LONDON SOUTH ALDERMEN.

Lawyers and editors often differ, and it is no new thing for the ADVERTISER and Mr. Hutchinson to hold opposite views on questions—even questions of law—though we must acknowledge our temerity in so doing. The ADVERTISER gave its opinion, the other day, on the qualifications required for the aldermen of London South. Now a citizen of Ward No. 6 has obtained the opinion of Mr. Hutchinson, which is

Mr. Irving, by request had written "a few lines of recommendation for the press." It was suggested that this ought to be advertised. A doctor thought the advertising was "very good," but that the best plan would be to start a children's hospital. The best way to increase the growth of Shanklin was to get in with the great physicians." This idea was regarded with considerable favor. Another citizen said "they ought to go at it in the same way they went at it at Ventnor, which was to get under way with the doctors," and he thought it would be best to appoint a committee. Finally it was unanimously resolved "that the gentlemen present form themselves into a committee having for its object the establishment at Shanklin of a children's hospital." The rise of Shanklin will be watched with great interest.

A Surgeon's Shocking Blunder.

HAMLTON, May 1.—The story of a bungling job which occurred at the City Hospital some time ago has just leaked out. A man went to the hospital suffering from an internal trouble, and when a diagnosis of the case was made it was discovered that one of the patient's kidneys was diseased, but the other was perfectly healthy. It was decided to perform an operation on the man and remove the diseased kidney. The surgical operation, as far as exposing the kidneys, was successfully performed, but the doctor on whom devolved the duty of removing the diseased kidney made the dreadful blunder of removing the one which was perfectly sound. The mistake was not discovered until it was too late to rectify it, and the man was left with the bad kidney, while the good one was taken from him. As a result the patient died a few days after the operation was performed. The man's name has not been divulged.

Meeting of the Lambeth Electors in Favor of Mr. Purdom.

An Interesting Address by the Reform Candidate and Other Gentlemen on the Issues of the Day.

A meeting of the electors of East Middlex was held last night at Lambeth. Mr. D. Burley Burch occupied the chair, and after a tew preliminary remarks in favor of the Government and Mr. T. H. Purdom, he introduced the first speaker of the evening Mr. Geo. C. Davis. Mr. Davis, in a pointed speech well delivered, dealt with the separ ate school question and conclusively proved the hollowness of the objections raised now the hollowness of the objections raised now in that connection against the Government.

Mr. A. D. Hardy next addressed the meeting, dealing with the general policy of the Government and particularly the Crown Lands Department. He was frequently applauded during the delivery of his speech which was a good effort.

The next speaker was Mr. Purdom, the Reform candidate, who expressed the pleasure he felt at meeting the electors at this point on behalf of a Government which had during eighteen years maintained a char-

Reform candidate, who expressed the pleasure he felt at meeting the electors at this point on behalf of a Government which had during eighteen years maintained a character above reproach. It could be said of it that no charge of fraud had ever been made, and that its policy was in the interest of the people and had been indorsed on several occasions. That the financial management was sound was proved by the very small percentage of items to which objection could be taken and be quoted from recent issues of the Mail to prove this. He then dealt with the only charges made against the Government and claimed for hem thorough consistency and that they had dealt fairly at all times with all classes. He contrasted the claims made against the Mowat Government at one time with those now made, showing that no matter what policy was adopted objection would be taken to it just as the public mind seemed ready to receive it. It would be as readily claimed that the French were unjustly treated as that they were too well treated. The questions raised both at the last general election and this were questions not calculated to do good and maintain harmony so desirable among the different classes of the community. They showed how difficult it was to raise objections to the Administration and if they had any value it was only in the discussion of them which would likely result in a less strict adherence to party and the exercise of more individual opinion. He claimed that no party would be likely to do wrong if competent electors voted independently. After reviewing further the record of the Government he ciaimed that even it all the charges made against it were true they were slim in comparison with the good the Administration had accomplished, and they were entitled to support.

After three cheers had been given for the Oueen, the Hon. O. Mowat and the Re-

HAMILTON REFORMERS.

HAMILTON, April 30.—A crowded and enthusiastic gathering of Reformers met to night in the Arcade Hall to select a candidate for the coming election. Alid Carscallan, president of the Reform Association, occupied the chair. Among those on the platform were Hon. J. M. Gibson, N. Awrey, M.P.P., S. F. Lazier, Q.C., Dr. Burns, B. E. Charlton, Dr. Macdonald, John Proctor, Dr. Rosebrugh, Fred. Walters, W. Secton, ex.M.P.P., H. F. Gardner and others.

Mr. B. E. Charlton after a high control of the Strathroy Reform Association was held on Tuesday evening, when the following officers were elected: President, J. P. Whitcheld, V.S., relected; vice-president, John Pool; secretary, W. Dryman, jun., treasurer, J. W. Mitchell. Delegates were also appointed to attend the convention on Friday, May 2, at Mount Brydges.

Mr. B. E. Charlton, after a brief, stirring speech, moved the following resolution:

That in view of the large representation from all parts of the city of electors, friends and supporters of the Mowat Government present, it is considered expedient and elegates, but that this meeting proceed neces with the nonlination of the Liberal candidate for the electoral district of the city in the next Legislature for the Province of Ontario.

The resolution was passed unanimously.

endeavored to make so much capital, came off last night. It was well attended, and was in every respect as satisfactory to the supporters of Premier Mowat as could be desired. It was expected by the Conservatives that a strong protest would be made against outside representation by disaffected members of the Reform party, and some of the local Tory managers made it a point to see that a crowd of boys was on hand to stir up the enthusiasm. It turned out that Dr. Ross, whose harmless eccentricity is well known to this neighborhood, was the prime mover in bringing about the meeting, and he had two supporters from among the Reformers. But their grievance was not against Mr. Mowat as Premier or politician. All three expressed their confidence in Mr. Mowat and his Administration, but would prefer a local representative. The Doctor had a motion prepared in favor of local representation, but finding only two supporters outside of the Conservative element, he did not press it.

Brydges to-day to nominate a candidate for the Local Legislature. There were 149 delegates present, representing every division in the riding, with one exception, besides a large number of other active Liberals. The convention was one of the largest and most thoroughly representative ever held in the riding—a proof of the enthusiasm of the party, and the popularity of the local member in the House.

After routine the following gentlemen were nominated: Dr. McKay, M.P.P.; Andrew Pattullo, of the Sentinel-Review, Woodstock; James Brady, Ingersoll; P. Kennedy, Ingersoll; M. S. Schell and W. Nancekivell, A. McFarland, M. T. Buchannan, C. Thompson, S. Pitcher, W. Waterworth, J. Sheahan, J. B. Jackson, R. W. Hawkins, J. C. Ross. Brief speeches were made by the nominees, who withdrew in flavor of Dr. McKay. Dr. McKay then received the unanimous vote of the convention amid the greatest enthusiasm.

NORTH WENTWORTH.

DUNDAS, April 30.—The nomination of a candidate to contest North Wentworth for the Local Legislature was the work of one of the largest conventions that ever assembled here, Dr. McMahon being chosen by a unanimous vote. The Tories had been circulating rumors to the effect that a Reformer had been persuaded to take the field against the Doctor, but the report was utterly foundationless.

Mowar cannot be frightened out of office by thouts. The Opposition may chant variations spon its old slogan of "Mowat must go," but it will take votes to start the Little Premier.—Toronto Telegram.

Yes, and these the Tory leaders cannot nd. The intelligent electors of the Province cannot be gulled by clap-trap.

ELECTORS belonging to the Equal Rights
Association were kicked out of a Conservative meeting in Toronto on Tuesday night. Where they are strong enough to without him, the Tories have mighty little respect for any man who has a mind of his own. Liberals who are tempted to believe in the honesty of the cries raised against Mr. Mowat should make a note of

ALD. JAS. D. THOMPSON, in accepting the Liberal nomination for the representa-tion of Kingston in the Legislature, struck the right keynote. He denounced founda-tionless cries regarding race and religion, holding that Canada was big enough for all. "Let us," he added, "declare for equal rights for all. Let us first and last go for a Canadian Province, a Canadian people, and that most able man of all, a Canadian Premier, Hon. Oliver Mowat."

THE Conservatives of North Middlesex have very suitably nominated a dealer in bankrupt stocks to handle the collection of discarded odds and ends which serve Mr. Meredith for a policy. It is likely that on June 5 the leader in bankrupt stocks will himself be wound up.—[Toronto Globe.

Up in the North Riding the rank and file of the Tories do not regard the candidature of Mr. Macklin as serious. He is only put up to make a show of running against Mr. Waters to keep that able repre entative from assisting in outside constitu encies. The Liberals will have a magnificent majority if they poll their full strength, as it is their duty to do.

THE Toronto Tories are quarreling right and left. Ald. Bell, who has seen through the hypocrisy of the pretense that the Meredith faction cares anything more for 'equal rights" than to use the cry to get into office, refuses to follow the Boswell ring, who have taken as their cry, "anything to beat Mowat, but let us keep true to Macdonald." On Tuesday night the Boswellian faction held a meeting in St. Stephen's Ward for organization. The door was tyled, and all who could not give assurance who could not give assurance that they were unfriendly to the Equal Rights candidate were kept out. Nothing daunted, Ald. Bell and his friends held a meeting. Oh, yes, the Tories enter the contest in harmony; but in more than one constituency the harmony is of the Kil-kenny cat order. It is instructive, however, that in constituencies where the Tory managers hope to gain Liberal votes by pretending to be favorable to views such as are entertained by Ald. Bell and his friends, there are no such high-handed proceedings as are reported from Toronto.
Why? The Tory bosses desire, by their lying devices, to capture Liberal votes.

dubs it a fair specimen of the yarns that Tory organs circulate about their opponents:

The Reformers of North Oxford will hold a convention at Embro to-day (Tuesday) for the purpose of bringing out a local candidate to oppose Hon. Mr. Mowat. At Woodstock, among the Reformers, the names of John M. Grant, boot and shoe merchant of Woodstock; James Anderson, ex-warden and now reeve of East Zorra, and a farmer; also the name of Major James Munroe are freely spoken of.

To show the utter absurdity of statements of this kind our Woodstock; and the statements of this kind our Woodstock contention of being a candidate than the Shah of Persia. He was chairman of Mr. Mowat's recent meeting in Woodstock and made a speech in which he warmly indorsed him. Mr. Munroe is clerk of the Division Court in Embro and is thus out of politics. He is as devoted a friend of Mr. Mowat as others whose names are likely to be mentioned by Opposition liars." But the Tory leader himself is not blameless in circulating these canards. He informed the select meeting of London Conservatives election and there expressed his confidence that he and his party were about to sweep the Province. Mr. Mowat's previous majority in the Legislature was doubled. The Opposition leader knows he has no good foundation for the assertion be now makes regarding the prospects of Hos. G. W. Ross and Hon, Mr. Drury. He than they were in 1880, but he is following the example set by Mr. Creighton, M.P.P., the Empire manager, who is determined that if empty bravado and misrepresentation will influence that unthinking there the unthinking there shall be plenty of it. Mr. Meredith knows country. There is not a judge on the as well as we know that Hon. Mr. Ross bench to-day, there is not a Christian minhad no reason to fear defeat from the elec-tors of West Huron, and he knows that the retirement of the honorable gentleman is a cleaner record or a brighter reputation than Oliver Mowat. We do not need to contrast him with Mr. Meredith or Sir more, West Huron can be relied on to result of the order of the contrast him with Mr. Meredith or Sir more, West Huron can be relied on to result of the order of the contrast him with Mr. Meredith or Sir more, West Huron can be relied on to result of the order of the contrast him with Mr. Meredith or Sir more, West Huron can be relied on to result of the order of the contrast him with Mr. Meredith or Sir more, which we will be relied on the contrast him with Mr. Meredith or Sir more, we shall not be relied on the contrast him with Mr. Meredith or Sir more than the contrast him with turn a Liberal successor to the retiring M.P.P., and Mr. Mowat will be able to replace him in the Government with a man of honest people suspicious of every assertion which they may promulgate.

PRINCIPAL CAVEN'S REBUKE. Principal Caven, president of the Equal Rights Association, has written a letter on the Equal Rights movement, in which he warmly resents the conduct of the men who have been using the name of the association toadvance their own or their party's nterests. The pith of the letter is contained in these sentences:

"The Provincial Association cannot forbid those who in any constituency favor its views from bringing forward candidates who are pledged to support those views. Localities must have the right to do so should they deem such action prudent. But none who value the principles of equal rights will lend themselves to any sinister method, or permit the association to become an instrument in the hands of designing men for the advancement of party. Should anything of this kind be attempted in any place every true member of the association will regard it as base and immoral, and as fitted to do

"Neither party can charge the other with developing separate schools; while the recent modifications of the separate school law are in substance what our platform de-

What better evidence can reasonable men have that Hon. Oliver Mowat is the true exponent of Equal Rights principles in the present campaign?

MR. MOWAT AND MR. MEREDITH. Some of the Tory organs who were so much displeased with their leader a few nonths ago because he "would not lead" now profess to be well satisfied with him and to regard him as worthy of the confidence of the people of Ontario. Up to the date of the West Lambton election none of them knew where to place him. He was as dumb as an oyster all through the agitation of last summer on the Jesuits' Estates Act, and down to the present time nobody appears to know how he regards that act—whether he approves or disapproves the line taken by the Dominion Government in refusing to disallow it. The chief organ of his party, the Empire, sustained the Government in its refusal to intervene, and the manager of that journal is now as he was then, the first lieutenant of Mr. Meredith. There is no doubt whatever that, had the tactics of Mr. Clancy and Mr. Meredith been successful in West Lambton, Mr. Meredith would have taken strong ground against the crusade started by the Equal Rights Association, and the SPECIMEN YARNS.

The Woodstock Sentinel quotes the following from the London Free Press, and loud had he gone the other tack—just as they did in 1883, when he sought to gain the support of a solid Irish Catholic vote by attempting to show that Irish Catholics were being very unfairly treated by Mr. Mowat in the distribution of patronage and in other ways, and by promising to deal with them in a spirit "truly liberal" should he get elevated to power. The Hamilton Spectator, which knows all about the "Facts for the Irish Catholic To show the utter absurdity of statements of this kind, our Woodstock contemporary points out that Mr. J. M. Grant attended a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Reform Association on Monday, "and is a warm supporter of Mr. Mowat. issued with the approval of Mr. Meredith seven years ago. The man is simply incapable of playing such a part. It is not in his nature, and men of all parties unite in bearing testimony to his worth. Yet the electors of Ontario are called upon by the Toronto Empire, the Hamilton Spectator and the London Free Press to withdraw their confidence from Mr. Mowat and bestow it upon Mr. Meredith! We are amazed at the assurance of these journals. They must suppose the people to be very gullible or very susceptible to be played upon by passions of race and creed, when they can venture to suggest such an exchange in the face of the records of the two men. No proposal more impudent in all its characteristics has been heard of since the days of the Family Compact. It could only be outdone by a proposal to put Bradlaugh in the place of Mr. Gladstone, or Charley Rykert in the office of Dr. Caven.

Keep It Up, Gentlemen. It Does Us Good. Figures Won't Lie!

Notwithstanding the combined efforts of jealous rivals to put as under, we are out on top as usual. Look at the record for 1889. Policies issued for nearly $3,500,000. Not bad for a young company, you will say. True, it took some of the old fegies 10 years to write up the same amount. Why, we declined more applications last year than some of the other companies wrote up altogether. How do we account for it, you say. Well, we have plans to suit everybody. Our premium rates are as low as any other company. Our policy is the most liberal, being nearly uncenditional; almost a simple promise to lay at death or maturity, as the case may be. The policy-holders are entirely free from all hability; but are, nevertheless, allowed to participate in the control of the Company's affairs and to monopolize nine-tenths (9-10) of the profits of the business. Each policy-holder has one of for every $1,000 of insurance heid by him in this Company. These privileges are secured by the act of incorporation. It you are not insured, or want more insurance, take a policy in the MANUFACTURERS'.

A Cattle Poisoning Case.

A Cattle Poisoning Case.

Constable B. B. Allen yesterday arrested David Hollingsworth, formerly of East Nissouri, but at present residing in London township, near Denfield. The prisoner is charged with having on June 22, 1889, poisoned three cows, the property James Sutherland, of East Nissouri, the motive, alleged, being spite. Hollingsworth appeared before P. M. Field, of Woodstock, yesterday, and was bailed to appear on Monday. The case is complicated by the fact that the prisoner is bringing an action against two residents of Nissouri, named Cragg, for making charges against him similar to those on which he has also been arrested.

"Jack" Clarke's Benefit.

On Monday evening next Chanfrau's comedy-drama, "Kit, the Arkansas Traveler," will be presented here, with the well-known London boy, John L. Clarke, in the role of the Judge. The Boston Globe save: "Henry Chanfrau, son of the original Kit, enacted the title-role and gave almost a perfect copy of his father in the character. He has surrounded himself with an excellent company, notably, J. L. Clarke, who plays the part of the Judge, and Bassett Willard, who takes the opposite character of the Major." As the performance is to partake of the nature of a benefit to Mr. Clarke the house should be jammed.

TORONTO.

Inspector Descress, in company with the Inspector Dearness in company with the trustees of the London South School Board paid a farewell visit to the institution yesterday and took formal leave of the teachers and pupils. His withdrawal is much regretted by those connected with the school, as the relations between the Inspector and teachers have been of a most amicable kind. The teachers have always striven to show their appreciation of Mr. Dearness by putting forth their best efforts to aid him in bringing the pupils up to the high standard of excellence at which he invariably aimed.

London South woke up this morning to a high standard of excellence at which he invariably aimed.

London South woke up this morning to a sense of security, comfort and fire protection. The date had come when the suburb was to be a part of the city, which thus secures an increased population of about 3,500 and an addition of about 935 acres of territory. The City Clerk has issued the proclamation fixing May 8 as nomination day for aldermen of No. 6 Ward, and May 15 for elections. On Monday evening the Council will nominate returning officers and fix the polling sub-divisions. The fact that amalgamation is a reality is evidenced by the presence of the protectors of the peace in the shape of a blue coat and other attributes of law and order. Other tangible evidence is furnished by the men who are repairing the sidewalks. "Union is strength" is is typified by the policemen; "United we stand, divided we fall" is the song of the sidewalks: "Between you and me is a gulf fixed," sings the Queen street sidewalk to the Craig street pedestrian.

W. Beaton and F. Leighton, of London Staths and the stand of the stand. w. Beaton and F. Leighton, of London South, were charged by T. Culvert with trespass before Squire Jarvis to-day. Langton brought a counter charge of as a sault, but the dispute was settled by each paying his own costs.

With a sigh he lifted his head, and taking a sheet of paper wrote on it, "I have received your letter and will come and see you to-morrow or the next day." This letter he placed in an envelope, which he directed to the high sounding name of Mrs. d'Aubigne, Stanley street, Pinlico, and put it in his pocket.

Then with another sigh he took up the Squire's letter and glanced through it. Its length was considerable, but in substance it anneunced his acceptance of the arrangement proposed by Mr. Edward Cossey, and requested that he would prepare the necessary deeds to be salsmitted to his lawyers.

CHAPTER XV.

The House with the Barl Pillars.

Two days after his receipt of the second letter from the Tiger, Mr. Quest aunounced to his wife that he was going to London on business connected with the bank, and expected to be away for a couple of nights.

She laughed straight out. "Really, William," she said, "you are a most consummate actor. I wonder you think it worth while to keep up this farce with me. Well, I hope that Edith is not going to be very expensive this time, because we don't seem to be too rick just now, and you see there is no more of my money for her to have."

Mr. Quest winced visibly beneath this litter satire, which his wife uttered with a smile of infantile innocence playing upon her face, but he made no reply. She knew too much. Only in his heart he wondered what fate she would mete out to him if ever she got possession of the whole truth, and the thought made him tremble. It seemed to him that the owner of that baby face to him that the owner of him that THE HOUSE WITH THE RED PILIARS.

Cossey & Son's, we he was informed that old Mr. Cossey whuch better, and having heard that has coming to town had sent to say that iparticularly wished to see him, especial bout the Honham Castle catates. Ac dingly Mr. Quest drove on to the old genma's marsion in Grosvenor street, we he asked for Mr. Edward Cossey. I footman said Mr. Edward was upsts, and showed him into a study while he to total him of the arrival of his tor. Mr. Quest glanced round the luriantly furnished room, which he sawas occupied by Edward himself, for se letters directed in his handwriting lupon the desk, and a velveteen loungi cost that Mr. Quest recognized as belong to him was hanging over the back of a sir. Mr. Quest's eye wandered over the coat, was presently caught by the corner a torn flap of an envelope which project from one of the pockets. It was of a fullar bluish tings, in fact of a hue whichs much affected by his wife. Listening for moment to hear if anybody was coming estepped to the coat and extracted the tter. It was in his wife's handwritin so he took the liberty of hastily traverring it to his own pocket. In another inute Edward Cossey entered, and the tramen shook hands.

"How dyou do, Quest?" said Edward. "I think lat the old man is going to pull through jis bout. He is helpless, but keen as suife, and has all the important matters fin the bank referred to him. I believe lwill last a year, yet, but he will scarcely, llow me out of his sight. He preaches way about business the whole day longand says that he wants to communical the fruits of his experience to me before is too late. He wishes to see you, so if yi will you had better come up."

Accelingly they went upstairs to a large and lurious bedroom on the first floor, wherels stricken man lay upon a patent couch.

Quest came forward to where the invide hair and a pallid face, which looked shost ghastly in centrast to his black fleetskull cap. So far as Mr. Quest could le, he appeared to be almost totally parazed, with the exception of his head, neek and left arm, which he could still move a title. His black eyes, however, were full if life and intelligence, and roamed about he room without ceasing.

"How do you do, Mr. Quest?" he said; "sorry that I can't shake hands with you; though my brain is clear enough—clearer than ever it was, I think. And I ain't going to die yet—don't think that I am, because I ain't. I may live two years more—the doctor says that I am sure to live one at least. A lot of money can be made in year if you keep your eyes open. Once I made £120,000 for Cossey & Son in one year; and I may do it again before I die. I may make a let of money, ah, a lot of money, and his voice went off into a kind of thin scream that was not pleasant to listen to.

"I am sure I hope you will, sir," said Mr. and his observable of the second results of the second results was not pleasant to listen to.

STANLEY has accomplished more than any other discoverer before him, and has made for himself a name that will go thundering down through the coming ages. People will read of his arduous and perilous achievements with wonder and anazement, and on all sides honors and decorations will overwhelm him. During his late expedition, much labor and inconvenience could have been obviated by a liberal use of cottam's washing compound, by means of which all dirt and infections of disease could have been removed and utterly destroyed. It is the safest, most effectual and economical washing compound that has ever been discovered, and the people of Canada use and appreciate it more every day. Be sure and ask your grocer for it and let no amount of plausable excuses induce you to take a substitute.

All competent judges of a good cigar age unanimous in pronouncing the "Norma" one of the finest 10-cent cigars made in Canada. This cigar has all the delicate flavor of an imported cigar, without any of its attendant faults. The cigar is the product of H. McKay & Co., of this city, who invariably use the best tobacco leaf, most carefully prepared. The result of this strict attention to quality of raw material is that the "Norma" stands to the front of all 10-cent cigars, and although there is a prevailing idea that a cigar manufactured at home cannot be could be an imported article, this prejudice is being rapidly overcome by the growing popularity of the "Norma."
