat in Sea of Marmora.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—How Lieut. D'Oyly Hughes, attached to a British submarine operating in the Sea of Marmora, swam from the craft, pushing ahead of him a raft bearing explosives with which he made a breach in the Turkish railway skirting the beach, is related in an official report given out in London. The statement, chronicling perhaps the strangest experience that has befallen any man during this war, says:

"His weapons consisted of an automatic service revolver and a sharpened bayonet. He also carried an electric torch and a whistle. The cliffs proved unscalable at the first point of landing. He, therefore, relaunched his raft till a less precipitous spot was reached, and after a swift climb and a considerable march he reached the railway."

Having blown up the bridge and summoned the submarine, the Lieutenant swam out to sea. However, on sighting the submarine, he mistook it for a group of Turkish row-boats, whereupon he swam towards shore and began to ascend the cliff in the hope of hiding. He then discovered his mistake and again entered the water. Subsequently he was rescued by the submarine when he was on the verge of exhaustion.

UNDER-SECRETARY BLAMED

Grey's Assistant is Half German and Wedded to German, Says Paper.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—Describing Great Britain's "diplomatic failure" in the Balkans as "ghastly," the Globe declares the foreign relations of the country cannot safely be left in the hands of the Foreign Office as it is at present constituted.

Its record, says the Globe, "has been one of dismal tragic weakness. It is a misfortune that Sir Edward Grey speaks no language but his own. It is a greater misfortune that he has been incapacitated through ill-health. It is the greatest of all that his Permanent Under-Secretary, upon whom he must chiefly depend, is sprung from a German mother and married to a German woman."

"If the failure is not to culminate in disaster, the ill-omened partnership must be ended."

The Under-Secretary referred to apparently is Sir Eyre Crowe, K.C.M.G., whose mother was Asta, daughter of Baron G. von Barbey, while his wife is Clema, widow of Eberhard von Bonin, and daughter of the late Professor Gerhardt, of Berlin. Sir Eyre Crowe was appointed an Assistant Under-Secretary at the Foreign Office in 1912.

Canadian Fell 8,000 Feet.

PORT ARTHUR, Oct. 11.—Lieut. William Reid, formerly of the 95th Regiment, Port Arthur, who left with the first contingent, and was transferred to the Aviation Corps, was shot down within the German lines, falling a distance of 8,000 feet, but escaping with one arm so smashed that it will be permanently useless. He is now a prisoner. This news came by letter.

Canadian Motors for Russia.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—General Booth has decided to transfer to the Russian Government five hospital motor cars donated by Canada. These have been accepted in a special letter from the Czar, who is sending a messenger to receive them.

REPULSED AT FRONTIER

Disaster Attends German Invasion of Serbia.

Sharp Conflicts at Border Result Favorably for the Serbians—Enemy Has Crossed the Save at Three Places and the Danube at One—German Officers and Men Are Captured in First Engagement.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The efforts of Austria and Germany to force their way through Serbia to reach the near eastern seas and join hands with their Turkish allies have produced one of the most interesting situations of the war.

The Austro-German troops already have gained a footing on Serbian territory, but they have not as yet come into touch with the main Serbian army, which is entrenched in the mountains just beyond the rivers, while the Anglo-French force, which was landed at Saloniki, is making its way northward to assist the Serbians and to protect Macedonia from a threatened Bulgarian invasion.

Reports of preliminary engagements on the Serbian border have been received from Berlin and Nish. The latter, which was in the nature of a despatch to the Serbian Legation, says:

"On the northern frontier the enemy has crossed the Save at Yarak, at the Isle of Progradska, and at Zabra, opposite Ostruznica, and the Danube, at the Great Island of Sinalia, and at Ram."

"The advance guard which crossed at the Belgrade fortress has been partly captured and partly destroyed. At Yarak and the Isle of Progradska after several fierce attacks the enemy has been pinned to the very brink of the river with no losses to us. At the other crossing points the struggle continues."

"At Belgrade two officers and over 100 soldiers were captured, of whom eighteen were from the 204th Infantry Regiment of the 43rd German Division. Among the captured were also soldiers of a Prussian brigade belonging to the Fifteenth Army Corps, who came here from the Italian front."

Allied fleets already are reported off Bulgarian ports in the Aegean and Black Seas, and, in view of the possibility of a Russian landing on the Black Sea coast of Bulgaria, it is stated that a Turkish army is being sent there, so that the Bulgars will not be called upon to fight their old friends and protectors.

What assistance Italy will lend her allies in the new venture forced upon them in the Balkans is not disclosed, nor has any change in the policy of Roumania been announced.

The German press suggests that the Allies, despite the landing of troops in Saloniki, are preparing for more energetic operations against Turkey in the hope of smashing her before Germanic assistance arrives, and that Italy may take part in these operations. There still are three months of good weather ahead for any new move against the Dardanelles or for operations in other parts of the Aegean district, while the Russians under Grand Duke Nicholas are expected to force matters in the Caucasus and the British to push along to Bagdad.

SO FAR 2,000,000.

Six Million More Are Wounded or Missing, Says U. S. Expert.

WEST POINT, Oct. 11.—Since the great war in Europe started more than 2,000,000 men have been killed; the wounded number nearly 4,000,000, while the total number of prisoners and of the missing is more than 2,000,000. These are conservative minimum figures compiled from the best available data, and were made public in Cullum Hall here by Brigadier-General Francis Vinton Greene, U.S.A., retired, in an address on the war, delivered before the members of the New York State Historical Association.

General Greene is an honor graduate of West Point of the class of 1870, and the author of many standard works on military history. He gave his hearers the benefit of what he called an "intelligent guess" as to the casualties of the war, and submitted a table showing the increase of the national indebtedness of the European belligerents. The increase over 1914 approximately is $20,000,000,000.

Woman Sentenced to Hang.

CLINTON, B.C., Oct. 11.—After an hour's deliberation, the jury at the Assizes here Thursday night found Mrs. Elizabeth Coward guilty of the charge of murdering her husband, James Coward, on the family preemption near Fort St. James on September 6 last.

She was sentenced to be hanged at Kamloops December 23, the same day on which Albert Lester Klinger will face death for the murder of his partner, Burton Smith, at a camp near Fort George.

Held Up by Subs.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The German mercantile marine in the Baltic is beginning to feel the effect of the submarine warfare there. Virtually all German shipping in that quarter is being held up by British and Russian underwater craft, and the ferry services between Germany and Scandinavia are being carried on by neutral vessels.

Huertista is Convicted.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 11.—Alberto Garcia Granados, former Minister of the Interior in the Cabinet of General Huerta, has been convicted of treason, and sentenced to death, on the charge that he assisted in the overthrow of President Madero and the subsequent assassination of the President.

Should Have Been Warned of Danger.

A remarkable case of cruelty came to light when neighbors of a Prescott farmer had him arrested for horse-whipping his wife. The farmer, who lives about a mile from Blue church, forbade his wife attending the funeral of a near relative, but she disobeyed. When she returned in the evening she found herself locked out, so she took refuge in the carriage barn. The husband upon finding her there next morning, beat her unmercifully upon the back and arms, with a whip. Her screams brought neighbors, and the assault ceased. But the fact that the man has a family of five dependant upon him, the Court would have sent him to jail. He was put under bonds.

L. T. Marechal, K.C., of Montreal, is to be a Judge of the Superior Court of Quebec, succeeding Hon. Justice Louis Coderre, who has resigned on superannuation.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. Miss Christina Wilson, of Castleford, spent the past few days with her mother.
Miss Northwick spent the holiday at Ottawa.

Mrs. Norton Hill, of Bellem, spent a part of last week with Mrs. John Turner.

Mrs. Andrew Wilson and Miss Chalmers left on Friday for Toronto,
to visit friends on route for Honolulu.

Mr. Gordon Arthur has returned from his trip to the West.

Mr. Merrill Neilson enlisted with the 73rd Highlanders last week, and left for Montreal.

We are sorry to hear Miss Lucy Finlayson is quite ill in the R.M. Hospital at Almonte. All hope for her speedy recovery.

Mrs. Jas. Syme spent part of last week with friends in Smiths Falls.

Mr. John Lush, of Kingston is visiting at his home here.

Rev. W. T. McKenzie, of Pakenham, preached two very fine sermons in the Presbyterian church on Sunday. He also spoke on the "Budget."

Next Sunday being anniversary
Sunday in the Presbyterian church at Ashton, there will be no service in the Presbyterian church here.

Mr. John Munro and Miss L. G.
Munro, of Ottawa, spent the week-end with Mr. Neil Munro.

Miss Ellen Murphy left on Monday

FRANKTOWN.

The Beckwith & Montague and the Bell Telephone central has been opened up for business in this village at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Pierce, and there has been quite a rush of toll message business already. The central office is very neatly and comfortably equipped, and the residents of the village and surrounding community are already finding the toll station of great advantage and they now wonder how they got on at all without such a convenience and comfort in the past.

Several from outside points spent the Thanksgiving recess at Franktown.
Corporal Harry Willis and Sergeant
Jerry O'Shea were home from Barriefield
Camp to visit their families, Mr. and Mrs. J. Birchall and little son, of Carleton Place, visited Mr. and Mrs.
Jas. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Edwards, of Brockville, were guests of Mrs.
Houston and Mr. J. Houghton, and Miss Florence Perry spent the holiday with her parents.

Miss L. Smith, who has resided for some time past with Mr. Denis Mc-Carthy and family, returned to Peterborough last week.

Poor little old-time Franktown can do big things after all. A huge squash grown in the garden of Mr. William Anderson, weighing almost 120 pounds, and a citron, weighing 25 pounds, are on exhibition daily at the post office, and it is worth while to look in and see the enormous vegetables.

Miss Annie Cameron, who has been visiting her parental home, returns this week to New York, to continue her chosen profession as a trained nurse.

Now that we have the phone, what about other modern improvements, such as street lamps and cement sidewalks for this ancient and interesting burgh.

Mr. Sam Carley, an old resident of this village, who has spent several years in the West, has returned to spend the rest of his days in Franktown, accompanied by his sister, Miss Elizabeth Carley. We welcome these good old timers back to stay.

The canvassers for the Beckwith machine gun have succeeded very well in the village and surrounding community. The people have subscribed cheerfully.

An interesting Thanksgiving day service was held in the Presbyterian church on Monday evening, at which the Rev.
Mr. Lowry preached a suitable and earnest sermon from the text in Psalms 92, 1, "It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord." The psalms and hymns were in keeping with the occasion and there was a good offering received as well.

PERTH.

From the Expositor.

St. John's cemetery trustees have purchased the three acres adjoining the parish cemetery from Mr. John Gillespie.

There is on view in the window of W.
J. Wilson's store a beautiful piece of handwork, representing an eagle mounted on a pedestal. This is the work of one of the prisoners in the detention camp at Petawawa, and was presented to Capt. J. F. Bothwell, of Perth.

While attempting to tie an ugly and heavy bull in a car at the station last Saturday, R. A. Brown was bunted on the chest by the animal and knocked down. R. A. tried to get the trick of placing a couple of cows between him and the bull, and cornering him, but the herd-head broke away and knocked
Mr. Brown down.

William Kenneth Barker, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Barker, injured by being struck by a train while playing on the C.P.R. tracks opposite his home, one mile south of Sharbot Lake on Friday afternoon, died in the General Hospital, Kingston.

Pioneer Thos. McClement, of Newboro, who enlisted with the 42nd regiment, returned to Canada last week aboard the steamship Scandinavian and reached Smiths Falls last Friday. There were no bands of music, no reception for him. "He just jumped into town, stayed a day or two and then left for his old home at Newboro."

Miss Margaret Scott died on Friday last after a short illness, at her home on Wilson Street west, at the age of 82 years. She was a daughter of the late Archibald Scott, a pioneer settler of Bathurst, and came into town some years ago when her brother Walter sold the homestead on the 3rd line to Mr. T.
R. Sharpe.

A stranger entered Mr. Isaac Thornton's home in Drummond yesterday morning and walked off with $35 or $40. Isaac missed the coin at noon, and called Chief Griffith, who traced the suspected thief to the 7th line of Beckwith. Further trace of him was got in Carleton Place, but at this point
he made good his escape.

From the Courier.

Knox church young men intend holding a missionary banquet on Friday, Oct. 22nd. Outside speakers will be present.

Mr. John Spence, beyond Wayside, has bought the Timothy Doyle farm, near by, for $6000. The farm contains 150 acres, with good buildings.

Miss Theresa S. Richards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Richards, of Drummond, was one of the twelve young ladies who graduated from the Watertown City Hospital on September 23rd. Miss Richards, who is at present at the parental home, leaves on the 15th for Baltimore, Md., for post graduate work in John Hopkins hospital.

Dave Tullis, of town, was shooting at Glen Tay last week and had the good luck to bring down eight ducks with one shot.

LANARK.

From the Era.

Mrs. Alex. Prentice, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Alex. Closs, Carleton Place, has returned home.

Rev. A. W. Stewart, of Battersea, a Lanark boy who is a graduate of the Wesleyan College, Montreal, and who has been visiting his friends in the village and country during the last few days, preached in the Methodist church,
Lanark, on Sabbath evening last.

The call of the homeland in her hour of need has fallen upon the ears of our friends, T. P. Brown and Wm. Lumsden, and they have obeyed the call and last Sabbath left for Montreal, where they intended taking ship for Glasgow, Scotland.

The Clyde Woollen Mill was closed down Friday and Saturday while the engine and boiler were being overhauled.
Mr. Hunt, an expert machinist from Galt, was here making the necessary repairs. A new boiler will shortly be installed to provide additional power.

A serious fire occurred on the 8th line of Lanark Township on Friday evening
of last week when the barns of Mrs.
Wm. Harding were totally burned. The brilliant illumination was seen in the northern sky from the village and several ascended the tower of the town hall to get a better view of it. The family had just returned from Middleville Fair, and, having finished milking, were busy around the house when flames were seen issuing from the barn. So quickly did the flames spread that Melville, the eldest son, had barely time to rescue the horses. All the contents of the barns were destroyed, including the season's crop, a buggy, two sets harness (double and single), a ton of hash which had been brought home only two days before, and practically everything else. The origin of the fire is a mystery. No lights were used in the barn that evening, and the wind being in a different direction could not carry any sparks from the house. The whole community deeply sympathize with Mrs. Harding in her loss.

GERMANS WEARYING.

They Have Begun to Dig Themselves
in on the Eastern Front.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 11.—There is a great deal of evidence to support the theory of the Berlin press that the Germans are gradually bringing their advance against Russia to a close, and are digging themselves in,
with the intention of utilizing some of their armies on other fronts.

At present they are showing a determination to advance on only one sector of the battle-line—around Dvinsk. For weeks an incessant battle has raged among the lakes and swamps in that vicinity without giving the Germans any material advantage or improving their prospects of attaining their immediate aim, which is to take Riga. The recent fighting in this region has been emphatically on the side of the Russians. A great German cavalry raid from the Lida-Polotsk railway was driven back.

The military critic of the organ of the General Staff reaches the conclusion that the German force in the immediate zone of Dvinsk is between 25 and 28 divisions (from 300,000 to 350,000 men), of which about one-third is cavalry.

Now that the Russians are in a more stable position they are perfecting their equipment, and the receipt of an abundant supply of projectiles has enabled them to gradually assert their superiority over the exhausted Germans. It is now not uncommon for the Russian artillery fire to predominate in both volume and effect. Prisoners captured on the Vilna front admit the German troops are worn out by the unflagging obstinacy of the Russian resistance.

STILL LANDING TROOPS.

Policy of Greece in Present Crisis is Still in Doubt.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The landing of British and French troops in Greece is proceeding, despite the change in the Greek Government. The Ministers of the Entente powers at Athens have asked Greece to declare her policy with regard to the Balkan situation, but the new Premier, Zaimis, has answered that he will be unable to do this until a meeting of the Cabinet is held. There is, however, evidence that Greece will maintain a policy of benevolent neutrality toward the allies.

The press and public of London and Paris, with the experience of the sudden change in Bulgaria's attitude fresh in their memory, are demanding that steps be taken to see to it that a similar change does not take place in Athens. It has been suggested that the appearance of an allied fleet in Greek waters would have the effect of holding Greece in line.

It is understood that the Government proposes following a purely Hellenic policy, without leaning either way, and that it will not abandon armed neutrality unless national interests compel it to take such a step.

A Berlin official despatch states that a German protest has been made to Greece against the landing of troops at Saloniki.

The Official News Agency announced Friday that there was no foundation for rumors circulated in some quarters that the new Greek Cabinet intended to protest against the landing of allied troops on Greek soil.

NEW AERIAL ARMY.

France Has Assembled an Immense Fleet of Aeroplanes.

PARIS, Oct. 11.—An aerial army is no longer a dream of romance.
Such an army formed in divisions and squadrons, with battle aeroplanes, cruiser aeroplanes, scouts, and torpedo planes, all armored heavily and carrying three-inch cannon and rapid-fire guns, is a reality.
It has been made possible through the remarkable development of military aviation in France.

The French Government has just permitted the first inspection of its new fleet of aeroplanes. Opportunity was given to inspect the large and small types of the new battle planes, and watch them as they were manoeuvring high in the air, firing round after round from their three-inch rifles, while they soared, looped, and darted about.

The Minister of War, Alexandre
Millerand, assigned two military experts of the staff of the aviation service—Captain de Laffargue and Lieut.
Parfou— to conduct the correspondent first to one point, all the name of which may not be mentioned, where the new fleet of battle craft had been assembled, and later to the aviation school at B—, where 100 military aviators were learning to navigate the new war craft.

Delcassee's Son Imprisoned.

BERLIN, Oct. 11.—Lieut. Jacques
Delcassee, son of the French Foreign Minister, who is a prisoner of war at Halle, has been sentenced to detention for one year in the fortress for having spoken abusively of Germany and declined to obey orders.

Many cases of individuals charged with having expressed anti-German sentiments in Alsace have been heard by a court-martial at Strassburg. The Abbe Moreau of Wanzel, who, at a meeting of councillors of the church shouted "Vive la France" was sentenced to eighteen months' imprisonment.

Naval Fight in Pacific.

MANILA, Oct. 11.—The Governor of Palawan officially reports that at 10 o'clock on the morning of October 6 a vessel, followed by two others, passed Cuyo Island, with the pursuers bombarding. The fight continued close to the shore. South of Cuyo they all disappeared. The flags were undiscernible. Government and army and navy officials are investigating. It is believed here that the law regarding the three-mile limit was violated.

THE HAUNTS of BIG GAME

(1) Trophies of the Rockies. (2) The Mountain Goat.
(3) Grizzly in his lair. (4) In the native wilds. (5) A fine prize.

THE Bighorn or Rocky Mountain sheep is today considered the most valued prize obtainable by the sportsman. Its home is among the fastnesses of the Canadian Rockies, and is easily reached from the line of the Canadian Pacific. This animal is of a suspicious, timid nature, but is sure-bighorn is most wary and difficult to bag. Its vigilance is admirable, and once it has regained the higher ground after feeding during the early morning, only the combination of luck and skill will secure a successful shot. Every head brought down will represent honest, hard work and straight shooting. A bighorn can go further over the rocks in five minutes than the best mountaineer can travel in two hours, and once the vigilant, far-sighted eyes of the ram have detected the hunter there is absolutely no chance of approaching within shooting distance.

The best and easiest country for hunting the common bighorn is that portion of the Lillooet District roughly described as being North and South of the bridge at Chilcoten River and East and West of the Fraser River at Chilco Lake. The town of Lillooet is reached by stage from Lytton, Clinton or Ashcroft. Guides can be picked up at Lillooet and Hanceville. This country is self-reliant in its mountain home, and will escape over rocks which the hunter finds impossible to traverse. Its flesh is pronounced by epicures to be the most delicious of the world's game, and its massive, wide-spreading horns make a beautiful ornament. Of all Canadian game the bighorn is easily hunted, the mountains being of easy ascent, and one can ride within two or three miles of where the quarry is found. It must be remembered that hunting sheep is no child's play, but with the assistance of a good guide, the patient hunter can scarcely fail to secure a trophy in this country. Michel, in the south, and Golden, on the main line, are good points from which to reach the Kootenay sheep country which is probably the most accessible of any, though the country is rough and somewhat difficult, and is only recommended to those who like mountaineering. The Cassiar country is easily accessible, and is probably the best all-round country in the Province. The C. P. R. steamer from Vancouver makes connection at Wrangell with the River Boats for Telegraph Creek, by arrangements made with the C. P. R. general offices. The bighorn is almost strictly a grazing animal. His natural feeding grounds are the high mountain meadows, which lie from a thousand feet below the timber line up to the snow line. He is not equal to the mountain goat as a climber, but greatly surpasses the goat in speed and shyness.

Additional reliable information can be had from the Provincial Game Warden's Office at Vancouver, and from the sportsmen's and tourists' associations at Fernie, Nelson, Revelstoke, Vancouver and Victoria, B.C. They are all well supplied with reliable information and have permanent offices and secretaries who will take pleasure in extending any assistance to the visiting sportsman.

The grizzly is a well-known species of the bear family and has always had the respect and admiration of sportsmen. The Indians considered a necklace of the claws of the animal proof that the brave was worthy of the name, and was not like a squaw. The white hunter has always dealt with the grizzly bear with the utmost precaution, knowing him to be one of the most ferocious animals in the world when wounded. Exceedingly powerful, quick and cunning to a degree of almost human intelligence, the grizzly bear is a royal quarry for any sportsman.

Like the wolves, the grizzly bears of to-day are alive to the fact that man is an enemy to be feared. It is said that a wounded grizzly always runs down hill, and this may account for some attacks upon hunters which might not have taken place had the hunter been located above or on a level with the wounded animal. At most seasons of the year the grizzly is a solitary creature. In the berry season two or three have been seen together in the same berry patch, but this is a rare exception. It is said to take seven years for a grizzly to attain maturity, when he usually reaches a weight of from five to seven hundred pounds. As a rule the claws are long and curved and possessed of great strength. The fur in season is a splendid trophy.

Grizzlies are fairly plentiful in the East Kootenay and also Lillooet and some parts of Okanagan. They are also found at the head of some of the long inlets, such as Knight and Bute Inlets. The headwaters of the Naas River are very good, as is also the Skeena River in places. The best time to hunt bear is in the spring. On the Stikine River the bears come out of their dens about the middle of April. In the Kootenay and Lillooet districts they do not often appear until May. The black bear is found throughout the length and breadth of Canada. He is a harmless creature with a good coat in the early spring, and lives upon fruit, berries, fish, meat, bugs, lizards and mice. It is impossible to tell how he secured his notoriety as a dangerous animal, for in reality he is an arrant coward, and unless goaded by pain, or in defence of cubs, will not attack mankind.

Why Submarines Dive Slowly.

Many people have the idea that as soon as a submarine sees an enemy, the officer in command gives a sharp order, and almost before it has left his lips the submarine is diving beneath the waves. As a matter of fact, the very latest submarines of the "F" class take a clear five minutes before they can become submerged. Many of the older submarines took ten minutes to a quarter of an hour to sink. The reason why a submarine cannot dive quickly, like a fish, is that the water which must be let into her tanks to make her heavy enough to sink must be let in comparatively slowly. If it were let in with a rush, the chances are the vessel would not go down on an even keel, but would heel over and be in great danger of disaster. If water, too, were let in too quickly there is a danger of letting in too much, and in that case the submarine would sink like a stone to the bottom of the sea. The water that is let in the ballast tanks is just sufficient to "balance" the vessel in the sea without rising or sinking.

Destroying Guns.

It may be necessary to destroy guns to prevent their falling into the hands of the enemy, or to make captured guns useless. If a small amount of dynamite or other explosive is available, of course this can be done very effectively.

If not the breach of the gun is closed and the hinge-joints smashed as much as possible with a handspike or pick. If there is time, a few rifle-shots fired at the vital points of a gun effectively jam the mechanism so as to make it useless.

With rifles, the butts are broken off and the barrels destroyed as much as possible. To do this the rifles are well heated over a fire and smashed up with heavy hammers. The Army handbooks lay down that a party of five soldiers should be able to destroy fifty rifles an hour.

Surprised the Sergeant.

While a sergeant of the regiment was engaged with a company of National Reservists a short time ago in physical drill, a drill that demands, to say the least of it, a small amount of agility, a private, who looked as if he had been younger in his days, complained to the non-commissioned officer in charge that he was too old for that sort of practice.

"How old are you?" said the instructor.

"Forty-three," said the private.

"Why," exclaimed the instructor, "the Romans used to do this sort of thing at the age of sixty."

"That may be," said the private, "but I'm not a Roman, I'm a Wesleyan."

A Rocky Pulpit.

Chatting about the varied work of chaplains at the Front, and the strange places in which sermons have been preached to the troops, the Rev. R. J. Campbell, who spent some time among the British soldiers in Flanders, told me of an amusing experience he had when going over to America for his last tour. While on board Mr. Campbell was asked to give a sermon, and as he was preaching a sudden rolling of the ship threw the whole congregation to the deck. "That was the most rocky pulpit I have ever occupied," he remarked, "but no congregation was ever more quickly moved."

Owls Protected by Law.

For some time past it has been the habit of some farmers to shoot every owl, big or little, that they see. Probably they did not know that owls are protected by law, and that they are liable to a fine of $20. Besides, why kill the owls? They are among the best friends the farmers have. The number of rodents and even insects is uncouthable. The owls each require about nine mice a day or rather night, and during the nesting season and when rearing their young, this amount is doubled. None of our small owls will even attempt to touch poultry and it is indeed on very rare occasions that our larger owls will kill poultry. It is to be hoped that in the future that our local sports will refrain from practicing on such a harmless and very beneficial bird as the owl—the farmer's friend of the night.—Exchange.

Renfrew Hero Home.

Private Archie Knight, the fourth to enlist in the first contingent and the first of the Renfrew boys to return from the battle front, was given a hearty reception. He was severely wounded in the battle of Ypres last April. While glad to again see his parents and people and his home town, he expresses regret that he was incapacitated "from doing a bit more." He was met at the station by Mayor Smallfield and councillors, the Citizen's Band and Pipe Band being in attendance, and conveyed to the market square, where was assembled a large crowd of citizens. Addresses were made by a number of prominent citizens.

Novel Forest Protection Methods.

One of the most important features in connection with the control of forest fires is their prompt discovery, thus rendering it possible in most cases to extinguish the fire in an incipient stage, at small expense and with slight damage. One of the recent developments in this work is the use of a hydro-aeroplane for the discovery of fires in the forest reserves of Northern Wisconsin. This is a lake region, and excellent results have been secured, one fire being accurately located at a distance of thirty miles.

John Didn't Bring One.

Five young men trooped into a shop each to buy a new hat. Scouting fun, the man behind the counter waxed jocular. "Are you all married?" he enquired. "Yes!" they chorused. "Then I'll give a hat to the man who can truthfully say he has not kissed any woman but his own wife since he was wedded." "Hand over the hat," said one of the party. "I was married yesterday." One of the others was spinning the yarn to his wife, when his laughter suddenly gave way to fear. "I say, John," she asked, "how was it you didn't bring one?"

A WORD FOR MOTHERS

It is a grave mistake for mothers to neglect their aches and pains and suffer in silence—this only leads to chronic sickness and often shortens life. If your work is tiring; if your nerves are excited; if you feel languid, weary or depressed, you should know that Scott's Emulsion overcomes such conditions. It possesses in concentrated form the very elements to invigorate the blood, strengthen the tissues, nourish the nerves and build strength. Scott's is strengthening thousands of mothers—and will help you. Try it. Scott & Bowne, Toronto, Ont.

Many report that A SINGLE DOSE relieves these troubles almost IMMEDIATELY. We are glad we are Carleton Place agents for Adler-i-ka. W. J. Hughes, druggist.

Prepare for Spring.

Custom or habit alone explains the fact that the home gardener almost universally leaves his garden plot in a neglected condition until spring. No attempt is made to prepare for the next season's planting.

If the farmer were to follow this system, the results would be disastrous. In the spring he would find himself with wet and heavy land, would be unable to work it and the delay would mean late crops, if any at all.

The garden should be dug in autumn, leaving the earth loose. If new soil is being used the sod should be turned under to a depth of four inches to ensure rotting. Vines, dead leaves, or weeds should be burned, and the ashes, together with a quantity of good stable manure, if available, should be dug well in.

The results of attention to his land in the autumn will fully repay the home gardener in the saving of time in the spring and in increased production.

A great many fires are caused by accumulations of rubbish, oily waste and rags. Particularly is this true of accumulations of rags which have been saturated with linseed oil or furniture polish and used in dusting. These are very often left in some closet or under a stairway, frequently causing serious trouble.

THEY'RE FINE FOR KIDDIES

You should always keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets on the shelf. Gordon Craig

Soldier of Fortune — by Randall Parrish

Copyright, 1912, by A. C. McClurg & Co.

"Easily," Vail assured. "Young Henley has been away five years; even before that he was absent at school so much as to be practically unknown except to the older servants. These have all been discharged and scattered. The wife is entirely unknown there. Any one, bearing ever so slight a resemblance, would pass muster. All you need do is read the father's letters over, post yourself on a few details and take possession. We will attend to all legal matters."

I Took These and Read Them Over Carefully.

"Then you consider that I resemble Henley?"

"No," coolly, "not in any remarkable manner, but sufficient for our purpose—age, size, general appearance answer very well; nose, eyes and hair are alike and general contour of the face is similar. There is not likely to be any close scrutiny. Here is young Henley's photograph."

He picked it up from among the papers and handed it over to me. There was a resemblance, recognizable now that my attention had been called to it, certain features being remarkably similar.

I do not know how others might have looked upon such a proposition as this, but it never occurred to me at the time to doubt the honesty of Vail's statement, nor could I perceive any great wrong in the action so calmly proposed. Vail, watching the expression of my face in the light, seemed to divine my thoughts.

"Evidently you are recovering your good sense," he remarked easily. "You will act, I take it?"

"Yes," the word was out almost before I was aware of speaking.

"Sensible decision, my man," his face lighting up. "Now, there is no need of our meeting again or being seen together. Neale, hand Craig your copy of articles of administration and of the will."

I took these and read them over carefully, yet without fully comprehending the legal phraseology. They were apparently genuine, and I gathered from them that the facts were exactly as stated. Peter B. Neale of Birmingham was named one of the administrators.

"Here is a small packet of letters from Judge Henley to his son," Vail said in a businesslike way, "which you had better read and so familiarize yourself with local names and conditions. I have also drawn up and had typed a brief sketch of young Henley's life, which will aid you in playing the part. You will need a new outfit of clothes, I presume? If you will sign this paper I will hand you a liberal advance."

I read it over slowly, but it appeared innocent enough. Of course they would require some guarantee that my work would be performed. Yet certain questions arose to my mind.

"As soon as the property is legally in my possession I am to deed it over to you?"

"Certainly. I represent the administrators and the rightful heir."

"That will involve forgery on my part?"

"Technically, yes, but under legal advice, my dear boy, and agreement of the officials interested in proper settlement of the estate. There is no danger whatever."

I was not assured as to this, and yet the man's easy manner and smooth speech served to ease my conscience.

"And the $10,000?" I asked.

"A thousand will be handed you to-night. The remainder may be retained ed at the final settlement, together with the compensation of the woman. You make your own terms with her. So you see you cannot lose. Sign here."

"I had forgotten the woman. Is she necessary?"

"It will be better to have one, as they know down there young Henley was lately married. Any good looking with an easy conscience will do. You could coach her on the train."

"But I don't know a young woman in town," I admitted soberly, "except my landlady's daughter, and she's the limit."

Vail and Neale both laughed.

"You're slow, Craig," the former said good humoredly. "Get on your new clothes and look around. There's plenty would jump at the chance."

"That's altogether out of my line," I averred. "I'd rather go alone."

"Well, we'll not war over that. You can leave your wife north if you wish. I tell you what you do. Think it over and call me up by phone about 3 o'clock tomorrow. Here's the number. If you decide on taking a woman along I know one who will answer and will have her at the train."

"I am to leave, then, tomorrow night?"

"Yes, over the Eastern Illinois at 8:10. Sign here."

I was not hypnotized or unduly controlled. My mind seemed clear, but I yielded without a word and wrote my name at the bottom of the sheet. Vail blotted it carefully, folded the paper and placed it in a drawer of the table. Then he handed me two bills.

"There is $1,000 there, Craig, and I will send you a typewritten memorandum of instructions covering all points in the game. Where can I be sure of finding you at 3 o'clock tomorrow?"

"At 407 Green street."

"All right; as soon as you read those instructions call me up by phone and let me know what you have done regarding a woman and ask any questions you may desire. That will be all now. Neale, you might show Craig the way out."

He put out his arm and we shook hands, although he did not arise from the chair. Neale stepped into the hall and I followed him. The entry way was in darkness and the man went to the side door without switching on the light.

"By the way, it will be as well for you to go out cautiously and not be seen. We want to play safe, you know," said he.

The door opened and closed, leaving me outside.

CHAPTER II. The Woman.

IT was then that the power of thought returned to me. However glibly those two conspirators might gild over the affair it nevertheless was a criminal matter to which I had blindly committed myself. However, I had no thought of withdrawal from the contract, for, while I saw the danger involved and realized the illegality, yet I failed utterly to perceive any real evil. I did not doubt the truth of all that had been told me and was willing to assume the risk. The $10,000 would be "easy money."

Not a glimmer of light appeared from within the house I had just left, and I drew my hat down over my eyes and stared about, listening. The hour could not be far from midnight, the night dark, the air heavy with mist.

The light fell slantingly across the stone steps in front and revealed a narrow opening through the brick coping beyond. I crept cautiously forward until I crouched behind the brick coping. There was not a disturbing sound, and I straightened up, essaying the first step forth into the full gleam of the light. Like some confronting ghost, scarcely more real than a phantom of imagination, I came face to face with a woman.

She had turned swiftly into the narrow gateway leading through the brick coping, hurrying silently as if pursued, her foot barely planted upon the step when we met. I stopped, speechless, rigid, my outstretched hand gripping the rail, but the woman drew hastily back, her lips parted in a sudden sob of surprise, one hand flung out as if in self protection. It was instantaneous. Yet before either could move otherwise or utter a word of explanation a heavy footfall crunched along the walk, and a burly police officer, his star gleaming ominously in the dull light, rounded the corner a dozen feet away.

"Here, now, an' what are ye oop too, me fine buck?" he questioned roughly, swinging me about into the light. "Give an account o' yerself moighty quick'er I'll run ye in."

"The girl, still staring blankly at me, must have perceived how I instinctively shrank back, my lips moving in an impotent effort at speech. Some sudden impulse changed her fright into sympathy. She started forward just a step."

"Nothing in the least wrong, officer," her voice trembling slightly, yet sounding clearly distinct. "He—he was merely accompanying me home from a dance."

"What dance?"

"Over—over there on Forty-third street."

"An' do yer live here?" the gruff tone still vibrant with suspicion. "Fer if ye do yer're sure a new gurl, and he peered at her shadowed face in the dim light. She drew in her breath sharply."

"No," her voice steady, now she realized she must carry out the deception; "my place is three blocks yet, around the next corner."

"That's a pratty thin story, miss. Then what was the two ov yer doin' in here?"

"I had my foot on the step trying my shoe," she explained simply. "You don't arrest people for that, do you?"

It was plain enough the officer was puzzled, yet he reluctantly released his grip on my arm.

"It's half O' belave yer stringin' me right now," he announced doubtfully, "but O'll give yer ther benefit ov the doubt. Don't let me run across yer along this beat agin t'night. Go on, now!"

I felt her hand touch my sleeve timidly and caught a swift glimpse of her eyes. We must carry out the deception now and go away together. Without venturing to speak or glance around we walked forward into the enveloping mist. Her fingers, for appearances' sake, barely touched the rough cloth of my sleeve. All this had occurred so swiftly, so suddenly, that I was yet bewildered, unable to decide on a course of action. The girl, I noticed, was breathing heavily from excitement, her eyes cast down upon the wet pavement. Once, beneath the glow of the lamp at the first corner, I ventured to glance slyly aside at her in curiosity, mentally photographing the clear outline of her features, the strands of light brown hair straggling rebelliously from beneath the wide brim of the hat. There was more than a mere hint of character about that resolute mouth, the white contour of cheek.

At the second street intersection she turned east, advancing toward where passing trolley cars promised some life and activity even at that late hour. Impulsively she stopped and faced me, her hands clasped.

"I—I please—I will say good night now," she said, endeavoring to speak firmly, yet with no uplifting of the eyes. Hesitatingly I stood still, feeling strangely embarrassed by this sudden cut dismissal.

"Do—do you mean you wish me to leave you alone on the street at this hour?" I questioned meekly. "At least permit me to see you home safely. I will not hurt you or speak a word."

There was a tone of earnestness in my plea, but she only shook her head decisively, lips pressed close together.

"I—I am not afraid of you," she returned at last doubtfully. "It is not that, but—really—I cannot permit you to accompany me farther."

"Only to the place where you said you lived," I urged eagerly. "I promise not even to take note of the number and will never bother you any more."

Her fine eyes hardened, then sank slowly before mine.

WOMAN SUFFERED TEN YEARS

From Female Ills—Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Belleville, N.S., Canada.—"I doctored for ten years for female troubles and did not get well. I read in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. I write now to tell you that I am cured. You can publish my letter as a testimonial."

Mrs. SUZANNE BABINE, Belleville, Nova Scotia, Canada.

Another Woman Recovers.

Auburn, N. Y.—"I suffered from nervousness for ten years, and had such organic pains that sometimes I would lie in bed four days at a time, could not eat or sleep and did not want anyone to talk to me or bother me at all. Sometimes I would suffer for seven hours at a time. Different doctors did the best they could for me until four months ago I began giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and now I am in good health."

Mrs. WILLIAM H. GILL, No. 15 Pleasant Street, Auburn, New York.

The above are only two of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which show clearly what great things Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound does for those who suffer from woman's ills.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

For Twenty-four Hours

Gen. Joffre Sat With Eyes Glued to His Map

AN interesting picture of General Joffre directing the great advance in the Champagne district is given by L. F. Bertelli in a despatch from France a couple of days after the advance occurred. Mr. Bertelli says:

"The past seven days of the war have taken a heavier toll of human life than any previous period. Careful calculations show that not less than half a million soldiers have fallen on Europe's 1,500-mile battle lines from Belgium to Switzerland, from Trent to Trieste, along the Danube, on the Gallipoli Peninsula, along the Caucasian Mountains, and from Bukovina to the Baltic."

"So frightful has been the carnage that fifty men have fallen every minute of the past week, at least twenty-five per cent. never to arise again."

"Of the two battles waged in France, that in Champagne was by far the fiercest and biggest. General Joffre himself conducted the advance, not as a picturesque General on a white charger, but sitting attentively at a kitchen table in a wine shop behind the lines, while his aides, with telephone receivers attached to their ears, shouted the latest developments from the various attacking columns. A staff officer states that he sat impassively with his eyes glued to a huge map, making no comments, but giving concise orders in a quiet, unemotional voice.

JOFFRE AND CASTELNAU.

"For twenty-four hours General Joffre did not interrupt his close study of the situation, even for a sandwich. It was only when he was satisfied no more could be achieved that he smilingly remarked: 'Well, that's done. Now for a snack.'"

"After a perfunctory meal he slept four hours."

"Meanwhile a few miles distant a scene worthy of Dante's inferno was being enacted on the battlefield. In the dead of night scores of thousands of blue-clad French infantry leaped out of the trench at the word of command and dashed across the ground, upturned like a plowed field by shells."

"What the German saw from his shell-battered trench when rockets and star-lights illuminated the grim spectacle was the gleaming point of a fixed bayonet, handled by an infuriated soldier wearing a mask which gave him the appearance of a howling demon. From a distance the battlefield formed a phantasmagoric spectacle. Lit by greenish lights, the rays of which pierced dense clouds of smoke and poison gases, the troops were seen swaying in a titanic struggle wherein no quarter was given or asked. All round the flames leaped from concealed batteries, belching high explosives and shrapnel."

"The victory which produced the greatest number of prisoners the Allies have yet gained at a single blow was won in true Hindenburg manner. The attacking forces were divided into three columns. While the right and left wings swept forward the central body remained quiescent till the advance on the flanks began to converge and act as powerful pincers. Then the centre came on and delivered the last blow, netting regiment after regiment."

"One of the most terrible features of the battle was the number of German artillerymen driven mad by the terrific cannonade. French wounded brought to Paris say that during the advance they came upon groups huddled around guns which they made no effort to serve. Some were dumb, the teeth of others chattered, while others screamed wildly."

"These poor wretches," said one soldier, "were quite harmless. They had gone stark mad."

Can Deflect Torpedoes.

From Rome comes the news that an Italian named Quarini has invented a device which deflects torpedoes from their course and explodes them. It is said that the allied fleets are to be supplied with his invention.

WOMEN IN FACTORIES.

Notable British Ladies Are Making Shells.

The educated woman as a munition worker is likely to prove a valuable asset in Great Britain, if one may judge by the success achieved by the scheme started at the Vickers, at Erith. There is nothing of the amateur in the first batch of 45 women.

They include two master-turners, Lady Colebrooke and Lady Gertrude Crawford, both of whom find no difficulty in the work at the lathes, Mrs. England, a sister of Lord Loreburn, Lady Catacre, Mrs. Greig, wife of Colonel Greig, of the London Scottish, and the ladies who originated the scheme, and Mrs. Moir, wife of the chief of the new Inventions Branch of the Ministry of Munitions, and Mrs. Cowan, wife of the M.P. for East Aberdeenshire. Miss Vickers is joining the next batch. In the same factory, but not engaged on the same work, is Lady Scott, widow of Captain Scott, who has joined the electrical department, where her deftness, acquired in her art as sculptor, allows her to do work requiring great delicacy of touch.

The work which the women are doing is on the 4.5 shells and the 18-lb. shrapnell. They do rough turning, boring, and the preliminary processes, and Messrs. Vickers have set aside a special foreman to train them, the training to take three weeks. During the first week anyone who found the work too hard had the right to drop out and to be replaced from the long waiting list.

There are two points made clear to all workers—first, that having been trained they pledged for six months of week-ends from Saturday afternoon shift at 2.30 to Monday at 6.30, being five shifts in all.

The idea of the training scheme is to have such a large body of educated women ready to relieve the ordinary workers, for whom it is a physical impossibility to work seven days a week and keep up the standard of their efficiency. Knowing that the lathes must remain idle over the week-end, as there are not enough workers available, their offer was welcomed.

The rates of pay are the same as for the ordinary worker. The rate of pay is from 15s to 19s per week of six shifts of 54 hours.

The women start out each morning in butcher-blue overalls, caps to match, leather gloves, and strong boots.

The Time to Break It.

There is an anecdote in some volume of French theatrical memoirs narrating an experience of Mlle. Clairon, the great tragic actress, with a pupil of hers, a girl of strong natural gifts for the histrionic art, but far too frequent and too exuberant in her gesticulation. So when the pupil was once to appear before the public in a recitation Mlle. Clairon bound the girl's arms to her side by a stiff thread and sent her thus upon the stage.

With the first strong feeling she had to express the pupil tried to raise her arms only to be restrained by the thread. A dozen times in the course of her recitation she was prevented from making the gestures she desired until at the very end she could stand it no longer, and in the climax of her emotion she broke her bonds and swung her hands to her head.

When she came off the stage she went humbly to where Mlle. Clairon was standing in the wings and apologized for having snapped the thread. "But you did quite right," said the teacher. "That was the time to make the gesture, not before."

Removing a Lake.

Kerr Lake, a body of water once situated in the Cobalt district, has been removed. The area of the lake was thirty acres. When rich deposits of silver were discovered in the neighborhood, it seemed worth while to drain off the four hundred million gallons of water into another lake, half a mile away. The pumps carried away the water at the rate of six thousand gallons a minute. The task was completed in thirty-eight days.

Drowned Through Nervousness.

Eganville Leader cor.: The accidental drowning of Mr. Wm. Billings, aged 24 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Billings, is greatly deplored in the locality. He had been engaged in sand bar dredging between Barry's Bay and Combermere. On the evening of Saturday, the 18th inst., he with three companions went to Combermere in a little power boat. Returning at night the gasoline engine played out and the party were forced to land. Two of the boys procured a row boat and proceeded to the camp and advised Mr. Michael Billings (father of the drowned young man) of the mishap to the gasoline launch. Mr. Billings immediately rowed away in search of his son. He discovered him on the water about a mile from Combermere. He was sitting in a rowboat apparently asleep. The father endeavored to take this boat in tow but was unable to do so. Then he called to "Billy, wake up," and the boy, suddenly aroused and frightened, in his nervousness sprang into the water. He reappeared but once and then was lost in view. The search for the body was continued for six days, the efforts of a professional diver being also fruitless. It remained for Messrs. M. Franawa, of Combermere, and A. Etznanski, of Barry's Bay, with grappling hooks to recover the body on the following Thursday afternoon. At the spot there showed about twenty feet of water.

Savage-Henderson Wedding.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Henderson, Beckwith, was the scene of a happy event on Thursday last when their daughter Margaret was united in marriage to Mr. Albert Savage of Stittsville. The ceremony took place beneath a floral arch, and was performed by Rev. Mr. Lowry of Franktown. The bride wore a gown of embroidered net with wedding veil and orange blossoms and was given away by her father. Two little nieces of the bride, Muriel Henderson and Edith McTavish, acted as flower girls, and were dressed in pink and white silk with caps to match. The bride received many beautiful and useful presents including a number of checks. Among those from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bradley, Ottawa, Mr. and Mrs. Savage, Miss Savage, of New York, Mrs. McGuire, Hazelton, Mr. Wilson and Mr. Cavers of Perth, and Mrs. N. R. Hill, North Augusta. The young couple left on Friday morning for Toronto and Niagara, and on their return will reside at Stittsville, where their many wish them many years of happiness and prosperity.

Death of Mrs. Hill of Munster.

The death of Mrs. Robert Hill took place last Tuesday at her home at Munster, at the ripe old age of 85 years. Her's was a long and useful life, and her work having been completed, she passed peacefully to rest. She is survived by two sons and five daughters—Samuel and Melville on the home-stand, Mrs. Hugh Simpson, of Smith Falls, Mrs. Wm. Garvin, of Appleton, Mrs. Alex McDiarmid, of Deloraine, Man., Mrs. John Maines, of Gainsboro, Sask., and Mrs. Dr. Simpson, of Lacombe, Alta. The funeral took place on Friday afternoon. The service was held in the Methodist church at Munster, of which deceased was a life-long member, and was conducted by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Mossop. The church was draped in black for the occasion. The pallbearers were six grandsons of deceased, Reg Simpson, Otto Simpson, Orville Simpson, Arlington Hill, J. H. Brownlee, and Ernest Brownlee. Interment was made in the Munster cemetery. Mrs. Hill was a woman of very charitable disposition, ever ready to help those in trouble or sickness and will be mourned by a large circle of friends and relatives. Mr. Hill predeceased her eleven years ago. There were many beautiful floral tributes, including a pillow, from Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Hill, wreath Dr. and Mrs. Simpson, Lacombe; wreath, the grandchildren; spray, Mrs. Wm. Garvin; cross, Mrs. J. S. Hetherington; wreath Mr. and Mrs. James Turner.

Walter W. Kibbee Passes Away Suddenly.

Sudden indeed was the death of Mr. W. W. Kibbee, who passed away at his home on William street at 2 o'clock on Sunday afternoon. About a year ago Mr. Kibbee took ill and was confined to his home all last winter. He rallied with the advent of spring and seemed to be gradually getting back to his former self, and was making arrangements to remove his family from his home on William street to his office on Bridge street. On Friday he had a part of his household effects removed and was unusually busy, perhaps over-doing his strength. He did not leave for home until nearly 10 o'clock, and when crossing the railway track on William street was about to collapse when his daughter came along in time to assist him, and with the help of Mr. J. A. Neilson and another neighbor got him safely home. He was immediately given some stimulants and appeared to rally, but during the night he sustained a stroke and Saturday morning his condition became serious and grew steadily worse until collapse ensued. Walter Waugh Kibbee was born in Mississippi, Kansas, in 1860, being the youngest son of the late George Kibbee, who died whilst his son was quite young. The family came to Canada in due time, and in Carleton Place Walter became an apprentice to the printing trade in THE HERALD during the life of the founder of the paper, the late James Poole. After graduating he wandered abroad and worked at his trade in different places, returning to Carleton Place from Montreal after the present proprietors had purchased the plant in 1883. He became associated with W. H. & S. J. Allen and for two years was joint publisher of THE HERALD under the firm name of Allen Bros. & Kibbee. The firm was then dissolved by mutual consent and Mr. Kibbee became the up-town ticket agent of the C.P.R., which position he held for 30 years, failing health compelling him to resign the office last spring. In August, 1883, he married Alfreda Baker, of Drumbo, Ont., who with one daughter, Edna and two sons, George and Ernest, survive. Two sons and three daughters are deceased. Mrs. Kibbee, the mother, also survives, at the ripe old age of 91 years. Mr. Kibbee was a man of strong individuality and rare ability, a versatile writer, and possessed a wonderful knowledge of history, being an inveterate reader and a student of nature. He was a member of the Independent Order of Foresters and the Canadian Order of Chosen Friends, and the funeral to-morrow afternoon will be under the auspices of the latter society. The bereaved family have the sympathy of many friends in their hour of grief.

Beckwith Machine Gun Fund.

The canvas for subscriptions for the machine gun fund Beckwith is proceeding most favorably and returns are already coming into the treasurer, Mr. Peter Drummond, who will give his report to the special committee in charge of the matter, which meets at his home to-morrow (Wednesday) evening at 7:30 o'clock. The members of the patriotic committee are hereby requested to attend.

Perth Boy Accidentally Shot.

A shooting accident took place near Perth yesterday afternoon when Milne Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Walker, was instantly killed by the discharge of a shotgun. Mr. Walker and his family were spending Thanksgiving Day at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Archie McVeety, who lives on the Ferry road about six miles from Perth, and Milne decided to go hunting in the woods nearby. He started out through the barnyard, and crossed over a wagon tongue dragging a loaded shotgun behind him. The weapon struck the tongue and discharging blew a portion of his hand, also entering his jaw and tearing his face frightfully. Milne was about sixteen years old, and was learning the machinist trade at Detrick Bros. Mr. Walker is town fire chief and is himself a machinist by trade.

The Demonstration Car.

Many citizens availed themselves of the opportunity to visit the Ontario Government's Demonstration Car which was on the C.P.R. siding here Thursday last. The car was under the direction of Mr. H. A. Jones, of the Bureau of Colonization, Toronto, who was most painstaking with his visitors, explaining everything in connection with the exhibit. The products here shown of Northern Ontario farms were astonishing, few farms in Eastern Ontario being capable of producing such grains. We of the east have been wont to think of the Temiskaming District as a bleak, cold country, embellished with mountains of rock, and fit only for the habitation of the hunter and trapper. That these impressions were all wrong were fully demonstrated by a visit to this car. Photos were shown of large tracts of level land similar to that seen in the prairie provinces, one farm in particular being that owned by D. Stewart, near Earlton, which contained 600 acres, and from which no less than 10,000 bushels of wheat were garnered this year. The sheaves exhibited of wheat, oats, barley, rye and other grains were beautiful to behold while the roots and vegetables were equal to any seen at the fairs in this vicinity this fall. Temiskaming District is situated in the extreme north-eastern part of Ontario. It extends from latitude forty-seven twenty on the south, to fifty-two on the north. There is no healthier climate anywhere in the Province. The summer days are long, there being about sixteen hours sunshine in midsummer. Nights are cool and a heavy dew adds greatly to crop production. Winters are a little severe at times, but a dry air greatly eliminates the effect of a frosty day.

PALE, FEEBLE GIRLS.

Weakness Generally Comes on as Womanhood Approaches.

Girls upon the threshold of womanhood often drift into a decline in spite of all care and attention. How often one sees girls who have been strong and lively become suddenly weak, depressed, irritable and listless. It is the dawn of womanhood—a crisis in the life of every girl—and prompt measures should be taken to keep the blood pure and rich with the red tint of health. If the blood is not healthy at this critical stage the body is weakened and grave disorders follow. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have saved thousands of young girls from what might have been lifelong invalidism or an early death. They are a blood-builder of unequalled richness, strengthening weak nerves and producing a liberal supply of red, healthy blood which every girl needs to sustain her strength. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have proved their great value over and over again to young women whose health was failing. Miss Minnie Duffield, Eramosa, Ont., says:—"It gives me great pleasure to tell you that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me. When I was approaching the age of womanhood I suffered greatly from bloodlessness, or anaemia. My work was a drag to me, I had no appetite and never felt rested in the mornings. I could scarcely walk for five minutes at a time without taking a rest. I was troubled with severe headaches, and things looked gloomy indeed. I doctor-ed for a long time and got, but little, if any, benefit. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and did so and after taking them for a time felt better. I continued taking the Pills until I had used six boxes, when I felt like a new person, and was again enjoying splendid health. I would strongly advise any girl who is weak or run down to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills." You can get these pills from any dealer in medicines or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Women in the Ranks.

In one of the Austrian legions there are, according to a correspondent of the New York Sun, sixty adventurous women and girls. Two were killed in action, others are recovering from wounds and a few were taken prisoner by the Russians. The status of these prisoners as regular belligerents is recognized, just as the Austrians have recognized that of the Russian women soldiers, of whom, according to Russian official accounts, there are several hundreds.

"I met one of the severely wounded heroines, now mending in a reserve hospital in Vienna," says this correspondent. She is Sophia Haletschko, 24, quite pretty, of regular and delicate features, blond and girlish. When the war started she had just finished the medical course at the University of Lemberg, receiving a doctor's diploma. Then Lemberg was taken by the Russians and she joined the Ukrainian legion. For nearly a year she underwent all the hardships of a strenuous campaign, a part of the time in the wild passes of the Carpathians and in the mountains of the Bukovina range without loss of health or good looks.

Miss Haletschko after a brief season of drilling showed remarkable gifts as a scout and ranger. In the "Saitsh" (the Ukrainian name for the legion) she earned the reputation of being utterly fearless and of being excellent in reconnoitering. She was enrolled in the cavalry, became sergeant-major and was decorated twice for extraordinary bravery. She wears a silver medal for daring before the enemy.

Catching the Spies.

On June 20th a secret order went out to every army and navy officer in London, so it is told, not to ride in any taxicabs or other automobiles the next day. On the following day 3000 plain clothes men went out from Scotland yard all over London. They had orders to arrest every man in an officer's suit found in an automobile. They found fifty-two of them and arrested them at once. Do you see the simplicity of the affair? Each of the arrested men—except three who were found to have just come over from Ireland to join their regiments that day—were taken as spies and shot. Not having any real connection with the War Office, of course, and therefore not receiving the order against taxis, they exposed themselves at once.

Mr. R. E. Wilson, late of the Scotch Line, has accepted a position with the Live Stock Department, Ottawa, in the inspection of pure bred animals. He left on Tuesday for Saskatchewan where he has two months' work.

TABER'S FURS! FURS!

We are pleased to announce the opening of our Fur Department with a splendid range of

New Furs, in Neck Pieces and Muffs, Coats, &c.,

also to say that our Prices will be found from 10 to 25 p.c. lower than last season, on account of the drop in prices of Raw Skins.

Now is the time to make your selections, when Stocks are complete and prices low. Later in the season prices may advance.

We show Genuine [Skunk] Sable, Hudson Seal [dyed Rat], Fine Orenberg Mink Marmot in light and dark blends, Black Wolf, Black Siberian Wolf, Natural Prairie Wolf, Labrador Sable, in black or blended, Opossum, Natural Rat, Russian Lynx, Hudson Seal Coats, Natural Rat Coats.

We invite your inspection.

TABER'S
