London, Jan. 18 .- Canada's big cheese, which arrived some time ago from Chicago, is still unsold, and is now lying in the London railway station, no private warehouse being strong enough to bear its weight. Only twelve inches from the top has perished. The idea of exhibiting the cheese has been abandoned. Several offers for the purchase of it have been received, but they were not high enough.

CAPE Town, Jan. 18.-Advices from Buluwayo are to the effect that King Lobengula is anxious to surrender and has killed the induna who persuaded him to retreat and to countenance the attack on Capt. Wilson near the Shangani River. The destruction of Wilson has been for some time, it is said, Lobengula's only reason for not yielding, for he fears that the British might try to take revenge on bim for Wilson's death.

Millionaires Have Their Troubles. PARIS. Jan. 18 .- The hearing of the action of Princess Colonna, step-daughter of Mr. John W. Mackay, the American millionaire, against her husband for a judicial separation was again postponed to-day. Maitre Dubuit, the advocate for the princess, was absent, and his junior asked the court to grant a further adjournment. The plaintiff now asks, if the court admits Prince Colonna's pleas that it has no jurisdiction in the case, for an order giving her provisional charge of the children, and that the order be maintained until final judgment is given.

Dispersed by the Sword.

BERLIN, Jan. 18 .- A call for a meeting of the unemployed of Berlin was issued a few days ago by an Anarchist named Rodrian. The gathering was to be held at the Friedchau brewery to-day, but owing to the fact that Rodrian was arrested last night the meeting was not held. A crowd of disorderly people flocked to-day before the Konigsthur and refused to disperse when ordered to do so by the police. The latter then charged the mob with drawn swords and scattered them. Many of the crowd were hurt. The mob several times afterwards attempted to gather, but were dispersed. Conflicts between crowds and the police continue.

Sir Charles Tupper Berates England. LONDON, Jan. 18 .-- Sir Charles Tupper, in addressing the Wolverhampton Chamber of Commerce last night, stoutly defended the protective policy of the Dominion Government. Though Canada was prepared, continued Sir Charles, to give a full equivalent for any consideration given to Canadian products by England, England, he said, was the only country in the world that treated her colonies on precisely the same footing as foreigners. Sir Courtney Boyle, secretary of the Board of Trade, followed, but did not notice the suggestions thrown out by Sir Charles Tupper, He (Boyle) was confident English trade would soon see

The revenues are estimated at 1.879.449.391 marks, an increase of 4,936,131 marks over the preceding fiscal year. The ordinary expenditures are estimated at 1.891,612,410 marks, an increase of 47,509,155 marks. The extraordinary expenditures are placed at 58.036,981 marks, an increase of 8,836,976 marks. The deficit is estimated at 70,200,000 marks, which is 12,400,000 marks in excess of the deficit of the preceding year. This deficit it is proposed to cover by issuing a loan. The deficit is due to the increased matriculat payments, the Prussian payment this year being 37,058,915 marks higher than last year.

A Popular Loan.

LONDON, Jan. 18 .- The issuance by Secretary Carlisle of a circular inviting subscriptions for bonds was the chief topic of conversation on the Stock Exchange to-day. The concensus of opinion was that Secretary of the Treasury Carlisle ought to popularize the issue by placing at least one-third of the bonds in London. The operators argue that as England has supported American railroad securities, many of which have turned out badly, it would be right for Mr. Carlisle to allow London to subscribe to what will be gilt-edged securities. Several large houses have cabled to their New York agents that the issue will be readily subscribed for here and instructing agents that unless a portion of the bonds is issued in London to make tenders for them in New York on behalf of the English clients. Influenced by the prospect of the issue the stock market was tirmer to-day.

HIS SWEETHEART'S VALUE.

Louis Schmidt Thinks He Has Lost Her Love and He Sues an Express Company.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 19 .- Louis Schmidt of this city has entered suit against the Adams Express Company here for $2,000 damages. He fears that he has lost his fiancee, a New York maiden, because his Christmas gift to her went astray. He says that on Dec. 22 last he purchased a gold watch and chain for $45 and shipped them by the Adams Express Company to Miss S. Bredeman, in New York city. The package has not reached its destination yet. The young woman was to have married him within the next two months. When he visited her last summer he promised her that he would visited her during the holidays or else send her a nice present. He could not leave his employment to visit her, and so sent the watch and chain and wrote to her that he had sent them.

When the gift did not arrive Miss Bredeman believed that he had not sent them and that he was tired of her, and trying in this way to get rid of her. He had to employ a mutual friend to go to New York and explain the situation to the young woman and assure her of "the continued and fervent affection of the plaintiff for This cost him $100. When he applied to the express company he says they gave him no satisfaction, except to say they had sent a tracer after the articles. For his expense, anxiety of mind, annoyand humiliation and likelihood of losing his New York sweetheart, for whom he had a lasting and trying affection, he proposes to exact money compensation from the express company.

Revival of the Report That Canadians Are Enlisting in the Deposed Queen's Service.

VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 18.—The report is revived that volunteers are being enlisted here to go to Hawaii to assist Liliuokalani in regaining the throne. It is said the company is to be known as the "Queen's Own Guards."

The recruiting officer, who was commissioned by Theophilus Davis, is a wellknown business man of Vancouver, W. H. Sampson. He is in the insurance business, and during the Canadian Northwest rebellion saw considerable service as a scout. This man's instructions from Davis were, it is said, to enlist 200 first-class men to protect the queen and royalist interests, and to be employed as Liliuokalani may suggest. Of these 150 have been enrolled, and are held ready to proceed to Hawaii. The men are to be sent forward in small detachments.

FARMERS DESPERATE!

Telegram to Mr. Van Horne by Patrons of Industry.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 18 .- The Patrons of Industry of Manitoba met at Brandon. President Braithwait, in his opening address, said:

"Never in our history have we had such a critical time. Men's hearts fail and many are in need. Class legislation has placed a weapon in the hands of favored ones that has, and is, causing much suffering. The question comes up: Why should I and my family be made to suffer that others may roll in luxury? All over the world there is unrest. Educational institutions teach us freedom of thought and action, and yet, in the face of all this, hopes are blasted and lives are blighted."

During his address Mr. Braithwait read the following telegrams, which are self-explanatory: "W. C. Van Horne-The condition of the farmer is deplorable. Wheat is 40 cents. Immediate relief is necessary. Farmers are desperate. Take another peep at rates. Charles Braithwait, president Patrons of Industry.'

"Charles Braithwait, Portage-I can see nothing that the company can do that would help the farmers in price. Nothing but an improvement in the general financial situation in the world's market would do that. The company has suffered west of the lakes as much as anybody, and our loss there has been very heavy. W. C. Van Horne."

PROTEST BY EMPLOYING PRINTERS

The Dominion Government Blamed for Its Course in Regard to Copyright and Tariff.

Toronto, Jan. 18 .- A meeting of the Employing Printers' Association of Toronto was held this evening at the Rossin House, when the following resolution was carried after some discussion:

"That this meeting regrets that the Dominion Government has not yet proclaimed the Copyright Act 1890. The absence of this proclamation has to a considerable extent caused the failure of nearly all those engaged in publishing reprints affected by copyright in Canada; and further, the loss of thousands of dollars to the printer, bookbinder and paper dealer, which business through legislation by the United States has been secured to that country.'

The following resolution was passed regarding the tariff:

"That the tariff as at present arranged on certain books, raw material, tools and implements, inasmuch as it is opposed to the Canadian and in favor of the foreign manufacturers, is detrimental to the best interests of the printing, book binding and publishing trade in Canada."

BETTER TIMES AT HAND In the States-The Worst Has Been

Passed. NEW YORK, Jan. 19 .- Under the head of "Business Revivals in Sight" the Times to-day presents a summary of the trades, which, it claims, shows that there has been a visible improvement in the business situation since the opening of the new year. It says: "Better times are at hand in many branches of trade; their coming has already been noted. There has been, of business activity. It would be foolish and futile to pretend that the trade and industries of the country have fully recovered from the depression that began last July. W. R. Meredith. The steady accumulation of the money in the New York banks would disprove any sweeping assertion of that nature. But the evidence is ample that the worst has passed, that we have turned the corner and are now on the mend. The rapidity of the recovery will be measurably increased of goods on hand. The jobbers' shelves started up indicate that orders have begun the goods."

MONTREAL, Jan. 18 .- In the Court of Special Sessions this morning there was an immense throng of people, come to hear the sentence in the case of Mercier, Pellaud and Demartinay, the three young law students accused of attempting to blow up the Nelson monument, and who yesterday pleaded guilty to a charge of attempting to destroy property to the extend of $20.

Yesterday, when the case came up Mr. Mercier, who appeared in behalf of his son and the two other accused, made a long address. He said that the accusation which had been made was very serious. He did not believe that the accusation agreed with the fact, but the charge read by the clerk appeared more in accordance with the facts, and he advised them to plead guilty. As far as the moral aspect of the case was concerned, he was sorry that his son was in the position in which he found himself. It was a great consolation to him and the relatives of the other young men to have heard tessimony to the effect that their foolish action could not have done any great damage. But he wished to call the attention of the court to the existence of certain journals whose To-night Mr. Childs is reported as much articles incited young men to deeds like the one which the three accused now regretted. Nelson was a great man, a great admiral. and the pride and glory of England. He had defeated two great Frenchmen, but there was no sense in asking our young men to revenge themselves for this against man who was dead by pulling down his statue. "Nelson," he continued, "can rest on his pedestal without hurting the Canadian race. We deeply regret that it has happened, and we solemnly announce our intention to teach our children to respect their own race without offending those who belong to another."

Judge Dugas, in delivering his judgments, said that he was placed in a peculiar position. He was positive that had the accused known what damage to life and property they might have caused had their plan been carried out they would not have attempted such a dastardly deed. The excitement caused by the affair was quickly dispelled by the prompt action of the Governor-General in cabling the true facts of the case to London. At this time, said his Honor, there are too many Socialists in the world just waiting to applaud any such acts. Why should not England honor a man of Nelson's stamp. He was a great man, and his monument might well stand on Jacques Cartier Square in his commemoration.

Judge Dugas imposed a fine of $25 on each prisoner.

TALMAGE'S ANXIOUS TRUSTEES

It Is Said That the Brooklyn Preacher Is Going to Australia to Lecture.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Owing to the refusal of the Rev. Dr. Talmage of the Brooklyn Tabernacle to preach to people at 10 cents a head, the trustees are trying to think of some other scheme to relieve the crushing indebtedness on the big Clinton avenue building. The Sunday receipts have been falling off since the hard times set in. It is calculted that 2,000 visitors enjoy the fine music and Dr. Talmage's pulpit oratory every Sunday and go away without leaving cent in the treasury behind them. The trustees would like to arrange matters so that such transient visitors could be made to help the finances along.

A piece of news which may further disturb the trustees and the congregation comes from the Antipodes. The Argus, of Melbourne, Australia, announces that the Rev. Thomas De Witt Talmage, D.D., of Brooklyn, the popular preacher and lecturer," is to make a lecturing tour of Australia next summer. When the Tabernacle was in trouble about a year ago, Dr. Talmage announced that if means of keeping the big church running satisfactorily were not speedily found he would accept offers from elsewhere.

PROHIBITION CONVENTION.

A Great Gathering Arranged for Feb. 6, TORONTO, Jan. 19 .- The following call, which explains itself, has just been issued: The plebiscite taken on Jan. 1 last, resulted in a magnificent majority in favor of immediate total prohibition, clearly demonstrating that public sentiment in this Province demands effective legislation for the abolition of the license system, and the suppression of the liquor traffic. In view of the sweeping character of the vote, and in order that temperance workers may be thoroughly united in wise and energetic action to secure the very best outcome of the victory already won, it has been deemed advisable to summon another convention similar to that held in Teronto in October last. The undersigued representatives of the organizations which united in the "call" for the gathering named, therefore unite in calling a general Provincial representative convention of friends of temperance and prohibition. REPRESENTATION.

Every friend of right who may receive this "call" is earnestly urged to use his influence to make the coming convention a success. Officers of all societies are requested to bring the matter before their respective organizations; pastors are requested to lay it before their congregations: all these bodies are earnestly requested to appoint delegates to the convention hereinafter set out; newspaper editors are respectfully requested to give it as much publicity as possible.

The plan of representation is as follows: Every church and society to be entitled to two representatives, and each church or society having more than 50 members, to be entitled to an additional delegate for each 50 or fractional part of 50 after the full 50 members. The following organizations are entitled to representation on the basis named: Branches of the W. C. T. U., divisions of Sons of Temperance, lodges of the I. O. G. T., councils of the R. T. of T., branches of the League of the Cross, prohibition clubs, and other prohibition or temperance organizations, church congregations, Young Men's Christian Associations, Salvation Army corps, Societies of Christian Endeavor, Epworth Leagues, branches of St. Andrew's Brotherhood, Baptist Young People's Unions, any other young people's associations in connection with church work; the Provincial officers and executive committee of the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance, the chairman and secretary of each county, riding, or city plebiscite committee, and the chairman of the committee for each municipality or ward, to be also members of the convention.

The convention will meet in the horticultural pavilion, Toronto, on Feb. 6, at 9:30 a.m. Reduced fares will be given by all railway lines. Each delegate will purchase, on starting, a regular, single-fare ticket to Toronto. He will also procure from the ticket agent at the same time a standard certificate, filled out, showing that he has purchased said ticket. This certificate he will present to the secretary of the convention, who will sign it. It will then entitle him to a return ticket free of cost.

Delegates are specially requested to procure the standard certificates before start. ing, as otherwise they will not be entitled to the free return. Those having to travel over roads operated by different companies should procure a certificate for each,

It is expected that this meeting will be even larger and more important than that Clearing sale at prices as low, if not | held in the same place last October. All the organizations entitled to representation are earnestly urged to send delegates, and to do all in their power to make the convention a complete success. They Danced to Music They Could Not Hear-Kept Time by Eyesight Alone. NEW YORK, Jan. 19. - Two hundred deaf mutes dancing to music of which they could not hear a single note formed a notable feature of a ball held Wednesday night in the Central Opera House, in East Sixty-seventh street. It was the fifth an-nual ball of the Deaf Mutes' Union League, an organization composed of graduates and pupils of the Greene School, at Lexington avenue and Sixty-seventh street. To all outward appearance it was just an ordinary dance, with the usual accessories of orchestra and waxed floor, but an observant person, with good ears, could tell in a minute that something was missing. The merry chatter of men and women that fills the corridors and the ballroom itself between dances was all there, but in a strange form. It had a rarified metallic sound-was artificial-like the talk of cleverly-designed outomat.

If you had entered the courtroom with your ears covered, everything would have seemed natural to you. There were the indolent men lolling about with cigarettes between their lips and trying their best to look bored, and the bashful men, who did not know what to do with their hands, and kept casting sheepish glances at the door of the cleakroom across the hall, whence pretty faces and dainty gowns were emerging every now and then. So far as the eye could tell, these men were all talking more or less, but just as soon as you allowed yourself to listen the illusion was dispelled, utterance intelligible to the person of ordinary senses was very scarce. Yet these polite gentlemen in faultless evening dress understood each other perfectly, and laughed heartily at the visible speech, jokes and sign language guying that were flying back and forth. No stranger would imagine that the fourscore couples gracefully whirling upon the glistening floor in perfect time were following the music with their eyes alone. They were not all good dancers, but the average of proficiency was quite as high as in any other ball ever held in the Central Opera

A PLUCKY JAILER

Prevents the Escape of a Score of Convicts with a Gun and a "Billy." OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 19 .- Jailer S. G. Ernest was passing along the corridor of the first floor of the county jail last evening, when he heard the noise of a scuffle on the second floor. On running up he found two desperate characters, named Defance and Christiansen, fighting. He sprang into the cell to separate the men. Seizing Defance, the jailer pulled him into the corridor, but was followed by Christiansen and attacked by both men. A desperate struggle commenced, when suddenly Christiansen sprang back and pulled the lever that connected every cell on the floor. Nineteen criminals burst forth and dreve the jailer into a cell. Here they beat and stamped, but with vain attempts. Ernest broke through the mob and rushed down the corridor to the office. The prisoners followed him in a wild dash for liberty, but just as the mob headed by Defance reached the threshold Ernest had grasped a revolver and billy and stopped them. The mob surged up to the door in a frantic attempt to kill the jailer, but his nerve and gun cowed the convicts and they slowly and sullenly went back to their cells driven by Ernest. The prisoners are all men sentenced to the penetentiary or awaiting trial in default of large bail. Defance is a life prisoner and Christiansen is serving a long term for burglary.

Mr. H. Stevens, of Aylmer, says there is lots of wheat in the country. One farmer he knew was holding 1,800 bushels, and there has not been as much fed as some think. Besides, mill owners and grain men were holding large stocks. As an illustration, he said that in their mills in Chatham they were carrying 200,000 bushels. SEWACE AGAIN.

The Board of Health Surfeited With This Question.

First Meeting of the Year-Dr. Gardiner Wants a Completely New System of Sewage-No Such Thing as Cheap Plumbing.

The Board of Health held its first meetng for the year last evening. Ald. F. J. Fitzgerald was elected chairman.

Dr. Gardiner rose to a question of privilege. He had stated at the last meeting of the board that the English street sewer was only eighteen inches beneath the surface of the roadway. The city engineer, he understood, through the newspapers, had said that he was misinformed, and that the sewer was eight feet in depth.

Mr. Graydon said that the piping was intended only as a drain, not as a sewer. At Dundas street, however, the drain was eight feet below the street level, and at the intersection of Queen's avenue, one block from the opening of the drain, the depres sion was only 4 feet 3 inches.

Dr. Gardiner remarked that even the engineer's present statement but accentuated the necessity for a complete new sewage system. As a sanitary drain, the drain was not placed down on sanitary principles. There were many cellars along the roadway which could not be drained into it.

A petition was read from nine residents of London South in regard to a nuisance said to have been occasioned to Mr. Levi Lewis by a drain used by persons in Bruce street, Askin street, and Elmwood avenue. Graham, of Egmondville, was adopted. Mr. Graham was one of the old pioneers of the Presbyterian Church in the "Huron tract," of the result. Indeed, he has already having settled in Brucefield and Egmond- entered an action against two of the peti tioners, and threatens a similar course against all of the other signers. He wants the sewer closed. The signatures attached to the petition were: Thomas Alexander, R. W. Puddicombe, F. B. Leys, E. R. Cameron, W. B. Hungerford, Joseph Hutchinson, Nancy Cosford, James Kerrigan and J. B. Bond. The petitioners, though denying that the sewer was any nuisance, but being uncertain as to whether they may be prevented from using it if Mr. Lewis' injunction is granted, asked that the board have the outlet on Bruce street boxed in for a sufficient distance to prevent any offensive odors from annoying Mr. Lewis. After a prolonged discussion the do cument was referred to the council.

Dr. Hutchinson reported that the sewers in Dundas street, Wellington street, Talhot street and Princess avenue had been flushed during the week. It was suggested that the fire department might be got to do this work.

Dr. Hutchinson's report had been referred to the new board and was read in part. That portion referring to cheap plumbing, which was said to be conducive to disease, brought forth the exclamation from a member that this was the first time 'cheap plumbing" had ever been heard of. Dr. Hutchinson said the remark was an Irish bull. He meant "defective plumb-ing."

The whole question of the city drainage was referred to this committee: Mayor Essery, Dr. Gardner, Ald. F. J. Fitzgerald, Dr. Hutchinson, Mr. Wm. Skinner and Dr. English.

Dr. Gardiner moved that the matter of securing a site for an infectious disease hospital should be left with the mayor and the chairman with power.

A Stubborn Woman.

We read that when Jove had the order ing of mundane affairs, he promised to send rain on any day that would be agreed upon by the whole world. It was reported at last that they were all ready for rain at a certain date, except one old woman who wanted to make soap on that particular Women are often accused of being capricious and whimsical; but there is one point on which they all agree—the desirability of being well and looking well. Every woman be she young or old, always wants to look her best; and in order to do this, it is necessary to attain that state of health which will impart a sparkle to her eye, a bloom to her cheek, and grace and symmetry to her entire form. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a panacea for all chronic "weaknesses" and derangements of functions peculiar to the sex, and is beyond all comparison the great healer of women.

"It is true that a woman always has the last word in a quarrel?" "My wife always has it; but then, there is nothing mean about her. She is always willing to give it to me.

The great lung healer is found in the exrellent medicine sold as Pickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It soothes and diminishes the sensibility of the membrane of the throat and air passages and is a sovereign remedy for all coughs, colds, hoarseness, pain or soreness in the chest, bronchitis, etc. It has cured many when supposed to be far advanced in consumption.

"Bilkein's is a strong face, or I'm no judge of physiognomy." "It ought to be. He and his whole family are living on it."

A solid oak writing desk, bookcase and bric-a-brac cabinet, $5. Come early and secure some bargains. KEENE BROS.,

We, the Liberal party of Canada, in convention assembled declare:

That the customs tariff of the Dominion should be based, not as it now is, upon the protective principle, but upon the requirements of the public service.

That the existing tariff, founded upon an unsound principle and used as it has been by the Government as a corrupting agency, wherewith to keep themselves in office, has developed monopolies, trusts and combinations;

It has decreased the value of farm and other landed property;
It has oppressed the masses to the enrichment of the few;

It has checked immigration; It has caused great loss of population; It has impeded commerce; It has discriminated against Great Britain In these, and in many other ways, it has occasioned great public and private injury, all of which evils must continue to grow in intensity so long as the present tariff system remains in force. That the highest interests of Canada demand a removal of this obstacle to our country's progress, by the adoption of a sound fiscal policy, which, while not doing injustice to any class, will promote domestic and foreign trade and hasten the re turn of prosperity to our people

That to that end, the tariff should be reduced to the needs of honest, economical and efficient government

That it should be so adjusted as to make free, or to bear as lightly as possible upon the necessaries of life and should be so arranged as to promote freer trade with the whole world, more particularly Great Britain and the United States

We believe that the results of the protective system have grievously disappointed thousands of persons who honestly sup-ported it, and that the country in the light of experience is now prepared to declare for a sound fiscal policy.

The issue between the two political parties on this great question is now clearly defined.

The Government themselves admit the failure of their fiscal policy, and now profess their willingness to make some changes, but they say that such changes must be based only on the principle of protection.

We denounce the principle of protection as radically unsound and unjust to the masses of the people, and we declare our conviction that any tariff changes based on that principle must fail to afford any substantial relief from the burdens under which the country labors.

This issue we unhesitatingly accept and upon it we await with the fullest condence the verdict of the electors of Canada.

-Mr. Isaac Waterman, of the Imperial Oil Company, is in Ottawa watching the interests of the refiners in the proposed tariff reduction. Mr. Waterman solemnly asserts that his clients cannot stand a reduction of duty for the reason that Canadian crude oil costs much more than the United States product, and contains only one-half the illuminating qualities of American crude petroleum. Mr. Waterman professes to be very much afraid that Canadians would suffer if they got oil at United States prices.

-In replying to the address presented by the Ottawa St. George's Society, the Governor-General once more emphasised the value of utilizing the national traditions of the several races that make up the Dominion in strengthening Canadian nation. hood. Lord Aberdeen said:

"With regard to the distinctive national element which you represent, I am aware that apprehensions have sometimes been expressed lest the maintenance and commemoration of the respective nationalities of which our community is composed should in some sense hinder that process of unifying fusion which we all desire to promote; but I confess that I have not myself any great misgivings on that score. I see no reason why the recognition of our national origin in each case should hinder a just praise and patriotism regarding Canada. All the national elements with their respective traditions should be dedicated to that high purpose. We need:

The English honor, nerve and pluck. The Scotsman's love of right, The grace and courtesy of France,

The Irish fancy bright.

"The recognition of such traditional unlities ought to be a stimulus to the ful-Ilment of present and future patriotic duties; and moreover it would be, I think, distinct loss if we were now deprived of these traditions." Lord Aberdeen reasons well.

We can all admire the land of the nativity of our forefathers, and yet devote our whole energy to the promotion of the velfare of the country that gives us our daily bread. That is true patriotism.

GETTING PAYMENT FOR WHAT WE SELL.

Sir Leonard Tilley and his school of "protectionists" have taught us in Canada that the more goods we export and the less goods we import in payment for the exports, the richer must the country become. On that assumption was the National Policy promulgated, and many Canadians, bringing common sense to bear in regard to all their ordinary affairs, were really led away with the idea. It has proved a costly perience of the United States. The bureau of statistics at Washington has just given out the corrected returns of trade for December last, and also for last year. The exports of merchandise for the month were $93,633,047, and the imports only $50,387,-986, showing an excess of exports of $43,-245,061. The figures for the entire calendar year 1893 show only a slightly larger balance than for 1892, while the aggregate movement of trade is less. The exports for 1893 have been $876.148.023. and the imports $776,754,681, leaving an excess of exports of $99,402,242. The exports for the calendar year 1892 were $938,-420,660 and the imports $840,930,955, showing an excess of exports of $97,489,705. The exports of gold during the calendar year 1893 were $79,767,354, and the imports $72,762,289. This shows an excess of exports of $7,004,965, but with a production for the year estimated by the mint bureau at $35,000,000, of which only $10,-000,000 was used in the arts, the addition to the supply of gold money in the country should be $18,000,000. The gold exports for the calendar year 1892 were $76,532. 056, and the imports $17,450,946, showing an excess of exports that year of $59,081,-101, and a net loss in the gold market of the country in spite of a production of $33,000,-000 of more than $35,000,000. The net transactions of the two years, therefore. would show a loss in the gold currency of the country of about $17,000,000. The excess of silver exports in 1893 was $27,-955,635, against a similar excess in 1892 of

The principal interest which Canadians have in these figures lies in the fact that the exports are very much larger than the -A hardware merchant supplies the fol- | imports. By the argument of our "prolowing comparative statement regarding | tectionist" friends, this should have brought much prosperity to our neighbors in the Wire nails, base size, United States price | United States. But the contrary has been the case. There have been hard times over the border, and they were harder in December, when a very large proportion of the excess in exports over imports took place, than in the earlier months of the

We take into account the fact that probably the greater portion of the excess in exports over impo & consis el of goods sent out in payment of interest on British investments in the United States, resulting from the employment of many millions of dollars of old world capital. But this does not alter the fallacy of the view that it is unprofitable for a nation to import just as much goods in exchange for its exports as it possibly can. Trade can only be permanent between nations as beprofitable; and he would be a very foolish tea hesa different story, and exercises every ingenuity to decrease the amount of the payment. In so far as he is successful is legitimate industry and trade injured.

WILL MR. MEREDITH RETIRE? The Hamilton Herald says it would not be surprised if Mr. W. R. Meredith, of Toronto, should give up the Conservative leadership of the Legislature and drop into private life. To all intents and purposes our former fellow citizen has abdicated the leadership already. He has not uttered a word on public affairs for many months, despite the fact that numerous opportunities have been afforded him. While he has been closeted in his Toronto law office or in his handsome new home in the suburb of Rosedale, Dr. Ryerson has been laying down the new platform for him, which affirms that no man in public office shall countenance the appointment in the public service of his sister's aunt's cousin, and Mr. Marter has been committing him to a line of policy thoroughly at variance with his alliance with Sir John Carling in this city as late as 1892, when Mr. Meredith returned from Toronto and went from door to door endeavoring to secure the defeat of Mr. Hyman. That the counting of Logus votes was necessary to secure the triumph of Mr. Carling was seemingly of small importance to Mr. Meredith, for from that day to this no one has heard him say a word of condemnation of this sequel of infamy to his pilgrimage from Toronto. Under all the circumstances, we say, it would not be surprising if Mr. Meredith should forsake the forlorn post, though it is possible that he may be prevailed upon to hold on, because in the event of his withdrawal the erratic Dr. Ryerson would insist on trying to fill the vacancy.

COMING END OF THE WORLD.

[American Register.] Rudolf Falb, the well-known astronomer, has now definitely fixed the date of end of the world-it is the 13th day of November, 1899. In a lecture he recently gave at Leipsic he stated it as his opinion that the erratic comet, discovered in 1866, would reappear in 1899 and collide with our globe on the above-named date or a day or two later. Should the collision not bring on the great catastrophe, he believes that it will produce a phenomemon such as has That this balance of starde theory has no never been seen before-namely, a fall of ooting stars as dense as flakes of snow during the hours from 2 to 5 a.m. on the 13th, 14th and 15th of November, 1899. Forewarned is forearmed. We shall have nearly six years in which to settle our sublunary affairs.

LAYMEN COMMENDED.

[Canada Presbyterian.] By the way, why do men of the standing and experience of Mr. Paterson not discuss church questions more frequently in the church press. The learned gentleman is a son of the manse, an elder and superintendent of one of the Sabbath schools in the city, and is known to take an active interest in everything connected with Presbyterianism. Why should not he and others equally well qualified give the church the benefit of their views on practical questions as such questions arise, and they are continually arising. It has often been said that the Presbyterian Church has a larger number of intelligent, influential laymen within her pale than any other church in the Domirion. We believe she has, and we also believe that they might do their church good service by making their views known through the press and by taking a far more prominent part in our ecclesiastical meet-

GREAT BRITAIN'S EXPERIENCE. [Chicago Herald.]

During the first of a series of lectures before the Trade and Labor Assembly on The Nature and History of the Labor Question," delivered Sunday night, Prof. Bemis, of the Chicago University, said:

"Robert Giffen, a noted Englis statistician, in an exhaustive work covering the period from 1831 to 1881, claims that the wages of both skilled and unskilled labor in that country in the 50 years quoted in-creased 50 per cent., while in some trades the increase was 75 to 100 per cent. Not only did wages increase, but the prices of articles used cheapened excepting rent; that increased two and a half fold in the 50 years, yet upon the whole the condition of the laborer had greatly improved. The use of wheat and wheat flour per capita had increased from 42½ pounds in 1840 to 217 pounds in 1881, and the use of sugar from fifteen pounds in 1840 to 67 pounds in 1881. Prof. Bemis might truthfully have added that the notable increase in wages and decrease in cost of living dates from the overthrow of protection in England. There was no perceptible change in the condition of wages and cost of living in England from the year 1838, when the Anti-Corn Law League was formed, to 1846, when the obnoxious and iniquitous measure which called the league into being was repealed. Rid of the curse of protection, E gland's prosperity began. Her industries were born anew, her commercial supremacy on the high seas began, her wage scale increased and her cost of living decreased. But not until the same old protection fallacies which are rampant still in the United States had been shown up, the "low wage" scare had been allayed, and the principles of free trade had been given an opportunity to prove their pre-eminent superiority over antiquated protectionism did skilled and unskilled labor in England largely Attended Meeting in Talbot Street Baptist Church-Local Union Formed - The Addresses and Officers.

Young people of the various local Baptist churches and missions to the number of about 200 attended a meeting held in the Talbot Street Church last evening. The chief objects of the assemblage was to isten to several excellent addresses and the formation of a local Baptist Young People's Union. Rev. Ira Smith occupied the chair, and on the platform were Rev. Messrs. D. M. Mihell, T. W. Charlesworth, W. Walker, J. D. Freeman (Guelph), and T.
M. Fothergill (Plattsville). The various speakers were each allotted so much time and if any ventured to go beyond the mark they were given a gentle reminder by means of a "buzzard," supplied by Mr. E. B. Fewings. It worked to perfection. Rev. Ira Smith welcomed the young people and hoped the meeting would prove a great help in promoting the work of Christian endesyor among the younger members of the churches. "Have Young Baptists a Special Mission?" was the subject ably handled by Rev. J. D. Freeman, of Guelph. To claim that young Bap is's had a special mission, he said, was to claim two things-that they possess special principles and special qualifications for service. They did not claim any special qualifications for Christian work. It was true that the young may be more agile in some ways than the older people, but the Baptists had a special mission, and the great brotherhood were going to share in the work. Apart from the older people, the young generation had need of training for such work. Some would say, "Why not train the young people with the older ones?" The church did. They had the youth in the churches, and in every branch of the Sunday school. Mr. Freeman said that the mission of the Baptist Church was, first to give the Gospel to the whole world, and secondly to educate. Three four-minute "ideal" addresses were given, the first being by Miss Kate Sutherland, of South London, on the "Ideal Society." Such a society, the speaker thought, could do good work. A lotty and true principle should be at work in all societies, and the ideal one should have a perfect organization to govern and control it. Organization, however, was not an end

-only a means to a greater end. "The Ideal Member" was described by Misses K. McKerricher and J. Ferguson. Such a member should always comply with the rules and take part in the debate in a hearty manner. Owing to a change in the programme Rev. D. M. Mihell was requested to discuss "The Ideal Meeting," which he did in a clear and concise manner in the short time allotted him. Mr. Mihell was heartily applauded. "The pastor of the model Baptist church T. M. Fothergill, of Plattsville, who spoke on "I Can Plod." The speaker referred to the originator of missionary work—Carey—who had made such a statement and acted it out. Carey went to India and there labored 34 years. He also practically illustrated the maxim: "Go ye into all the world," etc. Some Christians were very uneasy, but so was not Carey. He went union. One thing necessary was uniformity of life in the service. The plodding Christian was not the one who runs spasmodically, but the one who runs with patience, able to bear the contradiction of sinners against himself. Another necessity was true godliness and courage, and one aim-not the placing of a thousand objects before you, but just one—and that one distinctively and deliberately. In regard to the cultivation of a plodding spirit the speaker emphasized the necessity of steady work and not going at it with splashes.

"Plodding Exemplified in Bible Study" and "Plodding Exemplified in Personal Work" were dealt with by Messrs. H. G. Feekings and C. W. A. Woodburn respectvely, and were handled in an admirable manner, Mr. Woodburn giving examples of great workers in the cause of church work. The concluding address was "Toronto, '94," by Mr. W. E. Matthews, referring principally to the coming international convention of Baptists in Toronto this The constitution of the new union was read by Mr. E. McDermid and adopted without amendment. Votes of thanks were passed to the speakers and Mr. E. B. Fewings, after which the election of officers was held, resulting as follows: President-Mr. E. McDermid.

First Vice-President-Miss Sutherland. Second Vice-President - Rev. T. W. Charlesworth, Secretary-Mr. W. E. Matthews. Treasurer-Miss Emma Yeo.

The solos and quartets given by Misses Rendell, R. Nicholson and G. Nerton, Mrs. N. Mills, and Messrs. C. Maynard, J. Drewe, C. Moorhead, H. Freeland, R. Robertson and H. Nichol were all heartily applauded.

ONTARIO FARMERS' SOCIETIES.

SOUTH BRANT. BRANTFORD, Ont., Jan. 18 .- The South Brant Agricultural Society held their annual meeting yesterday. The following officers were elected: President, Thomas Elliot; tary, R. M. Wilson. EAST KENT.

THAMESVILLE, Ont., Jan. 18.—The East Kent Agricultural Society met in the town hall here yesterday afternoon regardless of the almost impassable condition of the roads. The meeting was a marked success. there being a large number from the surrounding country present. The society was found to be in a prosperous condition, there being a surplus of $100 in the treasury. The following officers and directors were elected: President, Lem. Sherman, Thamesville; first vice-president, J. H. Snary, Croton; second vice-president, Thos. Vickery, Orford; secretary, A. J. C. Shaw, Camden; treasurer, A. A. Edsall, Thamesville; directors, H. EAST HURON. BRUSSELS, Ont., Jan. 17 .- The East Huron Farmers' Institute held a successful meeting in the town hall here on Tuesday and Wednesday. There was a large attendance, excellent addresses and animated discussions. The foreign talent rendered good service the gentlemen being Mr. W. Rennie, Guelph, Mr. Elliott, Galt, and Mr. J. S. Fraser, Burford. This is one of the best institutes in the Province and is improving every year. Owing to the retirement of President McFadden, Mr. Thomas Strachan was elected to the position.

THAMESVILLE ILLUMINATED!

Wild Excitement Over a Rich Strike of Natural Gas.

(Special to the ADVERTISER.) THAMESVILLE, Ont., Jan. 18 .- This place is wild with excitement to-night over the rich strike of natural gas made here to-day by the Thamesville Natural Gas Company. The company have been drilling for some time past, and to-day, when down to a depth of 125 feet in the solid rock, a powerful vein was struck. To-night the whole town is illuminated by the flame from the burning well, which shoots heavenward from the top of the derrick. THE WILLIAMS TRAGEDY.

Opening of the Murder Trial at Brampton. BRAMPTON, Jan. 18.—The chief topic of conversation in the stores and hotels to-day is the Williams murder trial, now being held in the court house before the bench of magistrates. The evidence to-day has been chiefly in reference to the finding of the bodies, the post mortem-examination and identity of McWhirrell. Nothing yet has been adduced to connect McWhirrell with the crime, and doubt exists whether the crime was committed Thursday or Friday night. The Crown's theory that it was Thursday night received a bad shaking in the testi-mony of Mr. Goldthorp, who swore the cutter must have been driven out of the yard subsequent to the ice and sleet storm of Friday afternoon and evening, and it was Thursday's storm that broke down the telegraph wires, and the mark of the runner was clearly to be seen as it passed over the wire, thus proving that the cutter must have been driven away from the Williams' homestead after the wire had fallen.

The Crown is trying to prove that the cutter was seen in Toronto on Friday after-

Crown Attorney McFadden said he did not intend to offer any evidence against John Cory, and asked that he be discharged, which request was granted. Cory was the first witness called, and gave the same evidence as at the inquest, which a cross-examination failed to shake. THAT ST. CATHARINES BOMB.

Investigation has proved that the socalled dynamite cartridge found under the stage in the Opera House here was filled with oatmeal porridge and the fuse was a piece of telephone wire wrapped with tarred twine. It was a fake, and those who wanted to tell the world it was intended to Guy Fawkes Mrs. Shepperd are wofully guyed .- [St. Catharines Journal.

RAM'S HORN BLASTS.

A loafer is never satisfied with his wages. A drunkard's throat has no bottom to it. The man who hates light is always afraid of his own shadow.

When people have only a little religion they are apt to be ashamed of it. The man goes to bed tired who spends the day in looking for an easy place.

The easiest thing for a fool to do is to tell how little he knows. As long as prize fighting pays so much better than preaching, the devil will feel that he still owns the earth. Some fiddlers can play a tune on one string, but it never makes any body want to

Angels weep on the day a young man begins to spend more money than he can make.

A hypocrite feels better satisfied with himself every time he sees a good man make a mis-step. A mistake is apt to attract more attenion to us than a virtue. The man who leans on his blessings cannot walk straight. Many of the sins that shine the brightest will kill the quickest. The devil soon runs from the man who s not afraid of a lion's den. Cut off a rooster's spurs and you take the stalics all out of his crow. With all his practice the devil has never improved on the first hypocrite. Good fortune sometimes comes to see us in a very shabby-looking carriage.

butchers' cows brought $225 to $265, with old and 10 cars Canadas. Lambs largely predominated, and a more than liberal number of the late receipts were light roughs, and of only fair quality. For the bulk of the lambs there was but a light inquiry, and the market was of the severely draggy order, with prices full low with the sales of that class of stock yesterday and Tuesday; but there was a better competition between city slaughterers and the buyers for the eastern butchers for the better class of lambs, and they sold at stronger values. The Canadas were very dull, the best selling at $4 55 to $5 choice natives brought $4 60, with one deck of prime at $4 75.

Hogs—Thirty-one cars on sale, 15 cars arriving later. Prices 10c to 15c lower at the opening, with a further decline of 5c to 10c.

MONTREAL, Jan. 18.—There were about 600 head of butchers' cattle, 50 calves and 650 mutton critters offered at the east end abattoir today. The butchers were present in large numbers and trade was fair, but prices were generally lower, excepting for the best cattle, for which there seems to be active demand at steady rates. Mr. George Nicholson bought 11 superior cattle at 4½c per lb. Pretry good stock sold at from 3½c to 4c per lb; rough steers and fair-conditioned dry cows sold at from 2½c to 3½c, and the leaner beasts at from 2c to 2½c per lb. Most of the good calves were bought up before reaching this market, and the prices raid here to-day ranged from $2 to $8 each. The price of mutton critters was lower to-day, as the supply was considerably in excess of the demand, Good lambs sold at from 3½c to 3c per lb, Fat hogs are in fair supply and sell at about 5½c per lb, fed hogs just come off the cars being ½c less.

-The monthly report of Inspector Crawford, of the Humane Society, has been completed. In it is a lengthy account of the work performed, one case of note being that of an aged couple named Raynor, living in Westminster township, just on the outskirts of the city. Both were very sick and in destitute circumstances when the visit was made by the officer. Mr. Raynor was suffering from a tumor, growing on the hip, while his wife was troubled with cancer, and has since died. The case was reported to the county authorities, and the old man was removed to the hospital.

-Mr. Alexander Harper was formerly connected with the ADVERTISER office. Mayor Hopkins, of Chicago, has just appointed him, with a view to reorganizing on a business basis all the departments of that city, as expert city accountant. "Alexander Harper," the mayor said, "is, in my opinion, the best expert accountant in the United States. I have employed him to investigate all the departments, and, with my approval, make all the changes necessary to put the city departments on a sound business basis." After describing the anti-quated manner in which the city's affairs had been conducted, the mayor went on to say: "We are going to do business. That is why I have set Harper at work. He is now, or has been up to the present time, accountant for the Northwestern Railway, and previously was for twenty years with the Pullman Company. His term of office is indefinite, but he will be at work until there is nothing more to do, and that will be a long time." Gillespie; assistant superintendent, Mr. Wm. Gibson; secretary, Mr. Richard Donaghy; assistant secretary, Mr. Harry Currie; treasurer, Miss Eliza Woodward; librarian, Mr. Charles Berry; assistant librarian, W. A. Fife. The same staff of teachers that taught last year with two or three exceptions were re-elected. The report furnished by the secretary of last year's work was most satisfactory, showing 600 attendance and 3,000 verses committed to memory for the year in excess of the year before, while that of the treasurer shows a cash balance on hand of $89 23. An hour was then spent in social conversation and partaking of refreshments, after which the meeting closed, all thanking Mr. and Mrs. Elson for their kind hospitality and hoping the present year's work would be even more prosperous in the school than the past one had been.

Liquor Fines. Squire Henry Edwards presided over a court at Glencoe vesterday which yielded quite a sum. A London Boy's Success. A few years ago Mr. W. Gilbert Cole, a London East boy, took Horace Greeley's advice and went west. Mr. Cole's stock in trade consisted of a knowledge of shorthand, a state of very poor health and an unending quantity of pluck of the very pluckiest quality. To-day Mr. Cole writes his name with the letters "Ph.G., M. D." after it and is one of the cleverest surgeons and physicians of Portland, Oregon. Mr. Cole's transition from shorthand clerk to doctor is the old story of hard work, by the aid of which so many Canadians have gained ascendancy on the canadians have gained ascendancy on the ladder of fame. Mr. Cole was recently elected vice-president of the Washington County Medical Society, and the "Forest Grove" contains an account of a remarkable "cæsarian" operation performed by him with the aid of two other doctors. A Sign of Promise for 1894

Every good business man is now studying the signs of the times. General business, although dull, did not prove exceptionally so in 1893 for those who persistently sought it in legitimate ways by judicious newspaper advertising. However dull it may be at any time, it will always be dullest with those who fail to advertise their wares.

Business is not dead, but there is not enough of it at present to satisfy every one. Many get less than they need. Some get enough. The latter are always the liberal advertisers. As in the past, so in the future—they will get the lion's share. Now is the time to plan out a vigorous campaign for 1894. We are ready to assist.

there is no vanity, no self-love in him, not a particle. I doubt whether he realizes that all the world—all his world—is talking of him as the coming man. I could almost believe that he has forgotten that he made the speech of the session! Whereas I glory in his success; I think of it every night; I go to sleep glowing with pride of him, and I dream of him and what he has done. That is why I am happier than he is, Flippa."

"He looks happy enough, at any rate," said Philippa. "There is only one thing he wants to make his cup overflow." "What is that?" asked Carrie, innocently; then her face flushed a deep crimson, and she turned her face away from Philippa's gaze. "There is no hurry," she said; "he must be patient.'

"And so must I, I suppose," said a voice, and Mr. Harrington entered. "Are you girls going to keep me all night?"

"Girls!" said Philippa. "There is the culprit," and she pointed to the tall, slim figure dressed in one of Worth's most artisfigure dressed in one of Worth's most artistic efforts. "Did you ever know her to be punctual?"
"Never," said Mr. Harrington, going up to —"never. I pity poor Neville!"

"Papa, you will rub all the paint and powder off!" she exclaimed, and she put her arm round his neck. And you will crush that lace to simple ruin!" cried Philippa. "Do put her away, papa; it has taken me half an hour to arrange those flowers, and you will put them all out of place."

Mr. Harrington put Carrie from him gently and laughed; the love between him and his little willful maid had grown stronger and deeper since that troublesome time, and she was more precious in his eyes than ever. In fact, as Philippa said, if by any chance there had been anything in Carrie unspoiled, he had succeeded in spoiling it utterly during the last few months.
"Come on," he said. "Cecil has been to my room ten times within the last ten minto bring you out. "And he ought to be in the salon receiving the homage of the multitude!" said Carrie, catching up her fan and hurrying to utes, and at last in desperation sent me here the door.

"You have succeeded in arousing her at last," said Philippa, following more sedately.

At the bottom of the stairs they found

Lord Cecil waiting for them. Carrie opened her lips to scold him, but, after a quick glance to see that they were not observed, he opened his arms and took her into them for a moment. "My darling!" he whispered. "How long you have been! I would not go without

For shame, sir! And all the world and his wife waiting to honor the great orator!" "The world and his wife are waiting rather to see a willful little maiden whom the orator is foolish enough to love," he said, with a smile. They entered the room-which was extremely crowded by this time-and made their way toward the entrance, where Lady Fitz-Harwood stood to receive the guests who were still arriving.

Before they could reach her side, however, they were surrounded. People are always eager to welcome the rising star, and many to whom Lord Cecil Neville had been merely a name until his great speech in the House, were now anxious to make his acquaintance and force theirs on him. There was a determined forward movement also on the part of the representatives of desirous of seeing th young lady of whom the society papers had so much to say of late; and presently there was a little court round Carrie, so that she

While she was receiving this homage to her popularity as modestly as possible, a singular thing happened. It was none other than the entrance of Lady Bellairs and her daughter. How she had managed to possess herself of a card of invitation was, and always will be, a mystery; Philippa declared afterward that she either stole it, forged one, or crept into the room down the chimney or up the back staircase. Anyhow, there she was resplendent in crimson plush, with canary feathers in her hair, followed by her daughter in sethetic—and ugly—green. She looked a little nervous as she came into the room; it was so brilliant, so crowded a gathering, so unlike the scratch parties to which she had hitherto been limited, that, for a moment, her nerves failed her. But her ladyship was not easily daunted, and presently, whispering to Euphemia "to come on, and not be afraid!" she struggled and pushed herself through the crowd toward the little court over which Carrie, bright and beaming as a star, was reigning.

Philippa saw her approaching, and whispering to her father, she slid away from him and gained Carrie's side. On struggled her ladyship "with a smile that lapped from ear to ear," as poor Hood used to say, and forcing her way into the very center of the group, exclaimed, holding

"My dear Carrie! How do you do?" Carrie started angrily, and looked round, and her face paled just a trifle while a flash of honest resentment of the impertinence and impudence of the woman lit up in her eyes; then, with an effort, she crushed down the feeling, and held out her hand.

But Philippa, with all her mildness, would not stand this. Stepping in between them, she crossed her hands over her fan and dropped Lady Bellairs a stately courtesy, as one who had been accosted by a perfect and objectionable stranger might have done.

The onlookers stared; some smiled at the speedy discomfiture of the vulgar intruder, and if Lady Bellairs had possessed half as much sense as impudence she would have taken the repulse and fallen back. But she was not easily balked.

"Ah, my dear Miss Harrington," she ex-"And how are you, too? It is ages since I saw you and your charming

"Yes, Lady Bellairs, the last meeting was in Maltfield churchyard." Lady Bellairs went fiame-color.
"I am so delighted to see your sister looking so well. We heard the most shocking accounts of her where I have been staying at Belkiecurrie-dear Lady Catesby's place in Scotland, you know!" Philippa inclined her head.

'You have been to Scotland, Lady Belfairs? No doubt you have returned with a good stock of Scottish sayings?" sweetly. Her ladyship, all unsuspicious, smiled in-

"Yes? Perhaps you have heard this one? 'Never grasp the stag by the horns until you are sure he is dead!' Yes, my sister is quite recovered, Lady Bellairs; but her medical advisers have strongly cautioned us against permitting anything of an irritating nature to approach her." And with another courtesy Philippa, the gentle, the sweet-natured, turned her back full upon the wretched woman.

What became of her ladyship and her daughter no one quite knew. Her disappearance was as mysterious as her entrance; Lord Kenworth, who had been an amused and delighted spectator of the scene, de-lared that she had invoked the gods to open

"I dare say," said Philippa, flushed, and panting a little, "but I would walk two miles to step on a wasp disguised as bluebottle. Lady Bellairs once stung my sister and I vowed, Lord Kenworth, that I would one day crush her in return. He looked at her in silence for a moment, with a strange light in his eyes, as if he had ever really seen Philippa before, then bowed and walked away. But before the evening was out he came up beside her. "Miss Harrington," he said, in a voice that was strangely shy and hesitating for him, "I have just had a little conversation with your father-

Philippa stared. "Yes?" "Yes, and he has been kind enough to ask me to pay him a visit at Howells."

"We should be very, very pleased to see you, Lord Kenworth," said Philippa, "Thank you!" he said, very earnestly. "It was at Howells that my friend Cecil

Carrie nodded. "Yes. How pleased and interested Lord Kenworth looks.' "Yes," said Cecil, pregnantly. "I never saw him look like that before. Carrie, my dear, I shouldn't be surprised if there were to be a Lady Kenworth in your family! I don't go in for prophecy, but if Kenworth

A New Ferry Line-A False Arrest-

Other Notes. A number of American capitalists visited this town last week and inspected the Alpha oil refinery. It is said to be their intention to purchase the same and commence the manufacture of refined oil. The heavy thaw this week is melting the ice in the bay, so that it will be impossible for butchers and others to commence cutting their supply of ice at present.

It is said that Mr. Jas. S. Loughead intends putting on another line of ferry boats between Sarnia and Port Huron in the spring in consequence of the present company having leased Clark's dock, and will run their boats from there when spring

Sarnia is going to have a long-felt want supplied in the kindergarten school that will be established here soon.

The Port Huron Opera House, which was recently burned down, is to be rebuilt in the spring, and a grander and more imposing structure will take the place of the o'd one. E. B. Harrington will be the pro-

Robert L. Gibson, colored cook at the Vendome Hotel, visited Port Huron one day last week, and when about to board the ferry for home was arrested by a policeman and lodged in their city jail, where he remained for two days. He was taken for a horse thief from Ann Arbor, Mich, whom he resembles somewhat. Bob threatens to sue the Port Huron authorities for false arrest and imprisonment.

A meeting of the Sarnia Township Agricultural Society was held on Thursday last in the town hall, when the following gentlemen were appointed a board of directors for the current year: Geo. Lucas, B. P. Morgan, P. Wellington, P. H. Clark, J. W. Hamilton, D. Tremblay, Jas. Lucas, J. A. Baxter and C. A. Wade. And the officers elected were: George Lucas, president; Peter Wellington, vice-president; J. W. Hamilton, secretary-treasurer. The society is in a flourishing condition.

JOE MARTIN IN REGINA.

Why is the Ballot Not Given to the Northwest ?-And Why Are Government Officials Allowed to be Politicians? WINNIPEG, Jan. 18 .- Mr. Joseph Martin, M. P. for Winnipeg, addressed a meeting in Regina last night. Mr. Davin was not in shape to do more than to make an interruption or two. "Under the N. P.," said Mr. Martin, "the only large export that we have to boast of is settlers' effects, etc." In speaking on the civil service, he was surprised in coming to the Northwest to find that the postmasters and Government officials were generally the presidents and secretaries of the Conservative Associations. He claimed that postmasters and Government officials had no right to take any part in politics. They were not tools for the Government to use, nor the Government's men, but the people's, and, in his opinion, they should either get the ballot or be disqualified for voting. "Why had not the Deminion Government given the ballot to the Northwest us they do all other parts of Canada?" They could not tell how this constituency would go at the next election, but he predicted a change of government, and if they wanted to be safe they would send down a Liberal member.

SMALLPOX IN NEW YORK.

The Disease Breaks Out in the Charity Hospital on Blackwell's Island.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18 .- Charity Hospital, of Blackwell's Island, which contains 800 patients, has been quarantined by order of the sanitary authorities. Six cases of smallpox were discovered in different wards at the institution yesterday, and the patients have been removed to the pesthouse on North Brothers Island.

The spread of the contagion at the hospital is laid to the failure of the staff physicians to discover the true ailment of a man named Schmidt, who was taken there a fortnight ago. He died last week, and it was not until his body reached the morgue that it was discovered that smallpox caused his death.

What She Said. Mrs. R. Peck, East Fifteenth street, New York City, visited Canada last year, and had the good fortune to pick up something which not only suited her, but her neighbors also. Writing the manufacturer of Nerviline, she says: "I bought three bottles of Nerviline while in Canada and treated my neighbors to some of it, and all think it the best medicine for internal or external pain they have ever used." Nerviline deserves such a commendation, for it is a most powerful, penetrating and certain remedy for pain of all kinds. Take no substitute.

Jagson says its one thing for a servant girl to know her place, but quite a different thing for her to keep it.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children." DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass. "Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves.' DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

A Brief Career. Many readers of the ADVERTISER will sympathize with Mr. and Mrs. Bedggood in the loss of their eldest daughter, Myrtle M., whose funeral took place yesterday afternoon from the family residence, No. 459 Dundas street. Deceased, who had not yet reached her 17th year, was an unusually bright, intelligent and promising girl, while her amiable disposition and many excellent traits of character endeared her to all her associates. She was an apt scholar and had successfully passed the examination for the high school, when an attack of bronchitis put a stop to her studies, and after a long and painful illness she passed away on Tuesday evening. The funeral vesterday was largely attended, the numerous and beautiful floral offerings also showing to some extent the love and esteem in which she was held by her many friends and by her late associates in the Sunday school, the Mission Band and the Y. P. S. C. E. connected with the Adelaide Street Baptist Church. Rev. D. M. Mihell conducted the services at the house and at the grave, the remains being interred in Mount Pleasant Cemetery. The pall-bearers were Clarence and Arthur Woodburn, Bert and Walter Clark, Henry Watson and James Angus. Weekly Patent Record.

The appearance among us this winter again of grip is a source of great alarm, not so much for the severity of the disease in itself or fatal-ities, although the latter is a source of much alarm; but the greatest danger seems to lie, as the greatest medical authorities state, in the cases that have never recovered from previous attacks, and have re-aroused disturbances consequent upon the after-effect of la grippe and the frequent changes of the weather. When this condition prevails we cannot too strongly impress upon our readers the great necessity of keeping open the excretory system of glands, and at the same time considering though fully the rheumatic feature that accompanies these cases, The remedy that most promptly suggests itself to my mind, and of most lasting benefit, and one that physicians are not only prescribing, but taking themselves, is Williams' Royal Crown Remedy—two teaspoonfuls four times a day—and a couple of Royal nams Royal Crown Remedy—two teaspoonius four times a day—and a couple of Royal Crown Pills three times a week. This is the remedy that has been so successful in the past in reconstructing the system and enabling it to combat the disease. The genuine should be in every home.

John R. Hooper Case.

JOLIETTE, Que., Jan. 18 .- Mr. J. N. Greenshields, Q.C., addressed the jury on behalf of John Reginald Hooper this morning. He began by says: "Gentlemen of the jury,-The charge against the prisoner is murder, and if you find him guilty it will be the duty of the judge to sentence him to death." He dealt with the danger of circumstantial evidence, and related cases where it had been the means of convicting innocent people. The crown, he said, had made much of the Louisville part of the case, which had no connection at all with the crime as charged in the indictment. Coming to the alleged object of the crime, he said the prisoner had never spoken of love to Miss Stapeley until after his wife's death. Mr. MacMaster delivered his address for the Crown this afternoon, and was followed by Mr. C. A. Cornelliet. The judge will deliver his charge to-morrow. It is expected the case will be finished by tomorrow evening.

At Death's Door .- Dyspepsia Conquered .- A Great Medical Triumph. GENTLEMEN, - My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live, when I commenced the use of Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 219 to 119 pounds. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over 30 dozen VEGETABLE DISCOVERY since it cured me, as I am well-known, and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try this grand medicine. It certainly saved my life, as I never expected to recover when I first commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything, but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merit as a certain JEAN VALCOURT, cure for Dyspepsia. (Signed.) General Merchant.
