ther to Moyle, which was their constant place of rest. One day as they drew nigh the shore of Bama to the north, they saw a number of chariots and horsemen, splendidly arrayed, with horses richly caparisoned, approaching from the west.

Where'er they search the frost-bound ocean o'er, On solid ice, their thirsty books are ringing. Nor on the wintry shore, Fresh water laves their plumes, nor bubbling fount is springing.

was to relieve you that I was sent to this island rather than any other part of Ireland. You may trust in me, for this is the place that was appointed for you to be released from your enchantment.

When the applause which followed his performance had subsided, the Seventh Juror was called on to redeem his pledge, which he did by relating the narrative which follows.

THE SEVENTH JUROR'S TALE. McENEIRY, THE COVETOUS.

CHAPTER I. Near the spirited little town of Rathkeale, in the county of Limerick, rises, as the whole universe is aware, the famous mountain of Knock Ferna.

TALES OF THE JURY-ROOM.

Emus in Jus. PLAUT. Pomilius, Act v. Dogberry. Are you good men, and true? Much Ado about Nothing.

THE SIXTH JUROR'S TALE. THE SWANS OF LIR.

Went, O Moyle, be the roar of thy water, Break not ye breezes your chain of repose, Tale murmuring mournfully Lir's lonely daughter, Tells to the night star her tale of woes.

FINGULA. We four are well, Though in keen want, and sombre grief we dwell, Happy are they; Who sit in Lir's bright hall, and share his banquet gay.

FINGULA. A mournful wonder, is this place to me, Which once I knew so well! Not even the trace of that loved home I see, Where Lir was wont to dwell.

As he said this he rushed toward the altar near which they stood, and seized the two chains which coupled them together. No sooner had he done so than the swans lost their plumage, their beautiful feathers disappeared, and the three sons of Lir appeared three withered old men, with their bones seeming to project through their skin, while Fingula, instead of the graceful swan that sung such enchanting strains, became an old shrivelled hag, fleshless, and bloodless.

Tom McEnery, then, was Tom McEnery; once a comfortable farmer, as any in the vicinity of Knock Ferna, but reduced by extravagance at first, and then by long continued reverses to a condition far from prosperous.

The children of Lir continued for a long time in the same condition on the Sruin na Naolle, until one night, that they suffered so much from the cold and wind as to snow, that nothing they had hitherto felt was comparable to it; which made Fingula utter the following words:

FINGULA. Ha! it is our life and sharp with ill, My brethren dear; The snow so thick, the wind so chill, The night so drear.

When shall the day-star mildly spring, Warm our island with peace and love. O when shall heaven its sweet bell ringing, Call my spirit to the fields above.

MACAOBH OG. I'll shoot of Colman's royal line, The malison of heaven is thine, The grief which thou hast caused to mine, 'Tis none a cold heart shall feel, 'Tis none an unholly zeal.

"Why," replied his wife, "I'll tell you what I was thinking of this morning. I was turning over some of the old lumber in the next room, looking for a little firing, when I found an old harp that I remember you used to play upon, a long time ago."

They remained for a year on the sea of Moyle, when one night, as they were on the Rock of the Seals, the waters congregated around them with the cold, and as they lay on the rock, their feet and wings were frozen to it, so that they could not move a limb.

At length we leave this cheerless shore, Unblest by summer's sunshine splendid; Its storm for us shall howl no more, Our time on gloomy Moyle is ended.

What is the matter with you, dear brethren? said Fingula. "We cannot tell," they replied, "we know not how to account for the heavenly music we have heard."

And she whose soul in evil strong, Hath prompted this unfeeling wrong, To early dust consigned, shall long Her fruitless rapine wail, A shivering spectre pale!

"You're not so old as that," replied Mrs. McEnery, "you could play very well if you like it, and you know yourself the great purveyors and poets, and historians, and antiquarians, and genealogists, and people of that sort get from the great lords and gentry in Ireland. 'Tis known to the world, the repute music is in, and the taste they have for it in this country."

Sad is our hap this mournful night, With mangled feet and plumage bleeding; Our wings no more sustain our flight, Woe comes to linked woe succeeding.

After that time, the children of Lir left the sea of Moyle, and flew until they came to the most westerly part of the ocean. They were there for a long time, suffering all kinds of hardship, until they happened to see a man, a tiller of the ground, who used often watch them when they came near the shore, and took great pleasure in listening to their music.

List, list to the sound of the anchorite's bell, Rise children of Lir from the wave where ye dwell, Uplift your glad wings and exult as ye hear, And give thanks, for the hour of your freedom is near.

With those words he cleared his throat, with one or two preparatory "hems," and in the genuine old Irish cadence, so different from the fashionable version of the air, delighted the company with the melody which Moore has furnished on the foregoing narrative.

"Can't you put good words to it," says she, "an' 'twill pass." "Why, that's harder than the music itself, woman," replied her husband, "for the words must have some sense in them, whatever the music has—and where am I to get 'days, a poor fellow o' my kind, that never had any recourse to history, or other great authors, nor knows nothin' of jiggergery, nor the juice of the globes, nor mensuration, nor more branches of that kind."

tion should amuse himself in taking away from under it the foundations of that noble edifice...

ADDRESS TO THE REV. I. J. MCCARTHY, WILLIAMSTOWN.

On Father McCarthy's removal from Williamstown to Brockville, the following address was presented by his late parishioners:—

REVEREND AND RESPECTED SIR,—It is impossible to describe, or even attempt to give utterance to the great sorrow and deep regret that more than overburdens the hearts of us, your parishioners, by your departure from our midst...

Through your generous and untiring zeal has our little "Temple of God" acquired its present devotional standing; our Convent, to you alone we owe its thriving condition; our Missions were established by your heroic self-sacrifice; our Midnight Mass heralding the Divine Infant's Birth; our Grand Processions edifying and orderly conduct; our "Forty Hours Devotion" before our dear Lord in His sweet Sacrament of Love.

All, all these and innumerable other proofs of your holy and energetic ministry for our welfare claim our gratitude; and we are grateful, yes, Rev. Father, we are truly and deeply grateful for your pastoral labors, saintly example, encouraging counsels, charitable and noble words.

But, alas! since you must leave us, rest assured the people of Williamstown will treasure your memory with many a fervent, "God bless him."

We entreat you, however, upon every occasion, that your new duties will allow a leave of absence (and may that be frequent) to come and gladden us by your respected presence. A hearty welcome will await you each time.

Fain would we tender you, most worthy Sir, a testimonial quelling our respect and love, but such being impossible, we beg you to accept this purse not for its pure intrinsic worth, but as a symbol of our numberless good wishes.

God grant you health, peace, in fine, all manifold blessings—and should we forsook never be permitted to have your constant spiritual guidance again in Williamstown, yet, we confidently hope that the union which has been our anchor here on earth, may be our seal in Heaven.

Your devoted and grateful children in Jesus and Mary,

THE PARISHIONERS OF WILLIAMSTOWN. Williamstown, April 6th, 1875.

REPLY.

My VERY DEAR FRIENDS.—It were not only ungenerous but uncanonically did I not confess the kindly sentiments so beautifully expressed in your much-prized address, afford me most sincere pleasure and are as gratifying to me as they are honorable to the generous noble hearts that dictated them.

At the same time I feel your love too highly esteems the little I have been instrumental in effecting since I came among you; and well am I aware the honorous success that has invariably crowned my every undertaking, after God, must be attributed to your zeal, your devotedness—and when I consider the many calls upon you—your more than princely generosity; while I receive with profound gratitude this expression of your filial affection and respect, accompanied by this magnificent offering, I beg to assure you that neither the one, nor the other, was necessary to convince me of your attachment for him who has passed the happiest of his days with you.

Well nigh seventeen years have passed away since the late venerable Bishop of Kingston entrusted to me the care of this lovely parish; and during these long, long years at your hands, time and again, have I been the recipient of the most flattering proofs of the esteem in which you have ever so kindly held me.

For myself I will say, never have I been indifferent to your interests. "You know from the first day that I came, in what manner I have been with you all the time" (Acts xx, 18). The second parish priest, necessarily I found, though much was done, still very much to do. Thanks to God, and your spirit of self-sacrifice, to-day St. Mary's is complete in every respect. Your Church possesses in elegant abundance everything necessary for the Divine worship.

The costly plate, rare paintings brought from Italy and France, the Sacred Vestments and Ornaments are second to none in the country.

Your Convent, under the care of the Ladies of the most distinguished of our teaching Orders, flourishes in a manner that proves it to be particularly blessed of God.

A lovely Chapel will grace Lancaster next October; and in a few weeks the addition to the presbytery will have been finished, thus making the parochial residence all that could be wished for.

Blessed be God, all has succeeded since my advent here; and though three nationalities compose this Mission, the peace and good will that has reigned within its bosom, has become almost proverbial. Yes, truly the past has been supremely bright; God grant the future may be as cloudless. Happy in your midst, gladly would I have labored to the end for your temporal and eternal welfare. Gladly would I have slept the long sleep beneath the shadow of those beautiful altars at which, for almost half my life, I have ministered with happiness unexpressable. But God has willed otherwise—Rome—Alma—Roma—has sent, to rule over us, a man according to God's own heart; and to-day, our honored Bishop calls me to sever the bonds that have so long and so closely united us. The sacrifice is great, but it must be consummated; the chalice fills to the brim, but we may not refuse to drink it.

Soon another pastor will fill my place; in him you will find the talents and the virtues wanting in me. For him I bespeak your affection and esteem; he to him what you have been to me, and I feel the Parish, far from suffering by my absence will be more prosperous than ever.

And now my dearest friends, I must say adieu, to God I commend you; He alone can guard you as I desire; I shall pray him to watch over you, to guide and protect you, to enable you to inherit things to do His will and to unite us by-and-by in that Heavenly home where sorrows never enter and parting shall be no more.

has for the past two seasons been in course of construction on the commanding site immediately east of St. Mary's church. This is one of the most elevated sites within the boundaries of the town, and the magnificent edifice that has grown up from plans prepared by Mr. Wm. Duffus, Architect, of this town, under the fostering care of the Rev. Father Stafford is a notable object from all points of the compass; and especially attracts the attention and elicits the admiration of the traveller incoming by steamer or railway.

The building complete cost about $30,000; and with outbuildings, grounds and fencing will cost about $50,000. The dimensions are—main building, 84 feet by 50 feet; extension, 30 feet by 41 feet; laundry and store house two storeys high, 25 feet by 50 feet. The stone cutting for the building was done by Mr. John Millburn, of Lindsay; stone work and brick work by Mr. James Grovden, contractor, Lindsay; plastering by Mr. Frederick Reeves, Lindsay; carpenter work under the supervision of Mr. Wm. Duffus, Architect. The whole design and the completion of this architectural triumph is extremely creditable to the energy and talent of Mr. Duffus, of Lindsay. The painting by Mr. Hughes, of Jersey City, is a specimen of skill and taste surpassed by nothing in the county, and is pronounced superior to the painting in Government House, Toronto; the roofing, iron-work, and hardware in general, was supplied by Mr. Geo. H. Bertram, hardware merchant, Lindsay; the heating apparatus, lavatories, apparatus for water supply, laundry, etc., by Morrison & Maguire, plumbers, etc., Toronto.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Is widely known as one of the most effectual remedies ever discovered for cleansing the system and purifying the blood. It has stood the test of years, with a constantly growing reputation, based on its intrinsic virtues, and sustained by its remarkable cures. So mild as to be safe and beneficial to children, and yet so searching as to effectually purge out the great corruptions of the blood, such as the scrofulous and syphilitic contamination. Impurities, or diseases that have lurked in the system for years, soon yield to this powerful antidote, and disappear. Hence its wonderful cures, many of which are publicly known, of Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Ulcers, Eruptions, and eruptive disorders of the skin, Tumors, Blisters, Boils, Pimples, Pustules, Sores, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, and internal Ulcerations of the Uterus, Stomach, and Liver. It also cures other complaints, to which it would not seem especially adapted, such as Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Fits, Neuralgia, Heart Disease, Female Weakness, Debility, and Leucorrhoea, when they are manifestations of the scrofulous poisons. It is an excellent restorer of health and strength in the Spring. By renewing the appetite and vigor of the digestive organs, it dissipates the depression and listless languor of the season. Even where no disorder appears, people feel better, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. The system moves on with renewed vigor and a new lease of life. Dr. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass.

DE LA SALLE INSTITUTE, Nos. 18, 20 & 22 Duke Street, TORONTO, ONT.

DIRECTED BY THE CHRISTIAN BROTHERS. This thoroughly Commercial Establishment is under the distinguished patronage of His Grace, the Archbishop, and the Rev. Clergy of the City. Having long felt the necessity of a Boarding School in the city, the Christian Brothers have been untiring in their efforts to procure a favorable site, whereon to build; they have now the satisfaction to inform their patrons and the public that such a place has been selected, combining advantages rarely met with.

The Institution, hitherto known as the "Bank of Upper Canada," has been purchased with this view and is fitted up in a style which cannot fail to render it a favorite resort to students. The spacious building of the Bank—now adapted to educational purposes—the ample and well-devised play grounds and the ever-refreshing breezes from great Ontario all concur in making "De La Salle Institute" whatever its directors could claim for it, or any of its patrons desire.

The system of government is mild and paternal yet firm in enforcing the observance of established discipline. No student will be retained whose manners and morals are not satisfactory: students of all denominations are admitted. The Academic Year commences on the first Monday in September, and ends in the beginning of July.

QUACKS CONFOUNDED.

Rheumatism and Gout have heretofore been considered by the ordinary practising physicians as incurable diseases, and the query has often been propounded, of what benefit to the helpless sufferer is all their pretended science; and what do they avail,—their long and tedious course of study—if they are obliged to acknowledge that all their resources are to no account when called upon to prescribe for a patient suffering from chronic rheumatism. The great trouble lies in the fact that the mode of investigation is prescribed within certain boundaries and limitations compelling the student to tread in certain well-worn paths, or suffer disgrace and excommunication from that highly respectable order of mortals known as the Medical Faculty. How often genius has been curbed in its flights of investigation can easily be imagined. And often really grand and beneficial discoveries have been placed under the ban of censure by those self-constituted censors, for no reason whatever, but that they are innovations upon a stereotyped and time honored prescription. It was not so, however, with the proprietor of the

for his high standing in the profession, and the learning and science of an able mind, quickly compelled the osensor to succumb, and now physicians generally, all over the world, where this medicine is introduced, admit of its wonderful efficacy, and often prescribe it for their patients. Of course the use of the DIAMOND RHEUMATIC CURE, without the aid of a physician, is a saving in fees to the sufferer, but the really conscientious physician should rejoice at this, for the reason of the general benefits arising to mankind from its use.

Messrs. DEVINS & BOLTON: Dear Sirs—I with pleasure concede to the Agents wish that I give my endorsement to the immediate relief I experienced from a few doses of Dr. Miller's Diamond Rheumatic Cure, having been a sufferer from the effects of Rheumatism, I am now after taking two bottles of this medicine, entirely free from pain. You are at liberty to use this letter, if you deem it advisable to do so. I am, Sir, yours respectfully, JOHN HELDER ISAACSON, N.P. MONTREAL, 17th March, 1874.

Messrs. DEVINS & BOLTON: Gentlemen—I have suffered much with rheumatism, so much so that I was obliged to stay at home a certain time. I heard Mr. O'Neill, of the St. Lawrence Hall, speaking of your remedy. I asked him to get me a bottle immediately, which he did with great kindness. To my great surprise that bottle has cured me entirely, and I never felt better in my life. I attribute the use of my limbs to the "Diamond Rheumatic Cure." JAMES GALLAGHER, 58 Juror Street, Corner of Hermina. A BLESSING TO THE POLICE. MONTREAL, 18th June, 1874.

Gentlemen—Having been one of the many martyrs of rheumatism that I meet on my every day rounds, I was induced to try the celebrated DIAMOND RHEUMATIC CURE. I had suffered the last five or six weeks the most terrible acute pains across my loins and back, so severe indeed that I could hardly walk with the help of a stick. I commenced the Diamond remedy, following the directions carefully,—relief came immediately with the first bottle; improved rapidly with the second, and completely cured and free from pain after finishing my fifth small bottle. You are at perfect liberty either to refer to me privately or publicly, as I feel very thankful for the relief, and sympathise with my fellow-sufferers from Rheumatism. Yours respectfully, J. B. CORDINOE, Sanitary Police Officer, 51 Labelle Street. FURTHER PROOF.

Toronto, March 30, 1874. Dear Sir—After suffering for the past two years with Rheumatism, I can truly say that, after using two bottles of the DIAMOND RHEUMATIC CURE, I find myself free from that terrible disease. I have used all kinds of remedies and Doctor's prescriptions without end, but your simple remedy surpasses all: The effect upon me was like magic. I take great pleasure in recommending your medicine to all. I remain, MARGARET CONROY, 127 Sumach Street.

This medicine is prepared by a careful experienced and conscientious physician in obedience to the desire of numberless friends in the profession, in the trade and among the people. Every bottle is warranted to contain the full strength of the medicine in its highest state of purity and development, and is superior to any medicine ever compounded for this terrible complaint. In simple cases sometimes one or two doses suffice. In the most chronic case it is sure to give way by the use of two or three bottles. By this efficient and simple remedy hundreds of dollars are saved to those who can least afford to throw it away, as surely it is by the purchase of useless prescriptions. This medicine is for sale at all druggists throughout the Province. If it happens that your Druggist has not got it in stock, ask him to send for it to DEVINS & BOLTON, NOTRE DAME STREET, MONTREAL, General Agents for Province of Quebec. Or to NORTHROP & LYMAN, SCOTT STREET, TORONTO, General Agents for Ontario. PRICE $1 PER BOTTLE. May 22, 1874.
