The exhibition is open, and everything points to complete and certain success. If the weather gods smile favorably upon the big show the attendance is likely to break all existing records. There is more to see than ever before, and what there is, is better arranged, more dainty in appearance and constructed with an eye to the general effect in a far more greater extent than ever before. Ladies and Gentlemen—The Exhibition Association of the city and county of St. John, while a voluntary and local association, has always endeavored to make its exhibition of value to the whole country, and since 1895, with the exception of dast year, has succeeded in holding annual exhibitions, which have been not only provincial in character but have also been interprovincial and to some extent international. Previous to the date above mentioned, several large exhibitions were held, and on account of their influence for good both in the city and in the country at large, active efforts have since been annually put forth to make these exhibitions yearly advertisements for the country and this city, an annual holiday, and above all a great educational opportunity for those who are interested in the development of all branches of industry in this country.

As an incentive to argicultural developachieved at least a measure of success.

The great improvement in the horse, cattle, sheep and swine exhibits by maritime stockmen from year to year has been apparent to everyone, and this year the entries in the live stock classes are in such numbers and of such a character as to mark the longest step in advance yet made between exhibitions. between exhibitions.

To give an idea of the growth of this department, the increase in the amount of prizes given tells a very conclusive story. In 1895 we paid but $3,487 in prizes. In 1897 it had grown to $5,029, and two years later the awards totalled the respectable sum of greater love and admiration for the $5.439.60, all of which was distributed among land of his birth.

We regret the premier of the province has not been able to be present, but he is ably represented by the attorney general, Hon. Mr. McKeown and others of his government. His worship the mayor and members of the common council are honoring us with their presence, some of whom will addr. ss you presently, and now, in conclusion, ladies and gentlemen, as we have a long programme to offer, I will not occupy any more of your time, but will make way for the speakers who will follow.

If such a proposal were to be carried into effect we would see a strong expression of the feelings of the people. This, it is said, is to be treated as a national question. Only 500,000 bushels of wheat were raised, but little bushels of wheat were raised, but little over half the capacity of the mills, as the province consumed 2,000 barrels of flour per day. It would require 60 more such mills, and all run at their full depacity, to supply the wants of the province and stop a drain of $6,000 per day going out of the province. In past the error was in using seed best adapted to our climate. This was being overcome by the efforts of both governments in procuring the best seed and sending samples free to all applicants. MAYOR W. W. WHITE was received with applause. He was pleased, he said, to have an opportunity of saying a few words, but after other speakers and considering the long programme, he would speak but briefly. He desired on behalf of the citizens to extend a cordial welcome to the visitors to the exhibition. We are proud of our city, proud of its history, of our achievements in spite of many facts that might have been discouraging to others. Our success was due to the efforts of the people, and we like our friends to come and witness our prosperity. The results have been brought about at no little cost and no little labor. We had been blamed for over-stepping the mark. In that we may have erred, but can proudly point to the results which benefit not only our city but the province and the whole dominion. At the present time the matter of a winter port was being ompetition and a healthy rivalry. His worship then referred to the large exodus to the Northwest Territories by Americans. He recently read an article in a United States magazine headed Discovery of the Northwest. They were just waking up to the resources of that country. Mr. White, continuing, referred to the exhibition came back to New Brunswick with a grants from the city council and local government, which he considered a good idea. He then paid a well deserved tribute to the members of the Exhibition Association, who had labored so hard to make the fair a success, and concluded by expressing the hope that every one would have a pleasant

He said that he had re-ceived an intimation that the speaker who occupies the least time would hold the highest place in the people's favor. To that decision he would bow. A person might be fairly justified in saying that the large attendance was due partly to the warm sympathy of the people for the Exhibition Association and to give a hearty welcome to Lt. GRAND LODGE Assembled in Annual Session in St. John Yesterday.

The Address of Grand Master Trueman and the Reports of the Grand Treasurer and Grand Secretary.

GRAND LODGE, A. F. AND A. M. The Grand Lodge of the Ancient and ing, but asked that the unexpended Honorable Fraternity of Free and portion of the grant of last year be Accepted Masons of New Brunswick met in annual session Tuesday at

The grand officers entered in proces sion, and the Most Worshipful Arthur I. Trueman, Grand Master, having as-Grand Lodge in ample form. The Rev. Mr. Sampson led in prayer, and the brethren recited together the twentyfourth psalm.

The Deputy Grand Master, Dugald C. oredential committee was composed of LeBaron Wilson, and this committee announced a constitutional number in attendance. Other preliminaries having been dis posed of, the Grand Master delivered his annual address, which occupied quite an hour in its reading, was quite interesting document and was loudly applauded.

THE GRAND MASTER began his address by welcoming the members to the thirty-fifth annual communication of Grand Lodge; and in a few terse sentences he bore testimony to the value and the excellence of the Masonic institution. He had accepted last year cheerfully gratefully the duties and responsibillity of Grand Master. It was for them to determine as to the manner in which the duties had been discharged. Harmony prevailed throughout the jurisdiction, and nothing had occurred during the year to impair in the slightest degree the perfect accord which should ever exist among Masons. The statiskics to be submitted would show that there had been a steady ripening. As the flower grows, blooms and scatters lits fragrance, so the Order, founded to promote morality and the happiness of mankind, grows and ripens in the hearts of its members with an everwidening influence. But while there is for familiar greetings which we shall hear no more and for handthe ever-increasing host of the immorwere Silas C. Charters and John F. Lodge, St. John; H. Lawrence Sturdee of the Union Lodge of Portland; Elisha ed services. H. Pobinson of Albert Lodge, Albert; "To the officers and brethren of W. G. Robertson of Albion Lodge, a grand officer, and representative gratitude for their loyal support. I Dodge, James Vroom, J.Twining Hartt, McCowan of Sussex Lodge, St. Stephen, for fifty years a member of the eraft, and Samuel Weelock of the same lodge, a P. D. G. M., of all of craft." whom kindly and appropriate words were spoken. He also referred to many eminent Masons who had died in other jurisdictions, the Canadians being R. B. Hungerford, Grand Master of the

Grand Lodge of Canada in Ontario; Archdeacon James D. O'Meara, P. G. M. of the G. L. of Manitoba, and Lieut. Col. J. Helder Isaacson, for twenty years G. Sec. of the G. L. of Quebec. Reference was also made to the death | fund of benevolence is $3,000, and the of the late president of the United States, a member of the Fraternity, to whose public and private life there Porter and Fred Sandall, auditors, rewas eloquent reference. At the instance of the Grand Master, Daniel Jordan, K. C., of Lebanon Lodge Sackville, had been appointed to represent the Grand Lodge of Western Australia in this province; W. Alder Trueman of Albert Lodge, Albert, that of Costa Rica; Hedley S. Bridges of St. John's Lodge, St. John, that of Oklahema, and Hon. James Gordon Forbes of St. John's Lodge to represent that of Scotland; Fred St. John Blis3 of Hiram Lodge, Fredericton, that of Norway, and Edward G. Evans of Corinthian Lodge, Hampton, that of Sweden. Commissions had issued to Henry C. Yawn to represent the Grand Lodge of New Brunswick in the State of Mississippi; to James Gunn of Glasgow, as representative in Scotland; Robert F. Thoroughgood of Chicago, as representative in Illinois; Dr. Francisco I. Rucavado as representative in Costa

Rica, and to Matthias Gooderson of Bnooklyn as representative in New York. The Grand Master detailed a number of his official deci-sions and acts. He had decided that the constitution required the initiation fee must be paid on admission and not by instalment as degrees are taken; that it was not wise for private lodges to seek incorpora-; and that if not obligatory it was at least advisable to transact business on the third degree. The new lodge at Petitcodiac had been warranted with the name of Steven Lodge, and the Grand Master described its institution, and predicted for it a very successful career. Grand Master Trueman also interestingly detailed the large number of visitations which he had made during the year, and told who had accompanied him. He had gone as far as the northern boundary of the province and taken in altogether about half the lodges in the jurisdiction. In regard to this he said acrady: "The most pleasant duty or privilege of the Grand Master is the visitation of lodges. I will ever bear in sweet remembrance the warm and kindly greetings and the unbounded hospitality which have been attended to myself and the Grand Oficers who accompanied me on my of-rical visits. Although I have been unble to meet with all the lodges, I ave endeavored to do what I could in hat direction. In the midst of profesonal duties the visitation of all the dges in this jurisdiction cannot be dertaken in one year. Ir noting his visit to St. Martins Lodge St. Martins, the Grand Master, inter alia, spoke of the pleasure he from meeting Andrew Skillen, Past Master, who for over sixty years has regularly attended to his Masonic duties, and who can proudly point to his five sons, all of whom are active nembers of his lodge. He spoke in a highly complimentary way of the cele ration in April last of the centennial anniversary of St. John's Lodge, and congratulated Dr. E. A. Preston and the officers of the lodge on the manne in which the proceedings were carried out. The Grand Master explained why he had not appointed a lecturer as em powered to do at the last annual meetrenewed as well as a similar grant for the current year for the purpose of carrying out the idea. In submitting the reports of the district deputies, he said that some of these officers had done excellent work, although all had sumed his seat on the throne, opened not come up to his anticipations; and he sharply criticized practices which prevailed in a few places in regard to "ciphers" not warranted by ancien ustom. There was courteous appre ciation of the services rendered by J. Frith, of Campbellton, stated that the Twining Hartt, the Grand Secretary, and there were pleasant references Thomas Finley, David Dearness and P. G. Masters Walker, Forbes and others who had assisted the Grand Master in the discharge of his duties. The address concluded as follows: "Assembled as we are, it is, I think, most fitting that we should refer to the two greatest occurrences during which we belong. "As British subjects we rejoice in the termination of the war in South Africa by an honorable peace, vindicating our arms, establishing the unity of our Empire, sustaining its worldwide policy, and settling for all time the question of the controlling power from Zambesi to the Cape. The war has brought under our flag a great and wealthy territory and joined to us as fellow subjects a race of devoted men who will not be losers in their defeat. Their liberties will be increased, and their property and civil and religious rights forever guarded under the protecting aegis of British institutions. "The 9th of August witnessed at Westminster Abbey the greatest coronation in the history of our nation. The ceremonies were shorn of much of their intended grandeur by the postponement caused by the illness of our King and Emperor. But that very delay gave opportunity for such an expression of sympathy and affection for our monarch as must go far to convince all nations that Edward VII. much to rejoice over, there are regrets rules the hearts of his subjects as his revered mother did before him. The astounding falsehood that the British government commenced war, none the truer for being twice re peated, is here said to be believed by the majority of the English people, for the phrase "average Englishman" means that if it means anything at ail. Now, we know, that not only the average, but, it is scarcely an exaggeration to say the whole British people supported the war most heartily from beginning to end, never wavering in the teeth of the most violent and unscrupulous opposition that all the nation's enemies, whether at home or abroad, could bring to bear upon them. We know that the present government was returned to office for a second term with an overpowering majority for the express purpose of prosecuting the war with vigor to a finish. We know that there never was a war in modern history more heartily supported by the whole sentiment of a nation. We know that England did not "begin it," and upon that point at least we can hardly suppose the "average Englishman" to be more ignorant than ourselves. Moreover, we know that since the day that peace was concluded, the "average" British newspaper has viewed the war as a benefit to Great Britain, to South Africa, and to the world at large, well worth the price that had to be paid for it.

GRAND ROYAL ARCH CHAPTER.

The Grand Royal Arch Chapter of New Brunswick met in annual session at Freemasons' Hall yesterday morning and was opened in ample form by M. Ex-Alexander Burchill of Fredericton, G. H. P.

Dan Patch, the unbeaten son of Joe Patchen, paced an exhibition mile in 1.59 1-2, reducing his record from 2.00 1-4. The mile was within a quarter of a second of the world's record of 1.59 1-4 made by Star Pointer five years ago. This is the fastest mile in harness in half a decade, and Dan Patch is the second horse to beat two minutes. No other horse except Star Pointed ever went so fast, and he did it only twice and then beat Dan Patch's mark of today by only a quarter of a second. THE WIND'S ABROAD.

The wind's abroad, this summer day

The level fields are like a sea, Where grassy waves are flowing, And white-cap daisies, 'mid the green, This way and that are blowing.

Like songs the ocean's tireless voice To rocks and caves is singing, A murmur of the sunny fields The wind is ever bringing. Though soon will winter come to break
The spell of summer's weaving,
And hillsides white beneath his touch

Yet some day will the sleeping grass To life again be springing, and round to summer days once more The year be swiftly swinging.

KINGS DOING PENANCE.

marshaled against the advance of the "armies of civilization," as the British delight in calling those who participate in their wars of conquest. At the present time there are two men who once were kings now paying the penalty of their resistance to Britain's demands by living in exile from their native land. These were formerly potentates in Central Africa. King Mwanga and King Kabba Rega are now sojourning on one of the Seychelles islands in the Indian ocean, about 1,000 miles east of Zanzibar. These islands are thus to be famous as the home of two African kings as well as the region that raises the sea cocoanut, a fruit of great swimming qualit-When the sea cocoanut drops into the ocean, as it often does, it is likely to drift clear to India, Java and the other Malayan islands, where it is esteemed as a treasure. The people there imagine that the fruit grows on the bottom of the ocean and comes to their islands for their special regalement.

Mwanga's family circle in his new home is comparatively small. While he was king of Uganda, on the northern and western shores of Victoria Nyanza, his establishment contained about 1.000 wives, quite a moderate number, considering that his royal father's harem included over 7,000 women. King Mwanga is of ancient lineage, being able to boast a longer ancestry than many a distinguished person in civilized countries is able to trace.

A LONG GEOLOGICAL LINE.

Though a savage in all that the word implies, he can climb his ancestral tree through a line of twenty kings of Uganda back to the time of Queen Elizabeth. Before his country came into the possesion of the British he had an army of 25,000 men, over 2,000 muskets and plenty of ammunition which he obtained from the Zanzibar traders. He has reached the age of 35 years and came to the throne when he was about twenty years old.

This barbarian made one of the bloodiest records that any native African Prince ever achieved. His father permitted many missionaries. Protestant and Catholic, to settle in Uganda. They were very successful in their missionary work and thousands of converts were made, but when Mwanga came to the throne he decided that the superstitious beliefs of his ancestors were helpless porters with him were speared to death. Then Mwanga set about the missionaries had done in six years.

HAD A BLOODY RECORD.

Most of the king's atrocities were crowded into the first six months of 1886. The annals of martyrdom show no finer examples of heroic fortitude and unshaken faith than these Uganda massacres present. The native Christians were shockingly mutilated, tied to trees and burned alive with fuel piled high around them. The victims numbered about 2,000, and it is not known that a single one abjured his new faith to save his life. Several thousand more would undoubtedly have been slain if British forces had not arrived on the scene in time to stop the further effusion of blood. The courageous death of these hundreds of people proved that the Ugandas are a superior African tribe, and that in them may be developed the best and sternest moral

The executioners who carried out the cruel will of the king said later that they were amazed at the calm demeanor of their victims. While dving they sang sacred songs and prayed for their to the king and told him he had never seen men die so bravely. He said they prayed to God in the fire. The king and the chiefs around him laughed and two histories to his credit-cerof the victims. The young monarch remarked that God did not seem able to rescue the Christians from his power. | ard. It was while following the armies MISSIONARIES FOLLOWED SOL-

DIERS.

The blood of the martyrs has indeed been the seed of the Church of Uganda. In no part of Africa have such wonders been wrought through missionary effort. There are now 90,000 professing Christians in that country. There are over 300 churches, one of which will seat an audience of 2,000 persons. Over 50,000 of the natives can read, and most of the Bible has been translated into their language.

In spite of the atrocities Mwanga had committed, it was decided to retain him on the throne if he showed himself amenable to-white influences He still retained large influence over great number of his people. His actions, however, demonstrated only stupidity and duplicity. He turned Proestant, Catholic, and Mohammedan by turns. He plotted against the British, while pretending to be their friend. So it was decided at last to remove him from the kingship. Another mem ber of the royal family was placed on the throne and Mwanga, having lost his last triend in Uganda and now dependent for existence upon the bounty of the British, has been removed from

King Kabba Rega never pretended to submit to the British. He was king of the large country of Unyoro, north of Uganda. He never made a treaty with the British, and declared tha he would fight them to the last. The British claimed his country because it was a part of the Egyptian Soudan, the whole of which is now in the British sphere of influence. Several hard campaigns were fought against Kabba Rega before his power was broken. At his country forever.

 A nation like Great Britain, which last he went into hiding and the Britis almost constantly at war, must of necessity, have many state prisoners—finally captured. His country is now leaders of the forces that have been fully under the control of the whites, and peace reigns both in Uganda and Unyoro.

KILLED AN EXPLORER

It was Kabba Rega who made a pri soner of the Italian explorer Casati, whom Emin Pasha sent as his representative to the chief town of the king. There was no quarrel between the whites and Kabba Rega, and for about twenty months Casati was fair-ly well treated by the king. It was one of Casati's duties to act as postmaster for Emin, who sent him his correspondence for Europe, Casati making the best arrangements he could to forward the letters to the coast. One day, the capricious king suddenly changed his humor and sentenced Casati to death. The white man was bound hand and foot, but in spite of this fact, with the assistance of a native friend, he managed to escape one dark night and for three days wandered almost naked and without a morsel of food until he reached Albert Nyanza. He finally made his way in a starving condition to Emin's camp.

There are about a dozen African kings now in exile. They are fully convinced by this time that it would have been to their personal interest if they had made terms with the whites. Every one of these kings would have been retained on the throne with large subsidies if they had been willing to cast their lot with the white men. All of them had great influence over their people, and the Europeans would have paid handsomely to retain. this influence for the benefit of their own enterprises.

It simply has been another case of the buffalo trying to throw the locomptive off the track and getting killed in the experiment. These once powerful rulers are now mere pensioners on the whites, living far from their native land and with plenty of time to reflect upon the mistakes which ruined their personal fortunes.

A PROMENADE WITH A TIGER. Among those remembered by the king in his distribution of coronation honors was Sir Edward Bradford, chief commissioner of police for the City of London, who was made a baronet. THE BAPTISTS.

YARMOUTH, Aug. 27 .- On Monday evening the crowded audience room of the beautiful Zion church bore witness to the deep interest of the delegates of the maritime convention in the matter of college federation, so ably presented in the afternoon. Followed with almost breathless interest by hndreds of Acadia's friends and supporters. Dr. Trotter answered at length the arguments of the visiting delegation, Rev. Mr. Armitage and A. DeB. Tremaine of Halifax. He chiefly dwelt on the place that the smaller college filled in our province, and show ed its superiority and adaptability for undergraduate work. He referred again to the Christian ideal so dear to the Baptist denomination. At the close of this address a unanimous vote was taken, adopting the report of the governors of the college, deckining to appoint a committee for conference on the federation question. The delegates rose as one man, supporting the maintenance of Acadia and its ideals as a distinct institution. Amidst an impressive silence the visiting delegates arose, shook the hands of the moderator and secretary and passed out. Dr. Trotter again ascended the platform to speak on the forward movement fund amidst prolonged applause. He appealed to the people to make up the deficit in this fund for the benefit of Acadia, and read telegrams just re-eived from John W. Churchill of Hantsport, N. A. Rhodes of Amherst, E. C. Whitman, S. P. Benjamin of Wolfville, E. Edgar Whidden of Antigonish, A. C. Ross, C. H. Harrington of Sydney, A. P. Shand (for Windsor church), and William Cummins, subscribing each $100 to the fund. Under Dr. Trotter's direction within a few moments the total amount, including the subscription of James Gates of Middleton, and Wolfville, Germain street (St. John), and Moncton churches, of $100 each, had reached the sum of $2,050. The evening closed by addresses from Principals DeWolf and Brittain of the Seminary and Academy and Wolfville, on the work of their respective schools.

Rev. H. B. Waring of St. John has been appointed to deliver the convention sermon at the next meeting, and the vacancies in the board of governors of Acadia College were filled by the appointment of Hon. L. P. Ferris of White's Cove, N. B., and J. Edgar Whidden of Antigonish until '04, and A. S. McDonald of Cornwall until '07.

THE COLLEGE REPORT. During Monday afternoon the report of the board of governors of Acadia University was read by Dr. S. B. Kempton of Dartmouth. The instituported to be in a most satisfactory condition. From a financial standpoint an interesting portion of this report had to do with the forward movement this movement, begun five years ago, for the raising of $75,000, will soon reach its close. Of the $60,750, the conditional amount necessary to secure in full Mr. Rockfeller's pledge of $15,000, your board has raised $50,987.43, leaving balance to be raised by November 1st of $3,702.57. It is assumed that the denomination will not consent for a moment to anything short of completeness in this undertaking; and your board hereby asks the convention to approve an urgent appeal to all the churches between now and October 1st for the making up of the balance needed.

Adams for three months in raising the remainder of the $50,000 required, asking only for travelling expenses during that period The report for home missions for New Brunswick was read by Rev. B.

N. Nobles The meetings of the Maritime Baptist Young People's Union have been interesting. The number of delegates from the local societies is not large but those present are determined to push their work with renewed vigor. The new officers are as follows: President, Rev. H. H. Roach, St. John; vice presidents, Rev. A. C. Archibald of Middleton and Mr. Ross Bethune of Charlottetown; secretary treasurer, Rev. W. J. Rutledge of Port Maitland; editor, Rev. W. L. Archibald of Lawrencetown.

In reference to the work of the visiting delegation in favor of college federation and the adoption of the report against that proposal, it is to be stated that the adverse report had been prepared and printed before the arrival of the delegation. Their commg seemed to be a mere incident of minor importance, for what would be done had previously been decided upon.

"Well-posted people claim that there this will be equal to an increase of 15 per cent. over last year."

This was the answer given last eveof the Canadian Pacific, to one of the her life and bring her to the verge of despair. first questions put to him on his re-his westward trip by E. H. McHenry, who was making his first official trip over the system, although he previously had acquaintance with some portions of the road. It is quite well understood that a good many of the contemplated improvements on the western portion of the Canadian Pathe chief engineer brought back to Sir tain health, and how that health can be regained when lost. Thomas Shaughnessy and the board of directors, but Mr. McNicoll declin ed to throw any light upon the mat ter, saying that it was information the president would be able to give out later.

CROP PRACTICALLY SAVED. Mr. McNicoll declared that the crop was practically saved, and he was sure it would be a banner year. Before he left the province of Manitoba wheat had been cut on high and par icularly dry land, and he believed that by the middle of next week harvesting would be general throughou the province, as well as the territories

There had been cool nights and warm days, yesterday being particularly favorable. He did not think the harvest would be ten days behind last season, as the fine weather had cut down the difference considerably. Speaking of the excellent quality of this season's wheat, Mr. McNicoll said that in some places there was probably a falling off in the quantity of straw, but the ears are large, and particularly well filled out. There cannot, he added, be any question as to the excellent condition of the country, as there are still 1,000,000 to 2,000,000 bushels of last year's wheat in the province, and, this, together with the

Mr. McNicoll replied that the company had every reason to hope that there would be sufficient hands to do the work. He also declared that of the number going out last year probably 30 per cent. remained, or, at least, this was as near as the company could trace the movements of this little army of harvesters.

As for the ability of the Canadian Pacific Railway to provide transportation facilities, Mr. McNicoll fully be-lieved that the company would be able to move the crop as it was offered The company has been steadily engaged since last fall preparing cars and locomptives for the work this year. In fact, it had employed all the men available, besides securing a good deal f rolling stock outside of Canada.

. The hay crop, Mr. McNicoll proceeded to say, had been enormous, and there had been enough grass to feed ten times the number of cattle now no the ranches. Already the cattle are being exported, as he saw many stock trains en route. These, he added, are all forwarded right through by rail, and at one or two points they are removed from the cars, fed and rested and rushed along again. Mr. McNicoll said that the company was building 200 miles of new line this year in the west, the Lardo Lake road in Britsh Columbia having been opened while he was in the Pacific province. The country along the Crow's Nest Railway shows great development in coal and lumber, mines being opened all the time, the collieries at Frank, B. C., producing from 600

And what is the popu seen to lift his hand, and, as if by your biggest city?" The Canadian M. magic, a way is made through the close-pressed traffic. Can it be the King, or Queen, or the Prince of Wales? Or perhaps Mr. Balfour, the new premier? It certainly is some one of importance, for in a moment two splendid chestnut bays come prancing down the middle of the road, drawing a magnificent barouche, such as may be seen in Hyde Park at the height of the day or in the height of the season. Upon the box sit two most aristocratically attired servants, coachman and footman, cockades in their hats, and, one suspects, a liberal allowance of silk breeches and stockings under their driving-apron. In the carriage itself sits a solitary man smoking a cigar with the most complacent air. Clearly he is a great person; clearly he is very much at home in such distinguished surroundings, and clearly he looks upon it as his perfect right that the traffic of the metropolis should fall away right and left at his approach, that that great personage, the London policentan, should salute him as he passes, and that at the heart of the world's greatest Empire he should receive fullest defference. But as the face comes into line with the spectator. it is seen that here is No King, no Queen, no Prince of Wales, not even a tinselled prince from India, but-Mr. Bond of Newfoundland. The carriage is a King's carriage, the horses are King's horses, the servants are King's servants. Yet it is Mr. Bond of Newfoundland is the King's guest. When Lord Salisbury passes down this same street, he shuffles along on foot in a hat and coat that would not fetch a sovereign at a second-hand shop. Thus is England at this moment treating her colonial premiers, and it makes no difference that in this particular case the man she honors above her highest statesman is the spokesman of a population less than that of the hundrum little English town of Lancashire, and not a third of the population of the city of Liverpool, whose lord mayor may come to London a thousand times

The other snapshot was taken at a summer my system was completely run distinguished West End house the down, and I was pale, weak and exother evening in the course of a great reception of the colonial premiers. And the man addressed was British M. P., also not unlikely in the near future to find himself upon the face. "Yes," he said, "I suppose we Canadian M. P. winced, and mentioned the name of an out-of-the-way corner vince ever heard of. "Ah," yes," said the M. P., "your people played their part in early Arcadian days, did they. P. winced again and had to admit that it ran into the most paltry figures. 'Ah!" retorted the British legislator. "your enterprise does not seem to have carried you far along the road as yet, does it? I suppose there were about as many of you in your part of the country a hundred years ago as there are now. You know electric light is all very well, but do not think me rude if I suggest that it is hardly the last test of progress!" And he went on to give the Canadian M. P. as neat a little lesson in economics and relative values as one could hope to hear. When one remembers that this same Canadian M. P. has for a month past been the recipient of the most lavish hospitality from the leaders of English politics and English society, has been a guest in the houses of the best that England can show; that, in a word, he has seen and heard and done things during this month of which even his wildest dreams and ambitions cannot have given him an inkling-when one thinks of all this and remembers the kind of poor little colonial village from which so pronounced a mentor of the great British people comes-well, then one is bound to be charitable and remember the old adage about spoiled children.

NO SURPLUS IN SIGHT.

More than a century has passed since Malthus published his first essay on the principles of population, setting forth that the tendency of the human race, and of all other races, was to increase more rapidly than the means of subsistence. Maithus calculated that where the increase of population was unchecked by war, pestilence vice and other disturbing influences, i would double the number of people every twenty-five years. In his opin ion means of subsistence could not be increased in any such geometrical ratio. The supply might double in the first twenty-five years, and go on adding arithmetically the same amount each quarter of a century. The end would of course be starvation, unless the checks mentioned, or some others, should come into operation

The century since Malthus wrote has not seen the population of the world It was not alone that the men were double four times or even twice. Those communities which have been comparatively free from calamity, and which have maintained a much higher standard of comfort than was possible for the most prosperous working men a hundred years ago, have made no such increase or anything like it. While certain academic teachers occasionally affirm their confidence in the general principles laid down by Malthus, practical men have ceased to fear the dangers that he feared. They see great calling out for settlers. They meet everywhere the agents of new countries seeking to find a surplus popula-

Chancellor Andrews of the University of Nebraska is one of the surviving Malthusians. He admits that this teacher was wrong in many things. The period required for doubling the population in England is, according to Dr Andrews, not twenty-five years but This removes the danger point a few thousand years and make the trouble less insistent. Chancellor Andrews finds that "the point of saturation" has been reached in some places, though the only locality mentioned by him is Port Said. He affirms however, the same thing will eventually happen in the United States.

Meanwhile a prominent Anglicar divine in Canada has been stirring up the synod to which he belongs with grim predictions of ruin because of childless families and the refusal of people to marry. The small increase of Canadian population in four of the five eastern provinces of Canada is regarded as a misfortune. To those who mourn the stagnation of the population, as shown by the last, census, who tell of deserted farm houses and of land gone out of tillage, who rebuke bachelors and spinsters because they do not marry and bring up families the speculations of Malthus as par-tially revived by Dr. Andrews will not be taken too seriously.

THE NEGLECTED BOYS.

The boys and girls who are growing up in this city without useful parental control and without school instruction are few compared with the whole population. Recent events have turned public attention to these children, revealing them as a source of danger and trouble to the town even in their youth. One result of these occurrences will probably be the enactment of more effective legislation for compulsors school attendance. Whatever difference of opinion there may be on points in respect to these neglected or partially neglected children, it is generally agreed that they must not be permitted to wholly neglect the schools. On this point it is hard to see how there can be two opinions among those who believe in free instruction. The principle which mpels property owners to support free schools implies a corresponding chligation on the part of parents and children. The school tax can only be distilled on the ground that ignorance is an injury and a danger to the com-munity, or that all children are enmitled to a common school education. If this principle is sound the commun sty should see that the protection is secured and that the child gets the chance to which it is entitled and for

DR. PUGSLEY'S SURPRISE.

The attorney general has announced the beginning of an agitation in favor of St. John as the terminus of the fast line of steamships. Dr. Pugsley has not been in any hurry about it. His speech at the opening of the exhibition is the first public declaration from him

The attorney general is surprised at the apathy of the people of St. John in this time of danger! Why should he be more surprised at this apathy than at his own? Mr. Hazen referred on Saturday evening to the agitation of 1896. Dr. Pugsley and Mr. D. J. McLaughlin at that time placed themselves at the head of a third party, whose chief purpose was to have St. John selected as the fast line terminus. Each sacrificed an election deposit in that behalf, and each set forth his undying deter mination to secure justice for the port.

The subject of a fast line is again before the government, though not the same government. It has been under discussion for some weeks. A cabinet minister has announced in four cities. including St. John and Halifax, that Halifax and Quebec will be the terminal ports. A good many days have passed since Mr. Tarte made that statement in St. John. Dr. Pugsley has not until now offered any objections Yet he is surprised at the apathy of private citizens. They have more rea son to be surprised at him.

THE LABOR PARADE.

(From Monday's Daily Sun.) Yesterday's labor parade was reditable exhibition of St. John worklngmen. Other towns may have produced a more artistic display and furnished more picturesque effects of the kind that are obtained by elaborate equipment and costly adornment. But it is doubtful if any city on the con-tinent the size of St. John could produce so fine a body of men representing the various trades and industries physically superior but they leave with the observer the impression of manliness and independence and give evidence that they live sober, orderly lives. No doubt there are some dissipated men among the industrial population, and the day would hardly be finished without some slight evidonce of the fact. But the large majority of the skilled workmen of St. John are remarkably good risks for an insurance company.

THE EXHIBITION.

(From Monday's Daily Sun.) The exhibition, formally opened on Saturday, will be really opened today. It is a good show, and worthy of inpection from all points of view. Mention was made at the opening neeting to the duty of St. John people toward the exhibition. This will stand repeating. The man or family who omes in from the country has many ems of expense. A St. John family pays only the admission fee, which is not high. The city household can atcess of the fair than any one else., and ought, therefore, to visit the buildings at the first opportunity, setting a goo example to their country friends. Nothing will advertise the exhibition better than a report of large attendance in the first two days.

THE CHARGE AGAINST LEYDS.

Brussels despatches say that Dr Leyds, formerly European representa-tive of the Transvaal Republic, has been dismissed because he refused to account for Boer money entrusted to him. It is not very clear who dismissed Dr. Leyds, or what his position would now be if he were retained. But he may have good reason for not tell-ing what he did with the Transvaal money. The disclosure of his expen ditures might be damaging to the repu tation of some pro-Boers in the Britis Empire, and would certainly throv light on the maunfacture of much pubopinion on the continent and in the United States. It would be interesting to see the accounts of Dr. Leyds, if the kept any, but the search would produce unnecessary international embar

Mr. McKeown says the reason ther is no winter port agitation in St. John is that everybody has confidence in the authorities who have charge of public affairs. He was a son of Alderman Nickerson of St. John, and is survived by a widow, a young son, a brother, Charles, and a sister, Mrs. Garnett of St. John.

John C. Best of Sackville, convicted of killing George E. Bailey, who is to die in the electric chair during the week beginning Sept. 7, was secretly taken to the state prison at Charles town today. A large crowd had gathered at the Salem station to see the man, but Best was taken to the North street crossing by Sheriff Johnson and Deputy Sheriff Kearney and put aboard the train before the crowd was aware that the party had left the jail. The prisoner was not informed of the ntention of the authorities to take him to Charlestown until early today. The notice was given to Best by Turnkey Howe, and the convicted man received his orders cheerfully. "All right" was his reply to the turnkey's message, and first step was to get shaved. Then he held a parting conversation with all the officers of the jail. In general conversation Best stated to all about him that he was innocent of the crime for which he had been convicted. At the North street crossing station there the identity of the men, so that the naught. police plans to have the prisoner pass through the city unobserved worked alsheriff to thank the other officials at

R. F. Dixon of Wolfville, N. S., writing in The Living Church, the organ of the Catholic party in this episcopal body, suggests that the name of any particular branch of the Anglican church may have little to do with the growth of the denomination. This communion, which in Canada, as in the mother country, is called the Church of England, is designated in the prayer book in the United prayer book in the United States as the Protestant Episcopal church. It should be stated by way of explanation that the so-called high church party in this country have been for months agitating to have the nam changed to "The American Catholic church in the United States," this faction maintaining that the episcopa body has as much right to the term "Catholic" as the Roman church, and that the Anglican communion is not tholic" as the Roman church, and 'Protestant." Mr. Dixon says:

"In your article 'Names and Names,' you give the 'total decline' of thechurch in the Canadian provinces' as 18,000. This is somewhat misleading. The church declined 18,000 in membership in Ontario, but increased throughout the dominion by about 62,000. As I have often felt the need of a more our name having anything to do where the church is 'burdened' with exactly the same name, its growth has been most satisfactory. Our name that the people of the different parts may not be altogether ideal but it is not the dominion should become more ten thousand times better than your own. And yet you have beaten us 'out of sight' in the matter of growth. Is there as much in a name as people

FREDERICTON, N. B., Aug. 29. The death occurred shortly after three o'clock this afternoon of Wentworth Winslow of Upper Woodstock who was visiting his brother here. Several weeks ago the deceased was suffering from an abcess in his head and came to the hospital here and underwent an operation, which seemed in every respect successful. He, however, did not seem to recover his strength and had remained here the guest of his brother. Mr. Winslow was in the 67th year of his age. He was the second son of the late Sheriff J. T. W. A YOUNG GIRL Terribly Lacerated by a Ferocious Dog Mouthful of Flesh Torn From One of Her Legs.

Michael Barry has been reported by the police for keeping in connection with his livery establishment off Union street a ferocious dog. Yesterday afternoon the dog, a bull, entered the vacant lot in the rear of the King house, where May Gleeson, the young daughter of the proprietress of that house, was playing. The dog seized hold of one of the young girls legs and did not let go till it took with it a mouthful of flesh. Another dog, said to belong to the same owner, then attacked the youngster, and bit her through the ear and also on the back of the head.

Dr. Wm. Christie attended the young lady and found it necessary to put in several stitches. The dog which made the first attack has been owned by several parties here, and was once the property of a Woodstock man Officer White destroyed the brute last night and ordered Mr. Barry to have the other animal put out of existence. Miss Gleeson was resting quietly last night.

WANTS A DIVORCE.

Agnes des Gardine, through her at orney, Joseph M. Dixon, has institut ed a divorce suit in the district court at Missoula, Montana. She alleges in her complaint that she was married a St. Leonard, N. She prays for the dissolution the bonds that row bind them, $75 attorney fees and the custody of the baby. It is stated that the father has the two older children with him in the east.

SERIOUS R. R. ACCIDENT. GLASGOW, Aug. 30.-Twenty-three persons were seriously injured this morning by a collision between two passenger trains. One of the train was standing at the station and the other crashed into it, telescoping two carriages. Most of the injured persons sustained fractures of limbs.

PREACHER'S CHILDREN Same as Others.

The wife of a prominent divine tried the food cure with her little daughter. She says, "I feel sure that our experi ence with Grape-Nuts food would be useful to many mothers. Our little daughter, eight years old, was subjec to bowel trouble which we did not then inderstand and which the doctor's prescriptions failed to cure.

We had been using different cereals for breakfast and finally becoming discouraged, I said, 'I will try an experiment, I will discard all other cereals fast.' The three children all like it bet-fast.' The three children all like it betof it that I hardly let them have all they want. In a short time I could see an improvement in the bowel trouble. We began using Grape-Nuts five months ago and now not only has the bowel trouble disappeared but the child has grown so plump and well—in fact was never so fleshy before that all our friends notice and remark about it. We think we have an ideal breakfast which consists of whole wheat bread with butter, Postum Cereal Coffee and Grape-Nuts. This is all we care for ets in one year is enough to make any many families so invariably healthy as is ours." Name given by the Postum unions as they passed certain places, Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Make Up of the Procession and the Route Traversed - How the Day Was Observed in Other Piac-s.

The parade held Monday ander the auspices of the Trades and Labor spect. All that stood in the way of its being the biggest event of years was the unfavorable weather. It was not such weather as spectators wanted, but it was preferable as far as those. in the procession were concerned to the heat of the past few days. There was little work going on about town, and everybody that could get out was on hand to witness the parade. Long be-fore 11 o'clock, the hour set for the start, thousands of people had gathered in and about Union, Charlotte and King strets. Those on Union street had a good chance to look over the various floats put in the proce and the large numbers of men who urned out with the Ship Laborers F. S. Chapman in Kings Inion and the Teamsters' Union at tracted a lot of attention. OTTAWA, Aug. 31 .- A terrible condition of affairs amongst the Esquimaux in Alaska is revealed in a letter received by J. D. Grace, editor of United Canada, and Father Lucchesi, who is in charge of the Jesuit mission of the Holy Cross in Alaska. Sixteen priests are acting as missionaries within the Arctic circle, and they have had a most trying time. A devastating plague has raged amongst the aux and in a short time carried off one half of the native population. Father Lucchesi says:

"It would take too long to describe the tale of horror witnessed by missionaries during the plague. Su to say that the well ones fled from shelter, from food and from home, abandoning the sick to their amidst the unburied remains of the dead and exposing themselves to the horrors of starvation. The missionaries exerted themselves to their utmost, nursing the sick, assisting the dying, burying the dead, and distributing with an unsparing hand every means at their command, leaving the mission now exhausted and in a very crippled condition, struggling to keep on with its schools and its work. We cannot think of abandoning the field or of sending adrift the orphans whom the fearful plague has left on our hands, but we shall continue the work begun, confiding in God's providence.

This time it has been over the lands of Jessie Prescott, C. I. Keirstead, Robt. Ferguson, O. P. King and Cripps brothers. L. L. Allison of the firm of White, Allison & King, barristers, represented the applicants and commissioners; Geo. W. Fowier, M. P., represented Prescott, Kierstead and Cripps brothers. King and Ferguson were unrepresented. The jury were John Jamieson, Elias Harmer, Robert McFee, E. L. Perkins and King McFarlane. The jury divided on the recommendation of the change. John Jamieson, Elias Harmer and E. L. Perkins favored the change. Robt. McAfee and King McFarlane opposed it, but as Mr. Allison thought a majority was sufficient the road was laid out and the following damages allowed: Robt. Ferguson, $29; O. P. King, $20; Cripps Bros., $50; Keirstead, $75. In the case of Prescott's land four of the jury agreed on $350 and one thought $400 should be allowed. It was left undecided. The warrant for making both the changes was placed in the hands of the sheriff of this county instead of a constable as has been customary here before. The parties seeking to make the changes were anxious to bring all the power they could to their support, which shows they had some doubts as to the jury making the change, as the damages to be assessed on the parish of Studholm will amount to between $500 and $900, and it will then take at least from $2,000 to $3,000 hore to build this road, and it is thought by competent judges that if half this mopey was spent in cutting down the hills much improvement would be done the road and it would be more-beneficial to the public.

McADAM, N. B., Aug. 23.—The members of Ashlar lodge of A. F. and A. M. invited their friends to spend an evening with them in I. O. F. hall, the centre of attraction being George B. Williams, elocutionist, of New York. J. W. Hoyt, W. M. of the lodge, introduced Mr. Williams, who prefaced the subject of his reading, The Battle of Shrevsbury, with a brief history of the characters that he introduced from Shakespeare's Henry VII. His portrayal of the characters of the play was excellent, especially that of Falstaff. At the conclusion of the Shakesperian recital the programme was varied by a song, The Bells of Seville, Miss L. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—Henri Didlier, a sailor, has been removed from the French ship Sacoa by a United States marshal and imprisoned in the city jail, where he will serve an 80-day sentence without having a trial in any court of the United States. Didlier is imprisoned in accordance with the provisions of the French consular convention of 1853, which gives French consular convention of 1853, which gives French consular authority to imprison for offences committed on French vessels. This is the first instance in which this authority has been exercised in this port. Didlier was imprisoned for a petty theft committed on the Sacoa while en route to this city. This is, indeed, a very strong testimonial for Dodd's Kidney Pills, and one which will have very great weight with all who have the pleasure of Mr. Chalker's acquaintance or friendship. Dodd's Kidney Pills have made many friends and are today, without doubt, the most popular family medicine.

A Pleasant Day Enjoyed-Over 850 Present - Speeches By Hon. H. R: Emmerson, Dr. R. C. Weldon and Others.

FOREST GLEN, West. Co., Aug. 28. -Yesterday, the day appointed for the gathering of the Colpitts tribes, dawned clear and fine. In fact, it dawned too fine, and when the sun soon after rising withdrew himself behind a bank of clouds, the weather prospects shook their heads wisely, and indulged in gloomy forebodings. However, this time it would seem that the sun had concealed himself not in any spirit of ill-humor, but merely to complete his toilet, for about ten o'clock he again appeared and smiled benignly the rest of the day. As it happened the same day had been chosen for a horse race at Elgin, and a good old deacon at the picnic remarked that doubtless the prayers of those who wished to attend the horse race had averted the rain. Two years ago the first gathering of the Colpitts family was held at Little River, Coverdale, on the farm taken up by Robert Colpitts, the progenitor of the family; who came from Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, in 1783. At that time the pleasure of the day was marred by the rain, and so it was decided to have another such gathering as soon as possible.

The present gathering was held on now owned by the heirs of the late Havelock Colpitts, originally settled by Ralph Colpitts, a son of the said Robert Colpitts. A more beautiful

About 80 were visitors, not being related to the family directly. The majority present of course came from within a radius of thirty miles, from Pleasant Vale, Mapleton, Elgin, Forest Glen, Petitcodiac, Little River, and Moncton. But there were representatives from many places far distant. None came from the east farther than Amherst, but north they came- from Woodstock, from Belledune River, Gloucester Co., and even as far as Gaspe Basin, Quebec. West they came from St. John, Portland. Me., Boston, Everett, Medford, Lowell, and Allston, Mass. After dinner had been disposed of the gathering was called to order and a few words in explanation of the purpose of the gathering were spoken by R. J. Colpitts of Petitcodic. In view of similar gatherings in the future, it was decided to effect some organization, and Ralph E. Colpitts of Pleasant Vale was elected president and R. J. Colpitas secretary. 15,384—The Colpitt Family of Durham County—I wish to ascertain the name and address—of any person of the name of Colpitt or "olpitts living, or having once lived, in Durham county, England, or having ancestors who hailed from that locality. The only his ory I have of the name is that contained in a family Bible brought to Canada in the spring of 1783. The record gives the names of a man and wife as Robert Colpitts and Margaret Wade and their children as follows: John, born April 17, 1783, at Norton, Crawford parish, Durham Co.; Robert, born Nov. 25, 1770, at Shillaby; Elizabeth, born Ducham Co.; Rabpt, born June, 1775, at Burkee House; William, born June, 1775, at Burkee House, all of Crawford parish, Durham Co.; Ralph, born Jan. 1, 1777, at Pethrom, Corkfield parish, Durham Co.; George, born Sept. 12, 1780, at Kenton, christened at Portland, Northumberland. The record also indicates that Robert, sen., was at one time captain of militia. He visited Canada previous to bringing his family out, and it is supposed he did so in connection with some imperial survey of the Bay of Fundy. The family settled in Canada, at a place called Little River, Albert Co., New Brunswick. In September last, there was a reunion of the family at the old hometand, I have hoped, by means of the Weekly Chronicle, to find yout, and in the way of getting, will be greatly appreciated.—P. R. Colpitts, Canada.

(Dec. 29, 1900.) 15,384—The Colpits Family of Durham County.—My name is Margaret Colpits, and I am a daughter of Robert Colpits of the county of Durham. My father is the eldest son of my grandfather, Robert Colpits, also of the county of Durham.—Margaret Colpits, Washington.

(Jan. 19, 1901.) (Jan. 19, 1901.)

15,384—The Colpitts Family—As one who takes an interest in the genealogy of Durham families, I should have been pleased to have been able to give this Canadian querist the information he wishes. Unfortunately, the names of the parishes he gives are either incorrectly spelt or, on account of the illegibility of his writing, have been incorrectly copied. There is a Norton parish in the county of Durham, but no Crawford parish; and I do not know of any farm or place cafled Crawford in that parish (Norton), nor of such place as Shillaby and Burkee House. Corkfield parish is evidently Cockfield parish, and Pethron is evidently Peth-row in Cockfield parish. The name Shillaby may be Shelaby, a farmstead and mansion in Gainford parish. Kenton is in Northumberland, three miles from Newcastle-on-Tyne, in Gosforth parish. There is no Portland parish in Northumberland. The only Colpitts I can give any information regarding at present belonged to Streatlam, near Barnard Castle. Thomas Colpitts, a native of Streatlam, living about 1776, by his wife Ann had (at least) one daughter, Elizabeth, who married about 1796 Joseph Granger of Esh, near Durham (born 1750), and their eldest son, Thomas Colpitts Granger, born 1802, became, in 184i, member of parliament for the city of Durham. There used to be a family of Colpitts living in the city of Durham over twenty years ago; probably some of them are there yet.—J. W. Fawcett, Satley.

(Feb. 2, 1901.) 15,384—The Colpitts Family.—The directory of Northumberland and Durham for 1827 (Parsons and White) contains names as

1827 (Parsons and White) contains names as below:
William Colpitts, farmer; Norton, near Stockton, next township being Carleton (see Crawford).
Mary Colpitts, butcher, 22, New Market, Newcastle. House at Heworth. Possibly widow of George Colpitts, Kenton.
Ponteland parish is probably that given by the querist as Portland.
John Colpitts, butcher, 56, New Market, Newcastle. House at 7, High Friar street. In 1827 there were no persons named Colpitts resident at Streatlam, Cockfield, or Selaby, nor in any village or town of Northumberland and Durham excepting those given above.—E. A. R., Newcastle.

(February 23, 1901.) 15,384—The Golvitts Family.—If the Can-adian querist will either forward a facsimile (exact) copy of the entries in his family Bible to the editor of the Weekly Chronicle, or to me, perhaps I may be able to give him some fuller particulars.—J. W. Fawcett, Satley, Darlington.

Robert Colpitts. A more beautiful place could not easily be found for such a gathering. A wide and level intervale, dotted here and there with old maple and willow trees, with the Pollett River running through the midst. The farm is about two miles below the village of Forest Glen, but those coming by train were allowed to get off near the grounds.

At about ten o'clock the teams began to arrive, and before noon the grounds presented a lively appearance. Everything was done in picnic style. Personal letters have also been received from Margaret Colpitts, Washington, Durham Co.; Thos. Colpitts, Bedlington; Mary A. E. Barker, Newsham; Mrs. Annie Sarsfield, 64 Crossgate, Durham, and Mrs. Hannah Colpitts, Stockton-on-Tees. There were also read, though they did not plainly establish the relationship between the family here and the family in England. The speaker referred also to the spelling and pronunciation of the name, deprecating the practice of some in dropping the final letter and pronouncing the name with a short o, since the general practice both here and in England is to make the 'o' long.

Hon. H. R. Emmerson then spoke briefly, expressing his pleasure in being present, and referred to the similarity between the history of the family and the history of the province. Dr. Weldon, both because of his own merits and his connection with the family, received a warm recention. He referred to his political experience in Albert Co. and the large support which he received from so many of the family. He spoke of the struggles of mer arrived by train about noon, but Dr. Weldon drove from Penobsquis the pioneers, and their success as evidenced by the great prosperity at pre sent enjoyed by Canada, and of the spirit of loyalty to Great Britain, which characterized the early settlers and which is still strong today.

He was followed by Rev. H. H Saunders of Elgin, who took for his text (for you know a minister can do nothing without a text)the old family Bible which came over with Robert Colpitts and his family. (This Bible is still in existence, with the old fampresenting the various branches of the lily record in it still legible.) He was followed briefly by Rev. C. H. Manapitts, Mapleton; J. A. M. Colpitts, base ball, swinging and croquet were indulged in until supper time. The carriages began to leave before tea Rev. Larnford Colpitts, Woodstock; and before the sun was down nearly all had started homeward. One man, Forest Gien; Alfred M. Day, thing was worthy of note. The picnic as a whole was voted a grand success, and the general opinion seemed to be that another should be arranged for in the not-too-distan future. Many expressions of appreciation were ale heard of the kindness o Mrs. Havelock Colpitts in placing at the disposal of the family the beautiful farm on which the gathering was held.

THE EMIGRANT LASSIE. By John Stuart Blackie.

JohnStuart Blackie, famous as an educator, was born in Glasgow, Scotland, July 28, 1809. He was educated at Aberdeen and Edinburgh, also in Germany and at Rome. He was admitted to the bar, wrote magazine articles, was for years a professor at Aberdeen and Edinburgh, advocated with ardor the preservation of the Gaelic language, and raised more than $60,000 for the endowment of a chair in Celtic at Edinburgh University. He published many translations of Greek and German poets, several moral and religious prose works, and also wrote a life of Burns.]

As I came wandering down Glen Spean, Where the braes are green and grassy, With my light step I overtook A weary-footed lassie.

She had one bundle on her back, Another in her hand, And she walked as one who was full loat To travel from the land.

Quoth I, "My bonnie lass!"—for she
Had hair of flowing gold,
And dark brown eyes, and dainty limbs,
Right pleasant to behold— "My bonnie lass, what alleth thee, On this bright summer day, To travel sad and shoeless thus Upon the stony way?

"I'm fresh and strong, and stoutly shod, And thou art burdened so; March lightly now, and let me bear The bundles as we go."

"No, sir!" she said, "that may not be;
What's mine is mine to bear;
Of good or ill, as God may will,
I take my portioned share." "But you have two, and I have none; One burden give to me; I'll take that bundle from thy back That heavier seems to be."

"No, no!" she said; this, if you will, That holds—no hand but mine May bear its weight from dear Glen Spean 'Cross the Atlantic brine!"

Well, well! but tell me what may be Within that precious load, Which thou dost bear with such fine care Along the dusty road?

"Belike it is some present rare From friend in parting hour; Perhaps, as prudent maidens wont, Thou tak'st with thee thy dower." She drooped her head, and with her She gave a mournful wave; "Oh, do not jest, dear sir!—it is Turf from my mother's grave!"

CARRIE NATION

Out of a Bangor Hotel By Police Officers.

BANGOR, Me., Aug. 29.—Mrs. Carrie Nation, who was to have filled a lecture engagement here tonight, had trouble at one of the hotels on being refused the request that she be served a bottle of beer, and the outcome was that she was escorted to the street by police officers. She sought legal advice, and says she intends to sue the hotel proprietor, and in order to stay here and fight the case she has ordered a number of lecture engagements cancelled. A number of temperance people have taken her in charge for the night, as it was thought that she would be refused accommodations.

BANGOR, Me., Aug. 29.—Mrs. Carrie Nation created a disturbance in the Bangor House this evening and was forcibly ejected from the hotel by Captain H. C. Chapman, the proprietor. Mrs. Nation arrived here this morning from Dover, N. H., and went to Ellsworth, where she addressed a small audience in the afternoon. Returning to this city she was driven too the Bangor House, and upon arriving there began a tour of the premises to find the bar, a hack driver having informed her that there was a bar in the hotel.

A crowd gathered, but Mrs. Nation soon gave up her quest and went to the supper A crowd gathered, but Mrs. Nation soon gave up her quest and went to the supper room, where, to satisfy herself on the question of whether or not liquor was sold in the house, she called for a bottle of beer. Being refused, she began loudly calling for liquor, whereupon Proprietor Chapman asked her to leave the room. She refused and was forcibly removed to her room, where she was ordered to pack up and get out of the house. Having gotten her things together, Mrs. Nation was gently but firmly put out at the side door. She then went to City Hall, where in the course of her lecture she denounced captain Chapman in violent termis and announced that she would remain over here Saturday for the purpose of bringing suit a cainst him.

BRITISH WAGES GO DOWN.

Workmen's Earnings in 1901 Wei $0,000,000 Less Than in Previous Year.

LONDON, Aug. 27.— A report issued by the British government today in regard to the wages of men employed in industrial pursuits in the year 1901 shows that for the first time in seven years there was a re-duction of the exprises. duction of the earnings of workingmen. Their total income was $9,000,000 less than during the previous year. The bulk of the decrease fell upon those engaged in mining, metal work and engineering.

The report illustrates the close connection between wages and the total trade of the country. The moment trade showed a decline wages fell off.

The most serious reduction was among those employed in engineering and ship-building. They number over 100,000 and they lost over $1 each in their weekly wages.
The report says there has been a greater tendency in recent years toward conclusion. The report says there has been a greater tendency in recent years toward conciliation and arbitration in disputes regarding wages. This is apparently confirmed by the fact that of every 100 persons whose wages changed in the year 1801 only two were concerned in strikes or lockouts. This is the lowest percentage ever known. ROSE BUSH 1,000 YEARS OLD.

In the town of Hilderheim, in Germany, is a rose bush said to be 1,000 years old, and sprouts from its branches have realized enormous sums. Some years ago a rich Englishman offered $50,000 for the entire tree, but the sum was indignantly refused. This wonderful plant clings amid thickly grown moss against the side of the famous old church of St. Michael. It is claimed that it had bloomed perennially since the days of King Alfred, and this statement has never been disputed, for its record has been as carefully kept as the pedigree of the bluest blooded family in the kingdom. It is supposed to have been discovered through the medium of King Louis of Hildersheim as far back as 1022.—Boston Transcript.

Clearly a person's character is shown by the manner in which he laughs, or, rather, by the sound which he makes, it is maintained by a European psychologist. The following, according to nim, are unerring indications:

"Those who laugh in 'A' or who make a sound like 'A' are frank, loyal and fond of bustle and movement and are generally of a versatile character. "Those who laugh in 'E' are phlegmatic and melancholy. "Those who laugh in 'I,' as most children do, are timid, irresolute, candid, ffectionate and ever ready to work or others. "Those who laugh in 'O' are generous, bold and self-confident. "Those who laugh in 'c' are misanthropes."

ST. PAUL, Aug. 29.-Mrs. C. M. Marsh of Holland, Vt., was killed by falling from a econd story window of the Kendall Hotel today. How the accident occurred is not known. Mrs. Marsh, who was 72 years old, has been ill for some weeks and was on her way home from Portland, Ore. It is conjectured that she went to the window to get fresh air and fell. Both legs were broken and her spine was injured.

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 29.—While a party of Italian laborers were eating dinner this noon in the orchard of Benj. F. Dow at East Deering, the contents of a shot gun were fired into their midst. John Francois, one of their number, received five of the shot, but was not seriously injured. Dow, who is 75 years old, says that he fired at a woodchuck, while the Italians claim that he took deliberate aim at them and fired. Dow was arrested.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—The Daily Express this morning says that if the government increases the mail grant to the Cunard line of steamers the Cunard and its business will be bought by an English syndicate of financiers headed by Sir Christopher Furness, the ship owner, as the nucleus for an English combine which will include the Allan line of steamers. Owing to the decline in ship building the South Durham Steel Co. has decided to close indefinitely its big ship plate works at Stockton-on-Tee.

ROOSEVELT'S SPEECH. VIENNA, Aug. 28.-President Roosevelt's speech on Monroeism has caused widespread attention here. The Neue Freie Presse thinks it was directed chiefly against Great Britain, and that it "sounds like an answer to the conference of colonial premiers."

The paper believes it will make a leep impression on Great Britain. which country "may find herself faced by the prospect of war over Canada with a mighty foe, with which the South African states cannot be compared. "Mr. Rooseveit waved his boney fist against England because the Boer war published to the world the poverty of Great Britain's military forces." The paper concludes as follows: "It must not be forgotten that Mr. Roosevelt's fanfare was sounded in an election speech. If the head of an

European state had spoken in such a manner one might anticipate war in the near future. But American election speeches are judgeable only from an American standpoint." The Neues Weiner Tageblatt says : "The speech is a forecast for the platform for the next campaign and is not intended as a warning to Europe, though it comes just at the right time, when the European governments are considering a renewal of their com-mercial treaties."

HON. H. A. McKEOWN said that he had followed with great interest the observations made by prewious speakers, and there was nothing but what he could endorse. He agreed with them in regard to the benefits of an exhibition, its industrial and educational advantages. The attorney general, Mr. Hazen and Senator Ellis had makes a good display of iron and galall said something about the fast line. He would say simply that such a line is necessary. May we not consider that the apathy or confident feeling of the citizers in regard to the terminus is due to the belief that justice will be done this port by those in whose hands the matter lies. The city of St. John McKeown said that the products now on view in the different buildings are the sum total of individual energy, skill and genius. They represent the result of trained minds and hands, and are the earnest and pledge that what lies before us is greater than that behind. When prosperity comes to a country it does so along well beaten tracks. It advances with pain and toil and effort along the great highways of commerce. No magician's wand can produce it. It comes by the individual effort of each producer; it comes hand in hand with industry, hand in hand through the harvest fields, bowing with their weight of yellow grain, hand in hand past the whirring spindle in the great factories, hand in hand through the har-Wealth is made not by law but by labor, and when there is a community like this, where each man puts his hand to the task, we have taken the greatest pledge of prosperity upon which any country can rest. We have a magnificent country, but it is individual effort that will make it great. In bringing together the produce of our advancement along different lines we are getting a great object lesson. We rise just a little higher, get a bmoader view of our citizenship and relation to the empire than if this contract did not exist. (Cheers).

The Sharp's Balsain booth has come over to this side, and next to it is the exhibit of typewriters and supplies made by Clarke & Taylor.

IN THE ANNEX. The exhibitors in the annex claim superiority for that part of the buildings. It certainly is true that the booths are marvels of good taste and are of splendid design. The fish exhibit, which has been one of the attractions of the show whenever it was present, again occupies it usual place at the annex entrance, and judging from the crowds that surrounded it Saturday it evidently has not lost its charm. Across from it is the splendid booth one of the features of the show. ing is the Natural History Society collection, and adjoining it is the booth filled, and the track on the grounds is way has certainly made a good showing. Then come stoves from the foundry of the Burrill-Johnson Iron Co. of dition. Yarmouth, then the saw display of the Lawson Saw Works. Down the centre of the buildings are a number of especially attractive booths. There is Dearborn & Co., showing extracts; Cooke & Co., furs; Walter Baker Co., cocoa, and Red Rose and Blue Ribbon tea. At the eastern end the Havelock Mineral Springs has another booth, where the thirsty may be refreshed. Under the opposite stairs is Oscar Silberstein's Intosh, St. John, 2nd. cigar exhibit, and then comes the souvenir exhibit, the handsome display of mantels and stoves made by Emerson first thing that confronts one is the & Fisher, Phillip Grannan's stoves, samples of the Pure Honey Co.'s provices. Then come a number of smaller booths, the Briggs' ledger system, White Wave, New York and Boston store, and Klensor. Next to these is Geo. R. Davis' exhibit of pianos of all kinds, then M. V. MACHINERY HALL. The exhibit in Machinery Hall is not large, but it makes up for that in its tries)-H. E. Gould, 1st, quality. It has never been more ineresting. The waterfall is in operation at the foot of the stairs and then comes a big exhibit made by James Fleming of the Phoenix foundry. A miniature foundry is here in operation, then comes E. Leonard & Sons showing of machinery, then that of Dunbar Son of Woodstock. H. L. & J. D. McGowan have a unique booth, in which they show their new automatic buoy, a cottage situated by the sea shore and out in the distance the buoy. Across the track are the booths of J. Thompson & Co., the Sun Oil Co., Connell Bros. of Woodstock, Hevener's plating exhibit and the A. B. McLean Oil and Supply Company. A shooting gallery and a refreshment booth quiety rake in the shekels despite the hum and noise of the machinery in the hall.

ON THE GROUNDS. Between the main building and the drill shed are a number of knife tables, oyster bars, tintype gallery, cane racks, a merry-go-round, snake eater, beauty show and shooting gallery.

CARRIAGE EXHIBIT. In the drill shed the Dunlop Tire Co., McLaughlin Carriage Co., Canada Carrige Co., Wm. Gray & Sons Co. of Chatham, Ont., of which the Massey-Harris Co. are the agents here, and Edgecombe & Sons of Fredericton make excellent displays. In fact it is one of the best carriage exhibits seen in St. John for a long time. One thing that first strikes the visitor upon entering is the predominance of rubber tired carriages of all sorts.

POULTRY HOUSE.

The building kept filling up rapidly all day long, and a good show is promised. In one corner is a Daniels' incubator with a capacity of 120 eggs. A large number of eggs are in the machine, and the chicks are due to put in an appearance on Tuesday.

AGRICULTURAL HALL. The lateness of the season has been somewhat of a drawback in regard to the exhibit in this building, but despite all obstacles, the showing made is a remarkably good one. The butter making competition booth takes up one end of the lower floor, and then come specimen after specimen of the product of the different cheese factories of the province. Never before have they shown up so well as now. Then comes the National cream separator, J. Hunter White's dairy supplies, the Nappan Experimental Farm exhibit, in charge of W. S. Blair; samples of bug death, and then the vegetables and fruits, the care of S. L. Peters and the joy of his heart. Without him the Agricultural Hall would not seem hor Up stairs is the Amusement Hall, fitted up as never before, and giving ample commodation for about one thousand 2nd. two hundred people.

The judge added the following remarks: The display of cut flowers in the amateur class is the best ever shown in St. John. The sweet peas are very fine. The quality and variety are superior to anything shown in St. John heretofore, and show all the existing shades of this popular flower. The competition in the sweet pea classes were so close as to make it difficult to come to a decision with regard to the prizes. The dahlias and asters show some of the newest varieties and delicacy of coloring and size are much superior to those usually

Harvey Mitchell and W. S. Tompkins have gone to the Maine State Fair, where they will judge the dairy products and beef cattle respectively They will be at the St. John exhibition about the last of the week. Senator Donald Ferguson of Princ Edward Island is always a welcome visitor to the exhibition. As usual, he has brought with him this year some of his flocks and herds. F. Maclure Sclanders, who has been Manager Hubbards' right hand man, is a worker from the start, and his genial courtesy makes him a general favorite. Mr. Sclanders is a native of Scotland, who has spent most of his manhood in Africa and has seen considerable service in native wars and risings, in one of which he was wounded and partially incapacitated for near ly a year. He came here invalided from Ashanti about two years ago, and has been connected with the press eve since. Supt. William Taylor has been a very busy man for the last couple of weeks, and the condition of the buildings and grounds shows the result of his labors.
