Great Anxiety for the Safety of the Ex-

The absence of news causes consider able anxiety. The heads of the war depart ment met at noon to consider the situation. It is asserted Wolseley fell from a camel some time ago and was injured so badly that he had to remain at Korti. The Times, Telegraph and Standard have not yet received their reports of the battle at Abu Klea, although they had special correspondents in the field. This increased the anxiety concerning the fate of Stewart. It is believed the battle at the wells was more severe than the govern-ment is willing to admit. There is an im-pression that the efficial reports were colored at the war office, and that special despatches were intercepted by the cen-sors because they contained information which would throw an objectionable light on the affair. on the affair

University Educatie n.

No more important issue connecte with the higher education of the province has arisen for a long time than the present university question. We owe much to the efforts of the minister of education and the leading educationalists connected with the various institutions concerned, for having sixty or seventy pounds. A big difference, brought the subject before us in such definite form as the proposed scheme, already published, indicates. It is pleasing to observe the calm, earnest and intelligent way in which the proposal is being discussed in all interested quarters, and, so far as we can at present see, there is every prospect of a satisfactory issue in the end. While there may be differences of opin-

If we consider but for a mo-In regard to the proposed basis of federation, thn wonder is, since such varinterests are involved, that we do not find much greater divergence of view in regard to it. It is only proper that, where so many and varied interests, educational, financial, ecclesiastical and local, are involved, there should be full and careful consideration. It must be clear, also, that whatever action is taken | are bound to do their best to keep business at the present juncture will go far to determine the form and efficiency of our university system for the future. The present may be called the transition period, and it is of vital importance that such action should be taken by all concerned as

We scarcely think the dominion govern ent has anything to do with the project nentioned in the following paragraph, wh'ch appears in a recent number of the Canadian Gazette, published in London,

England: At the sitting of the Chester board of guar dians last week, a proposition made by Father Pacificus of Chester, to allow the Roman catholic children in the house to be sent to Canada, where there was an organization ready to find them good homes, and to turn them into useful men and women, was favor-ably entertained. It was stated that the cost of clothing and passage money for each child would be 25, whereas the cost of maintaining him or her in the workhouse till old enough to take a situation in England would be at least 260 or 270. If there is any foundation for the strange belief, scientific or otherwise, I would like to know it. The way the money consideration is here stated makes the appeal a powerful one. They would be glad has been achieved in modern science has been attained by the Dixon treatment for catarrh. Out of 2000 patients treated during the bast six months, fully ninety per cent, have been cured of this stubborn malady. This is none the ess startling when it is remembered that not five per cent, of the patients presenting themselves to the regular practitioner are benefitted, while the patent medicines and other advertised cures never record a cure at all. Starting with the claim now generally believed by the most scientific men that the disease is due to the presence of living para-sites in the tissues, Mr. Dixon at once adapted his cure to their extermination; this accomto get rid not only of their pauper children, but also of the very old, and the sick and infirm nent the powerful motive that old country atepayers have for trying to saddle their charges upon Canada, if they can, we may easily account for pauper immigration, without considering the Hone John Henry extermination; t d. and plished, the catarrh is practically cured, and the permanency is unquestioned, as cures effected by him four years ago are cures still. No one else has ever attempted to cure ca-tarrh in this manner, and no other treatment has ever cured catarrh. The application of the remedy is simple and can be done at home, and the present season of the year is the most favorable for a speedy and permanent cure, the majority of cases being cured at one treat-ment.
