

Typ Semi-Weekly Telexprint

VOL XL

ST. JOHN, N. B., SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1902.

NO. 102.

UNPRECEDENTED ATTENDANCE AT INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION.

Nearly As Many People at Exhibition on First Four Days As Attended During the Whole of Last Show, and the Management of the Big Fair Rejoices.

PRIZE WINNERS IN VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS AT THE EXHIBITION.

Field Roots, Cheese and Butter, Horses, Field Grains, and Garden Vegetables Have Been Judged—Names of the Successful Competitors.

Never in the history of exhibitions in St. John has the attendance kept up to such high figures as this year. Never have the special amusement features been so well attended and never has St. John accommodated so many visitors at one time.

HIGH PRAISE FOR CHEESE AND BUTTER.

Ninety-nine Scored Out of 100—Judge Speaks in Strong Terms. "New Brunswick cheese as shown in the exhibition compares favorably with the best Ontario product."

GOOD PRAISE FOR POULTRY SHOW.

The Judge Says There's Big Improvement Over Last Exhibition—Only One in Massachusetts to Equal It.

N. A. Knapp, of Winchester (Mass.), who is one of the best judges of poultry in the New England states, has judged the poultry exhibits at St. John for three years and told The Telexprint that the quality of the exhibits had improved with each year.

DAIRY BUTTER.

Dairy butter is shown as follows: Butter in crocks, Bertrand Goodspeed, Pennac; E. J. Peters, Elmhurst; John F. Harper, Jacksonville; Herbert D. Harper, Jacksonville; S. L. Peters, Queens county; Geo. W. Sharp, Woodstock; John H. King, Simons; C. O. N. Goodspeed, Pennac.

LIVE STOCK DEPARTMENT.

Points of Interest in Cattle, Sheep and Swine Show. Judging of cattle commenced yesterday. The show is a particularly large and comprehensive one in all classes.

which is entered in other sections (five entries)—W. W. Black, Amherst; C. C. H. Eaton, Canard; J. P. W. Thompson, Fort Lawrence.

Class 2—Ayrshires. Bull three years old and upwards (three entries)—M. H. Parlee, Sussex; 1. C. A. Archibald, Bellevue, Truro, 2.

(three entries)—Governor Snowball, Chatham (N. B.), 1st; E. L. Jewett, city, 2nd; over 1,000 pounds (13 entries)—S. Sanborn, 1st and 2nd; F. E. Came, St. Andrews (N. B.), 3rd.

(N. B.), 971-2, 3rd; Bertrand Goodspeed, Pennac, 77, 4th. Butter prints, 10 pounds (seven entries)—John F. Harper, Jacksonville, 981-2, 1st;

Class 5—French Coaches. Stallion, four years old and upwards (five entries)—J. S. Sanborn, Lewiston Junction (N.B.), 1st and 2nd; Jas. H. Pullen, city, 3rd.

Class 6—Carriage Horses. Stallion, four years old and upwards (12 entries)—J. S. Sanborn, Lewiston Junction (Me.), 1st and 2nd; Jas. H. Pullen, city, 3rd.

Class 7—Saddle Horses. Brood mare, with foal by her side (three entries)—Harry H. Mott, city, 1st; J. M. Johnson, Calais, 2nd; F. A. Hubbard, Durston Hill, Oromocto (N. B.), 3rd.

Class 8—Field Grains, Etc. Best bushel of wheat grown in Albert county (one entry)—T. C. Colpitts, Pleasant Vale, 1st.

Handwritten notes and numbers in the right margin, including '36', '13', '82', and 'Band'.

A COUNTRY CORRESPONDENCE

FREDERICTON.

Fredericton, Sept. 2.—(Special)—The public works department has awarded the contract for the Lepreux station bridge to Albert E. Byrne, of Alma, Albert county.

Fredericton, Sept. 3.—(Special)—O. H. Warwick, Geo. L. Warwick, William Warwick, Miss Ida May Warwick and Mrs. M. W. Warwick, give notice in the Royal Gazette that they will apply for incorporation as the O. H. Warwick Company, Limited. The proposed capital stock is to be $20,000 divided into 800 shares of $25 each.

The nuptials of Miss Bertie Bishop, daughter of James Bishop, and George Elmer, of St. John, were celebrated at the bride's home here this evening in the presence of a number of invited guests.

Rev. F. C. Hartley was the officiating clergyman at the ceremony. The happy couple left for St. John by the 9 o'clock train.

Edward Langille, a popular young man, formerly of Westville (N. B.) and Miss May McCutcheon were married at the Free Baptist parsonage this evening by Rev. F. C. Hartley. They went to St. John by the 9 o'clock train and were given a rousing send off by a number of friends.

Helen, W. H. Sherwood, of Gibson, and Rev. Melville Grant, of Dorchester, were registered to solemnize marriage.

The following are in attendance from St. John county at the Normal School: I. Eta Brown, A. Blanche Myles, Annie E. McLaughlin, Clara Grant, Madeline T. Delury, Elizabeth Cowan, George L. Brown, all of St. John; Louise Thompson, Chance Harber; Sadie J. Unkauf and Tillie P. McLaughlin, of West Quaco, and Jennie L. Carson, of West Quaco.

The home of Mrs. Charles Kilbuck, of Kingsclear, was this afternoon the scene of a happy event, when their daughter, Annie, was united in marriage to James Grant, of St. John.

This morning, Rev. W. R. Robinson united in marriage George Gamble, of Marysville, and Miss Maggie Cruse, of Gibson. After a wedding reception, bride and groom, amidst hearty congratulations and showers of rice, left for the North Shore via St. John.

ST. ANDREWS.

St. Andrews, N. B., Sept. 3.—(Special)—Some excitement has been caused here by a find of buried treasure near the Algonquin golf grounds. One of the caddies in searching for a lost golf ball, found two old silver Spanish dollars, the news of the discovery led others to make a search in the same locality, and a dozen more Spanish dollars of 100 or more years old were found.

The summer visitor is one of the chief moving pictures in this neighborhood. In another month he will have entirely disappeared, leaving only a memory behind him. On the 10th of August, the Algonquin will close its season, which is highly successful season. Manager Morrison has for eight years and no doubt enjoyed renewing old acquaintances.

Mr. and Mrs. George Clark, of Fredericton, are visiting at the rectory, Mrs. Clark, who is Mrs. Neale's sister, is much pleased with Sussex as a summer resort.

Dr. Warren Sharp, of Bangor, N. B., is visiting his former residence at this place, is visiting his sister, Mrs. W. W. Stockton and Mrs. Frank Roach, also his brother, B. J. Sharp.

The Watson and child were the guests of Doctor and Mrs. Langstroth last Sunday.

Mrs. Solomon Lawson, an old resident of Sussex, now of Lunenburg and her daughter, Mrs. Sophia Lawson, who have been visiting friends here have returned home.

Miss Laura Harding, of Yarmouth, is spending a few days at the home of Captain Harding, of the Salvation Army, at St. John, and will be accompanied by Captain Moore, of Woodstock, formerly stationed here, is visiting at William O'Leigh's.

The Salvation Army will hold their annual children's jubilee at their barracks on Thursday evening next.

Professor Kierstead, of Acadia College, gave a lecture at the Free Baptist church last night.

Sussex, Sept. 3.—N. W. Morton, the popular manager of the Bank of New Brunswick here, has severed his connection with that institution. Mr. Morton has accepted a position with the Bank of Ottawa and will report at headquarters at Ottawa tomorrow.

Mr. J. Lawrence is here today. Mr. Lawrence represents the Malted Cereal Company and the Walls and Richardson Company, both of Montreal.

Mr. J. M. Fowler, formerly of St. John, now living at Sydney (C. B.), is in Sussex at the Royal Hotel.

Mrs. Robt. Seeley is here today visiting her mother, Mrs. Geo. Smithers.

KINGSTON.

Kingston, N. B., Sept. 1.—Miss Harriet S. Downing left on Saturday for her home in Newport (N. L.) after spending six weeks visiting her friends in Kingston.

Mrs. W. H. Flavelle started for Boston on Saturday morning and has her home in Kingston the past five weeks.

Miss Lily Northup accompanied her sister, Mrs. Jewell, to Boston, where she will spend some weeks visiting relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross and Miss Ross, of St. John, are staying a few days at Mrs. J. H. Flavelle's.

Charence Flavelle spent Sunday in Springfield.

Inspector Carter was in Kingston on Sunday.

A birthday party was given at John Paddock's Saturday evening in honor of Mrs. Paddock's mother, Mrs. Moses Perkins, who celebrated her 80th birthday.

Mrs. Parkie and Mrs. Campbell, of Parisville, are visiting Mrs. Parkie's mother, Mrs. Perkins.

Fred Urquhart, of Springfield, was in Kingston on Sunday.

Brown Wesley, of Clifton, celebrated his 90th birthday on Thursday. Quite a large birthday party was given in honor of the event.

Mr. and Mrs. Adino Wetmore, of Clifton, were surprised when a large number of friends assembled at their residence to celebrate the 25th anniversary of their wedding. Among the presents contributed were a dozen silver spoons and a china dinner set.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hoyt and family, were purchased from Harwood & Son, of Ottawa, at a cost of more than $1,000. The two on either side of the pupil are figured. One is the representation of Christ blessing little children, and on the other, His manifestation to the two disciples at Epiphany (representing the two sacraments of the church). These two are the gift of the Ladies' Aid Society.

The one presented by the Kirk Session, contains a representation of the burning bush with the words "God is Love," and "Christ Died for Us."

The trustees gave one showing a fountain with the words "Abounding in the Work of the Lord."

The one given by the choir has on it a harp and these words: "Singing in Psalm and Hymns and Spiritual Songs."

The Sunday school donated one with a suitable emblem and the words "Suffer Little Children to Come Unto Me."

One presented by the Westminster Guild has an anchor and the motto, "Fight the Good Fight of Faith."

Woman's Foreign Missionary Society has for its emblem the globe with the mottoes, "Go ye Into All the World," and "Christ Commands our Commission."

There were two memorial windows given by Mrs. Hugh Forsythe in memory of her husband which has for its emblem a cup with the mottoes "I Am the Resurrection and the Life" and "Because I Live ye Shall Live Also."

The other was donated by the pastor, Rev. D. Henderson in memory of his mother. It has for its emblem a crown, and the motto "Be ye Faithful Unto Death and I will Give thee a Crown of Life."

Chatham, Sept. 3.—A meeting of the Presbytery of Miramichi was held today in St. James' church, Newcastle, to receive and deal with a call from the congregation of that church, to Rev. Murdoch McKinnon, late assistant to Rev. Dr. Armstrong Black, of St. Andrew's church, Toronto.

The call, which was unanimous and largely signed by the members and adherents of the church, was sustained as a regular gospel call and ordered to be forwarded to Mr. McKinnon.

Provisional arrangements were made should he accept for his ordination and induction to take place at the next regular quarterly meeting of the Presbytery of the Miramichi, on Tuesday evening, Sept. 23.

Mr. McKinnon is a native of Cape Breton, and a nephew of Alexander McKinnon, of this place.

The salary offered by St. James' congregation is $1,200 and a manse.

The Westminster Abbey choir is to give a concert in St. James' church on Sept. 16, and Miss Jessie Macdonald is to sing a solo at the church on Oct. 3.

It is reported that a balloon was seen passing Point Beaumais last Friday. It was sailing quickly, and was not more than a few hundred feet above the ground.

SUSSEX.

Sussex, Sept. 2.—Mr. and Mrs. George W. Daniel, of Moncton, spent Sunday (4th) at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. King, of Sussex. Mrs. Daniel has for eight years and no doubt enjoyed renewing old acquaintances.

Mr. and Mrs. George Clark, of Fredericton, are visiting at the rectory, Mrs. Clark, who is Mrs. Neale's sister, is much pleased with Sussex as a summer resort.

Dr. Warren Sharp, of Bangor, N. B., is visiting his former residence at this place, is visiting his sister, Mrs. W. W. Stockton and Mrs. Frank Roach, also his brother, B. J. Sharp.

The Watson and child were the guests of Doctor and Mrs. Langstroth last Sunday.

Mrs. Solomon Lawson, an old resident of Sussex, now of Lunenburg and her daughter, Mrs. Sophia Lawson, who have been visiting friends here have returned home.

Miss Laura Harding, of Yarmouth, is spending a few days at the home of Captain Harding, of the Salvation Army, at St. John, and will be accompanied by Captain Moore, of Woodstock, formerly stationed here, is visiting at William O'Leigh's.

The Salvation Army will hold their annual children's jubilee at their barracks on Thursday evening next.

Professor Kierstead, of Acadia College, gave a lecture at the Free Baptist church last night.

Sussex, Sept. 3.—N. W. Morton, the popular manager of the Bank of New Brunswick here, has severed his connection with that institution. Mr. Morton has accepted a position with the Bank of Ottawa and will report at headquarters at Ottawa tomorrow.

Mr. J. Lawrence is here today. Mr. Lawrence represents the Malted Cereal Company and the Walls and Richardson Company, both of Montreal.

Mr. J. M. Fowler, formerly of St. John, now living at Sydney (C. B.), is in Sussex at the Royal Hotel.

Mrs. Robt. Seeley is here today visiting her mother, Mrs. Geo. Smithers.

KINGSTON.

Kingston, N. B., Sept. 1.—Miss Harriet S. Downing left on Saturday for her home in Newport (N. L.) after spending six weeks visiting her friends in Kingston.

Mrs. W. H. Flavelle started for Boston on Saturday morning and has her home in Kingston the past five weeks.

Miss Lily Northup accompanied her sister, Mrs. Jewell, to Boston, where she will spend some weeks visiting relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross and Miss Ross, of St. John, are staying a few days at Mrs. J. H. Flavelle's.

Charence Flavelle spent Sunday in Springfield.

Inspector Carter was in Kingston on Sunday.

A birthday party was given at John Paddock's Saturday evening in honor of Mrs. Paddock's mother, Mrs. Moses Perkins, who celebrated her 80th birthday.

Mrs. Parkie and Mrs. Campbell, of Parisville, are visiting Mrs. Parkie's mother, Mrs. Perkins.

Fred Urquhart, of Springfield, was in Kingston on Sunday.

Brown Wesley, of Clifton, celebrated his 90th birthday on Thursday. Quite a large birthday party was given in honor of the event.

Mr. and Mrs. Adino Wetmore, of Clifton, were surprised when a large number of friends assembled at their residence to celebrate the 25th anniversary of their wedding. Among the presents contributed were a dozen silver spoons and a china dinner set.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hoyt and family, of St. John, spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hoyt, of Kingston.

Miss Annie Patten has returned from Bowron, N. B., where she has been visiting her cousin.

Little Miss Mary and Ruth Foster, of Botheany, are visiting their grandparents, Mrs. Charles Foster, of this place.

DEER ISLAND.

Deer Island, Sept. 1.—Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Burgess, of Massachusetts, are the guests of Mrs. Gertrude Chaffey, Misses Millie, Lida and Sylvia Hooper spent Sunday at their home.

Miss Marnie Chaffey and sister, Mrs. Herbert Sunday spent Sunday with relatives here.

Miss Addie Calder, who is employed at Lower Woodstock, is spending a few days with her parents, Captain and Mrs. Alonzo Calder.

A picnic was given by the parents for the enjoyment of their children at Hibernia on Saturday.

Miss Jessie Owen of West Lubec has returned from her friend, Miss Della Hensler.

Miss A. Josephine Cummings leaves today to take charge of the school at De Wolfe, Charlottetown.

WOODSTOCK.

Woodstock, N. B., Sept. 2.—(Special)—The Charlottetown exhibition will be held in the Woodstock, September 24th, 25th and 26th. There will be $1,200 in prizes. Besides a balloon ascension there will be horse races and other amusements. The Agricultural Society have bought for $100 an acre of ground situated near the land owned by the society. This additional land will enable the society to erect sheds for the accommodation of 100 head of cattle. To show their interest in the coming exhibition the town council last night made a grant of $200 to the society.

Marvin Smith, the 18 year old son of William Smith, was severely injured while shot yesterday. The bullet entered his Winchester became jammed at, while he was attempting to remove it, the shell exploded, splitting his thumb, the bones of the hand and chest, and the latter, the latter also being injured by powder.

John Dyer, of Lily Bay, a bride of five months, and aged three years, is dangerously ill at the residence of her sister, Mrs. Stephen Green, in this town. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Campbell, of Millville, N. B.

William Balmis, the little daughter of Mildred Balmis, was painfully injured yesterday, by accidentally upsetting a kettle of boiling water. Both under the child's legs were badly burned.

ST. MARTINS.

St. Martins, Sept. 2.—The general meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held in the Baptist church from the 10th inst. to the 15th. A large number of delegates are expected to be present. At 8 o'clock on the 11th, a joint meeting will be held by the W. C. T. U. of the town and of the county. All delegates are requested to send their names to Mrs. J. P. Moore before Sept. 8.

The Salmon river mill property is undergoing extensive repairs. During the month of August, the mill was in operation and the flouring business was carried on.

While Kings and Albert have been boasting of their large catches, St. Martins has been producing large chickens.

The other day Michael Kelly dined at a public house and tipped the waiter seven pounds six ounces when ready for the market. Who can beat it?

Dr. Thomas Taylor and Mrs. Taylor are guests at the Kennedy House.

WHITE'S COVE.

White's Cove, Queens county, N. B. The weather the past few days has been warm and dry, and people have taken advantage of it getting their hay on the stocks. The great quantity are about through having and are getting their hats which look new in these windy days.

A good many went from here to attend the exhibition in St. John this week.

John P. Wright, who has been engaged in the Boston and New York trade, spent Sunday home.

Hon. L. P. Harris has come to Fredericton to attend a meeting of the government.

Miss Melinda Kennedy, who has been working as a housemaid, is greatly improved.

Prof. E. M. Kierstead, D. D., of Acadia College, will deliver a lecture in the hall this evening on his trip to Europe.

PORT ELGIN.

Port Elgin, Sept. 3.—Miss Lillian Clark left on Tuesday for Boston, where she will spend the remainder of her vacation.

Miss Jessie Siddall, trained nurse, of Boston, left on the same train for the scene of her professional duties.

Thomas J. Allan, B. A., has taken the principality of the Superior school here.

Rev. Percy Christopher, Baptist, has resigned his pastorate here and will preach his farewell sermon on Sunday next. Mr. Christopher, though a young man, is an able speaker and much thought of by his people, and although asked to renew his engagement, has determined to take another field.

John West and wife, of Moncton, passed through town on Tuesday. They have been visiting friends in this vicinity.

Mr. Blanchard, of Amherst, rendered an appropriate call at the service in the Methodist church on Sunday evening. Mr. Blanchard is a first class soloist. A few weeks ago he favored a Port Elgin audience in a similar manner at the organ recital in the Presbyterian church.

The Daily Telegraph is getting a good circulation in this town and vicinity. There are many regular subscribers and copies are kept for sale at the store of J. H. Copp.

The Free Baptist church has recently purchased a large pipe organ, which addition is very satisfactory to church and congregation. Mrs. Chas. Munroe has accepted the post of organist at the service in a similar manner at the organ recital in the Presbyterian church.

Dr. D. Mahoney is in town.

AMHERST.

Amherst, Sept. 1.—Another accident, the result of careless jumping on and off a train, occurred here Friday evening, when NERVES GAVE WAY—PE-RU-NA CURED.

Miss Aseneth Brady, Cor. Sec. Illinois Woman's Alliance, had Headache, Backache and Serious Indigestion.

Miss Aseneth Brady, Corresponding Secretary Illinois Woman's Alliance, writes from 2725 Indiana avenue, Chicago, Ill.:

"Last year from continued strain in literary work I became very much exhausted, my nerves seemed to give way, and I had headache, backache and serious indigestion.

"One of my friends suggested that I try Peru-na. I certainly acted like magic on my system.

"Within the day I felt new life and health given me; my headache and occasional dizziness off and on I feel extra tired, I keep my system in perfect order."

—MRS. FANNY KLAVANSKY, of Summitville, N. Y., writes as follows:

"For three months I suffered with pain in the back and in the region of the kidneys, and a dull pressing sensation in the abdomen, and other symptoms of pelvic catarrh."

"But after taking two bottles of Peru-na I am entirely well, and better than I ever was."

—Mrs. FANNY KLAVANSKY.

Send for "Health and Beauty," written specially for women by Dr. S. B. Hartman, President Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

James, the little son of ex-Lt. O. R. Pollock and Andrew McDonald, while jumping out of the boat and instead of the threshold of their premises, and immediately stiffened into motionless lifeless form. The cause of this was the fact that he had jumped from the deck of the boat.

The party comprised—Lieut.-Colonel Wilson, commandant; Lieut.-Colonel Pegg, camp quartermaster; Captain Wheeler, camp adjutant; and Sergeant-Major Bredford.

A battalion of brigade engineers, a company of mounted infantry, and a company of mounted rifles were also present. A large number of the militia were also present.

At a special meeting of the town council last night it was decided to hold a public meeting of the ratepayers, and also seek legislation to give authority to all a special meeting of the town council.

All a special meeting of the town council last night it was decided to hold a public meeting of the ratepayers, and also seek legislation to give authority to all a special meeting of the town council.

ANNAPOLIS.

Annapolis, Sept. 3.—Labor day celebration here was a grand success. The day was fine and a large number of people availed themselves of the opportunity of witnessing the various attractions. The sports were warmly contested. The tight rope performance by Hyer and Bishop was highly respected by all sections of the community. He leaves a grown-up family of two sons and one daughter—Mr. A. L. Henson, late manager of the Oxford woolen mill, is at the head of the affair.

The principal exhibitors are: W. W. Black, Fred S. Black, Logan Burns, Fred W. Thompson, Edward Baker, H. S. Crowl, and C. C. Craig.

Word is received that O. W. Holmes' Short Horn bull took second prize in his class at the annual meeting of people of the breed.

Dr. H. H. Holden, of the Methodist church, and Chas. Smith, et., delegates to the Winnipeg conference, will leave today.

Pastor Bates, of the Baptist church, and family are spending two weeks at the beach, Annapolis.

Amberst, N. S., Sept. 4.—(Special)—The proposed woolen mills for Amberst are now practically assured, and a company has been formed and during the coming autumn the mill will be started. H. L. Henson, late manager of the Oxford woolen mill, is at the head of the affair.

Lying at jobs, though, you'd need to

WEDDED AT WOODSTOCK.

Rev. John Ives and Miss Julia Harvey Johnston Pledge Their Truth.

Woodstock, Sept. 3.—(Special)—This evening at the Methodist church Rev. Mr. Ross assisted by Rev. Mr. Berrie, officiated at the wedding of Miss Julia Harvey Johnston, daughter of the church for two years past, to Rev. J. Ives, of Lunenburg.

Miss Johnston is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music and for some time was at the head of the music teaching staff at the ladies' Academy.

The bride was the recipient of many handsome presents.

Nelson's walking case, which was picked up on the deck of the Victory, after having been shot at Truford, is the possession of a resident of Newport (Mont.).

CANNON SHOT WINGS GULL AT FT. DIFFERIN.

Unprecedented Incident Marks Sub-calibre Practice with the New Hotchkiss' Guns—Picturesque Scenes in Camp—"Tommy's" Neatness—Elementary Work in Sinking Mock Torpedo Boats—Service Ribbons Tell of Service in Historic Battles—Work with the Big Guns.

The big Hotchkiss guns have spoken—first in the modest elementary language, and lastly in good honest death-dealing speech.

Who ever heard of a cannon shot winging a sea gull? It happened Thursday.

It was windy. A clipping breeze whistled through the camp grounds and whipped the bay into roughly curling, frothy furrows.

Indeed, the soldiers had every need of their chin straps to prevent those independent looking little caps from falling over their brows.

The wind was everywhere. It moaned into the dark throats of the guns, shook the tents, and even tickled the ears of the camp commandant himself.

In short, Fort Differin and all it contained were assailed by a most irritating and impartial investigation.

Throughout the forenoon, though, the operations in camp were of a somewhat quiet character. The military standpoint, but none the less interesting to persons trained in the art of peace.

From the top of the back board down to the centre of the proposed board, is nailed a piece of plank. It is at this slope that the patient reclines, his back being supported by a sack stuffed with grass, and nailed to the wood. Stretched on a light frame, is stretched a grey blanket, the same being placed as to the body, while the hands and feet are tucked in whatever takes place upon the "back." It can be left to conjecture whether the object of the blanket is that of semi-privacy or a protection against the wind.

The Warriors Are Shaved.

Outside, by the fence, is the barber shop. At first glance you instinctively think of a West Indian fetish altar or a relic showing by what means our forefathers tortured each other in the days when divinity was all that seemed worth living for.

The barber shop is constructed of a few stout boards and a grey blanket. A broad unapertained deal is nailed to the ground. This board is the back of the chair. Another board is nailed to it, extending outward, and supported by props.

From the top of the back board down to the centre of the proposed board, is nailed a piece of plank. It is at this slope that the patient reclines, his back being supported by a sack stuffed with grass, and nailed to the wood. Stretched on a light frame, is stretched a grey blanket, the same being placed as to the body, while the hands and feet are tucked in whatever takes place upon the "back." It can be left to conjecture whether the object of the blanket is that of semi-privacy or a protection against the wind.

Sub-calibre Practice.

There were several hours of what is known as gallery or elementary practice yesterday forenoon. There is no noise, no smoke, no blood—all you hear is the cool rattle of command and instead of the quaking, fearsome roar, only that which reminds you of the crack of a whip.

The six-pr. and 12-pr. guns are mounted. The four six, slender, dainty, well-groomed looking barrels thrust their mouths yardward, as if watching for something to spit. If it were possible for them to talk, one would expect to see them spring around to the gunners and with demurest grin, ask politely: "Do you want this babyish elementary—give us something real!"

However, the guns are easily subordinate, and also with faithful accuracy. A wooden trunk has been laid along the brink of the southeastern side of the fort. On this trunk is a small four-wheeled truck, which supports a small wooden frame, painted white and having the outlines of miniature torpedo boats drawn in black thereon. This target is drawn along by a rope system, and instead of what in motion is subjected to the very best skill which the younger gunners are capable of summoning. The distance from target to Hotchkiss is about 90 yards, and the range of the latter about 1300 yards.

The ammunition used is that common to the Morris' tube system. It is merely a small cartridge and for elementary practice is very efficient. The tube is placed in the cannon, converting it into a rifle for the time.

The small white frame, with its torpedo boat drawings, moves cautiously along the track, and one hears the order: "Prepares to fire!" rapped out from somebody in the throng of uniformed forms back of the guns.

The gunners at the breach are in deadly earnest now, and their hands work swiftly about the mechanism of the piece.

This Isn't Noisy.

You hear a sudden, sharp click; then all but one steps smartly back and stands expectant. Their companion is bending low over the breach and with hand on the trigger peers earnestly along the sights.

"Fire!"

It's just a crack, that's all—ringing and keen, and which dies away in a kind of wheezy whistle.

The aim of the target is poked with a small ragged mark, but still it creeps gamely to its goal.

A repetition of the order, cheery activity around the breach. The Hotchkiss has its eye on that torpedo boat and swings hurriedly around. Another whip, snap, and another mutilation of the target. An hour or so of this, interspersed with brief inspections of the frame, and the elementary work of the morning is over.

Shooting a Sea Gull.

During the practice a shot struck a sea gull with the wing. The bird fell, but it could not be ascertained whether the shot was fatal, for a bullet often drives a quantity of feathers into the wound and acts as a rather unsatisfactory and frequently effective means of preventing a flow of blood.

Wednesday afternoon there was shooting with common shell. The target used is about the length of a small vessel, and is so constructed that when placed in the water all that the gunners can see are the bow and stern, the central parts being under the surface.

This target was towed by the tug Lord Roberts and came into sight of the battery from around between the breakwater and island. The course was around a reef of rocks lying west-south-west, thence back and rounding the island.

With the Big Fellows.

The first range was 1,500 yards, and this was gradually increasing up to 1,800 or 2,000 yards.

A shaft placed fairly between the ends of the target is considered good shooting. The shell used on Wednesday would certainly create a measure of consternation should it land on a torpedo boat or in a boat's party.

Yesterday afternoon there was to be practice with the 12-inch guns, but the rain interfered seriously, and what would have been an exceptionally interesting sight.

It is thought that by Monday practice will begin by the city artillery, and a detachment from the 2nd Battalion of the Quebecers will be here probably until Saturday or Monday week. Every eye is turned to the target and the city to witness the exhibition or anything else which is of any particular interest.

Ribbons Tell of Famous Fights.

For a comparably small body of men, the display of service ribbons is significant. One can see the blue and white stripes of the Red-Ethiopian and the 50 yards, the dark green that hints of Out Knick Creek and Batoche, and the latest Little decoration that brings up memories of a conflict just ceased, away down 7,000 miles to the southward.

Death of G. L. Nase, J. P.

The news of the death of Mr. G. L. Nase, J. P., of "Clover Hill," Ullinas, was received with many expressions of regret yesterday morning. Although it was known that the deceased had been in very indifferent health of late, no immediate danger was apprehended, and especially when he was in excellent spirits.

About 4 o'clock yesterday morning, however, he developed serious symptoms, and he was unable to get out of bed, and was highly respected by all sections of the community. He leaves a grown-up family of two sons and one daughter—Mr. A. L. Henson, late manager of the Oxford woolen mill, is at the head of the affair.

The late Mr. Nase was born at St. John (N. B.) in the Dominion of New Brunswick on 20th June, 1822, and was therefore just over 80 years of age at the time of his death. He was a son of Captain Nase and grandson of Colonel Nase and General Harland. Having had a severe attack of typhoid fever, the late Mr. Nase was recommended by his medical attendant to go to some warmer climate, and hearing of the gold discovery in Australia, he made up his mind to go there, and landed in Melbourne in 1852.

In common with the pioneers of those days he lost no time in making for the gold—the diggings in the interior. He worked on the goldfields at Danally, Maryborough, Crowick, Ballarat, etc., and was in the field of the latter city when the Eureka riot broke out, and witnessed the stirring scene connected therewith. When the field of the district was first thrown open for settlement, Mr. Nase wisely determined to invest in some, and settled at Ullinas. His heart, however, was not in agricultural pursuits, but in mining, and this principally occupied his attention. He was one of the pioneers in assisting to open up the goldfields of the New England, and occupied a position on the boards of directors of most of the early companies. He was chairman of directors of the old Australasian Company, and was in the position with the great and well-remembered disaster took place in that mine. He was also a director of the Bery Consols Company, which yielded such magnificent returns to shareholders. The deceased was one of the original shareholders in the Bery Consols extending mine, and also acted as director for a number of years. He was a type of the position a few weeks ago, owing to falling health, and his co-directors paid the deceased a well-deserved compliment by electing his son, Mr. Albert L. Nase, in his stead at the meeting at which the election took place very complimentary references were made to the great interest which the late Mr. Nase had evinced in the company since its inception. He was also a director of the old Bery Consols, and the deceased also held interests in mines in other parts of the state.

The late Mr. Nase was a type of the genuine mining investor of whom, to the great loss of the industry generally, there are few left in the state. When he took shares in a mine he bought them to hold, not to speculate with—to wait until the mine was developed, and "to see it through." It is not surprising, therefore, to learn that the deceased during his career as a mining investor had paid about $100,000 in calls. On the other hand, however, Mr. Nase received good sums in dividends, otherwise he could never have met such large obligations, and it is satisfactory to know that his perseverance and patience were rewarded, as he was very successful in mining investments on the whole. Like a number of other people who had money invested in public institutions, Mr. Nase lost considerably by failures of Melbourne banks, etc., in the "land boom" collapse some years ago. The deceased took great interest in the public affairs of his district, and was a valued member of the Creswick shire council for about 20 years, which showed that he represented the ratepayers of the north riding worthily, and enjoyed their entire confidence. He resigned as councillor about six years ago, and the position is now held by his son, Mr. Albert L. Nase. In addition to municipal affairs, the deceased identified himself in various public movements for the benefit of the district, being ever ready to assist—monetarily or otherwise. As showing the benevolent disposition of the deceased, it may be mentioned that he was a life governor of both the Clunes and Creswick hospitals. He was one of the oldest justices of the peace in the state, his appointment dating back to 30 or 40 years ago. Although he was not a member of any of the local churches, he was one of the oldest Masons in the district, having joined the lodge in St. John (Canada) before coming to Victoria. The deceased possessed a large number of friends, amongst them being the prominent residents of the district by all of whom he was highly esteemed. When the Weekly Times some time ago published a sketch of the life of Sir Alexander Paesock (then Mr. Paesock), the premier spoke as follows: "I would like to specially mention five gentlemen who have been associated with me since my boyhood, and who I am pleased to say, still remain my intimate and particular friends." One of the five gentlemen referred to was the late Mr. Nase.

The funeral will leave the deceased's late residence, Clover Hill, Ullinas, at 2 o'clock tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon for the Smeaton cemetery—Clunes Guardian and Gazette.

The gentleman referred to was well and favorably known in St. John, having kept store there in company with his wife, the late Henry Nase. He leaves three sisters and four brothers in America, Mrs. A. H. Lingley and Mrs. M. Ross, of Cambridge (Mass.); Mrs. Malcolm McKenzie, of Welford, Queens county (N. B.); Philip M. and Thomas P. Nase, of Virginia, U. S.; Henry and F. W. C. Nase, of Westfield, Kings county (N. B.), where G. L. Nase was born.

Reformed Episcopal Church Canadian Synod.

Toronto, Sept. 3.—(Special)—The Ottawa Synod of the Reformed Episcopal Church, in session here today, made several changes in prayer book, consecrated by change of sovereigns and decided to publish church paper. New calculation also adopted.

The officers for the ensuing year are: President, Bishop Fallows; vice-president, Rev. A. H. Hubery; treasurer, Rev. J. B. Donaldson; secretary, Rev. W. J. Giblin. The next meeting of the synod will be held at Belleville (Ont.), Oct. 4. The delegates expected from the maritime provinces today did not arrive.

A. R. Downer, of Edinburgh, is willing to buy any of the old 75-calibre guns of 200 yards, on level terms, for $20 a side or upwards.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY TELEGRAPH is published every Wednesday and Saturday at $1.00 a year, in advance, by The Telegraph Publishing Company, St. John, N.B., a company incorporated by act of the Legislature of New Brunswick.

Ordinary commercial advertisements taking the run of the paper. Each insertion $1.00 per inch. Advertisements of Wants, For Sale, etc., 50 cents for insertion of six lines or less. Notice of Births, Marriages and Deaths 25 cents for each insertion.

Without exception, names of new subscribers will not be entered until the money is received. Subscribers will be required to pay for papers sent them, whether they take them from the office or not, until all arrears are paid. There is no legal discontinuance of a newspaper subscription until all that is owed for it is paid.

It is a well-established principle of law that a man must pay for what he has. Hence, when a subscriber takes a paper from the post office, whether directed to him or somebody else, must pay for it.

Write plainly and take special pains with names. Attach your name and address to your communication so as to give an address in case the editor wishes to call on you.

The following agents are authorized to canvass and collect for The Semi-Weekly Telegraph, viz: W. M. SOMERVILLE, W. A. PEREIRA.

ST. JOHN, N. B. SEPTEMBER 6, 1902.

SUCCESS REAL OR APPARENT. It has been previously remarked in these columns that perhaps the present provincial exhibition partakes more of the nature of a fair than of an ideal exhibition.

Looking at the matter from this point of view, the success of an exhibit depends altogether upon the object aimed at. If the object were to collect representative products in all lines of industry from the various sections of New Brunswick and place them upon exhibition for study and comparative examination, the method of attaining such an end would be costly and perhaps unproductive.

If one examines the styles of the wagons most popular in demand and realizes the comfort and convenience they afford in comparison with those of say thirty years ago, one can quite appreciate the progress that has been made not only in the manufacture, but among the people able to own such conveyances, and when one is assured that so many hundreds of other have been sold and delivered in various parts of the province within a limited time, one begins to appreciate the comfort and satisfaction in existence to which our average people have attained.

If, on the other hand, the idea of the exhibition be merely to afford opportunity for such people as may choose to send exhibits, offering a limited prize list for the best specimens entered for competition in every line, and making amusement and entertainment and financial returns the prime characteristics for success, then the nature of the affair and the nature of the success attained assume quite a different aspect.

It is gratifying to find that the latest story about the Doukhobors in our north-west, in regard to their having become dangerous on account of a religious mania, is as likely to prove an unsuccessful piece of fiction as have been various other fantastic lies concerning them which have from time to time been perpetrated by sensational western journalists.

English papers at hand with details of the great naval review at Spithead on August 16, afford material for an interesting contrast with the past and notes as to the material progress and development of the British navy. There were assembled in last month's event twenty battleships, varying in size from 9,330 to 14,000 tons and manned by crews of from 386 to 757 men; six armored cruisers of from 5,000 to 12,000 tons and with crews of from 497 to 700 men; four protected cruisers of from 7,350 to 11,000 tons and with crews of from 520 to 677 men; twelve second-class cruisers of from 3,400 to 5,750 tons and with crews of from 273 to 450 men; two third-class cruisers of 2,135 tons and 225 men each; fifteen torpedo-boats, each with a crew of about 100 men; thirty-two torpedo-boat destroyers each with a crew of about 50 men; three sea-going training ships with 1,120 hands, and seven sea-going training briggs with some 300 hands.

Attracted a crowd. And, superficially at least, such a style of exhibition may be considered an unqualified success. Presuming that the latter type of fair is that which is this week attracting such unprecedented crowds to our exhibition grounds, the question arises whether it is satisfying and whether it can be permanently maintained with success? The thoughtful persons may be inclined to ask whether, if this style of show is continued, it may not in the natural order of events result in outsiders monopolizing the "exhibition" for advertising and business purposes, to the exclusion of those who would seek to encourage agricultural and industrial development within the province by maintaining an exhibition of purely provincial products? And even if the provincial government should continue to sanction such a free-for-all fair by its support, could it be continued the financial success that it apparently is today? If made more of a bazaar, would there not be danger of discouraging a large and important element of patronage that does not care for miscellaneous crowds and cheap shows? These are questions that the exhibition management must calculate to answer in the future, and although they are to be congratulated upon the present grand success in attendance and splendid show of live stock, which items are chronicled in The Telegraph from day to day, it must be admitted that the existing event has been very fortunate in regard to weather and especially fortunate this year at least, in having hit upon a date prior to the close of the holiday season, when the tourist travel is still in progress and when the people are still anxious to be entertained and amused by show reverting to the autumn chill so stimulative to hard work and merely indoor recreation. These circumstances, combined with its being the first of the events of its kind in the province, have undoubtedly proved elements in causing the exhibition to attain the boom it has. Whether they are elements that may always be depended upon for success is a question.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

As a result of burden, the Doukhobors would have proved that, like other women pioneer days, they could rise to an occasion. The men being away earning money on the railways to support their families through the coming winter, and the season rapidly advancing, with draught animals scarce, the women had dragged the ploughs, but under no compulsion save that of trying circumstances in which, as God-fearing and industrious people, they did the best they could.

Home Insurance Co'y.

NINETY-EIGHTH SEMI-ANNUAL STATEMENT, JULY, 1902. Cash Capital, $3,000,000.00 Reserve Premium Fund, 5,405,511.00 Unpaid Losses, 718,796.66 Unpaid Re-insurance, and other Claims, 675,454.43 Reserve for Taxes, 43,000.00 Net Surplus, 6,068,687.35

ington, St. Vincent, B. W. I. Sunday, Aug. 31.—A remarkable volcanic phenomenon occurred here between 9 and 10 o'clock last night. There was a startling series of detonations from La Soufriere louder than any since the terrible eruption of May 11. Each explosion shook the buildings of this town. The noises were terrific and gave the impression in every town and village of the island that the scene of disturbance was only about two miles away.

It is gratifying to learn that owing to the criticisms of the British press and the refusal of the German emperor to further countenance the matter, those international military horse endurance tests from Brussels to Ostend are likely to be abolished. Enough has been demonstrated to show that the best cared for horses do the best work and that all horses will do their best until they collapse from sheer exhaustion.

That rather extraordinary things are noted nowadays as evidence of insanity was illustrated the other day by the observation of a Newport (R. I.) paper in regard to a young gentleman who (quoting) it might be in line for us older boys to provide some decent playgrounds for the young 'uns. A boy has to have plenty of outdoor sport to keep him decent. Better give the boys base ball, cricket, football and a place to play these games as a counter attraction to the dime novel and the excitement of burglary. It costs less in the end, especially if you place any value on the boys. And they are pretty near all some of us have in the way of assets.

If the Lake Superior doesn't move soon it will pay the city to purchase the privilege of destroying such a starting advertisement of Canada's Winter Port. It's no wonder our people are so weak as to forget to claim the terminus of the Atlantic Line with the Superior staring them in the face. Now if she were in Halifax harbor it would not be so bad, as the fog would hide her from general view. I put this last sentence on so the Halifax papers couldn't copy the item.

There's nothing half so sweet in life as love's young dream. All the same those June bridegrooms are already confessing that the question of coal supply is a hideous nightmare. For myself, I have decided to rent a heated house. If that doesn't bring down the price of coal then my hoodoo has left me.

That surplus of over seven million dollars for the fiscal year operations of the Dominion government makes those annual deficits of Geo. E. Foster, the Napoleon of Finance, look like a cheap imitation of statesmanship.

The Labor men say that on Corporation Day look like a country circus when they turn out. But the Common Council evidently didn't think so.

This is certainly a curious spectacle: the mayor and a town committee from North Sydney coming to our city avowedly to coax away if possible one of our oldest and most eminent industries, and our own mayor and city council standing idly and listlessly by.

MOUNT PELEE CLAIMS THOUSAND VICTIMS.

Terrible Destruction Wrought by the Angry Volcano—Eruption of Saturday Last Drives People Panic-stricken from Martinique.

Two luminous circles like rainbows appeared in the cloudless sky to the north-west. They were presumably the reflection of the flames in the crater of La Soufriere. Subsequently a dense cloud of steam arose from the crater but this soon dispersed. The weather today is fair.

Telegraphic reports have been received here from the islands of Grenada, Trinidad and Barbados saying loud detonations were heard there between 9 and 10 o'clock last night. The explosions were similar to those heard when Mount Pelee and La Soufriere were in eruption. This phenomenon was not attended by serious results on St. Vincent, but fears are entertained here for people on Martinique as Mount Pelee is known to be still terribly agitated.

Pointe a Pitre, Guadeloupe, Sept. 2.—The French liner Canada arrived here this morning from Martinique. Her officers confirm the reports of the eruption of Mont Pelee. They declare also that 1,000 were killed at Martinique and many severely wounded. The sea entered Fort de France 40 feet. The French battleships Sachel and Tagis are bringing the inhabitants of the northern part of the island to Fort de France.

Rev. Father Nazy, of Mornes Rouge, was frightfully burned and died of his wounds. The previous scenes of distress and panic are being repeated. The eruption of Aug. 30 was exceedingly violent and far reaching.

Bassee Terre, Guadeloupe, Sept. 2.—It has been learned from the gendarmes of Martinique that 1,069 persons were killed and 1,500 injured during the last eruption of Mount Pelee.

According to an official account Mornes Rouge and a great part of Ajoupa Bouillon were destroyed. The scene between the river Capote and the valley of Champ Fleure and Fonds Marie-Reine has been devastated. Mount Capote suffered severely and the hills around Bassee Pointe were burned.

The governor of the island is arranging for the evacuation of the northern parishes and the removal of the wounded. The atmosphere at Martinique is reported almost unbearable.

Upper Canadian Spice Combine. Toronto, Sept. 3.—(Special)—It is stated that the leading spice men of Ontario have formed a combine with capital of $300,000. The leading mills of Toronto, Hamilton and London are said to be in the deal.

Boston Milk Price Rises. Boston, Sept. 3.—After considering the crop conditions and other factors, the farmers supplying the Boston milk contractors, at a meeting today, voted to demand 40 cents a can from the Boston contractors during the coming winter.

INTERCOLONIAL RAILWAY On and after Sunday, June 15, 1902, trains will run daily (Sunday excepted), as follows: TRAINS LEAVE ST. JOHN.

TRAIN ARRIVE AT ST. JOHN.

POTTINGER, General Manager. Moncton, N. B., June 30, 1902. GEO. CARVIL, C. T. A. City Ticket Office: 1 King Street, St. John, N. B.

Model Underwear Stanfield's Unsinkable is Model Underwear it fits the body like a second skin. Always a perfect fit, always comfortable. Made in all sizes. If your dealer has not your size write THE TRURO KNITTING MILLS CO. Ltd., TRURO, N.S.

Settlers not renegades. It seems hardly necessary to argue the negative of the proposition that "when a man leaves his native country to become a settler he becomes a renegade," but that is the matter that is receiving considerable discussion in Ontario and the west at present. A renegade, according to the dictionary, is "one who selfishly or wickedly deserts his party and joins another." The term to be correctly applied must be founded upon the demonstrated motive of the individual. Because fortune has led a man into another country, and because he is a native of that country, and because he is a citizen of that country, it does not follow that he is a renegade. If he were, then the American republic must be a nation of renegades and all the foreigners who come to us and become good Canadians, are renegades. It is even possible that immigrants may come to us through entirely selfish motives, but if there is nothing wicked in their coming they are not renegades. That is a hard word to apply to any man and unless he thoroughly deserves it the term should not be thought of.

Who was to blame? An interesting accident, which will probably result in an action for damages, occurred the other day in northern New York. A lady who attended the Cortland County Fair patronized the Ferris wheel, and while high in the air became suddenly faint. Her mouth opened and out fell her false teeth. They dropped a distance of 25 feet and struck another woman on the face, knocking her senseless and seriously damaging her beauty. The question arises, who is liable? If the sufferer sues the woman who owns the teeth, the reply may be made that the Ferris wheel was to blame. The proprietor of the wheel might reply that he could not guarantee to keep a woman's mouth shut, and if held to blame he would be obliged to exact a guarantee from patrons that their teeth would not drop. This might throw the whole blame upon the dentist for insecure work, and if the dentist had not been paid further complications might ensue.

Warm time for a cold town. The election of a representative to the House of Commons from the Yukon will add a new and rather unique feature to the composition of parliament, just as the election, which is to take place on December 2 (nomination Nov. 4) will be a unique event in the territory. It is worthy of note in this connection that the election will mark another conspicuous advantage which the residents of the Canadian section of the Yukon have over the American territory, the population in Alaska, under the American flag, having no representative in Congress nor any other voice in the councils of the American nation. Their only contact with the United States government is through the territorial governor appointed by the president, and the autocratic governmental officials under him. They have not even any legislature. This is the beauty of British institutions and of the Canadian system which, when it elicits a vote in Dawson and vicinity in December, will no doubt cause a warm time of rejoicing.

Note and comment. In two weeks St. John will have a real murder trial. The population of Toronto is now estimated to exceed 235,000. The exhibition attendance compared with previous years shows progress. The directors of the D. and D. school are wondering how they came to take so much for granted, remarks the Fredericton Herald. If the price of parlor fuel does not decrease, the amount of billing next winter may exceed the volume of cooing. Those maritime board of trade men at Sydney seem to have marred their good time by running up against Judge Meagher. The great St. Lawrence river is surely getting all the bouquets it has earned. The Quebec Board of Trade calls it the "fluvial artery" of Canada. It is now a settled fact that St. John is known to at least two eminent New York millionaires—August Belmont and Russell Sage. But Andrew Carnegie is still to be heard from. It would appear that the scientists have not yet successfully diagnosed the true inwardness of the trouble with Mount Pelee. Further prophecies in regard to the future of Martinique are now in order. The fact that Prince Edward Island is about to institute such an extensive system of cold storage as is set forth in our correspondence, is proof positive that the island province cannot be regarded as a true child of "Our Lady of the Snows." The Manitoba government arrangers for the distribution of harvest laborers this year bid fair to give much better results than the haphazard system of last year. While Montreal, Quebec, Halifax and Sydney are scrapping as to which will become the fast line terminus, it is easy to see that the best compromise may be made by selecting St. John. Rats are to be exterminated from ships, by order of the London local government board, by blowing through the holds a medium of carbonic oxide for the production of which a special apparatus has been built, adequate to kill all the rats in a vessel in half an hour. Rather a pity that Mr. Belmont did not

PRISONERS WANTED ADMITTANCE, BUT COULDN'T EVEN BREAK INTO THE JAIL.

Sheriff Foster Arrives from Woodstock With Two Men for Dorchester, and Substitute Turnkey at the Big Stone Building Refuses to Take Them for the Night.

Sheriff Foster, of Carleton county, must think St. John's jail has become an exclusive place since it has been all fixed up for Thursday night admission...

BIG OUTPUT OF CAPE BRETON MINES.

288,288 Tons in August - More Than 300,000 in September Expected.

Gloucester, C. B., Sept. 3.-The monthly output of the six collieries operated by the Dominion Coal Company for August was 288,288 tons.

There is no railway connection between Bergen and Christiania, and all postal communications between the two cities are delivered by boat.

For these reasons this plan was preferred to any other, because during the trip the boats could be thoroughly tested...

There is no railway connection between Bergen and Christiania, and all postal communications between the two cities are delivered by boat.

WHERE IS THE JACKDAW HIDING?

GLAD TO GET ANYWHERE.

LATE VISITORS HAVE TROUBLE GETTING LODGINGS.

But find the Exhibition Bureau on Market Square a Great Help—Midnight Party of Ladies on Bank of Montreal Steps.

As shown by the reports from the exhibition the attendance this year is unprecedented. The lodging bureau on the corner of King and Prince William streets has its capacity fully taxed daily...

Wednesday night these officials told the Telegraph that with the exception of a few private homes in the city...

Wednesday the bureau was the mecca of many more late visitors. Considerable difficulty was experienced in disposing of some twenty persons who came to the bureau...

At an early hour Thursday morning several ladies were noticed sitting on the steps of the C. P. R. office on King street with their baggage piled about them.

AN ELECTION CAUCUS.

Supporters of Daniel Mullin's Candidature Meet and Begin Organization.

A meeting of representative citizens was held last evening in the interests of the candidature of Daniel Mullin, K. C., for the local legislature.

A very pretty wedding took place at the residence of A. Atchison, Mecklenburg street, on Wednesday afternoon.

A very pretty wedding took place at the residence of Alex G. Gregory on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

A Boston man, who gives his name as John Smith, is now at the public hospital, suffering from a bullet wound in the leg.

A committee was appointed to act with the Stock Exchange of the Dominion, Halifax, and St. John's, in selecting the time and place of the next meeting.

The executive of the Farmers and Dairy-men's Association met Thursday morning.

A committee was appointed to act with the Stock Exchange of the Dominion, Halifax, and St. John's, in selecting the time and place of the next meeting.

"He can't afford to let her spend so much money," she said. "Well, perhaps he'd rather have a headache with his creditors than with his wife."

VISITING OLD HOME.

Henry Berryman in St. John on Visit from Central America.

LAST HERE 20 YEARS AGO.

Henry Berryman, of Minas de Oro, Honduras, Central America, old St. John boy, is at present visiting his sister, Mrs. Prescott, of Coburg street.

Mr. Berryman told the Telegraph many things of interest. He saw a few changes in the city since his last visit. He was particularly struck by the beautification of the city since his last visit.

Speaking of his adopted home, Mr. Berryman said that Central America, especially in the part where he was settled, offered admirable inducements to foreign capital.

COUNTRY MARKET.

Fish Famine Continues - Produce Plenty - Retail Prices to Date.

In the country market this week everything is rather quiet. In the fish stalls the famine is still on.

Best, per lb. ... 0.10 0.12 Spring lamb, per lb. ... 0.10 0.12 Beef, per lb. ... 0.10 0.12 Pork, per lb. ... 0.10 0.12

Best, per lb. ... 0.10 0.12 Spring lamb, per lb. ... 0.10 0.12 Beef, per lb. ... 0.10 0.12

Best, per lb. ... 0.10 0.12 Spring lamb, per lb. ... 0.10 0.12 Beef, per lb. ... 0.10 0.12

Best, per lb. ... 0.10 0.12 Spring lamb, per lb. ... 0.10 0.12 Beef, per lb. ... 0.10 0.12

Best, per lb. ... 0.10 0.12 Spring lamb, per lb. ... 0.10 0.12 Beef, per lb. ... 0.10 0.12

Best, per lb. ... 0.10 0.12 Spring lamb, per lb. ... 0.10 0.12 Beef, per lb. ... 0.10 0.12

Best, per lb. ... 0.10 0.12 Spring lamb, per lb. ... 0.10 0.12 Beef, per lb. ... 0.10 0.12

Best, per lb. ... 0.10 0.12 Spring lamb, per lb. ... 0.10 0.12 Beef, per lb. ... 0.10 0.12

WHAT THE CAT-OWL SAID TO MR. SALTER.

A Reminiscence of Miramichi Lumbering of Years Ago.

"I didn't sleep well last night," said Mr. Millet Salter yesterday, talking to a group on Pallen's Corner.

"I didn't sleep well last night," said Mr. Millet Salter yesterday, talking to a group on Pallen's Corner.

"I didn't sleep well last night," said Mr. Millet Salter yesterday, talking to a group on Pallen's Corner.

VACATION

may take you Camping, Fishing, Cycling or Shooting

You cannot be incomplete without this delicious thirst quencher

SOVEREIGN Lime Juice

SOVEREIGN Lime Juice

SOVEREIGN Lime Juice

Suits, Overcoats, Ulsters

The new Fall Stock we told you of last week has come out quickly and much of it is now spread over each of the Maritime Provinces and the Eastern States.

In addition to this stock we have a few ULSTERS and OVERCOATS left from last season which we offer at about half the regular price.

THE PRIZES ARE: MEN'S ULSTERS prices start at $3.00 and up MEN'S OVERCOATS, prices start at $2.00 and up

Mixed Paint! Thorne's Pure Ready-mixed Paint, a combination of pure white lead, linseed oil and driers.

Advertisement for KNO-BUG, Bag Killer and Potato Grower, by T. McAVITY & SONS, St. John, N. B.

Advertisement for Strachan's Gilt Edge Soap, wash away as readily as other soaps, and does the work more thoroughly.

Advertisement for DR. A. M. MACDONALD ELECTRIC CO., 2269 St. Catherine Street, Montreal.

Advertisement for HEADLIGHT, HEADLIGHT MATCH, E. B. Eddy's 'HEADLIGHT' Parlor Match.

TEACHERS OF ST. JOHN COUNTY GATHERED IN ANNUAL CONVENTION.

Proceedings of the Institute Meeting at High School—List of Those Who Have Been Enrolled on the Secretary's Attendance Sheet.

The annual meeting of the St. John County Teachers' Institute opened in the high school building Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, the pupils of the schools having a holiday. The attendance at the teachers' convention was large. Dr. H. S. Bridges, of St. John, presided and in opening the meeting welcomed those present and explained that the purpose of the institute was to prevent the holding of the institute this year.

The morning session was consumed chiefly by the reading of the minutes of the previous year and the reading of a paper on the part of Dr. H. S. Bridges, of St. John, in which he explained the purpose of the institute and the work to be done during the year.

The report of the secretary-treasurer, Miss O. R. Fullerton, was read, showing a balance on hand of $53.76. Doctor Bridges, in his annual address, spoke on "Higher Education and Practical Life." The paper was scholarly and greatly in favor of the study of the ancient classics as the foundation for the correct learning of the languages, and of geometry as including the mind's reason for itself. John Montgomery and Joseph Harrington, in brief addresses, endorsed the paper.

The teachers convened again at 2 p. m., Doctor Bridges presiding. The afternoon session was taken up with the reading and discussion of two papers. The Misses Barlow and Gregg read papers on primary teaching and Miss May Kiddie read a paper on advanced reading. All of these papers were cleverly written. They were warmly received.

At the conclusion of the reading of Miss Kiddie's paper, Doctor Bridges invited a general discussion and he so opened the discussion and sometimes one syllable was divided into two. This he said should be carefully studied and should receive particular attention from both pupil and teacher. After the closing of the session became general. Among the participants were Principal Henry Town, of Centennial School, who strongly denounced some of the lessons in the newly prescribed readers, as being too dense and uninteresting for the scholars. Others agreed in this opinion.

The meeting all through was successful, interesting and very well attended, both by local and county teachers. Those present at the institute, as far as have been enrolled, are: Annie Allen, Geo. E. Armstrong, Helen Adams, Mary Anderson, Blanche Albert, Wm. E. Bell, Edith Bell, Lily Bell, Mary Bell, John Bell, Emma Bell, Grace Bell, Emily C. Bardsley, M. D. Brown, Wm. Brodie, Mildred Brown, Edna Barrow, Ethel E. Brough, Elizabeth Corbett, Edna A. Brittain, Louise C. Brown, Albert M. Brown, Katherine Buckley, Chas. J. Callaghan, Margaret Campbell, Jessie Cairns, Harry R. Corwell, Elizabeth Corbett, Edna J. Connell, Ada Down, Edith A. Comben, Emma A. Colwell, Kate Cotter, Minnie R. Carlyn, Alice M. Carleton, Harriet S. Comben, Minnie C. O'Connell, Helen Dale, Angus Dewar, Jennie S. Drake, Geo. M. Dako, Frances Desautel, Elizabeth Dellow, Pauline A. Delaney, Mary J. Doherty, Ethel M. Durand, Geo. W. Dell, Isabel Donaldson, A. L. Dykesman, Leola Eastbrook, Mary C. Evans, June W. Estey, Margaret Emmerson, Annie Emmerson, Ethel S. Emmerson, Ethel S. Emery, May Floyd, Mabel F. Finn, Leola R. Fullerton, Lydia J. Fullerton, Beatha E. Forbes, Hannah H. Floyd, Minnie S. Fowler, Kate Graywood, Mary G. Gunn, Jessie C. Galloway, Maud Gibson, Miss M. Gregory, Edith A. Godard, Alice G. Gale, Mary E. Gallivan, Edna Gilmore, H. D. Gregg, Margaret R. Gray, Annie L. Gault, Maud Gibson, Miss M. Gregory, Regina G. Gleason, M. O. Howard, Joseph Harrington, Laura A. Hayter, Mary B. Harrington, Elizabeth P. Hayes, Annie H. Hayes, V. Hayes, Annie H. Honeywell, Catherine M. Hogan, Lottie M. Howard, Pannie E. Henderson, Annie M. Hayter, Mary E. Hoyt, Amy Iddleton, Laura J. Ingraham, Kate Kerr, Ida A. Keegin, Eva M. Keegin, Maud Kelley, J. V. Keirstead, M. E. Knowlton, M. Emma Kirkpatrick, M. E. Kelley, Maud L. Kavanah, M. Louise Lingey, Minnie V. Lawrence, Agnes E. Lucas, Alice K. Lingey, Kate E. Lawlor, Pauline Livingston, Jessie Lawson, Grace Marbury, Edie O. Macdonald, Jessie E. MacLean, Elizabeth Maguire, Jessie Milligan, W. L. McDiarmid, Minnie E. Murphy, Mabel Murray, Annie H. McQuinn, Miss Maud Keen, Edith McBeath, Wm. McLean, Alice H. Moran, John Montgomery, Kathleen McFarland, John MacIntosh, Elizabeth McInerney, W. J. S. Nyle, Bessie A. MacLeod, Lillie MacKay, Margaret McCusker, Ethel McAlary, Jennie H. Murray, Alice McCarron, Annie McLean, Annie K. Miller, Maggie L. McMillan, Elizabeth McNaughton, Minnie McGuire, Alice Mahoney, Jennie Munro, M. A. Nunnery, W. A. Newry, M. J. O'Brien, Stella Payson, Edna G. Powers, Emily G. Pidgeon, William Parlee, Bertha H. Plummer, S. S. Priddy, Annie A. Powers, T. E. Powers, P. M. Quinn, Josephine Quinn, Alice M. Read, Annie D. Robb, I. T. Richardson, Jean Rowan, Laura L. Ralston, M. D. Sweeney, Libban Simpson, Thomas Stohart, Harriet A. Smith, Bessie Stevenson, Jessie Sutherland, M. H. Shaw, Jean Scott, James H. Suggs, Annie Simpson, Grace P. Sharp, Mary P. Sugrue, Margaret C. Sharp, Margaret Strong, E. Kate Turner, Harriet M. Thompson, Henry Tovey, Jessie Thompson, Jessie Thompson, F. Iva Thorne, Minnie Tingley, Enoch Thompson, Florence Vail, R. K. Van Wart, L. L. Waters, Gertrude L. Webb, Deborah M. Worden, Edna M. Wetmore, H. May Ward, Louise Wetmore, Ada Wright, Bessie Wilson, L. H. Yancliff. The institute will resume this morning and continue during the afternoon.

MURDERER IN RANKS OF BRITISH ARMY.

Remorse Overcoming Him He Gives Himself Up—Killed to Save His Sick Wife.

London, Sept. 3.—From Colchester comes announcement of an arrest and confession that sounds like a romance from fiction. It is the Bedfordshire regiment, quartered there, was a soldier named Charles B. Toll. All his comrades knew about him, was that he was an American. He had an excellent reputation in the ranks, but recently had been promoted to the rank of lance corporal.

BREWERY ME FIND ON DOVER LAWN.

Dover, N. H., Sept. 4.—A severed human hand which was found by L. K. Ross, of this city, on the lawn in front of his residence on Summer street, set the police to investigating this afternoon. The hand proved to be the one amputated from John O'Brien of Boscawen (Mass.) three weeks ago. After a search the member was thrown into the furnace in which there was no fire. On the furnace being cleaned out later the hand, together with the other contents, was thrown into the backyard and it is thought that some dog carried it to where it was found.

ST. JOHN MAN'S AWFUL DEATH AT SYDNEY.

Sydney, C. B., Sept. 2.—(Special)—A horrible accident occurred here tonight. James Wilson, of St. John, aged 25, while shunting cars in the I. C. R. yard slipped on the track and fell. Before he could rise he was struck by the rear end of the engine. His left shoulder and arm were almost severed and the engine pushed his body along the track and before his cries reached the ears of the driver the wheels had passed over the poor fellow's body almost cutting it in two.

BIG INDUSTRIAL BOOM FOR PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.

Capitalists With a Million Dollars to Establish Cold Storage and Canneries.

WORK TO BEGIN AT ONCE. Capacity to Be Sufficient to Handle Island's Annual Fruit and Vegetable Products—Nova Scotia and Newfoundland Have a Share—$40,000 a Year in Wages.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Sept. 3.—(Special)—A company of American and Canadian capitalists, representing it, is stated, $1,000,000, to establish three cold storage warehouses on Prince Edward Island.

The capacity is to be sufficient for the handling of all the annual products of the island. The scheme also includes cold storage warehouses in Nova Scotia and Newfoundland and to build at Charlottetown (P. E. I.), a large canning factory to have capacity for all the fruit and vegetables of the island.

An immense pork packing and meat curing establishment for the maritime provinces and Newfoundland is also to be established at Charlottetown. The company is to maintain and operate the above for 30 years and expend $200,000 in the first year and $40,000 annually in wages in P. E. I.

The local government guarantees to issue mortgage bonds for the company to provide a sinking fund. No monopoly is to be permitted. The properties are to be exempt from taxation. Work is to start at once and a great industrial boom for Prince Edward Island will be on.

TO SEND BALLOONS ACROSS THE SAHARA.

French War Office Experiments—Camera to Work Every Quarter Hour.

New York, Sept. 3.—A London cable to The Sun says that engineering prints a description of the type of balloon ordered by the French war office. An attempt is to be made to send it across the Desert of Sahara. The balloon will not be manned. The sole living occupants will be six pigeons who will be in the lower compartment of a small car. Water ballast will be carried in a tank suspended by wires below the car. Attached to the valve is a bomb which will explode on hearing a steel ball weighing twenty kilos, which will keep the valve closed, except when the weight of the steel ball is removed, as when it touches the ground. The valve will then open, the water will flow, and the balloon will go up again. Even after a loss of a portion of the water the valve will remain closed as long as the steel ball is suspended. The upper division of the car is provided with a camera, which is capable of taking a photograph every fifteen minutes. The car will also carry a hypsometer, a barometer and thermometer. All the instruments are capable of working five days. There are also arrangements for the escape of the pigeons when the balloon strikes the ground.

ANTI-IMPERIALISTS WAR ON ROOSEVELT.

Denounce President's Philippine Policy, and Oppose Occupation.

Boston, Sept. 4.—After a meeting of the executive committee of the New England Anti-Imperialist League today, the following declaration signed by George S. Boutwell, president, and Irving Winslow, secretary, was issued:

MASONIC HONOR FOR J. ROSS ROBERTSON.

Only Once Before Has Canadian Received Degree Now Conferred on Toronto Man.

Toronto, Sept. 4.—(Special)—The Telegram's cable from London, Sept. 2, quarterly communication of the United Grand Lodge of England, F. & A. M., last night, the Earl of Warwick announced that in commemoration of the coronation of the Duke of Cornwall, most worshipful grand master, had conferred the honorary rank of past grand master of Emulo upon "Bro. J. Ross Robertson, of New Zealand; Vice-Admiral Lawson, of New South Wales, and J. Ross Robertson, of Toronto, and Mr. Hackett, of Western Australia, and the rank of past grand master upon Mr. Cookburn of South Australia. The only other Canadian upon whom the honor of past grand master of England has been conferred was the late Sir John A. Macdonald."

THE KAISER AT SEPTEN.

Prussian Poland, Sept. 3.—The emperor and empress arrived at the palace ground at an early hour today. His majesty rode along the line of troops and delivered new orders to the colonels of the regiments, accompanying each presentation with a few words.

SEVERAL SUFFER IN FIRE AT TRURO.

Four Societies, a Bank, and Music Store Encounter Loss.

Truro, N. S., Sept. 2.—(Special)—Fire broke out about 2 o'clock this morning in the upper part of the three-story building on Inglis street, owned by Loomis McKay. The first floor was occupied by the Commercial Bank of Windsor and G. B. Faulkner's music store in second and third stories were used as offices and lodge rooms. The latter were destroyed, while the lower flat was very badly damaged by water and smoke.

FOUND DROWNED IN THE ANNAPOLIS RIVER.

Body of Robert Pyke of Kentville is Picked Up—Inquest Held.

Annapolis, Sept. 3.—(Special)—The body of Robert Pyke, of Kentville, was found floating in the Annapolis river here this morning. He was more than 60 years of age. He arrived here yesterday to take in the Labor Day celebration and is supposed to be making a short run on the railway bridge and fallen over into the water. An inquest was held and a verdict returned of "found drowned." The body will be forwarded to Kentville tomorrow morning.

MAN KILLED BY TRAIN AT LONDON DERRY, N. S.

Not Sure Who He Was, But Jury Determines Cause of Death.

Truro, N. S., Sept. 2.—(Special)—The body of a man was found today on the I. C. E. R. track, a short distance from Londonderry station. The body was considerably mangled. An inquest was held yesterday before J. S. Pappert and the verdict was that the death was caused by his being run over by the train.

CROPS TOO HEAVY FOR THE RAILROADS.

Handling the Harvest Now the Great Problem in Manitoba.

Winnipeg, Sept. 2.—(Special)—The weather was cool last night, but there was no frost and with the exception of a few scattered showers fine weather prevails today. The great problem now is the handling of the crops. It is generally acknowledged the C. P. R. will not be able to cope with the demand for cars and the Canadian Northern Railway is in poor shape.

ANDREW W. ROBB MARRIES HALIFAX GIRL.

Weds Daughter of Mr. Dennis of the Nova Scotia Capital.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 2.—(Special)—Andrew W. Robb, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., of Charlottetown, and Helen T. Dennis, daughter of William Dennis, of the Halifax Herald, were married this afternoon at Coburg Road Methodist church by Rev. J. D. Blackey, assisted by Rev. H. B. Mackay. Bruce Robb, brother of the groom, was best man, and Clara Dennis, the bride's sister, bridesmaid. Little Sara, daughter of Bruce Robb, accompanied the bride.

ANTI-IMPERIALISTS WAR ON ROOSEVELT.

Denounce President's Philippine Policy, and Oppose Occupation.

Boston, Sept. 4.—After a meeting of the executive committee of the New England Anti-Imperialist League today, the following declaration signed by George S. Boutwell, president, and Irving Winslow, secretary, was issued:

MASONIC HONOR FOR J. ROSS ROBERTSON.

Only Once Before Has Canadian Received Degree Now Conferred on Toronto Man.

Toronto, Sept. 4.—(Special)—The Telegram's cable from London, Sept. 2, quarterly communication of the United Grand Lodge of England, F. & A. M., last night, the Earl of Warwick announced that in commemoration of the coronation of the Duke of Cornwall, most worshipful grand master, had conferred the honorary rank of past grand master of Emulo upon "Bro. J. Ross Robertson, of New Zealand; Vice-Admiral Lawson, of New South Wales, and J. Ross Robertson, of Toronto, and Mr. Hackett, of Western Australia, and the rank of past grand master upon Mr. Cookburn of South Australia. The only other Canadian upon whom the honor of past grand master of England has been conferred was the late Sir John A. Macdonald."

THE KAISER AT SEPTEN.

Prussian Poland, Sept. 3.—The emperor and empress arrived at the palace ground at an early hour today. His majesty rode along the line of troops and delivered new orders to the colonels of the regiments, accompanying each presentation with a few words.

SEVERAL SUFFER IN FIRE AT TRURO.

Four Societies, a Bank, and Music Store Encounter Loss.

Truro, N. S., Sept. 2.—(Special)—Fire broke out about 2 o'clock this morning in the upper part of the three-story building on Inglis street, owned by Loomis McKay. The first floor was occupied by the Commercial Bank of Windsor and G. B. Faulkner's music store in second and third stories were used as offices and lodge rooms. The latter were destroyed, while the lower flat was very badly damaged by water and smoke.

FOUND DROWNED IN THE ANNAPOLIS RIVER.

Body of Robert Pyke of Kentville is Picked Up—Inquest Held.

Annapolis, Sept. 3.—(Special)—The body of Robert Pyke, of Kentville, was found floating in the Annapolis river here this morning. He was more than 60 years of age. He arrived here yesterday to take in the Labor Day celebration and is supposed to be making a short run on the railway bridge and fallen over into the water. An inquest was held and a verdict returned of "found drowned." The body will be forwarded to Kentville tomorrow morning.

OPPOSITION TICKET ABOUT DECIDED ON.

Shaw, Hatheway, McInerney and Either Baxter or Macrae.

MR. HATHWAY'S STAND. Will Not Accept Candidature Which Labor Council is to Offer Unless Backed by Local Opposition Party—Mr. McInerney Says He Hasn't Been Offered Nomination Yet.

Local election stories were given a fresh impetus Tuesday by the report that the opposition ticket is all out and dried and requires only to be formally ratified in the conventions.

According to the information given the Telegraph, William Shaw, M. P., will head the ticket, the other members of which will be W. Frank Hatheway, George V. McInerney and either John B. M. Baxter or A. W. Macrae. The election of the fourth member is a matter of doubt.

Both Aldermen Macrae and Alderman Baxter have a number of friends who are booming them for the choice. Messrs. Hatheway and McInerney are the candidates chosen by the Labor party and neither of them will accept the labor party's nomination unless it is endorsed by the opposition party and as far as can be learned the laborers have not yet asked for this endorsement.

A Telegraph reporter Tuesday asked Mr. McInerney if he had been officially tendered the nomination. He replied in the negative and absolutely refused to discuss political matters or his probable policy until he has been waited upon by the representatives of the Trades and Labor Council.

Mr. Hatheway was interviewed and said he had not yet received the nomination. He added that the only condition upon which he would accept it is that he would work in their interests but he would not enter the campaign unless assured of the co-operation of the labor party.

Meanwhile Daniel Mallin has stated that he is in the field and this adds interest to the situation.

WEDS DAUGHTER OF MR. DENNIS OF THE HERALD—CEREMONY AT THE NOVA SCOTIA CAPITAL.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 2.—(Special)—Andrew W. Robb, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., of Charlottetown, and Helen T. Dennis, daughter of William Dennis, of the Halifax Herald, were married this afternoon at Coburg Road Methodist church by Rev. J. D. Blackey, assisted by Rev. H. B. Mackay. Bruce Robb, brother of the groom, was best man, and Clara Dennis, the bride's sister, bridesmaid. Little Sara, daughter of Bruce Robb, accompanied the bride.

ANTI-IMPERIALISTS WAR ON ROOSEVELT.

Denounce President's Philippine Policy, and Oppose Occupation.

Boston, Sept. 4.—After a meeting of the executive committee of the New England Anti-Imperialist League today, the following declaration signed by George S. Boutwell, president, and Irving Winslow, secretary, was issued:

MASONIC HONOR FOR J. ROSS ROBERTSON.

Only Once Before Has Canadian Received Degree Now Conferred on Toronto Man.

Toronto, Sept. 4.—(Special)—The Telegram's cable from London, Sept. 2, quarterly communication of the United Grand Lodge of England, F. & A. M., last night, the Earl of Warwick announced that in commemoration of the coronation of the Duke of Cornwall, most worshipful grand master, had conferred the honorary rank of past grand master of Emulo upon "Bro. J. Ross Robertson, of New Zealand; Vice-Admiral Lawson, of New South Wales, and J. Ross Robertson, of Toronto, and Mr. Hackett, of Western Australia, and the rank of past grand master upon Mr. Cookburn of South Australia. The only other Canadian upon whom the honor of past grand master of England has been conferred was the late Sir John A. Macdonald."

THE KAISER AT SEPTEN.

Prussian Poland, Sept. 3.—The emperor and empress arrived at the palace ground at an early hour today. His majesty rode along the line of troops and delivered new orders to the colonels of the regiments, accompanying each presentation with a few words.

SEVERAL SUFFER IN FIRE AT TRURO.

Four Societies, a Bank, and Music Store Encounter Loss.

Truro, N. S., Sept. 2.—(Special)—Fire broke out about 2 o'clock this morning in the upper part of the three-story building on Inglis street, owned by Loomis McKay. The first floor was occupied by the Commercial Bank of Windsor and G. B. Faulkner's music store in second and third stories were used as offices and lodge rooms. The latter were destroyed, while the lower flat was very badly damaged by water and smoke.

FOUND DROWNED IN THE ANNAPOLIS RIVER.

Body of Robert Pyke of Kentville is Picked Up—Inquest Held.

Annapolis, Sept. 3.—(Special)—The body of Robert Pyke, of Kentville, was found floating in the Annapolis river here this morning. He was more than 60 years of age. He arrived here yesterday to take in the Labor Day celebration and is supposed to be making a short run on the railway bridge and fallen over into the water. An inquest was held and a verdict returned of "found drowned." The body will be forwarded to Kentville tomorrow morning.

SYDNEY DELEGATES CONFIDENT THAT THEY WILL GET PORTLAND MILLS.

Mayor McKenzie and Colleagues Offered Strong Inducements to the Directors of the Industry During a Trip Up River on the "Lily"—Details of the Negotiations Not Revealed.

Mayor D. D. McKenzie, of North Sydney, accompanied by Councilors Hackett and Peppet, arrived in the city yesterday morning and registered at the Dufferin Hotel. At the conclusion of yesterday's conference they evidently were fairly confident that they would carry off the Portland rolling mills.

During the forenoon they were shown through the mills and Maritime Mill Works by several of the directors, to whom they expressed themselves as much pleased with appearance of the works. Mayor McKenzie and Peppet met yesterday afternoon in the office of R. O. Edman to confer with the board of directors. Instead, however, the board extended an invitation to the visitors and to His Worship Mayor White and the members of the common council and others to a sail up river on the tug Lily.

Following are those who were on board the tug: His Worship Mayor McKenzie and Councilors Hackett and Peppet, of North Sydney; R. C. Elkin, D. J. Purdy, James Mumford, Frederick B. Marvin, S. V. Elkin, Eben Perkins, Aid. McDougl, and Aid. Bullock. The latter is one of the rolling mill directors.

The trip up river was made as far as Brown's Falls. It was a very pleasant affair, the weather being unusually much superior to that in the city. At the flats dinner was enjoyed at Bell's Hotel. James Manchester presided. All returned to the city by 9 o'clock.

A discussion relative to the removal of the rolling mills to North Sydney was held by the Sydney representatives and the directors while on board, but when questions were asked they stated they were not in a position to give for publication anything which passed. Mayor McKenzie, in conversation last evening, said that the transferring of the works to either Sydney would yield equal advantages. He pointed out the facilities which North Sydney offers for the construction of business such as the rolling mills and mentioned a few of the great industries which lay in or near North Sydney. One of these was the Nova Scotia Stock Works. He drew attention to North Sydney harbor and mentioned the strong probability which exists of the harbor becoming a port of call for the line and a centre for the distribution of freight. While he would not disclose anything which had passed in discussion on board the Lily, yet he would say that leaving the colleagues had offered certain inducements which could not but have an influence with the board of directors.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE MEETINGS.

Dates and Places Where Addresses on Dairy and Agricultural Subjects Will Be Delivered—The Speakers.

Table with columns for Meetings of Farmers' Institute, Dates, and Speakers. Includes locations like Charlottetown, New Brunswick, and various speakers.

RESULTS OF D. R. A. MEET.

Table with columns for Yesterday's Prize Winners and Terrible Tale of Suffering by Esquimaux Reaches Ottawa. Lists names, ages, and details of the suffering.

REV. J. D. FREEMAN. WILL HOLD INQUEST.

Former St. John Pastor Established With His Family in Toronto. At Relative's Request, Attorney-General Orders Death of Thomas Wooden Investigated.

Toronto, Sept. 4.—(Special)—Rev. J. D. Freeman, the new pastor of Blooe Street Baptist church, with his family, has arrived from St. John (N. B.) and taken up residence at 14 Yorkville avenue.

Dwelling and Barns at Blissville Burned. Blissett, Sunbury county, Sept. 3.—Alexander Worden lost his dwelling house and barns and all his hay and pigs by fire. His grandson set some straw on fire in the barn yard. The loss is $1,000, and there is no insurance.

The spoon is very ancient, and many such specimens are in existence that were used by the Egyptians in the 17th century, B. C.

Uniform Heat. Reading comfortably on the ground floor. Writing comfortably on the second floor. Batching comfortably on the third floor. This, in short, is the story of every house heated with a "Sunshine" Furnace.

MARRIAGES. (A)RE-AT Trinity church, Sept. 5, the Rev. Canon Richardson, officiating, the marriage of Miss Mary E. King, daughter of the late George S. King, to Mr. J. H. King.

DEATHS. In this city on the 1st inst., John H. King, aged 78 years, a native of Ireland. He was born in the city of New York, and was a member of the St. John's Episcopal church.

SHIP NEWS. PORT OF ST. JOHN. Arrivals. Tuesday, Sept. 2. The S.S. "Albatross" from New York, via Halifax, arrived at 10 a.m.

Man's Mission on Earth. THE SCIENCE OF LIFE. KNOW THE SEVERAL FRIGIDITY OF THE SEXES. The Science of Life, or Self-Preservation. Treating of Physical, Mental, and Moral Hygiene.

Yankee-Maid, for Rockland, Catalina, for Rockport (Mo); the "Day" for Mount Desert, Valise, for Grand Manan; Pandora, for St. John; Pansy, for St. John; Marcellus, Sept. 2-Ard, bark Innocentia, from Bathurst (N.B.).

Consumption Can be Cured. Marvel's Discovery by the Famous Dr. Yankerman of Kalamazoo, Mich.-State Official and Great Medical Man. Proves it the Only Cure for Consumption and All Throat and Lung Troubles.

Consumption Given Up to Die and Sent Back from California Hopeless and Helpless Are Now Alive and Well Through This Wonderful Cure for Consumption.

TRIAL DAY FOR HIGGINS SET. (Continued from page 2.) necessary for them to be convinced that Higgins committed the murder. If they were satisfied that the case was one that should be thoroughly investigated they ought bring it to the attention of the grand jury.

Indictment Against G. Goodspeed. Next there was an indictment against Frederick W. Goodspeed, charging him with being an accessory after the fact in the crime of murdering Doherty. It would almost be impossible for them to find a true bill on this count.

Man's Mission on Earth. THE SCIENCE OF LIFE. KNOW THE SEVERAL FRIGIDITY OF THE SEXES. The Science of Life, or Self-Preservation. Treating of Physical, Mental, and Moral Hygiene.

Expert Men in New Brunswick. As to the question of a medical expert, it seemed to him that there were enough men in the province competent to give expert testimony without having to send to Boston for one. He would therefore refuse the application of Mr. Mullin for a month's postponement.

Consumption Can be Cured. Marvel's Discovery by the Famous Dr. Yankerman of Kalamazoo, Mich.-State Official and Great Medical Man. Proves it the Only Cure for Consumption and All Throat and Lung Troubles.

Consumption Given Up to Die and Sent Back from California Hopeless and Helpless Are Now Alive and Well Through This Wonderful Cure for Consumption.

TRIAL DAY FOR HIGGINS SET. (Continued from page 2.) necessary for them to be convinced that Higgins committed the murder. If they were satisfied that the case was one that should be thoroughly investigated they ought bring it to the attention of the grand jury.

Indictment Against G. Goodspeed. Next there was an indictment against Frederick W. Goodspeed, charging him with being an accessory after the fact in the crime of murdering Doherty. It would almost be impossible for them to find a true bill on this count.

Man's Mission on Earth. THE SCIENCE OF LIFE. KNOW THE SEVERAL FRIGIDITY OF THE SEXES. The Science of Life, or Self-Preservation. Treating of Physical, Mental, and Moral Hygiene.

Sussex Exhibition, Open to the Province. Will open on Monday Evening, Sept. 29; Close on Friday Evening, Oct. 3, 1902. The best Agricultural display to be held in the Province this year. Stalls provided for Stock, which will be on the grounds from—

OBITUARY. Mrs. Michael Dea, Chatham. Chatham, N.B., Sept. 1.—Mrs. Dea, aged more than 70 years, wife of Michael Dea, died at her home Thursday morning at 10 a.m. of a long illness.

OBITUARY. Mrs. William Little. The death occurred Wednesday at No. 4 Beak street of Mrs. Grace Little, wife of William Little, driver for the Hygienic bakery, and daughter of Allan Whitaker. Deceased was 29 years of age and is survived by her husband and three children.

OBITUARY. John O'Connell. Three passed away Tuesday afternoon and his death was quite sudden, John O'Connell, of Union street, a well known citizen. Mr. O'Connell was secretary of the St. John's Athletic Club, and was during his life a very active and energetic man.

OBITUARY. Mrs. Andrew Swift, St. Andrews. St. Andrews, Sept. 3.—News of the death of ex-Fishery Officer D. F. Campbell, of St. Andrews, in British Columbia, has been received here. He was a wife and two sons in the west and a sister residing in St. Andrews.

OBITUARY. Andrew McIntyre. Frederick, Sept. 3.—The death occurred yesterday afternoon at Victoria Mills of Andrew McIntyre, in the 61st year of his age. He had been ailing for some time and twice underwent operations for internal troubles. He had been confined to his home for about three months.

OBITUARY. Mrs. John C. McNeill, Marshalltown, N.S. Digby, N.S., Sept. 4.—(Special)—Mrs. Sophia S. wife of John C. McNeill, died at her home in Marshalltown at 3 o'clock this morning, aged 64 years.

OBITUARY. Mrs. John C. McNeill, Marshalltown, N.S. Digby, N.S., Sept. 4.—(Special)—Mrs. Sophia S. wife of John C. McNeill, died at her home in Marshalltown at 3 o'clock this morning, aged 64 years.

SPORTING GOODS CATALOGUE. We send our illustrated Catalogue free on request. It contains a full list of sporting goods, including guns, traps, and fishing tackle.

Wanted: Good hustling Agents in every unrepresented district to sell The Daily Telegraph. Here is a chance for wide awake boys to make some money.

Wanted: Good hustling Agents in every unrepresented district to sell The Daily Telegraph. Here is a chance for wide awake boys to make some money.

DON'T GO TO A BUSINESS COLLEGE. Until you have seen the Year Book of Fredericton Business College, outlining our Commercial, Shorthand and Typewriting courses.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS. The undersigned taxpayors of the parish of Musquash, district No. 6, Prince of Wales Island, N.B., are hereby notified that they have been appointed assessors for the year 1902.

WANTED. WANTED—A third-class female teacher to teach for eight months in Blue Bell school, near St. John's. Apply to Mr. J. W. Miller, Secretary to Trustees, Blue Bell, Victoria county, N.B.

FOR SALE. FOR SALE—Splendid Upland Farm, 200-300 acres, well fitted to cultivate, with one-half cleared, balance well wooded. Yielded last year 25 to 40 tons good hay, large quantity of corn, potatoes, etc.

NETHERWOOD, The Rotheray School for Girls, will re-open on TUESDAY, the 16th of September, 1902. For Circulars apply to Mrs. J. SIMON ARMSTRONG, PRINCIPAL. MONEY TO LOAN

LOOSE BUSINESS METHODS AT THE DEAF AND DUMB INSTITUTION.

Further Testimony Regarding Woodbridge's Accounts—Auditors "Took it for Granted" the Superintendent's Figures Were Correct—Not Managed Properly Said Those Who Inspected the Institution—Woodbridge Warned by Telephone of Intended Visits.

Fredericton, Sept. 3.—(Special)—Further evidence of the thoroughly unbusinesslike not to say suspicious methods in vogue at the Deaf and Dumb Institution was elicited at the inquiry today.

The first witness, J. W. Spurdun, chairman of the trustee board, gave evidence. He said he had been a member of the original trustee board and chairman for the past four years, his predecessor being the late Chief Justice Allen.

Of late years the meetings were generally called by telephone. Five members were generally looked upon as a quorum, though there were no regulations on the point.

Rev. Mr. Campbell was dissatisfied. He did not know the amount of the insurance on the property, as the balance sheet was never discussed; the auditor reported that was all.

He had no knowledge of other similar institutions. When audited, he never remembered seeing the insurance vouchers. The treasurer paid out all his money on the order of Superintendent Woodbridge.

Cross-examined by A. J. Gregory. Leaman was in a perfect state of mind when the witness left the institution. He was to get his children. He was excited at first.

years and for the last few years auditor. In 1888 the books of the treasurer were audited by David R. Porgan and J. W. Spurdun and 1889, 1890, 1891, 1892, 1893, 1894 and 1897 by Mr. Spurdun and the witness.

Unbusiness-like, Says Creed. The witness proceeding stated that he did not approve of the methods of bookkeeping. He believed the books were kept correctly, but not in a businesslike way.

He did not check the additions in Woodbridge's books. The number of errors in addition were pointed out to the witness who admitted overlooking them.

He had no knowledge of other similar institutions. When audited, he never remembered seeing the insurance vouchers. The treasurer paid out all his money on the order of Superintendent Woodbridge.

Members of the managing committee often expressed the opinion that the institution was not managed properly. The institution of late years has been self-sustaining.

Auditors Not Satisfied. The auditors were not satisfied with the books and accounts. They thought that accounts of the institution were mixed with the private ones of Woodbridge and that items appeared in them which were evidently and clearly for private purposes.

general about the financial responsibility of the board. Hon. A. G. Blair held the managing committee responsible for all moneys in connection with the institution and would not recognize Mr. Woodbridge in any way as he considered him a servant of the board.

Again in 1898. The managing committee in 1898 also passed a resolution calling on Mr. Woodbridge to make a monthly detailed statement with vouchers of his receipts and expenditures to the treasurer.

Canon Roberts in Contradiction to Mr. Woodbridge. The testimony of Canon Roberts showed that the question of certificates for pupils under the amendment of 1900 for the $90 per annum allowance was not considered at the board of management and that notwithstanding the statement of Mr. Woodbridge to the contrary he had never sent certificates to the board of education.

It's Not on the Minutes. The committee evidently never inquired how this retraction was obtained, and what threats were employed to get it. The minutes contain no record of the affair.

Canon Roberts' Evidence. The evidence of Canon Roberts was reported in this morning's edition. He was generally present at the meetings of the committee, although not a member.

Couldn't Get Satisfactory Audit. In the auditor's report for February 20, 1890, the following statement was made: "As has been reported under the existing circumstances, to make a complete and satisfactory audit of the accounts."

1890. The following statement was made: "As has been reported under the existing circumstances, to make a complete and satisfactory audit of the accounts."

He had never examined the pass books showing detailed expenses of collecting. He did not know for what reason Woodbridge had never having them taken any part in the institution.

Called Mr. Brown's Names. The management of the institution would be the managing committee. The attention of the witness was then called to the following letter:

Deaf and Dumb Institution, Fredericton, June 19, 1902. The management desire to caution parents of the pupils attending the institution that the names of J. Harvey Brown, who has called on several of the parents and tried to injure the institution by spreading injurious stories about it.

Found School Bright. When he went to the school found it always very bright and clean; the demeanor of the pupils toward Mr. and Mrs. Woodbridge always very proper and they appeared bright and happy.

Baby's Own Tablets. Save Children's Lives. For sick, weak, nervous, fretful children there is nothing so good as Baby's Own Tablets. They promptly relieve and cure all the stomach and bowel troubles that afflict little ones; break up colds, reduce fever, and allay the irritation accompanying the cutting of teeth.

AMERICANS WISH TO GRIND OUR WHEAT. So Says Mr. Charlton, M. P., Who Favors Reciprocity in Natural Products. Ottawa, Sept. 4.—(Special)—"I am devoting my energies just now to secure reciprocity in natural products between Canada and the United States," said Mr. Charlton, M. P., upon his arrival here today from the west.

ST. JOHN SHOWS HALIFAX HOW TO PLAY GOLF. Sweeping Victory for the Players from This City. Halifax, Sept. 4.—(Special)—The golf match between Halifax and St. John played today and resulted in a sweeping victory for the visitors.

ABSOLUTE SECURITY. Genuine Carter's Little Liver Pills. For HEADACHE, FOR BILIOUSNESS, FOR TORPID LIVER, FOR CONSTIPATION, FOR SALLOW SKIN, FOR THE COMPLEXION, GIBBER SICK NEARAGHA.

ACTION OF CHURCH OF ENGLAND. Canon for General Missionary Society is Passed. Montreal, Sept. 4.—(Special)—The C of England Synod passed the principle for a general missionary society.

"DO IT NOW." TAKE. Blotched, scowling, unwholesome, muddy skin, with its consequent mortification, often leading to morbid sequelae, shows that your blood is bad.

SEARCHING ALLEGED TOBACCO TRUST. Canadian Commission Opens Investigation, But Takes Only Preliminary Steps. Ottawa, Sept. 4.—(Special)—The royal commission to inquire into the alleged tobacco combine met this morning.

Wanted. Capable and intelligent young man learn shorthand. Send for pamphlet, "Male Shorthand Wanted," showing the demand and the large stenographic position given for in the world.

A Pipeful of Amber. Smoking Tobacco will be 75 minutes. "Test it?" Save the Tags they are valuable.

A Pipeful of Amber. Smoking Tobacco will be 75 minutes. "Test it?" Save the Tags they are valuable.

Wanted. Capable and intelligent young man learn shorthand. Send for pamphlet, "Male Shorthand Wanted," showing the demand and the large stenographic position given for in the world.

BoneGrinder. Portable Forges, Drilling Machines, M. factured. Mill and Steamboat Repair. JOSEPH THOMPSON'S MACHINE WORK.