CANADIANS HAVE ADVANCED INTO LENS BY FIGHTING WITH BAYONET AND ROBB

Official Report of the Canadian Advance

The official communication of the Canadian advance is as follows: "Early this morning we attacked the line of German trenches which skirts Lens to the west and northwest and captured the enemy's positions on a front of 2000 yards. "Heavy fighting has taken place and still continues. "At midday two strong counter-attacks northwest of Lens were beaten off by our troops, and a third counter-attack south of the town was broken up by our artillery. "We have captured a number of prisoners."

LAURIER FAVORS UNION CABINET AND CONSCRIPTION OF WEALTH

Would Call to Government's Ablest Men and Ask Britain How Best Canada Can Aid Allies.

Unionist Government Now More in Sight Than Ever

Political Situation Grows More Interesting and Uncertain, With Two Sets of Correspondence, Conferences and Rumors of Cabinet Changes Complicating Things.

Special to The Toronto World. Ottawa, Ont., August 21.—The following letter, which is in the nature of a manifesto, has been sent by Sir Wilfrid Laurier to Mr. Frank Wise, honorary secretary of the Win-the-War League of Toronto.

Ottawa, August 21, 1917.

Dear Sir:

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your favor of the 14th inst. enclosing a resolution of the Hamilton branch of the Win-the-War League to which my attention is directed. The resolution addressed to me is in the following language:

"We understand that you have again approached to join in the formation of a union national government, and as you have on more than one occasion stated that you are in this way to a finish, we appeal to you to cooperate by putting a definite limit on the time you desire for the continuation of voluntary enlistment and by stating the methods you wish to employ. We appeal to you also to state that if this effort for volunteers should fail to produce the men for the necessary reinforcements of the forces at the front you will agree to support conscription measures."

Desires It Duty. I would have thought that my record of utterances in and out of parliament would have left no one in doubt as to my opinion on the different inquiries of the above resolution. But since there are some of my fellow-countrymen who express the wish for further explicit declaration I deem it my duty at once to comply with the request. At the opening of hostilities in August, 1914, I stated that I fully approved the participation of Canada in support of Great Britain and her allies. It seemed evident to me that this truth has become more and more manifest as events developed until even the American people, who strongly adverse to war, had also to enter the conflict.

I then held and still hold that the reasons were paramount for Canada to exert her full strength in support of an intelligent organization and mobilization of all its resources. While willing and ready to make every allowance for and to help to correct every error, I am forced to state that in my judgment the administration now in office thru lack of a proper appreciation of the services that could be rendered by Canada for war purposes.

I would infer that the Hamilton branch of the Win-the-War League has reached the same conclusion. I have refused to join what they term a union, national government and I wish that I should have to do so.

Not Asked to Join Union. I may observe that I never was approached to join a union or national government. Some first duty must and frame a policy adapted to our national situation with the object of rallying to the end of helping to win the war.

I was invited, it is true, by the prime minister to join his government when he had already proposed to himself to a policy which had been suggested, but rather disapproved in all his previous utterances, and which, according to evidence, not a few, and not in proportion to a large number of our fellow-citizens in this country, I could not accept, but since adopted, the administration may and only thing to do was to support it to the people by a referendum, and if it

ENEMY RALLY A FIASCO MANY PRISONERS TAKEN

Canadians Killed Hundreds With Bayonet Who Counter-Attacked.

By T. Small, Staff Correspondent. The Canadians this morning fought their way forward with bombs and bayonets and occupied important enemy defences northwest and southwest of the heart of the city, and since then the Germans have been sending in wave after wave of infantry in desperate counter-attacks. The Canadians have held on strongly and the Germans have suffered very heavy casualties, as they must have expected from the nature of their counter-thrust in which no thought is given to the cost in life.

The striking feature of the battle lies in the fact that the Germans also had massed troops for a counter-attack at dawn against the newly acquired Canadian positions in the northwest environs of Lens, and had actually started their advance when they were surprised by encountering the onrushing Canadians on No Man's Land. Both offensives had begun at the same hour, but a heavy mist hung over the ground and the Germans were apparently unaware of the Canadian preparations until the Canadians were upon them with the bayonet.

It was a most dramatic scene. The Canadians followed and, leaping on the parapets, hurled masses of bombs and threw great numbers of troops. The Germans tried to break through the communication trenches, but the Canadians jumped among them with bayonets fixed to their rifles, killing many.

On the southwest front the Canadians were equally successful after very heavy fighting, in which the British artillery was brought into play. The most strenuous fighting of the day was progressing in the centre of the line west of Lens and on a little front near the left of the northwest positions, but the whole line was a seething caldron.

Win Strong Positions. The Canadians have achieved their immediate object of drawing their lines still closer to the heart of the city, and their goal, unless the German counter-attacks succeed. By today's attack the Canadians have gained possession of many railroad embankments and colliery sidings which afford excellent positions for their offensive or defensive operations.

The Canadian assault extended from the northwest to the southwest suburbs, and as the Germans were already evacuating the line west of Lens, Canadian defences the fighting quickly assumed the character of one of the most sanguinary conflicts which this battle-scourged terrain.

Clash at Dawn. On the northwest the Canadians and Germans clashed in No Man's Land just as the first streaks of day were appearing. From the start it was a struggle with hand bombs and bayonets, but the Canadians threw themselves upon the enemy with such fierceness that the Germans were forced to withdraw, battling step by step until the Canadian hand grenades had penetrated to a depth of several hundred yards and taken up new posts which they are holding against bitter counter-thrusts from the German front.

A circular line, around which the opposing forces are now fighting, is drawn close about the city proper, where the Germans had fortified themselves in concrete cellars and dugouts.

No estimate of casualties or prisoners is yet possible, but captured German documents beginning to arrive back of both fronts at an early hour.

ZEPPELIN DESTROYED OFF JUTLAND COAST Falls Victim to British Naval Forces, and None of Crew Survive.

The communication adds that there were no survivors from the crew of the airship.

United States Government Makes Big Loan to Britain

SUCCESS IS COMPLETE

Lying German Reports of Canadian Attack Are Denied.

By Stewart Lyon. Canadian Headquarters in France, via London, Aug. 21.—Sir Douglas Haig, in a message of congratulation to Sir Arthur Currie and the officers and men of the Canadian corps, makes short work of the lying German wireless report that the Canadians attacked with four divisions when Hill 70 and St. Laurent were captured, and failed to reach their objectives, despite extraordinary losses. The message follows: "Lieut.-General Sir Arthur Currie, Commanding Canadian Corps: "General Sir Henry Horne, commanding the first army, has much pleasure in forwarding the following message received from the field marching commander-in-chief: "Please convey the following message from me to Lieut.-General Sir A. W. Currie, commanding Canadian forces: "I desire to congratulate you personally on the complete and important success with which your command of the Canadian corps has been inaugurated on the 15th inst. totally defeated four German divisions, whose losses are reliably estimated at more than double those suffered by the Canadian troops. The skill, bravery and determination shown in the attack and in maintaining the positions won against repeated heavy counter-attacks were, in all respects, admirable."

"Congratulatory messages have also been received from the commanders of the various Canadian divisions. General Byng in his message, after expressing his delight at the fine achievement of the corps, says his old comrades have been much impressed during the progress of the operations."

Canadian Headquarters in France, via London, Aug. 21.—By a dashing attack this morning (Tuesday) around Lens, from the northwest to the south, our troops have penetrated the German defences at almost every point of contact. At the time of filing this despatch the situation is not clear, but the Germans in Lens are ringed about by eager foes, who are, with difficulty, restrained to the limits of their objectives and prevented from following the retreating Germans into the labyrinth of ruined houses, with their masses of concreted cellars and passages, where the enemy is at home and would have a very distinct advantage in the savage man-to-man fighting that has been going on all morning.

The wounded men who are coming out of the inferno, where men struggle for the mastery with bayonet and bomb, while the shells from the guns of all calibres explode around them, and the bullets of the machine gun barrage hum past like bees swarming, say they never before has the enemy fought with more stubborn ferocity. The prisoners state that the enemy were preparing to attack on the north of the front chosen for our assault. The objective of our storming waves on the northern end was heavily manned with Germans, and some had actually gone over and were advancing across No Man's Land to our front line when the barrage came down upon them.

There was a dense morning mist over all the countryside, and only the roofs of the houses in Lens could be seen piercing it here and there. In the ghostly grey light produced by this combination of smoke and cloud the Canadians and Germans met out in No Man's Land. The men of our men had the greater impetus, and fighting like wildcats the enemy were borne back. The men of a Winnipeg battalion say that their opponents were Prussian Guards of a division brought in since the final smashing of the fourth guard division on Saturday. They gave way very slowly, and on the parapet of the trench for a final stand for over fifteen minutes. It was close quarters work with bomb and bayonet, for rifle bullets at point-blank range are as infallible as a friend as an enemy. Finally the Prussians broke and ran to cover in the houses of Lens, whence they directed heavy machine gun and trench mortar fire on our men as they worked hurriedly to put the trench in a condition to resist a counter-attack.

On the southern front the struggle was even more intense, the struggle north. There burning oil was projected into enemy positions before our infantry went over, but the enemy took shelter in his deep concrete and emerged to meet our men. For a time the trench mortar and machine gun fire was too much for the Alberta men, who attacked with their bayonets, and who, according to reports, were wounded said that the storm of all sorts of projectiles thru which they passed was the greatest in their experience.

After very stiff fighting, in which the enemy contested every foot of the ground, a breach was ultimately made in the German front and our troops advanced, bombing their way thru the ruins of the houses.

Confused Fighting. The battle of today has followed the course of that of last week. Except on a small part of the front, our attacks achieved their purpose and despite the desperate resistance of the enemy, then began a period of confused fighting almost limit of human endurance. The first of them which has occurred, was directed against an important trench of Germans secured lodgment there, and upon a hard fight a company, despite the concentration of heavy guns, remained for several hours. The trench was subjected to bombing from our positions, and gradually the enemy were driven back.

A short distance to the south, in the region between St. Laurent and Lens, the enemy had tried to relieve the stranglehold of his assaulting force. Our counter-attacks set about 2 o'clock. This had not even a temporary success. Our vigilant and tireless artillery turned many guns upon the Germans, and their assault never reached our positions.

Small Engagements. Due south of Lens, almost two miles around a semi-circular front from the scene of the fighting just described, several small engagements were fought, which for hard hitting on both sides has seldom been equaled during these struggles for Lens. The cellars in this region had been crammed full of machine guns and trench mortars in anticipation that the Canadian attack would consist entirely of a frontal assault. These troops were also numerous, and they swarmed up from the cellars whenever the artillery fire was suspended to permit of our infantry going forward. They fought and died without any "kamerading."

Few Prisoners Taken. On one small bit of the front after a fight of great intensity the bodies of over a hundred German dead were left on the ground. Few prisoners were taken and most of the enemy wounded crawled back into the cellars from which they had emerged to meet the Canadian attack. It was from one of these cellars that a young lieutenant of a Quebec

CHARGED IN THE MIST

Storm of Projectiles Was Greatest Ever Seen on the Western Front.

What the Canadians Have Done in Last Seven Days

Desperate Series of Actions Leading to Capture of Lens Was Begun Just a Week Ago.

The Canadians began the present desperate series of actions just one week ago, when they captured Hill 70, one of the strongest positions on the western front. They followed up this advantage by defeating no fewer than 15 German divisions. Following their consolidation of the Hill 70 position, they drove the Germans completely from the eastern slopes and entered the northwestern outskirts of Lens proper. Their next step was the capturing of three lines of trenches on the railway embankment west of Lens, and yesterday they captured the German defences in a curve of 2000 yards right to the edges of the fortified cellars occupied by the Germans. They defeated one division of Prussian Guards last Wednesday and a German division which was made up yesterday. They have met and defeated superior numbers of Germans.

FOE'S DEFENCE FAILS ON HEIGHTS OF MEUSE

French Continue Successful Advance, Capturing Regnierville and Samogneux, North of Verdun, With Strong Interlocking Trench Systems.

Paris, Aug. 21.—The battle of Verdun has not yet ceased, and on the left bank of the Meuse the French troops have captured several important points, including the village of Regnierville. On the right bank the French have occupied Samogneux and carried a system of fortified trenches which links this place up with Hill 344.

The official report from the war office announcing the successes says that 15 German counter-attacks have been repulsed.

The text of the statement reads: "The two artilleries were quite active in the region north of Vauxaillon and on the Ceruy and Craonne plateaus. "In Champagne our fire of destruction against the German organizations in the sector of Hill 344 caused an explosion in gas reservoirs. Our reconnoitring parties found soon after enemy trenches were evacuated, that they were filled with dead."

"On the Verdun front the battle continued today at several points and developed everywhere to our advantage. On the left bank of the Meuse our troops captured Cole Lieux, which we occupied in its entirety, as well as the village of Regnierville.

"On the right bank in the course of a brilliant attack we took Samogneux and a whole system of fortified trenches which connects this village with the organization on Hill 344. German counter-attacks were repulsed. We made additional prisoners.

"On the Vosges an enemy surprise attack against our small posts at Hartmanns-Wellerkopf were without result.

"Belgian communication: The activity of both artilleries somewhat decreased. Our aviators carried out numerous flights. It is confirmed that two enemy aeroplanes were brought down within their own lines, one on Aug. 16 at Gheruvel, the other on the 18th, near Ferryville. Yesterday and today German aviators were very active. They make about 200 flights daily."

TRENTON ORGANIZES. Trenton, Aug. 21.—Trenton has organized a resources committee, with the following officers: President, W. W. Mordoff, vice-president, Geo. Collins; secretary, Robert White. The officers will be assisted by a strong committee. The meeting, which was called by the mayor, was well attended. Prof. Parks of Toronto gave a fine address.

HARVEST TRAINS LEAVE FOR WEST

Carried Over Two Thousand Passengers, One-Third of Them Foreigners. The first harvesters' trains from this district left for the west yesterday, carrying 2,175 passengers.

Perhaps the most unusual feature of the lot that left yesterday is the fact that fully one-third of them are foreigners. While the total for yesterday does not compare unfavorably with the first day last year, the fact is that there are not the men in the country and the trains that went west from the east of Toronto did not carry more than one-half of the number that went last year.

COAL SPECULATORS FACE DIFFICULTIES

New Demurrage Rules Begin to Affect Their Business Methods. The day of the coal speculator in Canada is drawing to a close. Under the new demurrage rules, which came into effect last night, the time for coal on tracks for long periods of time is practically impossible, and under a new regulation of the C.P.R. that will shortly be adopted by the other railways, the speculator who tries to do business "under the bank rule" will find that he requires a bank roll.

ALY'S CAPTURES TOTAL UPWARDS OF TEN THOUSAND PRISONERS—MORE STRONG DEFENCES FALL—FLEET AIDS ADVANCE.

Rome, Aug. 21.—More than 10,000 prisoners had been taken by the Italian in their new offensive up to yesterday evening, his war office announced. The great battle on the Isonzo front continues without interruption. The war office states that the Austrian line is beginning to bend and give way at various points.

WAR SUMMARY THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

THE Canadians, in another close and desperate fight yesterday, captured a railway embankment and strongly-fortified colliery sidings. This success brings their lines right to the edge of the fortified trenches used by the Germans as their shelters and sure refuges. Having thus secured a big stretch, if not the whole of the railway embankment, the Canadian artillery spotters can train their guns right against the now exposed roofs of the foe's last subterranean caves and ditches.

WAR SUMMARY THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

The enemy strove time and again to check the Canadians, but their advance overwhelmed his best efforts. Right at the beginning the Canadians in no man's land encountered a fresh division of Prussian Guards moving up for a counter-attack. In the melee the Canadians used bombs, hand-grenades, rifle butts, bayonets, and even their fists, with telling effect. Fifteen minutes of this work unmanned the best men of the Prussian Guard, and the Canadians, who were holding the line, turned back to their rear. The enemy, however, is keeping up the fight by constantly feeding the line of battle. He has evidently decided to make his defence of Lens a test of his ability to remain in France. He fears above everything else the loss of prestige at home and among the few remaining neutrals, resultant from the loss of Lens and the extensive and valuable French coal fields.

WAR SUMMARY THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

The capture of Lens, which cannot be long delayed, exposes the strong salient of La Bassee to assault by the British in a new turning movement on Lille. Sir Douglas Haig, after the long pause of the early summer, has suddenly expedited his aggressive operations. This sudden waking-up from the ranks of active believers certainly caused operations in the west to lag for a time, and the new battle, which has practically cured the ailments in her military organization and stands ready with a punch in poise adequate enough to free her territory of the German pollution. The allies will not wait for the United States, for the republic, it is said, can place only a quarter of a million well-trained troops in the field next year. Not until 1920, it is said, can her conscript army come into action.

WAR SUMMARY THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

The French, instead of limiting their battle astride the Meuse to a single day's objectives, as in the past, continued the fight during the second day and carried several more important points in the German system of defence. They captured Col. Lieul and Regnierville Village, on the western bank, and Samogneux and Regnierville Village, on the eastern bank of the Meuse. Their prisoners now total well over 5,000. The results of their attacks yesterday show that the enemy has much weakened, even in the reaching the enemy from the heights of the Meuse the French are brilliantly beat off many German counter-attacks.

WAR SUMMARY THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

The heights of the Meuse, along which the French are proceeding, present several favorable features for an advance, although the configuration of shell-plowed ground bristles with obstacles. These heights project counter-attacks, except frontally, to the enemy few vantage points for surrounding heights form the southern and the left flank. Verdun and the Meuse, as Lille and the ridges of Flanders from the northern pivot. If the enemy moved backward to this line in evacuation of the Rhineland, Laflaux-Ypres triangle, he would have to pivot either on Lille or Verdun. By throwing the enemy from the heights of the Meuse the French are thus making doubly sure that Von Hindenburg will not be able to retire in safety as he did from the Somme.

WAR SUMMARY THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

The Italians' attack is developing, and according to the war office at Rome, the Austrian line is beginning to bend and give way at various points. The allies are receiving strong support from a fleet of British monitors and floating batteries in their progress along the coastal road and the total of their prisoners now runs to over 10,000, a gain of 2,500 over the previous day's aggregate number. They have carried Austrian defences between Cortie and Selo, near the strongly-defended Starovka position. Count Cadorna is striving for a coup, in the belief that he has the necessary organized force on hand to break clear thru the enemy's front and drive him in rout on Trieste. The Italian aircraft performed the signal feat of dropping five tons of high explosives on the important Tarvis railway situation, one of the remoter Italian objectives.

This is Interesting

A MAN came into the Store the other day for the sole purpose of expressing gratitude. He wanted us to know that he owed his life to a "Safety-First" canoe cushion he had bought before he started off on his Summer holiday. While out on a few weeks ago he was upset. He could not swim, but, grasping one of the ropes on the side of the cushion, he was kept afloat for two hours and a half—until rescued by a couple of Indiana. He was pretty well exhausted when they pulled him out of the water, but the cushion proved its title and saved his life. It was a two-section cushion, filled with kapoc, and covered with awning duck.

SOME short time ago the Powers that Be in the Fashions Departments of the Store—in conjunction with our offices in Paris and New York—compiled their color card for Autumn, 1917. After careful investigation of all those trends and influences that bear upon the making of the Mode, and close consultation with style authorities, they tabulated the list of shades which should predominate in their buying of suits, coats, frocks, blouses, hats, suitings, dress materials, hosiery, etc., etc. Mole color, Beetroot, Plum Purple, Twilight and navy blues. Cuban brown, Concord purple and black, making up the list of choice of selection. You will readily appreciate the advantage of choosing your Fall wardrobe from a showing of apparel in which the various items are presented in closely corresponding tones. For example—If a mole color suit be your choice, it will be a simple matter to find mole color blouse and stockings. There will be no difficulty, either, in matching your best hat with a hat of the same fashionable tint. And so forth.

Avoid waste of time and energy by using printed labels for your jam and preserves. Twelve dozens of them can be had for five cents—put up in booklets containing gummed labels for strawberries, raspberries, gooseberries, black and red currants, marmalade, cherry, pear, peaches, plum, jelly, citrus, chill sauce, pickles, catsup, pineapple and grape.

FRENCH WELCOME VERDUN SUCCESS
Victory Furnishes Additional Proof of Allies' Solidarity

HUN LINES MAY CRACK
Chief Surprise Came in Hour of Launching Offensive.

Paris, Aug. 21.—Yesterday's victory of the French on the Verdun front was welcomed by the French people not only because after it the Germans no longer hold one of their dearly-bought conquests won since the first push on the Verdun fortress in February, 1916, but as proof that the unity of action among the entente allies is at work.
"The British Italian and French fronts are all active at the same time, making it possible that weak-ness may develop somewhere along the German and Austrian lines, and thus strike the enemy in two directions. The Figaro, however, warns its readers against expecting too much.
"Experience has shown," the Figaro says, "that it is vain to hope to smash a front which incessantly closes after the breach has been made. At Verdun, as in Flanders, the object is to strike the enemy with the most powerful blow possible and then to await an opportunity to strike again. It is not the territory won that counts, but the losses inflicted."
It is admitted in military circles that an offensive, with a three-day's preliminary bombardment, cannot be shown for ten days that the present attack had been expected, even the extent of the front from Avocourt Wood to Ormes being stated. The precise minute when a bombardment will cease, or rather change, to a barrage fire, cutting off the first stage of the infantry rush, however, remains a secret.

Surprise for Fox.
Thus the Germans were surprised at 4.40 o'clock yesterday morning when the French made a front along some fifteen miles of front, and it was twelve good minutes before the German barrage fire opened.
This delay allowed the French to occupy the first German lines without losses. They were found to be almost empty at one point. Only on the slopes of Talou Hill did a single company succeed in holding out in a subterranean stronghold. With its young second lieutenant as the only officer, the entire company was taken prisoner.
By 6 o'clock a French aviator returned and dropped a sketch of Le Mort Homme, marked with crosses, showing the points occupied. An hour later a homing pigeon brought news that Hill 804 and Le Mort Homme, on the left bank of the Meuse, and Hill 244 on the right bank, had been occupied.
The Germans used only asphyxiating shells for their barrage fire, thus placing the French troops under the handicap of wearing masks.
When prisoners came back in hundreds shortly after dawn yesterday morning the observers knew that the clearing blow decided on by the French higher command, in order to give more breathing space at Verdun, had been successful. After the artillery had pounded the German positions stretching along a front of fourteen miles from south of Bethincourt to west of the Meuse, the German line had been like pulp, the infantry advanced as the first streak of dawn lighted the sky, and occupied all the positions that had set out to conquer. The French soldiers showed only one more that they were not yet bled white.

HUNS ADMIT LOSING IN VERDUN BATTLE
Enemy Concedes Loss of Ground Before French Advance.

Berlin, Aug. 21, via London.—The battle before Verdun has not yet ended, the German general headquarters staff announced today. This morning fresh engagements developed at various places. The statement adds:
"Our troops and leaders anticipate a favorable conclusion of the battle."
In many places colored and white French troops penetrated the German defensive zone in which every step forward, the German report says, had to be wrested at the cost of sanguinary losses. In bitter hand-to-hand fighting and by counter-attacks the French were pushed back almost everywhere.
The announcement says that the slightly Verdun struggle swayed to and fro during the whole day. West of the Meuse only Deadman Hill and the southern fringe of Ravenwood remained in the hands of the French. East of the river, on Hill 244, south-east of Samogneux and in Fosswood, the French won a little ground. Against the small local success of the French, the announcement adds, must be set the failure of their attack on a front of 20 kilometres (12½ miles).
The text of the statement reads:
"Western theatre—Army group of Crown Prince Rupprecht—Apart from a temporarily strong and destructive fire in some sectors of Flanders and on the Arras front, there have been no fighting operations on a large scale."
"Army group of the German Crown Prince—The first day of the battle before Verdun had the same result for the French as the great English attacks in Flanders had for the English on July 21 and August 16. Su-use of men could not break the German superiority in material and reckless man fighting force. Against a small local success must be set the failure of the attack on a front of over 20 kilometres.

"Powerful artillery preparation for the great thrust which the French army was to conduct at England's command began on August 11. From Avocour Wood to the eastern fringe of Courrières Wood our positions were turned into a solid and dowling crater field by the enemy's artillery firing, which increased to most extreme intensity for a few hours before the attack early yesterday morning of the French. The situation remains unchanged. In Macedonia there is nothing of importance to report."
Twenty-six enemy airmen were shot down; we lost five airplanes.
"Eastern theatre—From the Dnieper to the Danube the situation remains unchanged. In Macedonia there is nothing of importance to report."

POPE'S NOTE IS TREATED RESPECTFULLY BY BRITAIN
Government's Reply Sent to Vatican—Pontiff Not Inspired by Austrian Empire.

Rome, Aug. 21.—The reply of the British government to the peace note of Pope Benedict was handed to Cardinal Gasparri, the Papal secretary of state, by the British minister on Monday. The reply says that the Pope's note will be examined in a benevolent and serious spirit.
Cardinal Gasparri expressed to the British minister the hope that the belligerents would give approval to the four fundamental propositions in the papal note, similar ideas having already been set forth by representatives of Great Britain, Russia, France, Germany and Austria. While President Wilson's peace message in the opinion of the cardinal, implied almost the whole of the Pope's program.
It having been asserted in the press that the Pope who was born in the town of Constanza in the province of Hungary, the Vatican states that the pontiff has no personal acquaintance with the empress and has never received any communication from her on any subject. It has been reported on several occasions that the Austrian Empress, who was born in the Italian province of Lucca, has been working assiduously for peace.

YOUNG BICK'S BODY FOUND IN ROWBOAT
Evidently Stumbled Onto His Gun Which Discharged Thru His Heart.

Gaspe, Que., Aug. 21.—A sad accident occurred here whereby a young man named Harold Bicks of North Sydney, lost his life. Young Bicks, who was working on board a large schooner loading lumber at the Shepard & Morse Lumber Company's mill, started out on a pleasure trip in a small boat, taking his gun with him. As he did not return at night his uncle, the captain of the vessel, became anxious and set out to find his nephew, and succeeded in locating his body near Rosebridge, on the opposite side of the bay. It is believed that young Bicks stumbled in the boat with the gun in his hand, when the weapon discharged thru his heart, killing him instantly.
He was a highly respected and intelligent young man, out for a few days with his uncle before returning to college, and during his short stay here had made many friends.

FAKE SOLDIER CLAIMS TORONTO AS HIS HOME
Cripple With Borrowed Credentials is Exposed by Soldiers at Brockville.

Special to The Toronto World.
Brockville, Aug. 21.—Henry Tompkins, a cripple, was arrested today by the police upon a charge of obtaining money under false pretences by working the returned soldier graft game. Under the name of Private Brent of the 52nd Battalion, he found profit in posing as a returned hero, and had all the credentials in the way of the button of honor and discharge papers to give circumstantial corroboration to the plausible tongue. He collected a large sum of money by canvassing the munition plants and other manufacturing plants and had large sums promised him later on in the week. Some of the local war veterans, however, unmasked his game by putting the stranger in the hands of the police, to whom he confessed he was a fraud to a Montreal returned soldier, who gave them to him for the purpose of making some easy money. Tompkins was accompanied by a young man giving the name of Learner, with whom it is thought he was sharing the proceeds of his game. Tompkins, who says his home is in Toronto, and his pal, have been remanded for a hearing.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, AUG. 22.

A Water-Front Aerodrome.

One thing that will come out of the great war about which there is no doubt is the flying machine and the art of aviation. The progress made since the war began and on account of the war is the most remarkable in the annals of locomotion.

There is no doubt about the practicality, the utility, nor the economy in time and cost which aviation means to the world, and the art which has been hallowed by so many of our brightest and bravest is destined to inaugurate an entirely new era in human affairs.

Governments are already arranging for mail and express service, and the passenger possibilities are being discussed by those who are venturing with motor cars. The element of danger in the air, all things considered, is believed to be no greater than on the road or the sea, and it is by all odds a pleasanter means of travel provided one has confidence in the pilot and the ship.

There is still some debate as to whether dirigibles or airships are likely to be most used. We judge the zeppelin will be the favorite for passenger traffic if speed can be guaranteed. For speed alone the heavier than air machine will beat the dirigible every time.

Whatever machine is used, the great problem of how to come down after going up remains to be dealt with. Landing places will be needed, and in the laying out of all new cities and the reorganization of old ones this matter has to be considered.

Toronto has three flying camps at her doors, but for the future we need a landing place and probably an aerodrome in the city limits. Probably the same howl will go up about this which was heard over the railway tracks, the trolley, the electric street car, and the motor car. But the aeroplane has come to stay and they will fly into and out of the city, or at least into up-to-date and civilized cities, and such cities must be prepared to receive them.

In Toronto there is but one place for such a landing ground. It is on the waterfront. The problem is one for the harbor commission, and must be dealt with by that body.

Allied Successes.

There can be no complaint at present of inactivity at the front. Blow after blow has fallen on the Teutonic lines for many weeks past, and with inevitable success. The British advances which have been more numerous and more completely prepared for than in the previous years of the war, have followed each other in studied succession, and the German defence has been helpless. The French have exceeded all expectations and belied the German assertion that France was now beyond any further aggressive activities.

These reported blows, falling on different points of the 400 miles of battle front in the west, have left the German high command quite unable to prepare for the next blow, anxious about where it should fall, and nervous about the result. To the French and British are now added heavy assaults by the Italians, the success of which may be judged by the heavy toll of 10,000 prisoners taken from the Austrians. The French took 5000 in their Verdun offensive, and the British gathered in a rosy crowd in their last engagement. These unwounded prisoners represent additional heavy casualties to the enemy.

If Russia had been able to carry out her part in this summer's campaign, there would be no German regiments from Galicia returning to the Flanders front to disconcert General Haig and his men. Perhaps the Scottish field marshal will be less grieved over the German shift of forces than might be expected. The only way to win a war is to dispose of the enemy. Gaining territory does not accomplish anything towards winning a war as long as the enemy is free and able to supply himself. Napoleon found this out at Moscow. It was the lesson of the Boer campaign and Kitchener had to round up his foes to end the war.

Haig's strategy and the Joffre methods tend to make the Germans round up themselves. Nothing could suit the allies better than to have the Germans continuously charging prepared positions in close formation. The Germans began this method because they thought it was the proper thing to do. The allies put pressure on the enemy lines. Obviously if the pressure is to be relieved there must be successful attacks or the line will give way, and disaster may follow. For no general, except very great ones, ever knows what will happen if his line gives way and it is necessary to retreat. This is what happened at the Somme. The Germans retreated there to gain time, believing that time would serve them better than their opponents. They were mistaken. It would have served the Germans better had they stood at the Somme, but they had not the strength to do so, and they took the weaker course and retreated. They have been retreating ever since, but have been compelled to attack to delay the pursuit and to save a disaster. Vimy Ridge, Arras, and now St. Julien show the measure of the German strength, and Verdun confirms it. If the Russians come back in the next two months the news from the seat of war will be of a phenomenal character.

Anonymous Folly.

An anonymous letter from a person who signs himself "True Canadian" is one of the many humorous incidents that occur from day to day. No "True Canadian" would be anonymous in writing a letter to a newspaper in which the writer's only object was to utter disloyal and foolishly traitorous sentiments against the nation to which he belongs, and childishly to threaten to shoot with his little revolver any "military jackal" who attempts to conscript him. We should imagine him to be either too young or too old to be conscripted, but at any rate he is no "True Canadian." All the "True Canadians" are at the front who get there.

Anonymous letter writers are a long way below that class. To be anti-British is to be pro-German, and this anonymous letter writer merely emits (to use the Pope's expression) a silly and quite unoriginal rage against Britain. He is so pro-German that he declares Britain began the war and is carrying it on for her own ends. We might as well be logical about it if we are to take this position, and assert that England induced Germany to invade Belgium and France in order to get a pretext to make war on Germany, and that when the whole truth is known England sends the assassins to Sarajevo to kill the grand duke and set the whole thing going. These ideas are just as reasonable and quite as logical as anything one reads in such anonymous epistles, written by people who will not take the pains to study the evidence, who allow themselves to be carried away by bitter prejudice and bigotry, and who demonstrate their lack of courage by anonymous dealing.

The same temper in more reckless times gave us the bravo and the hired assassin. These frequenters of dark alleys have never realized their own manhood. They have no community of interest with their kindly fellow men. They miss the best of life thru their inability to share the finer and nobler sentiments of human nature. The great struggle for human liberty and justice now going on does not appeal to them, for they have been caught by some crooked mental twist in the foggy realms of false reasoning and have lost sight of facts. No greater good can happen to a young horse than to be broken to harness. Then he is some use in the world. It is doubtful if the anonymous writer has any use in the world, except perhaps as a peg to hang an editorial upon.

DEUTSCHLAND CASE SETTLED.

Scott, Jun., in New London yesterday, last November, has been settled out of court at New London, according to a statement today by Captain Allen Gurney of this city. PETROGRAD HOSPITAL ENEMY SPY CENTRE

Institution Raided and Suspected Patient Found to Be German Officer.

Petrograd, Aug. 20.—A private hospital in the centre of the city which was raided today by order of the military authorities proved to be the headquarters of a German espionage organization. A patient entered on the records as being a peasant from Novgorod admitted that he was a German lieutenant. The director of the hospital, who was supposed to be a Russian woman, was found to be a German subject. Her assistant also gave a false name. A considerable number of the staff of the institution and several of the patients were arrested.

The provisional government has invested the ministry of war and interior jointly with the right to arrest persons whose activity constitutes a particular danger for the defence of the state and its internal security and liberty acquired by the revolution. These ministries are also given power to call upon these persons to leave Russian territory within a fixed period and to arrest them in case they do not do so or in case they return to Russia on their own initiative.

What You Can Do to Make Your Hair More Beautiful

Few of us are free from hair troubles which is not at all astonishing when one stops to realize how little care most of us give to our "crowning glory." To have healthy, luxuriant hair there must be healthy blood in the body, free circulation in the scalp, a normal amount of nourishing oil in the sebaceous glands and a perfectly clean and healthy scalp. A shampoo once in two weeks is necessary for the average hair. If your scalp is clean and you find that your hair is itchy and continues to fall, feel your scalp. First, wash the scalp with the shampoo and move back and forth the little blood vessels are prevented from doing their part by the dirt and the scales that have formed upon you, upon which depends the health of your hair, is to loosen the scalp from the skull and to keep it loosed. When you have completed this your hair will probably grow longer, thicker and regain its sheen.

Scalp massage is a most important part of this case, and each night before retiring, slip the fingers under the hair, and without lifting them, move the scalp over the skull, first away from the centre of the scalp and then toward the centre, repeating this movement until the scalp and not for the hair. Part the hair and carefully rub the vaseline well into the roots.

British Authorities Issue Special Instructions Regarding Food By-Products.

C. A. P. Correspondence. London, Aug. 19.—In pursuance of the policy of economy for the military camps and hospitals, the authorities have issued special instructions dealing with food by-products. It is not to be eaten in military hospitals if the funds realized from the sale of by-products are more than sufficient to meet the expense to which in normal times they are put. So it is now ordered that money realized from the sale of by-products may be used in the purchase of necessities in connection with the cooking of meals for the inmates generally.

FRANCE'S FAMOUS FOREIGN LEGION

Heroic Tales of Splendid Achievements in the Present War.

THE NEW CRUSADERS

Men Who Fight for a Conviction Rather Than for Glory.

H. Warner Allen in The London Morning Post. Before the Crusaders foreign legion was almost the last force in Europe round which there still clung the glamour which is attached to the legends of the world's heroes. Since the war there has been a certain change in its status. The men who form it have been attracted to its ranks by the promise of adventure and to the fact that they were to be the crusaders of the world, to fight for a conviction rather than for glory.

Achieving the impossible. In the attack on the Moroccan hills the hardest and most glorious task was allotted to the Legion. They were to take the fortified ground on the right of Naimen, Mount, and to take and hold Auberville make it possible for the other regiments of the Legion to advance. It was a task which was the key of the whole Moroccan position. Their main difficulty was that owing to the lie of the ground the position was a complete artillery preparation was impossible. The Legion had to measure itself with a force that was still intact.

CITY HALL NOTES

Property Commissioner Chisholm has reported to the board of control that the city must provide the guards at the jail with uniforms.

Referring to the resignation of Hon. Robert Rogers, the mayor yesterday stated that he was one of the best friends Toronto ever had.

Commissioner Chisholm has advised the board of control to create a special department to administer the municipal abattoir.

The work of the property commissioner has reported against the proposal to prevent parking of motor cars on Temperance street.

W. K. George, chairman of the hospitals aid commission, in a letter to the board of control states that it would be inadvisable to hold receipts for returned soldiers at the city hall instead of at the Y. M. C. A. building.

On the request of Rev. J. Russell Maclean the board of control has granted the Toronto Naval League the use of 125 of the city's Winchester street property commissioner's arsenal.

The finance commissioner states that no further action is to be taken in the provision of lavatories in hotels in different sections of the city.

WEEKLY REPORT ON ONTARIO CROPS

Fall Wheat in the Threshing Shows Great Range of Yields.

ROOTS LOOK SPLENDID

Corn Fully Two Weeks Behind, But Growth is Rushing Along.

The following is a summary of weekly crop reports made by district representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture, Aug. 20.

Fall wheat in the threshing shows a great range of yield; but on the whole it will be about an average per acre. The grain is plump, having ripened well.

Barley will likely prove to be the best grain crop of the season, taking yarrow and the favorable conditions of harvesting into consideration.

Potatoes are not yielding as largely as was expected, the intensely hot, dry weather of the latter part of July having more or less checked growth.

On account of late planting corn is fully two weeks behind, but growth is now rushing along, and the crop may yet reach three quarters yield, providing it escapes frost.

Live stock are in good condition, although flies have caused much annoyance. Complaints continue that too many young cattle are being sold for veal.

As is usual at this time of year the milk flow has decreased, but the production is well up to the average, as pastures generally have been stronger than for many years.

The public men in Canada who most earnestly support the men at the front are those who have given of their time and money to help them in the hospitals.

VETERANS ADJUST HARDSHIP CASES

G.W.V.A. Will Ensure Fair Chance to Men Making New Start.

Many cases of hardship among returned soldiers, their families and their dependents have been brought to the attention of the great war veterans since the inception of the improved organization.

The great war veterans have no intention of overlapping with existing organizations, such as the soldiers' fund. They have ample proof that the better class of returned soldier and the dependents of those overseas are extremely reluctant to bring their cases to the attention of public organizations.

Dr. A. H. Abbott, secretary of the organization of resources committee, stated the majority of the smaller places had responded to the call for men, and had supplied the quota asked.

FIFTEEN HOUSES BUILT FOR SOLDIER FARMERS

Hon. G. Howard Ferguson Returns From Inspection Trip Thru the North Country.

Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, minister of lands, forests and mines, returned to the city yesterday, having completed a two-weeks' tour of inspection of the northern part of the province.

The primary object of my trip," he said, "was to see what developments had been made and how the policy of the government was meeting the needs there; to see the agricultural development, the pulp wood industry and the result of the government loans made to stimulate and care for the agriculture of the war."

Mr. Ferguson also visited the returned soldiers' colony farms in the vicinity of Kapuskasing, and found that the men had done good work, and there were no complaints of fires. Everywhere the crops were in splendid condition, although a couple of weeks later in the southern part of the province.

The largest cash donations were: Arkona W.I., $32; Madoc and Poet Jover I.O.D.E., $30 each; R. A. Duly, $25; Sault Ste. Marie I.O.D.E., $25; Oakville W.P.L., $10 (monthly); Inkerlip Presbyterial Church, $7.50; Christ Church, Brampton, $5; Miss Hill and Mrs. Shillington, $50 each.

A very valuable shipment was made to Mrs. Adamson, among the contents being 100 heavy pairs socks, knitted on the T.W.P.L. machines, the wool being purchased with the proceeds of a water color sale in June.

In acknowledging the last shipment, Mrs. Adamson's secretary, Miss Howard writes: "You cannot imagine what these huge monthly cases from Canada mean to our fund. It would almost mean closing down if they failed, and everyone here and in Plymouth would bear testimony to their utility and the urgent need."

The civic information bureau for Exhibition visitors has been re-opened for another Fair at the corner of Front and Yonge streets. Last year some 4000 homes and rooming houses registered with the bureau to care for visitors, and this year there is every indication that this number will be greatly increased.

The clerks in charge report a very busy time, and state that many inquiries have already been received from prospective guests. Everything looks good for an unusually large number of visitors this year.

LIVE STOCK MARKET

There was the ordinary Tuesday run of live stock out at the Union Yards yesterday, and the market was very quiet. Sheep and lambs were very quiet, and the market was very quiet. There was a strong, steady tone to the market, generally speaking, which seems ready to absorb all the good stuff offered. The stocker trade continues quiet, but steady, with a good amount of business. Another locust was given the hog prices when $10 was paid for fed and while barley and dry remained steady. They are being made up to the ultimate outcome but meantime the price mounts steadily.

Special Market Note - F. W. Cony, a former buyer for Armour & Co. who is now a buyer for the same firm at Indianapolis, Ind., is in the city on a visit to Mr. Shorter and Harry Shorley, who are in the city and is staying at the former's home on Inglewood Avenue. Mr. Cony was on the Ontario show, and saw a number of live stock men, with whom he is deservingly popular.
