CAUSE TO CURE

CAUSE TO CURE
A CAUSE MUST BE ADJUSTED, MADE LIGHT
Chiropractic
Adjustments
Chiropractic is based on fundamental, natural laws. The organs of the body are the motors, the nerves are power lines which carry vital energy or life to all parts of the body. Impingement or pinching of the nerves interferes with their life-giving power and disease is the result. The Chiropractor adjusts vertebrae and the impinged nerves are freed. The flow of life enters the part diseased, normal functions are resumed and health restored. The Chiropractic way is Nature's way.

The Dusseldorf into the arms of the French, which are regarded as the protectors of the Rhinelanders against Prussian persecution.
German Press France.
The Dusseldorf correspondent asserts that when the French came to the rescue of the demonstrators, the French, "Vive la France" was heard everywhere in the same strident tones of security police shouting to death by the populace. The rubber clubs and lengths of wire which are used by the police in the shooting may delay the realization of peace.
Dusseldorf, Oct. 1.—The German version of the outbreak at a separatist meeting yesterday, in which twenty persons were killed, and scores wounded, is that the security police, whom the French hold responsible for starting the shooting, made no move to bring the riot to a halt until a policeman was killed by the separatist "self-protection" police.
The force, says a statement issued by the city authorities, attacked the blue policeman, took away his sword and began to beat him when the security police appeared. Thereupon a shot was fired, the German alleged, from the ranks of the separatists, which brought out the rest of the green force and the pitched battle followed.

Says World Will be Crazy
Unless Rush for Gold is Checked.

St. Catharines, Oct. 1.—"There is no hope for the future unless there is some check to the insane rush for gold," declared Rev. Billy Sunday who took time from his Niagara Falls campaign to address an assemblage in this city this morning. Rev. Mr. Sunday predicted that the world would be crazy in 215 years unless there was a check.

house, over 2,000 people leaving their morning work to attend the service. His address scintillated with true Sundayisms, such as that "some people would have more chance of getting to heaven if they visited the barber shop more often."

"People would take as gospel the word of some horse jockey, and wager their money, with many dearer than life, upon it. Yet they would doubt the Bible."

"You are a bunch of nuts," he told the audience. "Who was most likely to know the truth about God?" he asked, "the minister who gave his life to a study of his words or the bewiskered bootlegger who wandered down the street, flaunting his sins and infidelities in the face of God. If a man broke a leg he didn't call in a blacksmith."

That Hank of Hair.

There was just one chance for satisfaction in the world, and that was in a knowledge and belief in God. There was no satisfaction in the laurels of fame or glory. When a man made a million dollars, was he satisfied? No. Then he wanted a billion, and when he gets a billion he wants the earth. Appearance counted for much in the world, and Sunday felt that women, especially, should be neat in appearance. If they thought they looked better with a bank of hair that did not belong to them, piled on top of their head, then let them go to it. If some women had all the hair that did not belong to them taken away, they would be naked as a hummingbird in a rainstorm.

New color was lent to Biblical stories in Sunday's version of Noah's life after the flood. When Noah came out of the ark, he planted a vineyard, made some home-brew and got all his up. But because the Bible told the story it did not necessarily follow that we must believe that to be a right and fitting thing to do.

Now, Abraham went into Egypt and took his wife Sarah, with him. Sarah was some good looking. The Pharaoh saw her and wanted her for his harem and wanted to know if she was Abraham's wife. Abraham said she was his sister, knowing that if he said she was his wife, Pharaoh would take her away from him. Did Abraham lie? No.

A lie, Sunday held, was a malicious and willful perversion of the truth, calculated to damage some other person's character or reputation, or to bring honor, advancement or some other merit on yourself, undeservedly. A falsehood, however, was the deliberate mis-statement of the truth to some questioner anyway. He would tell a falsehood anytime to save Mrs. Sunday from any old geezer who wanted to steal her.

ENGLAND GRANTS GEORGIA BONES OF GREAT COLONIST, OGLETHORPE

Body Will be Taken to Havana, Where Landing Took Place.

London, Sept. 26.—(By The Associated Press).—Permission has been granted by English authorities to sign to the United States of the body of James Edward Oglethorpe, founder of the institution and first Governor of Georgia.

When the disinterment is completed the bones will be conveyed under escort with full honors to New York Harbor and there transferred to an American battleship and taken to Savannah, where Oglethorpe landed 191 years ago with 119 other colonists.

OPPORTUNITY IN WORLD'S CHAOS

President Faunce Tells Students of Brown This is Youth's Chance.

Providence, R. I., Oct. 1.—With the largest freshman class in its history, the number of new-comers, will be nearly 450 when all are registered.

At the opening chapel exercises, President W. H. P. Faunce, after describing the physical changes in Brown's equipment, with special reference to the Jesse Metcalf chemical laboratory, which will be dedicated next month, said in part:

YOUTH'S OPPORTUNITY. "But our chief concern is not with fields or gates or towers or buildings, it is with the ideals and traditions and principles, which alone give physical things their value."

"All around is a confused and chaotic world: America, Europe, Asia, Africa institutions are broken and dislocated, laws are flouted, commerce is disrupted, religion is in many parts of the earth slipping down into decay."

"Yet this very deliquescence of the old gives young men their opportunity. It is better to live in a chaotic age than in a glacial epoch. Better far to do your work in a world where things move dangerously fast than in a world where nothing stirs. If youth today has any vision, any capacity for leadership, any new message to utter, the radio will carry it to the ends of the earth, and the whole human race will be listening expectantly for the man who can show us how to turn from distrust and fear to the great task of rebuilding the broken world."

The college, Dr. Faunce added, should show the world outside how much zeal and delight there is in doing a worthwhile job and doing it well.

"Our college life, however, fails utterly," Dr. Faunce concluded, "unless it develops loyalty to the common good. College men should show the world that all their smaller loyalties are channeled up in one great loyalty to the college itself—that is true preparation for citizenship. Cliques can have no place in a genuine democracy. Party spirit will easily blind our eyes and ruin any enterprise. Above our little group friends always rises our college, and above our college our country."

NOW FOR MOOSE.

The big game season opened in New Brunswick today. It is again in order to hunt the monarch of the forest. Predictions are that this year will be a much better one for the hunters than last. The shooting season for deer has been open for two weeks, and hunters report game to be very plentiful. Hunters may also take the birds now.

A successful sale, in aid of the orphan's fund, was conducted by the Misses Doris and Audrey Taylor, assisted by friends in front of their home in Charlotte street on Saturday.

Slain Girl's Father Ignores Her Burial

Dixon Picks Flowers in Jersey Garden While 3,000 Watch Funeral.

New York, Oct. 1.—Thomas Dixon, farmer, of Brickboro, N. J., did not go to the funeral of his fifteen-year-old daughter, Emma, whose mutilated body was found on Saturday in a swamp off the State road, between Millville and Port Elizabeth, after she had been missing from home ten days. It was definitely established that the girl had been murdered.

During the funeral service, a half-hour's walk from his home, Dixon was out in the garden picking flowers. "The girl was wild and cared more for the boys than she did for her father. She was always gallivanting about the place and coming home late at night," he said in answer to inquiries from neighbors who asked him why he was not at the burial. "Isn't it a beauty?" he added, as he lovingly caressed a freshly plucked rose.

After the neighbors had left the Dixon home they held an informal meeting and condemned Dixon for what they characterized as his inhuman conduct. They said that Emma's reputation in the district was unusually good. She was popular with her classmates, it was said, and rated by her teachers as unusually intelligent.

Dixon did not report the absence of his daughter until three days after her disappearance. In view of his refusal to be present at the funeral, the police are investigating this phase of the case. 3,000 Come for Services.

Emma's mother died some years ago. Her grandfather is bedridden. Though none of her family was present, thousands of Sunday holiday-makers, from various parts of New Jersey and New York, having read of the crime, congregated with their cars, while Millville, Port Elizabeth, Brickboro and other near-by towns contributed mourners.

The funeral service, conducted by the Rev. Walter Pine, was held in the Methodist church at Port Elizabeth. The building was too small to accommodate the crowds who wished to enter, and only 150 of the 3,000 who were there witnessed the ceremony. The burial took place in Port Elizabeth Cemetery, a few hundred yards from the church. The pall-bearers were from the Millville High School, which the girl had attended for two years. After the burial it was announced that subscriptions would be taken up in Cumberland County for a tombstone.

Before the funeral county Physician Wainwright and County Coroner Kenneth Carl held an autopsy at Brickboro, after which they issued the following report: "Emma Dixon was killed by repeated blows of some blunt instrument at the base of the skull, which was badly crushed. From the decomposed state of her body it is probable that she was killed on Sept. 13, the date of her disappearance. Her arm had been broken and other portions of her body were mutilated and bruised. The nature of the injuries inflicted leave little doubt that she was murdered and not injured in an automobile accident, as was first thought possible. After a careful examination of the body we are unable to state, owing to its condition, whether she had been assaulted."

MANY SEE DRY-DOCK.

The people of the city are showing much interest in the development of Courtney Bay and the building of the largest drydock in the world, as was evidenced yesterday afternoon by the crowds who betook themselves to East St. John to inspect this very interesting work. The street cars did a rushing business, and many, taking advantage of the beautiful weather, walked. At one time it is estimated that 500 people were on the dock.

SITUATIONS VACANT
Sabbath, "the literature of escape." In teaching those of his own generation to forget their troubles for a season, perhaps he has by anticipation taught future generations to forget him and his works. But shall those who owe him all that he gave so freely in the splendor of his youth now turn ungratefully and rend him, after the manner of the scribbled swine, who so generously cast abroad his pearls? Shall we quarrel with one who wrought such magic for our benefit because, although he so admirably adorned a tale, he rather seldom undertook to point a moral?

PATCH UP YOUR LAWN NOW.
Fall Seeding Gives Much Better Results Than Spring, Say Experts.

Seeding new lawns or patching up old lawns will give better results if the work is done in the fall than if left until spring, says the seed specialist at the New York State Agricultural Experiment Station at Geneva.

The principal advantage claimed for fall seeding is the early start the lawn is able to make in the spring. This early start usually results in a better cover in the first season, as the grasses are better established and spread over the ground more than when planted in the spring. The fall rains also serve to give grass a sufficient start to enable it to hold its own through the winter.

A little care in the preparation of the seed bed will aid materially in securing a good stand of grass and will also aid to the appearance of the lawn, declares this specialist. "In the late summer or early fall the soil can be put in better shape for seeding than is possible in the spring, when it may be too wet to work properly. The area to be seeded should be spaded up or loosened with an iron rake until it is in a fine mellow condition. After the seed is sown, it should be raked in lightly.

"Since satisfactory lawn grass mixtures can be obtained from a few reliable seed dealers, home mixing of grass seed is recommended in order to make sure that the proper ingredients are used. Examination by the seed laboratory of many grass seed mixtures placed on the market has revealed the fact that most of these mixtures are foul with weed seeds and chaffy material and contain grasses which are not suitable for lawn.

"A mixture of two parts high grade Kentucky blue grass and one part red top is recommended as giving excellent results when seeded at the rate of one ounce per square yard or a pound and one-half ounce per square yard for bare spots in old lawns. A new lawn white clover seed may be added to ten pounds of the grass mixture. A light seedling of mixture in the fall is lighter than brown" because of something in thickening up the grass the next

JOHN MORLEY

(Boston Herald)

Having long survived the era to which he belonged and passed the great age of four score years and five, John Morley now has attained a high age. The world war intervenes and blurs the memory of the great Victorian, as a haze blots out the sight of objects at a little distance. Yet many a year ago there were many a man with undiminished bulk, although somewhat dimly, and of these Viscount Morley must be accounted among the noblest. We recall him with high gratitude as a man of letters, with undiminished admiration as a man.

Already he had made his fame secure in literature. He had the announcement of his accession to office was given to the public. England hailed that accession as a definite intimation of an important departure in the policy of the state. The appointment was merely that Mr. Morley had taken a place in the cabinet as Secretary of Ireland. The appointment was enormously significant because Morley was known for his devotion to the cause of Ireland. He was held in high esteem by the Emperor, passionately advocating her interests, reaching the heights of his oratory when speaking in her behalf. An English journalist of great reputation said some years ago that the most memorable speech he ever had heard was that of Morley in the House of Commons when with tenacious earnestness he held a great audience absolutely still the speaker finished with these words:—

"Gentlemen, do you know that I would be done by. If she is poor, her fruits of her labor; if she is ignorant, remember it is your laws that have closed to her the book of knowledge."

Civic Commission Course Irregular, Declares Council

The City Council met in committee this morning at ten o'clock and received the report of Engineer G. N. Hatfield to the effect that the New Brunswick Power Company had replaced 83 city poles with new poles since 1916, and in Douglas Avenue and City Road had placed the wires on their own poles.

Agree on Statement as to Number; Counsel Argue Legal Points

The matter of the ownership of poles in the five North End wards was the subject of argument this morning in Chancery before Mr. Justice White. Dr. F. R. Taylor, K. C., and Dr. M. G. Ford, K. C., appeared for the New Brunswick Power Company, and Dr. J. B. M. Baxter, K. C., and Arthur N. Carler for the city.

Not seven years later, he said, section 16 of the act of the St. John Railway Company sold out to the New Brunswick Power Company and it was still in existence and had its bank account.

Emigration Is Key To Unemployment Problem Overseas

Sir Alfred Mond Discusses Situation in Britain Since War

New York, Oct. 1.—Emigration as the key solution to England's unemployment problem was discussed today by Sir Alfred Mond, industrialist and member of Parliament, who arrived in New York from London last week and is stopping at the Hotel Plaza. With an increase of 1,000,000 in population during the war, and an under-standard of trade since the war, England, said Sir Alfred, was carrying an impossible burden in over-labor supply, which assistance to emigrants as passengers and financial credits to overseas colonists, provided for in the Empire Settlement Act passed by the last Government, only could relieve. The Imperial Conference to convene in London on October 1 would, he hoped, hasten the carrying out of the provisions of the act.

Sir Alfred, who is in this country on private business, is recognized as an expert on finance and an authority on social reform. As chairman of the Mond Nickel Company, Limited of the Amalgamated Anthracite Collieries, Brunner, Mond and Company, and a score of other business concerns, his interests in the commercial world extend throughout the Empire. On the other hand, he has for more than seven years been active in political affairs. His Majesty's first Commissioner of Works in 1916, he afterward occupied the position of Minister of Health in the Lloyd George Cabinet and today holds a seat in Parliament. As a staunch supporter of the capitalist system, he was one of those who led the discussion in the House of Commons last March in reply to Philip Snowden's motion looking toward its gradual abolition.

"White America is industrially 100 years ahead of England in some ways, you are 20 years behind in others," said Sir Alfred, referring to the recent decision of the steel industry to adopt an eight-hour day for continuous production. "Though England has never enacted general legislation requiring employers to recognize the eight-hour basic day, nevertheless, it exists voluntarily," he said. Referring to reports circulated here at various times that England was on the point of giving it up, he said: "Nobody in England could ever go back on the eight-hour day, even in continuous production. Brunner, Mond and Company, of which I am chairman, were the pioneers in the eight-hour day in continuous process

Bright, healthy lad—sure, he's going to have chances you never dreamed of having! You intend to give him a good start in life. All right—but how? When the time comes, you may be pinched for money, or any one of a hundred things may have happened. But you can deposit with us a small sum each year in the meantime. Then, at the end of a certain time we'll pay over to him—or to you on his account—any sum you may now decide he should have. If you should die before that time we'll immediately pay the full amount to him (or to his guardian, if he is not of age). Thus, you'll be certain that—whether you live or die—your boy will get the start in life that you have planned to give him.

over 80 years ago. We found it paid. It was actually an economy. As chairman of the Cabinet unemployment committee for Lloyd George for two years, Sir Alfred is especially familiar with the employment situation. Though there is less unemployment in England today than two years ago, when the peak of 2,900,000 was reached, there are nevertheless probably 1,900,000 unemployed at the present time, with the number again rising. Of this number 900,000 are men receiving unemployment benefits from the unemployment insurance act, which embraces 12,000,000 men, women and minor workers in its insurance benefit scheme.

"The act never had a real chance to demonstrate its value," replied Sir Alfred in response to a question regarding its effectiveness, "because just as it was extended to reach 12,000,000 instead of 4,000,000 people the slump came, and reserves disappeared. The Government had to advance to keep it going at all. The reserves had to be supplemented very much by taking advantage of the poor law. Nevertheless the scheme has prevented much suffering and hardship." Unemployment in England today is spotty. Though the coal fields, which whole districts were at one time on relief, are again normal, the shipyards are still suffering under the depression due to over-building during the war and the reduction programme resulting from the arms conference. The engineering trades are relatively depressed. The real cause of the over-labor supply, however, is, according to Sir Alfred, increase in population. The migration cut off during the war, the increase so far counter-balanced. The best chance prohibition ever had in Great Britain was during the war as a war measure, but labor then, as now, was against it.

"The Labor Party has studiously refrained from taking any part in the prohibition movement," he said. "England is not interested in prohibition, because drunkenness there has largely diminished. This is due to better education of the people and a higher standard of living. It is a question of conviction. Formerly it was fine to get drunk. Today it is disgraceful among the younger people a large percentage do not touch alcohol today."

MARY PICKFORD AS MARTH

Professor Alfred E. Zimmermann, discussing "The Politics of Mary," in the October Century, maintains that the realm of Martha is constantly encroaching upon the realm of Mary, and recalls an incident in London a few years ago when Rabindranath Tagore, poet, philosopher, and educator, the greatest living exponent of the quality and tradition of his own Bengali people, was jostled in the gutter by the large tumultuous crowd which had come to pay homage to Mary Pickford.

"The screen actress represents the uniformities of modern large-scale life in their most insidious and disintegrating form. She is a Martha posturing in the guise of Mary, a cog in the vast mechanism of a business that is usurping and prostituting the name of art. American by birth and no doubt also by sentiment, what does she bring of the spirit of America to her admirers in five continents? What is she doing to break down the inveterate European prejudice according to which to be American is to be less than human and 'Americanism' is used to signify a mechanical hustle and bustle rather than a true and deep-felt expression of national life and personality?"

In discussing the way in which the realm of Martha and the realm of Mary overlap in politics, Professor Zimmermann says that there is only one way to draw them asunder and that is to depoliticize nationality and to demotionalize politics.

"Americans seem, to the outside observer at any rate, to be particularly susceptible to the temptation unduly to emotionalize their politics. American history originates from the victory of a political dogma which has now become almost an inherited mode of feeling, and this reason seems to find less easy an entry into the world of American political discussion than in communities where an older tradition and a wider background afford more emotional outlets in other directions. But as America comes of age and as Americans prove into their environment and imprint their own instincts and integrated personality upon it, this difficulty will diminish; and it should not be long before the mood evoked by the stars and stripes becomes predominantly one not simply of buoyant enthusiasm and almost mystical reverence, but also of serious and meditative responsibility."

TO THE GENERAL PUBLIC!

WON'T YOU PLEASE PATRONIZE THE ORPHANS' FAIR FOR OUR SAKE?

Monday will be the first of October, which is just three days short of the date set for the opening of the big ORPHANS' FAIR in the SAINT ANDREW'S RINK.

Everything must be in place by 7 p.m. on Thursday, when the big doors will swing open to admit the vast throng who will want to be present and do honor to this worthy cause. Fair to be officially opened at 8 p.m. A full attendance earnestly requested.

In order to have everything completed in time it will be necessary to have a large force of men at the Rink each night, with hatchet, saw or hammer, etc., to erect the various booths and stands required, others to paint and decorate, so that the whole will present a pleasing appearance.

Local Lumber Dealers are requested to forward their donations on Monday afternoon, so that material will be on hand ready for the employment of all the volunteer workmen, who are invited to be on hand at 7 p.m. each night.

The fancy work and apron booths committee, as well as others, are sending out the "O.S." call to all the ladies, for voluntary donations of any class or kind that can be utilized by them. They are seriously in need of outside assistance.

Miscellaneous articles of any kind will be welcomed by the committee in charge. With an attendance such as that of the previous fair, held under the same auspices, a large volume of goods change hands each night. Every donation will mean that much less for the committee to purchase, and a larger net revenue at the close.

The Rink will be open from MONDAY (noon) onward, for workers, or receipt of donations, Wednesday and Thursday best for sending the latter.

WILL GET MOOSE
IN ALL HIS MOVES

J. C. Bushong Here for the Woods With New Kind of Camera.

It is going to be a pretty lively moose that will escape the unerring eye of the motion picture camera that J. C. Bushong of Worcester, Mass., took with him early this morning when he left with Ralph Barron and Phillip Albertson, also of Worcester, to stalk our lordly game back of Clarendon station amongst the tall timber of the crown lands.

Most people know that movie cameras are clumsy, unwieldy contrivances propped up on long extension ladders and when "shooting" with them at a charging rhinoceros or trying to follow an athletic event they are not always given a perfect picture. But Mr. Bushong, who is an expert motorographer, banking on an outfitting Mr. Moose this year. He has imported from Paris the very latest thing in M. P. cameras. It is called the De Bris camera and allows the operator to hold the camera in his hands whilst a tiny motor drives the shutters.

With such an outfit the movie man will be enabled to get his moose at all sudden angles, on the ground or when in the long jumps of flight. The camera will be especially useful for feathered game pictures. Indeed Mr. Bushong received his fine film of the moose of the new hand movie camera in seeing the falcon and dove flight in the wonderful pictorial production of "Robin Hood," in which aerial "shot" the De Bris camera was called into play.

Mr. Bushong is also employing telephoto lenses in his De Bris, which will bring the objects into close view, another method by which he hopes to impress his American friends with the hunting resources of New Brunswick. In fact the Worcester enthusiast is very much enamored of New Brunswick as a hunter's playground and the gentlemen accompanying him, who are New Englanders, are joyfully anticipating a wonderful fortnight of sport.

A 2,000-foot moose hunting film was "shot" by Mr. Bushong last year and is replete in all the thrills that make that sport so alluring.

PAYS $280 FINES

For the first offense he was fined $200 and for the second $80. He was told that all beer shops must be closed from 11:30 o'clock Saturday night until 7 o'clock Monday morning. Both fines were paid. Wm. M. Ryan appeared for the prosecution. The raid was made by Inspectors Crawford and Killen.

HIS MONEY GONE

Nova Scotian, Robbed in Montreal, Seeks Assistance Here.

Having fallen victim to a pick-pocket while in Montreal, Lester Grant appeared at Central Police station here last night and asked to be allowed to spend the night there. He explained that he had been with the harvesters in Saskatchewan and while en route to his home in Moncton, N. S., stopped in Montreal. He said he went into a fruit store to make a purchase, and while there pulled out his wallet containing $68. After making the purchase he replaced the wallet in his pocket, and before boarding the train discovered that his money was gone. Fortunately he had his ticket to St. John in another pocket, and was able to reach this city. His plight touched the heart of some of the kind-hearted police officials and an effort is being made today to secure him passage to his home.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "what is the matter with New Brunswick?" "Things are not booming as they ought to be. It isn't merely that high wages and drawing people to Boston and Florida and California. We really aren't getting ahead as much as we should, in spite of the load the star put on us. What's the trouble?" "Spending too much time talkin' about the things we know we can't do an' not goin' full steam ahead with the things we kin do," said Hiram. "An' we don't work together. We're all the time talkin' about it—but we don't do it. D'you mind the time when St. John went after commission government? You had a lot of committees—they was committee meetin' every night most all winter. Everybody worked, an' compared notes an' staid right on the job. Everybody went to sleep again as soon as you got what you went after—but you got it. Now if all the blindest men 'ud jist put their heads together an' agger out what kind of work they could start an' make it pay—but a big apple they'd get somethin' goin'—an' then somethin' more—an' so on. But jist as long as every feller keeps turnin' over the same dollar all the rest is turnin' over they want have no no dollars in sight—no, sir. D'you mean to tell me we all got softenin' of the brain? Well, sir—we haint. We're gonzo wake up an' start somethin'—by Hen!"

CASE DISMISSED
A case against J. M. Stein, who appeared in the police court a few days ago to answer a charge of exceeding the speed limit in Prince Edward street, was terminated this morning. The defendant swore that he was not driving faster than twelve miles an hour. He explained that he had no speedometer, but based his judgment on experience. He said he had been driving a car for seven years and was the first time he had ever been reported. Magistrate Henderson said that in view of the conflicting evidence and his good record he would dismiss the charge.

ST. MARY'S SUNDAY SCHOOL
The Secondary Division of St. Mary's Sunday School held their rally service in the church at 2:30 p. m. yesterday. H. R. Caleman, superintendent was leader of the service and T. E. Dyer presided at the organ. The theme of the service of worship was "Service" and Mr. Gardiner, student lay reader, gave a very inspirational address on the "Meaning of Service." Mrs. Wm. Osborne sang a solo "The Lord's my Shepherd" and the choir boys in their vestments composed the choir. Appropriate hymns were sung. "Stand up, stand up for Jesus," "O My Master let me walk with Thee," "Right the good fight." During the service W. T. Ingraham led in prayer.

ENTHUSED OVER WESTERN TRIP

Dr. E. J. Ryan, Home, Talks of It—Met Earthquake Survivors.

"A trip, which shall live long in my memory, not only as one whose object was pleasure, but one which presented to me an entirely different viewpoint of the Canadian people in the west, and pointed out to me the vast possibilities of this land of ours, and stirred up in me a new national spirit," were the terms in which Dr. E. J. Ryan, president of the St. John Canadian Club, spoke yesterday of the convention of Canadian Clubs in Victoria, which he attended. He and Mrs. Ryan arrived home yesterday.

From start to finish, he said, the trip presented new surprises every minute. The people of the cities through which the party passed, he said, could not do enough for them. They saw everything and met everybody. The officials and employees of the railways and boats on which they traveled could not do enough for them to assure their comfort and convenience. The party, which was composed of forty-eight members, had their special cars, from Montreal, on the C. P. R. As they traveled west they stopped at all the principal cities and were treated by the citizens. A remarkable thing about the people of the west, said Dr. Ryan, was their hospitality and cordiality. It was as if they all knew them.

There seemed to be a greater democratic attitude in the west than in the east, he said. People there knew each other better, and citizens did not stand on ceremony with higher officials, as they did here. They seemed to be all members of a harmonious family.

It would tax the expressive powers of all the superlatives in the English language, Dr. Ryan said, to express the beauties of the Rockies.

The convention in itself, he said, was most successful. The citizens of Victoria vied with each other in making the stay of the party enjoyable. The Parliament buildings, which are fringed with lights, which are lighted only for royalty, were alight during their two days stay in the city. A civic banquet was held in honor of the visiting delegates, and was one of the most enjoyable features of the trip.

TALKED WITH SURVIVORS OF THE EARTHQUAKE

In Vancouver, Dr. Ryan said, that he had talked with several survivors of the earthquake and flood disaster in Japan. The tales of horror and destruction told by them, he said, made the reports which were received on this side of the water appear very inadequate. One gentleman told him that he had been down town when the first quake occurred. He rushed to his home, only to find it scattered like a pack of cards. He found his wife in the basement and rescued her through a hole in what was once the roof, just as the building took fire.

The return trip was made by Canadian National, and was just as enjoyable as was the first half of the journey. Of the delegates he could not speak too highly. The conference will be held in St. John next year, he said, but the date is uncertain. It will probably be about the time that 250 weekly newspaper men will be here en route to England, where they will hold a conference.

EQUALLED RECORD.

In connection with the Provincial Rifle Association medal shoot held on Saturday and won by J. H. Donnelly, Sergeant Landry, holder of the record, said this morning that his score last year was 100 and that Mr. Donnelly had equalled that. The shooting was with a Lee Enfield open sight service rifle.

HYDRO RUMORS AFLOAT TODAY

Discussed by Engineer S. R. Weston and E. M. Sanderson.

A report which was current in the city the last few days to the effect that officials of the New Brunswick Power Company had informed the Hydro Commission that the Power Company would not link up to supplement the Musquash hydro was denied today by S. R. Weston, Chief Engineer of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission.

Mr. Weston said that no information to this effect had been given to him, but in fact the commission has assured to the contrary, as the Power Company through its President E. N. Sanderson, had offered to help the serious situation caused by the shortage of water at Musquash in every way possible.

E. N. Sanderson, who arrived in the city from New York at noon, when asked about the rumor, said that he had nothing whatever to say in the matter. Apparently such a report was made by Mr. Sanderson. He said, of course he could not say anything definite until he had communicated with M. A. Pooler, the general manager of the Power Company.
