Football Weather For The Contest In Boston... PLAYING CONDITIONS CHANGE... Yesterday's Caution is Not Likely to Be So Noticeable—Victory Over Giants Has Sent Up Boston Stock in the Betting

(Canadian Press) Boston, Oct. 9.—The world series scenes shifted today to Fenway Park, where the second game between the Giants and Red Sox was to be staged before the greatest crowd which has ever seen a baseball game in this city.

Weather conditions for the second game were almost as good as those which prevailed from the first. The Indian summer weather of the last few days was of a somewhat stormy type, with a clear autumn tinge in the air that reminded one more of football than of baseball.

Conditions Today Different Yesterday's game was one of caution, and each team tried to "feel the other out." Few chances were taken, and the Giants entered today's game in much better mental condition than they did yesterday.

McGraw said only: "The series is far from decided, remember what Manager Mack said last year when we beat the Sox gave up passing attention. Joe Wood was in high spirits after his successful and, at times spectacular, twirling yesterday."

English Affairs in Egypt—Death of Prince Louis Napoleon Murat—Alsace and Lorraine

Khedive Abbas, despite pressure quietly brought to bear upon him to confide the education of his two boys either to English schools or to English tutors, has placed them in a private school at Neuchâtel, owned and managed by relatives of his.

Persistent rumors are current in Egypt, Constantinople, and in official and financial circles at Vienna, Paris and London, to the effect that the Khedive is bent upon abdicating in favor of his fourteen-year-old son Prince Mohammed owing to the manner in which all power has passed out of his hands into those of Field Marshal Lord Kitchener since the latter's appointment as British plenipotentiary in Egypt, and likewise because of the constant agitation and intrigues of the Egyptian Nationalists, who have organized several conspiracies against his life, owing to his refusal to grant them more effective support.

Prince Louis Napoleon Murat, who has just succumbed in a private hospital in Paris to the shock of a very serious operation, was a grandson of Joachim Murat, King of Naples. His mother Princess Louise Murat was, before marriage, Miss Caroline, a sister of Philadelphia, employed in the household of the late Duke of Berwick, a Spanish nobleman, and a governess at Bordentown, his place in New Jersey.

Grandduchess Stana of Russia, daughter of King Nicholas of Montenegro, gave evidence in a characteristically feminine fashion, during her recent visit to France with her husband, the Grandduke Nicholas, to the desire of France to recover the latter's lost provinces of Alsace and Lorraine, for which the grandduchess, after attending the great military manoeuvres of the French army in the capacity of a special generalissimo of the Russian forces, was inspecting the powerful defensive works along the eastern frontier, the village of Beis-en-Seille, which is situated on the very border line separating France from Lorraine.

It was a particularly feminine and at the same time very telling manner of informing the French people that she was in complete accord with their longing to recover the lost provinces of Alsace and Lorraine from Germany, a recovery which can be accomplished only by force of arms. The grandduchess is a very handsome and striking looking woman, of the tall, Slavonic type, her low forehead, heavy tresses, heavily marked eyebrows, perfectly modelled eyes, well apart, nose, large, and very lustrous, her straight facial line, classical mouth and chin, cheeks

AND so Janet says she is perfectly delighted because she has another baby," said Molly, the little stenographer lady, "and it's the third in three years, and she can't be having more than 800 a week. That's perfectly absurd; it must be a pose."

"I don't like the same things. That is a most fortunate provision of nature, that we should all have our own peculiarities. If you are a person of your own kind, you ought to believe that others are too. If you are a person that may account for your respecting others of the same kind, you ought to believe that others are too. To make allowance for tastes and prejudices and points of view which you do not share is the sign of a broad mind and a spiritual culture. To call every taste you don't sympathize with a pose, is a sign of the opposite."

RESTORE GRAY HAIR TO NATURAL COLOR

By Common Garden Sage a Simple Remedy for Dandruff, Falling, Faded, Gray Hair

The old idea of using Sage for darkening the hair is again being revived. Our grandmothers had dark, glossy hair at seventy-five, while our mothers are gray before they are fifty. Our grandmothers kept their hair soft and glossy with a "Sage Tea," which also restored the natural color. One objection to using such a preparation was the trouble of making it. This objection has been overcome by the Wyeth Chemical Company of New York, who has placed on the market a superior preparation of Sage, combined with Sulphur and other valuable remedies for dandruff, itching scalp, and thin, weak, falling hair. The beauty of the hair depends more on its richness, even shading than anything else. Don't have dry, harsh faded hair, when a simple, harmless remedy will bring back the color in a few days, and don't be tormented with dandruff, itching scalp and loose, falling hair. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy will quickly correct these troubles, and give color, strength and beauty to your hair. Get a fifty cent bottle from your druggist today, and prove this to your own satisfaction. All druggists sell it, under guarantee that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented. Agent--Wesson's-100 King Street.

SOME NOTES OF A HOLIDAY

The River and Fredericton--The Magnificent Panorama From University Hill--An Awful Piece of Road--Alexander Gibson

So balmy have been the days of early October that on Friday last it was possible to remain on the deck of the steamer Victoria all the way from St. John to Fredericton, and enjoy the unrivalled beauty of the autumn. Never have the fields and woods presented a more glorious panorama than scenery. The wet season produced an unusual abundance of foliage, and it seems also to have given richer tints and shades to the trees and shrubs and trees. The St. John river is beautiful in the time of blossoms, but even more delightful to the eye in these autumn days. The summer cottagers are no longer in evidence along the lower reaches of the river, and one cannot help thinking that they flitted all too soon.

Arrived at the Queen Hotel in Fredericton, we were reminded by the conversation of a hunting party at an adjoining table that just now the capital is a place of importance to those who are in search of big game; and that it is not always necessary to journey far from the city in the search for a deer. It is the deer, the deer, to the effect that in the early morning of the day a mouse had appeared in the room of a man, and a deer had been seen at the end of Charlotte street in the town. The writer once dined with Alexander Gibson, and heard from his own lips something of the intensely interesting and inspiring story of his early struggle and his later work. At another time, seeking some information from the same source, it was necessary to take the notes very hurriedly and without the formality of sitting down, for Mr. Gibson was evidently thinking of other matters, and regarded minutes as more precious than the idle curiosity of a man, who was after news. He had his moods in those days, but his minutes were really precious, and he made them count in the building of the town that will be his monument. The lumber mills had just closed for the season last week, and one Fredericton paper said it was problematical whether they would ever be operated again. The cotton mills, however, are busy and the plant is being improved.

There is something doing at Fredericton at the present time. Three dredges are at work in the river. Two new shoepack factories, constructed of brick, are nearing completion. Engineers have been surveying the site for a new post office, and the present one will be converted into a customs house. It is said a new armory is also to be built. Both above and below the city, there are men with steam shovels and other plant are grading the Valley Railway. Over in the direction of the city, another railway is being hurried toward completion. Logs are being piled down the stream past the city, and are being rafted them. There appears to be an abundance of work, and in one of the papers there is a standing advertisement for men and surveyors for railway work; while farmers say they find it very difficult to get the kind of help they need. A number of new houses are being erected in the city.

It is worth while for the visitor to Fredericton to go to University Hill, gain the roof of the university building, and survey the magnificent panorama, especially beautiful at the present time, because of the splendor of the autumn foliage in the wide-spread area upon which the eye rests with so much delight. There is perhaps a measure of poetic justice in the fact that one of the worst pieces of road that forms a part of any great highway in the province should be close to Fredericton, where the legislators meet to discuss roads and praise the system which produces such a result. The highway which runs through St. Mary's and Gibson, just across the river from the city, and which bears a very heavy traffic, ought to be photographed and used to illustrate how it is one wonders that the people of that part of York County tolerate such conditions. For about a mile the road is a terror to drivers of carriages and automobiles. One wonders why the people do not each year put a small section of this road in first class condition, so that in four or five years it would be a thoroughfare of which they might be proud. Good Roads Campaign is a St. John audience about nine miles of road in Ontario which the people treated in that way, and when it was completed they did not know what to do with their road money; so they spent it cleaning up the sides of the road and planting trees, with the result that the somewhat careless farmers along the route felt that they must live up to the standard of that road, and they also cleaned up their front lots, painted their houses and made the whole nine miles a joy to the eye of the traveller, as well as a money saver to the people of the locality. The Ontario instance is commended to the people of St. Mary's and Gibson, and the farmers who teams traverse the road to and from the city of Fredericton.

One cannot ride along the Nashwaak Valley and through the town of Marysville without a thought of the man whose genius developed the industries and built

THE TECHNICAL SCHOOL

PROJECT FOR ST. JOHN

R. B. Emerson, chairman of the Board of School Trustees, and Dr. H. S. Bridges, superintendent of schools, left noon today for Halifax to investigate the system of industrial or technical education in use there. Dr. Bridges said this morning that the adoption of technical education in this city would be largely a matter of finding the funds. A suitable building with the required equipment would cost about $80,000 and its operation would involve the employment of several well paid teachers. If the citizens were willing to pay for it, there should be no difficulty about establishing such a school.

Four hundred Greeks from Toronto went through this morning and were joined by local volunteers and will sail from New York.

CHANGE IN MISPEC PULP MILL MATTER

Stetson, Cutler & Co. are now looking for a site near John's where they could erect a pulp mill to replace the city's mill at Mispec which they have not been using for the two years. They had been notified by the city to remove their machinery from the mill and as the time allowed was nearly expired, C. C. Cutler, at a conference with the city commissioners at noon today, asked for an extension of time until they could complete their arrangements. The city has refused to lease the mill to Mr. Stetson, Cutler & Co. on the terms asked and he is now considering the establishment of a mill nearer the source of supply for the raw material. Mr. Stetson, Cutler & Co. has yet given a reply to Mr. Cutler's request.

St. Stephen, who was in charge, was well known and esteemed. Mr. McCallum was Scott's Bay, N. S., and the late Charles McCallum, who was also in the same family for many years, and did much to prevent the sale of liquor in his territory."

She was a daughter of Hugh and Julia Dickinson Jamieson, and was born in Scotland. She was married to Mr. McGuire in 1883. She was the mother of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. THE BALKAN SITUATION

The announcement that Montenegro had declared war against Turkey would amount to nothing but for the fear that its example would be followed by other Balkan states.

Montenegro is a very small state, with a total population of less than 250,000. Its extreme length is only about one hundred miles, and its greatest width about eighty miles. It consists of a strip of coast and a mountain region, much of which is unfitted for cultivation.

But Montenegro has declared war, and this fighting has begun, and other Balkan states and Greece are expected to join in the conflict. It is said that nearly or quite one million men are under arms within comparatively easy striking distance of each other along the Turkish frontier.

Racial and religious hatred embitters this war. It is announced that Austria and Russia will endeavor to limit the zone of hostilities, and themselves keep out of the struggle.

Despite the Standard, Mr. Borden is still without a naval policy. He has not yet been able to make up his mind whether to surrender again to the Nationalists or defy them.

The western farmers do not want reciprocity merely to enable them to ship grain from American ports, but to give them a market for grain which they cannot send overseas.

Those of the citizens who were sufficiently interested to vote yesterday defeated the early closing movement by a substantial majority. It was evidently felt that the measure was too sweeping, and that it would entail hardships more than sufficient to counterbalance the benefits which might be derived.

According to statistics published by the Postal Union at Bern, the post card circulation of Germany a year is 1,200,000,000, that of Japan 800,000,000, and of Great Britain 845,000,000.

Ever since the news was spread over the country that Elsie Gladys Virtue, an armless girl of St. Paul, had written a novel on the typewriter with her toes she has been receiving letters from all parts of the United States.

THE CRISIS IN THE CARMELITE CHURCH, DUBLIN

(W. M. Letts in the Westminster Gazette) Foremost the crib there kneels a little child,

Behind him in her ragged shawl his mother. For all the ages that have passed one child Still finds God in another.

Now, look-a-how he wonders when he sees The shepherds with their lambs beside the manger. The cattle, poor dumb creatures, looking down Upon the little Stranger.

An' there's our Saviour lying in the hay, Behind him in her shawl his wretched mother; Two mothers with their sons—each knows the joys And sorrows of the other.

The father kneels away there by the door, The hands he clasps in prayer are rough with labor; The likes of him that hunger and that toil Once called St. Joseph neighbor.

Outside the church the people travel by The sick and sad, the needy, the neglected, But just across the threshold Bethlehem lies, Where none will be rejected.

LIGHTER VEIN REAL WEALTH. He lives his life in glad content. Not envies any millionaire. For once, when having paid his rent, He has a dollar left to spare.

HE KNEW. Teacher—Tommy, you are too great an idler. Do you know what has become of people who won't work? Tommy—Yesum. They gets supported by the rest of the family—'fudge.

RAISON D'ETRE. "Papa, if you wish I had such a car as yours, old chap. My friends are forever wanting to borrow mine."

THE BALKY AUTO. Sparkler—"I wish I had such a car as yours, old chap. My friends are forever wanting to borrow mine."

LOGICAL. Edith—"Why did she marry him?" Ethel—"To cure him of drinking." Edith—"And did she succeed?" Ethel—"Oh, yes, she's so extravagant he cannot afford it."

IT IS TOUGH, ISN'T IT? When a man's seventeen-year-old son assumes and is accorded by the female members of the family that degree of importance which leads them to inquire "which one" when a call comes over the phone for "the kid," the terms that the father seriously reflects on the fundamental verity of that beautiful sentiment, "What's the use of chewing tobacco when you spit out all the juice?"—Detroit Free Press.

QUITE DIFFERENT. Office Boy—"Do you want to see the editor on business?" Stranger—"No, pleasure exclusively. I want to mail him."

WISE PA. College Son—"This is my room, pop. Cost $200 for this furniture. Probably seems steep to you."

FATHER—"No, but when you get hard up along about the middle of the month, you'll see the stuff to the punkman for $50. Send it home and I'll give you a hundred for it."—Puck.

A LOT OF THEM. The word is full of men who have made good, so don't get the notion that you are the only one.

TABLES REVERSED There was no small doubt that the barber was a genius in a small way. He had the power of making good friends with his customers.

A youth entered his shop and sat down on a chair. "Shave, sir?" remarked the barber, in an ordinary tone, as if that was the most likely thing that was wanted.

"You flatter me," remarked the youth. "I'm afraid I can only do with a hair-cut."

Thirty years later the same youth entered the same shop. The barber had grown old, but he had not lost his power of flattery.

"Hair-cut, sir?" he demanded. The man sighed. "You flatter me," said he. "I'm afraid I can only do with a shave."

REVERSIBLE. "Say, Uncle Zeke, have you been all the way to town and back so soon?" "No, sash! I ain't even got dah pit. Dis here mule got turned around in de road, and I got to let him go back to de stable 'fo' I kin reverse him."

THE EARLY LIFE OF LLOYD GEORGE

First Part of British Writer's Biography of Chancellor of Exchequer is Published—His Qualities in Young Manhood

Herbert de Paro is writing a biography of Lloyd George in four volumes. The first, dealing with his early life is published. Though born at Manchester in 1863, his father, a man with ideas in advance of his time, had been a schoolmaster successively in Liverpool and Manchester—Mr. Lloyd George comes from a second and sturdy yeoman stock which has its roots deep down in the soil of Pembrokeshire. Like Mr. Asquith, he lost his father when a child. Thereafter his mother made her home with Richard Lloyd, her bachelor brother, in their ancestral village of Llanystumdwy, in Carnarvonshire, where Mr. Lloyd was a master shoemaker. In his humble home, a sequestered corner of Wales, not far from the romantic region of Snowdonia, the future statesman spent his childhood. All the schooling he got was that which he obtained in the Church of England elementary school, the only available school in the village. At Llanystumdwy school, as in most other church schools in rural Wales, the majority of the children were Nonconformists. The meager education of this primary school was supplemented by an invaluable home training.

Simple Home Training

Simple as was the cottage in which David Lloyd George lived, modest as were all his appointments, life in it was sweet and healthful. The household, one of intelligence and refinement, was encompassed with an atmosphere serene and high. It was a household where piety was instinctive, and where life was regarded as a precious privilege, a high destiny, and a stern school of discipline. Richard Lloyd, now a veteran marching stoutly towards the eighties in a man whose Nonconformist strength of character is adorned by tender grace and affectionate contact with this fine personality must have had a powerful influence in forming the character and shaping the facts of a bright and gifted lad. From his childhood the future statesman was reared in the stimulating atmosphere of Liberal ideas. His father, who had that David Lloyd George—"ever a fighter"—was the verdict of his youthful contemporaries—along himself with ardor at the first opportunity into the championship of temperance, non-conformity and political rights. These were causes which he had learned on his own hearth-stone to revere as sacred.

A Village Hampden

The high-spirited lad was in his way to Hampden, and on more than one occasion he organized his school fellows to resist what he regarded as the encroachment of the church on the rights of conscience. Later, when he became a solicitor, he threw himself heart and soul into the Liberal cause. His spirit always flamed out against oppression, and he was eager to champion its victims; in fact, whether as a nonconformist, a poet, or to any humble worker, standing like a personal blow. Political ambitions awoke early in Mr. Lloyd George's heart. He paid his first visit to London in 1881, then a youth of eighteen. He had been seen from what has been termed the "back door" of the House of Commons, and he was eager to champion its victims; in fact, whether as a nonconformist, a poet, or to any humble worker, standing like a personal blow. Political ambitions awoke early in Mr. Lloyd George's heart. He paid his first visit to London in 1881, then a youth of eighteen. He had been seen from what has been termed the "back door" of the House of Commons, and he was eager to champion its victims; in fact, whether as a nonconformist, a poet, or to any humble worker, standing like a personal blow.

Future Colleagues

In these early years in the house of commons, Lloyd George used to write a pamphlet in Wales to the General (The Nation), published at Carnarvon. From these contributions the following extract is taken: "Mr. Asquith, the home secretary is a short, thick-set, rather round-shouldered man with a face as clean shaven as that of the most advanced curate, keen eyes, and a broad intellectual forehead. He is the hope of the rising generation of Radicals. He is only a few years over forty, and by the dying wish of a peer of the last generation, he has already won a prominent position as a nonconformist, being descended from a family of Yorkshire independents. He is more effective as a parliamentary debater. He speaks clearly and with great force, and his arguments with great brilliancy. He is considered, upon the whole, as the most promising politician in that of 1890-92."

Canada Doctors Prescribe and Recommend

The good results derived from Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey are the greatest tonic stimulant, among leading doctors, have been so marvelous that they feel it their duty to express themselves publicly for the benefit of the profession as well as the public health.

KNOWN IT FOR TWENTY YEARS.

"I might say that I have known Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for twenty years, and am happy to tell you that I consider it the purest and very best product of its kind on the market." Dr. J. J. A. Aswell, M.D., Rome, Quebec.

I OFTEN PRESCRIBE IT.

"I do not advocate indiscriminate use of alcohol, but I often prescribe Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey in moderate doses, especially for older people suffering from senile changes and debility. I order it to be taken during the principal meal of the day, and well diluted.

An important matter is to find a safe and reliable liquor. While I practiced my profession in Boston, Mass., which I did for twenty-five years, I had frequent occasion to order Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey among my elderly patients, and I must say the result was to their advantage." Prosper Bender, M. D., Quebec, Que.

BENEFICIAL RESULTS.

"I have employed Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey where indicated for a great many years with great success. I would not be without it, as it is pure and palatable. Have had the best results after lingering illness and in children and the old. Its low-proof and delicate flavor make it most acceptable and beneficial, hastening convalescence." J. P. Silverthorn, M. D., Clitham, Ont.

These are a few of the letters received from practicing physicians throughout Canada, who, like their brothers in the United States, realize that Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is the world's greatest, most reliable and the most nutritious tonic stimulant for building up the weak, aiding digestion and prolonging life.

RED SOX CAPTURE FIRST OF WORLD SERIES; ALL GIANTS' AT FIRST BUT BOSTON CLIMBS

HE WON IT

HE LOST IT

New York, Oct. 8.—The Boston Americans overcame the New York Nationals by a score of 4 to 3 today before more than 35,000 people in the first game of the world's series. The contest was nip and tuck all the way.

The Giants made a thrilling rally in the ninth inning when they nearly tied the score, but "Smoky Joe" Wood's bewildering speed turned the two Giant batters back to the bench on strikes for the last two pitouts and the Red Sox carried off the honors.

When victory perched on the banners of the Red Sox post, the Boston delegation marched down the field and Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston, who was a guest of Mayor Gaynor, led in the cheers for the players of both teams. Governor Egan, Post of Massachusetts and Governor Tener of Pennsylvania saw the contest.

A Hair-Raising Finish.

Rarely, if ever, has any world's series game provided such a dramatic finish. Two runs behind, the Giants' supporters had given up hope. Hundreds were leaving the stand when Merkle sent a single whistling to the outfield after one man was out. Even then the chance of tying the score seemed remote, but a "Texas leaguer" by Herzog, followed quickly by a smothering hit by the Indian, Meyers, who sent Merkle home, put the stands in a flame of excitement.

With Giants on second and third, those who stood in their seats and yelled. Fletcher swung his bat nervously at the plate while Joe Wood, white of face, seconded anxiously. The Red Sox (twirler) sent the grass hitched his belt, rubbed his hands and went back to the bench. Unsettled Fletcher and he swung futilely at Wood's fast breaking shoots over three runs were across the plate, and the Red Sox had a lead of two runs.

Manager Stahl placed his star pitcher, Joe Wood, on the mound. In only two innings was the Red Sox moundman hit hard and his dazzling speed continued undiminished until the last man had struck out. Wood fanned eleven batters. He gave only two bases on balls.

The Giants were the first to edge their way into the run column. Wood held them scoreless until the third inning, when Doyle put up a high fly to left which fell two feet back for either Gardner or Wagner to reach. Doyle reached second on the hit. Devereaux was held at third.

Then Murray proved the Giants' hero of the day. This player, who went hitless through last year's world's series, caught one of Wood's inbounds and sent the ball skimming over second for a single and brought Devereaux and Doyle over the plate.

Terreau's Finish.

Terreau was mighty until the sixth inning. Twenty Red Sox players had faced his quick-breaking moist ball before the first hit was made. That was a long drive for three bases by Speaker, who came home for the first run for the American Leaguers on an infield out by Duffy Lewis.

The seventh saw the end of Terreau. Three singles and a double sent three Boston players home and Manager McGraw was quick to see that the Boston bats at last solved Terreau's delivery.

Wagner started the trouble for Terreau in the seventh after Stahl had been retired by sending a line drive to center. Cady followed with another liner to center and Boston's delegation in the stand turned loose a lusty cheer. Wood forced Cady at second but Hooper shot a double past Merkle, putting Wagner over the plate and ending Wood to third.

Yerkes responded with a sharp drive over second and before the ball could be

IN THE CHURCHES

Mrs. Barnes and Mrs. T. J. Gunn were heard in two piano duets, Hew Walker sang a solo and gave a reading. The pastor of the church, Rev. Wilfrid Galt, gave a short address. Other speakers were Rev. J. L. Dawson, pastor of Centenary church; J. Willard Smith, Wm. Hawker, A. E. Gilmore and J. Turner. Refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed. The meetings in connection with the anniversary will be completed with a prayer service this evening.

In the schoolroom of German street, Baylye church last evening the quarterly business meeting was held. The work during the summer was reviewed. The reports were found very satisfactory. The social activities for the winter will be inaugurated on Thursday evening with a congregational social for members of the church and their friends.

U., and the city W. C. T. U. B. Wilson, worthy patriarch, presided. During the evening a pleasing programme of music and speeches was rendered.

Addresses were delivered by E. S. Hoeniger, Wm. Lawson, S. B. Heston, Rev. W. R. Robinson, E. N. Stockford, Mrs. J. McAvity, Mrs. Seymour, Mrs. Robinson, E. N. Stockford and Mrs. Estabrook. A GENTLE REMINDER.

Smith is a young New York lawyer, clever in many ways, but very forgetful. He was recently sent to St. Louis to interview an important client in regard to a case then pending in the Missouri courts. Teller the head of his firm received this telegram from St. Louis:

"I have the reply sent of client. Please write at once."

"Client's name Jenkins. Your name, Smith."

She entered the grocery store with a jar of marmalade in her hand and fish in her eye. "See here," she said to the clerk, "I bought this stuff because the card in your window says it's an excellent substitute for butter."

"Yes, ma'am, so it is."

"Well, it's a grand substitute, I must say. I tried from a bit of fish with this morning, and the taste was so awful I had to throw the fish all away." Boston Transcript.

My Digestion Is Now Good

And I Feel Like a Young Man Since Taking Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Prof. A. T. Smith.

What a horrible condition the digestive system gets into when the liver becomes sluggish and the bowels constipated. The poisonous waste matter is thrown back into the blood stream and finds its way into all parts of the body, causing pains and aches and feelings of fatigue and misery.

It is wonderful how quickly Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills sweep the poisons from the digestive system and enable the organs of digestion to resume their natural functions.

Prof. A. T. Smith, 1 Mt. Charles street, Montreal, and formerly of Boston, Mass., writes: "I suffered for many years from bad digestion, constipation and horrible headaches. I have been treated by many doctors without any result. One day a friend in Boston advised the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. After using two boxes I noticed great improvement and after the fourth box I was completely cured. My digestion is good. I never feel any pain in the back. My head is clear and I feel like a young man. I think Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are one of the best medicines on earth."

METHODIST MISSIONS, REV. MR. MARSHALL RESIGNS

Brandon, Ont., Oct. 8.—There was intense interest in this morning's session of the Methodist board of missions, when Rev. Dr. George J. Bonner, president, presented a resolution emanating from the foreign mission committee that was to go forward as an appeal to the church to meet the inadequacy of the income to meet the present situation.

The board, reads the resolution, "cannot extend its work either at home or abroad. Its operations in both China and Japan are hampered and seriously curtailed. It will be necessary to decide that not a single additional man can be sent to either of these strategic centres during the year."

The resolution spoke of the world's re-orientation and retreat as unworthy of the church, and made a ringing appeal for greater concentration and liberality.

The board gave hearty approval to the proposition for the appointment of three new mission superintendents, one for all Alberta, one for Saskatchewan and one for the northern Ontario and Quebec districts. It also appointed the Rev. Dr. Pennington, superintendent of missions for Newfoundland.

The resignation of the Rev. Thomas Marshall, superintendent of the missions in the maritime provinces, was accepted, and his successor will be appointed at once.

Mr. Webber is one of the most popular men in the theatrical profession, and he enjoys the distinction of being the oldest actor now appearing before the public.

RIGID INVESTIGATION WILL BE MADE INTO LATEST NEW HAVEN ROAD WRECK

Westport, Conn., Oct. 8.—A rigid investigation will be made into the fatal wreck on the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad at this place. The indications are that the disaster was due to the excessive speed at which the train, which was a few minutes behind time, was running when it struck the "cross-over" switch from one track to another. The rules of the road require that at such excessive speed must be reduced to fifteen miles an hour, but it is apparent that this rule was disregarded by Engineer Clark, who lost his life in the wreck. Though the railroad officials say that the train "was not going at excessive speed," passengers say that it was making thirty miles an hour. The accompanying pictures were made by flashlight a few hours after the wreck. The upper photograph shows a portion of the train which remained on the embankment, while the lower one shows the burned Pullman car in which several persons died.

RAILROAD MAN HAD TO LAY OFF

Until He Took GIN PILLS

Buffalo, N. Y.

"I have been a Pullman conductor on the C. P. R. and Michigan Central for the last three years.

About four years ago, I was laid up with intense pain in the groin, a very sore back, and suffered most severely when I tried to urinate.

I treated with my family physician for two months for Gravel in The Bladder, but did not receive any benefit. About that time, I met another railroad man who had been similarly affected and who had been cured by GIN PILLS, after having been given up by a prominent physician who treated him for Diabetes. He is now running on the road and is perfectly cured. He strongly advised me to try GIN PILLS which I did—with the result that the pains left me entirely."

HEAVY DRINKER CURED

Samaria Cured Him and He Cured Others

A man who has been released from the swirls of drink, and whose first thought is to help others, shows the spirit of true brotherhood and philanthropy. Read his letter:

"The Samaria Remedy Co., Toronto, Ont."

"Will you please send me book on drink, also circulars relating to your valued remedy for the drink habit. I wish to hand these to a friend who is going to ruin through drink. You will remember that I have taken your remedy, and I find it all what I claim it to be. I never think of taking or using strong drink in any way, as all desire for it has left me. I cannot speak too highly of your wonderful remedy. You may use my name in any way you wish in public."

"H. Lilywhite, Bridget, Ont."

Samaria Prescription is tasteless and colorless, and dissolves instantly in tea or coffee, or can be mixed with food. It can be given with or without the patient's knowledge. It removes the craving for drink, builds up the system and restores the nerves. Drink becomes distasteful and even nauseous.

Drink is a disease, not a crime. One drink of whiskey always invites another. The inflamed nerve and stomach create a craving that must either be satisfied by more whiskey or removed by scientific treatment like Samaria Prescription. Samaria Prescription has been in regular and successful use by physicians and hospitals for over ten years.

If you know of any family needing Samaria Prescription, tell them about it. If you have a husband, father or friend that is drifting into drink, help him save himself. Write today.

A FREE TRIAL PACKAGE of Samaria Prescription, with full particulars, testimonials, price list, will be sent absolutely free and postpaid in plain sealed package to anyone asking for it and mentioning this paper. Correspondence assuredly confidential. Write today.

J. M. Cornelius, an apirist of Sterling, Colo., awoke one morning last week to find that fifty pounds of honey had been stolen from his fifteen hives. He followed the dispossessed bees to the home of two brothers named Bennett, living a mile away. There he found the bees swarming about the house, while the Bennetts, bedegged, had shut the door and windows and were afraid to go out. Cornelius wrote warrants for the arrest of the Bennetts and they later admitted the theft.

DON'T GROW BALD, YOUNG MAN!

Take Care of Your Hair While You Have Hair to Take Care Of

It's a safe bet on one bet that the young man who uses PARISIAN Sage as an occasional hair dressing will never grow bald. There's a reason, of course, and it's a very good and sufficient one.

Dandruff germs cause falling hair and falling hair means thinner hair, and in the time baldness.

PARISIAN Sage prevents baldness, by destroying the cause of baldness—the little persistent voracious dandruff germs. If you have dandruff or itching scalp it means that dandruff germs are sapping the vitality from the roots of your hair. Get rid of all hair troubles by using PARISIAN Sage.

It is not a dye, mind you, neither does it contain poisonous sugar of lead or even sulphur. It is a scientific preparation that abolishes dandruff, stops falling hair and scalp itch, and makes hair grow lustrous and luxuriant.

Many young women as well as men are growing bald and for the same reason. Use delightful, refreshing PARISIAN Sage; it nourishes the hair roots, if the roots are not dead, and brings to every use a head of glorious hair—radiant and fascinating. Large bottle for 50 cents at drug stores and toilet counters. See that you get PARISIAN Sage.

All druggists guarantee it.

For the ten mile road race, the entries include Coward of Fredericton, Stirling, Chambers and Victor Williams of St. John and Smith of East St. John. Entries close at noon tomorrow.

MIGHT HAVE BEEN WORSE.
About eleven o'clock this morning a street car collided with Wallace's motor wagon at the crossing at the corner of St. James and Carmarthen streets. The driver did not see the car, and the motor man could not stop quickly enough. No damage was done beyond throwing the wagon aside, but the incident suggests that cars should approach crossings with great care.

WAY CLEAR NOW FOR THE EXTENSION

Agreement for Crossing I. C. R. Received by Manager Hopper—Street Railway Has Constantly Been Striving to Get Crossing Rights

H. M. Hopper, manager of the street railway this morning received from D. Pottinger a signed copy of the agreement under which the street car company's line to Kane's corner is to cross the Intercolonial's spur track by a double-diamond crossing. This dispenses of the trouble about crossing the I. C. R., and so soon as the city engineer has given the street railway, in proper form, the definite location of the track, work can be begun.

The steel double diamond crossing was to be manufactured in Great Britain, but now Mr. Hopper says it will have to be made in Montreal in order to save time. He says also that as his company has from $35,000 to $38,000 worth of material waiting for this extension, on which it will have to pay interest without return for some time, it ought to be clear that the company is anxious to get its cars running without delay. The time required to complete the work will depend on the supply of labor and the speed with which the diamond crossing can be secured. The distance to Kane's corner is about two-thirds of a mile, and it is regretted by many that the city and the street railway could not have agreed concerning the double track and so made one job of it. From Kane's corner to Lee's brickyard, about two miles, is a matter between the street railway and the county authorities and it is now believed they will have no further difficulty.

No doubt railway's file of letters, telegrams and telephone messages shows clearly enough that the company has, ever since last February, been pressing the Department of Railways to get the master of crossing the I. C. R. cleared up. The day has been at Ottawa rather than here, as an inspection of the documents clearly proves. As it stands the I. C. R. authorities have insisted upon a stiff agreement and the street railway has consented to almost everything proposed. There is talk among business men of seeking to reopen the negotiations for double-tracking to Kane's corner in order to leave no doubt regarding the will of the people. The vote cast was not large but was larger than had been expected in view of the general indifference of the citizens.

It is said to be unlikely that any further steps will be taken in the matter. A union of the clerks has been suggested. The total number of votes cast was 2917 of which 1068 were in favor of the proposed law and 1849 against, a majority of 781 in favor of the measure. An error was caused in the morning papers by a mistake made by the returning officer in Brooks ward who returned his figures in announcing the results and who did not turn his box in at City Hall until this morning.

The boxes were opened this morning by the common clerk and the official announcement of the result made as follows:

An Error in Carleton Ward—The Corrected Figures in Yesterday's Voting

The early closing law submitted to the electors yesterday under the provisions of the initiative clause of the new city charter was rejected by a majority of sufficient size to leave no doubt regarding the will of the people. The vote cast was not large but was larger than had been expected in view of the general indifference of the citizens.

It is said to be unlikely that any further steps will be taken in the matter. A union of the clerks has been suggested.
