School Doors Thrown Wide For Exit of 8,400 Pupils on Holidays

Red Letter Day This for the Boys and Girls

Exercises in the Various Buildings Attended Well by Relatives and Friends and Marked by Pleasing Programmes—Vacation Over on August 30.

Today is a red letter day for the young people whose names appear on the registers of the schools of the city. Once more the school year has gone around and at noon 8,400 boys and girls poured out of the institutions of learning with the one thought uppermost in their minds that until August 30 there would be no more Latin, no more French, no more sitting on the hardwood bench.

Those of the population of the city who saw the youngsters' happy faces today could not but travel back in retrospect to the times when "the last day" was one long looked forward to and which, when it arrived, was met with just such scenes as those which were enacted today. It is not hard to conjure up the destruction of the red and other episodes which were enacted in the various buildings of the city during the closing days of the school year.

The High School auditorium was not large enough to accommodate the large number of pupils, relatives, friends and former graduates who assembled there this morning to enjoy the closing exercises. Many on finding that they could not be accommodated left, while others lined up along the stairs and passages and were able to hear, if not see, what transpired.

On the uniform of the grades of class XI and XII, were seated, in addition to Wesley J. S. Myles, principal, Dr. H. B. Brown, superintendent of schools, Professor William Ganong, professor of botany at the Victoria College, Northampton, Mass., and Rev. H. G. Goodwin, D. D., Superintendent of the High School. After a selection by the High School orchestra a programme, as published in the Times yesterday, was given.

Superintendent Bridges in his address to the graduating class spoke of the work accomplished during the year and congratulated the pupils on their good showing and the teachers for the results achieved. He then presented diplomas.

Mr. Myles briefly reviewed the work accomplished and spoke about the large number of pupils for the coming term, which numbered 610. Next term, he said, he expects even a larger number of pupils judging from the large number of people at the entrance parties. As a result, he said a building adjoining the school and at present occupied by the United Cross would have to be utilized. He spoke with some pride of the success of the school for former graduates of the High School and made special mention of two—Geo. Skinner of Mount Allison—who won the Rhodes scholarship. He also expressed a hope that one of the High School boys would get the war veterans' scholarship. He paid a tribute to the success of the school and congratulated the graduates who were to be presented with diplomas this morning.

After presenting honor certificates to the successful candidates he introduced Professor Ganong and asked him to present diplomas to the graduates of Grade XII. Professor Ganong told of the pleasure it afforded him and spoke of his graduating day from the St. John Grammar school in 1881. He told of the esteem in which he holds the educational system of this province and complimented Dr. Bridges and his efficient staff on the results achieved.

After the flag salutation the student body sang the national anthem, accompanied by the orchestra.

Some pleasing and novel features marked the graduation exercises of the St. Vincent's High School, which were carried out in the assembly hall of the Y. M. C. I. building in Cliff street. The graduates, thirteen in number, entered the hall to the accompaniment of a march played by Miss Marie Frances O'Brien and Miss Jean Holmes, two of their number. After they had taken their seats a chorus, "All Hail Bright Day," was sung by the school. This was followed by the presentation of diplomas by Dr. H. S. Bridges, who spoke words of congratulation to each of the recipients.

The graduation class then presented an abstract dialogue "St. Hurl Ad Astra," which the parts were taken as follows: Spirit of Class..... Miss J. Holmes Spirit of Future..... Miss B. Farren Jewels..... Miss G. Walsh Garnet Constancy..... Miss G. Walsh Amethyst Sincerity..... Miss M. O'Brien Bloodstone Courage..... Miss H. Kennedy Diamond Innocence..... Miss H. Crowley Pearl Simplicity..... Miss R. McAlloon Ruby Charity..... Miss F. Connolly Chorus—Sweet is the sound of charity's voice." High School. Moonstone Contentment..... Miss M. O'Brien Sapphire Wisdom..... Miss F. McAlloon Opal Pure Joy..... Miss E. McCarthy

QUEBEC DOES NOT STINT MONEY FOR EDUCATION

Announcement of New Grants—Sum Expended to Date is $19,000,000.

(Canadian Press.) Sherbrooke, Que., June 25.—Hon. W. Mitchell, provincial treasurer, said last night that Sir Lomer Gouin, upon his suggestion, had sanctioned a grant of $2,000,000 to Bishop's College, King's Hall, Compton, and Stanstead College, Stanstead. He said the government of Quebec had expended some $19,000,000 for education but they did not by any means regard it as enough. The province had received a grant of $2,000,000 from the federal government and the government would continue to support education to a greater extent as the province continued to provide and increase the means of doing.

The graduates were also addressed by Very Rev. J. J. Walsh, V. G. The honor certificates were presented by Dr. A. F. Emery, chairman of the board of school trustees, Rev. W. M. Duke, Rev. Simon Oram and Rev. Frances Walker were also present. Miss Jean Holmes delivered an interesting and amusing prophecy of the class in which the occupations of the graduates five years hence were predicted. Mrs. D. J. Barrett and Misses Beatrice Mooney and Agnes McLaughlin acted as ushers.

Carleton's Girl Leads. The valedictory was nicely delivered by the class leader, Miss Marie O'Brien, who has made a particularly good showing during her school life. O'Brien of Prince street, West St. John. She is a clever musician and also acted as accompanist during the exercises today.

At other closing entertainments the children have been assembled in the corridors where a programme of recitations and music was carried out, but it was de-

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter, "do you remember how you used to feel the day school closed for the summer holidays?"

"My feelin'," said Hiram, "depends on a good deal on whether I had to get up an' recite—or set an' make less an' feller that did. An' I g'ually had on good clothes that made it feel like Sunday." "Ah!" said the reporter, "but when you looked out of the window and saw the grasses nodding at you, and the little birds skimming over the branches of the alders beckoning you, and the little fish swimming around with that air of perfect freedom—and you thought of the river flowing between its green banks, and the berries ripening in the fields—and the swimming hole—wasn't that worth a few hours in your Sunday suit and a few solemn speeches by the trustees?" "It was," said Hiram. "I'd just like to see that little old school-house with long slopin' desks again the wall an' a long bench to set on—with your face half a mile wide, an' it was with six slaps to see him try to get up on the bench when he got up on the bench." "And the solemn boy who recited," said the reporter—"Do you remember his little—do you remember you had him in your school?" "It was—the school—Hes—per—us—" "And the skip—per had ta—ken his half mile wide, an' it was with six slaps to see him try to get up on the bench when he got up on the bench." "Say," grinned Hiram, "you got it down fine. I remember it the same as if it was yesterday. Well—the best we had here—was the Y. M. C. A. boys, an' all the little boys an' girls as good today as we did them. My! What a change since we was boys."

IN IRELAND

London, June 25.—Snipers were busy in Londonderry during last night's attack. Delegates were charged with unlawfully having in his possession morphine and cocaine for other than scientific or medicinal purposes. The case was postponed and the accused remanded. F. R. Taylor, D.L.L., K.C., who appeared for the department of justice, said that the accused was one of the largest importers of drugs in Ireland and that he was acting for the defence, said his client is a wholesale druggist in Montreal. The case will give a further hearing later. Two men charged with drunkenness pleaded guilty and were remanded.

RAW SUGAR OFF FIVE CENTS IN ABOUT A MONTH

The latest report from New York on the raw sugar market quoted a decline of three-quarters of a cent. The quotation was 18.75, compared with 19.00 a month ago, and the despatch also said, "buyers withdrawn." The decline of more than five cents in a month is unprecedented, and the tendency is now downward. In Canada, owing to government action, sugar never went to a parity with New York, and has not yet reached that point. The significant fact for Canadians, therefore, is the decline in raw sugar and what it would appear to indicate for the future in regard to prices both in the United States and Canada.

Taylor, D.L.L., K.C., who appeared for the department of justice, said that the accused was one of the largest importers of drugs in Ireland and that he was acting for the defence, said his client is a wholesale druggist in Montreal. The case will give a further hearing later. Two men charged with drunkenness pleaded guilty and were remanded.

REASON FOR THE REFERENDUM

To Ascertain Whether the Public Wants Prohibition or Not—If so, Present Law Will be Amended and Improved—If Not, the Future is Indeed Black—July 10th the Day.

At the session of 1916 the present prohibitory law was passed under the condition that at its pleasure the government could call for a Referendum to ascertain whether or not the people really want Prohibition. The present law has accomplished much, but it requires some repairs, which the Government will not effect until they have heard the will of the people as to the principle of Prohibition. If the public want real prohibition they will get it. It is up to the voters July 10. It is to be hoped that no intelligent man or woman will permit any criticisms of non-enforcement or weakness of the law to prevent their telling the Government in no uncertain voice that real Prohibition we must and will have—(Advt.)

victories. The chestnut son of Fair Play and Mahubah was held at 1 to 100 against his line rival, R. T. Wilson, Jr's Yellow Hand, a horse of but ordinary ability and it is believed that that sets a record for a short price. Man o' War just galloped around the egg-shaped track and gave Yellow Hand occasional glances at his precocious heels. The champion gave the crowd one moment of excitement just at the start. He showed them how he takes his tremendous bound which sends him to the front of his field as the barrier goes up. The Fair Play colt was very anxious to be on his way and once when it seemed the two horses were to be sent away he threw himself back on his haunches, made one tremendous leap and taking the barrier with him, covered nearly twenty feet in the bound. Kummer could not halt him until he had reached the paddock gate, although Man o' War seemed to understand that it was a false start.

SCOTT'S IS CROWNED KING OF 'IRON MEN'

New York, June 25—Everett Scott, that busy little shopkeeper of the Red Sox, believes in working every day for a living, just as though he traded the old dinner pail to the mill. This ambition has led him to create a new baseball record for in the clash at Cleveland yesterday it marked the 57th consecutive game in which he has played.

For more than thirty years the record of 37 consecutive games made by Geo. B. Pickeney of the old Brooklyn American Association club has stood.

Scott began his wonderful streak in Boston on June 20, 1916. Since that date Scott has replied "here" every time the roll was called.

A contract for supplying bread to the Provincial Hospital from July 1 to October 31, was yesterday awarded to J. & W. Shaw of this city.

STRAHMERS AND PORTS

The rapid increase in the number of steamers of the Canadian Merchant Marine moves the Toronto Globe to remark:

"Overton trade must be sought in new fields if the constantly enlarging fleet is to be fully employed. Recently issued trade figures give no indications of growth of Canada's external trade, but rather the reverse. For the first two months of the present fiscal year the imports total over $20,000,000 more than the exports."

The ownership of a fleet of merchant steamers makes it possible to open up direct services for the development of new markets and sources of supply for Canada.

"Communication with India, Ceylon, Singapore, and Java will be obtained through the vessels that have been placed on that route, sailing from Atlantic ports via the Suez Canal. The possibilities of trade between these countries and Canada have been carefully investigated, and the management of the Merchant Marine fleet believes that there are excellent chances of securing good cargoes in both directions. Importation of lime, iron, raw cotton, crude rubber, tea, jute, bangles, etc., will be facilitated. The ultimate cost of such products should be reduced through direct intercourse with those markets and the carrying charges diverted to Canadian channels. On the other hand, there have been numerous inquiries recently from British traders in India for Canadian products, and this holds good with respect to the Straits Settlements and the Dutch East Indies."

There are now some thirty vessels of the Canadian Merchant Marine afloat, and there will probably be fifty by November. Their Atlantic ports should be St. John and Halifax. Last winter some vessels of this fleet, which were then but small, had to wait for berths. What will be the experience of the larger fleet next winter, especially since more tonnage of private ownership will also be available for the business that may offer? There will be a great demand for Canada's grain and other agricultural products next winter. It is in the interests of the country, as the Toronto Globe points out, to make our exports as large as possible. Those exports should not go through foreign ports on the excuse that our own ports are not properly equipped. The government must see that there is need of such expenditure at this port as will enable it to give quick dispatch to freight carried here by government railways and government steamers.

THE BOY SCOUTS

At the meeting of the provincial council of the Boy Scout Association yesterday cheering reports were received concerning the growth of the movement and the increasing efficiency of the various scout troops. The council is still handicapped, however, because its finances have not been brought up to a satisfactory condition. The appeal to the provincial government for a grant such as is given by the government of Ontario and all the other provinces did not meet with a favorable response. The appeal made through the Commercial Club to the people of St. John brought a hearty response, but the rest of the province has not yet responded, perhaps because there has not been a systematic canvass. If the council is to carry on its work successfully it must have funds for field work as well as for the very efficient work of the central depot in St. John which is now in a position to deal promptly with every request for information or equipment. In St. John the Boy Scouts are doing excellent community work in many ways, and their services are frequently asked for in the interest of various movements. It will interest all friends of the Boy Scout movement in Canada to learn the progress made in the United States. The New York Evening Post says:

"A college course in scouting would seem to be the crowning recognition of the value of the Boy Scout movement. It is a step that several colleges are taking. The course is for the training of future scoutmasters and scout executives. How large is the demand for such work is indicated by the fact that two hundred men have been doing it at Columbia this year. Doubtless the ideal scoutmaster is born rather than made, but doubtless, too, a medium of training will assist in the making of many a satisfactory leader. And with nearly half a million boys of Greater New York Boy Scouts, and more on the way, capable leaders are more and more needed."

It would pay the people of every town and village in New Brunswick to encourage the formation of Boy Scout troops, give them a place to meet, and see that they have every facility for thorough training. The good Boy Scout grows up to be a self-reliant and resourceful citizen.

The following despatch from Hamilton, Ontario, is pleasant reading, and there is a suggestion in it for persons of wealth:—"Mrs. F. P. Dalley has given $10,000 to the City Hospital for research work. The fund will be administered by trustees."

THE BOARD OF COMMERCE

In tendering to Sir Robert Borden his resignation as a member of the Board of Commerce, Mr. James Murdock charges that the majority of the members of the cabinet were never in sympathy with the provisions of the act constituting the board and that some of them set out to minimize its effect and retard its operation. He also criticizes very sharply the former chairman of the Board, Hon. H. A. Robson, and declares the light should be let in upon the whole matter. He concludes with this very significant paragraph:

"I believe that your cabinet will devise some means to prevent the Board of Commerce from functioning, even should the Privy Council give a favorable decision (on the constitutionality of the legislation.) My conscience will not permit me to become a high salaried time-server."

This is a challenge the government cannot ignore. It would be very extraordinary if Mr. Murdock's charges proved to be true concerning the attitude of the cabinet toward the law it had been instrumental in placing upon the statute books for the protection of the people against the profiteers. There is now no Board of Commerce. Robson, O'Connor and Murdock have all resigned. Whatever the cause, the Board did not function successfully. Mr. Murdock thinks he knows the reason. An enquiry would clear the atmosphere. No doubt the matter will be discussed in the house, and at least the government must make some reply to the sensational letter of Mr. Murdock.

If Dr. Glover of Toronto has discovered a real cure for cancer in the serum which has had such a wonderful effect upon extreme cases in St. Michael's Hospital, he will become famous as one of the great benefactors of the human race. An exchange says:—"Dr. Glover would have preferred that the publicity should have been given to his experiments until conclusive evidence had been placed before the medical fraternity that the serum will produce the results he claims. That is no longer possible. The interest awakened by the partial disclosures made will be worldwide and of the most intense sort, for cancer shares with tuberculosis malign pre-eminence as a scourge of civilized man."

In the fiscal year ending March 31, Canada exported paper and manufactures of paper to the value of $63,238,419; chemical pulp, $38,000,000; and mechanical pulp, $6,384,419—a total of $107,622,837. In 1919 the total value was $82,268,771 and in 1918 $63,844,143. But for the large quantities of paper and pulp received from Canada the paper situation in the United States would be far more serious than it is.

It is of interest to note that the Moncton Amalgamated Central Labor Unions passed at a meeting this week without a dissenting voice the following:—"Resolved that this body go on record as unanimously endorsing prohibition." This is not the utterance of fanatics, but the deliberate expression of the views of working men.

Toronto Globe:—"The directors of the Toronto Railway say they want to avoid a strike. They should have begun avoiding it many years ago by refraining from stock watering. The money dissipated on paying dividends on watered stock would have come in handy now."

Canada does not want any Russian or other refugees who desire to form communities and live apart from the national current of life in this country. It does want people who are willing to become real Canadian citizens.

There has been an increase in the number of illicit stills in Canada since prohibition was enacted in the provinces. That was to be expected, but the evil can be overcome in time just as the open bar was overcome.

The quantity of milk received in the city yesterday was larger than on the previous day. The work is over. If it definitely understood the trains are to run as at present the shipments will steadily increase.

GRIEF EVERYWHERE. I'm in a land enchanting, where springtime always dwells and birds are gallivanting around me, wearing bells. Here no one ever freezes, no sunstroke threatens me, and here the soothing breezes come sighing from the sea. It's like a dream of Eden, one flower-bespunged lawn, a lawn to rest and read in, and bid all woes be gone. Here we should all be joyous, where tranquil springtime lives, where nothing can annoy us in all that nature gives. Yet here men dig up sorrow, and if no grief they own, they sorrow and borrow some woe o'er which to groan. This morning I was sitting beneath some tropic trees; a stranger with his knitting came up to share the breeze. "The young peoples have spoiled their last of years!" And then, in a wondrous way, and thoughts of grief and danger seem worlds and worlds away! He viewed the distant steeples, the San Diego towers, and sighed, "The young peoples have spoiled their last of years!" And then, he grumbled, and shed a quart of tears. And all through his repining, and through his "Woe is me," a golden sun was shining upon the sparkling sea.

CANADA—EAST AND WEST

Domestic Happenings of Other Days

PREVENTING THE SMALLPOX

Chief Trader John Tod, fur trader of the early British Columbia days, had a novel remedy for smallpox—one over which he and hundreds of others laughed heartily in later days. He was in charge of the post at Kamloops in 1846 when the warriors of the Shuswap tribe, coveting the hundreds of beaver skins were bred at the post, planned a raid on the animals. Tod, through the friendly chief, was informed of what was likely to happen but only after the Indians had assembled for the theft. He started at once on horseback for their camp, into which he dashed on his fast horse, all foam covered, and throwing his pistols upon the ground so that the braves knew he was an unarmed man. Then in his most impressive manner he held the warriors that smallpox was near at hand and that he alone had the remedy for it. The Indians were terror-stricken at the news for smallpox was one of the few things they were afraid of.

The trick was successful. In a few minutes the 300 men were his friends for "saving them" from the disease. Then he proceeded to administer the remedy. He had seventy doctored when his vaccine gave out. The instrument he used on the great occasion was his baccu knife. He admitted afterwards that when it came to the turn of certain braves who were noted for their prowess he cut deeper than usual on such occasions and that he felt little pity when he saw them wince under his blade. He did it so well that not a brave had a good right arm with which to fight for glory. In the interim time they were better than had abandoned the horse stealing plan. In fact they were certain but for the intervention of Trader Tod they would have swept off by the plague of the smallpox. Ever afterwards they were his friends.

A SONG OF COMFORT.

Thro' Maytime blossoms, with whisper low, The soft wind sang to the dead below; "Think not with regret on the spring when he went, but with gladness on the day he came home." And the task you left with your hands were strong. The song would have ceased when the spring was past, And the task that was joyous be weary at last.

To the winter sky when the nights were long, The treetops tossed with a ceaseless song; "Do ye think with regret on the sunny days, And the path ye left with its untrod ways; The sun might sink in a storm cloud's frown, And the path grow rough when the night came down."

In the grey twilight of the autumn eves, It sighed as it sang through the dying leaves; "Ye think with regret that the world was bright, That your path was short and your task was light; The path, though short, was perhaps the best, And the toll was sweet that it led to rest."

—Col. John McCree, in Varsity, 1894.

LIGHTER VEIN.

A Cheep Way Out. "You've got indignation; that's what's the matter with you," said the doctor. "Oh, that's what it is, then?" inquired the patient. "That's it. You've been eating a lot of meat, I suppose?" "I have, yes."

"Well, now you're paying for it." "Would you mind telling my butcher that, doctor?"—Yonkers Statesman.

It had never been known to happen before and the people could hardly believe it. Yet the rumor was going round that the one daily train on a certain railway was actually going to arrive on time.

A crowd gathered at the station to witness the event. One enthusiastic citizen even provided quantities of red fire and set it off along the line. "What's the trouble?" the conductor asked when he jumped off the train. "It rains actually in on time," explained the crowd.

"Put out your fires, you idiots!" the conductor snorted. "Have you all been braying lately? Don't you know that we're just twenty-four hours late! This is yesterday's train!"

Two small girls entered a shoe store, and in reply to the salesman's polite inquiry the older said sweetly:—"Thank you!" "Please will you fit my little sister with a pair of shoes?" "Certainly, miss!" replied the salesman. "What style would you like—button or strap?" "Oh, the style doesn't matter," said the girl. "What I want to know is the size." So the shopman produced his measure and presently informed her that the smaller girl took a nine. "Thank you!" said the larger of the two. Then she added, confidentially:—"That's all we want to know. There's a pair of shoes at the second-hand shop along the street and my sister says she'll buy them for just too dear."

$100,000 to the Michaels Stern Clothing Company because of damages occasioned by a strike. In his decision, Justice Rodenbeck says:

"In a proper case the law will protect the general public as well as the individual from oppression from any source. It is the duty of the government to protect the one against the many, as well as the many against the one. Monopolies and exclusive privileges are alike condemned, whether accomplished by a combination of labor or of capital. The law is opposed to all monopolies, whether of labor or capital. Experience has taught mankind that an economic or industrial despotism has no more consideration for the general good than a political despotism, and is an undue barrier to the exercise of personal liberty and freedom of action, the development of industries, and reasonable competition in life."

Half a Pineapple For One Dessert

In Jiffy-Jell desserts the fruit flavors are candied. For instance, half a pineapple is crushed to make the flavor for one pint dessert. This is done in Hawaii from fruit too ripe to ship. All Jiffy-Jell fruit flavors are made from condensed fruit juice. They come in liquid form—in vials—a bottle in each package. That is true of no other quick gelatine dessert. A few cents will serve a real-fruit dessert for six people. No artificial flavor, no saccharine. It is the most delicious fruit dessert available, and it comes in ten choice flavors.

JUDGE ROBSON DENIES CHARGE OF MR. MURDOCK

Says He Was Actuated by Personal Malignity - Issues Statement Regarding Crescent Creamery Letter.

Winnipeg, June 25—(Canadian Press)—"Mr. Murdock is actuated by fierce personal malignity, and his inferences are most extravagant and groundless," asserted Judge Robson last night when informed of Mr. Murdock's resignation and statements.

"I may shortly follow the matter up further," he added.
Asked about the letter in connection with the Crescent creamery referred to by Mr. Murdock, Judge Robson made the following statement:
"I had heard of the matter, but had absolutely forbidden the showing of the factum to me and its receipt was entirely unlooked for. Against my wish the letter was sent, and reached my office when I was away from Montreal. It was opened in my absence by a clerk, I assume, and was left lying exposed in my personal room, where it was found by Mr. Murdock when searching my desk. I did not know that the letter had been sent till I returned to Montreal, and the fact that it was in my office was a great surprise to me as it was to Mr. Murdock, as I had absolutely prohibited anything of this sort long before."
Judge Robson added: "As far as the statements relating to the cabinet ministers are concerned, they are, from my experience, equally absurd. I don't believe for a moment that the cabinet or any of the ministers were insincere about the board."

SHOW PROGRESS IN SCOUT WORK

The regular meeting of the Provincial Council of the Boy Scouts Association was held in their rooms, Prince William street, yesterday afternoon, with Commissioner A. C. Skelton in the chair. Reports were presented during the meeting showing that the association was making splendid progress. It was also announced that a camp site had been secured on the Belleisle, about forty-five miles from the city. Those present at the meeting were: A. C. Skelton, A. M. B. Galt, F. I. McCafferty, E. Turnbull, S. G. Olive, H. O. Eamon, F. W. Hewison, L. W. Narrowsay and W. S. Allison.

VISITING WOMEN COMPLETE WORK AND DEPART

Closing Session of National Women's Council Yesterday—Expressions of Thanks.

Expressions of sincere thanks to all who had assisted in making their stay in the city a pleasant one marked the closing session of the twenty-seventh annual meeting of the National Council of Women of Canada yesterday.

After a busy morning session the guests were taken to the Manor House where luncheon was served under the auspices of the executive of the St. John Local Council. A guard of honor of Boy Scouts under the leadership of Paul Walsh met the ladies and escorted them to the luncheon, where they were received by Miss Grace Leavitt, Mrs. J. H. Doody and Mrs. W. Edmond Raymond. Other members of the committee were Mrs. H. Lawrence, Mrs. A. W. Estey, Mrs. W. P. Bonnell and Miss Etta Millican. During the luncheon the Boy Scouts were called in and addressed by Mrs. Sanford, the national president. Paul Walsh replied on behalf of the boys. The boys were then given a treat of good things.

A short business session was held on the return of the delegates from Glen Falls. The nomination of delegates to the international meeting was proceeded with and in the order given below the nine first named were chosen as delegates and the remainder as substitutes: Mrs. E. Dr. Roberts, Mayor Schofield, the hostesses in the luncheon parlors, the waitresses, the executive committee of the St. John Council, the leaders of the divisional meetings, the conveners of committees for entertainment and arrangements, pages, tellers, the bureau of information, especially mentioning Mrs. A. Mrs. Sanford in presenting the vote of thanks, said to Mrs. Smith that she could assure the St. John Council from the bottom of her heart that it had made the National Council absolutely happy and at home. The meeting in St. John always would be remembered for the lavish hospitality enjoyed. Mrs. Smith's reply was given with spontaneous good will and sincere appreciation of the kind words spoken. Lady Tilley's good wishes were received in a letter delivered as the meeting adjourned.

The members of the St. Vincent's and High School Alumnae under the direction of their presidents, Miss Annie Gonnell and Miss Jessie Lawson, throughout the session gave most efficient and willing aid in the bureau of information and in assisting as pages. B. vocational training staff in charge, this exhibition was held in one of the front rooms of the Institute during the convention.

MEAN TO PUT WM. McADOO IN FOR NOMINATION

San Francisco, June 25.—Although the McAdoo boom was publicly executed by Mr. McAdoo himself recently, delegates to the Democratic national convention which is to open here on Monday, refuse to let it die.

Everywhere yesterday were rumors of the possible candidacy of President Wilson's son-in-law for the presidential nomination.

Friends of the former cabinet minister declare that the business of the convention is to nominate a man who can be elected, and express the belief that the exigencies of politics will dictate the selection of Mr. McAdoo.

Toronto, June 25—The badly decomposed body of a man was found today in a hole in a barn in Darcy street. It at first was thought it might be the body of Ambrose Small, millionaire theatre man who has been missing since December 2, on his private secretary, John Doughly, who disappeared on December 28, but detectives exploded this theory.

HE FEELS FINE IN MORNING NOW

Madden Says Friends Are Surprised at the Way Tanlac Has Built Him up.

"Tanlac has been such a blessing to me that I feel I ought to tell everybody about it," said Philip Madden, a well-known and prosperous fisherman, living at Maddox Cove, near St. John's (Nfld.). "I must have spent over fifty dollars on medicine during the last six months, trying to get relief from the indigestion that has bothered me so badly for the last two years, but I might as well have thrown my money into the sea for all the good it did me," continued Mr. Madden. "My stomach was in such a bad fix that I couldn't eat a bite of anything but what I soaked in sour and form gas. I would have the most awful pains in my stomach after meals, and go so I was almost unable to get out of bed. I had terrific pains across the small of the back, especially when I stood over and was also bothered a lot with headaches and dizzy spells. I became so weak at last that whenever I tried to do a bit of work I would tremble all over and my legs would give way under me. I had a tired, heavy feeling all the time and became very down-hearted and discouraged about my condition.

When I heard so many people praising Tanlac I decided to give it a trial, although I never expected it would do me much good when everything else had failed. But now after taking three bottles I can't say enough good about it. Why, it sharpened up my appetite right away, and it wasn't long before I could eat almost anything without ever suffering from pain or gas afterwards. The pains in my back have left me and I'm not bothered with headaches or dizzy spells any more. In fact it seems to have done my whole system good, for I've lost that tired feeling and have lots more life and energy. I sleep like a log every night and get up in the mornings feeling just fine. All my neighbors and friends are surprised at the improvement in my health and I never miss a chance to recommend Tanlac as the best of all medicines for such troubles as I had.

Tanlac is sold in St. John by the Ross Drug Company and B. W. Munro; by G. W. McKay, Beaver Harbor; Willard J. Colwell, Evans; C. V. Pearson, Highlands; and by the leading druggists in every town.—(Advt.)

Galt, June 25—There were sensational developments at a recent council meeting when Wm. Graul, property owner in Beverly street, charged that his signature on a petition requesting permanent pavement was forged. He declared he had never had the petition presented to him, and that he did not see it until he called at the city hall to see if his name was on it, and it was. Because of this mix-up, Mr. Graul's name proving necessary to make petition sufficiently signed, and while the manner in which his name got on the document is still a mystery, the council decided not to sign the contract with the Standard Paving Company until the matter is straightened out and another petition put in circulation tomorrow. FRANCE OFFERED
POISON GAS IN 1685

Swiss Lieutenant in Army Also Discovered Gas Bomb Projectile.

Paris, June 25—That a Swiss lieutenant 200 years ago invented asphyxiating gas for the French army is a contention advanced by the French press, supported by historic documents proving that so far as war is concerned there really is nothing new under the sun. The ministry of foreign affairs contains the original documents dated April 1685, signed by Dupoy, French consul at Geneva, attributing the discovery to the Sieur Dorchat of Sie Valais then serving the French king at the Canton of Fribourg. According to Dorchat's claims, he was able in four hours at a minimum expense to prepare a liquid of a gas so thick and of such disagreeable odor that it was impossible for human beings to remain in its proximity.

The gas bomb is no new invention, for Dorchat had perfected a method of throwing containers from a cannon, even exceeding modern gas artists by devising a cartridge or tube to be fired from an ordinary army pistol. The official records, however, fail to show whether the great Louis investigated Dorchat's discovery, but military experts of today point out that the letters were mentioned a bit of work in fourteen years ago in a volume published by the Swiss consul in Belgium and probably prompted German espionage.

Commission For Harbor Considered

City Commissioners Again Take up Matter and Discuss Sections of Act

The first step towards disposing of the question of harbor commission, by referendum or otherwise, was taken by Mayor Schofield and the city commissioners yesterday afternoon at a late session in city hall, when they took up the St. John Harbor Commission Act, which was assented to in parliament at Ottawa on July 7, 1919. Business proceeded with a reading of the act, section by section, but there was so much discussion over the eighth section that it was decided to adjourn and continue the discussion at the call of the chair. Section 8 of the act reads: "The corporation (that is, the federal commission), shall for the purpose of and as provided in this act, have jurisdiction over the said harbor, and shall have the administration and control of the harbor and of all the harbor property and privileges and powers to be transferred to his majesty by the city, and of all other powers, rights, privileges or property, real or personal, acquired or that may be acquired under the provisions of this act or of any amendment thereto." It was decided also at the meeting to defer a discussion on the proposed harbor limits, under the proposed act, until a plan of the area affected is drawn and approved by the city solicitor and the city engineer.

An amendment to the act, prepared by the city solicitor some time ago, was read by Mr. Jones, wherein the city reserves the right of ferrage from the foot of Princess street to Rodney street, the ferry buildings and land occupied by them, ferry slip and approaches, all movable property connected therewith, the Rodney wharf and the low water mark of a small piece of flats adjacent to the Rodney wharf. This had been refused by Ottawa.

Speaking to the resolution, Mr. Thornton pointed out that when the city delegation went to Ottawa last year, the minister of marine had said that no harbor wharves would be reserved. He thought the whole matter should be thoroughly discussed and if not found suitable, discarded by the council.

Mr. Bullock—"The whole matter looks like a build-up and emphasizes the fact that we should have a representative in the dominion cabinet. Mr. Ballantyne was the only man to take up the matter actively, and we do know what he thinks about it."

The harbor act had passed the federal house without the consent of the St. John common council, Mr. Frink observed, and it did not receive much consideration here because it was understood to be a government measure. He thought that any 'contingent clause' could be voted out of the act and the amended bill voted upon. The public, he thought, was waiting for the council to act. Four commissioners must be in favor of the bill before a referendum can be called and he thought the sooner it went to the people, or was disposed of, the better.

When the common clerk had read section 8 of the act, defining the powers of the commissioners, Mr. Bullock spoke of the various revenue-producing properties which were not considered by the federal authorities when the bill was before the house. He cited the harbor fisheries, bringing a revenue of more than $15,000, and other properties which aided considerably in keeping the general assessment lower than it might be. Mr. Frink thought that the item of $300,000 was chopped off the price of the harbor by the Ottawa officials in consideration of the city retaining such privileges. This was denied by Mr. Bullock. As it was then after 6 o'clock and some of the commissioners had other appointments, it was decided to adjourn the meeting and meet at the call of the chair.

Masons Attend Service

An appeal for state pensions for widows and orphans throughout Canada was made last evening in a powerful sermon by Rev. Dr. J. A. Morrison to Carleton Union Lodge, A. F. & A. M., which held its annual St. John the Baptist Day service at the First Presbyterian church, West Side. The members of the lodge assembled in the Masonic hall in full regalia and marched to the church. The new Martello band headed the parade. The service was Masonic throughout. The lesson from the Old Testament was read by R. L. Amdur, a member of the lodge and formerly a rabbi in charge of the Jewish synagogue here. The lesson from the New Testament was read by E. R. W. Ingraham and Rev. W. P. Dunham, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Fairville, by request of Rev. Dr. Morrison, pronounced the benediction.

VISITING UNDERWRITERS.

Ten visiting fire insurance underwriters, who had been attending the annual convention of the Canadian association at St. Andrews this week, were the guests of the local members of the profession at a camp dinner held last night in the summer bungalow of John E. Moore, at Pleasant Point. The party, numbering forty or more, motored from the city and enjoyed a motor tour of the district on their way back. Among the members of the visiting party were: T. L. Morrissey, president of the Canadian Fire Underwriters' Association; Lyman Root, W. E. Baldwin, G. E. Moberley, Mr. Josselyn, representing the New York Underwriters' Agency, and Mr. Pudge, Peter Clinch, secretary of the St. John Board of Fire Underwriters, had charge of the dinner arrangements.

NEW BRUNSWICK

(Canadian Press Despatch.)
Ottawa, June 24—An enormous growth in illicit stills since the advent of prohibition is shown by figures read in the senate today by Sir James Loughhead. They show that whereas in 1917 only 191 stills were discovered the number in 1919-20 had grown to 985. The province of Ontario showed the most progress along this line, the number of stills advancing from 50 in 1917 to 296 in 1919. New Brunswick which (to quote Sir James) was "pure and undefiled" in 1917, was found to have eight stills in 1919; Nova Scotia advanced from one to twenty; Prince Edward Island from none to one; Manitoba from none to 137; Alberta, none to 210; Saskatchewan, 19 in 190; and Quebec, 11 to 43. The figures were given by the government leader in connection with an amendment to the inland Revenue Act increasing the fines for persons found to be engaged in this occupation.
The senate in the course of the day made rapid progress with several important measures, giving a third reading to the following bills:
Canadian National Railways Act; act to amend the Bankruptcy Act; act to amend the Criminal Code; act to revise and amend the Naturalization Act; act

BEAUTY.

Beauty is gathered like the rain on hills; Here stinking into reservoirs of loss, Whose beery stars are guardians of loss, And there a covey-hidden pool it fills. Or if uncluttered by the earth, it spills In thin cascades where staircased ledges cross.

A lonely hill-road, carettes, cold winds toss Their spray on granite fields that no man tills.

Diminish as it may, or disappear From barren pastures, beauty cannot fall While there are crevices to drink its dew.

Following, following, down, like springs In shade, Or vanished old sea-sand, it filters through Lost littles of dream, and issues clear. Dorothy, Leonard, in Atlantic Monthly.

A VERY QUIANT WILL

The will of Eliza J. Wakefield of Etna has been filed at the probate court. The document will be of interest inasmuch as it was drawn but a few days before Mr. Wakefield committed suicide by shooting himself. It reads as follows: "I leave to my sister, Lizzie A. Weed of Unity the following: My farm in Etna, and I also give to her, Fred Hall, my chestnut mare, providing he will always keep her. After she is of no use and always keep him, she must be shot and buried. If he doesn't want her, she is to be shot and laid to rest on the farm. Next, the bay horse, I give to Percy A. Weed of Unity, if he wants him. If he doesn't want to use and always keep him, she is to be shot and laid to rest with the chestnut mare. The cows and heifer are to be sold, also the farm tools. My dog and white cat are to be given to my sister, Lizzie A. Weed of Unity. The said cat is to be killed. All of the household goods are to go to Sister Lizzie. Suitable grave stones must be set for father, mother and myself within six months after my death. Mrs. Weed, my sister, can sell the farm if she wants to, hereby appoint my sister, Lizzie A. Weed, my executor."

APRIL SAW TRADE INCREASE; EXPORTS ON SHORT END

The unfavorable trade balance which Canada started in the first month of the current fiscal year was further increased by the excess of imports over exports. Merchandise entered for consumption during the month was valued at $113,447,289, and exports of domestic products were $77,942,575; this compared with imports of $71,944,816 and exports of $62,298,687 in May, 1919. For April, 1920, imports were $68,290,626 and exports $23,265,286. Thus, for the first two months of the present fiscal year imports were $211,738,854 and exports $130,698,964. This represents an adverse trade balance of over $80,000,000 for the two months.

At the moment the indications are that

The Wear and Satisfaction which a Suit of Clothes Gives are Long Remembered

Every now and then a customer drops in wearing a suit of clothes that he bought a long time ago and says: "There's a suit I got from you year before last, and it looks good yet," and we give him the time-honored pleats. "That's the trouble with Gilmour's clothes, they wear too well."

But that is the reason our business grows. We give values that people remember, and we find that a much better plan than to sell them clothes at some price which is apparently cheap when one buys, but very dear when the purchase proves unsatisfactory—and they get style besides.

exporters will have to take more aggressive action to keep the overseas movement of manufactured goods at the level of the last fiscal year. As against this, the sub-normal cereal crops elsewhere in the world will intensify the demand for the prospective bountiful yield of Canadian wheat. It will be seen that Canada will in greater measure than under normal conditions depend on exports of agricultural products to maintain the country's international trade position and to ensure international prosperity.

As compared with the preceding month, increases in exports were noted all along the line in the various categories into which products are placed by the customs department in the monthly statement of trade. Increases in the export of agricultural products, increases in the export of manufactured goods, and increases in the export of miscellaneous products are shown as follows: Agricultural and vegetable food products, $12,772,118 in April to $19,722,259 in May; animals and animal products, $8,695,168 to $13,178,584; chemicals and chemical products, $1,010,806 to $1,970,230; iron and steel and manufactures thereof, $5,879,189 to $8,648,800; wood, wood products, paper and manufactures thereof, $14,515,660 to $21,578,280.

IN PARLIAMENT
(Canadian Press)

Ottawa, June 25—Yesterday in the House of Commons a resolution granting the government authority to extend the period of the Canadian wheat board was carried and a bill based on it given first reading.

An act to assist shipbuilding was given a second reading and put through committee stage, with amendments, and stands for third reading at the next session of the house.

A resolution to amend the B. N. A. act respecting extra territorial jurisdiction of the Canadian parliament was adopted.

In the senate third reading was given the following bills: Canadian National Railways act; act to amend bankruptcy act; act to amend criminal code; act to revive and amend the naturalization act; act to regulate the inspection and sale of feeding stuffs and an act to amend the railway act.

PLEBISCITE SUGGESTED ON SUSSEX TRAIN QUESTION
Following a reply to the mayor's telegram by F. P. Brady, general manager of the C. N. R., in which it was stated that if the traveling public requested the Sussex train would be changed to the old schedule, a request was sent to the general manager asking that the train be changed and also that suitable train service be arranged for the suburbanites.

It was suggested by F. A. Campbell, president of the Trades and Labor Council, that a plebiscite on change of time be held on July 10, when the prohibition billoting will take place. The suburbanites do not favor a change.

"Rather absent-minded, isn't he?" "Extremely so! Why, the other night when he got home he knew there was something he wanted to do, but he couldn't remember what it was until he had sat up over an hour trying to think."

CANADIAN RED CROSS CHANGES

Dr. A. H. Abbott Succeeds Noel Marshall and Mrs. Plumpre.

(Toronto Globe.) With the inauguration of peace-time effort, the Canadian Red Cross has re-organized its executive, Dr. Albert H. Abbott stepping, yesterday, into the shoes worn so continuously—and voluntarily—by Mr. Noel Marshall and Mrs. H. P. Plumtre all through the war and to the present moment. His official title will be General Secretary, but he will, in reality, be a sort of General Manager, a post for which his work with the British Red Cross and with the Organization of Resources, has eminently fitted him. Hitherto Dr. Abbott has been loaned by the University for his various offices, but he has now definitely resigned from the staff to devote his whole time to his new duties. Mr. Marshall, whose war service is known wherever the Red Cross Society has penetrated, retains his position as Chairman of the Executive Committee will in future be held by Dr. James W. Robertson of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, an enthusiast in the Boy Scout movement and keen in regard to public health movements.

"Ideal for the Post."

Of Dr. J. G. Fitzgerald, who has accepted office as Honorary Adviser to the Red Cross, re public health, Mrs. Plumtre (who has become President of the Ontario Division of the Red Cross), remarks:

Lift Off Corns!

Doesn't hurt! Lift touchy corns and calluses right off with fingers

Apply a few drops of "Freezone" upon that old, bothersome corn. Instantly that corn stops hurting. Then shortly you lift it right off, root and all, without pain or soreness

Hard corns, soft corns, corns between the toes, and the hard skin calluses on bottom of feet lift right off—no humbug!

Tiny bottles of "Freezone" cost but a few cents at drug stores

"Dr. Fitzgerald is simply ideal for the position. His work in the Department of Hygiene and as Director of the Connaught Laboratories, added to his splendid war record and plus his personal, make him a most advantageous find."

to attend the Medical Convention in Vancouver, and on his return will go to the Maritime Provinces in his advisory capacity. When interviewed about his new office, Dr. Fitzgerald said: "We are not promising anything, but I hope we shall get valuable results."

Personally I regard the Red Cross as the greatest aid we could possibly have for the advancement of the cause of public health, and I am glad to be able to do what I can towards furthering activities along public health lines. It is a big work a national work, that the Red Cross has undertaken. The idea of the Red Cross, I take it is to be the great educator of the population along the lines of public health."

PEAT FOR RAILWAYS.

Substitute for Coal Is Used in Sweden Due to Shortage.

greater extent than before. Besides wood, which has been used to a very large extent on the private railways, peat has also been employed with success. The minor private railways, in the south of Sweden in particular, have led the way, but larger railways, too, have followed suit, as for instance a South Swedish private railway, with a mileage of 412 km., has found this fuel so practical that it considers it can entirely pass over to peat-firing and thus find a substitute for coal both with fast express trains and with heavy goods trains. The state railways have also had for some years past a factory working for the production of peat powder, a fuel which is considered to be quite as good as coal, but the production of which on a large scale involves considerable difficulties.

Quite Useless.

There's no use arguing with a young man who has made up his mind to be a June groom. If the present prices won't scare him nothing you can say will.
