SOME FOURTH OF JULY SNAP SHOTS

EVERYBODY IS CELEBRATING

Glorious Weather Favors Dawson in Proper Observance of Dominion Day and Fourth of July—A Great Many Visitors.

This is a gala day in Dawson and since early morn' the streets have been crowded with people who are seeing and being seen. In fact, the joint celebration of Dominion day and the Fourth of July has been on since 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It was on all night and will continue until the stroke of midnight tonight. Many hundreds of people came in from the creeks yesterday, last night and this morning.

The couple from "beyant cooter lake" that walks arm in arm in daylight and drinks lemonade in preference to soda water because the latter "ain't nothin'" but sweetened wind," is here. The fellow who came from the Crossing to drink the town dry is here and was laid out by 10 o'clock. The fellow who has "seen a thousand" Fourth of July celebrations is here. Chiefs Isaac and Silas and their retinue, comprising all the Indians and half the dogs of Moosehide, are here and everyone except the man who started in to drink the town dry is having a good time. The exception is having a good sleep.

Just at midnight pandemonium broke loose in Dawson as it never does except as July Fourth is ushered over the threshold of time. Fire-arms that had not been discharged for a year were fired into the night, fireworks and torpedoes spoke out, dogs howled, men and boys cheered and the get-o-ris-ous Fourth was duly welcomed.

No finer day could have been selected from the calendar for a celebration. The sun has shone brightly but not too warm all day. It is a typical celebration day and as such the best is being made of it.

At four o'clock yesterday evening a brass band was discoursing music from the grandstand, the seats of honor were filled with the officers of the occasion and a few distinguished guests and the two days' celebration was duly begun.

The first event was the running of the Yukon derby which was won by Joe Boyle's Modoc. "Tod Stained" by Deliel, with Crawford, ridden by Sha's, a very close second.

Peterson and Hilderbrand made a dead-heat of the quarter-mile bicycle race which will be decided by the finals today. Both were stripped down to the full limit and they traveled at a furious pace.

The quarter-mile handicap horse race was an easy victory for Crawford, entered by L. Troughton. Joe Nees' Billy was second. Crawford was given 15 yards and Billy 50.

KLONDIKE NUGGET.

SATURDAY, JULY 4, 1903.

FOURTH OF JULY.

Today marks the sixth celebration of the Fourth of July in Dawson.

From the pioneer days of '97, the natal day of the American republic has been observed in Dawson in a manner befitting the sacred traditions which surround it.

Britain and Yankee alike, with goodly sprinkling of a dozen other nationalities, invariably put aside the cares and responsibilities of every day life and lend themselves without dissent or disagreement to the celebration of the Fourth of July.

The Fourth of July belongs to every nation under the sun where government is maintained by the consent of its governed. It is a day consecrated to the theory that individual freedom of action is the only enduring foundation upon which to erect a state.

Two centuries ago the theory was practically untried. A hundred years ago it had found root and had begun to gain strength. Today that theory finds acceptance on every continent and by the end of the century may embrace the world.

In every quarter of civilization some recognition will be taken of the anniversary of American independence, and perhaps in no place will there be more genuine enthusiasm than is being displayed in our own small but thoroughly cosmopolitan community.

FACTS REMAIN.

Anyone who took the time and trouble to wade through the five columns of silly twaddle which filled the editorial page of the Sun of yesterday, must have been struck with the absolute lack of fact and argument.

The Sun must produce something stronger than senseless innuendos and insinuations or give up endeavoring to convince people that it has a case. The logic of the situation is entirely with the Nugget, and the Sun finds refuge in its old time policy of misrepresentation and in calling names.

The Sun is so thoroughly sordid in all its doings that anything in the nature of an honest act, or motive is beyond our contemporary's limited power of conception.

Anything in the nature of an endeavor to instill into the Sun an appreciation of a lofty motive would be a thankless and in fact impossible task.

The Sun "talks the way it is paid" and therefore cannot understand how any other newspaper can be influenced by a different motive.

This understanding of the perverted point of view from which our contemporary regards every matter of a public character is necessary to a complete appreciation of the five columns of editorial nothings which appeared in the Sun of yesterday. Not a single point was made—not a fact deduced to show that the Nugget is wrong—not one single, solitary bit of evidence to prove that this paper has not properly gauged public opinion.

Nothing but abuse, and slander, and when the Sun has exhausted its gutter vocabulary, its entire stock in trade is gone.

The facts, stern and uncompromising, remain and cannot be blotted out, even though the editorial resources of the administration building are brought into action.

The expectations which the public was warranted in believing would follow from the election of Mr. Ross have failed almost entirely of fulfillment. The district is unrepresented at the federal capital and has been for the greater portion of the session, and the promised speech against the Treadgold concession remains undelivered.

The appointment of the investigating commission is the result of the untiring labors of local organizations, in the absence of which, there is every reason to believe that Treadgold would now be in possession of his concession, by virtue of parliamentary ratification.

Fortunately for the welfare of the territory, the people kept their powder dry, even while their faith continued in other words, while they trusted much to their representative they maintained the fight on their own account—and the sequel has proved that they acted wisely in their day and generation. To this day the public has been kept in ignorance of the reasons which have been behind the absence of Mr. Ross from the capital.

With respect to the condition of his health there is expert testimony of an official character on both sides of the case—the preponderance of evidence going to prove that Mr. Ross has been in excellent health ever since the beginning of the session.

In view of all the circumstances or call for an explanation is not within reason, then the ordinary conception of what constitutes a reasonable demand is entirely wrong.

Galveston Released.

Richmond, Va., June 22.—In the chancery court today Judge Grinnard dissolved the injunction restraining the United States government from taking possession of the cruiser Galveston. The federal government stipulates that the ship shall remain the property of the C. D. Trigg creditors until the case is determined by the court of highest resort. The Galveston will be launched this week.

Washington, June 22.—The navy department has been informed of the release of the Galveston, and steps will be taken to launch the vessel as soon as possible. The creditors of the Trigg company contend that the government would be put to additional expense in completing the Galveston at Norfolk. Should extra expense be occasioned, the government will call on the sureties of the Trigg company to pay any excess fixed by congress.

Ike Jensen, bookkeeper for I. Rosenthal, who has not been outside for nine years, left today for a visit along the coast. He was provided with the usual pair of blinders so that he would not get frightened.

The Nugget's stock of job printing materials is the best that ever came to Dawson.

INSANE MAN COMMITTED

John Ross Warner Will be Sent Out

Suffering From Dementia That Renders Him Incapable of Caring for Himself

John Ross Warner was committed by Mr. Justice Macaulay this morning to the police asylum until such time as he can be taken to the asylum at New Westminster.

Last year Warner served a short time in prison for some minor offence since which time he says he has been unable to sleep. He further says that for some time past and up to the time he was taken into custody he drank very heavily. He has a serious impediment in his speech, being at times scarcely able to talk. Police Surgeon Thompson testified in Warner's case, saying that he is not suffering from acute mania but is wholly incapable of taking care of himself, his malady being of such nature as to be very liable to grow worse unless he receives proper treatment, the doctor said, could not be given here. He recommended that he be sent to an outside asylum. It is said that all the insane patients now here, four in number, will be sent out early next week. Warner's relatives live in Brighton, Mass. He has no property or money.

Three Antlers Interlocked

An Indian from the Flambeau reservation in northern Wisconsin recently came into the fishing resort of Squaw Lake with a curiosity in the way of deer horns he wished to sell. Failing to make a sale he took the horns back to the reservation and has not been seen by white men since then.

His treasure was three sets of antlers inexplicably interlocked, and they were worth considerable money to horn collectors. Two sets of antlers so locked are rare, but not unknown. It is believed that the Flambeau Chippewa has the only set of three locked antlers in the world.

This accident could have happened only in one way. Two bucks of equal strength were fighting in the forest and became locked. Then, while they were still struggling, a third buck appeared in the usual angry temper of these animals in the mating season and charged them both, probably repeatedly, until his own horns became fastened. The spectacle of three huge bucks mated to each other until death would have been a great one if there had been anybody there to see.

The Indian said he found the horns north of Flambeau Lake, about a mile from the water. They were lying on the side of a hill, and there were no bones near them. The condition of the horns proved that the fight occurred not more than two years ago and probably last fall.

The antlers were all of full-growth bucks, showing eight and ten points each. The third pair and been driven into the others just above where they joined, and the branches of them were about equally locked with the branches of the others. They were not broken or chipped.

in any way, proving that when the third buck had made his last charge he was fastened so firmly that there was no room for any one of his points to play in the forks of the others. Indeed, all of the horns were so stoutly joined that they could not be moved at all, being as rigid as if moulded in that fashion from cast steel.—New York Sun.

Now in Seattle

Seattle, June 23.—Prince Henry de Croy, of Belgium, whose ancestry dates back many hundreds of years through noble blood, is a guest of the University Club. He has been in the city since Saturday, and will remain for several days more. In all probability, after leaving Seattle, he will go to Alaska to spend a few weeks at different points, and on returning may sail from this port or from San Francisco for China and Japan. He has not decided definitely on his plans but has those trips in mind.

The prince has been in the United States since early in April. He landed in New York, and after visiting Philadelphia, Chicago, Spokane and other cities of importance came to Seattle, of which, he says, he has heard a great deal in the past few years. This is his first visit to the United States, and during his stay he has been traveling incognito, so that at most of his stops few persons other than the Belgian consuls knew of his presence.

The trip of the prince to this country is for the purpose of his own enlightenment and to study its commercial development, in which, he says, he is greatly interested. While before leaving his native land he was a great believer in the greatness of the United States, he says the treatment he has received everywhere and what he has seen has only served to strengthen his opinion of the country and its people.

The Age of a Horse

Chester, N. Y., June 16.—The groom that came to Chester with Old Abdallah, the sire of Hambletonian, fifty-five years ago, said a veteran Orange county horseman, "told me how to tell the age of a horse, and it has run in my head ever since. This is the way it ran, and he repeated the following rhyme: To tell the age of any horse, inspect the lower jaw of course, The six front teeth the tale will tell, And every doubt and fear dispel.

The middle "nippers" you behold before the colt is two weeks old; Before eight weeks two more will come; Eight months, the "corners" cut the gum.

The outside grooves will disappear from middle two in just one year, In two years from the second pair, In three the "corners" too, are bare.

At two, the middle "nippers" drop, At three, the second pair can't stop, When four years old, the third pair goes;

At five, a full new set he shows, The deep black spots will pass from view;

At six years from the middle two, The second pair at seven years; At eight, the spot each "corner" clears.

From middle "nippers" upper jaw, At nine the black spots will withdraw;

The second pair at ten are white; Eleven finds the corners light.

As time goes on the horsemen know The oval teeth three-sided grow, They longer get, project before 'Till twenty, when we know no more.

Neck Broken

Peterboro, June 4.—Michael O'Brien, a well known local carrier, was accidentally killed about 5 p. m. yesterday by being thrown out of his cart. He was driving near the railway crossing, when his horse took fright. He fell on his head on some sharp stones lying beside the road and broke his neck. He was aged 63 years, was married, and leaves a family of five daughters and one son. Coroner Gray will not hold an inquest.

Will be Buried Here

Colin Marchison, brother of Alex. Marchison who was drowned in Bonanza Thursday evening, has notified the police that he will be unable to take his brother's remains to their old home in Regina, Saskatchewan, as it would be necessary before attempting the trip, would cost in Dawson $350. For that reason he is not financially able to take his brother's remains home and they will be buried here.

Russell Sage's neglect to "swear off" his taxes will cost him enough to buy a double store full of $8 suits, and there are those who are so sympathetic as not to be sorry for "Uncle Russell"—Everett Record.

Many Injured

Seattle, June 22.—In a collision on the Interurban tracks near Georgetown, which came too suddenly to give any one time to act, one man was seriously injured, half a dozen were badly bruised and shrapnel and scores of occupants on two crowded race track cars were hurt and severely injured yesterday afternoon about 6:20. The injured are: Hill Alexander, of San Francisco, concussion of the brain, resulting from blow on the head, and numerous bruises. Fred Bigger, San Francisco, back hurt and head cut. Henry Rich, San Francisco, head cut, bruised at hip and ankle. Grant Rogers, Whatcom, bruises on limbs, and hands cut. F. L. Housely, Whatcom, legs badly bruised. William Murray, Seattle, finger crushed and left shoulder sprained.

Alexander was removed to the Wayside Mission, where he lay unconscious for hours. It was at first thought that his skull was fractured. The other four men were taken to the Seattle general hospital, where they were attended by the Seattle Electric Company's physician, Dr. Park Willis. Many of those who went to their homes without giving their names were cut by pieces of flying glass or bruised in their falls.

Vesuvius in Eruption

London, June 22.—According to a special dispatch received here from Naples, the volcano Vesuvius is in full eruption. This, the most celebrated volcano in the world, rises from the eastern margin of the Bay of Naples, in Italy, and is the center of a region which has been densely populated for more than 20 centuries. Several times violent eruptions have occurred which have engulfed cities and burned thousands of victims beneath the hot lava. Clouds of cinders have been thrown forth which have destroyed all vegetation in many miles. Usually the more violent eruptions have been preceded by earthquakes.

The engulfing of the ancient city of Pompeii is the most noted of the calamities attributed to the volcano, although since the other big eruption in 1631 it has never released into a state of total quiescence.

Hopeful of Results Geneva, Switzerland, June 9.—At the session of the convention of the World's Woman's Christian Temperance Union, the president officer,
 Mrs. Lillian M. Stevens, of Portland, Ore., read Lady Henry Somerset's presidential address, in which the absent president predicted the eventual triumph of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union fight would be a complete victory over the liquor traffic.
 She said modern governments were in danger, and referred to the fact that Russia, France and Sweden were strenuously fighting the liquor traffic. Lady Somerset concluded with an appeal for the exaltation of the cause, asserting that the work of the World's Woman's Christian Temperance Union could best be summed up in the words of its great founder, the Miss Frances Willard, "To make

Crisis in Italy.
 Rome, June 12.—The Cabinet Ministers decided to announce their resignations in the Chamber today, but later, on the request of the King, decided not to do so at present. Although there was a Ministerial majority of forty, the Chamber of Deputies' vote on Wednesday against a Parliamentary inquiry into the conduct of the Navy Department, in which position Signor Giolitti, the Minister of the Interior, was a leading figure, caused the Cabinet to decide to resign, on the ground that there was no further reason for its existence. The Ministry was until recently in union with the Liberal element, including the extreme Left, which, however, joined the Opposition in the adverse vote.
 "It has been charged against the Italian Navy Department that the navy, in spite of the large sums annually spent upon it, is really less strong in respect to efficiency and fighting power than it was ten years ago. This, it is claimed, is due to gross incompetency and even criminal acts on the part of the department."

Might Incriminate Himself
 St. Louis, June 19.—State Senator William P. Sullivan, from Christian county, refused to answer all questions put to him by Circuit Attorney Folk, before the grand jury, on the ground that his testimony might in-criminate himself. Sullivan was called before the grand jury in connection with the alum scandal. He was not pressed to answer the questions after his refusal to reply to them.

 ficiency in case of war.

 a small skiff, the family of William Steaton, of Anaconda, were precipitated into the swollen stream and two children, a baby of 11 months and a boy of 3 years, were drowned."

They had been talking as they walked. She had remarked, pathetically:
 "Oh, it must be terrible to a man to be rejected by a woman!"
 "Indeed, it must," was his response.
 Then, after a while, with sympathetic disingenuousness, she exclaimed:

 have the heart to do it."

The momentous question, "What agitating his parents.

 "I've thought of a plan!" exclaimed the father, at last. "We must

 "Very well, my dear," said Mrs.

 But on the succeeding evening Mrs.

 puzzled expression.
 "I got all those things," she said.
 "Yes, well? And what does he like

FOOTBALL TEAM

Organized and Will Play the Association Game

Old association football players met yesterday evening in the office of White, Davey & Tobin and organized a team for play this season. The officers elected were: Honorary president, Commissioner Congdon; president, E. C. Senkler; vice president, Arthur Davey; secretary and treasurer, A. S. Reid. The executive committee consists of Sergeant Major Tucker, S. Bell, P. S. Long, W. Gibson and D. R. McLennan. There are at present two teams organized at the Forks, both of which are anxious to try conclusions with the city team any time they are ready to do business. There is good material here, but if they expect to play football to win they will have to do more practicing than they ever have done in times past. As an evidence of good faith, it is said that certain nights will be set aside for practice and every member of the team must turn out or he will be dropped. Notification of the nights selected will be made at a later date.

Editor Klondike Nugget: Sir,—I must write to congratulate you upon the attitude of your paper in the late issues regarding our M. P. Your course seems directly in the line of public duty and reflects great credit upon the motives of your paper during the political fights of the last year. In all the elections one issue was paramount, viz., the highest good of the Yukon. The advancement of the political schemes of denagogues and politicians was of no interest to the majority of voters. After Clarke captured the convention of August 23rd and the Ross convention met and adopted their platform, only two questions remained for the electorate, viz., first, would Ross unreservedly accept the platform of the convention which nominated him, and second, would that acceptance be sincere and in good faith? It took more than one month to obtain a satisfactory answer to the first question, and this delay created a feeling of distrust in regard to the second question. It was acknowledged by nearly everyone that Clarke was a very unworthy instrument to hold the opposition in nomination. So when election day came the vote, apart from the few rabid friends of Clarke and the equally few rabid Siftonites and the quite large number of purchased and fictitious votes, was a plebiscite upon the question as to whether Ross was sincere in his adoption of the Ross platform. There can be no reasonable doubt that upon a correct count of this vote it would be found that the majority did not believe Ross. Yet many did, hence the result.

Even then the cause of good government might have been served by the opposition. The money was ready to protest Ross' election if Clarke would give his word not to be again a candidate. He would not do so but called the so-called opposition mass meeting which confirmed Ross in his seat. Even then and in spite of Clarke, Ross' election would have been protested except for the strong hope of very many that he was sincere. Now as it is shown clearly that he is not, only one course is open—Mr. Ross must resign.

Amendment Lost.

London, June 16.—The deadlock which has arisen between the secretary for Ireland, Geo. Wyndham, and the Irish leader, John Redmond, as a result of today's debate in the house of commons, in which John Redmond's amendment to the land bill, abolishing the minimum price at which the landlord may sell, was opposed by Mr. Wyndham and rejected by the house, threatens to imperil not only the Irish land bill, but the existence of the government. Several Unionists supported John Redmond in the division lobby, after having in the course of the debate vainly advised Mr. Wyndham to agree to a compromise. The whole body of Nationalists voted in support of the amendment, with the result that the government's majority was reduced to 41 votes.

The amendment seeks to abolish the minimum price at which the landlord may sell, even though the landlord and tenant might agree on a lower price. Mr. Redmond said if no concession was made it would be impossible for the Irish members to represent the bill as acceptable to the Irish people.

Mr. John Morley, who said he feared the bill was in great peril, complained of Mr. Wyndham's attitude. He said the English and Scotch members would only support the bill so long as it was acceptable to all the Irish members. Mr. Redmond's amendment was rejected by a vote of 217 to 276.

Comes Alive

Marinette, Wis., June 13.—The Marinette Star is authority for a story to the effect that Prof. Hoffman, who recently resigned from the faculty of the University of Iowa, is Crown Prince Rudolph of Austria, who was supposed to have killed himself fifteen years ago. Hoffman's resignation at the university was requested because he refused to reveal his identity, after admitting that he was going under an assumed name. At the time that it was reported the crown prince had killed himself in Austria, it is asserted that a corpse resembling him was made use of at a funeral, while the prince disappeared from the empire, and that he is none other than Hoffman, professor of medicine. The crown prince was considered one of the leading physicians of Austria. The story in part is confirmed by Dr. Redetings of this city, and Attorney B. J. Brown of Menominee. Circumstances in connection with Hoffman's stay here also tend to confirm the story.

A Rochester Bigamist

Rochester, N. Y., June 13.—Geo. A. Sears, a consulting engineer for the Rochester Bridge Company, was arrested here today on a warrant sworn out by his wife, Dorothy, charging him with non-support. The fact developed through the arrest that Sears was married two months ago to Georgia Hicks at Toronto. Mrs. Sears alleges that Sears has neglected her for over a year, that he sent her to Paris last fall with only enough money to keep her a short time, and not enough for her return. She threatened to appeal to the United States Consul at Paris, and her husband sent money for her return. He then paid her expenses at a hotel here. When officers went to the house of wife No. 2 today to arrest Sears he held them at bay at the point of a revolver. The officers were forced to besiege the place for twelve hours until Sears gave himself up. He was then released on bail. Mrs. Sears, No. 1, came here from Brooklyn a week ago and secured the warrant. Sears has been living in this city with wife No. 2 since the marriage.

Stabbed to Death

Cincinnati, June 6.—Fred Gansel, aged 45, an insurance man, was stabbed in Elliot Wacker's women's tailoring establishment today by Wacker. Gansel was taken to the city hospital, where he died within an hour. Wacker is under arrest charged with murder.

The men had a dispute over a small bill, there being only 25 cents difference in their claims as to the amount Gansel owed. It led to a personal encounter, and Gansel is said to have struck Wacker in the face with his fist. The latter seized a pair of shears and stabbed Gansel in the head, and then in the left groin.

Gansel leaves a wife. Wacker is single, and says his relatives all live in New York city. He came to the United States from Austria in 1895.

Roused by a Dog

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., June 15.—Mr. and Mrs. David Fickleton of the Canadian "Soo" were saved from death in the flames by the sagacity of their dog. Early this morning they were aroused by the dog jumping upon their bed, barking and tearing off the coverings with his paws and teeth. They found the room full of smoke, and they were nearly stifled.

An attempt to escape by the stairs proved futile, because of the smoke and flames. With a coil of clothes line Mr. Fickleton first lowered the dog out of the window, and then his wife, he being the last to leave. The house was reduced to ruins.

A young man who was born on a ranch, and who, while getting his education in the east, has turned westward again every summer, and has thus maintained a fine, strong physique, recently danced with a young woman of some two hundred pounds in a village not far west of Rahway. He noticed that the dancing was up-hill work, and when it was over, sank into a chair in the incipient stages of exhaustion. The young woman looked thoughtfully across the shining surface of the floor and threw a glance of investigation at the corner where the punch bowl stood.

"Doesn't it strike you that the floor is very sticky tonight?" she asked.

The young man gallantly denied thinking so.

"It seems so to me," the young woman observed. Then she looked down at her foot, protruding from a silken founce, and exclaimed:

An Officer's Suicide

Kiel, June 3.—A seaman of the German navy, named Andreas Messerschmidt, was condemned by a court-martial today to eighteen months imprisonment for striking Ensign Von Abel, during the night of May 2, at Kiel. The case has been widely commented upon, because of Von Abel's suicide after he found he was unable to identify the man who assaulted him and personally avenge himself.

List of the Hall Gang

Corwall, June 9.—The court of general sessions of the peace and county court for the united counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengary, opened this morning before his Honor Judge O'Reilly. There are several civil and two criminal cases on the list, one of the latter being that of Mrs. Melvin Hall of Morrisburg, who with his gang of outlaws terrorized the people of Dundas county for several years, and were rounded up by Chief of Provincial Detectives Murray. The members of Hall's gang were sent up for periods of from four to seven years, while Hall got a term of ten years. Mrs. Hall seems to have continued the life her husband led, and was arrested on a charge of stealing a quantity of clothing and jewelry. She is confined in the Corwall jail, and will come up for trial at this court. This is the last of the Hall gang to be dealt with.

WAS FULL OF ERRORS

Idyle Hours Lose to the Amaranths

Civil Service: Once More in the Lead in the Percentage Column

The swatting recital on the barracks diamond last night was somewhat of a surprise package to the Idylers who were made the victims of misplaced confidence. The Amaranths handed them the big wallop and made the blue and black look like thirty cents. There is crepe on "Dad's" door today and there will be some doin's before the next game of the Idylers is pulled off. It was a game of errors and the Idylers were there with the goods every time it was possible to make one, there being no less than 14 scored against them. Lowery pitched an up hill game and his support was so poor it took all the heart out of him. Besides, he had walked 20 miles and ridden 50 in order to be here for the play and that in itself was enough to make him out of form. The Amaranths took 8 safe hits off Lowery while 11 were secured off Foichat. The batting was heavy, there being seven two baggers and two for three bases taken in the game. Contrary to the general case the Idylers did not have the usual number of husky supporters in the grand stand and when a particularly bad error was made the boosters of the Amaranths hooted, howled, rubbed it in and made them say they liked it. Two of the Idylers' most valuable men were missing, Smith at first and Coffey, though the latter did appear in the latter part of the game, substituting for Lamont when the latter was spiked by a base runner. One of the features of the game was the coaching. While outside last year Duncan took a post graduate course in the art and succeeded in reducing it to a science. He is the only man in the league who when his team makes a home run, three bagger or anything else equally as exciting can do a round off two flipflops and a bag. Vive le Duncan, and may he yet be signed by the other two teams in the league so that his appearance on the diamond will be in the nature of a continuous performance.

In the beginning of the first the Idylers were first up and it opened as though a rattling good game was going to be played. Krelling landed a long fly in the glue-lined mitts of "Katz." Henderson hit for a single to Foichat which the latter fumbled. Boyer sacrificed and Kennedy went out at first on an assist of third, leaving Henderson at second. Walcott was first up for the Amaranths. He took a walk, stole second and third and scored on Duncan's sacrifice. Doyle flew to Lamont, Duncan sacrificed, and Foichat made first on the error of short. He purloined the second cushion and gave up the ghost at third on the assist of short who fielded the hit. Douse dropped in his fingers.

Idyler stock went up in the air at the beginning of the second when they pulled in three runs. Six men went to the bat in the inning and three safe hits were made off Foichat. The inning was remarkable for a number of former plays made by the Amaranths. Barrington hit for two bags and scored and then Harper did the very same thing followed by Forrest who sacrificed. Lowery hit light to short and the latter in endeavoring to shut out a run at home made an overthrow that was expensive. Lamont sent a fly to Hickey in the center garden and Krelling hit safe to left field bringing in Lowery. Krelling threw up the sponge at second on an assist of catcher. A cipher was the lot of the Amaranths in their half of the second. Nelson drove a fly to Lamont which slipped through his fingers. Hobson put another fly to the same spot with the hope of the same results, but Lamont fooled him and held on to it. Steinkamp took a walk, Hickey agitated the ozone three times without result and Walcott expired at the hands of "Sureshot" Kennedy leaving Nelson on third and Steinkamp on second.

Both sides took goose eggs in the third. Henderson singled to short and made first on the error of the infielder, stole second and there he was caught in a trance and put out with the assistance of the man in the box. Boyer proved an air disturber and Kennedy retired on a fly to Duncan. In the latter half the Ams had six men at the bat and got three of them on the bags and still they failed to make good. Doyle singled to short and went out at first. Duncan hit to pitcher and made the initial cushion because first dropped the ball. Foichat took a walk. Douse hit between pitcher and third which was fielded by Henderson and he fumbled. And there you are. Bags full and Nelson at the bat. He grabbed the willow, smashed the leather in the nose and it fell into the hands of Lamont at second. Hobson up and the bags still full. He like his predecessor of the illustrious cognoman took a half hitch on the stick, drew back and also drew his breath, let fly at the sphere with a slight drop and missed it, hitting the second and third time in the same place he did in the first. Three men occupying respectively first, second and third had their lights put out and the scorer marked up an aching void with a ring around it.

The fourth began very auspiciously and though the Idylers failed to score they still had two runs to the good and were feeling at home on Easy street. But the latter half, Vat a headache! In the beginning, Barrington hit safe and it looked as though there was a run in sight. Harper went out on a high foul to catcher and then Forrest put a fly to Nelson at second and the latter was naughty enough to double up on Barrington by throwing to first. The end of the fourth should be passed up in silence as the errors made by the Idylers were enough to drive their supporters to hard drink. Steinkamp singled to short and Henderson at third went way out of his territory to field the ball. Hickey sacrificed and advanced "Katz" to third when he scored on a passed ball. Walcott singled to second and the latter made a wild throw. Doyle drove a two bagger to the left garden and brought Walcott home, himself scoring on Duncan's hit to the woodpile which Kennedy tried to get and failed. A moment later Duncan went out at second on a forced run. Foichat and Douse scored and Nelson made a safe hit to center, dying at second on the assist of Harper.

When the Idylers came to the bat in the beginning of the fifth Wilson subbed for Lamont who had to retire on account of having been spiked by a base runner. The entire fifth was of but little consequence as neither side added to their score. Lowery and Wilson fanned and Krelling went out on a fly to "Katz." In taking the field Coffey was placed in right field and Harper was moved to second in place of Lamont who could not go on. Hobson and Walcott both went out on flies, Steinkamp made first and was caught at second on the assist of catcher and Hickey hit safe only to be left at second.

Another slaughtering match took place in the sixth. Henderson, Boyer and Kennedy all hit safe and scored, the first being for two bags and the last two each for three. Barrington hit safe but was put out in trying to make third. Harper expired on a high foul to catcher and Forrest at first on the assist of short. They made three runs, but the Ams pulled out four in their half, not one of which they were entitled to. Doyle made two bags on his hit and then came home on a wild throw of Forrest to second. Duncan took his base on being hit by the ball; Foichat hit for two bags and after Douse fanned both came home on Nelson's grounder that went through first like a shot from a cannon. Hobson retired at first on the assist of pitcher and Steinkamp brought Nelson in on a sacrifice upon which he made second though not entitled to it. Hickey went out at third on a foul, leaving Steinkamp at second.

Ciphers were passed around in the seventh, both sides taking a bunch. Coffey singled to third and went out at first, Krelling fanned and Henderson flew to Hickey. In the latter half Walcott hit safe but made no farther than third where he expired on the assist of catcher. Doyle drove a long fly to Forrest who made a bluff run for a double play but it would not work, Duncan hit to the woodpile and died at second when Foichat fanned a moment later.

Another goose egg for the Idylers in the eighth. Boyer flew out to Nelson; Kennedy could not make the stick and the ball connect, Barrington hit safe only to die at second when Harper went out on a stinging liner to Hickey. In the latter half the Ams had eight men up but could only score two. Nelson singled to short who felled promptly to first, but Barrington was two feet off his base. Nelson scored on a passed ball. Hobson also scored a run. Steinkamp went out on a fly to Harper and the bags were soon occupied by Hickey, Walcott and Doyle in the order named, the last named taking his base on a bloated ball which caught the umpire in the shoulder. The bags were full when Duncan went to the bat. Everyone held their breath, but Jimmie was up a tee with so much depending upon him and he swatted in vain. Foichat went out at first on the assist of second and the three men were left on the bases.

Only the first half of the ninth was played. Forrest fanned, Lowery, expired at first on the assist of second and Coffey hit safe but was caught napping soon after at third and went out on the assist of the catcher. The game was ended and the score stood 12 to 6 in favor of the Amaranths with an inning to spare. The following is the lineup and the score by innings:

MONSTER MACHINERY

Largest Ever Brought to the Klondike

Fortune Being Spent by Andrews Syndicate for Plant on Cheechaco Hill.

Few people other than those connected with the syndicate and the transportation company engaged in bringing the shipment inside have any conception of the vastness of the plant that is being installed on Cheechaco Hill by the company represented by E. E. Andrews. Portions of the outfit have been arriving all season and still there are tons and tons yet to come. The Mary Graf on her trip yesterday brought a large quantity of castings, pipe and heavy pieces, among the latter being a ty wheel in two pieces weighing twelve tons, each part of the monster weighing 12,000 pounds. It is a solid casting, the rim of which is only a foot square and the diameter about sixteen feet. With the primitive methods employed at the docks to handle heavy pieces of freight it was quite a task to get it ashore, jacks, rollers, and a double block and tackle being necessary.

Other big things brought for the same company on the same steamer was the smoke stack that is to surmount the huge boilers. The stack is made of quarter inch plates, is four feet in diameter and when erected will tower 125 feet in the air. But two sections have been shipped ready for erection. The balance will be built up from scaffolding plate by plate, it being too unhandy to handle such objects at a height of more than 25 or 30 feet. The base for the stack will rest upon a concrete foundation built on the ground, the base being a solid steel plate eight feet square, two inches thick weighing a ton and a half. The tool chest which is a part of the plant weighs two tons and there is a "Y" branch for a pump fifteen inches in diameter that weighs two tons.

The iron girders are 24 feet long and eight inches wide and the steam drums 30 feet long and four feet in diameter, there being four of them and each weighing three tons. The engines and boilers have not arrived yet and it is said they will be exceeded in size by but one plant in the territory and that is at the electric light works. There are two plants yet to arrive from Whitehorse, both of which weigh 13 tons. When the plant is set up and once in operation the point of its location near the mouth of Adams creek will resemble one of the steel mill villages of the east.
