FIFTY-FOUR LIVES NOW THOUGHT TO BE TOLL OF THE ARABIC DISASTER

Two Americans Among Passengers Lost—Forty-five Known Dead and Nine Missing—Grave Concern Regarding Fate of White Star Liner Lapland from New York for Liverpool With Passengers and War Munitions.

London, Aug. 20.—At least five passengers, two of whom were Americans, and forty members of the crew lost their lives when the White Star liner Arabic was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine off Fastnet yesterday morning. Nine other passengers are missing and are believed to have perished.

The two Americans who went down with the ship were Mrs. Josephine Bruguiere, of New York, and Edmund T. Woods. The former was thrown into the water and was kept afloat for some time by her son Louis, who was forced to relinquish his hold when he was struck by a piece of wreckage. Nothing was seen of Woods after the steamer was struck.

Most of the missing members of the crew belonged to the engineers staff. They remained at their posts and went down with the ship. Captain Finch and the other officers of the Arabic assert the submarine gave them no warning. They declare the torpedo was fired as they were going to the rescue of the steamer Dunsley, which had been torpedoed, presumably by the same submarine.

That the loss of life was not much heavier was due to the preparations made by the officers, in view of the possibility of an attack while passing through the "war zone." To the fine weather which prevailed, and to the splendid discipline maintained by the crew. Lifeboats had been placed on the decks, and the lifeboats swung out. As soon as the ship was struck rafts were flung over the side. Many of the passengers and crew who were thrown into the water climbed on board these rafts, or were placed aboard by persons already upon them.

The Americans who reached Queenstown were cared for by the United States consul. With the other passengers they left Ireland for England tonight. They lost their baggage, and many of them were borrowed clothing until the consul had provided for them.

The Arabic carried 2,613 bags of mail, mostly for the United States. The mail included several hundred bags from Sweden, Norway, Holland, Switzerland, Spain and other countries.

The Arabic was one of eleven British steamers sunk during the last forty-eight hours, four being reported yesterday and seven today. It was reported this evening that the Bovik, of the White Star Line, also had been sunk, but this later was denied. Three Norwegian and one Spanish steamer, engaged in trade with England, also were sent to the bottom.

Previous despatches from London have announced positively the sinking of only ten British steamers in the past two days. It is their belief that the Dunsley is the eleventh, although there still seems to be some doubt as to whether this vessel went down after being torpedoed.

New York, Aug. 21.—The British censor apparently silenced today the wires leading to the White Star Line here from England. Only one despatch relating to the sinking of the Arabic—a message detailing certain changes in previous lists of survivors and missing—escaped his blue pencil.

The lack of definite news from abroad was balanced by a host of rumors that tried the nerves of officials and left them tonight in a keen state of apprehension as to the fate of at least one more big steamer in or near the war zone, the Lapland, which sailed August 12 from this port for Liverpool with 318 passengers, including thirteen Americans, and a capacity cargo of war munitions and other supplies.

Another report stated that the liner Bovik, a freighter departing from New York, August 8, with a big cargo, but no passengers, for Manchester, had met the Arabic's fate. Word that the Bovik had been sunk was received in a press despatch here from London at 5.38 p.m. today. In a later Press Association cable from London, however, the reported sinking of the Bovik was declared to be untrue. The despatch added that the steamer had arrived safely at Liverpool today, and proceeded to Manchester.

A third report dealt with the steamer Nicosian of the Leyland Line, a subsidiary of the International Mercantile Marine Company, owners of the White Star Line. A rumor that she, too, had been destroyed by a German U boat, was current, but like many similar rumors that agitated ship owners here recently, lacked verification.

Coupled with this rumor, whose source could not be learned, was the report that she was a troop ship. This was disproved by maritime records, which showed that she sailed from New Orleans, August 1, for Avonmouth and Liverpool. The Nicosian is a slow steamer and shipping men estimated that she was just about due to arrive in war zone waters. She carried no passengers. The Nicosian is a new boat, built in 1912.

Anxiety About the Lapland.
Officials of the White Star Line were frankly anxious about the Lapland. The same report of disaster having overtaken her was current in Queenstown too. A cable despatch from there, however, said that it was thought probable that the Lapland was confused with the Bristol liner New York City which fell prey to a submarine yesterday. The New York City's crew of 53 and her captain were landed at Queenstown today.

This vessel, likewise, was a British liner. She was a freighter and left this port July 26 with a cargo for Bristol which she landed safely. On Aug. 18 the New York City left Bristol in ballast on her return trip. Her agents here received confirmation of her sinking late today.

Queenstown's interpretation of the disturbing rumors about the Lapland failed, however, to give much comfort to the Lapland's owners. The Lapland, a Red Star liner, under charter to the White Star Line, sailed from this port with 318 passengers and a large and valuable cargo on the afternoon of August 12. She was delayed two hours in getting away by the last minute arrival of a quantity of Virginia tobacco in hogsheads, which had to be taken aboard, and by the work of lashing several cases of motor trucks to her main deck. When she steamed down the Hudson it was remarked that she was loaded heavily and lay low in the water.

The usual rigid inspection of merchandise and baggage taken aboard was applied in her case, private detectives aiding the officials in examining baggage.

She was expected to arrive in Liverpool late tonight or tomorrow morning, and the fact that she was due in the war zone added to the apprehension of the line officials here.

Apparent Success of Hun Plan To Time Land Drive With Attack Upon Russians From The Baltic

While Fleet Engages Czar's Warships in Gulf of Riga Germans Continue to Make Advances by Land — Fortress of Novo Georgievsk Succumbs With Loss of Many Guns and Much War Material.

Petrograd, Aug. 20, via London, Aug. 21.—A German fleet has penetrated the Gulf of Riga and is engaged with Russian warships, defending the coast, according to an official statement issued tonight at the Russian War Office. The communication follows:

"Strong forces of the German fleet have penetrated the Gulf of Riga, and fighting with our ships continues.

"On land, on the whole front, from the west of Riga to the Lower Biliya, there has been no essential change. After the occupation of the Kovno fortifications by the Germans the remainder of the garrison rejoined our forces, occupying positions west of the railway from Janow to Kochedary, south of Kovno. Our troops still are on the left bank of the Niemen.

"From Osowetz southward, and still further along the whole front of the Upper Narew and the Bug, in the course of the 18th and 19th, the Germans made strong attacks. On the right bank of the Narew, in the region of Strenkova and Gaura, in the Strabiel-Wielka, and near Lipniz, thirteen miles northwest of Brest-Litovsk in the sectors attacked, our troops continue to withstand the enemy. Our cavalry assisted in repulsing a German offensive near Lipniz, attacking the German infantry in strong forces.

"On the Bug, the enemy, having occupied the right bank of the river since the morning of the 19th, directed his ulterior efforts along the road leading to Peshoka.

"Near Novo Georgievsk, after occupying the left bank of the Wkra the Germans concentrated all their efforts northwest of the Wkra, as far as the Vistula. By an incessant bombardment with a hurricane of projectiles they almost completely destroyed our fortifications. In this section on the evening of the 18th the Germans surrounded one fort in the region of Ymwelow and afterwards, despite enormous losses, directed their columns on the rear of the Zakroczyzn sector. This compelled our troops on the night of the 19th to retire on the line of the former forts forming the central defense. In the course of the following day, having destroyed by their fire two of these forts, the Germans, by a series of sanguinary assaults occupied their ruins, from which they directed their fire against the central defenses. We blew up the bridge over the Narew, and the forts we abandoned in the northern sector."

A powerful German fleet has been attempting, since August 8, to force an entrance into the Gulf of Riga, which would permit them to give assistance to their army, which occupies the western coast of the gulf. The Russian official statement indicates that they have accomplished their purpose, probably penetrating through the Dirben Channel, which is the only practicable way for large ships to enter the gulf.

The Russians asserted that their warships and seaplanes were successful on the 8th in repulsing nine German battleships and twelve cruisers, with a large number of torpedo boat destroyers. The Germans asserted this attack merely was a reconnaissance to determine the position of Russian mines.

A German admiralty statement issued August 11, said that German cruisers drove off Russian torpedo boats which appeared near the entrance of the gulf the preceding day, in spite of repeated attacks by Russian submarines.

A Petrograd official statement, issued this morning, admitted that Russian warships, protecting the entrance to the gulf had drawn in closer owing to the great superiority of the enemy's fleet.

London, Aug. 20.—The garrison of the fortress of Novo Georgievsk, which was left behind by Grand Duke Nicholas when he commenced the evacuation of Poland, to delay the advance of the German invaders, after accomplishing its task for just a fortnight, has succumbed to the heavy siege artillery of the Germans, which throughout the war has made every fort attacked by it untenable.

Berlin was able today to announce the capture of the fortress, with its seven hundred guns and a large quantity of war material. The spoils have not yet been estimated, but they probably are large, as it had been hoped by the Russians that the earthworks around the fortified camp would enable it to hold out much longer than it has done. It is now expected by the military observers that the other Russian fortresses, such as Brest-Litovsk, Grodno and Osowetz, either will be captured or given up.

GENERAL GERMAN OFFENSIVE.

After the fall of Kovno, Field Marshal Von Hindenberg's army commenced again an offensive along the whole front, from the Gulf of Riga to Kovno, with the object of taking Riga and the whole Warsaw-Petrograd railway from Vilna northward. He is meeting with stubborn resistance and may be denied even the possession of Riga, unless the German fleet succeeds in entering the Gulf of Riga.

South of Kovno, as far as Grodno, the Russian armies, after the fall of Kovno fell back toward the Niemen river, and here, according to the German official account, they are offering fresh resistance, in the hope of preventing or delaying the envelopment of the northern flank of the Brest-Litovsk line.

ANOTHER PRESSING DANGER.

There seemingly is danger of this line being forced by direct attack. Six Austro-German armies, strengthened by the corps which have

DETAILS OF SCHEME TO AID DISABLED SOLDIERS HAVE BEEN COMPLETED

Special to The Standard.
Ottawa, Aug. 20.—Details of the scheme for aiding disabled soldiers who come back from the war are nearly completed and a definite announcement will be made tomorrow by Senator J. A. A number of large contributions are already in sight for the fund that will be raised for the purpose, and an opportunity will be given for contributions from all parts of the Dominion. The money will be used where necessary, to supplement the pensions received by the men and on account of the large number of men who will be coming home disabled a very considerable fund will be required.

Berlin, Aug. 20, via London.—The following official announcement has been made by the Admiralty:

"During the forenoon of August 19, the British submarine E-13 was destroyed at the southern outlet of The Sound."

London, Aug. 21.—A Reuter despatch from Copenhagen says fifteen members of the crew of the British submarine which ran aground Thursday in The Sound were saved. Fourteen of the others lost their lives, and the fifteenth has not been found.

GETS SEVEN YEARS IN DORCHESTER FOR STEALING

St. Stephen, Aug. 20.—William Cripps and Harold Mann, who were arrested last Saturday on the charge of breaking and entering several buildings, and stealing electrical equipment from autos and motor boats, were tried at St. Andrew by Judge Carleton today, under the Speedy Trials Act. Cripps, who is an old offender, was sentenced to seven years in the Dorchester Penitentiary, and Mann was allowed out on probation.

WASHINGTON, LACKING OFFICIAL DETAILS, IS SILENT ABOUT ARABIC

Many Matters to be Considered Before Deciding that Germany's Action was "Deliberately Unfriendly"—President Wilson Awaits Reports from Ambassador Page and Vice-Consul Thompson—No Attempt to Minimize Seriousness of Situation.

Washington, Aug. 20.—The official details upon which President Wilson will decide whether the sinking of the White Star liner Arabic was an act deliberately unfriendly to the United States were still lacking today and meanwhile the president and all other administration officials, while realizing fully the gravity of the new situation between the United States and Germany were keeping their minds open.

President Wilson left the White House early to motor to Philadelphia to visit his oculist and motor back to the capital this evening. When he has a deep problem in his mind it is the president's habit to seek seclusion, often riding through the countryside. No officials here doubted that he was giving hours of thought to the Arabic case.

Only two official despatches had been received and they gave the fruits of an independent investigation, merely transmitting the reports of the White Star Line. The United States will decide its course upon the reports of its own officials.

Ambassador Page forwarded a White Star report that the ship was torpedoed without warning and Vice-Consul Thompson at Queenstown made a similar report. Neither accounted for Mrs. Josephine Bruguiere nor Dr. Edmund Woods, the two Americans still missing.

While officials here are keeping their minds open during the hours which will be required for assembling the official evidence they are thinking about these points: whether any Americans have been lost and whether the Arabic actually was torpedoed without warning.

Whether the Arabic, by having been conveyed on the beginning of her voyage, had, under international law, partaken of the character of her conveyance.

and waived her right as a non-combatant.

Whether by proceeding to the vicinity of the steamer Dunsley, which had just previously been torpedoed, the Arabic's commander introduced any qualifying circumstances by violating the rule of the British Admiralty which forbids a ship to risk itself by attempting to assist another which has been torpedoed.

A view prevailed that an attempt by the Arabic to succor those on another torpedoed ship was justified and was not affected by the British Admiralty rule which was made as a matter of policy for warships and was not a matter of international right. Whether the Arabic's movements toward the Dunsley might be interpreted as an attempt to ram the submarine is another point to be developed.

Secretary of State Lansing refused to discuss these or any other features of the case.

There is no attempt in official quarters to minimize the situation confronting the president if investigation develops a violation of American rights in defiance of the last note to Germany which gave notice in final terms that "another sinking like that of the Lusitania would be considered an act 'deliberately unfriendly'."

The prospect of severance of diplomatic relations with Germany again came forward but it is understood that if that course should be decided upon it would not immediately be announced.

Certain arrangements to transfer to some other neutral, the humanitarian trusts in the war zone which the United States has undertaken would first be necessary. Officials awaited developments hardly without a trace of agitation but with evidence of sober earnestness which portrayed their concern for a situation which admittedly never has been more grave.

BULGARIAN OFFICIAL IN WASHINGTON ADMITS HIS COUNTRY MAY JOIN ALLIES

New York, Aug. 20.—A despatch from Washington to the Evening Sun says:

"Though not officially advised of it the Bulgarian legation here did not discredit an unconfirmed report current in Washington today that Bulgaria had already joined the Allies.

"It is not impossible," said First Secretary Poulloff of the legation, "that my country has done so."

LAUNDRYMEN JOIN STRIKERS IN BRIDGEPORT

Labor unrest spreads to several more plants—Reported strike of Electric Cable Co. employees reported.

Bridgeport, Conn., Aug. 20.—Labor unrest was a prevailing condition in many Bridgeport industrial plants today. It was reported that employees of the Bryant Electric Company, the Electric Cable Company, the Star Shirt Company, and in two laundries have gone out, and that other departments in the Salts Textile plant are closed because of additions to the strikers' ranks. The number of strikers is said to exceed 2,000.

SWISS CONSUL-GENERAL IN CANADA DECLARES HIS COUNTRY WILL REMAIN STRICTLY NEUTRAL

Montreal, Aug. 20.—Denial of the rumor published in newspapers a few days ago that Switzerland was likely to enter the war on the side of Germany was made by Mr. Henry Martin, Swiss consul general, Montreal, in an interview tonight. Such a rumor was unwarranted and unfair, he said. "Switzerland is resolved to maintain the strict principles of neutrality," he declared. In proof of this he quoted a recent law passed in Switzerland for the censorship of the press, for the purpose of avoiding friction with the belligerents.

been invading Novo Georgievsk, are converging on the Russian centre which is behind the Bug and along the railway from Brest-Litovsk to Bialystok, and no doubt will soon commence a bombardment of Brest-Litovsk.

Other armies have cleared the whole of the left bank of the Bug before Brest-Litovsk, while Field Marshal Von Mackensen having crossed the Bug is advancing on the fortress from the south. This means that the obstacle of the marshes has been circumvented and that Brest-Litovsk, the chief military depot and concentration centre of Russia, is virtually enveloped. Although military observers are of the opinion that the Grand Duke probably again will be able to withdraw his army in safety, the loss of these lines is considered a graver military misfortune than the loss of Warsaw.

HEAVY GUNS WIN SUCCESS

The German success has been due almost entirely to their great superiority in artillery, and the military critics express the belief that as long as they maintain this and continue to press forward the Russians must retire before them, while the Russian armies remain intact, however, these critics are optimistic as to the future.

Emperor William, who is reported to have arrived at Novo Georgievsk, will, it is understood, make a state entry into Warsaw, and there let it be known by an announcement what the future status of Poland will be.

QUIET IN WEST AND IN GALLIOLI

Along the western front there have been some spurts of liveliness in the fighting, but nothing that could be called a battle.

It is now evident that the fresh landing of British troops at Suva Bay, on the Gallipoli peninsula, robbed of its element of surprise by the appearance of Turkish reinforcements, has proved somewhat of a disappointment, the only gain being that another strip of the peninsula is in the possession of the Allies, and more Turkish troops must be employed against them.

While on her way up to the Baltic to help the Russians the British submarine E-13 grounded on the Danish island of Saltholm, in The Sound, according to an Admiralty statement. A Berlin official announcement says the underwater boat was "destroyed," at the southern outlet of The Sound. Fifteen members of the crew of thirty of the E-13 are missing.

FIFTY-FOUR LIVES LOST ON THE ARABIC

Was Arabic Convoys

P. A. S. Franklin, receiver of the International Mercantile Marine Company, endeavored to learn by cable whether the Arabic was conveyed. The significance of an armed convoy, he said, was such that an entirely new aspect would be placed on the incident, should it be established, as some reports have intimated, that a British warship was conveying her or had been conveying her a short time before the torpedo was fired.

Failing to obtain an answer to his inquiries, Mr. Franklin collected the newspaper reports of the sinking and the accounts of survivors landed at Queenstown. After he had digested them all, he announced his belief that the steamer had not been conveyed. He based this opinion, he said, on the printed accounts he had read and on his own belief that he would have been notified had there been a conveyance.

"No word had been received from the British Admiralty," Mr. Franklin said, "that the vessel would be conveyed. No agreement was made to convey her. To the best of my knowledge there was no conveyance, and I think I would have been advised if there had been one."

Had the vessel been conveyed, Mr. Franklin agreed, she would have been subject to attack by a submarine, without warning.

There were few personal inquiries concerning the Arabic at the White Star Line today. It was announced, however, that the offices would be kept open till midnight to answer inquiries and in the hope that further details would be received by cable during the evening.

Reported Another White Star Liner Has Been Sunk.

Queenstown, Aug. 20.—A report was circulated here today that the White Star liner Lapland had been sunk. There was no confirmation of this report, and it is considered probable that the Lapland was confused with the British steamer New York City, torpedoed yesterday, whose crew was landed here today.

The Lapland, a Red Star liner, under charter to the White Star Line, sailed from New York on August 12 for Liverpool. She is due in Liverpool late today or early tomorrow.

New York, Aug. 20.—James R. Arkoll and Company, agents for the Bristol Line, announced tonight that they had received a cable dispatch from England confirming the report of the torpedoing of the steamship New York City, a freighter of that line. The dispatch stated that the New York City was sunk on Thursday at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The ship left Bristol for New York on August 18.

London, Aug. 20.—The British steamer Bovic has been sunk.

Denied.

London, Aug. 20.—The report that the steamer Bovic had been sunk is untrue, according to the Press Association, which says the steamer arrived at Liverpool today and proceeded to Manchester.

London, Aug. 20.—A dispatch to Reuters' Telegraph Company from Haugesund, Norway, says the Norwegian steamer Bras, a vessel of 1,351 tons, has been sunk. The crew were saved.

Available shipping records do not contain the steamer Bras.

LEG BADLY TORN IN MOTOR BOAT ENGINE SHAFT

Kenneth Livingstone had serious accident on river last night — Brought to General Public Hospital.

Kenneth Livingstone, the seventeen-year-old son of Colin H. Livingstone, of Washington, D. C., who has been spending the summer at Carter's Point had his right leg badly mangled when it was caught in the shaft coupling in a motor boat last evening shortly after six o'clock.

He was on his way to Westfield in a boat owned by E. L. Jarvis. The boy was taken to the General Public Hospital where the wound was dressed. At a late hour last night he was resting as comfortably as could be expected.

A portion of the flesh of the leg was torn away, making an ugly wound. Last summer young Livingstone fractured his arm while at his summer home.

He and three other young men were in a Chinese restaurant, and a quarrel arose. Chinamen stabbed two of the party and Pittman and the other, who was lame, left the place. Chinamen followed and attacked the lame man. Pittman interfered for his protection and was fatally stabbed. The lame man escaped unharmed.

House Warning.

A pleasant event took place at Morna, on the St. John River, Thursday night, when a number of friends assembled at the home of A. Gunter McMullin, of the City Chamberlain's office, and tendered him a house warming. Mr. McMullin has just recently had constructed at this little suburban village a neat and artistic summer home, and in commemoration of the completion of the same the house warming took place. The event was a happy one and participated in by most of the residents of Morna.

KITCHENER INSPECTING HIS FORCES

British War Lord on the Battle Front with French Minister of War.

British Headquarters in France, Aug. 20, via London, Aug. 21.—Field Marshal Earl Kitchener, the British Secretary of State for War, and Alexandre Millerand, the French Minister of War, who were here as the guests of Sir John French, commander of the British forces on the continent, have completed a four days' tour of inspection of the British and French fronts, the second one they have made.

Earl Kitchener visited points which his time did not permit him to reach on his previous tour. Wherever the two war ministers went their fast autos arrived and departed punctually on the minute, and the crowded programme of these responsible heads of the two armies read, for example, something like the following:

3.45 p. m. Inspect a battalion of engineers; 4.15 p. m. inspect a regiment of Canadians; 4.45 p. m. inspect hospitals for convalescents; 5.00 p. m. meet divisional commanders of certain armies.

The War Ministers examined various types of French mortars and saw them fired. At parade one of the divisions was inspected, and Earl Kitchener publicly presented the British Distinguished Service Order, sent by King George, to Captain Doumayon, a French army officer and aide to Minister of War Millerand, as a reward for the part the officer had played in his important diplomatic and military role in co-operation with the Allied governments, and in co-ordinating the work of the Allied armies.

The tall figure of Earl Kitchener, clad in khaki and with a blaze of colors on his breast, and the sturdy form of the French War Minister, in his civilian clothes, made a striking contrast as the two men stood side by side and reviewed crack regiments of the British army as the troops marched past.

Today Earl Kitchener spent two hours with the commander of the British first army.

His 104th Birthday

Louis Smith, one of St. John's well known residents, celebrated his 104th birthday yesterday. He is a Crimean War veteran, but has been residing in this city for many years. He conducts a garden in Somerset street and he and his wheelbarrow are almost daily seen in the streets. He is still vigorous and enjoying good health.

BANK AWALGAMATION WILL NOT BE ALLOWED

Minister of Finance says amalgamation of Bank of Hamilton and Royal Bank not in public's interest.

Special to The Standard.

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—With regard to the tentative proposals for the amalgamation of the Royal Bank and the Bank of Hamilton, which have been placed before him, the Minister of Finance stated this evening that after giving the matter very careful consideration he had reached the conclusion that, as both the banks in question are strong, favorably known and well established institutions and are actual and potential competitive factors in the Canadian banking field, it would not be in the public interest that he should give the consent required from him under the terms of the Bank Act and the parties have been notified accordingly.

A Still Alarm

FINE CROP OF LATE FRUITS

Orchards in Fine Condition—Quality High

Peaches, plums and grapes are in excellent shape, according to the growers and shippers. The trees and vines have not borne as heavily as usual, but the growers find compensation in the extra high quality. They believe they will get about as much for their output as in former years. It would be wise for Canadian households to take advantage of the splendid quality and put down liberal quantities—more than usual. Canadian Clubs and Red Cross Societies are asking for canned fruit—not jam—to send to our boys in the trenches. This good work should be encouraged and "every lady in the land" should put down an extra supply. The Red Cross Society will furnish glass jars (for this purpose only), at 50c a dozen, including a carrying case.

The peelers are making special window display of Canadian fruit. The many artistic and beautiful effects are worth looking for. Triumph, the earliest yellow flesh peach, also Early Rivers and Alexandras, are now being offered. In plums, Gages and Burbanks have the call this week.

IN THE BALKANS.

The despatches of yesterday contained the intimation that the requests of Bulgaria had been accepted and that she would at once cast her lot with the Allies against the Teutonic-Turkish combination. The Bulgarian army is estimated to number in the vicinity of 400,000 men, organized on the Austrian system, and well equipped for war. Consequently, she is likely to be in a position to render assistance of value, particularly in the campaign against the Turks in the Dardanelles. The successful completion of which means so much to operations on the other fields.

Greece is still to be heard from, but if an agreement with Bulgaria has actually been reached it may have an appreciable effect on Greece, as doubtless one of the causes tending to keep King Constantine neutral was the fear that if Greece entered the war and became weakened thereby, Bulgaria would be in a position to dominate the Balkan situation.

While some weeks ago it was likely that Roumania would join the Allies, competent observers do not now regard this probability as so strong. The most recent trend in Bucharest appears to favor neutrality. However it is doubtful if Roumania could remain aloof with Serbia, Bulgaria, Greece and Montenegro all united against the Teuton and the Turk. Once Bulgaria's entry is assured the situation in the Balkans should develop rapidly, and that development cannot but tend to the disadvantage of Germany.

The Toronto Mail and Empire takes the view that the intervention of Bulgaria, Roumania and Greece would be of comparatively little advantage in so far as shortening the war is concerned. The Mail and Empire says: "It has been argued that the intervention of Bulgaria, Roumania and Greece upon the side of the Allies would appreciably shorten the war. It might be argued that their decision to remain neutral would shorten the war. What tends to lengthen the war is not the neutrality or pro-ally belligerency of these nations, but the uncertainty as to their action. Once we know definitely what they intend to do the war will enter upon a new phase. On the whole, an announcement that these powers would remain neutral in all circumstances would prove a powerful stimulus to the nations now engaged with Germany. It would bring home to us the fact that it is by our own exertions we must be saved, and not by the exertions of Greeks, Bulgarians and Roumanians; and this is the fact that needs to be emphasized. For many months we looked anxiously at Italy, confidently assuring each other that when Italy came in, as she was sure to do, she would rapidly invade Austria, detach great Austrian forces from the eastern of the southern front, thus making possible the interruption of Russia over the plains of Hungary and the long-expected push upon the west. Italy has come in and is doing her best. The war remains much as before.

If Roumania, Greece and Bulgaria should decide to throw in their lot with the Allies it is likely that their operations would be exclusively confined to the attack upon Turkey. It is not likely that Greek soldiers would be found opposing Bavarians, or Roumanians charging Prussians, except those found in command of the Turks. Without the help of the Balkan powers the Dardanelles will be forced, and it may be that within a month, in fact by the time that Bulgaria or Roumania or Greece could get any large armies into operation, the need for them by the Allies will have passed. In other words, the Allies, who have done without the Balkan States for a year, would be able to do without them altogether. A definite refusal on the part of the three nations upon which the eyes of the world are now fixed to join with Britain, France, Russia and Italy would be a warning to the Allies that they must make greater efforts; that they must rely upon themselves alone, just as Germany relies upon herself. There is something almost humiliating for such great powers as are now in arms against the Teutons to be going wistfully at three little nations to come to their assistance. Combined, the three of them have not the potential strength left unused in Australia and Canada."

However well founded the Mail and Empire's view may be the fact remains that every thousand soldiers added to the forces of the Allies, increases the odds against Germany by just that much and in the end it is superiority of men and munitions that must win this war.

FIGHT OR PAY.

With the Empire at war it is the duty of every man under the British flag either to do his part in the actual fighting or to contribute his share of the funds being raised by voluntary subscription to carry on works incidental to the great conflict.

Up to the present New Brunswick has not contributed its proportionate share, either of men to fight the Empire's battles or money to carry on the various necessary undertakings.

It is very easily figured out. The last Canadian census gave the population of Canada as something more than 7,200,000 people and up to the present Canada has sent to the front, or has in training in various centres 150,000 men, or about one to every 48 of population. The population of the Province of New Brunswick was given as about 350,000 people, and on this basis the number of volunteers from this province should be in the vicinity of 7,200. To date it is doubtful if we have sent more than half as many. Apparently there is a very plain duty facing our young men.

The story of the enlistment is the story of contributions to the various funds. New Brunswick has not done its share. True there is not as much wealth here as in some of the larger provinces; but have the wealthy men of this province gone the limit in the matter of contributions to war objects? The Canadian Patriotic Fund is diminishing while the demands on its coffers will continue to grow with every battalion sent over seas. If something is not done it will, in time, become exhausted and then what will happen?

Canada has not yet commenced to feel the burden of this war to any thing like the same extent as the people of Great Britain or her Allies. Young Canadians when asked to enlist have complained that the men of British birth are not answering the call and that when they go it will be time enough to call on the native Canadians. The argument is nonsensical. In a crisis such as this there should be no talk of British born or Canadian born, the title Empire born should cover all classes. But if it is desired to engage in comparisons of that sort we invite attention to the casualty lists of those Canadian regiments which have been in action. It will be found that in a great majority of cases the home of the "next of kin" of the soldiers, usually a fairly accurate indication of the nativity of the men themselves, is given as in the British Isles. Canadians have been proud to refer to themselves as of the Empire. In times of peace they have enjoyed all the privileges and liberty that the Empire flag affords. In time of war they should be willing to fight for that flag or pay for it. There can be no evasion of the issue, Canadians have a duty and an urgent one. For those able to fight the recruiting office is the place. For those unable to go to the front the patriotic and other funds afford an avenue of "doing one's bit." It should not be necessary to have to urge the men of New Brunswick to fight or pay. It is their plain duty to do one or the other.

THE WAR ON THE SEAS.

During the past week or ten days German submarines have succeeded in torpedoing a score or more of British vessels but, with the exception of the Royal Edward and the Arabic, their activities did not result in the taking of many lives. In the Royal Edward case several hundred soldiers and sailors were sent to the bottom, while on the Arabic the loss of life was less than forty.

The destruction in one week of two vessels such as the Royal Edward and the Arabic will naturally cause nervous people to express some fear lest, after all, the German underwater craft prove a determining factor in the conduct so far as it is to be determined on the seas. But it should be remembered that the volume of shipping plying to and from the ports of Great Britain and her allies is so enormous that the steamers falling prey to the enemy form but a very small proportion of the whole. Despite the fact that Great Britain is engaged in war with a nation that for years has longed to challenge her supremacy on the sea the trade routes have been kept open and the flow of supplies and men has been scarcely interrupted.

This is in direct contrast to the condition in Germany. The German merchant marine has been swept from the seas. Germany is unable to transport supplies, by water, from any country direct to German ports. The blockade maintained by the British navy is absolutely effective, while of the boasted warships of the Kaiser not one is on the waves, if we except those in the Kiel waterways and the Baltic. On two occasions since the war opened did the German naval vessels offer to meet British ships in combat, once off the coast of South America and once in the Bight of Heligoland. Each time the British ships were victorious, and the moral effect of those engagements has been such that the German High Admiral has not dared to engage in similar tests.

Tragedies such as the torpedoing of the Royal Edward and the Arabic are bound to occur and cause momentary anxiety, but they cannot have any effect on the outcome of the war. Nor can such German successes change the inevitable result when the battle fleets of Great Britain and Germany lock in conflict; if that day ever comes the triumph of British sea power will be sweeping and complete.

First man you 'appen to meet
May be a 'Un disguised;
Robbing a church 'is 'is prize,
Burning a village 'is fun;
Ask it, and echo replies,
What is the use of the 'Un?

Trampling the weak under feet,
Jeering 'is victims that die,
Babies 'e kills in the street,
Dropping 'is bombs from the skies
Out of the dusk as 'e flies:
Soon as you turn, 'e will run;
When you 'it back, then 'e cries,
What is the use of the 'Un?
Kaiser, you'll 'ave your surprise:
Wait, for we've 'ardly begun.
You'll 'ave to tell the Allies,
What is the use of the 'Un?

That Angel Story

(Toronto Globe)
In a letter from a lady who has been in the mistle field for years, and who writes from London, England, to her brother, who is one of the most prominent citizens in Toronto, is the following passage, which has had wide circulation in Great Britain:

"Last Tuesday I met Miss M. (daughter of the canon), and she told me she knew two officers, both of whom had themselves seen the angels who saved their left wing from the Germans when they came right upon them during the retreat from Mons. They expected annihilation, as they were almost helpless, when, to their amazement, the Germans stood like dazed men, never so much as touched their guns or stirred till we had turned round and escaped by a cross-road. One of Miss M.'s friends told her he saw a troop of angels between them and the enemy, and he has been a changed man ever since."

"The other man she met in London last week, he is a Christian. She asked him if he had heard the wonderful story of the angels. He said he had seen them himself, when he and his company were retreating. They heard the German cavalry turning after them. They ran for a place where they thought a stand might be made with some hope of safety, but before they could reach it the German cavalry was upon them, so they turned and faced the enemy, expecting quick death, when, to his wonder, he saw between them and the enemy a whole troop of angels, and the horses of the German cavalry turned round terrified and stamped, the men tugging at their bridles, while the poor horses tore away in every direction from our men. The officer declared he saw the angels distinctly, and it was evident the horses saw them, and it gave them time to reach safety."

The Unprepared Kaiser

(New York Evening Post.)
The Kaiser remarks with true Teutonic unconsciousness of his own humor:

"After preparations for a whole decade the coalition Powers, to whom Germany had become too great, believed that the moment had come to humiliate the Empire."

"Evidently his idea of preparation for war is to have no army or to have an inferior army with incompetent

Your Property or Your Life

Your life is a "property"—as much as your farm is—it represents an earning power to somebody. Most men will see to it that their barns, crops, houses, stock, etc., are all covered by insurance—but not every man will take the trouble to protect his own life with insurance and to provide for the restoration of its value to those who look to him for support.

Your life is more valuable to your family than your property, and it can best be protected by means of a Canada Life Guaranteed Monthly Income policy. Under it your beneficiary will be taken care of for life. This policy will also prove a profitable investment to you if it is issued by the

MONCTON FIRM GETS CONTRACT FOR SCHOOL

F. Neil Brodie, of St. John, the Architect - Contract price $100,737.

The Moncton Transcript last evening announced that Paul Lea Co. of Moncton had been awarded the contract for the erection of the new high school building in the railway town.

The Board of School Trustees met at three o'clock this afternoon following an adjourned meeting held last night when the tenders for the Aberdeen School building were opened. The architect, Mr. Brodie, St. John, was in attendance this afternoon and the figures of the various tenders as worked out on a terra cotta basis for the columns, etc., were as follows: Paul Lea Co., with wooden columns, $97,261; terra cotta columns, $98,059; Dominick M. LeBlanc with terra cotta columns, $98,785; Rhodes-Curry Co., on the same basis, $99,000; R. A. Corbett, on wooden column basis, $99,000; Paulker McDonald, $107,831; Tilman D. LeBlanc, $99,472, or on a terra cotta column basis, $10,800.

Paul Lea Co.'s tender also provided that in the event of substituting terra cotta cornice for galvanized iron the contract would be $100,737. As it is well known local climatic conditions are very hard on galvanized iron spouts or eave troughs or cornices and the board was unanimously of the opinion that for the small difference asked by Mr. Lea it was better to substitute a terra cotta cornice for galvanized iron. The cost of the permanent maintenance of the school in painting would be largely decreased by a better present outfit.

The motion was carried unanimously. The contract for the building was signed by Paul Lea for the Paul Lea Co. this afternoon. The work will be commenced at once.

WEDDINGS.

Everett-Johnson. Wolfeville, N. S., Aug. 11.—A pretty wedding was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Johnson, when their eldest daughter, Evelyn Marie, was united in marriage to Herbert Percy Everett of St. John.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. Byron C. Borden of Sackville in the presence of immediate relatives and friends. To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Gertrude Borden, the bride entered the room on the arm of her father. The bride was becomingly gowned in white crepe de chene, with conventional veil and carried a bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid, Miss A. Johnson, sister of the bride, wore pale pink hat to match, and carried pale pink and mauve sweet peas. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Arthur Everett of St. John.

After refreshments were served the bridal party autted to Kentville on the steamer "The Scotia" for the wedding at Springhill, Nova Scotia, where Mr. Everett has the pastorate of the Baptist church, after three weeks spent in New Brunswick.

DOWN ELEVATOR SHAFT.

J. Harold Power, shipper at the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., 83 Prince William street, had a narrow escape from serious injury yesterday morning when he tripped into the elevator shaft on the top floor. Had he not by a miracle been able to cling for a moment to the edge of the landing, he would have met certain death far below.

In some manner, while working in the upper floor, Mr. Power tripped and slipped into the well. He managed to cling to the side and shouted for help. John W. Dobbins, city traveler, who happened to be two floors below, rushed to the elevator shaft and saw the predicament the man was in. It was useless to attempt to get to the top floor in time to avert the fall, so Mr. Dobbins dropped the hatch, which shortened the drop by half.

Mr. Power was compelled to release his hold. In the fall he escaped serious injury. He sprained his right wrist, however, and injured his right leg. His friends were relieved that he sustained nothing more serious. He was taken to his home, 310 Princess street.

RETAINING WALLS MUST BE REBUILT

About Sixteen Thousand Dollars necessary to properly carry on the work.

An estimated provision of more than $16,000 for the new concrete retaining walls in North End, from Harrison to Sheriff streets, in Rockland Road, Moore and Brook streets, will have to be faced by the city council at its meeting on Tuesday. A report of the city engineer, Commissioner Potts, that the work be proceeded with and adopted at a committee meeting yesterday at noon. Mayor Frink presiding and Commissioner Wigmore in attendance also.

The commissioner of public works and Mayor Frink both said that the work was urgent and, while it would involve a heavy expenditure, it was better to take measures ensuring safety rather than run any risk. Commissioner Potts said that the wall in Moore street was really worse. The Mayor said it had been built before 1889, before the amalgamation of the city of Portland and St. John, and he looked with disfavor upon an issue of bonds at the present time, it appeared to him a work of necessity and should be done.

Commissioner Potts presented his estimate for the main street wall at $14,000. Moore street, $1,518, and Rockland Road $794. The exact figures will be presented at Tuesday's meeting.

Gave Picnic at Chipman. A concert, conducted by talent from this city, was a most successful and enjoyable conclusion to Rev. E. J. Conway's picnic day at Chipman on Wednesday. Both the picnic and the concert were successful financially and each in its way dispensed pleasure.

The party which conducted the concert included the following: Miss Florence O'Regan, Mrs. Edward O'Toole, Adele Harney, Leonard and Harry McGuire, Fred Joyce, Harold Turner and Steve Hurley. Miss O'Regan and Miss Nona Barry acted as accompanists. Mrs. James Barry and Mrs. O'Toole chaperoned.

Vagrancy Cases Before Court. In the Police Court yesterday morning two men, arrested on drunkenness charges, were fined $8 or thirty days in jail. One man was fined $2 for a similar charge, as it was his first offence. Henry Holmes, Benjamin Fish and William Tierney were remanded on vagrancy charges. Policemen Hopkins and Dale testified against them. While cross-questioning Policeman Hopkins, the defendant, Benjamin Fish, became excited and called him a liar. He also started to interrupt the court, so Magistrate Ritchie sent him below to cool off. Tierney said he had been sitting about King Square, but gave as his reason, poor health. He said he had a good home and money enough to keep him, and therefore did not think that he should have been arrested. John Toole appeared as a witness on behalf of Holmes. He said the defendant had been working all spring, and since then had been engaged at odd jobs. He did not consider him a vagrant, and was of the opinion that he should not have been arrested.

DO NOT ISSUE BLANK CHECKS, OAKES SAYS

A. DeWitt Fosters' agent changes testimony given at preceding day's hearing at Kentville.

Kentville, N. S., Aug. 20.—Gifford H. Oakes, secretary of the Kings County Liberal Conservative Association, who handled twenty-eight remounts received department checks of a total value of $49,855 in the purchase of horses in this province last year for military purposes, testified at this afternoon's sitting of the Royal Commission which is here investigating these purchases.

Mr. Oakes, who was the agent of A. DeWitt Foster, ex-M.P., in the purchase, was on the stand yesterday but his examination was not completed. This afternoon he made a statement regarding certain testimony of his at yesterday's session. He said that he knew that he had not issued any blank checks to the government buyers. He had testified yesterday that he had given them blank checks, signed by Foster, but he now says that he discovered this morning he had made a mistake. When asked to cite specific instances of such cases in which he had been mistaken, Mr. Oakes referred to a check the amount of which he now says was filled in by the manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia at Kentville, when he was present.

Sir Charles Davidson, the commissioner, then asked Oakes to give other instances, although he was certain that he had given blank checks to nobody, he could not remember who had filled in the checks in cases where he himself had not done so.

The division of the twenty-eight checks issued by Oakes among the buyers was as follows: Frank B. Keever, $24,720; W. P. McKay, $19,630; Walter Moore, Kentville, $3,500, and two checks, one payable to Oakes himself for $2,050 and the other payable to Oakes' father for $200.

The witness said today that the money from the check made out to himself was given to McKay for the purchase of 12 horses. In answer to questions by Mr. Thompson, counsel for the commission, Oakes said that the checks issued by him to the buyers did not show the actual number of horses purchased by them. After further questioning, Mr. Thompson said:

"The checks then are not an indication of anything but a tangled skein?"

"Yes," replied the witness.

Oakes then said that the checks in the aggregate showed the actual number of horses purchased. He said that he had nothing to do with the other 21 checks signed by Foster which were used in the work of securing remounts.

The examination of Mr. Oakes occupied the greater portion of the afternoon session. In the morning altogether nineteen witnesses were examined. A number of them were from Middleton and the majority testified to having sold serviceably sound horses to the government.

Prices at Havana.

A Havana circular of August 19th reports: The demand for haddock has not fallen off, but as the larger part of the arrivals here reported, consisted of this fishstuff, the price declined. The examination of codfish and hake has not improved, though the price for hake advanced on account of the fact that the stock has been much reduced.

We quote codfish at 7.50, haddock at 7 and hake at 5 1/2 cents per pound. During this week a very slack demand has prevailed for codfish, the holders of Norwegian variety having sustained their price, while the remaining lots of other sources of cod than the one just alluded to remain unchanged, as the market is exhausted of superior grades of these last items.

We quote Norwegian cod at $12.50 per case and other sources of supply from $7.50 to $8.75. Herring—in spite of the demand continuing moderate, holders have raised their price, as there are very few stocks left, and we quote at $1.50 per large box of blotters. A very active demand has been in evidence for potatoes, which enabled holders to improve their price, and we quote at $2.75 per barrel and 1 1/2 cents per pound for potatoes packed in bags.

MAINE SPORTSMEN CAN'T SHOOT MOOSE FOR 4 YEARS

Portland, Me., Aug. 20.—Important changes in the bird laws at the last session of the legislature are of particular interest at the present time, as sportsmen are commencing to look forward to getting birds and deer in the near future. But they do not anticipate shooting moose as a close time of four years has been placed on these big animals.
Under the game laws that were in effect until this year, the shooting of plover and sandpeeps could begin on Aug. 1. This year there can be no legal shooting of the birds until Monday, Aug. 16. The law really goes off on the 15th, but Sunday is a close day for hunting any way so that the open season will begin a day later this year than even the law allows.
Not only has there been a change in the law governing the shooting of these thin-legged birds, but there has been a change in the regulations affecting other birds. So important is this, that it might be well to quote the following from the new game laws:
"There shall be an annual closed season for ruffed grouse, commonly called partridge, spruce partridge, woodcock, all varieties of wild ducks, brant, geese, plover, snipe, sora and other rail, coots and gallinules, as follows:
"On partridge and woodcock, above named, in the counties of Oxford, Franklin, Somerset, Piscataquis, Penobscot, Aroostook, Washington and Hancock from the 13th day of November of each year until the 14th day of September of the following year, both days inclusive, and in the counties of Androscoggin, Cumberland, York, Knox, Waldo, Lincoln, Sagadahoc and Kennebec from the first day of December of each year until the 30th day of September of the following year, both days inclusive; on all varieties of ducks, brant and geese, from the 15th day of December of each year to the 31st day of August of the following year, both days inclusive; on black-breasted and golden plover, jacksnipe and Wilson snipe and greater and lesser yellow-legs, from the first day of December of each year to the 14th day of August of the following year, both days inclusive; on rails, including sora, coots and gallinules, from the first day of December of each year to the 31st day of August of the following year, both days inclusive, during which closed seasons it shall be unlawful to hunt, chase, catch, kill or have in possession any of the above-named birds except as hereinafter provided; provided, further, that it shall be unlawful to hunt, chase, catch, kill or destroy, or have in possession at any time, any curlew, woodcock or any shore birds, except blackbreast and golden plover, Wilson or jacksnipe, woodcock and greater and lesser yellowlegs.
It will be seen from this, there has been an important change in the woodcock and partridge laws. In eight of the counties, the law remains the same but in the other eight, including Knox, it has been declared unlawful to kill these birds until after September 30.
Another important change made in the laws of the state has been made so that the statutes of Maine will conform with the federal regulations. From now on, it shall be unlawful to hunt any game or other bird from sunset of one day until sunrise of the next. It shall also be unlawful to hunt any wild animal from one hour after sunset until one hour before sunrise of the following day. By these regulations, all night hunting will be done away with.
Under the old law a hunter was allowed to kill but five partridge and ten ducks in a day, though he was permitted to have in his possession at any one time 10 partridges and 15 ducks. The new law makes it illegal for a hunter to have in his possession more than five partridges or ten ducks at any one time, the same number he is allowed to have in his possession. The law in regard to woodcock allows the shooting and possession of ten woodcock and this has not been changed.
Even more important than the

HORSES MAY RACE FOR $2,000

Fredrickton, N. B., Aug. 20.—If Bert Lint, owner of A Game of Chance (214%) really made the crack at St. John last Saturday, following the 218 class race at Moospath Park, that he would race his pacer for $2,000 a side against any horse owned in New Brunswick, and still feels that way, opportunity for such a race has presented itself.
A local hotel man has stated that he is prepared to take up the $2,000 offer and would post his money just as soon as the interested parties could get together and do business. He suggested that the sporting editor of the Gleaner act as stake holder. Money to be put up in instalments on dates to be agreed upon, race to be played or pay, with either party having a right to drop out any time, but having to lose the portion of the stake money then deposited.
The time suggested for the race is a date in the month of October, after the New Brunswick and Maine Pairs circuit is finished, and Fredrickton is the place. The hotel man says that he will name the horse he nominates when the first deposit of $500 is put up, and while he did not mention any names, it is expected that James K. Newbro (213%) will be his selection. As to judge's his suggestion is that each party should select a judge and that the third man in the stand be Frank Power of Halifax as starter and judge both.
Mr. Lint is now at Bangor, Me. with his horses, being due to race at the Fair there next week, and whether he will be prepared for such a race as outlined under the conditions suggested, will not be known until he is heard from. From what can be learned he named no date or place for the race when he made his reported offer, but whether he wants to wait until October with a horse which has always given more or less trouble to keep racing is another matter.

MARKET UNSTEADY WITH SEVERE LOSSES IN THE WAR SPECIALTIES

Feverish rallies and declines marked day's trading—Covering of short contracts mainly responsible for variable rallies in final hour—Exchange markets stronger.

New York, Aug. 20.—The sinking of the British liner Arabic constituted almost the sole market influence today, stocks being depressed for the greater part of the active session, with irregular improvement at the close. War specialties suffered the most severe losses, their declines at the outset extending from two to eight points, United States Steel, again the most conspicuous issue, and some investment railway shares also felt the force of the selling pressure, much of which appeared to emanate from professional speculators.

CLOSING LETTER OF N.Y. MARKET BY E. & C. RANDOLPH

New York, Aug. 20.—The market became strong and active towards the end of the day on rumors that the full facts in regard to the sinking of the Arabic would show that the commander of the German submarine had warrant in international law for the destruction of the vessel. One version was that he had called upon the Arabic to stop, but that instead the steamer put on full steam, while another asserted that the Arabic was under convoy and that the submarine could not expose itself without the risk of destruction.

PATRIOTIC FUND IN NEW BRUNSWICK REQUIRES GREATER STIMULATION

Sir Herbert B. Ames in Stirring Appeal Tells of Need for More Contributions—This Province Falling Behind Other Parts of Canada—Renewed Efforts Necessary.

Sir Herbert B. Ames was the chief speaker at a public meeting held in the interests of the patriotic fund in the High School auditorium last evening. The hall was fairly well filled and those present listened with keen interest to the appeal made by Sir Herbert. He dealt fully with the administration of the fund in Canada and pointed out that New Brunswick would soon be drawing on the central fund unless steps were taken immediately to replenish it. He pointed to the example of the other provinces and showed just what each was doing in the way of assisting the families of those who have come to fight for the freedom of those at home. He answered some of the criticism that has been directed towards the administration of the fund and showed that the interest on the sum deposited in the banks had so far paid all the expenses.

There were speeches by other citizens on the platform were Mayor Frink, who acted as chairman, Judge Forbes, Rev. Ralph Sherman, Lieutenant Governor Wood, and R. H. McIntyre, who is the secretary of the British Imperial Relief Fund in the New England states.

Lieutenant Governor Wood urged a greater interest in the collection for the Patriotic Fund and moved the following resolution, which was seconded by Judge Forbes and unanimously carried.

Whereas, the expenditures in connection with the Canadian Patriotic Fund throughout the Dominion of Canada is now somewhat in excess of the income, and

Whereas, the government has announced its intention of recruiting up to 150,000 men, and

Whereas, we consider the care of the wives and families of our soldiers our first duty and a responsibility which must be borne by Canada alone, and

Whereas, in view of the increased expected needs the fund is in danger of being depleted.

Therefore resolved, that this meeting places itself on record as being of the opinion that efforts should be made throughout the province to augment the fund by bringing the amount up to what would be a fair proportion for this province, and authority is hereby given to the executive committee of the Patriotic Society to take such steps as may be necessary to organize and initiate a movement for additional subscriptions from the people.

His Worship Mayor Frink acted as chairman, and in introducing the speaker said the subject for the evening was the Canadian Patriotic Fund. "Its aim, work and operation generally will be taken up by our visitor Sir Herbert B. Ames, who it is our privilege to have here with us. He who has been actively engaged in the work since the beginning of the war and knows all the different phases connected with the society, will give you some figures and statistics of what has been accomplished and what will be expected from the society in the future.

"The work now being done in St. John under C. E. Allan is very well known. The expenses are always increasing, as more soldiers answer the call to the colors and more money is needed to carry on the work of the society, the greatest of its kind on the continent. All other societies and funds are simply dwarfed by the Canadian Patriotic Society. The Belgian relief fund, of which I am treasurer, has reached the large amount of $50,000, and the cash contributions have been very extensive. Now that the hardships of these people have been considerably lessened, the relief fund has, for a time, fallen away, and has been replaced by this society which we have under discussion this evening. Therefore I take great pleasure in introducing to you Sir Herbert B. Ames, Dominion secretary of the Canadian Patriotic Society."

Sir Herbert, in the course of his remarks, said: "I have been many times in St. John and I have had several opportunities to address St. John people, but on all occasions I have had no greater subject to speak about than that which is before me this evening. The audience here if they understand the subject will agree with me concerning its greatness, its help and its need.

"We have entered upon the second year of the great war. Many thought it would be over in six months or a year, but now its end looks further away than ever. At the present time as we look at the battle lines in Europe, the Russians have been driven east of Warsaw and all Poland is in German hands. They can now establish a line which will keep the Russians at bay for six months, which will give them an opportunity to dispatch their soldiers against the Allies in the west and south. The war will last some time yet and the demands will be great before its end. We cannot go back and start all over again. The nations cannot once more begin to form armies, build navies and turn out guns. We cannot allow the children of today to fight in the days to come. We cannot allow those that come after us to suffer as we have suffered. We must fight now and crush Prussianism forever.

"Mr. Amstutz in his famous parlance government should do the work of the Patriotic Fund by increasing the separation allowance. It was felt that the federal government should assume the maintenance of the soldiers' families, but the government cannot discriminate and we should lose our volunteer administration. The Canadian Patriotic Fund at present should have your immediate attention. Nobody will look after the soldiers' wives if we do not.

"We must appeal to the people to help us through. We give $5 here and $10 there just as it is needed, and we get our help from the people at large. All this would disappear if the government took it over. Criticism might arise over alleged unnecessary expenses of administration. We have over one hundred branches, some of them larger than others. It is quite necessary that in the head office and larger branches we have a paid staff. Hundreds of cheques have to be made out and there are hundreds of callers. It might be pleasing to note, however, that up to date all expenses of this nature have been covered by the interest on our bank account, which leaves us free to use every dollar subscribed. However, this may not continue, the funds are diminishing, and the work is increasing.

"Up to the present about $5,000,000 cash has been paid into the fund while we have had $2,000,000 expenditures. At the end of May we had a surplus of $2,500,000. Last month we had a deficit of $344,000 and soon it may be $400,000, while we have only received $150,000. By means of our reserves we have paid our deficit but our reserve will not last forever.

"You have the right to ask a second time if I have been around to everybody for collections. With very few exceptions we have covered Canada.

"Admitting the fundamental principles of the fund, some provinces can do better than others and it would be unfair to ask each province to support their own soldiers' families as the ratio is so widely different. Enlistment varies in different provinces. Following is a rough estimate of the enlistment ratio: Population of Canada, 7,500,000; estimated enlistment, 150,000, 1 in 50; Quebec, 1 in 140, English speaking, 1 in 40; Maritime Provinces, 1 in 100; Ontario, 1 in 65; Manitoba and Saskatchewan, 1 in 40; British Columbia, 1 in 25; Alberta, 1 in 25. It would be a penalizing judgment to ask each province to look after their own people. For instance Alberta recently devastated by fire and famine required of the government $2,000,000 in order to buy seed grain for the farmers and yet Alberta has raised $900,000. Alberta will draw on the central fund. She is spending $60,000 a month and raising only $15,000.

"I do not think the Maritime Provinces should draw on us. You have contributed $150,000 and draw $18,000 a month. By the end of September it will all be paid out; after October, unless more money is subscribed, you will be in the same place as Alberta. But I feel with all the splendid business conditions in New Brunswick at the present time that you will support yourselves.

"Citizens of St. John need not feel ashamed of their efforts. You have raised money nobly for other funds, but the patriotic fund should be your first duty. You will be surprised how much money you can raise by organizing thoroughly. By means of a monthly basis, see how many men can give $15 a month. By doing this you are supporting a soldier. He is sending a man to the front when he cannot go himself. I think you will be able to raise $150,000 in the next twelve months.

"The present is the great testing time for the nation, the great testing time for individuals. The world will date from this war. In the future the question will be asked, how did the stand the test during the great war. We are asking women to send their dear ones to the front and it is our duty to provide for them. Those who cannot fight can pay and they can induce others to pay.

"The next speaker introduced was Lieut. Governor Wood. "During the greater part of the week," said he, "I have been in St. John and during my stay I have been a frequent visitor at the Patriotic Fund office. I was very much surprised to know that the fund was nearly all paid out, a fund so great and able to raise it if they realize the figures I realized that little figures once added amount to a large sum. The books also showed that each family in New Brunswick was receiving from $15 to $16 per month. Looking at it in that light it does not look large. With regard to the future, Mr. Ames has pointed out our duty. Upwards of $200,000 will be required. I think this can be done. I have abiding faith in the generosity and loyalty of the people of New Brunswick to raise this amount. The people will be willing and able to raise it if they realize the terrible consequences if we should suffer defeat in this war. The only way to save this country, to save our homes and to preserve our liberties will be to raise the required sum.

"The resolution was seconded by His Honor Judge Forbes, who paid a glowing tribute to our soldiers at the front and the many sacrifices made by our men who have gone to fight for King and country.

Rev. Ralph Sherman, assistant rector of Trinity, also spoke. The chairman next called upon C. E. H. McIntyre, secretary of the British Imperial Relief Fund in the New England States, who gave a short address. The meeting closed with God Save the King.

NEARLY FIVE MILLION DOLLARS WORTH OF FISH TAKEN ANNUALLY FROM NEW BRUNSWICK WATERS

CURIOSITIES OF THE DEEP IN AN ENDLESS VARIETY ARE FOUND IN THE BAY OF FUNDY

Oddities Which Most People Have Never Known to Exist in These Waters are to be Seen in the Biological Station at St. Andrews, Where Scientists from All Over America Spend Their Holidays at Work.

Have you ever read of a little fish, covered with thick brown hair, that goes by the name of Sea Mouse, crawls along the bottom of the sea and is caught in a trap just as is used to catch the ordinary land mouse? The creature looks like a mouse and acts like one. It is something in the nature of a curiosity.

Well, we grow these things in the Bay of Fundy.

There is a species of sucker, much talked of in papers devoted to natural history, which fixes itself on whatever it happens to meet and holds on for as long as it likes, with a strength almost beyond belief. It can, by the creation of vacuum, take such a grip on a rock that half a dozen men, were they all able to get hold of it together, would not be able to drag it away. The description of this fish sounds like something that is told of far away seas.

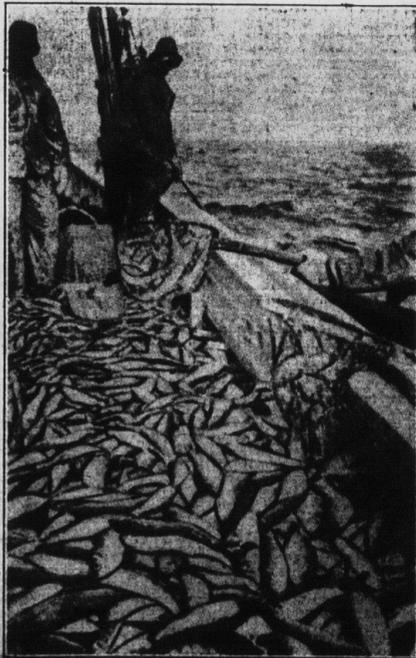

But we grow this fish in the Bay of Fundy.

Sponges are scarcely ornamental. They are however quite useful and as a rule are in strong demand among people who wash. In the old school readers we were told how folks on the other side of the world spent their days in diving for sponges—sometimes we mixed them up with the pearl fishery—and we have come to look upon sponges as a product of other lands, or seas.

Yet sponges are found in the Bay of Fundy.

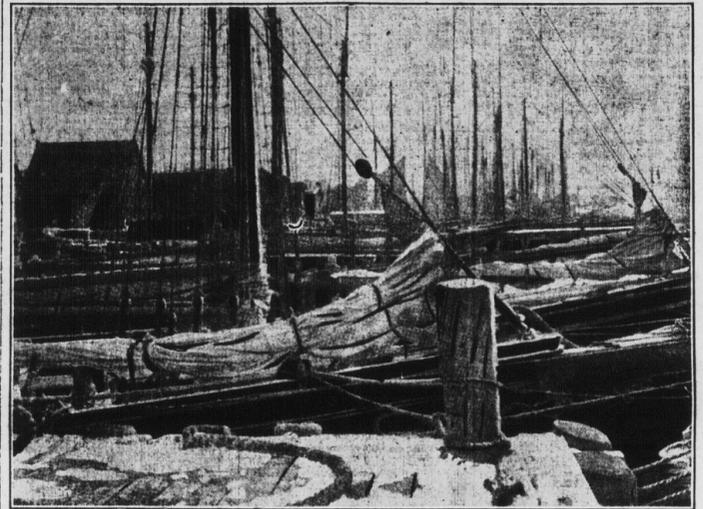

Have you ever noticed a wedding cake with deep almond icing? It carries a thick layer of sweet looking white stuff on top of a conglomerate of fruit and other palatable ingredients. Stories are told, from eastern seas, of peculiar barnacles which on attaching themselves to various foreign substances take on the appearance of more familiar objects.

We have most of these wedding cake than any map in Canada, could if he chose to do so, point out a whole lot of varieties that are never taken for the local markets, but which he has eaten and enjoyed. He could—if he would—mention some which other folks eat with great relish but which he, being acquainted with the denizens of the deep, (There now, that had to come some time) would tackle only on the verge of starvation. For all fish do not deserve the popular reputation which they enjoy, whether it be good or ill.

This little story however started out to be a short and simple recital of facts concerning the fisheries of New Brunswick about which some people know very little.

According to reports issued by the federal government, Canada possesses the most extensive fisheries in the world and the waters in and around Canada contain the principal commercial food fishes in greater abundance than the waters of any other part of the world. The coastline of the Atlantic Provinces from the Bay of Fundy to the Straits of Belleisle measures more than 5,000 miles, and the Pacific coastline has a sea-washed shore of 7,000 miles. Along these districts, the first including the counties of Charlotte and St. John, the second the counties of Albert, Westmoreland, Kent, Northumberland, Gloucester and Restigouche, and the third the inland fisheries of Kings, Queens, Sunbury, York, Carleton, Victoria and Madawaska. The total marketed value of the fisheries for the province during the past year was $4,268,707, or an increase of $44,653 over the previous year. Of this total value the sea fisheries contributed $4,266,753, and the inland fisheries $41,948. There was a total capital invested in the industry in this province of $3,690,541 as compared with $3,508,889 for the previous year. The value of vessels, gear, etc., in the sea fisheries is $3,491,334 while that for the inland section is $199,213. The number of persons employed in the fisheries was 21,876 an increase of 201 during the year, and of this number 1,488 were employed on vessels, 14,052 on boats, and 6,336 on shore.

In district No. 1 in the matter of quantity herring lead the list, with 19,729,700 pounds, sardines coming in second place while salmon made the poorest showing of all in the matter of weight, but appeared well up in the list of values. In these two counties the marketed value of the fisheries reached $1,572,119, on an investment of $65,000. There were in all 3,767 persons employed, a decrease from the previous year, because of dull times in the canneries. District No. 2 profited largely by an increase in the price of lobsters, and produced fish products to the value of $2,694,640, an increase of some $83,307 over the previous year. This district was also helped out by some what heavier catches than usual of herring and mackerel. Salmon, also showed an improvement but there was a marked falling off in the quantity of lobsters and in smelts. The value of the fishing gear, boats and other material was $1,567,460, about the same as the year previous. There were 16,940 persons engaged in the industry, divided as follows: 1,950 men on vessels, 10,538 men on boats, 49 on carriers and 5,302 on shore.

In district No. 3, the inland fisheries, the total valuation of the product amounted to $41,948, a slight increase over the preceding year, due to the good season for salmon and bass. The capital invested is $8,468.

In the Province of New Brunswick there are three fishery inspectors, John F. Calder, of Campbellton, in district No. 2, and H. E. Harrison of Fredericton in district No. 3. In looking over their various reports it is apparent that weather conditions have a very large share in the success or otherwise of the deep sea fishing in so far as the quantity of fish taken is concerned, but as in most other natural industries there are compensations. If the hay crop is poor the price is high, and it is the same with fish. When weather interferes with the quantity of the catch the market price advances so that the returns to the fishermen are as a rule quite satisfactory.

on the most modern basis, the fresh water salmon pond at Tide Head on the Restigouche has been abandoned and replaced by a salt water pond at New Mills and the old hatchery at Grand Falls which was destroyed by fire a couple of years ago has been replaced with a strictly up-to-date establishment. A subsidiary hatchery has been located on Little Church Creek which flows into the Nepisiguit River about a mile below the Grand Falls, and the Sparkle hatchery has been established on the south-west Miramichi some 18 miles from Glassville, this institution receiving its supply of eggs from the hatchery at South Esk. The annual distribution of fry from these various establishments is about as follows:

Hatchery	Species	No. of Fry
Restigouche	Salmon	1,664,700
Miramichi	Salmon	1,944,000
Wahademois	Speckled Trout	26,000
Grand Falls	Speckled Trout	32,300
Grand Falls	Salmon Trout	49,000
Grand Falls	Salmon	864,700
St. John	Salmon	2,225,760
St. John	Speckled Trout	2,070,200
Wahademois	Shad	1,025,500
Nepisiguit	Salmon	468,000
Shemogue	Lobster	31,000,000
Shippegan	Lobster	32,050,000
Buctouche	Lobster	30,000,000

That is, a total of 101,562,150 fry of various species were distributed from the hatcheries in this province in the past year. These have been placed in waters all over the province. The Federal Government does more than this to aid the fisheries. It expends $160,000 annually in the form of fishing bounties to encourage the development of sea fisheries and the building of fishing vessels. This money is paid out according to a fixed scale, arranged on the tonnage of vessels, the size of boats, and the number of men employed. Last year 957 claims for bounties were paid in New Brunswick representing a tonnage of 3970 employing 235 vessels and 3970 employed 1074 men, and among 672 boats employing 1161 men, the cash amounting to $18,885.05. Nova Scotia profits most largely in this distribution, receiving between $90,000 and $100,000 annually.

Under the management of the Biological Board of Canada, three biological stations are operated in the Dominion, one in British Columbia, one on the lakes and a third at St. Andrews, Charlotte County. Nothing could be more interesting than a visit to one of these stations, while the members of the staff, consisting of scientists from all parts of America are at work. Researches are carried on into all subjects affecting sea life and the results of these investigations published quite widely. Study is made of all forms of fish life, of conditions affecting these forms, of the development of various species, of the diseases of fish, their habits, and their relative food value, and indeed so important is this work regarded that many of the ablest students in America spend the holiday season at the St. Andrews Station, and at the others in carrying on this work. The museum or perhaps rather the collection of Atlantic coast specimens of sea life shown at St. Andrews is particularly interesting, and includes many hundreds of specimens known practically only to those who make this their special study. The St. Andrews station is in charge of Professor E. E. Prince, Chairman of the Biological Board and for the convenience of those desiring to make use of the opportunities for study there offered, a large residence has been built by the government, adjoining the laboratory.

ROTHESAY

Rothesay, Aug. 19.—The unfavorable weather did not prevent a large attendance at the Red Cross meeting, and a lot of work being done. Afternoon tea was served as usual, the ladies in charge being Miss Allison, Mrs. W. S. Allison and Mrs. John McIntyre. Two handsome jerseys, knitted by Mrs. W. M. MacKay were given by her to the society, and are being raffled at 25 cents a ticket. It is wonderful how much people are doing to help along the work.

Rev. W. O. Raymond, son of Arch deacon Raymond, who has a church at Ann Arbor, Mich., was among last Saturday's visitors on the local tennis courts.

Mrs. Thomas Steed, of New York, has been guest at the home of Mrs. D. D. and Misses Robertson, and many friends were glad to meet her.

Mrs. Sharp, of Ottawa, is just now here visiting her mother, Mrs. J. B. Cudlip at her summer cottage in the park. A very successful sale and tea under auspices of the Renforth "Ladies Aid" was held in the club house last Saturday. The proceeds were to be for the benefit of the little church of St. James-the-Less, and amounted to about $200.

On this Saturday afternoon on the grounds surrounding the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hornbrook, Renforth, a garden party, tea, and candy sale, proceeds for the ever popular "patriotic" work. All who go are sure of a pleasant time.

Guest of Mrs. Walter A. Harrison at her handsome new summer home in the park is Mrs. William Harrison, of New York.

Sincere regret is expressed especially by the younger set, because of the departure on Tuesday of Mr. Harry Barker, who after a visit to his brother, Mr. Lewis Barker, and family at Montreal, is entering the military college at Kingston, Ont., with the idea of preparing for overseas service for King and Empire. So great was the interest that a number of our young folk accompanied him to St. John, and then gave him a send off. Mr. Barker graduated from Rothesay College in June this year.

At the week-end Mr. and Mrs. Walter Leonard and little son, Donald, went in their automobile to Woodman's Point and spent Sunday with friends.

Congratulations are being tendered Mr. and Mrs. Hugh MacKay in consequence of the arrival of a baby boy, on Friday last, at the residence of Mrs. MacKay's parents, Hon. J. D. Hazen and Mrs. Hazen, St. John.

Yet another name on the "honor roll" of true patriots, especially interesting to Rothesay, is that of Lieutenant Frank Fairweather, who has joined the 6th Battalion. Mr. Fairweather was born in Rothesay, and spent most of his life here. Hosts of friends wish for him great success.

Mrs. Fred A. Foster went to Red Head on Wednesday, to spend a week with Mrs. J. L. McAvity.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hannington are enjoying a visit from Miss Clark, who has been working as a missionary at Ning-Tai, China, where Dr. Mabel Hanning is a Medical Missionary. Miss Clark is now on furlough.

The committee in charge of last Saturday's tennis tea were Mrs. R. E. Puddington, Mrs. Hibbard, Mrs. J. H. Thomson, Mrs. F. A. Peters and Miss Puddington. Though the weather was most unpleasant, there was a good attendance. Hostesses this week are Mrs. Percy Fairweather, Miss George Trueman, and Miss Lillie West.

Miss Edith Cudlip has returned from St. John after a week pleasantly spent with Miss Doris Sayer.

On Tuesday Miss Doris Barnes left for Dorchester to visit her friend, Miss Dorothy Teed.

At Mr. H. F. Puddington's camp on Long Island, Miss Puddington, Miss Madge Robertson, and Miss Gertrude Davidson, are spending a few days.

Another name on the "honor roll" Tuesday with the "Overseas Heavy Battery" was Lieutenant W. A. G. Compton. Mrs. Compton and her children are occupying Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Knight's home here, and are to remain through the winter. The camp has many friends here who are hoping for his success and safe return.

Master Tom Skelton is enjoying a visit to friends at Duck Cove this week.

A successful "patriotic bridge and dance" was held at the Renforth Club House, on Wednesday evening, under auspices of "Renforth Outing Club."

Mrs. James Pettengill, Quispamsis, has received news from Corvallis Oregon, of the arrival on July 12th, of a weand daughter, (Georgina Pettengill) in the home of her daughter, Mrs. George R. Samson and Mr. Samson.

On this Saturday afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hornbrook, Renforth, a garden party, tea, and sale of ice cream and candy, is to be held, proceeds of which are for patriotic purposes. Tea will be served from 4 to 6 o'clock, and all who attend are sure of a pleasant time, beside another opportunity to help on the work which needs all possible sympathy and assistance.

DORCHESTER

Dorchester, August 18.—Mr. Hayward, who has been visiting Miss McMahon and Miss Cummins, has returned to his home in Moncton.

The ladies of the Red Cross Society held a very successful sale of home-cooking, candy and ice cream, on Saturday afternoon, in the Red Cross rooms. Although the day was very wet, the sum of $30 was realized.

Many friends here join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Broderick much happiness in their future life. Mrs. Broderick, (nee Miss Margaret Landry) is a daughter of Mrs. F. A. Landry, of St. Joseph's and a niece of Judge Landry, of this town. His Honor Judge Landry, Mrs. Marie Landry, Dr. and Mrs. Landry, and Miss Mabel Landry, attended the wedding, on Thursday last, at St. Joseph's.

Dr. George B. Ryan, who spent the past few months at his home in Paris, France, arrived here on Tuesday last, and will spend the remainder of the summer with his family. Mrs. Ryan and children expect to accompany Dr. Ryan on his return to Paris in the autumn.

Mrs. Sheraton, of Boston, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. (Warden) A. B. Pipes.

Mr. Fred Foster, who for the past two weeks, has been up the St. John river with a party of friends, camping, returned home on Tuesday.

Mr. Fred Tait, who was the guest last week of his brother, Mr. W. Frank Tait, has returned to his home in North Sydney.

Dr. Raymond Landry and Mrs. Landry, are being congratulated on the arrival of a little son, born on August 14th.

Miss Muriel Thomas, who spent the past few weeks in Pictouville, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. N. Steeves, has returned home. She was a guest at the Rice-Steeves wedding. Mr. Thaddeus Hebert, M.A., was also a guest at the Rice-Steeves wedding. Mr. Herbert, who is principal of the High School at Fredericton, spent his vacation the guest of his parents here.

Miss I. R. Nixon, who was the guest of his sister, Mrs. Percy W. Forster, at the Rice-Steeves wedding, returned on Monday, and is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Palmer.

Mrs. F. H. Deacon, of Toronto, and little Miss Nora and Master Kenneth, and Mrs. Julian Connell and two children, of Amherst, are guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Papineau, having been called home on account of the death of their grandmother, Mrs. A. R. Emmerson.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Augusta Reed Emmerson, mother of the late Hon. H. R. Emmerson, and the late Judge Emmerson, took place from here on Friday. A funeral service was conducted at the house by the Rev. W. H. Freda, who announced the hymn "Abide With Me," prayer being offered by Rev. B. H. Thomas, and then the Benediction was pronounced by the pastor, Rev. M. Freda. The body was taken to the Baptist church, which was crowded and the full choir was present. The hymns sung at the service were the special favorites of the deceased, "Asleep in Jesus," "There's a Wilderness in God's Mercy," and "I Love to Steal Away Awhile." The 23rd Psalm was read, one selected by the deceased before death. The address by Rev. M. Freda, "The Victorian Life," was a splendid and eloquent tribute to the work and merit of the deceased. The funeral procession was performed and the body conveyed to the railway depot, where it was taken on No. 139 Ocean Limited, and conveyed direct to Moncton. The funeral tributes were numerous and very beautiful. The pallbearers were Messrs. Randall and Frederick Emmerson, George (Christie), J. P. Cornell, Robert Emmerson, John Bates. Among those present at the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Atkinson, Miss Atkinson, Ottawa; Mrs. F. H. Deacon, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Cornell, Mrs. H. R. Emmerson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Alex. Christie, Mr. and Mrs. George Christie, Mr. B. J. Lawson, Mrs. H. S. Pipes, all of Amherst; Mrs. Fred W. Emmerson, Moncton; Mr. James F. Burnett, Mr. C. S. Starratt, Geo. B. Friel, town; Mrs. Bates, Miss Bates of McGill University, Montreal. A large number of Moncton friends were also present. Much sympathy is expressed by all to the relatives of the deceased.

Misses Margaret and Dorothy Teed, entertained a few friends informally on Saturday evening. Several of the young people have held picnics at different points along the shore. Several visiting the ship Wray Castle, and being entertained by Capt. Sharpe.

Miss Kate O'Brien, who has been the guest of Miss Carmelita Richard, returned on Wednesday to her home in Ottawa.

Mrs. Finn, Mrs. Papineau, and Miss Eugene Papineau, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Papineau, Government Terrace, have returned to their homes in Montreal.

Whoever You Are

Being the Transcript of a message given by Celestia, known to many as "The Goddess", and the Maiden from Heaven.

WHOMEVER you are, I am for you. Wherever you are, I will come to you. The tenement is no lowlier to me than the home of your most exalted citizen. The discredited, vice-ridden hovel I am not afraid to enter. The paralyzed, stilted residence of society I will go to if I am wanted.

Whoever you are, I believe in you. Hated, scorned, kicked, beaten outcast, I have faith in you. Weak women, no! you are not bad. Whoever spoke otherwise knew not the truth. Hard, money-crabbed miser, I can show you where the light is.

Whoever you are, call me and I shall be with you on the instant. I will enter softly by your side, in the factory—in the rushed office, in the thick atmosphere of store. Wherever you are I shall have no difficulty in seeking you out. For I am come from my heavenly home to lift you up, to wipe away those tears of anguish and pain, to smooth and soothe that care-ridden body of yours.

Come whisper to me your secret sorrows and I will wipe them out. I am so sorry for you. I know your woes and have endured them too for you. Many times have I truly wept for you, as I watched you trudge along, as I watched you fall to troubled sleep.

Open the portals of your heart, and let me step in.

My voice is lifted for you, whoever you are.

UNCLE WIGGLY AND BILLY BUSHYTAIL.

By HOWARD R. GARIS

(Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"Well, how are you feeling today?" asked Uncle Wiggly Longears, the rabbit gentleman, of Billie Bushytail, the squirrel boy, as they both stood out on the porch of the hollow stump bungalow the morning after Billie had reached crowland.

"Oh, I feel fine, Uncle Wiggly, and how are you?" asked Billie politely, as he looked up at the nest-house to see if his crow friends, Mary and Jimmie Caw-Caw, were yet up.

"Oh, I'm feeling pretty good," Uncle Wiggly said. "Of course my rheumatism bothers me a little, but I try not to mind it. But let us talk about something pleasant, isn't it a fine day?"

"It certainly is," agreed Billie. "And since you are going to be here all day, and as you do not have to go to school it being Saturday, and as Jimmie and Mary Caw-Caw also have no lessons, I'll tell you what I am going to do, I want on the rabbit gentleman."

"Oh, dear!" chattered Billie. "I hope you aren't going to make us do some lessons here at home."

"No, indeed!" laughed Uncle Wiggly, as he flopped his ears backward and forward, waving a good morning to Aunt Flippity-Flop, the dear little old maid crow lady, who stood on the porch of the nest-house in the tall pine tree.

"And then, all of a sudden, down on the porch to the ground below."

"Oh, dear!" cried Uncle Wiggly. "Are you hurt?" and he hopped over to pick her up.

"No, I'm not in the least hurt," the crow lady answered. "You see she fell on some soft sofa cushions which Uncle Wiggly had taken from his airship to dry in the sun. 'Not in the least hurt,' the crow lady said. 'But you waded one of your ears at me a little too far on one side, so I looked crooked at it, and I got dizzy and fell.'"

"What shall we do?" "I'll tell you!" chattered brave Billie Bushytail, the boy squirrel. "Get into the airship, all of you, and fast with ropes, said Uncle Wiggly. 'Never mind the ropes. With my strong teeth, that can bite through hickory nuts, I'll chew the ropes all to pieces,' chattered Billie, 'Get in, everybody!'"

So they all got in, Billie too, and then, leaning over the side of the clothes-basket the boy squirrel gnawed through the ropes before the chimpanzee could stop him, and up suddenly went the airship, where the tail-pulling chap could not follow it, high above the treetops.

"Oh, I'll get you yet!" cried the monkey, pulling his own tail, as he could reach no one's else. But that was all he could do.

"Billie, you saved us finely!" said Uncle Wiggly as they sailed on and on. Then the rabbit gentleman and Billie and Mary and Jimmie and Lulu Wigglywobble had a most lovely time. And in the story after this, if the eagle-beater doesn't take the tongue out of the lace shoe, so it can't speak to the bath room slipper, I'll tell you about the adventure of Billie and Johnnie Bushytail.

Uncle Dick's Chat With the Children

My Dear Nephews and Nieces—As you will notice in the particulars of the contests this week, I am not only letting you have quite a new kind of competition, but an offering as prizes two nice watches, one to be won by a boy and another to be won by a girl. Now they are well worth trying for, and the prizewinners ought to be well pleased with them.

The picture contest which I am introducing this week, will give you a good opportunity to show how much you know as to drawing and also let you have a guess as to the right objects missing. It is quite a new kind of contest, and I want to see how you like same. Let me know in your usual letters to me, if you would like it continued. I am also letting you have another wordmaking contest, and would remind you to add together the number of words you get, and put the number of same, at the end of the list.

I trust my nephews in particular, are reading the Scout's Corner each Saturday, as well, and I should like to hear of a number joining the Scout movement, as you could hardly do anything better. Under a good scout master you will learn a great number of things, which will be of great value to you when you get older, and have besides it teaches you to rely upon your own efforts, and makes you think for yourselves. If you are at all interested, and want to know more about same write to me and I will do my best to help you.

Now boys and girls, you have not much longer before your vacation ends, so make the most of the time, live in the open air and have a right happy week or two more, then go back to school ready for some real hard study which I am sure you will really find a delight in, after your splendid holiday.

With best wishes to all my Kiddies From Your Uncle Dick

ANSWERS TO LETTERS RECEIVED BY UNCLE DICK

Daisy Sears—I am glad you received the book alright, and like same. You have made quite a good drawing of Jumbo. You will see that I am letting you have a new contest this week, which I trust you will all enter.

George Leslie Mavor—Yes, the Scout's past is a success, and the boys seemed to be pleased with the full report of the Camp. I shall be glad if you will tell the other scouts of the new contest this week, and also that the prize is a watch.

Jack Murray—I don't remember your name before, Jack, are you a new Nephew? If so I must welcome you to our Corner. You made a good sketch, but I asked you all to do it in ink, not pencil.

Harry Mann—Thanks for your nice letter, what a cute rabbit you must have, how old is it? Yes, I hope to continue the Corner as long as there are boys and girls to try for the prizes.

Winnie McCormack—I don't appear to have received the cup covers, you told me you were going to make in aid of the Red Cross Society. Perhaps you have been too busy.

Kathleen—You will see that I am letting you have another word making contest this week, and am offering a lovely watch as first prize for the nieces who enter, and also a separate boys' watch for the nephews.

M. Geraldine Corey—I was hoping to have received a sketch from you in the drawing contest, after receiving your letter. Did you send the cup covers away? I don't appear to have received them as yet.

Molly Lawford—Many thanks for your nice covers. You have made them very well indeed Molly. I was beginning to think you had forgotten them this time. What a great time you all must have had at Estelle's birthday party.

Estelle Lawford—Yes, I shall introduce the contest suggested by Molly, in two weeks time. That is after the word contest ends. You have sent me some beautiful face cloths Estelle. I am glad you are now able to have great fun kite flying, and enjoying the fresh air.

Geraldine Corey—I have just received your parcel of cup covers which I must say are very well made. You will no doubt be pleased to see your name among the prize winners.

Myrtle Cox—I received your parcel of cup-covers, and you well deserve the prize for the most made. You are a hard working little needlewoman, Myrtle, and I wish others of my nieces would take a leaf from your book. I trust you will like your prize.

Maud Humphrey—Many thanks for the splendid cup-covers you have made Maud, I am pleased to have so many nieces who do not mind devoting a little of their time towards work on behalf of the wounded soldiers.

Olive E. Moxon—Yes, it is nice doing work for the Red Cross. Olive, you all seem to have been working hard on their behalf round your way. No! so far as I know Corey has not as yet called. I am glad you like the Scout's Corner. Thanks for your interesting letter.

Agnes Claris Short—Many thanks for the cup-cover Agnes, which is very nicely made. I was up past Hatfields Point a short while ago, but was unable to call and see you.

Shoe Co., St. John, N. B. RESULT OF BOY SCOUT CONTEST

First Prize George Leslie Mavor, (Blazing Arrow), 441 Needham St., Fredericton, N. B.

Second Prize Harold Aubrey Boyne, (Beaver), Box 587, Amherst, N. S. Certificate Hazen S. Short, (Wolf), 254 Princess Street, St. John.

Things Worth Knowing Make Your Own Notebook

Any Scout can make a useful notebook from scraps of paper which would otherwise be thrown away.

Gather your paper and cut the sheets all to one size; obtain a few metal fasteners from old magazines or advertisement pamphlets, and having folded your sheets down the middle, thrust two or more fasteners through them.

A stiff back or even a brown paper cover can be added if you so desire.

Framing Pictures When framing a picture it is a good plan to paste a piece of brown paper over the back to keep out the dust.

If this is done by pasting the paper in the ordinary way, a lot of creases will be left, and the paper will not fit properly.

A better method is to wet the paper, all round. Now paste these edges, lay the paper over the back of the picture, and allow it to dry. When dry, the paper will be quite tight and smooth.

Safety in a Camp

There is one supreme thought that every scout official should have in mind when taking a group of boys to camp, and that is SAFETY. Every other consideration is of secondary importance.

Wearers of the Thanks (Swastika and Scout Fleur-de-lys Badges.) Lady friends. At the playing of the National Anthem.

When asking for or after giving information. The salute is given whether a hat is worn or not.

Scout News

A meeting of the Executive of the Provincial Council of the Boy Scouts Association of Canada, will be held in St. John, on Monday, August 23rd, at 3.30 p. m.

All Scouts are requested to attend the Patriotic Fair at Seaside Park on Thursday, August 26th. They must be in uniform and carry their staves.

Scouts and Saluting

Some two weeks ago I published a special little note on "saluting" giving certain things when Scouts in uniform should salute. Now I want to draw your attention to this again, as I am afraid some of you rather forget this important part of a Scout's duty.

Another day I had occasion to ask a Scout some information, and although he was in uniform and gave me the correct answer, I was sorry to note he failed to give me the salute, and then again yesterday, I noticed a Scout in uniform pass a military officer without giving the salute.

I have mentioned the above cases, because I am sure it is in little details like this that a Scout can do much for or against the Scout movement. Older people whether interested in the Scouts or not, watch the behavior of the boys who belong to the finest boy's organization in the world.

Now boys, I don't wish to discourage you by telling of the falling of some, but wish rather to see you become more efficient from day to day. Watch how you obey the details of the Scout Law, then the whole will be followed naturally. Don't stand gazing and twisting yourselves about whilst the National Anthem is being played out doors, or in the "movies," but stand squarely at the "salute" the whole time.

Help to keep the tradition of the boys who have gone before you, of the brave lads who have given their lives in their Country's cause. They obeyed in their smaller details of life.

Waxing a Floor Waxing floors that have already been stained or finished is very simple. The materials needed are a quantity of cotton waste, turpentine for cleaning the floor, a heavy weighted brush for polishing—and this should be used on the floor before the wax is applied as well as after it—and a can of wax in either solid or liquid form.

The liquid wax is a bit easier to apply and both give the same luster, says the New Haven Register. The greatest difference is that the floor on which the wax is used is much less slippery than that on which the liquid is spread. A daily dusting of such floors with a stiff broom covered with a woolen cloth will keep them bright and clean under ordinary conditions.

An Old Boy's Message to Scouts

Major-General H. B. Jeffrey, C.B., in times of peace Commissioner for London, but now on military service.

"One of the best features of our Scout Movement is the bringing together of rich and poor in work for the benefit of the future men of our Country."

"Scouting is a splendid form of character training for boys, but no less important is what may be termed the accumulation of virtue by the Scoutmasters and other officials who make sacrifices of leisure or money, or both, for our common humanity."

"It is more blessed to give than to receive; therefore, the social service which the boys who are members of the organization will be more trusted by the general public."

and when the time came for them to obey in the greatest, they were not found wanting. I dare say many of you living in remote parts with only a few boy scouts near, are likely to become discouraged, for want of a scout master, or others boy Scouts all over the world are your brothers in the movement, so stick closely to the scout law, and by so doing you may soon get more boys to join you, and thus the movement will not only grow, but will become more efficient, and the boys who are members of the organization will be more trusted by the general public.

Swimming Games

By Charles Hibbs, lecturer Royal Life-Saving Society, in "The Scout," England.

Musical Life-Buoys

This is another name for "Musical Chairs," only the music is slightly different, being obtained from a good-sized bell. A row of life-buoys is arranged about a foot or so apart, between two boats or posts. Each buoy is separately fixed so that they may be easily taken away one by one.

A course is fixed around and away from these buoys by means of a line of corks or by spars, and the competitors must swim outside this until the bell sounds. Then a rush is made for the buoys, and the person who is not successful in getting into one is out.

One buoy is now pulled away and the performance repeated; and so on until there are two players left for one buoy.

The buoys must be entered from underneath. Sharks and Shrimps This is a good game, and may be played by any number of swimmers. Two "homes" are arranged, say two wooden spars. These are placed about fifteen yards apart, and all the shrimps collect on one, while the "shark" stays midway between the two, treading water.

When the shark commences to splash about, the shrimps swim across to the other spar, trying to avoid being caught. The shark will probably only catch one, and this one now turns into a shark also, and helps the other.

The shrimps again make the journey, and probably one or two more are caught and have to turn into sharks, and so on.

The last shrimps to be caught are, of course, the winners. Many rules may be adopted to avoid capture, one of the favorite ones being to swim a short way under water.

Sea Chorus This item can be made very amusing. About a dozen people take part, all wearing Scout hats made of paper, with a cardboard rim. The hats are not allowed to get wet, while all form a ring in the water with a cork around the outside, buoyed with corks, for a guide to keep even.

The conductor is in the centre of the circle, with head and shoulders through a life-buoy, and a stick in his hand for conducting. Any song with short verses may be sung, but each verse should finish up with a "bubbling" chorus. This is caused by allowing the mouth to go just under the water, and then shouting and blowing into the water.

At the end of the last chorus, all throw up the arms and sink, leaving the hats all in a ring floating on the water.

How to Run a Troop

By Ernest Youg, Headmaster Harrow County School and Scoutmaster 4th Harrow Troop, in "The Scout," England.

Second Week's Work

1. Have a written test on the signs. Each Scout is to write out all those he remembers. Marks can be given to count in the competition. If a boy remembers the lot, he has passed one of the Tenderfoot tests, and this must be credited to him, and entered in some kind of a register.

Boys who do not pass can revise their work and be tested again some other evening.

2. Revise last week's knots—reef and fisherman. Someone is sure to have forgotten them.

Teach the clovehitch and sheepshank (S. and B., p. 87.) using the method of finding the slowest boy as before.

To be of practical use, the clovehitch should be tied round a chair back or something over which the knot cannot be slipped. The sheepshank should be tied with both ends of the rope attached to some rigid object.

Outdoor Work

Play the game of Wool Collecting (S. Games, p. 39.) This is the next easiest form of tracking to following the Scout Sign trail played the week before. The trail should be laid with red wool, as this is fairly easy to see; never begin by trying to be too clever and setting tasks too difficult. Let the trail go for at least two miles.

The Patrol-leader will not lay the trail, but lead his patrol and see that no one drops out.

The trail should end at some point where fire lighting can be practised (S. for B., pp. 107-109). Practise only the pyramid fire.

On the way home practise Scout Pace. This is 20 paces quick march, 20 paces at the double, and so on alternately walking and running.

Scout Pace has several uses. It is a method of travelling a very long distance without getting fagged out; it is a clock, and it is a tape measure.

The idea is to do the distance in exactly twelve minutes; this is not so very fast; you can do it in eight minutes if you try, but that is not what is wanted. You have to practise till you can do it in exactly twelve minutes, neither more nor less.

Then, say you want to go a mile, if you go Scout Pace for twelve minutes you will know that you have done a mile; Scout Pace for three minutes will carry you a quarter of a mile, and so on.

On the other hand, if you go Scout Pace for a mile, you know you will have taken twelve minutes.

What Are the Things Missing In This Picture?

Two Watches to be Given for Correct Answers

An Interesting Competition for Boys and Girls Here is quite a new contest. Can you name and correctly fill in the things missing in the above picture? To the boy and girl who draws and names the parts missing most neatly, and correctly, I will award a Beautiful Watch. Remember, the best among the boys and the best among the girls win the watches.

There are no hard rules, just fill up six of the competition coupons, which will also appear in The Standard each day until the contest closes, pin to your attempt, and address to: UNCLE DICK, The Standard, St. John, N. B.

This competition will close Thursday, September 2.

A Word-Making Contest

How many words can you make out of the letters in the word "Communication"? You must only use the letters included in the word.

To the boy or girl not over 15 years of age who sends me in the most number of correct words, I shall award a valuable story book as a prize. Each list must have three coupons attached to it, filled in, and be sent by Thursday, August 26th, to: UNCLE DICK, The Standard Office, St. John, N. B.

METHODIST

Rev. James Allen, M.A., is planning to visit the district meetings of these conferences. He will spend one week in the N. B. and P. E. island conference. The visit of the Home Missionary Secretary, it is hoped, will help the missions as well as increase the missionary income.

The special agent of Mr. Allison, Rev. B. J. Porter, B.A., is working with success organizing former student associations and securing new students.

The Rev. Aquila Lucas, who did such effective work in these provinces for the institution and establishment of Provincial S. S. Associations and has since done like good work in the West Indies and Central America, celebrated the fortieth anniversary of his marriage on the 5th inst., at his home one mile out of London, Ontario. All five sons and six daughters and some grandchildren were present at the reunion. The family presents to their parents were practical memorabilia to mark the occasion. The youngest son but one, Corp. Albert E. Lucas, of the A.M.C., is about to depart for the front. Mrs. Lucas was Miss Hattie Bridges of Charlottetown, P.E.I.

The Rev. Ovid Hutton Peters, of Sheffield, has taken up his abode in the parsonage after securing a helpmate, of whom he and his people will be proud, in the person of Miss Pearl Boyd, daughter of Mr. James Boyd of Gagetown. They have the best wishes of their numerous friends and the hope that the path of life may be strewn with joys.

The Centenary congregation is enjoying the ministrations of Rev. C. L. McIvor, A.B., B.D., of Berlin, Ontario. He possesses admirable oratorical powers, combined with depth of thought and originality of presentation of the great truths of the Christian faith and practice.

Rev. Charles Dockrill, who many years ago was a member of the N. B. and P. E. I. Conference, has been visiting his brother in this city and renewing his friendships with not a few who are glad to welcome him in the city where he was born. He preached with great acceptance in the Congregational Church one Sunday. He returned to his home in Brooklyn, New York, where he ministers to a united Church of Congregationalists and Methodists Episcopal people.

The Congregational and Presbyterian ministers are already interchanging churches as the needs and openings require. Union is in the air, and near to realization in the New England States.

The one hundred and seventy-second yearly conference of the people called Methodists, was opened in the Central Hall, Birmingham, England, with a large attendance of delegates. The invocation of the president, Dr. Wadley Moss, was deeply impressive, and his opening address was profoundly impressive, up to date, and deeply inspiring.

The Rev. Francis Godson, Wesleyan minister of Barbados, writes to say the West Indian colonies have given freely young men, thousands of whom are waiting and willing to serve. He is certain Jamaica, Trinidad and British Guiana, with Barbados, could easily furnish upwards of twenty thousand men.

DECLINES PRINCIPALSHIP

Prof. Robert Law, D. D. of Knox College, Toronto, who was recently offered the Principalship of Manitoba College, Winnipeg, has definitely announced that he will not accept. The Principalship has been vacant since the death of the late Dr. Patrick in 1911. Prof. A. B. Baird, D. D. is the acting Principal.

A WORD ABOUT PASTOR RUSSELL

The Presbyterian, published in Toronto, says in its last week's issue: "Pastor Russell loses his case in his suit for libel against the Brooklyn Eagle. The highest court of New York State affirms the verdict of the jury, which decided that the Eagle told the truth in its statement that Russell was a fraud."

ARCHBISHOP AT AN ASSEMBLY

At the meetings of the New South Wales Presbyterian Assembly, held in Sydney during August, on the night devoted to the subject of Religion and Morals, the Moderator had the pleasure of welcoming the Archbishop of Sydney, Dr. Wright, who briefly addressed the Assembly and took a seat by the side of the Moderator and remained to the end of the sederunt and closed the Assembly at the request of the Moderator by pronouncing the benediction. We believe this is unique in connection with any similar Assembly.—The British Weekly.

RUTHENIAN PRESBYTERIAN CONVENTION

The first Ruthenian Presbyterian Convention for Alberta was held in Vegreville early in July under the auspices of the Presbytery of Vermilion. Arrangements were made for the successful convention by Presbytery's Home Mission Committee and Rev. Wm. Simmons, the Home Mission Superintendent. Representatives came from the several Ruthenian congregations, many of them driving more than sixty miles through mud and rain. Six Ruthenian missionaries were present and the speakers included two Ruthenian laymen prominent in business life of their respective communities, who contributed largely to the success of the convention. The programme included many addresses of an instructive and practical nature, relative to religious and church life and work. Among the speakers were: Revs. D. G. MacQueen, Wm. Simmons, W. G. Brown and Geo. Arthur, M. D.

BAPTIST

The tenth annual session of United Baptists of New Brunswick will meet this year at Hillsboro at 10 a. m., Wednesday, September 22nd. The ministers' conference will open on Tuesday, September 21st, at 2 p. m. The annual sermon of the association will be delivered on the evening of the 21st.

Fresh Study of the Ordinances Needed
The Rev. J. M. Frost, D. D., writing in the Watchman Examiner on "The One Million Baptists," as one of the objectives of the "Five year program" of the Northern Baptist Convention says:

In Christ's Union Relative to Baptist Churches, a book lately published, I have ventured the following word concerning this very matter:

Baptism was not at first either the cause or occasion of division, but Christendom was not reunited until this great ordinance, so full of wonderful and didactic meaning, has its rightful adjustment and is accorded the position of a Christian rite, and its Christian significance. There is need for fresh study of the ordinances in their relation to Christian history, doctrine, and experience and life as set forth in the New Testament. And so forth in the way we dream, perhaps, may bring a return to primitive Christianity and so prove the highway to Christian union. It is a wonderful story these ordinances tell—Baptism and the Memorial Supper—if only they be allowed to speak their words untrammelled and unobscured. There is scarcely a fundamental doctrine in the whole Christian system that does not get didactic emphasis with illumination and power in one or both of these ordinances.

Rev. W. T. Stackhouse, D. D., was in Toronto a few days recently, on his way from Winnipeg to New York City. Dr. Stackhouse, his many friends will be glad to know, has quite recovered his health, and seems well prepared to run the race for a good many years.

Rev. S. Johnson of Chipman has been having great success in special evangelistic services he has been holding at Salmon Creek during the past month.

PRESBYTERIAN

The Presbyterian church at Richmond Corner, N. B., which has been closed for some time while undergoing extensive repairs, will be re-opened for public worship tomorrow. The pastor, Rev. J. J. Miller, will be assisted at morning and evening services by Rev. A. D. Archibald, a former pastor, now of Picton, N. S.

Communion services were conducted at Grand Bay on the last Sabbath at which Rev. Gordon Dickie of St. John was the officiating minister. H. L. Somers is the catechist in this mission field.

Rev. J. H. A. Anderson of St. John officiated at communion services on last Sabbath in St. Martin's and Black River. W. T. Morgan, a Princeton student, is the catechist in charge for the summer months.

Rev. Frank Baird, of St. Paul's church, Woodstock, N. B., was the preacher in St. John Presbyterian church, St. John, last Sabbath.

Rev. A. D. Archibald of Prince street church, Picton, N. S., conducted public worship in St. David's church, St. John, N. B. last Sabbath. The pastor, Rev. J. A. MacKeigan, has gone for a few weeks' vacation.

Rev. D. W. H. Smith of Fredericton, N. B., has returned from his vacation in Sydney, N. S. He occupied the pulpit of St. Paul's church at both services last Sabbath.

Rev. W. McNairn of St. Philip's church, Westville, N. S., is with his family spending his vacation at his former home in Buckton, N. B.

Rev. D. Henderson of Chatham is supplying the pulpit of Bathurst congregation during the vacation of the pastor, Rev. W. McN. Matthews.

Rev. S. J. McArthur of St. James' church, Newcastle, N. S., attended the meetings of the Maritime Board of Trade in Summerside Aug. 18-19 as a delegate from the Board of Trade of Newcastle.

Rev. W. W. Conrad of Melrose, Ont. who occupied the pulpit of St. John Presbyterian church, St. John, N. B. for two Sabbaths during the vacation of the pastor, Rev. J. H. A. Anderson, has returned to his home in Ontario.

Rev. Alister Murray of Middle River, Cape Breton, has at the earnest solicitation of commissioners from the congregation, declined the call to Valleyfield, P. E. I.

Rev. S. J. U. Compton has resigned his charge of St. Andrew's church, Kingston, Ont., as he has been appointed chaplain to the 59th Battalion.

Reliable Recipes

Chocolate Fig Cream

Scald two cups of rich milk, add two squares of chocolate that have been melted over hot water, two tablespoons of granulated sugar and a tiny pinch of ground cinnamon. Cook until well thickened, remove from the fire, and when cold fold in the stiffly whipped white of one egg and half a pint of cream that has been beaten solid with two tablespoons of powdered sugar. Flavor with vanilla and turn into a two-quart freezer. Turn the handle until a slight resistance is felt, then add one large cup of finely chopped figs. Continue freezing until smooth, and serve in slender crystal glasses, each portion capped with a tablespoon of sweetened whipped cream.

Baked Quinces

Select enough quinces to fill a baking dish; pare, core and arrange them in the dish, fill their centers with honey and sprinkle them with sugar, then fill the dish with cold water and bake them in the oven until they are tender when tried with a straw and are a good red color. Remove from the pan, drain, and when cold remove to a fancy plate; chill, and when ready to serve cover with whipped cream; sprinkle the top with powdered macarons and dot with red cherries.

Frozen Rice Pudding

Put six ounces of rice into a stew pan with one quart of milk and a half pound of sugar. Cook until the rice is soft (if the milk cooks away, add a little more), then add the beaten yolks of six eggs and a tablespoon of vanilla. When slightly thickened stand aside to cool, then turn into a freezer; after freezing for 15 minutes—open and add the egg whites beaten stiff with a little powdered sugar. Have ready a dish of stewed apricots that have rich sirup and have been chilled, turn out the frozen pudding, pour the fruit around it and heap with whipped cream.

Iced Apple Pudding

Peel, core and cut two dozen apples in quarters and put them to simmer over the fire until they are tender; then drain and mix with them a jar of apricot jam, half a pound of sugar, a quart of preserved cherries, juice of an orange, two ounces of blanched and chopped almonds, two ounces of chopped citron. Strain all through sieve except the almonds, citron and cherries, add them afterward with a quarter pound of seeded raisins that have been cooked a few minutes in a little sugar sirup and a pint of whipped cream. Mix all together and freeze. When ready to serve use a sauce of fruit or just the whipped cream.

"Enquirer" (Chipman)—Perhaps the biscuits you are giving your dog are too heavy, try puppy biscuits. Break them up for him, but don't mix them with milk, let him chew them himself.

Helpful Hints

Facial Massage

To eradicate the deep forehead wrinkles, place the thumbs on the temples and in that way hold the skin firm of both hands, rub the lines in the opposite direction from which they are formed. Working across the wrinkles, knead from the end of the forehead to the other. Then turn your attention to the frowning lines between the eyebrows. Rub across these in small circles, with your right-hand fingers, bearing down lightly on the flesh. The skin meanwhile should be held taut by laying the first

Fashion Notes

Black Velvet Hats For the Early Fall

An exclusive showing of fall hats reveals the fact that black velvet in many new and unusual shapes, flower trimmed, will be the leader of early fall. The trimming is low, forming floral wreaths about the crown, the height being in the odd shaping of the hats. They are considerably larger than the hats of midsummer.

One rather striking hat has a medium crown with a flaring futed brim, one large white pony lily at a little to the left of the front lying partly on the brim. The hat is faced with soft, apple green velvet. A most becoming hat for the red-haired girl.

Some have the feather pompon with a curled quill stem ascending from the center that has become familiar to us on this summer's hats.

One striking poke bonnet has a stiffened black lace crown, which is transparent, and a black velvet brim. Three black tips are bunched at the side and two long ties of satin ribbon fall from a square tailored bow at the back well down to the coat. A tiny banding of ostrich feathers finishes the edge of the hat brim, which is also faced with black velvet.

Like men, women are now considering the comfort of their hats. While they do not go so far as men do in having them weighed, so that the summer straw shall weigh less than the 12-ounce winter slouch hat, they must have them light in order not to disarrange the hair; for now that it is obligatory in almost all places of amusement for women to remove their hats it is quite necessary that the arrangement of the hair underneath shall not be crushed and flattened by too heavy a hat.

Pretty Bathing Suit

A 3-inch band of the white pussy willow crossed the bodice diagonally from the right shoulder to a point at the left of the waistline, and continued downward from left to right again, at the edge of a short tunic, the white trimming running all around the tunic, which hung half way over the short plaited skirt of navy blue taffeta.

The sleeves were slashed diagonally, the white taffeta bands outlining the edge.

The Business Life

Good American women are wont to speak scornfully of "trial marriages," and yet many and many of the marital unions "solemnized" in these days of divorce might justly be classed under that heading, for they are of the most tentative nature. Why and how has this condition arisen? Well for one reason—and a very weighty one—the business side of marriage does not enter sufficiently into the deliberations of the mating pair.

For verily, that marriage has a business side, that it is, indeed, a business and that there is nothing so much the business of a young woman as marriage, are facts that every person over forty ought to know and admit, even though he may not know or may affect to believe otherwise.

"What!"—protests the romantic maiden, who thinks she is marrying simply for love—"would you degrade

FOR ENTERING THE WAR

How Popular Sentiment Has Veered Around to Side of the Teutonic Allies During Past Few Months—Entry Into War Will Mean Breach of Faith With Denmark and Norway and Bring These Two Nations Over to the Side of Britain and Her Allies.

(By F. Cunliffe-Owen, in the New York Sun.)

Sweden is on the eve of casting in her lot with Germany and her allies, and those that have been led by their absorbing interest in the international confederation now in process to concentrate their attention during the past fortnight upon Bulgaria, Roumania and Greece, whose neutrality is well-erred in the balance, would do well to turn their gaze during the next few days upon Stockholm.

So overwhelming has been the demand by Sweden for American produce and wares of every description during the last twelve months, imports from the United States having increased nearly tenfold, that people here cannot remain indifferent to the adoption of a policy by King Gustav's Government which will have the effect of virtually closing its numerous ports to the trade of this country. For as soon as ever Sweden casts the die she will necessarily be subjected to the same blockade that Great Britain and the Powers associated with her have established against Germany, Austria and Turkey.

If any doubts remained as to the bellicose intentions of Sweden they should be set at rest by the news that since the beginning of the month she has been busily engaged in mobilizing her army. Inasmuch as it is being massed in the northern portion of the kingdom, along the Muscovite border line, it is manifest that these movements of troops, as well as all sorts of other warlike preparations on the part of the Stockholm Government, are aimed at Russia. The latter cannot but view this new departure of Sweden as a distinct provocation and downright menace, calling for quick and vigorous response. For the Swedish army is no longer a negligible quantity, or to be despised from a military point of view. During the last eighteen months, and more especially since last September, its numbers, thanks to the untiring efforts of King Gustav, have been swelled to over 600,000 men, trained to a high state of efficiency, newly armed and equipped, as well as liberally furnished with the very best of the way of field artillery and heavy ordnance.

This means that Russia is obliged, as rapidly as possible, to despatch a force of several hundred thousand men to the Baltic coast.

No, I would not put it on a level with the sordid aims and practices of the marts of trade. But I would regard it as a social business, a serious honest, even sacred business, and it easily can be so. Why talk at the term "business" in this connection? Surely you would not object to the term "the business of life." Then, why not accept that of the business of marriage? As a woman contemplating matrimony, it will be happier if you look carefully to it.

In a little town in Minnesota there was a pleasant blond doll of a girl who everybody thought ought to make a good match. This doll had bright blue eyes somewhat given to misting, and a hair as white as the faintest notion of what love meant. During the first half dozen years of her marriageable life, she rejected two or three young men of sense and substance, who proposed to her. In fact, she acquired the dangerous reputation of a jilt, and after a while the better class young men avoided her. Her widowed father died and she went to live with an aunt, a woman of high ideals who opened her eyes to many things. The girl became a fairly good singer, but she would not take her aunt's advice to "become an efficient pianist. While pretending to practice she consumed her precious hours in playing ragtime melodies by ear.

However, she acquired some of her aunt's good taste in social affairs and house decoration and became well read. But by this time she had lost much of her former beauty. Her aunt's fortune dwindled, and rather than be a burden to her poor relation the doll tried to support herself by giving music lessons. Of course with her small knowledge of music and poor aptitude, she failed. A young clerk in a crockery store, three years her junior—a fellow of a light facetious nature who made cheap jokes which she abhorred—was now her only suitor. She felt that if she who had come to know correct social usages and to look rather high, took this petty creature for a husband she would be marrying beneath her, but as there was no other man in sight she accepted his offer of clothes and board, which was practically all her marriage dowry. But, like so many other girls, her chief business was the thing she neglected and it led to hopeless, slavish wedlock.—Woman's World for September.

NEWS IN THE AUTOMOBILE WORLD

New Six Latest Overland Model

The six cylinder Overland just announced, gives the Willys-Overland Company the third car in its selling combination. In June the Overland announced a four cylinder touring car to sell for $1050. Four weeks ago the Willys-Knight car was announced. With the announcement of the Six at $1600, the Overland completes a trio of models which to all intents and purposes practically blanket the moderate price market.

The latest addition to the Overland family is known as Model 58. The low price for so big a seven passenger touring car is the result of the quantity production methods at the Overland factory.

The wheel base of 125 inches adds much to the easy riding qualities of the car. The roomy body has two extra seats and can easily accommodate seven adults. The seats have high backs and the seat cushions are built on deep coiled springs. The upholstery throughout is of genuine leather.

The cylinders of the motor are cast en bloc. With a bore of 3 1/2 inches and a stroke of 5 1/4 inches, the motor will develop 45 horsepower at normal engine speeds. The oiling system is a combination of force feed and constant level splash. The oil is fed under pressure to the crank shaft and cam shaft bearings and to the three helical timing gears.

The vacuum gasoline tank under the hood insures positive flow of gasoline to the carburetor, which is of an improved type, with hot air attachment. Ignition is furnished by high tension magneto as in last year's model.

No batteries are required. The magneto is entirely independent of the electric starting and lighting system, which is of the two unit type.

The transmission is of the selective sliding gear type with three speeds forward and reverse. The gears themselves are sintered steel, double heat treated and of the stub tooth type. The front and rear axles remain the same as last season—the one beam section type in front and full-floating type in rear. The front springs are semi-elliptic, 38 inches long by 2 inches wide. The rear springs are three-quarter elliptic, 53 inches by 2 inches, and are slung under the axle in swivel seats.

Left hand drive and centre control facilitates driving. The electric control buttons are on the steering column, most convenient for use. All indicating devices are on the cowl dash instrument board. Pedals are adjustable for reach and the foot pads, being hinged, conform to the position of the foot. The tires are 35 inches by 4 1/2 inches, with non-skid in rear.

The complete equipment includes a two unit volt electric starting and lighting system with head, tail and dash lamps and headlight dimmers, ammeter to register electric current, one man top, rain vision, ventilating type windshield with universal adjustment, magnetic speedometer, electric horn, muffler cutout, combined tail light and license plate bracket, hinged robe rail, foot rest, tire carriers in rear, extra demountable rim, full set of tools, tire repair kit, jack and pump.

HOW ONE MANUFACTURER MAKES SERVICE CERTAIN

One way of giving service to motor car owners is to place service stations all over the country, or in more populated districts and "put it up to the agent himself."

But a better plan has been adopted by the Willard Storage Battery Company. They have gone a step farther towards giving their battery Owners service. Direct factory representatives are placed at strategic points throughout the country. These men not only supervise the service work of Willard Service Stations, (more than 400 in number), but make suggestions to the service stations of manufacturers whose cars are equipped with Willard starting and lighting batteries.

This system keeps everybody on his toes and gives the car owner the kind of service he is really entitled to.

Factory trained men who act as supervisors are stationed at New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Atlanta, Cleveland, Indianapolis, Detroit, Chicago, Minneapolis, Omaha, Kansas City, Dallas, San Francisco and Seattle.

ADDITIONS TO THE OVERLAND FACTORY

Additions more than equaling the size of the average American automobile plant are being started at the Overland factory in Toledo. The additions to the factory alone will be equivalent to almost twenty-three acres of floor space. In addition to the factory extensions there will be a new office building, 65x375 feet.

One of the new factory structures will contain twenty acres of floor space and will be nearly three times the size of the original Pope plant, when taken over by John N. Willys, president of the Willys-Overland Company. This building will be five stories high, 400 feet wide, and 400 feet deep. It will be used for final testing, body assembling and finishing and will contain 800,000 square feet of floor space.

This building will contain even more floor space than the one recently completed for the Overland, which was 1,000 feet long, 200 feet wide and three stories high, and said to be the largest single factory building in the world. The new assembling and finishing building, when completed, will give the Toledo plant the distinction of having two of the largest single factory buildings ever constructed.

NEW CARS FOR NEW YORK FIRE CHIEFS

Another step in the motorizing of the New York city fire department will soon be taken when the battalion chiefs receive their new auto runabouts which have recently been contracted for by Commission Adamson. Twenty of these cars are called for in the contract and their initial cost will be $423 each. It is estimated that it will not cost less than $200 to maintain each of these cars for a year, whereas at the present time each battalion chief requires two horses which cost the city about $300 each per year.

Motorization of other parts of the department is also going on rapidly. Many of the horse-drawn fire engines have been converted into motor driven engines by equipping them with tractor engines. In December, 1914, there were 1167 fire horses. The previous year there were 1341 horses. The department is now getting rid of them at the rate of 200 a month. If the necessary funds are provided the completion of motorization will be accomplished by the end of 1917. Last year the city appropriated $380,000 for motor fire apparatus.

Much work has already been done in the way of motorization. Stalls have been removed from many firehouses, gasoline storage tanks have been installed, and floors strengthened. Firehouses which were illuminated with gas have now been electrified. This extensive work has been done without an interruption to the service of any of the companies.

The department is well equipped with three classes of motor apparatus. These are: Tractor engines, high pressure automobile hose wagons, each of which will save the department $280 a year, and gasoline motor-driven engines with a pumping equipment. The automobile training school which the department has established in its repair shops at Fifty-sixth street and Twelfth avenue, is a busy place. Young firemen with a mechanical bent are sent to the school, where they receive a six weeks' course of instruction in the working parts of motors. The school is in charge of Battalion Chief James Henry. Chief Henry takes his charges out daily in a motor truck, and gives them practical instruction in auto-driving. In this way the department is training and developing chauffeurs.

Fire officials assert that the superiority of the motor apparatus to the horse has been clearly proven. The motors have been found to be much faster than the horses. Then it has been estimated that the motorization of the department will save the city thousands of dollars.

Heat Does Not Cause Blow-Outs

"One often hears the argument that heat causes expansion of the air sufficient to produce a blow-out," says Walter Bliss, Boston manager of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company. "Many motorists thus excuse their habit of running tires under-inflated. Even experienced garage men advise that tires be run at fifteen to twenty pounds lower pressure in hot weather. We have to admit, of course, that heat does expand air and raises the pressure in a tire, but in its practical effect the rise in temperature is insufficient to cause even the slightest danger."

"To satisfy ourselves on this point we recently made an unusually severe test, using a runabout equipped with 32x4 tires. We selected a day, which according to local records was the hottest June day ever recorded. The tires were pumped up to eighty pounds with the car standing in the cool of the garage. It was driven intermittently for about an hour, and when not running was allowed to stand in the sun. Then it was taken for a spin at forty miles an hour over brick and tar-red-block pavements. On measuring the pressure we found it had increased just four pounds.

"As far as the welfare of the tire is concerned a difference of four pounds is really no difference at all. Tires are built with such a high factor of safety that an increase in pressure of many times four pounds would not cause a blowout, unless already ruined by overloading and under-inflation. We have often inflated up to three hundred pounds without any damage to the tire.

"The most serious variation in tire pressure is caused by leakage. Rubber is to a small degree porous and will allow air under pressure to leak through it. A certain amount of leakage through both tube and valve is normal and to be expected. Your pressure may maintain itself for a considerable time, but it is never safe to count on it. You cannot put it too strong that under-inflation, not over-inflation, is the condition to guard against."

AUTO EXPORTS DOUBLED

Great Increase in Foreign Trade of Industry Largely Due to War Orders for Motor Trucks.

Motor cars and motor trucks valued at $60,254,635 were exported from the United States during the year ending June 30, according to figures from Washington. The cars were valued at $21,113,953 and the trucks, a large proportion of which were on war orders, were valued at $39,140,682. In addition parts were exported to the value of $7,853,153. The cars exported numbered 23,380 and the trucks 13,996, a total of 37,376 vehicles. The value of the exports of cars and trucks was more than twice that of the previous year in which $26,574,574 worth were sent to foreign countries.

The most striking feature of the increase is in trucks. In the year that ended June 30, 1914, only 754 trucks were exported against the 13,996 in the last fiscal year. In other words, eighteen times as many trucks were sent out of the country in the year ending with last June as in the previous year. Exports of cars, on the other hand, fell off from 28,306 to 23,380.

The export figures for June, 1915, show 2390 motor trucks valued at $8,572,803 and the export of passenger cars 4418, valued at $4,735,998. Contrasting the business in June, 1915, with June, 1914, great export gains are noticed. June, 1914 recorded 90 motor trucks exported at a value of $120,267, in other words the exportation of motor trucks was thirty-three times greater in June, a year ago. In June, 1914, 1922 passenger automobiles were exported, valued at $1,807,882; whereas in June, 1915 there was 4418 automobiles exported, valued at $4,735,998.

BUYS AUTOCARS FOR BOSTON

One of the Largest Baking Companies to Enlarge its Motor Delivery Equipment.

The Loose-Wiles Biscuit Company has just placed an order with the Autocar Company of Ardmore, Pa. for motor delivery vehicles which will be used in the Boston territory. Autocars are already in the service of the Loose-Wiles Company in Boston and New York.

The baking companies, large and small, are very generally putting on motor delivery equipment, and the Autocar Company numbers more than fifty bakers among the users of its trucks. This condition points to two things, that there is considerable activity in the baking business, and that where perishable goods must be delivered quickly the motor truck is the efficient solution of the delivery problem.
