Cash Payments to France by Germany Blocks Progress

ST. JOHN'S DEPARTMENT

REACH AGREEMENT ON MODIFICATION OF EXPERTS' PLAN

Only One Point in Dispute Prevents Invitation to German Envoys. MATTER OF APPEAL Any Nation Will Have Right of Hearing at Impartial Tribunal.

BY LLOYD ALLEN (British United Press.) London, Aug. 1.—Maintaining the momentum imparted by French concessions, the inter-allied conference reached agreement in committee today on the subject of possible modification of the experts' plan. Committee No. 3, however, struck a stone wall when it came to the question of arrangements for cash deliveries instead of deliveries in kind in case the latter became too heavy for France. Unable to agree, the committee adjourned for lunch to meet again at 4 p. m. If the deadlock on this question of cash deliveries—one of the new points raised by the French delegation—is maintained, the matter will be referred to the chief delegates, who will try to settle it in time to send an invitation to the Germans tonight.

French Must Give In. The optimism was based upon the belief that after a fortnight's hammering against the French arguments, which was intensified yesterday when Premier Herriot's proposals created a storm of opposition in committee No. 3, the French now realize they must give in. The fight on the proposal to modify the transfer provisions of the experts' plan and to provide for future amendments to the plan offered by France, lasted throughout the day. As the British and Americans rejected the proposal, the French steadily and rather surprisingly backed down.

Baroness Guilty Of Pearl Thefts

Genz. Austria, Aug. 1.—Baroness Alice Konrad, Von Komothobon, was sentenced to six months in jail, today for stealing and selling pearls, belonging to two of her friends, in a recent Austrian aristocratic. A plea of kleptomania failed to impress the court.

New York, Aug. 1.—The will of Mrs. L. Vause of Brooklyn, filed in the Surrogate's Office, makes provision for the care of three Italian greyhounds which she owned. Mrs. Vause died on July 25. Her will provided that $10,000 be set aside to maintain the dogs. The dogs are left in the care of Mrs. L. Vause, her sister-in-law, and $3 a week is to be paid for the care of each one of the dogs. The will provides that, in the event that they must be cared for by another, a home and care must be found for them where kindness will be tendered them. It is stipulated that there must be no children in the dogs' home.

KILLS COMPANION; COMMITS SUICIDE

Staten Island Pair Quarreled Over Diamond Belt, Police Say. Tottenville, N. Y., Aug. 1.—Charles Blatt, 30, wealthy Staten Island real estate operator, yesterday shot and killed his housekeeper, Mrs. Sadie Tarbone, 35, in his apartment, and then committed suicide. The two had been heard quarrelling earlier in the day by Blatt's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ida Kurgis, who witnessed the shooting, the police say. The police believed the two quarrelled when Blatt endeavored to regain property he had given Mrs. Tarbone. A report that the woman objected when Blatt threatened to sell a diamond belt which he is believed to have given her, is being investigated. The belt, which belonged to Blatt's wife, who died four years ago, was valued at $15,000, and was won by Mrs. Blatt, who appeared professionally as the "strongest woman in the world."

OBJECT TO BOUNTY

British Government Action Causes Concern Among Jamaica Sugar Men.

Kingston, Ja., August 1.—Considerable concern is being expressed among the sugar planters over the proposal of the British Government to give a bounty of £10 a ton on home grown sugar. The planters assert such a bounty would give beet sugar a great advantage over West Indian cane sugar, the preference on which already has been reduced by $1 a ton. The Chamber of Commerce today passed a resolution in which it was declared that any such preference in favor of beet sugar should cripple the West India industry.

London Firm Rents Car For $1,250 a Year; Provides Gas, Tires, Tax and All

London, Aug. 1.—A motor concern here has inaugurated a policy for automobilists called the "hire-maintenance system."

The concern provides the customer, with an absolutely new car, packed and finished to his specifications. The list price of the car is $3,125. This car is turned over to the customer at a yearly rental of $1,250. This rent seems high until you see what goes with the car.

All repairs and adjustments are made free of charge, all gasoline, oil, grease, tires, etc., are furnished to the lessee. The lessee also pays the Government tax, the driving license, fire and theft, and personal liability insurance charges.

In case the lessee is obliged to buy gasoline or oil on the road, the money spent is refunded to him. In case the car is laid up at any time for repairs, a substitute car is furnished. Once a month the car must be turned in to see if adjustments or repairs are needed. In case of a breakdown, the lessee, if called by telephone, will send out a substitute car and take charge of the disabled one.

The charge of $1,250 a year is made on the basis of 6,000 miles travel in a year. If more miles are traveled there will be an increase in the rental; if less, a decrease. The garaging, washing and cleaning of the car are provided by the hire, these being the only charges he assumes, at the end of two years completely repainted.

PERSIA RELIEVED

Moderate Tone of U. S. Note Regarding Imbrie Killing Appreciated.

Teheran, Persia, August 1.—The press is generally relieved at what is regarded as the moderation of the U. S. demands made in connection with the killing of Vice-Consul Imbrie. The tone of the U. S. note is said to be greatly appreciated.

The reply of the Persian Government to the U. S. communication apparently meets with the approval of the majority here. The reply states that the Government and natives are horrified and sorrowful over the Imbrie killing that every effort will be made to find the culprits and punish them; that proper compensation will be given the widow and that, in order to afford greater security to U. S. citizens, Persia is agreeable to an increase of the legion and consulate guards. The reply concludes with the statement that Persia will respect as always the treaty of friendship between this country and the U. S.

Raising of Admiral Beatty Structure Brings Revival of City's Demand.

PRESSURE URGED St. John Has Just Claim for Proper Facilities for Train Service.

The start made on the erection of the big new Admiral Beatty Hotel and the announcement of other large developments in the city projected for the near future, has brought to the fore again the striking need of a new railway depot that at least will be in keeping with the progress that the city is now realizing.

The present Union Depot is regarded as a disgrace to a city of St. John's size and location on the routes of service, and with the prospect of an increased influx of travelers next year following the completion of the new hotel, it is felt that now, more than ever, a concerted drive should be made by the people to impress on the authorities the necessity of immediate action. The Times-Star invites communications from the public in general in this important matter, and as means for attaining the desired end.

QUESTIONS POSSIBILITY OF RENEWAL OF DISARMAMENT AGREEMENT IN 1931

British Naval Policy is the Subject of Criticism in Commons.

(By CHARLES M. McCANN.)
(United News Staff Correspondent.)
London, August 1.—It would be a bold man who would prophesy that the Washington disarmament agreement will be extended or even renewed in 1931, L. M. S. Amery, former First Lord of the Admiralty in the late Conservative Government, told the House of Commons during debate on the British Naval Appropriations Bill. Liberals and Conservatives joined in criticism of the Government's naval policy, although they attacked from different angles.

Commander Kenworthy assailed the Macdonald Government for initiating competition in naval armaments. Sir Godfrey Collins said the U. S. welcomed such building challenges. "The first act of the government," Sir Godfrey said, "was to lay down five cruisers." The United States accepted the challenge.

Urges More Building.
Conservative critics of the Government insisted that the time had come for bolstering Britain's navy. At the present rate of construction, Amery declared, few years would find Britain with but 20 effective cruisers for the protection of her commerce.

Commander Carlyn Bellars, regarded as the outstanding naval authority in Parliament, denied that the naval aspirations of Britain and the U. S. clashed, nor was there any direct rivalry between the sea policies of the two countries.

Policy of the U. S.
"America," said Bellars, "is most desirous of protecting her interests and commerce against a possible war with Japan." The whole U. S. naval program is centred in the Pacific, Bellars assured the house. He said the U. S. was withdrawing its Atlantic fleet, thus demonstrating that there was rivalry with Britain. Like the U. S., Britain looked toward Japan, Bellars intimated, adding that unless further disarmament agreements were reached in another conference, Britain would be forced to meet the challenge which existed in Japan and begin to build destroyers and submarines in space with eastern empire.

NOT A CASE FOR COURT.
Four juveniles appeared before Magistrate Henderson in the police court this morning on a charge of assaulting another. It was brought out that it was merely a case of the boys having a disagreement and a few blows had been struck. As they were all very young, Magistrate Henderson said that the case was dismissed and that it should never have been brought into court. He said the trouble seemed to originate from some disagreement which arose some time ago between the parents.

TAKE UP OTHER LINES OF WORK

Memorial Workshops Find Toys Unprofitable—Takes Grit to Carry On.

Toy making has not proved profitable at the Red Cross Memorial Workshops and the disabled soldiers employed at the shops are now turning their attention to other lines of work. Last season they made 15,000 onion crates for the West Indies trade and lately they have been employed at repairing furniture, making some of the more simple carpentry pieces for which a sale could be found and doing carpentry work for citizens. They have been engaged to repair the kneeling desks and pews in Trinity church and have done considerable work in remodeling offices and painting houses.

There are now 18 men at work in the shops; 10 have been re-admitted to hospital. As each of the men employed at the workshops has from 20 per cent. to 75 per cent. disability it takes some grit to stand up to their work day in and day out and it happens that those who are most efficient may have to lay off for a time. The largest number that the pay roll has had at one time has been 40. The present average loss per man per month is $30 but this loss is due to the fact that many toys were made and must now be sold at less than cost. The work being done at present will about carry the charges although reduction in the number of the shops reduces output without reducing overhead and means a higher deficit than when there are more men on the pay roll.

SOME OF THE ARTICLES MADE AT THE SHOPS WHICH ARE NOW MOST IN DEMAND ARE:—Lawn sweeper, a combination screen and storm door which has glass and screen interchangeable in the upper portion, kitchen tables with or without enamel tops, dressing baskets, hat and coat racks and reed serving trays. The furniture mending work has been a specialty of the shops and some very ingenious pieces of renovation have been sent out to greatly pleased owners.

DEFENCE SCORES FIRST VICTORY IN CHICAGO TRIAL

Judge Overrules Objection to Hearing of Testimony From Alienists.

(By Canadian Press.)
Chicago, Aug. 1.—Judge John R. Caverly overruled objections by the State to alienist testimony offered in mitigation as to punishment by the attorneys for Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb.

The result, which came after more than two court days of argument, was a decided victory for the defence, as it established the right to give testimony on mental disease short of legal insanity "not as a defence but in mitigation of punishment."

"It is the court's duty to hear this evidence," said Judge Caverly. "It is not his duty to reject it before he had an opportunity to hear it. The objection by the State is overruled."

The decision was momentous in legal annals of this State, as no exactly similar situation could be found by attorneys for either side in Illinois records. The field opened by today's finding was more extensive than in cases which bordered it.

A KNOTTY PROBLEM

The Crow's Nest Pass Agreement was found very vigorous opponents both in the East and in the West. The announcement that a party of 153 French-Canadians, representing every large city in Quebec, will pay a visit to the Acadians of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia next month, is a matter of universal interest.

The Boston Transcript says: "Denmark, with 3,000,000 inhabitants, averages three murders a year. Chicago, with about 3,000,000 people, averages more than three murders a week. Evidently in this case it is not in Denmark that there is something rotten."

STORY OF PALMER COX FATHER OF 'BROWNIES'

"The Father of the Brownies," whose artistic and literary creations have been the delight of millions of young and old, the world over, was a native of the place in which he died, the town of Grandin, in the Canadian Province of Quebec.

At the age of twenty-three he wandered to California, where an artist who saw his work advised him to study art and to make that his calling. He did so, and for a dozen years drew pictures and wrote stories for the San Francisco papers and magazines, especially for "Golden Era" and "Alla California," many of which were reprinted in New York and Boston.

His first "Brownie" stories were in "St. Nicholas" in 1881, and were instantly and enormously successful. Series after series followed, with unflagging interest, and after serial publication their popularity was repeated in book form. No fewer than eleven "Brownie" books were published—the first in 1887, the eleventh in 1915.

A distinctive feature of the verses that went with Cox's pictures was the cardinal rule that the picture of Brownie could never repeat what he had said once before. "In this connection," said Cox once, "I remember how I got my Brownies into a fix that came near ending them. It happened, as you may remember, that they were wrecked on an island, and not being able to build another ship, were in a terrible predicament."

"Well, I got letters from my little friends all over the world asking how I was going to get the Brownies out of their trouble, and begging me not to let them perish on the island. I was somewhat worked up over the matter, and as they had previously built a raft and a ship, and as they could, according to their laws, repeat neither of these, it began to look as if the Brownies were 'up a stump'."

Public forests are steadily increasing in popularity as the playgrounds of the nation. Woodlands offer splendid opportunities for camping, hunting, fishing, and outdoor life.

Psychologists Conduct Novel Experiments With 100 Under Observation.

The young child has no natural fear of the world. He comes into the world, indeed, without inherited fears, except the fear which can be aroused by a sudden noise or by a sudden loss of support, says an article in the New York Times.

Further, the tests have indicated a way in which the problem of fear in the young child may be overcome—and it is a problem which, though it is not a disease, is a great one.

Father and Grandfather Die in Electric Chair-- Mother Asks, "What Will Become of Children?"

EDWARD J. ALLEN, JR. (LEFT) AND HIS BROTHER THOMAS ABOVE, THEIR FATHER WHO WAS ELECTROCUTED FOR MURDER, AND MRS. ALLEN, THE WIDOW.

Gloucester, N. J., Aug. 1.—Thomas Allen, two, and his brother, Edward J., three, still look upon life with a smile.

Their mother, only 22, fears that their aspect soon will change. If heredity means anything, these youngsters start life under a tremendous handicap.

Their father recently was electrocuted for murder. Their grandfather met his end the same way. Their uncle is in a reformatory.

Their mother faces the job of counteracting these influences in an environment of poverty.

Allen, his father-in-law, and another man paid the penalty for the murder of a farmer, whom they tried to rob. After nearly a year of litigation the state took its due—with three lives for one.

"That's justice which Mrs. Allen can't comprehend. 'No thought was given to me,' she says. 'No thought was given to the two children, who will have to become charges of the State if anything happens to me.'

"If only one of the men were left to make my lot easier!" She was left so poor that she couldn't claim the bodies of her husband and father. They now lie in a Potter's field.

Homeless and penniless Mrs. Allen sought succor of the several agencies. Aside from advice there was little forthcoming until Mrs. Minnie White, a neighborly widow, took her in town.

"There's too much slush in this world," says she. "Too much sentiment and not enough action. 'Nothing is as black as it looks. Mrs. Allen has only two kids to worry about. I had five when I first became a widow.'

That was back in Columbus, O., shortly after the Johnstown flood. Mrs. White's husband, an engineer, was killed in a train wreck.

"And I mothered those five, had eight more by subsequent marriage," she says, "and raised 30 other children on the side."

Mrs. White became a professional nurse. "It's the best job a woman is fitted for," she goes on, "and the most comforting. 'So why worry?'

Under such guidance Mrs. Allen has taken a new lease on life. She, too, has turned nurse. But not for her own children. She has a job caring for the youngster of a wealthier family in town.

And she loses her children with Mrs. White. With the money earned the widow, herself by the State, hopes to make a go of it until her two little boys grow big enough to help her in turn. But between that time and this there looms a big cloud that casts its shadow over the worried mother.

What kind of children will hers grow up to be? Will they be among the unfortunates upon whom the sins of the father are visited? Or will adversity strike out any evil tendencies that may be inherited?

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

(Unless otherwise specified, these recipes are planned for four persons.)

LOSE WEIGHT. Breakfast—Three large unswetened stewed prunes, 1 poached egg on 1 thin crisp piece whole wheat bread, 1 cup hot water.

Luncheon—One-half cup hot consommé, 6 radishes, 4 toasted whole wheat bread sticks, 2 tablespoons strawberry Bavarian cream, 1 cup skimmed milk.

Dinner—One nut timbale, 4 tablespoons asparagus in cream, 1 large twice-baked potato, 1/2 head lettuce with 2 tablespoons French dressing, 3 peaches sliced, 2 teaspoons sugar, 3 nut cookies, 1 Parker House roll, 1 tablespoon butter.

Bedtime—One cup whole milk.

During hot weather a hearty breakfast on carries one well through the day. Hot noontime seldom stimulates an appetite and a hot evening falls to pep one up to the eating point.

The strawberry Bavarian cream is a concession to your sweet tooth, but you must sacrifice some place else to have it. It may make you very warm, too, because of its high fat content.

One day of each week should be a meatless day. The reducing diet is a bit unbalanced, so a menu lacking animal protein is most beneficial. The nut timbales take the place of meat and bread, are very nourishing, but do not supply the minerals found in meat. Your pint of skimmed milk, radishes, lettuce and prunes furnish this need.

GAIN WEIGHT. Breakfast—Six large sweetened stewed prunes, 1/2 cup cooked cereal, 1 slice whole wheat toast, 2 tablespoons creamed potatoes, hot water, 2 muffins, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 tablespoon orange marmalade.

Mid-morning lunch—One cup orange juice, 4 graham crackers.

Luncheon—One cup hot consommé, 4 toasted bread sticks, 1 stuffed green pepper, 4 tablespoons strawberry Bavarian cream, 1 piece sponge cake, cup whole milk.

Afternoon tea—One cup chocolate with 1 tablespoon whipped cream, 2 brown bread and butter sandwiches.

Dinner—One nut timbale, 4 tablespoons asparagus in cream, 1 large twice-baked potato, 1/2 head lettuce with 2 tablespoons French dressing, 3 peaches sliced, 2 teaspoons sugar, 3 nut cookies, 1 Parker House roll, 1 tablespoon butter.

Bedtime—One cup whole milk.

Nut Timbales. One cup chopped nut meats, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 cup soft bread crumbs, 2-4 cup milk (skimmed), 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 2 eggs, salt, pepper.

Heat milk, add butter and bread crumbs and cook, stirring constantly until thick and smooth. Add nuts, parsley and eggs well beaten. Season with salt and pepper and turn into buttered individual molds. Set in a pan of hot water, cover with buttered paper and bake 30 minutes in a moderate oven.

Hielan' Meat Pies---10c

The third batch of the first Scotch Meat Pies made in Canada comes out of the ovens today.

Deep, as big around as a saucer, and filled right up to the crinkly crust with the meat mincing of the land of haggis.

We never knew there were so many old country folk in town till we had baked these batches of peerless Scottish pies.

PRIZES AWARDED IN BABY CONTEST

Keen Competition Between Kiddies at St. Philip's Church Event.

The judges had a difficult task when they had to choose the prize winners at the better baby contest in St. Philip's African Methodist Episcopal church last night. Dr. Mayes Case and Dr. C. L. Emerson were the judges. Prizes were awarded for popularity, beauty, health and cuteness. The popularity vote went to the baby for whom the largest number of votes had been sold. The mothers had had charge of the vote sale and the winner baby, Verna Kelsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Kelsey, of Lancaster avenue, West St. John, had 233 votes, while the winner of the second prize, baby Donald Carly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Carly, 280 Pitt street, had 189 votes.

The prize winners in the beauty contest were: First, baby Handalpi Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earle Nelson, of City Road; and second, baby Verna Kelsey.

For health, Donald Carly took first prize and Margaret Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cole, 297 Duke street, took second prize.

For cuteness, the first prize was won by baby Margaret Ellison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edison, 223 Queen street, and the second prize by baby Irene Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Price, 116 Mecklenburg street.

There were many interested spectators when the babies were being judged and a short musical programme was given—not by the babies; they were very well behaved. The programme was much enjoyed. The prizes will be awarded this evening.

MUSIC HATH CHARMS

One of the forces that would have a strong bearing on good upon the demoralizing tendencies of the present day, is a proper cultivation of music in the home, because if rightly practiced and exemplified music exerts a refining and exalting influence which ever it is heard. Through its influence we can make the home life more attractive to the rising generation, can let them see that there is something to stay at home for, and that instead of going out in search of amusement and pastime they can obtain all they desire within the walls of their own habitation, declared Percival J. Giesey, Mus. Doc., in his recent address to the Delphic Music Club of Montreal. He also stated that "jazz" and all that ilk should be forcibly banished from every home of culture, for it is crude, vulgar and suggestive; it places lowered and lowering musical taste and mood and many well placed in the same category as the dime novel, so pernicious is its influence, and so demoralizing is its effect. QUICK JUSTICE
Two years ago the Legislature of California established a new court, which has since been one of the busiest in the state. It is the Small Claims Court, and its object is to give justice to poor people who cannot afford the customary legal procedure.

There are no lawyers. No amount in dispute may exceed $300. The judge is just the same. He still dislikes hearing any voice but his own. Even on the green benches in the House of Commons now and then in a new Parliament I have thought I saw his ghost, ready and speech but impatient of listening. (Laughter.) This is a day of commemoration and thanksgiving. Let it also be a day of self-examination and of dedication that we may not be unworthy inheritors.

BLESSING OF ST. CHRISTOPHER INVOKED BY MANY CAR OWNERS

The blessing and protection of the good St. Christopher was invoked by more than a hundred motorists as they filed past Our Lady of Mount Carmel (Italian) Roman Catholic Church, St. Patrick street, yesterday morning, says Monday's Toronto Globe, following the regular mass. Fruit vendors' trucks, coupes and shining limousines joined in the solemn procession, each in its turn being sprinkled with holy water as a safeguard against accident and mishap during the next twelve months. Rev. Father D. Vigilant conducted the ceremony.

St. Christopher it was who, according to tradition, following conversion to the Christian faith, had assigned to him the task of carrying travelers on his back across a raging stream. One day, so runs the legend, he was walking through the torrent with a child on his shoulders. Before he had reached the other shore the burden had become so heavy that it seemed as if he was carrying the weight of the world. In awe and wonderment he asked for a sign. The Voice out of the darkness made him plant his staff in the ground, and the next morning there was in its place a flourishing palm tree.

Later St. Christopher was tortured by a jealous King, and finally beheaded. His image now looks down from many a hill and vantage point in Italy, on the banks of the River Rhine and near the waters of the blue Danube. His aid is invoked against lightning, storms, pestilence, and, more recently, motor accidents.

Yesterday each motorist was presented with St. Christopher emblems, the palm tree, the Christ-child and the staff, July 25 was the saint's feast day.

THE DEADLY MONOXIDE

Two children, Alex, 8, and Theodore, 6, sons of Esigian Alex Thomas, of the Salvation Army, at Kansas City, were overcome and killed by carbon monoxide gas while asleep on the floor of an automobile driven by their parents from Beloit to Army Lake, Wisconsin recently. The parents did not discover the condition of the children until Army Lake was reached, and when they went to arouse them found them dead.

The children were grandsons of Colonel Edward Whitehead of the Salvation Army in Wisconsin and had their parents were guests of Colonel Whitehead at the Salvation Army camp at Army Lake. The parents had been on an army rally at Beloit and were returning at the time. The hour was late and the children, being tired, lay down on the floor of the tonneau. The deadly carbon monoxide gas from the exhaust seeped through an opening in the floor of the car, used to heat it in winter.

Details of Big Middleweight Bout Won by Johnny Wilson.

Boston, Aug. 1.—Before the biggest crowd in Boston's fight history, Johnny Wilson, former middleweight champion of the world, knocked out Jack Malone, "uncrowned king" of the division, half way through the sixth round of their scheduled 10-round battle at Braves Field Tuesday night. The blow that brought the Western man to the canvas was a smashing left to the wind.

The crowd of 20,000, most of which seemed to be Malone partisans, went away from the field more or less stupefied by the sudden end and wondering exactly what happened. Malone, who had gone to one knee in the second round for the count of nine, vainly protesting to Referee Joe O'Connor that Wilson had struck him low, had also doubled over at the knockout and although making no verbal claim of foul, he acted out the part.

The referee intoned the count of nine over his kneeling and bloody form. At the count of 10 Malone staggered to his feet but unable to resume a fighting pose, seemed to be in pitiful shape. O'Connor waved him to his corner and lifted Wilson's glove.

Malone sank heavily in his corner and bent forward, face in hands as if crying, while the crowd milled about the ring trying to discover what had happened. The end was very unsatisfactory to his supporters because he was unquestionably plugging away on the slower Chastown man, after an almost disastrous start and looked a sure winner on points, especially since Johnny seemed to be tiring and slowing up.

As predicted it was a battle of Wilson's terrific body punches arrayed against Malone's clever and clever boxing. The former champion bored in head down from the opening chime and blasted away at the frail body of the westerner with everything he had.

The second round almost saw the end of the "uncrowned king." A terrific left to the head tore away at Malone's right eyebrow and bathed both fighters in blood. Blinded by the gore the brilliant Irishman broke ground with Wilson leading after the smell of a kill hit in his nostrils.

Feeling for Kayo.

Feeling with his right, the left handed Johnny fired a left at the westerner that sank home with deep. It looked dangerously low from the ring, but Malone's general dodging and slipping made it perhaps it was merely illusion. Malone seemed unhurt and swung a right for the jaw, which Wilson ducked sending another terrific smack to the body directly on the belt buckle.

There was no question about the fairness of this blow, but the flashy glove sank to one knee with a very audible "Oh."

Making dumb show of a foul claim, his blood-streaked face twisted into painful grimace, Malone looked appealingly at the referee, but Joe O'Connor shook his head. The wisdom of his decision was immediately apparent when Malone resumed his feet at the count of nine and tore into Wilson with freer fashion than at any time during the evening.

Wilson seeking to follow up his advantage here in sent home another body smash that looked much lower than the one Joe had protested, but Malone's reply to this was a jab to the jaw that rocked Wilson back on his heels and almost knocked him out of the ring.

The third round was Wilson's by a shade. Malone's eye was opened again and his face was a bloody blur, but he danced away from the lunging Wilson and ripped him with lefts and rights to face and body until half way through the stanza, when Johnny suddenly got the rope again and caused Malone to buckle like a hinged albat with that same terrific left to the wind.

The fourth and fifth saw Malone at his best. Apparently out of the mire and having learned to block that left to the body with a low right elbow, he danced and dived and teetered like his old time self, rocking Wilson with rights to the jaw and stiff left uppercuts in the clinches.

Finds Wilson's Style.

Johnny's southpaw style that had bothered Malone so badly in the opening rounds seemed to offer no bewildering now. Wilson on the other hand seemed tired. He had lost his speed, the savagery that characterized him in the second round was gone, and he was standing flat footed in the centre of the ring with Malone doing the pressing and leading.

Half way through the fifth he rushed Wilson to the ropes, cooly measured him with his left and smacked a right to the button that couldn't have jarred the Charlestown harder if it had been delivered with the butt end of a 4 by 4 plank. The crowd began to yell for a knockout.

"You've got 'im, Jock," it screamed. "One more like that and he's through."

Wilson hung on, trying to stay inside, but Malone danced out, feinted him into a lead, picked off the punch with his left and smacked that right to jaw again. Wilson went six feet into the ropes. If the blow had been struck in the centre of the ring he would probably have hit the calico. Malone was after him like a terrier, belted him and floundered him with lefts and rights, but Johnny went into a clinch. The men broke, landing light rights to the head and Malone missed another starboard clew to the jaw hinge as the bell spoke.

Malone trotted to his corner apparently in the best of shape, while Wilson plodded over to his angle of rest.

In the sixth, Malone came out of his corner with a rush and smacked a hard right to Wilson's wind. They clinched and Wilson ducked a right to the jaw that had knocked a knockout in it had it smacked him solidly. Malone grinned broadly as Wilson clinched and sent two left uppercuts to the jaw that caused Wilson's head to bob as if he were bowling to the referee.

Johnny broke back and Malone smacked three light rights to the head. They exchanged lefts to the jaw, then Wilson came boring in, head down, and flung a right, after the fashion of the opening rounds. Malone ducked a devastating left to the head and they clinched at midline, charging their fists

HARRIS IS MAJOR LEAGUE SENSATION

Washington's Boy Manager Keeps Senators in Pennant Race.

The pennant race in the American League presents the two extremes in managerial direction, says Billy Evans, "Bucky" Harris, the boy manager of the Washington club, the youngest in the majors, has his own way within whispering distance of first place.

Connie Mack, considered to be one of the game's greatest strategists, is last of all big league managers, is last. In the spring Mack was confident that he had a club that would finish second. The Yankees he figured to repeat.

Harris, in his first year as a manager, merely had hopes of attacking in the first division. The club that had been turned over to him finished fourth in 1923. He planned to do at least as well.

Practically the same team

With practically the same club that was well handled by "Donnie" Bush last season, Harris, after a very ordinary start, is well up in front with the season half over.

Despite the fact that only a very few new faces have been added to the Washington roster, it looks like an entirely different team in action.

The club has a certain confidence in itself that was lacking last season. There is snap and aggressiveness to the team's play that give it color. It simply doesn't know the meaning of defeat.

Said Days for Mack

The never-quit spirit can be attributed to the "boy manager," so-called. Harris is a fighter, but a square one, and he seeks only the survival of the fittest. Recently the Washington and Philadelphia clubs clashed in a series of seven games. The Athletics lost six of them, only a superb exhibition of pitching by Eddie Rommel prevented a clean sweep by the Nationals.

Those were melancholy days for Connie Mack. Must have brought back memories of the happy days when his team was winning pennants and world series.

The night that Mack finds himself in a situation he has constantly faced since he broke up his great team of 1914, proves beyond a doubt that regardless of the baseball wisdom possessed by a manager, it is impossible to win ball games unless he has the material to work with.

Manager Needs Material

No manager in the game knows more baseball than Mack, yet for 10 years he has been unable to produce results. Mack has discovered it is more difficult to develop players than he believed.

Harris, on the other hand, fired with the ambition of youth, backed by little managerial prestige, is playing a daring game and delivering

MOORE TOPS VETS IN BATTING LIST

Star Right Fielder is Also Well Up in Other Departments.

The batting averages of the Vets for local games only have been compiled by William Carney, the official scorer, and these show that Clarence Moore is the real leader with the average of .350. Finnamore is first with .302, but as he has participated in only 13 games, the speedy right fielder is the real leader.

This youngster also ties Sterling for the lead in triples, with five.

Tippett is far ahead in two baggers with 10 to his credit, while McGowan, Ramsay and Sterling are tied for circuit clouts with two each. Dever and Moore are the leading base stealers, with 10 thefts apiece. Moore also has proved to be the hardest pitcher for the opposing pitcher to dispose of via the strike-out, hitting the omelette on only 12 occasions. Towie also has fanned on only a dozen trips to the plate, but he has played in eight fewer games than Moore.

Mr. Carney declared today that he had made several efforts to secure the batting records of the local team away from the city, but thus far without success.

TIPPETT'S OPPOSES SHIELDS TOMORROW

Battle Royal Expected in East End Between Fredrickson and Vets.

One of the most hotly-contested ball games of the year is scheduled for the East End grounds tomorrow afternoon when Vincent Shields and the Capital outfit will endeavor to humble the War Vets with Gene Tippett on the mound.

The Vets have been hitting on all cylinders lately and are out to trim the boy who is to be given a trial next spring with the St. Louis Nationals. Shields has lost but few ball games this year, but the locals figure on adding another to his lost column tomorrow.

The Vets will have their strongest lineup with Dever behind the bat, Bonell, Ramsay, MacGowan and O'Regan in the infield. In Moore, "Scotty" Sterling and Towie, the Vets have what is considered by many to be one of the fastest-fielding and hardest-hitting outfield gardens collected here in many a day. The Capitals also will have an evening game.

GORMAN IS WHALING BALL AT .520 CLIP

Hannah of Portlands and Murphy, St. Rose's, Have Most Strikeouts.

Some startling changes took place in the figures for the Senior League pitchers during the last ten days. The chief feature is the hitting of Charlie Gorman, second baseman and pitcher for the Portlands. He has struck out twelve hits for an average of .707 giving him a grand average for all games played of .520. He also leads the league in stolen bases having 19 to his credit in 10 games.

Snodgrass's teammate is second with nine. Snodgrass also has the distinction of scoring the most runs, having 19 to his credit in 10 games.

The lack of any heavy hitters is the principal cause of the Clippers' poor showing in the league. They outfielded an average of .707 giving him a grand average for all games played of .520. He also leads the league in stolen bases having 19 to his credit in 10 games.

The mental hazard of being compelled to place your shot on the green is something you did not have to worry about when you were on "the wide fairway with the whole world to shoot at."

This in itself is going to disturb you. As a result you are quite likely to tighten up and instead of swinging through in a rhythmic arc you probably will tear into the ball with all your might, trying to kill it.

The effect will be a lunge, rather than a sweeping hit. If you don't top the ball you will hook it or push it. Either way you will wind up in the rough or in a trap.

Even the champions have a tough time making 300-yard approach shots stick on the green, let alone the duifers.

Play it safe. Take a club you know you can handle and swing smoothly and naturally.

What if you are short? Isn't that better than being trapped on in mean unplayable rough?

It's the extra effort—the tendency to kill the ball—that sends scores mounting.

LONG DRIVES ALL RIGHT, SAYS JOCK

But Don't Try to Kill Ball With One Shot When Two are Better.

By JOE WILLIAMS.

Go after distance if you must, but don't try to kill the ball. That's the advice of Jock Hutchison, former British open champion and present holder of the western open.

Hutchison, unlike most pros, thinks distance hitting should be encouraged. Hutchison realizes that the player gets his biggest thrill out of a long driven tee shot.

"It is just as easy to hit a long ball as a short one, once you have mastered control," contends Jock. "There are times when distance is imperative, and other times when it only seems to be."

When you are on a wide fairway with the whole world to shoot at, cut loose and see just how far you can swing the darn ball. But when your objective is a green with traps on either side and you are 300 yards away use less muscle and more mentality.

SUES PEGGY JOYCE TO VOID MARRIAGE

Swedish Count, 2 Months Married, Brings Action Against Actress.

New York, Aug. 1.—As she was stepping into a taxicab in front of the Federal Building, where she had testified at the trial of William J. Fallon, a lawyer accused of jury bribing, Peggy Hopkins Joyce, actress, was served with a summons in an action for annulment of marriage, begun a few minutes before by her husband, Count Gustav Morner of Sweden. The count said he had remained in their apartment at 38 East Sixty-second street from 7 o'clock Monday evening until 2 p.m. Tuesday waiting for his wife. Then he went to the office where his lawyer, F. Dudley Kohler, and directed that papers in an annulment action be drawn.

Then he returned to the East Sixty-second street apartment and packed up his effects. At 4 p.m. he called a taxicab and moved to the Yale Club, leaving word with a maid that he was "through." In his room in the club and in the presence of his lawyer and several friends, including Karl Y. Vendel, first assistant Swedish Consul here, and Arne Roselius of the Swedish Consulate, he told of his differences with the countess since their marriage by a Lutheran minister at Atlantic City on June 2. He is the actress' fourth husband.

When an attempt was made to learn from the count on what ground he would seek annulment of his marriage to the actress, he referred the question to his lawyer, who said that the action would be based on allegations of misrepresentation and fraud, but would not elucidate the charges.

Count Morner declared that no papers of any kind had been served on him by his wife or by her representative as had been reported, and Mr. Kohler said that the complaint in the action was being drafted and probably would be served on the countess within two or three days.

RUITH SETS A NEW RECORD FOR MONTH

Gets 14th Homer for Total of 33—Yankees are Beaten.

New York, Aug. 1.—St. Louis southpaw proved too much for the league-leading Yankees yesterday and the Browns romped home with both ends of a double-header, 2 to 1 and 5 to 4. Winograd in the first game, had the New Yorkers at his mercy, limiting them to five singles. Danforth was the Yankee Nemesis in the second.

Babe Ruth was the only one able to solve the left-handed slants of the Brown pitchers, gathering two singles in the first and a home run and single in the second. His circuit clout was his 33rd for the season and his 14th in Yankee history.

His best previous mark was established in June, 1921, when he made 13 home runs.

The double defeat cut down the Yankees' lead to one-half game over Washington, as the Senators defeated Harry McClain, substituting at bat for Eddie Collins, who is out for a few days with a strained leg.

The Cincinnati Reds won their first over Boston, 5 to 4. The Athletics and the Indians broke even in a double-header, Philadelphia taking the first, 5 to 3, and Cleveland the second, 4 to 3, in a 10-inning battle.

Giants Suffer Again.

John McGraw's Giants took another drubbing at the hands of the Pirates in a game that only went six innings. The score was 5 to 0. It was Pittsburger's 11th straight win and places them only eight games behind the league-leading New Yorkers. Chicago remains in second place, six games behind the Yankees.

Chicago even up the series with Brooklyn, winning a closely contested game, 4 to 1.

That game more was Philadelphia's portion when the St. Louis Cards batted Mitchell out of the box in the first inning, scoring four runs, enough to win. The final score was 6 to 1.

The Cincinnati-Boston game was called at the end of the fourth inning when rain made it impossible to continue play.

LOCAL HORSES FAILED TO WIN

David Hal Made Good Start in Free-for-all.

In the races yesterday at New Glasgow, Jean Binger, of the Merryweather Stables of Halifax, won the free-for-all trot and pace after six heats. David Hal, owned by S. E. Rice of this city, won the first heat and finished second and third in the next two, and was then withdrawn. In the 2:25 trot and pace Kate Velo, owned by E. C. MacDonald of Fredericton, captured the event after six heats were raced. The Finisher, H. J. Blois of this city, started but was ruled out after three heats.

The Cincinnati race, written Boy in straight heats. This horse is owned by A. L. Hodgson, Halifax. Patsien King, owned by F. A. King of this city, was withdrawn from this race.

SOUTH END JUNIORS.

Sussex and the Machine Gunners will not play a double header on Saturday on the South End grounds, as announced previously, and the open dates will be taken up by the South End Juniors. A double header, commencing at 2 o'clock, will be staged between the Thistles and St. John's Baptist in the first game, and Harriers and Imperials in the second game. The evening game will be between the Thistles and the Harriers.

FRENCH COAL OUTPUT INCREASES

Paris, Aug. 1.—The coal output of France, cut in two by German devastation, continues to increase and in January went beyond the prewar point. The French mines now turn out about 45,000,000 tons a year, a tenth of which comes from the Lorraine mines.

Own your own home! Many offers and bargains will be found on the Want Ad page of The Times-Star.

SOCCER GAME TONIGHT

The Athletics and R. C. N. Y. R. Soccer teams will meet this evening on the Barrack Square in a soccer league battle. The kick-off will be at 7 o'clock and the players are requested to be at the Armory at 6:45 in order to be ready for the game in time. The Naval team will present the same lineup as former games.
