Guelph Evening Mercury
FRIDAY EVENING, MARCH 28, 1873.

Town and County News.

Remember the concert by the Sabbath School children of Chalmers' Church, this evening, in the Town Hall. Get your tickets and go early, as the hall will be full.

WILLIAM HAMILTON, an old resident of the village of Fergus, fell the other day, breaking his leg in two places. A shattered constitution will prevent his recovery.

The Elora News says that Mr. James Hennebery has made arrangements with his creditors, whereby he will be enabled to go into business again this Spring, at the Abovye Flax Mills, while Mr. Barrett will run the first mill. We are glad to hear this.

WELL DONE!—A young lady of Elora has sent an order to a Montreal wholesale merchant for fifty yards of Brussels carpet, twenty-five feet wide. She is going to work a pair of slippers for the editor of the defunct North Wellington Times.

YOUNG MEN!—The numerous friends of Mr. D. Nunan will be glad to learn that, after studying two sessions at the Michigan University, Ann Arbor, he has passed his final examination and obtained his diploma of M. D. Mr. Nunan must have been a close and diligent student else he could not have passed in such a short time.

SHORT WALKING!—Beautiful ladies, fashionably dressed, countenances beaming with health, and eyes sparkling with pleasure, were to be met with on Wyndham Street, yesterday afternoon, while the sun shone so charmingly. Groups of young gentlemen, gay and old ones too, stood ostentatiously talking, but the most interesting subject failed to command their attention. Talk of the charms of music after this!

BRING ON YOUR VEGETABLES!—All the authorities advocate the use of the early vegetables as preventives of Spring diseases. Send from your table the pork and bacon, and fat meats and oils, and sugars and starches, the sago and the tapioca pudding, and the dumplings and rich pastries; get hold of the early "greens," the spinach, the salads, the turnip tops, radish, the early berry and the early fruit, and lean meats. This advice is worth taking, and the time spent is well employed. Very little meat and all vegetables (even beet-tops) possibly should be our Spring motto.

Y. M. C. A.—The weekly meeting was held in the rooms of the Association last evening. One of the principal features in the literature was the reading of an Essay by Mr. Townsend. He read an address written by Sheriff Thomas of Hamilton. It is encouraging to know that the Y. M. C. A. Associations in different parts of the country are not only attracting the notice of and being generously assisted financially by prominent men, but are frequently favoured with stronger proofs of their growing interest in the work by being aided with their literary efforts.

DEATH OF AN OLD SETTLER.—It is with great regret we record the death of an old and respected settler in Erasmous—William Phin, Esq., J. P., which took place on Thursday after only a week's illness. Mr. Phin was a native of Herefordshire, Scotland, and when he first came to Canada, nearly 40 years ago, he lived for six or seven years with his brother in Waterloo, James Phin, Esq., J. P. He afterwards removed to Erasmous, and lived on the farm on which he settled, near the York Road, for over 30 years. For a number of years he took an active interest in municipal matters, and served the Township as Councilor. After retiring from the Council he was appointed one of the Township Auditors, and continued to hold the office up to the present. He was also a very intelligent farmer and not many years ago filled the office of President of the South Wellington Agricultural Society. He had given up the active work of farming for the past four or five years, but continued to take an interest in everything connected with its advancement both in the Township and County. As a Magistrate he was upright and impartial; as a business man he was straight-forward and scrupulously honest; and as a friend he was kind and obliging. He was in every sense of the word a good man, and his death will leave a blank in that section of the Township which cannot well be filled.

NICHOL AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—A meeting was held in Fergus on Thursday last, for the purpose of reorganizing the Nichol Agricultural Society. There was a good turnout of both farmers and residents of the village. Mr. John Mair was called to the chair, and Mr. John Beattie appointed secretary; lists containing the names of over eighty paid subscribers were handed in, and the following officers were appointed:—John Mair, President; Henry Michie, Vice-President; W. Ross, Secretary-Treasurer; Directors: James Phelan, T. W. Thompson, Alex. Gerrie, Robt. Scott, Alex. Anderson, C. Michie, Wm. Beattie, John Mair, James Broadfoot, Auditors—James Argo, Ed. Osler. It was resolved that the Nichol Agricultural Society do amalgamate with the Centre Hiding Agricultural Society for the current year, and that the Secretary notify the Secretary of the Centre Hiding Society to that effect.

Mysterious Death.
The body of a young female was found in the river, at Brantford, on Friday last, with a shawl wrapped closely around the head, which led to the supposition that foul play had been practised. The body was recognized as that of Cornelia Kittredge, of Brantford. It would appear that one evening in October last the young girl left her mother and her home for the purpose of meeting one William Stuart, an accepted lover. She never returned home. Search was made for her on all sides; her lover was interrogated; he could give no clue; and she was never found. On the night of her disappearance there was no moon, and she either went herself, and under the impulse of despair, sought for rest and oblivion in the river, or some person to whom her existence was a trouble and a menace, flung her in there. There seems to have been some difference between the lovers, and there is only too much reason to believe that her death is, as is often the case, traceable to the overweening confidence in the honor and enduring affection of men.

An enquiry took place before the police magistrate, in Brantford, on Monday and Tuesday. The prosecution was conducted by Mr. G. R. VanNorman, on behalf of the Crown; the prisoner's counsel was Messrs. A. S. Hardy and J. W. Bowley.

George Kittredge, brother of the deceased, having proved that she and Stuart were regarded as engaged; that he showed every mark of affection for her; that, when in obedience to a telegram, he came from Guelph to Brantford, and conversed with Stuart, who said he did not know where she was. I asked him whether they had gone driving that night. He said no, they had not gone driving. He did not see her again after she left the house.

Mrs. Sophonia Kittredge, the mother of the deceased girl was then examined and said:—Saw my daughter on Friday, 11th October, at about eight o'clock in the evening, it was the last time I saw her alive; the prisoner had been at the house half an hour before she had gone out; the deceased asked him to come in and he did so; he remained half an hour with her.

Kate Boyd sworn—Am 15 years old; went with Miss Welsh to singing-school on the 11th of October last, and returned after practice was over to my home about 9 o'clock from Grace Church, when we got to the tannery we heard a screech; the voice was like that of a female; only heard it once; it was a loud screech; I could not distinguish any words; tuned and could not see any one, so went on; man ran past us rapidly in his toes; just beyond or west of the tannery now a little grocer; he came from the direction of the iron bridge; when first heard the screech was near the gate of the tannery, and when he had gone about the length of this building the man passed us, and continued running until out of sight; the man had on a light coat and a hat of thick, with a middling high crown, or high rowdy hat; the man was of medium height, and pretty stout.

The magistrate said he thought there was no doubt that there had been foul play. Prisoner was at her house that night, and Cornelia Kittredge told her mother that she was going for a drive with him.

The Court was ordered to be cleared so that his worship might confer with his brother magistrates, which ended in the prisoners discharge for want of evidence.

Coroner Kerr is now engaged taking further evidence in the case, and will not be received by the police magistrate, which, it is said, will clear Stuart of having had any hand in the death of the young woman.

REASONS FOR APPLICATION.—Ex-King Amadeus gives as one of his reasons for abdicating the throne of Spain that the insurance companies asked enormous premiums on his life and that of his Queen. This is probably the first time in history that the question of insurance has had an important influence on the destiny of a nation. To a timid monarch, a high premium must cause about the same uneasiness as the sanguine phoebe which disturbed the sleep of Middle-Age tyrants. It was a delicate way of informing him that there was a probability that his life would be cut short.

THIS MORNING'S DESPATCHES

Arrest of the Murderer of Gooderich.
Detectives on the Look Out.

Seizure of Tobacco and Whiskey

New York, March 27.—The Brooklyn detectives this evening arrested a woman who works in a shirt factory in New York, under an assumed name. She refused to talk, except to answer their enquiries in the briefest manner. She was arrested on information given by W. V. Gooderich, brother of Mr. Gooderich, the murdered man. She refuses to tell where she was on Thursday night.

New York, March 28.—A special from Raleigh, N. C., says: Major Berry, deputy marshal, and six U. S. soldiers, left this city on the 17th inst., to intercept tobacco waggoners travelling through Richmond, Robison, and Chamberland counties, and to break up illicit stilleries in these counties.

They seized a lot of tobacco and whiskey fraudulently stamped. The party was hissed by the citizens, and otherwise badly treated.

FROM FORT GARRY.
(By Telegraph.)
FORT GARRY, March 25.

There is going to be opposition in the Red River steaming next summer.

The principal topic just now relates to the threatened Sinox raid on two of the Hudson's Bay Company's posts, Fort Ellice and Qua Apples. If successful it is feared the Indians may make a raid on Manitoba.

The weather is fine and buildings are going up in Winnipeg.

Yesterday ninety-two lots of Governor Morris' property in the town were sold by auction. The bidding was spirited and the sale netted $14,000.

Guelph Turf Club.
SCILICET AGAINST THE STEWARDS.

The following case was tried before Judge Duggan, of the County Court, a Toronto, on Wednesday:

JOHNSON vs. BOOKLESS et al.—This was an action to recover the sum of $250, the amount of a prize won by plaintiff's horse at the Guelph races in August, 1871. Mr. Van Osler appeared for plaintiff; Mr. Osler for defendant. Mr. Van Osler called Mr. Wm. Bookless, one of the defendants, who said he was a member of the Guelph Turf Club in August, 1871; the officers of the Club and stewards were gentlemen residing in Guelph, the names added with his, as defendants in this action, were officers in the Club; believed that Johnson's horse won the purse of $250, in prize No. 7, as advertised; did not know whether Johnson had ever applied for the money; he never applied to witness; witness believed that the officers thought they were morally responsible for the payment, but there were no funds; witness was willing, and had offered, to pay his share of the $250; did not know whether any of the other defendants had made a similar offer; Mr. Charles Sharpe was Secretary and Treasurer of the Club; the Secretary had never given in any statement, and the officers did not know whether there was any balance in his hands or not. On cross-examination by Mr. Osler witness said:—The names in the declaration did not include all the officers and stewards; the funds from which the premiums were paid were made up of members subscriptions, gate money, and the proceeds of the races, and were in the hands of Mr. Sharpe; witness never promised personally to pay the prize of $250, nor, as far as he knew, did any other member of the Club make such a promise. Mr. Osler moved for a nonsuit, on the grounds that a joint or personal promise had not been given, and citing 3 U. C. R., page 296; and there was no consideration. The Judge said he would find for plaintiff, with leave, by consent, reserved for defendant to move in Term to enter a non-suit. Verdict for plaintiff $274.

Sir John's Bogus Election Bill.
We commend the following clauses of this great boon to the careful consideration of the working man and the agricultural farm laborer.

VOTERS IN CITIES.
Any proprietor of real estate of the value of $400, whether he has actual possession or draws the rent and revenue as proprietor.

Any person who pays an annual rental of $30 or more, and has been in possession as tenant for a year immediately preceding the day of each year, or a year's rent on that extent or price of land, at the rate of $30 or more per annum.

Any tenant of real estate of the real value of $100, in virtue of a permit of occupation or a promise of sale from the Crown, if he has held it for a year immediately preceding the election.

Any person resident in the electoral district, and who has been a resident therein for a year immediately before the day of election in each year, and has a bona fide annual income of $400 and actually has it a year immediately before the day of election.

PERSONS WHO CAN VOTE IN COUNTIES.
1. Any owner of a farm worth $200.
2. Every tenant on a lease of at least five years, and paying a rent of at least $20 a year, and being in possession a year before the election.

3. Any holder of a farm in virtue of a homestead permit, or a promise of a sale from the Crown, provided he has held it a year.

4. Any resident in an electoral district, and having an annual income of at least $400.

A NICE KETTLE OF FISH.—The Bar of Montreal has expressed want of confidence in the Quebec judiciary. One Judge is too old, another too deaf, and the third too loose habits to suit the lawyers. They have petitioned to institute an enquiry into the state of the Bench. At the present time 150 cases are laid over in enquette court, some being delayed for years through the conduct of the Judges.

The Irish University Bill.

Cause of Gladstone's Defeat.
The London correspondent of the New York Tribune, writing on the 13th of March, says:—It was known that, down to Monday of this week, Mr. Gladstone believed that the second reading could be carried by a narrow majority, and that enough of the original bill could be saved in Committee to cover the honor of the Government. He knew before Monday that he had not the remotest chance of carrying the bill through both Houses in its original shape, or anything like it. Unluckily it seemed to him more dignified to be beaten in detail in Committee, and see his Bill emerge from Committee emasculated; but still under the name of the Irish University Bill, than to withdraw it frankly. These were the tactics resolved on. Mr. Vernon Harcourt, who speaks more often against the Government than for it, consented to come to Mr. Gladstone's rescue. With his aid, which was counted on to divide the independent Liberals opposed to the Bill, and with an official declaration of the readiness of Government to agree to almost any modification after the second reading should have been carried, it was believed that the ignominy of a surrender in form might be averted. So perverse, however, is Fate, that the very means which were devised to save the bill killed it. Mr. Harcourt thought to win over doubting Liberals by declaring the principle of the scheme to be mixed education. Possibly he saved some English and Scotch votes by this declaration; but the moment it was made, and when it was confirmed by Mr. Cardwell, speaking in the name of the Government, the doom of the measure was sealed. Not an Irish member who cared for his seat dared vote for it as thus expounded. Out of 51 Irish Liberals, 36 voted against the Bill. It can hardly be doubted, that out of these 36 supporters of the Government two or three at least would have found courage to stick by their leader, if the ground had not been cut from under their feet. And two votes changed would have carried the second reading, and we should have had no crisis.

Never, perhaps, was a Government in a more difficult position than this Government last week. They had drawn their bill with a view to secure, if Catholic support, at least Catholic toleration. They had gone so far in the direction of conciliation that there was every prospect that the Catholics would in time, and no very long time, acquire substantial control of the proposed University. The Bishops, nevertheless, had opposed the whole scheme as repugnant to what it gave them nothing. Protestant England, already alarmed at the extent of the offered concession, saw with delight and with no little amazement that the proffered boon had been rejected, angrily and contemptuously. Mingled with this joy was a secret suspicion that the hostility of the Bishops might be assumed or exaggerated. In any case, the offer was not one to be forced on unwilling beneficiaries. Its rejection proved that there was no common ground on which a Protestant Government and a Roman Catholic hierarchy could meet, so far as education is concerned. Mr. Gladstone always suspected of leaning toward Ultramontanism, had offered more than he could induce Parliament or the people of England to grant. Even this offer the Bishops spurned. The bill which was to pacify Ireland had exasperated it more than ever—both Catholic and Protestant equally. If it gave them nothing, the other because it gave too much.

The situation was made so plain that every man in the three kingdoms, Mr. Gladstone excepted, saw it in its true light. If Mr. Gladstone did not, it was because he would not, because pride had dimmed his vision, and his natural sagacity could not save him from taking a line he would in his cooler moments have seen to be headstrong and foolish. The Nonconformists, the sectaries of Scotland and Wales, the Evangelical party all over England, were as much alarmed as the Catholic Bishops were irritated. No single mistake could destroy popular confidence in a leader so long tried as Mr. Gladstone; but seldom has a single mistake so rudely shaken a leader's hold on his followers. One thing, at any rate, became clear, that the Imperial Parliament will not concede to any extent or in any form the principle of State-aided education under the direction of Catholic Bishops and Priests. If concurrent endorsement be an unalterable condition to the pacification of Ireland, Ireland will have to remain a good while unpacified. Mr. Gladstone has strained his powers, perhaps even his conscience, vainly. Where he has failed, no living Englishman need hope to succeed. If Mr. Disraeli likes to go to the country with this cry in his mouth, he will rouse such a storm in the towns as England has not seen since the days of Catholic Emancipation, and with a very different result. My criticism on Mr. Gladstone detracts nothing from the praise due him for the vigor of his effort. It needed that the effort should be made, and made in this way, to prove its futility.

News From Ottawa.
(Special to The Mercury.)
Ottawa 28, noon.

Hon. Mr. McKellar and the Elgin Association.

THE CHARGES AGAINST HIM PROVED TO BE FALSE.

The Hon Mr. McKellar on Thursday night, in the Legislative Assembly made a lengthy and most satisfactory explanation of his connection with the Elgin Association, and proved how utterly false were the foul and slanderous charges which the Tory papers for months past have been making against him for appropriating money belonging to it.

We are unable to give Mr. McKellar's vindication in full, but will in short space give its substance. He was charged in the first place with having had a hand in selling 6,000 acres of land belonging to the Association for $6 an acre, and embezzling $27,000, part of the proceeds of the sale. In answer to this he produced a certified statement of the Company's affairs, in which every item of the receipts and expenditure is given, and in which it is shown that the only sum ever received from the Company was $60 to pay his expenses to Quebec, where he went to transact some business for the Association with the Government.

The next charge was that when in Britain, Mr. McKellar, in company with Mr. King, had been instrumental in raising a large sum of money in aid of the Buxton Mission, and that out of this sum only $400 of the $4,000 said to be collected had been paid into the Mission Fund. This Mission was under the care and control of the Canada Presbyterian Church, and Mr. McKellar read a letter from Rev. Mr. Scott, of London, who bears testimony to the faithful way in which the money was spent, and showed Mr. McKellar did not, and could not touch a dollar of it.

Then there was a third charge, that he and Mr. King had, while in Britain, raised some $8,000 by way of loan, to start and work a sawmill in the Buxton Settlement, and that Mr. McKellar got half of it, and never accounted for it. It was shown that Mr. McKellar did receive half the money by Mr. King's direction for a cargo of staves which Mr. McKellar sold, and from a statement of his then cashier, Mr. McKellar was able to show this, how the money had been applied, and what had been the result of the transaction. Mr. King's speculations turned out bad, and the money thus raised was lost. Mr. McKellar, though no ways compelled, considered that as he had lent his influence to raise the money, he should assume part of the responsibility, and he paid the interest on the money for two years, until reverses in business obliged him to discontinue such payments. He stated that $5,000 of this money had been already paid, and Mr. King was unable to pay the balance. He (Mr. McKellar) would do so himself, though the law could not force him to do it.

Mr. McKellar's explanations were received with satisfaction by the great body of the members. Even the two or three in the Opposition who in a more or less indirect way repeated these charges in the House, were forced by their silence to admit that they were false. Mr. McKellar, to our mind, completely cleared himself of any imputation, and though he may not silence his enemies and detractors, yet he has left them nothing on which they can now hang a shadow of a charge.

NORTH RIDING ELECTION PROTEST.

We are glad to learn that the Reformers in this Riding are about to take steps for the purpose of considering the measures necessary to be adopted to resist the protest against Col. Higginbotham's election. The members of the Reform Association, with this object in view, will meet in Collison's Hall, Harrison, on Friday, the 4th proximo, at one o'clock p.m. We hope there will be a large attendance, and that the Reformers in that Riding will take the matter up in the same liberal spirit as has been manifested by the Reformers in the Centre Riding.

Ontario Legislature.

March 27. Attorney-General Mowat moved that the House do ratify the Order in Council approved by His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor, on the 24th March, 1873, regarding all the Port, Dover and Lake Huron Railroad Company, the terms of which order have already been published. Carried.

Attorney-General Mowat stated that the Government proposed to alter the resolution as it stood in reference to the allowances of $1,000 per mile, and the effect of the amendment he would propose was not to increase the total sum received, but to spread the $1,000 per mile allowance over the whole line of railway in kind of particular parts thereof, so that all the municipalities covered by the resolution as amended would have an equal share, in proportion to the amount they received. The other proposed alteration merely gave the Government power to make the correction necessary in the schedule, in consequence of the alterations made in the resolution. He had submitted the resolution to his Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor and had his command to recommend it to the consideration of the House. The amendment was carried.

ESPELER

Mr. Macdonald moved an amendment expressing regret that under the Government scheme the older counties would have cause of complaint against the new ones.

Another amendment was moved by many members and lost on large divisions.

Hon. Mr. McKellar then entered into a long explanation with regard to the charges made against him in connection with the Elgin Association. The explanation was perfectly satisfactory.

On motion of Attorney-General Mowat, the report of the Committee on the Municipal Loan Fund resolutions was received.

Attorney-General Mowat then introduced a Bill founded on the resolution, which was read a first time.

The House then took up the question of appearance in supply.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

March 27.

A Committee was appointed to try the election case in Kent, N. B. Mr. Campbell moved that the several petitions presented to this House complaining of undue election and returns, be referred to the General Committee on Elections, and that the corrected alphabetical list of members to serve on Election Committees be referred to the said Committee.—Carried.

The Returning officer for Muskoka was then put on the stand again and closely questioned.

Mr. Mills moved the second reading of his Bill to render members of the Legislative Councils and Legislative Assemblies of the Provinces now included, or which may hereafter be included, within the Dominion of Canada, ineligible for sitting or voting in the House of Commons of Canada.

Mr. Mason moved in amendment that the Bill be now read a second time, but it be resolved that in the opinion of this House the fact that an individual had obtained the confidence of the people, and thereby a seat in any of the Local Legislatures should not act as a legal disqualification to sit and vote in the House of Commons, and there does not exist sufficient cause or reason to justify this House in depriving the people of their just rights and privileges in the free choice of their representatives.

Mr. Bellerose moved in amendment to the amendment, that this House, while affirming its regret to legislate on the question of Dual Representation, thinks it more advisable to leave the question of its abolition to the Local Legislature, if its existence appears disadvantageous to them.

Both amendments were lost. Mr. Baker moved that the Bill be read a second time this day six months. The House divided: For the six months' hoist, 57; against, 96. The motion for the second reading of the Bill was then carried, amid loud cheers from the Opposition.

ANOTHER FIRE IN MONTREAL.—A disastrous fire broke out in the British American Bank Note Company's workshop on Thursday morning at half-past four. It was extinguished with difficulty after gutting two flats. Loss $50,000; insured Messrs. Becket, printer, and Grafton, bookseller, on St. James street, also lost through the damage by water.

DIED

Prof. In Ermanno, on the 27th inst., after week's illness, William Finn, Esq., aged 68 years, 8 months, and 9 days.

The funeral will take place from his late residence, on Monday, the 31st inst., at one p.m., and proceed to the Eden Mills burying ground. Friends and acquaintances are respectfully requested to attend without further notice.

PETRIE'S NEW DRUG STORE
Nearly opposite the Old Stand.

NOW OPEN.

Mr. PETRIE takes this opportunity to thank the Public for their large and liberal support during the seven years he has been in business in Guelph.

The New Store is the one formerly occupied by Mr. H. Berry, and lately by Mr. J. R. Potts, as a Confectionery Store. The store has been enlarged and refitted, making it a much more desirable place of business than the old stand.

Having secured the new store for a term of Ten Years, I hope, with the assistance of the Public, to present in the future as I have done during the past seven years, any monopoly in the Drug Trade in Guelph.

I have removed my stock to the new store, where business will only be conducted in the future.

By conducting my business in the future in the same upright principle as in the past, I trust to receive a continuance of your generous support.

I am yours respectfully,

A. B. PETRIE.
