UNITED STATES ADMITS DEFEAT UNTIL TEUTONS

Lansing Affirms America's Intention to Fight on to Victory. TO BE NO COMPROMISE Struggle to End Only With Realization of Entente Ideals.

New York, Jan. 13.—Secretary of State Robert Lansing, speaking here last night at the annual dinner of the New York State Bar Association, declared that until the war aims accepted by President Wilson are accepted by the Prussian Government the war must go on.

"We are in this war as a republic to the very end," he declared emphatically, and brought the dinner to their feet cheering.

Mr. Lansing's address was regarded by his hearers as a reply to the comments in German papers upon President Wilson's address to congress. He declared that "the aims we seek must be achieved and will be." Facing the brilliant audience, Mr. Lansing said in part: "In Washington there is cheerfulness and confidence, and that should prevail throughout the republic. If I were asked to name the principal trait of an American I would say it is optimism. Optimism is our great national asset. It is our source of wealth and power. Prussia must yield. "The president was challenged a short time ago to name the reason why we are in this war and what we aim to achieve. He named the reasons and he has recently named the aims which we seek. He has done so frankly, without equivocation and very definitely. This statement of the aims of our country is entering the ears of men who have not been reached with favor by our German friends, and yet unless we achieve these aims, we have no sure foundation on which to build an enduring peace. Unless these aims are accepted by the Prussian Government this war must go on. We are in this war as a republic to the very end. "The aims which we seek are to be achieved, and they will be achieved. "America never put her hand to a task but she accomplished it. All we have got to do is to set our jaws, to clinch our fists and to go to it with all our might. "Tribute to Allies. "When we have so many representatives of our co-partners in this great (Concluded on Page 2, Column 5).

HOME SIX HOURS FROM THE FRONT Major Howard Jeffs Has Only Short Time in Toronto. GIVEN MILITARY MEDAL Decorated at His Father's Home for Gallantry in Action.

To be home in Toronto on leave from overseas service for just six hours and during that short visit to be officially decorated with the military cross as a reward for great gallantry at the front was the record made yesterday by Major Howard Drown Jeffs, M.C., son of Dr. W. H. Jeffs, 2781 Yonge street. It had been arranged for the decoration ceremony to take place on Sunday afternoon at Government House by the lieutenant-governor, but owing to Major Jeffs' train being delayed by the snowstorm it was 5:50 when he arrived in Toronto, so the presentation was made at the home of his father instead. The presentation at Dr. Jeffs' residence was attended by about one hundred friends. It took place at 9 o'clock Sunday night. Lieut.-Col. A. Fraser, on behalf of the lieutenant-governor, handed the military cross to Major Jeffs. The following is the action for which Major Jeffs was awarded the decoration: "Gallantry and devotion to duty: although wounded himself, he tended the wounded under very heavy fire, with great courage and determination. Later, being again wounded, he remained on duty until relieved. Major Jeffs left for the east again last night. Major Jeffs is a graduate of the University of Toronto medical faculty. He went overseas with No. 10 Field ambulance, 1st Canadian contingent, in August, 1914. He served in France for two years until wounded. Another brother, Lieut. George Douglas Jeffs, is now serving with the Canadian forces.

One of the most impressive military funerals in Toronto's history was that of the two aviators, Lieut. C. E. Rider and Lieut. E. S. Osborn, recently killed in airplane accidents, which took place on Saturday afternoon. The view above was taken at the chapel entrance in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

PROLONG ARMISTICE FOR ANOTHER MONTH

Trotzky Makes Move Designed to "Prevent Slightest Possibility of Peace Being Lost"—Russ-German Differences Arise. London, Jan. 13.—Leon Trotzky, the Bolshevik foreign minister, proposed at the peace negotiations that the present armistice between Russia and Germany be prolonged for another month, according to an Exchange Telegraph despatch from Petrograd. The central powers accepted the proposal. Russ-German Differences. London, Jan. 13.—The Russian account of the session of the peace conference at Brest-Litovsk shows a considerable variance from the German version, transmitted by the Wolff Bureau. Saturday, the Russian version pictures the Russian delegates as acting through with more than a suspicion—rather than an actual conviction—that the German delegates were virtually agents of the military and annexationist groups. One passage of Trotzky's speech, which the Wolff Bureau omitted, stated: "The sincerity of our aspirations for peace is sufficiently proved by our attitude regarding the free right of development of Finland, Armenia and Ukraine. The other side has only to show an analogous attitude regarding the regions occupied by it." Referring to an early report of Trotzky's speech, the German version speaks of a certain telegram, about which it says M. Trotzky expressed regret. The Russian version says nothing about regrets, but introduces a very passage asserting that the German viewpoint regarding reciprocity territories is merely that the will

MILLION DOLLAR FIRE INCENDIARY IN ORIGIN Blaze Destroys Plants Working on American War Orders. Indianapolis, Jan. 13.—Fire broke out tonight in the Industrial building, which housed thirty manufacturing concerns, and destroyed the building and adjoining property, causing a loss estimated at $1,000,000. Fire Chief Loucks said he believed that the fire was of incendiary origin. Several of the manufacturing companies were making machinery for the government under war contracts.

LISTOWEL STORES PREY TO FLAMES Two Hundred Thousand Dollars' Damage by Fire in Business Section. BIG BLOCK BURNED Blaze Is Well Under Control, But Large Drygoods Store Is Still Burning. Listowel, Jan. 13.—The most disastrous fire in the history of this town broke out shortly after midnight in the face of howling blizzards and temperature below zero, causing a property loss in the best portion of the business section of approximately $200,000, and forcing several families to leave in the bitter cold for other quarters. Some of these persons had close calls and rushed out only partly dressed. The firemen put up a great fight, but the terrible weather conditions made their work almost unbearable. The blaze is now pretty well under control, but several of the leading stores, located on the south side of Main street, have been leveled, among them the splendid three-story Schinbein block, in which was the Schinbein department store, Bender's grocery, the Oddfellows' quarters and numerous offices. Other business places completely wiped out are: Koch & Spencer shoe store, Bell Telephone office, McDonald's barber shop, Miss Gibb's millinery store, McAllister's poolroom and Von Zuber's tailor shop. In addition to the top storey of the store of Johnstone the jeweler, whose stock is badly damaged. Thompson's large drygoods store is still burning. Much of the building may be saved, but the bulk of the stock will be destroyed. Store fronts across the street were left a sad wreck, but no great damage was done to stock. The chief damage was from fire which was carried underground through a street by way of a bridge. It was kept from gaining serious headway only by the officers destroyed with all their contents are: H. B. Morphy, K.C., barrister; J. C. Hamilton, B. A. Parker, J. J. Foster, Dr. E. G. Spence and Dr. J. A. Campbell. The heaviest loser is Mr. J. M. Schinbein, who carried a large stock of boots and shoes, groceries valued at $42,000, and about half covered by insurance. On the block he had $10,000 insurance.

NEW YORK MENACED BY FUEL SHORTAGE Ice in Harbor Prevents Coal Deliveries and Many Industries May Close. New York, Jan. 13.—Almost complete disruption of industrial activity within 24 hours, because of the fuel shortage, threatened New York tonight with the return of zero weather. Once more the harbor is choked with ice, and the task of bringing coal from the New Jersey terminals, which already had taxed the resources of railroad officials to the utmost, presented a still more desperate menace. After a meeting held today in the office of A. H. Smith, assistant director-general of railroads, attended by fuel administrators and leading coal dealers of the city, A. H. Wiggin, state fuel administrator, declared that the situation is so serious it is possible that many industries will be forced by tomorrow night to close for lack of fuel. Strenuous efforts are being made, he asserted, to keep hospitals, public utilities and all other necessary buildings and industries supplied. Recourse to a coal system or the apportioning of coal by fuel administrators did not appear probable, he added, reliance being placed upon coal dealers to equalize distribution.

Will Transfer Big Lake Fleet To Ocean Transport Service Washington, Jan. 13.—The shipping board has decided to remove from the great lakes an additional thirty ships for ocean service. The vessels will be cut in two during the winter and will be brought thru the Welland Canal and reassembled when navigation is resumed in the spring. Already 42 ships have been brought out.

Trains Are Stalled in Drifts as High as the Cars. PASSENGERS DELAYED Travelers Have to Spend the Day at Homes of Farmers.

As indicating the intensity of the storm and the extent to which freight movements have been demoralized, the officials at the Union Stock Yards told The World last night that the total receipts for the two days, Saturday and Sunday, were only about 600 head, in contrast with 2500 a week ago. Cars of cattle and other live stock are stalled all along the lines of the C.P.R. and Grand Trunk.

At Wyoming a freight train is stalled, with five engines and a snow plow trying to force a passage thru the snowdrifts, which in places are on a level with the top of the box cars. Drifts 15 Feet High. On the gravel road in Perth County near Shakespeare the drifts are more than 15 feet high. John Black of Rice & Whaley, a prominent commission man, who left his farm at Ferris Saturday morning for Toronto, got as far as Brampton, where he still is. J. B. Shields went up to his farm at Mount Albert and Friday morning started home on Saturday. He got as far as Richmond Hill on the C.N.R. at 4 o'clock, and after waiting at the village until 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, got back to Toronto last night. Traffic on the Canadian Northern is stopped. An engine and snow plow are buried in a big drift at Thornloca, 12 miles north of the city. At 6 o'clock last night all attempts to get them clear have failed.

Smothered in Snow. On the northern division of the Grand Trunk Railway, conditions were said to be worse. At Thornbury, a driver and snow plow got as far as the town and was on Saturday night returning to his home in the blinding storm, the team got off the road and became imbedded in an immense drift of snow. The farmer, himself, made his way to a neighbor's, badly frost bitten. No trains are moving on the northern division of the Grand Trunk. The morning train on the Grand Trunk Railway, which was scheduled to start at 8 o'clock on Saturday morning, had a trying experience and its troubles are not yet over. The engine, which was proceeding to the station, got as far as the C.P.R. subway at Agincourt, where both became stalled, and after two hours hard work with three engines, managed to get into the Agincourt station. The train is still stalled. The engines ran out of coal and water and were abandoned by the train crew while the passengers are being cared out or roads made through the village, the rest being brought back to the city yesterday afternoon on the first thru C.P.R. express from Montreal which passed thru the village about 4 o'clock.

Buried Near Markham. The early morning accommodation train on the Grand Trunk at 10 a.m. is buried in a big drift north of Markham village, where the Peterboro express, which is the same route, was stopped. The train is still stalled. A special mail train, which was made up at Lindsay, is also sidetracked. The two trucks carrying mail, which are being cared for at the farmers' houses along the line. Practically all country roads are running north and south are blocked as high and higher than the fences. Traffic is suspended and will be up as far as West Hill on Saturday night, and as far back as the Markham road last night at dark. It is expected the road will be open for traffic today. To add to the difficulties of the situation the supply of coal at many points in the country is very low, and unless speedy relief comes great suffering will ensue.

FOOD SHORTAGE CAUSES SERIOUS DISTURBANCES Spanish Towns Scene of Riots During Which Shops Are Broken Open and Looted. Barcelona, Jan. 13.—The publication of a decree fixing the prices of foodstuffs has resulted in serious disturbances in the country. It was shut and bands of women paraded the streets. Mobs attacked the shops, looting them. Similar scenes are reported from Valencia.

Summary of Storm Damage

Official lowest temperature is four below zero. Brantford Street Railway is drifted up and steam traffic is tied up. At Chatham the storm is the worst in the memory of the oldest inhabitant. Traffic both east and west of St. Thomas on steam railways is at a standstill. Woodstock is snowbound and a number of cattle in a stalled train. Kitchener is isolated and all radials and roads leading into the city are blocked with snow. All trains running thru Guelph are canceled and Toronto suburban cars are not running. Hamilton train service is partly crippled, but comparatively little damage is done through the city. Bakers' wagons in Toronto have difficulty in getting to country customers and many people fail to get bread. Passengers on the Metropolitan Railway bound for points north of Bond Lake are brought back to Toronto, as the cars cannot get thru. The tie-up of the train service and the deep snow on the roads has reduced Toronto's milk supply and many people have to go without. So many water pipes in Toronto are frozen and plumbers so busy that householders have to wait for hours after they call before the workmen arrive. Constables on point duty at the corner of King and Yonge streets, Toronto, are unable to take their full periods and are relieved every few hours. Three extra men are at that corner to help pedestrians cross.

GALE AND SNOW SWEEP HAMILTON

Train and Car Service Partly Blocked and Streets Drifted Up. FREIGHTS CANCELED Comparatively Little Damage, However, Was Caused Thruout the City. Hamilton, Jan. 13.—The city awoke this morning to find itself still in the icy clutches of a forty mile an hour gale, with piercing cold. Train and car services are partly blocked, doors buried up to the knobs with snow and streets covered with drifts. The storm, which raged furiously all Saturday and well into Sunday morning, was of a freakish disposition. The wind came from the southwest, but in the city streets it whirled in an unceasing fashion. On the south and west sides of the streets huge drifts made walking impossible, while on the east and north sides the cement sidewalks were covered with snow and west looking as if they had been freshly white washed. The railways and the local street railway company gave special service under the existing conditions. The latter company kept their cars going all Saturday, with the exception of late at night, when it was almost impossible to move a car. General Superintendent Waller was out all yesterday afternoon getting the city traffic in shape and General Manager Coleman spent the afternoon on a snow plow clearing away the suburban lines, all of which managed to keep going fairly well. The World was informed that the T. H. and B. Railway, with the exception of cancelling No. 71 and No. 72 Buffalo passenger trains, were handling everything that came their way. They had no accidents and with the exception of a slight easing off on freight, due to congested yards, kept up their service. One-quarter of the passenger trains on the G. T. R. were cancelled, and the schedule between Toronto and Niagara Falls was maintained. All freight trains were cancelled and an official stated that their service was delayed, and in some cases trains were snowbound. Little Damage Done. Comparatively little damage was done; the electric sign in front of Loew's Theatre was wrenched from its fastenings, and in falling, took with it the marquee over the entrance. A gang was immediately set at work and by night all the wreckage had been cleared away. Plate glass windows in the Right House, Grafton's and J. W. Ball, King street east, were pushed in like tissue paper, and the large sign of Beggs and Company dashed to the pavement. All trade deliveries fell down on Saturday, especially the milkmen and bakers, and Saturday afternoon was a holiday, whether it was wanted or not. In the evening the theatres were practically deserted and Sunday morning the congregations at the various churches were so small that one big church could have accommodated all. Instead of a meatless day, it was a milkless morning for many of the citizens. The heavy drifts throughout the country prevented the milkmen from delivering their usual supply to the city dealers, with the result that it was a case of children first.

WESTERN ONTARIO IN GRIP OF STORM

Most of Trains Stalled and Local Traffic Is Badly Crippled. BUSINESS SUSPENDED Guelph, Brantford and Other Cities and Towns Suffered Severely From Blizzard. Special to The Toronto World. Guelph, Jan. 13.—The blizzard which has held the whole of western Ontario in its embrace for the past 48 hours has abated to some extent, but a cold, raw wind still prevails, and the thermometer registers several degrees below zero. It is many years since such a severe storm has visited Guelph, and old residents have no hesitation in stating that Saturday was the worst day they ever saw. The country roads leading into the city are completely blocked, and hardly a farmer reached the city on Saturday, there being no market. The city people stuck close to their homes, and the result was that business was practically suspended. Many of the stores closed up before 7 o'clock and allowed their clerks to go home. The street railway managed to keep their line open all day, but did not attempt to keep up with the schedule. They were sent to the barn early in the evening. All the trains running thru Guelph have been cancelled. The Toronto Suburban Railway cars are tied up, and there is very little doing. There were very few people out at the church services today, and in some cases the services were held in the basement to save fuel. The coal situation is easier than a few days ago, and there are no cases of suffering. Special to The Toronto World. Brantford, Jan. 13.—Brantford is practically isolated following a two-days' blizzard. Steam and electrical roads alike have been tied up by drifts as high as ten feet. The Grand Valley Railway has made no effort to clear the tracks yesterday or today. On Saturday the street railway lines were kept open, but during the night they drifted in spite of all the efforts of the staff, with all available motive power at work, and today the tracks were impassable until a late hour. To the south there have been no cars, and steam traffic is nil. The only alarm felt here is that the tie-up will result in real famine followed by terrible hardship because of the lack of fuel, as local citizens have been literally existing from day to day with no provision for the morning. In most of the churches today services were held in the school, to economize on fuel. The fuel controller for Ontario has refused a special controller with full powers for Brantford. Many coal deliveries were made today to avoid hardship. Special to The Toronto World. St. Thomas, Jan. 13.—The worst blizzard on record raged in this city and district for 36 hours. The gale was at the rate of 90 miles an hour, accompanied by blinding snow and with a temperature between 5 to 10 degrees below zero. Traffic on railroads both east and west on the Michi-

Ven. Archdeacon Armitage Tells of Experiences in Halifax Disaster.

CHURCH WAS SAVED

It Was the Only One in Whole City Fit for Use After the Explosion.

Speaking in St. Paul's Church, East Bloor street, yesterday morning, Ven. Archdeacon Armitage of St. Paul's Church, Halifax, gave an eloquent word picture of the recent catastrophe in that city. That it took five months of shelling to produce the same results that were to be seen five minutes after the explosion, he gave as his opinion. Owing to war conditions, he said, the port had developed into one of the largest and the most important in the world. Into such some of the biggest ships continually entered, some on missions of mercy and others on missions of destruction. Halifax had been prepared for weeks previous to the explosion for something to happen," said the speaker, and explained how the order had gone out for all lights to be dimmed. "But the catastrophe came as a bolt out of the blue, and what would have taken five months of bombardment to accomplish all happened in a few minutes." He gave an account of his personal experience in visiting the scene of the disaster only an hour afterwards, and told of the frightful effects on the people, hundreds of whom he saw blinded and wounded, many beyond all description. At the time of the accident he was in his home, nearly two miles away, and yet so terrible was the force of the explosion that the front door was torn off and every pane of glass in the house was broken. "I saw the heavens filled with smoke," declared the speaker. "In St. Paul's Church, of which he is rector, a strange thing happened. Five memorial windows and the chancel window remained unbroken, despite the fact that all the other windows were completely smashed. "But we patched up the windows with paper and anything we could get hold of, and St. Paul's Church was the only church in Halifax where a public service was held the following Sunday."

THREE MEN KILLED IN A TRAIN WRECK

Burned to Death in Caboose After Rear-End Collision.

As the result of a rear-end collision on the Grand Trunk, half a mile east of the Mimico yards about 8:30 Saturday morning, Grand Trunk Conductor Moose, and brakemen E. Bateman and H. Barkham, all residents of Belleville, were burned to death in their caboose. In a fire which followed the accident.

The first train was running west and was held outside of the Mimico yard awaiting the signal to move into the yards, when the second, a heavy freight engine, crashed into the rear of the standing train, not noticing it in a blinding snowstorm that was raging. So sudden and terrific was the crash, that the engine plowed right thru the van, upsetting the stove and setting fire to the wrecked van.

The officers announce that the office and workroom of the Montreal women's branch of the Navy League of Canada, which is affiliated with the Navy League of the British Empire, 464 West St. Catherine street, is open daily from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. The annual membership fee has been fixed at $2.

FUTURE LIFE IS ONLY COMPLETION OF THIS

Dr. Law Completes Series of Sermons on Sunday Night at Old St. Andrew's Church.

Rev. Prof. Law, concluded a series of sermons on "The Hope Set Before Us," on Sunday night at Old St. Andrew's Church when he spoke on "The Larger Hope," taking his text from Revelation 22:13: "I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end, the first and the last."

Dr. Law said there was always a question of the eternity of evil. Evil was not good in the making. Altho all come from God, it is always a question as to whether evil should return to God and become a unity with Him. "Evil does not terminate here, there is a hell," said Dr. Law. "The next life is only a continuation, a completion, a fruition of this one, and if sin is sown in this life, sin shall be reaped in the next. Hell is evil riping with unlimited despotism." He said God did not punish at once except by natural consequences and retribution was one of the worst punishments. "Will evil ever terminate?" is the oft-asked question," said Dr. Law. "There is no answer for it in the New Testament, but it is unthinkable that a God of love should allow a creature estranged from him forever." He gave several quotations which he pointed to an eternal salvation; it was not definitely stated: "I believe there will be many chances for a man," said the preacher. "Even in outer darkness if a man turn in penitence he will be heard. I see no reason why repentance hereafter should be impossible as physical death does not terminate the soul." He said that the New Testament pointed to the fact that some day God and goodness would be triumphant. Evil began in mystery and ended in mystery. "The answer to it all is Christ," Dr. Law said, "and there is the Divine promise, 'He will be satisfied,' and in that is my hope and my certainty."

MEN GIVE VIEWS ON CHINESE LABOR

Labor Party and Discharged Soldiers Denounce Importation of Orientals.

WOULD LOWER STANDARD

James Gunn Expresses Strong Sentiments Regarding Men in Power.

A vigorous denunciation of the proposed importation into Canada of Chinese labor for farm work and resolutions to this effect formed the principal feature of yesterday's session of the Greater Toronto Labor Party, held in the Labor Temple.

Oakwood and Ward One branches of the G.T.L.P. had both sent in resolutions to oppose the proposed importation of Chinese labor into Canada, pointing out that in doing so the government would tend to lower the standard of living in this country; that there were enough aliens in the country already and that the Chinese problem would become very acute after the conclusion of the war.

James Gunn, speaking to the motion to adopt these resolutions, stated that the matter of Chinese labor in Canada today was of the same calibre as those of Great Britain who ever sought to uphold the aristocracy and the plutocracy against the interests of the working man and woman, and whose policy of importing Chinese labor into South Africa had been merely one of lowering the standard of living, and had concluded in the overthrow of the then British Government.

There was a general acquiescence in the views of Delegate Gunn, and the visiting delegates from the Honorable Discharged Soldiers' Association, President Norton and General Organizer Birkett, both strongly upheld the views already expressed.

President Norton stated that the matter had been brought up too quickly for them to convene an executive meeting, and, therefore, they were not present as endorsed delegates of their association, but they were so certain of the feelings of their comrades on the matter that they felt that their views coincided with those of the majority of their fellow members.

General Organizer Birkett of the soldiers' association pointed out that the Chinese were to be brought in under bond, and suggested that the minute the indenture expired another 100,000 Chinese might find their way into the Dominion.

Tuesday morning, and may be presented to the government while the delegates are in Ottawa.

More Energetic Effort. President James Richards occupied the chair. "We have difficulties, but this fact alone should urge us on to more energetic effort," he said in his opening address.

The session passed a resolution, recommended by the central executive, that a committee of three members be formed with the object of visiting all the labor unions in the city and gaining their assistance, financial and otherwise, in the interests of the party.

COLUMBUS PARTY GETTING POINTERS

Comes to Toronto to Learn System of Patriotic Collections.

AN INSPIRING MESSAGE

Canada and United States Will Give Allies Tremendous Aid.

A party of 22 members of patriotic committees from Columbus, Ohio, spent the weekend in Toronto, absorbing some of this city's patriotic enthusiasm and spirit. Columbus is having a monetary campaign to raise $3,000,000 during the week beginning Feb. 4.

Sam F. Bush, a prominent manufacturer in the Ohio city, leads the deputation. Another member is H. P. Bussey, city editor of The Columbus Citizen. "We tasted some of Norman Sommerville's enthusiastic spirit when he visited us last summer," said Mr. Bussey, "and we wanted to come to Toronto, as the pace setter for the Dominion, and absorb a little of his spirit."

The deputation has spent a busy week-end. On Saturday evening they were banqueted at the National Club. Sir William Mulock presided, and others who sold of the work of the Canadian Patriotic Fund were: Hon. C. W. McCarthy, Mayor; John D. McKeown, Dr. A. H. Abbott, Norman Sommerville and H. H. Williams.

On Sunday visit was made to St. Paul's, where Archbishop Armitage of Halifax preached. The party dined at the Government House and also spent some time with Sir John Eason. Last night an informal conference was held at the King Edward, when leaders in patriotic work in this city gave advice.

Inspiring Message. To The World one of the leaders of the deputation gave this message: "Across the imaginary line that has separated us geographically you will find real allies who will stick to the end of the war. The United States is in this to stay, and not a thought is given to any peace that is not based on the enduring principles laid down by Britain's premier and by our president.

Canada is establishing a record in this war that will endure. It has been a tremendous inspiration to us to see the splendid types of soldiers on your streets, and to meet the splendid business men who are devoting their time and energies to the equally important work of organizing community resources to back up those soldiers."

Held for Fraud. Moe Levy, Walsingham apartments, 321 Jarvis street, was taken in custody on Saturday on a charge of fraud. It is alleged that he obtained merchandise from J. & A. Azize Company, West Wellington street, to the value of $171, by means of worthless cheques, during the month of December.

Charged with Theft. Charged with the theft of a musical instrument, Samuel Tezinsky, 96 Baldwin street, was arrested last night by Detective Stroum on a warrant. Tezinsky is alleged to have retained the instrument after it had been given to him for repairs. He will appear in this morning's police court.

Two Toronto aviators, Lieut. C. E. Rider and Lieut. E. S. Osborn, who were both killed in airplane accidents in England, were buried in Toronto on Saturday afternoon, full military honors being paid. The above view shows the funeral cortege in the grounds of Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

REPORTS ON PROGRESS IN MISSION FIELDS

Primate of All Canada Preaches in Church of Redeemer on Duty of Church.

Archbishop Matheson, primate of all Canada, occupied the pulpit at the Church of the Redeemer, West Bloor street and Avenue road, on Sunday morning. The rector, Rev. Charles J. James, conducted the service. Despite the stormy weather there was a good congregation present.

The primate took as the subject of his address "The Missions of the Church of England in Canada." His address took the form of a comprehensive talk on the home mission question, given in an informal way, and listened to with great interest by the congregation. He reported, good progress in the mission fields of the Dominion, and declared a crisis was not absent of the times who was unsympathetic with the missionary movement. To win the world to Christianity, said the primate, was the duty of the church, and that duty must be adhered to an dche work it demanded carried continuously forward even in times of war. He indicated that the war had deprived the church (temporarily) of many clerical and lay mission workers thru their being on active service overseas, but stated the endeavors in the mission field were giving results as satisfactory as could be looked for under war conditions.

British batteries made direct hits on enemy emplacements on the east bank of the Piave. French artillery was active along the middle Piave."

"Italian airplanes dropped one and one-half tons of explosives on enemy magazines and encampments, and brought down two enemy machines. British airmen brought down an enemy airplane."

SAYS GERMANY MAY RENOUNCE HER PLANS FOR ANNEXATIONS

Amsterdam, Jan. 13.—Addressing the Polish Society of Berlin, Professor Hans Delbrueck, of the University of Berlin, who has on several occasions made important statements regarding future peace, said that Germany might completely renounce territorial acquisitions both in the east and west. He added, however, that the possibility of higher political sagacity. The practical proof of the correctness of this conception, he contended, was to be found in the success of the British policy with respect to South Africa.

BOLSHEVIKI RED GUARDS INTIMIDATE FINLAND

Stockholm, Jan. 13.—Finland is threatened by the red guards of Russian soldiers, who are always terrorizing the country, says a despatch to The Dagens Nyheter. Bolshevik agents, the despatch adds, have arrived in Finland in order to stir up the revolutionary agitation which they did too harkswarm. The red guards threaten to dissolve the senate and dissolve the diet, summon another diet and establish a "red" senate.

The Helsingfors Huvudstadstidning says that Russian soldiers have visited houses in Finnish towns, making arbitrary arrests and committing many acts of violence. Red guards forced their way into the home of the former governor-general of Helsingfors and declared that no laws had any validity.

When they went away singing Tipperary

In those brave hours that seemed but of yesterday, one little dreamed that in January 1918, their watchword would still be "carry on."

But so it is. Tipperary has passed on like a butterfly caught in a tornado, a catch of song in the throat of death.

What of us, then, who stay home? Are we to show ourselves unworthy of their unquenchable spirit? Are we to confess war weariness? Dare we refuse to carry on?

"I am tired of giving" was a remark overheard on the street the other day.

Tired of giving—forsooth! The speaker was well, yes, luxuriously dressed and apparently well fed and warm.

Tired of giving! A few yards farther on a party of returned soldiers tumbled gaily from a Metropolitan street car. They were coming down from the Davisville Hospital. Men with only one leg hopped down cheerily from the car to the sidewalk, while more fortunate, but still sadly wounded comrades, held their crutches.

Tired of giving! What would you say if Toronto's boys over there said they were tired of serving—tired of sacrificing, even unto life itself.

The men whom it is your privilege to help support are of Canada's VOLUNTEER Army—our first—our bravest—our best.

A sufficient portion of the money you give goes to carry on the magnificent work of the Canadian Red Cross. It is not applied exclusively to the needs of the Patriotic Fund.

Tired of giving—never! In three days—January 22nd, 23rd and 24th—Toronto will give $3,000,000 in order that the citizens of Toronto shall preserve the Canadian soldiers' watchword, "Carry on, boys, carry on."

The discussion and treatment of the alien problem is growing acute, and Friday evening the Parkdale branch of the G.W.V.A. passed a resolution calling upon the York County general executive to take immediate and energetic action to protest against the importation of alien labor of any kind. The mover of this motion, G. J. Cummings, pointed out that it was the intention of the government to import 100,000 Chinese laborers into Canada for farm labor and to also remove the head tax levied upon all Chinese today. This, the speaker pointed out, would lead to a system generally lowering the standard of wages and existence as well as the multiplication of the eight-hour day as at present constituted.

"The matter must be brought up in parliament," said Judge Winchester. "The outstanding question of necessity, conform to that of the federal authorities, and our regulations governed thereby."

The Storm and Its Lesson.

The storm has brought an acute if temporary crisis in the transportation situation. The roads are doing their best, but are able to accomplish little. Who can doubt that that under unified management, with one thorough efficient system, we would have at least one transcontinental train making its way across the continent and much better local service than now is possible?

The competitive system, with its duplication of service and its desire for profit, proved inefficient in the great storm of war. It had to be abandoned in the United Kingdom and in the United States. Canada is the only belligerent nation which still clings to the handicap of railways controlled and managed by private corporations. Canada will yet have to get in step with other civilized countries upon the railway question.

A great storm like the one now raging would seriously tie up any system, however well managed, but the situation would be better handled by a national system under one supreme control. The lesson of the passing storm now raging about us, like the lesson of the great war storm now raging throughout the world, is the inability of private ownership and competitive management to deal with a big situation. Only public ownership and operation can ride on the whirlwind and direct the storm.

The Coal Situation.

Another and very serious interruption in the delivery of coal will be the result of the great storm of Saturday. The blizzard tied up railway service in every direction, and the intense cold that accompanied and followed the storm both intensifies the need for coal and retards the restocking of deliveries.

Mr. W. F. O'Connor, K.C., has advised the expropriation of surplus coal in the large consumers' cellars, and this would be one way of relieving the government of responsibility. We do not believe that surpluses are very common. Mr. O'Connor speaks of the surplus over two months' supply, but that would only carry us to the middle of March, and in ordinary seasons there are many weeks' wintry weather in large areas of the country after that.

We repeat that there is no system in handling the coal requirements of the country. The rule-of-thumb method might pull us thru if there were plenty of coal. But coal supplies are notoriously short. The people of the United States are as badly off as we.

Some one raised the cry of an embargo against Canada. If it came from the coal dealers it was a malicious cry. The United States authorities have been very fair to Canada, and the agreement to place the Dominion, in the matter of coal supplies, on the same basis as the Republic exhibits a large and friendly spirit on the part of our neighbors.

The point is, however, that we do not know how much coal we want, and that no steps have been taken, locally or federally, to make an equitable distribution of the coal that is received. All who have no coal should first be served, but who knows definitely who they are? Those who have not sufficient coal to carry them thru the season should be adequately supplied before any cellars are filled for next season.

Prices are not a consideration in some cases, but no one should be allowed to perish with cold on account of lack of means to buy fuel. We are making great efforts for the French and Belgians, but the Canadians at home need some consideration, too.

There are several things that must be done to remedy the coal situation, which will be worse next winter than this unless steps are taken. The nationalization of the railways, especially the Grand Trunk, is indispensable. We said so last spring, but nothing was done, and we are suffering from the neglect. There must be a municipal reserve in sufficient quantity to tide over any possible deficiency thru the season by reason of failure of winter deliveries. It should equal one month's supplies. There should be a fairly accurate knowledge based on returns of the actual household and other requirements of coal for the season. The household consumption could be ascertained by the assessors with little difficulty. Factories and business buildings could make returns of their needs. In a matter so vital to the life of the community it is remarkable that this has never been done, and that we are content to live from hand to mouth and trust to luck. It is a phase of our inefficiency.

We depended on the coal merchants. The government also depended on the coal merchants last spring. They could handle the situation, we were told. We have learned how they handled it. We trust the government has learned also. The experience for thousands has been a bitter one. There is need for a fuel department and, perhaps, a fuel minister to the government, or at any rate a deputy minister, as much as there is in any other national activity. Our fuel resources and our supplies from the States must be organized. It is no credit to our Canadian intelligence that in a climate like ours we leave the provision of fuel to the fetish of "supply and demand." Was there ever a fiercer demand? Was there ever a more wretched supply?

Food-Saving System.

Mr. Hoover, the United States food controller, has inaugurated a universal food-saving system by which the wants of the soldiers overseas and the European allies may be assisted with food. In Europe they want wheat, butter, lard, sugar, bacon, beef, mutton and pork. As substitutes for these we can use corn, oats, barley and rye; cottonseed oil, peanut oil, corn oil and drippings for cooking; molasses, honey, syrups, chicken, eggs, cottage cheese, fish, nuts, peas and beans. Corn is particularly recommended as a substitute for wheat, and there are so many preparations of corn products it should not be difficult to find some form of food from corn that will please and satisfy.

Special days have been arranged for the observance of economy. Every day there is to be one meatless meal. Every Tuesday a meatless day, on which no beef, pork, mutton, veal or lamb, and no preserved meat, beef, bacon, ham or lard, is to be eaten. Every day should be one wheatless meal, no wheat products being eaten. Every Saturday a porkless day, in addition to Tuesday. No fresh or salt pork, bacon, lard or ham is to be eaten.

If every family on the continent followed this plan rigorously it might be possible to stall off the famine which the authorities see ahead.

Fixing Prices.

We were told when we advocated the fixing of prices on various commodities that it was impossible; that we would interfere with "the law of supply and demand"; that it wasn't done; that it would check production; that it would stop trade; and various other things that have been precipitated as theories out of the cogitations of men who never bought or sold the commodities in question.

Now we are asked to admire the brilliant success of fixing the price of sugar; and of wheat; and we are actually promised that if potatoes go above $2.50 something will be done.

When we know all there is of anything and where it is stored, and that it is getting less every day, and that there must be a fair division to everybody so that life may be sustained, is it the best way to attain that division to put the whole quantity up to auction to the highest bidder? That is the position of those who swear by the law of supply and demand.

In conditions such as the world war imposes, when supplies are limited, and therefore the fair share of everyone is limited, the only equitable way to deal with the material—chiefly food and fuel—to be disposed of is to fix a fair price, so that the wealthy bidders may not absorb the whole supply and leave the less fortunate without any. This may be economic heresy, but it is family practice. It is human common sense, it is what the radicals of Europe are beginning to fight for, and it is a principle no government in these days can afford to ignore.

TREITSCHKE IN A FEZ

By H. WAKEFIELD.

"We think Turkey's rule ripe for destruction. She is Europe's most miserable state. The Osmanli are deceiving, body and soul; their empire, even at its greatest period, lacked all moral substance. If you enquire what it has brought for the well-being and civilization of mankind the only answer is possible. Nothing. The ruination of the system of government did not consist in the brutal outrages of individual magnates, because the impaling and drowning in seas, the violating and pillaging and similar amusements customary to the country did not, according to oriental standards, happen too often, but in that indescribable intellectual laziness, in that profound slumber of the soul, which was always peculiar to the Osmanli. The consequence of the European world has never recognized the existence of the Turkish realm as a morally justified necessity. Those wounds which a mentally sterile Asiatic horde inflicted on Christian civilization still bleed after 600 years, as if the blow had fallen yesterday. Turkey has been stamped on all the solemn promises which granted her the entrance into our state confederation. Christian Europe must not have the right wrested from her at least to gag this barbaric power, if as yet it cannot be destroyed so that it may no longer endanger the human rights of Christian subjects."

If these rather forcible criticisms of his gallant ally were shown to that ungrammatical entity, the "average German," he would probably exclaim tersely and emphatically, "Yes, yes!" And then he would be metaphorically pole-axed by one more quotation.

"A free passage thru the Dardanelles is a just claim on the part of the Russians, and Germany will not oppose it, if Russia has the strength to defend it with the sword."
 And it would be pointed out to him that all these observations came from the brain of his greatest historian, Treitschke! Treitschke, the great adventurer of the Hohenzollerns, the favorite panegyrist of all things Prussian.
 Still today, when it is required to administer stiff doses of Prussianism to the more or less generous souls of youthful and sceptical Germans, these potent draughts are helped down by the reassuring candy provided by the author of "The History of Germany in the 19th Century."

That great writer obviously loathed the Turks. He regarded them as effete, barbarous, and unworthy of an alien even to the least advanced European civilization, an intolerable anachronism, who only managed to retain a doubtful foothold in Europe, thru the exercise of that last talent of decadence, an instinct for intrigue. Treitschke actually abuses France, in the "Balkan Zone" for tolerating this toxic invasion, and would long ago have been purged from the system of Europe.

What would he have said could he have been spared to see the "Defenders of Islam" trying on in Berlin before taking their seats in the "Balkan Zone" bound on the congenial mission of organizing amicable little massacres of Turks and Armenians! Being a Prussian apologist he would probably gulp down a sharp but transitory little attack of disgust and set to work to produce a series of articles of ingenuously and delicate recantation. For he would quickly realize that what he had advocated was coming to pass. The Turkish Empire was dying, but better still, the will was in Germany's hands to smother it. The words were the words of the faithful, the voice of the defender of the faithful, the voice of the defender of the faithful.

There is much more of this scarcely veiled exploitation. One can but wonder at such candor. A gang of bandits do not usually advertise in advance the scene of their future activities, but this naive and exuberant candor is a necessary characteristic in all German pamphleteering; Bernhardi, Freytag-Loringhoven and other famous names are witnesses to that.

It is quite certain that the views of Treitschke are still those of the intelligent German today. They are supported, modified by reality, that is all. "Turkey is moribund, Turkey is effete, Turkey is rich; Germany is young, Germany is strong, Germany will soon be richer." The first aphorism of this determination to cajole and then nobble Turkey was seen when Germany alone of all the belligerent powers refused to protest against the Bulgarian atrocities. "If Paris was worth a mass, Bagdad is certainly worth a massacre," was probably William's chattering aphorism.

But not enough prospective victims of exploitation, moribund millionaires and so on, suddenly awake to the fact that there is an octopus by their death-bed, a suave, taciturn, steady-eyed octopus, and the first aphorism of this determination to cajole and then nobble Turkey was seen when Germany alone of all the belligerent powers refused to protest against the Bulgarian atrocities. "If Paris was worth a mass, Bagdad is certainly worth a massacre," was probably William's chattering aphorism.

Even in German papers there are signs of nervousness at the restlessness of the Massey-Harris movement. It feels that if the war goes on much longer, the Massey-Harris movement will have no longer any value to impose. He is poorer, less respected than ever before.

The Press and the Railways

Our good friend Colonel George H. Ham, publicity agent for the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, sends us the following letter:

Editor World: "While it is all right to rack about over the proposed increase of 15 per cent. in railway rates, one would think the people were being robbed by the new tariff—also in every other line of business an increase of 10 to 15 per cent. has been enforced, and in particular raw made over it."

The increase in prices by the railways was made thru the highly advanced cost of labor, fuel, supplies, equipment, etc.—the increases are inscribed in the newspapers, the manufacturers, the farmers, the everybody. The only difference is that the railways' increase is exceedingly moderate compared with the demands of the different roads. The 15 per cent. increase means that the cost of bacon carried 700 miles from Toronto to Vancouver will be less than a cent more than under the present shoes, carried on a pair of feet. The increased rate on a pair of feet, 481 miles, will approximately pay the increased rate on five pairs of feet from Toronto to Montreal, 338 miles. The cost of carrying a suit of clothes from Toronto to St. John's, N.B., 481 miles, will approximately pay the increased rate on five suits of clothes from Toronto to Montreal, 338 miles. The cost of carrying a suit of clothes from Toronto to St. John's, N.B., 481 miles, will approximately pay the increased rate on five suits of clothes from Toronto to Montreal, 338 miles.

The Globe and Mail, the only newspaper that has any sense, has been fighting the cause of public ownership almost single-handedly. If so the fight has not been a long one. The Globe and Mail has more than once in the past week or two urged that the question of nationalizing the roads be shelved until the government had approved some such action in Canada as President Wilson has lately in the United States. Until very recently indeed, the Globe did not suggest that anything more drastic should be done than running the roads on one system "during the war."

The Globe believes that the government ought to operate during the war all the railways from coast to coast, utilizing for that purpose the expert knowledge and the great experience of the men who have been in control of these railways and have done splendid service in rendering them profitable to that end.

was still the voice of Treitschke, the exploiter of the feebles.

After a little later the historical law shall be fulfilled, which enjoins on our tolling century, that there is no longer a place in Europe for a race of horsemen and consumers of income." "The Osmanli are deceiving body and soul." Precisely, but when the vast heritage of the sick man is distributed someone must benefit. Why not the Teuton?

A little financial assistance, a little battery, fact and perseverance and the price will be won. For international law does not concern itself with undue influence, and even if it did, Germany does not concern herself with international law.

Treitschke saw that European activity would conquer Turkish lethargy, and here we see this in active operation. The Prussian, who believes that he epitomizes all forms of practical intelligence, that he is destined to inherit all the fruits of the decadent earth, saw in Turkey a glorious field for tentacle enterprises.

The only difference between Treitschke and his descendant lies in the fact that the former wrote before the muzzling order came into force; before Germany had determined to exploit Turkey, before the services of German pamphleteers had been mobilized by the government for preaching the mutual benefits of Prussia to Turkey and Turkey to Prussia; a process of enlightenment much assisted by well-timed bribes on the one hand, and well-timed concessions on the other.

Possibly this may be considered merely the abuse and insinuation of partiality. The best defence against this accusation is to quote one of Treitschke's intellectual descendants, Dr. Wiedenfeld, who wrote as late as 1911: "In setting ourselves to make Turkey strong we have been influenced far more by our political interest as a state among states—the importance of the Syrian railway system lies in this, that, if the need arose, it would be the direct instrument for the exercise of pressure upon England."

There is much more of this scarcely veiled exploitation. One can but wonder at such candor. A gang of bandits do not usually advertise in advance the scene of their future activities, but this naive and exuberant candor is a necessary characteristic in all German pamphleteering; Bernhardi, Freytag-Loringhoven and other famous names are witnesses to that.

It is quite certain that the views of Treitschke are still those of the intelligent German today. They are supported, modified by reality, that is all. ## GERMANS REVERTING TO ANCESTRAL TYPE

Archdeacon Paterson Smyth of Montreal Arraigns Enemy's Ideas of God.

"Men say today they are doubting the power of God; the only thing they are not doubting is the power of the devil," said Archdeacon Paterson Smyth of Montreal at a Convocation Hall on Sunday morning. "If Christianity cannot prevent a war like this after 1900 years of it, then it is a failure, they say. This is a challenge that is not to be ignored, but at the same time it is not to be taken too seriously, for it is an exaggeration and half the time the questioner does not mean it."

Archdeacon Paterson Smyth went on to show that any business enterprise gone into in a half-hearted way and not with a real earnest zeal, failed, but that did not condemn that business completely. The trouble had been with the people not with the religion, he said. "Christ's Christianity has not failed," he continued. "It is the nominal Christianity which many people are professing that has failed. The lesson the war has taught the nations is that they should take shame to themselves for the way they have treated the Christian religion."

The preacher went on to say that many pointed to Germany as a so-called Christian nation. She had used God's name freely and her theologians had written at length about God in this war. Ancient Greece and Rome were wrong because of the fact that they had not always carry with it Christianity. Germany was reverting to type, he said, from God to Odin. Her ideals were a gospel of might. Her ideals were "win at any price." The Christian ideal was going back to the pagan ancestors, from God to Odin. She had become lost to the nations of the world rather than worship the gods that Germany has set up." were the sentiments expressed by the speaker. "It is not fair to call Germany a Christian nation."

TWO SPECIAL SERVICES

Anglican Preachers From Out of Town Heard on Sunday.

FOR AND ABOUT WOMEN

FIRST PROVINCIAL WOMAN CANDIDATE

Well-known Woman of Vancouver Running as Independent.

British Columbia granted the suffrage to women over a year ago, and on the 24th of this month the electors will have the chance to cast their ballot for a woman candidate for the provincial parliament.

The candidate in question is Mrs. Ralph Smith, widow of the late minister of finance. She is well-known not only in Vancouver but throughout the Dominion. She has always taken a keen interest in public affairs.

Her official announcement of her candidature she outlined her platform as follows:

- 1. A minimum living wage for women.
2. Supervision of workshops and factories to ensure healthful working conditions for women and girls.
3. Equal pay for women with men in the same class of work.
4. Pensions for widowed or dependent mothers.
5. Education and reform of juvenile delinquents.
6. Organized assistance to enable returned soldiers to become agricultural settlers or to acquire training for technical work.
7. The bringing into force of the Civil Service Act with provision for enabling invalided war veterans to qualify for indoor positions in the civil service.
8. Proportional representation for multiple constituencies.
9. Strict enforcement of the prohibition act with necessary amendments.
10. Provision of an adequate system of technical training to fit young men and women for vocational careers.

It repeats one nowadays to spend a little time and thought upon one's boots and shoes. Shoe trees should be used when the shoes are wet, a little care at this time will probably save you dollars later on.

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column.

Starve a Cold and Feed a Fever?

We are not sure whether we have the cold or the fever. Perhaps it is neither. It is only half right anyway.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Data of the Bread and Milk Club. I do not understand your occasional allusions to the Bread and Milk Club. I gather that it has to do with illness, indigestion, gas, fulness and heaviness of intellect after meals—and "thym's my sentiments," all right. Please give me the necessary data.

Wart on a Baby. Kindly give some simple advice about the removal of a wart from the arm of a five year old child. A. H. ANSWER—Paint the wart only, once a day, with a solution of salicylic acid in half an ounce of flexible collodion. If it is still there after ten days the treatment is a failure and the next step would be surgical excision.

NEW WARTIME SOCIETY TO ASSIST SOLDIERS

Canadian Women Form Another Organization as an Avenue for Their Activities.

A new organization among women has just been reported in Canada. The women of Canada think they are already organized enough, but they are really not organized worth mentioning when the women of the United States are taken into consideration.

The new organization just started is something for the returned soldiers and came into existence the first week in this year in Fredericton, N. B. The name of the society is "The Returned Soldiers' Aid." The objects of the society are, first, to arrange a welcome for our returning men, the details of such welcome to be decided by the circumstances of each case.

Morning Musical Club of Montreal Have Done Good Work in France for Soldiers.

Miss Mary Bell, first president of the Ladies' Morning Musical Club of Montreal, has been doing a wonderful work in France under the auspices of this organization. With their help Miss Bell was able to equip and maintain a canteen known as "La Tambourin."

Toronto Will Be Asked for Large Sum for Missions.

A missionary campaign covering the entire Dominion is to be held by the Methodist churches of Canada from January 20 to January 27, and it is hoped to raise the sum of $800,000 for home and foreign missions.

MISS MEWBURN WEDDED

Was United to Capt. D. S. Thompson at Church of Ascension in Hamilton.

Special to The Toronto World. Hamilton, Monday, Jan. 14.—A very pretty but quiet war wedding took place Saturday afternoon in the church of the Ascension, when Helen May, only daughter of Major-General S. C. Mewburn, K.C., C.M.G., minister of militia, and Mrs. Mewburn, was united in marriage to Captain David Stinson Thompson, son of the late Dr. David Thompson and Mrs. Thompson.

CAN SHE DO IT?

An appeal has been sent to me to outline a plan for living on $25 a week and still save something out of that income. The appeal came in a letter to this department, from which I quote: "Is it possible to save anything, even one cent, out of an income of $25 a week? When one pays the rent, the other necessary items for the house, buys the coal and good things to eat, what has one left, but a few dollars, which must go for clothes? If you know of anyone who can tell me what to do to save the few dollars I feel I should save out of this amount, please tell them to do so."

How She Does It.

First, savings. Put aside 10 per cent, or $2.50, per week. Next, shelter. Allow 22 per cent, or $5.50 per week, for rent and upkeep of house. For food—groceries, meat, ice and meals taken away from home—allow 30 per cent, or $7.50 a week. Clothes. For this 15 per cent, or $3.75 per week.

Incidentals. Light, heat, laundry, telephone, carfare and house furnishings, 13 per cent, or $3.25 a week. There is 10 per cent left to be divided between church, charity, lodge dues and papers, books and amusements and luxuries.

The amount allowed for clothes, $3.75 per week, depends entirely upon the size of the family and the ages of the ones to be clothed. The incidentals, too, are doubtful. This opens up a wide field for discussion, and one that will appeal to many women.

It is hoped that this may prove practicable to the Toronto woman who desires assistance along this line, for the writer claims to live where prices are high and knew the purchasing value of a dollar.

The Duchess of Devonshire has sent a New Year's message to the girl guides of the Dominion wishing them a happy and successful year.

TWO SUGGESTIONS TO CLEAN SILVER

One method of cleaning silver, which some housekeepers have found satisfactory, is to put the silver in a metal pan, either tin or aluminum, and to pour boiling water over it. Also one tablespoon of ordinary salt may be added to each quart of the boiling water. This is said to remove dirt and rust spots almost immediately, no rubbing being required, the dipping proving quite sufficient.

Another method has been discovered that if she adds a few drops of ammonia to the hot soap suds in which she washes her silver, it will not get tarnished nearly so soon as it did before she began to add the ammonia; thus she is not obliged to give it a regular cleaning.

RED CROSS SERVICE FLAG.

The American Red Cross has issued what is called a Red Cross service flag under the authorization of congress. It is a red cross on a white ground, with a little cross for every member of the family. It costs one dollar, and is supposed to be hung, along with the food pledge, in one of the front windows of the house. It is hoped that fifteen million American families will buy this flag. Ten million had bought them at Christmas time.
