COLE LOSING HIS NERVE Prisoner Becomes Weary as Damaging Evidence Is Brought Out at the Steeves Murder Enquiry at Portland, Me.

BOSTON, May 13--Edward F. Cole, charged with the murder of John F. Steeves, of Dawson Settlement, N. B., at Falmouth, Me., April 12, decided today to submit no evidence in the Portland municipal court and Judge Hill held the defendant to appear in the superior court, the grand jury of which convenes September 5. Cole was ordered to jail without bail.

When the hearing opened yesterday the defense expected to introduce a large number of witnesses in the attempt to establish an alibi, but as the prosecution displayed a number of witnesses, the defense was obliged to call a number of witnesses to the stand.

The prosecuting officers believe that robbery was the only motive of the murder, as money and a watch and chain were missing when the body was found. Cole, the respondent, and his relatives have laid stress on the theory that Steeves was killed because he had acted as a liquor spy several days before his disappearance.

Cornet Jas. A. Marvin, Dr. E. P. Robinson of Falmouth, and Dr. C. H. Leighton of Portland, testified to the condition of the body. The skull was crushed and the throat cut. Cornet Marvin said three pools of blood were found, six or eight feet apart. The second day following the search he found near the body a blood-stained maple stick about 34 feet long. This stick, introduced in evidence, figures prominently in the case, as several of the witnesses who identified the respondent testified that he carried such a stick when they saw him in Falmouth April 12.

At the examination in Portland Cole appeared undisturbed throughout the forenoon, and frequently laughed at points of variance in the testimony descriptive of the clothing the two strangers in Falmouth wore. Several times he winked at friends in the audience when his counsel brought out testimony favorable to the defense.

But in the afternoon matters took a more serious aspect for the defense. Testimony was introduced to show that Cole had sold in a local pawnshop Steeves' watch the day of the latter's disappearance; that he had previously talked with a relative of his wife about Steeves having money, and suggested drugging and robbing him, and that the day following the disappearance Cole, who had previously asked a friend, tendered in payment for a small purchase of wood a Canadian $5 bill.

This testimony had the effect of displacing the respondent's coolness and indifference. He listened attentively, and appeared much wearied when the court adjourned.

John F. Steeves, Who Was Murdered at Falmouth, Me. closed most of his case against Cole that was expected it was decided to defer the contest in Cole's behalf until the fall. The prosecution's chief witness, Felix Lewis, an uncle of Cole's wife, asserts that Cole told him before the murder that Steeves had money and that Cole expected to get it.

JOHN F. STEEVES, Who Was Murdered at Falmouth, Me.

THE EVENING TIMES, ST. JOHN, N. B., SATURDAY, MAY 13, 1905

The Crimson Slipper.

BY DORA LANGLOIS, Author of "A Bolt From the Blue," "The Red-Headed Woman," "The Secretary's Dream," etc.

(Continued). "Yes," she said with a sudden flush and a slight shudder. "He was an Englishman and a man of local standing. I thought he was at the big house all Monday, and he came to my room often to work on the paper. He was worse than the two foreigners, worse even than the terrible old miller."

"And he shall have a worse punishment," Howell cried, with his eyes glowing. "Miss Denzell, I promise you your revenge! Mr. Duncan, that man, the master of the house, was the man who murdered Roger Danvers."

"I sprang up with a startled exclamation, not for the news he told, but because Mary Denzell, with a low, wailing, sob had fainted away. "My fault, my fault," said Howell, sorrowfully. "I forgot for the moment that the fellow's hands had touched her."

"I'll not be very much mistaken there's a few burning in your kitchen, sir, for I can see smoke from the chimney stack; and if that smoke is a cup of your man's coffee I can do with it."

"The train had deposited us in the straight run before the bend, fortunately, and coming up the moor without encountering a soul we had between us somehow brought Mary Denzell to with in sight of the house."

"The door of my house opened before I reached the bell and Minton stood on the threshold, with the peculiar air he always had when he was full of meat. "Welcome home to you, sir, and the lady," he said; "and welcome to you too, Mr. Howell. Breakfast will be ready when desired."

"I am a true prophet, sir; I saw Mrs. Foreman said to me last night, 'The master hasn't got the ore and trap, and he can't get here till the week-end, whether it's a train or a hairship, the table will be laid at five; and I put my hand on Minton's shoulder and patted it. It was a trivial matter, but it pleased me, with the peculiar air he always had when he was full of meat."

"I'll not be very much mistaken there's a few burning in your kitchen, sir, for I can see smoke from the chimney stack; and if that smoke is a cup of your man's coffee I can do with it."

"I saw immediately that he was right. I had not been so preoccupied with my own feelings as to fail to notice that the wire was for love."

"Now," said Howell, triumphantly, "I'll show you the advantage of having a professional man at your elbow, sir. You can't send that little post-office clerk in the office with a 439 sorting mail."

"I handed him a pen, and he had just finished his task when Minton entered with the tray."

"Now, sir, I must have a thoroughly reliable man for the job of substituting a message from a man who thought he'd get down to his bed, with a message from me it will be put through at once. If you'll give me a pen, sir, I'll take a copy of the cipher and write a line for my friend."

"I saw that he was right, though I was disappointed at the delay. "But will she speak before you?" I asked.

"She must be made to," he answered. "What you require is an independent witness. Your line is that you don't want to hear her, and won't hear her at all, if it is not to be present. Put that away, leaving a comper she will insist on speaking, if I know anything about the sex."

"Howell," I said, "I believe you know the nature of the communication she is here to make. What did you mean by that?"

"I'll not be very much mistaken there's a few burning in your kitchen, sir, for I can see smoke from the chimney stack; and if that smoke is a cup of your man's coffee I can do with it."

THE BIBLE, AND RUSSIA'S DEFEAT

By Rev. Dr. R. S. MacARTHUR, Pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, New York City

Attempt to explain unfulfilled prophecies are usually fruitless speculations. It is not easy always to identify them before their fulfilment has taken place. The question has arisen frequently of late as to whether or not Russia has a place in these mysterious prophecies. There are interpreters who affirm that Russia is mentioned in at least two passages of Scripture—Ezekiel, xxxviii, and Daniel, xii, 1.

"Does 'Roah' Mean Russia? 'Magog, the prince of Roah, Meshech and Tubal.' This is the name usually employed for the head of a nomad tribe. The meaning in the three great Sythian tribes, of which 'Roah' is the first. Scholarly interpreters, among whom the learned Gesenius, consider it beyond doubt that 'Roah' is intended to be the tribe on the north of the Caucasus, the tribe taking its name from its neighborhood to the Rha, which is the Volga, and so, these interpreters affirm, we have in the name of the north an old name of the Roah or Russian nation."

Other learned interpreters, however, identify the word 'Roah' with the word 'Ras' in the Koran. In a Latin chronicle, A. D. 899, we have the first certain mention of the Russians by this name. These interpreters make Meshech stand for Moscow, and Roah for Russia. If this interpretation be correct, it certainly is a most marvellously interesting one. This early biblical notice of a great empire, and its position in the Kingdom of the Holy Spirit, is a most interesting feature of a great modern nation.

It is most unfortunate that in the King James version the word 'Roah' does not appear; it does appear, however, in the Revised Version, in the American standard edition. His omission from the older version is an illustration of the unfortunate variations of that version from the meaning of the sacred text of the Old Testament.

There are, of course, various explanations of the words Gog and Magog. The common opinion, however, is that they refer to a people who were to come from the north to invade the land of Israel and suffer defeat in that land. The names were generally understood to be natives of Asia, or more particularly of the Scythians or Sarmatians, who, it is believed, are in part at least the ancestors of the Russians of today.

Some vague knowledge of these mysterious people had reached Palestine at the time of Ezekiel's prophecy. The words Gog and Magog are found in Revelation, ix, 8. Interpreters of this passage also believe that the terms refer to the Scythians who reside between the Caspian and the Bosphorus seas, or in the region of Mount Caucasus. According to Hebrew custom, the name Magog might include all the unknown barbarous tribes about the Caucasian Mountains. It is affirmed that great numbers of these people would be gathered together in battle—the numbers being as the sands of the sea.

as Japan is concerned, is the "Golden Opportunity." All our missionaries in China dread the dominance of Russia vastly more than the dominance of any heathen nation. Wherever Russia plants her foot, flowers of liberty, intelligence and true religion wither and die. Whether Russia be invited or not in Jewell's prophecy, she certainly is the evil breaking forth out of the north. Whether Manchuria be Armageddon or not, the overthrow of Russia there may well stand as a fulfilment of prophecies representing the overthrow of evil from whatever quarter it may come.

Financial and Commercial. WOOL PRICES RISING IN ALL THE MARKETS

All Are Strong and Excited--Dollar a Clean Pound Predicted for Territory--Many Buyers About For Every Seller--Trading as Active as Supplies Will Permit.

(Boston Transcript.) The world's wool markets are passing through a period of great stress and excitement, the like of which has not been witnessed for years. It is comparable, in the opinion of old members of the trade, to the period immediately preceding and during the Franco-Prussian war, when prices in London touched a low ebb never since equalled and never realized since. Whatever the cause is credited for, there is no doubt that buyers to every seller. The eagerness to own supplies of wool is in consequence of the fact that the wool market is so tight that there is now too much wool on the market to be sold at the current price. The fact that the dollar is strong and the pound is weak is also a factor in the current price. The fact that the dollar is strong and the pound is weak is also a factor in the current price.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., MAY 13, 1905. The St. John Evening Times is published at 27 and 28 Canterbury Street, every evening (Sunday excepted) by the St. John Times Printing & Publishing Co. Ltd. A company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act. A. M. BELDING, Editor.

IS IT TRUE OR NOT?

Shipping men state that a Manchester line steamer which was to have come here will go to Philadelphia; that a deal steamer with a choice of ports will go to Miramichi, and that one which was to have come here has been withdrawn; that the Bureau line is not looking for any more business here, and that the Manchester line may be withdrawn altogether; that orders from local exporters are being declined, and that deals from I. C. R. points near Moncton are going to Halifax for shipment.

RAILWAY ACCIDENTS

The recent railway accident near Dorchester, in which happily there was no loss of life, is said by railway men to have been chiefly due to the very heavy locomotive running at too high a rate of speed where there was a curve and where the road-bed was not in first class condition.

It is evident that the tremendous weight and momentum of the new locomotives, of which now are being built, is a question of which would be more likely to cause such an accident as that of a few days ago than would a lighter engine.

Had the accident resulted in a number of fatalities there would have been searching enquiry, a great public outcry, and perhaps a condemnation of the engineer for driving too fast.

This is the very point to which public attention should be directed. When an engineer drives too fast it is not from show, but because he knows he must. It is said that the train in question left Dorchester half an hour late, and was trying to make up the time.

The driver of every locomotive knows that he is expected to make up lost time. The one who does not is not wanted. This driver is the slave of the eye, and the responsibility for accidents caused by driving heavy engines at too high a rate of speed rests upon the authorities of the road.

A vigorous suppression of public opinion would change this state of things. Instead the authorities should not wait for such an expression. They should simply say that the lives and limbs of the people are of more value than a few minutes of lost time, and that the engineer is to exercise his judgment to protect the passengers behind him, rather than to speed down the line who chafe at his delay.

PROUD OF THE TAXES

The people of Winnipeg are not disturbed by the growth of the total of the city taxes. It is not so much the growth of higher rates as of an increase in the number of taxpayers, including the rapid growth of prosperity. Therefore the Free Press is proud to set forth the following statement of increased receipts from taxation, which if it were applicable in St. John would almost bring the Citizens' League to its knees.

Table with 2 columns: Year and Amount. 1895-1896: $47,500; 1896-1897: $58,781; 1897-1898: $64,957; 1898-1899: $72,855; 1899-1900: $81,011; 1900-1901: $81,893; 1901-1902: $87,978; 1902-1903: $87,698; 1903-1904: $96,943; 1904-1905: $104,988.

The amount of taxes collected has thus more than doubled in seven years. What will it be seven years hence? The building boom of last year bids fair to be repeated this year. The Free Press of May 10th quotes the report of the building inspector to the effect that thus far this year permits have been issued for 400 buildings, valued at $5,010,400, compared with 758 buildings valued at $2,403,850 in the like period last year.

WE'LL DO OUR BEST

No doubt, encouraged by the efforts of Brothers Belding and Havelle, of the St. John Evening Times and Moncton Transcript, to perfect themselves in the Miqma language, our Miqma editor today has a very interesting article for beginners in the Indian language—Now Fresman.

Part of the first lesson set forth by the Rev. Fresman's linguistic authority is as follows: Swoogli gmoogli ag gijijio Mall notji agomomoo. Ge, no meogooch ag.

meosoo. Ge, gijio, pool, ap Mill iji Piel pool, ot aipo. Moim pemiet ag mala teapo oojiet, an olo, nipi eta. Me cein, Sopi? oolei eta ag ijaigiei. Epeoeta? Mo pa ogeon, iajag taloo; aa. Aji oojiet: moji ma gajo matoo. Oo Aka togo oia Ep. Oelan ta, Noo? toog, etc.

At Bermuda a few days ago the steamer Caribbee was ready to take a cargo of potatoes and onions for New York. The native laborers demanded a dollar a day more pay. The demand was refused. They struck. The news of the strike brought the principal merchants, lawyers and business people generally down to the scene.

Thomas W. Lawson is to take the platform. The Boston Transcript says: "Thomas W. Lawson has accepted an invitation from Governor Hoeh of Kansas to deliver an address before a Chautauqua society at Ottawa, in that State, in July. This will be Mr. Lawson's first venture as a public speaker, and it is expected that the subject of his discourse will have to do with 'Financial Finance.'"

An expenditure of $20,000 to provide school buildings for manual training and domestic science will probably be submitted to the ratepayers of Toronto for their approval or rejection. The vote, if taken, the News says, is expected to be in favor of the people as to whether or not they favor the teaching of these subjects.

E. C. Whitney, of Ottawa, brother of Premier Whitney of Ontario, has offered to erect a residence for the students of Toronto University, if the University will build the other three residences required. The cost of the three buildings will be about $40,000 each.

THE ISSUE IN CHICAGO. The Fundamental Principle of Personal Liberty is at Stake. (New York Journal of Commerce). The conflict that has been going on in Chicago for the last two weeks and more, to the disturbance of business and social order, is of national importance because the principle at stake is fundamental to our whole system of government. It is a conflict between labor and capital only in the sense that it was precipitated by an organized force of workmen engaged in driving cases, which compelled employers and business men to take action in their own defense. It is really a contest over the sense of equal rights and of liberty under law, which concerns all citizens alike.

CHARLOTTETOWN, May 12.--Oyster fishing is being actively prosecuted this spring with about average success. The price is higher than in former years, $6.00 per barrel, at the above, and $6.50 for smaller lots for the well-known Malpas. In size and quality the oysters are above the average. Each of the principal dealers has already made eight or nine shipments this spring. The oyster industry is one of the most profitable in this province, and during recent years the government have been paying considerable attention to oyster culture.

BASEBALL NEWS HERE AND ELSEWHERE

Scores of the Big Leagues -- Y. M. C. A. to Play Rothsay This Afternoon.

Much interest is being taken in the baseball games to be played here on the 13th of May between the St. John's and the Forthlands. The north end team is showing up well in practice, and are said to be good stick handlers. Joe Page's team has shown its ability in fielding at the recent practices and if they do as well with the bat, the games on the holiday should prove very exciting. Both teams are determined to start the season with a victory to their credit and the prospects are that St. John fans will have a chance to see some ball playing worthy of the big leagues. No doubt the players of both teams will play with more ease when they don their uniforms and they should present a neat and natty appearance on the diamond.

To Play at Rothsay

The lineup of the Y. M. C. A. team which is to play the Rothsay College team will be changed somewhat. Some of the players have found it inconvenient to get away and consequently the make-up of the team will be somewhat different to that which appeared in last evening's issue. The boys will drive to Rothsay by bus, leaving King Square at 4 o'clock.

The Rothsay lineup will be: Carson, c.; Bernasconi, p.; Gaskill, 1b.; McAllan, 2b.; Learmont, 3b.; Woster, ss.; Shivers, c. i.; M. McAvity, c. f.; J. Phillips, l. f. The game will start at 3:30 p.m. EASTERN LEAGUE. At Jersey City--Jersey City, 3; Providence, 4. At Toronto--Toronto, 6; Buffalo, 5. GOLF.

National League

Boston, May 12--Chicago won a loosely played though exciting game from Boston in eleven innings today, 5 to 4. Both pitchers were very effective until the final innings. In the first half of the eleventh Chicago scored four runs on two passes, one hit, two errors and an outfield fly. THE R. K. Y. C. FLEET BEING RAPIDLY PUT IN SHAPE

If the yachts of the R. K. Y. C. fleet do not look their prettiest this year it will not be the fault of the yachtsmen, for paint, varnish and hard work are not being spared these days to make the various craft spick and span for the coming season's sport. Nearly every afternoon and evening now, the owners and those interested in the many boats comprising the squadron of the club, may be seen at work on their yachts, and each crew is vying with the others in seeing which shall make the best appearance. It would be hard to say at this stage of the work which crew can claim the prettiest boat, for some are only half through while others are nearly completed. A representative of this paper visited Millidgeville yesterday and looked over the ground, which is a short time ago was just a mass of canvas covered hulls with a mast poking its peak towards the clouds here and there. Now about half the boats are in the water, having had their hulls cleaned and painted and are receiving the finishing touches to the interior work, so that they may be in readiness for the first holiday. It is noticeable that nearly every boat will this year be painted white, and the fleet, whether lying at the buoy, or under way, will present a very pleasing picture to the eye.

on to the marine railway for their plunge into the water. Mr. Johnson has proven himself the right man in the right place, and he is always willing and ready to assist the boys, who are not backward in their praise of his efforts in this regard. Yesterday morning the Armorial was given her duck and she will be rapidly finished up by the energetic owners, Messrs. Sinclair, Stratton, Munroe and Ed. and Ralph Bonnell have spent a lot of time on their newly acquired craft and when they get through their work, they won't have to take a back seat from anyone. As has already been stated they sold the Sun to a party of young men. Other boats now in the water are: The "Tanawha," owned by W. A. McLaughlin, "Stormy Petrel," Howard Holder; "Privateer," C. McKeuskey; "Gracie C," E. M. Jones; "Venus," J. Pedersen; "Ben Hur," H. J. Fleming and J. H. Pullen; "Canada," Fred Heway; "Ava," Rupert Turnbull; "Louvina," Messrs. Likely, Dunn and Kimball. The "Tiers," F. P. Starr's boat was about ready to go into the water yesterday, and the others will follow as quickly as possible. The list of boats comprising the R. K. Y. Cup Defender Completed

BOSTON, Mass., May 10. -- The Iron-quois, the Canada's Cup defender at Lawley's yard, just completed from designs of C. F. Herreshoff, has been hauled out of the shop, and will be shipped to Rochester in a few days on a special car to arrive from St. Louis for the purpose.

She will go over the Boston & Albany and New York Central roads, and in order to pass through the tunnels she has been set up on a special cradle at an angle

THE IRON-QUOIS, BOAT, FROZEN IN FOR WINTER

Dr. Grenfell, who will speak in St. John next week, is the young Englishman and Oxford man who practices medicine on the sparsely settled coasts of Newfoundland and Labrador. For thirteen years he has given the folk along some two thousand miles of desperately evil coast practically the only medical attendance they have had; and for that same period he has given them certainly the only sympathetic encouragement--the only hope--the whole people has ever known. In summer his professional round is made in a little steamer, with which he reaches every harbor of the northern peninsula of Newfoundland, of the west shore of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and of the coast of Labrador, even past Cape Chidley in Hudson Strait; in winter he gets about by dog-team and komatik, often

There are some other boats which will probably be added to the fleet shortly, but the above is a list of those now on the Club book, as shown by the secretary, Thos. N. Hay. Great interest is being manifested in the cruising race, which is to be held on July 1st, and it is probable that there will be a large number of entries. Both the start and finish of this race is expected to be exciting.

HALIFAX BOXER IS AFTER MATCHES

John McIntyre is at the Hub--Kid Herman Takes a Sudden Departure. The Boston Herald of Thursday last says--The local boxing colony was increased this week by the arrival of Johnie McIntyre of Halifax. The boy, who comes here well recommended, is out to meet any boy in New England at 122 pounds and, as he said himself, the better they are the more anxious he is to fight them. McIntyre, who looks anything but a pugilist, is a little fellow of modest ways, and cares to say little about himself or his abilities, preferring to get into the ring with a good boy and let the public judge. It is known, however, that while boxing about Halifax he whipped all the boys of his weight, nearly all of them by the knockout route. His reason for coming to Boston is that, on account of his ability, he was unable to get matches with any of his weight, and in order to box he had to give away too much weight. McIntyre will try to get matches with the local lads in New England, and, if successful against them in the ring, will accept of Philadelphia to meet the 122-pounders of Quakerland in six-round events. He has placed himself under the management of Prof. "Bill" Mullen, who brought out Fred Bryson and handled the Walburn boxer when the latter was fighting so well.
