The hand books recently captured in Toronto were all bound with skinned sheep.

If the small boy perused his lessons with the same interest that he does the circus posters the word "fail" would seldom be heard examination time.

A preacher named Nicholl was stabbed in the neck the other day. It is thought the perpetrator was merely trying to drop a nickle in the slot.

Backward turn time in thy flight."

The next two months will be a fitful nightmare for parents of young hopefuls home for the holidays. Picking thorns out of their little tootise woosies, luring, seating stone bruises, bandaging broken limbs, repairing rent garments, and fishing them out of swimming ponds, make the gladness vacation days pass all too quickly away.

A couple of weeks ago Kavour Sheldon, of Aymer got hold of a bottle of pure carbolic acid instead of a bottle of diluted which his mother told him to get, and rubbed a lot of it on his ankle, which was a little sore. The mistake was not noticed until he had applied a lot of it and then every effort was made to remove it, but without avail. It ate its way through the flesh clear to the bone and it is now feared that the bone is injured. The sore is healed on the outside, but he is suffering untold agony and has to be kept under the influence of opiate all the time.

of the Order showing the prosperous condition that it is now in. Rev. Mr. Coupland also delivered a suitable address, and addresses were also given by Dr. Hicks and W. E. Fitzgerald. Miss Coupland gave an excellent recitation, and Charles Smith and Mrs. Clark rendered some very suitable musical selections. Organizer Mallett delighted the audience with one of his usual up-to-date songs. An interesting feature of the program was a presentation of an address and a gold locket and guard to Organizer Mallett in appreciation of his services in assisting Organizer Barnes in reorganizing and building up the Council here to its present prosperous condition, over 30 members having been added in a few weeks this spring. The address was read by W. E. Fitzgerald and the presentation was made by Dr. Hicks on behalf of the members. Organizer Mallett feelingly replied. After the usual votes of thanks were given to visiting members and others who took part in the program, the meeting dispersed all feeling well satisfied with the result. Several others have expressed their intention of also becoming members here in the near future and it is expected that Watford Council will be one of the Banner Councils of the Order very soon and it is nearing that point already.

Where the Small Town Scores.

Small towns have their drawbacks. No man need try in these vigilant little centers to lead a double life. There are faithful, sleepless watchers at each end of the line, with several sentinels along the way, to report on his doings, his failures to do and his misdoings. Everything else failing, his very thoughts are searched. The faithful videttes conclude, from his smallest movement or lack of movement, what he must have in every circumstance meant. On return home after absence his friends and neighbors cross examine him as to every detail. He had better tell the truth, because someone will in due course turn up to point out the inaccuracies in a faulty narrative. In large cities very few, if indeed any, of your neighbors will worry much or at length about your incomings or outgoings. Few, if any, out side your own immediate circle of home and business life, care to hear of your doings while away. They are all too busy—too many people moving back and forward to be kept track of.

The small town has not, it is true, the sanitariums and the professional nurses of city life nor the freedom of the latter from neighboring vigilance; but it has the big city beaten to a whimper when it comes to the food supply. If Brown, the butcher, for instance, were to kill Smith's lump-jawed cow, or Green's blackleg bull, or Johnson's steer that had been a failin' ever since spring, or did he refuse to keep his shop meat and clean, everyone in town would be notified of his misdeeds and negligences, and his business soon come to a standstill. He might as well, in fact, quit the town, for the dark deeds of which he had been guilty would be recited, week in and week out, as regularly as the Psalms of David, with each succeeding season his criminality would assume increased blackness.—Louisville Herald.

Caring for the Hay Crop.

The haying season is near at hand and farmers all over the country will soon be busy with the "new mown" hay. While much of this hay will be made properly and make good feed for live stock, there is a great deal that will be ruined in the making. Improper methods of making hay are responsible for much of the loss one hears about. The first being to consider is, when is the proper time to cut grass for hay?

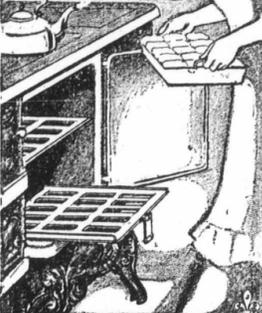

It is conceded by all chemists that the most nutriment is in the plant after the time of blossoming and before

My Hair Ran Away

Don't have a falling out with your hair. It might leave you! Then what? That would mean thin, scraggly, uneven, rough hair. Keep your hair at home! Fasten it tightly to your scalp! You can easily do it with Ayer's Hair Vigor. It is something more than a simple hair dressing. It is a hair medicine, a hair tonic, a hair food.

It does do good baking

This is the range that bakes better because the diffusive oven flue draws in cold air from the kitchen floor, carries it around the oven, and pours it HOT down into the oven FROM THE TOP in a current that moves all round the whole oven and up and out the flue. When that clean, hot air leaves the oven it takes with it all the moisture, all the odors, which in OTHER ovens stay in and saturate the baking food. Perfect draft control, perfect oven, draw-out oven rack for easy basting,—all points singular to the seeds ripen. While blossoming, the nutrients are in the stalk and leaves of the plant, but as the seed develops and ripens they are drawn out and stored in the seed, and consequently leave the stocks more or less woody. So the time to cut is just after the plant has blossomed. Of course, where there is to be a second crop, as in the case of clover, where the seed crop follows, it is necessary to cut the first crop in order to give the second crop a better chance. The practice of haying clover and timothy mixed makes it necessary to cut the crop before the timothy is fully ripe, as the clover ripens first and its value will be lost if allowed to stand until the timothy ripens. A good rule to go by and one generally followed by those who have the best success in making clover hay is to cut the crop when the heads just begin to brown. Some mow in the early morning, when the dew is on, and then turn until it is dry enough to take in in the afternoon, but this takes good weather. It is when the rainy spells come during the haying season that the farmer must use good judgment to get in his crop without loss.

Another way to cut clover is cut it in the morning, leave it lie in the windrow until noon, and then cock it in the afternoon and haul it in the succeeding day, when it is perfectly cured. If the crop is put into the barn before it is cured it will heat, and this causes it to become dusty, and in some cases the heat is so great that there is spontaneous combustion. It all depends upon the amount of mow room how damp the hay crop can be before it is put in. If it can be spread out in the mow, and have plenty of ventilation it can be put in damper than otherwise.

Strained Back and Eide.

"While working in a saw mill" writes C. E. Kenney, from Ottawa, "I strained my back and side so severely I had to go to bed. Every movement caused me torture. I tried different oils and liniments but wasn't helped till I used Nerviline. Even the first application gave considerable relief. In three days I was again at work. Other men in the mill use Nerviline with tremendous benefit too." An honest record of nearly fifty years has established the value of Polson's Nerviline.

LOCAL OR OTHERWISE.

LAST Thursday, John Rawlings and S. Bailey shipped 10,000 pounds of wool from Forest to John Hallam, Toronto. A large part of the shipment was clipped from their own sheep.

We are informed that a lady over 60 years old packed a hundred baskets of berries in six hours at J. J. Condon's strawberry patch, on the 10th of Caradoc, one day recently—surely a record to be proud of.

SELDOM at this season of the year has a more encouraging prospect for a bountiful crop been witnessed than there is at present. Since the recent rains there has been a wonderful growth. The outlook is one of great promise for farmers.

THERE has been a singular fatality in some parts of the country this spring among young colts, scores having died after they were foaled and supposed to be practically past the critical stages. No explanation of a satisfactory character is offered.

MISS LILLIAN FOWLER, soprano soloist of the First Methodist Church, London, is the guest of the Misses Calvert at Pritchard. Miss Fowler has a highly cultivated voice and sings with a pleasing interpretation. In the Presbyterian Church, on Sunday, June 10th, she rendered two solos in splendid style.—Age.

A LADY going from home for the day locked everything up well, and for the grocer's benefit wrote on a card: "All out. Don't leave anything." This she stuck on the front door. On her return home she found her house ransacked and all her choicest possessions gone. To the card on the door was added:—"Thanks; we haven't left much."

MR. H. McFARLANE, residing just south of Forest, tells of a robin which had built her nest on the perch of his wagon. A couple of weeks ago, he made a trip to the country with the wagon, and again on Wednesday of last week he took the wagon out a few miles and returned. After putting it away he found the nest for the first time, and in it were several young robins.

AFTER an enquiry lasting several months by the Educational Department of Ontario, into reported irregularities at last summer's Departmental Examinations at Stratford, several of the Candidates have been informed that their teachers' or matriculation certificates, have been cancelled. One of the candidates not only loses his certificate but is debarred from writing again until 1908.

A DOCTOR was waited upon by a patient who confessed to playing in a local brass band. Shortness of breath was the trouble in his case. "Ah, that accounts for it," said the medical man. "That brass band is the very worst thing for you. You'll have to give it up at once—what instrument do you play?" "The big drum," came the unexpected answer.

"BRL get the scythes out of the granary and bring them and a pail of water over to the grindstone behind the milk-house. We're going to start haying tomorrow." That was the way the farmer of forty years ago announced the fact that the hay was ready for cutting. To-day he says: "William run the mowing machine out of the shed and get it oiled up. I think I will take a few turns around the clover field tomorrow. You can drive the mower; Tommy will run the tedder, and I think your mother and I'll go over to your Uncle William's to spend the day."

A WIDE SPHERE OF USEFULNESS.—The consumption of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil has grown to great proportions. Notwithstanding the fact that it has now been on the market for over thirty-one years, its popularity is as great as ever, and the demand for it in that period has very greatly increased. It is beneficial in all countries, and wherever introduced fresh supplies are constantly inquired for.

OUR readers should keep their weather eye open for fakirs and swindlers, they are numerous and work every scheme to catch people. The latest swindle, worked by a sharper in one of the cities recently, is an illustration of the ability of these dead beat fakirs to catch not only the ignorant but all others who are not constantly on the guard. This swindler walked into a jewelry store and selecting a $125 watch left a check for $600 drawn on an out-of-town bank, with instructions that the watch be regulated and that he would come after it and his change a week later. On returning he was informed that the check was no good. "Well, that's strange," he said. "It's the second time the bank has done that thing on me. But here's the money for your watch," and he counted out $125 in currency and started for the door. "Oh, yes," he said, turning round, "you'd better give me that check." It was willingly handed over to him. On the back was the jeweller's endorsement. With this the man went into a bank got it cashed and was never heard of afterwards.

Purgatives Are Dangerous.

They gripe, cause burning pains and make the constipated even worse. Physicians say the real laxative is Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Sarsaparil and Butternut; they are exceedingly mild, composed only of health-giving extracts. Dr. Hamilton's Pills restore regular movement of the bowels, strengthen the stomach and purify the blood. For constipation, sick headache, biliousness and indigestion no medicine on earth makes such remarkable cures as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Try a 25 c. box yourself.

An Earthquake Incident.
 A correspondent of the New York Times gives the following incident of the San Francisco earthquake gleaned from a private letter. "A house had fallen and its roof, with the brick chimney, had crashed down into the living-rooms. There in one of the rooms lay an infant in its cradle. But when the bricks and rafters had nearly reached the slumbering babe they struck each other in such a peculiar way that they descended no further, but formed an arch-like roof over the child, beneath which the little one lay unharmed. And there beside the child fell the family Bible; it opened and when it was found it had opened to the twenty-third Psalm."

Stop That Headache!
 Foolish to Suffer When a Simple Remedy Will Prevent and Cure.

Ever stop to think what caused your headaches? Probably not. Then look to the bowels and stomach, and you'll find plenty of cause. Chances are you'll find constipation, liver is sluggish, stomach overburdened with half-digested food.

No wonder you are dull, tired, restless day and night. You need the cleansing influence of Dr. Hamilton's Pills which cure your condition in a short order.

Being composed of natural vegetable remedies Dr. Hamilton's Pills possess great power, yet they are harmless. They aid all organs connected with the stomach, liver, and bowels. In consequence food is properly digested, the blood is pure and nourishing, the body is kept strong and resists disease.

Headaches never come to those who use Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and this fact is vouchsafed by the Assistant Manager of the Poultry Success Magazine, of Springfield, O. Mr. J. H. Callander, who writes: "No better medicine than Dr. Hamilton's Pills. We use them regularly and know of marvelous cures that resisted everything else. They cleanse the whole system, act as a tonic on the blood, enliven digestion, help the stomach, and make you feel strong and well. For headaches, indigestion, and stomach disorders I am confident that the one prescription is Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

You can rely on Dr. Hamilton's Pills with implicit confidence; their effect is wonderful. Sold by all dealers. Price 25c per box, five boxes for $1.00, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U. S. A.

Will Be a Great City.
 Seattle has a brighter future than any other port on the Pacific coast. Situated on Puget Sound, it has one of the finest harbors in the world. Its population jumped from 3,500 in 1880 and 42,000 in 1890 to 80,000 in 1900. In the last half a dozen years, however, its growth has been larger absolutely, and proportionately, than it was in the same time in the decade ending with 1900. The present prospect is that Uncle Sam's census takers in 1910 will find more than 200,000 people within Seattle's limits. The character of its population, too, is a credit to the town.—Leslie's Weekly.

THEY DRIVE PIMPLES AWAY.—A face covered with pimples is unsightly. It tells of internal irregularities which should long since have been corrected. The liver and the kidneys are not performing their functions in the healthy way that they should, and these pimples are to let you know that the blood poisons. Paroeele's Vegetable Pills will drive them all away, and will leave the skin clear and clean. Try them, and there will be another witness to their excellence.

Eat Fish Instead of Rats.
 Chatham Island, off the coast of Ecuador, South America, abounds in cats, every one of which is black. These animals live in the crevices of the lava formations near the coast, and subsist by catching fish and crabs, instead of rats and mice.—New York News.

We like best to call SCOTT'S EMULSION a food because it stands so emphatically for perfect nutrition. And yet in the matter of restoring appetite, of giving new strength to the tissues, especially to the nerves, its action is that of a medicine.

SWEET VIOLETS.
 A Little Girl's Love.

The little girl rushed up the rickety stairs into the slumber room she called by the sweet name of "home."
 "Oh, mamma, she shrieked, delighted. "Look! See what a kind lady gave me!"
 The poor sick woman raised herself up from the pallet of straw and rags, in the corner of the desolate room. She caught sight of the beauty, and inhaled the aroma of the fragrant violets the little one held caressingly in her hands.

"I am going to sell them," said the child and buy my mother something to eat, for you are so hungry, mother," and she kissed the pain-lined face, and sped the hasty feet down the shabby stairway. Out in the piercing wind, at the corner of street, bare footed and ragged, thinking not of the cold and hunger she was suffering, she stood, timidly offering her little cluster of flowers for sale.

"Well, little one, why do you not go home?" asked a kind voice.
 "Oh, sir, I want to sell these pretty flowers and buy my mother something to eat. She is sick and so hungry."
 "How much do you want?" the stranger inquired.

"Ten cents, please, sir."
 "Here, child, run home."
 She needed no further telling, but bounded off to tell her mother. Up the narrow steps her frost-pinched feet sprang and in to her frail mother's presence.

"Oh, mother, I've sold them! what shall I buy you with my ten cents?"
 "What d'ye say?" growled the gruff voice of a man, who staggered from a dark corner of the room.
 "Give me that money."
 "Oh, no, papa. Mother is so sick and hungry," sobbed his little daughter, clasping her precious coin tightly in her hands behind her back to protect it.

With brute force, such as only a drunken man possesses, the man seized the wee, fragile girl and flung her from him across the room, and with the bit of silver in his cruel hand, he stambled out and down the stairs into the street. He entered a saloon and put his ten cents upon the counter and called for a drink.

But he paused. What was that sound in the street? His mad frenzy was arrested. He paused and listened.
 Through the green baize door came the echo of a song:
 "His blood can make the vilest clean?"
 "Oh, surely! surely! he was the vilest of sinners."

His conscience was awakened and stricken with remorse. He turned from the bar, glittering with his shining glasses, and followed the little band of Army Soldiers to the hall near by, and there he found his knees and cried out to his offended Saviour for pardon for his sins.

Two hours later, with steady steps and ringing voice he opened the door of his hovel home and exclaimed: "Oh, wife, I've saved! Wife, forgive me. I'll—"
 "Hush, hush," whispered a woman who came forward. "Little Maggie is—"
 "Oh," cried the man in an agony of fear. "What has I done?" Seeing the little form lying white and still on the rags in the corner. "My God, have I killed her?"
 No, whispered the neighbor. She is not dead, but she is very ill. You struck her head on the corner of that box and the doctor says she will lose the sight of one of her eyes.

"Oh," groaned the unhappy father. "My poor baby; my kind, self-sacrificing little girl."
 Just then the apparently unconscious little figure moved and a thin hand was raised to the bandaged face and head.
 "Papa," the voice was weak and trembling. "Papa, come here. Oh, papa, I am so glad you saved the foundation of my eyes. I lose my two eyes if my papa will only love Jesus."

The strong man knelt by the side of his brave, loving little Maggie, and with her pale, thin fingers clasped in his own big hand, he bowed his head and moaned as he realized the depths of the divine love of his Lord and the tender affection of his darling, suffering child.

LITTLE BELL BIOGRAPHIES
Mozart
WOLFGANG AMADEUS MOZART, though but 35 years old at his death, left a name second only to Bach's. He was born in 1756 and died in 1791. He was the first "infant prodigy" of the musical world, and his career proves the necessity of having good music in the home for the making of a musician.
 When the merest child, Mozart would always be found at the clavichord picking out sweet little melodies. When four he was placed under a teacher and even then composed short pieces which astonished his parents and instructor. At seven he played so wonderfully that he made a concert tour of Europe. Before he was ten he had written six sonatas, one composition for full orchestra, and an oratorio. At twelve he wielded the conductor's baton. Of his many compositions the most popular are his opera, "The Magic Flute," and his "Requiem;" the latter sung by some friends and himself as his eyes closed in death.
 As a pianist Mozart was the originator of the concert tour, and as great in his day as Paderewski in ours. But, like Bach, he was handicapped by the instrument he used—the clavichord. How wonderful had been his music if he could only have played upon

WATFORD, JUNE 29, 1906.

Farm Labor.

The quality and cost, and not the quantity of labor, is the great question facing the Ontario farmer to-day. The exodus of native sons to the Canadian West and to New Ontario has drained the older parts of the provinces of a large number of skilled agricultural workmen, and while the tide of immigration has brought in many to take their place, few of the newcomers prove to be up to the mark from a Canadian standpoint, says the Farmers' Advocate. However, some of them are reported to be "making good," and a more hopeful tone regarding the promise of raw labor is observed in the remarks of correspondents. Rates of wages continue high, in fact, many report that farmers cannot pay such wages and succeed. Enlarged implements and the use of more horses in the field work help some out of the difficulty. Domestic servants, are, if possible, harder to secure than ever before.

The Crop Outlook.

The month of June has been a beneficial one for the crops. The general rains since the first of the month have worked wonders on the grass and a much heavier crop than was first anticipated at one time is now assured. On the low-lying lands there are complaints made of an over abundance of moisture but no absolute damage is yet reported. With the extreme heat of the summer season yet to be experienced any surplus moisture will be readily dissipated, and a few days of dry weather will clear away all evidence of too much saturation. There are a few complaints through the province of the growing oats showing a weakness in the stalk, but the instances are isolated and not of grave importance. The pea crop is promising better this year than usual, the late spring having had a great influence on the growth. On the whole, satisfaction is felt thus far in the season, and at least an average all-round crop can only be marred by untoward conditions from now on.—Toronto World.

WARWICK.

Miss Amy Harper, of London, is spending her vacation with her sister, Mrs. John S. Minniely, London Road.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Minniely and Miss Amy Harper attended Geo. Woolman's barn raising, sixth line of Laniskillen, on Tuesday.

The many friends of Mrs. Wm. Dotsford (nee Miss Mima Birchard) will be sorry to hear of her death which took place in Lethbridge, Alberta, on June 19th, 1906.

Peter McKorie, formerly of Warwick, who went west two years ago, is seriously ill at his home near Regina. His brother, Wm. McKorie, main road, left on Tuesday to see him.

Jas. McNaughton, 4th line, has in his possession a scythe smath which was purchased 52 years ago from Jas. Harrower when he kept a small store on the 4th line corner, before Watford was known. The smath has been in service every year, and is good for several seasons yet. You don't come across timber of that quality these times.

A much respected Warwick family left for the West this week. Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Stewart and son leaving on Wednesday for their new home in Rouleau, Sask. Previous to their leaving they were given a farewell in the Orange Hall, Warwick Village. Mr. Stewart was the recipient of addresses from the Warwick council, of which he had been the efficient clerk for 33 years, also from St. Mary's church of which he was an active member, and from L.O.L. No. 516. Mrs. Stewart was also remembered by the Ladies' Auxiliary, the addresses were accompanied by a well filled purse. Mr. Stewart made a feeling reply expressing his regret at leaving old friends and associations in Warwick where he had spent the best years of his life. They take with them to their western home the best wishes of a large circle of friends.

The festival and garden party Wednesday evening, under the auspices of the Epworth League and Trustee Board of the Zion Methodist Church, 2nd line, S.E.R., was one of the most successful affairs of the kind ever held in the district, and the promoters have good reason to be satisfied with the result of their efforts. The weather, although threatening for a time, turned out all right, and a large crowd gathered on Mr. W. Moffatt's spacious and well arranged grounds to enjoy the good things provided. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Muxworthy, presided, and the program that followed was varied and pleasing. Short addresses were given by Revs. Coupland and Conway. Excellent vocal selections were given by Dr. Blackwell, T. A. Morrow and the Watford Male Quartette, Messrs. Morrow, Mitchell, Prentiss and Luckham, and a solo by Miss Aggie Williams. Miss Anderson and Miss Jessie Taylor contributed recitations very creditably, and Miss Vera Muxworthy's club singing to band accompaniment was a pleasing novelty. The Silver Band were in good form and favored with a number of their best selections. The proceeds amounted to about $90.

Dr. G. Ford has purchased the practice of the late Dr. Cascaden, of Dutton.

BROOKE.

Wellington Griffith, the young man who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis, is still in a critical condition, later symptoms not being very favorable.

Mr. Wm. Parker wishes to correct the impression that he left the West on account of the heavy floods, on the contrary he remained long enough to locate a home-stand near Indian Head, and thinks the country is all right.

Don't forget the date, July 2nd, and all come to Chalmers' Church Social, Navoo Road. An interesting program has been prepared. Owen A. Smily, of Toronto, the popular entertainer, will be one of the principal features of the evening.

Speaking of the difficulty of securing farm labor a prominent Brooke farmer the other day attributed the reason to the long hours help are required to work on a farm. Farmers who have adopted the plan of quitting work at 6 p.m. have not much trouble in securing men. One of the principal objections to working on the farm is the from daylight to dark hours. Of course during catchy time in harvest early quitting could not be observed, but as a rule better service can be obtained for a reasonable day's work.

VanAuken—Vreeland.

Miss Minnie Vreeland, of 37 Atlantic street, Hackensack, was married at her home last night to Thomas E. Van Auken, of Englewood. Only near friends and relatives were present. The house was prettily decorated with palms and roses and carried out a color scheme of green and white.

The bride wore a handsome gown of white embroidered organdie and carried a large bouquet of white roses and maiden hair ferns.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Doolittle of the First M. E. church and the bride was given away by her brother, John D. Vreeland.

After the ceremony a supper was served. A crowd of about 200 people collected outside the house armed with confetti and rice and when the couple started for the carriage they were assailed with showers that fell upon them like a cloudburst.

The carriage was trimmed with enough old shoes and tin pans to make a second hand dealer envious and as the couple rattled away the shouts of the crowd followed them for blocks.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Auken will have a short wedding trip and then return to a house which is awaiting them in Englewood.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Jarboe, of Troy; J. B. D. Vreeland, of Dover, N. J.; Miss Bessie Hoyt, of Oradell; Mrs. Berlan, of Frankes, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Doremus, Mr. and Mrs. Burley, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Van Auken, Raymond Doremus, Mr. and Mrs. M. Vreeland and George Vreeland, Hackensack, N. J.; Record June 21.—The groom is a well known Watford old boy, and many old friends join in best wishes.

KEEP CHILDREN WELL.

Stomach and bowel troubles kill thousands of little ones during the hot weather. Diarrhoea, dysentery and cholera infantum sometimes come without warning and if prompt aid is not at hand the child may be beyond aid in a few hours. If you want to keep your children hearty, rosy and full of life during the hot weather give them an occasional dose of Baby's Own Tablets. This medicine prevents illness and cures it when it comes expectedly. And the mother has the guarantee of a government analyst that this medicine is absolutely safe. Mrs. W. J. Munroe, Sinaluta, Sask., says:—"For more than three years Baby's Own Tablets is the only medicine I have given my children, and I think the Tablets invaluable for stomach and bowel troubles." Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. Keep the Tablets in the house.

NAPPER—BLOUGH.

The following wedding notice has been handed in:—A pretty home wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Blough, when their eldest daughter, Edna E., was united in marriage to David E. Napper, of Sarnia, on Wednesday, June 20th. The bride, who wore a gown of cream cecilian with lace trimmings and carried a bouquet of cream roses was given away by her father. As the wedding march was being played by her sister, the young couple took their place under an arch. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. W. Muxworthy, after which a tea was served. The bride's going away suit was blue velvet with white trimmings. The bride was the recipient of many useful presents. Only the immediate relatives were present. Mr. and Mrs. Napper left on the evening train for their home in Sarnia, where a reception was given them and a very enjoyable evening spent.

WALNUT GARDEN PARTY.

Despite the threatening weather and cool temperature the annual garden party and social in connection with the Walnut Methodist church held on Friday evening last was a great success. There was a large crowd in attendance and ample arrangements were made for their entertainment and comfort. Tables were arranged in the church shed where visitors could enjoy the good things provided in abundance in comfort. The pastor, Rev. T. B. Coupland, presided and introduced an excellent program. Appropriate addresses were given by Rev. S. W. Muxworthy, of Watford, and Rev. T. A. Bell, of Napier. Solos by Mrs. McGregor, of Brooke, and Mr. Morrow, of Watford, and selections by the Walnut choir were well received. The Watford Silves Band entertained the proceedings with a number of popular selections, and Misses Jessie Taylor and Annie Coupland contributed well rendered recitations. The refreshment booth was liberally patronaged, the total proceeds amounting to about ninety dollars.

Wilson—Rose.

A very interesting event took place June 21st at the residence of Mrs. Margaret Rose, Petrolia, when her youngest daughter, Ella Florence, was united in marriage to George H. Wilson, son of James Wilson. The ceremony was performed at 2 o'clock by the Rev. K. D. Hamilton in the presence of about 50 guests. Both parties were unattended during the ceremony, Wm. Rose and Maggie Wilson, brother and sister of the principals, acting as witnesses.

The house was very prettily decorated for the occasion with carnations and myrtle. The bride wore a suit of cream serge and carried white carnations.

After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served after which the happy couple left on the 4.40 train for a short honeymoon.

Married in California.

The Kankana (Cal.) Sun of June 15th, contains the following wedding notice of a former Watford boy:

"Miss Bertha, daughter of this city and Wallace Tullock of Sacramento, Cal., were married Tuesday, at 2.30 o'clock, at the Lutheran Church, by Rev. W. Hienenthal, Miss Anna Schubring and Chas. Schubring, sister and brother of the bride, attended as bridesmaid and groomsmen.

The bride wore white Swiss over silk, trimmed with valencienais lace, and carried bride's roses. The bridesmaid was in white and carried carnations.

A wedding reception was held and six o'clock dinner served at the home of the bride's parents on Kline street. Mr. and Mrs. Tullock left at one o'clock for Montreal, Canada, and will return to the coast of Canada and visit relatives, returning about the middle of July, when they will leave for their new home in Sacramento, Cal. Miss Ida Schubring, of Appleton, will accompany them.

The bride has spent her life here and is well known and highly esteemed by a large circle of friends. The groom holds a responsible position in the car shops at Sacramento, and the young people have every prospect of a happy wedded life.

Mr. Tullock and his bride are spending a few days at the groom's old home in Watford, and are receiving the congratulations of many friends.

The Canned Meat Plants of Canada.

Ottawa, June 25.—Hon. Sydney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, is having an investigation made into the canned meat industry of the Dominion, so as to be able to assure the British buyer of the excellence and purity of the Canadian article.

If during the course of the investigation there should be any reason for regulations or a system of inspection, the minister will no doubt make the necessary recommendations to the Government.

The "canned meat industry is a growing one, and the Government will do everything that is possible to prevent its being injured by the recent disclosures in Chicago.

West Wants Men.

Winnipeg, Man., June 28.—"Not for many years has there been such a shortage of labor as this season," says J. J. Gordon, provincial commissioner of immigration.

"So much railway construction is in progress and the roads are so hard up for men that they are snatching up every available hand.

"Even with the railways eliminated it would be impossible this summer to supply the demands throughout the West for men that they are snatching up every available hand.

"Even now we cannot meet the demand and as the summer advances the cry for help is going to be enormous.

"My estimate now is that there will be needed at least from 20,000 to 25,000 men to harvest the crop."

Died Two Months After Being Insured.

A case of considerable interest to life insurance companies was tried at the sessions at Sandwich, being that of Hartford vs. the Toronto Life Insurance Company. Andrew Hartford was insured May 10, 1905, and he died in July, after an operation for cancer of the stomach. The insurance company resisted payment on the ground that Hartford was suffering from a cancer at the time he was insured. It was shown that Hartford had his family refused to take a policy for $1,000, the plaintiff claimed that this showed conclusively that the deceased had no knowledge that he was suffering from cancer. Insurance companies all over the Dominion watched the progress of the case with unusual interest. Judge Horne charged that the only question for the jury to consider was as to the physical condition of the deceased at the time when the policy was issued. The jury returned a verdict for the full amount of the policy, $500 and costs.

Agricultural Associations.

Mr. H. B. Cowan, Superintendent of Agricultural Societies, is preparing a statement to be sent out to agricultural societies, showing the effect of the legislation respecting them, which was passed at the last session of the House, and which goes into force next year. In effect, it provides that yearly Government grants, instead of being on a fixed basis as now, shall be made on the basis of the work actually done by the respective organizations, for the advancement of agriculture. Superintendent Cowan expressed the opinion yesterday that this would greatly tend to discourage the side-show branch of so-called exhibitions, which has reached large proportions of late years, and may ultimately lead to the dissolution of a large number of agricultural associations and the strengthening of the educational side of those that survive.

Indian Relics in Moore.

Mr. David Boyle, curator of the Provincial museum, has returned from a visit to the Ojibway, reserve in Moore township, Lambton county, whether he went to examine some recent excavations, and report to the department. While there he made the interesting discovery of a skull, perforated at the apex by a carefully drilled hole. There are two suppositions. If the hole were drilled before death it was presumably on the theory of releasing evil spirits; if after death—as is most likely—for the purpose of hanging the skull in the wigwam was a trophy.

More Men For Canada.

More men for Canada—that is what the weather spells. The frost and bitter winds are playing havoc with the fruit trees brought by the summer heat untimely into blossom. Men dependent upon orchards for their living already see their possibility of profit gone. It is at the end of a season such as this threatens to that men, broken and dispirited, pack up for the Dominion.—London Evening Standard.

McGarvey Goes To Penitentiary.

Edward McGarvey, of Strathroy, was sentenced to five years in Kingston Penitentiary on Monday by Judge Elliot, on three charges of stealing.

When asked if he had anything to say before sentence was passed, McGarvey made a plea for leniency. He declared that he had worked hard to support his father's family and his own. He also alluded that his health was poor. He begged his honor to be merciful.

Mr. John Macpherson, counsel for McGarvey, asked for leniency on account of the strain of insanity in the family.

Judge Elliot, in sentencing the prisoner, thought that leniency was out of the question in this case, the crimes were so numerous and serious. The prisoner should have thought of all this before committing the offenses proven against him. If insanity developed he was sure that the prisoner would be well cared for at Kingston.

Dr. Hugh McLean, of Marthville, who recently graduated in medicine, will locate in Regina.

"But suppose you don't win," suggested Dorothy anxiously. Vernon shrugged his shoulders. "Then our marriage is indefinitely postponed," he said, "but it cannot fail," he added. "My information is positive."

"It's an awful risk," whispered the girl. Vernon took her in his arms. "Dear little girl," he said soothingly. "It is a deal that takes place almost every day. It is the only way in which I can quickly make enough money to support you in good style, and I cannot take you from your father's house to lead a life of deary economy."

"I'd rather do that than risk losing it all," she said bravely. "That would be awful, dear."

"Never fear," he assured. "This will win. It is just a case of selling something for more than you expect to pay for it, while the other man expects you will have to pay more."

"Suppose father should find it out," she whispered, and a shade of awe crept into her tones. She was a little afraid of this father, who was one of the financial kings.

"He would probably hold up the market and clean me out," he concluded. "Therefore he must not know."

"Tell me all about it again," she pleaded. "I am so slow."

Patience he went into the details again. F. and V. stock was steady at 78. He had reason to know that there would be a drop in a week. He would purchase "calls," the right to sell within ten days, shares of the stock at 73. The profit would come if the stock was selling lower than that. If things went well, the stock should fall to 65, leaving him a profit of $8 on every share that he sold.

Some large operators had combined to force down the stock, and he was to profit by his knowledge of that fact before the break came. Two days before Morton Harvey had refused his consent to the marriage of his daughter to Chester Vernon and had suggested that she should make some mark in the world before he aspired to the hand of the daughter of a man who owned entire railroads. This tip had come as an inspiration, and he determined to stake his entire fortune in an effort to show what he could do.

For two days he worked industriously buying "puts," or permissions, to sell certain blocks of stock at stipulated prices. If the price did not fall below that price he would be reduced to practically nothing. If it fell below he could demand the difference between the price and the actual selling price in cash.

Beyond a hurried telephone call he did not hear from Dorothy, for after the exchange closed he was busy with his agents settling their figures.

It was not until the third day that he placed his block and in jubilant tones invited Dorothy to lunch with him. "I've won," he exclaimed; "there is nothing to do now but to sit still and watch the stock fall. I don't even have to bother about depressing it. The other fellow kindly does that for me."

But his triumph was short lived, and it was a haggard faced man who presented himself at the restaurant. "It's all up," he said in answer to Dorothy's eager questioning. "I have just had word that the pool has been abandoned."

"But can't you take those things back and get an exchange slip for them?" asked Dorothy, with a recollection of shopping tours.

Vernon shook his head. "No such luck," he groaned. "They've got pretty nearly every cent I own, and they won't give it up."

Dorothy smiled softly to herself. "I don't think it is as bad as that," she said decidedly. "I have an idea."

"If your idea will depress F. and V. ten points," he said grimly, "I should like to have it."

Dorothy dimpled and shook her head. "You can't have it," she laughed. "You just sit still and let the other fellow do the work."

Vernon remembered his words of the morning and groaned. The other fellows had decided to do nothing with the stock. It was to be left alone.

"Your father won't help out," he said dolefully. "I told you that the other day. Remember?"

Dorothy nodded her head. "I don't mean to laugh, Chester," she said tenderly, "but it is all too funny."

"It won't seem so amusing later," he warned, but in the end he caught something of her confidence, and the dessert found him far more cheerful than had the consomme, so suggestive of his own impending fate.

If there was a chance for a fight there would have been some comfort, but even the opportunity of a struggle was denied him. He could only wait for the unexpected to happen—or Dorothy's plan to work. He could not believe that the latter was of any avail. What could she know about the market?

But for all that F. and V. went to 77½, held there for an hour, then dropped to the quarter. It gave the traders no concern. F. and V. was a steady stock, but it could not always stand at 78. It might even go a trifle lower.

But when it went to 74½ the next morning and closed a half point lower the room traders began to grow interested and speculated as to where the drop was coming from. When it was found that the blocks of stocks were coming from the largest holders a panic took them, and for the next three days the market steadily declined. When it went to 63½ Vernon closed out and in his jubilation telephoned Dorothy to select the ring. He had cleaned up an enormous profit.

Morton Harvey found them in the library when he came home. He frowned slightly as he saw Vernon, then his face lighted up.

"You seem pretty chipper for a man who has been cleaned out," he said grimly.

"Cleaned out?" laughed Vernon. "Why, it's just the other way around. I was on the right side of F. and V."

"I thought you sold long," he cried. "Dorothy said—"

He checked himself, but the murder was out.

"I never could understand those things," sighed Dorothy. "Were you listening when I telephoned Jessie?"

"Didn't you know that the library door was open and that I was sitting there?" he demanded. She looked bravely into his face.

"Yes," she said quietly. "I did know. I knew that you were there and that you would hurt Chester's deal if you could."

"And fooled me into putting the market down to help him out?" he laughed.

Dorothy hung her head. He crossed the room and raised the dimpled chin.

"Daughter," he said tenderly. "I guess I'd better confess that I am beaten. I think I'm getting to be too old a man to play the game all alone. I think I shall form a partnership with Harvey & Vernon."

"You and Chester?" she cried, springing up and throwing her arms about his neck.

"No," he corrected. "myself and Mrs. Chester Vernon, nee Harvey. Chester won't need me if he has you. You may form a matrimonial partnership with him. That would be satisfactory."

A Jewel of a Wife.

A certain Russian nobleman visiting Paris was noticed to be constantly plunged in deep sadness. He wore on his finger a very remarkable ring, large enough for a bracelet, and which extended over his hand like a buckle for the ring finger. It was of a greenish color and was traversed by red veins.

A lady, meeting him in public, ventured to say:

"You wear a very handsome ring."

"It is not a ring," he answered, "but a sepulcher."

"This jewel," he continued, "is my wife. I had the misfortune to lose her some years since in Russia. She was an Italian and dreaded the bed which awaited her after this life. I carried her body to Germany, where I was acquainted with a celebrated chemist, whom I directed to make of the body a solid substance which I could carry about with me. Eight days after he sent for me and showed me the empty coffin amid a horrid collection of instruments and alchemies. The jewel was lying upon the table. He had through means of some corrosive substance reduced and compressed that which was my wife into this jewel, which shall never more leave me."

Novel Use For a Cigar.

The stout man stood puffing at an unlighted cigar, bandaged tightly with a series of rubber bands. Wrapped in this manner the cigar gave the appearance of a fractured limb fresh from the hands of a surgeon.

"I see you getting ready to ask the question," said the stout man. "You want to know what I have my cigar done up in these rubber bands for. Well, I'll tell you. It is a little trick of my own invention. I was a cigar fiend for several years, but I have now broken off the habit—haven't smoked one for several years. I am now trying to break myself of the chewing habit. This cigar, you see, gives me a dry smoke and an imitation chew at the same time. If something does not happen to it this cigar will last me two weeks. Those rubber bands keep it from falling to pieces."—New York Press.

THREE or four months more and the gates will open for our fall fairs. A brief time in which to prepare none too much for any man who desires to win a prize or attract public attention. The whole problem of successful competition hinges first on breeding but chiefly on preparation. No man deserves to win who takes his stock directly from the pasture to the show ring. No judge can figure an animal on what it may be some other time, but must credit it for what it is when brought before him. It pays in dollars and cents, it pays in honors won, but most of all does it pay to show the stock in good condition and educated enough to do what is required promptly, gracefully and with good temper. The subject is of too much importance to permit of neglect, and now is the time to commence preparations.

WEDDING BELLS.

The Century Methodist Church in Medicine Hat was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday evening, June 6th, when Miss Jennie Rowland and Mr. Malcolm Morrison were united in wedlock. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. M. Harrison. The bride wore a gown of white chiffon over white taffeta silk. She wore a veil and wreath of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of cream roses. Miss Lena McEachern was the bridesmaid and wore a gown of white organdie. Mr. Murdoch Morrison was the groomsmen. Miss Harrison presided at the organ and played the wedding march. Mr. and Mrs. Morrison left on the evening train for a trip to the coast. A large number of presents were received, testifying to the popularity of the young couple.

BUSINESS GIRLS.

Need Rich, Red Blood to Stand Worry and Strain of Business Hours.

Business overtakes a woman's strength. Weak, languishing girls fade under the strain. They risk health rather than lose employment and the loss of health means the loss of beauty. Thousands of earnest, intelligent young women who earn a livelihood away from home in public offices, and business establishments are silent, suffering victims of overtaxed nerves and deficiency of strength because their blood supply is not equal to the strain placed upon them. Fragile, breathless and nervous they worked against time with never a rest when headaches and backaches make every hour like a day. No wonder their cheeks lose the tint of health and grow pale and thin. Their eyes are dull, shrunk and weary; their beauty slowly but surely fades. Business girls and women look older than their years because they need the frequent help of a true blood-making, strengthening medicine to carry them through the day. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are actual food to the starved nerves and tired brains of business women. They actually make the rich red blood that imparts the bloom of youth and glow of health to women's cheeks. They bring bright eyes, high spirits and make the days duties lighter. Twelve months ago Miss Mary Cadwell, who lives at 49 Maynard street, Halifax, N. S., was run down. The least exertion would tire her out. Her appetite was poor and fickle, and frequent headaches added to her distress. The doctor treated her for anaemia, but without apparent results. A relative advised her to use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after using but six boxes she says she feels like an altogether different person. She can now eat her meals with zest, the color has returned to her cheeks and she feels better and stronger in every way. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure bloodlessness just as food cures hunger. That is how they cured Miss Cadwell and it is just by making rich red blood that they cure such common ailments as indigestion, rheumatism, headaches and backaches, kidney trouble, neuralgia and the special ailments which make miserable the lives of so many women and young girls. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Killed at Strathroy.

Wednesday's dailies give the following particulars of the death of a well known character who frequently visited Watford: Clark Fisher, a man of 75 years, an inmate of the House of Refuge, Strathroy, was killed by a Grand Trunk train while walking across the track Tuesday. There was a freight coming east and the old man stepped off the track in front of the Strathroy depot, onto the west bound track on which a train of empty coaches were going to Kerwood to take an excursion of farmers to Guelph. The engineer blew the whistle and rang the bell but the man did not heed it and was killed instantly. Deceased was one of London township's patients and for many years assisted township butchers in their slaughter house operations. He was known by market habitués here as an eccentric character, and was looked upon by many as being mentally unbalanced on certain points.

The Law on Teachers' Salaries.

In response to a request from a subscriber we publish below the full text of the clauses in the revised Public School Act having relation to the salaries of teachers in rural schools. It will be noted that the trustees of any school will receive $250 from the township towards the teacher's salary and will be required to pay him or her in addition from $50 to $250 a year, according to the assessment. Boiled down, the clauses mean that the principal of a rural school will get at least from $300 to $500 a year, according to the wealth of the section. An assistant will receive $300. The text of the clauses follows:—

The municipal council of every township shall levy and collect by assessment upon the taxable property of the Public School supporters of the whole township, in the manner provided by this Act and the Municipal and Assessment Acts, the sum of $250 at least for every Public School which has been kept open for the year exclusive of vacations. Where the school has been kept open for six months or over, a proportionate amount of the said sum of $250 at least shall be levied and collected in a similar manner upon the taxable property aforesaid. An additional sum of $150 at least shall be levied and collected in a similar manner upon the same taxable property for every assistant teacher engaged for the whole year exclusive of vacations, and a proportionate amount if such assistant teacher was engaged for six months or over.

The sums so levied and collected by the respective councils of the county and township shall be payable to the trustees of the respective Public Schools only on the order of the inspector, and, after the expiration of the current calendar year, shall be applied exclusively to teachers' salaries.

In addition to the sum provided by the
