SAINT JOHN, N. B., NOVEMBER 24, 1926.

CO-ORDINATING SPORT

THE proposal to erect a permanent sports club. house at Lily Lake, which is now under serious consideration, is one that will meet with the hearty approval of the people of Saint John. While the recent destruction of the pavilion at the lake was in the nature of a calamity, if a decided step forward in the matter of sport and recreation for the city result from the demolition of the building, the incident may almost be considered as a blessing in disguise.

Saint John has, on many occasions, demonstrated its position as a world sporting centre. If any doubt on this question were entertained, it was definitely dispelled by the spectacle presented during the national and international skating meets held here within the last few years, when as many as 20,000 people assembled for one day's events.

Ice skating, however, is not the only one of community's sports specialties. National figures in rowing have been turned out in Saint John, and Lily Lake might easily become the home of a new generation of scullers, provided the accommodation were available and encouragement were given to the youngsters through such an organization as the building of a big permanent club house would necessitate letter regretting that the work of the Imperial ting reference to the fact was made by the Prince act of international courtesy is but another evidence of the cordial relations which prevail and must ever prevail ebtween this great republic and the Dominion of Canada." Mr. Massey also took occasion to say how deeply entrenched is the Prince of Wales in the affections of the Canadian people. Touching the Canadian Hostel, / Mr. Massey pointed out that some of the finest traditions of old France have been transplanted to the Taschercau paid to England. Referring to her treatment of French-Canadians he said: "England knew how to respect all that was dear to us. In the shadow of her flag we have known liberty, and we have grown up, after having buried in the common grave, where rest the grenadiers of Wolfe and of Montcalm, the old rancors of past davs."

Altogether Canada Day in Paris was a notable one and should not be without its beneficent influence in the Dominion.

CHOPIN

RECENTLY the Warsaw Philharmonic Society held a Chopin celebration. Was it necessary, when every piano that is an instrument, not a piece of furniture, celebrates Chopin every day? Chopin was born in Warsaw, but made his name in Paris. He never reached the age of forty, sport, and incidentally to the city, would come he was one of those who loved George Sand and, C. E. Neill, despite those critics who styled his pianoforte compositions as "lucent sirops tinct with cinnamon," tasted fame before he, died. His life was short but he lived indeed. His recognition was perhaps unusual, for musical conventions which survive are seldom readily accepted and acclaimed, but not unnatural because Chopin's music is essentially the voice of the piano itself. There is little strong about Chopin's music, but its appeal is more clinging than is that of many a more robust

Should We Bridge Or Should We Tunnel?

(Annapolis Spectator)

ONE of the propositions that bobs up a letter regretting that the work of the Imperial Conference prevented his attendance. The various addresses delivered were especially happy, and well suited to the occasion. Nothing could exceed the good taste displayed by the Prince of Wales in his references to Canada and France. The Presi-dent of France was among those present, and fit-ting reference to the fact was made by the Prince and also by Mr. Massey, who observed that "this ferry has been a necessity, but it is now said that a bridge farther down the harbor to supersede the ferry service would mean a saving of $15,000 If however the people of both Saint John a year. and Halifax were a bit more enterprising and "long-headed," they would without a doubt find it eventually to their advantage to construct tunnels instead of bridges, affording permanent highways with a minimum cost for maintenance. Borings were made a good many years ago at the Narrows in Halifax and a tunnel there was pronounced a simple engineering feat, but the estimate of cost at that time was considered to put the Canada are now part of our common national heritage. Very warm was the tribute Premier Tascherray mid to Frederic Defendence of the tunnel probably would have been paid for by this time and the North end of Dartmouth and east side of the Basin would have worn a very changed aspect from their present appearance. Similar plans for a tunnel beneath the harbor of Saint John were also made about thirty years ago and may be still on file among the archives of that city. The enterprise was pronounced then to be entirely feasible and only the question of cost pre-vented its practical consideration. If anybody wants to take hold of these enterprises under the wants to take hold of these enterprises under the improved conditions of today they are welcome to this hint from The Spectator with the addi-tional reminder that the cost of the first East River tunnel at New York was deemed to be so great that no contractors would undertake the task until the city guaranteed the bonds, yet the tunnel proved to be an unqualified success, financially and every other way, from the hour its operation was begun.

The fly shown in the picture is one of these spider-eating flies. They are all distinguished by having a very small head, which is little else than eyes, and a curiously hump-backed appearance. All of these flies when young live within spiders, feeding on their tissues, or within the egg sacks of spiders, consuming their eggs. A number of these spider-eating flies are brightly colored and metallic-very beautiful creatures. There are not many different kinds, and most of them are rather rare.

through the co-ordination of many minor efforts along similar lines. The proposed organization might well dip into all branches of sport and recreation in all seasons and make the new institution the starting point for each division. What better place than Lily Lake to bring into line the coming hockey stars of the city? Are the Allison Grounds too far away that they could not be brought under the jurisdiction of the organization for the development of football, baseball and track material? The opportunity for swimming and other aquatic sports is almost unlimited.

The building of a permanent structure at Lily Lake will make the staging of both winter and summer sports, where ice or water are necessary adjuncts, a matter of much simpler organization and preparation than at the present time, and should prove a real stimulus to those who would otherwise hesitate over the projects.

The question of transportation naturally arises, but doubtless this will be taken into consideration when the matter of organization is discussed. At the present time, Rockwood Park is not so easily accesible as it might be to those not possessing motor cars, but the development of the area as a sports centre will, probably, be followed, or accompanied by, an adequate transportation scheme

As the matter stands now, the project presents a wealth of interesting possibilities, and its prolovers of sport, as well as by those who have the economic future of the city at heart.

THE MARITIME BOARD OF TRADE

THE decision of the Maritime Board of Trade · itself to assume the direction of efforts to unite and co-ordinate Maritime endeavor, to secure against opposition the privileges for which we have struggled and which are almost within our grasp, and, generally, to promote the prosperity of the Atlantic region is an example of the accomplishment of an end, with existing facilities expanded and increased. The retiring President of the Maritime Board of Trade had vision when he urged the formation of a body wherein interests other than commercial and industrial should be represented. Eventually that will come. For the moment, however, the most powerful and vital interests having the good of the Maritimes at heart are those connected with commerce and industry. Our fisheries and our forests come under these heads and agriculture is gradually being drawn into the fold. Other interests there are, social, academic and so forth, all concerned with Maritime prosperity, but for the moment the line of offence and defence must be held by trade. Wherefore it is satisfactory to note that the Maritime Board of Trade itself shoulders the burden. The election of a president and secretary is a distinct and-one must acknowledge with all civic modesty-well deserved compliment to Saint John. With the Halifax Board of Trade co-operating but not definitely affiliated to the Maritime Board of Trade, it is not invidious to claim that the Loyalist City leads the way in regard to matters in which the Maritime Board of Trade is interesting itself particularly. The newly elected president and secretary are too well known and too highly esteemed to require recommendation to their fellow-citizens. Their names are household words in Saint John and synonymous with unflagging devotion to their community. Saint John is fortunate and will extend its congratulations to Mr. Simms and Mr. Sclanders. No less will this city felicitate the retiring president, Mr. Angus McLean, on what he has achieved during his tenure of office, and most particularly on the manner in which he has paved the way to future Maritime progress and prosperity.

musician Chopin is eminently the piano's composer and none has yet arisen during the past eighty years to challenge his supremacy as such. His celebration in his birthplace is nothing to his perpetual celebration in every civilized country.

The Church of England Institute of Saint John is a power for good in the city of no mean weight. Necessarily its immediate ministrations are directed towards meeting the needs of members of the Church of England, but no such institution can exist as a living force without reacting beneficially on the community at large outside its immediate sphere of influence. Unobtrustively, as the Institute always works, it is celebrating its jubilee. It is nearly fifty years since Saint John way visited by that terrible fire which swept through the busiest section of the city and reduced the work, gress will be followed with keen interest of all of generations to ashes. Following this affliction there was need for encouragement and co-operation among the citizens, and it cannot be doubted that the then young Church of England Institute played its part nobly during those sorrowful days and thereby gathered strength and energy unto itself. Thence it has marched from strength to strength and now, at the conclusion of its first half century, all will extend congratulations and wishes for an equally bright and useful future.

WHAT seems to have impressed Queen Marie nost in Ottawa was the Experimental Farm. In the latest chapter of her "Impressions of Amer-ica" she merely mentions the visit to the Archives, but expatiates on the farm visit. "To my great joy," she says, she was driven to the farm where she was "interested in everything-the growing of cereals, the planting of fruit, the raising of live-stock, forestry, vegetables and flowers." "It was too hurried a visit," she adds, and closes by referring to the "glorious chrysanthemums" and the "gorgeous apples."

IN Europe they are preaching the doctrine of "back to the land." A similar movement would not be amiss in this country. The problem of not be amiss in this country. The problem of people in Canada is just as much a problem of colonization as of immigration, and the finest colonization material is to be found right among our own people if it can be attracted to the farm.

He asserts broadly that our farmers are more fortunate than those across the line. The average price for the products of Canadian agriculture is more favorable than that which preagriculture is more favorable than that which pre-vails in the United States. Agricultural prices here are 69 per cent. above pre-war prices, while our general price level is only 54 per cent. above that of 1913. In the United States, the farmer is in an unfortunate position with the prices of his products below the general price level; the cotton situation is particularly acute. General prices average 150, while the price of the products of United States agriculture average only 35 per cent. above pre-war levels. He declares that "for the price of the products of tortunate, and holds promise of continued pros-perity." The increases in railway receipts, the expansion of building are other indices of the pre-vailing good times. BRAKES are not put on a motor car for ornament. But in a good many cases they serve that purpose or none. A brake that will not work might as well be on a wheelbarrow for all it can do to prevent a mishap. Stand some day on one of the busy streets and watch how long it takes some drivers to persuade their cars to stop when they are trying to get into a parking space; and listen to the screams of the brakebands calling for new linings. Then reflect on how one would feel lying on the pavement ahead while one of those drivers was trying to bring his car to a standstill.

But if he doesn't, why not find some one else to talk to? You have neighbors and friends, and there is always the ever-useful telephone over which you can converse, Perhaps you will say that these do not take the place of a husband and you feel that it is his duty to entertain you. So it is, to a certain ex-tent, but you must consider his rights in the matter, too, and that he is as much entitled to spend his evening reading as you are to spend yours talking.

It always strikes me as curious that women never seem to think that a man has any rights and privileges in the home that he spends his life toiling to support. It is only the exceptional man who ever has a room of his own that he can furnish as he likes, and in which he can do as he pleases. It is only the excep-itenal man who even has a closet or chiffonier of his own. Gener-ally speaking, anything is good enough for hubby and any old hook will hold his clothes.

Nor does the wife realize that the evenings are her husband's only time of relaxation, and that during the few hours when he is free of the grind of his daily labor he must get rest and refreshment of body and soul if he is to go on with his job.

If she did, she wouldn't save up all the odd jobs for him to do at night. She wouldn't begrudge him an evening off now and then, and she wouldn't take the book away from him that he wanted to read.

DOROTHY DIX.

......... DEAR MISS DIN-I am a girl 21 years old. My mother died when I Was 13 and I have not been happy since, because I am crippled. My sisters call me an old maid and say no man will marry me because I am lame, although I am prettier than they are. When any man tries to talk to me they say that he is just making a fool of me. Do you think a man could ever fall in love with a crippled girl? L. S.

ANSWER: Why not? If a man is big and fine and noble, he will be look-ing at your mind and heart, which are straight and beautiful, and not at your poor, deformed foot. As a matter of fact, I know two or three lame women who are married to splendid husbands.

I think your sisters must be as cruel as the wicked sisters in the fairy tale and that you are far luckier than they because they are lame in then souls, while you are only lame in body. But facts are facts, L. S., and it seems to me that the brave thing to do, and the wise thing to do, is to look them squarely in the face, instead of shutting our eyes to them.

It is foolish to deny that men require far more physical per-fection from women than women do from men, and that they are far more repulsed by any bodily defect in a woman than a woman is in a man. Because a man is bald-headed or fat does not keep a girl from liking his attentions or falling in love with him, but any girl who was fat and bald-headed would never get an invitation from a man to go anywhere. Still less would she ever get a proposal of mar-

All of us know women who have married men who are hunchbacked ar blind or deaf and dumb, or who have been terribly mained, because the region could see the splendid heart and soul and brain that was housed in the poor, battered body. But you seldom hear of a man marrying a woman vho is greatly afflicted.

So, while you are not predestined to be an old maid because of your lameness, it is undoubtedly true that you will have fewer chances to marry than if you had two good dancing feet. There-fore, I would advise you to think as little as possible about love and matrimony, and to fit yourself to make a good, independent living for yourself. If you do that, you will have something to in-terest you, money to be comfortable and independent on, and you can live a happy life whether you marry or not.

Then, if Mr. Right comes along, well and good, and if he doesn't you will not have lost out. DOROTHY DIX

. DEAR MISS DIX—We are two very troubled school girls, aged 15 and 16. We are very much in love, with two boys who are 17 and 19, and we are thinking of getting married because we are all so tired of going to school. What do you advise us to do? JESSIE AND MARGIE.

ANSWER:

ANSWER: I advise you not to try the experiment of jumping out of the frying pan into the fire, because if you do, you will surely get badly burned. You are tired of going to school. Believe me, my children, you will get a lot more tired of matrimony if you undertake it at your tender age. School lasts only a few years, but marriage is for-ever, unless you go through the horror of divorce. Your school hours are short hours, but marriage is a twenty-four hour job, with no holidays and off days for a wife and mother. You think that marriage is a picnic. Look at your own mothers _ Isn't no holidays and off days for a wife and mother. You think that marriage is a picnic. Look at your own mothers. Isn't nother up before anybody else in the morning and isn't she the last to go to bed at night? Isn't she the one who does the hard chores? Isn't she the one who stays at home when everybody else goes on excursions? Isn't she the one who has the shabbiest clothes and bears the heaviest burdens? Don't be in a hurry to understudy mother. Don't make the mistake of thinking that matrimony is a soft snap and don't be fool emough to usin mour life in its beginning by marrying another silly

EXPECT EXPORT OF COAL TO CONTINUE

New Trade Lanes For Hampton Roads Product Kept in Operation

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 23-News of the probable settlement of the British coal strike has brought an expression of opinion in local shipping circles that this port will continue to ship large quantities of coal to England until next spring at least. It is not believed here that the English mines will be able to accumulate a supply of coal to meet the demands for fuel in England alone before March or April.

before March or April. The strike opened to the Hampton Roads coal markets several trade lanes that had never before been supplied through this port. A large portion of the new business will remain in Ameri-ca, it is thought in marine circles. Italy, which formerly was a big patron of the British coal mines, recently has been buying exclusively in America, and it is generally be-lieved that this business will remain. South America also is buying exclus-ively in the United States. The bulk of the South American coal trade had turned to the United States even be-fore the British miners went on strike. The Hampton Roads coal is said to have proved superior to the pro-duct of the British mines whenever tested and this will have a far reachtested and this will have a far reaching effect on large consumers in for eign countries, it is claimed.

Cambridge Trio to Meet Report of Audit Presented Monies Paid to To City Council By Local Team in High School Board Comptroller School Tonight

The visiting team of debaters from Cambridge University, England, who are to meet a Saint John team this vening, arrived in the city last night from Halifax, where they defeated the Dahousie University team on Monday night. The team is composed of H. G. G. Herklots, Trinity College; A. L. Hutchinson, Christ's College, and W. B. Sordhom Maadalene College.

Hutchinson, Christ's College, and W. B. Yordham, Magdalene College. The Saint John team, which meets them in debate this evening, is com-posed of Leo Cain, B.A., Cyril Allin-son and George Hudson. The former two are law students, while Mr. Hud-son is a chartered accountant. The subject to be discussed is: "Resolved, that this House opposes the growing tendency of government to invade the rights of individuals." Interviewed by a Times-Star tendency of government to invade the rights of individuals." Interviewed by a Times-Star representative last evening the visiting members of the Cambridge team ex-pressed themselves as delighted with the reception they had met with in this country. In all they have met six-teen of the largest American and Cana-dian Univeristy teams, including Yale, Harvard, Columbia, Pennsylvania Dartmouth, Toronto University, McGill University, Boston College, Cornell, St. Francis Xavier University, Halifax This will be the third debate held in the Maritimes, the St. F. X. team having won a decision, while Dal-housie lost on Monday night. They leave on Wednesday evening for Boston, where they will meet the team from Boston University. From there they will go to Washington, D.C.

The report of the audit of the books A THE COUNCIL meeting yes-terday afternoon Mayor White presented a statement of monies paid to the School Board on the general warrant and on account of the vocational school and Commissioner Frink said this showed that the people had been assessed for just twice the amount necessary for the voca-tional school. It also showed that a payment of more than $3,000 had been made to the school board by the province on account of months of this year on general school account $426,120.60 and there would be paid, it was estimated in the next two months $85,224.20, making a total for the year of $511,344.80. On the vocational school account there had been paid in ten months $19,065.83. For November the amount needed was $2,387.52 and it was estimated the same amount would be needed for December, bringing the total up to $23,840.87. During November the School Board had received from the provincial government a payment of $3,109.99 on account of salaries paid the vocational school teach-

SLOW GROWTH OF DOMINIONS. Empire Parts Have Not Developed As Expected

LONDON, Nov. 24—J. L. Garvin reviews the work of the Imperial Con-ference in an interesting survey of the Overseas Dominions. He says— Imagine the Roman Empire and that of Philip the Second put to-gether. Our "Oceana" could swallow them both comfortably with much room to spare. The post-prandial Jingo was no doubt egregious with his grandloquent banalities about mere size. His opposite extreme, the gen-uine Little Englander, was at least as foolish when he talked as though the actual extent of our responsibilities actual extent of our responsibilities and opportunities were an optical il-lusion instead of an over-riding fact. It does make a difference that the Mother-Country and the Dominions, including India, are responsibile today including India, are responsibile today for a quarter of the earth and of all its people. You must not boast of mere size. You must measure it when you meet it. If the marching-ants were as big as elephants while re-taining their shape and faculties there would be an inconceivable terror on the earth. Conversely, if men and women were as small as ants they would be gobbled up on all hands in-itead of being the sovereigns of crea-tion. So let us not boast of sizes; but e

Just because they were unable to obtain a passport visa didn't deter Mrs. Henrietta Hipp and her daughter, Hilda, 11, from coming to the United States from their home in Hamburg, Germany. At Southampton, they stowed away on the S. S. Leviathan, on which Mrs. Hipp's husband is a steward, and would have perhaps entered New York but for the vigilance of the customs searching squad. This picture was taken as, deported, they began their return voyage on the S. S. President Harding.

Impressive Ceremony Carried Out at Trinity; Cannon Armstrong Speaks

The splendid edifice of Trinity hurch which has witnessed many impressive services has seen few that were more memorable or touched a deeper note of feeling than did that service of rejoicing and thanksgiving which was held last night to mark the golden jubilee of the Church of Engand Institute

Rev. R. A. Armstrong, rector of the Church of the Redeemer, Toronto, preached eloquently from the text "The fellowship of Jesus Christ," and spoke of his own poignant feelings in speak-ing in the church of which he had been

The congregation began to assemble three-quarters of an hour before the service commenced and the seating service commenced and the seating capacity was inadequate to accommo-date the large number present. Trin-ity's full choir of 52 voices led in the singing of the magnificently stirring music under the direction of James S. Ford, and 26 of the clergy of the arch-

Ford, and 26 of the clergy of the arch-leaconry were seated in the sanctuary. His Lordship Bishop Richardson, also a former rector of Trinity, was present and pronounced the beendiction. Ven. Archdeacon A. H. Crowfoot, president of the Church of England, conducted the service and the lessons were read by Rev. H. A. Cody and Rev, W. H. Sampson, who is the rural dean, and were Leviticus 25 and Philippings 4.

FELLOWSHIP OF CHRISTMr. Armstrong spoke of the fellowship of Christ as the one door open to the meanest and poorest and the one fellowship in which men entered to give and not to get, but he pointed out that in that fellowship was found responsibility as well as privilege.

GREAT WORD TODAY Having announced his text, "The Fellowship of Jesus Christ," Mr. Arm-strong said that fellowship was one of the great words of today and one of the great hopes of the world. He re-called that the Lambeth Conference, representing the heads of the Anglican church throughout the world, had found that fellowship was the one great ideal and one great hope for the solution of all the problems. Recently he had heard an eminent Canadian statesman say in effect that fellowship was the one hope of Canadian national life where the far-flung miles were at once our joy and our difficulty and there was a constant fight against geography. He admitted that the custom of the day changed slowly but he felt that if each individual would place himself in the seat of the other fellow there would be a changed outlook. He thought a little fellowship would take the bit-terness out of those who were on the underside of that dividing line. package of M Life Savers

Mrs. Beem and three small chil-dren, left the road last night, went lake Our Herbal Re through a fence and down a four-foot embankment and turned turtle with a fence rail driven through the top of the car and the front seat. The only occupant much hurt was Mrs. Beem, whose collar bone was fractured and who received cuts and bruises. The fence rail impaled the car between Mr. Beem and one of the children. The accident occurred by the car skidding on the snow while passing another car.
