TWO MEN KILLED BY TRAINS; AGEY WOMAN FATALY BURNED AND MANY MINOR ACCIDENTS

Fred Penny and George Dalby Run Over in Ward Seven—Mrs. Mary McKerragher Died From Burns—Leslie Essing May Die From Internal Injuries.

Ward seven was the scene of two fatal railway accidents yesterday within ten hours of each other, the victims being two well-known residents. Fred Penny, night yardmaster of the new C.P.R. yards in West Toronto, near Lambton, and George Dalby, a young teamster living on Weston road, near Keele street, were killed.

Shortly after 6 o'clock last night, Fred Penny was standing on the tracks, repairing the air tube coupler of a box car in the yards. As he worked he was unconscious of the approach of another car which had been shunted to that track for connection, and was bearing down behind him. Too late he saw it, and before he could move the oncoming car had struck him, pinning him to the other and crushing out his life.

The yard crew immediately summoned Dr. G. W. Cleland of Dundas street, and Speers' motor ambulance, but life was extinct long before the arrival of either.

County Constable Bolton took charge of the body, and an inquest was opened and adjourned in Speers' undertaking parlors last night by Coroner C. H. Gilmour.

The late Mr. Penny, who lived at 21 Osler avenue, was a resident of West Toronto only two years, but during that time he made many friends, especially among the railway employees at the yards. He resided formerly in Allandale, where he was very well known.

He was a member of the Ontario Railway Conductors' Association, being for many years a conductor on the C. P. R., a member of the I. O. O. F., and of the Chosen Friends lodges of Allandale. He is survived by a widow and large grown-up family.

The other fatality occurred about 11:15 yesterday morning. George Dalby, a teamster, 19 years of age, who lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Dalby, on Weston road, near Keele street, left home shortly before eleven o'clock to post a letter at the nearest post box within the limits.

On his return he stood for a few minutes at the crossing of the C. P. R. and Keele street, watching a heavy freight train ascending the grade. As he stood it is thought he was startled by the whistle of an engine behind him from the east-bound G. T. R. passenger train. Brakes were applied and the train started along the rails, but the young fellow was struck by the fender of the locomotive and carried across the tracks to the fence at the side, a distance of 15 yards.

He was picked up unconscious and Dr. Irwin of Weston, who was a passenger on the train after a hasty examination ordered Speers' motor ambulance and rushed with him to the hospital, the nearest hospital, and a distance of nearly four miles. Record time was made by the ambulance.

The unfortunate young man's condition was serious when they reached the Western, and in all of the efforts of the surgeons, he expired a few minutes after his arrival.

Dalby was very well known in ward seven and was a member of a large

More Hindus Arrive

VICTORIA, B.C., Nov. 27.—(Can. Press)—After having completed the examination of a contingent of 56 Hindus intended for a great immigration problem, the officials of the Victoria Detention Corps are now ready to face with another similar task.

When the liner Chicago Maru berthed from the Orient today, there were 20 natives of the Indian Empire aboard. They were permitted to disembark and escorted to the detention buildings.

McFarlane, Conservative, Elected by 293, Cut in Majority Being Due to Local School Wrangle in Missouri—Heavy Vote Climax of Warm Fight.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—(Can. Press)—John McFarlane of Missouri today defeated John W. Aldrich, Liberal-Labour candidate for the legislature by a majority of 293. The vote was a large one, totaling 637. Mr. McFarlane received 285 and Mr. Aldrich 192. The majorities by townships were:

London 625
Dorchester 105
Westminster 215
Totals 628 335

The fight was a warm one, Mr. Rowell, the Liberal leader, appearing several times in the riding.

The temperance issue while it played a large part in the fight, did not altogether account for the result. Mr. McFarlane's own township, Nissouri, gave a majority against him of 120. This was on account of a bitter fight over the continuation of schools in this strong Conservative township.

REDUCTION IN MAJORITY. The Conservative majority shows a considerable reduction in comparison with that obtained in last year's election, when the late member, Geo. Nesley, was returned by 539. The conditions at that time were, however, unusual. The Liberal candidate, Sutherland, met with much opposition within the party ranks on the ground that he lacked sympathy with the "abolish-the-bar" campaign, and that he was an independent Conservative in yesterday's contest. Mr. Laidlaw, who was described as the "fusion" candidate, was expected to make inroads on the votes of Conservatives, and favored the Rowell temperance propaganda.

United States Rightfully Considers Itself Responsible for Liberties of Smaller Nations of Hemisphere—President Wilson's Policy One to Command Admiration of World.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—(Can. Press)—The Thanksgiving dinner of the American Society here tonight was noteworthy because of the pronouncement of the British Government's endorsement of the Monroe doctrine by Viscount Haldane, Lord High Chancellor. Three hundred and fifty American men and women, with a large number of British guests, were present, and they cheered Lord Haldane's words again and again.

Robert N. Fairbanks, president of the society, proposed the King, and Lord Haldane proposed the president of the U.S.

"I recently made a visit to the U.S.," he said, "and came back not only with a vivid recollection of the cordial welcome I received, but with a deep sense of the high ideals the British and American nations hold in common—the high ideals of citizenship of the two countries."

Responsibility on U.S. Speaking of the Monroe doctrine he said that the U.S. considered herself responsible for the liberties of the smaller nations of that hemisphere. He could see what was in the mind of the president of that time, and he believed the responsibility rested with the U.S. to secure good government and fair treatment for those countries.

He interpreted President Wilson's policy to mean that the U.S. was ready to accept the responsibility of insuring good terms herself in those countries and to those who went there, and that the U.S. should set up high ideals of policy, of justice and of righteousness.

Mr. Fairbanks said that anyone should speculate upon the interpretation of that policy, "but I have thought myself at liberty to say that I have, it is true, indeed, that I propose good health in high mind have been brought into the politics of the U.S. in its dealings with dependent countries, and it is because the president has taken the attitude of a step which none can but admire, whatever its PRIZES AWARDED FOR GOOD ESSAYS

Bishop Sweeney Presided at Meeting When Humane Society Gave Awards.

At the Margaret Eaton School last evening Bishop Sweeney presented the prizes to the pupils of the schools who had been awarded them for essays on the subject: "Why I should be Kind to Animals." The awards were from the Toronto Humane Society, the object being to awaken interest in the work of the association among the younger portion of the community. In the course of a short address, Bishop Sweeney said he thought the time had arrived when the people of Toronto ought to take seriously the work of the association which for twenty years had been doing such good in their midst by the crusade they carry on against cruelty to animals. Mr. Harris, the secretary, stated that owing to repairs on the headquarters building at McCaul street, and other expenses, funds were needed. Those present and the public generally were invited to contribute. The prize winners were as follows, under the name of their respective schools: prize: Dawson street, Blanche Noble, second prize: Grace West, Ethel Stephenson, St. Cecilia, Marjorie Hartwick; North Huron street, Abe Wilson, Mary Barlow; Deer Park, Cowan, King Edward, Ella M. Canham; McMurrich, Lloyds; Leaver; Withrow avenue, Joseph McDonald, Grace Cox; Winchester street, Jessie Sommerville; Esther, T. Nelson; James Flaxton, Lawrence Wallace; Norway, Gladys E. Hall, Edna Westerman, Doris Hopkins, Lily Doran. A good sized audience witnessed the presentation, and Mr. Kelso presided. Intimate knowledge may be a magnifying glass, but some men positively blind under it.

THE PARLOW-BACHAUS CONCERT

It was a regret and the only regret with all who attended the Parlow-Bachaus concert in Massey Hall last night, that the audience was not of more generous proportions. Miss Kathleen Parlow, as a Canadian who has attained international reputation as a violinist of the highest distinction, and who has several times been accorded notable receptions in this city, had a right to expect a better patronage, and Wilhelm Bachhaus is a brilliant and artistic pianist. Miss Parlow played in her most perfect style, and even after the visit of such giants as Tsayee and Kreisler, there is nothing disparaging to be said of her tone or her technical facility. Her bowing produces a note of exquisite purity, and while the purity remains, she displayed increasing strength last night and maturity and breadth, which promises still more in the years to come for so young a virtuoso. The lovely sonata in C minor, by Grieg, with which the concert opened, with its wealth of melodious tenderness, was exquisitely rendered, and Mr. Bachhaus who took the piano part admirably, fell into the spirit of the piece and sea and the thrilling nature of the cadenzas, in which Grieg is so prolific, afforded scope for every phase of poetic fancy, and Miss Parlow is a true exponent of the Grieg temperament. Her second number was the Paganini concerto in D major, in which her brilliance technically impressed the audience. Her tone throughout was of a beauty, which shakes out cadenzas and lightning harmonies won unreserved admiration. In her third suite the soul of poetry and romance in her interpretations was as apparent as in the Grieg number. Her Nocturne, a frankish Hungarian dance (Brahms-Jacobson) and Wieniawski's Polonaise in A major, won a double encore. Miss Par-low responded first with Kreisler's "Caprice Viennoise," and secondly with Schubert's "Moment Musical," gentle, and gently strong, was excellent in the Grieg sonata, but found most favor with the audience in more familiar Chopin selections. He was applauded after each number and encored again and again, and the audience would have listened to Chopin as long as he cared to play. He also gave two Schubert numbers, and Tausig's "Military March," which also received an encore. Charlton Keith, an old London pupil of Prof. Hamburg, accompanied Miss Parlow in her solos, and acquitted himself admirably. A. E. S. S.

ARREST OF ZELAYA DUE TO DECISION OF COURT

No Political Animosity Behind Murder Charge is Official Declaration. WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(Can. Press.)—After receiving a cablegram from his government, Gen. Camorro, Nicaraguan minister here, tonight issued the following statement: "The legation of Nicaragua desires it to be known that the government of Nicaragua is not proceeding against Gen. Jose Zelaya in the case of extradition for political animosity, but only in fulfilling the decision of the supreme Court of Nicaragua, which has indicted Gen. Zelaya for the crime of murder. When the documents arrive the legation will be pleased to give all the information required." All the world's a stage, with mighty men intermissions to go out between the acts.

CITY MISSION ANNUAL MEETING

Good Work Done, But Financial Assistance is Urgently Needed.

The thirty-fourth annual report of the Toronto City Mission was presented at a meeting held in Westminster Presbyterian Church last evening. The report tells of the work done by the missionaries in the house to house travels, on the street corners and in the jails, and the good that is being done at the mission summer house at Bronte. Rev. Robert Hall, the senior minister, told of the hardships to be met with in carrying out the work and of the deplorable conditions to be found in the slum districts of the city. A great many of the people are found without food, warmth or clothes, and in many cases they are packed into rooms like pigs. He made a plea to those present to aid financially in the work. The door to door work was explained by Rev. Albert Osborne. Rev. John McNeil, pastor of Cooke's Presbyterian Church, spoke of the length on general mission work and the hardships to be met with. He stated that nowadays not enough work on the street corners was being done by the ministers of the various churches and denominations. The report presented for the year ending Oct. 1 showed that the past session was the most successful since the commencement of the mission thirty-four years ago.

CHAIRMAN OF SCHOOL BOARD WILL ENTER MUNICIPAL FIGHT

William W. Hiltz, Announced as Aldermanic Candidate in Ward One, Stands With Mayor Hocken for a Clean-Up of the Electric Franchises.

W. W. Hiltz, chairman of the board of education and a type of citizen that can be depended upon to add strength to the sane and progressive element in the city council, will offer himself for election on Jan. 1, as alderman for ward one. He is strongly in favor of the clean-up of the franchises. "As I understand Mayor Hocken's plan for the clean-up of the franchises," Mr. Hiltz said, "there is to be the utmost assurance that the agreement of purchase provides for a clean-up of the franchises. The matter will not be submitted to the electors until there is that assurance. "I also understand that the agreement of purchase has to run the gauntlet of the Provincial Hydro Electric Commission and the lieutenant-governor in council, and that the special counsel of the commission and the government will promptly send the agreement of purchase back to the civic legal department if it fails to assure a clean-up of the franchises. Nothing to Fear. "With this extraordinary protection of the city's interests," Mr. Hiltz said, "I feel that the citizens have nothing to fear when the bylaw will be submitted to property owners. When the agreement of purchase is ready for the council to submit a bylaw I certainly will be a strong supporter of it, for I will be positive that everything possible has been done to assure a clean-up of the franchises. "My experience in land values," Mr. Hiltz continued, "convince me that a unified street railway service on a fare basis will give opportunity to workingmen to own homes within convenient reach of work and where the environment will be much more pleasant than in the present congested area or in the suburbs unserved by rapid transit."

In anticipation of the usual Christmas rush, the Canadian Express Co. have addressed a circular to all agents and employees, impressing on them the necessity of extending to all patrons every possible attention and courtesy, and giving all shipments the greatest expedition and care. Accuracy and efficiency is the slogan.

HEARTS ARE SET ON NURSES' HOME Western Hospital Board of Ladies Have Novel Project in View. PRESIDENT RE-ELECTED Mrs. Stowe-Gullen Will Retain Her Position During Another Year.

The annual meeting of the ladies' board of the Western Hospital was held yesterday afternoon, the president, Dr. Stowe Gullen, in the chair. It was reported that eight meetings had been held during the year, and it is expected that within the next few days the nurses of the institution will number eighty. The ward in memory of Emily Stowe Gullen is almost ready and is being looked after by Dr. Stowe Gullen. A properly equipped Nurses' Home is the object upon which the board will now concentrate. Dr. Gullen in her address emphasized the need, and expressed the hope that funds may be raised probably thru private subscription, for the thirty thousand or so necessary. The president took considerable pride in her reports, which were all most satisfactory, and said that the board had never yet had to report a deficit. Flowers were presented the president by Mrs. Price Brown on behalf of the ladies present. The entertainment committee reported a surplus of $479.14. The committee of good cheer had distributed clothing, boots and socks, mufflers and ties last Christmas, and steps were taken to provide a special dinner for all in the hospital at the near festive time. The president referred to the death of Mrs. Kerry, one of their early members and to the illness of Mrs. Alexander Darling, another of their good workers. A vote of thanks was offered Mrs. Nelson Wilkinson, who for the past four years had so ably attended to the work of the corresponding secretary, but who, owing to pressure of other calls, had to resign.

CLARENCE LUCAS NOW IN TORONTO

Distinguished Composer Here for Recital by Miss Zollner and Mrs. Campbell.

Clarence Lucas, the distinguished Canadian composer, arrived in the city to be present at the recital of his own works at Forestors' Hall, Saturday night, by Miss Zollner, pianist, and Mrs. Elizabeth Campbell, contralto, and is the guest of Mr. W. O. Forsyth. Mr. Lucas has just published thru Hoosey House of London and New York a large work for five part chorus, based on Edgar Poe's poem, the "Bells," dedicated to Dr. A. S. The program follows: Prelude and Fugue in F Minor, Op. 88 (1909), (dedicated to Mark Hambourg); Songs—(a) So Like a Flower (1892); (b) When Winter Comes (1909); (c) A Song of Memories (1911); (d) Piano—(a) Moon of Omar (1912), dedicated to W. NURSERY

CONDUCTED BY Elinor Murray
Scissors.

The two-and-three-quarters boy has reached the scissors age. It is snip, snip, snip at all times and all places. There is a wonderful fascination about snipping; and it makes little difference whether the snipped is the baby's blessed curls or daddy's new coat. Indeed to protect oneself it is necessary either to keep the young man continually under a watchful eye or to lock up everything that looks like a pair of shears. The first method is not conducive to mother's good nature; the second is sure to upset the baby's equanimity. And yet, I have down in this list of selected toys, one pair of scissors. But note the complete toy: One small pair of round-tipped scissors and a box of string.

It makes a splendid gift. A pretty box with the scissors and colored and plain string will delight a youngster, and prove an instructive plaything. To play the game, produce a pair of scissors for yourself and suggest to the little one that the two of you play a new game of cutting string. Then cut off bits of string in from three-inch to six-inch lengths. Be very careful, and, as you cut, lay each length by itself. This game properly belongs to the spring time, for then you can put the bits of string in the garden for the birds to use in their nests. Soon the little one can cut something of more substance, bits of cloth or ends of ribbon. In some way use up the cut pieces. Never let a child cut just for the sake of clipping, let there be some object in view.

EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPING BY HENRIETTA D. GRAUEL DOMESTIC SCIENCE LECTURER

To Make Hard White Soap

VERY fortunate is the woman who is able to save a few bits of fat each day, aside from the necessary crock of clarified dripping that she uses for cooking, for in a short time she will have enough to make a fine, white, hard soap at little cost.

The manufacture of soap is more a matter of skill than of exact science, as the alkalies and oils used vary so much. Housekeepers never think of having their toilet and family soap analyzed because it generally looks good and makes suds, yet there is room here for considerable loss. There is a soap on the market, largely advertised, that contains 70 per cent. water. Externally it cannot be told from a soap that contains only 15 per cent. It is easy to see how, by simply increasing the amount of water, there can be deception in soap.

I do not advise all women to make their own soap, but I repeat that the women who can save enough fat scraps to make the directions below of practical use to them are fortunate from an economical standpoint. You will only need a few pounds of fat to make eight or a half pounds of soap. The grease must be clarified and this is accomplished by turning the fat into a big pan and covering it with hot water. When all the fat is melted stir it well and let cool. The clean grease will rise to the top and the impurities will settle to the bottom of the pan. If there are bits of suet in the fat, it will necessitate straining it.

Put the clean cake of grease in a pan over a slow fire and when it is melted add a can of lye that has been previously dissolved in a pall containing a quart of cold water. When the lye is put in the water it foams up; it must be stirred with a wooden spoon or a stick until it is quiet. Remove the mixture from the range as soon as the lye is added. If you like you may add a few drops of oil of lemon, or of rose geranium at this time, and if a very strong soap for cleaning kitchen utensils and scrubbing is desired, add two tablespoons of ammonia and a cup of washing soda. Of course, for toilet soap only perfume is added, though a little powdered borax is favored by some families.

The mixture must be stirred for about twenty minutes when it will begin to set; do not stir after this or it will separate. This may be poured into boxes, trays, pans or molds and when perfectly hard, stamped or cut into cakes. When dry it is a very good, mild white soap, which will float on water. It is very little trouble to make soap by this cold process and the longer it is kept the harder and better it becomes.

Castile soap, it is interesting to learn, is made from soda, or some similar, mild alkali. When carbolic acid, in small quantities, is added exclusively in Spain, the greater part coming from the south of France and called Marseilles soap in Europe.

Another fine soap is made from coconut oil; this is extremely hard and is not affected by salt water so it is much used at sea and is known as marine soap. When carbolic acid, in small quantities, is added to coconut soap, a splendid healing cleanser results and this is called hospital soap.

Autumn Tree Planting.
Most nurserymen maintain that the best results are gained, as far as shrub and tree planting are concerned, by autumn planting. While some still insist that their stock be planted in spring, yet the results of autumn planting are undeniably the most successful, always provided, of course, that the planting is done by capable and responsible people. For it is no easy matter to plant the smallest tree or shrub. Understanding of many points, knowledge, interest and sympathy of the work in hand, together with a keen eye for the possibilities of the future—all these and more, are necessary to the perfect planting of a tree.

Let us explain. For instance take the ever-present need for the close regard of the law of proportion. With trees and shrubs, for decorative purposes, one must not forget to take into consideration the size such will attain when full grown. Therefore care should be taken that no desirable view will be shut off, no present arrangement of things interfered with when the tops reach skyward and spreading branches are full grown. Again, when full growth is reached, will there be undue crowding, and thus a failure in producing a desired effect?

As an example of planting that is bound to be unsuccessful, because of a too close planting, we would call your attention to a certain prominent public building, not a thousand miles from the heart of this city. In front of this building, are one or two round or oval beds, in which a number of evergreen trees are crowded—cedars—we think we saw a spruce or two, and perhaps a pine as well. Now, we may be mistaken, but ten years from now, those small beds containing enough trees for a large lawn, are going to present an entirely unique effect.

The holes in which your trees are to be placed, cannot be too large or too deep. Tree roots do not grow in a bunch, so do not plant them thus. One of the most splendid ways of digging tree holes, is the way of using a small charge of dynamite. Just think of the way the soil cannot help but be loosened up, when this method is used. However, we are not advising everyone to use dynamite. If you are acquainted with someone who is thoroughly conversant with the use of agricultural dynamite, get this person to blast your tree holes. The charges cost but a few cents, while no amount of digging can produce the same result and loosen up a stubborn soil, especially if the frost has already penetrated some inches.

Old manure, some sand, some wood ashes, these help to enrich and sweeten questionable soil, and may be used to hasten healthy growth. Under the frozen earth, the restless tree roots will be reaching out and taking firm hold on the loosened soil, so that when spring arrives they will already have grown settled sufficiently in new quarters, to be ready to manufacture the necessary life-giving sap, for the production of leaves, new twigs and branches.

Nor will autumn-planted trees suffer from the heat and drought of a long summer, as spring-planted ones are almost sure to do. In towns of course where one can depend upon a Long Island Man Advertised Six Months to Get Life Mate—English Girl Won.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—(Can. Press).—Ernest W. Darrow, a contracting mason of Patchogue, Long Island, celebrated this Thanksgiving day by taking his pick of over 400 women who had offered to be his life mate. Darrow had been advertising for a wife since last May, and not only did the several hundred applicants besiege him by letter, by telegraph and telephone, but many visited him in person.

It was learned today that Miss Julia Stagg, an English girl who landed in Canada from England nine months ago, and went to live in Brooklyn, had won, and the couple were married late this afternoon. According to the terms of his advertisement, Darrow, who announced that he made $50 a week, and that he had four motherless children, will turn over four-fifths of his weekly salary for the support of his wife and children, and household expenses.

EXPENSIVE LIVING WAS AMERICAN THANKSGIVING

Most Costly Eating During Last Twenty-Five Years—General Squaring of Prices.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(Can. Press).—Thanksgiving dinner today was the most expensive meal the average American had eaten during the last 25 years. It cost from 35 to 100 per cent. more than it did ten years ago, and from 15 to 50 per cent. more than any Thanksgiving Day during the last six years, according to recently gathered government statistics.

Thousands of turkeys spoiled by having been shipped to market during the unseasonably warm wave which overpowered the country a week ago; the drought of last summer which shortened crop yields, particularly white potatoes; an alleged cold storage combination, which Attorney-General McReynolds is now investigating to find if millions of dozens of eggs and millions of pounds of dairy products have been withheld from the market by middlemen to force high prices; and the steady soaring of prices generally during the last decade, are among the contributing causes to which economists point.

HARBOR BOARD PLAN SATISFIES NONE OF THE THREE CONDITIONS

Two-Fare System Would Continue Radial Terminus Would Be Valueless Away From Retail Centre — No Way is Suggested of Making the Plan Finance Itself.

At last the public discussion of the street railway purchase has been brought down to a practical basis. The harbor commission bombshell that went off like a squib has now placed the opposition in such a position that they must concede the street railway purchase a transportation issue, and not a means by which to work the overthrow of Mayor Hocken. The bombshell was prepared by the harbor commission with the sole intent of working the overthrow of Mayor Hocken. Evidence of that is too plain to be successfully denied. The bombshell did not and will not overthrow Mayor Hocken, for he has already made good; but it will hereafter hold public discussion of the street railway purchase to a practical basis—the solution of the transportation problem. In offering by an auxiliary to Mayor Hocken's plan of solving the transportation problem the harbor commission, incidentally represents the organized opposition to Mayor Hocken, has conceded that the solution of the transportation problem must be given the property owners before a bylaw is submitted.

There are but three leading points for consideration of the solution of the transportation problem as follows:

1. A street railway service for the whole of the city, and upon a one-fare basis. No other service, but the solution of the problem, for all taxpayers should have equal rights to the benefits of public conveniences.
 2. The development of a system of radials. This is only practicable by the city retaining control of all the streets and then co-operating with the radial companies upon a mutually profitable basis.
 3. The power to so finance the purchase of the properties that the debt will be wiped out without seriously interfering with the necessary street railway service.
- Something Was Needed.
- Up to last Wednesday morning, when the harbor commission bombshell was thrown, and to the squib, the opposition had held the debate to the financial end of the issue, and tried to compel the ignoring of the primary need of solving the transportation problem. By these tactics the opposition had controversy running in a circle and getting nowhere. The property owners were not shouting for or against Mayor Hocken. Something had to be done. The bombshell was prepared, and it had to be loaded with some form of solution of the transportation problem. Presumably there were no dollars and cents available for ammunition. The bombshell was thrown—no, sneaked by Controller Church under Mayor Hocken's nose. The conspirators who gathered to see the slaughter saw the bombshell turn out to be a harmless squib. They retired discomfited. Why was the bombshell a squib? It was loaded by employees under instructions giving no heed to equal rights to taxpayers, or to a street railway service for the whole of the city—the principal reason for any effort to solve the transportation problem—they resurrected the plan for a tube down Yonge street, together with a few extensions of city car lines.

Terminus Valueless.

Giving no heed to ways and means for financing a publicly owned transportation system, those employees of the harbor commission incidentally mentioned that the small sum of $15,000,000 with unlimited extras, would finance their plan for solving the transportation problem, and that the harbor commission would not only do the financing, but the management also of a transportation system for Toronto and the townships and counties adjoining. And the harbor commission approved this still further absurdity!

A Firm Basis.

Out of the harmless bombshell and the absurdities of the two employees of the harbor commission has come, however, relief from endless controversy over financing. The debate must now be held to a solution of the transportation problem.

Mayor Hocken's plan provides for all the essentials to a practical solution of the transportation problem. Every move he makes is being doubly safeguarded. The property owners may rely upon these three facts:

1. That until the agreement of purchase is complete, a solution of Toronto's transportation problem is not assured.
2. That unless the agreement of purchase assures a solution of Toronto's transportation problem, the submission of a bylaw to purchase the properties would be impossible.
3. That if the agreement of purchase assures the solution of Toronto's transportation problem, it must necessarily also assure a practical method of financing a clear-up of the franchises.

Currency Legislation Has to Give Place to Thanksgiving Joys

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(Can. Press).—The lure of the Thanksgiving turkey tonight made the first break in the Democratic senate program devised to rush the administration currency bill thru that body before the holidays. After working all day on the measure with but a slim attendance, the conference of senate Democrats finally declined to hold tonight's scheduled session.

Too many of the senators had Thanksgiving dinner engagements that they declined to break," said Senator Kern, chairman of the conference. So there will be no night session.

The conference will meet tomorrow morning, however, to begin another day of hurried consideration of the bill. More than one-third of the bill as reported by Senator Owen and the five other administration Democrats on the banking and currency committee was gone over at today's session.

WANT HEAVY FINES FOR DRUNKENNESS

One Hundred and Fifty-One Municipalities Represented in Deputation.

HANNA IS FAVORABLE

Districts Not Under Local Option, But Without Licenses, Seek Legislation.

The recognized temperance forces of the province are looking to the Whitney government for the adoption of a new phase of restrictive legislation. The proposal involves the imposition of local option penalties in districts at the present time without licenses, by the special decision of the local commissioners. The aim is to have drunkenness in dry territory which lies adjacent to that under license, fall subject to the same restrictions as those where the three-fifth clause has resulted in local option.

The Townships of Oxford and Durham, lying about the Town of Ingersoll, have made the first move in this direction. Hon. W. J. Hanna was approached by a large deputation yesterday afternoon and asked, on behalf of 151 municipalities, to make this measure possible. Joseph Gibson, ex-president of the Dominion Alliance, headed the party of visitors and acted as spokesman before the minister.

The legislation sought involves several sections of the License Act. By one of these the right is given to local commissioners to refuse the granting of new licenses unless the application be accompanied by a majority of the electors speaking in its favor. Of these one-third must be immediate residents. In this way 151 municipalities in Ontario are now without license, according to the statement of Mr. Gibson.

Twenty-Dollars Fine.

What is now desired is that in the case of those found drunk upon the streets in such territory the penalty imposed shall be $20 and costs in the first offence, with a maximum of $50. It was advanced that ordinarily such a case was disposed of with a minor fine of $1.50.

It was pointed out that a frequent occurrence is the obtaining of liquor on one side of the border line and the drinking of it on the other, to the nuisance of the neighborhood and the comparative safety of the offenders. Cases exist where the distinction is drawn down the centre of a road.

If the suggested law were put into force the only places where drunkenness on the streets would escape without serious penalties would be in regularly licensed quarters, and it has been remarked that such an arrangement would not be logical. The chief plea of the deputation was that the municipalities they represented were now enjoying the benefits of local option in every way except as to the penalties.

The minister commented favorably on the subject and stated that it would receive serious consideration. The delegation included President Kipp of the Oxford Prohibition Association, and Messrs. Hopkins and McLean of the Ingersoll district.

OTTAWA WILL REQUIRE BIG BLOCK OF POWER

Delegation From Capital City Waited on Hon. Adam Beck Yesterday.

The City of Ottawa is meditating drawing on the provincial power supply to an increasing extent during the coming year. For several hours yesterday a delegation of civic representatives waited in conference with Hon. Adam Beck and Engineer Gaby on the steps to be taken.

It is understood that because of new enterprises in the east, a much larger block than before will be required, and it is likely in that connection that the rates will be materially reduced.

TWO HIGHWAYMEN FALL IN ATTEMPTED HOLD-UP

(Special to The Toronto World).

QUELLEN, Nov. 27.—Stanley Gray, local agent for a machine company, was halted by two highwaymen in an attempted hold-up a mile and a half west of Rockwood.

Gray had delivered a machine to a customer at Rockwood, and was on his way home when the two men attacked him. One seized the horse by the head, while the other climbed up onto the wagon and grabbed the intended victim by the neck. The horse shied, throwing both men to the ground. Gray applied the whip to the horse and escaped.

There have been several attempted hold-ups in this neighborhood of late, and the county police are investigating.

C. A. Magrath Says So, Adding That Bad Roads Con- tribute Also.

MEANS HIGH RENTALS

And Merchants Naturally Tack Added Cost to Consumers' Burden.

(Special to The Toronto World). OTTAWA, Nov. 27.—The high cost of living is to be laid chiefly at the door of the real estate man. Bad roads have something to do with it also. Those were the outstanding statements made by C. A. Magrath, ex-M.P., today. Officially he is known as a distinguished member of the international waterways commission, and a member also of the Ontario roads commission.

"No, I don't see that the tariff has anything to do with the increased cost of living," he said. "When I was a boy we paid six cents a pound for sugar, and we are paying the same today; yet there is heavy duty on sugar." "You've got to look somewhere else. Our trouble is domestic. It is of our own creation. We have allowed the real estate man to do it. He has manipulated our real estate, and we have paid him our tax. We have allowed the price of selling out at a profit. We are to blame ourselves. We have allowed his subdivision of farms, and we have money into them and have gone short of cash. The real estate man has won the pool, and now the people are suffering. Makes High Rentals

GOOD ROADS ARE SOLUTION

"The whole trouble doesn't end at the store," continued Mr. Magrath. "There are the houses we live in. Property has been booted in the residential districts also and rents have gone away up. These rents have to be paid. The merchant must make big enough profits to pay his higher rent, and the employe must get a larger salary to meet the higher price laid down the higher money at the counter of the merchant. With the wages of his staff going up, the merchant has to get more profits to pay them. And again the public has to pay."

TURNING TO THE ROADS QUESTION WHICH MR. MAGRATH IS TRYING TO SOLVE IN ONTARIO, HE POINTED OUT THAT IF THERE WERE GOOD ROADS THERE WOULD BE GOOD TRANSPORTATION.

An automobile would have to travel ten miles to a city in the same time that a horse would carry it from three to six miles. Thus the farmer would be able to get to the markets, there would be greater competition and there would be benefits both to the farmers and the public. Today the large majority of the farmers cannot get their produce to the markets at all, and so it is not growing, and they come so seldom with dairy produce that the public is unable to supply the demand.

BUT, AS MR. MAGRATH POINTED OUT, THE FARMER IS NOT GETTING THE BIG PRICES THAT HE IS GOING TO GET IF THE MIDDLEMAN IS TAKING CARE OF HIM.

The chief trouble, as Mr. Magrath showed, was not in the cost of goods that are imported, but in the cost of food. Good roads would widen the field of produce and the public would be able to get it. It is interesting to remember that the senate last session killed the efforts of the government that would have

PANAMA AS A WINTER RESORT

English Capital Said to Be Interested in Making a Pleasure Place of the Old Latin American Town

By Willis J. Abbott, Author of "Panama and the Canal in Picture and Prose." Copyright, 1913, Syndicate Publishing Co., New York. All rights reserved.

It is reported from Panama that an English syndicate is planning the erection of a winter resort hotel in that city near the water. The United States Government has left an opening for such an enterprise by placing the Hotel, on an eminence with its admirable view of the sea. It is true, but nevertheless nearly a mile from the water. However, the government did not build the hotel for the purpose of going into the tourist hotel business, but in the course of the last season it entertained more than 25,000 such guests.

Panama ought to make a good winter resort. Its climate in the dry season is wholly admirable, the steady trade wind blowing across the Isthmus so mitigating the heat of the sun that you seldom hear speculation as to the height of the thermometer. That, indeed, is by no means extreme, the maximum recorded in recent years being 97 degrees in summer, and the minimum, in the month of March, the height of the tourist season. No point in the tropics could afford to the visitor more varied matters of interest. Fishing and hunting are in plenty for the sportsman, and the game of Crocodile Creek excel in size and numbers any sportsman found north of South America. For the historical student there are the adjacent ruins of old Panama, while those of Naure de Dios and Porto Bello are distant only a day's journey. The zeal of any explorer may be tested by a few days' struggle with the jungle in the Darien, and if one has a fancy for primitive peoples he will find aboriginal types among the San Blas, the Choles and the Chocos in the same territory. Their life has never yet been adequately observed by civilized people, for the very simple reason that they expel the white man as soon as he appears. The latter found there; gently if they can, forcibly if they must. The San Blas Indians, in particular, have dread of any white man, and their raiding parties are kept rigidly sequestered and until a very recent time no white man was allowed to remain over night within their borders. Besides the interest that will attach to the ceaseless activity of the great canal, with the ships of all nations joining back and forth, and being lifted over the backbone of the continent in its locks, the City of Panama itself is full of interest. There are few points so thoroughly foreign on American soil, and to this exotic character may be expected to suffer from the growth before it has whole vanished. Its carnival for really Latin gaily eclipses anything seen on this continent. We have tried carnivals in various of our more cold-blooded American cities, but we cannot get the spirit. Our floats are more artistic and expensive, our decorations never so lavish, but we cannot get the spirit. Our floats are more artistic and expensive, our decorations never so lavish, but we cannot get the spirit. Our floats are more artistic and expensive, our decorations never so lavish, but we cannot get the spirit.

One decided advantage of Panama as a winter resort is its perfect sanitation, under the direction of the canal officials. Mosquitoes are wholly eliminated, flies practically so. The drinking water is continually tested and maintained in clean streets and unimpeded sewers are assured by the supervision of the government. As a winter resort it should be highly popular with the people of this country, and money to travel so far for rest and pleasure.
