JEFFRE MOVES AHEAD; HAIG STOPS ATTACKS BRITISH PRESS BACK BULGAR FORCES AROUND MONASTIR

NO DISPLAYS CONNAUGHTS GO ABOARD WARSHIP

SAILED ON A CRUISER

Royal Salute on Pier the Last Official Honor in Canada.

[Canadian Press.]
Halifax, Oct. 16.—The departure from Canada of their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and the Princess Patricia was remarkable for the entire absence of formality and ceremony, this being in accordance with the wishes of His Royal Highness. Nothing more informal than the closing incident of the duke's distinguished regime in Canada could be imagined. His Royal Highness and party arrived in Halifax by special train, which was run quietly into the big concrete shed at No. 2 pier.

No Military Display.
Apart from the usual picket, there was no military display outside the shed, and the royal train attracted no public attention, as the interest of what spectators were about was centered upon the operations of changing the position of a large concrete shed which had been moved to an adjacent dock.

Within the shed was drawn up a guard of bluejackets from the cruiser assigned to the duty of conveying Canada's first royal governor-general and family across the Atlantic to the Mother Country. Awaiting their royal highnesses as they alighted from the train were the admiral commanding the North Atlantic squadron and his staff; the captain of the cruiser, E. F. McCurdy, M. P., parliamentary secretary of the department of militia; E. N. Rhodes, M. P., deputy speaker of the House of Commons; Lieut.-Col. J. Chambers, gentleman usher of the Black Rod and chief press censor for Canada; Col. James Thompson, D. A. C., G. and Lieut.-Col. J. McNamee, chief G. S. O.

The Last Salute.
His Royal Highness, who was in khaki, having saluted with the officers, accompanied by his staff and the duke and duchess, as they ascended to the upper deck of the big concrete shed, which was entirely devoid of decorations, the only touch of coloring imparted to the scene being a couple of flags wound around the rail of the gangway. At the latter a guard of honor of the Royal Marine Artillery was drawn up and their royal salute was the last official honor accorded to their royal highnesses on Canadian soil.

Cruiser Departs.
On board the ship a few final words of farewell were spoken and their royal highnesses and members of their staff proceeded to acquaint themselves with their new quarters. After the exchange of signals between the cruiser and the flagship the former quietly backed out into the stream and away. Long she was sighted threading her way down the harbor. But a very few of those who noticed her realized her important mission.

Col. Stanton, military secretary; Major Duff, A. D. C., and Misses York and Adams, ladies-in-waiting, accompanied their royal highnesses overseas. Lord Neville, controller of the household; Capt. McIntosh, A. D. C., and Lieut. Morris, R. N. A. D. C., remain in Canada, and will serve on the staff of the Duke of Devonshire.

ENTENTE'S LAST WORD ON GREEK NEUTRALITY WITHIN FEW HOURS

[Canadian Press.]
London, Oct. 15.—A dispatch to the Daily Chronicle from Athens, dated October 14, says:
It is believed that early in the coming week the situation in Greece will enter upon a new critical phase. Premier Lambros stated today that the cabinet might be regarded as having the same foreign policy as the Constantine administration. This statement is interesting, as a reply of the Entente Governments to proposals formulated by the late cabinet relative to the abandonment of neutrality by Greece will be delivered early in the coming week, probably Monday. It is learned that this reply, while couched in very friendly terms, will be of a categorical nature, with the aim of preventing all further discussion on the main point at issue.

VENIZELOS GOVERNMENT RECOGNIZED BY FRENCH

[Canadian Press.]
New York, Oct. 16.—A News Agency dispatch from London says:
The new Nationalist Government set up on the island of Crete by former premier Venizelos has been recognized by the French Consul, said a Central News Athens dispatch today.
The consul made a formal call on Venizelos, the governor.

WEEK'S FIERCE FIGHTING LEAVES THIEPVAL RIDGE SAFE IN BRITISH GRIP

By Capture of Schwaben Redoubt, Haig's Guns Dominate Enemy's Batteries in Valley of Gaudécourt—Repeated German Counter-Attacks Fail To Shake Hold of Tommies.

By FREDERICK PALMER.
(Copyright, 1916, by the Associated Press.)

BRITISH FRONT IN FRANCE, Sunday, Oct. 15, Via London, Oct. 15.—12:30 a.m.—In completing the capture of Schwaben Redoubt, the British took a prisoner for every yard of front, or 300 for a front of less than 300 yards; not to mention the number killed by the artillery preparation and in hand-to-hand fighting before the survivors surrendered. The Germans manning the trench and those in the reserve dugouts could hardly have been crowded into one line back of the parapet. This gives an idea of the importance the Germans attached to that last bit of high ground along their old trench line south of the Ancre, on the Thiepval ridge, which their desperate resistance characterized as the most precious two-acre plot in all France.

Man Counter-Attacks.
After the British got the first half of the redoubt the Germans made repeated counter-attacks to recover possession of it, and for that last week there has been no cessation of the fighting. Now the British look down all along the valley to Gaudécourt, and it is impossible, apparently, for the Germans to maintain batteries in that area.
Between the new British positions and the river along the old front line fortifications German infantry, commanded by British guns from two sides, still stick to their maze of trenches, going and coming like woodpeckers through their underground galleries. A German prisoner reports that in this neighborhood there is a record size dugout capable of holding 2,500 men.

They do hate to leave their happy homes, which they have been two years building," said a British soldier.
Big German Garrisons.
The big garrisons which the Germans maintain for the most part keep their dugouts, rushing out when there is any recess in the shell-fire to try to repair the damage done. When they are observed the British guns let loose on them. Finally, when nothing but wreckage of trenches remains, and only the dugouts are intact, British infantry charges to gain another section of ground. In taking the remaining unoccupied portion of Staff redoubt, in the same redoubt, the British took 100 prisoners, with a loss of 30 men.

Along the centre of the battle line the British have made some attacks in the past week, though not in great strength. They succeeded in some places, and failed in others against the heavy German machine guns. In the whole, it was the quietest week since the beginning of the grand offensive.

MUST DESTROY AUSTRIA AND CRIPPLE GERMANY

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.]
Rome, Oct. 15.—Austria must be destroyed as a state, and Germany deprived of every thought of dominating the world, before war can end, the most powerful figures in the Italian cabinet, told the United Press today.
To consent to peace now would be an act of treason on the part of any Allied nation, he declared.

BUCHAREST REPORTS FURTHER REPULSES FOR THE TEUTONS

[Canadian Press.]

WOMEN OF BUDAPEST START FOOD RIOTS AND STORM A TOWN HALL

Very Little Food Now Left Throughout Hungary.
Police and Soldiers Obligated To Battle With Hungry Mobs.

[Canadian Press.]
London, Oct. 15.—The Morning Post's correspondent at Budapest sends the following dispatch under date of October 9:
"The appointment of a food director for Hungary is in contemplation. The Government is trying to find a suitable person for the post, but nobody appears anxious to undertake to dictate with regard to food that has no existence. The order will give an idea of how things are managed in Hungary."
Stormed Town Hall.
"So far as foodstuffs are concerned, I need only quote a few items at hazard out of this morning's newspapers. It is reported that in Ujpest, one of the suburbs of Budapest, women stormed the town hall last night after waiting in vain for hours outside the shops to get a pound or two of potatoes. They broke the windows in the building, assaulted the burgomaster and police when they tried to restore order. Eventually the women were driven out of the place by a dozen mounted policemen."

Refugees Starving.
"At the Budapest Town Hall Transylvanian refugees made a similar disturbance. The police had to disperse a crowd of refugees, who went to the town hall to get their daily allowance of two crotons of bread. This day in vain for three hours, and at length, their patience exhausted, rioting began. Windows were broken and a number of people were assaulted. A large number of rioters were arrested. They said they could not buy food if they got the money after eleven in the morning, by which time the shops would have sold out their scanty stocks. This delay in payment meant that they would be without food for the next 24 hours."
Mad Scramble For Food.
"Here is another picture from the reports in today's newspapers: One big department store, on Andrássy street, advertised that they would sell sugar from 10 to 11 o'clock in the morning, and every customer could buy half a pound. People began to gather before the shop long before the time indicated, and when the shop opened thousands of people were standing on the pavements, blocking up the road all around the place. The mob rushed inside the place, and there was an indescribable scene of confusion that military assistance had to be summoned to save the establishment from being looted and destroyed."
"The people rushed for sugar and other provisions, took all they could lay their hands on, only to have that torn out of their hands by others before they could get clear of the place."

GERMAN PRESS RAGES AGAINST UNITED STATES

Declares the War Is Being Waged By American Millionaires.

[Canadian Press.]
London, Oct. 15.—"According to travelers from Germany," says the Exchange Telegraph's Amsterdam correspondent, "a remarkable disease is spreading in many parts of Germany, especially in Berlin, Hamburg, Munich and Cologne, caused by continual feeding from preserved foods. The sickness is described as 'tin sickness.' It is considered a serious form of blood poison."

GERMAN PRESS RAGES AGAINST UNITED STATES

Declares the War Is Being Waged By American Millionaires.

[Canadian Press.]
New York, Oct. 15.—A cable from London to the Herald says:
Anti-British propaganda is now raging in the German press as never before, and also for the purposes of propaganda the Prussians are issuing at Amsterdam a Deutsche Wochenschrift, in the latest issue of which there is an article full of fierce invective against the United States.
What is the cause for the fact that America is behind the Somme armies of the Allies, they allege, they would never be able to beat the Prussians. Here is what the Deutsche Wochenschrift says:
"On the Somme our best and bravest are bleeding; they also bleed on the Marne and on the Aisne. The unlimited expenditure of shells is turning the trenches and their connections into heaps of rubbish. Who supplies them? Who, at bottom, is waging the war? If you ask the mourning mother, 'What has robbed you of your son, your pride and your hope?' her reply is, 'The war for profit of the American millionaires.' There is a country whose war aim is quite clear—America with her object of becoming the sole world banker by delivering immensities in supplies."

"Behind the Somme front stands an enemy whom we cannot reach. Her war is a one-sided war against which we are unable to retaliate. She is the vampire who sucks the blood from Europe's arteries because she is able to suck at the same time Europe's gold."

MAJOR HUGH NIVEN GETS APPOINTMENT TO DIVISION STAFF

Brilliant London Soldier Honored by Promotion.

PRAISE IS FLATTERING
Record Made With Princess Pats Brings Deserved Recognition.

Major Hugh Niven, D. S. O., son of the late Dr. J. S. Niven and Mrs. Niven of Colborne street, late of the Princess Patricia's, has been appointed to the staff of the 1st Division of the Canadian army at the front.
Major Niven's mother recently received word of the further honor conveyed to the central figure in the famous "last stand" of the Patricia's. The first intimation came from Ottawa, and the young Londoner was referred to in most flattering terms. Later word of his appointment came from Major Niven, but he had little to say concerning it. Whether he will retain his majority on the staff is not known.
One of "Pats" in France.
Major Niven was one of the first Canadians in France, and since war began, with the exception of a few weeks, has spent all of his time at the front with the regiment which has been decorated several times and which lost practically all of its officers except Major Niven. He enlisted as a private, leaving the management of a coal mining business, but was quickly promoted until he attained his majority.
Stuck to "Pats."
Promotion to the staff has been offered to Major Niven on several occasions, but he persistently refused because he wished to stay with his Pats until the end. One morning orders came to transfer, and he submitted to an honor that has been regarded as inevitable and hard-earned.
Local military men were gratified on being informed of his promotion.

THE DIARY OF MARS

On the Somme front, in Northern France, the Entente forces are keeping up their unrelenting drive. The French last night, after having checked German counter-attacks on the positions won Saturday in their pocketing attempts around Chaulnes, south of the Somme, and German stations north of the river, according to Paris today, they succeeded in penetrating German positions at Sully-Saillisel, pushing up to seize the Baupume road. Renewed fighting brought on by a German counter-attack was in progress when the official report was issued.

The British recently have been advancing in the vicinity of the Staff redoubt and the Schwaben redoubt in the Thiepval region on their northern flank. Last night the Germans made a strong attack on the new British positions near the Schwaben fortification. They were beaten back with heavy losses, London declares.

In Macedonia the Entente forces have resumed their strong offensive south of Monastir. Sofia declares the Bulgarians frustrated attempts on their lines west of the Monastir-Florina Railway line and in the bend of the German line east of the Struma on the eastern end of the Macedonian front. The British have pushed their outposts further towards Demir-Hissar, eight miles southwest of Demir-Hissar.

Teutonic pressure against the Rumanians along the Transylvanian frontier continues unabated, according to the latest official reports, and as one point at least, King Ferdinand's forces have been driven back well within their own territory.

This crucial point for the Rumanians lies southwest of Kronstadt in the southern reaches of the Toraburger Pass, where they are making a determined stand at Bucuru, some seven miles south of the border. The Teutonic thrust here is aimed in the direction of Bucharest, which lies 75 miles across the Rumanian plain from its edge at Bucuru, ten miles southwest of Canupia.

LOCAL TEMPERATURES.
Following were the highest and lowest temperatures recorded in London during the 24 hours previous to 8 o'clock last night: Highest, 64; lowest, 44. The official temperatures for the 12 hours previous to 8 a.m. today were: Highest, 55; lowest, 45.

HUNDREDS ATTEND BAND CONCERT AND RECRUITING MEETING

Major Smith Regrets Few Eligible Men Present.

ASKS KHELP OF WOMEN

Thinks Call of Honor and Judgment Will Bring Volunteers.

The Sunday evening band concert in the armories attracted several hundred citizens to hear an excellent program by the 153rd Band, and also a recruiting appeal by Major Smith, of the A. M. C., at military headquarters, Wolseley Barracks.

The band, under the leadership of Bandmaster - Sergt. Copeland, has reached a high state of efficiency, and that its efforts were greatly appreciated was proven by the applause following each number.

Major Smith was introduced by Major H. A. Stevenson. Major Smith, after a few remarks, in which he deprecated the small attendance of recruits men, launched into an earnest recruiting appeal, and called upon the women of the city to use their influence to get the necessary men.

"I think if we appeal to honor and judgment, we will get the men," said Major Smith.

He outlined the history of the war, and denounced the Kaiser as the greatest criminal the world has ever known.

The program given by the band was: "March, 'Light of Foot', 'Lullaby', 'Quaker Girl', 'Monkton', 'Characteristic', 'Echoes de Saisons', 'Killing', 'Valse', 'Elooner', 'Lull', 'Selection', 'Finale', 'Sullivan', 'March', 'Invercargill', 'Lithgow', 'Voluntary', 'Largo', 'Handel', 'Caprice', 'Forest Whispers', 'Largo', 'Overture', 'The Home Fires Burning', 'O Canada', 'God Save the King'.

FRAIL OF BODY AND WAN-FACED ARE THE BELGIAN CHILDREN

Death Rate of Little Ones Shows An Alarming Increase

Reports out of the city of Brussels show that the death rate is mounting to fourteen people per thousand every month, and most of these deaths are due directly or indirectly to starvation.

The starvation that the Belgian relief committee has been endeavoring to ward off for so many months, is coming now bringing with it, ravages. Actual deaths from starvation are not so frequent, but day after day some poor woman, some helpless child, succumbs to the lack of nourishment experienced for months past.

Here are a brave people scourged into submission by their German conqueror, brave because their husbands, sons and brothers are away fighting for their country and ours, now forced to see their little ones taken from them, by death—a death that might be averted if they were only given food.

The picture of these little tots standing in the long queues outside the feeding stations is a pitiful one. Clinging, clinging with fear, to the skirts of their frail mothers, their whole mien is one of pleading for something to eat. Starvation is written all over their faces. Their sunken eyes and thin little bodies tell the terrible tale of the suffering they have undergone. Death is the only relief if food does not come. Soon the death rate will be more than fourteen to the thousand every month.

The Belgian relief committee is doing its utmost for these people, doing what it can to relieve them in their plight, but their work is more than they can give. Will you not send your bit to the Belgian relief committee, 59 St. Peter Street, Montreal, or to the branch in your town?

NO WORD YET

Word as to when the next party of returned soldiers will arrive in London, has yet been received by either the soldiers' aid commission or the military hospital authorities.

More than 1,000 wounded and invalided men arrived at Quebec two weeks ago, and it is thought that the delay is caused by a shortage of officers on the medical board, which has to examine all the invalids before deciding on their destination. Usually the soldiers are sent in much smaller parties, and the board is able to deal with them quickly.

BONNY BERKSHIRE

Pte. Fred Young, 18th Batt.

By A. Hasbain. We have occasion remarked that no matter what county or shire in Merrie England a stranger may visit he will soon realize that the inhabitants of the particular locality take an enthusiastic pride in their local history and traditions. And a two months' sojourn in bonny Berkshire has strengthened our convictions on that point.

Although our physical condition prevented extensive ramblings, one does not need to travel far to learn that the woods and valleys "fair" around here are full of historical value, from an elevation on the King's highway we looked down on a scene that held for us an old world charm. In the valley below the harvesters, and as we watched their movements we remembered with new interest the Bible story of Ruth and Boaz.

A pleasant voice at our elbow, inquiring after our welfare, interrupted our reverie, and accepting an informal invitation to "tea," we found ourselves the guests of the "landed gentry" of the vicinity who after refreshing our inner man, piloted us around the estate, informing us that the fruit of the orchards and gardens had at one time been a part of the Windsor forest. Our interest in the surroundings were visibly quickened as we looked into the interior of a house that in bygone days had been used as a "refuge" by the famous Robin Hood, which had pressed by the keepers, on account of his depredations in the royal forest.

Eight years ago we paid a visit to the little island of returning to Canada with the impression that the average English people were so imperialistic in their views that they gave but scant recognition to those whom they termed as "colored." But today one can feel that the spirit of patriotism has made the whole Empire kin, and the badge of the maple leaf, whether found on hospital blouses, or khaki, bearing "gold stripes," that tell their silent story of suffering for the Empire's sake, opens the hearts and homes of rich and poor alike.

In this rural community where women war workers on the land are very much in evidence, it isn't necessary to possess the picture papers to see them in their "serviceable" dress for one meets them almost everywhere. And their genial nod of recognition as they pass shows no sign of embarrassment on account of their masculine attire. After seeing a milkmaid almost daily dressed in breeches, puttees and tunic, as she drove her herd of cattle to and from the pasture, we were agreeably surprised to observe her one Sabbath evening wearing her way to the village church in feminine apparel, accompanied by her mother. And we thoughtfully concluded that "clothes don't make the man," dress gods, judiciously flounced and furberled, go a long way towards making the "woman."

As we listened to the chiming of the Sabbath bells, calling the people to prayer and worship, the optimism that even the vicissitudes of war had failed to crush, led us to our breakfast, as we joyfully look forward to the time when those same church bells would be sending their crashing peals of "Victory" to resound through the woods, vales and meadows of bonny Berkshire. Before going into winter quarters at Chatham, the battalion will make a march, covering the principal towns and villages in the county. KENTS START EGRESS FROM CAMP BORDEN; LAMBTONS ARE NEXT 149th Will Be in Queen's Park Tonight.

KITCHENERS ARE AT SEA

[Special to The Advertiser.] CAMP BORDEN, Oct. 15.—The first unit left camp this morning for winter quarters—the 18th Kent Battalion—and this heralded the break-up of the camp after one of the hardest summers for training yet experienced.

At 7 o'clock every tent and piece of equipment was packed, and at 7:30 the unit entrained for Bothwell.

Tonight the 149th Lambton Battalion and the 164th Halton Rifles have every possible tent packed away, and at 7:30 a.m. tomorrow will entrain, the former for London and the latter for Alliston.

Lambtons Here Tonight. The Lambton unit will reach London at 6 p.m., and will proceed direct to Queen's Park, where they will be billeted this winter. Major W. W. MacVicar, acting officer commanding, stated today that he was greatly pleased with the progress and training of the battalion, but was at a loss to understand why his unit had been overlooked in the present overseas draft.

"The 149th is ready and will do its duty," he concluded. The Lambtons have shown they will stand up to it just possible that they may be warned for overseas shortly.

From Alliston to Hamilton the 164th Battalion will trek, touching most of the important towns in the counties of Halton and Dufferin before reaching their winter quarters.

118th in Quarters. The 118th North Waterloo Battalion was originally notified to leave camp tomorrow, but as no winter quarters have been selected for them, or no word from military headquarters, No. 1 District, has been received, they will remain in camp training until more definite orders are received.

Major J. L. Youngs, late of the 1st Battalion, will report here tomorrow or Tuesday to assume the command of the 110th Perth Battalion. Lieut.-Col. T. G. Delamere, who is now officer commanding, has been appointed to a position on the staff of Military Division No. 1, and will report there on Monday.

Overford Man Injured. Pte. Douglas V. Eds of the 168th Oxford Battalion, while cranking an automobile on Saturday sustained a fracture of the arm. He was transferred to the base hospital today.

A severe windstorm struck camp Saturday night, and a great deal of damage was done to tents and other buildings.

Battalion field training will occupy both the 114th Haldimand and the 161st Huron Battalions tomorrow, and the 133rd Norfolk are down for bayonet fighting and physical training.

Lieut. G. R. Shibley, 22nd Regiment, is attached for training to the 161st Huron Battalion, and Lieut. A. J. Hamilton, 24th Regiment, to the 12nd "London's Own" Battalion.

TELLS TROOPS SLACKERS ARE MENACE TO COUNTRY

Rev. Dr. Tucker Preaches to Small Gathering of Military.

London witnessed its smallest military church service for some time on Sunday. The departure of the 169th Battalion on Saturday left only the 133rd Battalion and smaller units in town.

These, however, paraded at 9:30 o'clock to St. Paul's Cathedral. The 152nd badge and brass band accompanied the men, as well as the pipe band of the A. M. C. Training Depot. Many civilians were present at the service, and headquarters staff was well represented.

Rev. Dr. Tucker addressed the men on the theme of "Service." "Christ came into this world, not to be served, but to serve," he added. Soldiers, he said, were serving in a similar manner to Christ, in that they were offering their lives for humanity. He characterized the slacker as a menace to the state and declared that he should, by some means, be removed.

LAMBTONS DUE TO ARRIVE IN CITY AT FIVE O'CLOCK

149th Trip From Camp Borden Delayed.

GO DIRECT TO QUARTERS

Location of 241st Still Unsettled, 118th Being Slated for St. Thomas.

The 149th Lambton Battalion, under Major MacVicar, is due to arrive in London at 5 o'clock this afternoon. The original plans called for the unit to reach this city at 2 p.m., but delay in getting away from Camp Borden caused them to arrive later.

The Lambtons will detrain at the factory street station of the Grand Trunk and will march direct to their quarters in Queen's Park. The Engineers have been busy for some time past preparing the Park buildings for occupancy, and the 149th should be comfortable in a very short time.

Latest reports would indicate that the 122nd Battalion will be sent to Galt for the winter. The location of the 241st is not yet definitely settled, but the authorities at Ottawa sent an engineer officer to Windsor last week, and it is expected that if his report is favorable the 241st will remain in the border city.

WINS PROMOTION TO IMPORTANT POSITION

Capt. Harold Gray, son of Lieut. Giles Gray of the central fire ball, who went overseas as adjutant of the 70th Battalion, has won further honors overseas, for he is now acting adjutant of the 58th Battalion in the trenches. Letters from London members of that unit, to which were sent many former members of the 70th, chronicle the promotion of Capt. Gray.

Although one of the youngest officers in the present list, Capt. Gray was selected as adjutant by Lieut.-Col. R. J. Johnson when Capt. (now Major) Andy Townson, the original adjutant of the 70th, transferred to become a junior lieutenant. He is doing good in the important post, and the fact that he is continuing to make good is demonstrated by the fact that he has been appointed to his present rank.

In civil life, Capt. Gray was one of the staff of the Huron and Erie Mortgage Corporation, and was an officer of the 5th (Middlesex) Light Infantry before the war. His military record is highly commended by local headquarters officers and by visiting inspecting officers as well.

BISHOPS DISCUSS NEGRO BRANCH OF THE CHURCH

St. Louis Convention Debates Question of Colored Episcopate. [Canadian Press.] St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 16.—Debate on a proposal to establish a racial Episcopate was on the calendar today in the House of Deputies, the lower body of the Protestant Episcopal Convention in session here. It is proposed to attend the church constitution to authorize the creation of dioceses of negro churches, to be presided over by negro bishops, and the removal of negro parishes from the supervision of the present white diocesan heads.

The question, one of the most important to come before the convention, has been discussed for a decade. Six years ago it resulted in the passage of an amendment permitting the election of negro suffragan bishops in the various dioceses. Church leaders admit a wide difference of opinion. It is argued that the creation of negro dioceses would make more sharp the line of cleavage between the races, while, on the other hand, it is asserted that such action would enable the negro to keep more easily his racial identity. That the present law is not effectual is evinced, it is asserted, by the fact that in the six years since the last amendment no negro suffragan bishops have been chosen.

An announcement was made that the House of Bishops, the upper body, will meet with the House of Deputies late today to consider a pension plan for clergymen. An effort is being made in the church to raise $5,000,000 as a pension reserve fund.

BROUGHT DOWN FIVE OF HUN FLIERS IN REVENGE

Connecticut Yankee Mentioned by the French Government. [Canadian Press.] Paris, Oct. 15.—Sergt. Raoul Lufbery, of New Haven, Conn., the first American to be mentioned in a communique for bringing down five hostile aeroplanes, is known as the American who thought himself a Frenchman.

Lufbery's parents died when he was very young and he was brought up by a family at Bourges. At the age of thirteen he ran away from home and wandered all over the world, turning his hand to all sorts of trades. At Saigon he met the aviator, Marc Pourpe, who trained him as his assistant.

The first time that Lufbery discovered that he was an American was when, on the outbreak of war he went to enlist with Pourpe. He was rejected on account of his nationality and returned to his native Bourges, to go with Pourpe as his mechanic.

Pourpe was killed soon afterward, and Lufbery swore to avenge him. He imported his superiors to allow him to train as a pilot and his request was finally granted. Lufbery got his pilot's certificate last year and was

STRAY RIFLE BULLET ENTERS MAN'S NECK

William Finlay, of Near Blenheim, Victim of Accident. [Special to The Advertiser.] BLENHEIM, Oct. 15.—William Finlay, who lives on the gravel road west, and who formerly lived in town, was shot in the neck Friday evening last.

Charles Cross by some men who were shooting at pigeons at a barn. He and a friend were walking across a field to look at some horses. His friend suddenly remarked when a slight buzz in the air was heard: "That sounds to me like a bullet passing." In a few seconds Finlay suddenly fell over, struck by a bullet, which had penetrated the neck. His friend hurriedly got him into a buggy, and Dr. Bryce Kendrick from town was called, and hastily ran to the scene of the accident. It was found that the bullet was from a .22 calibre rifle. The doctor had the wounded man sent to Chatham to have an X-ray photograph taken, to locate if possible the position of the bullet. It appears that neither the parties shooting by the barn nor the parties in the field were aware of the other's presence, and much sympathy is expressed both for the shooter and the victim.

$5,000 FOR BRITISH FUND GUELPH'S LIKELY GIFT

City Has Paid $36,000 to Patriotic Causes This Year. [Special to The Advertiser.] GUELPH, Oct. 15.—At the meeting of the city council on Monday evening the finance committee will recommend that a grant of $5,000 be made of the British Red Cross, and the acting mayor has issued an appeal to the citizens to supplement this by private subscriptions. The civic grant is already provided for in the estimates for the year, and the money is ready to be paid over.

Guelph this year has handled $36,000 of patriotic gifts by the council, and there have been no debentures issued. It has all been collected in this year's tax rate. There was opposition at first, but now that the ratepayers have paid it, they realize that the "pay-as-you-go" plan for such purposes has many advantages over the debenture plan,

Public Appeal Needed.

Sir Adam Beck outlined the work done by the sanatorium, and said there is no need of an appeal to the public, as the institution was practically self-sustaining.

DOWN WITH KINGS, GRY VENEZELISTS AS LEADER SPEAKS

Impressive Pro-Ally Demonstration at Saloniki Banquet.

NEW GREEK CABINET ACTS. ANTHEMS, Oct. 14.—Via London, Oct. 16.—The cabinet of Spyridon Limbroz has officially renewed to the Entente powers the proposals for Greece's entry into the war on the side of the Entente Allies, which were made by the cabinet of M. Kalogeropoulos, Sept. 15.

DEPUTIES' MEETING POSTPONED. ATHENS, Oct. 14, via London, Oct. 15.—King Constantine today signed a decree postponing for one month the meeting of the Greek Chamber of Deputies, which according to the constitution, was due to convene today.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—At a banquet last night, given by the committee of national defence in honor of the members of the provisional government, Eleutherios Venezelos made a striking speech, says Reuter's Saloniki correspondent. "The Greek people," said M. Venezelos, "have been led to the brink of a precipice by a conscientious monarch who has made common cause with the politicians of our decadent epoch. When this great war afforded us the opportunity of realizing our national ideals, our people were prevented from pursuing the path to their glory because of an alliance with hereditary enemies. King Constantine believes himself king by the grace of God. This conception is diametrically opposed to the mind of the nation, which admits of a regime of royalty but desires that the royalty shall be democratic. "Our people regard the king as the first servant of the state. They attribute to the king not the right to impose his personal will, but the duty to guard without respite the sovereignty of the people in order to prevent them suffering from prejudice. Our constitution leaves no doubt regarding this unquestionable sovereignty of the people. From the moment the constitution was violated in circumstances so critical, it became necessary that we convoked the assembly for national assembly, with the object of drawing up a new and inviolable constitution against future violations on the part of the monarchial class. "Today we all have accomplished our efforts for the purpose of organizing ourselves militarily without delay, to expel our hereditary enemy from our territory and to fulfill our duty as an ally toward a friendly people, whose heroism and ardent love for the fatherland and indomitable perseverance have won the admiration of the whole world. "M. Venezelos resumed his seat amid loud cries of "Long live Serbia!" "Down with cowards and traitors!" and "Down with the kings!"

GREEKS IN THE STATES FORM VENEZELOS PARTY

Subsidiary Fund of $2,000 and Demand That Country Join Allies in the War.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—With tremendous enthusiasm and prolonged cheers, followed by the singing of the National Anthem, the Venezelos party in America was formed yesterday afternoon at a meeting of more than 3,000 Greeks in the hall of the Pan-Hellenic Union at 56 West Thirtieth street. Greeks from all over the city and nearby cities attended the meeting. It was estimated that more than ten thousand flocked to the Union and those who could not get into the hall held overflow meetings on the sidewalk. All were insistent that the old Government of Greece had tried to betray their country and that Venezelos, with his provisional government, was destined to be its saviour. When the call for funds for the assistance of the Venezelos was sent out in the hall, more than $2,000 was subscribed in less than ten minutes. So great was the enthusiasm and so earnest were the patriots that a little backtalk who tried to get into the meeting from his stand gave $150. Resolutions were unanimously adopted, insisting on the immediate entry of Greece into the war on the side of the Allies.

FRENCH CAPTURE LINE OF GERMANS 2,000 YARDS LONG

Cut Into Enemy's New Position Near Peronne Railroad.

ALSO CAPTURE A VILLAGE Eleven Hundred Prisoners Are Taken During the Operations.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Two attacks made by the French yesterday south of the Somme River resulted in important gains. East of Belleu-en-Santerre, the new German first line on a front of more than 2,000 yards, close to the Chaulnes-Peronne railroad, was captured. Southwest of this the French gained possession of the village of Genesart and the surrounding area. Several counter-attacks made by the enemy in an attempt to regain these positions failed. The prisoners taken numbered 1,100, including nineteen officers. "British official reports issued today and last night record gains about Thierval and Guedecourt, the line being advanced slightly northeast of the latter village in a local operation this morning. The position was appreciably improved in the neighborhood of the Schwaben redoubt. North of the St. Pierre redoubt two lines of enemy communication trenches were cleared for a distance of nearly 200 yards. "The official British communication issued tonight was as follows: "As a result of a successful local operation this morning our lines advanced slightly northeast of Guedecourt. "The enemy artillery has been active between Les Bouteux and Courcelle, and also in the neighborhood of the Schwaben redoubt, and in the Ancre valley. The enemy exploded a mine at Courcelle this morning north of Neuve Chapelle. No damage was done. "Forty-seven additional prisoners, including two officers, were taken in the last night's operations. "The official report from British headquarters in France last night said: "In local attacks today south of the Ancre we improved appreciably our position in the neighborhood of Thierval and Guedecourt (Thiepval region), and have taken about 200 prisoners. Elsewhere there is nothing to report."

THE LITERATURE OF THE WAR.

THE LITERATURE of the war has already become one of the important sections on public library shelves the country over and is bound to be in increasing demand for a long time to come.

During the first year of the war there was a demand for the literature that explained the causes of the conflict, that justified the Allies and condemned their foes.

For the records of the Canadian soldiers there is little as yet other than the eyewitness report of Sir Max Aitken, a second volume of which is promised soon.

THE COMING SETTLEMENT. ONE OF THE WORST cases of racial oppression that need redress when the victory is won is the Magyar tyranny over their subject aliens.

It is perhaps a little early to look for the dramatic productions that will be born of this world stress. Perhaps no form of literature will so well delineate the conflicting emotions and passions that are at work today, and that have so profoundly affected the life and outlook of more than half the earth.

WHERE THE BLAME LIES. A GREAT DEAL, if not all, the blame for the failure of recruiting in Quebec, falls upon the Borden Government.

In the first place, the toleration of Henri Bourassa's anti-recruiting speeches is a horrible mistake. Bourassa should have been silenced and interned after his first utterance.

The wonder is that 24,000 French-Canadians are fighting, and fighting valiantly, the official dispatches of Sir Douglas Haig testify, with their English-speaking brothers.

pernicious influence of Bourassa removed and a hearty, non-political co-operation given Sir Wilfrid Laurier by the Nationalist cabinet members.

In the second place, the Government appointed a Methodist clergyman to administer recruiting in Roman Catholic Quebec. Figures standing high in the clergy, who were known to be heart and soul with the British cause, were ignored at a time when they could have brought thousands to the colors.

WHERE THEY SIT. WHEN A LIBERAL is confronted with assertions such as one made by the "purple-faced" Conservative press, that an alliance exists between Bourassa and Laurier, let the Liberal ask the accuser where Bourassa's Nationalists sit in the House of Commons.

THE CUPBOARD IS BARE.

ANOTHER EXAMPLE of the kind of journalism that has been carried on in this district for many years by the local Conservative Journal is found in an attempt to misrepresent the attitude of the recent Liberal gathering toward a speech made by Hon. George P. Graham.

The above statement was quoted from The Advertiser's report and was followed by three or four other sentences, in which Mr. Graham spoke of Hon. Messrs. Blondin, Nantel, etc.

Our Jumble Corner

"Job's Youngest Sister" sends hymn, "The Shift Behind the Door," for "Jim's Wife." That "scratching" is just all right, "Slater." Your occupation? It can't guess.
"Poor Little Me"—Soap coupons will come in very handy, indeed, to meet the demand. The flowers were very dainty and sweet. It is kind of you to think of me.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn. No letter can be answered privately.]

Wanted—A Boy.
Dear Miss Grey—"Young Stepmother" wanted to know what to do for a baby with a sore throat. If she will get a little boracic acid and put a little in some water and wash her mouth out four times a day, she will not have it long.
Does anybody know where we could get a little boy about 12 years of age to help on a farm?
Has anyone any Robin Hood oatmeal coupons they can spare? Would be glad to get as many as they can spare, as I would like to get a set of spoons.
A YOUNG FARMER'S WIFE.

Who Has It?
Dear Miss Grey—Here I am please send me the piece in which this line appeared: "When the boys of Miss Grey get there?" I want it very much and am sending a stamped address envelope. If you have it, please send it as soon as possible. If you have any other clips or humorous reading I would be very pleased to receive them soon.
POLLY ANNE

Ans.—I do not seem to find any trace of the poem among my clippings, but have likely overlooked it. Could anyone else supply it?
Your writing rather irregular and a bit hard to read.
Likes "Chuck's" Letters.
Dear Miss Grey—Here I am back again to bother you, but you must take the blame as you said I could come. Well you made a pretty good guess at my age, as I was twenty yesterday. If a "Lonely Glendale Girl" could get "Down Our Way," she'd get a lot of cute recitations from that. "Melinda's First Journey" is from the first chapter.
I love to read "Chuck's" letters and all the farmers' wives. I quite agree with them, although I love the khaki. I've got our brothers in France now and one at home.
Now one question: How do you make a flag cushion? I may have a few left over when I finish that I'll send to you.
Here is a nice recipe for buns: Butter, the size of an egg, a pinch of salt, 1/2 tablespoons baking powder, 1 cup flour; mix and add enough water to make a dough; bake in a hot oven.
Please may I come again? I've a lot more recitations. I'll copy when I've more time. Please let me know. I am, as ever, sincerely yours, 5TH GIRL.

Ans.—Who is the author of the book you recommend to "Glendale Girl"? It might help her obtain it. I've never made a flag cushion, so can give you little help. One shown at the Western Fair had narrow blue ribbon stitched on (by the machine) between the flags. I suppose they had first been basted in place on the cushion. A frill of white ribbon stitched near the edge completed the cushion.
Of course you may. I simply haven't the time to say "no" to your pathetic entreaty! Now smile.
Kitty's Been Busy.
Dear Miss Grey—I have been "most too busy" to write to the page lately, but I need a little advice, so here I am.
I have a hairbrush which is very rusty; it is almost new otherwise, and I would like to know how to clean it to look as new as possible. It was thoroughly greased with lard before being stored away, yet that didn't make it rust-proof.
What will remove peach stains from a white muslin dress?
I was glad to see you back again. "Snowdrop." I began to think you had melted away during our hot July days. The green side to make and jelly, but can't say as for the wine. If you make jelly from real ripe grapes, it will turn to sugar or can't just the same. Try mixing about one-third sugar with your grapes, and it makes a finer flavoured jelly, and besides, it will "jell" much easier.
I wonder if you know me "Blue Silk"? I haven't any idea who you might be. Don't you enjoy this lovely weather, Miss Grey, after the hot, dry summer? Best regards to all from Ans.—Brush your stove well first with a dry brush, then apply coal oil freely and let it dry. Buckets and pans as usual, and the stove should look quite respectable. A second or third polishing should restore it to its former glossy condition. Next year, in place of the lard, try an application of linseed oil (boiled).
Pour boiling water through the drain, then wash as usual. This, with bleaching, generally removes fruit stains.
Snowdrop will be pleased with your jelly-making. Yes, jelly, Octobly, weather is certainly delightful. Your artist soul must revel in the crimsons, scarlets and browns.
Likes Canada Too.
Dear Miss Grey—I have just noticed the letter from "Ambitious" and certainly agree with her. Success is a very nice county. I lived at Littlehampton and Working, but of course the places she mentions are familiar to me. I can't say I've been there some times and long for a sharp walk along the esplanade when the wind is blowing and the sea good and rough. Also there's a place at Winterville, Hampden shire, where there's the loveliest copse or woods, where in early spring the primroses fairly carpet the place and the perfume is grand. Then the cowslips come up, then the bluebells and cuckoo spits or wild orchids until the

ADVERTISER PATTERNS

1592—Dress or Apron With Bloomers for Girls.
This design will readily appeal to the busy mother who appreciates comfort and simplicity. The dress, which may serve as an apron, and the bloomers may be of the same material. The bloomers will take the place of petticoats. They are ideal for play and school wear, giving freedom of movement and fullness under the dress. For material, use gingham, serge or flannel could be used, Gingham, galatea, percale, repp, poplin, linen and flannelette are all appropriate materials for these two pieces of garments. The pattern comprises both, and is cut in five sizes—2, 4, 6, 8 and 10 years. It requires for a 6-year size 3 1/2 yards of 27-inch material, with 2 1/2 yards for the bloomers.
A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

ADVERTISER PATTERN DEPT.
Please send above-mentioned pattern, as per directions given below, to:
Name .....
Town .....
Province .....
Age (if child's or misses' pattern) ....
Measurement: Bust..... Waist.....

Caution: Be careful to inclose the above illustration, and send size of pattern, weight of material, and whether it is a measure you need only mark 22, 24 or whatever it may be. When in waist measure just the same, and let one have more of the hat just write it gently with a nice clean cloth. It is best also to brush the hat off well before starting to clean. My hat is now just as good as new and perfectly clean. This, I think, might apply in the case of a felt hat, but it would be best to put the hat in the sun afterwards to bleach.

Who Said Lemon Pie?
Dear Miss Grey—I am sending a recipe for lemon pie filling, which I learned at our W. C. I. cooking class. I think a great deal of it, and they say I'm home here that it is about the only thing I can cook good. I hope someone body likes it. I am in the second form of the Windsor Collegiate. Am I far enough advanced for my age?
If I were you I would not be able to stand to hear what some say about the soldiers and their wives. Well, here is a usual question. What do you think of my writing? Also, I weigh 125 pounds and am 5 feet 5. Am I very badly proportioned? I remain, A STUDENT.
Ans.—Will place the recipe in next issue of my writing. A CLEVER.
I cannot say about the proportion, as it largely depends on how the hundred plus is distributed.
Has Rosy Checks?
Dear Miss Grey—I have rosy cheeks lately, and am becoming quite blotchy. Could you give me some remedy to cure this?
2. Could you give me the name of some good face cream? Is it harmful to the skin if put on at night and washed off again in the morning?
3. I am nearly 16 years old and have a good voice. I am told. Do you think me too young to take vocal lessons?
I sign myself,
Ans.—1. The root of the trouble is probably impurities in the system. Clear the blood by means of a physician's prescription, keep the bodily organs in good working order, exercise freely in outdoor air, eat food not too rich or highly spiced, and you should have your rosy cheeks back once more, free from blemish.
2. There are many very good preparations, and by trying a few different brands, you can get one that suits your skin. Can do no harm if applied as you suggest.
3. Should think not, but a voice teacher could tell much better than I can.
Should Admire All.
Dear Miss Grey—in answer to "I Don't Know's" letter, I guess she was a Canadian girl. If she was any kind of a girl, she would not think Miss Grey, that she would only praise the 16th? She says the band plays beautifully. The band has nothing to do with the bravery or goodness of the soldier, neither do any of the boys' safe return. World was received of another boy's death from this town last Sunday. There have been good boys leave from all parts of Canada, so let

Has anyone a good recipe for sweet pickles and how to keep them green like the ones we get at the store?
Thanking you in advance, I remain one born in OCTOBER.
Ans.—"Snow Drop" will surely be pleased to note your recipe.
White felt is pretty difficult to deal with. You might try the method advised by this reader, who had good success in cleaning a Panama hat. "Somebody" told me to get a toothbrush and a bottle of peroxide, and just put a little in a saucer and dip the toothbrush in the peroxide and brush the hat well. Be sure the hat is on a flat surface with something white underneath. When you have gone over all the hat just wipe it gently with a nice clean cloth. It is best also to brush the hat off well before starting to clean. My hat is now just as good as new and perfectly clean. Golden Text—"I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision." Acts, xxvi, 19.
1. Verses 1-11—In what way is American, or British law, superior to old Roman law, in the matter of giving a prisoner a fair trial?
2. What is the advantage of freedom of speech and of the press in a free country?
3. Show wherein Paul manifests remarkable skill in his opening remarks.

TORONTO'S ONE BIG GAME Sportsmen Score First, But Junglers Roar and It's All Off.

TORONTO, Oct. 14.—The Hamilton Tigers demonstrated at Varsity Stadium this afternoon that they were the most interesting figures of all when they trimmed the Sportsmen's battalion 14-5, in the one and only senior rugby game of the season here.

Dutch Leonard as Ball Twirler Has Marvelous Record Red Sox Southpaw Achieves Pitcher's Ambition at Age of 24.

No other pitcher in the game is more absolutely unmitigated than "Dutch" Leonard of the Red Sox, when he is feeling right. He may not be the most dependable, but he is certainly the most brilliant performer of the renowned Red pining staff.

What were these three ambitions? First, to win a world's series. Last fall Grover Alexander entered the series as the greatest pitcher of the year. He humbled the Red Sox in their first encounter. He met them again in the third game, a contest whose importance it would be hard to overestimate.

BILL DONOVAN HAS GREAT CLUB FOR NEXT SEASON Without injuries or illness He Expects to Win Pennant in 1917.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Although the New York Yankees did not win a pennant this year, Bill Donovan, manager of the club, is confident and hopeful for the coming campaign. And, unlike most managerial cries of "next year" upon which to base his claims, Donovan is not a man who has been out for some reason or another.

There are no faster outfielders than Malsb, Gilbooley and Magee, although Donovan is thinking seriously of placing Malsb at second base next year. If he does he still has Hendrix and High, two first-footed fly chasers, to rely upon.

NEW HEROES BOB UP IN AMERICAN NATIONAL GAME Speaker, Chase and Coveleskie Replace Cobb, Wagner and Johnston in Fans' Affections.

The 1916 season produced many new baseball leaders. The hero lists now contain the names of Speaker, Chase and Coveleskie instead of Cobb, Wagner and Johnston, who formerly monopolized the individual honors.

Speaker finally managed to put Cobb from the top of the league's batting list, a proud position the Detroit leader held for nine years against all comers. Tris and Ty had a spirited batting battle that lasted all season.

AUSTRIA LONGS FOR PEACE, BUT CANNOT SEE IT

People Convinced Allies Must Make First Move.

BELIEVE WORST HAS COME

Think Somme Offensive and Rumania's Move Are Last Entente Trumps.

VIENNA, Sept. 21.—(Correspondence.)—With a keen longing for peace has come persistent speculation in the central states as to the manner in which this blessing may be secured. But all thought on the subject remains what it has been for nearly two years, the substance of the person's own wishes. Political and military circles today are as far from seeing a definite plan for the cessation of the war as they were when the catastrophe first overwhelmed Austria.

In Berlin and Vienna they continue setting their teeth when the word peace is mentioned, not because war is wanted, but because they are up to this moment the Entente governments have shown no inclination to enter a meeting on this ground. The Entente has not shown that it can ultimately realize its own hopes as the universal view held in Austria-Hungary and Germany and their allied countries.

Teutons Ready for Peace. The central governments, so much may be said, are ready today for a peace which would leave Europe very much as before the war, with the exception that Poland must be made an autonomous state, and that neither Belgium nor Serbia can again triumph, knowingly or purposely, the quick Europe.

There is here not the faintest indication that the Entente is inclined to enter negotiations on that basis. That being the case, the end of the war seems as far off as ever. In Vienna and Berlin, on the other hand, no peace can yet see why the central group should make concessions, since they claim to hold trumps everywhere by the occupation of enemy territories so large that the few advantages of this order of peace, there is much to be gained by the central group.

The Somme Offensive. As an ally of the Somme offensive has nearly passed, according to the people here, that the steel wall of the Germans in the west may be bent, but cannot be broken, while the troops in the east, have been able to resist the Russians in a splendid manner, numbers considered. The Italians, after making slight headway along the Isonzo, have again been obliged to take breath, while in the memory of the Austro-Hungarians still lingers the exultation due to the rapid advance in the eastern offensive.

It is evident that the Government and public are on the subject of peace. The privations of war have not been so severe as they are expected to be, compared with the great objective—that the war must not be lost.

Another Russian Campaign. There is nothing evident here that would support, at the moment, the opinion that Russia would be the first to make peace. Nevertheless, the country is thought of in this manner. Peace rumors always have Russia in mind. Possibly this is due to the belief that Russia is a far more the most vulnerable of the Entente powers. In military circles a further occupation of Rumanian territory, by means of another German offensive, is accepted as highly probable. Hindenburg's elevation to chief of the general staff of the German army has revived assertions that during the winter when the roads are frozen there will be another Russian campaign. Such are the scant justifications for the general impression that peace will come from the east.

EDITORIAL.

Many changes have been made at the Winter Garden which will add greatly to the comfort of its patrons during the coming winter months. The ladies' rest rooms and the gentlemen's smoking room have been refurnished, and their rooming will be appreciated. Nine beautiful sections across the rear of the large building, just back of the orchestra, with accommodation for one hundred people, is an addition that surely will become very popular. Each section will hold several people. Through the centre is a long lounge-table, and with the high backs of the seats, makes a section that we all sometimes enjoy. The sections are all numbered, and can be secured free of charge for parties of ten or more people. Reservation can be made by calling 4669 or 1287.

Their feet are in the forming period and careless fitting will result in ill-formed feet. Nature gives the average child a perfect foot. Growing feet should be carefully fitted. This cannot be done by buying children's shoes haphazard. Our salesmen know this, and are as careful when fitting the child as with its parents.

NATIVE CANADIAN DRAMATISTS' PLAYS COMING TO FORE

Now Being Featured in Theatricals of Continent.

MANY SCORE TRIUMPHS
Successful Plays From Pens of Sons of Dominion Are Numerous.

Hector Charlesworth, well known in London as a judge of local theatrical productions in the contest for the Earl Grey Medal, and as a dramatic editor of the Toronto Saturday Night, writes to the Advertiser as follows:

It is a matter for congratulation among playgoers that the Canadian dramatist is beginning to play a part in the theatricals of this continent, that every day becomes more important. The success which the brilliant comedians, Alton Brown and his associates, in The Black Feather, which is from the pen of the oldest of Canadian dramatists, W. A. Tremayne of Montreal, this drama which will be seen at the Grand Opera House, London, on Thursday, October 19, is one of a number of pieces of Canadian origin which have enjoyed popularity. For instance, Mr. Lazarus, which is now running in New York, is from the pen of Harvey J. O'Higgins, a native of London, and who has written several previous successes, including the notable crook plays, The Dummy and The Argyle Case. Yet another Canadian whose plays have enjoyed a very considerable measure of popularity, is James P. O'Neil, a native of Oxford County, Ontario, and the author of such amusing topical comedies as The Chorus Lady, The Travelling Salesman and The Comedy. The late Acton Lewis, who was a native of the eastern townships of Quebec, in his later years had a hand as joint author in two or three meritorious pieces. It is generally known that Edgar Selwyn, the author of Rolling Stones is a native of Toronto, and he has written, at least, one purely Canadian play, Pierre of the Plains, founded on the stories of Sir Gilbert Parker, in which Elsie Ferguson scored her earliest success. The Right of Way is another of Sir Gilbert's stories that has been dramatized. The latest piece that we may claim as Canadian is Jeff, founded on Professor Leacock's Sunshine Sketches in which Cyril Maude is starring.

When it comes to solid achievement, however, the palm must go to the Montreal dramatist, Mr. Tremayne. His successes date back over twenty years, when he wrote the one-act piece, The Notary, for the late Felix Morris. In 1905 he wrote Lost Twenty-Four Hours, a delightful farce in which Robert Hilliard starred for two seasons. The older critics have not forgotten his very clever romantic play, A Secret Warrant, founded on the Mississippi bubble, and which has been dramatized. The latest piece that we may claim as Canadian is Jeff, founded on Professor Leacock's Sunshine Sketches in which Cyril Maude is starring.

Dr. Tucker Thinks Canadian Church Compares Favorably With United States.

His Lordship the Bishop of Huron arrived home yesterday from St. Louis, where, with the Archbishop of Algoma and Rev. Dr. Tucker of St. Paul's Cathedral, he represented the Church of England in Canada at the triennial meeting of the General Synod of the American Episcopal Church, carrying to the great ecclesiastical gathering the greetings of the General Synod of the church in Canada.

"It was a great gathering," Bishop Williams said to The Advertiser, when interviewed almost immediately after reaching home. "There were perhaps 600 in attendance, the Archbishop of Algoma, Dr. Tucker and myself being the only commissioners who went from Canada.

"The meeting which continues three weeks, was only in its beginning when we were there. Dr. Tuttle, the bishop of Missouri, is presiding and in connection with this it is especially interesting that this is the thirtieth anniversary of his consecration.

In the agenda much prominence is given to the problems of missions and social service. The church in the United States has given much attention to social service.

"My address? Well, it was, of course, a message of greeting from the General Synod, and in this connection I dwelt upon the influence of the gospel on all aspects of national life."

Dr. Tucker, who came away somewhat earlier than the Bishop of Huron, looking back upon his visit to St. Louis, says:

"I have come from this meeting of the American General Synod more than ever impressed with the importance, not only of seeing pace in our mission work with immigration in Canada, but keeping even ahead of the settlers. In the early days, in the central western states, the settlers came in years before the church established itself. The consequence of letting slip opportunity in the western states is a lesson to us in Canada. We must not repeat the mistake here."

"I was particularly impressed with the splendid organization of the meeting, which was held in the Moolah Hall, a Free Mason building. It was, of course, a larger gathering than the General Synod in Canada. There were 120 bishops alone, besides 600 delegates. The hall was divided into sections, each diocese having a section of its own, distinctly marked by a banner.

"In this way it was possible to know exactly which state and diocese a speaker from the floor of the house belonged. The Episcopal Church in the United States is larger and richer than our church in Canada, but apart from that we compare most favorably. For example, we compare very favorably in the ability of our men, and it seems to me we have more of the laity in our church.

"The organization, too, of our Canadian church, is particularly efficient. In regard to the work of the church, in which I spoke of the contribution of the Canadian church, the missionary society, the Sunday school committee, the committee on social service, the provincial and general synods, the prayer-book. Our church in Canada, as far as organization is concerned, is one of the best in the world. Concerning efficiency, I referred in the second place to earnest spirit, and in the third place to the contribution of the laity in our church. Why not glorify it day by day for Him who gave it."

Further in regard to prayer, the mothers' union were urged to train their children in the habit of morning prayer, the act of gratitude to God for His care and protection through the night.

Suffering, a Blessing.
Suffering as a means of sanctification was touched upon. "There is no medium which brings us into closer relation with God," said the speaker, "than suffering and pain well taken." "Attention was next turned to the Holy Mass as a means of overcoming temptation and attaining a life of sanctification.

"You get the whole treasure of God in the mass," said Father O'Reilly, "in the mass you are God in the fullness of your hearts. The mass is a greater means of atonement than any other. You might give, or many acts of self-sacrifice, it is the pouring out of the heart in contrition and gratitude to God, the means appointed by Christ Himself.

"But, when you cross the threshold of God's house, you must leave out side every thought that is not of God. How can you get to your hearts if they are filled with thoughts of the people who are around, perhaps of your clothes and of your hats? If you come, emptied of all thoughts but those of God, then, and then only, will you go out entirely refreshed in spirit."

In conclusion, the sacraments were named as the means provided for keeping the spirit free from the infection of carnalism in confession and in the Holy Communion.

"Only those who are going spiritual and not carnal women can you be sisters of the Blessed Lady, who is the pride and glory of our church," was the conclusion.

TO CANVASS INGERSOLL FOR "A DAY'S PAY"

This Will Supplement 1-Mill Grant to British Fund.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
INGERSOLL, Oct. 15.—Organization has been completed for a vigorous campaign Thursday, October 19, for funds for the British Red Cross. At a meeting of citizens a resolution was unanimously passed asking the council to grant one mill on the dollar towards the fund. It has also been decided to supplement this by "a day's pay" campaign. A systematic canvass will be made of the town, and citizens asked to contribute a day's pay, as it applies in individual cases to the money they would make in a day. This was the highly successful.

The following were appointed members of a central or executive committee: C. C. L. Wilson, R. J. Robertson, W. C. Johnston, R. B. Hutt, G. C. Ellis, A. T. Lowe and W. J. Elliott. The details of the campaign will be arranged by this committee. At a meeting of the committee, R. B. Hutt was appointed chairman, R. J. Robertson, treasurer, and W. G. Johnston, secretary. Canvassers have been appointed for the six polling sub-divisions.

GIVEN A WATCH FOB

Employees of Peters' Store Honor George Chittenden.

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mrs. Sheriff, 510 Hamilton road, as a farewell to George Chittenden, who was presented by the employees of Peters' Dundas street store with a handsome watch fob. The presentation was made by Miss E. Menzie. The gowns worn by the ladies were dainty and pretty. Mrs. Kerr was a favorite, giving several of her well-known Scottish songs. The evening was spent in card-playing, dancing and music. The party ended in the singing of the morning with the single words of "He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

DECLARES EMOTION IS "BACKBONE" OF SUNDAY'S RELIGION

Says Christ Never Died on the Cross Nor Ascended to Heaven.

"The backbone of the Billy Sunday type of religion is emotion. The converts are swayed by illusions and superstition," declared John Easton at the inaugural meeting of the People's Forum, formerly the Radical Club, Sunday night, speaking on "Miracles and Magic."

"There were no contradictions of natural laws, he asserted, although we were always ready to attribute the inexplicable to them or to supernatural causes. "The human body is never completely conscious in all its parts at any time, and it is never completely unconscious. We cannot distinguish between the time when we are conscious and the time when we are in a dream state, and it is to this we can attribute the majority of miracles and the most of so-called magic," said he.

The Mango Trick.
The Hindu mango trick, in which the fakir causes a mango tree to grow from a seed to maturity before the spectators' eyes, and gives them the mangoes, was declared to be merely an illusion. Photographs taken from the same place as the spectators stood would disprove the miracle. The brain was not a perfect thinking machine, and it is to this we can attribute the majority of miracles and the most of so-called magic," said he.

THREE METHODS TO AVOID TEMPTATION TOLD BY MISSIONER

Daily Average of 1,100 Attend Meetings at St. Peter's.

Bringing to a close a week's successful mission for women in St. Peter's parish yesterday afternoon in St. Peter's Cathedral, Father O'Reilly of Toronto expressed the grateful appreciation of himself and fellow-missioner, Father McLaughlin, for the faithful attendance and earnest attention on the part of the women of the parish at all the meetings of the week. In this connection he made the appeal, "If you feel any gratitude for anything we may have been able to do to help you, will you manifest it by offering up prayers for a lasting and on mission for men during the coming week?"

It was an impressive service which brought the week's mission to a close, by an illusion. Photographs taken from the same place as the spectators stood would disprove the miracle. The brain was not a perfect thinking machine, and it is to this we can attribute the majority of miracles and the most of so-called magic," said he.

The brain was not a perfect thinking machine, and it is to this we can attribute the majority of miracles and the most of so-called magic," said he.

As representatives of the General Synod of the Canadian church, it was our mission to convey greetings, not to speak on any set subject.

"The meeting which continues three weeks, was only in its beginning when we were there. Dr. Tuttle, the bishop of Missouri, is presiding and in connection with this it is especially interesting that this is the thirtieth anniversary of his consecration.

In the agenda much prominence is given to the problems of missions and social service. The church in the United States has given much attention to social service.

"My address? Well, it was, of course, a message of greeting from the General Synod, and in this connection I dwelt upon the influence of the gospel on all aspects of national life."

Dr. Tucker, who came away somewhat earlier than the Bishop of Huron, looking back upon his visit to St. Louis, says:

"I have come from this meeting of the American General Synod more than ever impressed with the importance, not only of seeing pace in our mission work with immigration in Canada, but keeping even ahead of the settlers. In the early days, in the central western states, the settlers came in years before the church established itself. The consequence of letting slip opportunity in the western states is a lesson to us in Canada. We must not repeat the mistake here."

"I was particularly impressed with the splendid organization of the meeting, which was held in the Moolah Hall, a Free Mason building. It was, of course, a larger gathering than the General Synod in Canada. There were 120 bishops alone, besides 600 delegates. The hall was divided into sections, each diocese having a section of its own, distinctly marked by a banner.

"In this way it was possible to know exactly which state and diocese a speaker from the floor of the house belonged. The Episcopal Church in the United States is larger and richer than our church in Canada, but apart from that we compare most favorably. For example, we compare very favorably in the ability of our men, and it seems to me we have more of the laity in our church.

"The organization, too, of our Canadian church, is particularly efficient. In regard to the work of the church, in which I spoke of the contribution of the Canadian church, the missionary society, the Sunday school committee, the committee on social service, the provincial and general synods, the prayer-book. Our church in Canada, as far as organization is concerned, is one of the best in the world. Concerning efficiency, I referred in the second place to earnest spirit, and in the third place to the contribution of the laity in our church. Why not glorify it day by day for Him who gave it."

Further in regard to prayer, the mothers' union were urged to train their children in the habit of morning prayer, the act of gratitude to God for His care and protection through the night.

Suffering, a Blessing.
Suffering as a means of sanctification was touched upon. "There is no medium which brings us into closer relation with God," said the speaker, "than suffering and pain well taken." "Attention was next turned to the Holy Mass as a means of overcoming temptation and attaining a life of sanctification.

"You get the whole treasure of God in the mass," said Father O'Reilly, "in the mass you are God in the fullness of your hearts. The mass is a greater means of atonement than any other. You might give, or many acts of self-sacrifice, it is the pouring out of the heart in contrition and gratitude to God, the means appointed by Christ Himself.

"But, when you cross the threshold of God's house, you must leave out side every thought that is not of God. How can you get to your hearts if they are filled with thoughts of the people who are around, perhaps of your clothes and of your hats? If you come, emptied of all thoughts but those of God, then, and then only, will you go out entirely refreshed in spirit."

In conclusion, the sacraments were named as the means provided for keeping the spirit free from the infection of carnalism in confession and in the Holy Communion.

"Only those who are going spiritual and not carnal women can you be sisters of the Blessed Lady, who is the pride and glory of our church," was the conclusion.

DECLARES EMOTION IS "BACKBONE" OF SUNDAY'S RELIGION

Says Christ Never Died on the Cross Nor Ascended to Heaven.

"The backbone of the Billy Sunday type of religion is emotion. The converts are swayed by illusions and superstition," declared John Easton at the inaugural meeting of the People's Forum, formerly the Radical Club, Sunday night, speaking on "Miracles and Magic."

"There were no contradictions of natural laws, he asserted, although we were always ready to attribute the inexplicable to them or to supernatural causes. "The human body is never completely conscious in all its parts at any time, and it is never completely unconscious. We cannot distinguish between the time when we are conscious and the time when we are in a dream state, and it is to this we can attribute the majority of miracles and the most of so-called magic," said he.

The Mango Trick.
The Hindu mango trick, in which the fakir causes a mango tree to grow from a seed to maturity before the spectators' eyes, and gives them the mangoes, was declared to be merely an illusion. Photographs taken from the same place as the spectators stood would disprove the miracle. The brain was not a perfect thinking machine, and it is to this we can attribute the majority of miracles and the most of so-called magic," said he.

EARNED ABOUT 25 PER CENT ON COMMON STOCK

Ogilvie Flour Mills Company, Limited, Have Another Profitable Year.

The fifteenth annual statement of the Ogilvie Flour Mills Company, Limited, for the fiscal year ended August 31, 1916, has been presented at an annual meeting held in Montreal Thursday, Oct. 12, shows that this company has had another very successful year, and that it is in an exceptionally strong position.

After providing for two years' war tax and paying its bond interest, the company has shown an increase of representing about 25 per cent on common stock. From this sum has been deducted dividends for the year, leaving the substantial amount of $234,742 to be added to surplus and carried forward into the new year.

In the address to the shareholders made by Mr. W. A. Black, the vice-president of the company, he is interesting to note that he called particular attention to the fact that not only was the company more fortunate than usual in the purchases of raw material, but that it profited largely by its interests in business other than the actual milling of flour, also that interest in the purchases of raw material has been steadily decreasing. The growing capital which has been accumulating for years past out of surplus earnings.

The Ogilvie Company own and operate a system of country elevators throughout the Northwest of 158 houses with a storage capacity of 5,235,000 bushels, together with their 15 elevators give a total wheat capacity of 10,235,000 bushels, and it is quite evident that these country elevators in conjunction with the big modern terminal elevator at Fort William have proved valuable adjuncts to the company's business, and have added considerably to its earnings, as also has been the case with its cereal mills at Winnipeg and Montreal.

It is interesting to note the further growth in the company's financial position as indicated by the fact that investments have been increased this year to $53,904 as compared with $24,025 a year ago, and that the ratio of active assets over current liabilities (which include the provision for two years' war tax), now stands at $2,440,016 as compared with $2,399,000 a year ago.

The continued growth and prosperity of the Ogilvie Company, which is the oldest and largest of the milling companies in Canada, is a very good evidence of the growth and expansion, not only of the milling industry itself, which is so vital to the development of the country, but also of the soundness and stability of the country's financial and commercial interests generally at the present time.

Every effort should be made to further the expansion of the milling industry in order that the country may reap the benefit of the manufacture of its raw material and further increase its foreign trade balances by the exportation of a finished article, which is naturally of greater value than the raw material.

HEAVY IMPORTATION OF LIQUORS FROM QUEBEC

Notwithstanding the large stocks of booze stored away prior to September 15, when the province went "dry," the express and freight companies report a large volume of shipments of liquors from the province of Quebec.

The amount is not as large yet as it is expected it will be later, when the stocks now on hand are depleted.

According to the express companies, the shipments, all in small quantities, have been from Montreal and Hull liquor dealers, and none yet has been noticed as shipped under any local branch agencies that may have been established in Quebec by local dealers. Orders given locally, it is believed, have been sent direct to the Montreal liquor houses. The cases are well packed, and plainly labeled, but the goods do not lie long at the office. They are delivered at once, or called for quickly.

The Ahmcke Chapter, I.O.D.E., Goderich, $5. MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR HAMILTON ROAD SOLDIERS

Rev. Dr. McCrae Pays Tribute to Two "Union" Exemplified.

In the Hamilton Road Presbyterian Church Sunday evening a touching memorial service was held for two members of the congregation, Ptes. Coleman and Warwick, who have given their lives for King and country during the last few weeks.

Rev. Dr. McCrae, the minister, conducted the service, in the course of which he made feeling reference to the two young soldiers who have made the supreme sacrifice. The Hamilton Road Church has between 50 and 60 names on its honor roll.

In the morning in the Hamilton Road Church the quarterly communion service was held, when there were received into full membership of the church by letter representatives from several other denominations, Baptist, Methodist, Anglican, and Evangelical Lutheran. Commenting upon this, Dr. McCrae expressed his thankfulness that the Presbyterian Church is broad enough to take into its membership all "who love the Lord Jesus Christ, and are followers of him."
