With Capital of $25,000,000; Deposits of $150,000,000.

LARGE BONUSES FOR CLERKS

The Retiring President To Be Given An Allowance of $250,000—The Directorate.

New York, Aug. 10.—With an unprecedented capital of $25,000,000, the merger of the National Bank of Commerce and Western National Bank has been consummated by J. Pierpont Morgan.

The consolidated bank, which will retain the name of the National Bank of Commerce, will have a surplus of $10,000,000.

In addition to this the shareholders of the National Bank of Commerce will receive a special equalization dividend of more than 50 per cent., which will mean a disbursement of over $5,000,000.

This consolidation will make the strongest bank in the United States, eclipsing the National City Bank, which now leads.

Joseph C. Hendrick will retire as president of the National Bank of Commerce, and will be succeeded by Valentine F. Snyder, now president of the Western National.

The directorate of the new bank will represent many of the largest financial interests of the country. It will comprise forty-eight members, and besides Mr. Morgan, will include Richard A. McCurdy, vice-president of the Mutual Life Insurance Company.

Dr. Bell's work has been almost altogether with kites, and his great success now makes him confident of the solution of the airship question.

EXPLORING THE BLUE NILE

Explorer McMillan Says He Will Have Another Try.

Paris, Aug. 10.—A despatch to the Temps from Jibuti, a French port on the Gulf of Aden, announces the arrival there from Adis Abeba, the capital of Abyssinia, of W. N. McMillan, of St. Louis, who recently failed in his attempt to explore the course of the Blue Nile, owing to his punts being wrecked on the rocks in the river.

McMillan declared that he would begin again in six months the study of the navigability of the Blue Nile. He proceeded to Aden from Jibuti.

Commander-in-Chief of British Army Objects to Them.

London, Aug. 10.—A correspondent wrote to Lord Roberts asking him if he did not think it would be possible to utilize Sundays for the purpose of drilling volunteers.

It was pointed out that most metropolitan installations could be made much before 5.30 p.m. on a Saturday afternoon, and by the time they had reached a suitable ground there was only time for a short drill.

Lord Roberts replied that, whilst he quite realized the difficulty which sometimes is experienced by London volunteers in getting their drills in on Saturday afternoon, he fears it is neither practicable nor desirable that a system of Sunday parades for drill purposes should be established.

REIGN OF TERROR IN PEKIN CITY

Wholesale Arrest of Chinese Reformers by Authorities.

MANY EXECUTIONS EXPECTED

The Foreigners Greatly Incensed at the Atrocious Murder of Shen Chien.

Pekin, Aug. 8.—Five reformers were arrested in Pekin Thursday, one being the brother of the Viceroy of Wu Chang.

It is understood here that the editor and staff of the Chinese reform news-paper Sui-pao, published at Shanghai, against whom warrants of arrest have been issued, are being held in custody.

There is an intense feeling among foreigners in China over the Emperor Dowager's atrocious murder of Shen Chien.

It is now discovered that 40 Chiamen in Pekin are being used by the censor of advocating reform and are subject to immediate arrest and in danger of summary execution.

The Chinese regard the action of the powers in the release of the Shanghai reformers as a repudiation of their claims of sympathy with Chinese reform, saying that nothing will save the reformers from the gallows.

CANADA'S TRADE WITH BRITAIN

July Statistics Show a Good Increase—70,000 Immigrants in Seven Months.

London, Aug. 10.—The board of trade emigration returns show a very satisfactory Canadian increase of trade during the month of July, namely, a total of $10,517, or an increase of 46 per cent. Canada secured 28 per cent of the total number of emigrants, as compared with 21 per cent last year. Emigration to the United States totaled 20,540, compared with 18,227 the previous year. Canada's total immigration for the past seven months is 70,943, compared with 41,243 for the corresponding time last year, or 26 per cent of the total immigration to America compared with 20 per cent the previous year. Those coming to Canada, 5,523 were English, 1,232 Scotch, 216 Irish and 2,355 were foreigners. The totals to other countries were: Australia and New Zealand, 1,199; Africa, 4,381; United States, 20,540. Following are the statistics of the Canadian imports and exports during July: Cattle, 26,777 cwts., 4,471,654; sheep and lambs, 12,357 cwts., 1,990,950; bacon, 78,183 cwts., 2,202,592; hams, 37,849 cwts., 1,020,632; butter, 22,639 cwts., 1,110,695; cheese, 302,881 cwts., 1,722,785; horses, 45, 1,173.

DEATH FOR BRIBERS

Ohio Democrats Want Radical Measure Adopted.

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 10.—The Democrats of Lawrence county have gone on record as favoring the death penalty for politicians who give or take bribes. In the resolutions adopted at their regular county convention, they say: "The vile practice of hoodluming, so-called first by stealth, has become an open shame to our citizenship and so permeated the ranks of the voters that a decent man shudders at the prospect of being a candidate for office. Recognizing as we do that ours is a self-government, and has for its foundation the intelligence and virtue of the people, and, as patriotic citizens, we demand of the Legislature enactment of a law that will punish by death the person who gives or accepts a bribe, and that will prevent our voting places from being, on election days, hotbeds of treason and corruption."

TROUBLE FOR RUSSIA

Strike Movement But One Phase of the Question.

London, Aug. 10.—Those who know Russia best are extremely uneasy at the tenor of the news reaching us from South and Southwestern Russia. The strike movement is at its height, and the efforts of workmen to secure by their organizations a better position in the results of their labor are being repressed by the authorities with a severity as hitherto unknown. Socialism, strikers and the Jewish agitation are all closely intertwined. To the Russian agitator, the three heads of the Hydra which menace the established order with revolution and ruin. The Zionist agitation announced yesterday is probably prompted by a desire that the Zionists should merely be a cover for the campaign of revolutionary socialism. No sooner does the alarm about a possible outbreak of war between Russia and Japan die down in the far east than in the near east signs of trouble are hoisted again in the shape of dynamite explosions, Turkish notes and Bulgarian agitation. Turkey have definitely refused to reduce their garrison in Macedonia, and among the Macedonians there is a general feeling that when the harvest is gathered, the Bulgarian army will be mobilized and war will be in sight.

A WEIRD STORY

Awoke in Her Tomb and Lived Many Years.

London, Aug. 10.—There is a weird story told of Mount Edgumbe, Plymouth, where the Prince and Princess of Wales have been staying. The guests of the Earl of Mount-Edgumbe, the greatest nobleman of Cornwall. Toward the end of the eighteenth century the then Lady Mount-Edgumbe died (as it was thought) after a short illness, and was buried in the family vault. It was known that she had been buried with a ring of great value on one of her fingers. On the night of the funeral the sexton descended into the vault and opened the coffin. He found the ring firmly fixed, and while he was endeavoring to force it off the finger the supposed corpse sat up in the coffin. Lady Mount-Edgumbe had been in a trance. The sexton rushed out in a panic, leaving vault and church both open. Lady Mount-Edgumbe walked to the house in her shroud, and was met on the terrace by her husband. She fainted, and on reviving found herself in bed in her ordinary sleeping attire. The truth was never revealed to her, and to the end of her life she believed that she had merely suffered from an unusually horrible nightmare. Mount-Edgumbe is one of the show places of the "delectable duchy," its situation, overlooking the channel, and the highly cultivated grounds being of surpassing beauty. Royalty is often entertained there, and on these occasions certain of the earl's retainers, dressed in quaint uniforms of scarlet, man an ancient state barge, which is towed at the disposal of the guests for river and channel excursions.

BE THERE A WILL, WISDOM POINTS THE WAY.

The sick man pines for relief, but he dislikes the usual doctor, which means bottles of drugs never consumed. He has not the resolution to load his stomach with compounds which smell villainously, and taste worse. But if he have the will to deal himself with his ailments, wisdom will direct his attention to Farnese's Vegetable Pills, which, as a specific for indigestion and disorders of the digestive organs, have no equal.

WASHINGTON'S STATUE A JOKE

Suggestion That It Be Placed in Westminster Abbey is a Jest of Choate's.

London, Aug. 10.—The Times' Ottawa correspondent on Thursday called to the effect that the indignant inhabitants of the Province of Ontario were signing a petition to the authorities of Westminster Abbey protesting against the proposal to erect a monument to George Washington in Great Britain's historic edifice. The petitioners declare that it would be regarded as a condemnation of the Canadian sentiment of loyalty to Great Britain, for the loyalists suffered so much from the war, and the claims of Wolfe, Macdonald and others as more deserving of a place in the abbey. The Times attempts to smooth the irate petitioners, pointing out that there is no such proposal, and that Mr. Choate's suggestion is a jest. Mr. Choate's speech, in his Fourth of July speech, merely expressed the hope that some day there would be a statue of Washington in the city of London and a statue of Queen Victoria in Washington. The Saturday Review, in a characteristic paragraph, says: "The Canadians made the mistake of taking Mr. Choate seriously. None who know him and his unflinching sense of the fitness of things, could conceive him guilty of a jest, though one must admit that at best this is not a felicitous jest. A statue of Washington here! We might just as well put up one to the Cape rebels we have just disfranchised, or to the Irish boys of '88." The Saturday Review continues: "That suggestion in the letter would be more justifiable for the Irish certainly had infinitely more just grounds for rebellion than the Yankees. The British in South Africa were a different race, and owned the country before the British, who, with the mercenary people of our own blood, owed their country solely to us."

KING PETER'S TROUBLES

Servia's Monarch Terrorized by His Entourage.

Cologne, Aug. 10.—King Peter of Servia is being openly terrorized by his entourage, according to the Belgrade advices of the Cologne Gazette. Most of the present court officials who actually participated in or were privy to the murder of King Alexander and Queen Draga, says the correspondent, appear to have strongly objected to the appointment of Col. Leschjanin, the Serbian attaché at Constantinople, to the post of court marshal. The Official Gazette yesterday contained a second issue appeared from which Leschjanin's name was eliminated. Leschjanin is a being of a high order of intelligence, and was court marshal until the late King Alexander's marriage.

THE KAISER'S AMBITION

He Wants Services To Christianity Recognized.

Berlin, Aug. 10.—Germany—like the rest of the world—awaited news from Rome, and canvassed the chances of the different candidates for the papacy, the Kaiser's deep interest in that question was recalled by the appearance in shop windows and in the illustrated papers of a new and striking photograph of the Emperor and Empress taken together. The new picture shows the Kaiser every inch a born "protector of the faith"—the title he so covets at the hands of the new Pope. He is in military uniform, with eagle-mounted helmet, and while he looks older than in pictures made even last year, his frame appears more massive, his face broader and his expression more amiable and yet more majestic. Americans probably do not realize how keenly the Kaiser desires from Rome recognition of his services to Christianity. Almost from the day of his accession he has labored and planned to this end. Bismarck's account, for Bismarck still in power would have found ample opportunity of directing ridicule upon "that young man," as he called his sovereign when their relations grew strained. Catholic Saxony, in remembrance of many imperial benefits, is bringing to bear all the influence of its church dignitaries in the direction of the Kaiser's wishes. The pilgrimage to Palestine and the cordiality of the late meeting between the Emperor and Pope Leo's XII. are features of the Emperor's crusade for Catholic honors which are mainly relied on to influence the new Pope. Both the Emperor and Empress—as is the impression conveyed by the new photograph—are now enjoying rugged health. They are in the prime of their years and of physical and mental powers. During the last year the Kaiser has successfully schooled himself against that over-enthusiasm for Christ of all kinds in his daily routine, which was rapidly painting lines in his face. He has taken a broader view of himself and his position, and has found it not beneath his imperial dignity to seek various kinds of relaxation. The improvement is manifest. William II. is developing into a staunch and steady ruler of the old German type, to which, however, he adds qualities of knowledge of men and things and a diversity of practical attainments wholly absent in his predecessors, and which promise to keep him for at least another decade in the front rank of the world's great and progressive men of his time.

BAYLEY'S FATALITY AT BASEBALL GAME

Fall of the Bleachers Results in Two Deaths

AT PHILADELPHIA BALL PARK

Six Others Are Dying from Their Injuries—Three Thousand in an Awful Panic.

Philadelphia, Aug. 10.—Two persons are dead, at least six fatally injured and fully 120 others hurt, some seriously, in an accident that occurred at the Philadelphia National Baseball Park Saturday afternoon, when a walk which overhung the left field bleachers fell to the street, carrying more than 200 spectators. Two games were scheduled between Boston and Philadelphia this afternoon, and the attraction drew over 10,000 persons to the ball park. The accident occurred at 5:40 o'clock, while the Boston team was at bat in its fourth of the fourth inning of the second game, and was indirectly due to the quality of the work of the ball game stands are built of steel and brick, the brick wall extending entirely around the grounds. At the top of the left field seats and extending from the grand stand to the end of the bleachers fell to the street, carrying more than 200 spectators. Men who were standing on the walk were attracted by a disturbance in the street. They leaned over the side of the railing to see what was going on, and this drew the attention of other spectators sitting on the top rows of the bleachers. Then occurred what is seen almost daily at ball games—a rush to see what the other spectators were looking at. The walk became over-crowded, and the spectators were warning 200 feet of it fell to the sidewalk, 20 feet below, carrying all who were on it. They were probably 3,000 persons sitting in the left field bleachers, and the roar made by the falling timber created a panic. Instantly the spectators rose on their feet and rushed down the stand and into the playing field. It was one great black wave of humanity, men and boys climbing over one another in their effort to escape from the grounds. Not knowing what had occurred, the ball players and others tried to stop the mad rush, but they were swept aside in their unsuccessful efforts, and several persons were killed in the crush. Outside the grounds the scene was one of horror. For an entire block on Fifteenth street, from Huntington street to Lehigh avenue, men and boys were lying writhing in agony. Some were buried under the wreckage, others were lying in the gutter and some were stretched out in Fifteenth street on the car tracks. Some lay unconscious, others were rolling over, suffering great pain, and others attempted to get up and walk, only to fall again. The 10,000 persons within the grounds left the place and crowded about the injured, of whom there were more than a hundred. Indescribable confusion reigned for a time because of the great crowd. Fortunately there were at the game several city officials. As soon as they saw what had occurred they telephoned to the city hall and a general ambulance call was sent out. More than half of the injured were on the way to hospitals when police patrol wagons and hospital ambulances began to arrive. As quickly as one arrived it was loaded and sent away. After all the injured had been taken from the street, the private houses were searched and all victims were taken out and carried away. At the hospitals, especially the Samaritan, St. Luke's and St. Joseph's, confusion reigned for a while. There was not room enough or attendants enough to look after the patients. They were laid out in the hallways, on the floors of the wards, in the apothecary rooms and in several instances patients gave up half their beds to injured men or boys. The resident physicians sent out in hurry calls for doctors, and the most serious cases were taken first. Outside persons in the neighborhood of the hospitals, most of them women, were also called in to render what assistance possible. While the hospital attendants were looking after the injured, clergymen were soothing the agonies of the victims. Roman Catholic priests were called and gave absolution to the dying, and others administered the last sacrament when they were despaired of. It is estimated that fully 100 persons were injured who went direct to their homes.

A WARM DEBATE OVER AUTO CARS

The British House of Commons Regulates the Speed for Motors.

London, Aug. 10.—After a debate lasting several hours the bill regulating the use of motor cars on public roads was passed through the committee of the whole at 2:30 o'clock Saturday morning. The House was keenly, evenly, bitterly divided on the subject, and the bill was considerably amended after it was received from the House of Lords, where it originated. As now amended it provides for a maximum speed of 20 miles an hour on open roads, and 10 miles in towns. Drivers must be licensed, and cars must be registered. Imprisonment is provided for driving to the public danger, and a fine is provided for not stopping in case of accident. Mr. Long, who had charge of the bill in the House of Commons, works to establish a test to determine the efficiency of drivers, leaving the decision to the House of Lords. The bill will now have to be returned to the House of Lords for consideration of the amendments. A feature of the discussion was the impatient contempt on the part of the House of Commons for the attitude of what they regarded as the old-fashioned conservatism of those insisting on the retention of the present law. There was much heat on both sides, and the angry exaggereations of the opponents made amusing reading. The House of Commons, on the other hand, was full of indignation at the attitude of their opponents to that of the Chinese towards the great railway in China, which they brought up and discussed because it terrified people. The other side, alluding to the selfishness of motorists, described them as "road hogs," driving infernal machines.

BAD BLAZE AT LUCAN

Two Large Stables of Queen's Hotel Destroyed.

Lucan, Ont., Aug. 10.—At 2 o'clock yesterday morning a disastrous fire destroyed two large stables and the driving shed of the Queen's Hotel, E. Carrigan's stable, and badly damaged the remaining buildings. The stables, which were built of steel and brick, were filled with valuable horses. All were saved with the exception of St. McCormick's driver, which was stable in the building in which the fire started. The destroyed buildings were the property of Mrs. O'Neill, of Toronto, and were insured for $400. Wm. Fogarty, proprietor of the hotel, says the contents of the stables, amounting to $150, no insurance. Mr. Read's property was well insured. The contents of the stable, on fire, also the rear of Wm. Diamond's residence, but both were saved through the work of the fire department and the fire brigade. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

TEMPTED TO SUICIDE

Then Dadd's Kidney Pills Made Peter Lavieque Able to Support His Family.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 10.—Peter Lavieque lives at Haywood, and supports a family of five by cutting wood. Kidney Disease in the shape of Backache disabled him in his work, and he was tempted to shoot himself. A friend brought him two boxes of Dadd's Kidney Pills, and he says of the result: "In four days after using the Pills my back will heal and I will be able to work a day and in two weeks I was working hard at my trade feeling no trouble and doing my usual work." This is not the first time that complaints have been heard of abuses in German penal institutions, and these are the first steps which have been taken which will make trouble in more than one quarter.

WAGNER EXPLAINED

The Great Composer's Music Was Due to Ill-Health.

London, Aug. 10.—The latest theory about Wagner's music is that it was due to ill-health. Dr. Gould says in a recent issue of the "Musical Times": "Wagner throughout life was a martyr to dyspepsia, headache, nervousness, melancholy, insomnia and indigestible suffering. Other men have had some of these symptoms all of the time, but Wagner had all of these symptoms all the time. People who cannot appreciate Wagner are greatly consoled by Dr. Gould's discovery. A peculiarity in Wagner's left eye caused the forehead to arch in concentration. This admirer of the composer has realized that the eye of genius—as if geniuses had a peculiar sort of eye defect."

GIRL FINDS $4,000

And Returning It to Owner She Is Thanked.

St. Louis, Aug. 8.—Lillie Bunting, a chambermaid at the Madison Hotel, formerly the Imperial, on Chestnut street, near Broadway, had chance to handle $4,000 in bills Tuesday, she might have run away with it, but preferred to be honest, so she returned the money to the man to whom it belonged, Martin Foley, a bookmaker, at the Delmar racetrack. Foley occupied a room at the Madison Monday night. When he left the house the following morning he also left the $4,000. He had not gone very far when Miss Bunting entered the room he had just vacated to place it in order. When she found the money—three $1,000 bills and the balance in bills of smaller denominations—she was almost struck dumb with surprise. Miss Bunting was starting for the hotel office to turn the small fortune over to the proprietor or clerk, when Foley came rushing back. He had found any money in the room, saying that he had left $4,000 there. The girl told him she had the amount, and turned it over to him. Foley volubly voiced his thanks, according to the hotel attaches, and then left.

JAMES S. LOCKIE COMMITS SUICIDE

Well-Known Toronto Financier Takes His Life—Illness and Money Losses.

Toronto, Aug. 10.—James Simcox Lockie, manager of the Imperial Trusts Company of Canada, and one of the best known financial men in Ontario, committed suicide on Saturday afternoon by shooting himself through the head with a revolver. Recent illness and severe losses through stock speculations are believed to have prompted the act. Just before luncheon on Saturday Mrs. Lockie went into her husband's bedroom and asked him what he would have for lunch. On his telling her she prepared the meal, but on returning to the bedroom Mr. Lockie was not to be found. He was finally discovered in the dressing-room, lying on the floor dead. The revolver with which he committed the deed was lying a few feet away. Mrs. Lockie is somewhat deaf, so she did not hear the report of the revolver shot. Mr. Lockie was 62 years of age, and was formerly connected with the Bank of British North America in New York city, and was afterwards with the Bank of Commerce here. For the past eight years he was manager of the Imperial Trusts Company.

"JACK" AND THE KING

His Majesty and a Terrier Inseparable Companions.

London, Aug. 10.—The King, like the Queen, is very fond of dogs. He has an Irish terrier, "Jack," that he has always by his side when he is "at home" in Buckingham Palace. Recently his majesty wanted "Jack's" portrait painted, and as he declined to be separated from the dog long enough to permit it to go to the artist's studio for sittings, the artist, Miss Earl, came to Buckingham Palace. There the King had a studio arranged for her, and there "Jack" sat for his portrait. At breakfast and lunch time "Jack" couldn't sit, for he had to go to the King's dining room, where, with his majesty, the terrier always takes breakfast and luncheon. The King feeding him with his own hand. The Queen always, when in her private apartments at the palace, has a toy terrier in her arms or her lap.

200 GIRLS BREAK JAIL

And So Far But Four Have Been Recaptured.

Berlin, Aug. 10.—Only three or four of the 200 girls who escaped from the Teltow Reformatory nearly a month ago have been recaptured. The escape was sensational and it is probable that other escapades will follow owing to the light thrown on the reformatory management. An investigation is in progress which promises to prove that the girls were justified in using every possible means to gain their liberty. They resorted to all sorts of tricks, and used all sorts of force. They broke through the doors, scalded a high wall, demolished an iron fence, and thus reached the road to Berlin. The revolt was carried on with such skill, promptitude and energy that until a few days ago not a single one of the fugitives had been recaptured, while all but three or four are still in the enjoyment of freedom. This is not the first time that complaints have been heard of abuses in German penal institutions, and these are the first steps which have been taken which will make trouble in more than one quarter.
