

INCREASE IS SLOW IN POPULATION

Half the City Will Not Show Gain of Much More Than 150.

LONDON'S CENSUS FIGURES

Are Not Any Too Reassuring, But Assessment Is Going Ahead at Rapid Rate.

The assessment commissioner has not yet completed the returns for Ward 4, but the work will be finished within a week.

So far as can be learned the reports are satisfactory so far as the assessment itself is concerned, and a substantial increase, amounting to perhaps $200,000, will be added to the taxable property in that ward.

The population figures, however, are not extremely encouraging, the population showing but a slight increase.

The figures are not complete as yet but it was stated today that the increase would be between 75 and 100.

Ward 4 shows an increase of 41 more in population than last year, so the increase in half the city is not 150.

It is quite likely that Ward 1 will not show much growth in population, although there has been a healthy increase in South London, but Ward 2 will not show more population than last year, so the increase in the necessary 600 increase to make the population 50,000.

THREE MEN KILLED IN A STREET DUEL

Brook Haven, Miss., June 14.—It being feared that serious trouble would result in Meadville, county seat of Franklin County, Mississippi, as the result of a bloody street duel there late today, in which three men were killed and others are reported to have been seriously injured, the Brook Haven company of militia left at 6 o'clock for the scene by order of Governor Noel.

REV. G. G. HUXTABLE DEAD

Veteran Montreal Minister Was Taken Ill at Conference.

Montreal, June 15.—Rev. G. G. Huxtable, the veteran Methodist minister, died in the General Hospital yesterday morning. Although seventy-eight years of age, Mr. Huxtable was present at the opening of the Montreal Conference last week, at Pembroke, just towards the end of the conference, however, he was taken ill, and was brought home with considerable difficulty. He rapidly became worse, and on Saturday had to be removed to the hospital, where he died, death being due to diabetes and blood poisoning.

Rev. Mr. Huxtable was a well known figure throughout Eastern Ontario and Quebec. He had an active career both in the ministry and in campaigns in the interest of temperance. He was superannuated about five years ago, and came to live in Montreal. He leaves a widow and four children, two sons and two daughters.

GOLD IN SASKATCHEWAN.

Paynton, Sask., June 15.—A gold and silver mine was discovered seven miles south of here last week, and a large number of claims have already been staked. The town was practically deserted yesterday, as everybody left to stake out a claim.

The gold and silver is in quartz and gravel, and was analyzed by A. Forbes, M. D., of Duluth, Minn. One sample of quartz assayed $399.14 in gold to the ton, and $36 in silver, and a sample of gravel went $26 10 in gold to the ton.

A MONSTER ENGINE.

Montreal, June 15.—The Canadian Pacific is just completing the biggest locomotive ever built in Canada, which was designed by Mr. H. H. Vaughn, and built at its Ames shops. This monster locomotive is 70 feet from end to end, and with the loaded tender, weighs nearly two hundred tons. The boiler, which is about the size of two ordinary boilers, contains the equivalent of 4,000 feet of heating surface, and will develop 2,200 horsepower. The engine is of the Mallet articulated type, and is practically two engines under one big boiler. It will be tried out this week, then be sent west for use on the heavy grades in the Rocky Mountains. If it proves a success a number of similar ones will be built.

A "CAPITOL" QUESTION.

Little Rock, Ark., June 15.—Governor Donaghey and two members of the state commission formerly took possession yesterday of the unfinished capitol after breaking through a door which was locked by the contractors, Caldwell & Drake, of Columbus, Ind., when the Legislature adjourned last week. The governor left structural engineers in charge of the building. Last night George W. Caldwell, of Caldwell & Drake, appeared in court and said that he had possession of the building. The new capitol which has cost nearly $1,000,000 already and which engineers say is only about half completed, has been the bone of political contention in Arkansas for years.

Legislators have been charged in the courts with grafting in connection with the capitol and the Governor Donaghey was elected governor on the capitol question. He, as a contractor, has been opposing Caldwell & Drake in the construction of the building for years.

ATE GUN COTTON WILL SHE EXPLODE?

New York, June 14.—A dispatch to the Herald from Omaha says: Helen Wells, a 20-year-old girl, last night attempted suicide by eating a quantity of gun-cotton. All day today the girl has been resting on a heavy mattress with a double set of springs, and tied in such a manner that she cannot move a muscle.

In the meantime she is being dosed with chemicals in an effort to dissolve the explosive. Late last night the girl was attacked by a woman roommate and was severely beaten. She was taken to the police station, and while in the surgeon's room was left alone a moment. She seized a package and swallowed the gun cotton with which the surgeon was experimenting.

She was carefully placed under arrest and slung in a canvas bag, and with other persons placed on the bed with springs. Unless she explodes in a day's time the doctors hope the explosion will have become dissolved and the girl be out of danger.

HOTELS CANNOT

Are Unable to Look After 700
Delegates Who Will Be Here for Masonic Convention.

GRAND LODGE MEETING

Great Gathering Will Take Place in July in This City—The Situation.

Considerable difficulty is being experienced by the billeting committee of the Masons of London in providing quarters for the delegates who will be present at the grand lodge meeting here in July.

It is expected that about seven hundred Masons from the Province will be in the city, and the delegates at that time will make it quite difficult to find billets for them all.

The hotels will not be able to handle all the visitors, said Mr. John Graham, chairman of that committee. "We are having a list of available private houses prepared, and we will get them accommodated in that manner. All of the hotels are filled up, many of the delegates writing ahead for their rooms. In this way they have looked after themselves. There is a large number we will have to look after ourselves, and while we cannot get hotels for them all we expect to have room for all, and will give them a good time."

The Grand Lodge.

The grand lodge will meet on July 20, 21, 22, and 23. A great deal of business will be transacted. A contest for grand senior warden is promised. This office generally comes to the city where the grand lodge is held, and the warden will go to a London man.

Three names have been mentioned in connection with this office—Wor. Bro. Thomas Rowe, of St. John's, No. 20; Wor. Bro. William Allen Young, of Tuscan Lodge, and Wor. Bro. E. W. M. Flock, of Kilwinning, No. 64.

So far as can be learned these are the only names mentioned for the honor.

J., to New Brunswick, with his sweetheart, to be married, Joseph Kobatch, of South River, walked into the open draw of the New York and Long Branch Railroad bridge across the Raritan River early yesterday and was drowned. The girl, Miss Anna Kieh, of New York, who was visiting friends here, was thrown into the water after her betrothed by one of the bridge tenders.

The girl was taken back to the home of her friends.

She said Kobatch persuaded her to cross the railroad bridge with him to save time. He carried a suitcase and had about $50 in his pocket. The night was dark and Kobatch did not know the draw was open, and walked right into the water.

Mayor Stevely and City Solicitor Meredith left for Toronto this morning to meet the representatives from North Bay, Peterboro, Hamilton, St. Catharines, and many other cities to discuss the question of septic tanks. CRACK SHOTS ARE UNDER SUSPICION

Is Said That Too Many Soldiers
Are Making Good for Efficiency Pay.

AM P NEWS OF INTEREST

First Hussars Had a March Through the Country—Minstrel Show on Heights Tonight.

There are likely to be some interesting developments as a result of an investigation which is taking place in connection with the scores which some of the soldiers have been making at the Cove ranges, and which entitles them to first-class efficiency pay.

Yesterday a very close watch was kept, and it is believed some of the soldiers who are fairly good shots have been shooting under different names for those who were not so good, so as to enable them to get higher efficiency pay. The orders contain the following notice:

Disqualification Notice.

"Disqualification"—Any cases of the following nature occurring during military practice are to be considered as disqualifying the soldier concerned from any grant of efficiency pay, and the musketry instructor is to report such cases to the camp commandant at once, in order that the offenders may be punished, and the necessary deductions made by the camp paymaster.

1. Any man firing or attempting to fire for another by impersonation.

2. Any person allowing another person to fire on his behalf.

Officers Suspicious.

As stated in The Advertiser last week, the exceptionally high scores which were made and which entitled to both the 100 and 200 yard ranges, a number of cases have been brought to the notice of the officers, where men have made one or even two points less than the required score at 100 yards, but have exceeded the score considerably at the longer range. For several days it was usual in cases of this kind to average the score, and allow the man his efficiency pay if he made a total of more than 28 at the two ranges.

Minimum of 14 Points.

Now, however, instructions have been received that at least 14 points must be made at each range, and the soldier shooting is not entitled to any efficiency pay. Where there are such a large number of men to shoot, and it is practically impossible for most of them to go to the ranges more than once, the problem is a difficult one to adjust, but the authorities are trying to get around it by allowing all who shoot a score of at least 14 points at both the 100 and 200 yard ranges to be considered as having made a total of more than 28 at the two ranges.

All Well.

In the meanwhile things are going along quietly at camp. The crowds of visitors attending regularly every afternoon and evening, and the routine of the camp life is broken by baseball games, foot races and sports of various kinds.

Yesterday the First Hussars had a run of several miles out around the country for practice, and greatly enjoyed the outing.

Several of the patients, who were in the hospital, have been discharged. None of the cases are of a serious nature.

The Orders.

The Second Infantry Brigade is furnishing the duties today, and the First Infantry Brigade will furnish them tomorrow.

The medical officer for the day is Lieut. Davis, A. M. C., and he will be relieved tomorrow by Major J. D. Balfour.

Lieut. Ashbaugh, A. M. C., is in attendance at the ranges today, and will be relieved tomorrow by Major J. D. Balfour, of the Sixth Field Battery.

Pte. G. Searle, No. 1 Company, C. A. S. C., has reported for duty, and has been taken on the strength.

Lady's Locket Lost.

A lady's gold locket and chain were lost at the camp on Sunday afternoon. The locket contains a gentleman's photograph.

The First Hussars report at the service ranges for practice today.

The members of St. John's Athletic Club will give a minstrel show in the mess tent of the Twenty-sixth Regiment this evening. The show is for the soldiers only, and no admission will be charged.

UNITED STATES WANTS SLICE.

Pekin, June 15.—Acting on representations made by Henry P. Fletcher, charge d'affaires of the American Legation, China has agreed to ratify the foreign loan of $27,500,000 from British, German and French bankers for the construction of the Hankow-Szechuen Railroad. It is stated that this refusal, coupled with the representations made by the United States ambassadors in London, Paris and Berlin, will result in arrangements being made in Europe for American participation in the loan.

SLAVONIA A LOSS.

Liverpool, June 15.—The captain of the Cunard Line steamer Slavonia, which was wrecked last week on Flores Island, in the Azores, telegraphs that it is impossible to save the vessel, and that she will be a total loss, together with all the baggage of the saloon passengers that was in the hold.

FATHER SUES SON ON ASSAULT CHARGE

Latter, a Londoner, Ordered to Pay Full Amount of the Suit.

Hamilton, June 14.—A peculiar case was heard here this afternoon, when a father sued his son for damages for assault, and obtained a verdict for $200, the full amount claimed.

The plaintiff, a Londoner, is the plaintiff, and B. W. A. Johnson, of London, Ont., the defendant.

They had given an entertainment in a tent at Wootton in August last. After the performance an altercation took place, and in the melee Johnson pater had his shoulder dislocated, some ribs broken, and also suffered internal injuries.

The son claimed that his father began the attack, and was injured in consequence.

Judge Snider gave judgment in favor of the plaintiff for the full amount of the suit.

Elgin County Court Hears Case of Amusement Company
vs. Mosack.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

St. Thomas, June 14.—At an adjourned session of the county court this afternoon Judge Colter heard the case of the Port Stanley Amusement Company against Charles J. Mosack, manager of the City Hotel, London, formerly of Berlin, for $500 damages for breach of contract.

Mosack, it is charged, leased the Inverurie Hotel at Port Stanley for $2,500 per year. Later, he refused to take over the hotel, and the company claimed that they lost $500 in the transaction, for which they are suing.

Testimony was given by John Ferguson, secretary of the Port Stanley Amusement Company; B. F. Honsinger, St. Thomas; George Rowley, of the G. N. W. St. Thomas; Charles J. Mosack, London, and Hugh M. Douglass, formerly proprietor of the Fraser House.

After hearing the evidence, the hearing of argument by counsel was postponed until Monday. The case was represented by Mr. Mosack, while Letch & Green appeared for the plaintiffs.

DROPPED THE FENDER AND SAVED BOY'S LIFE

Roy Cooper Had a Very Narrow Escape on Richmond Street
Monday Afternoon.

A young lad named Roy Cooper, who is a member for the S. N. W. Telegraph Company, had a very narrow escape from serious injury, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the intersection of King and Richmond streets, when he was struck by a street car while crossing the tracks on a bicycle. Cooper, who was going east on King, looked for any approaching cars while crossing Richmond, but for some unaccountable reason failed to notice a northbound car coming up at a rapid rate, which struck the rear end of his wheel and threw him to the ground.

Only the quick mind of the motorman in lowering the fender averted a bad accident. As it was the corner of the fender struck his bicycle and pushed him clear of the tracks.

Outside of a bad scare for both the boy and the motorman, no damage was done.

RETAIL GROCERS RAISE PROTEST

Against the School Book Contract
Going to the T. Eaton Company.

ALLEGED IT IS UNFAIR

Action of the Government Is Condemned—Resolution Will Be Sent to Premier and Dr. Pyne and Others.

The Retail Grocers' Association of this city are greatly opposed to the action of the Ontario Government in awarding the contract for schoolbooks to the T. Eaton Company of Toronto, and at a recent meeting passed a resolution condemning the giving of the contract to that firm.

The Retail Grocers' Association of London have also sent in individual protests to the Government, and at the present time a movement is being formed to send an official deputation to Toronto bearing the signatures of all the retail grocers of the Province. A large number of the wholesalers and jobbers will also support the resolution.

The resolution of the retail grocers is as follows:

"Resolved that we, the Retail Grocers' Association of the city of London, think it very unfair to all retail merchants for the Ontario Government to award the contract for printing schoolbooks to the T. Eaton Company, of Toronto, for two reasons:

"In the first place, they are not publishers.

"Secondly, their only idea in taking the contract was for their advertisement inside every book.

"We protest against the T. Eaton Company being allowed to use the schoolbooks as an advertising medium."

Association's Position.

"The association think it unfair to us and to every detail dealer, that the Government should award the contract to the T. Eaton Company," said Mr. Ed J. Ryan, the president of the association. "The T. Eaton Company are not restricted to the advertisement they make in the books, and by means of the lower price of schoolbooks they will be brought directly into competition with every retail dealer. There is no doubt that the contract is lower than the cost of printing the books, but the company figure on the advertising and leverage it will give them all over the Province."

"Want Protection.

"It is good business for them, but it is not good business for us, and I think the Government should give us some protection. If the T. Eaton Company may use schoolbooks for advertising purposes, every firm should be given the same opportunity."

"The books are sold by this company at wholesale rates, and in this manner an unfair advantage is given them."

"The Booksellers.

"We have sent a letter of protest to the Government, and I understand all the retail booksellers in the city and the Province have done the same," said Mr. William Mills.

"It is the thin edge of the wedge, and it is time some action was taken. In a short time, the Eaton contracts will cover the whole series of books, and we will be prohibited practically from selling any school books."

"They are going to use the book for the contract price and make it pay, but the advertisement, and the right to put whatever sell or circular they like in the book, will make them make up for this loss. If one book is bought it is more than likely all the books needed will be purchased from the company also. It is not at all fair to us."

Copies of the resolution passed by the Retail Grocers' Association have been sent to Mr. James Whitney, Hon. Dr. Pyne, minister of education, and Hon. Adam Beck.

EXTRADITION TREATY.

Paris, June 15.—The Franco-American treaty of extradition has been ratified, and was today promulgated here.

FELL 100 FEET.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., June 15.—The body of a man found early today at the water's edge under the cliff close by the upper steel arch bridge has been identified as that of John W. O'Neil of this city. The man had fallen about one hundred feet to the rocks below.

GOES TO MEET CZAR.

Berlin, June 15.—Emperor William left here this morning at 10 o'clock on a special train for Danzig where he will embark on the imperial yacht Hohenzollern and proceed to the gulf of Finland to meet Emperor Nicholas of Russia.

A DEFIANT CARDINAL.

Bordeaux, June 15.—Cardinal Andrieux, who has been summoned to court charged with having incited a breach of the laws by the allocation he pronounced at the cathedral on the occasion of his enthronement, has sent a letter to the king in which he formally refuses to appear in court to answer any charge in connection with a separation law. The cardinal writes that the law became non-existent for Catholics the minute the supreme court, the incorruptible guardian of the morals of individuals and nations, condemned it as inimical to the prosperity, authority and liberty of the church."

WOUNDED BY LION.

Nalvasa, British East Africa, June 15.—A member of the party of T. C. Selous, the noted African hunter and George Mokili, a nephew of the late Senator McMillan, of Michigan, was brought in here yesterday mortally wounded by a lion. The man's name is Williams, and he was in the service of Mr. McMillan as a secretary. The encounter with the lion occurred in the Sotik district where the party has been shooting. The Roosevelt party left here ten days ago for the Sotik district, but nothing has been heard of the expedition since its departure.

BOILING WATER MADE BRUTE RELEASE HOLD

Bulldog Killed a Foxterrier on Pall Mall Street—A Sickening Sight.

One of the most vicious dog fights ever seen in London was witnessed yesterday afternoon on Pall Mall street, by a score of spectators, between a bulldog and foxterrier, with the results that the latter was killed, its neck being almost severed from the severe chewing that the bulldog gave him.

The affair lasted only a few minutes, as the foxterrier was dead shortly after the fight started, but great difficulty was met with in trying to force the bulldog to release his hold on the terrier's neck.

All efforts to do this were futile, even with the aid of a baseball bat and a huge iron poker. Not until an enterprising housewife appeared on the scene, with a kettle of boiling water, which she proceeded to pour all over him, did the bulldog evidence the slightest inclination to quit, even then he only stopped for a minute, and went at his victim with more ferocity and tenacity than ever, finally another kettle was procured, this time nearly twice as hot as the first, and was poured over the bulldog's head. The dead canine's neck and ran madly down the street, before any attempt could be made to capture him.

CHURCH UNION MAY COME UP

Bishop of Huron Is Likely to Raise the Question in the Synod.

THE CHURCH HYMNAL

Will Also Likely Be Referred to—
Other Important Matters Up for Debate.

It is expected that the Bishop of Huron's charge to the synod in Bishop Cronyn Hall this afternoon will deal with a number of matters of importance. Among these the question of church union will likely figure prominently, and will present the two sides of the question very fully.

The layman's missionary movement will also be alluded to by the bishop, very favorably. The bishop is a strong supporter of the movement, and it is expected that he will urge the church union will likely figure prominently, and will present the two sides of the question very fully.

"Another characteristic of the Lord Christ, and one that we would do well to consider more carefully, is expressed in his own statement, 'I am among you as one who serves.' Christ spoke first of all to the first stratum of society he wrought from the ground of the earth."

"The New Testament there is no condemnation against possessing wealth; it is not its possession that is condemned, but its misuse. There is no commendation of poverty, but only an exposition of the grandeur of labor, and I think that the question must come to us all. Have we been faithful to our ministry to this teaching of Christ?"

"The message of Christ regarding wealth is that of mutual brotherhood. We have all rich and poor, but only congregations, and have been faithful preachers of these doctrines of Christ in our own circles?"

"In the Church of England we have a noble heritage. We have an open Bible, open to the child, open to the world's best scholarship. We are fearless of Biblical criticism, but only a Biblical liturgy, catholic ceremonial, (Continued on Page Eight.)"

TACTICAL EXERCISES FOR AMBULANCE MEN

Will Establish and Maintain
Field Hospitals All Night
Tonight.

The ambulance field units that are in camp will have their first experience in tactical exercises tonight, when they will establish hospitals all night. The field units will be supposed to be attached to a force which is defending the city, and are supposed to be posted from the ridge at the sixth concession of London Township to the asylum sideroad.

The offensive force is supposed to make attack some time during the early part of the evening, and the battle will rage all night until dawn.

The ambulance field units will be supposed to throw exactly the movements they would in a real battle, and will establish a series of hospitals at different points. The field units will be under the direction of Lieut. Col. Belton and Col. Hayes.

SECRETARY M'DERMID STILL WELL PLEASED

Never Was a More Orderly
Camp in London, He Says.

The London Temperance League are more than pleased with the results that are following the action of the militia department in prohibiting the sale of liquor in camp.

"There never was a more orderly camp in London," Secretary M'Dermid told The Advertiser this afternoon. "Of course, some of the boys are coming down town and getting drunk, but the majority of those who do so are men who are in the habit of drinking more or less regularly; it was the boys we wanted to save, and I think by making it impossible for the younger fellows to get drunk at the camp the militia department has done a great work. The officers say that the men have been most attentive at all their work and haven't the slightest fault to find."

SYNOD OF HURON OPENS SESSION

Delegates From All Quarters Are Already in City and More
Are Coming.

FIRST BUSINESS MEETING

Held This Afternoon at Three o'clock
—Archdeacon McKenzie's Impressive Sermon.

The delegates to the Synod of Huron are rapidly gathering, and this morning there was a very good attendance at the opening religious service in the cathedral.

The first business session opened at three o'clock this afternoon when the official roll was called. From those present this morning, however, it would seem that the very large majority of those belonging to the synod will be on hand.

This morning's service was of a very impressive nature. The Venerable Archdeacon McKenzie of Grace Church, Brantford, preached a powerful sermon that dealt with the reason that the church had lost some of its power by falling away from principles of Christ's teaching by being careless of the poor and afflicted, Christ tending more and more to minister to the wealthy and well-to-do at the expense of their more needy brothers.

The service was in charge of the Very Rev. Dean Davis, the head of the chapter, assisted by the canons and archdeacons.

Archdeacon's Sermon.

Archdeacon McKenzie chose for his text, Luke iv, 18: "The spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he has anointed me to preach the Gospel to the poor."

"These words were apparently the very first read by Christ in the synagogue of Nazareth," said the archdeacon, "and he applied them to himself, and so

LONDON, TUESDAY, JUNE 15.

AMERICANIZING CANADA.

J. Hall Richardson, writing to the Fortnightly Review (London, Eng.), discusses the stringency of the Canadian immigration laws, which he considers have the effect of reducing the number of British emigrants, while they do not interfere to the same extent with people coming from the United States. Of course, he tacitly admits that the restrictions are really against "undesirables," and that, consequently, none of this class are to be found among British emigrants than among those from the United States.

The point he is trying to emphasize, however, is that Canada prefers immigrants from the United States to those from Britain; that consequently instead of Canada remaining a British country the time will soon come when the majority of our people will be of foreign birth and descent, and that the Dominion will actually become Americanized.

It is not a fact that Canadians prefer immigrants from the United States and dislike those from England. We want good men from wherever they come; there is not much doubt that we would prefer to have the good men come from the mother country. But if British magistrates and philanthropic societies try to unload their feeble and criminal classes on us, we certainly do not want them, and much prefer suitable men from other European countries, as well as from the United States.

We want the men with the will and the ability to work; the men whose energy, industry and sobriety will make them successful settlers. We have some of that class from Britain; send us more, and they will be heartily welcome. Any dissatisfaction felt in Canada with regard to a British immigrant is not because he is British, but because he is no good.

It is true, however, that we welcome the immigrants from the United States, but that is not simply because they come from that country, but because they are, as a class, good men. They are not the undesirable men from large cities; they are hardy sons of the soil from the Western States, who know how to work, and who are willing to work. Most of them are men with some means, as is evidenced by the fact that during the past year they brought with them $52,000,000 in cash and settlers' goods. We want this class; we welcome them heartily; would welcome them still more heartily if they came from our motherland.

The fear that this increasing immigration from the United States will Americanize Canada we believe to be unfounded. In the first place a large proportion of this immigration is really Canadian. Some years ago there was an exodus from Canada to the United States. Large numbers of our people settled in the Northwestern States. They went there because the opportunities for advancement seemed greater. While they doubtless succeeded in bettering themselves for the time, yet, with the development of our own Northwest, their hopes and wishes turn their feet homeward, and they are flocking back to the shelter of the old flag.

Apart from that, however, immigrants to a new country soon become assimilated, if they are any good. The successful man becomes content with his surroundings; it is the unsuccessful immigrant who is dissatisfied and wants to change things.

Good men coming into Canada will be successful, and, therefore, content—no matter from whence they come. Even if they come from the United States they will be satisfied. They will find government, laws, social and moral conditions are as good as they left; we believe even better. Instead of Americanizing Canada it will not be long before they are thoroughly Canadianized, and may, indeed, become more intensely British than some native Canadians.

We have no fear of any evil influence that good immigrants may have on our morals, our religion, or our loyalty. At all events we are quite willing to run the risk.

THE C. P. R. REACHING OUT.

The announcement recently made by Second Vice-President Whyte, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, that the grain route between the west and St. John, N. B., is to be shortened, is of much importance. This is to be brought about by the construction of a line to Duluth, connecting the Canadian Pacific Soo line with the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic, which runs along the south shore of Lake Superior, and, like the Soo and old Chicago Great Western, is controlled by the Canadian Pacific. The intention is to construct over one-third of the new line, which will be three hundred miles in length, this year. With such a big cut-off as this line will form, the Canadian Pacific will possess the shortest grain route from Winnipeg to the Atlantic, while its main line along the north shore of Lake Superior—the most difficult part of the big railway to operate owing to the blizzards which sweep along that shore—will be relieved of the pressure resulting from its rapidly developing traffic. While a portion of the grain traffic eastward will continue via Fort William and the north shore of Lake Superior, much of it will be carried over the south shore from Winnipeg, via Duluth, taking the Canadian Pacific main line again at Sudbury. As the shortest route from the western prairies to a Lake Superior port, the C. P. R. naturally expects to hold a large share of lake freight in the summer, when the company's steamers are busy with the commerce which can be carried more economically by water than by rail. Besides, being the shortest and most direct route from Winnipeg to Duluth, the new line will also serve an important grain belt at present without adequate transportation facilities.

As the St. John, Telegraph points out, considered from any standpoint, the shortening of the haul from the west is an important consideration to the farmer of the west, and the shipper of the east. Mr. Whyte's announcement goes to show that the Canadian Pacific is steadily reaching out for business, taking advantage of all the short cuts likely to increase its traffic and at the same time endeavoring to strengthen its position in both the west and the east. By securing a port on the eastern shore of Georgian Bay and obtaining an entry into Duluth, the great railway will be in a position to handle grain both expeditiously and cheaply.

A WET AND DRY TOWN.

[Memphis Appeal.]

As most of our readers know, the boundary line between Tennessee and Virginia runs right through the flourishing town of Bristol; so that one-half of the place is in Tennessee and the other half in Virginia. The prohibition law passed by the recent legislature covers, of course, only the Tennessee half of Bristol. It does not affect Bristol, Va. From this singular condition of affairs looms a strange possibility. If Bristol, Va., can be made wet, the liquor people feel that they can make it a great whisky and beer emporium, from which they can conveniently supply the entire state of Tennessee with its liquid refreshments.

LEMIEUX ACT SCORES AGAIN.

[Hamilton Times.]

Hon. Mr. Lemieux has again the satisfaction of seeing a great strike prevented and good feeling between employers and employees brought about by the excellent measure which bears his name. There will be no strike of the employees of the Dominion Textile Company, an amicable settlement of all points of dispute having been brought about by the board of conciliation. In a letter to the labor department, Mr. Gibeault, president of the Federation of Textile Workers, says: "This is a striking demonstration of the value of the Lemieux act for with-out this law I believe there would have been a long continued strike. There is a vast economy in this method of settling labor disputes. Even more important is its effect in securing justice and preserving good feeling."

FOR THE FOURTH.

[Chicago Record-Herald.]

The fireworks factories and storehouses are beginning to blow up, thus indicating that this year's glorious Fourth is pretty sure to be about as unsafe and insane as any that have preceded it. Blowing up of fireworks repositories always constitutes one of the disagreeable preliminaries.

MORLEY, THE LEVEL-HEADED.

[Buffalo Courier.]

Lord Morley—the John Morley of other days—is one of the few surviving English statesmen who have not lost their heads in the panic over the "German peril." It was a high public service for him to say at this time to the imperial press congress that the English tongue is a stronger and more enduring bond of imperial union than anything else—a thousand times stronger than the achievements of soldiers and sailors and the statesmen who direct them. It requires courage these days for a public man to make a declaration like that.

CANADIANS NOT FICKLE.

[Montreal Star.]

One of the "sights" which Lord Rosebery told his audience they might see in Canada was that "under the most advanced democracy a prime minister may hold his own against the successive buffets of innumerable general elections." Canada has certainly given the world an example of stability of government joined to breadth of franchise. Sir John Macdonald ruled for thirteen years and his party for five more. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has ruled for thirteen years, while Sir Oliver Mowat governed Ontario as long as he chose to "stay on the job." Our fault is not fickleness, at all events.

PROSPERITY AND BUOYANCY.

[Winnipeg Free Press.]

The increase in the customs revenue of 1909 over that of 1908 signifies a return of prosperity, but it signifies also a renewed buoyancy of the Dominion revenue. The excess of revenue over expenditure last financial year was the smallest in twelve years, and it is already evident that the surplus for the financial year 1909-10 will show a marked improvement. This is a fortunate showing, as it comes at a time when partisan efforts are making to disparage the Dominion's credit in London, where Canadian securities are almost exclusively held.

NEW YORK DEFEATS THE WHITE SOX 7 TO 5

Big Four Gang Beat Chicago for First Time This Season.

New York, June 14.—New York defeated Chicago today for the first time this season, 7 to 5. After Walsh had been found for two runs in the third inning, Burns was substituted. The locals made five tallies off his left-handed pitching in the one round he worked. Engle's batting was responsible for five of New York's seven runs. Score:

Philadelphia, June 14.—St. Louis defeated Philadelphia today by 11 to 6 in a poorly-played game. The home team got a lead of five runs in the first three innings. It was a very thankful downpour for the Bisons, but it was tough on the Orioles.

ENGLISH CAN'T SEE IT

Carnegie's Plan to Limit Armaments Doesn't Cause a Ripple.
London, June 14.—Andrew Carnegie made a very brief stay in London on his arrival from Paris and, after receiving the freedom of two provincial townships in recognition of his munificence, he betook himself to his beloved Skibo Castle in Scotland.

The comments on Mr. Carnegie's suggestion that the United States take the initiative in bringing about a limitation of European armaments sufficiently indicated the view taken of the proposal here, and only one of the weekly papers even refers to the proposal any more.

The paper in question devotes two and a half columns to showing that were President Taft to act on Mr. Carnegie's suggestion, it would produce even a greater state of mistrust and disquiet than exists now.

PACHMANN SO WILD HAS TO BE WATCHED

"Monkey Tricks" Believed To Be Works of Genius No More.

London, June 14.—Vladimir Pachmann, the great pianist whose eccentricities are as well known in New York as in London, has now become so wild in his habits that he is accompanied everywhere by a friend—some people are bold enough to call "the friend" a "keeper."

Many music lovers have cherished the idea that Pachmann's "monkey tricks" at the piano were merely the pose of genius, but of late it is certain that the pianist has become so irresponsible in his actions that he has to be most carefully watched.

By Phillips Oppenheim.
Author of "A Lost Leader," "The Mafeking," "The Maker of History," etc.

"Not particularly," Mr. Ascoug declared. "As you know, it is not an unusual course."
"It did not suggest to you any determination on his part never to return to England?"
"Certainly not."
"He left England on friendly terms with his mother?"
"Certainly. She and he were people for whom I and every one who knew anything of their lives had the highest esteem and admiration."
"You can imagine no reason, then, for my father leaving England for good?"
"Certainly not!"
"You know of no reason why he should have abandoned his trip to Australia and gone to Canada?"
"None!"
"His doing so is as inexplicable to you as to me?"
"Entirely."
"You have never doubted Lord Arranmore's story of his death?"
"Never. Why should I?"
"One more question," Brooks said. "Do you know that lately I have met a traveller—a man who visited Lord Arranmore in Canada, and who declared to his certain knowledge there was no other human dwelling-house within 50 miles of Lord Arranmore's cabin?"

"He was obviously mistaken."

"You think so?"

"It is certain."

"Brooks," he said, "will have given you some idea of the uncertainty I have felt once or twice lately, owing to the report of the traveller Lacroix, and Lord Arranmore's unaccountable kindness to me. You see, he isn't an ordinary man. He is not a philanthropist by any means, nor in any way a person likely to do kindly actions from the love of them. Now, do you know of any facts, or can you suggest anything which might make the situation clearer to me?"

"I cannot, Mr. Brooks," the older man answered, without hesitation. "If you take my advice, you will not trouble yourself any more with fancies which seem to me—pardon me—quite chimerical. Accept Lord Arranmore's kindness as the offshoot of some sentimental feeling which he might well have entertained towards a fellow-countryman by whose death he had stood in that far-away, lonely country. You may even yourself be mistaken in Lord Arranmore's character, and you can remember, too, that after all what means so much to you costs him nothing—is probably for his own advantage."

Brooks rose and took up his hat.

"I am very much obliged to you, Mr. Ascoug," he said. "Yours, after all, is the common-sense view of the affair. If you like, I will walk up to the station. I am going that way."

So Brooks, convinced of their folly, finally discarded certain uncomfortable thoughts which once or twice lately had troubled him. He dined at the hotel, and, improved, his acquaintance with Lady Caroom and her daughter, who were still staying there. Although this was not a matter which he had mentioned to Mr. Ascoug, there was something which he found more inexplicable even than Lord Arranmore's transference of the care of his estates to him, and that, the apparent encouragement which both he and Lady Caroom gave to the friendship between Sybil and himself. They had lunched with him twice in Medchester, and more often waiting at his table, whilst Lady Caroom and Sybil descended upon him with invitations from Lord Arranmore. After his talk with Mr. Ascoug he put the matter behind him, but it remained at times an inexplicable puzzle.

On the evening of this particular visit he found Sybil alone in a recess of the drawing-room with a newspaper in her hand. She greeted him with obvious pleasure.

"Do come and tell me about things," Mr. Brooks, she begged. "I have been reading the local paper. Is it true that there are actually people starving in Medchester?"

"There is a great deal of distress," he admitted, gravely. "I am afraid that it is true."

She looked at him with wide-open eyes.

"But I don't understand," she said. "I thought that there were societies who dealt with all that sort of thing, and behind, the—workhouse."

"So there are, Lady Sybil," he answered, "but you must remember that societies are no use unless people will subscribe to them, and that there are a great many people who would sooner starve than enter the workhouse."

"But surely," she exclaimed, "there is no difficulty about getting money if people only understand."

He watched her for a moment in silence—suddenly appreciating the refinement, the costly elegance which seemed in itself to be a part of the girl, and yet for which surely her toilette was in some way also responsible. Her white satin dress was cut and fashioned in a style which he was beginning to appreciate as evidence of skill and costliness. A string of pearls around her throat gleamed softly in the twilight. A chain of life gold-studded opals and diamonds reached almost to her knees. She wore few rings, indeed, but they were such as he had never seen before. He had come as a guest to Enton, and there were thousands like her. A momentary flash of thought carried him back to the days of the French revolution. There was a print hanging in his room of a girl as fair and as proud as this one, surrounded by a fierce rabble mad with hunger and the pent-up rage of generations, tearing the jewels from her fingers, tearing even, he thought, the trimming from her gown.

"You do not answer me, Mr. Brooks," she reminded him.

He recovered himself with a start.

"I beg your pardon, Lady Sybil. Your question set me thinking. We have tried to make people understand, and many have given most generously, but for all that we cannot cope with such distress as there is today in Medchester. I am secretary for one of the distribution societies, and I have seen things which are enough to sadden a man for life, only during the last few days."

"You have seen people—really hungry?" she asked, with something like timidity in her face.

"He laughed bitterly.

"That we see every moment of the time we spend down amongst them," he answered. "I have seen worse things. I have seen the sapping away of character—men become thieves and women worse—to escape from starvation. That, I think, is the greatest tragedy of all. It makes one shudder when one thinks that on the shoulders of many people some portion of the responsibility at any rate for these things must rest."

Her lips quivered. She emptied the contents of a gold chain purse into her hands.

"It is we who are wicked," Mr. Brooks, she said, "who spend no end of money and close our ears to all this. To take this, will you; can it go to some of the children? There are only five or six pounds there, but I shall talk to mamma. We will send you a check."

He took the money without hesitation.

"I am very glad," he said, earnestly. "That you have given me this, that you have felt that I should give it to me. I hope you won't think badly of me for coming over here to help you spend a pleasant evening, and talking at all of such miserable things."

"Badly!" she repeated. "No! I shall never be able to thank you enough for telling me what you have done. It makes one feel almost wicked, to be sitting here, and wearing jewelry, and feeling well-off, spending money on whatever you want, and to think that there are people starving. How they must hate us."

"It is the wonderful part of it," he answered. "I do not believe that they do. I suppose it is a sort of fatalism—the same sort of thing, only which less ignoble, as the indifference which keeps our rich people contented and deaf to this terribly human cry."

"You are young," she said, looking at him, "to be so much interested in such serious things."

"It is in my blood, I suppose," he answered. "My father was a police court missionary, and my mother the matron of a pauper hospital."

"They are both dead, are they not?" she asked, softly.

"Many years ago," he answered.

Lady Caroom and Lord Arranmore came in together. A certain unusual seriousness in Sybil's face was manifest.

"You two do not seem to have been amusing yourselves," Lady Caroom remarked, giving her hand to Brooks.

"Which Brooks has been answering some of my questions about his poor people," Sybil answered, "and it is not an amusing subject."

Lord Arranmore laughed lightly, and there was a touch of scorn in his slight curve of his fine lips and his raised eyebrows. He stood away from the shaded lamplight before a great gold falling fitfully from his face seemed to Brooks, watching him with more than usual closeness, to give him something of a Mephistopheles aspect. His evening clothes hung with more than ordinary precision about his slim body, his black tie and black pearl stud supplied the touch of something so aptly in keeping with the merciless, bitter smile which still parted his lips.

THAT AWFUL PAIN IN THE BACK

IS A SURE SIGN OF CONGESTION OF THE KIDNEYS—TAKE "FRUIT-A-TIVES."

Lots of men, and women too, are limping about the house—groaning in easy chairs or tossing about in the bed—because of that nagging pain in the back. The old standbys—hot vinegar, porous plasters, liniments, etc.—don't do any good any more. You see, you are a bit older now. The kidneys are not as strong as they used to be. And even those "blistering" liniments and plasters won't stimulate the kidneys. Your trouble is kidney trouble. The kidneys are diseased, they are overworked and strained. The bowels and skin—which help the kidneys to rid the system of waste matter—have not been doing their share of the work. The kidneys have had to do too much. What you need is a medicine to cleanse the bowels, liver and skin. This medicine must cure the constipation by acting on the liver and thus make the bowels move regularly and naturally. This medicine must beat and strengthen the kidneys, and thus relieve the congestion. "Fruit-a-tives" is this medicine. It is the most effective kidney remedy known, and keeps these vital organs in a vigorous, healthy condition. For aged people, for those who work hard, for tired-out women, "Fruit-a-tives" never fail to stop that nagging pain in the back and build up the whole system. 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial box, 25 cents. At dealers or from Fruit-a-tives, Limited, Ottawa.

McLaughlin told of what passed at a conference between Delancey Nicoll and Hawley. The witness said that he (the witness) had heard stories of the plaintiff's marriage to Hawley, but Hawley, at the conference with Mr. Nicoll, would not say whether he had been married to Mrs. Gould or not, but he did admit that plaintiff had been used on several occasions on ocean steamships to decoy men to play cards.

McLaughlin also testified that it was reported that the plaintiff had married a man in Baltimore named Dawson, and that he had sent a detective to Baltimore to investigate the matter, but nothing tangible resulted. While McLaughlin was testifying the plaintiff fanned herself vigorously and never moved her eyes from him.

Howard Gould's income. Mr. Nicoll, counsel for the defendant, said he would concede Howard Gould's income was about $500,000 a year, some years a little less and some years a little more.

Mr. George Gould testified that he caused an investigation to be made in regard to the former marriage of his brother, Howard's wife. He could not recall within one year of his brother's marriage. Mr. Gould said father's estate had never been formally divided among the children, but that it was valued approximately at $800,000. Howard Gould was entitled to one-sixth of the estate under the will, the witness said. January, 1906, he said, his brother's income was about $777,000 and had not varied much in years prior or subsequent to that.

He figured that Howard Gould's income from the estate was $725,000 in 1902, $782,000 in 1903, $706,000 in 1904, $742,000 in 1905, $777,000 in 1906, and $748,000 in 1907. The witness was not permitted to state whether he had a detective agency "investigate" a certain ex-convict or whether he had told his brother of such an investigation.

Howard Gould followed his brother on the witness stand. He was called by Mr. Shearn, Mrs. Gould's counsel. Mr. Shearn asked how much of the $777,000 income in 1906 Mr. Gould spent. Howard Gould testified that he considered his property outside of the Jay Gould estate worth $5,000,000 or $10,000,000. This was independent of the income left him by his father.

At one time during the cross-examination of Mrs. Gould, the witness produced a photograph of a woman on horseback, purporting to have been taken at Manchester, Eng., when with the plaintiff's show. The witness colored slightly as she took the card. She did not recognize the equestrienne.

"Is not that you?" cried Mr. Nicoll.

"I do not think so," declared Mrs. Gould.

"Will you swear it is not you?"

"I think I can say quite positively it is not I."

"Will you swear it is not you?" reiterated the interrogator more insistently.

The witness thought that she would not.

THE TORONTO CONFERENCE

Methodists Out Against Military Training in Schools.

Toronto, June 14.—Race-track gambling, the publication of racing intelligence and advertising were condemned together with other things, as having a corrupting and demoralizing influence by the Toronto Methodist Conference today.

The report on temperance and moral reform, which was adopted, urged that pending the enactment of legislation prohibiting the bar every effort should be made to curtail the traffic by means of local option bylaws. The report declared decided opposition to the three-fifths clause, and recommended that a petition be presented to limit the hours for the sale of liquor from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The report regretted that his Excellency the Governor-General and others in high positions should, by their presence at the Woodbine, support a debasing evil.

After stating the need of more in answer to questions regarding the cost of her various dresses, etc., Mrs. Gould gave the following estimates:

Dinner gowns, $500 to $600.

Morning gowns, $100 to $150.

Day gowns (worn shopping, etc.), $500.

Tea gowns, $300 to $400.

Reception gowns, $500.

For motor, coaching and yachting the witness said she required particular gowns, but did not say how much she paid for them.

Paris, June 14.—Mlle. Esther Lapina, a successful young woman dentist in the Rue Bailion, shot herself under extraordinary circumstances.

She was a Russian by birth and had come to Paris a few months ago, but her skill won for her a large practice, and she was known as one of the best women dental surgeons in the capital.

About 6 o'clock at night the concierge heard a loud explosion in Mlle. Lapina's apartments, and on rushing upstairs she found the woman lying unconscious on the floor with a bullet through her head. A doctor was sent for and succeeded in restoring her sufficiently to enable her to tell her story.

She belonged to one of the most dangerous revolutionary committees in Russia, and had been exiled to Irkutsk. She escaped, and sought refuge in Paris, where she continued to take an active interest in the plots of the Russian terrorists.

A few days ago Mlle. Lapina received a letter from the committee in Russia intrusting her with a secret and perilous mission. Feeling that she had not sufficient strength to fulfill the task she shot herself. Mlle. Lapina died two hours later.

Ottawa, Ont., June 14.—A large frame building on the Montreal road, one mile from the city, was wrecked last night by a dynamite charge placed under one corner. Windows in houses within a radius of 200 yards were smashed by the explosion. It is thought the dynamite was secured in a near-by quarry, but no reason for the outrage can be assigned.

NO DEBATE ON NORTH END LINE

Everybody Seems Satisfied to Allow Railway Board to Settle Matter.

COUNCIL MET LAST NIGHT

Agreement With London Electric Is Extended One Year—Sheet Asphalt for Carling Street.

The question of the north end extension was referred by the city council last evening to the Ontario municipal and railway board without a debate.

It was expected that there would be a field day when this matter was considered, but the decision of the finance committee to send the whole problem to the railway board for solution prevented anything of that nature.

There was no gallery at the meeting, and none of those interested were present, with the exception of Mr. A. J. Morgan, who came in late, and as soon as he saw what had taken place, left the building. All the citizens are satisfied with the decision of the committee so far as can be learned.

Another Matter.
The board will also be asked to settle another question, provided an agreement cannot be arrived at between the city and the Southwestern Traction Company.

Windsor avenue has been opened up to the right-of-way of the company and the board of works will attempt to come to some agreement with the company to cross their line. If satisfactory arrangements cannot be made the railway board will settle the question.

Pavements.
A sheet asphalt pavement will be laid on Carling street, between Talbot and Ridout streets.

Last night a bylaw was passed repealing the bylaw to lay an asphalt block pavement on that street.

On Thursday night the board of work will receive a petition, signed by a petition, signed by two-thirds and more of the property owners along that street, there is no doubt it will be passed without difficulty.

Ald. Stewart stated after the bylaw had been passed last night that some of the owners were agreeable to asphalt block, if there was not much difference in the cost.

"Why did they not say so before this?" said Ald. Beattie. "First they wanted block, and now they want a sheet asphalt pavement. We will lay a sheet asphalt pavement, and that will settle it."

Street Lighting Agreement.
The agreement between the London Electric Company and the city was passed by the council last evening, and this somewhat vexed question has at last been settled.

The agreement presented by City Solicitor Meredith is merely a continuation of the old agreement, and runs for one year only.

When the bylaw was presented Ald. Beattie informed the council that the London Electric Company were satisfied with the present form of the agreement, and were prepared to sign it.

"Mr. Hunt saw it, and he is satisfied with it," he said. "They are perfectly willing to sign it at once."

The bylaw was passed without question.

Ald. Garratt, chairman of No. 3 committee, wanted to know if he would order the company's account to be paid.

"As soon as this agreement is signed, the accounts can be paid," said Mayor Stevely.

"Does that include the claim for interest?" asked Ald. Moorhead.

"No, I do not think so," said Ald. Beattie. "It merely calls for the payment of the regular rate for lighting our streets."

DUFFERIN PARK CASE.
Toronto, Ont., June 14.—Officers and directors of the York Riding and Driving Club, which organization operates the Dufferin Park, were before Hon. Mr. Hanna, the provincial secretary, this morning, to show cause why the charter should not be cancelled.

Mr. H. H. Dewar, K. C., counsel for the club, obtained an adjournment of the hearing until tomorrow. Mr. Dewar was before the hon. minister's comments as to the origin of the inquiry. The Attorney-General, who was present, wanted full details of the capitalization of the company, and he also asked a number of questions regarding other matters which the members of the company, through Mr. Dewar, said could not be answered without the books, all of which were not on hand this morning.

BRAIN BUILDING
Hysteria sometimes leads to insanity, and should be treated through feeding the brain and nerves upon scientifically selected food that restores the lost delicate gray matter, and gives the power of the brain food, Grape-Nuts, is remarkably strong.

"About eight years ago, when working very hard as a court stenographer, I collapsed physically, then nervously, and was taken to the State Hospital for the Insane at Lincoln, Neb., a raving maniac."

"They had to keep me in a straight-jacket and I was kept in the worst ward for three months. I was finally dismissed in the following May, but did no brain work for years, until I fell when I was persuaded to take the testimony of two cases."

"One of these was a murder case, and the strain upon my nervous system was so great that I would have broken down again except for the strength I had built up by the use of Grape-Nuts. When I began to feel the pressure of the work of my brain and nerves I simply increased the amount of Grape-Nuts and used the food more regularly."

"I now feel like my old self again, and am healthy and happy. I am sure that if I had known of Grape-Nuts when I had my trouble eight years ago, I would never have collapsed, and this dark experience in my life would never have happened."

"The power of Grape-Nuts as a brain food is simply wonderful, and I do not believe any stomach is so weak that it cannot digest this wonderful food."

"There's a Reason." Look for the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in packages.

ANNUAL BANQUET HURON ALUMNI

Very Pleasant Event Last Night in the College.

A PITHY TOAST LIST

Which Brought Forth Some Excellent Speeches—Those Who Were Present.

The annual banquet of the alumni of Huron College was held last night at the college, and proved a most enjoyable affair. Graduates from all over the Province were present.

Rev. R. S. W. Howard, of Christ Church, who is president of the Alumni Association, was in the chair, and after those present had honored the toast to "The King," he proposed the toast of the evening, "Huron College."

In the absence of Rev. Principal Waller, who is in England, the resolution was made by Very Rev. Dean Craig, who presided over the banquet. The dean pointed out that at the recent V. P. examinations, Huron College had not only presented several candidates, but six of them were successful.

The institution, he said, should be proud of their showing, as many of the largest colleges in Canada had only presented two candidates, and a great many more at that.

During the past year, he said, four missions in the Diocese of Huron have been supplied by men from Huron College, and in addition a number of vacant parishes have been supplied at different times. Altogether the record showed that 222 services had been conducted during the year by Huron College men. This, he thought, was a record any college might be proud of.

In speaking of the support given the college the dean regretted that in more than 100 parishes no collection whatever had been taken up to aid the college work, and stated that the total collections in the diocese for that purpose had only reached $750.

Rev. Mr. Carlisle.
Rev. Arthur Carlisle, pastor of Holy Trinity Church at Lucan, and a graduate of Huron College, was heard with interest when he proposed the toast, "The Relation of the Alumni to Huron College." He spoke of the splendid lot of men that have been sent forth to do church work by Huron College, and of the high standard they are setting wherever they are.

He showed how much they remembered in any way, not even by a medal, a prize, or a scholarship. He urged upon the new executive committee to take steps to that effect, and to have a fund to commemorate the founder of Huron College.

The Alumni.
The Alumni and Their Relation to the World" was proposed by Rev. C. P. Curton, of Mitchell, who spoke particularly of the being done by Rev. Thomas Westgate, a Huron College graduate in the mission field of West Africa. Ven. Archdeacon Hill, of Huron College, was the oldest graduate of Huron College, responded to the toast in an able manner.

The last toast of the evening, "The Council of Huron College," was proposed by Rev. T. G. A. Wright, Sarnia, and was responded to by Rev. William Lowe, of St. Matthew's Church.

Officers Elected.
At the close of the banquet the Alumni Association met and elected the following officers for the coming year:

President—Rev. W. J. Doherty, Hensall.
First Vice-President—Rev. T. B. Howard, Brantford.
Second Vice-President—Rev. A. L. Beverly, Forestburg, H. Miller, Dalk; Arthur Carlisle, Lucan; T. B. Howard, Brantford; S. S. Hardy, London; W. B. Hawkins, London; A. J. Beverly, Forestburg; H. SMOKE NUISANCE WAS DISCUSSED

City Council Refused to Send Delegate to Syracuse to Attend the Convention.

MR. NUTTER WRITES

City Architect Does Not Relish the Way He Has Been Treated by the City Fathers.

There was a debate on the smoke nuisance in the council last evening, the only debate of the session, it was decided to call a meeting of the manufacturers of the city in the near future, when the bill will be taken up by No. 1 committee.

The oratorical outburst was stamped by the recommendation of No. 1 committee that the building was constructed in violation of the act of the Prevention of Smoke, meeting in Syracuse next week.

Ald. Cooper objected to sending any person to Syracuse, stating that it would be a waste of money, particularly in view of the fact that Ald. Ferguson had in his possession all the necessary information.

"Ald. Ferguson has been to Detroit, and he knows enough about it to frame a bylaw," said Ald. Cooper.

"I think one member of the council should go to Syracuse," said Ald. Ferguson. "It is a complicated matter, and a lot of valuable information can be obtained. Personally I cannot attend, but I think Ald. Stevenson should go, especially as he is a member of the board of health also."

Ald. Rose favored a smoke bylaw, but he did not think it necessary to send a man to Syracuse.

Situation in the East End.
Ald. Parsons said that property in the East End was depreciated at least 10 per cent owing to the smoke. It would be of great benefit to the citizens generally if such a bylaw were enforced. He favored sending a delegate.

Ald. Moorhead thought such legislation might hurt the city with manufacturers, and consequently he favored a meeting with them to talk the situation over.

Ald. Beattie drew attention to the fact that the smoke nuisance in London was a crying one, and as it would be useless. An agreement might be of use for a short time, but there was no possibility of enforcing it. A bylaw, however, could be passed, and then it would be possible to deal with the railway companies.

Ald. Gerry was in favor of getting the manufacturers together. He did not think it right to send a representative to Syracuse.

When the motion to send Ald. Stevenson to Syracuse came to a vote it was a tie.

"If the council do not see fit to send a man to that convention I will not sanction it," said Ald. Beattie. "The motion was lost."

Wilson-Pratt Dispute.
An echo of the Wilson-Pratt dispute was heard in the council last evening. Ald. Beattie read the report of the special committee on the charges made against the building inspector by Mr. W. A. Wilson.

A communication was received from City Architect Nutter, in which he objected to the finding of the committee, especially as it dealt with his inspection of the building in question.

"I am sorry that Mr. Nutter wrote that letter to this council," said Ald. Beattie. "We cannot do anything about it, but we are letting him down easy. We thought that for his own protection, knowing the circumstances, that he would take every precaution to protect himself and the city in the controversy. We certainly did not say, as he charges, that he was to visit the building two or three times a week."

YOU CAN DEFY THE SPRING FATIGUE
AND NERVOUS EXHAUSTION, IF YOU WILL MAKE THE BLOOD RICH AND RED BY USING DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD.

Fatigue and weakness tell of weak, watery and impure blood. Are you going to go through the usual suffering and discomfort of spring this year or take a hand in the matter of your health and build up the system?

It is for you to decide, for you know that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, by forming new, rich blood, overcomes the fatigue, the weakness, the feelings of depression and discouragement which come with spring.

The nervous system is almost always exhausted in the spring. Your appetite fails because the nerves which control the appetite are exhausted, and so it is with digestion and the working of the other bodily organs.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the greatest of spring medicine because it is the greatest of nerve restoratives. It forms the new, rich blood from which vigor, energy and nerve force are created.

If you would restore the healthful glow to the complexion, sharpen the appetite, improve digestion, strengthen the action of the heart, revitalize the wasted brain and nerve cells and round out the wasted form you must use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. No imitation is just as good. There is no substitute but will disappoint.

Mrs. John P. Shannon, Whiteside, N. S., writes: "I used four boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and found it an excellent medicine. It has proved to be a splendid treatment for headache and a rundown nervous system."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

NEBRICH TO RACE TOM
LONGBOAT AT 10 MILESMatch Made for Next Monday Night at Buffalo.

Buffalo, June 15.—Frank Nebreich, the game little local lad who made such a creditable showing in his first tilt at the middle distance game in his race with St. Yves last Saturday, is to have another whirl at the sport, and this time his opponent will be no less a person than Tom Longboat, who hasn't been seen here since he defeated Dorando in the Seventy-fourth Army.

The match will be run Monday night June 21, over a nine-lap cinder track. The distance will be ten miles, which should be just to Nebreich's liking, and afford him a splendid chance to beat the fleet Indian.

KELLEY'S BALL TEAM

Loss of Saturday, Sunday and Monday Games.

Toronto, June 14.—Manager Kelley wired President McCaffrey, of the Toronto Baseball Club, today from Jersey City saying that he had suspended Pitcher Lundgren, who was secured from the Chicago Cubs, until he got into condition. Lundgren has won one and lost three games. Kelley is trying out a young outfielder named Fallon and is also trying to secure an infielder and two pitchers. Kelley says he blames Mahling for the loss of Saturday's game, the first on Sunday and the loss today, and "Kid" will be given a rest as soon as possible. The team is in bad shape for pitchers, having only Rudolph, McGinley and Kellogg to depend on. Durham, the latest acquisition, who came from the Giants, looking very much like a lemon.

GREAT WELTERWEIGHT
RETURNS TO AMERICA

WILLIE LEWIS.

Home again after a strenuous campaign on the other side of the big ditch, Willie Lewis, the hurricane welterweight, declares for a long rest. "It's no cinch putting away these 200-pounders when you weigh but 145," said Willie, referring to his fights in Paris. "I want to rest my hands and get them into condition for some of the tough boys on this side."

Lewis won the welterweight championship of England from Jephtha with greater ease than he will win decisions over the men in his class in this country.

JEFFRIES WILL DO THINGS
IF JOHNSON GETS NAUGHTY

Undefeated Champion Will Not Stand for Any Loud Talk From Johnson at Ringside During Tonight's Bout
With Berger.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Buffalo, June 5.—Jim Jeffries, former heavyweight champion of the world, to whom all followers of the pugilistic game look to wrest the championship from the colored titleholder, was in Buffalo for about three-quarters of an hour yesterday. The big fellow and his party, consisting of Sam Berger and Mrs. Jeffries, were on their way from Montreal to Pittsburg. They left the train at Suspension Bridge to get a look at the Falls, then came to Buffalo in an automobile, arriving about 6 o'clock.

Jeff Looks Good.

Few people saw Jeffries. He was driven immediately to the depot, where he boarded a Lake Shore train for Pittsburg. Those who saw the big fellow say they were very much surprised at his appearance. From stories published about Jeff working so hard to train off weight one would imagine he was a "human hulk of fat and flesh," but he looks far from that. There is no protuberance in the middle section and no inclination to embonpoint. He looks big, as he always looked, for Jeff is a big man. But there is no fat in his makeup. His step is light and springy and he looks like a man who takes good care of himself. He looks as though he's fit to fight right now.

Berger the Whole Thing.

Sam Berger acts as Jeff's sparring partner, secretary, outside man, valet, press agent and buffer to interviewers. He did almost all the talking and Jeff simply nodded his head. The only time Jeff showed more than ordinary interest was when he was asked what he would do if Johnson got up in the ring tomorrow night and accused him of four-fifths and trying to do a "sneak" on him. Then the big fellow smiled a smile that had no humor in it, and shook his head ominously.

"He won't be there with any of that funny business or I'm very much mistaken," Jeff himself answered before Berger could cut in.

Pittsburg, June 15.—Reiterating his former assertions that he would fight Johnson in the fall, James J. Jeffries, retired heavyweight champion, arrived here last night. Thousands of persons crowded the streets, and the parade, headed by a band, and flag-draped automobiles, which carried Jeffries to his hotel.

Will Say Something Soon.

According to Berger, Jeff will soon end his theatrical engagements and will then go to New York and at once put $10,000 or whatever amount may be considered big enough, to guarantee

GEORGE BLACK LEAVES
MICHIGAN STATE LEAGUE

Bad Mixup at Battle Creek When Former Londoner Steps Out.

Battle Creek, Mich., June 14.—Secretary George Black's exodus from league baseball today was marked by an odd mixup. Flint coming here for the game and the Crickets going to Flint. The series was originally scheduled at Flint, Manager Wright, however, arrived today with Umpire Mitchell, and showed a letter from League Secretary Glass transferring three games to Battle Creek.

Black's last official business was to deny having received such instructions. Secretary Glass, however, ordered the Crickets to return home, where a double-header will be played Tuesday. The matter of payment of the guarantee will be left to arbitration.

Black, who hails from London, Ont., was paid over $2,000 today by Treasurer Jackie Weickent, representing the new stockholders, some fifty to seventy-five local fans. Black selling franchise, interest in Athletic Park and his stock. Officers and a new manager will be elected by the stockholders.

BRANTFORD BOY IS FAST.

Ann Arbor, Mich., June 14.—Jonas Szeke, of Ann Arbor, Charles Hittler, of Genesee, Ill., and Otto Schenk, of Brantford, Ont., established a new swimming record here today. Starting at the dam, they swam to the boat-house, a distance of two miles, in one hour and twenty minutes.

COVERPOINT JOLTS

The horses have come north for their final preparations for the Grand Circuit meets, and judging from reports there are a number of fast ones at top speed now, and that is not the first racing of a decade, and it would not be surprising if there are records broken. The Canucks have many good ones in line.

Pittsburg has now won thirteen games in a row, and seem bent upon establishing a record. They are going at top speed now, and will take a lot of beating. They are being favored by the weather, man somewhat, in that they have been able to play most of their games, while the Cubs, their nearest rivals, have been compelled to remain idle, necessitating many double headers later in the season, for which the Chicagoans are none too well prepared.

Mathewson is now coming along at a fine rate of speed, and the Giants are doing much better. However, they are a considerable distance from the top, and will not likely get there.

EVIDENCE IN BETTING
CASE WAS RULED OUT

Things Look Bright for the Bookies—
Magistrate Won't Hear Evidence of Payments to O. J. C.

Toronto, June 14.—That the prosecution against bookmaking bookmakers has a poor chance of succeeding was indicated in the police-court this morning.

Magistrate Kingsford, a week ago, heard evidence in the case against Jake Saunders and had reserved judgment on the question as to whether or not evidence could be put in connecting the Ontario Jockey Club with the betting.

"I can't change my opinion," said his worship this morning. "I don't think that admissible."

"Then," said Crown Attorney Corley, "I'm not prepared to go on. I will have to recast the staff inspector's case. Part of it is that parts of the ring were allotted, and that the privileges were given through Mahoney from Fraser, also that the bookmakers paid to be there."

"If that were true," said his worship, "it would be properly a charge against the Ontario Jockey Club."

"Still, they're all guilty," suggested Mr. Corley.

"We're trying these men. In the present state of the law in respect to the Jockey Club I have grave doubts. At all events this is inadmissible. Under the authorities you will have difficulty in succeeding."

Mr. Corley—I'm quite aware of that, but when I had a written information I must put the facts before you. Some people are calling me a persecutor."

"I wouldn't pay any attention to that."

The Saunders case stands for a week, and the cases against the other bookies are adjourned till called on.

Jake Saunders is a brother of Ald. Saunders, of London, Ont.

Washington, June 14.—The Tigers had one; the Senators didn't have any—that's the way it stood today when a cheerless rainstorm drove the players from the field and put a stop to the third contest, during the first part of the sixth inning.

Tigers See Taft.

Before the game the Tigers went the guests of Rep. Denby, of Michigan, who took them to the capitol, entertained them at luncheon, and presented them to the nation's dignitaries.

President Taft and "Uncle Joe" Cannon were included in the number. The President received the champions in the east room of the White House later in the afternoon. Each member of the club was introduced by Rep. Denby, whose home is in Detroit.

When "Ty" Cobb, who led the league in batting last season, was presented to him, the President grasped the hand of the Georgian warmly and said:

"I believe you and I are fellow-citizens of Augusta, Mr. Cobb."

Cobb modestly replied that he was proud to be a citizen of Augusta and a fellow-citizen of Mr. Taft.

"The only difference between us is," responded the President, with a broad grin, "that down there they think you are about twice as big a man as I am."

Threat To Blow Up the Welland

Niagara Falls, N. Y., June 15.—It is believed that another attempt to blow up the Welland Canal is threatened in a letter received by Captain Patrick Dacey, tender at lock seven, by certain lock tenders, and discipline in their ranks is badly disrupted as a result. The letter purports to come from the Black Hand Society, and was postmarked at Buffalo. It was written in true Black Hand style, and the letter declares that the society is determined to kill the recipient and that a horrible death awaits him. Dacey displayed the letter to his fellow-lock tenders, and he was much disturbed.

The Advance Thought Meetings.

To the Editor of The Advertiser: Dear Sir,—With reference to the comments on the last meeting of the Advance Thought Circle I wish to correct some of Mr. Turner's misstatements which to me seem to be deliberate.

Mr. Turner says that I and other speakers wished to call a strike of school children. To this Mr. Turner and others would not agree, and motion made by Mr. Hill was declared out of order.

Now, sir, I never advocated a strike. I never spoke one word with reference to such a ploy, and what is more, I never proposed any motion such as Mr. Turner declares out of order. One speaker did speak in favor of calling the children out, but I do not recall the subject was turned over to him. I do recall that the majority were against any such idea, and further, no motion was proposed concerning this line of action.

The Advertiser says that if I am a Socialist, I am also an Imperialist, a somewhat anomalous political character. Sir, I raise my hand to the soft impeachment. I am, as others before me, an anomalous political character. Just as dear old Randy Churchill declared himself a Tory-Imperialist, so I claim to be an Imperialist-Tory-Socialist. To fully explain these apparent contradictions would take up more space than you would be inclined to grant, and I wish to claim your indulgence to give me enough space to deal with the controversy at present on the topic. Some few weeks ago I noticed advertisements in the local press relative to the holding of new or advanced thought meetings, and being a searcher of knowledge, I at once attended same, to find out what nostrums were advocated by this latest of all new schools. For several weeks I found that Mr. Turner and another gentleman, whose name I will not mention, were amusing themselves like children, in a vain discussion about hell fire, terrors and several other endeavored to switch them off their topics, to something within reason. After a time Mr. Turner promised to give a lecture on British Imperialism. The Advertiser editor was notified that this would be a subject for discussion. At the last minute Mr. Turner, and I proposed a full expression of his opinion, and announced a continuation of the hell fire business. Another opportunity presented itself in the shape of the children's picnic. This subject was turned over to me, and I determined to do my best, that it should be handled in a businesslike manner, and to this end I wrote an open letter, and proposed a full expression of his opinion, and announced a continuation of the hell fire business. I am not angry with Mr. Turner. Far from it. He has amused me so immensely that I feel grateful to him for the diversion I have had. His expense during the short existence of his new thought, world-reforming school. To be serious, sir, in conclusion, let me say that I believe in the economic principle of socialism, and in the ultimate success of those principles, but at present I live and work for the immediate success of British Imperial consolidation. Yours truly, CHARLES HILL.

No New Thought Discard.

To the Editor of The Advertiser: Sir,—In your issue of June 14, you have a lengthy local headed "The New Thought Meeting on Sunday Ended in Disorder in St. George's Hall." Now, by referring to your list of religious announcements on Saturday, June 12, you will learn that these meetings are called "Advanced Thought," and they have no relation whatever to New Thought.

There never has and never will be a discard expressed in any New Thought circles. We are very enthusiastic over the harmony that prevails at our New Thought meetings, and will resent any attempt to throw over us the onus of any disorder. We demonstrate a principle that will always produce harmony.

Captain Falconer, of the latter vessel, states that the Pierreville struck the liner on the starboard side, eighteen feet abaft of the stem, and sank in ten minutes. Boats were lowered, but no trace of the crew could be found. The only sign of life was a dog. As the boats were gone it is thought the crew escaped in the darkness and reached shore in safety. CAVALRYMAN CUT CORNER TOO SHORT Threw His Horse Which Fell on Him and Injured His Leg.

A cavalryman belonging to one of the regiments in camp on Carling's Heights had a very narrow escape from serious injury yesterday morning on Pall Mall street, near the corner of Malton.

The man, together with two other cavalrymen, was riding down Pall Mall street at rather a furious pace. He was a little in advance of the other two, and was setting the pace for them.

All was well until Maitland street was reached. There the leader tried to take the corner at too short an angle, throwing his horse, which carried him with it. The animal rolled over on its side, and the rider's leg was badly crushed beneath its weight. In a minute his two companions had dismounted and were at his side. The horse was soon put on its feet, and seemed none the worse for the mishap, but the rider was painfully hurt, and found it difficult to regain his feet. A buggy was hastily summoned, and the injured man driven to the camp, where a doctor attended him.

Officers and Men Are Greatly Pleased With Treatment in London.

A great deal more is being done this year to entertain the men on Carling's Heights than has ever been done before, and both officers and men express themselves as being greatly pleased with the way in which they are being received in London.

Last evening Col. Gartschke entertained a number of the officers at a dinner at his home.

This evening the members of St. John's Athletic Club will visit the camp, and will give a minstrel party for the benefit of the program.

On Thursday afternoon the First Hussars and Sixth Field Battery are arranging to hold a field day, and a programme of equestrian sports, including races, a tug-of-war on horseback, and other feats.

The men have been practicing steadily for their sports, and those who attend will no doubt be greatly delighted with the program.

On Thursday evening the choir of Dundas Centre Church under the direction of Mr. J. Parnell-Morris will give a sacred concert. The church will be reserved for soldiers only, but after they are all in, if there is any room, the public will be admitted. No admission is to be charged. The choir will render exactly the same programme which they rendered recently when they visited Toronto and sang in the Baptist Church there.

SYNOD OF HURON SESSION

an apostolic ministry. We have and have been having during the last century great spiritual revival. Let us rejoice and thank God for the truth and strength and simplicity of our position. But let us remember that the Lord Christ calls for our fruits. If the church is to be a church, it must be a church that is never before to what the meaning of the gospel signifies.

"Have this spirit of our text in our church and in our work. We are the church of the workingman, the poor and halt and blind? Are we the church of the rich, instead of the poor; the church of capital instead of labor?"

Some Questions.

"How is it that our mother church has attempted so much for the world of the working men and achieved so little for it? How is it that the church in Wales lost two-thirds of her ancient membership? How is it that the church in Ireland at the reformation lost the majority of its members? know that you may do with this condition than the church.

"But to come nearer home. Why has the church in Ontario lost so much of its rural districts? And I think the one beloved suffice for all. Because the church has neglected its fundamental principle of Christ's teaching and has begun at the top instead of the bottom, and such tactics will never succeed.

"Our Roman Catholic and Methodist fellow citizens have certainly worked more in this respect than we. They begin with the poor, and they have, while we begin with the well-to-do with the result that these denominations have outnumbered us and outlasted us everywhere. Take our own case. We are a church of the more free. I need not represent to you that this is all wrong. In this respect we are not building on Christ's teaching. 'Go ye rather,' he said, 'to the lost sheep of the House of Israel; We go to the wealthy, and if we can show financial returns, we are satisfied. For the sake of the lost, for the sake of the church, ought we not to change our tactics. Instead of pleading that the church would do men good, ought we not to say we need you, Christ needs you? God so ordered it that Jesus Christ should be a carpenter, and his disciples, fishermen and tent-makers, and we cannot do without the working men's mission.

Laymen's Missionary Movement.

"Thank God for that great laymen's missionary movement. Would not this be a good time to institute missions with this great movement to seek the non-churchgoer?"

"There are hundreds of thousands of young Englishmen coming to Canada. They have left their father's house. But they are lost sons of God, for whom Christ died, and if we have the spirit of the Master will we not seek them? The expansion of the Canadian Church of England depends on this work.

"The official proclamation of the gospel from the pulpit will not suffice. The working man is asking, and rightly asking, not for a theoretical religion, but an experimental Christianity as well, and we must meet this need if we would hold our place in this work of caring for Christ's sheep."

EXCURSIONS TO CLEVELAND.

BRANDENBURG'S TRIAL.

New York, June 5.—With Mrs. Frances Folson Cleveland, widow of the late Grover Cleveland, called as a witness, the trial of Broughton Brandenburg, the magazine writer, on a charge of grand larceny, began today. The charge against Brandenburg grew out of the sale of a newspaper article which was alleged to be a forgery of a letter from Mrs. Cleveland to a newspaper on the representation that ex-President Cleveland was the author. Mrs. Cleveland afterwards repudiated the article.

A murder trial, which was on the calendar of Justice Fitzgerald's court was interrupted in order to meet the convenience of Mrs. Cleveland, who wishes to leave the city tomorrow for her summer home in New Hampshire. It was agreed that the Brandenburg trial should be adjourned as soon as Mrs. Cleveland's testimony was taken, and continued again after the murder trial was completed.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

STRAWBERRIES WERE SOON SNAPPED UP

Three Crates Sold Like Wild-fire at 20 Cents a Box.

A RISE IN PRICE OF OATS

Sold Again Today at From $1.58 to $1.64—Other Quotations on Local Market.

The market this morning was by no means an active one. The scarcity of farmers and the slow buying of purchasers, created an air of dissatisfaction on both sides. Green vegetables were the best sellers of the day, as far as small purchases went, and these were offered in abundant quantities.

Asparagus found a ready sale from 60 to 75 cents a dozen, as did also radishes, rhubarb and spinach.

Lettuce increased ten cents a dozen over last market's price, and was evidently considered too high, as there was plenty for sale at 10 o'clock.

New beets were offered in rare cases for one dollar a dozen. The supply was small and the demand not any too brisk.

Cucumbers dropped a little and the very best qualities could be picked up at 75 cents, the outside price, while inferior grades were selling as low as 40 cents a dozen.

Butter and eggs, together with the other dairy products, remained firm.

Butchers' Meats.

Butchers' meats were normal in most cases, while beef by the carcass dropped about a half a cent to one cent a pound. Veal also dropped one cent, while the others remained firm.

Spring lamb was not offered.

Hay, straw and oats were by far the most plentiful offerings on the square. The sale was rapid, and the prices reasonable.

About 50 loads of hay were disposed of, and dropped a little in price. Number one hay only brought $12.50.

Straw went at the previous price, but oats took a rather startling jump, and sold from $1.58 to $1.64.

Flowers, including geraniums and pansies, were profuse. Pansies had the best sale at 15 cents a box.

It was true that between selections the audience had to move briskly about the park to start the circulation once again, but that apparently only added to the enjoyment, and amusement. The concert numbers were pleasingly varied and were thoroughly enjoyed by everyone.
