There are scores of men in this city to-day who would fall on their knees and thank God for an opportunity of earning a day's pay in driving a Sunday street car. We think even our ministerial brethren will agree with us in thinking that a man could not spend even the blessed Sabbath day in a better way than in earning bread for his little ones. Organized clerical resistance to a vote is not likely to be effectual just now. Even if it were, one year's deiay would not settle the question. The injustice of keeping the issue back from settlement at the polls would drive hundreds into the Sunday street cur camp, and in one year, or two years at most, a vote must be taken under conditions less favorable to the cause the ministers hold dear.

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—The Inter-Ocean continues to roast the pretended races at Garfield park. Among other things The Inter-Ocean says: The racing at Garfield Park is not honest, and it is cruel.

It cannot be honest for no owner of a horse worth of the name of a racer would permit it to put forth its best efforts, or, indeed, any efforts at all, upon such a track as Garfield Park ring mud and snow and frost. The race is a pretense, the purpose is gambling. It is cruel, for the track and the weather alike are unfit for the violent exercise of the sorry jades that are forced over the track.

eign nations will in most cases furnish their collections free of cost. For the rest the expense will be from $150,000 to $200,000. I feel certain that this display will be of great value. The subject of the treatment great value. The subject of the treatment of the criminal classes is one of the most pressing that now engage the public attention. In this exhibit will be a vast store of nformation and food for reflection for any thoughtful person. I venture to say that it will be much visited and that it will do a vast deal of good."

Among the more modern devices is a plan for a revolving prison, where the unfortunate captives are somewhat like squirrels in cages. The intention is intended to be humane, however, and aims at nothing more disastrous to the prisoner than the certainty that he cannot escape. It also claims absolutely protect prison officers from assaults of convicts. Ten cells are formed in saults of convicts. The term as if they were a circular prison, somewhat as if they were slices cut symmetrically from a cheese. The dividing walls and the floors are of iron. The outside wall is built around the whole affair. Within it the circular, celluding the idea. lar contrivance revolves slowly, the idea being that no convict can work for any length of time on any one part of the wall which divides him from liberty. The rev-olution goes on only at uight, and is so slow as to cause no discomfort, it is claimed. There is a mechanism by which the jailer can turn the cells round when he wishe to release or incarcerate a prisoner.

I saw a very interesting collection of pic tures dealing with methods of punishment in Chinese prisons. Pleasant devices, they are, for securing human discomfort. I don't wonder that they are not furnished by anybody in China. They show some methods of trains were the affective to the second seco by anybody in China. They show some methods of tying up the offenders which are original and remarkable.

Mr. John Aldrich, on behalf of the Builders' Association, objected to the consideration of the bylaw at present. He said that he had not had time to study out the bylaw. He thought that two inspectors would not be sufficient to cover the buildings going on in the city. Mr. John Armstrong stated that the same bylaw had been before council for two years. All have had time to consider it properly. Further, he said the bylaw would only affect conscienceless builders. The best builders would not be affected; they erect the proper kind of scaffolds now. Mr. Murphy claimed that there were too many inspectors altogether were too many inspectors builders. The best begun to its completion the builder is hampered; and if scaffolds had to be inspected the result would be that it would be next to impossible to start a building at all. Ald, Bell recommended that the matter be left over for a week.

This remark will no doubt eause a displeased scream to arise in all parts of the city, but it is true. Not that a woman cannot clothe half a dozen children, keep a decent looking house and hold up a disdainful nose in any coummunity on a weekly sum that a man would waste on cigars and beer and concert tickets. If a woman is without means, then economy is no virtue, for she could not be prodigal if she would. What in such circumstances is called economy is really fertility of resource which a woman possesses abundantly. Thus she can take her husband's old coat, reduce it into an overcoat for the oldest boy, then remodel it into a pair of pants for the next boy, and finally trade off the exhausted rag to a tinker for a dipper or a four-quart pail. A widow can maintain the outward forms of respectability and comfort on a sum that the common is a woman pensis of the source which a woman possesses will be considered to the strength of the content of the

How We Would Woo Progress.

We have no faith in bonuses to manufacturers as a means of progress. We have no faith in the plan whether practised by large cities like Teronto and Montreal or by the smallest villages.

H. Bridgewater has a letter in another column advancing an opposite opinion. He urges that Toronto should bestir itself and secure all kinds of factories, by offering exemption from taxation and cash inducements; that when Hamilton and other cities feel the fatal drain and bid against us, then let us bid higher and higher yet and depopulate all rival towns by our superior offers to refrence to it.—Ottawa free Press.

Unlike Mr. Laurier's speech at Boston—his was not toned to suit the American ear. He could easily have made a speech that would have been published far and wide and joyously commented upon by the leading papers across the line. Mr. Laurier courted American applause—Mr. Chapleau with spirit spoke brave truths and won Canadian applause. That is the difference, and we fancy Mr. Chapleau is not dissatisfied with the result.

In delivering his charge to the jury on the now f amous Woodbridge tollgate ease, Judge Macdougall said it was a deplorable state of affairs in this nineteenth century when a body of men could be got together to tear down a tollgate by violence, and the jury forthwith acquitted the gatekeeper for shooting John Ireland, one of the, shall we say, insurgents. The learned judge might have also remarked upon the deplorable state of affairs in the nineteenth century when tollgates exist to block the highway and incite men to lawlessness. John Ireland is regarded as something of a martyr.

It has got to this point, the market for raws has got to drop or that for refined must advance. The two are not in their proper relative positions. For instance, cane is being sold in London at 17s per cwt., which means 3% c a pound. How can they make granulated at 4% cand yellows at 3% c out of these sugars? As a matter of fact I saw a letter to-day from a refinery to its agent saying that it would rather rest upon its oars for some days than do business.

TRADE AND FINANCIAL TOPICS.

Canadian barley has not been making a good impression in the English market lately. The want of proper color is the defect. This has not only rendered it unfit for malting but has led to a number of arbitrations.

There has been a marked improvement in the rubber and overshoe trade, and a more satisfactory state of affairs is reported in leather goods. Taken on the whole, business is up to the average of other years. As the season for stock-taking is approaching, the season for stock-taking is approaching, the factories are running a little slack, but another week or ten days will probably see them in full swing again. Payments are fair and up to the average.

HARDWARE.

"What is more, the mill men at Midland, Penetang, Waubashene and other places now find it better to sell the logs to the Americans than manufacture them into lumber cans than manufacture them into lumber and run the risk of holding the stock for some time, and perhaps even then only being able to sell them the dressing and uppers. I know of some mill men who will not now sell good lumber to an American unless he also agrees to take the common."

ESTABLISHED 1834 Sale of Dwelling If you do, you are the man we want to talk to.

Can there be any earthly reason why as good a Cigar can not be made in Canada as in Havana, supposing the same tobacco and the same skilled labor be employed? Certainly not. Then why do you pay the duty on imported goods? Simply because of your prejudice. And what has created that prejudice? Undoubtedly it has come from the misrepresentation resorted to by unreliable Canadian manufacturers.

Now, when we tell you that nothing but the HIGHEST GRADE OF HAVANA TOBACCO and the most skilful labor are employed in the manufacture of the "RELIANCE" 10 cent Cigar, you may be sure it is the truth, and you can verify it yourself. All that is asked of you is to compare this Cigar with the best Havana you can procure; let the comparison be honest and we will abide by the result.
