The copy filmed here has been reproduced thanks to the generosity of:

National Library of Canada

The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shell contains the symbol \rightarrow (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol ∇ (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'exemplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

Bibliothèque nationale du Canada

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminent soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminent par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaît sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole \rightarrow signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole ∇ signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

THREE SEA SONGS

Three Sea Songs.

THE BALLAD OF THE "ROVER."

Come all you jolly sailor lads, that love the cannon's roar,

Your good ship on the briny wave, your lass and glass ashore,

How Nova Scotia's sons can fight you presently shall hear,

And of gallant captain Godfrey in the Rover privateer.

She was a brig of Liverpool, of just a hundred tons;

She had a crew of fifty-five, and mounted fourteen guns:

When south against King George's foes she first began to steer,

A smarter craft ne'er floated than the Rover
privateer.

Five months our luck held good all up and down
the Spanish Main;

And many a prize we overhauled and sent to port again;

Until the Spaniards laid their plans with us
to interfere,
And stop the merry cruising of the Rover privateer.

The year was eighteen hundred, September tenth
the day,
As off Cape Blanco in a calm all motionless we lay.
When the schooner Santa Ritta and three gun-boats did appear,
Asweeping down to finish off the Rover privateer.

With muskets and with pistols we engaged them as they came,
Till they closed in port and starboard, to play
the boarding game;
Then we manned the sweeps, and spun her round without a thought of fear,
And raked the Santa Ritta from the Rover
privateer.

At once we spun her back again; the gunboats were too close;
But our gunners they were ready, and they gave the Dons their dose.

They kept their distance after that and soon away did sheer,
And left the Santa Rita to the Rover privateer.

We fought her for three glasses, and then we went aboard,
Our gallant captain heading us with pistol and with sword;
It did not take us very long her bloody deck to clear,
And down came the Spanish colours to the Rover privateer.

We brought our prizes safe to port—we never lost a man;
There never was a luckier cruise since cruising first began;
We fought and beat four Spaniards—now
did you ever hear
The like of Captain Godfrey and the Rover
privateer?

THE BALLAD OF "LA TRIBUNE."

As long as men for fellow men face death and falter not,

As long as daring deeds are kept in memory
unforgot,

As long as corpses on the shore by any sea are strewn,

Shall be told the wreck and rescue of the frigate La Tribune.

'Twas seventeen ninety-seven, and November twenty-third,

When La Tribune with all sail set, as straight as flies the bird,

Sped swift to port in Halifax. The wind blew fair from south,

And no one thought of danger, as she near'd
the harbour-mouth.

It was the master's greed and pride that cast
the ship away;

He would not take a pilot on: he wanted pilot's pay;

He boasted he could bring her into harbour
safe and sound,

And on the outer Thrum Cap shoals he ran her hard aground.

Save one for signals, all her guns were lighten'd in the sea,

And made a reef of iron, on the granite, on her lee.

'Twas useless; they must wait the tide. And all that afternoon,

The minute-gun spoke grimly the distress of La Tribune.

They wait as, with the rising gale, the floodtide faster runs,

And the good ship rolls and breaks her bones on her own tumbled guns.

Still no one dreams, as swiftly fades the winter's day in night,

Not ten of all her hardy crew shall see tomorrow's light.

At last she floated with the tide, and in the dark she drove,

A swaling hulk, before the storm, away to Herring Cove;

And when the dragging anchor held, and hope revived again,

She sank, and carried down with her well-nigh three hundred men.

Some fifty reach'd the rigging, and by the watch-fire's blaze,

All night the men of Herring Cove stood helplessly to gaze

At clinging wretches torn away from their frail hold to die,

Till only eight were left to see the bitter morning sky.

They did not venture out at night, nor yet at dawning day;

They said thro' such a welter never boat could make her way.

And none were found so hardy to affront those breakers wild,

Till the men were sham'd to action by the daring of a child.

An alien fisher 'prentice, he would not stand idly by

While life and strength were in him, and watch those sailors die.

He told to none his purpose, no one guessed what it might be,

Till they saw him rowing down the Cove towards the open sea.

With every sinew starting he slowly fights his way

To where the masts stand quivering against the yeasty spray.

In the drenched rigging where they cling, there were but two alone

Able to stir; the rest hung numb and sodden to the bone.

And in their hour of rescue, the twain their lives forego,

And lower two senseless comrades to the rocking
ark below;

They stay behind and watch the overladen boat to shore,

Where the boy lands his precious freight, and seaward turns once more.

A second time he starts alone in rescue to the wreck,

But his boyish strength is broken and the billows sweep him back.

But he has not spent himself in vain; at length a boat is mann'd;

And soon the last faint sailor is safe upon the land.

• • • • •

Twelve fathom deep by Herring Cove that frigate's timbers lie,
To foul the careless inshore nets, as they go drifting by;
And to this day men tell the tale, and name
the Tribune Shoal,
But no one knows the name or fate of that young hero soul.

OFF CORONEL

Nov. 1, 1914.

In the stormy Southern sunset, great guns spoke from ship to ship; Swift destruction, death, and fire leapt from every iron lip;
Till two crushed and flaming cruisers vanished
dumbly in the night, Sank, nor left a soul behind to tell of that disastrous fight.

In the dark, they died, our comrades, and without a sign they pass'd;
But they fought their guns and kept the Old Flag flying to the last.
Death is Litter in lost battle, but they died
to shield the Right,
So they swept from that brief darkness into God's eternal Light.

Captain Alexander Godfrey's despatch of Oct. 17, 1800, giving the details of this action, is printed in The Naval Chronicle, Feb. 1801. See also The Provincial, or Halifax Monthly Magazine, Vol. 2, pp. 338 f., 1853; and Murdoch, History of Nova Scotia, III, p. 198; and also E. P. Statham, Privateers and Privateering. L. 1910, pp. 336-340.

The original account of the wreck of the Tribune appeared in The Royal Gazette and The Nova Scotia Advertiser, Dec. 5, 1797, twelve days after the event. Some additional details are to be found in Hill's memoir of Sir Brenton Haliburton. Prose versions of this ballad and the following will appear in my forthcoming volume, "Old Province Tales" (Chronicles of Canada).

In H. M. S. Good Hope, sunk in the action with Von Sp's squadron on Nov. 1, 1914, were four Canadian midshipmen, Cann, Palmer, Silver and Hathaway. They had just completed their course in the Royal Naval College at Halifax when wa: broke out.
