

RUSSIANS MARCHING THROUGH SNOW IN EAST WHILE FLOODS CAUSE LULL IN FIGHTING IN WEST

GERMANS DRIVEN FROM SHELTER AND MOWED DOWN BY FRENCH GUNS.

Eye Witness Gives Graphic Description of Fighting in West Flanders from November 4th to 9th—Enemy's Prodigal Use of Ammunition Failed to Produce Desired Effect—Indian Troops Capture German Trenches—Reckless Charge on Allies Line by Four Hundred of Most Daring Germans Ended Disastrously for Attackers, Half of Whom Fell Before Bayonets of French and British.

London, Nov. 15.—The official press bureau has issued the following account, dated November 10, of the movements of the British force and the French armies in immediate touch with it:

"In describing the operations, for the six days from November 4 to 9, it can be said that during that period, the Germans have nowhere along our front made an attack in great force, such as was launched against Ypres at the end of October. What they may be contemplating remains to be seen. Their policy has appeared to be to wear us out by a continual bombardment, interspersed with local assaults at different points.

"As regards their artillery attacks, which have now continued without cessation for days, wonder is aroused as to when this prodigal expenditure of ammunition will cease, for it has not produced its obviously calculated effect of breaking the defence in preparation for an advance of their infantry.

"On Wednesday, Nov. 4, they renewed the attack east of Ypres, but their effort bore no resemblance to those which preceded it, being more in the nature of a demonstration in force than a serious attempt to drive in our line, and was beaten off with ease.

"By then our men had been reinforced, had enjoyed some rest, and had had time to improve their trenches in different ways. Moreover, the consciousness that they had repelled one great effort of the enemy was a moral factor of no small value.

"Farther to the south, on our left centre, the French advanced under cover of our guns, and made some progress in spite of the heavy fire brought to bear on them from the enemy's massed batteries. On our centre all was quiet.

"On the right our Indian troops scored a success by capturing and filling in some trenches in which the enemy had established himself, only fifty yards from our lines, under cover of some heavy artillery brought up after dark.

"On our extreme left one of our smaller batteries, which was so far proved a somewhat barren acquisition. It is so exposed that it proves a death trap for their troops, and they can derive no advantage from it.

"On Friday the sixth, the attack was renewed south of the Menin-Ypres high road, but was repulsed without difficulty. Against the southeast of Ypres, which town had been subjected to a bombardment during the night and was also shelled during the day, a fairly strong advance was made in the afternoon, and the enemy gained some ground.

"The French, however, made a counter-charge supported by us, and by nightfall had recovered all the lost ground. A French attack on two villages which had been shelled on Thursday, made considerable progress one point being captured; but the enemy contrived to render the position untenable and our allies had retired from the hill by dusk.

"On our centre nothing of particular interest occurred. On our right, south of the Lys, the enemy made two unsuccessful night attacks.

"On Saturday the eighth, on our left the enemy in the afternoon again attacked on the east and southeast of Ypres, along the Menin road. Our line was at one point forced back, only to be regained after a few minutes. About 4 p. m., the Germans appeared to be massing opposite our line, southeast of Ypres, and the pressure was for a time severe, although the attack was not driven home.

"Slightly farther to the south fighting continued with unabated fury, and resulted in gains to our allies. About four hundred of the enemy advanced from the cover of a wood against the French. Half of them, with the most reckless bravery, came on to close quarters, and were all shot or bayoneted. A tremendous cannonade was maintained by both sides in this direction, the shells pouring a hail of shells all along the ridge facing them held

Czar's Army, Clad in Sheepskin Jackets, Continue Advance Against Enemy's Positions—Floods in West Flanders bring New Hardships to Men in the Trenches and brings Lull in Fighting—Germans Driven Back in Attempt to Cross Canal Near Dixmude and Allies Take Several Strategic Positions—Raw Recruits in Enemy's Ranks Show Great Bravery—Russian Campaign in East Prussia Going Favorably for Russians—Battle on Which Decision in East May Hinge is Impending.

London, Nov. 16, 10.13 p. m.—Today has been one of the most uneventful in the history of the war, as far as great results are concerned. The coming winter has partly paralyzed the movements of the troops, both in the east and the west.

The Russians on the border of East Prussia are reported to be marching through snow, which is their natural element, clad in sheep skin jackets, similar to those which the Japanese first wore in Manchuria. Blizzards have swept the trenches in Belgium and Northern France and brought great suffering to the wounded, as well as to the men in the fields. A large area of West Flanders, around Dixmude, has been flooded by the heavy rains and is no mans land for fighting.

The French and German reports of today are contradictory, as regards the progress of their armies in the west yesterday. Berlin says there was only slight activity because of the snow storm. Paris announces that the Germans in attempting to cross the canal near Dixmude were thrown back, that the Allies re-captured several strategic points, and repulsed two German attacks southeast of Ypres, and "entirely destroyed" a German regiment, south of Bixchoote.

An observer with the British army, who furnishes the newspaper reports from the front, announces that the German attempts to batter a wedge through the British lines have greatly decreased in force during the past few days, and that they bear no semblance to the attacks in great force launched against Ypres at the end of October. They are, he adds, more in the nature of demonstrations in force, than serious assaults.

The writer pays high tribute to the bravery of raw German youths and untrained men of middle age, who, he says, do not hesitate to march against the trained British troops.

ALLIES HAVE MORE THAN ACCOMPLISHED THEIR AIM
If the Germans have abandoned their repeated furious battering ram efforts, their failure to thrust back the Allies' lines and reach Calais will, from the Allies' point of view, constitute a distinct victory for the Allies, since, it is asserted, they have not tried nor were they expected to accomplish anything more than to hold their own on the defence.

Petrograd reports that the Russian campaign is developing favorably in East Prussia. From other sources, the inhabitants of that country are said to be beginning to flee before the menace of a second invasion. On the Polish frontier, and in Galicia, two enormous armies are massing for a battle which may decide the fortunes of the war in the east.

The possibility is being discussed that the Austrians may abandon Cracow without defence, rather than submit the city to a destructive bombardment.

MONCTON MAN KILLED IN BERMUDA
Sheppard Cuthbertson of Royal Canadian Regiment, Victim of Cycle Accident.

Moncton, N. B., Nov. 16.—Sheppard Cuthbertson, of this city tonight received a telegram informing him that his son, Allen A., a corporal with the Royal Canadian Regiment at Kingston, Bermuda, had been killed in a cycle accident. Corporal Cuthbertson was 27 years of age.

ATTEMPTED TO POISON CANADIANS ON WAY TO ENGLAND
Medicine Hat, Alberta, Nov. 16.—A private letter to a citizen here, from a member of the Canadian contingent in England, tells of the shooting of two members of the contingent from Edmonton as German spies.

In the letter, it says they poisoned food on the ship going over, making many soldiers very ill.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 16, (via London, 4.42 p. m.)—The Telegram learns from Maastricht, Holland, that yesterday a badly damaged dirigible airship flew over Limburg, Holland, coming from the direction of Belgium. It was evident that the airship had been damaged, either by artillery fire or a storm. When over Maastricht the airship disappeared in the direction of Germany.

Another dirigible was observed yesterday from Sittard, thirteen miles northeast of Maastricht, coming from the southeast, and flying in a northerly direction along the Holland frontier.

ORDERS TO MOBILIZE START SCARE

Test Mobilization at Toronto Proved Very Satisfactory—Citizens Thought German Invasion Imminent.

Toronto, Nov. 16.—At the request of the Militia Department, as suggested by the British War Office, a test mobilization of the infantry regiments of the Toronto garrison was held this afternoon and the promptness with which the men responded was considered thoroughly satisfactory.

The mobilization order caused considerable excitement in the city, and a number of rumors of imminent German invasion, poisoning of the city's water supply, and proclamation of martial law, at once took wing. A number of the men arrived at the armory with valises and impediments for a lengthy campaign. The telephones both local and long distance in the newspaper offices were for a while working overtime, asking information as to what dire peril threatened the city or province.

HOW TOWN IN PATH OF HOSTILE ARMY SUFFERS

Of Six Hundred Houses Only Dozen Bullet-Riddled Buildings Remain.

Sermalez-Les-Bains, France, Nov. 16, 10.30 a. m.—This regional town of 2,800 inhabitants before the German invasion is representative of what happens to a place in the path of the hostile army. There were six hundred houses, and now a dozen bullet-scarred buildings are standing. All the others have been knocked to pieces by shells, or burned, mostly burned.

Sermalez, which is 17 miles east northeast of Vitry-Le-Francois, was on the battle line of 120 miles chosen by General Joffre for the French stand. It was under shell fire when the French occupied the place, again when the Germans held it, and when it lay between the two armies. This went on for five days. The frightened inhabitants lived in the cellars until the tumbling ruins began to choke the entrances. Then the Germans, withdrawing for the last time, the retreat having been sounded, it is alleged they set fire to all dwellings left standing, and that most of them were burned.

The 200 residents remaining took refuge in the open fields.

Thus a prosperous little city, in a district which is the centre of sugar manufacturing, was almost effaced. The correspondent has seen seven such towns and there appear to be a hundred more in the country recovered from the Germans.

position and making erratic, jerky movements.

The crew was clinging to lines to save themselves from being thrown out. The airship was badly damaged in the rear, but by desperate efforts managed to reach the German frontier, where it collapsed, a total wreck.

ASQUITH'S REQUEST FOR MORE MEN AND MONEY IS AGREED TO BY COMMONS

British Parliament Without Dissenting Voice Votes 225 Million Pounds and Another Million Men—Part of Vote For Loans To The Dominions—and Part For Belgians—War Costing England $5,000,000 a Day—Press Censorship Discussed—Kitchener Has Scheme For Better Pay For Officers of Lower Rank.

London, Nov. 16.—The meeting of the House of Commons today was entirely devoted to war measures, and without partisan politics. Premier Asquith requested a vote of $1,125,000,000 and another million soldiers, both of which the house granted without a dissenting voice.

The condition and morals of the soldiers; the inevitable spy system and the press censorship were discussed freely. The prime minister characterized the crisis as "the greatest emergency in which the country has ever been placed."

Collect from the Kaiser. Timothy Healy, the Irish Nationalist, said that the money should be given to them. John Hodge, the Labor member, for Lancashire, endorsed the proposal.

SCHR. M. K. RAWLEY WRECKED ON SPRUCE ISLAND DURING GALE

American Vessel Bound from St. John to Eastport Struck Rocks in Gale Blowing 55 Miles an Hour—Crew Rescued.

Special to The Standard. St. Stephen, N. B., Nov. 16.—In the storm that swept the coast Sunday night, the schooner M. T. Rawley, bound from St. John to Eastport, was driven ashore on Spruce Island, this county, and became a total wreck, floating off from the rocks and sinking in deep water.

The first intimation of the disaster came to Hon. Mr. Balch, the newly appointed American consul at this port in a telephone communication from Deer Island appraising him of the dangerous position in which the schooner was lying and that the men were on the island, without food or shelter. In less than twenty minutes Mr. Balch had a small steamer on its way from Eastport to the assistance of the craft. Before this the Deer Island power boat General Logan had sighted the men and had succeeded in picking up the captain and crew and landing them on Bar Island where they were cared for at the light station. They had lost everything they owned and had been for more than twenty hours without food and exposed to the raging elements. They arrived in Eastport this afternoon in the boat that had been sent to their assistance by Hon. Mr. Balch and very grateful for their prompt release from a dangerous position through his exertions.

NUMBER OF "CEMETERY" TRAINS PASSING THROUGH BRUSSELS TELL OF DEADLY FIRE OF ALLIES

Geneva, Switzerland, Nov. 16, via Paris, 3.20 p. m.—The National Swiss today publishes a long letter from a Swiss who is doing Red Cross work at Brussels. An extract from the letter says:

"The number of German wounded arriving here is unimaginable. Trains, which we call cemetery trains, full of piled up dead soldiers, continue to arrive from the front. They contain bundles of dead; that is, four bodies tied together to facilitate transportation. The bodies are burned promptly in special furnaces erected just outside Brussels."

BYE-ELECTIONS IN NEWFOUNDLAND PASSED SUNKEN SCHOONER ON TRIP FROM P. E. ISLAND

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 16.—Two bye-elections for Newfoundland legislature took place today. Wm. Coaker, president of Fishermen's Union, was elected for Twillingate, and Alfred B. Morine, formerly of Canada was elected in Bonaville. Both were returned unopposed.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Nov. 16.—The steamer Enterprise crossing from Pictou to Georgetown on Saturday night passed a sunken schooner. A quantity of baled hay likely part of her deckload was floating around.

AN UNEVENTFUL DAY IN WAR THEATRES; NO CHANGE IN SITUATION, PARIS REPORTS

INDIA TROOPS DEFEAT PRINCE OF WALES GOING TO FRONT

London, Nov. 17.—It is officially announced that since the occupation of Fao, at the head of the Persian gulf, by a British Indian force on November 8, two actions have been fought with the Turkish forces, who on both occasions have been severely handled and defeated after stubborn resistance.

EPE-WITNESS' STORY OF THE RECENT FIGHTING

Continued from page 1. by the Germans, and the latter bombarding some high ground and the valley to the east of it in our possession. Three machine guns were captured by us during the day. On our centre there was a recrudescence of activity on the enemy's part. During the previous night some six battalions of Saxons had succeeded in capturing some of our trenches, only to be driven out by a counter-attack, which resulted in one officer and several men being taken prisoners.

Night Attacks to Keep Allies from Securing Needed Rest. "On our right, during the night of November 8-9, a German trench was captured; otherwise the situation did not alter. Night attacks have been of regular occurrence at different points, and are made apparently more with a view to annoying our troops and preventing them from sleeping than with any other object. Sometimes, of course the advance has been of a more serious nature, and has been carried out by large bodies.

Enemy's Casualties 1,200 in One Day. "These strong attacks were accompanied or preceded by attempts to break through at other points, which were usually attended with heavy loss. An instance of the cost to the enemy of these subsidiary operations occurred on this day, when one of our battalions killed forty-seven Germans—this number being actually counted in front of our trenches—and captured fifty-one. It is calculated that on Sunday their casualties in killed and wounded in front of one small section of our line were about 1,200.

GIRLS! THICKEN AND BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR

Bring back its gloss, lustre, charm and get rid of dandruff. To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair, soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is more by a matter of using a little Danderine. It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine's and use it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance, freshness and lustre, and try as you will you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—growing out from the scalp, sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower; destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

COLD WEATHER AN AID TO RUSSIAN ADVANCE

Troops Move Rapidly Over Frozen Roads of East Prussia in Advance on Carrow — Battle Which May Decide Struggle in Eastern Area Expected on German Side of Frontier.

Petrograd, Nov. 16.—The Russian advance in East Prussia, according to advices received here from the front, is being assisted materially by cold weather, which enables the troops to move more rapidly. In the swampy lake region of East Prussia, movements of the army have been retarded by soft roads. This mud has now been removed by the cold weather, which has frozen the roads.

THE GOEBEN AND BRESLAU BACK IN THE BOSPHORUS

London, Nov. 16.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Athens says: "The Turks lost 250 men and two guns destroyed in the bombardment of the forts of the Dardanelles. "The former German cruisers Goeben and Breslau, which now fly the Turkish flag, have re-entered the Bosphorus."

FIND BODIES OF MEN DROWNED FROM SCHOONER ADVOCATE

Special to The Standard. Parrboro, N. S., Nov. 16.—The Schooner Advocate, from St. John to this port, has arrived safe after a terrible voyage. She was caught out in the heavy gale and had her mainmast split, the seas running very high, but her captain managed to navigate the vessel safely into port.

CANADIANS MERRY IN SPITE OF BAD WEATHER

London, Nov. 16.—The Daily Mail correspondent, who visited the Salisbury Camps at the week-end, found that despite the mud, damp and cold, the Canadians were the merriest of merry fellows, playing rugby in the thick mud, and singing their national songs. Already five thousand men have taken possession of the huts erected at Bulford Camp, which, in addition to their greater comfort and protection, brings the soldiers nearer to the railway. The war office has 800 men at work building more, and hope before the end of the month to accommodate the whole contingent in these huts.

MAY PUBLISH THE QUOTATIONS OF UNLISTED STOCKS. New York, Nov. 13.—The committee of five of the New York stock exchange took up the matter of reporting quotations of unlisted stocks and, after discussing the matter representatives of the committee stated that they had no objection to reporting quotations of stocks not listed on the New York stock exchange. The matter is one in which the stock exchange can take no positive action in the way of a ruling, but the fact that it does not object to publication of unlisted quotations leaves a clear field for the reporting of outside markets. This does not apply of course to transactions in the open trading of so-called new street market in which transactions in listed stocks have been made. Governors of the New York stock exchange confirm recent statements that the Clearing House Association and New York stock exchange authorities have been working together all through the period of business suspension and that the co-operation of the two institutions is now stronger than ever before in that period. They said that the assertions that a consideration of the reopening of the stock exchange is out of the question are without the slightest foundation and that the recent steps all tend to a resumption of business on the board room floor.

WEATHER CONDITIONS INTERFERE WITH FIGHTING AND ADD TO HARDSHIPS OF MEN

AUSTRIANS MAY GIVE UP CROAGOW TO RUSSIANS WITHOUT STRUGGLE

General exodus from Town and Czar's forces meeting little resistance in their advance - Snow-filled trenches in Flanders add to hardships of both armies - Polles in Eastern Provinces of Germany dissatisfied with treatment Germans are giving them.

London, Nov. 16.—The armies of the allies and of Germany remain deadlocked in West Flanders today along the battle line, where the snow is now ankle deep with the prospect of another week of intermittent artillery duels and infantry clashes, which for more than a month have been swinging back and forth without definite result. The snow and the adverse weather conditions generally in Flanders, will make necessary more frequent shifts of men in the trenches, and there will be an increase of sickness, especially in lung and throat affections. In short, trench warfare, already laborious and exhausting, will daily become a greater ordeal.

CHURCHILL BELIEVES THE CANOPUS IS SAFE

London, Nov. 16, 3.30 p. m.—Winston Spencer Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, said in the House of Commons this afternoon that he had every reason to believe that the British battleship Canopus was quite safe. There has been some anxiety concerning this ship, as nothing publicly had been heard of her since the admiral announced that she had been transferred to join the squadron in the Pacific under Rear Admiral Sir Christopher Cradock, previous to the engagement of the Chilean coast in which the cruisers Good Hope and Monmouth were lost.

TRENCHES OF OPPOSING FORCES NOT 50 YDS. APART

Fighting Line in forest of Argonne has changed little in two months - All expedience of siege operations being utilized and bombardment of British positions resembles famous Siege of Sebastopol.

Paris, Nov. 16, 3.36 p. m.—A semi-official explanation of the French position in the forest of Argonne was given out in Paris this afternoon. It said: "The fighting line has not changed perceptibly in the last two months. The French and German trenches are separated at some points by a distance not exceeding fifty yards. Infantry fire is constantly going on, while all the expedience of siege operations are being utilized. This siege resembles greatly that of Sebastopol. Daily engagements occur, resulting sometimes in bending either the French or the German lines back for a distance of 150 yards.

ST. JOHN GAS UP TO THE STANDARD

Inspectors' Report Shows Excellent Quality.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 16.—St. John gas was up to standard last year, according to the report of the gas inspectors issued by the Inland Revenue Department today. Eight tests were made. This excellent condition is in marked contrast with many cities such as Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Victoria and Ottawa. In Victoria for instance, 21 out of 23 tests showed the gas to be below standard and in Winnipeg 75 out of 102.

THE GRITS AND NAVAL AID

Hypocritical as ever the Telegraph attempts to place upon The Standard the responsibility of introducing discussion of political questions while the Empire is at war. The Telegraph misrepresents the case. Instead of The Standard initiating discussion on contentious questions, the Telegraph started it with an ill-timed reference, inviting a comparison of the position of the political parties on the matter of naval aid. If, in the ensuing treatment of this question, it should become necessary for this newspaper to bring out facts that are distasteful and which the better class of Liberals would be quite willing to forget, the blame must lie with the Telegraph as that paper seemed to be looking for trouble and we have no intention of avoiding the conflict.

The Telegraph claims that if the Liberal policy had been adopted Canada, before this, would have had cruisers equal to the Australian cruiser Sydney. "which was laid down in 1911, when Mr. Borden took office," and it follows that statement by the blatant assertion that "the simple truth about the Canadian naval situation is good enough for the Liberals." If the Telegraph is correct in ascribing to Liberals a feeling of complete satisfaction with their course, why does it feed them on information which is not correct? The cruiser Sydney was "laid down" in February, 1911, and launched in May, 1912. The Borden Government took office in October, 1911, or ten months after work on the Sydney was under way.

But what was the Liberal plan? It was, and the Telegraph cannot deny it, first to build the yards in which the cruisers were to be constructed, and then the ships themselves. If this plan had been followed the yards would not have been half completed at this date, and, perforce, no progress could have been made toward the construction of the ships themselves. The Telegraph cannot get away from this, for it, itself, during its advocacy of the Laurier plan, used as one of its chief arguments the claim that the ships would be built in Canada and the employment would go to Canadian workmen.

There were no yards in Canada in which such vessels could have been built, and if the Laurier government had waited to build them, construction of the cruisers would not now have been commenced. Consequently, Canada would have been no farther ahead than she is today. If the Telegraph is correct in its contention that the cruisers would have been built, and now in service, then the work could not have been done in Canadian yards by Canadian workmen and that part of the argument falls to the ground. The Telegraph can take the stool which best pleases it, but even its faculty of straddling will hardly permit it to adopt both. The ships could not have been built in Canada and been ready for service now; if built for service now the work could not have gone to Canadian workmen.

But the Telegraph says the Laurier government adopted a programme. They did, but that is all they did, and comparisons, either with Australia or New Zealand, are the last things which supporters of Sir Wilfrid should desire. It is useless to attempt to blame the Borden Government for, as a matter of fact, when Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his Ministers decided, in July, 1911, to hold a general election, there already were two destroyers in the harbors of Australia and a battle-cruiser and two light cruisers well advanced in their construction; the Australia being launched about the time the Laurier government went out of office. New Zealand had a battle-cruiser launched and three destroyers ready for action. The patriotic and loyal Grit government of Canada had a lot of plans and tenders upon which they refused to make a decision.

Thus it can be seen that the Laurier government did not attempt to build even the limited programme it had promised to undertake. The hammers were ringing on the Australian and the New Zealand ships, and two Australian destroyers were in Australian waters, months before the Laurier government even called for tenders—and it must not be forgotten that the Laurier government claimed it intended first to build the yards and then the cruisers in order that the work should go to the Canadian workmen. The Telegraph's claim that under Laurier the ships would have been ready now plainly shows this solicitude for Canadian labor was merely a vote catcher and intended to deceive.

It may be said by the Liberals that the lapse of time compared with Australia was accounted for by delay in the passage of the Naval Service Act, but this can afford no comfort, for the Canadian Naval Defence Act was passed in March, 1910, and the Australian Act not until November of the same year. There was, however, a difference in the procedure after the act was passed. The Australians went ahead with their programme, the Canadian Grit government did not, although they had replied to their tenders in May, 1911, and did not go to the country until September.

But the Telegraph charges that Sir Robert Borden and the Conservative Government also did nothing. Again the Telegraph misrepresents. One of the early acts of Premier Borden was to get an expression of opinion from the British Admiralty as to what Canada should offer in the way of Naval Aid. Obviously that was the proper course to pursue. The Admiralty reply came back and Mr. Borden prepared to meet it. He introduced the necessary enabling legislation in the House of Commons and the Liberals, the same patriotic Grits who while in power had done nothing, exerted every effort to defeat the proposal, making use of the time honored plea that the ships should be built in Canada. It was pointed out that this could not be done in time to provide the assistance when needed but it made no difference to the Laurierites. Outvoted in the House of Commons they brought all their power to bear upon the partisan Senate and, for the time being, strangled all chance of Canadian aid when it would be effective.

Through the action of the Senate Mr. Borden's proposal for a vote of $35,000,000 to build or buy ships in Britain was thrown out and it is quite within the mark to say that this action of the Grit Senators was accepted by Britain's enemies as mirroring the sentiment of this country. Beyond doubt it fostered the idea in Germany that Canada was unwilling to participate in an Empire war and, unquestionably, tended to make the German war party feel more certain that in the event of war with England, at least this part of the Empire would fall away like ripe fruit from the tree. Those who held that view have learned their error, just as the Grits who having done nothing themselves placed every obstacle in the way of suitable action by the Conservative Government will learn of theirs when opportunity offers.

This is the "simple truth" about the Canadian naval situation and, according to the Telegraph should be "quite good enough for the Liberals." Possibly there are, in the minds of some Grits, reasons why attention should not now be directed to these things but if they are hurt by the "simple truth" they should remember that it was asked for by their own purchased organ. The Standard has no desire to divert the public mind into channels foreign to the plain duty of the hour, but the Telegraph, even with the Empire at war, cannot indulge in misrepresentations and get away with it. The time for that sort of thing has passed. Like the Germans, if the Telegraph wants war it shall have it in full measure.

THE CALL TO SERVICE.

Judging from the arrangements already made, the meeting to be held in the Imperial Theatre this evening, for the purpose of stimulating interest in the Empire's call for men for active service at the front, should be one of the most remarkable demonstrations ever held in this city. It is without local precedent that such method of appeal should be found necessary, but that it is necessary is proven by the fact that of the total number so far enrolled for foreign service with the New Brunswick regiment the young men of St. John are not represented in the proportion they should be.

Cities in Ontario and the West, in proportion to their population, have furnished greater numbers for the Canadian regiments. The city of Hamilton, Ontario, is hardly twice as large as the New Brunswick metropolis, but it has already sent 600 men with the first contingent, and has another 500 enrolled for the next force. In Winnipeg, an entire regiment of infantry was raised for the first contingent, as well as 300 artillerymen, and the report from that city is that 1,000 men are ready for service at the next call. In the Maritime Province cities and towns the response to the appeal has been less general, but this, in some measure, is due to more employment in these provinces, and our smaller floating population.

The opportunity now presents itself, however, for the men of New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island to go on active service as a unit, and it should be taken advantage of in a fashion that will leave no lingering doubt as to the readiness of these provinces to answer the Empire's call. The boys of "old G Company", in the Canadian contingent which went to South Africa, made a glorious name for themselves and the province through their bravery and ability at Paardeberg. There is no doubt the representatives of New Brunswick with the first contingent, and those yet to go with the second, will similarly acquit themselves when the opportunity offers. There can be no fault found with the quality of the soldiers sent forward from this loyalist province; the only room for criticism is in the number.

It is sincerely to be hoped that the distinguished speakers who will address tonight's gathering will impress upon the minds of the hundreds of qualified young men in St. John that to answer the call to arms is a sacred duty, and that the result of the gathering will be to give a much needed impetus to the task of securing New Brunswick's full complement of men. The call is to service, and it should be heeded.

Searchlights

(By Alfred Noyes)
("Political morality differs from individual morality, because there is no power above the state."—General Von Bernhardi.)
Shadow by shadow, strip for fight,
The lean black cruizers search the sea,
Night long their level shafts of light
Revolve and find no enemy.
Only they know each leaping wave
May hide the lightning and their grave.

And, in the land they guard so well,
Is there no silent watch to keep?
An age is dying; and the bell
Rings midnight on a vaster deep;
But over all its waves once more
The searchlights move from shore to shore.

And captains that we thought were dead,
And dreamers that we thought were dumb,
And voices that we thought were fled
Arise and call us, and we come:
And "search in thine own soul," they cry,
"For there, too, lurks thine own soul."
Search for the foe in thine own soul,
The sloth, the intellectual pride,
The trivial jest that veils the goal
For which our fathers lived and died.
The lawless dreams, the cynic art,
That rend thy nobler self apart.

Not far, not far into the night,
These level swords of light can pierce:
Yet, for her faith does England fight,
Her faith in this our universe,
Believing Truth and Justice draw
From founts of everlasting law.

Therefore a Power above the State,
The unconquerable Power, returns,
The fire, the fire that made her great,
Once more upon her altar burns.
Once more, redeemed and healed and whole,
She moves to the Eternal Goal.

Why Germany Cannot Endure.

This great contest has three aspects (says Mr. L. G. Chiozza Money, M. P., in an article in the London "Sunday Chronicle," entitled "Why Germany Cannot Endure.") There is a military war; there is an economic war; there is a moral problem which is isolated it would be difficult to speak with any certainty as to the length of the contest. We could only say that victory was assured to the Powers of the Triple Entente sooner or later. Fortunately, however, the military problem is not a separate issue, and it is when we also consider the naval and economic sides of the matter that we can feel greater confidence in endeavoring to forecast the probable duration of the war. The decisive factor is that the British Navy has the German economy in its grip. With Germany, as with Britain, imported supplies are indispensable if wealth is to be won. Locked up Germany within her own borders and you swiftly condemn her to poverty. What has already happened in this, that the British Navy has, for practical purposes, confined Germany to her own resources.

Last year Germany found it necessary to import about £160,000,000 worth of food and nearly £300,000,000 worth of raw materials, and she paid for these by sending out manufactured articles which now she can neither make nor export. Suddenly Germany is reduced to the position of a poor agricultural country. The German Empire at this moment there must be nearly 20,000,000 males aged 18 and upwards. If 5,000,000 of these are called out for service, there must remain nearly 15,000,000 of the males, with only three main industries to prosecute, viz.—(1) Agriculture, (2) coal mining, and (3) the manufacture of armaments. Of these three, the second is crippled by the great reduction in coal consumption consequent upon the closing down of works. Add to the unemployed males the army of unemployed women and the huge masses of dependants, and we have a picture of economic disaster which amounts to a terrible punishment for those responsible for the government of Germany—and, alas! for the innocent as well as the guilty.

When Germany comes to be invaded, and when refugees from the invaded territory pour into the regions free from the enemy, an abnormal call will be made on the resources of the uninvaded area. When that time comes, as it surely will come, there is no present suffering inflicted upon the unhappy Belgians which will not be visited tenfold upon their oppressors. The writer estimates that but twelve months will probably cover the major and decisive part of the campaign.

The carnage has been unexampled, and exceeds the records of Manchuria. The Germans have sacrificed their men in whole battalions, and our own losses, as well as those of our brave Allies, have been terribly severe. ## Katharine Tynan's Views.

The best utterances from any woman author on recruiting comes from Katharine Tynan, the Irish story-writer and poetess. She says:
"Read Sir John French's dispatch relating the events of the four days' battle, August 23 to 26, and lift up your hearts. A little while ago we were living in little days. Peace is not all good. Under its smooth surface lurk many forms of corruption. The cruelties of war can hardly be greater than the cruelties of Peace. We are come to the great days and the great men. Selfishness has passed away and charity and bearing one another's burdens has come in its place. One crowded hour of glorious life has come to every one of us. How tame the glories of the long Peace are beside the glories of the War! Lift up your hearts. Who would not rather fight with France than sit at home in inglorious ease?"

The Greatest Battle

(London Times.)
We wish we were able to convey to the people of this country an adequate conception of the tremendous struggle which is being waged upon the Belgian frontier at this moment. It will surely be counted among the great battles of history. The issues hang upon it and Britons are dying freely and gladly, to stop the Germans from gaining a commanding foothold upon the Straits of Dover. This is a British issue, he it remembered. It concerns both Belgium and France vitally, but it concerns Great Britain most of all. We believe the enemy have entirely wrong conceptions of the consequences which would ensue from their entry into Calais, but it is nevertheless of primary importance to our whole Empire that they should be checked if possible. The whole trend of the whole war may depend upon this conflict, which the Germans have invested with a decisive character. In all the long and proud history of Great Britain our troops have never been

THE ROTARY CLUB ADVOCATES A NEW SPIRIT IN BUSINESS

Visitors from Halifax entertained at Bond's last evening—Plead for closer relations between people of St. John and Halifax—The Ideal Brotherhood.

Closer relationships and a common aim were the ideas most strongly emphasized at the meeting of the St. John Rotary Club last evening when a large delegation from the club in Halifax was present. The meeting, which took the form of a banquet, was held in Bond's Cafe and live wire matters of general interest were discussed with the idea of bettering humanity in general. The wide spirit of service, which was displayed by those at the gathering showed that the members had more in their lives than the mere matter of business and the making of money. They appeared as men with ideas, men imbued with a spirit that they saw other things than those evident on the surface of life. Perhaps none present could express in words the objects of the club members but the chairman, with a spirit that speaks well for these times and the communities in which they live. The men from Halifax came here with the object of showing to the St. John Rotarians the meaning of the name of the club. Still they announced early in the proceedings that it was impossible to give a definition of the word but all showed by example the objects of the members and all expressed the hope that some time the ideals of the club would be understood by all. Brotherhood was mentioned as being near the mark but the real thing was much broader.

A New Spirit.
Every person at the meeting last evening seemed animated with the spirit expressed by the members of the club and the men of Halifax made a strong plea for the amalgamation of both cities' interests. The men of Halifax arrived in the city early yesterday morning and on all night journey but they set out to make the best of the weather conditions, which were peculiarly unfavorable for anything that required the open air for its working. The visitors met in council with the members of the St. John Rotary Club and exchanged views concerning the workings of the two clubs. The suggestions of the visitors will be tried out to a great extent by the St. John club. In the afternoon the Imperial Theatre, through the courtesy of W. H. Golding, the manager, entertained the visitors at the performance in the theatre after which bowling was indulged in and the Elks' Club was also a centre of social intercourse.

The Banquet.
At six-thirty the St. John club and their guests assembled at Bond's Cafe and the result was one of the most animated gatherings that ever took place in St. John. The men of Halifax, Halifax business men getting together for common good and also with the idea of helping mankind in general was an inspiration. A lasting moment from 8.30 to 10.30. Speeches out of the ordinary run, songs with a spirit that presaged enthusiasm and conviction, made an evening that will not soon be forgotten by those who were privileged to be present. The Halifax men took hold of the programme and provided speeches and songs that strongly favored a new and prosperous life for Halifax which has evidently entered into a new era of advancement. George E. Boak, who announced that he was fifty years of age and a coal dealer, acted as toastmaster and he kept things going at top speed. His line of speakers showed an earnest purpose and brought home their messages with no uncertainty. The chairman announced that the delegation had come over to show St. John the objects of the Rotary Clubs. He called on the secretary to call the roll and every visitor was called by name, age and business.

GOOD MUSICAL COMEDY IN THE OPERA HOUSE
est centers mainly in the practical jokes which "The Travelling Man" plays upon Bill Hugh Root Mason, president of a rival company, and with whose daughter the travelling man is in love. Allen Carter takes the part of the travelling man, and makes the most of it. His role gives him an opportunity to illustrate some of the more flippant characteristics as well as the nerve of the "traditional" travelling man and he shared the honors with Jack Westerton, who gave an admirable presentation of the part of Bill Mason, president of the Mason Bean Company, and who kept the audience in roars of laughter all the times he was on the stage. Josephine West as Mrs. Mason, the extravagant wife, played her part to advantage, and sang a number of songs very acceptably, supported by the chorus. Dorothy Ardie, as the daughter of President Mason, handled a pleasant part in a dainty manner. An effective feature of the performance was a song "In the Candle Light" sung by Madeline Buckley, who was arrayed as a nurse, supported by the chorus, with flash lights. One of the humorous songs which made a decided hit was that by Jack Westerton who sang of how he would get some little girl set and had to respond to encores till his repertoire was exhausted for the evening.

Thompson Musical Company presents bright bill to large audience.
The Thompson Musical Comedy Company, presenting "The Travelling Man," opened at the Opera House last evening and attracted a large audience. Judging from the reception given them they will continue to attract good houses at all the performances during the week. While the production is not an ambitious one, it is bright, clean and entertaining, and considering the prices charged, it is not often that St. John theatre-goers have been given better value in the way of amusement. The performance abounds with much-provoking incidents and catchy choruses, while the music and singing are good and the jokes really humorous. All the musical numbers were generously encored and the audience showed their appreciation of the funny features of the production by loud laughter and hearty applause. All the members of the case were well up to their parts, and the chorus good looking and daintily costumed, sang and danced with great vivacity. The piece chosen is in two acts, and notwithstanding the numerous encores the audience was able to get home at a good hour. The plot is more amusing than involved and the inter-

PIECE RANGE FOR FIREMEN WILL BE OPEN TO CITIZENS

Commissioners grant Two Thousand Dollars for training Firemen in Military defence—Water and Sewerage for Portland Place—A city automobile.

The city commissioners at the meeting yesterday afternoon made a grant of $2,000 to be expended by Commissioner McLellan for the purpose of training the members of the fire department in military defence. The money is to be spent as the commissioner shall consider advisable. Commissioner Potts objected to the resolution on the ground that a definite statement should be made as to the purpose for which this money was to be expended. The other commissioners, however, thought the scheme a good one and voted in favor of it. The resolution as passed was as follows: "Resolved that the sum of two thousand dollars ($2,000) be placed at the disposal of the Commissioner of Public Safety to be used for such purposes in connection with the training of the members of the fire department in military defence as to the said commissioner shall seem advisable." Commissioner McLellan explained that he proposed to establish a shooting gallery where citizens in general could learn to shoot at a nominal cost. He thought the range would be nearly self-sustaining. A place for the drilling of the firemen would also be provided. He had been promised the use of eighty rifles for the training of the men, but smaller weapons would be necessary for the range. About twenty of these would have to be secured.

New Water Mains.
Commissioner Wigmore's recommendation that water and sewerage be supplied in Portland Place at an estimated cost of $3,500, was approved. He also secured the approval of the council for placing a new sewer to serve a part of Douglas Avenue, at an estimated cost of $3,000 to be covered by bond issue. Commissioner Russell assured the members of the council that he had adequate protection for the west side wharves. Other matters of a routine nature were disposed of. Those present at the meeting were Mayor Frink, Commissioners Wigmore, McLellan, Potts and Russell and the Common Council. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The report of the Commissioner of Harbors, Ferries and Public Lands, making the following recommendations was adopted: "That renewal lease for a term of seven years from Nov. 1, 1914, be issued to the seven persons herein-after named upon the common clerk being satisfied that they are entitled to the same, that is to say: John H. Lee, lot No. 356, Guys Ward, had to be raised and the chorus repeated severally of the auditors' committee to depart. Undoubtedly the performance was greatly enjoyed by the audience, and it should attract good houses during the remainder of the week.

CONSUMPTION CURE DECLARED FRAUD BY MEDICAL EXPERTS
Toronto, Nov. 16.—C. A. Barnes, managing director, was fined $200 and costs or six months, by Magistrate Denison, and Edward Mack, J. F. Lyndon, T. McGuire and J. Carley $5 and costs or ten days in the "Nature's Creation" cure for consumption. It was shown by medical experts that the medicine was a fraud, and the company was held to be more to blame in the case than the others. The charges were laid under various laws concerning false advertisement.

Operation Decided On As Only Means of Relief

But the Writer of This Letter Resolved to Try Dr. Chase's Ointment First and Was Cured.
This is not an isolated case, for we frequently hear of people who have been cured of piles by using Dr. Chase's Ointment. Mr. Charles Beauvais, a respected citizen of St. John, writes the following interesting story of his relief and cure. "For 14 years I suffered from chronic piles or hemorrhoids and considered my case very serious. I was treated by a well-known physician who could not help me, and my doctor decided on an operation as the only means of relief. However, I resolved to try Dr. Chase's Ointment first. The first box brought me great relief, and by the time I had used three boxes I was completely cured. This is why I give you such great pleasure in recommending Dr. Chase's Ointment to everybody suffering from hemorrhoids as a pre-emptive remedy. It is the only cure that is safe and does not require an operation. Dr. Chase's Ointment, 60c a box, all dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

WASHING WON'T RID HEAD OF DANDRUFF

Dissolve It, That's Best Way.
The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. Do this tonight, and by morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have. You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. If you want to preserve your hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for nothing destroys the hair more quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everyone notices it. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

GET THE HABIT

The Canadian soldier, given equipment and training, is as good as any soldier in Europe. Don't you think the Canadian mechanic that lives in your own town is as good a workman as the man who helps to support some other flag? Why not buy what he makes.

It isn't necessary to feel benevolent over buying things made in Canada. You get better value for your money in most cases and the fact is that if you don't spend your money that way the chaps who earn the $300,000,000 of annual Canadian wages will stop sending their money your way and, then what?

The British War Office is placing orders for goods in Canada. Why not line up with Kitchener and do a little Canadian-made buying yourself?

After the War--What?

When the war is over, what then? Are there good times or hard times in store for us? Will the era of high prices continue, with steady work for all, or will we experience a setback that will keep us poor for years?

The answer to that question is very largely in our own hands. It depends on us Canadians—not on the few in high places, but on every one of us.

Every year we are importing hundreds of millions of dollars worth of goods, much of which could be produced just as well in Canada.

Suppose they were produced here. Think of the number of workmen who would be employed. Think of what it would mean in wages, and money kept in circulation. Think of what it would mean to our farmers, to our shopkeepers—to our builders, to everybody.

Think of what it would mean to you.

They can be produced here, they will be produced here, if you just stop and think every time you make a purchase.

Think, say and see that you get

IMPERIAL HAS MATINEE ONLY

Magnificent programme at Keith House this afternoon—Theatre will have Recruiting Rally tonight.

In spite of the rain yesterday, the Imperial Theatre attracted large crowds with its splendid programme as advertised. The bill included the Pepper Twins, a couple of Toronto boys who have been meeting with great success throughout the Keith circuit. They did some military tramping, played the bagpipes, executed the Highland fling, sang splendidly and introduced some comedy novelties. They dressed their act very richly and indulged in no less than four changes of costume. Three scenic drops were required to give their act proper atmosphere. It was a splendid and entertaining offering and one which should elicit most favorable comment right up to closing time Saturday night.

The Imperial's other new performer, Forbes Law Duguid, received a tremendous ovation at his every appearance. He is one of Montreal's well-known citizens, an architect by profession, and a splendid musician as well. Mr. Duguid is quite a familiar figure in St. John, having been the superintending architect in the new Bank of British North America on Market Square. Yielding to the persuasions of the Keith people during a lull in architectural circles, the noted baritone comes to St. John. Yesterday he sang the well-known Torontonian song from Bizet's Opera "Carmen" and for an encore gave a most inspiring rendering of "Tipperary." Mr. Duguid is a performer of the most finished type, has a splendid stage presence and sings with a contagious enthusiasm which makes him a striking personality. The pictures being shown at the Imperial this afternoon only are as follows:—"David Garrick," the superior two-part Vitagraph dealing with one of the best known plays in English literature; "A Heart Rebellious" being a two-part Lubin of a highly dramatic character; Hearst-Sells Weekly, this issue contains numerous scenes in Belgium and Northern France and gives very close views of the havoc wrought by the invaders on such edifices as the Rheims Cathedral and the splendid art structures of quaint Belgium.

ment and kept guessing throughout. "The City," a two-part Broncho play, is a beautiful story well pictured and enforcing home a moral that is surely wholesome. The Baggage Smasher, Keystone, offers much to laugh over.

MORE THRILLING THAN PREVIOUS CHAPTERS

"A Battle of Wits" Sixteenth episode in Million Dollar Mystery, a remarkably interesting portrayal

In watching the sixteenth episode of the Million Dollar Mystery, "A Battle of Wits" at the Unique Theatre, one is strongly inclined to almost forget the previous chapters so thrilling in the extreme and wonderful in construction is this latest edition of the serial photo story. There are more really sensational scenes crowded into this installment than any other chapter yet shown. The fight in the drawing room is certainly well done. Mr. Cruze does some excellent work, his method of outwitting the conspirators requiring much nerve, as well as being able to resort to many tricks of the pugilists' art. Another clever piece of work in this number is the manner in which the Butler turns the tables and succeeds in trapping the Countess and making her lose at her own game. From the start of this picture until the end, the audience is kept up to the highest pitch of excite-

ASQUITH'S REQUEST FOR MORE MEN AND MONEY

Better Pay for Officers of Lower Ranks Mr. Healy demanded greater liberality in dealing with the dependents of the soldiers. He said: "We are not going to have crippled warriors in the workhouses again, or their dependents thrown upon the scrap heap."

Dealing with the matter of pay, the premier said: "The insufficiency of the pay of the lower ranks of commissioned officers has long been a reproach to this country, but has become an indecency and scandal when men are laying down their lives."

He announced that Earl Kitchener, Secretary for War, had prepared a scheme for increased pay. He concluded by declaring that sickness among the troops had not exceeded ten, possibly fifteen per cent, and that he believed no body of men had ever been brought together who had completed themselves better than the present army.

Regarding the cost of the war, Premier Asquith said he declined to delve into the future, or speculate on what commitments it might be necessary for Great Britain to incur later, but up to last Saturday the actual additional expenditure falling upon the exchequer amounted to between $900,000 and $1,000,000 a day. Having regard for the enormous scale of the operations and other considerations, this sum, the premier said, did not exceed the estimates of expenditure that might reasonably have been expected.

premier said, did not exceed the estimates of expenditure that might reasonably have been expected. Continuing, the premier said he could hold out no hope that these expenditures were likely to be diminished. The present measure carries provisions to March 31, which would not only satisfy the calculations based on experience, but would leave in hand a reasonable margin.

Water Long, Unionist, congratulated the premier on the evident determination of the government to carry through the great war and leave nothing undone to make the issue the only one Great Britain could contemplate, that is to say, successful. The government could count on the widest latitude, and an absolutely free hand, Mr. Long said, as long as the country was satisfied that it would prosecute the war with vigor and determination.

Ask for Less Strict Censorship. Mr. Long made a strong appeal to the government to lift the curtain which is hiding operations on the front. He believed the time had arrived to permit a limited number of authorized correspondents to join the army. In justice to the army, he said, it was desirable that the country should know something about the splendid deeds of the British soldiers, which would increase popular enthusiasm and augment the stream of recruits.

Timothy Healy, Irish Nationalist, in a few caustic sentences, supported the plea made by Mr. Long. He declared that the censorship had made England the laughing stock of the world. The censor, he said, had even made an exception from a Turk's prayer to Mohammed. The whole system of press censorship, he said, required complete re-organization.

Mr. Healy also declared that both the Belgian and Serbian loans should be regarded as free gifts, that news regarding the war was being withheld. Premier Asquith declared that nothing was being kept back, except in cases where such a course was required by immediate military exigencies.

Touching on other points raised in the course of the debate, Mr. Asquith said that the increased exports to neutral countries were, in most cases, due to the fact that supplies to these countries from Germany had been cut off, rather than to the fact that goods were being re-exported by these countries to Germany.

recruiting figures. The numbers of men that the exigencies of the country demanded, he believed, would be raised. Indeed, he considered that the recruiting position was very satisfactory. Since the outbreak of war, Mr. Asquith said, more than 700,000 recruits had joined the regular army and nearly 300,000 had joined the Territorials.

Referring to the great stimulus to recruiting for the London Scottish Regiment, which had resulted from the prompt publicity given to the story of its gallant charge, and to similar publicity regarding the achievements of other regiments which had greatly accelerated their recruiting, Mr. Asquith said he would be very glad if any system could be adopted by which the gallantry of officers and men of all regiments should be promptly communicated to the public.

Question of War Correspondents With regard to the suggestion that skilled war correspondents be permitted at the front, he pointed out that the government was not a free agent in the matter.

"We must regulate our proceedings," he said, "by the proceedings of our Allies, who do the chief share of the fighting in the long lines at the front in their own country, and who, therefore, rightly have the decisive vote as to what should be done in the way of appointment of war correspondents."

He declared that he had been governed in the matter strictly by the requirements of the military exigencies, and he knew that the Commander-in-Chief of the French forces desired that both countries should get the full advantage that could be obtained by giving publicity to the military operations.

With reference to the allegations that there had been much demoralization among the troops through drink and other causes, he said that a careful inquiry had been made which showed that there was far from thirty or forty per cent of the men suffering from preventable disease, as had been stated in some quarters. It would be nearer the truth to say that there had been not more than ten, or at the outside fifteen, per cent suffering from disease of any sort.

THE ECONOMIC CONDITIONS FACTOR IN LENGTH OF WAR

Their Control of Military Operations Strikingly Illustrated in Present War—How Long Can Germany Stand it

London, Nov. 5.—After three months of war it is still impossible to speak accurately concerning the financial and economic situation. One thing may be said. Never in our history has it been realized so vividly how masterfully economic conditions control military operations. Everybody now is asking the question. How long can Germany fight? A multitude of answers is forthcoming, but the counselors do not agree. Some who thought she would never get her harvest in and mobilize her armies at the same time, and that the beginning of winter would find her on the verge of starvation, find that things are not nearly as bad as that. The harvest is in, and the people are not starving. Financially, the story is the same, for we hear that Germany has raised money for military purposes as required, at any rate up to this time. Nor is that all. Germany's organization of the relief of the distress has swiftly fallen upon the country when she took up arms, is said to be good and effective; and she raises distress funds at least as big as ours. That is what we are told. I am sceptical of much of it, for it is the business of Germany to put a good face on her difficulties. Yet there is indirect confirmation of much of it, for preparations are going forward for a long campaign and our military authorities do not look upon the war as likely to be a short one. The newspapers are appealing for another 100,000 British recruits, quickly. Today, the German army is diligently entrenching itself on the long line southward from Antwerp. Our extra men are presumably wanted to overcome those entrenchments; but there the situation stands, and the German army is evidently sure of getting food and clothing and ammunition, or it would not be preparing to sit down in the North of France and Belgium. On the Vistula, also, there is a huge army, apparently fit, and confident enough to give the Russian plenty to do.

All this does not look like an economic breakdown in Germany. Consequently there will be a continued strain upon the countries that are opposing her. At the same time it should be remembered that those best able to form a considered judgment did not anticipate that the strain would be so seriously felt by Germany before the spring of next year.

Having said all in outline, it is necessary to fill in important details. A contrast such as I have drawn is misleading, and I have only set it down on paper to show the long line of popular habit of thought in these awful days. For you may talk about financial drain and economic strain, and yet draw no real comparison between the United Kingdom's financial position in August at 100 per cent of the population; of France at 75, and of Germany at 60 (all at random for the sake of illustration). It must be clear that the populations are of different bulks. The financial exhaustion since August will alter the ratio. The character of the populations remaining at peaceful pursuits will also affect the value of the proportions; and a hundred and one considerations have to be taken into account, as when it is possible to calculate exactly where we stand in such circumstances? If it were as easy as the military calculation, we might get at some fairly safe conclusions; though even in military calculations, I notice, people count the flow of life without paying regard to the reservoirs, and the character of the contents of the reservoirs.

Of this we may feel certain, that when war broke out we were in a far better financial position than Germany, France, or, worse than Germany, Russia. In these matters, it is a class of itself. One may conclude from all this that Germany will reach the bare bones of the economic crisis first. But that is all we can say with confidence. If she drains her cup to the bottom, we may drain ours half way down. The future is dark, because we cannot foresee how long the tremendous struggles east and west of Germany will last. The point to remember is that in all these matters all the different circumstances of character and number must be taken into account before anything like a sound idea can be formed. These factors cannot all be reduced to statistics, and that is why writing on the subject is so vague and unsatisfactory. (Journal of Commerce.)

COTTON MARKET OPEN FOR BUSINESS

Trading Yesterday After Three Months, Not Heavy But Considered Satisfactory—Closing Letter.

(McDUGALL & COWANS.)
New York, Nov. 16.—All things considered the first day of trading after over three months of liquidation and adjustment necessitated by the demoralizing developments of last summer, and the abrupt closing of the exchange has been most gratifying. Business has been comparatively quiet. There has been neither the rush of investment buying that some few had anticipated, nor the rush of southern hedge selling which others had looked for, but there has been little or no confusion, and the trade has shown itself without the slightest apprehension as to the effect of whatever fluctuations may occur on the old contracts still outstanding. These were turned over by the cotton trading corporation to members of the syndicate this morning, but the money necessary to margin them down to 7 1/2 cents had already been provided for, and while there are indications that some members of the syndicate liquidated part or the whole of their allotments at the opening price, it is also believed that much of the remaining interest will be held firmly either for higher prices or for actual delivery.

General business was probably restricted by uncertainty as to the true value of the new style contract as compared with old contracts or spots, and there seems to be some who do not realize that the new contract can be bought, sold and running out exactly the same as under old contract conditions. A matter of fact the only difference between the new style contract and the May traded in before the war, is in the method of fixing differences and arbitration. As this fact is appreciated and as it is learned that the new contract is worth relatively more than the old one compared with middling, business will doubtless broaden. Liverpool bought and sold here, there seemed to be a little Southern selling of later months, and some local traders after buying early turned sellers on the absence of investment demand. W. W. PRICE.

MONEY RATE TOWARDS LOWER LEVEL

New York, Nov. 16.—Money is more abundant and tendency of rates is toward lower levels. Reduced reserve requirements now in effect for national banks is the latest favorable development in the situation, though unquestionably their influence for the most part has been anticipated as shown by the recent improvement of the market. New call money subject strictly to repayment of demand is leading in greater amounts at five per cent. and loans in time funds are generally on a 6 per cent. basis, and only in isolated instances have they been marked down to 5 1/2 per cent.

EXPECT WAR WILL CONTINUE TWO YEARS

Opinion of Board of Governors of Bank of England Received by Wall Street.

New York, Nov. 14.—There have just been received in Wall Street the latest views of the Board of Governors of the Bank of England on the war. Of course these views are not official but are privately communicated to American financial interests of the first magnitude. They now estimate that the war will last about two years. Kitchener, first mentioned three years, but it is understood that he has since revised his opinion. Latest cables from London quoting the British Premier, show a revised estimate reducing the length of time. It is declared by the financial authority that mentioned heretofore that England's plans do not contemplate an invasion of Germany, in the event the Allies finally winning, of which Great Britain apparently entertains no doubt. An invasion of Germany, it is said, would cost too much in men and money. It is believed it would be far cheaper to blockade Germany and literally starve the country into submission. It is fully expected in London that the Stock Exchange situation according to the sources that received the above information, will be well cleared up next week, with the completion of the settlement. A German credit balance will be established in New York soon; this will be to accomplish two results, according to present plans. It will buy supplies and at the same time offset liquidation of securities for German account, according to current gossip.

Capital for investment available by the first of the year in the U. S. will amount to $500,000,000 according to estimates just prepared by banking interests understood to have been investigating the accumulation of money and the prospect of lower rates.

Return of securities upon the reopening of the Stock Exchange through liquidation will increase the American individual interest in corporation investment and expand the demand for fairer treatment at the hands of politicians.

MAY ADVANCE THE REOPENING OF N.Y. STOCK EXCHANGE

Developments Following Resumption of Cotton Market May Influence Authorities—Good Demand for Securities.

(McDUGALL & COWANS.)
New York, Nov. 16.—It is claimed in well informed sources in the street that the developments following the reopening of the New York Cotton Exchange and the London Stock Exchange settlement this week will cause Washington and New York authorities to decide whether or not the New York Stock Exchange can safely be reopened in the near future. These points are now being urged upon the authorities as reasons for reopening the exchange. "Under the influence of heavy increasing exports sterling exchange is now almost at normal levels with New York City debts provided for and call money rates are rapidly going down, with the New York bank surplus substantial. As demonstrated by the activities in the New Street and Broad Street curb markets, there is a good investment and public demand for securities, with a rise in the price of exchange seats. Both British and German authorities deny any likelihood of enormous selling of American securities upon reopening. The investment bankers of America are reported ready to support a pool to protect the market. This week will make available half a billion dollars in credit with the opening of the federal reserve system, the weak spots in the cotton situation will be eliminated by the opening of the New York Cotton Exchange and the crisis involved in the London stock exchange settlement will have been passed. ### THE MINTO FLOATED.

The small schooner Minto, owned by Captain McNamara, which ran aground on a ledge of rocks below the small falls about a week ago, was successfully floated Sunday morning. Owing to the high tides little difficulty was experienced in floating her and she was taken through the falls, and tied up at one of the wharves at Indiantown.

GOOD FOR TRAMPS.

The Boston Advertiser says that the tramp steamers will reap a harvest owing to the withdrawal of the regular liners. Several charters have been made to load at Boston to carry grain. The Norwegian steamship Tenbergen, which arrived at Boston from Alexandria, Egypt, in ballast, has been ordered to Montreal to load 200,000 bushels of grain for England. The British steamer Gadsby will load 190,000 bushels of wheat at Boston for Scandinavian ports. A charter has been accepted by the Norwegian steamer Smyra to take on freight at Boston for Scandinavia. A fortnightly freight service from Boston to Liverpool is said to be the aim of the Cunard Line. All its regular passenger steamers have been taken over by Great Britain for transport service, even the Lusitania, Franconia, Transylvania and Pannonia. The Tunisians chartered by the line, is due from Liverpool today.

In Daily Fear of Death - Until "Fruit-a-tives" Brought Relief.

Chatham, Ont., April 3rd, 1913. "Some two years ago I was a great sufferer from indigestion. One day I saw a notice in a billboard of 'Fruit-a-tives' and I said to myself 'if Fruit-a-tives will build me up like that, it is good enough for me.' I bought some. After taking these wonderful tablets for only three weeks, I found myself wonderfully improved. In a short time longer, I cured myself entirely. My case was no light one, either. Gas would often form in my stomach and I was in daily fear that it would get around my heart and kill me. 'Fruit-a-tives' is the only remedy for indigestion."

50c. a box, six for $2.50, trial size 25c. At all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Simonds with his father under the title of Thomas Philips & Sons, and he afterwards took up the business of the exchange of the business of the steamship tickets, representing the famous Cook's tourist agency for many years. Mr. Philips was an unassuming man of much ability, a very kind and generous man, who was highly respected by all who knew him. Three sons survive him—Charles S. St. John; Ernest L. Hatt; Herbert S. Montreal. The funeral will take place on Tuesday.

EVIL OF SUBSTITUTION EXPOSED.

A dealer substitutes because he makes more profit by his inferior article. A local citizen was induced to take a substitute for Putnam's Corn Extractor, with the result that the substitute burnt his toes and failed to do his work. Putnam's contains no acid and is guaranteed. Always get Putnam's Extractor, 25c. at all dealers.

Buried Yesterday.

Despite the inclement weather a number of citizens turned out to pay their last respects to Mr. Roland Carter, second engineer of the Donjon, who died of cholera. The funeral took place at 2.30 o'clock from 112 Orange street. The obsequies were conducted by the Rev. W. H. Barragou and six members of the crew and a wreath from the crew and also one from the office staff of the Norton Griffiths Dredging Company. The remains were interred in Fernhill cemetery.

Right Rev. A. D. Dunn, died lately Anglican Bishop of Quebec, died on Friday last on board the steamship Hesperian, while the vessel was near Liverpool. Bishop Dunn was 71 years of age. His immediate wife of years ago, Mrs. Dickson, well known in St. John, where she resided for years, was with Bishop Dunn.

PROBATE COURT.

Estate of Edward I. Jewett, lumber merchant. Deceased, intestate, leaving no surviving his widow, Bathiah W. Jewett, and a son, Leonard M. Jewett. On the petition of these two the son is appointed administrator. No real estate. Personalty sum realized from box social, $83; total $108.

OBITUARY.

George Philips. The death of George Philips took place yesterday morning, aged 71 years. For fifty years Mr. Philips was in business on Prince Wm. street, about opposite J. & A. McMillan's, a record probably not held by any other citizen. For part of that period, during the civil war in the United States he was a busy and well-known man, for he was a money broker. A native of Kirkcaldy, Scotland, Mr. Philips came to St. John with his parents when he was nine years old. In his early life he was engaged in running a paper mill in the Parish of

WILL DESIRE TO FIGHT AGAINST BROWN TAIL IN NEW BRUNSWICK

Survey Parties Begin Their Campaign Against Pest This Week—Fewer Brown Tails This Season Due to Good Work Done Last Year.

Special to The Standard. Fredericton, Nov. 14.—When the Brown Tail moth survey parties start on their annual tour of the province on November 30th they will find the much dreaded brown tail in much less number than was the case last year, according to Mr. L. S. McLaine, Dominion entomologist, who has charge of the survey work. In 1913 brown tail hunters found 30,000 nests in New Brunswick, the majority in Charlotte, York, Carleton and Sunbury counties. Scarcity of brown tails this year is accounted for by the large area covered by survey parties last winter and the severe winter of last year also had a tendency to destroy a number of nests, but those in sheltered places were not harmed. The same territory will be covered this year as last, that is they will hunt in all counties with the exception of Restigouche and Gloucester. It may be possible, however, that these counties will be surveyed this year. Of thirteen counties in which parties worked last year eleven were treated with brown, the tail moth. In these eleven counties nests were found on different kind of trees.

WOMAN REFUSES OPERATION

Tells How She Was Saved by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Loganport, Ind.—"My baby was over a year old and I bloated till I was a burden to myself. I suffered from female trouble so I could not stand on my feet and I felt like millions of needles were pricking me every day. At last my doctor told me that all that would save me was an operation, but this I refused. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I would try it before I would submit to any operation. He did so and I improved right along. I am now doing all my work and feeling fine."

PEOPLE OFTEN SAY

"How Are We To Know When The Kidneys Are Out Of Order?"

EASIEST THING IN THE WORLD!

The location of the kidneys, close to the small of the back, renders the detection of kidney trouble a simple matter. The note of warning comes from the back. The kidneys become overtaxed and fail to do their work at nature's call. Backache is the signal sent out by the kidneys the minute they become overtaxed. Those who heed the warning when it first comes, usually have but little trouble.

LATE SPORT NEWS AT HOME AND ABROAD

DUNDEE SAYS HE CAN TAKE WELSH'S TITLE

Since Johnny Dundee can no longer make the featherweight limit he has decided to build up his weight and try for the lightweight title. With a few more pounds of fighting weight the New Yorker should be able to do as well against Freddie Welsh as he did against Champion Kilbann. In fact, although fighting under every disadvantage, the New Yorker practically held Welsh even in their bout at New Orleans last New Year's day.

For that affair Welsh refused to weigh in at 135 pounds at 9 o'clock and probably scaled close to 140. Dundee, who weighed 127 in his next bout, probably did not go over 130. Yet with an advantage of nearly ten pounds in his favor Welsh won the popular decision only by the narrowest of margins. The consensus of opinion was that up to the tenth round each had won two, the other five being even. In the final period Welsh made a flashy rally, although, as usual, he did no real damage.

On this showing Dundee must be counted in as one of the contenders. At any rate he should be able to do as well as Charlie White, who is now posing as Welsh's leading rival. Dundee has the speed and endurance to keep step with Welsh for any number of rounds, and it would be no surprise if the heavier man was the first to weaken.

When Dundee met White last year he flattened the Chicago boxer in the second round, but at this interesting stage of the proceedings the lights went out, leaving the arena in darkness for half an hour. This gave White ample time to recover and saved him from a knockout.

Altogether there is none with a better right to face Welsh than Dundee. Ritchie has lost twice to Welsh, and therefore is not likely to do any better if given another chance. And Ritchie while champion disposed of all the others with the exception of White.

Although Dundee, with his unconventional dancing steps and ineffective hitting, is not the ideal boxer, it is a fact that he is yet to be beaten decisively. Until he has been put down for the full count it is impossible to define the limit of his endurance. Perhaps his ability to maintain the pace would prove too much for the clever Welsh in twenty rounds, especially if the latter were forced to make 135 pounds, the weight he sets for Ritchie.

McFARLAND VS. WELSH.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—A ten-round match between "Pacquey" McFarland and Freddie Welsh for the lightweight championship of the world, to be held at New York, probably in January, was practically agreed upon here today.

The weights mentioned were 136 for McFarland and 135 for the champion. Welsh thought the challenger ought to make 135, but it is believed he will not insist on the point. McFarland and Welsh have engaged in three bouts, resulting in two draws and one decision for McFarland.

700 MEN WORK AT GAME.

When Yale and Harvard football eleven play in the new bowl stadium at New Haven on Saturday, November 21st, about 100 Harvard students will act as ushers. Including ticket-takers, ushers, police and other workers, about 700 men will be required to see that the 62,000 crowd which the stadium will hold is handled properly.

FINE SECOND FOR BOXER.

Salonia, Ky., Nov. 16.—S. Veller, owner of Bermudian and other horses racing in the south, can speak four languages, but he seldom makes use of all of them unless his horses are beaten, and then his friends say, he expresses his opinions in each language. After the defeat of Bermudian who was backed heavily by the public recently, Veller stood alone on the lawn in front of the grandstand, giving utterance to his feelings, but no interpreter happened to be near.

YALE RELIES ON SKILL OF HINKEY.

FRANK HINKEY - YALE COACH

Yale is placing great reliance on the ability of Frank Hinkey, head coach, to land this year's eleven on the top rung of the football ladder. Hinkey has already worked wonders with the team and has whipped together a machine that many believe will win the gridiron championship. The present blue eleven is undoubtedly stronger than those which have been turned out from New Haven in recent years and is a worthy successor to some of the notable football crews which have achieved fame and glory for the blue in other years. Hinkey is a firm believer in the open style of play. He has drilled the eleven carefully in the use of the lateral and forward pass. Its effectiveness has been demonstrated in a majority of the games played at New Haven this year, and it is regarded as responsible in a measure for the wonderful offensive strength of this year's team. Amworth, Knowles, Legros, Wilson and Scovill have been so well drilled in the open game that they are perhaps without peers as its exponents. Hinkey has been given full credit for the fine work of the eleven and is undoubtedly deserving of all praise.

HISTORIC STANLEY CUP NOW THING OF THE PAST

The historic Stanley Cup has practically become an emblem of the championship of the National Hockey Association. Last year the Pacific Coast title holders made an effort to "lift" it, but that was the extent of the challenges.

Not many years ago when the season was nearing an end and the champions of the various leagues about decided, the newspapers were filled with Stanley Cup talk. Challenges came from the east and west, so thick indeed the trustees had their hands filled looking up the qualifications of the teams and assigning dates. Ottawa defended the cup twice in 1905 and twice in 1906. Of course, challenges were numerous in those days as all hockey was "amateur," that is, salaries were paid by the light of a dark lantern. Queen's University played the Ottawas in 1906, and were followed by Smith's Falls, the O. H. A. champions of that season.

Edmonton gathered together two all-star teams and came east for the cup four or five years ago. Since then challenges have been few and far between and unless a rival league springs up in the east there is little likelihood the great piece of plate silver whose intrinsic value was placed by a local jeweler at $54, will ever be hung up for competition. It was a great little money maker, however, for those who owned it a few years ago. Indeed, special "world's series" prices were always charged when the trophy was in Ottawa and netted the local club many thousands of dollars.

LOCAL BOWLING YESTERDAY

HEINE HAS DOUBTS AS TO A TRADE

Heine Zimmerman doubts that he will be traded to the New York Giants because he doesn't believe there is any such good luck.

"If I lived in Oskaloosa or any one of those far-away towns there might be a chance," said our Bronx hero, "but I don't believe it will ever be possible for a fellow who was born and raised around New York to get on one of the home teams. I don't mean by that that Johnny McGraw doesn't want boys who are brought up here, but it seems that clubs won't let it come off. If the Cubs wanted to trade me to St. Louis, it would be just my luck to have the deal go through.

"At that," said Heine, "I'm not kicking about playing on the Cubs. They are paying me good money, but at the same time, if I am traded, I would certainly like to be sent to New York. But don't you bet on it."

ALL-AMERICAN MEET SELECTED DOES NOT INCLUDE BIG PAIR

The Baseball Magazine in its December issue announces an All-American baseball team, which it claims can lick the world. They back up their argument by giving every player they have selected a solid gold medal inscribed with his name and membership in the greatest team of the year.

The following is the club selected with a few of the reasons for making the choice:

Position	Player	B. A.
First Base . . . . .	Daubert (N) . . . . .	331
Second Base . . . . .	Collins (A) . . . . .	342
Shortstop . . . . .	Maranville (N) . . . . .	355
Third Base . . . . .	Baker (A) . . . . .	318
Outfield . . . . .	Cobb (A) . . . . .	366
Outfield . . . . .	Speaker (A) . . . . .	337
Outfield . . . . .	Jackson (A) . . . . .	340
Catcher . . . . .	Archer (N) . . . . .	359
Catcher . . . . .	Schang (A) . . . . .	375
Pitcher . . . . .	Alexander (N) . . . . .	334
Pitcher . . . . .	Mathewson (N) . . . . .	310
Pitcher . . . . .	Johnson (A) . . . . .	335

The pitching problem is by all odds the most difficult in the analysis of an All-American team. Alexander is perhaps more clearly entitled to a place than any other twirler in either league. Alexander's work has been constantly good, his victories hard-earned gifts that clubs won't let it come off. With an erratic club behind him, he has proved a consistent winner, one of the hardest and uniformly best pitchers of the season. James has natural gifts that should make him one of the greatest pitchers in the world. This season his record was a phenomenal one, but James is too young, too inexperienced to rank yet as a really great pitcher. He has the gifts, he will get the experience. It is noticeable that Stallings universally pitched Rudolph in a crisis throughout the season in preference to James. This was solely because of Rudolph's greater experience, his more intimate knowledge of baseball affairs.

Experience is an asset not easily recognized in a pitcher's work, but it is invaluable. James can well afford to wait for the laurels that will inevitably be his with a little more seasoning.

Rudolph Lacks Little.

Rudolph, with all his craft, has scarcely enough mechanical ability to make him one of the greatest pitchers of the year. With his various defeats largely a combination of circumstances and weak support, we are inclined to prefer Mathewson to either, realizing to the full the popularity which inevitably goes to the pennant winner, and above all the champions of the world. Rudolph and James were great at the climax of the year—Mathewson through the bulk of the heavy work, and there is no gainsaying the value of Mathewson's performances, marred as they were by a run of misfortune at the season's close.

The American league, while in possession of a uniformly high standard of pitching skill, presented no commanding figure. Leonard was the most consistent winner, all things considered, but a man to be set aside for chief honors for largely the same reasons that impell us to pass over the re-

Y.M.C.A. ALLEYS OPENED

The bowling alleys in the Y.M.C.A. opened last evening for the season and there was a game between a team from the board of directors and one from the business men of the city, which resulted in a win for the business men by a score of 1173 to 1035. The business men's team was composed of F. G. Bent, L. P. D. Tilley, Mr. Stephenson, C. Dickson and John Jackson. The losers were J. Hunter White, Horace Porter, W. H. White, F. Smith and A. W. Estey. The interest in the game was keen and the alleys having been put into the very best of condition there is no doubt but there will be a return match in the near future between these teams.

The alleys will be open to the use of the intermediates between the hours of seven and eight o'clock, seniors and business men between four and six o'clock and between 8 and 10.30 o'clock. The school boys can have the use of the alleys between the hours of 3.30 and 4 o'clock.

OLYMPIC GAMES FOR THE STATES

Paris, Nov. 16.—The Olympic games in 1916 may take place in the United States. Baron Pierre De Coubertin, president of the International Committee, says if any circumstances, material or sentimental, prevent their being held in Europe in 1916, they cannot be postponed until 1920, as suggested, but that they might be held in America.

GURNEY OXFORD

A Stove You Can Always Depend On

The Gurney-Oxford has a nation-wide reputation for reliability.

It's a thoroughly well made stove. During its long life it never fails to do its work.

It can be depended to cook each meal with little trouble and no worry.

The Gurney-Oxford Economizer (with which every Gurney-Oxford is equipped), enables you to keep the fire in perfect control always.

The grates are designed for perfect combustion. The divided flues convey the heat from the fire to all sides and corners of the oven. The owner of a Gurney-Oxford does not know what it means to take a roast or a batch of biscuits from the oven with uncertainty.

We want to demonstrate the features of the Gurney-Oxford that have gained for it first honors in everything that makes a stove valuable.
