COUNCIL OF FOUR DECLINES TO CONSIDER GERMAN NOTE ON LABOR

ABOLITION OF CONSCRIPTION AND DISMANTLING OF GUN PLANTS THROUGHOUT AUSTRIA

These Conditions Are Included in the Draft of Peace Terms To Be Presented To the Austrian Delegates—Council of Four Discusses Military Clauses in the Document.

Paris, May 15.—The council of four this morning discussed with its military advisers the military terms of the Austrian treaty. It is understood that these are similar to those in the German treaty, including the prohibition of conscription.

The draft of the treaty probably will be presented to the Austrian delegation Wednesday. The terms, it is understood, require the dismantling of the famous Skoda works, among other armament plants.

Thousands Pay Tribute to Memory of Edith Cavell at Service in British Capital

Remains of English Nurse Who Was Executed by Germans Are Brought From Belgium To London For a Memorial Service and Thence To Her Native City, Norwich, For Interment.

London, May 15.—Great Britain paid tribute to Edith Cavell, the English nurse executed by the Germans at Brussels on October 12, 1915, here today, when her body, en route from Brussels to her native city of Norwich, was taken to Westminster Abbey for an impressive memorial service.

It was a public funeral, in which it seemed every resident of the great metropolis endeavored to participate. The streets through which the cortege moved were congested with crowds, and every inch of standing room in the neighborhood of the abbey was occupied by a densely massed multitude, which was eager to do reverent homage to "that brave woman," as the Bishop of London described her.

Service in Westminster Abbey.

The congregation at the abbey included high officials of the government, representatives of foreign countries, and men prominent in many walks of life. King George was represented by the Earl of Athlone, brother of Queen Mary. The service was conducted by the Dean of Westminster. No address was delivered. The opening sentences of the burial service were sung by the choir, which then sang the 23rd Psalm, and a short lesson from the Revelations of St. John was read. Then came Sullivan's anthem, "Yea, Though I Walk Through the Valley of the Shadow of Death," and "I Heard a Voice From Heaven."

Taken to Norwich.

The Litany, the Lord's Prayer and two Collects were then repeated, followed by the hymn "Abide With Me." The Benediction was then pronounced, and the "Last Post" and "Reveille" were sounded.

The service, which began at noon, lasted half an hour. The procession left the abbey to the strains of Chopin's Funeral March, and proceeded to the station, where the coffin of plain oak was placed on a train for Norwich.

On the coffin was the simple inscription:

EDITH CAVELL.
Born December 4, 1865.
Died October 12, 1915.

At Norwich it was placed on a gun carriage and taken to Norwich Cathedral.

Service at Norwich.

The service, which was officially designated "For the funeral of Edith Cavell, a nurse who gave her life for her countrymen," followed. As the coffin was taken into the cathedral the hymn, "Now the Labourer's Task Is O'er" was sung, which was followed by the reading of the lesson, I. Peter ii., 19, by Canon Dechare, then Chopin's Funeral March. While the hymn "Brief Life Is Here Our Portion" was being sung, the procession formed for the march to the grave side, where the Benediction was pronounced, and the bugle sounded the "Last Post."

The funeral party which accompanied the body from Brussels to Norwich included eight members of Miss Cavell's family, and prominent British and Belgian officials.

Interference in British Affairs Ends in Rebuke

Lloyd George Gives Reason For Cancellation of Invitation to Irish-Americans.

London, May 14.—Andrew Bonar Law, Government leader in the House of Commons, admitted today that Premier Lloyd George had asked Frank P. Walsh, Edward Dunne and Michael F. Ryan, representatives of Irish societies in the United States, to call upon him, as he thought it would be to the advantage of Americans interested in Ireland to be received by him. He had planned to lay before them the British case and have it widely reported in America, where it is insufficiently understood, Mr. Bonar Law said.

The premier has withdrawn the invitation, the Government leader said, because, while he is willing to receive Americans, he is unwilling to receive those who "come to Ireland and not only take part in the politics of Ireland, but also in rebellious movements."

THOUSANDS SIGUING PETITIONS ON BEHALF FRANK M'CULLOUGH

Foreman of Jury That Convicted Murderer Sends In List.

WOMEN ARE INTERESTED

Great Amount of Sympathy Is Being Shown Condemned Man.

Toronto, May 15.—Of the many petitions reaching the legal firm of Robinette & Co., which will be presented to the minister of justice asking executive clemency for McCullough, one handed over by Rev. Bertram Nelles is the most unique. It came from A. G. Hill of 274 Danforth avenue, who was the foreman of the jury who found McCullough guilty. The petition was accompanied by the following letter:

Dear Sir,—I inclose signatures to the petition for clemency on behalf of Frank McCullough. I can guarantee the said signatures to be those of intelligent businessmen as they were all signed in my presence.

If the petition was circulated more freely I feel sure that there would be no difficulty in getting thousands of signatures.

The people I approached were practically all in favor of mercy being extended.

(Signed) A. I. HILL,
Foreman of Jury.

Many Sign Petition.

"It is nothing short of amazing the amount of sympathy that is being shown," said Mr. Robinette. "Even at my home businessmen from all over the city are phoning me regarding McCullough. We have received hundreds of postcards from people even outside the city. Last night one woman brought in a list of over twelve hundred names.

"Last night in the downtown district petitions were being handled on the streets, particularly on Queen street, east of Yonge street, these being signed as rapidly as the crowd could get to them."

VERA LAVELLE IS FOUND GUILTY OF AIDING M'CULLOUGH

Judge Coatsworth Postpones Passing of Sentence Until End of Assizes.

Toronto, May 15.—Vera Lavelle was found guilty this morning of having assisted Frank McCullough, under sentence of death for the murder of Acting Detective Frank Williams, to escape from jail on April 15. Sentence was deferred until the conclusion of the assizes. Judge Coatsworth, before whom the case was tried, ruled that there was sufficient evidence to convict without that of the girl Marks, who was an inmate of the jail at the time of the escape.

Hume Cronyn, M.P., Mentioned as Possibility for Cabinet

An Ottawa correspondent of the Toronto Telegram intimates that both Hon. F. B. Carvell and Hon. T. A. Crerar will leave the cabinet soon. Principally the reason is that they want to get out.

Hume Cronyn, M.P., is mentioned as a successor to one of these ministers, along with Dr. Manion of Fort William. In the event of such appointments being made aby-election for London would be necessary, unless Union Government should decide to go to the country, which it appears to have no intention of doing.

VETERANS IN CONVENTION AT WINDSOR POINT TO NEED OF CHANGE IN THE DIVORCE LAWS

Members of G. W. V. A. Approve of Extending the Period of Vocational Training From Six to Twelve Months—Scheme of Co-operative Stores Is Defeated.

Windsor, May 15.—The ire of a majority of delegates to the annual convention of the Great War Veterans Association of Ontario, in progress here, was aroused during the evening session Wednesday, when the committee on officers' reports recommended striking several clauses from the opening address of President C. E. Jeakins. The committee took exception to the references made to lump-sum gratuities taking the stand that the association as a whole should not be placed on record as indorsing the sentiments expressed by the president, who is opposed to the proposal, until a vote had been taken. The committee was heavily scored for its action, by the leading members of the convention and accompanied by enthusiastic cheers, the recommendation was defeated.

Eligibility for membership to the organization was under consideration. The constitution committee, itself unable to agree on the matter, submitted a resolution providing that any enlisted volunteer be acceptable if he could produce proof showing it was through no fault of his that he failed to reach the front. The committee in its report, appended an amendment to the resolution, which would allow all soldiers who wore the King's uniform, to become members, but not until such time as the volunteers had all been absorbed.

It is probable, however, that the controversial question will be referred to the various local commands for a plebiscite before the Dominion convention assembles at Vancouver on June 9.

Discussion will be continued today.

Would Extend Training Period.

The association went on record as approving of the period of vocational training from six to twelve months, and of admitting boys under the age limit who enlisted, to the privileges of this training.

That Ontario veterans are vitally interested in the housing program of the Government was indicated in a resolution which provided for establishment of a subcommittee of the provincial executive to carefully watch the operation and point out the neglect, if any, of the scheme. Municipalities are urged to bring pressure to bear, so that proper facilities will be provided in order that a speedy solution of the problem may be affected.

Establishment of district commands and a reorganization of the provincial body along these lines was under discussion. After considerable discussion that continued throughout the day, the general principle of the proposal was indorsed, but the district commands will only be authorized following application from the various locals affected.

Complete jurisdiction to govern the divorce laws and bring the privilege of the law within reach of poor as well as rich was embodied in a resolution which declared:

Want Divorce Made Easier.

"It is time the provincial courts were given complete jurisdiction to administer a law of divorce uniform for all Canada, so that by elimination of the present cumbersome procedure by private bill, the present class distinction in matters affecting the most sacred of domestic relations should be abolished, and that the resolution be sent to the Dominion command."

Establishment of a chain of co-operative stores to supply the wants of the veterans and their families, which was under discussion for considerable time, was finally defeated.

The entire question of gratuities will be threshed out during the Thursday sessions.

Thursday morning the delegates visited during an industrial tour, the Ford Motor Company of Canada, the Canadian Steel Corporation's plant at Ojibway, and the $3,000,000 dollar plant of the General Motors Corporation at Walkerville, now in the process of construction. In the afternoon the convention members were invited as guests of Frank Navin, president of the Detroit Baseball Club, who reserved a block of seats at Navin Field, when the Tigers played the New York Highlanders of the American League.

Bare Legs and Low Neck Gowns at the French Race Tracks

Stockingless Fad Is Launched At Longchamps.

Paris, May 12.—[Delayed.]—At the Longchamps racing yesterday, which President Wilson and Col. House saw, the stockingless fad was launched. It is believed that bare legs will prove popular, with silk stockings costing $10 a pair up, and so diaphanous they scarcely last a day without tearing.

Recently actresses quit wearing stockings at the theatres, and leading dressmakers sent mannequins to the race track stockingless.

Owing to the thinness of the fashionable stocking, which is so sheer as almost to be invisible, people had to look twice to make sure the wearer was bare-legged.

Without stockings, the mannequins wear high heeled slippers, cut away at the instep and on the side, leaving only a sort of network of leather thongs.

Low necked and armless gowns, lower than formerly, marked the first Sunday at Longchamps.

London, May 14.—The latest fad among English society women is to be photographed in bed. SHOOTS FOUR PEOPLE AFTER FIRING BARN

New Brunswick Man Believed To Be Insane.

RUSHES INTO WOODS

Two of Victims Are in a Critical Condition.

Moncton, N. B., May 15.—A telephone message to the "Transcript" from Rexton, in Kent County, some 45 miles from here tells the story of the shooting of four people by a man apparently insane, named Robert Childs, alias Robert McIntosh. He reached Rexton last night and this morning went to his old homestead about half a mile outside the village on which he said he had a claim. He set fire to the barn and shot a horse. Mrs. John Childs, his brother's wife and her son Harold, about sixteen years of age, started to the barn in an attempt to save the cattle and horses, when he shot both of them. Two neighbors, Louis Hebert and his son, noticed the fire and went over to try to save the cattle, and he shot them also. Mrs. Childs and one of the Heberts are in a critical condition. Robert Childs had three revolvers and is still at large in the woods.

No further particulars are available.

AUSTRIAN DELEGATES ARE PERMITTED TO GO WHERE THEY PLEASE

St. Germain-en-Laey, May 15.—The Austrian delegates to the peace congress, who arrived here last evening, strolled freely through the streets and parks today, apparently enjoying complete freedom of movement. There are no barriers here like those which surround the German delegates at Versailles.

The Austrians have made no request thus far to communicate with the German delegation.

Twenty-Seven Thousand Union Workers in Winnipeg Strike Paralyzing the City's Business

Street Cars Cease Running, 3,000 Clerks Leave Jobs in Stores, Milk, Bread and Other Foodstuffs Are Not Being Delivered—Walkout in Manitoba Capital Carried Out in Orderly Manner.

Winnipeg, May 15.—Precisely at 11 o'clock this forenoon—the time set by the Winnipeg Trades and Labor Council—the general strike was launched, and approximately 27,000 unionists left their work. Street cars were taken to the barns, building elevators stopped running; postal employees went home; all deliveries of milk, bread and other foodstuffs ceased, and about 3,000 clerks, bookkeepers and stenographers employed throughout the city struck. Except for a specially organized life-saving crew, all firemen walked out. The policemen have been ordered by the strike committee to remain on duty although they had voted solidly to strike, it was announced; and some strikers have been delegated by the committee to offer their services in the interest of maintaining order.

The walkout was conducted in a very orderly manner in every case. The committee has arranged for the present supply of water for domestic purposes and a sufficient force of operators in all hospitals to insure adequate service.

A citizens' committee of one thousand has been formed with the object of aiding in the maintenance of order in the city and arranging for the operation of essential public utilities. Volunteers for this work are being asked for.

LABOR LEGISLATION PROVIDED FOR IN TREATY OF PEACE

Clemenceau in Reply To Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau Tells Him This.

ALL PHASES COVERED

Council of Four Declines To Consider Suggestions of German Delegates.

Paris, May 14.—The council of four has declined to consider the note from Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, chief of the German peace mission, relative to international labor legislation. In a note sent to the German delegation today, M. Clemenceau, president of the peace conference, says that the Allied and associated governments "are of the opinion that their decisions give satisfaction to the anxiety which the German delegates professes for social justice, and insure the realization of reforms which the working classes have more than ever a right to expect after the cruel trial to which the world has been subjected during the last five years."

Text of Reply.

The text of the reply to the German note sent by M. Clemenceau, follows:

"Sir: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of May 10 in regard to the international labor legislation, together with a draft of an international agreement on labor law. The reply of the Allied and associated governments is as follows: They take note of the declaration made by the German delegates that domestic peace and the advancement of mankind depend upon the adjustment of the labor question and they are convinced that such adjustment will be rendered easier in the future than in the past as men's minds are freed from the fear of war and industry is relieved of the burden of armaments which German militarism had imposed upon it.

"Part XIII of the draft of the conditions of peace provides a means by which such adjustments can be made and section II of this part of the draft lays down the principle which will progressively guide the labor organization and the league of nations. Article 427 indicates clearly that the enumeration of the principles set forth is not exhaustive. The purpose of the labor organizations is that it should promote the constant development of the international labor regime.

Inserted in Treaty.

"The labor convention has been inserted in the treaty of peace and Germany will, therefore, be called upon to sign it. In the future the rights of your country to participate in the labor organization will be assured so soon as she is admitted into the league of nations in accordance with article 1 of the treaty.

"It has not been thought necessary to summon a labor conference at Versailles. The conclusions of a syndical conference at Berne, which are reproduced in the draft of the international agreement on labor law referred to in the first paragraph of your letter of the tenth instant, had already been studied with the closest attention. Representatives of the trade unions had taken part in the preparation of the articles relating to labor. As appears, moreover, from the annex to section II of part XIII, page 200, the program of the first session of the international labor conference to be held at Washington next October comprises the most important of the questions raised at the syndical conference at Berne. Trade unions will be invited to take part in that conference, and it will be held under direct rules, which provide for due effect being given to conclusions subject only to the assent of the competent authorities in the countries represented.

German Draft Deficient.

"The draft of the international agreement on labor law, prepared by the German government, is deficient, in that it makes no provision for the representation of labor at the international conference which is proposed. It is also inferior to the provisions submitted in part XIV of the peace conditions in the following respects:

"A.—Five years is suggested as a maximum interval between conferences (Article VII). The peace conditions—one year. (Article 389).

"B.—Each country has one vote. (Article VII). The peace conditions give a vote to each delegate, whether representing a government, employers or workers. (Article 390).

"C.—Resolutions are only binding if carried by a majority of four-fifths of the voting countries. (Article VII). The peace conditions provide that a majority of two-thirds only of the votes cast shall be necessary on the final vote for the adoption of a recommendation for the draft of a convention by the conference. (Article 405).

"The Allied and associated governments are, therefore, of the opinion that their decisions give satisfaction to the anxiety which the German delegates profess for social justice and insure the realization of reforms which the working classes have more than ever a right to expect after the cruel trial to which the world has been subjected during the past five years.

"Accept, Sir, etc., (signed)

G. CLEMENCEAU."

M'GILL PRINCIPAL WILL NOT COME TO CANADA UNTIL FALL

Sir Auckland Geddes Must Finish His Task in England First.

800 MEN INVOLVED

Demands Are Made For Eight-Hour Day, Higher Pay and Improved Conditions.

London, May 15.—Sir Auckland Geddes, the new principal of McGill University, Montreal, will not leave this country until October. At the request of the prime minister, he is continuing in his office as minister of national service in order to disperse the temporary staffs which have grown up here in connection with governmental war service. All the indications go to show that Sir Auckland will have no light task.

Temporary officials of all grades may be depended upon to defend their positions to the last, and when driven from one department will make desperate efforts to find refuge in another.

Some months have elapsed since Mr. Churchill warned everyone in a "war jôb" to look out for another without losing a day, but the percentage of those who have heeded that warning is said to be microscopical.

BRANTFORD METAL WORKERS POSTPONE INTENDED STRIKE

Negotiations Are Opened Between Men and Employers.

Brantford, May 15.—The expected strike of the machinists union, which was originally scheduled for today with the prospect of it ending in a call for the metal trades federation to strike, which would result in 800 being called out, did not materialize. It was announced officially for the men today that negotiations had been opened and that it was expected that they would hold a conference with the employers on Wednesday next. In the meantime the managements of the various factories affected will meet with the men, through shop committees, to again present their cases and it is hoped that amicable arrangements can be made.

Council Pledges Assistance.

The trades and labor council last evening pledged the assistance of the council to the metal trades workers who have presented demands to local manufacturers, in their efforts to attain the eight-hour day, improved working conditions and higher pay. The council will also urge all affiliated locals to demand the eight-hour day. They also appointed a committee to arrange to bring "Jimmie" Simpson of Toronto to this city to address a mass meeting. This follows on the recent denunciation of Mayor MacBride of the local I. L. P., of Simpson and the "Red Flag" advocates.

The attitude of the manufacturers is that the time is an inopportune one. The home market orders have been completely filled, and export orders are not available, save at the risk of dubious credits. There is a three months' supply on hand and with poor prospects the feeling is held that a shut-down would mean that the factories would close down without any attempt at operation, thus throwing thousands of employees out of work.

AIRPLANE MAKES FAST TRIP FROM VANCOUVER TO CAPITAL OF B. C.

Flight Is Made Across Bay Under Perfect Weather Conditions.

Vancouver, B. C., May 15.—Carrying the first aerial mail between the city and Victoria and making use of aerial wireless throughout their flight for the first time west of Toronto, Pilot Jack Clemens, in charge of the airplane Pathfinder, together with Lieut. Hargraves, made a successful flight from the capital city to Vancouver. Their time was 43 minutes, or three hours and 57 minutes faster than the distance has ever been done by steamship. Weather conditions were perfect.

ARBITRATION BOARD RECOMMENDS HIGHER PAY IN MONTREAL

Employees of Tramways Company Receive Decided Advances.

Montreal, May 15.—The arbitration board which considered the demand of the employees of the Montreal Tramways Company for higher wages has recommended that men in receipt of 33c an hour be raised to 48c, and those getting 51c be raised to 41 cents. The increases will mean an addition of $650,000 to the company's operating expense. Three thousand, five hundred men are affected.

"TWENTIETH PLANE" BRANDED WEAKEST THING PUBLISHED

Dr. Deacon Saw One Book Weaker—Contained Undertaker's Poems.

SAYS IT WAS BURNED

Says Messages Never Reached Higher Plane Than Man's Head.

"If I thought I had to go and live for eternity in that pink tea heaven on the twentieth plane, that they tell about in Dr Watson's book, 'The Twentieth Plane,' I would commit mental suicide; I wouldn't want to exist," said Dr. Charles Deacon, speaking on this book in the Colborne Street Methodist Church last evening to a large and interested audience.

"That book is really the weakest of its kind ever written, in fact, only one other book have I read which I could place in the same class, and that was a little book which is now consumed in the flames, written by an undertaker who thought he could write poetry and though it rhymed, there was no reason to it. It dealt all in a few verses with everything from slaughter-houses to hogs and cheesemaking."

"Now in reference to this twentieth plane book," said Dr. Deacon, after the audience had subsided from giggles about the undertaker's book of poems, "not any of those messages written in that book came from any higher plane than the crown of a man's head. Those quotations are not Shakespeare's. They could not be. Shakespeare never wrote anything like that; those are more like the ravings in the undertaker's book of poems. Degeneracy is written through the whole thing, and as I said before it is the weakest thing in print.

From Subjective Mind.

"Now we will say that a certain crowd collect, and one in the company has learned the art of hynotizing, and while in that state professes to receive messages from some unheard of plane. What I have to say regarding those messages, is that it is from his own subjective mind or drawn from the subjective mind of one of the company.

"You understand," said Dr Deacon, "that we have what we could call a two-fold mind, an objective one and a subjective one. The objective mind is the one we use to reason, purpose and plan, and the subjective is the dream mind, that is in operation while we sleep, or while in a trance or in a hypnotic state, the storehouse of the memory. This mind never forgets. From our first state of consciousness, everything is in our subjective mind. Sometimes these two minds work in harmony, and sometimes otherwise. It often occures that a person will say when in conversation, "I said so myself," that alone is an instance of one mind speaking to the other. If the mind stopped working, the person would die, because the mind controls the body.

Cites an Instance.

"Here is just one instance of the working of the subjective mind," said Dr. Deacon. "A lady was ill with fever and while lying in a subconscious state, she began talking in a language unknown to any around her. It happened that the nurse who afterwards came to attend her was present when she began talking in the language and she found that it was that of Brittany. The lady had been born in Brittany, but while still of tender age left with her parents for England, where she always spoke English and she was never known to utter a word of Brittany from a child, but it was written on her subconscious mind and in that state she was able to talk in that language. Her objective mind was asleep, a blank as it were, and her subconscious mind was working.

"Regarding the passages in Dr. Watson's book, about the messages from the twentieth plane, I say that probably these were in the subconscious mind of the medium or of the company without their knowing of it, and in the subconscious state, have reuttered things that they have heard while being in that state.

"Here is just another simple illustration. I was attending a woman who was suffering from insomnia. She thought she was dying and so did her relatives, but it was not long befoore I had her go to sleep and remain so for eight hours. It was a sort of re-ducation I had to give her. I told her that she must go to sleep, not mind everybody else's business, because while thinking of everything else but sleep she could not do it. And while she was asleep, I stood talking to her and told her that she must remain that way, and I also said, when you awake you will go to the window and say, 'What a beautiful day, I would love to go for a ride." He sister afterwards told me that it was not more than twenty minutes after she awoke that she walked to the window and repeated these words. They were spoken to her subconscious mind and she could not forget it, because as I said before, this mind cannot forget.

Characters Weaklings.

Then Dr Deacon said, "I have been getting away from "The Twentieth Plane" book, but I tell you that every character introduced into it is a weakling." Dr. Deacon then talked a little about the power of hypnotism. He said it was the greatest healer yet known to man and that in New York some of the doctors are using it extensively instead of administering an anaesthetic.

In closing his interesting talk, Dr. Deacon used appropriately the verse from the Scriptures, "Eye hath not seen nor ear heard, neither can man conceive things that are stored above for him," and no one can tell us from the twentieth plane. Dr. Deacon told those present that he would be delighted to answer any questions, the audience might seem doubtful about and it was amusing to hear the different questions put to him, but by her listeners, he appeared to answer each to the inquirer's satisfaction and once or twice, they ran a little ahead of his address and he told in at ease that he had not studied that certain thing and was not in a position to answer it. Dr. Louis Barber, on behalf of the congregation tendered him a vote of thanks.

FIVE CENT CASH FARE ON SUNDAY NOW PROPOSED

Street Railway Asks Permission to Abolish Sabbath Tickets.

After Ald. F. E. Harley had moved that an agreement—as was requested by Manager C. B. King—be entered into with the London Street Railway Company to increase the Sunday fares within the city limits, No. 1 committee at its session Wednesday afternoon decided to recommend the matter to the council, so that it might be threshed out there. This agreement was to become effective on June 1. Ald. L. S. Holmes and Ald. F. R. Watkinson were against any increase in fares. Manager King declared that their proposal was to do away with tickets on Sunday, accepting cash fares only. This would mean that one could get but five rides for 25 cents on Sundays, instead of seven as on week-days.

Increased cost of operation was given as his reason for this. On Sunday the men received 12 cents an hour more than on other days, bringing their rate of pay up to 50 cents per hour. As there were two men to each street car it meant that the platform expenses alone amounted to $1 per hour per car. The only place affected by this proposed rate, outside of the city boundaries, would be Broughdale.

There had been no consideration of the Sunday cars to Springbank question on the part of the company, he remarked, when asked about that matter.

On the recommendation of Ald. L. S. Holmes that the bylaw governing the procedure of the city council be amended to provide for the commencement of the meetings at 6:45 p.m. instead of 7:45 p.m. and that the meetings be held monthly, the amendments were recommended to the council.

May Escape Tax.

Citizens who pay provincial or civic taxes on vehicles will not be compelled to pay the $1 which is levied on every vehicle owner, if a recommendation forwarded to the council carries.

It was recommended that the public utilities commission be authorized to issue debentures for $36,000 for 20 years for water, and $25,000 for ten years for electric power.

Two gas helmets, it was recommended, should be purchased by the city for the fire department at a cost of $115 each.

George W. Young, representing the recent Baptist convention, notified the committee that that assemblage was of the opinion that one time should be adopted and followed in the city.

R. H. Hessell, secretary of the Carpenters' Union, was appointed as a member of the housing commission in the place of Donald Wright, the president of the trades and labor council, who resigned.

Rev. Byron Snell asked that one civic representative be appointed to deliver a five-minute address at the union peace service which is to be conducted in the First Methodist Church under the auspices of the Ministerial Alliance on the day that the Germans sign the peace terms.

City Solicitor T. G. Meredith notified the committee that the L. and P. S. bill for increased fares, which had been formulated many months ago, had passed through the Dominion House.

Nothing was done in regard to the Grand Trunk Egerton street crossing as City Clerk Baker had not received a reply from the Grand Trunk to a letter which he had sent the company.

There was a recommendation that a report on the cost of installing one fire alarm box in Knollwood Park be made.

Dairymen Coming.

Gordon Philip, secretary of the chamber of commerce, asked that the city provide a meeting place for the dairymen's convention this year, as was done last year, as this convention was an asset to the city. Last year the city secured the Masonic Temple at a cost of $180. The matter was referred to the council.

City Clerk Baker recommended that persons be prevented from tieing horses beneath the butchers' pavilion on the market, as the animals breathed on the irons on which the meat was hung.

A bill from the Byron Sanatorium for $10, for removing three patients to Victoria Hospital, was referred back to the sanatorium again. Some of the aldermen thought that if this bill was paid, other institutions could send in bills for similar things.

Bandmaster A. Slatter of the 7th Regiment Band, asked permission to hold band concerts in Victoria Park. His request was forwarded to the council.

It was reported that the military authorities were going to pay $13,000 for their past usage of Queen's Park. It was recommended that $9,500 of this go to the Western Fair Association and the other $3,500 to the parks board.

STORE AGAIN SOLD.—Gammage's florist store, 207 Dundas street, has again been sold. It is the second time in two months that this store has changed hands. The Advertiser was unable to ascertain the name of the latest buyer, but it was rumored that it was a London jeweler.

20TH PLANE MEDIUM REJECTS THEORY OF SUBCONSCIOUS MIND

Louis Benjamin Tells Story to London Audience.

Was it a coincidence or was it a stroke of fate that Louis Benjamin, the celebrated medium of the Twentieth Plane should speak before an interested audience of London citizens last night, the same night on which the Rev. Chas. Deacon at the Colborne Street Methodist Church most adversely criticized the book in which he plays so prominent a part?

The persons who met together to hear Mr. Benjamin explain his position and the results which he had obtained, were there upon invitation and proved a most sympathetic audience. They were composed of men and women from almost every rank of life—clergymen, university professors, businessmen and so forth, and although many were not believers, none manifested themselves as violent skeptics.

The speaker told the story of how the Twentieth Plane came to be written and his share in the first communications with that world, with the utmost simplicity and with a kind of boyish enthusiasm, which appeared anxious lest it should not deliver its message quickly enough. He mentioned his close association with Dr. Watson and Dr. Abbott, professor of psychology and philosophy at Toronto University, and explained how every conceivable test had been applied to his communications with a view to proving them non-authentic, yet all had held. He went into the sub-conscious mind theory, declaring that to be not the case. And at the end of his talk he invited questions from those present.

Greeted With Questions.

That these questions were not more skeptical in nature was no doubt due to the fact that the speaker had so completely won his audience at least to a state of open-mindedness.

What did Dr. Watson's mother mean when she said that Byron was in a valley of burning chaff? was one question asked.

"In every plane there is some kind of hell, so they tell us," declared the speaker. "This is not a place of torture or pain, but a place of redemption, where the soul is cared after breaking some of nature's laws. A Catholic priest whom I know was very much interested in this and likenged it to his Purgatory."

Do your communications throw light on modern problems? was another question.

"We have heard much from such men as Abraham Lincoln on such matters, but they tell us that we know more of the details of the problems than they do. They, however, will give us advice on principles."

Can See Sometimes.

Can the people of the Twentieth Plane see us here?

"They claim that they have an apparatus, made of some actual substance, through which they can speak to us of the earth plane and that also they have a vision screen on which they say they can see certain individuals when circumstances are favorable."

After souls leave the earth plane can they communicate readily with each other?

"We are told that the soul remains in a state of coma for about a year, so that it may become adjusted with its new environment. Then it may learn how to communicate with the earth plane. But this seems to be very difficult. They communicate with each other by means of thought transfer, a sort of universal language which might be likened to music."

Can one function on the Twentieth Plane without going through the portals of death?

Can Speed Up.

"There is a woman in Toronto who claims that she can do this. I myself have often functioned in the Twentieth Plane, that is I have speeded up my vibrations which are slower than those of the Twentieth Plane until they are atune with the Twentieth Plane. In this state I can see and hear the people of the Twentieth Plane."

In reference to reincarnation, Mr. Benjamin said that every genius in this life was a reincarnated soul, that being the only true explanation of genius.

PICTURES REACH HERE FOR EXHIBIT OF NAVY LEAGUE

Some Wonderful Views Will Be Seen at Armories.

D. N. M. Talbot of the British ministry of information, arrived in the city from Toronto yesterday, bringing with him the pictures which are to be exhibited for a week in the Armories, commencing May 19. These photos, some of which are very wonderful, were taken from the air, and among them is the largest photo taken in the world, measuring 17 feet by 23 feet. They are being exhibited under the patronage of the Governor-General, the Lieutenant-Governor and Brig.-Gen. L. W. Shannon. This will be the fourth exhibit of the pictures in Canada under the auspices of the Navy League. They have already been shown in Montreal, Toronto and Hamilton. The exhibit will be opened by George M. Reid, president of the chamber of commerce. Brig.-Gen. L. W. Shannon and Commodore Amelius Jarvis of Toronto.

How Britain Does It.

How Britain rules the waves and the sky above the waves, not to mention putting up a good fight under the waves, will be vividly depicted at the exhibition.

Scenes of naval warfare of every description, from the seaplane in the clouds to the submarine at the bottom of the sea, are so lifelike as to be startling. Many of the pictures are life size. The largest photograph in the world is of H. M. S. Vindictive, showing that gallant ship the morning of her return to Dover from the Zeebrugge exhibition. This picture, which is beautifully colored, is 17x23 feet.

The pictures show depth charges, which deal death beneath the water—in fact, every phase of the war a sea is illustrated. Every craft employed by the navy, from the mighty super-dreadnought to the little trawler, is fully illustrated. When Tirpitz, the Arch-Hun, invented and organized his campaign of "frightfulness" against our merchantmen, he thought he had found the "Achilles heel" of the British Empire, and the day when we should go humbly down on our knees and beg for peace was frequently advertised in the German papers. But the German, who always under rates his enemies, forgot British ingenuity and pluck, and the photographs show what wonderful resources the British navy displayed in overcoming what at one time was a serious menace.

Wonderful Views.

There are wonderful views of battle cruisers burying their bows in the North Sea storms; of destroyers and patrol boats burying their bows and everything else in the same, but coming out the other side and carrying on, whatever happens. There are glorious photographs of roaring, foaming waters, seen from above and seen from beneath. A large number of the photographs were taken from the air, and present a new and for a moment a puzzling point of view to the mere earth-walker.

There is a striking view of the Zeebrugge mole seen from above, in which four German seaplanes are "taxying" along the sea as they rise to attack the daring photographer. There are mine sweepers at their fishing convoys zig-zagging across the ocean with their precious burden of food. Then there is the personnel; the men doing the thousand and one things that bring their lives and occupations so near to those at home, whose hearts go out to them and who may perhaps be also serving, although "they only stand and wait." Their games, their meals, their duties and their drills—they are all there; and there is one thing you could never find, search you every face in the photographs, and that is gloom. "Unconquerable and unafraid," you say to yourself, and every photograph makes you repeat it.

"IMPOSSIBLE," SAYS PRIEST OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE THEORIES

Paulist Father Deals With Mrs. Eddy's Teaching.

Lecturing at St. Peter's Cathedral last night, Father Gillis considered the topic "Christian Science." "I think it well," said he, "not to permit ourselves to be lost in the mazes of metaphysics." Most Christian Scientists following the lead of Mrs. Eddy prefer to talk metaphysical jargon. I imagine that ordinary people would prefer that we talk facts and common sense. However, though, I shall avoid Mrs. Eddy's metaphysics I shall confine myself strictly to statements made by her, or by the authoritative exponetns of Christian Science, I shall not invent any opinions on the teachings of Christian Science. I shall give them as I find them in the authorized manual of the sect.

A Catholic priest does not dodge metaphysics as an unusual field to him. But the ordinary congregation I am sure would prefer that we come out of the difficult, intangible science of metaphysics and talk in a way that they can understand.

Now I find that the usual lectures on Christian Science fail to set before the people the concrete facts that are given even in their authoritative manual "Science and Health." Let me therefore quote you some few statements from Mrs. Eddy's book.

"Generation rests on no sexual basis," "Gender is a quality of mind and not matter," "man has neither birth nor death." "The supposition that life germinates in eggs is a mistake." Mrs. Eddy would give us to understand therefore, that marriage as we know it, is really unnecessary. But she admits that until we learn that generation requires no sexual union, marriage may be permitted to continue.

Other Curious Views.

Take again, her curious views on anatomy, physiology and hygiene. "The condition," she says, "of the stomach, bowels, food and clothing is of no importance to your child." "The heart, lungs and brain have nothing to do with life." "That life is sustained by food is a myth." I wonder what the ordinary mother, who sits in the Christian Science Temple and listens to the reading of Mrs. Eddy's book thinks when she hears such sentences as the following: "The washing of a baby is unnecessary and unnatural. There is no more need of washing a baby than there is of taking a fish out of water and covering it with dirt." And I wonder how Christian Science congregations can listen without a smile of incredulity when Mrs. Eddy's book is read describing a father who plunged his baby into cold water and repeated the process until the baby could remain under water twenty minutes at a time like a fish.

"A Perfect Gem."

We are assured furthermore by Mrs. Eddy that a man is "the same after his head is chopped off as he was before." And I think a perfect gem of unconscious Christian Science humor is in Mrs. Eddy's statements concerning the "unthinking lobster." She says, when a lobster's claw is broken off he grows a new claw because he does not think. Whereas a man who has his leg broken off, does not grow a new leg because he thinks. Incidentally I wonder what the Christian Science chaplain, (of whom there were a few in the war,) said to the boys who were brought back to the hospitals badly shattered and with missing limbs. Would they say to a soldier with his two legs shot off, "Stop thinking, get up and walk."

We are assured furthermore in Mrs. Eddy's book that dyspepsia did not exist in the days of our forfathers. She says, "If a random thought calling itself dyspepsia tried to tyrannize over our forefathers, it would have been routed by their independence and industry! In olden times who ever heard of dyspepsia?" I used to wonder why Mark Twain became so indignant against Mrs. Eddy and wrote so violently against her, but when I read the book "Science and Health," I think I know the reason. He was jealous of her. She was a better humorist than he. In my opinion, the "unthinking lobster" is funnier than, "The jumping frog of Calaveras County."

Adopted Humor.

Mrs. Eddy's disciples have unconsciously adopted her humor. Mr. Marston, for example, states that buttermilk may be made as intoxicating as alcohol, by mere thought. Alcohol intoxicates because common thought has endowed it with the property of intoxicating, but if common thought would turn its attention to buttermilk common thought could make buttermilk intoxicating. I pass along this suggestion to a dry world for what it may be worth.

Mrs. Eddy, furthermore, has some very decided views about age." Never reckon ages, or timetables of birth and death." She tells a story of a young lady who was disappointed in love while still very young and when she grew to be seventy-four years of age continued to look as young as she was at thirty. Another woman eighty-five years of age had return of her sight, another at ninety grew new teeth and Mrs. Eddy specifies "cuspids, bicuspids and one molar."

Mind Only Exists.

It seems rather odd, however, of Mrs. Eddy to be talking about cuspids and bicuspids, for according to her philosophy such things do not exist. Why talk about non-existing things? She thinks that nothing exists but mind. To use her own words "Mortal-mind is like a kitten looking into a mirror and imagining that another kitten is in the mirror. So we human beings only imagine that we see a house, or a church or a chair or a table. We are really looking into a mirror of our own minds and there is nothing outside the mind. Natural phenomena are nothing but the human mind made manifest to itself. When we think that we see things, we are only losing ourselves in the mazes of our hallucinations."

Father Gillis concluded that it is useless to try to convince anyone of the truth, if he holds such bizarre and impossible theories.

"But it is well," he said, "That Christian people should know what curious things are taught in the name of Christianity. Once stated, the views of Christian Science own sufficient reputation except for persons of subnormal mentality." Tonight's lecture starts at 8 o'clock, Daylight Saving.

Best Home Treatment For All Hairy Growths

(The Modern Beauty.)

Every woman should have a small package of delatone handy, for its timely use will keep the skin free from beauty-marring, hairy growths. To remove hair or fuzz, make a thick paste with some of the powdered delatone and water. Apply to hairy surface and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin, and it will be free from hair or blemish. To avoid disappointment, be sure you get real delatone.—Advt.

It's Easy To Peel Off All Your Freckles

The contrast between the freckles and the clear skin usually is so great that no bleach can be more than partially successful in obliterating the disfurements. Ordinary mercolized wax is far better; it literally peels off the freckles. Get an ounce of it at the nearest drug store and tonight spread on enough to completely cover the face; remove in the morning with warm water. Repeat daily until every freckle has disappeared.

Rough, blotchy, pimpled skin, also common at this season, may be entirely gotten rid of by this same method, without discomfort or inconvenience. The effort is decidedly worth while, the new complexion obtained being so clear, smooth and youthful.—Advt.

The Easiest Way to End Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely, and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.—Advt.

SESSION CONDEMNS USE OF SUNDAY FOR DAY OF INSPECTION

St. Andrew's Indorses Presbytery Action by Resolution.

St. Andrew's Church session is at one with the Presbytery of London in condemning the inspection of Port Stanley harbor by the Minister of Public Works, and other public officials on a Sunday. At last night's meeting of the session the following resolution was passed:

"That we, the session of St. Andrew's Church, London, heartily indorse the Presbytery of London in deprecating the conduct of the minister of public works of this Dominion, and other public officials associated with him, for making an inspection of the harbor of Port Stanley and other buildings on the Sabbath Day, May 4, last.

"We believe that the 'Lord's Day' should be held for rest and worship available to all citizens, and deplore that these leaders in public positions should so openly desecrate the day.

"Their action so contrary to the spirit and purpose of this Christian institution is an encouragement to violate the law and disregard the fundamental basis of good citizenship and necessary subservience to moral conduct."

GENERAL HORVATH IN FULL COMMAND OF TROOPS IN SIBERIA

Assumes New Position In Addition to That of Civil Governor.

Omsk, Wednesday, May 7.—Following the recall of Ken. Ivanoff Rinoff, commander of the troops of the All-Russian Government in Eastern Siberia, Gen. Horvath has been given full command of the forces there, in addition to holding the position of civil governor. This step has been taken so that the government might have a more secure grasp on affairs in the East.

Gen. Ivanoff Rinoff is charged with having interfered with business and having checked the activity of the Cossack hetman in establishing control.

MANY MEMBERS OF 135TH BATTALION ON EARLY C. P. R. TRAIN

Men of Cassandra Arrive Here At 1:30 o'Clock.

MOST ARE DISPERSED

Three For Military Police Out of Eleven Who Were Expected.

One hundred and six returned soldiers, many of them former members of the 135th (Middlesex) Battalion, arrived at Quebec street station via C. P. R., at 1:20 o'clock this morning. These men came to Canada on H. M. S. Cassandra, arriving at Montreal after a twelve-day trip from Glasgow. About 50 persons were present to greet them.

Immediately after their arrival, they were lined up and taken to the dispersal station. In an hour every man, except three who were detailed for the military police, was in possession of that precious "scrap of paper," more familiarly known as a discharge paper.

Eight Missing.

Eleven men who had been detailed for C. M. P. C., either in England or on board ship were expected, but only three were found. As each group of men entered the dispersal station door, a military policeman asked if there were any men in the group for the police.

"Are you for military police," he asked of one soldier who wore several chevrons on his sleeve.

"No thank you! I'm for the military civies," he replied.

One Disappointed.

Relatives of one returned man who had been detailed for the military police, seemed very disappointed when they found that he was not to be given his discharge but was to remain in the King's uniform at $2.10 per day. He also seemed downcast when he saw almost all his pals getting their "tickets."

Refreshments were provided in the mess room across the road from the dispersal station by a few of the ladies of the Red Cross.

These are the Londoners who arrived on the early morning train.

GASOLINE IGNITES FROM OVERHEATED STOVE IN STORE ON DUNDAS ST.

The fire department had a run at 12:30 today to the London garment care tailoring establishment, 339 Dundas street, when a fire started from an overheated electric stove igniting the gasoline which is used for cleaning purposes. In the building at the time, the firemen say, there were two tanks of gasoline. These were removed in case the fire would spread. The firemen made a record run, all departments responding. The damage was small, being mostly done by smoke.

Last night the fire department had a run to some rooms above the Dominion Express, Richmond street. The cause of the fire is unknown. The damage will amount to about $100.

COUNCIL'S ATTITUDE ON SUNDAY STREET CAR FARES PROBLEM

Straight 5-Cent Rate Likely To Be Permitted.

OTHERWISE, NO SERVICE

Agreement Runs Out At End of Month, So Action Needed.

Sunday fares have to some extent usurped the place of daylight saving in interest as a topic at the city hall. Will the council agree to a straight 5-cent fare or will it not? That is the question which forms the basis for a large proportion of the discussion today around the corridors of the civic building.

One thing is sure, and that is that the council must come to some decision on Monday night, or put the citizens in the position of having to walk to church and on their Sunday visiting trips. The agreement for Sunday cars expires at the end of the present month, and unless it is renewed in some form the only way to arrange for a service on the Sabbath would be by calling a special meeting, since the council does not meet again, according to schedule, after Monday until June.

The general opinion seems to be that the 5-cent fare will be authorized. The vote on the every-day fare question was six to five, and if the council lines up the same way, 5-cent Sunday fares will be the rule in future. In that case, of course, the fare from any outlying point in the city to Springbank and return will be a straight 20 cents.

Costs County $100 To Have 2 Indians Fined for Assault

Amount Levied Is $2, and Loss On Case About $98.

Elijah Waddlove and Beatrice Lewis of Muncey were found guilty by Judge Talbot Macbeth this mornink of common assault, Eliza Waddlove, the 80-year-old mother of the former defendant, being the plaintiff. The son was fined $2 and the girl was allowed to go on suspended sentence. The case cost the county about $100.

According to the defendants, they tried to prevent her from wandering away from home, and while bringing her back to her house, she struggled, but was forced back to the house by them. She claims that they handled her roughly, but they denied this.

Judge Macbeth was of the opinion that a warrant should not have been issued in the case. When plaintiff went to A. P. Macdougald, J.P. of Melbourne, he refused to issue a warrant. The Indian agent also refused to act. The matter was brought to London, and the warrants were issued.

Deputy Sheriff B. F. Watterworth and Crown Attorney J. B. McKillop are both of the opinion that some change in the Indian laws should be made, giving the Indian agent power to dispose of such cases.

G. N. Weekes acted for the defendants; J. B. McKillop for the crown.

S. R. COMPANY WILL NOT WORK SUNDAYS AT THE OLD RATES

Manager Says Fare Must Be Five Cents Cash.

Manager C. B. King of the London Street Railway told The Advertiser today that if the city council is not willing to authorize a straight five-cent cash fare for Sundays, the company will abandon Sunday operation on June 1.

The company's proposal to arrange a new agreement on the five-cent basis was presented to the finance committee of the council that favorable action be taken.

Alderman L. S. Holmes and F. R. Watkinson however, announced that they were not in favor of the change in rates and it is possible that there will be further discussion in the council.

The Street Railway Company is under no legal obligation to operate on Sundays, and unless the five-cent fare is agreed to it is prepared to stop the service.

New Franchise.

The week day service is controlled by the franchise bylaw, which originally prohibited Sunday operation When the people voted in favor of Sunday cars a new agreement was drawn up and that has since been a separate document renewable from year to year. The agreement provided for fares of five cents cash or seven ordinary green tickets for a quarter. This contract expired on May 1, but pending negotiations the company and city council agreed to continue Sunday operation on the old terms for one month.

Claims Revenue Insufficient.

The company is not willing to renew the agreement on the old terms, claiming that the revenue secured is insufficient to meet the cost of Sunday operation.

"If the people are willing to pay what the service is worth we are willing to provide the accommodation for them," said Mr. King. "If the people feel that they would rather walk than pay this slight increase we will have to let matters go on that basis."

Patronage Small.

The company points out that the patronage on Sundays is far below that of week days. The records indicate that the revenue per car mile on Sundays is much lower than on week days. This fact, coupled with the higher cost of furnishing the service, is the basis of the company's determination to stipulate a five-cent fare for a new agreement.

President Charles Currie of the Street Railway Company is in the city for a few days, but he could not be located at the company's offices today.

NOTES OF INTEREST FROM CITY HALL

PLANNING SEWERAGE SYSTEM.

The city engineer's department is busy today on the plans for a sewerage system in Knollwood Park, for which No. 2 committee of the city council decided that at least a detailed report on the cost and arrangement of the sewers required to do the necessary work should be provided by the engineer. The department had the advantage this morning of the assistance of Noulon Cauchon, who is an expert in such matters, and he spent a good deal of time going over with the engineer the preliminary plans already drawn, suggesting modifications here and approving the proposed scheme elsewhere. His view was that the system should certainly be installed.

MISTAKE IN NOTIFICATION.

Acting Mayor E. S. Little, who is back on the job today, tendered an apology —or perhaps explanation would be the better word—for his absence from last evening's meeting of the local housing commission. He stated that the notice he received of the meeting said that it was to be held on Thursday, and he entered up that day in his diary. He was particularly sorry, he said, that the mistake had occurred because he arranged to go away on Wednesday purposely so that he could be present at the housing meeting the next day.

PERMITS NEAR $100,000 MARK.

Building permits issued during the present month now total 95, and represent a total value of $94,475. This figure is already equal to the total of the whole of the corresponding month of last year. H. Wolf & Son have been granted a permit for the erection of a 1¾-story brick veneer dwelling on Waterloo street north, to cost $3,000, and D. Teasdall has received permission to construct a one-story brick factory on Ridout street, near York, also at a cost of $3,000. It is to house a dye works.

AN ATTRACTIVE POSTER.

Ald. F. E. Harley, chairman of the civic reception committee, spent part of this morning distributing among the business houses of the city and the departments at the city hall posters bearing the figure of a soldier, walking with sloped rifle and bayonet, in front of a background showing a battle scene in the distance. The poster bears the inscription "London Welcomes Her Returned Heroes." The picture, of which about four hundred copies have been distributed, is an attractive one, and is reproduced from an oil painting.

WILL NEED HALL.

Acting Mayor E. S. Little has received a communication from Thomas Bengough, secretary of the commission on industrial relations, stating that the commission will visit London on Tuesday, May 20. Mr. Bengough asked in his letter that arrangements be made for the commission to use a room in the city hall, or that another hall be secured capable of accommodating from 50 to 100 people.

MAY BUILD 100 HOUSES.

City Clerk S. Baker has now received 67 applications for loans under the provisions of the housing scheme. Only about seventeen of these, he reports, can be acted upon, as the remainder of the applicants have neither a lot nor any money to put down, whereas the Provincial Government requires one of these two things as security for a loan. At the rate applications are coming in, Mr. Baker says he thinks that one hundred houses may be built under the scheme.

Special Meeting.

A special meeting of the board of education will be held on Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock to deal with some questions left over from the last meeting.

LOCAL WOMEN ARE UNDER SUSPICION OF STEALING AN INFANT

Peculiar Case Being Aired in Toronto Court.

The police authorities here, following the arrest in Toronto of a Mrs. Gill, a "Baby Farmer," are looking for two local women who under alleged false pretences secured a child from the woman in custody, which led to her arrest after the mother of the baby held a consultation with the Queen city police officials.

According to the police, Mrs. Gill had received a baby to take care of at $5.00 per week from a single girl. For a lengthy period the mother of the child was ill and unable to keep up the payments. Later it is alleged that she called at the home for her child but was told by Mrs. Gill that nothing was known about the ward as it had been given away some weeks prior to her inquiry.

Detective Archibald, in communication with the local police authorities, is investigating the case, but beyond learning that it was taken from the home by two women, said to be residents of this city, who said they were sent by the mother to get the child, nothing is known of the child's whereabouts.

Mrs. Gill will appear in the Toronto Police Court on May 20, to answer four charges. One of these is laid by the mother of the missing child. The charge placed by the mother is to the effect that Mrs. Gill took away her boy with the intent to deprive the mother and guardian of the protection of the child.

The local police are working on the case but are reticent about furnishing information concerning it.

WAR STAMPS PLAN HAS PROVEN FAILURE

Scheme Must Be Modified or Abandoned Soon.

RECEIPTS NOT $2,000,000

Peace Came Too Soon To Make Success Of It.

Ottawa, May 14.—The war savings certificate plan, which was inaugurated by the Government last summer, and which was designed to encourage thrift and bring in money between the larger loans negotiated by the Government, is working, but not working well. Recent reports that the scheme was to be abandoned right off are not justified, but it is only a question of time, seemingly when they will be abandoned or modified. Return to peace conditions has, undoubtedly, wrought a very considerable change.

The issue authorized was $50,000,000, and a very considerable organization was built up to carry out the plan, and a rather extensive advertising campaign in different tongues was inaugurated. Up to date, however, the total receipts are close to but under $2,000,000. The expense therewith attaching is out of proportion to what is coming in.

From the experience it would appear that little "goes" these days without an aggressive campaign to boost it. While the war-saving stamps have been advertised in the press, and in public places, subscription is, essentially, a voluntary matter. There has been little or no systematic canvassing. The advertising has been cut down of late.

Doesn't Replace Loan.

The plan, it is stated, was never designed to replace the war loans, because the maximum amount authorized is only about a seventh of an ordinary war loan, and, when the next one comes in the fall it may be as heavy as those which latterly have preceded it. The national obligations are tremendous, ar money has to be borrowed, but, if suc plans as war savings stamps were r lied on, little result could possibly be a complished. Peace, undoubtedly, put crimp in the plans at the very star and the recovery has never taken plac With less than two millions out of fif millions subscribed the results are n anywhere near what was hoped for.

Works Well in Schools.

The plan has worked well in t schools, where thrift is being encou aged, even though the total receipts ar necessarily, small in the aggregate. A ter building up an organization ther objection to its discontinuance may forthcoming, and some modified pla may be adopted. At present things s drifting along. Some people are "takin their change" in stamps, but it takes lot of stamp sales to amount to muc and it is clear that if ever so intende the plan cannot ever replace the lo system.

If Canada Is to Become More English We Must First Know the English People

The Hamilton Herald and other Canadian ewspapers are discussing the possibility of Canda becoming a republic. A great many people re discussing the future status of this Dominion, nd in many quarters are heard theories of deelopment that involve all the extremes of destiny is possible to conceive in visualizing the growth nd inevitable expansion of this northern half of vast continent.

Little more than eight millions of people, we re faced with the problem of the man who is ndeavoring to conduct a colossal department tore or factory with a staff which can andle only a few of the counters or machines ith which the place is equipped. We are conected by bonds of blood and tradition with the ritish Empire, but between us and the headuarters office of this empire is an ocean which nders one people inaccessible to the other, and hich divides us as though we lived in another orld, when we think of the influence of our proinquity to the United States.

A thousand influences come from the big ation to the south. We are swayed more than e can ever know by these influences. One can llow the average Canadian's course through the ay, and from the time he puts on his shoes in the orning until he has donned his pyjamas at night, most every influence with which he comes in ontact will be in some degree an American influnce. His morning newspaper will contain news hat was specially gathered for the American ublic, except in the case of Canadian local or ational news. His place of business will be conucted on American methods and with American evices. His lunchroom is an American institu on. The new styles of clothes or hats or shirts e sees in the store windows will be American. he magazine he buys will be an American agazine, and when he takes his family to a moon picture show in the evening, he will be shown merican pictures, or pictures made by and for mericans. He will hear of American factories, nd if he does not look out his boy will be itching get to Detroit or Chicago. If his plant is sudenly tied up by a strike, he may find that before he men concerned could use the strike weapon was necessary to secure permission from interational headquarters across the border.

* * * *

One might as well endeavor to sweep back he ocean with a broom as suddenly to counteract hese influences. They have had a large part in haping the Canadian outlook, the unconscious utlook, which is more than all the abstract theries or sudden injections of imperialistic doctrine an achieve. When a Canadian audience comiences to applaud the American flag, it is not beause the members are less British, it is because hey are more conscious of an American influence han any other influence, and no matter how often hey may be told not to do it, they continue to do . They may or may not like British moving picures, but the fact these pictures are British does ot cause the Canadian audience to dislike them. he British picture may not contain the action or he humor or the dramatic appeal they have been rained to accept.

Just now there is a movement toward making anada more British. There will be more propaanda along this line than ever before. It may r may not come from disinterested sources. But efore it gets under way it will be well for its ponsors to realize just what makes the Canadian eople what they are. The Canadian who measres up to the best conceptions of Canadianism is man who believes in his own country. He is orn or becomes by choice a Canadian, and he ishes to be worthy of his country. He may be n ardent Britisher or he may believe our future es along the ways of independence. But in the rst place he is a Canadian. He has been influnced more than he knows, and perhaps more than e likes, by the great nation to the south. In some spects there is an appalling dependence of this ountry upon the United States. We are prone take our ideas ready-made. But that has been matter of evolution, and it is very doubtful that volution of any kind will eradicate the forces hat range from blood relationship to a love of aseball, and which make us more American than ritish in our daily life, if not in our national anings, or for that matter more American than e are Canadian, because the last status is far om capable of clear definition.

* * * *

All the war's mighty influences of contact nd mutual sacrifice have brought us closer to he people of the homeland than to the American eople, however. For that period which brought bout a great exodus from Canadian shores to he shores of England, a large percentage of anada's young men were touched by British inuences. Some of them were affected mightily y these influences. The treatment of the people over there" was the finest kind of hospitality. hey did a great deal for the Canadian boys, and any of their daughters and many of the ns of the Dominion were united in marage. That influence remains, for a time any rate, and the urge of patriotic traditons is warm in the hearts of many. But our aily life is not carried on in terms of patriotism, t in points of contact and in terms of economics. he earning of a living comes first, after that the eking of comfort and entertainment. These are the first influences in life, deny them as we will. The average man will stand fast by his patriotic impulses when a crisis comes, but while the world wags peaceably he is concerned most of all with getting out of life the best, as he sees it. Baseball is our national summer sport, not cricket. That is because a great many people played baseball in the next field and we read of it every day. It is not necessarily more patriotic to play cricket. But it shows how strongly our environment affects us.

* * * *

The daily reading of a nation is perhaps the first great influence. The average Canadian reads twenty columns of news about Americans or news written for Americans for every inch of British news he reads. World news, markets, sports, women's activities, all the thousand chronicles of a nation that is news-hungry and never goes unsatisfied come to us for home consumption. One great American magazine has 100,000 circulation in Canada every week. No Canadian or English magazine equals it. The Ford libel trial will cause more interest in Canada than the greatest domestic sensation short of a sensational murder in the British Isles. We do not know England or the English because, as a nation, we have never read anything that gives us a conception of what England and the English are. As a nation we shy at flunkeyism and the title craze and class distinction, but we are told that England is more democratic than we are. That may be told us repeatedly, but we do not get the material proof in concrete form.

* * * *

The average Canadian journalist who has set himself up as a correspondent in England and has sent dispatches of a hundred words has done less for the cause of empire unity than any other influence. He is accepted by the British people as the man who will give Canadians some real conception of England, and, save in rare instances, he becomes a strutter who basks in the favor of expatriated Canadian title-chasers, and does their bidding for their praising. Take a dispatch printed in a local paper describing the movements of Premier Borden. It is sent out by a journalist who takes the pseudonym "Windermere," and is known coloquially to most Canadian newspapermen as "Merewind." He has the following in his latest enterprising stroke:

[By Windermere.]

Paris, May 12.—I UNDERSTAND Sir Robert Borden has planned to return to Canada on the Aquitania on May 17, Hon. Mr. Doherty remaining in Paris until the signing of the peace treaty, owing to the RENEWED URGING of Lloyd George.

More than ever Britain's premier is relying on the Canadian prime minister for assistance in the solution of difficult problems, of which many still remain unsettled.

It is stated openly in the best-informed circles that he could have any honor possible for the British Parliament to give.

Other Canadian ministers are also receiving great praise.

What self-respecting Canadian wants to be handed that kind of "slush," and what self-respecting newspaper, Liberal or Conservative, wants to print it? In the first place it is a very thin-soupy kind of propaganda for the official "clawss" represented by Borden and Doherty, and it is fullsome in its affectation of the extreme pain of Lloyd George at the prospect of losing these two stars in the galaxy of empire. If there is news in such a dispatch it could be sent to the Canadian people without the frills of conscious vanity that stand out from every paragraph. Who cares what dear "Windermere" understands? and who is pleased with his parade of the capital "I" when cables are crowded and tolls are high? That sort of personal journalism in which the correspondent inferentially gives a picture of his heavy stupidity and butler-ish concern for the titled and would-be-titled is quite as obnoxious to the average Canadian reader as anything can be. There must be distance between the two countries; nature has decreed it. But there need be no stretching of that distance by a journalist who might better be down at the English docks writing the heart-interest stories of the departure of Canadian troops and giving the Canadian people some conception of how heartily the English wished those boys godspeed. If the Canadian people are to become more English, the English must be known to Canadians through Canadian eyes. We may come to know our close kin as closer friends if we can be told what kind of human beings they are, rather than to be told what jackasses may be made of Canadian statesmen by journalistic lackeys who believe that it is a fine thing to show how beautifully patronized is the Canadian in the old country. There must first of all be some medium of acquaintance before judgment may be passed. A man may wish to like another man who lives many miles away from him. He may simulate a warm regard, but he knows more about his neighbor just next door, and it is difficult for him to warm up, or for the other fellow to warm up to him, while a misconception one of the other exists and is fostered by those who carry snobbish gossip rather than the news of a virile England to the newspapers of Canada.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

We shall have to come down to earth ourselves before we can put our railways into the air.

It may not be time to take 'em off, but the day for the ladies to get out their furs is fast approaching.

Thus far neither side of the daylight saving issue has given way. The council should be ready to decide the matter with a vote.

Hindenburg has "finished his work." Yet we cannot picture him retiring to a garden; a slaughterhouse would be his quiet haven.

Canada needs all its red blood in the veins of its men and women rather than sprinkling the ground because of the sinister propaganda of violence.

The fact that the strike at Windsor came so mildly to a climax demonstrates again that Bolshevism is hopeless in striving to stir up revolution in a sane country.

Spiritualism making great headway, according to old country news. Clergy defend "orthodox Christianity" against the "new" cult (by the way it's far from new, is in fact a very old and often exploded fake, but like weather signs, Baconian theory of Shakespeare, medical quackery and cats, has nine lives). Really it is orthodox rationalism, or orthodox heterodoxy, so to speak, that has a genuine quarrel with spiritualism, as with all other forms of unreason in which the short-sighted and selfish wish is father to the thought or what passes for thought.

THE LAST SHALL BE BEST.

By A. W. Peach.

Norman Milroy, on entering the room, found his friend seated before the grate of the fireplace into which he was slowly feeding bits of torn paper. His whole attitude was that of a man performing a solemn rite, and doing it sadly, albeit with some degree of distaste.

"Hello, Carey, why the air of grief?" was Milroy's greeting.

Carey looked up with his quick glance, and Milroy's curiosity was further increased by the mingled light of regret and anger in his friend's eyes.

Carey continued to shuffle the torn bits of paper into the fire which licked up the fragments. Another glance told Milroy that Carey was burning letters—letters written in a small, feminine handwriting, and one that he himself recognized with a start as that of the girl whom they had both met that summer. She had seemed to favor Carey, and Milroy had retired as gracefully as he could after he discovered that her dark eyes had for him no light that is the most wonderful of all on earth.

Shocked into seriousness by what he had discovered, he said hesitatingly, "But those bits look like the remnants of letters. Something wrong?"

Carey said nothing for a moment, then muttered sharply: "That's what they are—letters. I'm making a bonfire of the letters Mildred wrote me—and that's just what they are good for."

Milroy's heart jumped. If something had come between his friend and the girl both loved, there might be a chance for him, for next to Carey, Milroy knew, she had seemed very friendly to him.

"What is the trouble, old chap, something that can be straightened out?" Milroy asked.

Carey shook his head with a growl. Knowing the ways of his good-hearted but quick-tempered friend, Milroy said nothing but waited.

A moment later the crouching figure handed up a small letter, and Milroy took it. He recognized the fine handwriting, the girlishly formed letters, and the memory of them as he had seen them in brief notes to him came back with a rush with memories of her.

He went to the window and opened the letter. The chill of the first line struck him fast. Instead of the loving term which a loved one might be expected to use, there was the gaunt, cold, formal—"My dear Mr. Myron." From that cool greeting, hardly one that a girl would send to her lover, Milroy's eyes ran on to the body of the letter. It began: "I feel that it is time that you and I came to an understanding," and it went on to state in cold terms her idea of his behavior. Undoubtedly it was a letter that severed the relations between them.

Rising from before the grate, Carey looked at him with mournful eyes. "There's the end of a summer's dream; and why it should be I don't know. My confounded hot temper made me write things a while ago that I did not mean. She failed to keep an engegement with me—went off with an old beau and left me in the lurch. I wrote a bit hotly about it. I'm done—and I suppose it is your chance. I know how she regards you."

Milroy stopped his reading. "If you have lost interest in her——"

"Lost interest in her?" Carey said sharply. "Man, I love her more than I ever did; but no man with any sense of honor can belittle himself by getting down on his knees after getting a note of that kind."

Milroy started to say, "If a man loves a girl enough, he will get on his knees—or even do more than that," but knowing his friend he said nothing.

Throwing the letter into the fire—with the rest of 'em—that's where it belongs," said Carey shortly. "I'll be sorry for the whole affair before it is over, but that's the way I feel now."

Milroy started to hand the fateful letter to Carey, who took it in his hand and then paused.

He looked at him with musing eyes. "I have always thought you were the chap for her. I know you have been out of touch with her since our engagement. You might as well start in where I left off. Take the letter along; her new address is on it, and you can write her. I am done. I'm going to get out for a month's hunting trip in Maine, and when I come back, you can let me give you a dinner. I'm done with all this business—a man in love is like an animal off his feed. And I have been off my feed and my trolley ever since last June."

Milroy tucked the letter into his coat, at the same time making an attempt to cheer up his gloomy friend, yet knowing that the golden opportunity lay before him.

From the apartment he hurried out, after vainly endeavoring to let a little sunshine into his friend's mood. The small envelope in his pocket with the precious address seemed to be warm and comforting with hope.

He could not resist the temptation to draw it out, and as he walked he turned to it again. Again the cold, formal greeting came into view; and once more, he read on, reading the cold lines that had led Carey to make a sacrifice of his cherished love letters and to decide to hurry to his Maine camp long before the best season was at hand.

Then Milroy stopped short as he turned a page. There was a sudden break, a space of white, and the letter began again: "My dear—You see how really cold-hearted I can be if I want to, don't you? And I guess the preceding part of my letter has given you a good scare. Really, if I did not know how fine-hearted you are, I could not forgive but——"

Milroy went cold. The mistake was plain; the little joyous game she had been playing was evident. She had written the first part of the letter in that cold mood as a little lesson for Carey; he had tried no further, but in his quick, impulsive way had reasoned that their love dreams were over. If he had read on, he would have found all the tenderness a charitable girl-heart, deeply in love, can have for the one beloved.

Milroy stood breathless as the thought came to him; I can keep this letter, and Carey and she need never know. The next moment he cursed himself for the thought, turned, and to the wonder of the passers by, hurried at a rapid pace down the street.

He entered Carey's apartment, to find him morosely packing his bags. Carey looked up wonderingly, and Milroy held out the letter.

In the familiar if impolite language of long friendship, he said shortly, "You blundering idiot, when you get a love letter, why don't you read all of it? Now take that letter and—read it!"

And Milroy sat down to enjoy the spectacle.

CRUEL EBERT.

[Punch.]

"No one," says the German Chancellor, "can deprive the German people of their brains."

We know; but Ebert need not have rubbed it into them like that.

ON THE WRONG TRACK.

[Charleston News and Courier.]

These chaps who say they hope the Germans won't get peeved over the peace terms are on the wrong track. The terms haven't been drawn up with a view to pleasing the Germans.

BOMBED WITH GREENBACKS.

[Toronto Globe.]

The minister of militia says that Canada's premier ace is making $30,000 a month lecturing in the United States. Col. Bishop deserves all the favors that fortune can bestow on him, and it is creditable to the American people that they flock to see and hear a Canadian hero.

HOW SAVAGE A PAPER.

[Ottawa Journal.]

The Government measure metaphorlically tars and feathers a set of fellows whose outstanding characteristic is cowardice and treachery and Canadians generally will enjoy sitting in at the job. A summary of the measure, with the reasons for its passage by Parliament, ought to be incorporated in the school readers.

QUEER.

[Toronto Star.]

Men who hold different views as to the relations of capital and labor, and whose interests also are divergent, are agreed as to the advantages of consultation and co-operation. It is difficult to reconcile this idea with the refusal to recognize unions, and yet there are employers who still cling to the notion that they will negotiate only with their own employees.

THE PEACEMAKERS.

[Kansas City Star.]

It remains true, as John Fiske wrote years ago:

"The permanent peace of the world can be secured only through the gradual concentration of preponderant military strength in the hands of the most pacific nations."

So far as the peace of the world is guaranteed, it is guaranteed by the armed strength of Britain, France and the United States.

THIS NEEDS ANSWERING.

[Guelph Mecury.]

For a Government that is always talking of protecting the home markets one might ask with propriety why it is that thousands of Stetson hats are to be purchased by the Dominion Government for the Posties for summer wear, when there are hat factories in the Dominion, and even in Guelph, that can furnish as good articles as the Yankees make. It's difficult not to recall the "truck and trade" hypocrisy when the foreign manufacturer seems to have the preference every day.

RETRIBUTION.

[Philadelphia Record.]

Inasmuch as Austria in her reduced form will have no access to the Adriatic sea, Italy and Jugo-Slavia blocking the way, there is no particular hardship in requiring her to surrender her entire navy, such as it is. The Italians and Allies sadly reduced its size during the war. Thus Austria will be put in the same position, without an opening to salt water, in which she insisted on keeping Serbia. That was one of the causes that led to the war. Now Servia is to get a port, and Austria to be bottled up. A more striking case of retributive justice has rarely been seen in history.

THAT SESSIONAL BOOST.

[Brussels Post.]

Do you think $2,500 is good enough sessional indemnity for the average M. P. who goes to Ottawa, or should they be granted another $1,000 plus railroad passes, etc.? If they did not kill time by short daily sessions; if they economized time by cutting out long, dry speeches, listened to by perhaps less than a score of brother members; if scores of the M. P.'s did not cut home for the week-end and get back by the middle of the week there might be some reason for the raise, but under existing circumstances we think they get more than they are worth, and the Senate is in the same box only more so. Any man who is not satisfied need not stop there, he can resign any day and terminate the starvation business.

THE GERMAN MIND.

[New York Evening Sun.]

Even while they complain of the severity of the peace terms imposed on their country by the Allies, the German spokesmen go on provoking severity. The speech made by Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau at the Versailles meeting showed tactlessness of an almost incredible virulence. Worse still, it showed an obstinate egoism, of which tactlessness was but the natural expression.

The assured statement of German grievances, the famous attribution of criminal responsibility to the Allies, the juggling with historic fact, the minimization of barbarism as to the inevitable result of war, all showed that Germany is the same old monster as ever, unawakened, unregenerate and unrepentant. There was practically nothing in the speech to encourage trust or to invite leniency.

So long as Germany stands by her wicked past, she threatens the world with an equally outrageous future. So long as such a future impends, only one thing is possible—iron repression; unless the peoples are willing to be deluged again with blood and tears.

How Can I Save--- With Profit?

Many wage-earners are asking themselves this question.

They do not want to put a quarter in the bank at a time, and before they know it, it is gone for trifles.

The Government has provided a simple plan to enable you to save that quarter in such a way that it will earn you more money.

Twenty-five cents buys a Thrift Stamp. Sixteen Thrift Stamps become a War Savings Stamp, for which the Government will pay you $5.00 in 1924.

If you lend the Government your savings in this way, you can make your money earn over 4½% compound interest as often as you save $4.00 odd. That is more than Savings Banks pay you.

In May W-S.S. Cost $4.04

In June W-S.S. Cost $4.05

This is not only easy and profitable investment, but patriotic investment, because the Government needs money for the heavy financing of the reconstruction period.

DADDY IS HOME AGAIN

The Trials and Tribulations of a Soldier's Household in the Process of Being Demobbed.

Wives of soldiers expected many trials, but the trial that they did not expect was that of a demobilized husband. I mean they did not expect that he would be a trial. We had been married a good many years, and had a family, when war was a year old and my man went into the army. He is home now, demobilized. He is glad. I am glad. The children are glad. But the settling down process has been rather unsettling for all of us.

My man has thoroughly enjoyed his army career, and has had an enthralling, interesting time, especially during these last two years, spent in France, where he was member of a mess. All his messmates were the best of good fellows. He had a devoted batman. His billet was generally comfortable, the mess cook a wonder, and his work exciting. The first two weeks of his return home were spent as we spent all his none-to-frequent leaves—very joyously. But "leave" is not everyday life. "Leave" is a thing apart and full of happy and precious memories. A demobbed household has to get back to everyday affairs.

Knows Nothing of Rations.

What does a man on fortteen days leave, twice a year, know of rations and coupons? Nothing. Everybody sets out to give him a good time and to share their all with him. When he is home for good he is soon taught that one ounce of butter goes a very short way and that margarine is a thing one gets used to when one tries very hard.

Our Daddy had his first ration lesson one tea-time, when the youngest of the family cried out in horror. "Look at the 'normous spoonful of jam daddy is taking! mummy, do tell him he must spread it very thinly." Visions of the unlimited supply of army jam rose before Daddy, and he felt restless.

Children Don't Obey.

The children don't obey his word of command as readily as his man did. They are badly disciplined, he says, and I am sure they are. Also they are three and half years older than when Daddy left for the war. They have only known one authority during that time, and it has been an easier-going one than the one created by the army. It is hard on Daddy when he arranges an outing on the children's half holidays to find all the young people have already made their arrangements—one to play in a hockey match, another a game of basketball, another is going to tea with a school friend. Moreover, they don't much like these outings with Daddy. They bear too close a resemblance to a route march; the disciplinee is very military, and they are very tiring. At first they were too polite to say so, but it wasn't long before they made him understand that though they loved him very much they had their own lives to live and their own games to play. And that it was as well to begin as they meant to go on, and "they just hated these long walks terribly."

Daddy Some Use.

But Daddy comes to his own when homework is being done for next school day. They are all eager for his company then. The most difficult sums are made easy with Daddy explaining them. Euclid and geometry are rendered simple. French becomes an interesting lesson with Daddy's help. They have discovered a use for Daddy and all is well.

When the "leave" period of the demobbed state was on, we were all eager to take the place of the devoted batman, who has vanished with Daddy's nice uniform. We regret that uniform; we were proud of the three "pips" on it. We thought it looked fine. We all helped him to find things as he dressed; we fetched and carried for him. Now we avoid his room at the dressing hour. We have to be cruel to be kind. Everyday life is too short to act the part of batman—every day.

Not Like Cheery Mess.

I know our evening meal compares sadly with that cheery mess dinner "over there," and besides, whiskey is difficult to get. We sit over the fire of talking; we play a quiet game; we have some music; he looks absent, and gets very restless. He misses the best thing the army gave him—his friends and those comrades with whom he associated daily, in work, in anxiety in play, and who have become very dear to him in these days of war.

Why doesn't he open out about the disappointment Blighty and demobilization are being to him? For they are a disappointment. He finds his native place not the same place it was to him before the war. He thinks we folks in it are all tired and lifeless—and yet he dislikes intensely the energy we sum up when we want to board an already overcrowded 'bus, and is equally annoyed with the patience we show as we wait quietly in queues for railway tickets and things we want.

Business Extends No Welcome.

His return to business life is another grievance; he had a forlorn hope that because he had been away so long and done his bit that somebody there might be glad to see him back again. If there was a welcome, he did not see it or feel it. He was merely a competitor coming in among them to get his share of any business going, and was treated accordingly. The close atmosphere in the city stifled him, his starched shirt and collar worried him, and his civilian boots pinched him. His coupon lunch only made him hungrier, and the quality of the beer made him angry.

I only hope he does not know that we too are suffering. A man in the house does upset one's arrangements. We have got into the free-and-easy ways inevitable in a home run on the "no man to consider" lines. We had almost forgotten the difference a man's presence makes in the work of a household. Meals must be punctual and more thought given them. More thought means more shopping—and shopping seems to be more tiresome and difficult and to take up more time than ever.

No Time for "War Works."

One by one I have dropped the "war works" I had taken up to fill in the dreary days of war; there is no leisure for them now, and they were only meant to fill in time till my man came back; but they were interesting and entertaining, and, compared with the increased round of household duties, should not have been called "works." On looking back I find that they had become pleasures. But now they are things of the past, like our "spare room."

It's hardly fair to call it that. Before the war it was known as Daddy's room," and in it he had all his belongings—no one else ever kept anything in it. It was sacred to his clothes, books, cricket bats, and golf clubs, and we didn't intend to take advantage of his absence and turn it into a general storeroom, but we did. My sewing machine went in one day; the process might help your dress?; laundry basket and the boys' scooter found a home there; one by one the drawers were filled with the girls' party frocks and the boys' best suits. The best table linen took up its abode on one of the shelves of the wardrobe. Everything we couldn't find a place for went into Daddy's room—and we miss that room; we seem very tightly packed without it.

Hadn't Been Asked For.

I also miss the financial freedom the monthly check from Cox & Co. and other army allowances gave me; it wasn't a millionaire's income, but it hadn't been asked for—it came. The husband is once again banker for the household, and has to be reminded how and then that it takes a lot of money to keep a family going these days, and I am not sure that I enjoy this return to the "pre-war" order of things. But we are glad he is demobbed.—Manchester Guardian.

WOMEN OF LONDON PROTEST AGAINST A DEEP "V" IN DRESS

Declare That It Is Not Only Immodest, But Very Ugly.

All London society is agitated by the latest fashion which decrees that women's backs shall be bare. It is not merely a little "V" shaped exhibition of milady's back but a wide expanse. A chorus of disapproval of this fashion is heard from prominent society women. Says the Viscountess Churchill:

"I do not think that any lady will adopt this fashion. I go to dances often with my daughters, but I have never seen one of these fashionable backs. One seldom sees an arm or back good enough to be exposed in public. If it were perfect one would look at them as one regards a statue."

Another Fashion Called "Ugly."

"I dislike the fashions for two reasons: First, because it gives too much display to the public gaze; second, because on most women the fashion is ugly—they are not beautiful enough to adopt it."

Lady Byron, dame of the Order of the British Empire, says that evidently the reason why women favor the ultra-decollete is that they probably think it makes them more attractive in the eyes of men.

"My experience," says Lady Byron, "is that even the gayest Lothario prefers a woman who makes at least some pretence at modesty."

Lady DeRamsey thinks that the bare-back style is "an atrocious fashion," and confesses that she has seen it in the ballroom, but believes that no nice women will adopt it.

Soldiers Don't Like It.

The most pointed observation comes from Lady Price, who says "it is more than sad that women should allow their young girls to make a mock of their womanhood in the manner this fashion entails.

"That it is to please the men is a fallacy," said she. "I have heard many young men, especially those who have been fighting in the trenches overseas, say they have no idea where to place their hands 'when dancing' as they can touch nothing but bare flesh. Many say that they will give up dancing entirely as a consequence."

Daily Bible Question Club

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS ON THE UNIFORM LESSON FOR SUNDAY, MAY 18, 1919.

ONE GOLDEN TEXT SUGGESTION.

By Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D.

The Grace of God.—Genesis, vi., 8. Exodus, xxxiv., 6-7. II. Corinthians, xii., 9. Ephesians, ii., 4-10. Titus, ii., 11-14.

QUESTIONS FOR TODAY.

11.—II. Corinthians, xii., 9.—Why is it that trouble is made a great blessing to us when our lives are under the controlling influence of God's grace? (See Romans v., 3-5). This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by the members of the club.

12.—Ephesians ii., 4. Why would it or not, be fair and truthful to say that God dispenses mercy with all the prodigality with which he dispenses sunshine?

13.—What is your definition of the phrase "God who is rich in mercy?"

Golden Text: We shall be saved through the grace of the Lord Jesus.—Acts xv., 11.

JESUS WAS GOD MANIFEST IN THE FLESH.

Through the wonderful grace and love of God, Jesus came to the world. God dwelt in Jesus, so that God was manifest in Christ's body. God did not demand of the Jews that they should believe that Jesus was God without giving them ample proof that such was the case. He spake as man never spake, and for three years did things in their midst that no person but God could do. On one occasion, when they were resisting him, he said: "Believe me . . . or else believe me for the very work's sake." They said that "He spake as never man spake"; they exclaimed "What manner of man is this that even the winds and the seas obey him?" but nevertheless they rejected him because he condemned their sins. They thus rejected God.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

Who'll Advise Lue.

Dear Miss Grey,—Could any of your Mail-Box readers (or maybe you) tell me what could be done with a piano that seems to be rusted from the frost? It seems that the frost drew all the substance out of the wood. I don't want to put varnish on. LUE.

Ans.—If the piano were mine, Lue, I'd not risk a treatment at home, but consult a piano man about the best method of renovation. It will probably be necessary to remove the present coat with sandpaper and give the wood an entirely new decorating of ground color, stain and varnish.

Wants to Correspond.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am writing to your page to see if I can get a correspondent. I am 16 years old, and would like to correspond with some girl of my age. I will leave my address with Miss Grey. I am,

ORANGE BLOSSOM.

She Will Exchange.

Dear Miss Grey,—I saw where "Bruce Farmerette" wishes to exchange recitations, and I am therefore forwarding a few, and should be glad to receive some in return.

Thanking you, Miss Grey, I am, very sincerely, BLUE BIRD OF SPRING.

Ans.—Your inclosures were forwarded to Bruce Farmerette and no doubt you will hear direct from her in reply.

Those Bothersome Cards.

"June"—In calling on you for the first time, a married woman should leave, one of her cards for you, one for your mother, and one of her husband's cards also for each of you. In returning the call you simply leave one of your own and one of your mother's cards. That is the rule for you to remember—you are your mother's proxy in returning calls, and should leave her card as well as your own, for each woman in the family called on. That is, if calling on mother and grown-up daughter, leave two cards apiece or four in all; or the same applies if you are visiting two sisters, and so on, but never leave cards for the gentlemen of the family, even though their wives have left their husband's cards for you.

2. Tea, banana and lettuce sandwiches, lemon tartlets, iced gingerbread. Or, tea, nut bread daintily sliced, home-made jam cookies, devil's cake.

Tea Stains On Silk.

Dear Miss Grey,—What is the meaning of Laura, Kathleen, Douglas and Russell?

I would like to know how to take tea stains out of a silk waist.

And how old should a girl be before doing up her hair?

Hoping to hear from you soon.

SCOTTY.

Ans. 1.—Laura signifies one crowned with laurel, Kathleen means pure. I do not know the meaning of the other names. Ans. 2.—You do not say if it is a white silk or not. Probably the only way is to stretch the stained part over a bowl and pour clear, warm water through. Dissolve some tartaric acid (say half a teaspoonful to a pint of water) in the water if the silk is white. Ans. 3.—A girl generally "does up" her hair between the ages of eighteen and twenty.

"Santa's" At It, Too.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am in the thick of housecleaning, so shall have to state my business right now, then say goodby. Miss Grey, please reprint that formula for cleaning wall paper. I also would like to get two songs: "Won't You Waltz Home Sweet Home With Me?" and "You'll Have To Wait Till My Ship Comes In." Yours, as before,

SANTA CLAUS.

Ans.—Well, just fancy, folks, "Santa's" at it, too! No doubt he beats the rugs and shakes the feathery cloud beds for "Mrs. Claus," then like the rest of the dear men, fancies he does it all!

Anyway, "Santa," here's the formula, so trot the reindeer back home and "pitch in" again:

Wall Paper Cleaner—Six tablespoons salt, six tablespoons flour, three tablespoons coal oil, enough water to make it the consistency of layer-cake batter; put on stove and cook until like paste; roll into balls and rub on soiled wall paper.

O-Cedar Polish

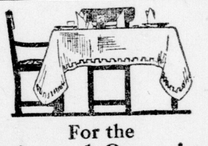

Keeps new furniture looking "new"

THAT first finish which so delights you when a fine new piece of furniture is installed in your home—would you retain it?

You can—easily—by the simple O-Cedar treatment. A few drops of O-Cedar Polish on a cloth dampened with water, forms a soft soapy lather which cleans, polishes and beautifies—bringing out the blended beauty of the grain. After polishing with a dry cloth, rub your dry hand across the wood, and note how dry the surface is. That is the O-Cedar result—a hard lustre that will neither become gummy or sticky, nor collect the dust.

What O-Cedar Polish does for furniture; O-Cedar Polish Mop accomplishes on floors. The Polish 25c. to $3.00 sizes. The Mop, round or triangle, $1.50. Both at any Grocery or Hardware Shop.

LONDON TECUMSEHS WIN FROM KITCHENER NINE

London Tecumsehs won from the Kitchener Beavers by the score of 7 to 6 in an exhibition game played at Tecumseh Park yesterday afternoon. A fair crowd turned out to see the game and the day was ideal for a ball game. Manager Beatty has collected a number of real baseball players to represent Kitchener in the Michigan-Ontario League, and the visitors came close to tieing the score in the last inning. Andy Kyle, who formerly played for the London team in the Canadian League, was in centre field for Kitchener.

The London infield worked well, Third Baseman Corcoran making his first appearance with the Tecumsehs in a game. Jack Vermilly did some nice work at shortstop and "Rabbit" Reid covered second. Gadsby was back in the line-up again, but is still suffering from injuries received last week. Kelly was in centre field and Bob Clark in right.

George pitched for the Beavers and Leishman was on the mound for the Colts.

The two teams are pretty evenly matched and should have some real battles when they meet in league games.

London Scores First.

London started off strong in the first frame, scoring two runs. Reid walked, George being a little wild at first. Kelly bunted and was out at first. Donnelly hit a fly to left field. Corcoran hit to Wade, who muffed the ball, and was safe at first. Vermilly struggled to right field, scoring Reid and Corcoran. Summerhayes flew out to left field.

For the first three innings the Kitchener players went out in a row. In the fourth inning the visitors scored two runs, tieing the score. Kyle walked. He was the first Kitchener player to reach first base. Nicholson was out, pitcher to first base. Beatty made a big hit to left field, which was good for two bases, and Kyle scored. Wade hammered out a hard drive to centre field. Kelly misjudged the ball and it was good for a three-base hit. Beatty scored on the hit. Brand struck out. Argus hit to Corcoran and was thrown out.

One for London.

In the last half of the fourth London scored another run, breaking the ice. Vermilly singled to third base. Summerhayes made a sacrifice hit. Gadsby struck out. Vermilly stole to third. Clark hit to Scanlon, who made an error. Vermilly scored and Clark was safe at first base. Reid flew out to left field.

Kitchener scored again in the fifth inning. Bird hit a fly to Gadsby. Scanlon walked. George singled to right field, scoring Scanlon. Kyle was out, Leishman to Donnelly. Nicholson hit to pitcher and was out at first.

London rallied in the sixth inning and run up four runs. Summerhayes went to left field. Gadsby hit a foul fly to Argus and was out. Clark singled to right field. Leishman hit a fly to second base. Reid walked, filling the bases. Kelly hit to left field, scoring Summerhayes and Clark. Donnelly made a long drive to right field, which was good for three bases, scoring Reid and Kelly. Corcoran fanned.

In the ninth inning the Beaver scored three runs. Wade hit to Clark, which was good for a single. Brand struck out. Argus walked. Bird singled to centre field, scoring Wade. Bird stole second. Scanlon fanned. Harrison went in as a pinch-hitter and made a drive to left field, scoring Argus and Bird. Kyle hit a liner to the infield, which Vermilly caught, ending the game.

PREPARATIONS ARE BEING MADE FOR BIG ST. THOMAS SHOOT

ST. THOMAS, May 14.—Great preparations are under way for the big event of the season, the St. Thomas Gun Club tournament, which will be held here at Pinafore Park during the first week in June. Followers of this famous sport, which has rightly been termed "the sport alluring," will be on hand from every nook and hamlet on the American Continent. Inquiries are being received daily by W. J. McCance, the secretary of the local club, and everything points to this year's event being the biggest ever held.

The grounds being so near to the city and within reach of a city street car, will make the event more enticing to local followers who, even though they do not handle a gun, enjoy watching some of the experts who attend. Nothing but the most modern traps and clay birds will be used, and the usual ammunition companies will be represented with a good supply of shells right on the grounds. Nothing more is necessary to make the event a huge success but the good graces of the weatherman. If present conditions continue and Jupiter Pluvius makes his appearance the affair will be one that will be long remembered by those who attend.

WOODWORTH ROVERS DEFEATED M. C. R.

ST. THOMAS, May 14.—The Woodworth Rovers defeated the M. C. R. football team last night in a spirited match at the armory grounds here by a close score of 5 to 1. The score, however, was no indication of the nature of the game, for the M. C. R. put up a genuine fight for the honors of the first match. It was through a few errors on the part of the railwaymen that the Rovers were able to score their goals. Two players were hurt in the first half and while both were back in the game before the second half was over the match was injured by the accident.

The first Western Football Association match will be played here on the 24th, and, contrary to the schedule published today, Stratford will meet the M. C. R. team in this city on that date.

The lineups in last night's match:

Rovers—Goal, F. Millard; backs, A. Allman, H. Latham; halfbacks, E. Paul, A. Paul; forwards, W. Paul, W. Farr, J. Robinson, F. Pell, J. Merchant; spares, P. H. Whiting and W. Dyson.

Among the best known players are George Hiller, Georges Hainesworth, Allan Shirk and Isaac Master of hockey fame. The battery for the opening game will likely be Shirk and Zeagler.

TORONTO LEAFS WIN IN TENTH FROM NEWARK

TORONTO, May 14.—Last minute victories were registered in all three games of the series with Newark, which finished today, the Leafs winning today's game by a score of 7 to 6 in the tenth inning, after a great finish. The game started with two southpaws on the mound, Heck for Toronto, and Jensen for Newark, but Heck gave way to Justin in the sixth inning with the score 5 to 0 against him, and Rommell took Jensen's place in the eighth with the score 6 to 2, and the bases full. The Leafs tied it up in the ninth when McGinnis pinch-hitting for Justin, drove in Sandberg and a sacrifice by brought McGinnis home with the tieing run.

Peterson took up the heaving for Toronto, but Rommell faded in the last half of the tenth, Sandberg singling over third with two runners out, bringing Purtell home with the winning run.

London To Open Season at Battle Creek Today

The Michigan-Ontario Baseball League will open in the four American cities this afternoon. London is playing at Battle Creek, Hamilton at Flint, Kitchener at Bay City and Brantford at Saginaw.

Manager Keenan and his crew of players left last night on the 10:05 C. P. R. for Battle Creek. The Kitchener Beavers, who played an exhibition game here yesterday, also departed for Michigan last night.

Special ceremonies have been arranged in all the cities. President Joe S. Jackson will be present at the Battle Creek game and see the London Tecumsehs clash with Manager Jenkin's team.

Ben Gilbert will be used to pitch the first game for the Forest City team and Tree will catch. The lineup will be practically the same as used yesterday against Kitchener. Bob Donnelly, who has been showing up well in the practice games will be on first base. Reid will occupy second. Corcoran will take his place at third and Jack Vermilly will cover shortstop.

"Jo-Jo" Keenan is anxious to have his team win the first game, and the Canadians are expected to give the Yankees a real battle.

London will play in Battle Creek today and tomorrow, and will then journey to Flint, where they will play Saturday and Sunday.

The season will be open in this city next Monday with Bay City playing for the first three days and Saginaw for the next three.

SIR BARTON WINS THE PREAKNESS AT PIMLICO TRACK

BALTIMORE, Md., May 14. — Sir Barton, carrying the colors of Commander J. K. L. Ross of Montreal, won the Preakness at Pimlico today, and incidentally brought his owner $24,500. He led all the way, and he won from a field of the fastest 3-year-olds produced by America and Europe, duplicating his victory in the recent Kentucky Derby.

Sir Barton ran circles around such horses today as Eternal and Dunboyne. The feature of the race was the comeback of Eternal, who trailed Sir Barton relentlessly through the race. Sween On came behind him, and King Plaudit got fourth money. The time was not remarkably fast, it being two seconds more than the track record, but had the distance been extended Sir Barton probably could have increased his lead of four lengths over Eternal to that many more.

Johnny Loftus rode the winner.

What the Dealer Means to You

THE shoe dealer does more for you than you perhaps realize. He not only carries a variety of styles and sizes for your convenience, right in your town, but he renders you a service which no one else can render in the correct fitting of your foot.

This is very important, not only for the sake of comfort, but also because the appearance and the life of your shoes depend upon correctness of fit. No matter what price you may pay for a shoe, it cannot give you its full service if it does not fit your foot.

And more than that: ill-fitting shoes often cause foot troubles, even though they may feel perfectly comfortable at first. Correct fitting shoes are essential, even if it means extra time and effort for you to get them.

So you should go to a dealer in whom you have confidence, let him advise you as to the type of shoe which is suited to your foot, and give him time to fit you correctly. You will get better service from your shoes if you will do this, and they will look better.

Write for our booklet "How to Buy Shoes" which gives more information on this important subject. It is sent gladly to any address in Canada upon request to our head office at Montreal.

VETERANS DENOUNCE BOLSHEVIK AGENTS

WINDSOR, Ont., May 14.—"We must mobilize our strength as an association that we may combat with all our power those unorganized masses of people which are trying to organize their strength to destroy all existing institutions. There is no place for Bolshevism within the confines of this land, and we call upon the Government to rid the land at once of any and all who agitate such a program," was the assertion of President C. E. Jeakins, at the opening session of the G. W. V. A. convention in Windsor today.

KEEPING THEM GASSED

(By H. F. GADSBY.)

F. H. Gadsby.

Sir Edward Kemp is speeding across the ocean to tell Parliament all he knows about Argyle House and one hundred and nineteen million dollars, "vouchers for which," as the auditor-general's report states, "have not been received."

Sir Edward will create a welcome diversion, for the Government has about run out of subjects to stave off that dread spectre which is at the back of everybody's mind—to wit, the tariff. Sir Edward will tell about the audit of Argyle House accounts which has been going on for the last year—an audit which the late auditor-general, Mr. Fraser, confessed bewildered him, but an audit of sorts and something at least for Sir Edward to hang a story on.

With reasonable success Sir Edward ought to be able to use a week or two explaining the Canadian overseas military administration. The general line of defence will probably be that things cost a lot of money because they had to be done in a hurry; but when that tale has been told over and over again, what next? There is still a big gap between the order paper and Premier Borden's return with the five cents on the dollar which is to becloud every other issue. Sir Robert and his distinguished but inferior associates (as Foxy Quiller would say) will no doubt stay to the bitter end for the great privilege which has been accorded us of signing on the dotted line. As the Germans are not expected to make up their minds to eat the leek until the end of May, it follows that Premier Borden and his little band will not sail for home before that time, if they are to justify their long visit to Paris. In other words, they will look like damphools if they are not in at the finish.

The robins' return, as I guess it, is about the 10th of June: and that means mid-July before Parliament breaks up. The only way to end it sooner is to jettison a number of bills which are doing good service just now in the way of using up time that might be dangerously employed in discussing the tariff. The railroad bill has been a serviceable time-killer; so has the bankruptcy bill, and so can Mr. Nickle's divorce bill be, if it is strung out judiciously.

Mr. Nickle's divorce bill, by the way, is an artful time-waster. Nobody has any idea that it will go through, because it carries the germs of defeat on the face of it. No divorce bill which essays to force divorce courts on Quebec has a chance of success in the Canadian Parliament. The influences against it are too strong. But a divorce bill which should ask for divorce courts for Ontario would have a fair chance of success; and what has always puzzled me is why the divorce reformers have never tackled the matter along that line. Let Quebec act according to the dictates of her conscience, and let Ontario do likewise, and if she wants divorce courts let her have them on her own merits. It never seems to have occurred either to Mr. Nickle or to Mr. Northrup, who was his predecessor on this burning question, that a bill to place Ontario on the same footing with regard to divorce as British Columbia or New Brunswick or Nova Scotia, would enlist the support of the House, whereas a bill to impose it on Quebec also would meet with strenuous opposition. The conclusion is inevitable that Mr. Nickle's bill is a time-waster, a straw man put up to be knocked down after it has served its purpose of delaying the day of wrath—namely, the tariff debate.

It's a long time till the end of May, and I really don't know what the House is going to do when the order paper is cleared. Knighthood has been a good procrastinator, so has the Novitiate at Guelph and the railway bill, and several others that I could mention; but an end comes to all things. Some day or other Parliament must get round to the tariff. Meanwhile all eyes strain eastward to Premier Borden. "Sister Anne, Sister Anne, is there anybody coming?" There is somebody coming, of course, sometime, but not yet.

When the House runs out of airy irrelevances to talk about, I would suggest a series of academic topics such as: "Resolved, that Sir Sam Hughes is a greater general than Napoleon Bonaparte"; "Why is Mr. Rowell, and, if so, how?" and others which will readily occur to the ingenious minds that frame the daily menu for the House of Commons.

The one thing that must be avoided is a head-on collision with the tariff before Premier Borden gets back with the trophies of his diplomacy—if any. If he has trophies so much the better—if he hasn't then so much the worse for the tariff. Moderate philosophers—and there are some in Parliament—say that the tariff is the victim of two groups of extremists; one group that would keep it as high as the Tower of Babel, the other group that would leave only a furrow in the ground where the tariff wall was before—in other words, the Eastern manufacturers and the Western farmers. Our moderate friends are inclined to say "A curse on both your houses!" and look for the middle course which is to reduce the tariff, and somehow or other, by a toll on his capital investment, make the farmer, in return for freer markets, pay a greater part of the national taxes than he has done in the past.

This is one gospel. Another gospel is that the tariff is a bully and a robber, and that it never will behave until Parliament takes it by the throat and shakes the life out of it. Once upon a time Dr. Michael Clark contended that the tariff was the great original dragon that St. George overthrew, and for which he received the Cobden medal. Now, though as strong a free trader as ever, he seems to chastise the tariff more in sorrow than in anger, and says as little about it as can be helped. Other doughty champions from the West complain mildly that the tariff should not be a political question—as if it could ever be anything else—while others again treat it as a sort of interdicted religion—something too awful to be talked about.

These valiant gentlemen have not gone back on their free trade convictions. Not at all. They are simply content to let the matter lie until the time comes to give battle. They still believe that there is a high tariff and that it is worth fighting.

Not so Col. John Currie, who makes barbed wire or nails or some other such useful article. As a manufacturer, Col. John argues that practically speaking there is no tariff at all—or if there is, it is so small as to be hardly worth mentioning. I had the pleasure of hearing Col. Currie speak for an hour, during which time, slice by slice, he carved the tariff down from the Globe's extreme hypothesis of 42 per cent to his own modest computation of 15. He did it, as I recollect, by subtracting the tariff on raw materials imported from other countries. If the colonel had spoken another half hour the poor manufacturer would have had no protection at all—would, indeed, have been paying the consumer to buy his goods.

In short, Col. Currie and his friends handle the tariff as you would one of those collapsible opera hats. When you see it first it is fully extended and proudly worn on the top of the head. When you see it next it is as flat as a pancake, and modestly hidden under the wearer's arm. The quickness of the hand may deceive the eye with regard to opera hats, but the covering is there just the same and cannot be denied.

My own opinion is that statesmen who say there is no tariff are talking through their opera hats, but the question cannot be fully discussed until Premier Borden comes home.

SLAVE-MAKING AUTOCRACY IS OTTAWA GOVT.

Haldimand Liberals Hear Stirring Addresses — Strongly Organized at Cayuga.

CAYUGA, May 14.—At a largely attended meeting here last night the Liberals of the county effected an organization which promises splendid results in both provincial and federal affairs.

The meeting was held in the courthouse, and, considering the almost impassable condition of the roads, was most representative and included many ladies. Addresses were given by J. W. Richardson, the retiring president; R. F. Miller, J. D. Parsons, Mrs. Laws, J. Z. Gibson and W. G. Charlton, who dealt with "Organization and Co-ordination."

In his address Mr. Charlton made plain the aims of Liberalism and impressed his auditors with the fact that the principles for which Gladstone, Brown and Laurier lived and labored are not dead. He pointed to the tendency to centralization and monopoly, and declared that this made good and ample fighting ground for those to occupy who loved true Liberal principles.

"Liberals," he declared, "were not ashamed to propagate their faith, because it emphasized the embellishment of the earth with the doctrine of freedom and equality, as opposed to the system of autocracy and slavemaking, which characterized the present incumbents of the Government seats at Ottawa."

He further emphasized the opportunity of Liberalism in the great questions which are stirring labor, and those relative to the settlement of the soldier.

The address was frequently punctuated with applause, showing how sympathetically the audience followed the speaker.

The officers elected at thiis meeting for the ensuing year are: R. F. Miller, Rainham, president; Mrs. (Dr.) Walker, Dunnville, first vice; R. A. Walters, Jarvis, second vice; Mrs. Joseph Peart, Cayuge, third vice; Maurice Winger, Hagersville, fourth vice; J. A. Toohey, Cayuga, secretary, and R. S. Colter, Cayuga, treasurer.

Delegates were also appointed for the conventions at Toronto and Ottawa as follows: Wm. Clark, Jacob Kohler, J. W. Richardson, Andrew Rogers and Mrs. (Dr.) Walker.

CRAIG VETERANS BACK.

AILSA CRAIG, May 14.—Two more heroes have returned from overseas. Pte. Lynn Barnes returned last week, and Pte. Donald McKellar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter McKellar, returned on Tuesday.

Word was received today by Hugh Bowman of Denfield, formerly of this place, of the death of his son Ernest at Vancouver, B.C., on Tuesday after a lingering illness. The funeral will take place from his residence at Vancouver. Besides his father, who resides at Denfield, he leaves one brother Wilfrid of Chicago, and one sister, Mrs. Gibson of Denfield.

"I had been bothered for nearly two months before I started using Cuticura, and after I had used three boxes of Cuticura Ointment with the Cuticura Soap I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss L. Burns, St. Bazile, Que., June 6, 1918.

An invitation was extended by D. D. McKenzie, leader of the Opposition, to all the provincial Liberal premiers and Opposition leaders to be present, and replies have been received from some. Premier Norris of Manitoba, wires that he cannot be present, owing to labor trouble and makes no mention of a representative. No reply has yet been received from J. H. Bell, leader of the Opposition in Prince Edward Island. Hon. E. E. Foster of New Brunswick, cannot be present, but will be represented. Hon. P. J. Veniet, minister of public works, and Hon. E. A. Smith, minister of lands and mines, were here a few days ago and indorsed the plans of the convention. As Hon. G. P. Murray, premier of Nova Scotia, is unwell at present, he will be represent by Hon. E. H. Armstrong, minister of public works.

Gouin Will Be There.

From Ontario, William Proudfoot, leader of the Opposition, has signified his intention to be present, while Sir Lomer Gouin, premier of Quebec, will also be here. Premier Martin of Saskatchewan, may not arrive until Monday, but is coming and will be represented in any case by Hon. George Langley and Hon. W. E. Knowles. Hon. J. H. King, minister of public works, will represent Premier Oliver of British Columbia. Premier Stewart of Alberta has been here for some days, but will not be represented at the conference. He will, however, be represented by Hon. J. R. Boyle, minister of education.

ROTARIANS APPROVE RECONSTRUCTION AS SUGGESTED TO THEM BY MAJ.-GEN. M'RAE

His Advice Drastic in Some Respects.

Major-Gen. A. D. McRae, former quartermaster general of the C. E. F., in the course of an address given at the Rotary Club luncheon today, gave some advice on reconstruction which, while in certain respects it was drastic, appeared to meet with the general approval of the members of the club.

More rigorous regulation of immigration a continuation of the registration of all aliens adopted to meet war conditions, the establishment of an all-red wireless press service, the organization of a ministry of health, and of a ministry of trade and commerce, the appointment of a commission to inquire into the tariff requirements of the country and formulate a policy, education along imperial lines to inculcate the spirit of British ideals, and a knowledge of the advantages of a united empire. These were some of the things which Gen. McRae recommended.

Selective Immigration.

The immigration policy of Canada, he declared, must cease to be the haphazard thing it has been in the past. It must no longer be left in the hands of shipping and labor agents. It must be selective. He urged that a qualification for citizenship should be an ability to read and write English. With the exception of the French-speaking people, he said, no man or woman who could not read or write English was capable of casting an intelligent vote. Even granted that qualification, he thought that naturalization should be granted only after a probation period.

He would send back to their own countries all foreigners who were so unappreciative of the advantages they obtained in Canada as to stir up revolt, and in the case of Canadians who fomented troubel he would give them the opportunity to go to some other country to live, or, if they insisted in remaining in Canada ,treat them as enemies of society.

All in English.

All foreign newspapers, he thought, should be under the direct supervision of the Government, and they should be compeleld to print the English translation alongside every column of news printed in a foreign tongue.

Gen. McRae believed that an all-red wireless service would be not only a great convenience at a proportionately low cost, but it would help to cement the different countries which made up the British Empire. He believed the day was not far distant when an editor here would be able to listen over the wireless telephone to the proceedings in the British Parliament.

Co-operation should take the place of the present division of interest between the three classes—labor, capital and farmers. The farmers should be provided with conditions which would make their occupation more profitable and more attractive. On the other hand, the farmers should not insist on tariff reduction until the matter had been carefully considered by a non-partisan commission. Strangulation of the industries of the country could only spell ruin. Now was a propitious time to take the tariff out of politics.

Down in Bribery.

He advocated making political bribery a criminal offence. The man who gave and the man who accepted a bribe should both be punishable by prison terms, and should be deprived of the franchise. Lists of party fund contributors should be on file and available for all who cared to examine them. Non-compliance with the law requiring parents and guardians to send children to school, he said, should also be punishable by jail or prison terms. Nothing short of that would teach some of the foreigners of the west that their children must not be kept out of school in order to work.

A population of 25,000,000 in 1950 was declared by the speaker to be a certainty, according to his view. That would create a home market which would tremendously increase the value of farms and of farm produce, as was evidenced by the comparative values in the United States and Canada.

FOCH PREPARES TO TAKE IMMEDIATE ACTION IF GERMANS REFUSE TO SIGN

Council of Four Instructs Allied Commander To Proceed To the Rhine—Strictest Blockade Will Be Resumed If Necessary.

PARIS, May 14.—Immediate measures tending to the further subjugation of Germany if its delegates refuse to sign the peace treaty were indicated today by the announcement that Marshal Foch had been sent to the Rhine by the council of four to take such action as may become necessary in the event that the treaty is not signed.

READY TO RESUME BLOCKADE.

PARIS, May 14.—The council of four, composed of David Lloyd George, M. Clemenceau, President Wilson and Signor Orlando, today considered the immediate reimposing of the blockade against Germany in case that country declined to sign the peace treaty. The subject was under discussion at two separate meetings of the council.

On the other hand, it is anticipated that the blockade will be entirely lifted immediately, if the German delegates affix their signatures to the treaty.

GRAIN.

Chicago, May 14.—Opening: Corn—July, $1 61⅞; September, $1 55⅜.

Oats—July, 66⅞c; September, 63⅞c.

Chicago, May 15.—Although some weakness was shown in the corn market today, prices later developed considerable strength. At first the chief influence was the announcement that, beginning May 20, the government would have moderate quantities of wheat for sale. Opinion gained ground, however, that the effect of such sales would be slight and transient. Corn prices, which opened unchanged to ½c lower, were followed by an additional sag and then by an upturn all around to well above yesterday's finish.

Oats displayed firmness from the outset. Improved eastern demand was the reason assigned. After opening ⅛c off to ½c up, with July at 66⅝@66⅞c, the market continued to ascend.

WALL STREET.

New York, May 15—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Disregarding the prospects of higher money, today's stock market opened with a resumption of the rise in rails, steels, motors and various industrials. United States Steel was the prominent feature on an initial transaction of 7,000 shares at 104¼ to 104½, an over-night gain of virtually a point, and its highest price of the year, while Gulf States Steel made a further advance of 6 points. Grangers and coalers led the rails at fractions of 1½ points, and Studebaker and leathers rose 1 to 2 points. Coppers alone showed an easier trend.

MOVEMENT TO HAVE BUSINESS OF SYNOD DONE IN TWO DAYS

Bishop Urges Importance of This Change.

RECORD SESSION CLOSING

Attendance Creater Than Ever Has Been Known Here.

According to the statement of the Bishop of Huron, the present session of the Synod of Huron, which is drawing to a close, is the largest in point of attendance that has ever been held. Nearly 300 registered, and when voting took place the forenoon of today (the third day), 112 were still present, almost a record.

Notwithstanding this fact, however, the bishop was seized with the importance of some rearrangement, whereby it might be possible to conduct the business in two full days, opening for business at 10 o'clock instead of 3 in the afternoon on the Tuesday of Synod week, and holding the holy communion opening service on Monday evening.

He appealed to Dr. Matthew Wilson of Chatham for a ruling in regard to the legality of effecting this change, contrary to the constitution in time to make it operative for next year in Brantford.

Solution Found.

A solution was found in the calling of a special meeting of the synod at the time of the September executive meeting to pass upon the notice of motion. The bishop held that many businessmen might make it convenient to be away from their business for two days where it would be impossible to do so for four days.

A large part of the forenoon session was devoted to voting on representatives for the executive committee, provincial and general synods.

The scrutineers, who counted the ballots between one and three o'clock, to bring in the report of the election to the synod before the close this afternoon, were as follows:

General synod: Revs. E. G. Dymond and C. S. Bilkey; Lay: Lieut.-Col. Rourke and Drummond.

Provincial synod: Clerical: A. B. Farney, A. A. Trumper, J. N. H. Miles. Lay: J. O. Moulton, F. E. Morrison and J. E. Parker.

Executive committee ballot scruitineer: Clerical, W. Lowe, T. Brown, W. G. Blackfoot, V. N. Durnford. Lay: W. Hanbury, A. White, J. A. Smiley and Taite.

His 52nd Session.

Ven. Archdeacon Young, who is attending his 52nd consecutive session of synod, today presented a notice of motion that the title of the canon "on apportionment for general board of missions," be changed to read, "on apportionment of funds required for authorized extra-parochial objects," to more adequately fit the content of the canon which covers the apportionment of all funds of the diocese outside the parishflzz z z z z z z zz

After a lively discussion, the resolution submitted by the Brant Deanery Chapter, requesting that the financial year for all vestries in the diocese should be from January 1 to December 31, and that the annual meeting of the congregations for the election of church wardens and transacting all other business be held in the month of January, was carried. Those in the synod who stood upon tradition, custom, sentiment and rubrics expressed themselves strongly that Easter is the best season for gathering in abundantly fruits in the way of offerings. The religious significance was emphasized by Rev. Canon Gunne, E. G. Henderson of Windsor, reminding that giving is an act of worship.

Wants Business Principles.

Rev. W. L. Armitage made an appeal for application of sound business principles to the administration of the financial affairs of the church, holding that an offering to wipe out bad debts of the past hasn't any special religious significance at Easter time, and that it is a detriment to establishment of systematic giving.

Rev. J. B. Fotheringham of Brantford held that the closing of the financial year by parishes at the same time the diocesan year is closed, the general synod year and the M. S. C. C., December 31, instead of on the occasion of a moveable festival, in point of date Easter Monday, isn't in any respect an attempt to detract from the religious significance of the great festival of Christianity.

He would be inclined to call some people who had thus hinted of moon worshippers.

The question is one which has been before the synod annually for several years, and its final settlement was a matter of gratification to those who believe that the best interests of the church will be served by adopting more business-like methods.

Memorial Read.

While the members of synod stood with bowed heads, Ven. Archdeacon J. B. Richardson read the memorial that had been prepared to nine clerical and one lay member who had passed away during the year.

Notices of motion submitted were as follows: Asking the general synod to memorialize the Dominion Parliament that all persons resident in or entering Canada over 15 years of age, be required to register, and to carry identification cards, and that it be made compulsory that all males between 12 and 24 years receive physicial training and medical examination.

Another notice of motion asks the synod to indorse the action of the Manitoba Legislature in abolishing bilingualism in Manitoba schools and making English language obligatory, requiring all children to learn English and all instructions and examinations to be given in English.

The name of Rev. A. K. Brownlee of St. Thomas was added to the forward movement committee.

IF STRENGTH DECLINES AS AGE ADVANCES, FOLLOW THIS SUGGESTION

So many women grow old before their time, perhaps your wife or sister. A little while ago, buoyant, full of vigor and activity—she enjoyed life and imparted pleasure to the whole family; but now in a few short years she has faded and lost color and strength. She is just ready to develop some disease that will further weaken and debilitate. You remember how it began, failure of appetite, tired in the morning, found housework burdensome, always nervous and a little irritable. It's a shame to let her go down hill further when you can build her up so quickly with Ferrozone. The change this nourishing tonic makes in a weak woman is surprising. It gives great zest for food, increases appetite and digestion enormously. The blood gets richer and stronger and adds new life to every organ in the body. A rebuilding process works through the entire system. The first week will show an improvement, and a month or two will fatten up the thinnest, most rundown woman you can think of. Take Ferrozone for lost color, for nervousness, for weakness—use it when rundown and feeling poorly—it will do you more lasting good, keep you in better health, than anything else. Just as good for men and children, too, because Ferrozone is harmless and safe, 50c per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or direct by mail from the Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

What Women in Their "Forties" Need

BY A SPECIALIST.

Many women approach the critical changing period of their lives that comes between the ages of forty and fifty, unmindful of its tremendous importance to their future health and happiness. Not understanding the functional changes taking place in their bodies, they work beyond their strength, often break down, become nervous wrecks, their bodies suffering with fatigue and their weakened nerves trembling at every step. Often in their weakened condition capillary hemorrhage becomes excessive, this added drain compelling them to take to their beds from nervous exhaustion.

What these women need is something that will instantly relieve the pressure on the overworked nerve centres and give them the vitality to stand up under the gruelling strain. Wonderfully effective results are often given in such conditions by the simple use of Ferro-Peptine, a skillful combination of six of the best nerve vitalizing elements known to modern chemistry. These little tablets contain no dangerous habit-forming drugs, and are entirely harmless in their action.

Thousands of women can testify that Ferro-Peptine strengthens the jaded nerves, revives the tired brain and puts the energy and courage into the body that enables one to stand up under the unusual strain of the changing period. Ferro-Peptine has to do these things or it costs nothing, as the Standard Drug Company and other leading druggists sell it on a positive guarantee of relief or money back—Advt.

GUM DECAY CAUSES TOOTH DECAY

Healthy teeth need healthy gums to hug them. Else they will loosen in Pyorrhea. Tiny openings will come in the gums to act as the gateways of disease germs, which infect the joints or tonsils, or cause other ailments.

Forhan's prevents Pyorrhea, if used in time and used consistently. No mere toothpaste does. Are your gums tender gums? Are they bleeding gums? If so, you are certain to have Pyorrhea (Riggs' Disease). Four out of five people who are over forty have it.

To you we earnestly recommend Forhan's. It preserves the gums which hold the teeth secure.

Brush your teeth with it. Forhan's cleans the teeth scientifically—keeps them white and clean.

If gum-shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

30c and 60c tubes. All Druggists.

MY HEART AND MY HUSBAND
ADELE GARRISON'S NEW PHASE OF
REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

Why Madge Feared What Mrs. Stockbridge Might Do.

Mr. Stockbridge moved promptly toward us at Mr. Donkers' call, but I could see that his action was tinged with reluctance. He evidently also had noticed his wife's increasing restlessness and moodiness, knew, no doubt, far better than any of the rest of us what such action on her part portended. But there was no escaping Mr. Donkers, who, apparently feeling that his matrimonial liberty was in no danger from me, had adopted an elephantine playfulness of manner which kept me busy controlling my risibles.

"I am afraid, Stockbridge, you are cherishing a heretic, dangerous, though fair—perhaps I might say, dangerous because fair"—he indulged in a fatuous chuckle at his own remark, pointing it with an inclination of his head toward me, "in your school. She tells me that she believes divorce should be made easier."

"Does that make her a heretic?" Mr. Stockbridge replied, smiling, although I saw his eyes roving uneasily in search of his wife. They had not far to go, for Milly Stockbridge was slowly making her way toward us, doing it in a cleverly unobtrusive way, I admitted, but still patently determined upon joining our group.

"You misunderstand me entirely," I said a bit impatiently to Miss Holcombe's bete noir. "I said I believed divorce laws should be uniform over the country, and that more safeguards and difficulties should be thrown around marriage. There are many unhappy marriages—" I snapped my sentence off short as I realized that Milly Stockbridge had come within hearing, hoped devoutly that she had not caught the beginning. "It is a tiresome subject, anyway," I said lightly. "I'm sure I didn't start it." I achieved almost a kittenish pout as I looked at my bovine vis-a-vis.

What "Milly" Said.

"My dear Mrs. Graham," he began to protest, but Milly Stockbridge's high-pitched voice interrupted us.

"What's this about unhappy marriages?" she shrilled. "Whose, for instance? Surely not yours, Mr. Donkers, if we believe what you constantly tell us." There was a shrewish meaning in the glance she threw him which evidently penetrated even his epidermis, and I learned later that the late "dear departed" Mrs. Donkers had ruled her husband with the rod of absolute monarchy.

"And as, of course, it couldn't possibly be yours, Mrs. Graham," she made the very pronunciation of my name sound venomous, "why, then, it must be ours. Why didn't you stand up for our record, Ken? Why didn't you tell them ours is one of those wonderful unions made in heaven—and wound up in the other place?"

She laughed, an uncanny, gruesome sort of merriment that made me shiver. I looked around uneasily. Fortunately her voice is always shrill, and no one seemed to have noticed her manner or voice—no one save Alice Holcombe, who had been watching us. I saw her pick up Bess Dean with a flash of her eye, and then saunter lazily toward us. Miss Dean promptly followed her example.

Mr. Donkers was too obtuse to realize the real seriousness of the situation, but he hastened to protest the only point his mentality could grasp.

To Distract Her.

"Oh, but my dear Mrs. Stockbridge, we mentioned nothing personal, meant nothing, it was a general, an academic discussion."

"I'm not your dear," she snapped inconsequently. "You may call Mrs. Graham that if you like—I heard you doing it just now, but I don't care for it. And you can't fool me like that. I know you meant my marriage. But I should worry. I ought to be used to it by this time. Every new teacher Mr. Stockbridge gets seems to get it into her head that he is a subject for sympathy, and proceeds to administer large doses of it. I'm getting tired of it. I know. What's sauce for the goose, you know. Lieut. Graham looks to me as if he were just pining for a little sympathy. I think I'll go and tell him my troubles and see if he doesn't want to confide in me. So long, Mrs. Graham."

She darted away, her face alive with malicious mischief. But quick as she was, Alice Holcombe and her husband were quicker, and I saw them both speaking to her authoritatively. Bess Dean darted in another direction, toward Dicky, and what was my delight to see her evidently challenge him to accompany her to some other part of the room, and to witness his acceptance of her challenge. Anything was better than the possibility of having Dicky learn from Milly Stockbridge's lips of the ugly volcano over which I was daily working.

"Mrs. Stockbridge is a bright, pleasant, little woman, but do you know, sometimes I do not quite know how to take her. She sounded in earnest just now, but, of course, she was joking."

Mr. Donkers looked ponderously troubled. I hastened to reassure him.

"Oh, of course!" I echoed, praying that the jest might not turn to a tragedy before the evening was over.

To-morrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

FRIDAY, MAY 16.

The peculiar lunar and mutual aspects of the planets make this day a perplexing one to forecast. The eccentric Neptune, notable for its erratic, subtle, mystical and marvelous influences, is dominant, being trined by the moon, quintile to the sun, and parallel with Mars—all of which may prove negligible in everyday affairs, but may bring startling, singular and worthwhile experiences in the domain of mind and spirit—particularly on the emotional side of these super-physical principles. In poetry, music, art, psychic development or mystical unfoldment results should be definite and unusual, but care should be taken that the peculiar excitements do not lead to circumstances or situations evoking gossip or scandal.

Those whose birthday it is may have a quiet and successful year in ordinary affairs, but may have memorable events or experiences in their higher life. A child born on this day will be impressionable, easily misled, and have psychic faculties or artistic or poetic genius.

THE BATHERS ESCAPE.

Now, you have heard people say that some one was as cross as a Bear with a sore head. But Cousin Bruin's head was tied up with a mud plaster, and so it didn't hurt at all, and so he wasn't cross. These jolly companions roamed through the woods in search of good hunting and new adventures.

Little William was swimming in a deep pool in the brook. His clothes he had rolled in a big bundle on the bank near an old log. Back and forth he swam, for it was a very hot day. Then he came out on the bank and lay in the hot sun. Then back again into the water he splashed, and now he was lying on a log caught in some bushes in the middle of the swimming hole. He was half in the water and half out.

Suddenly he heard a crackling in the bushes, and he caught a glimpse of Cousin Bruin. Bears think of very little else than of something to eat. They have to eat to lay up fat to last them through the winter. Then they neither eat nor drink for many long months, but lie asleep for all the long winter months. Just as many men store up money for a rainy day, so do bears store up fat for cold winter.

Cousin Bruin tore away the bark from the side of an old tree, and there lived a colony of black ants. He tore out a big paw full and crammed them in his mouth. Those poor ants! What there was left of them scurried up and down that tree trunk and tried to escape.

Cousin Bruin didn't look towards the swimming hole and so he didn't see little William lying so close to the log in the middle of the pool, but Little William was scared to death. He was afraid to make a noise, for fear he would be discovered.

But Jimmy Coon was fishing, fly fishing. He lay down on the edge of the brook and drew his whiskers over the smooth waters. He caught little fish and insects. He washed and washed his catch and ate without cooking, and enjoyed himself very much, until looking up suddenly, he caught sight of Little William. Then his fun was all spoiled, and he scurried into a hole in a hollow tree.

Cousin Bruin ate all the ants he could and then, looking around, he poked his nose in every hole. He finally came to the bundle of clothes belonging to little William, and then that boy trembled with fright. He didn't know what to do.

Tomorrow—Little William's escape.

SYNOD MEMBERS SCORE UNION GOVERNMENT'S PENSION POLICY, WANT JUST TREATMENT FOR ALL

Rev. S. E. McKegney, M.C., Says Case After Case Is Coming Up of Soldiers and Dependants Not Getting a Square Deal.

A case brought before the Synod of the Diocese of Huron of what was termed "gross injustice" in connection with the amount of pension paid by the Government to a woman whose son was killed at the front, and who is the widow of a clergyman of the church, aroused the representatives to vigorous and unanimous protest yesterday afternoon, and the protest was incorporated in a resolution to be sent to all members of Parliament who are members of the Anglican Church.

Rev. J. B. Fotheringham of Grace Church, Brantford, who brought the matter before the synod because of the principle involved, as well as with a view to righting a wrong, also submitted the resolution, the first section of which placed the synod on record as holding the conviction that a "just and generous policy should be pursued in the treatment of soldiers and the dependents of soldiers."

The story, which evoked strongly expressed indignation, is as follows:

Preposterous Treatment.

"A woman, who, as the widow of a clergyman of the Church of England in the Diocese of Huron, is receiving an annual allowance from the widows' and orphans' fund, lost her son in the war. She was entitled to a pension from the Government of $40 a month, or $480 a year.

"Officials of the pensions board, learning that she was receiving an allowance from the church fund of $300 a year, her Government pension was reduced to $180 per annum, leaving the total at $480, the amount which she was entitled to from the Government.

"It was equivalent to the pensions board saying: 'We will take away the $300 which the synod has given you.' It makes me boil with indignation," said Mr. Fotheringham, "and I think it would be preposterous to allow the matter to pass without protest."

Mr. Fotheringham proposed this addition to his resolution: "The synod hereby demands that the pension shall be restored to the former amount, $480."

"We all believe," he further commented, "that a pension is a debt of honor. Such action as I have related places it as a charity.

"If there are other cases in the diocese or deaneries, let each deanery do something in the way of protest, in order that it may be possible to say that Canada is doing her duty honorably and fairly by her soldiers and their dependents."

"Demand" Modified.

On advice of A. H. Backus, Aylmer, who pleaded for moderation, while expressing himself as thoroughly in sympathy with the principle of the resolution, the word "demand" in connection with the restoration of the full amount of the pension, was changed to "urgently request," carrying thereby unanimously, and with a show of feeling somewhat unusual.

E. G. Henderson of Windsor, in seconding the resolution, declared that the people of Canada do not want to treat the men or their dependents in a "niggardly" fashion.

"I can't understand such an act," he said, "and was never more surprised or horrified than when I heard it. I can't find words to express my feelings towards those responsible for it. (Cries of "hear, hear.") To say that a helpless woman should be tied down to an income of $40 a month is outrageous and monstrous."

Rev. C. K. McMasters of St. Marys, stated that, as he understood the regulations, pensions for soldiers are determined according to the percentage of disability from which those applying for pensions are suffering. No other source of income has anything to do with the pension. If this is true in the case of a man who can fight for himself, it surely should apply to the case of a widow who has lost her son, and is not able to defend herself.

Cases Are Numerous.

Some members of the synod questioned if this were not a very rare and exceptional case, some expressing a measure of objection to possible criticism implied of the Government.

To the first, Rev. S. E. McKegney, M. C., of Clinton, replied by wanting to know where these representatives had been in the past few years. "Case after case is coming up in town after town all the time," said Mr. McKegney, "of returned soldiers and widows of soldiers not getting a square deal."

The question of increase of the superannuation allowance to the clergy qualified by service from $700 to $900 per annum was introduced by Rev. Canon Craig, in connection with a notice of motion re the revision of the canon on the auxiliary superannuation fund.

The principle of the increase of $200 per annum to superannuated clergy was indorsed, additional names being added to the committee to work out the details for raising the money and report to the synod.

Religion in Schools.

The subject of religious instruction in the public schools was given a place of prominence in the discussion of the afternoon, introduced in the report of the synod's committee by the chairman, Rev. G. B. Sage, and by a resolution sent in by the Brant Rural Deanery.

The Brant Rural Deanery's request to the synod, submitted by Rev. R. J. S. Adamson, rural dean, was as follows:

"That this deanery requests the Synod of Huron to memorialize the Provincial Synod, as follows:

"The Synod of Huron requests that a committee be appointed by the synod which shall be authorized to invite representatives of other Christian bodies in Ontario to a general conference, with a view to the inclusion of religious instruction as a part of the curriculum of our public schools."

The bishop pointed out that the department of education already provides for Biblical as distinguished from "religious" instruction.

Rev. Canon Davis of Sarnia, out of his experience of 20 years as a member of a school board, announced his opinion that if the clergy used their privileges, the resolution from the Brant Deanery would be unnecessary.

Rev. W. F. Brownlee of St. Thomas urged the importance at this time of special attention to the subject, in the reconstruction period, the hour of launching forward movements, etc. He stated that the Presbyterian Church, and also the Methodists, are prepared to co-operate, and are working along similar lines.

Would Be Improvement.

This recommendation in Canon Sage's report was heartily indorsed:

"We regard the present to be a fitting time for taking the most strenuous action in order that this question, which has so long been under discussion, may be brought to a practical issue.

"The present generation in our schools would then have the benefit of a better religious as well as better secular education."

Associated with the report was a section which expressed the synod's appreciation of night schools, and drawing attention to the fact that workingmen who believe that they have a call to the ministry may equip themselves in learning these, while engaged in their ordinary occupations, thus enabling them when they enter college to devote the necessary time to the special studies in preparation for the ministry. The advantage of the experience of this type of man in the ministry was dwelt upon by Canon Sage.

Among encouraging reports presented were those of the Girls' Friendly Society, submitted by Rev. Canon Arthur Carlisle, and of the committee on boys' standard efficiency tests, submitted by Very Rev. Dean L. N. Tucker, both telling of rapid development in these lines of work, which have such an important bearing upon the lives of the young people.

During the proceedings orders of business was suspended, while the Bishop of Huron read a telegram from W. F. Cockshutt, M. P., expressing regret at absence, and good wishes for the launching of the forward movement. On motion of Ven. Archdeacon Richardson a telegram of greeting was sent to the Synod of Nova Scotia, also in session.

Indorsed Forward Movement.

Intense earnestness, enthusiasm and purposefulness characterized the attitude of the members of the synod last evening in connection with the official indorsation as a synod of the forward movement of the Church of England in Canada, and pledge entered upon of whole-hearted support.

Rev. Canon Gould of Toronto, general secretary of the M. S. C. C. and organizing secretary of the forward movement, in an inspiring address reviewed the history of the movement, launched last November as a war memorial and thanksgiving for victory, dwelling upon needs which it will meet in a financial way, and the extension work at home and abroad which will thereby be made possible.

While the financial objective, $2,500,000, was clearly placed before the synod, with its sub-divisions, special stress was laid upon the spiritual great awakening it is destined to prove in the lives of the people of the Anglican communion, even through the canvass side for funds.

In conclusion, it was pointed out that, in the forward movement, the Church of England has as allies, not only the Episcopal Church of the United States, which has as its forward movement financial objective the sum of $20,000,000 outside of local funds, but also the great churches of other communions in Canada, the Presbyterian, Methodist, Baptist and Congregational, all uniting in an allied drive to quicken the spiritual life of Canada, raise the moral standard of the citizenship and also to meet in a more adequate way their obligations in other lands to bring the world to a saving knowledge of Christ.

With reference to the plan of campaign, Canon Gould stated that the various synods are being left in large measure to work out their independent plans of organization.

Publicity to Start.

The general plan of campaign adopted is to begin publicity work at once, to an extent which will introduce the forward movement to every parish before the summer holidays, but to reserve the intensive publicity campaign for the weeks immediately preceding the grand canvass. Benefiting by the experience of Victory Loan campaigns, the organizers of the forward movement are planning to work up to a climax of interest and enthusiasm in time for the canvass, and avoid the disastrous effects of anti-climax.

The objective of the movement, to quote Canon Gould, is "to have every man in this thing for the honor of the church and its security and effectiveness in days to come."

"In this campaign," he said, "we are going to implement in the days of peace the faith we professed in the days of conflict.

"We are going to enlarge our vision. We are going to have a sweep and power of vision as never before.

"We are going to increase our sense of power collectively and individually. We are going to draw on the divine reserves of the wisdom and knowledge of God as revealed in Jesus Christ.

"How are we going to do this? We must do it officially, or not at all. Duty to the campaign must be done by everyone.

"The diocese must organize for the campaign. Every diocese should find and express its own genius and find itself in its own form of organization."

Concerning the canvass, Canon Gould stated there will be two annual payments to the fund for subscribers, one on or before January 15, 1920, the other on or before January 15, 1921.

Synod's Indorsation.

Immediately upon the conclusion of the address, Very Rev. Dean N. L. Tucker moved the official indorsation by the synod, seconded by E. G. Henderson, as follows:

"That the synod resolves:

"(a) To give its hearty support to the Anglican Forward Movement.

"(b) To secure, under the leadership of the bishop, the required preparation spiritual and educational, with the appointment in every parish or mission of the necessary committee for canvassing the whole membership of the church in the diocese."

Speaking to the resolution, Dean Tucker said: "In the first place, this is an official movement of the Canadian church, and as the official body representing the diocese, we should put ourselves in line with all others.

"In the second place, because of the courage and faith of the leaders of the church in launching this movement, we should support it. I have always felt that if a really worthy object is placed before the people of Canada, they will respond.

"In the third place, we owe this effort as a thanksgiving to God for the victories of peace. The least we can do is to raise $2,500,000 as a memorial. We owe it for the sake of the gallant men who have died, for the sake of the Canadian men, 400,000 or more, who offered life itself to bring about the peace to which this is to be a monument of gratitude.

"We can raise the money, because we can do anything we really set our hearts upon. London in one campaign during the war raised $375,000 for patriotic purposes. A hundred million dollars and more has been voluntarily raised in Canada for patriotic and relief purposes during the war."

Seconding the resolution, E. G. Henderson declared that to him, the aspect of thanksgiving made the strongest appeal.

Committee Named.

Following the unanimous indorsement of the resolution, the Bishop of Huron struck the practical note, reminding that it is necessary to implement resolutions and good intentions by actions. Immediate action in the way of organization was advised.

The first step taken was to appoint a central forward movement committee, to act with the bishop in shaping the organization policy for the diocese, to arrange for speakers for meetings, etc.

Very Rev. Dean N. L. Tucker, Rev. Canon Arthur Carlisle, Rev. J. W. J. Andrew, Rev. Rural Dean Masters, Rev. W. J. Doherty, E. G. Henderson, J. K. H. Pope, W. F. Cockshutt and Sheriff Johnston.

Dates were arranged for deanery meetings to present the movement to the deaneries as follows:

Brant, June 3; Oxford, June 4; Norfolk, June 5; Lambton, June 3; Middlesex (east), June 4; Middlesex (west), June 5; Kent, May 22; Essex, June 3; Elgin, June 10; Grey, June 11; Bruce, June 12; Huron, June 5; Perth, June 4; Waterloo, May 20. Rural deans were instructed to see that all representatives are out at these meetings and that there is a good attendance at evening public meetings.

The largest attendance of any session of the present synod was present for the official indorsement by the synod of the forward movement, the gallery being filled to its capacity with spectators.

AT THE MAJESTIC TODAY

Scene from "The Heart of Humanity," a super-picture on Canadian life in the Northwest, revealing also the sacrifice of a woman who left home and family to administer to the wants of the stricken women and children of Belgium. Many colossal scenes are shown in this wonderful production. Patrons who have witnessed this photoplay pronounce it to be one of the best of its kind ever presented in London. "The Heart of Humanity" will be shown at the Majestic Theatre for the last times today at continuous performances from 2:30 o'clock this afternoon until 11 o'clock tonight (standard time). In addition to this great film feature, Miss Cora Tracey, the operatic star, provides an excellent program of classic songs.

FINAL SHOWING OF 'HEART OF HUMANITY' AT MAJESTIC TODAY

Wonderful Story of Canadian Life Has Thrilled Thousands.

"The Heart of Humanity," the thrilling drama of love and war, which will be shown at the Majestic for the last time today, is based on fact, woven into a woof of charming fiction and executed with vibrant realism and a directorial genius which has made the production worthy to stand on an equal basis with the Griffith overseas films.

For instance, even the trenches shown in the "at the front" scenes of the pictorial drama, were partly filled with water for the purposes of the film. The fluid was pumped from the Los Angeles River bed by a six-cylinder gas engine and three-inch centrifugal pump. Fourteen hundred feet of 3-inch pipe was used. To the end of the pipe line 1,300 feet of fire hose was attached. With a pressure of 50 pounds to the square inch, the pump drew into the trenches 1,500,000 gallons of water. The machine worked 24 hours a day as the soil at Universal City is principally loam and the water seeped back into underground channels quickly. This, but one of a thousand devices utilized to give "The Heart of Humanity" the impress of military authority, was the conception of Director Holubar, executed by his electrical department.

"A STUDY IN MELODY" IS FEATURE ACT AT GRAND OPERA HOUSE

Five Numbers in Vaudeville and May Allison in Photo-play Now Showing.

An act that is sure to arouse much enthusiasm among music lovers of this city will be presented by Jack Levey and His Four Symphony Sisters, as the headline feature on an all-star vaudeville bill at the Grand today, Friday and Saturday. "A Study in Melody" is the title of the offering, which is most sumptuous and extravagant in setting and costumes. The instrumental numbers, well selected and rendered in a most praiseworthy manner, prove the mastery of the flute, 'cello, violin, piccolo and piano, and with solos and ensemble numbers this quintette give wonderful interpretations of both classical and popular airs.

Sharon Stephens and Della Bordeau, a young man whose natural portrayal of the rural type is beyond question, and a beautiful young lady who is a most capable actress, will offer a funny satirical skit under the caption of "A Boy From Home." This amusing little skit is certain to prove a big attraction on this program.

Mlle De'Aures, a dainty little French miss, and her assistant will offer a most sensationally thrilling shooting act entitled, "The Curtain of Victory."

The other acts on the bill will be Graces Nelson, the American-made prima donna, who will be heard in a selected repertoire on exclusive song hits, and La Rose and Lane, a man and woman, in an artistic hodge podge of song and talk.

PAUL ALTHOUSE, NOTED AMERICAN TENOR, WILL ASSIST AT FESTIVAL

May Concert of Musical Art Society Promises to Excel All Previous Efforts.

As a result of the epidemic earlier in the season, the plans of the Musical Art Society were materially changed and London audiences missed the musical treats as provided in previous seasons.

However, the work of the society for the year will be represented in the festival concert of next week, when the choir of the society will be heard in Mendelssohn's "Hymn of Praise" with orchestral accompaniment. The program will also include several unaccompanied numbers from previous programs.

The crowning feature of the concert will be the appearance of the great Metropolitan Opera Company tenor, Paul Althouse, who will take the tenor solos in the cantata, and will also sing a duet with Mrs. Wyatt and contribute a number to the miscellaneous part of the program.

The chorus will number 150 singers, comprising many of the finest voices from the various church choirs represented, and while not as large as in other seasons the quality of tone produced is described as fresher than in any previous year.

A. D. Jordan, the conductor, has been untiring in his efforts to make this the best performance in the history of the society. The advance sale has been large, but a limited number of tickets will be on sale, while they last, at all music and book stores.

BAPTIST CONGREGATION WANTS NEW SITE FOR ERECTION OF EDIFICE

A new site for the Baptist Church on Horton street, in which the colored people are interested, is being sought. Although the church is large enough for the present congregation, the surroundings of the church are not at all pleasant. The church now is located on Horton, near the corner of Wellington.

Those interested in the church visited an allotment on Ottaway avenue, near Rectory street. This is owned by Geo. T. Hiscox, and is priced at $30 per foot. Nothing definite in the matter of the new site has yet been done. But it is expected that a change in the location of the Horton Street Baptist Church will be made in the near future.
