Coalition to Continue During Reconstruction

Lloyd-George Receives Support of United Parties for His After-War Programme; Announces Plans for Internal Reforms, and Outlines Some of Problems Which Must be Faced

London, Nov. 14.—(Canadian Press Despatch from Reuter's Limited)—At a meeting of 200 leading coalition Liberal peers and commons yesterday Premier Lloyd George outlined his reconstruction policy, saying the victory must be utilized as an impetus to reforms. A great rehousing programme was necessary, the hours of labor must be reduced, a minimum wage introduced and production increased through land reform.

The prime minister also foreshadowed a large development in transport and said that there was value in the prevailing revolutionary spirit, if wisely directed. It must be combated by national unity, co-operation and sacrifice. He feared that neither revolution nor Bolshevism, but reaction and dissension. Mere party considerations were unseemly. He wanted a united government, representing all parties.

Free Trade Prospects.

In regard to free trade, Mr. Lloyd George said that he did not propose to go as far as the Paris resolutions. The third of President Wilson's points prevented any idea of a post war economic war. Irish home rule was essential, but there must be no coercion of northeast Ulster.

The premier concluded by stating that the watchword of the government was progress. He must have the support of Liberals.

The meeting unanimously pledged support to Mr. Lloyd George and the coalition government during the period of reconstruction.

The premier received a remarkable ovation. A meeting of the Unionist party yesterday voted, confidence in Chancellor Bonar Law, after the latter had announced that he proposed recommending the continuation of the present coalition government.

United States Plans. Washington, Nov. 14.—Reconstruction problems varied in extent and of tremendous importance under the direction and on the advice of a special commission. President Wilson, it was understood today, is considering the appointment of a reconstruction commission.

PARKS HOSPITAL PROVES IT VALUE

Has Been Great Boon to the Sick—Only Two More Houses, and one Ship, Placarded on Day Ban is Lifted

The value of the emergency influenza hospital to the community is being most unmistakably demonstrated these days. Present the institution is a busy place. It is the most advanced step along the fully fledged and almost daily influx of newcomers and exodus of convalescents.

The hospital is an excellent example of the most advanced step along the fully fledged and almost daily influx of newcomers and exodus of convalescents.

The raising of the ban on public gatherings today will mark the termination of the most radical step along the fully fledged and almost daily influx of newcomers and exodus of convalescents.

With a steady and increasing number of officials look to a quick return to healthy times again.

PARIS WILL HONOR JOFFRE AND FOCH

Paris, Nov. 14.—(Havas Agency)—A. J. Balfour, the British foreign secretary, and Baron Sonnino, the Italian foreign minister, will arrive in Paris today, the Journal says. Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain and Premier Orlando of Italy will follow their arrival, it is added, discussions will begin to prepare the preliminaries for peace.

PARIS WILL HONOR JOFFRE AND FOCH

Paris, Nov. 14.—(Havas Agency)—The Municipal Council of Paris has initiated a plan, with the help of Premier Clemenceau, to hold a ceremonial meeting at the city hall in honor of Marshal Joffre and Marshal Foch. During the meeting it is planned to present commemorative medals to the two great soldiers.

NEW GOVERNMENT OF GERMANY HAS BEEN ORGANIZED

Is Composed Entirely of Socialist Members

Workers and Soldiers' Council Announces an Official Eight Hour Day—German Austria a Democratic Republic

Copenhagen, Nov. 14, 8.52 a. m.—The new German government has been organized with the following cabinet members:

Premier and interior and military affairs—Friedrich Ebert. Foreign affairs—Hugo Haase. Finance and colonies—Philipp Scheidemann.

Demobilization, transportation, justice and health—Wilhelm Dittmann. Publicity, art and literature—Herr Landsberg. Social policy—Richard Barth.

Announcement of the members of the new German government confirms previous reports that the cabinet would be composed entirely of Socialists.

The majority Socialists who supported the imperial government during the war, are represented by Ebert, Scheidemann and Landsberg, while the Independent Socialists are Haase, Dittmann and Barth.

Herr Dittmann, who sits in the Reichstag as a deputy from Hamburg, was sentenced to imprisonment last February in connection with the labor troubles in Berlin. He was released by the imperial government a few days before its downfall. Richard Barth formerly was editor of the Socialist Vorwaerts, and is a member of the Spartacus or Bolshevik element of the Independent Socialists.

Eight Hour Day. Copenhagen, Nov. 13.—A Berlin despatch says the workers' and soldiers' council, in addition to abolishing the censorship, has lifted the state of siege, and ordered religious liberty and political amnesty. Beginning with the new year, an eight hour working day will be in force.

German-Austria. Basel, Nov. 12.—All the imperial power in German-Austria has passed to the state council which will retain power until a constituent assembly has definitely established a constitution, declares a resolution adopted by the state council of Vienna in a constituent assembly held in Vienna in January.

The resolution describes German-Austria as a democratic republic and an integral part of the German empire.

PLAN SOLEMN ENTRY INTO METZ

American Troops Have Entered German Territory and Marshal Foch Will Cross the Border on Sunday

Paris, Nov. 14, 4.25 a. m.—Marshal Foch, commander-in-chief of the allied armies, will make solemn entry into Strasbourg and Metz on Sunday, in the presence of President Poincare and Premier Clemenceau.

Across the Frontier. Paris, Nov. 14, 4.45 a. m.—American troops have crossed the German frontier toward Metz and Strasbourg.

Future of Regained Provinces. Paris, Nov. 14.—(Havas Agency)—The French cabinet held an extraordinary meeting today, the Matin says, to consider important military and administrative questions concerning Alsace-Lorraine. The government intends to appoint two governors with headquarters at Metz and Strasbourg as soon as the Allies occupy the two provinces.

SCHOONER MEETS MISHAP AS MAIDEN VOYAGE BEGINS

The large new schooner, General Hoag, which sailed from this port last Friday, on route to South Africa, met with a mishap before getting out of the Bay. After setting sail she encountered strong head winds and put into Digby Gut. The following morning while endeavoring to get under way she grounded and remained all night yesterday morning, when the steamer Bear River pulled her off and towed her to Digby. An examination showed that her stern had been damaged a little, but it is expected that repairs can be made where she is and that she will be able to proceed on her voyage in a very short time.

MISS LOUISE McDONNELL. Miss Louise McDonnell, of 41 Harrison street, passed away this morning after a short illness from pneumonia. She was a well known young lady of the North End and the news of her death was heard with regret by a host of friends. She was the eldest daughter of the late John and Mary McDonnell and is survived by two brothers, John J., at home, and Francis, with a Canadian unit at present in England; also three sisters, Nora, a trained nurse in Camden, New Jersey, and will take place tomorrow morning at 9.30 o'clock.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING SCHOOL AS WAR

Strong plan on behalf of starting vocational training in this city was made today to the common council by a delegation consisting of A. H. Wetmore, president of the local board of trade; Prof. F. Peacock, Lewis Simms, W. K. Ganong and George Maxwell. The object of the delegation was to get interested in the matter so that they would arrange with the school board to go into the proposition and later report to them.

Mr. Wetmore introduced the subject and pointed out that, according to the provincial acts of April, 1918, any school board may, on recommendation of the common council, take up vocational education under the act. He said that the delegation were asking the council to make a recommendation that the school board here investigate and, if found advisable, take immediate action to establish vocational training in St. John. He pointed out that the provincial government under the act will pay 50 per cent of the maintenance of such work, and according to estimates, a city expense of from $3,000 to $5,000 would cover the outlay for the first year.

Mr. Peacock addressed the meeting and explained that in the matter of vocational training it was up to the local community to take the initiative. The object of this vocational training of technical education was the need of something to get hold of the masses of the people. He then gave statistics showing the great falling off in the attendance at public schools and pointed out that out of nearly 12,000 starting school only about 100 graduates. He said this great falling off was undesirable and did not tend for the upbuilding of the community. He pointed out that the vocational education was for boys and girls between the ages of fourteen and eighteen and that when they leave school at the present time they do so badly handicapped without the training students in other places receive. Forty-two of the States in the United States have taken instances where vocational training have increased the earning capacity of the students from $8 to $15 after a two and a half year course.

The commissioners questioned the speaker regarding the staff for such a school, and the number of subjects taken up, etc. In answer to Mayor Hayes, he said that it was open to any community to serve its returned soldiers through this machinery. He said that he hoped to have the federal government take up the matter and contribute towards the expense.

Mr. Simms also spoke about the need for such education and gave an argument on the fact that they have 800 employees and that figures show that yearly they have to hire that many new boys and girls. He said that the commercial world without any idea of what they intend to follow up and as a result it is injurious to the industrial world.

Mayor Hayes said that he had listened sympathetically to the speakers and said that he felt that the time had come when action should be taken to better way to celebrate the great victory than by building a large memorial in the form of such an institute. On behalf of the council he promised that the matter would be taken up with the school trustees and that they would act just as soon as they receive a favorable report from them.

ST. JOHN ATTORNEYS ADMITTED TO THE BAR

Frederick, Nov. 14.—Four attorneys were admitted as barristers by the supreme court today. They were presented by Hon. Hon. J. P. Byrne, attorney-general. The new attorneys are William J. Shaw, J. W. Tait and Thomas K. Sweeney, all of St. John, and Allan T. LeBlanc of Dalhousie.

Argument was completed this morning in the crown case reserved, the King vs. Frank L. Akery, which was tried at Gagetown before Mr. Justice Barry. D. Mullin, K. C., and R. St. John Pease were the defendant and Hon. J. P. Byrne, attorney-general, for the crown. Court considered.

The King vs. C. N. Vroom, justice of the peace for Charlotte county ex parte Hugh McDonald—P. J. Hughes showed up against a rule nisi to quash conviction under the intoxicating liquor act 1916.

Effects of the Storm. Today's storm, which started about 3 a. m., is centered in the maritime provinces. In New York and Boston they have no snow or sleet whatever and Montreal has merely a slight trace of it. Coming nearer the New Brunswick border the disturbance increases, and after leaving St. John with about an inch of slush and very uncomfortable, it works up to its climax of severity between Sackville and Amherst, the Tantramar marshes region.

Here King Winter with his lieutenant-generals Jack Frost and Old Boreas made a dash set on the telegraphic equipment, covering the wires with sleet and freezing it so that nearly a mile of wires with occasional poles were borne to the ground.

Both Western Union and C. P. R. telegraph companies were not able to get any messages past Sackville up to afternoon or to receive any. This interruption interfered with cable news via Sydney very greatly.

D. L. Hutchinson of the meteorological observatory says the very disagreeable though not overly severe storm, will in all probability be followed by very clear and pleasant weather. It is really not early for snow and it is remembered that on Nov. 7 last year this part of Canada experienced a veritable blizzard. The wind has been twenty to twenty-two miles all day.

The storm did not interfere with trains any today, but roadmaking on the outskirts of the city, public works activities in the streets and all other outdoor jobs are hung up.

The telegraph companies have about sixty men at work on the Tantramar marshes repairing the lines.

TURKS FIGHTING AS TARTAR TROOPS ARE ATTACKING ARMENIANS

London, Nov. 14.—The Armenian National Council has received a telegram saying that two Turkish divisions had abandoned their Turkish uniforms and were fighting as Tartar troops and bombarding villages in the region of Karabagh, which the Armenians are defending. The council has asked the Entente to occupy Armenia immediately.

THE VICTORY LOAN. The Victory Loan committee are making strenuous efforts in the two remaining days to secure $700,000, which is necessary before St. John can reach its objective. The various committees were so actively engaged this morning that no reports were submitted. A splendid contribution in the form of a $5,000 bond was purchased by the Burroughs Adding Machine Company.

PETER MCCART. The death took place this morning of Peter McCart at his late residence, 98 Queen square. Mr. McCart was well known in this city and has been a member of the custom house staff for thirty years. He leaves to mourn one daughter.

German Protest Against the Terms

Conditions Would Throw People Into Anarchy and Famine

State of Affairs Which May Make it Impossible to Carry Out Agreement; "German People Will Maintain Its Liberty and Unity Despite Enemy Violence"

Paris, Nov. 14.—A declaration sent to the French government early this week by the German plenipotentiaries who went to Marshal Foch's headquarters to sign the armistice between the Allies and Germany has been published here. It protests against some features of the terms agreed to by the Germans and to which they objected verbally at their first meeting with Marshal Foch. The declaration reads:

"The German government will naturally make every effort to aid in the carrying out of the obligations imposed upon it. Its plenipotentiaries recognize that on certain points a conciliatory spirit has been shown toward their suggestions. They can, consequently, consider the observations which they submitted on November 9, referring to conditions of the armistice, and the reply they received on November 10, as forming an integral part of the complete convention. They cannot, however, permit any doubt to exist on the fact that the shortness of the delay fixed for evacuation and the handing over of indispensable means of transport threatens to provoke a state of affairs which, without the German government and people being at fault, may render the execution of the conditions of the armistice impossible. The plenipotentiaries further consider it their duty, referring to their reiterated verbal and written declarations, to state once more with the utmost energy that the execution of this convention must throw the German people into anarchy and famine.

"After the public manifestations which preceded the laying down of the armistice conditions might have been expected which, while giving our adversaries full military security, would have put an end to the sufferings of non-combatant women and children. The German people, which for fifty months have held out against a world of enemies, will maintain its liberty and unity despite every violence."

Bavaria's Complaint. Basel, Nov. 12.—Declaring that the new democratic state of Bavaria is not responsible for the faults of the old regime in Germany, a manifesto has been sent from Munich to the new federal government of Germany asking that complaint over the conditions of the armistice be sent to the Entente Powers. It is said that the terms agreed to by Germany in stopping hostilities are of such a nature as to prevent rapid re-establishment of order in Bavaria.

AMERICAN FOOD TRUST CRITICIZED IN COMMONS AS A SERIOUS MENACE

London, Nov. 14.—In a discussion in the House of Commons yesterday concerning the food question and control of the meat supply, the American meat trust was criticized severely by some speakers.

The order of the field marshal reads: "To all, and especially the army group under Field Marshal Von Mackensen (in Roumania) I remain as hitherto the head of the supreme army command in order to lead the troops home in order and discipline. I expect the command, staff, officers, non-commissioned officers and men to continue to do their duty. This is to be made known to all the troops."

NO MORE ARRESTS UNDER THE M. S. A. Montreal, Nov. 14.—The following message has been received at military headquarters here from the militia department at Ottawa: "No further arrests of defaulters under the M. S. A. will be made. All proceedings will be stopped pending further instructions. Efforts must be made to secure convictions in all cases where bribery has been committed to obtain exemption."

RODRICK CONNOLLY. Rodrick Connolly passed away at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. James Durean, 67 Winter street. He was ninety-one years of age and is survived by five sons and two daughters. The sons are James, Frederick, John, Henry and Robert, of this city, and the daughters are Mrs. Frederick Pierce, of Hawthorne avenue, and Mrs. Durean.

German Fleet Must Be Disarmed Before Allies' Can Aid the Starving

London, Nov. 13.—Problems connected with the policing and provisioning of Russia and the Central Powers hinge primarily upon the immediate disarmament of the German fleet, the Russian warships held by the Germans and the United States of the Ukraine government in the Black Sea. Warships which are held by the Bolsheviks in the Finnish Gulf must also be put out of commission.

Without freedom of movement in the Black and Baltic seas, the Entente Powers and the United States will have great difficulty in affording economic relief to Central Europe, as well as Scandinavia. Consequently, the attitude of the German navy toward the armistice terms is watched with eagerness by Entente officials, who are anxious to prevent starvation among the belligerents and to restore normal, social and economic conditions among the suffering millions.

Speedy action is necessary for the relief of regions adjacent to the Baltic Sea, as many of its ports will be ice-bound within two months and the congested and disrupted condition of the railways makes relief by land routes uncertain. The Entente Powers and the United States have shown no disposition to deal with the Bolshevik government, while Russia remains in the control of the Soviet. Therefore, there seems to be little hope of feeding Moscow, Petrograd and other large cities there.

If the Russian Bolshevik movement, which has been started against Finland, should be successful, Finland would also be placed temporarily beyond relief. Food conditions are more favorable in Ukraine and in the Caucasus regions.

Paris, Nov. 14.—(Havas Agency)—Turks residing in Switzerland are informed that Talat Pasha, former grand vizier and minister of finance; Ezer Pasha, former minister of war, and Djemal Pasha, former minister of marine, have fled from Constantinople. They are accused of embezzlement and other crimes, according to advices received here.

Start The Winter Right—With New Rubbers.

Of course, we all want to economize—and there's no truer economy than wearing Rubbers. They protect the health and the shoes of every member of the family, especially the children. But there's no economy in wearing old Rubbers that are worn through at sole, toe or heel.

Start the winter right—with new Rubbers. Not a single pair; but a pair of Rubbers for each style of shoes—fitted to insure comfort and long wear.

A new pair of Rubbers on an old pair of shoes, makes the old shoes as serviceable as new ones—at a small part of the cost of new shoes.

There is a style and shape for every shoe—for men, women and children—in these six brands of reliable Rubbers, sold by the leading shoe stores;

RECONSTRUCTION.

Word comes from Ottawa that a cabinet committee is actively engaged upon problems which Canada must handle as it moves back from a war footing to the basis of peace conditions.

The repatriation of Canada's army, the re-organization of its industries, the question of control of prices and supplies until conditions approach the normal, the pressing business of taxation—these are but some of a score of questions which will demand establishment of a new economic order.

Unquestionably there will be on the part of the public sharp objection to any form of taxation which smacks of special privilege. There is no indication that the cost of living will diminish in the near future, and an early agitation for a scaling down of the tariff on necessities is among the probabilities.

CANADA'S LANGUAGE PROBLEM.

The prairie provinces of Canada have a serious language problem. The Toronto Globe says: "The English-speaking people of the West are much concerned over the alien question."

There are 1,240,374 of the age of ten and over in the Prairie Provinces 449,448 are foreign-born, according to the provincial census.

Of the 88,072 Ukrainians 83.8 per cent cannot speak English. There are 198,250 Austro-Hungarians, and 45 per cent of these cannot speak English.

The most difficult of all these people to deal with are the Mennonites, who speak German, and who have been teaching it in their schools.

Before the colonies which recently settled near Lethbridge bought land a committee of these long-whiskered Germans, says a correspondent of the Calgary Herald, "went over every acre within spades, turning over the soil as almost every rod."

They made notes, secured an analysis of the soil, and employed the best legal talent to examine the deeds. Papers of incorporation were drawn up under the brotherhood plan, whereby all will share in the land and its products.

Expulsion of a Bolshevik diplomatic mission from Rome was carried out in the presence of an inquisitive crowd. Automobiles containing the members of the mission were escorted on the way by infantry detachments in motor trucks.

An official trustee and special school organizer in Manitoba, and is official trustee in 112 districts, is thus quoted by the Toronto Globe:

"In the first two years of his duties the accommodation between new districts and added rooms to existing schools was increased to the extent of 103 rooms. There were also built 50 cottages for teachers.

This is a very practical way of meeting the difficulty. With good schools teaching English the children of the newcomers, with the possible exception of the Mennonites, would become intelligent Canadian citizens, and that is essential to the general welfare and future peace of the Dominion.

The interchange of congratulations by His Majesty the King and President Wilson in the hour of victory is an inspiring feature of the news of today.

On Sunday Foch is to enter Strasbourg and Metz in the presence of President Poincaré and Premier Clemenceau. A laus-Lorraine is reckoned. These truly are days of French glory.

On the first appearance of a cough or cold, do not neglect it, but get rid of it at once before it has a chance to grow worse, and gets settled on the lungs, causing bronchitis, pneumonia and other serious lung troubles.

A PURIFIED CITY AS THANK OFFERING

Vicar of Christ Church Cathedral Discussed Vice Conditions in Montreal—Prospects of Combating Evil Brighter. (Montreal Gazette.) A clarion call to citizens to support the clean-up of the city contemplated by the Committee of Sixteen was sounded by Rev. Dr. Symonds at Christ Church Cathedral last night, when he delivered his final sermon prior to leaving for Europe on a special mission to the Canadian troops.

RECENT DEATHS

Alexander Davidson, contractor and builder, formerly of Halifax, died of paralysis at his residence, 114 Elliott row, on November 13, leaving to mourn his loss, a fond wife, three daughters—Mrs. Robt. Blackall, Mrs. Grace Mann, and Miss Jean Davidson; and two sons—George, of Moncton and Albert.

Not Cold-Blooded

Letters which he had received, said Dr. Symonds, indicated that some people thought the Committee of Sixteen was a cold-blooded organization that loathed and despised the poor victims of folly and that it wanted to put them all in jail. That was a great mistake, and to show how great a mistake, he cited the names of its leading members, such as Rev. Father Gauthier, Miss Phinney, Lady Higgison and others, all of whom were engaged in work which showed their sympathies with the unfortunate.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush Your Kidneys Occasion ally If You Eat Meat Regularly No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys. The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get at once four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will be clean and active.

My Nerves Were So Bad at Times that I Could Not Keep Back the Tears

WHEN the nerves collapse there is such a feeling of utter helplessness that strong men, as well as women, cannot do otherwise than weep. The average physician is sadly at a loss when consulted by a nervous patient, and we have, from such an eminent authority as Dr. Richard Cabot, the statement that half the ordinary practitioners' work is with derangements of the nerves.

WOMAN'S $150 DRESS IS RULED A LUXURY

Husband Earning $225 a Month Not Liable to Pay Wife's Bill—Judge Archer's Dictum.

(Montreal Gazette.)

"Dresses at $150 and $135 each for a wife whose husband earns $225 a month are to be considered as luxuries." Under this dictum, expressed by Mr. Justice Archer in the Court of Review Friday, Mr. R. C. Colt succeeded in his appeal from a judgment of the Superior Court, which had condemned him to pay to Dame Rebecca Jacobs the sum of $386.25 for goods supplied to Mrs. Colt.

"If the plaintiff is to lose the amount claimed," added Justice Archer, "it is due to her own negligence in not ascertaining the exact position of her client."

The account which formed the basis of the claim was composed of the following items:

March 30, 1916, 2 imported tulle and net dresses ..... $150.00

March 31, fan suit ..... 135.00

One veil ..... 1.25

Total ..... $386.25

"It appears by the evidence," said Mr. Justice Archer, "that defendant (Mr. Colt) and his wife were not living together. Defendant left his wife, and she took an action in separation from him and got judgment in her favor ordering the separation, and defendant was condemned to pay her an alimony amounting to $125 a month. Up to that time defendant, who was earning $225 a month, allowed his wife $80 a month for her clothing, and sometimes he would allow her to get some extras."

The governing law, according to Mr. Justice Archer, is that a husband is bound to support his wife with all the necessities of life according to his means and condition.

"Article 1280 says: 'The liabilities of the community consist of the debts, whether of capital sums, arrears or interest, contracted by the husband during the community or by the wife with the consent of the husband, saving competition where it is due.'"

"The fact mandate which the wife may have under Article 1280 of the Civil Code is, in my opinion, limited. The dress question was sold to defendant's wife and charged to her personally. It is evident plaintiff did not intend giving credit to the defendant, but to his wife. As there was community of property, plaintiff took the present action against defendant, who pleaded that he never authorized his wife to buy the goods in question, and that the same were unnecessary under the circumstances; that he never received any benefit or value from the transaction which was, he submitted, wholly illegal and void."

Not Bound to Pay.

"I am of opinion that defendant is not bound to pay the bill, as the effects therein mentioned are not for necessities of life, but are to be considered as luxuries. Dresses at $150 to $135 for a wife whose husband earns $225 a month are to be considered as luxuries. If the plaintiff is to lose the amount claimed, it is due to her own negligence in not ascertaining the exact position of her client."

"I am to reverse the judgment and dismiss the action, with costs of both parties."

BIG AFTER THE WAR

Canada's Products Will Be in Great Demand—Sir Thomas White Reviews Problems of Reconstruction Period.

Ottawa, Nov. 11.—Sir Thomas White has given an interview to the press with regard to some of the problems of reconstruction in the period after the war and the readjustment of business to the changed conditions. He said:

"The instant the war comes to an end, Canada will be on the threshold of a new industrial era—the era of readjustment and reconstruction. Notwithstanding the disposition in certain quarters to distrust the soundness of the outlook, I look forward with complete confidence in Canada's ability to adjust herself to the altered conditions."

"The expansion of the Canadian economy and financial strength during the war and at its conclusion has been due to the possession of almost unlimited resources and the fact that our exports have risen from less than $500,000,000 to over a billion and a half."

"The large number of men who will be in a condition of starvation and whose demoralized agriculture cannot be speedily restored. There would seem no reason to expect an increase of markets for all the food that Canada can produce. Our grain, live stock and their products will be in excess of the demand and will be in a state of surplus. As during the war to increase to the utmost our agricultural and live stock production to have the lands and the highly skilled agriculturist community. The slogan of this department of our national activity should be the same as that of the United States—'Production and Again Production.' Increase in our agricultural production will not only help to feed a hungry Europe, but will be a chief factor in maintaining our favorable international trade balance as well."

"In Finance New Business, Book 11. Now as to our war industries, it is a fact that considerable dislocation has taken place and that measures must be adopted to meet the changed conditions. The problem is to replace the output of our war industries by an equal, or, if possible, a greater output of industries supplying the necessities of reconstruction both at home and abroad. The war industries of our country have produced a great many of the principal items which have been required for the rebuilding of Belgium and other countries which have been devastated and partially devastated. By reason of the part she has played in this purpose, Canada is entitled as of right to a share in the business of reconstruction. We are in a position financially to participate in any inter-alleied effort for this purpose. Canada can, for example, continue to give extensive credits to the countries which are in need of such aid. The interest we should obtain on such a loan would defray the annual interest charges upon our own securities issued here for the purpose of raising the money. The security would probably be that of governments or of a commission backed by all the nations of the world. In London, we believe we have played a great part as a belligerent, and, secondly, we can finance the reconstruction of Europe. The fact that the Victory Loans have been successful is evidence of the confidence which the world has placed in our financial strength. There will be a representative of our government at the end of the war to take part in the reconstruction of the world. It is in our interest to have the prime minister and his colleagues, who are engaged in the reconstruction of our own country, to devote their most earnest efforts to the reconstruction of the world."

"The government is ready to cooperate in any way that will help to bring about a reconstruction of the world. It will not hesitate to spend money, freely, and the total will be very large for these purposes. This means steel, rail, car and locomotive production on a vast scale. PEACE TERMS ELECTION ISSUE

London, Nov. 13.—(British Wireless Service)—One of the principal issues at the forthcoming general election will be the nature of the peace settlement. It will mean the settlement of the world.
Premier Lloyd George made this announcement in an address to his Liberal supporters on November 11.
"What are the principles on which that settlement is to be effected?" he asked. "Are we to lapse back into the old national rivalries, animosities and competitive armaments, or are we to initiate the reign on earth of the Prince of Peace? It is the duty of Liberalism to use its influence to ensure that it shall be a reign of peace.
"What are conditions of peace? They must lead to a settlement which will be fundamentally just. No settlement that contravenes the principles of eternal justice will be a permanent one. The price of 1871 imposed by Germany on France outraged all the principles of justice and fair play. Let us be warned by that example.
"We must not allow any sense of revenge, any spirit of greed, any grasping desire to override the fundamental principles of righteousness. Vigorous attempts will be made to hector and bully the government in an endeavor to make them depart from the strict principles of right and to satisfy some base, sordid, squalid ideas of vengeance and of avarice. We must relentlessly set our faces against that.
"The mandate of this government at the forthcoming election will mean that the British delegation to the peace congress will be in favor of a just peace."

NEES INCREASE RATHER THAN A LESSENING

Big Programme in Canada For Catching Up With the Railway Betterments.

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 14.—The cessation of war industries in Canada will not increase rather than decrease employment in so far as the tens of thousands of men connected with Canadian railway transportation business are concerned. There is a big programme afoot for catching up with railway betterments, the building of new rolling stock and the completion or construction of long deferred branch lines. This is the information gathered tonight from the heads of the railway and steel companies who conferred today with the construction and development committee of the cabinet under the chairmanship of Hon. A. K. McLean. The government system, the Canadian Pacific and the Grand Trunk were represented, respectively by Major Graham Hill, deputy minister of Railways; Vice-President Fairbairn and President Kelly. The steel companies and the car manufacturing companies were represented by their general managers.

The outlook for the needs of labor and materials during the next twelve months was carefully canvassed. It was shown that on present car orders all the companies now manufacturing cars in Canada, employing all together some 17,000, would be kept busy until well into the new year. The government system and the Grand Trunk system require a large output of additional rolling stock to meet present and prospective traffic requirements. It was intimated that the government would place orders to keep all the companies busy for probably the whole of next year. The government will also in all probability carry on extensive betterments in connection with the Canadian Northern and Intercolonial, and the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific will also have to employ a large additional force to repair road beds, put in new ties and otherwise bring the roads up to pre-war standard. The programme contemplated will probably absorb some tens of thousands of additional labor. For new rails the government has already placed orders for 200,000 tons with the Dominion Iron & Steel and the Algoma companies. A further conference will be held next week to work out details of the prospective requirements.

Mr. MacLean's committee will meet representatives of the shippers on Friday and discuss with them the question of tonnage requirements. Arrangements are now under way with the British authorities to secure the release of some vessels to carry for present Canadian orders for South Africa, New Zealand, and Australia held up for months owing to scarcity of shipping.

on suffering with that obstinate sore, if you will only use Zam-Buk—the great herbal skin cure. This balm, owing to its unique composition, is the very thing for sores and skin troubles that have resisted ordinary treatments.

Mrs. Herbert Cox, of Port McNicoll, Ontario, writes: "For nine years I suffered with an abscess on my face, which was both painful and disfiguring. I had the abscess lanced repeatedly, but it still remained. I also tried ordinary ointments, but without any permanent benefit. Finally the doctor told me I had a tumor on the bone, and would have to undergo an operation, which I did; but instead of improving, the wound only became worse. I was in despair when a friend got me to try Zam-Buk. I soon noticed a marked improvement. Zam-Buk seemed to get to the very root of the trouble, and in the end the abscess was entirely cured—not even leaving a scar. This was a year ago, and there has been no return of the trouble."

Zam-Buk is not a mere ointment, but a rich herbal balm. Unsuited for eczema, scalp sores, ringworm, boils, bad legs, blood-poisoning, piles, cuts, burns, sprains, warts, and all skin injuries. 50c. box, 3 for $1.25, all druggists or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. Board of Health Raises Ban, but Gives Warning

In lifting the ban the department of health under the leadership of Hon. Dr. Roberts, as minister of health, and Dr. G. G. Melvin, chief medical officer, sounded a sharp note of warning to the general public.

Dr. Roberts said that they would like to emphasize three very important points with the lifting of the ban.

First—The lack of late provincial reports to the chief medical officer would indicate a very decided wane of the epidemic and the dwindling in number of cases.

Secondly—The condition of St. John as well as in many other parts of the province is today startling. It is like the aftermath of a great destructive fire. The remains are left charred and burnt; but the fire is over. So with the epidemic. The toll of the disease is left. There is the large number of deaths, the result of the disease there are those still affected but the number is not increasing, but is decreasing. There are still probably to be deaths from pneumonia and from influenza, but still the disease has been checked and the epidemic lessened.

Thirdly—The ban in New Brunswick has been kept on for a week longer than in any other place on the North American continent but the results show the wisdom of this course. This province, said Dr. Roberts, has probably suffered less from this epidemic than any other community affected, owing to the promptness with which the ban was placed and the fact that it was not lifted until the epidemic had been overcome.

Here is printed a statement issued by the department last night almost at the hour at which the ban was lifted. It urges the people to be still careful and to disregard the idea that the epidemic is wholly over:

"In permitting the re-opening of public places of assemblage in general on November 14, of the schools on November 18 and of the colleges and normal schools on November 20 throughout the province the department of health would not wish it to be understood that it regards the epidemic as completely over and done away with. In probably very few parts of the province is this absolutely the case. Beyond doubt it will be many weeks before sporadic or individual cases cease to appear and in some localities, mostly in the remoter settlements and somewhat isolated communities, it is yet in an epidemic stage. To have retained the public closure, however, until practically all traces of the disease had disappeared would have entailed an amount of hardship, inconvenience and loss which the department considers would be unwise and impossible. To guard the public so far as may be practicable, however, from any ill consequences from a premature re-opening in localities still largely infected, it has advised the local authorities to use their own discretion in the matter and not to re-open for a little time longer if on their judgment it would be wiser to continue the closure.

"Everywhere the department would urgently request the public to exercise the utmost care and good sense in resuming their usual habits as regards public meetings of all sorts. No one should attend such gatherings until completely recovered from the influenza, that is to say until all cough and discharge from the nose and throat have disappeared.

"It is also of equal importance that no one, although apparently well himself, should mingle closely with the public while the disease remains in his family."

BUY VICTORY BONDS FROM MADAWASKA

Dr. Frank Donnelly, of the General Public Hospital staff, returned to the city yesterday, following a month's valuable work in the plague-stricken county of Madawaska. He describes that section as being the most severely affected of any part of the province. At the outset the clergymen were organized and went fearlessly from house to house telling the people what to do, and in the very serious cases the doctors were called in and everything possible was done. Entire households were down with the disease at once; often several deaths would be reported from one family, and the situation at one stage looked as if it might get beyond control. However, Dr. Donnelly and Doctors LaPort, Soudary and Simard, all of Madawaska county, and Dr. Nesbitt, who went on from Fredericton, worked hard and long and the situation was excellently handled and the disease checked. It is now well under control.

"I wonder what he thinks of me?"

Another wounded soldier!

Never have I noticed so many on the streets as there seems to be today.

I wonder why that chap gave me such a searching look? If he thinks I am a slacker he's wrong. I'm not able to fight; but I have done my duty. Here's my honor-button on my coat to prove it.

I've bought ten Victory Bonds—put nearly all my savings into them. Not quite all—that hundred I have left must be kept to buy Christmas presents.

Christmas presents?

I wonder if this would be the best way to spend that money.

Let's see; I could take that hundred dollars and pay it as a deposit on four $100 bonds—then pay the other $300 in instalments.

But that would leave me nothing to buy Christmas presents.

I have it!

This year I'll give Victory Bonds as presents.

But would the wife like that? Would she like a Bond as well as the gift I was going to buy her?

Why she'd rather have a Bond, if she knew it might save one poor boy from being crippled like that lad there.

And the three children, every one of them has been at me to buy a bond.

I could pay the other $300 in instalments by being a little more careful of my expenditures. And the wife will gladly help.

I'll do it.

I'll take that hundred dollars to buy four more bonds. I wonder why I didn't think of that way before.

Let every Canadian do some serious thinking along these lines today.

You have only three days left to set yourself right with the boys who fought and toiled, suffered and died for you.

Today may be the biggest day in your life.

You've never known a day that compares with it in opportunity to serve your country, for this loan must be oversubscribed.

Canada must show both friend and foe that she is in this fight to win.

RETURNED SOLDIER PROBLEM REQUIRES PROMPT ACTION

Criticism Voiced by Head of G. W. V. Association.

SUGGESTS CHANGE

Says Returned Men Must be Represented in Departments Dealing With Reconstruction.

Ottawa, Nov. 10.—Criticism of the government's preparations for handling the hundreds of thousands of returned soldiers who will soon be back in Canada, was made on Saturday by Lieut. Col. W. P. Purney, president of the Great War Veterans' Association, on his return from a trip through the western provinces. He prefaced his remarks by expressing himself as not being surprised at B. F. McCurdy's resignation as parliamentary secretary of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment. "My reason for saying this," said Colonel Purney, "is because I have always found Mr. McCurdy one of the few men in the government ever keenly anxious in regard to the returned soldiers. I can readily understand a sincere, active and energetic man, such as he is, losing all patience with a government and a department who may, unless prompt action be taken, involve themselves and the country in dire trouble because of this callous indifference to the great problems of re-establishment now about to confront us. It may safely be assumed that there is something radically wrong when Mr. McCurdy, either as a mark of protest or as a step advisable in his own interests, or both, lays down the robe of his responsibility for a situation which any far-seeing man could not contemplate with any degree of equanimity.

Veterans Will Co-operate.

"My trip through the west has confirmed me in my opinion that the government is not doing its duty by the returned men. But it is my earnest hope—as it is that of all returned soldier-citizens—that the government will see to it that not another hour can be wasted. We are willing and anxious to help if they will set, but they should act at once or it will be too late. When they start late, it is to be hoped that they will start right.

"Returned soldiers must be represented in the departments dealing with the matters which must be taken up in connection with reconstruction. The government does not seem to understand the necessity for this. Witness the fact of the appointment of its deputy minister under Sir James Loughheed, who beyond doubt should have been a returned soldier, having the confidence of the men.

"But this department should be remodelled or wiped out and a new one created, embracing everything affecting the returned soldier as soon as the Militia Department is through with him. Land settlement also should be under this new department. That this should be handled by the department of the interior with its old cut and dried methods—all very well dealing with the ordinary settlers—is absurd. It should be under the man who understands the situation of the returned soldier. Call the new department 'the Department of Re-patriation,' or have it administered by a man who understands the men he will deal with—a returned soldier.

Delay Disastrous.

"There positively cannot and will not be success in the great problem of repatriation until this is done. I sincerely hope that the government will become alive to the seriousness of the situation. At the present time much uneasiness prevails amongst the returned men in the country and it is rapidly spreading to other classes.

"The question of the repatriation of the soldier is dove-tailed with the question of the industrial expansion of the country; hundreds of thousands of men returning and thousands already here—thrown out of employment from factories manufacturing munitions, a situation that cannot be dealt with in a month or two. In any event delay to solve, to ignore, these problems longer will prove disastrous.

"The soldiers expect their dues only, and the country desires that they receive such—and that must be accorded them—no more, no less.

"As I said before, we are ready to co-

HELPING THE WOUNDED

Our Canadian nurses are needed "over there" now as never before. This is the time to learn how to take care of the wounded, the sick—or any emergency. You can learn a great deal by obtaining from your nearest drugist, a book of 1,000 pages, bound in cloth, containing chapters on First Aid, Bandaging, Anatomy, Hygiene, Marriage, Mother and Babe; or send 50c to Dr. Pierce, Courtwright St., Bridgeport, Ont.

Thousands of women in Canada have overcome their illness by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Fainting spells, dizziness or nervousness, irregular intervals should be corrected, and every woman who suffers from this "Prescription" of Dr. Pierce's, send ten cents for a trial copy to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., or branch, Bridgeport, Ont., or write for free confidential medical advice.

Toronto, Ont.—"As a nurse and builder I can highly recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to tired and run-down women. I am the mother of eight children and have frequently had need of such a tonic but did not know what to take until my sister gave me some of the 'Favorite Prescription' which she herself had found to be good. It was exactly the tonic my system required and I feel like a new woman. I take pleasure in telling others, hoping that they will give the 'Prescription' a trial and be benefited just as I have been."—Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor, 254 Ontario St.

CHAPTER VIII

Hardy, by consummate nerve and skill, drove his car along the narrow string pieces spanning the gorge and rejoined his friends on the further side. Jean, half-fainting in fear for his safety, was helped into the car and they were about to resume their race for the train, when a volley of bullets halted them. The outlaws, in Kilgore's car, had arrived at the further side of the chasm and unable to follow, had opened fire. Placing Jean on the bottom of the car, Bob and Iron Star returned the fire. A score of shots had been exchanged when Kilgore was seen to stagger and topple over the brink of the gorge and fall into the river 100 feet below. His body did not reappear and the other outlaws, disconcerted, withdrew behind a pile of timber.

Bob and Iron Star then jumped into the car and sped away down the road. Men in the construction camp who had witnessed Bob's amazing feat across the stringers and the ensuing pistol battle, swarmed up the side of the chasm to where the outlaws were gathered.

"My daughter is being abducted. Help me to catch them," exclaimed Lawless, and the men, in ignorance of the real state of affairs, quickly laid planks along the stringers. Lawless drove the car over these and the outlaws soon were again in hot pursuit.

The eastbound train was slowing up at Willow River Junction, when Bob, in the person's car, raced into a half mile from the station. The heavy train halting only a moment and was pulling out, when the party hurried aboard.

Almost the same instant, Kilgore's big touring car, with "Snaky" at the wheel, dashed up.

Comfortably settled aboard the train, Bob at once buried himself with plans for the night. "I am going to telegraph Barry," he said to Jean and signalling a porter dispatched a wire to the mounted police sergeant at his barracks near Grayson, asking him to meet them on arrival of their train two days later.

Back at Willow River Junction, meantime, the outlaws were equally busy scheming how quickest to overtake the train. Rushing up to the station agent and displaying a huge roll of bills, Hyde said:

"Find out from the conductor of that train where these people are going. Then get me a special engine and car. My daughter is eloping with a scoundrel."

Sergeant Barry rode into the barracks of the Northwest Mounted Police and as he dismounted a trooper handed him the telegram which Hardy had sent from the train. Pleasantry at his barracks and in his face, then disappointment as he realized duty would prevent him from joining her immediately. He at once wrote her a letter explaining the situation which he had posted to her at Grayson.

But the message was destined never to reach Jean for two days later Lawless and Hyde drew up at the only hotel in Grayson and inquired for mail for William Barton. The clerk took all letters from the pigeon hole and handed them to Lawless. He ran through them quickly and when he found one addressed to Miss Jean Benton, he slipped it into his pocket with a knowing look at Hyde.

Camp's Wharf, on the shores of a lake visited mostly by Indians and fur traders, was another link in Lawless' chain of illicit trading posts. At the end of the dilapidated wharf was What two years will bring forth no one can safely say. It is on the surface probably that there will be a reversion of considerable proportions as the chickens come home to roost after the reckless debauch of wage-raising which the war has led, under the benign guidance of a host of academicians, temporarily withdrawn from dealing with boys and attempting to handle affairs with which they were unfamiliar. Until the war ceases to be the mainspring behind everything that happens, the effects will be concealed or postponed. When it finally stops, the reaction will undoubtedly set in. Count Tisza.

Count Stephen Tisza, typical as a Magyar magnate, who was assassinated a few days ago, was the best-hated man in Hungary. His political opponents of his own rank fought duels with him; those of inferior rank tried to assassinate him. One of the three whom he met on the "field of honor" in 1918, and wounded, was Count Michael Karolyi, now president of the Revolutionary National Council. The last unsuccessful attempt to assassinate him was on Oct. 16, when Leffler, an official of the food department, drew a revolver on him, but was prevented by the count's chauffeur from using it.

Tisza was a powerful man, both physically and mentally; his patriotism, while limited to the Magyar class, was ardent. His one aim was to promote the greatness and glory of Hungary, Austria and even Germany he regarded as mere pawns in his game. He made use of the late Archduke Francis Ferdinand by having him agitate the scheme of a triple monarchy made up of Germans, Magyars and Slavs in place of the dual monarchy, believing that the new government would be centralized at Budapest rather than at Vienna. The whole scheme of Balkan policy was his—to prevent the states there from growing strong or forming a league, for the benefit of Russia against Turkey.

He was premier of Hungary in 1914 and was quick to see the opportunities offered by the assassination of the Archduke Ferdinand, the heir presumptive, at Sarajevo. It is said that he at once communicated privately with friends at the Wilhelmstrasse and the result was the famous conclave of the German Kaiser's military family at Potsdam in the first week in July, when plans were made for united German and Austro-Hungarian action in case Russia intervened to save Serbia.

Although Count Berchtold was then Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, it is said that the ultimatum to Serbia, delivered by Baron Giesl Von Gieslingen, the Austro-Hungarian minister at Belgrade, on July 23, was largely Tisza's work.

Born in Budapest in 1861, Tisza had, since he entered politics as a clerk in the ministry of the interior in 1882, exercised a power far beyond his official offices. He was first premier from 1908 to 1906, and then from 1913 to May 23, 1917.

Up to the time of his retirement last year he fought in parliament for the Teutonic alliance and the continuance of the war until that alliance won. A year ago, however, he began to speak of the alliance as a burden and the war as being prolonged by Germany. He began to favor autonomy for the nationalities of Hungary.

At the end of September, 1918, when the probability of a separate peace of Austro-Hungary had become obvious, he was one of three Hungarian statesmen called to Vienna to advise the emperor, the others being Counts Andrássy and Apponyi.

Both were his inveterate political foes, both had accused him of being the German Kaiser's agent. On the other hand Andrássy's admiration for England and Apponyi's for the United States were well known.

CREASE IN CRIME SINCE WAR

British Authority Ascribes it to Improved Social Conditions, Cell to Colors and Less Idleness.

An indication of the remarkable decrease in all forms of crime since the war began, Sir Evelyn Ruggles Brice, chairman of the Prison Commissioners (founder of the Borstal system) gave interesting figures at a conference recently at the Overseas Press Centre in Norfolk street, Strand, London, stating that there were in England and Wales sixty-nine penal establishments, five convict prisons, fifty-six local prisons, four Borstal institutions, two preventive detention prisons and two state reformatories. The average of the population in these institutions before the war was in 1914, 2,704, today, 1,363; in 1914, 14,852, today, 7,290; in preventive detention prisons a drop from 171 to about 100; and in reformatories from 100 to 30. Apart from the above there had been a great fall in the population during the present year.

1908 one person out of every 175 in the community was or had been in prison; in 1918 the number had fallen to one in every 271, and since the war it had dropped to one in 1,127. The fall during the war was attributed to improved social conditions, the manhood of the nation, and the lives of many persons from idle and unprofitable lives, with endless opportunities for crime, to useful employment, while in many cases intense patriotism had led persons not only to abstain from evil themselves, but to do work by their example and encouragement to others. Looking further back, it could be seen that the great army of offenders had been diminished by concentrating attention on what were called juvenile adults—young offenders between the ages of sixteen and twenty—and dealing with them under the Borstal system. Twenty years ago there were 20,000 of these lads in prison and, and now there were only 4,000, owing to the efforts of the after-school societies, between 70 and 80 per cent were saved from a life of crime, and wages and easy means of obtaining employment had had a beneficial effect in reducing crime, and with severely limited opportunities for spending money in intoxicating liquor probably the crime of crime in the community would be very low indeed.

50 per head more than before the war, and more than 17,000,000 articles, representing nearly 12,000 a day, had been distributed from the prisons for war purposes. Many former inmates of prisons had made good by acts of sacrifice and gallantry, and not a few had stanced the case of one man of forty-three, a very violent character, who had served three sentences of penal servitude, and spent many years in prison, and had broken prison on four occasions. He was reported on by the prison authorities as a man of character, but apparently embittered and an enemy of society. This man when serving in the army saved the life of a comrade by the transfusion of his blood, as a consequence of which he contracted blood poisoning himself. On returning to duty he served in the hottest part of the line, gaining the Military Medal and the Distinguished Conduct Medal and was regarded as one of the best non-commissioned officers in his regiment. In another case a man nearer seventy than sixty years of age, who had undergone five terms of penal servitude and seventeen long sentences of imprisonment, was doing splendid work in a labor unit unloading cargoes, and described himself as "feeling all the better for it physically, mentally and morally." With a weekly wage of ten francs he had £10 to £12 to his credit, and had volunteered to contribute twenty francs to the fund for replacing Church army huts which were destroyed on the Somme.

Many beautiful gifts were received, including a substantial check from the groom.

WHIRLWIND FINISH TO TRAVELERS' DRIVE

The commercial travelers had an amusing wind-up to their strenuous campaign at the Imperial Theatre booths last evening. Just as the band was playing the National Anthem a man rushed through the crowd and begged to have Steve Matthews sing his well known song, "Roust Kaiser Bill."

The commercial men said they would have the song sung if the applicant would buy a bond. The argument and cross-fire of talk that ensued were amusing. Finally the man said he would buy a $300 bond if the song was forthcoming. A traveler's wife peeled off her gloves, a piano was wheeled into the doorway, and Steve went to it. What that song didn't do to the ex-emperor was a shame. In fact several special verses brought the masterpiece up to date. Little Tommy Tucker is reputed to have sung for his supper, according to the nursery rhyme, and Caruso gets two thousand a programme, so $300 is but such a bad price for St. John's home-grown talent after all.

LIEUT. A. E. BURNHAM SLIGHTLY WOUNDED

A. E. Burnham, superintendent of the linen department of M. R. A. Ltd., was advised this morning from Ottawa that his youngest son, Lieutenant A. E. Burnham, had been slightly wounded but was remaining on duty. Lieutenant Burnham enlisted in Selkirk, Alberta, where at the time he was employed as manager of a branch of the Bank of British North America. Lieutenant Burnham is well known in the city, having spent his boyhood days here. He is twenty-nine years old.

THE FINANCIAL ASPECT OF THE INFLUENZA BAN

Many Were Hard Hit and Some in Unexpected Ways But Even The Heaviest Losers Agreed Cheerfully For Public Good

Unless a person studiously thinks into the matter the effects of the five weeks ban on public gatherings is lost sight of; that is, the unfavorable effects. Everybody realizes how helpful the safety point and all are agreed that the action of the department of health was judiciously taken. There is no complaint even among those who have been hardest hit, but the fact remains a great deal of loss and confusion has resulted which cannot be lightly regarded.

In the matter of closing the public schools very little if any real money loss has entered into the matter. The schools were simply closed and scheduled studies interrupted. There was a great saving of fuel and during the shut-down some of the buildings were repaired and other changes effected.

With the places of worship quite a distinct hardship was wrought by the health regulation. While fuel was conserved to a small extent the churches have lost a considerable amount in cash offerings, known as plate collections. Regular subscriptions have been kept up, but the loose money loss will affect some congregations seriously.

Restaurants, proprietors and confectioners selling regular meals, evening suppers, ice cream, etc. have had their full business cut to a new lower-water mark entailing extra losses by reason of keeping up their bills of fare. Of course the closing of all places of entertainment was a blow at the cafes and ice cream resorts as well.

Amusement Places.
Pool and billiard rooms, bowling alleys and such as bread-and-butter enterprises have been at a standstill for the whole closed-down period and must have suffered thousands of dollars on the debit side.

The theatres have been the chief losers. Aside from the prospect they would have had in the first flush of fall business—after a very dull and losing summer—or making some profit, most of them have had a great deal of cash expense during the dark weeks. It is roughly estimated that a thousand dollars per week would not offset the actual cash outgo of the combined houses per week during the ban, a total of $50,000 over the Imperial, Opera House, Gem, and F. G. Spencer's houses, the Lyric and Unique, have had a considerable amount of money expended upon them, reducing the profits prospects of the future just that much more.

The loss of wages among employees of the theatres—nearly all of whom are providers for families—has been a serious personal matter in these especially hard household times.

Coincidental with the losses of the theatres and their staffs came a withdrawal of the ticket tax revenue collected for the local government, amounting to between $5,000 and $7,500 for the five weeks. Film exchanges to the number of fifteen in this city claim to have had a weekly average loss of from $10,000 to $20,000 in maritime provincial rentals, since the ban was general. Film employees lost heavily in salaries.
