CANADIAN ARMY AT QUEBEC FETE

Many Thousand Soldiers Will be Encamped on the Plains of Abraham Next July.

Ottawa, Mar. 6.—Brigadier General Ogle has declined the offer of the imperial war office to take command of the Fifth Infantry brigade at Aldershot on May 15 next, and will instead come to the headquarters staff at Ottawa, where his ability and experience in military matters will be available for the benefit of the militia of Canada.

Major General Lake's term of command in Canada as chief of staff expires in November next. During his term of position he has inaugurated many reforms in connection with the militia service and the department is now organized on a well-thought-out and adequate basis. It is understood that he will be succeeded by Major-General St. Laurent.

The position of inspector general is now vacant owing to the death of Brigadier General Vidal. Gen. Ogle will, according to the proposed plan, become chief of staff in succession to Major Lake, thus retaining what has long been contemplated, namely, the appointment of a Canadian to the chief command of the militia forces of the Dominion. The militia department is now devising ways and means for the mobilization of troops at Quebec next summer. In the transportation, commissariat and other arrangements can be satisfactorily arranged, eighteen thousand men will be encamped for a week or so on the Plains of Abraham.

It may, however, be found necessary to cut the number down to twelve thousand, but in any event the Canadian army assembled at Quebec will be the most imposing ever seen in the country during the last hundred years of peace.

CARRIED LEG WITH HIM.

Fate of Legger With Iron Determination and Courage.

Vancouver, B.C., Mar. 5.—Carrying his severed right leg with him, Daniel Stetson, hand logger, crawled through two miles of brush to a logging camp in the city of Victoria. He was taken to a hospital where he is recovering.

Stetson, 40, of the City of Victoria, had left his home in Ohio, after a visit with his wife, to work in the woods of the Pacific Northwest. He was struck by a falling log, which severed his right leg. He crawled for several miles to a logging camp where he was found.

Stetson's wife, Mrs. Stetson, is in the city of Victoria. She was told by a friend that her husband had been killed. She then went to the logging camp and found him alive.

Stetson is now recovering from his wounds. He is expected to be able to walk again in a few weeks.

Stetson is a member of the Victoria branch of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America.

ANNUAL REPORT ON OUR RAILWAYS

Minister Presents Statement to House—Shows Cost of G.T.P. Edmonton West Over $42,000,000

Ottawa, March 5.—The presentation in the House of Commons today of the annual statement of the minister of railways was well received by both sides of the House. Mr. Graham was in excellent form, and handled the matter in a manner which showed a wide and thorough knowledge of the whole subject.

The main feature of his speech was that the Intercolonial was a work in which the whole Dominion was equally interested. He pointed out that the railway was a national asset, and that it should be operated in the best interests of the Dominion as a whole.

He outlined the desirability of doing the work in a more efficient manner, and pointed out the need for the Intercolonial to be operated in the best interests of the Dominion as a whole.

He also pointed out the need for the Intercolonial to be operated in the best interests of the Dominion as a whole. He called for a more efficient and economical system of railway operation.

After the presentation of the annual statement of the minister of railways, in the afternoon sitting of the House, Mr. Hugh Mackay, Conservative, East Toronto, inquired as to whether an effort was being made to secure the original land registers of Lord Selkirk, established from 1812 to 1835.

The Premier and Hon. Mr. Lennieux both assured Hon. Mr. Mackay that there was no truth in the statements appearing in the Japanese press to the effect that a Japanese agent had been admitted to Canada.

Mr. Mackay said he had received information from a reliable source that a Japanese agent had been admitted to Canada. He asked the Premier and Hon. Mr. Lennieux if this was true.

Dr. Daly's sermon on Sunday evening was an exceptionally strong one. His theme, "Suggestions of the snow," in the traditional symbolism was handled in a masterly manner, evidencing deep thought and a fine command of language. His sermon in little snow flakes taught great spiritual truths, the omnipotence and omnipresence of the Creator and the falling evidence of His power.

BRITISH PRESS ON JAPS.

Declare Attitude Toward China Will Defeat Object of Alliance.
Pekin, March 4.—The British newspapers in China are giving the most serious consideration to the attitude of Japan, which they assert will defeat the object of the alliance looking to the integrity of China. The stand taken by Japanese in Manchuria in the matter of the railway questions has given rise to much discussion, but the determination of Japan, however, involving all its diplomatic resources to back up its position with regard to its refusal to permit the construction of the Hsin Min Tun Railway has raised the tone of the press comment.
The representatives of the powers have referred to their home governments in detail the matter of the Hsin Min Tun Railway, and the question of the control of the Harbin municipality. The British government is anxious for a settlement of the Harbin question, so that a precedent may be furnished to Japan.
Upon the decision of the powers as to whether China intended to convey a settlement of the municipality rights by the railway convention, whether the possession of large tracts of land at Harbin makes the Russian position different from that of the Japanese, may depend on future action looking to the restraining of Japan, although it is believed to be outside the control of the powers unless China is able to arouse joint aid.

STRONG MEN ARE SCARCE.

In England and There is Difficulty in Recruiting.
London, March 5.—The difficulty of obtaining recruits for the British army has become so great that the recruiting officers and army doctors are being allowed the greatest discretion in passing men, the authorities stating that they will accept of any man whose physical strength is good and whose mind is free from disease.
An energetic promoter of physical education who recently gave a course of instruction to soldiers at one of the principal military centres states that he was surprised to find that many of the recruits were unable to raise their bodies by the strength of their arms until their chests were level with the horizontal bars, and these are the defenders of Great Britain! No wonder the military authorities are crying out for men with large chests instead of big heads.
The danger of the situation lies in the gradual nature of the physical deterioration which has been allowed to take place, and in fact, that while the rural population of Britain is decreasing in number, the urban population and men are augmenting at the rate of hundreds every year.
Large numbers of inhabitants of the towns are physically unfitted to defend the country in time of war, and it is a serious matter that attention on the national physique of the recruits had to be refused as unfit.
There is hardly a school in the United Kingdom which does not now teach gymnastic exercises to boys and Swedish drill to girls, and in most cases it is compulsory physical training. The people have ceased to carry on exercises in the open air, and the deterioration of physique is such that the deteriorating influence of bad air, food and want of exercise.

32 YEAR CURSE IS LIFTED.

Philadelphia, Mar. 5.—A strange legal document by which an aged woman lifts a curse pronounced thirty-two years ago, has come to light in this city. In 1874 Dennis Conroy, a laborer, aged 25 years, who was out of work, quit his boarding house, owing the boarding mistress, Mrs. Mary Costello, $90. Mrs. Costello, who was then 62 years of age, fell upon her knees and called down the curses of heaven upon him and his.
Nothing more was said of the curse for many years, but neither Mrs. Costello nor Conroy forgot the board bill. Some time ago Conroy fell heir to money and Mrs. Costello, who now collect her bill through attorneys, Conroy informed the lawyers that he remembered the bill, but would not pay it until Mrs. Costello removed the curse. As he was not satisfied with a verbal retraction, but wanted legal evidence, Mrs. Costello's representatives for a time were in a quandary. Finally they agreed upon the following retraction and had it signed by Mrs. Costello and attested by witnesses.
"Know all men by these presents: That I, Mary Costello, do hereby revoke, recall and retract to the utmost of my power the curse which Dennis Conroy claims that I put upon him in 1874, calling down upon him and his, as he claims, ill diseases and disaster through life and eternity, living or dead, at all times from the present to the end of the world, even unto the tenth generation, and do hereby declare that I hold for him nothing but sentiments of good will and respect."
Conroy went to Atlantic City and also got a verbal expression of good wishes. He wanted Mrs. Costello to set on her knees, but as she was 84 years old her friends objected. Conroy paid the bill.

Shot One, Three Ran.

New York, March 4.—In a desperate battle with four men, who attempted to rob him as he was about to close his saloon in East 24th street early today, Thomas Craven shot one of the robbers dead and put the others to flight. Then, fearing the killing might mean a long term of imprisonment, Craven concealed the body of the dead robber in a hallway on the side of the saloon and hurried to his home without notifying the police. When the officers took him into custody less than an hour later he admitted all knowledge of the killing, but finally made his full statement regarding the murder of the robber. The three men who escaped from the saloon after their expulsion had been killed are also under arrest. The man who was killed was known only as "Scar" Reilly. Those who were later arrested gave their names as John Kelly, Frank Reilly and Albert Dobson.

The heated gases, striking the disc, are decomposed and rendered odorless.

DESTROYING THE FUNCTIONS OF PARLIAMANT.

So far as the Opposition are pleased to permit the consideration of public affairs to encroach on the time of Parliament, that consideration is limited strictly to the means by which the Government have striven to accomplish the public welfare, and rigorously excludes the broad results which those means have produced.

Thus the Government is assailed for lowering the tariff; but not a word about the millions that the Canadian tariff was lowered. We are told that the lowering of the tariff was a disadvantage to the Canadian manufacturer; but not that the Canadian manufacturer has been busier during the past ten years than ever in his life before.

The International Harvester Co will double the capacity of their plant at Hamilton, Ont., to enter to the French trade under the new treaty. This is about all the reply necessary to those critics who have decry the treaty as a vain and empty thing for Canada.

It should be equally effective in alleviating the fears of Mr. Cocksbutt, M.P. This gentleman has expressed himself as alarmed lest the importation of French light wines should injure the business of the Canadian whisky-makers.

The "encouragement" which "protection" affords industries appears to be in its absence rather than its existence. It was largely because there was no Canadian "protection" against the importation of raw materials that the International Harvester Company established a factory in Canada.

In blockading the business of Parliament the Opposition admit the necessity of resorting to drastic means to prevent the results of Government policy coming more strongly into contrast with the results of Conservative administration, and with the pronouncements of such of the Opposition gentlemen as have essayed to assume the mantle of the prophet.

The business of Parliament is to secure the efficient and proper discharge of public affairs. Whether or not these have been efficiently and properly discharged can only be determined by the results, and a Parliament that does not primarily concern itself in the results of Government policy is falling short of its duty to the public.

New Brunswick has changed the complexion of the Provincial Legislature and defeated the local Government. Under successive Premiers the Government lately headed by Mr. Robinson has held power for a quarter of a century.

non-party system was terminated by the influence and persuasion of Hon. Geo. E. Foster several years ago, who prevailed on the leading Conservatives to withdraw their support from the Government and move for the definite introduction of Federal party lines in Provincial affairs.

long declared would reveal the fallacy of the Government's policy. For years we have been told that prosperity under the Liberal policy was an ephemeral thing which would fade at the first breath of unfavorable conditions.

The Witness says: "There was an enormous deal of debt heaped upon the city, in days gone by, by raising loans for street paving. The street paving was called a permanent improvement. The loans certainly were permanent; the paving certainly was not, and has had to be renewed about every seven years, after being in an intolerably disgraceful state for half that term."

It is simply a way of burdening our revenues with debts for which we have nothing to show. The Legislature has forbidden the paving of streets out of borrowed money. It is this wholesome restriction that our City Council is now attempting to get annulled by the rushing through of an amendment to the charter for which it is said the Premier has promised to grant exceptional facilities.

The Premier has not, however, promised to support this particular measure, and we shall be surprised if he does so. It seems to be imagined by our mayors and by our aldermen that the burdening of posterity is nothing to us, and that we are just so much the better off by shouldering our burdens off upon them.

The suggestion for a Central Alberta fall fair under the auspices of the Twin Cities has met with very general and very warm approval. The project may now be classed even among the probabilities, though no announcement has been made by the Association regarding it.

The following despatch came over the wires from Winnipeg on March 4th: "At the opening of the Winnipeg session yesterday the attorney-general through his deputy entered a stay of proceedings in the cases against A. Yoyte, J. C. Tielking, and Lawrence Duggan, Dominion returning officers, and R. E. A. Leach. All indictments against these parties were withdrawn."

It must be rather disappointing to the Journal and other Tory papers which have been lampooning these men for three years in a style becoming only to blackguards, to find the Tory Attorney-General of Manitoba withdrawing the proceedings against them, thus tacitly admitting that there is no foundation for the charges and that it was purely a case of partisan persecution, not legal prosecution.

It will be interesting to watch the action of the Tory papers now. It is not to be supposed they will drop the matter though. They knew the charges were groundless before, but the fact that the accusations were foundationless made no difference, except to make the attack the more venomous, and though the Attorney-General of Manitoba has backed down rather than have the cases go to trial, a section of the Tory press will still be content upon to shriek their abuse, as there is nothing so dear to its heart as slander.

The Montreal Witness relates a chapter of Montreal civic history containing a germ for reflection. Montreal payments appear to have come out more quickly than the debts incurred by building them, and the Province has been constrained to prevent more money being borrowed for this purpose.

THE WORK OF THE LEGISLATURE

The Provincial Legislature has been prorogued after a session of considerable, though not of surpassing, importance. That it was not of outstanding importance is in no way disagreeable to the members or the Government.

On the contrary it is splendid testimony to the progress they have already made in starting the new Province along its appointed way, to equip a new Province with a code of laws and with the machinery for efficient enforcement is no small task for a Legislature.

To institute a new Government and take up the work of its several branches with due regard to their comparative importance, and with proper appreciation of the main opportunities and duties of each is no small task for the executive branch.

ELECTION LAW AMENDMENTS.

The Minister of Justice proposes some amendments to the election law of more than ordinary importance. Perhaps the most important provides that contributions to a candidate's campaign fund must be made directly to the legal agent of the candidate.

Another clause provides that a man whose name has been omitted from the voter's list shall not thereby be debarred from voting, but shall be allowed to do so on swearing that he is duly qualified.

The penalty for tampering with ballots is increased to eight years' imprisonment, and in the case of an officer of the crown the penalty is made five years' imprisonment.

These amendments should go far to prevent abuses which have been found possible under the present law, and to secure a full and free expression of public opinion.

EXPLANATORY.

Mr. C. L. Price, of Stony Plain, writes the Bulletin in explanation of a letter which he contributed some time since to the Montreal Witness and which was adversely commented on in these columns.

WHICH THE FARMERS

POULTRY SHOW CLOSURE.
What is generally conceded to be the best poultry and pet stock show ever held in Western Canada is being closed today by the exhibitors' opening the many excellent birds that carried off the prizes at this fifth annual exhibition of the Alberta Poultry and Pet Stock Show. The directors of the Association are well pleased with the exhibits which were of the highest order and held the record both for quantity and quality. It was also gratifying to see the interest manifested in the show by the general public and it is safe to assume that poultry breeding has received an impetus in Alberta that cannot fail to be productive of good results.

Poultrymen's Annual Meeting.
The chief feature of yesterday's proceedings from a poultryman's standpoint was the annual meeting of the members of the Association. The annual report showed the organization to be on a sound basis and indicated that everything was in a very satisfactory condition. A. W. Foley, poultry expert of the province, after congratulating the Association on the success of their exhibition suggested that steps should be taken for the organization of a Provincial Poultry Show. The plan he outlined was that this provincial show should be held in conjunction with the Provincial Fat Stock Show. The Association, after listening to Mr. Foley and discussing the matter briefly, heartily endorsed this suggestion which has already been proposed by the Associations at Calgary and Lethbridge. Delegates will be appointed by the three Associations to meet the officers of the Fat Stock Show in the near future and confer with them regarding the matter. After some further discussion the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:
President—Hon. W. T. Finlay, Minister of Agriculture.
Patrons—His Honor Lieutenant-Governor, Buleya, Hon. A. C. Rutherford, Premier.

During the afternoon the children from the various schools of the city visited the exhibition and gained much useful information regarding poultry. ## THE DISTRICT COURTS' DATES ARE SET DOWN

The Dates Fixed for Sessions for 1928 of the Five District Judicial Districts—Judges Will Sit in Various Places.
Lieutenant-Governor Buleya last evening gave his assent to the dates and places of meeting during the year 1928 the various district courts prepared by the Attorney-General's department. These courts will meet for the purpose of hearing disputes and trying cases coming under their jurisdiction. For this purpose the province has been divided into five districts, each of which is presided over by a district judge. Judge Taylor presides in the Edmonton district. Judge Noel and Judge Mitchell at Medicine Hat. FORMAL OPENING OF NEW SCHOOL

Opening Ceremonies of Handsome Public School Structure in the East End.

The opening of the Alexander Taylor school last night was one of the most interesting events of the year in Edmonton. The school building itself is not surpassed in Canada; it is essentially marks the public school system of Edmonton.

The centre of interest throughout the evening was, however, Alexander Taylor, chairman of the school board, in whose honor the school has been named as a fitting recognition of his long services in the advancement of education in Edmonton.

The evening's programme was an excellent one, begun by a few words of welcome from Mr. Alexander Taylor, chairman of the evening.

Mr. Taylor on the platform were President Torrey, of the University of Alberta, Mayor McDougall and Dr. H. A. Gray, Alex. May, Dr. Ferris, A. Burchett, of the school board, D. S. McKenzie, deputy minister of education, Warden McCauley, Supt. McCall, J. F. Fowler of Wetaskiwin school board, and Roland W. Lines, architect of the school.

Education was a difficult term to define, but he would say that it stands for "what makes a nation living and progressive as compared with a lifeless resume of educational conditions during the past century, as indicated by the public's attitude toward it.

One hundred years ago men in public life took no interest at all in education or its support, now through the whole civilized world the status of education has become a matter of course.

For the past few years it has been studying the educational system of the continent, and he could say that the best of education on this continent for the past few years has been in the hands of the school board.

J. K. CORNWALL ON "REAL NORTH LAND"

Widely Known Trader Describes Wonders of the Hinterland of the Yellow Head in this Special Article Written for the Call of Alberta.

In latitude 53 north, longitude 110 west, nature has cut through the heart of the Rockies a gash deep. This cut is known as "Yellow Head" and in this pass up in perpetual snow, the Athabasca flows eastward.

Out of Athabasca Lake, the "Rocky" of the "Southern North" flows northward. It is a magnificent river, the Athabasca, which flows eastward and northward in its course.

A tremendous volume of water in conjunction with the Athabasca brought down by the Rock River, the Great Slave River, flows northward in length, down into the Great Slave Lake, an immense inland sea.

Then on, still further north, at the western end of the lake, the Mackenzie has its starting point. This is one of the eight largest rivers in the world.

As to the future of Alberta a prominent citizen there said in an interview recently that it is destined to be a manufacturing province.

This gentleman calls attention to the fact that during the last municipal election in the city of Edmonton, the lowest figure placed by the commission was that of cheap power.

In the north there are 12,000 acres of agricultural land. All of this land is fertile and can be grown as far north as latitude 60.

During the growing season there are 18 hours of sunlight and almost continuous daylight. Lovers of twilight have to sit up till 12 o'clock.

There is no doubt that on the average farm an H. C. engine would more than repay its first cost each year. The nice adaptation of these engines to all farm duties is one of their most excellent features.

Widely Known Trader Describes the Wonders of the Hinterland of Alberta in an Interesting Special Article Written for the Calgary Alberta.

In latitude 53 north, longitude 119 west, nature has cut through the very heart of the Rockies a gash 9,000 feet deep. This cut is known as the "Yellow Head."

Out of Athabasca Lake, the reservoir of the Southern North, the Rock River takes its source. Forty miles on its way it is joined by that famed river of the north, the Peace.

A tremendous volume of water, in conjunction with the Athabasca brought down by the Rock River, form the Great Slave River, three hundred miles in length, flowing into the Great Slave Lake, an immense inland sea in the centre of the north that washes the shores of the "Barren Land."

Then, on still further north, at the western end of the lake, the mighty Mackenzie is starting point. This is one of the eight largest rivers in the known world.

Then, on, by the forts of the Hudson's Bay Company and free traders, missions and Indian camps that occur at intervals of hundreds of miles, joined on its way at a point about latitude 65 by the mighty Bear River, that brings down the waters from the lake of the same name, is found one of the largest water lakes in the world.

Then, on, passing through a spur of the Rockies at the Ramparts, one of the beauty spots of the world, a day's drift or further and within a few hours' paddle of the Arctic Circle, Fort Good Hope is reached, where the traveler can go ashore and get potatoes and vegetables. Further on the Gravel, the Arctic, Red and Peel rivers join their forces. At the junction of the Peel river widens and is divided by numerous islands, two of which—in fact, either one of them—is as large as the province of Prince Edward Island.

Then, on, passing through a spur of the Rockies at the Ramparts, one of the beauty spots of the world, a day's drift or further and within a few hours' paddle of the Arctic Circle, Fort Good Hope is reached, where the traveler can go ashore and get potatoes and vegetables.

snow of the prairies in their eagerness to bring change of color to the land and gladden the heart of the hunter and his outfit on their return from the winter camp in the bush to the summer home on the prairie.

Hay grows in abundance all over the north. Even in the musky sections, hay sloughs occur. The country has been overrun with beaver. This industrious little animal-engineer, the emblem of Canada, is next to the sun king of hay-maker.

Horses can winter out and have been wintering out on the Upper Peace for forty years, when the first horses were brought in from the south.

The principal characteristic of the people, whether Indian, half-breed or white man, is cheerfulness and optimism, this being the result of the free hard life and largely also due to the fertility of the soil, the provisions of nature and the normal health of the people.

There is no liquor in the country. Any ordinary man with a rifle can kill for fur (it is in the bush) and the fish lakes are famous. A net is cheap. In one week in the fall enough fish can be killed and cashed to last till spring, and enough potatoes and other vegetables can be grown on an acre of land to last a family six months, and they raise large families in this district.

Folk live the simple life and are happy. No wonder there is a cheerful optimism in the land. The northland's greatest asset, aside from its agricultural land, lies in its natural resources. Time alone can tell which is greater. It has vast timber wealth. The only large extent of timber in Western Canada, east of the mountain range, is in the north.

Coal outcrops in the Athabasca at Prairie Creek, the country of the Yellow Head Pass, and at different points down to Fort McKay below Fort McMurray, a distance of eight hundred miles. Coal is found at Hudson's Hope on the Peace River, and also at Peace River Crossing, where the Peace and the Athabasca meet.

At Otawa, Thomas-Chase Casgrain, now out of parliament, would replace Mr. Monk as French leader. In exchange for the ultramontane support, he would be recognized as French leader, but also to put George E. Foster, Sam Hughes and Spruille Braden out of office.

business and social life north, as it did in the early Red River days. The arrival of the entire population to meet friends and bid others "God speed."

All the grain that will ever be grown in the Peace River country, where there are millions of acres of grain-growing land, can be steamboat to the east end of Athabasca Lake, about 400 miles from Fort Churchill on Hudson's Bay.

Railroad to Hudson's Bay. J. B. Tyrrell, the highest geographical authority in the Dominion on the country east of Hudson's Bay, speaking of a railroad, declares that there are no physical difficulties and yet a good agricultural country exists there.

Snow falls deeper than in Central Alberta but on an average does not lay as long. It is colder at times but without the wind of the south country. The bush country keeps the wind down. It is one of the most delightful of climates.

The Athabasca, Peace and Great Slave River districts can furnish timber for years to come for the prairie provinces. The vast area of asphaltum is of a high commercial value to the country. These are some of the actual resources in sight, nothing but a merely prospective nature about them.

Oil and copper and other minerals are a prospect with plenty of indications. Capital should be willing to take a chance here as they have elsewhere. If there is anything in that beautiful prospect, it is in the north. It applies to the north. It is difficult to calculate at this date what the future of the fine country, with its splendid natural resources, will be. It can only be said with certainty that nature has been most kind and liberal with her gifts to this section than to any other portion of Canada of the same size.

Conservatives are in despair in Quebec. Desperate efforts being made by French Conservatives to Reorganize Party in that Province—With Full Backing of the Government—Guard—Possible Leaders.

Montreal, March 7.—The French Conservatives are again making an effort to reorganize themselves into something like a party, at the instance of R. L. Bordet, who had a conference with some of the erstwhile leaders which he passed through here the other day.

Paris, Mar. 7.—An exchange of angry words followed by an assault in the lobby of the chamber of deputies yesterday is likely to lead to a duel between ex-Minister Berteaux and M. Mendel, minister of the interior. After the warm Moroccan debate in the chamber on Feb. 24th, two government officials shook hands cordially and regarded as a reflection on Clemenceau, it is said, although it is now denied that they cashed for it.
