Religion—Faker Arrested--C.P.R. to Buy Pere Marquette--Children Hurt in Runaway--Fighting in Mexico

C.P.R. WILL BUY PERE MARQUETTE NETWORK OF WESTERN CANADIAN LINES IF PRESENT PLANS GO THRU

Company is Endeavoring to Buy the Pere Marquette, and With the Acquisition of the M. C. R. Would Have Two Main Lines From London to Detroit.

Definite information received by The World from Detroit last night verifies the story that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company has an immense program to network Western Ontario, and that the line is reaching one has but to look at the map to know.

It was reported in Detroit yesterday that the Canadian Pacific was also trying to purchase the Canadian branches of the Pere Marquette Railway Company, now the property of the Morgan interests, but for a long time in the hands of a receiver.

Should the C.P.R. obtain control of these branches it would have a route from London to Sarnia without breaking its agreement with the G.T. E., and for which the district has been crying for years.

CUSTOMS COLLECTIONS

Stock Yard Receipts for Nineteen-Thirteen Ahead of Previous Year.

The members of the choir of St. John's Church were entertained last evening by their leader, Mrs. Marie S. McGill, the principal of the Toronto Junction College of Music.

The collector of customs at the port of West Toronto, Mr. A. E. Rice, yesterday stated that the customs collected here during December amounted to $52,258.58, which is a decrease from the corresponding month of 1913.

The Union Stock Yards have also had a most successful year and have received 21,668 cars of stock during 1913. The previous year the receipts were only 19,849 cars.

Lakeview Lodge, No. 272, I.O.O.F., held a well attended meeting for the installation of officers in St. James Hall last night. A number of new members were initiated.

Although the Perth avenue civic rink is in good condition and is being used nightly by hundreds of skaters, no lights have as yet been placed on it, and numerous enquiries have been made about them.

In a run to Runnymede on New Year's eve one of the firemen of the Keele street station, John McQueen, had the misfortune to lose his heavy peacoat and mackintosh. It is thought that they were jolted from the rails as they travelled over the rough roads.

NO ADDITIONS TO BRAMPTON LIST

Voters to Remain as Revised by Clerk—Injunction Granted Yesterday.

MIDDLETON'S DECISION

County Judge Must Revise Only—Cannot Reopen List to Add to It.

Brampton local option fight started in earnest at Osgoode Hall yesterday, when the local option party applied to Mr. Justice Middleton for an order restraining County Judge McEgibbon of feeling from adding forty names to the list of those qualified to vote on local option in Brampton on Monday.

The day after the nomination meeting the clerk addressed the voters of the village and asked them to vote on local option on Monday. He stated that if the voters voted in favor of the proposition, they would have to pay a tax of one cent on the value of their property.

Mr. Justice Middleton, however, holds that the county judge has no power to reopen the voters' list and add new names, but must revise the list as submitted by the clerk. The judgment is as follows:

Judgment: This motion, unavoidably made at a late hour, must be determined at once or no good purpose can be served. Under the new provisions found in the municipal act the intention is to give finality to the voters' lists and at the same time to allow the necessary amendments to be made up to the last possible moment.

MIMICO MAY YET HAVE AN ELECTION

H. B. Stewart, Who Withdrew at Nomination, Came Back Day After.

IS NOW A CANDIDATE

Cites Similar Case at City Elections—May Upset Acclamation.

Although Clerk Jackson yesterday announced that Messrs. West, Clarke, Heather and Coulton were elected to the council for the present year by acclamation, it is not at all unlikely that the village will yet have to go to an election for the councillors, as well as for the reeveship.

Nominated as councillor at the nomination meeting last Monday was H. B. Stewart, proprietor of the largest general store in the village, who did not feel his business interests would allow him to accept the nomination.

Mr. Stewart, who withdrew after friends stood for election, he filed his qualification papers with the clerk, well within the allotted twenty-four hours.

As Mr. Stewart is one of the most influential business men in the village, he is likely to have received a big vote in the election, and his presence in the council is likely to be a great asset.

The day after the nomination meeting the clerk addressed the voters of the village and asked them to vote on local option on Monday. He stated that if the voters voted in favor of the proposition, they would have to pay a tax of one cent on the value of their property.

THE WORLD SPECIALIZES IN LOCAL NEWS.

The Semi-ready Store

WILLIAM G. HAY

143 Yonge Street

If you want all news, get The World.

I WANT you to feel the sincerity as well as the quality of this sale.

Too often have I heard of men who went to a sale only to be disappointed in what they got.

There shall be nothing of that kind this year; that I am determined.

Every garment, every article of wear in this big shop is reduced; is sold at less than the cost of merchandising, while I am selling the several hundred "Lonelies" at half-price.

If any one of the odd "Lonelies" does not suit you I have Semi-ready Suits and Overcoats that will. They, too, are reduced.

Read these particulars. I republish the list:

- Semi-ready Department 250 Semi-ready Suits at Half-price
- 100 pairs of Odd Trousers at $2.50
- 200 Overcoats at Half-price
- 100 Ulsters at Half-price

All the new Suits and Overcoats and the Dress Suits and Serge Suits will be offered at these prices:

- All $15.00 labels at $12.00
- All $18.00 labels at $14.00
- All $20.00 labels at $16.00
- All $22.50 labels at $18.00
- All $25.00 labels at $20.00
- All $28.00 labels at $22.00
- All $30.00 labels at $24.00

It is not customary to include Dress Suits, Serges, and new garments in a "Lonely" Sale, but they are doing it in Hamilton this season, and I won't be behind Hamilton.

R. J. Tooke Department

Tooke Shirts—and this is the only store where you can buy the genuine R. J. Tooke Shirt—will be sold at 20 per cent. discount.

Special Shirt—some 500 Shirts—not Tooke-made—that are worth $1.25 in the ordinary shop, will be cleared out at 2 for $1.50

Tooke Collars—all the new shapes and sizes. Will be sold at 2 for $1.00

House Gowns, Lounging Robes and Bath Robes, in many cheerful patterns, will be sold at 20 per cent. discount.

Silk Cravats—all the new patterns in silks, and in accordion-knit, will be sold at 20 per cent. discount.

Collar Boxes and all other "Gitt Things" left on hand, will be sold at half-price—exactly half the plain marked price.

20 cents off every dollar means that you can buy $10 worth of the standard furnishings in Hosiery, Underwear and Winter Woolens for $8.00.

I cannot very well fill mall orders on these garments, but I will send a Britonstool or King's Own Serge on approval, paying return express if not satisfactory.

Any Rooms That Need Re-papering?

SPECIAL JANUARY RATES offer themselves by way of New Year greeting to faded walls and shabby woodwork. The Decorating Department, in the desire to keep their staff of workmen busy during the slack season that invariably ensues after Christmas, are making exceptionally low prices during the present month on all forms of interior papering and painting. In addition to this, many attractive lines of wall paper have been greatly reduced in price—making possible the decorating of a room at mere fraction of the usual cost. At 33 cents a roll is a group of papers, many of which were formerly double that amount—charming little hints effects for bedrooms, silk stripe effects for daintily furnished drawing-rooms, and grass-cloth and fibre papers in rich browns, greens and tans for halls, living-rooms, etc. Upon request by telephone or mail, a man will be sent to your house to take measurements and submit estimates. —Fourth Floor, Queen St.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—(Can. Press)—The Spectator in an article today on the Mexican situation declares that the pressure of public opinion in all the rest of the world soon will force the United States to intervene in Mexico. The article declares that President Wilson made a mistake in not assuming that President Huerta would be the strongest force with which to bring about peace in Mexico, and in supporting him accordingly; but it adds that it understands perfectly the reasons why Mr. Wilson did not adopt such a cynical course.

HOW TO PREVENT ACID STOMACHS AND FOOD FERMENTATION

By a Stomach Specialist.

As a specialist who has spent many years in the study and treatment of stomach troubles, I have been forced to the conclusion that most people who complain of stomach troubles possess stomachs that are absolutely healthy and normal. The real trouble that causes all the pain and difficulty is acid in the stomach usually due to or aggravated by food fermentation, acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach and food fermentation causes wind which distends the stomach abnormally, causing that full bloated feeling. Thus both acid and fermentation interfere with and retard the process of digestion. The stomach is usually healthy and normal, but irritated almost past endurance by these foreign elements—acid and wind. In all such cases—and they comprise over 90 per cent. of all stomach difficulties—the first and only step necessary is to neutralize the acid and stop the fermentation by taking in a little warm or cold water immediately after eating half a teaspoonful of bisulphated magnesia, which is doubtless the best and only really effective antacid and food corrective, known. The acid will be neutralized and the fermentation stopped almost instantly, and your stomach will at once proceed to digest the food in a healthy, normal manner. Be sure to ask your chemist for the bisulphated magnesia, as I have found other forms utterly lacking in its peculiarity.

WIFE OF SETTLER BRUTALLY TREATED

Woman Exempted From Customary Homestead Duties as a Consequence.

OTTAWA, Jan. 2.—(Can. Press).—A ghastly tale of a husband's ill-treatment of his wife appears in the usual staid columns of this week's Canadian Gazette. It is detailed in the form of an order-in-council exempting from the customary homestead duties Mrs. Anna Haven, now Mrs. Orfensen, a Saskatchewan settler.

The order giving the harrowing details of domestic trouble in the Orfensen family, states that the homestead was located in April, 1911, and the wife remained there until the following November, making meanwhile certain statutory improvements. Some months ago Mrs. Orfensen was deserted by her husband and left penniless with one child. Last winter, with both feet badly frozen, she was admitted to the Moose Jaw hospital, suffering from exposure.

The inspector of homesteads in this connection reports that the woman was put out of her home at night and lay in the open. After being taken to the hospital it was necessary to amputate both her limbs, and by popular subscription enough money was raised to buy her new ones.

In view of the circumstances, the government has passed an order allowing the unfortunate woman, who is unable to live on her homestead, to retain possession of it without fulfilling the customary duties attaching thereto.

DEADLY PELLAGRA IS SPREAD BY INSECTS

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 2.—(Can. Press).—That pellagra is not due to corn and that the disease is by no means as dangerous as the public may believe were two important conclusions reported by the Thompson-McFadden commission today to the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Dr. J. S. Siler of the United States medical corps, senior member of the commission, said he believed that "within a year or two the cause of pellagra will have been discovered or that we can define precautions for preventing its spread."

That pellagra is spread thru the agency of some insect also was one conclusion.

THE NAVY QUESTION

Z. A. Lash Will Address Canadian Club on the Subject.

At noon next Monday Z. A. Lash, K. C., will address the Canadian Club on "The Navy Question." The subject has given rise to much partisan controversy in and out of parliament—and the party press, but a citizen of Mr. Lash's standing may be expected to throw some new light upon it.

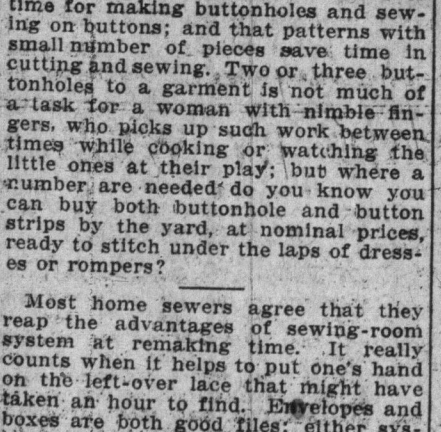

Mr. Lash, who has always been classed as a member of that party and who yet fought on the opposite side in 1911, cannot be regarded as a partisan. No one knows what views Mr. Lash is likely to express, but it may be taken for granted that a man of his wide learning and material achievements will deliver an interesting address upon an issue which is shortly to be fought over again at Ottawa.

THE WOES OF MRS. NEWLYWED

"I can never keep my kitchen range bright," stormed Mrs. Newlywed, appearing in the doorway with her hands covered with dirt, "the bright parts are constantly turning black."

A cloth dipped in vinegar," returned Mrs. Neighbor, "and rubbed on the blackened parts will restore them to their usual brightness."

The Proper Way to Sponge Dusty Plants

Palms, rubber plants, begonias, oleanders, ferns, in fact all large-leaved plants really do require a weekly wash. I am quite sure this question has been discussed so frequently that it does seem like useless reiteration to speak again on the subject.

Nevertheless the thing is absolutely necessary.

Time and again it has been advised in this department to use water—plain water and water only—in this weekly washing of all plants.

How on earth can you expect to cleanse the dust-clogged pores of large spreading leaves by spraying them off with milk or by rubbing them down with oil?

Intuitively nature, how often does nature send us rain mixed with milk—or oil?

Now, we are not denying the fact that sometimes, alas! it is necessary to use medicated treatments in certain diseases. But an oily or milky spray is not a medicated spray. Therefore leave these strictly for the use of such as wish to experiment and are willing to pay the cost.

True, there are those who fondly imagine that a beautiful gloss is coaxing leaves by the use of milk or oily substances. But even so—and we do not admit it, mind—even so, can you not see that this gloss is an artificial gloss?

There is no liquid better, safer or more sanitary for the weekly washing than ordinary water from which the chill has been removed. For those who live in the country and who are able to have soft water the wise plan is to bring in this soft water from the cistern or water barrel, take off the chill and spray or sponge the plants wholesale.

A small whisk broom is an ideal tool to use where a hand spray is not practicable. Simply dip the whisk into the water and shake it briskly over the plants. This done a few times the effect of a gentle warm rain is obtained.

For worms in the bottom of the pots the safe remedy is just one that is repeat the plant. Before replanting house the whole plant roots and all in a tepid bath so that no sign of insect is left to be carried into the new soil. This method is quite safe and the best one.

A DAILY STORY FOR CHILDREN

THE LIGHT HOUSE

By Virginia Vale.

Once upon a time there was an old man who kept a great big lighthouse way out in the ocean. Every day he would go to the top of the tower and clean the large lamp so that it would shine brightly at night and keep the ships from the rocks.

The lighthouse keeper had a little daughter named Maud. The little girl would often go with her father and watch him clean the lamp. She tried to make him allow her to clean it and take care of it but he said she must wait until she was older.

One night when it was very stormy at sea Maud's father didn't come. Maud was alone in the lighthouse. She was very lonely and looking for him. She couldn't find him anywhere, and at last she ran up to the top of the lighthouse to where the lamp was.

"Oh, what shall I do?" she cried. "If the lamp is not lit some ship will surely hit the rocks. So she got a match and did just as she had seen her father do to light the big lamp. The flame sputtered and then burst out in a steady flame. All night long the little girl watched the lamp, but when morning came she could not help but fall asleep.

Maud's father, who had been out in a small boat, had got lost and it wasn't until morning that he was found by another boat. They took him to the lighthouse and there he found little Maud asleep with the big light still going altho it was day.

The old man knew that his daughter had saved many ships by keeping the light going, so "that day he taught her just how to clean, trim and light the big lamp and allowed her to take care of it all herself.

French Fried Potatoes.

Of all our vegetables none are so well known as potatoes, yet I frequently am asked for some other ways to "fix" them besides boiling or baking them. Because of the frequency of these queries I have adapted a tuber is never served in any other form.

There is a knack about boiling potatoes, simple as this form of cooking is, that frequently is ignored. Rightly done, potatoes should be mealy, white and full of sweet flavor. This time-of-year two waters are required. Peel the potatoes and put them, first, into boiling, unsalted water and cook rapidly ten minutes. Drain off this water, which will be dark-colored and with strong odor, refill the kettle with fresh boiling water, add salt and finish cooking. As soon as the potatoes can be pierced with a fork drain again and serve. If they must stand a few minutes before going to the table keep them covered with a napkin. Cooked in this way, every one of the potatoes will be like a white little hot snowball.

The best potato dishes are made from cold boiled potatoes—scalloped potatoes, for instance. Butter a pudding dish and fill with alternate layers of sliced, cold boiled potatoes, pepper, salt and butter. Dress each layer lightly with flour. Cover the top with cracker crumbs and half fill the dish with cream. Bake twenty minutes.

French Fried Potatoes: Cut the potatoes in long slices about half an inch thick, fry slices on a cloth and fry in hot lard. A pound of lard will fry potatoes for six persons three times, as it may be used again and again.

Potato Puff: Mash the boiled potatoes and season with cream, salt and white pepper, beat the seasoning in well and when mixed stir in the yolk of an egg, beat again until the potatoes are creamy and light. Turn into a buttered dish and brown in the oven.

Lenox potatoes are a great improvement over creamed potatoes. To be really "Lenox" style the potatoes must be baked, then cut in dice and cooked in an iron spider. To the diced potatoes and season with cream, salt and ham and three small pimientos cut in little bits. Season with salt and pepper. Heat the iron frying pan and fry out three slices of bacon in it. There will be almost a half-cup of bacon fat from this. Remove the meat and turn in the potatoes. Toss them until they are evenly browned. Dredge lightly with flour and pour on a cup and a half of rich milk. Cook until the milk and the flour thicken. Turn them into a tureen and sprinkle with minced parsley.

Fancies in Fashions

Dyed Furs No Longer In Vogue

By Madge Marvel.

THE dyed pink and lavender and cerise furs that were displayed in the shop windows while we were sweating in the heat of midsummer do not seem to have made a great place for themselves in the world of fashion. The only one which has a marked popularity is the canary-colored fox. Even that is used chiefly for pure adornment on evening coats, and not by the best dressed women.

I saw one exquisite opera cloak of gold and yellow velvet brocade, with a wide band of the canary fox used for the collar around the big dolman sleeves, and about the bottom. Its companion was a long and only slightly draped coat of rose velours with a banding of French seal. This coat had a long pointed hood, one of the newest features of evening wraps, and this hood was lined with the fur.

Jackets Are Popular

Women are determined to keep warm this season. The low shoes and the diaphanous stockings are seldom seen by walking shoppers on Fifth avenue. In their places are the most modest of walking boots, cut with a curved top, which is more often of cloth than of the kid which forms the short, slender vamp. For the long-vamped shoe has never been replaced in exclusive circles.

As another evidence that women are not going to sacrifice comfort to appearance, one has only to notice the number of Shetland vesters, jackets, and such garments that are conspicuously displayed. These take up so little room under one's coat that they do not add bulk, and they make it perfectly simple to change from the fur coat to the suit with no fear of feeling chilled.

Corduroy is coming to the fore. Some of the weaves of this fabric are really lovely and worthy of making most elaborate frocks. In spite of all this, the best authorities tell me they do not consider it as material for any ceremonious costume. For the morning suit it is to be commended. Also, it makes most useful simple tailored gowns for morning wear under the fur coat. It also is capital for the separate skirt for wear with the tailored blouse and the heavy fur-trimmed coat.

Flowers for Evening Wear

Speaking of skirts, the shops are showing ready-to-wear skirts and waistscoats of plaids in the familiar shepherd checks, or the bolder Tartans for wear with the plain coat. The combined suit is still worn by some of the fastidious dressers, and it offers a splendid opportunity for the woman who has to plan closely to utilize coats of last season's suits.

The use of the single large flower still remains in vogue. Hardly an evening gown that does not have a single tucked-in the girle, and gardenias and single roses are frequently worn on the street. In the case of the fur coat or adding a bit of color to the long fur stole. They have quite taken the place of the nosegay of tiny blossoms.

Smart black velvet sailors have white gardenias tucked at regular intervals about the crown, and sometimes height is given by a single loop of moire ribbon at the side, or directly in front or in the back.

By Annie Laurie

Miss Laurie will welcome letters of inquiry on subjects of feminine interest from young women readers of this paper and will reply to them in these columns. They should be addressed to her, care this office.

Y OUR chum is in love with a married man and wants you to help her to get letters from him and meet him, and you don't know what to do about it. Am I right?

There is just one thing for you to do, little girl—say "no" just as loud as you can, and mean it every time you say it.

There is nothing for your poor little goose of a chum in such a game as that but misery and disgrace, and there's nothing in it for you but humiliation and regret. Keep out of it—keep away from it!

FRUIT THAT ACTS LIKE A MEDICINE

Papaya Tree's Product Possesses Remarkable Digestive Properties.

The fruit of the papaya tree has always been a favored breakfast dish with travelers in the Orient, the Pacific Isles, and tropical regions generally, as much for its digestive qualities as for its lusciousness. Its most important chemical constituent, papain, has long been known as a powerful medicine as a vegetable digestive superior to pepsin.

The Carica papaya grows largely in Ceylon, India, the East and West Indies, and the Hawaiian Islands, and the soil that is not too rich. The tree attains a height of twenty to thirty feet, and its broad palmate leaves, with the fruit clustering beneath them, form a tuft at the top of the tree. The fruit is a greenish-yellow, fleshy, green when unripe, and ripens to a rich yellow, and contains a soft, white, pulpy mass that is rich in water and contains a small amount of sugar, with a flavor somewhat like nasturtium seeds.

The flavor of the fruit in the best papayas is much like that of the sweet but rather insipid melon flavored with violet perfume. From the fresh milky juice that exudes from both the fruit and the tree itself papain is obtained.

The digestive and disintegrating properties of papain are remarkable. The milk and even the fresh leaves of the papaya tree will render the toughest beef tender in the space of two hours. If a large quantity of water is applied to raw beef it reduces it in little over half an hour to a pulpy mass that appears as if it had undergone partial digestion. Papain is said to be capable of digesting ten to twelve times its weight of egg albumen at the temperature of the human body.

In clothes, papain is called "mellin bleach" by the Singalese, and is used for bleaching white fabrics, especially black, which it seems to intensify. In the hair, it is used as a cosmetic and produces clear, satiny complexions.

MANY MILLIONS FOR NEW SUBWAYS

Gotham's Extensive Program Costing More Than Half of Panama Canal.

In New York, a great subway work goes on quietly and with so little disturbance to pedestrians and traffic that the gigantic scheme is hardly noticed. The total length of the work is not realized. The total length of the work will be about eighty miles, of which forty-five miles will form an extension of the present subway system. The other thirty-five miles will represent the new York municipal system. These figures are based on the present length of the road, and since the subway will consist of two, three and four track lines, the single-track mileage will not be far short of the total. The building of what is known as the dual system involves an expenditure of capital far in excess of that of the Panama Canal. The canal, which has cost $375,000,000, will cost $200,000,000 to construct the new city-owned subway lines. The latest report of the engineers of the public service commission shows that there is now under contract $22,000,000 worth of work on the new subway system. The average daily force employed is 7000 men. About two-fifths, therefore, of this great work is being done under way. Before the end of the year contracts to the value of about $60,000,000 will have been awarded. The contract system operating on this project is the most extensive of the city-owned lines.

ANT AND MAN

The ant can carry a burden ten times the weight of its own body, while a man can carry a weight only as great as his own. From this fact it has often been asserted that if an ant were as large as a man it would have a strength that would make man seem puny.

It has been found that the strength of an animal decreases in proportion as the square of the bodily dimensions increases. Thus, if an ant were to grow to twice its original dimensions the weight of the body would increase eight times, the muscles would be only four times as strong, and its legs would be only two times as strong as before. This means that the ant would be only one-half as strong as before if the structure, form and material remained the same.

USES FOR FIRE KILLED SPRUCE

Wood Serviceable in Making of Violins and Other Instruments.

The manufacture of violins and sound boxes for the newer types of talking machines offers two of the latest uses that have been found for fire-killed spruce timber, large quantities of which are found in the forests of Colorado and other Rocky Mountain states.

One of the first to call this new use of dead and down timber to the attention of government experts is a Baltimore maker of high-grade violins, who has just applied to the Denver office of the forest service for a small quantity of Colorado fire-killed Englemann spruce to be used in making violin tops.

This violin maker claims that the fire-killed spruce is the best material he has ever found for the manufacture of this part of high-grade violins. The value of the wood lies in its very light weight, its fine, straight grain, and its freedom from resin. Wood for violin tops must be straight-grained and absolutely edge-grained; that is, cut at right angles to the annual rings, which for this use should show from twenty to thirty to the inch.

There is a large quantity of Englemann spruce timber in the Rocky Mountains, and at the higher altitudes it forms the main part of the timber stands. While forest officers do not consider the use of this wood for musical instruments important as to quantity consumed, they note with interest that a tree trunk, when it is cut, is immediately insusceptible to the manufacture of the best grades of wood products, its now proving valuable for this special purpose.

When a Woman Loves

By WINIFRED BLACK

A MAN died the other day in the house of a strange woman. They found a letter in the man's pocket, and the letter said: "I don't care what you do, my darling, I believe in you—and I'm going on believing in you right to the end."

"The best you is the one I know. The good you, the true you—the you that wants to do the right thing, the honest thing, the brave thing. I don't know anything about the other you at all. I don't want to know anything about it—unless it can help you some way. To do that I would suffer and brave anything, for you are the man I love, the man I have always loved and the man I always shall love."

Winifred Black

"No matter where you go or what you do, I shall be somewhere loving you and waiting for you—the real you—to come back to me again."

"She hasn't got you—this woman who thinks she has. She never will have you, because she doesn't know you—the real you—at all."

"Do you remember the day you came to see me with your arms full of flowers? Just garden flowers they were, lilacs and snowballs and tulips, and the yellow lilies that blossom early in the Spring, and a great bunch of lilacs of the valley there was, too. You stood in the doorway smiling at my delight; and then and there you walked into the centre of my heart—and never to leave again."

"I cannot help it. I shall go on just the same. When you are tired of all that is wrecking your life, come home—dear heart—come home to me."

And the man who died had the letter in his pocket with a lock of hair in it, and the lock was threaded with silver. If he had lived—the poor, foolish, headstrong man—would he have come to himself and beer the real "you" that the only woman who really loved him believed him to be? Who shall say? Who knows, who shall say what a light the "real you" was making in the very hour that he died against the false "you" that led him to his death?

I am glad I am not the one to sit in judgment over the human heart, aren't you?

SAID BY WISE MEN

Men seem neither to understand their riches nor their strength; for the former they believe greater things than they should; of the latter, much less. Self-reliance and self-denial will teach a man to drink out of his own cistern, and eat his own sweat bread, and to learn and labor truly to get his living, and carefully to keep the things committed to his trust.—Bacon.

Live as long as you may, the first twenty years are the longest half of your life.—Southey.

Another strange fact is the observation that lower animals without hair are in danger of growing extinct. Whales and porpoises, seals and the hippopotamus are all naked. Perhaps this helps them to glide through the water, but multitudes of extinct species such as the mastodon, pterodactyls, and other wondrous creatures, were all naked and hairless.

There is a kind of greatness that does not depend upon fortune; it is a certain manner that distinguishes us, and which seems to destine us for great things; it is the value we incessantly set upon ourselves; it is by this quality that we raise the preference of other men, and it is this which commonly raises us more above than than birth, rank, or even merit itself.—Rochefoucauld.

Try to imprison the restless wind, so swift is guilt, so hard to be contained.—Dryden.

Living Expensive in South America

Prices Said to Be Higher in Buenos Ayres Than in New York City.

"We cannot kick about the high prices in America," Dr. A. R. Caivo of Buenos Ayres is quoted as saying in The Washington Post, "because we pay much higher prices in our own country, particularly in the city of Buenos Ayres."

"This applies principally to the upper classes, for among the working classes living is relatively as cheap as, if not cheaper than, in the United States. But in Buenos Ayres it costs more to live than it does in Washington, New York or any other of your big cities."

"This is true also of the larger cities of other South American countries. In Lima, Peru, for instance, fresh eggs cost ten cents apiece, and poultry is so high that only the rich can afford to have it on the table."

SCOW DUMPS LOAD THRU OVERTURNING

Novel Invention in Way of Water Craft—Operation Not Hazardous.

A novel invention in the way of water craft is a scow that dumps its load by turning upside down. This operation is not the hazardous procedure that it seems. In fact, while it is going on there is necessary a man aboard to control the scow, which has completed its operation, climbs out thru a manhole in the deck, which in five minutes before was the bottom of the boat.

The body of the hull consists of watertight compartments. Each of these compartments is provided with valves, which are normally closed against the entrance of water, but which open automatically to let water flow out of the compartment. In capsizing the scow, water is let thru the valves into the lower compartment on the side toward which it is to tip, taking away most of the buoyancy on that side, and the scow slowly descends, the water level in this is done the water-filled compartment takes the position of the upper compartment, and the operation proceeds as before.

The operator who manipulates the valves is seated in a watertight compartment at the end of the scow, and simply walks around on the deck floor while the scow is capsizing.

STREET CLEANING UNDER DAY LABOR

Since July 1, 1911, all street cleaning in Washington, D.C., has been done by day labor.

The charge of the commission is the District of Columbia. The direct charge of a civil engineer.

Even under the handicaps of the first year, the direct labor system at Washington the average cost was less than the contract system. A writer in The Engineering Magazine, The second year, the cost was reduced to the same amount of money, over 25 per cent, more than by the contract system.

On finding in September, 1911, that the direct labor costs were lower than contract prices for all the work, except street cleaning, studies to reduce alley cleanings costs were made. The average cost for the year 1911-12 was 23 1/2 cents per 1000 square yards, or 7 1/2 cents below contract cost.

FORTH BRIDGE TO BE STRENGTHENED

Advance in Weight and Power of Locomotives Renders Step Necessary.

When the Forth Bridge was erected, more than 21 years ago, the loads and the train speeds calculated for it were considerably in excess of those then assumed as probable for a long period, but the advance in these respects, particularly in the weight and power of locomotives and the loads behind them, has been enormous.

Therefore, altho the limits have not yet been reached so far as the strength of the bridge is concerned, the directors of the Forth Bridge Co. have decided further to anticipate the developments of the locomotive engineer and to reconstruct part of the flooring and troughs in which the railway track is laid over the bridge.

It has been decided at once to proceed with a trial section, to be followed by a reconstruction from end to end of the bridge. The directors have arranged for the carrying out of the work of the original builders, Sir William Arrol & Co., Limited, Glasgow.

It is estimated that 2500 tons of structural steel will be required for the renewal of troughs and floor from end to end of the bridge of this total the addition to the weight of the present steel work of the bridge is only 150 tons. The work will take some years to execute, as operations can only be carried on during summer months, and it is proposed not to interfere with the traffic on weekdays, while even on Sundays one line only will be closed.

RIISING STANDARDS IN ENTIRE ORIENT

Influence of United States Claimed to Have Wrought Many Changes.

Major H. H. Anderson, who went to the Philippines as an army officer and remained there as a business man, is quoted in The Washington Post as saying in a recent interview that the United States is setting the standard of trade and the manner of living in the Orient.

"We have accomplished more in 15 years in the east," Major Anderson declares, "than Great Britain, Germany or any other European nation did in a hundred years."

"Manila is becoming the most important base of distribution in the far east. Our goods are becoming known in all of the Asiatic countries and our trade is constantly increasing. It may seem marvelous that the new world in so short a time could have changed conditions and methods in Asia and caused the people—not only the Asiatics, but foreigners, including British and Germans—to conform to our manner of doing things."

"Until the United States raised the Stars and Stripes in Manila a trader in China and Japan was practically unknown. There is not a house in the orient now that is not equipped with the latest models. It is so with other things American. Our people are making the representatives of other nations follow them along with others."

"There is a great future for the Philippines and the United States will profit incalculably. We cannot afford to let things stay still, but have got to keep going all the time, and the result is that there is a better civilization and a better standard of life and trade in the entire orient."

Secrets of Health and Happiness

"Cramps" Signal Danger Along Your Life Line

By Dr. Leonard Keene Hirschberg, A.B., M.A., M.D. (Johns Hopkins)

Copyright, 1914, by L. K. Hirschberg.

SUPPOSE the railroads were happily so constructed that a signal would be automatically flashed to the onrushing locomotive engine and the man in charge of the switches every time an accident threatened.

It would indeed be a grand thing if every railroad could be so equipped, or every steamship upon the mighty ocean be forewarned of icebergs, fogs, collisions and fires. Disasters would thus be replaced by momentary discomforts instead of fatalities. Then it would be unnecessary to exclaim: "Now would I give a thousand of sea for an acre of barren ground."

Well, Providence has so ordained it that the human body shall so keep watch and ward and be put on guard that no catastrophe shall surprise it. In brief, whenever there appears a cloud upon the physiological horizon, nature, with a wireless code of its own, flashes an irritating message to all parts of your anatomy.

What "Cramps" Are.

At once there rushes to the port-calls and the port holes all of the body's defensive mechanism. The alarm is no sooner sounded than the Swiss guards of the tissue Vatican rush to the rescue.

What, then, is this strange monitor and stormy petrel of mankind? Suppose the heathenish parasites of ptomaine poisoning, of dysentery, of appendicitis, of a wrongly imbibed beverage or defunct victual has inaugurated a bodily campaign of mischief. How are the living fog-horns and bell-booms aroused?

The answer you have already guessed. It is what you popularly call "cramps."

Cramps, in plain American, means a "tummy ache." To be sure, the same warning and aching admonition comes to the muscles and other parts of the body. Witness the "cramps" in swimmers, or in the over-worked limbs at night as you lie abed.

The ideal sort of cramps, however, are those which they send a caution which must be heeded to anticipate serious calamities.

Cramps of this type are pains, aches and "miseries" due to the pulling of the angry bowel and intestines upon the lining walls.

Should Never Be "Doped."

The intestines themselves—indeed nothing inside the abdomen, except this lining of the walls, called the peritoneum—are not at all susceptible to pain, sensitiveness or tenderness. But their disturbed, irritable movements pull and heave and vibrate the curtains which surround the interior of the belly walls. From this lining comes the pain.

Points About Palmistry

The middle phalanx of the thumb indicates our greater or less amount of perception, judgment and reasoning power. If it is long and well developed one always has a reason for everything.

If the outer phalanx of the thumb is short and undecided, but will have excellent reasons for it. You will plan well, but lack the will power to carry out your plans.

The most beautiful hand belongs to the most useless person, from a worldly point of view. It is the smooth hand with smooth, pointed fingers, and its owner is absolutely impracticable, being guided by too high ideals.

If the outer phalanx of the thumb is excessively broad, it betrays un governable passions and obstinacy. Tyrants, murderers and brutal savages have this formation, the end of the thumb looking like a club.

Fine Sights at the Soo

By the Globe Trotter.

EVERYONE is going to Panama and the West Indies these days, and it is, of course, interesting to see the immense gates and canal locks before the water is in, but after all, we can see about the same kind of machinery at the Soo locks, which connect Superior with the lower lakes. These locks are wonderful and quite a contrast to the small lock just built at this point and the little tramway which carries logs around the rapids in the St. Mary river before any canal was dug.

Statistics are often built, but, as a matter of fact, in the few months that these canals are open in the summer more freight passes through than through the Soo Canal. It is a fine sight to see the immense freighters, sometimes four in a lock, slowly rise or sink to the desired level, and watch the passengers a crowd and the bow of the boat to experience the sensation of going through some of the most wonderful locks in the world.

Most of these boats are American-made, too. The Canadian companies have some Cuyab-quint boats, but the largest number of boats that go up and down on the Great Lakes are built either in Cleveland or Detroit where there are immense shipbuilding works.

Lake captains boast of the fact that though the Great Lakes are important bodies of water they can not raise their boats into harbor without the need of a pilot—something ocean captains always require. Usually these men have worked up from common sailors and are familiar with all the moods and tenses of the great inland seas—bodies of water that untrained foreigners, they are so vast and lock so much like the ocean.

NOT AN ANTI-PURCHASE VOTE.

The Telegram figured out a majority against railway purchase in each ward by a curious device of its own. Ward six may be taken as an example of the Telegram's method.

If any ward in the city had offered evidence of anti-purchase feeling it would have been ward six, where Ald. McBrian, the anti-purchase candidate, who made that the issue against Mayor Hocken, and ran on nothing else, was at home.

There is absolutely nothing in such fanciful arrangements of figures. Ald. McBrian made an extraordinary run for several reasons that are clear enough, but which were minimized at the time.

It is not surprising that it was not street railway purchase but other issues that decided the election. If hostility to the purchase had been the force the Telegram expected Hocken would have been soundly beaten.

MISSIONARY MUST BE WELL EQUIPPED

Ignorance Will Not Hold Respect of Orientals, Says Chicago Professor.

Many kinds of social services are demanded by various situations. It is not only caring for the sick and teaching boys team work in play, but also the study of social conditions.

The young men who are to command attention and hold influence in the mission fields today must have long and thorough discipline in science and experience. This training should begin in the secondary schools.

Excellent results were attained by the two women candidates for the board of education. Mrs. Courtice had a strong candidate to face, and for a first trial did remarkably well.

Nothing was more gratifying to the progressive forces of the city than the immense majority in favor of the married women's franchise. It is such a just and reasonable request that the only wonder is that there were any opponents to the proposal at all.

Among the new candidates Mr. Farmer made an astonishingly good run in ward four. He may be assured of election on another attempt and his special knowledge on taxation questions would make him a valuable acquisition to the council.

The Telegram once more announces that the purchase scheme is dead, but it is evidently haunting the editorial halls on Melinda street.

The chief sufferer today from frenzied finance is the man of small means with a little stock in an American railway company. Sooner or later the stockholder is the victim, however much he may have been dazzled by spectacular performances on the stock exchange.

It is not surprising that it was not street railway purchase but other issues that decided the election. If hostility to the purchase had been the force the Telegram expected Hocken would have been soundly beaten.

MAYOR HOCKEN LEAVES FOR SEVEN DAYS' REST

McCarthy, Too, is Taking Things Easy After Hard Days of Campaigning.

The smoke of battle had well cleared away when City Clerk Littlejohn declared in the council chamber yesterday afternoon the official vote in the municipal elections and the names of those elected. There is no change in the list of winners published yesterday.

Next Monday the meeting of the 1913 council will be held, but it will be an informal one. The following Monday will be the inaugural meeting of this year's council. The standing committees will be struck. Ald. Robbins is after the chairmanship of the parks and recreation committee. Ald. Ward may get the property committee. Ald. Rowland the board of health and Ald. McBride the works committee.

Mayor Hocken leaves today for Algonquin Park for a week's rest. While there he will prepare his address for the inaugural meeting of the new council. Controller McCarthy, who has been in the city for a year, is also in retreat for a rest.

Heavy seas washing the coast of New England. Boston, Jan. 2.—(Can. Press.)—Onshore winds and the heaviest seas of the winter hampered shipping steadily increasing the number of vessels which are being kept in port. The New England coast today kept steam as well as sailing craft in port. Several steamers, including the James S. Whitney for New York and the Pathfinder for Norfolk, ventured outside today, but found the seas running so high that they put back. Other harbors north and south are sheltering vessels.

Shaw goes west. The beginning of the year sees a change in the freight department of the Toronto headquarters of the Canadian Northern Railway. E. A. Shaw, heretofore district freight agent at Montreal, has been transferred to west of Ottawa. He succeeds F. A. Young, who resigned to change in private business.

HEARD MEN BUILDING HIS OWN DEATH HOUSE

Arthur Bosworth, Slayer of Mac Labelle, Hanged Yesterday in Windsor, Vt.

Windsor, Vt., Jan. 2.—(Can. Press.)—Arthur Bosworth was hanged at the state prison this afternoon for the murder of Mac Labelle at Essex Junction in June, 1911. From his cell in the state prison Bosworth this morning could hear the workmen erecting the death house in which the scaffold was to be placed. Hereafter all murderers condemned to die in Vermont will be electrocuted.

Bosworth shot and fatally wounded Mac Labelle, the nineteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Labelle, on the platform of the railroad works near Essex Junction on June 7, 1911. She died two days later. Bosworth was immediately arrested and found guilty of murder in the first degree.

Fire takes life of three-year-old boy. Child was sleeping in upstairs room when rescuers arrived too late. (Special to The Toronto World.) Cobalt, Jan. 2.—Maxwell Dowell, the three-year-old son of Hiram Dowell, died this morning from suffocation at a fire which destroyed his father's house on Baker street last night. The child was sleeping in a room upstairs. The father entered the room through a window and handed the child to another man on a ladder. The fire was caused by one of Mr. Dowell's waiters cleaning his gloves with kerosene when the fumes exploded. The girl ran out and rolled herself in the snow.

COGENT REASONS. Cogent reasons against the purchase of the street railway are contained in a minority report of a sub-committee of the board of trade, issued against the wishes of a majority of the council, in the opinion of The Globe. On examination they prove to be the oft-denied and frequently refuted allegations of The Telegram with the signatures of Messrs. Peleg Howland, J. W. Woods, G. T. Somers and John F. Ellis.

One of the cogent reasons is that it will cost the city $800,000 to raise the $5,000,000 required to be paid under the agreement. City hall authorities stated that the money was ready to be paid.

GORING THE WRONG OX. For years our neighbors to the south were regarded as meek, impatient of restraint and seekers after new things, while they were in fact the most conservative people on the face of the earth. Rivaling China in her indifference to international politics, the United States bade fair to become as stereotyped and stationary in the administration of her internal affairs. But now that many of us are inclined to think that the Americans are hopelessly entangled by financial bandits, gigantic combines and malefactors of great wealth, we find many evidences of an awakening of public opinion and a sincere desire to be of service to the state.

And it is "public opinion" in the true sense of the term which is bringing about some wonderful changes. That is to say, a vast number of people in the United States have come to be of the same opinion upon many subjects. They are so well satisfied that they are right and that the necessary reforms must be brought about that they care little for party cries or party politics. Just now they seem in the main willing to lend the great weight of their influence to the present national administration.

Against this public opinion, which is not captious about details, but adamant as to principles, resistance is unavailing. The tariff has been reconstructed, the whole financial framework of the country has been re-fabricated with no serious protest from the manufacturers or the bankers, and we may soon see without violence or Invitations already out for a dance to the Catholic Institute for the Blind in Delmonico's next Monday night were immediately recalled and the affair abandoned.

FIVE MAN HOCKEY IN OPENING MATCH

Senior Champions Win After Teams Are Cut Down—Argos Good at Start.

It was advertised as the opening senior game of the season, but the stuff handed out to the small crowd at the Arena last night was anything but top-notch puck-chasing. To begin with, it was twenty minutes late in getting under way; then a free fight was dished up for the spectators, and, to add insult to injury, it developed into a five-man-a-side slugging match. T.R. & A.A. got the verdict, 7 to 4, after the team were cut down, but had to hustle to do even this.

Argonauts made their debut as a senior team after several years' absence, and when the teams were at full strength had it over the senior champions like a tent. The Toronto came thru with their victory after the Argos had faded to nothing with only five men on the ice in the rough going in the last half.

Big Moose Hefferman was late in arriving at the rink, and the Argos favorable to start with six men a side, the game was held up twenty minutes until Hefferman had time to pass at him with his stick. The wood was dropped and fists were the order. While the referee was trying to stop the proceedings, Gordon Meeking took a pass from another man, and there was some excitement for a few minutes, it netted Gooch, Meeking, Schlegel and Uffelman ten minutes in the penalty box. Even with the teams cut down here Argos were the better.

Thornton and Harry Meeking took the heavy checking badly, and retired soon after the start of the second half. This cut the teams down to five a side, and it was here that the champions went to the front.

There was excitement a-plenty in the first half. Argos opened nicely, but were timid about going in and shot from far out. Sanderson and Uffelman were checking in grand style. Thornton went down on the west side of the rink early and retired for repairs. He returned later. The Toronto then handed out the bumps, and then the light started. With the four men on the sidelines that Toronto netted the first goal, when Hefferman went down alone, making Sanderson around the defence, found the net.

Sanderson was benched for tripping, and with Toronto one man to good, and Trebilcock batted in Swan's pass for the tying goal. G. Meeking and Gooch tried to get on the ice before the whistle, but when Trebilcock was carrying the puck to the Toronto net, the penalty timer pulled the gong. Some of the players quit, but Trebilcock kept right on and scored. He refused to let ring his bell until after the puck had been netted, and it counted. Meeking and Gooch were checked back to the fence, and the game proceeded. Swan made it good by batting in another from a scramble a minute before time was up, making it 3 to 1. It was Argos' half.

It was much faster and better when the started after the first goal. Harry Meeking and Thornton retired. Harry Meeking, and then Argos tired badly, and T.R. & A.A. took the front. Hefferman tore off some of his bone, and also fitted into some good passing with G. Meeking. Gooch scored the first goal of the half six minutes after the start, when he took a pass at the side and beat Smith nicely. Sanderson batted one in for the champions, taking Thornton's pass just before he retired.

TRENTON PLAYER REFUSED A CARD

O.H.A. Has Not Yet Arrived at Decision Over T.R.C. or Other Pro Classes.

The Toronto Rowing Club case was again taken up at the meeting of the Ontario Hockey Association executive yesterday afternoon, and will be concluded at the adjourned meeting, which will be held next Tuesday afternoon.

The evidence taken yesterday was that the Parkdale manager of four years ago had said to Matthews one night at the rink that he could have $25 if he would play in an approaching exhibition game against the Toronto Canoe Club.

The committee found that there was nothing to justify any suspicion that the Parkdale manager of four years ago had said to Matthews one night at the rink that he could have $25 if he would play in an approaching exhibition game against the Toronto Canoe Club.

The cases were heard of several players whose residence qualifications under O.H.A. rules was in doubt. Gordon J. Cook was held to be eligible for Brampton, but certificates were refused to Lloyd Andrews and Victor Palmer to play with Tilsonburg.

Several Ingersoll players and the Parkdale manager of four years ago will be requested to attend the next meeting. President Chas. Farnhamson of Stratford occupied the chair, and the other members present were H. W. Wattlaifer, Berlin, J. Ross Robertson, Dwight Turner, Francis Nelson, Toronto; A. E. Copeeland, Midland; Sheriff Paxton, Whitby; C. L. Macnab, Orillia; Frank Hyde, Woodstock, and Secretary W. A. Hewitt.

His many friends will be glad to hear that John L. Scholes, former amateur boxing champion of the world, is progressing favorably after a dangerous attack of pneumonia.

WEST END WINS FROM CHICAGO

Touring University Basketball Team Meets With Surprise—McCormicks Win.

Chuck full of confidence and feeling fine and fit on account of their victory over the Hamilton five, the Chicago University team stepped on to the West End floor, only to receive the surprise of their trip. West End won by 35 to 32.

The visitors presented a very like-looking team, not a man being less than six feet tall, and all had weight to help them out. While they had the weight and reach, they lacked just a little of the speed the West End boys had. The visitors resorted to just the opposite style of play, relying solely on combination plays and their speed.

In the second half the University team started to mix matters up, and there were nearly two or three score changes between the teams. But before the Chicago players in the bud. About the middle of the second half, when the Chicago coach scored the same way slowly but surely slipping away from his team, he worked in three fresh players, but it was of no use, as the locals had the game put away on ice. The final score was: West End 35, Chicago 32.

At half-time it was announced that the next game would be between Black Rocks of Buffalo and the West End seniors. The line-up: Chicago Univ. (32)—Forwards, Stevenson and Gorgan; centre, Cottler; guards, George and Baumgartner. For the West End Y. (35)—Forwards, Brock and Hamm; centre, Simpson; guards, Tall and Cook. Gorgan and Desjardn also played for the visitors at times.

The next game will be between the Black Rocks of Buffalo and the West End seniors. This game will be played on Saturday, Jan. 10.

In the opening game of the local series of the intermediate O.H.A. last night, the Victoria team defeated the Toronto team by the score of 8 to 0 after a nip and tuck battle. At half time the score was 1 to 1 in favor of the winners, but the end ended used their strength to good advantage in the last half and all but caught them. For the winners Clemmer in goal, and Smith and Gooch were the forward line were the pick, while for the Riverdale side, Reesor and Kilpatrick showed up best.

"PASSED BY CENSOR" PROVES TOO COSTLY

Inspector of Moving Pictures is at Work Devising New Type of Seal.

The provincial inspector of moving picture theatres purposes a material change in the method of displaying the seal of the department on all films. The idea is to make the censorship apparent but to save the film space that is usually required.

A new system at least $2000 per year will be saved in expenditure. While the change is under consideration a seal will be stamped instead and the usual certificate must be used.

JOHN BARLEYCORN REIGNS NO LONGER

New Year's Day Found Few Homes Where "Strong Stuff" Was Served.

COFFEE NOW POPULAR

Fewer Calls Were Paid Than When Toronto Was But a Town.

New Year's Day was reception day for the ladies, but it is doubtful if many observed it in the good old-fashioned way when the tables were laid from early dawn until late at night, and all the men felt it incumbent upon them to partake of the hospitality of their hostesses.

It is easy to see that when a man's visiting list was a long one the temptation to overeat the present to moderation was often sorely in evidence, and when the beverage offered in order to drink the health of their hostesses anything stronger than coffee, as happened not seldom, results were sometimes more disastrous than a plain.

The old method of New Year calls had its beginning in warm-hearted hospitality and in the cordial relations that existed more generally in early times, when our now cosmopolitan city was nothing more than a fair-sized town, and all the men knew neighbor, and when the customs of "the good old days of fifty years ago" were still in vogue.

With the development of Toronto, its ways are changing. People now are too busy—men, perhaps, particularly so—to keep up a large calling acquaintance, so their New Year calls, if any, are but few.

The habit of "strong stuff" in the homes, is much more rare than formerly.

Coffee Prevails. Things in this regard are entirely changed. Where of old in many homes it would have been considered the tradition and hospitality were both offended against if a caller were not offered wine or something stronger, especially in the direct opposite. Few women offer beverages of any stronger stimulant than coffee to any afternoon caller.

Older even than the general habit of calling was that of waiting for the last stroke of the clock proclaiming the old year dead and the arrival of the new to knock at a neighbor's door, bottle in hand, and insist on a glass of wine and a reciprocity of health. This was a custom that probably originated in the "Bona Luce" of the Italian, and was usually accompanied with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne," with hands crossed.

If the festive spirit ran high, the midnight call might be lengthened on into the " wee, sma' hours," when the frosty air was penetrated by the sibil of the pipes, the sound of the fiddle, or the echo of distant notes of undying friendship, or wishing.

"Auld New Year to ane an' a' An' thro' a' the years to come Happy may ye be."

Quicker Now. Many of the old customs were the sirens which led men to their doom. They had their fascination and attractions, as had the freshest life in the world, while their passing has robbed this season of the year of a good deal of the pleasure that used to be theirs.

The quiet entrance of the new cycle of time is undoubtedly more sane than during the times when Old John Barleycorn was king.

NEW BOARD TO ACT ON PROBE REPORT

Judge Winchester's Findings Will Be on the Table at Inaugural Meeting.

NOBLE IS INDIGNANT

Says Telegram's Charges Against Him Before Election Are Absolute Lies.

Dr. Noble denounced the opening of the board of education meeting last night by rising to a question of privilege and vigorously scoring The Evening Telegram. He declared the statements reflecting upon him made by that paper during the election were "absolute lies." He did not ask a single elector for his vote and did not spend five cents for election expenses.

Dr. Hopkins and Trustee Hodgson, whose names were connected in The Evening Telegram with Dr. Noble's alleged plans, also declared The Evening Telegram's statements to be without foundation.

Trustee Brown, as chairman of the finance committee, announced that although the estimates, at the request of the board of control, were cut down by $27,000, there was a surplus over the expenditures. This was owing to the instructions of the committee to heads of departments to be as economical as possible in view of the reduced appropriation.

Sorry They Have to Go. A vote of appreciation was extended to the retiring trustees, Lewis and Smith. Copies of the report of Judge Winchester in the investigation into the letting of school contracts were distributed. Action upon them will commence at the inaugural meeting next Thursday night.

Another Charge. In addition to his allusion to The Evening Telegram with respect to the election Dr. Noble declared the same paper's statement last night that he would attempt to "strike" further action in the report was without foundation. He thought that a general manager of the department might be required. From his personal knowledge of Supt. Bishop and the assistant, Mr. Waite, he had the utmost confidence in their integrity.

U. S. INDUSTRIES MARKING TIME

Paper, Steel and Iron Enterprises Feel Pinch of Business Depression.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—(Can. Press.)—A general statement as to condition of manufacturing throughout the United States would at present be both misleading and inaccurate since this condition varies according to the locality and the nature of the product, says a symposium of business conditions compiled by the chamber of commerce of the United States and statistics upon reports of one day—No. 29, 1913—which were taken to be fairly representative.

The textile industry is adjusting itself to changed conditions resulting from decreased tariff rates, continues the report, "but the effect so far does not justify previous apprehensions. The paper manufacturing business is below normal, while some manufacturing is good, with prospects of an advance in prices. This is true, likewise of the leather tanning business. All manufacturing connected intimately with the railroad and with the steel and iron industries is necessarily feeling the depression of these two great branches of business.

High Meat Prices. "The great increase in the population of this country and consequently the increased demand for meat is food, coming at the same time as the decrease in recent years in the number of cattle and sheep, has naturally brought about the present high cost of meat.

A careful study of the facts, however, indicated that this is one of those economic problems that are likely to solve themselves and that the number of cattle in their relation to the number of inhabitants moves rather in a series of cycles than a straight line. For instance, the number of cattle per one hundred of population is the same now as it was in 1870 and 1900.

RADIUM'S EFFECT ON PLANT CULTURE

Experiments of Austrian Botanist Show Well Defined Results From Contact.

Professor Heinrich Molisch, a well-known Austrian botanist, who has been experimenting on the growth of plants for many years, has recently been testing the effect of radium emanations upon the resting buds and young plants. Harper's Weekly states that the scientist placed small tubes containing a preparation of radium against the terminal buds of a lilac bush for from one to two days.

After a certain length of time the buds that were treated opened, whereas the others remained in the resting state. After a treatment of twenty-four hours with a tube containing forty-six and two-tenths milligrams of pure chloride of radium, the buds opened a month later, instead of in the following spring. This method of forcing had the disadvantage of acting unevenly upon the bud so that one part was affected more than others instead of placing the tube against the buds, he then tried other experiments in which the radiations were made to act upon the buds, and in these tests the results were more nearly uniform.

Curiously enough, the effect of the emanations or of the radium could be obtained only if the buds were treated in the latter part of November or in December. After treatment in September or October there was no result whatever. On the other hand, if the

The last issue of The Light announces the appointment of Mr. W. L. Clark of Leamington, Ont., as director of the department of boys' work for the world's purity federation. This federation held its last congress in Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 7 to 12, 1913, at which time over eighty addresses were delivered by many of the ablest platform men of the day. Two thousand two hundred delegates were appointed or elected to this congress, which was the largest gathering of its kind ever held in the world.

IT MADE ME STRONG

Read what MR. F. L. NEELY, Box 1299, Regina, says:—
"Dear Sir,—I am entirely satisfied that your Belt is all that it is represented to be, as the results in my case are entirely satisfactory. I am a believer in the cure, and, further, would say that long ago I had La Grippe, which settled in my kidneys. I could get no relief from drugs and could not sleep. I put my Belt on as an experiment, and almost immediately got relief. The belt wore the Belt for a week, and have not had the return of the acute pain. Further, my heart has ceased to palpitate (as before), and is more normal now than at any time since I had the Typhoid fever nine years ago. I wish you every success.

Give me any man broken down with dissipation, hard work or worry from any cause which has sapped his vitality. Let him follow my advice for three months, and I will make him as vigorous in every respect as any man of his age.

Letters like that tell the story which means a good deal to a sufferer. They are a beacon light to the one who has become discouraged from useless doctoring. I get letters every day.

My Belt has a wonderful influence upon tired, weak nerves. It braces and invigorates them and stores up a great force of energy in a man.

Are you weak or in pain? Are you nervous or sleepless? Have you Rheumatism, Weak Back, Kidney Trouble, Weak Stomach, Indigestion or Constipation? Are you lacking in vitality? I can give you the blessing of health and strength. I can fill your body with vigor and make you feel as you did in your youth. My Sufferer Belt is worn while you sleep. It gives a soothing gentleness to the body. This is life-vigor.

Tell me where you are, and I'll give you the name of a man in your town that I've cured. I've got cures in every town. That's enough. You need the cure. I've got it. You want it. Come and get it now. The pleasurable moments of this life are too few, so don't throw any away. While there's a chance to be healthy and strong, to throw out your chest and look at yourself in a glass and say: "I'm a man," don't end don't waste time thinking about it.

C. N. R. ENTERED UPON NEW ERA
IN LINKING EAST AND WEST

Simple New Year's Ceremony Six Hundred Miles From Toronto Means That Railway is Now Classed Among Transcontinental Lines—Rich Mineral and Farming Region Traversed.

(Special to The Toronto World.)
PORT ARTHUR, Jan. 3.—Near the White Otter River at a point 254 miles east of Port Arthur, 316 north-west of Toronto, and approximately 60 miles north of White River station, Sir William Mackenzie, president of the C.N.R., on New Year's morning drove the first train on the new line, linking the eastern and western provinces of Canada. The ceremony took place at eight o'clock in the early morning light, and was witnessed by a small party of guests and officials. A barely ten minutes elapsed from the time the participants left the cars until the train was again in motion towards this city.

New Cross-Continent Line.
 But this first official act of 1914 was of vast significance to the Canadian Northern Railway, and the Dominion as a whole for the reason that it established the necessary physical connection of the lines in the industrial east with those in the agricultural west and gave the country its second cross-continent line from Quebec to the first divisional point of the company in British Columbia, 1571 miles west of Port Arthur, and opened up extensive arable areas in Ontario for settlement.

"I don't know whether I will be able to deliver this speech at night or not," remarked Sir William, smilingly as he threw off his overcoat and grasped the spike mark in preparation. It is his twelve years since he drew the last one.

The C.N.R. president was referring to the linking up of the line between Winnipeg and Port Arthur, for it was also on New Year's morning in 1902 that the official taps which their forefathers shadowed the completion of that line were delivered.

Straight and True.
 Sir William's doubts were now, however, not realized, and a speech of prepared remarks was presented in the presence of a large number of guests. The speaker, in his address, referred to the history of the railway, and the fact that it was now a reality. He mentioned the fact that the line was now a reality, and that it was now a reality. He mentioned the fact that the line was now a reality, and that it was now a reality.

Construction Rapid.
 This section of the Canadian Northern transcontinental line, which is now completed, will be remarkable for the rapidity of its construction and for its efficiency. It runs from Sibley to Port Arthur in Ontario, a distance of 617 miles. The contract was awarded to the Bonyon Bros. and the Northern Construction Co. in the summer of 1911. Only a small amount of work was done that fall. The food supplies for the army of men engaged, four pork, butter, canned goods and so on together with the hay and oats for the horses were hauled north and distributed at various points during the winter of 1911-12. As a result, real construction operations did not

MAYORALTY FIGHT

Three-Cornered Battle With Public Ownership the Leading Issue.

HEAVY BUILDING YEAR
New Phase in Street Railway Situation—Is C. P. R. Behind Purchase?

(Special to The Toronto World.)
BRANTFORD, Jan. 2.—The mayoralty campaign between Ald. J. H. Spence and T. L. Wood is proving a bitter one. The former stands out clearly for public ownership of public utilities, while the latter has been allied with the interests. Ald. Sudbury is the third candidate in the field, but it is conceded that the fight is between Spence and Wood, with the public ownership man having the best chance.

Permit Records.
 Building permits during the past year exceeded the million mark, despite the fact that 1913 was a very quiet year in financial circles. There were issued 594 permits for a total of $1,015,888. This was a decrease from the previous year, the banner year for building in Brantford, when the record was 665 permits for a total of $1,167,105. The record for the past month was 53,850, a decrease of $107,005 from the year 1912. Permits for 1913 included 564 dwellings, costing $397,995; 38 factories, costing $125,049; 13 public buildings, costing $429,350; and 34 stores, costing $65,800.

AID TO GEOLOGIST
Much Scientific Knowledge Derived From Workings of Alpine Passages.

According to Professor Wehrli of Munich, geologists owe much of their knowledge of the Alps to the various tunnels which have been bored across these mountains to make railway routes between the northern and southern parts of Europe. One important discovery pointed out by Dr. Wehrli was made during the construction of the Loetschberg tunnel. This explains Harper's Weekly, was an unexpected discovery of a great coal seam in the centre of a mass of much younger Triassic stone.

The Loetschberg tunnel proved a much more difficult proposition than the St. Gothard tunnel, which is driven almost entirely thru hard granite. At Andermatt and Airolo one can perceive by the quarries, the tremendous lateral pressure the Jurassic chalk has been turned into marble. In the case of the Loetschberg, the geological profile presented the unusual sight of primitive rock piled on top of stratified rock.

All the Alpine tunnels are run on straight lines except the Loetschberg, which is built on a curve. This was necessitated by unforeseen obstacles in the interior composition of the mountains, and resulted in an extra expenditure of $800,000.

The engineers did not believe that the Kander stream, which flows down the mountain-side, would interfere with the boring of a tunnel 600 feet below the riverbed, but it did, and it was a cave-in which by twenty-five workmen lost their lives.

MARKET FAVORED BY THE NEW YEAR

Investment Buying a Prominent Feature of the Market Dealings.

CANNERS STILL WEAK

Expectations Are That the Future Has Favorable Prospects Ahead.

The new year opened auspiciously in the local market, and although changes were by no means pronounced, they were along the lines of improvement. It is considered that the drastic treatment which this market had undergone for several months has cleared the situation of most of the weak accounts, and that with any kind of reasonable improvement the market would gradually rally. Apprehension, both here and abroad, is giving place to confidence. This, in turn, will admit of the extension of credit to those interested in securities and enable purchases which have hitherto been barred.

American Securities Advanced Towards Close on New York Buying.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—Money and discount rates were decidedly easy today. The first session of the new year on the stock exchange was unremarkable, but it was without effect. Small securities were quietly steady in the hope that easier money will yesterday's increased business in the market. Brazilian and copper shares, and half-interests in consols were concluded satisfactorily.

NEW YORK STOCKS INCLINED TO DIP

Domestic Reports Favorable Save for Steel and Iron Industry.

EARLY ADVANCE LOST

Retirement of Morgan and Co. From Various Boards Created Interest.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—The first of the new year on the stock exchange was devoid on the surface of more than passing significance. During the greater part of the session trading was dull, and price changes in the main were unimportant, although a higher tendency. In the final hour a selling movement of moderate proportions wiped out most early gains, sending the general level under Wednesday's quotations.

Domestic advices were favorable for the most part, trade reports being of a more optimistic tenor, except for the steel and iron stock. An interesting event of the day, in its general application to financial and political conditions, was the announcement that the banking house of Morgan & Co. had retired from numerous boards with which it had long been associated, and that the institution further withdrawals would be announced from time to time. This gave rise to much surmise and conjecture, but had no influence upon the stock market.

MONTREAL STOCKS WERE IRREGULAR

C.P.R., Power and Macdonald Higher, But General Tone Weak.

MONTREAL, Jan. 2.—The new year opened on the Montreal Stock Exchange with a dull and irregular market. C.P.R. displayed a better tone on foreign purchases of the stock in New York, and rose two points, to 20 1/2, locally, with the close at the highest of the day. Commercial and industrial stocks were generally lower, and closed 1 1/2 higher, were the principal stocks to show improvement. A few others, including iron, gained small fractions.

At other points in the list the tone was heavy, and some stocks sold below their low recent quotations. Among these were Brazilian, 1/4, to 1/2, at 90; Ames-Holden pref., off 1/2, to 1/4, at 10; Quebec Bank, down 1/4, to 1/2, at 10; and Tooke common, which touched 20 in a broken lot.

ST PAUL EARNINGS

N. Y. C. EARNINGS

New York Central Railroad earnings, total all lines: November, Gross, decrease $1,322,977; Net, after tax, decrease $439,595; December, Gross, increase $1,924,320; Net, after tax, decrease $1,196,402.

A Letter to the Publishers

New York, Nov. 20th, 1913. Heart Songs came Saturday. The girls were away, so they didn't get into it until Sunday afternoon. That H.S. is some book!

I was upstairs writing some dull stuff for a magazine when the old melodies came floating up into my den. I couldn't write any more, so my wife and I stole down to the parlor and sat by the grate.

We have not had such a treat in years. The very air blossomed with melody.

These songs took us in memory back to the old farm, back to the double log house in the Southland, sweet with the honeysuckle and the jessamine.

They took us to the battlefield and colored it with glory and set the roar of the cannon and the crash of musketry to music.

They told us the pathetic tale of the black man, and the black mammy torn from all they loved, and we felt more humane and more sympathetic.

They bore messages of love from mothers and sweethearts to wandering boys, and brought back the vows of "ever true to you, ever true."

They kindled anew the fires on the family hearthstone, and their light shone back to the very cradle.

Heart Songs seem to sweep every string on the harpsichord of human emotion.

One page would lead us gaily through fields of flowers, and the next one would moisten our eyes with the dew of tears. I can see why this book was called "Heart Songs."

We all thank you for Heart Songs.

Respectfully yours, (Signed) EUGENE CHRISTIAN.

[The above letter explains itself. Dr. Eugene Christian is one of the best known authorities on scientific eating in the world today. His numerous articles, contributed to the press, and his many public lectures on this subject, have given him a standing second to no other in the chosen field of his life work.]
