THE T. EATON CO LIMITED

ACCUS QUEBEC OF SHIRKING DUTY

town and country are short of coal, and in many a home the coal bin was empty.
Hon. Frank Cochrane, minister of railways, said the source of difficulty was the acute car shortage in the United States. This government had no control over cars outside of Canada, and the American railways were loath to permit their cars to cross the line. All coal brought to the border would be promptly handled for distribution by the Canadian railways under the direction of the Dominion Board of Railway Commissioners.
"Great" Came Back.
Resuming the adjourned debate upon the address in reply to the speech from the throne, Judge Mackenzie, Liberal member for North Cape Breton, said that Sir Sam Hughes had been driven out of the government, and Dr. Sproule had been transferred from the Speaker's chair to the senate at the demand of the Nationalists, because they were leading members of the Orange Order. The real reason for the minister's dismissal had never been made public. Apparently he had been made the scape goat. All the sins of the government had been laid upon him, and he had been led to the wilderness by the minister of public works (Hon. Robert Rogers), and the minister of finance (Sir Thomas White), but they had not led the goat wild enough away; they had not succeeded in losing him in the wilderness. The goat was back.
W. F. Maclean (South York): "So to the cabinet."
Mr. Mackenzie: "Yes, and they are all afraid of the goat. When the finance minister sees the goat coming into the chamber he exclaims 'Angels and ministers of grace defend us!'" on the head last Monday in the most soothing manner." (Laughter.)

In conclusion, Mr. Mackenzie said the government pleaded that it was doing its best. That in his opinion was a good reason for turning it out, for his best was not half good enough.
Boys' Stout Defence.
W. A. Boys (South Simcoe) declared that in spite of the heated remarks of some of the opposing speakers, he advanced were not very serious. The criticisms of Mr. Macdonald, the member for Picton, he said, while perhaps largely vigorous might fairly be classed as harmless. He likened his efforts to those of C. M. Bowman, who in the West Simcoe by-election endeavored to convince the populace that there was a government scandal in connection with machine guns.

He took issue with the statement that war orders were handed out on the patronage system. He did not believe that one single case had occurred in Ontario and he knew that in his own constituency, when asked to name firms in a position to supply equipment, he sent in recommendations regardless of politics.
In spite of a reference in the house, and some heated criticisms from Lucien Cannon, Liberal candidate for Dorchester, concerning the Orange order, he did not propose to drag that organization into discussion. As a member of the Orange order, he said, he would content himself by pointing out that when the first 30,000 troops left Canada for France, six thousand of them were Orangemen.

Should Repudiate Cannon.
Mr. Boys called upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier to repudiate Mr. Cannon. He twitted the opposition leader upon his letter of commendation to the candidate for resigning his seat in the Quebec Legislature to oppose Mr. Severyn. In fairness to Sir Wilfrid, he pointed out that this letter of approval had been delivered before the Liberal candidate had written his famous "Proper speech in which he told the electors that Severyn's election would mean that Canada would have to make still greater sacrifices.

Mr. Gouveau (Temiscouata): "He never said that, and you have no proof, Mr. Cannon has denied it."
Mr. Boys, referring to the failure of recruiting in Quebec, suggested the possibility of conscription, whereupon Mr. Gouveau demanded, "Are you in favor of conscription?"
Mr. Boys: "If the national service scheme proves a failure, and if it is found we cannot otherwise fill the places of our boys at the front, I am prepared to support conscription."

Quebec Needs Stimulus.
Mr. Boys gave the recruiting figures for the whole Province of Quebec at 41,729, and pointed out that in the Toronto military district 35,361 of the Toronto military district, Opposition members, he declared, might do better work in the cause of the allies by stumping Quebec for recruits than by needlessly prolonging discussions in the house of commons. If Sir Wilfrid really wanted to do something in the interests of the war, he would tell Sir Robert Borden to attend the conference in England, and that when he came back the extension of the life of parliament would be granted to Sir Cannon, he said, should be sent to an internment camp instead of to parliament.

No Double Pay.
Mr. Nesbitt (North Oxford) criticized the purchase of Camp Borden as an unnecessary expense, and said the condition at the camp had hindered and delayed recruiting in western Ontario. The people were willing to make any sacrifice for the war, but they did not believe in extravagance. They would like to know, and so would he, whether the members of the house, he saw about him in khaki, were drawing double pay. When my leave of absence was extended for the purpose of allowing me to attend the session of parliament, I was notified that my military pay and allowance would cease.
Mr. Brantford (Brantford): That applies to all of us.

Cookshutt's Criticisms.
W. F. Cookshutt (Brantford) said the voluntary system has apparently failed to raise enough soldiers. The second military district (the Toronto district) had raised its full quota of the 500,000 men, but some other parts of Canada were not doing their duty. He had no prejudice himself against the French people, and many of our soldiers at the front would fight just as willingly in this war under the Tri-color as under the Union Jack, but it would be the Tri-color of Britain and Joffre, and not the Tri-color of Bourassa, Lavigne and Cannon.

"When war broke out," Mr. Cookshutt continued, "I said to myself that now, at last, we will have a united Canada." The recruiting figures, he said, were a great disappointment, but he could not believe that the people of Quebec would not respond to the call of old France, or that the French people on this continent were a whit less courageous than the valorous French who had fought at Verdun. Britain had done well in this war, and so had Russia, but the honors, as far as the allies were concerned, would have to be yielded to France.

Wilson's Empty Phrases.
Mr. Cookshutt then dealt in a vigorous manner with President Wilson and his peace proposals. "I was brought up," he said, "in the old-fashioned way, on oatmeal porridge and the Scriptures, and I still believe that dream will not work should not be allowed to have any say in the making of peace."

Mr. Cookshutt said that the Wilson plan for universal peace was a utopian dream that would never be realized. The war, in his opinion, would be won in two or three years, and peace in lines suggested by Mr. Wilson could not be secured in a hundred years. The United States had been the first to propose to sign the guarantee of the independence of Belgium, but had done nothing to make the guarantee good. Yet the president stated last December that the allies and the contrary powers were fighting for the same object and had the same end in view.

Marcell's Explanation.
Hon. Charles Marcell (Bonaventure), vigorously defended the French-Canadians in the province of Quebec from the attacks of English-speaking Conservatives upon their failure to do their part in recruiting. The sentiment of Canadian autonomy and non-servatism in European wars, he said, had been created by the Nationalist party, and in alliance with the Conservative government. He reviewed the Nationalist organization of the French-Canadians, and added that while those members of that party who stood by their convictions of 1910 still held at least the respect of the French-Canadians, those who had turned somersaults in order to secure office were despised by everybody.

Says Quebec is Loyal.
While the party cry of the Conservatives was the Liberals were disloyal, they forgot, he said, that the Liberal Government gave to Britain the first effective aid ever given in the South African war. Bourassa, he reminded the house, had broken with Laurier because he believed that Laurier chief was too loyal.

"It makes one's blood boil," he said, "to hear misinformed men charge the Liberals in Quebec with want of loyalty to the British flag and British interests. It is the very contrary. The Liberals in Quebec have worked by day and night to inculcate into the minds of the people that Quebec is a part of the Dominion of Canada and of the British Empire." Even the Nationalists themselves, he said, were now trying to undo their work of 1910.

Defends Cannon.
Hon. Mr. Marcell also took occasion to defend the Liberal candidate for Dorchester, Lucien Cannon. Gross misrepresentation had been made of his speeches. He read a letter of protest from Mr. Cannon, in which he explicitly declared he was in favor of spending money and sending men to win the war, but believed a change of government was in the interests of the allies.

If Ontario, Mr. Marcell continued, had contributed more recruits than Quebec there were for one thing, a million more people in Ontario. And he understood that the large portion of the recruits had been either British-born or sons of British regulars. These men realized the true conditions of affairs. They were going home to fight. How much more credit must be due the French-Canadians who have left home to fight in a foreign country? He reminded the house that upon two occasions—in 1776 and 1812—the French-Canadians had fought for Britain, and he was not sure but in the absence of their efforts upon those occasions the British flag might not now be flying over Canada.

After declaring that the breaking up of the French-Canadian battalions was a glaring mistake, he said: "The Province of Quebec is ready and willing to do her share. If there are any people in the country who have any reason to be loyal to the British flag, it is the French-Canadians. If this country were in danger the last gun would be fired by a French-Canadian, because this for us is home, the only country we know."

TRAINS OVERDUE

Delay is Caused by Snow and Ice of Last Sunday.
Trains arriving in the Toronto Union Station from the north and west continue to be delayed by snow and ice, the result of last Sunday's storm. Most of the trouble is caused by an ice blockade in the river at Detroit, where cars are ferried across from the American side. One train from the north yesterday evening was covered with snow. It is declared that the snowfall in the north was the greatest this season.

"Now, sir, you say that my client disappeared in the darkness after knocking you down. What time of night was this?" questioned the defendant's attorney.
"I can't say exactly. Your client had my watch," returned the plaintiff.

One Last Hard Push

Over She Goes! and Over the Mark!

Put your shoulder to the wheel and we'll make the grade.
We're two-thirds up the hill. But the tough, hard, real struggle STARTS now!

We've got the ready money, the big money, the money that looks most on paper. But it's the little money, the five-dollar bill, the twenty-dollar cheque, the dollar-a-month, that'll boost us up to the mark and over.
Rich folks don't make campaigns a success. Plain folks' quarters and bills are the things that show the WHOLE city is game to help the boys at the front and the soldiers' folks at home.

You Mustn't Let Us Miss You This Time

The Rotary Club men are visiting every factory and asking you to give either a lump sum or so much a month. The Women's Committee will send a caller to every door.
Never mind cleaning up when the Rotary Club caller gets there—when the Women's Committee caller rings the door bell—just place the most you can in his or her charge, or sign the card, saying how you want to give, and when. That will show where your heart is.

THURSDAY MORNING, JAN. 25.

Have We Done What We Could?

Our loyal contemporary, The Toronto News, rather puzzled us last night with its comments on the enlistments. It was arguing that Sir Robert Borden's statements should terminate the unpatriotic campaign betwixt Canada's contribution to the war. We do not think, in the first place, that exhortations to do more and to do what is needed can be regarded as belittling Canada, unless by implication, which must be a matter of opinion. We do not think the columns of the News have been free from the suggestion that not enough has been done while anything remains to be done.

Can anything more be done by Canada? Could the government obtain any further result by any kind of action? If the answer to these questions be yes, it is difficult to say that Canada should not do more. The need—the extreme need—is well known. Can we conscientiously decline to supply that need to the extent of our ability? Does The News intimate that enough has now been done, and that Britain, calling her 18-year-old boys to the colors, should be content now to fight out the conflict without further aid?

Such a course does not appeal to us as so British, so patriotic as the proposal of The Star last night, a proposal we have ourselves several times commended already, that the Militia Act be enforced and 50,000 of our men be called out for home defence, who might, when trained, set free a number of men on home duty who are eager to be overseas. These recruits could set free 10,000 seasoned and well drilled soldiers for immediate service abroad. There can be no objection from anyone for calling out the first two classes for home defence. And there is another advantage about the plan which experienced men believe to be more than a possibility. The home defence men, once they are drilled and uniformed, and begin to appreciate the spirit of service, will be swift to volunteer for cross the seas after their comrades.

Counting all sorts of service men, including British, French, Russian and Italian reservists, Sir Robert Borden states that 310,822 had left the country up till December 31. But the Canadian Expeditionary Force actually overseas numbers only 330,562. What we might have done, what we would like to do, and what others have done, will not enlarge these figures by a unit. It is rather out of place for us to take credit for the reservists who went to their own countries. Had we any power to stop them that we should plume ourselves on letting them go? Actually we have done wonderfully well, and it is a notable achievement, as Sir Robert Borden pointed out, for Canada to have sent a larger number of men across the ocean than Britain sent to South Africa in the Boer war. The Boer war was only a trifle compared with the present conflict and its chief use was to open the eyes of keen observers to Germany's perfidy, and to sharpen the wits of the British general staff so that they were able to meet the Belgian invasion emergency with the glorious and immortal "first hundred thousand." What an honor for Canada if she supplied the decisive balance-turning last hundred thousand!

Street Names. Much to be commended are the new proposals of the civic street naming committee. The principle of uniting continuous streets and thoroughfares under one name is highly desirable, and its application to Dundas street is a conspicuous example of good judgment. Why a piece of Ossington avenue should be called Dundas street, while the natural extension of Dundas street is called Arthur street is not to be understood by late arrivals, although old residents are familiar with the wherefores. The carrying of Dundas street thru St. Patrick, Anderson, Agnes streets and Wilton avenue is in line with the old historical road conception of the early military times of the province when the road from London to Dundas and Hamilton took this course to Kingston. Dundas street should connect up with the Kingston road on this lower level, as Danforth avenue will on a higher level across the new viaduct by Bloor street and across the Humber.

Orléans road is to absorb Lansdale road. Can Ald. Burgess not eliminate the glaring absurdity of Howland avenue running north from Bloor street in Ward Four, and Howland road running north from Gerrard street in Ward One, miles distant? Similar names should be grouped together in one locality, otherwise infinite errors occur.

night which are worth consideration in this connection. First of these is a report that the Quebec shareholders of the street railway, who hold 80,000 shares among them out of 119,978, are not satisfied with the assenting attitude of the directors that the franchise should not be renewed. The Quebec people think that the city and the company "should be the closest kind of partners" and that they should endeavor to meet each other and have the franchise extended. It is well to forestall any efforts of this character, and that the Quebec shareholders should have it made clear to them that Toronto cannot be reasoned with in the matter, but has quite made up its mind that there is to be no renewal. The shareholders may be equally obstinate and determined to have directors who will move heaven and earth in the discreet and quiet way in which such movements are accomplished to do once more what was done in 1892.

It may interest Toronto people to know that the street railway is chiefly owned in Quebec, Montreal alone having 58,148 shares, while Toronto owns 14,725. This might explain many things about the unsatisfactory nature of Toronto's street car service. Why should Montreal or Quebec people spend their money to comfort the people of Toronto or to develop this city as a rival to the St. Lawrence capital? It is true that the Quebec shareholders have only had one director on the board, tho he represented three times as many shares as Ontario holds, and the present directorate among them hold less than 600 shares, according to Mr. Horace A. Higgins.

We may feel sure that these Quebec shareholders are not going to allow the Toronto board to choose to escape thru their fingers without an exhibition of agility in efforts to secure a longer tenure of its possession. We may be warned and thus forearmed against attempts to renew the coveted franchise.

The other item which has disconcerted our contemporary is the announcement of the discovery of a little "joker" in the act of the Toronto and Niagara Power Co. which apparently ensures the company the right to place poles anywhere it pleases, including the sacred thoroughfares of Toronto. There have been sundry jeers at those who were alleged to have been trying to purchase rights that did not exist for exorbitant sums. It now appears that there may be other defences behind the first trench, and all have to be carried in turn. We trust the city will come out of the business as well as its most optimistic and irascible friends could wish, but there were many things taken into consideration a few years ago which may have to be considered again in a public and not less costly manner.

Those who advocated the initial blunder in 1892 we trust will do their best to retrieve it in the four and a half years remaining, and unite in saving the city from another similar blunder, both in 1921 and on the expiry of the Light Company's franchise two years earlier.

THE SUNSHINE CAR. Editor World: Referring to the many statements in a section of the press regarding the Sunshine Car, I feel it a duty to my executive and the public that the facts should be stated. When the car came into the hands of the executive legal advice was obtained in regard to its operation while money was still owing to the manufacturer of the said car. The executive was advised that the car was being operated. On this account the circle decided it would not be advisable to run the car, particularly when they considered that the car was handled by so many individuals, as the circle had no special chauffeur.

Then they consulted the Military Hospital Commission and were advised to donate the car for the use of returned soldiers who were stationed at Freepoint Military Hospital and who were suffering from the effects of being gassed and affected with tuberculosis. Freepoint is situated in Waterloo County, a few miles from Galt. Most of the patients of Freepoint Hospital are Toronto boys and had no means of getting about to obtain fresh air, and were practically isolated in their rooms.

RAISE OPPOSITION TO PAPE AVENUE CAR LINE

Board of Education Trustees Say It Will Be Dangerous for School Children.

At the meeting of the management committee of the board of education yesterday afternoon, a sub-committee was appointed, consisting of Trustees W. J. Brown, Dr. Hopkins and Inspector Cowley to wait on the Dominion Railway Board to ask them to consider the proposed new line to Danforth avenue on Carlaw avenue instead of Pape avenue. It was stated that as there is a school on the latter it would be extremely dangerous.

A committee was also appointed to discuss the matter of vocational training with the various public bodies in the city. The holding of concerts in the schools was denounced by Dr. Noble, as he said it was only taking up the time of the teachers but Trust Dr. Steele upheld them, saying that they proved a relaxation to the children.

CITY HALL NOTES

The war expenditure for Toronto before the end of the year will total more than $5,000,000, according to Finance Commissioner Bradshaw. No reply has been received by the mayor from Sir Henry Drayton of the Dominion Railway Board regarding his request that an enquiry be held into the calamity at the Union Station Sunday night.

Next Monday members of the city council will appear in court to give evidence in the action of John McKay against the city for $42,000. He says the money is owing to him for his work on the street railway purchase deal in 1912.

Today the Ontario Railway Board will hear the appeals in the assessment of the Hotel Teck and the Queen's Hotel. Judgment will likely be given in the King Edward Hotel case.

COMPANY SUMMONED TO POLICE COURT

Street Railway Officials Must Appear to Answer Overcrowding Charges.

Definite action was taken yesterday by the department of health regarding the overcrowding of street cars, when at the instigation of the department summonses were issued by the police officials against the Toronto Street Railway Company. The summonses were served at the head office of the company on East King street and are returnable tomorrow afternoon in the police court. For the last two weeks four inspectors of the health department have been investigating overcrowding, and the charges are based on conditions found to exist on Bloor, Yonge, Queen, Broadview and Parliament cars.

It is charged that the conditions existing in the cars are in violation of the Health Premises Act, which is under the jurisdiction of the medical health department. Improper ventilation and necessary seating accommodation for passengers are the principal matters of complaint.

WORKS DEPARTMENT CLERKS WANT THEIR WAGES INCREASED

More than one hundred clerks and officials connected with the department of works met on the top floor of the city hall after five o'clock last evening to discuss the advisability of asking Commissioner Harris for a general increase in wages. It was decided to get up a round robin signed by the clerks and officials, and the petition will likely be presented to Commissioner Harris today or tomorrow. It is stated that he is favorable to the granting of an increase.

WILL SEEK POWER TO DEAL IN FOOD

Board of Control Proposes to Undertake Supplying Necessities of Life.

MAY SPEND A MILLION

That Amount Would Be Needed to Properly Enter Upon Scheme.

City Solicitor Johnston was instructed by the board of control yesterday to prepare the case for the city to obtain power from the legislature for the operation of markets or stores where the necessities of life may be retailed at reasonable prices. Controller Cameron thought it was time action was taken to control the price of food and coal not to be purchased in sheds it could be sold to retailers at almost cost price, he said. The safety of Toronto is to have a proper supply for the winter. "The city can go into the food and coal business to the same extent as it has in the meat business," said Controller O'Neill. "I would say to the extent of $250,000," said Mayor Church.

"Why, that wouldn't last as long as a snowball in July," said Controller Cameron. "It wouldn't even buy coal. I would like to have two or three million dollars to handle this thing properly." One Million Dollars. "Well, then," said the mayor, "let us say the amount should not exceed one million. That can be used for the purchase of food supplies. We don't need legislation to purchase coal." Controller O'Neill said he liked the word "market." He would rather call it by another name. L. V. Dussan of the Gendron Manufacturing Company headed a deputation from the Canadian Toy-makers Association, which asked for a grant to help meet the expenses of a trade convention to be held in Toronto from Feb. 1 to Feb. 17. While the board expressed sympathy with the movement, it took the position that it would be unwise and inconsistent to grant the request. Other organizations, said Controller O'Neill, would be making similar requests, and a difficulty would be presented to the board. They could not break away from the stand taken recently not to give grants for any purpose during the war. "In normal times we might consider this, but not in war time," said Controller Shaw. "My position is that we make no grants at all and I want you to stick to that," Controller Foster told the mayor.

For Civic Insurance. The board instructed the city solicitor to ask power from the legislature to have the city treasurer or a member of the department appointed agent to handle all civic insurance. "By having an agent," said Controller Cameron, "we could save enough money to employ ten or twenty returned soldiers." According to a report presented to the board from the hydro commission, Toronto need not fear a scarcity of hydro power. There is sufficient supply to meet all requirements, and by the end of March an extra 50,000 horsepower will be added. In connection with the removal of the Toronto Electric Light poles from the streets, the mayor told Controller Foster in reply to a question on the matter that a big surprise would be sprung in a few days. The legal department was considering the next course of action. New Jobs Are Temporary. Anyone appointed to a position in the city hall during the war may not look upon it as a permanent one. The heads of all the departments were instructed that all appointments must be temporary, as a readjustment would be made after the war. No returned soldier who is not a resident of the city is to be given an appointment. "Charity begins at home," said the mayor, "and we have got to look after our own men first before considering applications from outside the city." The board ratified the appointment by the fire chief of William R. Ballan, France Fire Engine Company's tractor. It was announced by the mayor that the total expenditures for war purposes had reached more than five and a half million.

"THE GIRL WHO SMILES"

To all the world with cheerfulness and smiles was the desire of the authors of the above named comedy when they wrote their lyrics and music. STOCKS MANIFEST RALLYING POWER

Feeble Efforts to Depress Prices Evoke Little Response.

LOAN CROWD ACTIVE

Short Sellers Find Difficulty in Procuring Certain Issues.

Special to The Toronto World. New York, Jan. 24.—The mass of the speculative element committed to the bear side made feeble efforts to depress prices to lower levels, but it had already been demonstrated that stocks are now hard either to borrow or to sell. The additional sales for short account which constituted the supply at the decline during the forenoon were not in volume than at any preceding time for over a week past. There is a clear indication that the loan crowd that has been active in offering stocks which has been in urgent demand for some time was not so active this morning as it had been for the use of several thousand shares. The indications were strong that the rate will be maintained for the time being. The indications were strong that the rate will be maintained for the time being. QUEBEC POWER DIPS SOME SEVEN POINTS

Adjusting Speculative Pool Stocks Still Proceeds on the Canadian Exchanges.

The break in Quebec Power yesterday on the Canadian exchange... indicates the closing up of another Montreal pool. The shares were traded in more than usual on this exchange, and broke some seven points. The following in Toronto could not be large, and the losses consequently were not important. This incident represents the advance speculation of the pool. The pool issues are gradually settling down to where they properly belong, and others will follow in the wake of Quebec at the appropriate time. A break of this variety did not assist other speculative issues on the market, but holders were not supposed to get rid of their holdings. Prices were held within reasonable bounds in general. The process of winding up a weak speculative situation does not promise much for new and cautious operators will be on the market to itself until the adjustment is thought to have been completed.

FRAGMENT FOR PHILOSOPHICAL BULL

Liquidation in Wheat Market Spells Large Short Interest.

Thomson and McKinnon wired J. P. Bickell and Co. as follows: Only a philosophical bull can get measurement out of the action of the wheat market the last few days. Naturally, this decline has brought out some liquidation, but from the character of the selling, I think we have built up the substantial short interest. One bull drawback is the price, but offsetting this, we have extraordinary conditions, which, I think, will bring about an acute situation before the new crop is available. The movement of wheat is hampered by the car situation, congestion at Gulf and seaboard, and lack of vessel room. These are but temporary influences. The strong bullish position, small farm reserves and factors which make for a substantial foundation will prevail in the end. There is not much encouragement to buy wheat just now, but prospective investors should look the situation squarely in the face, arrive at their own satisfaction at conditions they really exist, and ignore the temporary influences which are working and unimportant now.

QUEBEC HAS BAD BREAK.

Heron and Co. had the following at close: Montreal, Jan. 24.—A ten-point break in Quebec was the feature of day's exchanger court decision. It is quite possible that this decision will be appealed, and at these low prices Quebec shows a good chance of recovery.

There was very little doing in the market. There was some movement in N.Y. prices, and if goes further it will likely be followed locally.

DENIES RECEIVING ORDER. Special to The Toronto World. Philadelphia, Jan. 24.—Alba B. Johnson, president of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, today denied a report in Chester, Pa., that another big order for shells had been placed with Baldwin works. He also stated company had not taken any order shells since last autumn.

There was very little doing in the market. There was some movement in N.Y. prices, and if goes further it will likely be followed locally.

DENIES RECEIVING ORDER. Special to The Toronto World. Philadelphia, Jan. 24.—Alba B. Johnson, president of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, today denied a report in Chester, Pa., that another big order for shells had been placed with Baldwin works.

Special to The Toronto World. New York, Jan. 24.—There was an active trading market on the Broad Street curb all thru the day, with speculation showing a good deal more vigor than it has done for some time past.

TRADE KEEPS BRISK ON NEW YORK CURB

Many Oil Stocks Show Stronger Tone — War Brides Irregular.

SUBMARINE DROPS

Arizona Dundee Becomes Most Active Issue of Mining Group.

Special to The Toronto World. New York, Jan. 24.—There was an active trading market on the Broad Street curb all thru the day, with speculation showing a good deal more vigor than it has done for some time past. Bethlehem steel stock, was the most prominent feature, with transactions in large volume at 126 to 132 1/2. The rights were traded at 28 3/4. The stockholders' meeting, at which the bonds which were authorized at the special stockholders' meeting, with Ontario selling at 9 and 9 1/2, and Oklahoma Producers was traded at 17 to 18 1/2. Weakness developed in Metropolitan Petroleum, accompanied by a decline in the oil stocks which fell from 3 to 2 1/2. Sinclair Oil sold at 62 to 61 1/2. War order stocks were irregular. Many of the oil stocks showed a decline. Midvale Steel sold at 68 1/2 to 68, and Submarine dropped from 21 1/2 to 21. Arizona Dundee was the most active stock in the mining group, with heavy buying at 2 to 2 1/2. The movement was based on a despatch from officials at the mines stating that they had exposed a five-foot face of high-grade carbonate and outside ore 300 feet in length. This class of ore on the dump averages 86.10 per cent. copper, and samples are reported to be splendid. Cerro de Pasco sold at 100 to 101. United Verde Extension dropped from 38 to 37 1/2. Magenta declined from 48 to 47 1/2. United Motors sold at 46 1/2 to 46 3/4. United Kingdom new two-year notes were traded in when issued at 99 to 98.

BRITAIN'S OUTLAY IS DOUBLE THE REVENUE

Trading on London Exchange Continues To Be Light in Volume.

London, Jan. 24.—There was little feature to the trading in securities on the stock exchange today. The turn-over was light.

BIG BRITISH LOAN'S SUCCESS IS ASSURED

Convertible Feature is Particularly Attractive to U.S. Investors.

Special to The Toronto World. New York, Jan. 24.—Subscription books to the $250,000,000 United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland King Edward VII loan, which secured a loan convertible gold notes were opened yesterday. The offering price of the former is $95.50 and interest, yielding 6 per cent., and the latter 9.00 and interest, yielding 6 per cent. The offering syndicate is composed of a large number of local banks and banks, as well as several institutions in the cities of Chicago, St. Louis, Buffalo and Detroit.

WHEAT SUPPLY IS LIGHT ON LIVERPOOL MARKET

Argentine Shipments Are Small and American Offers Firm.

PROVISIONS STRONGER

Wheat Output of Australia Will Be Below Early Estimates.

Special to The Toronto World. New York, Jan. 24.—Broomhall sent the following cable from Liverpool today: Oats were firm today, with the demand for spot good and for the remainder of the month from Argentina are small and American offers firm. Consumption is light and largely covered for foreign wheat supplies are moderate. Barley and rye were strong. The supplies are light, and the continent is quiet. Clearances from Argentina are slowly but surely decreasing, and only moderate exports are expected for the remainder of the season. Provisions were strong, with the spot, and the market generally was firm. There was a good general demand. Argentine offers were light and freight rates were strong. Many estimates indicate a yield of 130,000,000 bushels of wheat for Australia, but our agent says that 100,000,000 bushels will not be exceeded. The season has been one of storms. Harvesting was delayed and the quality injured.

STABILITY AND SOUNDNESS

As production figures for the past year were known, the solidity of the mining market is explained, as well as the basic reasons for expecting a sharp and sustained advance movement.

HAMILTON B. WILLS

Special to The Toronto World. Chatham, Ont., Jan. 24.—General Leppard, inspecting officer of the Canadian forces, is expected in the city tomorrow to review the 186th Kent Battalion. The officers and men are planning another recruiting campaign, to be commenced within the next few days, in an endeavor to fill up the ranks of the battalion before leaving for overseas. The Kents have received no warning as to when they will be expected to move.

The Tommy Burns Common Shares created a sensation when introduced to trading on the New York Curb. Despite the tremendous "bear" pressure in this issue the same maintained its position at the close of the market Monday, January 15th, being 75 cents BID. Our confidence is so great we "bought in" ALL stock offered us. Since Tuesday the market has been permitted to take care of itself.

In view of the progress of work on the two Tommy Burns properties, we believe the Common Shares should be selling at materially higher prices in the near future. WATCH THE QUOTATIONS IN THE DAILY PAPERS!

Every registered shareholder of the Tommy Burns Gold Mining Company Common Shares will receive a 20% STOCK BONUS (one share for every five) if on record February 15th, 1917.

and there are no dues, no meetings to attend, no disagreeable features of any kind. It's just an arrangement that enables people who need new things for the home to buy them when the big sales are on, whether they are prepared with the cash at that particular time or not—and there is no interest to pay.

The Secretary of the Home-Lovers' Club is on the Fourth Floor. He will be glad to take your application and to give you any further information you may require.

Presenting That Half-Yearly Golden Opportunity to All Who Take Pride in Their Homes
For many months we have been planning to make this the biggest and best furniture sale we've ever held. That we have succeeded is demonstrated by the wonderful sale items listed on this page. There are hosts of other items that will be mentioned on succeeding days, but we advise all those who can do so to buy during the first part of the sale, today if possible, while the assortments are at their best.

In Spite of the Great Advance in Costs Many Articles Will Be Priced Lower Than Last August

That is possible because of the remarkably advantageous purchases that we made. For instance, there was one big furniture factory that went into liquidation and we secured their entire stock at a big discount. Another factory sold us a great quantity of odd pieces just before their stock-taking time and made the price far less than regular. In this manner we got together thousands of pieces of furniture that we able to sell at prices that in view of the recent advances are simply amazing.

Here is a Partial List of the Sale Items
