DISSOLUTION OF PARLIAMENT IS HIRED

Commons Adjourns Until Monday Without Voting On Conservative Amendment

House Rises at 5.20 O'clock This Morning After One of Most Strenuous Sitings Since 1913

PREMIER ACCEPTS SUB-AMENDMENT

Battle Ends at Dawn After Three Divisions Give Margin Against Government; Prime Minister Reserves Right to Reject Opposition Motion; Leaders Clash at Finish

OTTAWA, June 26.—After a battle lasting till dawn, after being on three successive occasions on the losing side of House divisions, the government at 5.20 this morning managed to get through a motion to adjourn. It was proposed by C. G. Power, Liberal, Quebec South, and carried by 115 to 114, and the House went over till Monday afternoon.

The end of the day came in a wild with excitement, with both sides cheering and throwing papers in the air. Such scenes, such dramatic episodes, have not been witnessed probably in half a century. They closed with a sharp encounter between the two leaders.

As the motion to adjourn was put, Right Hon. Arthur Meighen asked if it was correct that the government had passed an order appointing certain civil service commissioners and a senator. Also if the Premier desired to make any statement following three defeats.

"If my Right Hon. Friend will retract his last statement, I will answer his first," sharply retorted Premier King.

MAY ASK DISSOLUTION Adjournment has brought a temporary relief to weary members. But the situation remains. As the matter now stands, the House has still to decide the government's fate on the divisions report, and there are rumors that the Premier instead of waiting for the Central to grant a dissolution of parliament after remaining supply has been voted.

The vote of the day came on the Woodworth sub-amendment. This sub-amendment sought to strike from the Conservative amendment a clause of the government for maladministration of the Customs Department. It has been substituted a recommendation for the appointment of a judicial commission to investigate further.

The Woodworth sub-amendment also moved by a private member, had the support of Premier King and the Government. It was defeated by two votes on this division; Against 117; For 115. Majority against, and did not vote.

PROGRESSIVES BOLT In the division, five Progressives voted with Conservatives against the sub-amendment. They were Messrs. Campbell, Mackenzie, Lucas, Cannon, Beaulieu, Yergeville, Fansher, Last, Mountain, and Kennedy. Peace River, Mr. Kennedy was a member of the customs committee which prepared the customs report. Other Progressives present voting with the Government for the sub-amendment.

NEW SUB-AMENDMENT The Woodworth sub-amendment defeated, the speaker then put the Conservative amendment containing a clause of the government. Immediately Mr. Fansher arose with another sub-amendment. This takes the Woodworth sub-amendment and provides for appointment of a judicial commission and adds it to the Conservative amendment, but does not strike from the Conservative amendment its clause of the government.

Speaker Meighen questioned if the new sub-amendment was in order, and after a brief discussion, ruled that it was out of order.

Mr. Meighen appealed against the Speaker's ruling.

Again the House divided, this time on the point whether the Speaker's ruling should be sustained. The Government threw its strength in the affirmative; Conservatives against.

The House overruled the Speaker's decision on the following vote: Against, 118; for, 116, majority against.

WOODSWORTH SWITCHES The five Progressives who had voted against the Woodworth sub-amendment again voted with Conservatives.

Miss Macphail and Mr. Coote, however, who had not voted in the previous division, now voted with the Government to sustain the Speaker's ruling, and J. S. Woodworth, Liberal, switched his vote, casting it now with the Conservatives against the Speaker's ruling.

While the point of order was under consideration, Hon. Lucien Cannon, Solicitor General, proposed adjournment of the debate to permit consideration of the Fansher sub-amendment. But his suggestion was drowned by Conservative shouts of "No," and the motion to adjourn was not put.

Liberals continued debate. Early in the morning, Arthur Beaubien, Progressive, Proulx, moved adjournment of the debate. The Government sup-

Government Never Beaten In Commons

NOT since Confederation has a Canadian government been defeated in the House of Commons. The nearest parallel was in the Pacific scandal of 1873. That was on the report of a committee of inquiry and an amendment thereon containing censure of the Macdonald government. A sub-amendment was moved, but a vote on it was not taken. While the question was still on the order paper, Macdonald was prorogued. The Macdonald government then went to the polls and was defeated.

FRENCH WOMAN IS SENTENCED TO DEATH

Convicted of Murdering Neighbors—Men Companions Get Life Terms

PARIS, June 26.—For the second time in two months a French court has sentenced a woman to the guillotine. Madame Moulou, who was charged with murdering her neighbors in the Vosges Mountains, was given the death sentence Friday and her two male companions in crime were sentenced to hard labor for life.

Two women now await final action of the President of France as to whether or not they shall slide under the knife of the guillotine. "La Siere" who was convicted by a jury of having poisoned 20 victims, is the other apparently doomed woman.

According to French custom a woman is referred to not as "Mrs. or Miss" but as "she" and thus the two condemned prisoners are referred to as "La Siere" and "La Moulou." The last such legal execution of a woman in France occurred in 1886, and ever since the presidents of France have been inclined against chopping off the heads of convicted women prisoners.

FAMILIES GUARD WRITER'S IDENTITY

District Attorney Edwards admitted that the families of Brewster and his wife, together with a few Nassau county officials, know the real identity of "Red," who signed the letter that was thought to have inflamed Brewster. Edwards said it was considered unnecessary to reveal the name, as the man is not criminally liable, and there is a general official belief that he did not write with the motives apparently imputed to him by Brewster.

Reinforcement From Morocco Are Greeted With Pleasure at Beirut

BEIRUT, June 26.—The arrival of reinforcements here from Morocco and the official announcement that additional troops are on their way, have been received enthusiastically in military circles as proof that France has definitely decided to remain in Syria. For some time the feeling had been prevalent among army officers here that France has not realized the difficulties of the occupation in the face of the hostile tribesmen and they have been preaching the necessity of reevacuating reinforcements. be inspected for tuberculosis. Dr. J.
A. Pugsley, veterinary for the health department, came from Fredericton
a few days ago to begin examinations,
but it was said this morning that he was segregated and used exclusively for unpasteurized milk. Bottles used for raw milk are to be sterilized by rigid inspection and special permits granted to those who desire to sell raw milk.

It is said from points in the country that several milk producers who were desirous of selling unpasteurized milk some time ago are not going to offer their raw milk for sale in face of the government's regulations.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF SAINT JOHN "THE RAINMAKER" IMPERIAL MONDAY

Big New York and Boston Hit—Much Like "Mir- acle Man."

"The Rainmaker" is a story of a boy and girl whom the Great Handicapper once summoned into the paddock, and then with humane weakness, bridled them with vain desires, and in the same day sent them to the post to run their course on the race track of Life. Each overcame a bad start, ran fair and true for a little while and then weakened and fell back into the rack.
Bumped and buffeted, knocked out of their stride, they dropped back until their final race was run in the mud, in a little border town where the limit is the blue sky. It is a splendid Parame-ount production, with William Collier,
Jr., Ernest Torrence, Georgia Hale,
Joseph Dowling, Martha Mattox, Tom
Wilson and other favorite stars.

"The last time I saw Comeau was the evening of Wednesday, June 2, the same time that my husband had.

Neighbors believe that I was intimate with Comeau. These stories are untrue and you can say that the rumors about today are untrue.

NOT YET READY FOR SALE OF RAW MILK

district Board of Health, said today that, before raw milk is offered for be inspected for tuberculosis. Dr. J.

A. Pugsley, veterinary for the health department, came from Fredericton
a few days ago to begin examinations,
but it was said this morning that
he was segregated and used exclusively

rigid inspection and special permits

SAINT JOHN, N. B., JUNE 26, 1926.

THE BATTLE IN THE COMMONS.

The Government is fighting for its life and what the outcome will be it is impossible to say with certainty, but there seems every likelihood of the Liberal administration going down to defeat.

trians to look both to left and right appears to be more sensible legislation. Saint John might do well to study the traffic regulations of other cities where, it is true, control of traffic is much more difficult and accidents much more numerous than here, nevertheless, our streets could be made much safer places for both pedestrians and motorists by learning from the experiences of other cities and by making use of the regulations and educational programmes, which have proved so efficacious elsewhere.

THE CURSE OF TUT.

Those who hugged a superstitious belief in the efficacy of ancient curses will be desolated, nevertheless it is interesting to speculate on the reason for the presence of poison in sufficient quantities and of sufficient violence to cause the death of Lord Carnarvon and other excavators of King Tut Anken's tomb, also the illness of Howard Carter. The poison is said to have coated the casket and had crumbled into dust. Was it just a pigment or was it deliberately used to prevent desecration of the king's resting place? If the latter, it would seem that tomb-robbing was the custom in bygone ages and it is not surprising when one considers the wealth buried with the Egyptian dead of that period.

Mr. Fansher's sub-amendment has not the same nullifying properties as that of Mr. Woodsworth, and if it had not been that the Premier accepted this last amendment, it would, if successful, have constituted a Government defeat. But Mr. King's acceptance is only of the sub-amendment and he reserves the right to reject the Conservative amendment as amended by the Fansher sub-amendment or to move an amendment to it. This gives him room to manoeuvre, and so the matter stands until Monday afternoon, when it may be expected that renewal of the already somewhat heated debate will bring forth a display of party strategy from both sides.

MOTORISTS AND PEDESTRIANS.

With the summer comes the usual procession of automobile accidents and consequent diatribes against motorists. All accidents are "blamed on" the car drivers and when the accident is a collision of two automobiles, one of them is generally both to be blamed. Even so, however, in the last analysis, the blame often can be traced to faulty traffic rules or insufficient regulation and direction of traffic.

Odds and Ends

June (Tripper in Toronto Star.) A summer resort is a place where folks tell silly stories and silly jokes. Go out to fish and come in with the fish and eat at the food and cuss the heat.

With regard to training children to be careful of automobiles, it is sufficient to point out that Saint John is one of the very few cities of its size on this continent where traffic safety first education is not part of the school curriculum. In many cities ten or fifteen minutes daily are devoted to impressing the children with the necessity for care in traversing the streets.

A summer resort is a place to go for wilted collars whenever you row, and sticky heat, and a peeling nose, and poison ivy—a painful dose. The summer resort is a nation's boon (Or was—in the days when June was June.)

In the city of Detroit there is a civic regulation that all citizens before crossing a street must first look to the left and then, upon reaching the centre of the street look to the right so as to avoid motor traffic. It was found that this regulation, accompanied by an educational campaign including posters and signs at street corners to remind citizens, reduced the number of accidents by a large percentage.

When Men Are Most Amiable. (E. W. Howe's Monthly.) Every man has a certain amiability in talking to customers he displays no more. There is something about the acquisition of money that moves a man more deeply than any other thing, except a love affair.

Vancouver has a by-law, just put in force this year, which forbids pedestrians crossing streets at any point other than the intersections. This by-law has met with considerable criticism. Its weakness lies in the fact that pedestrians recent such a regulation because they feel it is a restriction of their personal liberty of action and consequently its enforcement probably will be difficult.

Don't Tie Yourself to a Girl's Apron Strings, Young Man, Until You're Sure You Want It to Be Permanent—Don't Narrow Yourself Down to One Beau, Girls, Until He Pops the Question, for Competition is the Life of the Love Trade.

ONE of the things that appears to trouble greatly the youths and maidens of today is the difficulty of establishing just what jurisdiction each has over the other while they wander through the no-man's land prior to the time when the young man pops the question and there is a definite betrothal.

This halcyon period is vulgarly known as "keeping company." Theoretically it should be ideal, a time of the fluttering wings and the golden glow of awakening love, of vague anticipation and nebulous dreams, when every day the potential lovers would discover fresh charms and beauties in each other and everything would be untouched, unmarred, by any odious sense of duty and obligation.

For, one would think, that love would be freer than it ever can be when across its pathway swings the nose of the marriage tie, in which one must run one's neck at the end of an engagement.

That is the theory of "keeping company" but the practice of it seems to work out very differently, and to be filled with heartburnings and bitter jealousies and impotent reproaches.

There is not a day that I do not get a dozen letters calling upon me to arbitrate the difficulties that have grown out of this situation, where the man and the girl neither like nor loathe nor good red herring—where they are neither engaged nor disengaged, neither bond nor free.

A GIRL will write that she has been "keeping company" for two or three or four years with a boy and that he has suddenly quit her cold and begun paying ardent attention to some beautiful young creature who works in the same office that he does. Wherefore the girl weeps bitter tears when she finds herself neglected and forsaken.

Or a youth writes that he has been "keeping company" with a girl for a year and a half, but that when he took her to a ball she danced four times with another sheik. Also that he has discovered that she occasionally goes out with some other man. In consequence of which he feels himself a much-abused individual and berates the girl for being flirty and frivolous.

Now "keeping company" is merely a sort of sentimental option that a man and woman have on each other, and they can foreclose or let lapse as they like. It commits a man to nothing. It binds a girl to nothing, and the most elementary sense of justice should show both parties that they have no cause for complaint, no matter what the other one does.

YOU can't break a bargain until you have made one. You can't lose a thing you have never had. You can't impose the ethics of a betrothal or of matrimony upon those who are, in effect, mere acquaintances. You can't regulate the conduct of a man or woman unless you give that individual a legal right to do so.

The world's greatest exhibition of nerve is given by the man who arrogates to himself the privilege of dictating to a girl what other men she shall associate with when he hasn't even asked her to be his wife, and may possibly never ask her.

IT TAKES monumental self-conceit and selfishness to make a man willing to monopolize a girl and keep all other men away from her on the off chance that he may pop the question to her if he doesn't happen to run across some other girl that he likes better.

And it is the world's crowning illustration of folly for a girl ever to be a party to such an unequal bargain, a bargain in which she unwittingly gets the hot end, for she takes the greatest risk. She has no right to feel ill-used when the man who has been "keeping company" with her rides away.

HE HAS never proposed marriage to her. He may never even have mentioned love. He has never assumed any obligation to her. She hasn't even the slightest hold on his coat tails, and if she has let him drive all other men away and kill all her chances of matrimony, she has no one to blame but herself.

From a practical standpoint it is impossible to imagine why girls stand for the "keeping company" custom for a minute. They have everything to lose by it and nothing to gain.

A YOUNG woman who permits a man to camp on her parlor chairs, who is always seen out with him in public, and who thus advertises that she belongs to him, puts herself absolutely in his power. If he doesn't choose to take her to places, she must stay at home. If he doesn't come to see her, she sits up solitary, alone. And if he finally decides that he doesn't want to marry her, she is left lamenting. All of her youth and good looks may have been wasted in years of waiting on a man whose years of attention were without intention.

It is a good thing for men and women to see and know many women and men before they pick out their life mates. This is impossible in the monopolistic condition imposed by the "keeping company" custom, which limits a man going to see one girl, and a girl receiving the attentions of only one man.

So my earnest advice to all young men and women who are "keeping company" is to break up this silly practice. Don't tie up your mind, young sir, to a girl's apron strings until you have made up your mind whether you want to be fastened there for life or not, and don't feel that because you condescend to take her out to a movie and date her up now and then that you have the right to manage her. The privilege of hosting a woman goes with paying her bills.

And you, Miss Juliet, don't narrow yourself down to a single man until he comes across with an engagement ring and takes you house-hunting. Competition is the life of trade, especially the love trade.

FOR to her who hath many admirers, still more shall be added, but from her who hath not shall be taken away even the poor, lone, lorn steady that she hath.

THIS SMART, SWAGGER COAT HAS A SCARY TO MATCH LINING

By Marie Balmont

This smart, gracefully flaring coat is the type that can be worn over any simple sports frock. The color is soft red, and the lining of beige crepe harmonizes ideally with the soft red of the kaasha. With the coat is worn a fringed beige crepe scarf to match the lining. Soft gray kasha might be used for the coat with pale gray lining and scarf to harmonize.

SEE-SAWING ON BROADWAY

SUCH thrills as may lie in dropping a few thousand feet in a parachute or standing on the wing of a speeding airplane are all in a day's work with the men who paint the Woolworth building. Perched on gargoyles 799 feet above the ground these steeple-jacks go about their work with far greater nonchalance than the man crossing a street.

GEORGE COCKLEY, who heads the crew of three now carrying on this precarious task, smiles at the idea of danger. His legs wrapped about a seemingly fragile bit of metal work he sat swinging his paint brush in one hand and waving at me with the other, the first time I encountered him.

"No," he said, smiling, "I've never married. It's too hazardous."

PAINTING the Woolworth building is perhaps the world's most notorious job of its sort. Covering 55 floors of building with paint is no afternoon's task.

THIS season, when thousands of tourists visit the building, the antics of the steeplejacks attract breathless throngs.

ALTHOUGH the Woolworth is America's best known structure, all probability, there are a number of little known tales concerning it.

It is built on the site of one Philip Hone's house. Hone is sometimes referred to as "the American Pepys," and kept a famous diary of the period of Irving and Poe. His home was rendezvous for the celebrated folk of the time, and Washington Irving was a frequent guest, though Poe is said to have not been on his list.

THE architect of the building came from Stockholm. He had hoped, as a boy, to follow the family tradition of going to sea. Migrating to America, after his family had discouraged the idea.

Is this your BIRTHDAY

JUNE 25—You probably have a good memory; very likely a good head for figures. You do not always see things in proportion. Little annoyances are more likely to upset you than bigger troubles. June 26 women, as a rule, make excellent wives and mothers, and June 28 men are often particularly handy with tools or instruments. Generally fond of music and of books. Your birth-stone is a pearl, which means health and long life. Your lucky colors are light blue and white. Your flower is the honeysuckle.

JUNE 27—You are kind, loving, tender, and true. You are very demonstrative in your love for your mate, and your devotion that causes you friends to look upon your home life as a model and ideal. Your aims are high, and you generally succeed in their attainment. Be careful not to encourage jealousy, and never listen to the gossip. Your birth-stone is a pearl, which means health and long life. Your lucky colors are light blue and white. Your flower is the honeysuckle.

THE further back he sits in church the further up he sits at the bar-lesque show.

TODAY'S RECIPES.

Stuffed Prunes—Select large prunes, scrub well, and let soak for two hours. Steam until tender, remove stones, and fill with cream cheese and nuts.
Baked Cabbage—Take a head of cabbage and parboil in salt water for 15 minutes, lift from water. When cool, spread leaves apart and fill in with ground meat that has been seasoned with salt and pepper and a little onion. Spread meat between all the leaves, then place in baking dish and over this pour one or two cans of tomato soup and let bake until tender. You will find this a tasty dish as well as ornamental.

BUTTERED TOAST.

Use bread at least a day old for making the toast. Cut in slices of medium thickness, remove the crusts and toast delicately on both sides. Have the butter warm and spread on the toast rapidly and evenly. Stack on a hot dish, cover and serve at once. The slices may be cut diagonally if desired.

ADVENTURES of the TWINS

NIP-AND-TUCK TOWN
"I'm going to be a track," said the pink ticket in Nancy's pocket, sticking out its head and looking around with its pink eyes. "It says on my back that I am to take you to the next station, and I'm going to do what it says."
"What is the next station?" asked Nick.
"It's called Nip-and-Tuck Town," said the ticket.
"Is it in Drowsey Land?" asked Nick, who was still feeling around in his pockets to make sure that none of the vanished money had remained. He and Nancy had found bushels of it, you know, and suddenly—poof—it disappeared in a second.
"Yes, Nip-and-Tuck Town is in Drowsey Land," said the ticket. "You will have some queer adventures there."
The ticket began to slide out of Nancy's pocket, and then it laid itself on the ground like a track—a long, long track that stretched as far as they could see, like a railroad; the black lines on the sides became rails and the lines of printing became ties.
The little black patch with the date on it turned into a car, and the Twins got in.
Then the little car rolled along and rolled along and rolled along on the pink ticket-track and finally it stopped at the station of Nip-and-Tuck Town. The ticket then picked itself up and jumped back into Nancy's pocket again, and then the Twins realized that the little car had dumped them out and disappeared also.
"I wonder why they call this place Nip-and-Tuck Town," said Nick.
"Because it's a nip to get in and tuck to get out," said the station agent, which happened to be a large mail-box marked "Parcels and Letters."
The Twins looked very much surprised to see so strange a person, but everything was so different in Drowsey Land that they were becoming accustomed to it.
"We're looking for Inco, our chimp elephant that ran off, and Fiop, my toy clown, who ran off with him," said Nick.
"Did they come by rail or by mail?" said the mail-box.
Nancy and Nick looked at each other. They knew the runaways had come on a moonbeam, but it did sound too silly to say so. "We're not quite sure," said Nancy.
"Well," said the mail-box kindly, "I shall look in all my letters and newspapers—perhaps there is news of him there."
The mail-box took a key out of his pockets and unlocked his front door. Out spilled a hundred letters and papers and about six parcels.
"Oh, dear!" said Nancy, "they are all in envelopes."
"That doesn't matter, does it?" asked the mail-box in surprise.
"Of course it does. You can't open a letter that doesn't belong to you. Can you, Nick?"
"I should say not," said Nick.
"But if you have your name on it's different," said the mail-box. "Here is one addressed to the Twins, Nip-and-Tuck Town, Drowsey-Land-on-the-Moon."
"Well, I declare!" said Nancy. "Whoever knew we were here?"
"Oh, lots of people," said the mail-box.

FORT BEAUSEJOUR IS NATIONAL PARK

Dr. J. C. Webster Gets Word That Order-in-Council Has Passed

MONCTON, June 25.—That Fort Beausejour has been created a national park by recent order-in-council is the advice just received by Dr. J. Clarence Webster, of Shediac, from J. B. Harkin, commissioner for Dominion National Parks, Ottawa. The commissioner in his letter says: "As it was, I think, largely your persistent endeavors that this has finally been accomplished, I am taking the liberty of communicating with you requesting that you be good enough to furnish me with an expression of your views as to what improvement or development work should be carried out immediately consistent of course with the funds which will be available. You will recollect making a recommendation some time ago that the Tonnes Island and Yorksire Settlement memorials be erected on the site and these matters might be kept in mind when submitting your recommendations." It may be added that Fort Beausejour was constructed in 1758-51 in the vicinity of Beausabasin and was closely associated with the struggle between the French and English for the possession of the continent. It was captured by the British in 1758 and later renamed Fort Cumberland in honor of the Duke of Cumberland, who was at that time commander-in-chief of the British army.

NATIONAL IMPORTANCE
The site is admirably adapted for the purpose of an historic park and the land comprising it is the property of the Crown. The historic sites and monuments board reported that this area is of national historic importance.

GIVES WARNING TO P. E. I. MEN

C. N. R. Immigration Agent Says Dependence on Potatoes Too Great

The Maritime provinces appear to be awakening to their opportunities along agricultural lines, according to William Phillips, immigration and colonization agent, Canadian National Railways. Mr. Phillips has made several trips to the Maritime provinces within recent months in an endeavor to make the people see the opportunities that are before them. He remarked previously that they did not feed themselves in this part of the Dominion but imported from other provinces.

with W. U. Appleton, general manager, Atlantic Region, affords an example to the other two Maritime provinces, he said. There the trouble was, however, that too much dependence was placed on the potato crop and upon the United States market. That market was never safe for Canadians, he added.

Mixed farming was the salvation of any section and he believed that the people on the Island would be brought to realize this sooner or later. Even the market for seed potatoes which they raised in such quantities might be cut off at any time by some arbitrary action backed by a political motive.

NEW YORK, June 26.—Mrs. Nicholas Biddle, Jr., another Harvard sophomore; Joseph Roby, Jr., Yale, '28, and Reginald Bishop of New York, a student of St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H., form the crew.

"It was not afraid to see them go," said Mrs. Biddle. "Last summer, accompanied by the same skipper, Francis M. Gardner, Harvard, '10, they made a trip to the northern part of Labrador in the same boat which I consider more dangerous than crossing the ocean.

When they reach Coves, probably on Aug. 1, the navigators plan to enter their schooner, the Primrose, in a 300-mile race scheduled for Aug. 15.

PLAYGROUNDS WORK UNDER DISCUSSION

No Change in West End This Year—Plans For Summer's Program

The Playgrounds Association at its meeting yesterday afternoon in the Health Centre, decided that, on account of the expense and lack of finances, the West Side playground would not be moved this year from Market Place. F. T. Lewis presided. Miss Heffer gave an interesting account of her trip to Montreal and of how playgrounds are conducted there. It was agreed that all varieties of sport should be given an equal chance on the Allison grounds and that baseball games where a collection was taken should not be played there.

OPEN ON JULY 5.

The city playgrounds will open on Monday, July 5, and those who will have charge of the grounds under Miss Heffer's supervision are as follows: Allison grounds in the South End, supervisor, Miss G. Weeks, student teacher, Miss K. Hoy, and male instructor, Robert Marr; Centennial, supervisor, Miss E. Hawker, student, Miss M. O'Connor, male instructor, S. Goldman; East End, supervisor, Miss K. Lundy, student, Miss G. Verrinder, and instructor, A. Burns; west Side, supervisor, Miss M. Hamilton, student, Miss M. Kiffin, instructor, Mr. Tippett; King George, supervisor, Miss Alice Dever, student, Miss M. Ryan, instructor, R. Connell; Alexandra, supervisor, Miss M. McCutcheon, student, Miss P. Wilson, and instructor, W. J. Sargeant.

The two play leaders are Miss E. McFadden, graduate of the Margaret Eaton School, and Miss J. Wilson. Miss Heffer reported that she had been conducting classes for the student teachers as a means of securing higher proficiency. There will be five of these classes before the grounds open and five afterwards. She hoped this year to arrange the program for the work on all the playgrounds in order to introduce new ideas and have the work uniform.

The committees in charge of the various playgrounds of the city reported on their readiness for the opening of the playground season. Fred Myles, it was said, had replaced John Kimball on the committee for the East End grounds, Mr. Kimball having resigned. Mr. Hamilton told of the progress made in putting the West Side grounds in order since the fire and authority was given for an expenditure of $10 or $15 above the original sum of $250 if this was necessary. G. Fred Fisher reported that the South End grounds would be fully ready early next week.

Letters to the Editor

BRAVO, MR. OATES.

To the Editor of The Times-Star: On reading Mr. L. R. Oates' letter in The Times, it struck me as a good one. What a fine thing it would be for Saint John if a lot of the citizens would take his advice. It is what we want in the worst way. There is a lot of money lying idle in our good old city, if we could only get some of our good citizens to set things as he does. What we want are factories; we have the men here that can run them, if they only had the capital to work with. Why can't we trust one another enough to invest a little cash and try them out? I have often thought myself if we could only get more factories in town what a fine thing it would be; if we could get every merchant in town to take some shares in the same, so that we would all work together, I feel quite sure we could soon build up our town and make it a Florida of our own; all we want is a start.

Another piece of advice of Mr. Oates I thought good is buy at home, not because I am in business here. When I followed the sea, I had a U. S. A. customs officer tell me a story that I always remembered. It was that his wife wanted to send to England for a coat. He advised her to buy at home. His excuse was that if she bought a coat in England she would have the coat, but the Englishman would have the money; but if she bought at home they would have the coat and the money. I thought it was a good one. That is what is wrong with every citizen that sends their money out of town; they forget that they are taking the bits out of their own mouths; that is why I would like to see more factories in town.

If for one would like to buy all I sell of made in Saint John goods, I want is someone to make a start. Mr. Oates might ask when he reads this letter, if he does, why don't I make a start? I only wish I had the means I would start one tomorrow, for I

A CREED

The word "overhaul" has a very specific meaning in our business. Applied to a used car, we define it as follows: "To replace or repair every part necessary to put the car in good running order." And that is not simply a definition. It is a creed.

SIXTEEN YEARS USE OF BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Has Shown One Mother There is Nothing to Equal Them

A constant use of Baby's Own Tablets for their children has proven to thousands of mothers that they are without an equal for babyhood and childhood ailments. One mother, Mrs. C. W. Jackson, R. R. 1, Gilford, Ont., writes:—"We have used Baby's Own Tablets ever since our first baby was born sixteen years ago. We have seven fine healthy children and the Tablets still are the only medicine they received in their early years. Our baby is now a half year old, is walking and talking and weighs 25 pounds. Baby's Own Tablets is the only medicine he has ever had."

Baby's Own Tablets are guaranteed to be absolutely safe for even the newborn babe. They are free from opiates and narcotics; act as a gentle laxative on the stomach and bowels and thus relieve constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers and make babies healthy and strong. You can get Baby's Own Tablets from your druggist or direct by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Don't Let Your Money Go up in Smoke!

A Large Canadian Bank is Eliminating This Waste. Read Their Letter as a Proof That Your Money Can Also Be Saved!

THIS Big Canadian Coal Question has been solved by the new Gurney "250" Boiler. Ordinary heating apparatus has failed to get from cheap, easily-obtained, free-burning soft coal anything like the total heat that it contains. The Gurney "250" Boiler, however, extracts the maximum of heat units from soft coal—and does this with the minimum of attention!

Heretofore one disadvantage of soft coal burning has been that much of the heat value has literally "gone up in smoke." Another disadvantage of burning soft coal for heating has been the abnormal amount of tending necessary to maintain adequate fires.

You Can Now Heat Cheaply With Soft Coal

For years Gurney heating experts have been working to produce a Boiler that solves both problems. The Gurney "250" gives unprecedented results from free-burning soft coal. As most of the Canadian coals and much of the imported soft coal are of this non-caking type, the long-standing and vexatious fuel problem is solved for owners of the new Gurney "250" Series Boiler.

This is How the Gurney "250" Performs

Last winter we asked one of the great Canadian banks to place a Gurney "250" Boiler in one of its branch buildings under the observation of the bank's own engineers. This is what they say after months of experience with this new Boiler:

The Gurney Foundry Company, Limited, 500 King Street West, Toronto. Dear Sirs: We have been using your new type of soft coal boiler, the "250" Series, in our branch at the corner of ... streets, since the beginning of February last. We are now able to report that we have secured better heating results than with the boiler which was replaced, and with less attention on the part of the janitor. The coal consumed has been of the free-burning, soft coal type. About the same quantities have been used as was formerly the case with anthracite. It would appear, therefore, that we are saving the difference in price between anthracite coal and free-burning, soft coal. Because of these facts we are prepared to recommend the boiler. Faithfully yours, We'll gladly furnish you with the name of the bank if you so desire. At any rate, why not find out all about this remarkable new Boiler? Besides being the most economical boiler, it's the most convenient to install and the easiest to tend. Its principle is radically different from all the other heating plants on the market, and we are prepared to guarantee the results claimed for the Gurney "250" where the Boiler is installed and used under suitable conditions. We've prepared a Book that gives full details about the "250" Boiler. Won't you write for a free copy? Use the coupon.

DECISION ON CENSURE NOTE IS POSTPONED

Hon. C. A. Dunning interrupted to ask if Mr. Campbell was trying to describe Hon. George H. Boivin as "a real criminal higher up."

Mr. Campbell proceeded to describe the administration as defendants in an action which the opposition was the prosecution and the Progressive party was the jury.

T. W. Bird (Progressive, Nelson) opened his speech by reading the first paragraph of an anonymous letter which he had received, written on House of Commons note paper.

Mr. Dunning retorted that it was not necessary to write such things in letters. He then referred to the action of W. A. Boya, chief Conservative whip in the David Webster case.

Mr. Meighen protested that the Minister of Railways was out of order in referring to something now before a committee of Parliament.

CAMPBELL DID SAUCE

Mr. Campbell had announced his intention of supporting the opposition vote of censure on the Minister of Customs. Yet, said Mr. Dunning, "within the last two months he has made exactly the same request to the same Minister of Customs as that which Mr. Meighen, of Gloucester, made last fall."

FIREMEN HAD GOOD SPORTS IN YEARS GONE BY

Tournament at Centenary of Landing of Loyalists Recalled

COMPETITIONS ON BARRACK SQUARE

Details and Names of Interest After Lapse of 43 Years

Some years ago firemen's tournaments were popular in Saint John, but one has not been held here in some years. One held on May 18, 1883, in celebration of the centenary of the landing of the Loyalists, was recalled this week by a citizen who had come across the following account:

The Barrack Square proved a powerful magnet in the afternoon. Over 2,000 people had gathered. The non-commissioned officers and privates of the 62nd Battalion performed excellent duty in keeping the grounds free from intruders. A. C. Smith acted as judge, and Aid. C. A. Robertson as starter.

The first race was 100 yards, prize $10, open to one member of each visiting company. The entries were William A. Anderson, No. 4, Fredericton; John Bond, No. 1, Portland; Fred Bibben, H. and L. Charlottetown; P. McG. Archibald, Truro; Nicholas Condon, Halifax; Peter Carroll, Pictou; Thomas Carleton, No. 2, H. and L. company, Carleton. The race was won by Condon, with Bibben being a good second.

The second race was 100 yards, prize $8, for members of the Saint John Fire Department. The competitors were:

WHOLESALE PRICE OF BEEF ADVANCES

Supply Getting Scarce in Market Report—Good Variety of Produce Today

Roast beef was getting scarce, it was said at the city market this morning. While the retail price was still 18 to 40 cents a pound, the wholesale price had advanced and was said to be the highest since 1920. The time of year and shipment of cattle out of the country were given as causes. Spring lamb was a shade at 58 to 60 cents a pound. It was of fair size, but still scarce. Supplies were expected to come in better soon. Veal, quoted at 15 to 30 cents a pound, was about finished, while there was some pork offered at 30 to 35 cents. One man quoted spring chicken at 83 to 85 a pair, while others offered them at 60 cents a pound, if bought in any quantity. A few fowl were offered at 35 to 40 cents.

DAIRY PRODUCTS.

It was predicted that from now on the price of the best quality of eggs would advance. The best grade would become scarcer, it was said, while there would be more of the lower grades offered. There were no changes in the prices of butter, but it was said that extras being offered at 40 cents a dozen and firsts at 35 cents. Butter was about the same, creamery being offered at 40 cents a pound and dairy at 38 to 40 cents.

CONTINUED NEXT DAY.

On the 19th the remaining competitors in the tournament were concluded. The first was a half-mile horse race, the competing companies to make connections at a plug, stretched 200 feet of hose, and turn on water. Only Halifax and Yarmouth companies entered. The Yarmouth team won the $75 prize in 3 minutes and 21 seconds. The Halifax men did the work in 3 minutes and 25 seconds.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

A decision to hold the annual New Brunswick tennis tournament at Fredericton during the week beginning on Monday, August 9, was reached at a meeting of the executive committee of the N. B. Tennis Association, held yesterday afternoon at the office of the president, C. F. Inches, K.C. The meeting further decided that Wright & Dilsen tennis ball would be adopted as the official ball for the tournament.

USE WOOD.

HALIFAX, N.S., June 25.—A right court that would have been priced by a heavyweight won a sensational five-round victory for Henry Euse, the Brooklyn junior lightweight, over Bert Brown, of Montreal and New Zealand, here tonight. The right court put Brown out for a count of nine and some more wallows accounted for two long counts and his seconds tossed in the towel of defeat. The bout was scheduled to go ten rounds.

TENDLER WON.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 25.—Low Tandler, Philadelphia southpaw, scored a technical knockout over George Russel, of Wilkesbarre here tonight, in the feature bout of the opening outdoor show of the newly organized Atlantic City Sport Club, held in the Bacharach Baseball Park.

SHARKEY BEATS GORMAN.

BOSTON, June 25.—Babe McGogary, of Calgary, lost a decision to Harry Shank, of Philadelphia, in a six-round bout here tonight. Jack Sharkey, heavy-weight, of Brighton, got the decision over Bud Gorman, of Kenosha, Wis., on a foul in the first round of their 10-round affair.

BOHNE TO ROBINS.

NEW YORK, June 25.—Infielder Sammy Bohne, of the Cincinnati Reds, has been obtained by the Brooklyn Robins via the waiver route. It was announced today. Bohne will report to the club tomorrow.

DECISION ON CENSURE VOTE IS POSTPONED

Minister of Customs very "tolerantly." Mr. Dunning replied that Mr. Campbell in his speech had indicated that he was prepared to vote for an amendment which would have the effect, if carried, of driving the Minister of Customs out of public life. He then proceeded to read the departmental correspondence with respect to the case in which Mr. Campbell had interested himself, including a letter from the Assistant Deputy Minister of Customs to the effect that owing to the individual in question being unable to pay his fine and the sending season being at hand, an extension of time until Oct. 10 next in which to pay the balance of the fine would be granted.

SMUGGLING PROFITABLE.

There were members who for "very conscience sake" should hesitate to vote for the Conservative amendment. The reason why smuggling was profitable, said Mr. Dunning, was because there was a customs tariff. Members were being asked to put in a party whose cardinal principle is the increasing of the premium on smuggling," said Mr. Dunning, having referred to the tariff.

WAR DRAGGED IN.

An uproar broke out at this stage. "What did you do in the war?" asked General J. A. Clark (Conservative, Vancouver-Burrard). Members continued to shout and bang their desks, while Speaker Lemieux appealed for order.

BOURASSA TALKS.

Henri Bourassa, said that the sub-amendment, the amendment and the motion for the adoption of the report did not "correspond at all" with his view. In the existing circumstances, however, he would vote for the Woodsworth sub-amendment, as it recommended referring the matter to judicial commission. He also thought that the report was incomplete and that the House was not in a position or in the mood to pass upon the report.

WHY SUFFER FROM RHEUMATISM

"FRUIT-A-LIVES" HAVE HELPED THOUSANDS

If you are made miserable by this painful disease, read this encouraging letter from Mrs. Louis Davison of Eau Claire, Ont. "Some years ago, I had a severe attack of rheumatism. I tried many remedies but received little benefit. A few months ago, I saw an advertisement of "Fruit-a-lives" and decided to try them. After taking four boxes, I am now able to do all my own work besides putting in a large garden. I take great pleasure in recommending "Fruit-a-lives" to anyone suffering from Rheumatism. "Fruit-a-lives is a genuine fruit medicine, made from fruit juices intensified and combined with tonics. It frees the system of poisonous waste matters and purifies the blood stream. Try "Fruit-a-lives" yourself and let them restore you to health and vigor. 25c. and 50c. a box — at all dealers.
