"Electric storms are far less dangerou than the majority of people imagine," write Edward W. Bok in June Ladies' Home Jour A. D.

nal. "That a severe lightning storm is ter rifying admits of no question, and will often bring uneasiness to the heart of the bravest. The chance of lightning striking a house, for example, is not one in a million. Particularly is this true in cities, strung as most of them are with electric wires. The greater langer from electric storms is in the country, and even there the danger may be lessened if the simplest and most commonsense preautions are exercised. The surest electric conductor is a draught, and if when a thun der storm approaches, it is seen that all the windows and doors liable to occasion a draught are kept closed, the danger is at once reduced to a minimum. If a woman is 'caught' out in a thunder storm the surest helter is a house; the most dangerous a tree, particularly an oak tree. It is a peculiar, but nevertheless a proven fact, that the oak is most sufceptible of all trees to a current of electricity. Over fifty per cent. of trees struck by lightning storms during one summer, so the government tells us, were oaks, while the beach tree was the least harmed. Therefore, the worst possible place of shelter in an electric storm is under an oak tree,

Now that the season is about at hand when our agriculturists will be harvesting the crop which is their greatest source of income, that of the apple,—we beg to call their attention to the following timely and instructive article, taken from The Canadian Journal of Commerce, under date of August 28th, 1896

Commerce, under date of August 28th, 1896:

"The cherries, peaches, plums and apples with which Canada abounds have no superior on this continent nor in more distant regions. More especially is this true with respect to apples, which attain their greatest perfection in hot summer climates such as Canada. For sweet juicy pulp and rich aromatic flavor the Canadian apple is facile princeps among the apples of all countries. The magnificent abundance of the present crop in Ontario and Nova Scotia is only equalled by its quality. It is not only the largest but the finest crop of apples ever known in the Dominion. The estimated yield is three millions of barrels, a million and a half of which will be available for export.

Exporters are turning anxious eyes to wards the markets of Great Britain as the chief i- not the only outlet for this great sur plus stock of apples. Only 140,000 barrels were shipped from Montreal last year, a very small number compared with the 1,500,000 available this year. It is obvious that the whole of our surplus of apples cannot be marketed in Great Britain, and that indiscriminate and wholesale shipments can only end in disaster to all concerned in the business. But owing to the good name which eriminate and wholesale shipments can only end in disaster to all concerned in the business. But owing to the good name which Canadian apples already enjoy in Great Britain, and the very superior quality of this season's crop, an opportunity presents itself to make a marked and lasting impression with our apples provided only the best of the stock is shipped and that it is packed according to the most enlightened methods. Not sufficient regard is paid by our shippers to the peculiarities of the English markets, to the kind of apple that is best appreciated and most in demand, its color, taste, size and the way it is expected to be packed. English apples are for the most part colorless, so the English value highly the bright red Canadian apples. The rosy apple is sure of a quick sale in England. Shippers cannos afford to ignore the lust of the eye in selecting and preparing their fruit. Californis fruit sells largely on its appearance and insplendid packing. It looks so nice that an indiscriminating public forget its woolly anatasteless quality. The great success of the Californian fruits is an object lesson to Canadian fruit growers and shippers on the immense importance of careful and attractive packing. It is said by experienced fruit dealers in Montreal that Nova Scotia produces the cleanest and best apple in America, but owing to the size and style and general badness of the barrel used and the inferior packing which as a rule prevails in that province the apple has not met with the recegi packing which as a rule prevails in that pro-vince the apple has not met with the recog vince the apple has not met with the recognition and appreciation abroad which itsuperior quality abundantly justifies. Of course there are striking exceptions. The Nova Scotia Gravenstein—one of the most delicious apples grown—is now largely exported in cases divided by cardboard intmests, each nest holding one apple only.

These cases are obtained from a gentleman in Montreal who for the past ten or twelveyears has made most successful use of them in exporting fine and delicate apples for thtable, the fruit arriving at the English markets unbruised and even with the bloom fresh upon it. It is absolutely necessary to pack such apples as the Gravenstein, thFameuse, the Wealthy and the McIntost Red in cases. They are too soft and delicatto stand the pressure to which apples packed in barrels are subjected. The more hard winter fruit can be safely shipped in barrels provided it is firmly and cleanly packed and all moisture is carefully renoved.

Eugland imports apples chiefly from French, Belgian, and Dutch growers so far as Europe is concerned. But the principal source of her supplies are Canada and the United States. The Canadian apples are preferred to all others and bring better prices.
Some of our finest apples exported in cases have been sold in London and Edinburch by Some of our finest apples exported in cases have been sold in London and Edinburgh by have been sold in London and Edinburgh by the dozen at from one shilling to one and sixpence. Two years ago, in Edinburgh, the Fameuse were selling at eightpence per pound, a price which averaged four cents a piece. The Army and Navy Stores and the Civil Service Stores are about to put on sale our more delicate early apples exported in cases, and it is expected that the venture will prove eminently successful. With respect to the great mass of our apples however it is certain that the prices will be low this season, especially for the September packing. those of the finest quality should be shipped those of the finest quality should be shipped as they will find their way into a much larger circle of customers and become more widely known and appreciated in consequence. The exportation of apples will be limited only by the freight accommodation which promises unfortunately to be somewhat inadequate. This is another reason for careful selection of fruit. As only a part can go, let the best be sent.

With respect to the inter-Provincial trade in apples and the home consumption generally it is said that dealers and the general public are much more fastidious now than they were a few years ago. Culls of the shipping apples will not satisfy the domestic demand, nor will dealers accept from the growers slack packing, and culls mixed up with No. 1. If No. 1 is sold, No. 1 must be delivered. It is customary now for shipping with No. 1. If No. 1 is sold, No. 1 must be delivered. It is customary now for shipping firms to buy whole orchards at a fixed price and do their own packing. By this method they are enabled to guarantee the contents to be as represented and to affix with confidence their name and trade mark. The days of dishonest packing are pretty well numbered. It is cheerfully admitted even by those who know and practice some of the more respectable tricks of the trade that the selection of a sufficient number of good-looking apples to form two or three attractive layers at the top and the bottom of the barrel and then fill up with culls is not a wise thing to then fill up with culls is not a wise thing to then fill up with culls is not a wise thing to do under any circumstances, apart altogether from the ethical aspect of the question. This kind of packing will do more for Mani-toba and the Territories than it will for Eng-land and Scotland. It is by careful selection and good packing that Collingwood, Gode-rich, Owen Sound, and Sarnia have worked up their extensive apple trade with our great Northwest.

Of fruits Great Britain imported 17,383,-773 bushels in 1894 and 15,277,260 bushels last year. This is a twenty-five million dollar trade. It will be Canada's own fault if she oes not obtain a very large part of this im-ture has been collecting an elaborate series of statistics dealing with the haulage of farm products and deducing therefrom important conclusions. Returns were obtained from 1200 counties throughout the republic; and, among other things, it was shown that the average cost of haulage per ton for the whole country was $3.02. "Information in the hands of the department indicates," says the Ottawa Journal, in dealing with the matter, "that nearly two-thirds of this excessive cost can be saved by road improvements. That is to say, the average cost of delivering a ton of hay, or other produce, can be reduced by good roads from three dollars to one dollar." What this means to the farmer need hardly be emphasized. The price of most of the things he has to sell is fixed in the open market by the pressure of outside competition, with little enough refer ence to the cost of production to him. The asequence is that in most cases the cost of haulage comes out of his pocket; so that if he can make a saving of two dollars a ton on this expenditure by providing himself with good roads, he can afford to put considerable time and money into the making of such pleasant things:

"It is impossible, when speaking to Canadian soldiers, not to be impressed with the quiet earnestness of their military spirit. They are primarily a commercial and business-like people; but it is perfectly plain that they have splendid natural abilities for soldiering, and what is more they are ready to put them into practice at a moment's notice. It would be infatuation to ignore these military qualities, which, indeed, exists in our other colonies, and in the proper utilization of which lies one of the chief elements of the strength of the Eritish empire."

FIRE'S DESTRUCTIVE WORK.

A very disastrous fire occurred at our sister town yesterday afternoon commencing at 2 o'clock, and which, owing to the lack of a water system, totally destroyed the fine swelling-house of Mr. John Warwick, together with his barn and woodhouse and their contents, only the furniture of the lower flat of the residence being aved. The discovery was not made till the entire roof was enveloped in flames, and it was with much difficulty that the few articles saved were rescued from the dwelling. The fire rapidly took possession of the building and the intense heat soon ignited the wood-house and barn, which shared a similar fate, the onlookers viewing the destruction of the property without being in any way able to stay the progress of the flames.

Mrs. Warwick, the wife of the unfortunate owner, was on a bed of sickness at the time, in charge of Miss Helen Fortune, whose wearing apparel, gold watch and chain and a considerable sum of money were in an upstairs room, and which, together in an upstairs room, and which, together with all other articles above the lower floor, with all other articles above the lower floor, were lost.

Mr. Warwick was married some few months ago to Miss Duncan, a resident of the town, and prior to that event had spent a large amount of money in renovating his house and otherwise improving his general surroundings. The loss is a very heavy one to the energetic and respected citizen, and he has the sympathy of the entire community. There was no insurance whatever.

A telephone message from the scene of the conflagration this morning informs us that Mr. Warwick, in addition to the loss above mentioned, had the sum of $332.00 in cash

Caribean House Destroyed by Fire.

The inhabitants of Granville Ferry were aroused from their slumbers at an early hour on Friday morning last to find that the large store known as the Caribean House was in flames. Owing to the great progress the fire had made when the brigade reached the scene, it was found impossible to save the building. Attention was at once directed to an adjoining fish house, containing up wards of fifteen tons of green fish, which was saved from the devouring element. The Caribean House was coupied by Mr. Fred Hatheway and was enjoying a large trade in general merchandise. The general impression of the community is that it was the work of an incendiary. The contents of the store were covered by an insurance of $1200 in the Liverpool, London and Globe. There was no insurance on the building.

There was no insurance on the building.

A Slight Blaze.

Considerable excitement prevailed in our midst on Saturday last about noon owing to the discovery of fire again being made on the roof of the wood working factory of Messrs. Curry Bros. & Bent. The blaze was occasioned by a spark from the smoke stack lodging upon the roof. With much prompt ness the fire brigade was on the spot, but owing to a liberal supply of water from a couple of large barrels on the top of the building their services were not required. The damage was slight.

Friday's Races at the Park.

Friday last was a gala day for our sport-ng fraternity. The races on the Bridge-own trotting park, with which none other town trotting park, with which none other in the maritime provinces can compete, drew together a considerable number to witness the sport. The morning and up till noon looked gloomy, the sky was overcast and at times a threatening mist appeared to portend a rainy afternoon; but long before the hour appointed for the races Old Sol forced his welcome radiance through the retiring gloom and the remainder of the day was all that could be desired. The attendance was not so large as was expected, consequent upon the unpropitious state of the weather in the early part of the day, but those present were much pleased with the manner in which the races were contested and expressed themselves as delighted with the day's sport. In the 2.35 class Michael, owned by H. A. P. Smith, of Digby, and driven by Harry Lydiard, was the winner in three straight heats, with Andrew second, Bonnie F. third and Tommy M. fourth, and this was the order in which the horses finished each heat. Best time 2.30.

The 2.50 class was won by Kentucky

The 2.50 class was won by Kentucky Prince, but only after the five heats had been trotted, as May Blossom was a close second. In the third heat Bridgetown Belle, Flying Dutchman and St. Macey were distanced. Best time 2.38.

Best time 2.38.

The management will close the season by a 2.25 and green race, particulars of which will be announced in a few days.

The bicycle races—half-mile and mile—were won by Mr. William Beckwith, with Frank Gibson second in the half-mile, and lawis Ciliar second in the half-mile, and Laurie Giles second in the mile.

CHARLES HENRY DAVISON

CHARLES HENRY DAVISON.

The readers of the MONITOR will read with deep regret of the death of C. H. Davison, which occurred at his residence, at Bridgewater, on Thursday morning last, at 11 o'clock, after a severe illness of some months, of cancer of the stomach. The deceased was the eldest son of the late E. D. Davison, was born at Mill Village, Queens county in 1839, and was educated at Mt. Allison, Sackville, N. B. In 1865, in conjunction with his father, he started the widely known firm of E. D. Davison & Sons, now the E. D. Davison & Sons Co., Ltd., as a member of the firm and as president of the company. His thorough knowledge of lumbering, his love of work, his excellent judgment, and above all his square business methods and cheery manner were the elements in his successful career as a manufacturer.

were the elements in his successful career as a manufacturer.

Mr. Davison represented Lunenburg county in the Local House for two cessions, but owing to his many business responsibilities he retired from the political field, devoting himself exclusively to the lumber business, for which he possessed exceptional ability and aptitude.

In 1874 he married Annie F., the only daughter of the late Archibald M. Foster, of this town, who, with a family of three children—two sons and a daughter—are left to mourn their loss, and to whom as well as to the large circle of relatives and friends the Wedding Bells.

St. John's church, Mochelle, was crowded to the doors on Wednesday evening to witness the marriage of Miss Gussie Williams to Captain Edwin Pitman of Annapolis. The bride, who was dressed very becomingly in cream colored cashmere, trimmed with satin, and having on the traditional wedding wreath and bridal veil, was attended by Miss Troop, daughter of Wm. B. Troop, Eq., Granville. The church was tastefully decorated with flowers and shrubs, and presented a charming appearance. The music, two wedding marches, was tastefully rendered by Mrs. Benjamin Fairn, cousin of the bride. The ceremony was performed by the rector of the parish, the Rev. Henry D. deBlois, A.M. After the service, the guests, numbering about seventy, repaired to the house of the bride's father, Benjamin Williams, Esq., where a sumptuous repast was furnished to the invited guests. Numerous coestly and useful presents testified to the esteem in which the bride was held by her friends and relatives. The happy pair left by Thursday's train for an extended visit to New Brunswick.

The D. A. R. Excursion. The excursion from Windsor and all points west along the line of the Dominion Atlantic Railway to St. John and return, on Monday last, proved one of the happy hits of the season, as some six or seven hundred persons took advantage of the pleasant outing. The trip across the Bay in the beautiful steamer Prince Rupert was delightful, not a ripple being on the water to mar the pleasure of the excursionists. The band of the 69th Batt., of this town, furnished the music. The large number from this place who were present speak in glowing terms of the depresent speak in glowing terms of the de lightful ride by sea and land.

Gave Birth to Four Children.

Bridgeport, Conn., August 28.—Mrs. O. H. Strickles, wife of a farmer living outside of Stratford, gave birth this morning to four children, three girls and a boy. The largest weighed seven pounds and the smallest five, and the total weight 24 pounds. All healthy. Mrs. Strickles has given birth to five other children, two of whom are twins. She is doing nicely.

—The latest crop report sent in to th United States government contains some gratifying intelligence. The yield of Indian corn promises to exceed that of 1895. The wheat harvest will be somewhat less. The oat crop will be larger, the barley crop a little less; rye and tobacco a little more, and buckwheat and potatoes will be a large yield. The cotton crop has been damaged somewhat, but several states report a higher percentage than usual, and the southern planters will be able to make more money than they did last year. Nearly all the crops show a better condition than was thought to be possible earlier in the season. The production of the soil appears to be one feature of industry in the United States which the silver question is unable to affect.

Michigan Town in Ashes.

SEVERAL MILLION DOLLARS WORTH OF PRO Green Bay, Wis., Aug. 26.—Ontonagan, Mioh., was wiped out by fire yesterday. Telegraphic communication, which was cut off at four o'clock yesterday afternoon, has been made with the city. The fire has left absolutely nothing of the town and the scene is one of abject terror. Two thousand people who were comfortably housed on Tuesday morning are now homeless and without shelter or food. The roin involves the extensive lumber and box manufacturing plant of the Diamond Match Company, an estab lishment slone worth unwards of $1,000,000 and reported to carry about $500,000 insurance on lumber and plant.

Ontonagan is the county seat of Ontonagan PERTY DESTROYED

Ontonagan is the county seat of Ontonagan county and the oldest settlement in the Copper district. Its population is about two thousand, It is the Lake Superior terminus thousand. It is the Lake Superior terminus of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Rail-way system. The loss is well covered by insurance and some companies, notably the Mechanics' of Milwaukee, are reported very heavy losers.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Rail-way losers.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway transported the homeless people to Rockland in box cars, where they were given shelter. The loss will aggregate several million dollars and it is doubtful if the mills destroyed will ever be rebuilt as nearly all the pine in that county has been cut. Many of the people lost all they possessed in the fire and are not only homeless but penniless as well and will have to receive outside assistance or suffer from cold and hunger this winter. Ontonagan was the oldest town in the upper peninsula. eld ever grown here and the finest fruit Plums are also a fine crop. The plum orchard of Mrs. Mary A. Bent is a sight well worth a visit from any lover of natural beauty.

Perils of Our Fishermen.

The perils of poor fishermen are many and great. On Monday week six Gloucestermen reached Halifax who had drifted away from their vessels in the fog. Collins and Stanley were out 6 nights and 7 days without food. They finally landed on Fogo Island, and were saved. All the provisions in their dory when they left the Stanley was two buns and a half gallon of water. By chopping chunks of ice from bergs they supplied themselves with fresh water, and this was all that kept them alive. Collins suffered much from swollen feet. One day during a gale Collins was washed into the sea, but managed to swim back to the boat. Gus Hilbert and Andrew Ross, of the schooner. Norma, were out for 6 days in a similar plight. They ate nothing but seaweed during this period and all the water they drank was one quart they took into the dory when leaving the schooner. They were finally picked up by a French fishing vessel and landed at Catalaine. John Lott and Charles Oslen, of the sohr. Gladstone, lost their vessel and were not picked up until five days had elapsed. Their food supply consisted of two slices of dry bread and a half gallon of water. After being without water for two days they renewed their supply by securing pieces of ice from large bergs and melting it in a fish bucket. They were picked up by the Norwegian brig antine Lizzie, which landed the men on the Newfoundland coast.

—By the middle of September Spain will thave dispatched another army of 40,000 men to Cuba. Since the rebellion began over 120,000 troops have been equipped and sent to the Island and maintained while there. This is not the least remarkable thing about the troubles the country has fallen into. It shows Spain to be possessed of resources and energy few gave her credit for and which might make her a formidable enemy in time of war.

A WELL KNOWN YOUNG LADY IN NAPANEE GIVES HER EXPERIENCE -SO WEAK THAT RESTING-HER FRIENDS THOUGHT SHE WAS IN CONSUMPTION - NOW THE PIC TURE OF HEALTH AND STRENGTH.

From the Beaver, Napanee, Ont Among the young ladies of Napanee there is none better known or more highly esteem acquaintance and popularity covered a more for the Robinson Corset Co., and has many customers on her route which extends from Oshawa to Ottawa. How this young lady happens to be the subject of this article is due to the fact that she has recently under gone a most remarkable change through the health, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. When the reporter of the Beaver called to make enquiry into her cure, he was met at the door by the young lady herself, whose rosy cheek and healthy appearance gave no indication ne a prolonged illness rtermentioned his mission and found Miss Byrnes quite willing to tell the pardeath." In reply to the query "what have Dr. Williams' Pink Pills done for you?" she replied, "why they have done wonders. I feel like a new woman now. For eight years could not walk. I was greatly troubled with indigestion, and frequently could not keep milk. I had dizzy spells, severe headaches, and my complection was of a yellowish hue. My kidneys also troubled me, and in fact I was all aches and pains. In going up a flight of stairs I had either to be assist or would have to rest several times before 1 got to the top. At times my hands and teet ould have no more warmth in them than lumps of ice. On one occasion while stepon a number of my customers, I fell down in a faint. The laudlady found me in this condition and sent for a doctor, who after bring ing me back to consciousness, gave me medi was so badly run down that it was imperativ that I should have absolute rest. His medi cine had no beneficial effect that I could see and I tried a number of other doctors, with cared for neither work nor pleasure, and my friends thought I had gone into consumption. It was at this juncture that I determined to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial, and my derful change they have wrought in me. I ache and pain had disappeared. I cannot speak too highly of this wonderful medicine, the benefit of other sufferers." Mrs. Byrnes was present during the inter viewand strongly endorsed what her daughter said, adding that she believed they had saved nd I am eager to let the fact be known for Printing Bank of England Notes.

A contributor to the London Referee give an interesting account of the manner of produeing the Bank of England notes. In the printing department sheets of postal order are being worked off like so many colored posters. This, it appears, is a new department in the bank. The old-fashioned money orders are printed elsewhere, along with the various kinds of stationery used by the postoffice. Hard by, there is a large printing room, where six or eight smallish presses such as might be found in an ordinary jobbing office, are at work. One enters withon misgiving. Who would have thought the bank had so much printing to do, I said to myself, as I looked upon this array of whirling pulleys and belts and creaking cylinders, ed by a dozen besmuged employes? I am invited to examine the work which is being turned out. I do so carelessly. Gracio powers! These are bank-notes, which are being thrown out by the thousand. Hundredpound notes, twenty-pound notes, fivers, notes of the Government of India represent ing so many rupees-all the varieties of the mperial bank-note are to be found here. Each has its turn upon the presses. In this dirty printing room, reeking of oil and ink they manufacture wealth at the rate of a million a day. I say wealth, because my education is not complete enough to enable me to distinguish between bank-notes and what they represent.

To be precise, in this printing room they turn out per day 50,000 bank notes of various denominations, and this ouptut goes on con tinually. As the notes are paid into the put away for destruction, and new ones issued in their place, the turnover being about a million pounds daily. I looked with curi osity at the men engaged in what is really a magical process, surpassing anything described in "The Arabian Nights." They may have been members of the aristocracy in the receipt of thousands a year, but they looked and acted like common printers. feeding their machines and taking off the printed sheets secundum artem. The honest employe over whose shoulder I looked was ving one-hundred-pound bank notes from the tapes at the rate of eighty a minute. and he told me that he was engaged in this sort of work for six hours a day. Whether the notes bear on the face of them thousands or hundreds or twenties, it matters not to him. He laboriously performs his day's "darg," and goes home to his tea as unpretentiously as if he had not been handling money enough to form a decent loan for a South American republic. There is no contempt greater than that which is bred of familiarity with money.

Are You Tired Are You fried
All the time? This condition is a sure indication that your blood is not rich and nourishing as it ought to be and as it may be if you

ALASKA ISLANDS USED TO RAISE THEM FOR On March 18 Senator Wilson introduced in the Senate a bill "to authorise the Sec retary of the Treasury to issue leases of cer tain islands in Alaska for the breeding o foxes," and on the 27th the bill was favorabl reported by the committee on public lands.

Although this bill has been the source of considerable amusement, the statement made by the gentlemen interested in its pas sage were a revelation to the members of the committee on public lands, and decidedly is eresting. It shows that as far back as 1884 certain gentlemen, at that time resident the problem of the future employment and support of the natives of the Alas when the fur seal, the otter and the walru should have become exterminated. The suggestion was made by Capt. Morgs of Conneticut, that the blue fox might be donesticated, and under certain conditions ored with profit, thus utilizing many barren islands and furnishing employment to the lecided to subscribe $1,000 each to try the experiment. A small number of young xes were bought from the natives and taken to North Semidi Island, about 225 miles from Kodiak, and a small colony of natives, with a white keeper, were left with one year's supplies to try the experiment.

After many ups and downs, and the ex penditure of $40,000 in money, the experiments proved a success, and it was demontrated that both the blue and silver could be domesticated and bred. From this small eginning, there are now no less than twenty o colonies on as many islands, devoted to the business, and more than 100 natives are rofitably employed in its prosecution.

These islands are mostly barren rocks ris ing abruptly from the ocean, and the foxes re allowed to roam at will over them. Each Island has a small settlement, where the keeper and his native assistants live, when the foxes are fed regularly and where the soon learn to come for their food.

the foxes eating from the troughs and quarrel ing over choice morsels like dogs in a kenne The food consists of cooked Indian meal an blubber scrap, and on it the foxes grow slee!

Senator Wilson, notwithstanding the good atured jokes of his fellew senators, ha worked for the bill with energy and enthu siasm, for, as he says, it will not only be th means of saving from extinction a race o valuable fur-bearing animals, but will peop the barren islands of the Alaskan chain as rescue from misery and starvation the native who, now that the fur seal is becoming extinct see starvation staring them in the face.

It Must Be the Best. Rev. W. H. Madill, Alton, Ontario:—"1 received the bottle of K. D. C. and have given it a fair trial, and I can say it has done me more good than the hundreds of dollars worth of doctor's medicine that I have taken." The mildest as well as the worst forms of indigestion need a remedy, and that remedy

A very pretty story is given as origin o the fan-in brief, that a mandarin, among appearance to day will show you what a wonnterns she was overcome by the heat and empelled to remove her mask. But as it was against the law in those days to leave her face uncovered she held her mask befor t, waving it to cool the air. All the ladies of the court did likewise, and from this the idea of the fan, which since then has been the Chinese mask.

-We know of no reason why the poo hould have a less valuable dellar than the rich; no reason why the workman should receive for his labor a dollar that will buy any less than the dollar paid the rich. All, whether poor or rich, laborers or bankers, are entitled to receive the best money there is-money every dollar of which is equal in value to gold and will purchase as much of the necessaries and comforts of life as the gold —Merit in medicine means the power to cure. The great cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla proves its unequalled merit.

Ask for Minard's and take no other.

You note the difference in children. Some have nearly every ailment, even with the best of care. Others far more exposed pass through unharmed. Weak children will have continuous colds in winter, poor digestion in summer. They are without power to resist disease, they have no reserve strength. Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil, with hypophosphites, is cod-liver oil partly digested and adapted to the weaker digestions of children.

A woman who scrubs, washes or sweeps would not be expected to do her work with out a plentiful allowance of food, and yet the young bread-winner who stands all day ng behind a counter or sits at the typewriting machine is supposed to have easy work and is frequently supplied with a most meagre diet. Now, as a matter of fact, the ecupation of a clerk or secretary is much ore exhaustive than that of one employed in actual physical labor; the brain being hole. The other, alarmed, came to the mar ishment, which must be supplied from the Pat, are ye killed entirely? If ye're dead,

What has all this to do with beauty? Much—indeed everything. Without sufficient nourishing food blood, body and brains are affected, and nowhere does the deficiency nanifest itself more quickly than in the loses her freshness, and is old before her time; the tissues become flabby, blue lines claimed, petulantly:—"Confound that fel-

The result of a proper regimen of diet is far-reaching; a healthy woman is a happy woman; a happy woman retains her youth, and so her beauty; for, after all, beauty -its secret is a contented mind; its prime possession of which no woman need fear to be called plain.

The traveller pointed out his own horse, saying:—"That's my nag." All the bathing in the world will not give a clear, healthy skin unless it be supplemented by wholesome food; no woman can expect to have a good complexion who indulges in one or two extremes-over-rich and too abundant diet on the one hand, or nsufficient, make-shift food on the other. Let us consider, first, the sin of over-in-greasy, unlovely skin and a tendency to too much flesh. liberal allowance of meat are fatal to beauty; neat is strengthening, it is true, but to par take of it twice a day is quite sufficient for the average woman, whose habits are somewhat sedentary, or whose domestic routine permits but a limited amount of out-door exercise. Then, too, meats, to give the proper nourishment, should be properly cooked, and certain kinds only should be eaten; rare steaks, which should be broiled, and seasonable poultry and game are all nutritious and strengthening. Veal is indigestible and There was a good deal of suppressed emoshould be eaten but seldom, and then only when cooked till thoroughly done; underdone veal is poisonous to the stomach. Pork and sausages are exceedingly coarsening in their values her complexion will do well to abstain altogether from their use, as well as from their usual accompaniment-hot cakeswhich are most detrimental to a fine skin. Vegetables and fruit, on the other hand, should be partaken of freely; potatoes less but a small proportion of nutriment and are fur $8 week."

How to Live to be Old The last fad in England is to insure longerity through the use of a special diet. The promise is held out to those who implicitly follow out the prescribed regimen that they may attain to the age of 110 years. This, among the most melancholy people of the globe, and to whom one would fancy that fe were the less worth living, has aroused considerable enthusiasm. Cooks and kitchens are to be abolished, meat, bread, and regetables are forbidden; existence is to be aintained exclusively upon nuts and bananas. If we compare this with the dietary ystem of Dickens, which represents that of his period, his comparatively early decease rill excite no surprise. According to English standards, he was an accomplished gastronome. Beefsteak pudding was his deal, a horrible concoction only fit for a crude or debased palate. His highest conception of a dinner was a baked leg of mutwith the bone removed and the cavity

Society demands that you should look well. Not that you should be a beauty, but that you should, on occasion, put on your best bib and tucker and help make up the picture that, all in all, constitutes society. You speak of the social world as selfish; so it is, for it demands from all its votaries absolute unselfishness. You must learn to have no ill-feeling toward anybody. If a chatterbox tells you ect of ridicule you must make yourself smile; go forward and meet Madame Malicce with entirely forget that she has ever said any thing but that which was pleasant. Society eases to be good when malicious sayings are

When They Begin to Write. It is astonishing the number of successful writers who were well on in years before they even thought of adopting literature as a rofession. Thomas Hardy was 31 before he began to turn his attention to story telling. eorge Eliot was 40 before she wrote a line of fiction, having no faith in her powers as a story teller. Barry Cornwall was 35 before ne thought of writing verse. Jules Verne was 35 before he wrote his first story. Rider Haggard started at 26; Mr. Barrie and Conan at 27: Grant Allan at 29, and Sir Walter Besant and Mr. G. An exchange prints a story about Doctor Miller, at one time a popular Congregationalist preacher in England.

He had been holding services at a village in Yorkshire, and a heavy rain having come on, had accepted an invitation to pass the night at the house of one of the villagers. The good-hearted host, seeing the minister's filled with a stuffing of oysters and veal. This was accompanied with a gin punch, in own and sent his guest up stairs to put it on. The good man had made the change and was on his way back to the sitting-room, when the woman of the house came out of family Bible, out of which the doctor was to be invited to read a chapter before the family At the same time she was not in a very to be put out of sorts by the advent of unexpected company. Seeing Doctor Miller for her husband, and as he passed in front that Madame Malice has made you the sub-of her she lifted the book and brought it down pretty smartly on his head. "There," said she, "take that for asking him to stay all night." Too Bad. A prominent Washington physician, who
