ADDRESS ON THE SUBJECT OF THE REFERENDUM.

in Association Hall last night was most encouraging to the advocates of prohibition. The hall was crowded to its utmost capacity before the hour set for the meeting to open. Mr. Marter introduced the Chairman for the evening, Hon. Geo. W. Ross, whose name was received with applause. In doing so Mr. Marter said:—I can assure you it gives me the greatest pleasure to introduce Mr. Ross. I am glad he is with us. (Applause.) I am glad to know that he who is at the head of our affairs in this Province is with us in sympathy, and not only in sympathy, but in active work in the contest in pleasure indeed to assume the pleasant although somewhat responsible duties of presiding officer at this meeting. Mr. Marter was good enough to say that he believed the meeting worthy of the presiding officer. I only trust the presiding officer will be worthy of this great meeting, this influential meeting, this meeting of, I believe, thoughtful men and women, assembled for the considera momentous question. The Legislative Assembly of Ontario in its wisdom saw fit to refer to the people of the whole traffic so far as its disposition is capable of being affected by the act known as "The liquor act, 1902." It did so folthe usual precedent in matters of there the final court of appeal was the electorate, as in the case of the Scott, act, local option and so on. Following those precedents, the question has been referred to the voice of the electorate of my judgment, one object I had myself in asking for that reference, was that we should get an expression of opinontests various elements enter into the some members of the community, others usion of thoughts. This question was

and some another, some attractive to to other members of the community, are presented. And there is sometimes a confusion of interests, if not a condeemed so momentous, affecting the people in so many ways, that I felt myhave it submitted to the people, clear and distinct from all other considerations, that they would give their mind to it for some considerable time, undisturbed by any other thought or by the personal preference for any candidate, or by the party interests which sometimes bias as well as direct our thoughts, that they would give a single, unbiased and distinct expression of opinion upon the matter at the polls. But whether you approve of our course in that respect or not I am not going to argue. I am not going to defend; I am not going to apologize. There is no getting away from it now. (Laughter and applause.) I do not discuss this question at any length, for the duty of discussion at length never falls upon the Chairman. I have given you my views. I intend to vote for the liquor act of 1902. (Loud cheers.) I never lost an opportunity in my life, when one was presented, of voting for such a measure. I view will not be restrained by any reason whatsoever from expressing their views in the same way, and then, per contra, those who do not believe as I do, let us know by their votes how many there are of them. Let us know the strength of the two parties in this question, and, having ascertained the Genial Tilbury Journalist Tells How the Enterprising Oil Promoter Did Things to his Bank Account.

W. A. Hutton, the genial editor of the Tilbury News, was in the city Monday evening calling on his old Chatham friends and incidentally gathering all the information he could concerning the situation of the present oil excitement in Raleigh.

"How is the oil boom viewed by the people in Tilbury?" he was asked.

"Well," replied he, as he lit a fresh cigar and settled down in one of the comfortable seats in the Rankin House, "you can't mention oil to appropring Tilbury. We have oil to anyone in Tilbury. We have had our day in oil excitements and, as is usually the case, we were

"This happened some time ago. well driller from Petrolea came to Tilbury and after prospecting around for some time he finally started to sink a well. He got down a short distance and said he had struck oil. Then he went around among the people there and tried to organize a company to push the concern. Of course the people were interested at once and I thought I saw a way of making a fortune without working for it, so I went into it with

"Well, there may have been oil it that well, but if there was it is there yet. The company, however, was formed, and a considerable amount of stock was subscribed and the man went on with his drilling. Every little while a meeting of the company was called to deal with calls for more money. This kind of thing, however, became monotonous in time and the company began to tumble to the fact that they were sinking fortunes instead of making them, and at his last request for money we granted him $1,000 worth of oil shares and then dropped the matter.

"That was the last of the oil business," concluded Mr. Hutton, "and ever since that you are only spring-

City Council Decide to Use Cement Instead of Tar for Pavement Filler.

in View of Petition and Engineer's Recommendation the Board of Works Acted.

A special meeting of the City Council was held last evening in the Council Chembers. Mayor Sulman opened the meeting, stating the meeting the Board of Works for the whole Council to decide on the advisability. of changing the filler of the Sixth street pavement from tar to cement. Chairman of the Board of Works Ald. Mounteer said the matter was brought about by a petition being sent in signed by all the ratepayers of Sixth street from King street to Wellington street as follows: To the Chairman and members of the Board of Works:

Gentlemen,-We, the undersigned ratepayers on Sixth street in the city of Chatham, owing to the late-ness of the season and other unfavorable conditions for using tar as a filler in the new pavement, would respectfully request your Board to amend the specifications so that cement may be used as a filler and thus enable us to have the use of the street at an early date-C. R. Charteris, W. D. Sheldon, C. R. At-kinson, G. W. Cornell, K. Urquhart . G. Kerr, William Kerr (per J. G. Chatham, Nov. 24, 1902.

Ald. Mounteer also read the fellowing letter from the City Engineer: Chairman and members of Board of

Works:

Gentlemen,-Re Sixth street pavement, owing to the lateness of the season I have good reason to believe that it is nearly impossible to lay sufficient consistency to remain in place during the coming summer, owing to cold and dampness chilling the pitch before it can thoroughly fill the crevices between the Portland cement filler to be use and to be applied only during such when the temperature is at least 15 degrees above freezing point. class job will be the result. City Engineer. Chairman Mounteer then moved hat the Board of Works be empowered to change the specifications with contractors with regard to fillers and the best possible arrangements be made. Ald. McCoig-I thought the contractors told us that we could get ne at the same price as the other. Chairman Mounteer-We expect to get the cement filler at a less cost Ald. The Company were willing to make a reduction of 5 cents a yard, provided the change were made for both Sixth street and William street. change of filler from cement to tar were made only for Sixth street then no reduction would be made. they have to pay.

Ald. Cowan-I approve of the action of the Board of Works. When the matter was up some time ago and the virtues of tar and cement discussed, I wrote the city engineer of Toronto to find out what ex perience they had. A man with the reputation of Mr. Rust ought to be able to give valuable information. Mr. Rust wrote me that they had used pitch on some streets but they found cement much more satisfactory and wearing.

Mayor Sulman - Mr. Rust gested to me that there should be a spacing of tar or pitch to allow for expansion. These spaces should be at stated intervals or along the gutters. The motion of the Chairman of the Board of Works was adopted and Commissioners Consider Petition From Queen St. Residents-Want Police.

The most important matter brought up at the meeting of the Police Commissioners yesterday afternoon was a petition from 63 of the ratepayers and residents on Queen St. for a police service on that street. The petitioners claimed that this street, which is one of the principal thoroughfares, his not got proper police protection. Of late several attempts at robbery have PREMIER BALFOUR'S AUTHORbeen made and in some cases goo's were stolen. They asked for a night ceman and also one during the day

THE MINERS AND OPERATORS CANNOT AGREE.

Hearing Before the Commission Will be Proceeded With-Result of New York Conference.

New York, Nov. 26 .- At the close of the meeting of the independent coal operators and the officials of the coalcarrying roads, held here, a statement was given out which in part says :- "In the midst of the conference the request came from Washington to the operators of both classes to meet Mr. Mitchell and his associates next Friday morning at 10 o'clock. The parties present without dissent instructed Mr. Baer to make the following answer :-'The conditions are such that no substantial progress can be made by the suggested meeting. The general judgment of the operators is that it will be best for the present to go on with the hearing.'

The independent operators vigorously protested against any settlement before evidence had been presented to the commission in reply to that presented by the miners. A sett'ement now, they urged, would, in the eyes of the public, be a confession that they had heretofore been guilty of all the offences charged against them by the mine workers. They presented a written statement outlining the above view, and adding that they believe their defence and that of the big companies is so complete "that any money award the commission would pender would be far less than the amount we understand that it is propos ed to concede, especially to miners and their laborers." The commission the independents continue, is composed of absolutely fair men, whose "findings will make such declaration as will for many years put a ban upon unlawful prac-tices, oppression of non-union men, un-justifiable demands, and other grievances, that we have been suffering under since 1900, when the union first took possession of our property." Any other settlement will be an absolute and distinct surrender to the miners' union, and the troubles referred to will not only be continued, but so magnified as to be absolutely unbearable."

It was after the independents had presented their statement and while the subject was under discussion that Mr. Baer was instructed to refuse a meeting

Mr. Houston thought that, it this petition were granted, others just reworthy of being granted would come in, and serious complications might arise. The residents on Queen street have now the same protection as the whole of North Chatherm. Jesse Collings silently wrung his hand as the train moved off. A throng of bystanders had awaited his coming outside of the station, and greeted him

At Portsmouth the corporation presented him with an address engrossed on vellum, as though he were returning from a victorious campaign, instead of going to South Africa to obtain facts at first hand. He was received with an Admiral's salute when he embarked on the armored cruiser Good Hove, and the guns boomed and the flags fluttered all down the harbor as the ship stood out seaward. The last file of papers which he carried to sea was 'lled with eulogistic leaders, lyrics with "Good Hope" and "Joe" as serviceable rhyming words, a cartoon from Linley Sambourne, repre-senting John Bull as Polonius bidding Laertes to reserve judgment, and sketches of commemorative medals from F. The presence at Victoria Station yesterday of one of Mr. Chamberlain's col-leagues in the fisheries negotiations at Washington fifteen years ago was a link connecting two missions essentially unlike. This was W. R. D. Maycock, who accompanied him to the United States capital and assisted in the negotiation of the fisheries convention. He was also present at the dinner where Mr. Chamberlain first met Miss Endicott, now Mrs. Chamberlain.

There are persistent rumors that Lord Salisbury is returning to England in or-der to support Lord Hugh Cecil's agitation for amendments to the education bill, which has now entered upon the report stage, with the closure applied vigorously for the past three days.

There is also a continuance of politieal gossin respecting the King's interven. tion in Irish affairs, and the fundamental changes of policy which may precede the royal visit to Ireland next year. Some Nationalists choose to assume that the King, from his friendship for Gladstone, has been a home ruler for many years, but this is a fantastic invention, Equally fatuous is the theory that Mr Wyndham has consulted with Messrs Redmond, O'Brien and O'Connor respecting the scope and character of the new land purchase bill. There is, however reasonable ground for the belief that great effort will be made to concil iate the Irish party before the King visits Ireland

SPECULATION IN STOCKS.

It is a matter very much to be regretted that with the increasing wealth of this country, the desire to speculate in stocks has correspondingly grown, comments the Guelph Herald. It is scarcely necessary to try to prove this, as the increased space which many newspapers are giving to the fluctuations. of the market, the late flights of some "bucket-shop" keepers with their clients' funds; an occasional suicide of a ruined victim, and the common talk in the busy haunts of men, amply demonstrate the fact.

Of course there is speculation and speculation. The man with capital who watches the market closely, studies the records of the various stocks, and when their prices drop below a certain figure which renders them a bargain, buys the stock outright can afford to wait his time to take his profit. But the man who deals in margins is in a very different position as with a small fluctuation the wrong way his ter class of speculation should not be honestly called "gambling." It is a curious fact that men who would look upon a "tip" to back a horse as an insuft, greedily take advantage of so-called inside information markets are almost entirely controlled by certain small groups of by stopping supplies brought the again see how our speculators of late were fleeced by the big financiers an operator actually coming here to in and then cornering them. It stands to reason that in view of pure and simple gambling. Probably if this word were always used there would be less of it.

We have certainly begun already to see some of its results in the defalcations of various officials, and the ruin which it has brought to many a home. 'No words can be strong enough to condemn a man, who holding a portion of public or private trust, and handling public funds or other people's money, allows himself to be drawn into specu-

The Seven Golden Cities.

The "Seven Golden Cities," one of the most popular legends of the latter part of the dark ages, were said to be situated on an island west of the African coast. The island is represented as abounding in gold, with magnificent houses and temples, "the high towers of which shown at a great distance." The legend also relates that at the time of the conquest of Spain and habitants fled in every direction to escape slavery, seven bishops, followed by a great number of people, took to ships and put boldly out on the high seas. After tossing about for some time they landed on an unknown island, the famous spot which in after years became the seat of the "Seven Golden Cities." "This island," Heylyn says, "was exactly in midocean." After all had landed safely the wise old bishops burned the ships to prevent their followers from deserting and founded the in song and story. This mysterious is land was often sought by the early navigators. Those who went in search of it and never returned were popularly believed to have been detained by Spontini's Decorations.

Casparo Spontini, the composer, regarded himself in the light of a demigod, and when inspirations crowded upon him he donned a wide, togalike gown of white silk with a border of gold and a fez of white silk embroidered in gold, from which a heavy tassel hung down. With great dignity he sat The Eskimos held their annual down before his desk, and if a grain of dust was visible on the paper on which he penned his music he rang the bell impatiently for his servant to remove the obstacle. Spontini owned so many medals and decorations that they could no longer be accommodated on his breast. At a grand musical reunion at Halle an old musician remarked to a comrade, "See how many decorations Spontini has, while Mozart has not one." Spontini, who overheard it, replied quickly, "Mozart, my dear friend, does not need them."

What Consumption Means To-day.

There was a time when that word consumption struck terror to the stoutest heart. It need not do so now. In the light of present knowledge consumption is always to be considered hopefully.

We all know that when the little consumption germs have once gained a foothold in the lung tissue there is no one remedy which will directly destroy them or drive them out. The only thing that will eventually dislodge them is an abundant supply of rich blood throughout the whole body and particularly in the lungs. This will build up healthy tissue in which the germs cannot live.

To get this needed supply of good blood, and keep it pure, there are many things to do and you must try to do them all. Live all day in the sunshine and air. Sleep all night in a room that gets plenty of both. Keep warm. Don't use up one extra ounce of energy. Rest a great deal. Learn how to breathe. And above all take regular, abundant nourishment.

Let your doctor prescribe what medicine or stimulants you need, if any, and advise you about bathing and what to eat. And with his consent add to this Scott's Emul-

No other form of nourishment is so rich in material for making good blood and repairing damaged tissue. It acts with peculiar directness upon the lungs and lends valuable aid in driving out consumption germs.

We do not say it is a cure for consumption. There is no consumption specific. Scott's Emulsion is simply one of the most effectual of the many good influences, any one of which may turn the scale in your favor. With right living and proper nourishment there is always good ground for hope. Men have lived to healthy old age with only one lung. The germs got the

If a burglar crept into your room at night and had you by the throat you would not stop to calculate how much help you needed. You would shout for all the help you could get.

This is how you must treat consumption. Summon every possible force to drive it out by getting good blood and keeping it pure. You should not neglect a single source of help. You certainly cannot afford to overlook Scott's Emulsion.

Eastern Consolidated Oil Co. Advances in price to $1.00 a share on or before January 1, 1903.

HIS IS AN OPPORTUNITY to put money in a safe investment where it will actually double in about 30 days Thousands of investors have seen their stock in the Eastern Consolidated Oil Co. double in value within the past few months-The question is WHY don't YOU double YOUR money? -- The situation is this :- Eastern Consolidated Oil Co. stock is now selling at 50c. a share, but the 50c. allotment is almost exhausted --- On or before Jan. 1 the stock will positively go to par, $1.00 a share -- If you invest $25 now it becomes $50; $100 becomes $200 and $500 becomes their investments in the past ten months-$1000 invested last, spring is now worth $2000 and has earned $200 in dividends! - This is the company that has over 21,000 acres of rich oil lands in Ohio and California, that has already expended over $150,000 in development, and that has 109 producing oil wells- ... The Eastern Consolidated Oil Co. is no longer an experiment ... Those who invested 10 months ago took all the risks, but have been rapidly repaid -- Those who invest NOW have a certainty --- stock in a money-earning, dividend paying company - . . . You know the fuel situation - oil is now burned as fuel on hundreds of locomotives and steamships that formerly used coal - They will never return to coal because oil is cheaper and better — The demand for fuel oil has sent the price up — This company produces both fuel and illuminating oil in vast quantities ---The production has increased enormously by its new wells in Kern River, Col. - More oil and better prices for oil mean big dividends!

BACKACHE

Is only one of many distressing symptoms which point to the presence womanly diseases. If women thoroughly understood the relation of the local womanly health to the general health, they would understand that nervousness, sideache, dizziness, faintness and similar feminine ailments, cannot be cured until the womanly health is established. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures diseases peculiar to women. It establishes regularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. In curing these local diseases, it cures the ailments which they cause; backache, headache, sideache, dizziness, faintness, nerv-ousness, and other ills peculiarly feminine.

Halfway Work of Kidney Disease.

Dropsy, was Cured by Dodd's Kidnev Pills, and has had no Return of the Trouble for Five Years.

Windsor, Ont., Nov. 24.—(Special). It has been acknowledged for some years that Dodd's Kidney Pills would cure any case of Kidney Disease, and of late those interested in medical science have been watching those cures, to convince themselves that they were permanent. Gradually the conviction is forced that Dodd's Kidney Pills cure once and for all. One more proof of this is furnished by John J. McDonald, a well known farmer, now residing at 130 Langlois Ave. Five years ago he was troubled with Rheumatism and Dropsy. For two years he suffered terribly, the different medicines he tried failed to relieve him. His legs were swol-len and the pains he suffered were most acute. He used Dodd's Kidney Pills, was cured, and his cure caused quite a sensation at the time. Mr. McDonald, speaking of his cure recently, says: I have had no return of my trouble up to the present, and I am not anxious for any. It is with pleasure I acknowledge that Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me. I found them just as represented, and they did for me *************************************

QUEER "LINE STORES."

The Dominion of Canada and the United States Government's Suspicions of the Buildings on the Boundary.

What are called "line stores," which in many cases are so designated by large signboards, are a wellknown institution along the boundary between Canada and Maine. The Governments of both Canada and the United States look with suspicious eyes upon these stores, and there has been more or less talk of joint action to prevent the erection of any buildings upon the boundary The line stores on the Quebec border are usually built exactly on the boundary line, and are double stores. The boundary line is marked by iron posts, and sometimes a store is built over one of these posts, which protrudes from the middle of the floor. There is a door on each side of the line, with which line the shelves and counters run parallel, and thus there is a Canadian store and an American store, each with its own entrance. Cn the Canadian side are Canadian goods, such as woollens, blankets, dress goods, ready-made clothing, fur coats and robes, carpeting, buttons, sugar and some lines of hardware. On the American side are cotton goods, prints, Yankee notions, tobacco, jewelry, kerosene oil, etc., and farm produce is taken in exchange. The Canadian and the American goods are kept each on their own side, and no attempt is made to conceal the fact that both are there. The Canadian customer can go in at the Canadian door, purchase ian goods on the Canadian side, and ge out again without having crossed the boundary line at all, and the American customer can do the same on his side; but while the storekeepers ate, they do not ask the customers any question, and they can buy at either counter and make their exit by either door. Stores of this kind are chiefly found on the line between the Province of Quebec and the States of Vermont and New Hampshire and the northton, spent Saturday and Sunday in the western part of Maine, but they are not unknown on the line that divides northeastern Maine from New Bruns tion as teacher here, having accepted wick. They are always a mile, gena situation nearer her home in Peter- erally several miles, from a customs house station. It is related that one man who built a line store took up

A provincial man can step across the floor bacco, and a Maine man can move across to the New Brunswick side to get some liquor, all under the same Farm produce can be changed from Canadian to United States produce in short order. A manufacturer can get raw material from both Canadian produce can be exchanged for Yankee jewelry or no tions, Canadian woollens into Amer ican cottons, and so on.

Of course, it is not admitted that the line houses were built for smuggling purposes-but they are there, right on the line, and it would be a great relief to the two Governments f they were not there.

Statue of Queen Victoria. The statue of Queen Victoria has peen placed on its pedestal in Queen's Park, Toronto, opposite the east of the Parliament buildings, wing far more than I expected they The monument is a replica of that made by the sculptor Raggi for the city of Hong Kong, and shows the Queen seated in robes of State with the diadem on her head, the sceptre in the right hand and the orb in the left. The arms of the chair are formed of winged lions, above the head is the Imperial crown supported by the ion and unicorn. The back of chark bears symbolic designs, cost of the statue is $10,000. The pedestal, which is ten feet high and has been in place for several months, is of Stanstead, Que., granite, and the main or die stone lone weighs over six tens. This stone bears two bronze tablets, one representing the late Queen's first council meeting, the second showing er lying in state previous to burial, and on its front a wreath of laurel entwining the letters V. R., also in bronze. The base of the pedestal thirteen by ten feet.

Septic Tanks a Success. The septic tank sewage system, which was installed two years ago. in Vancouver, B. C., has proved so successful that the officers of several municipalities in the near-by States

GOOD SUGGESTION.

Editor Planet:

There appeared in yesterday's issue of The Planet an item in reference to a patient of mine that I think unfair to the patient, and also to Drs. Holmes & McKeough.

It is a serious ordeal for a patient to undergo surgical treatment, without having her illness publicly adver-tised and, while I feel sure the item was not intended to wrong anyone, the publicity cannot but be distaste-ful to all concerned.

The Raleigh Oil territory is being thoroughly explored. H. P. Chamberlain, manager of the Imperial Oil Co. in Canada, said that the drill was the do a little prospecting. They intend only certain way of discovering tle to commence operations at once and extent of the Raleigh oil field, and it will not be long before the secrets of the earth will be discovered. The same com-pany also have a well started about mile east of the Gusher. This we'll is being put down on John Pardo's farm and is the first well to be put down south of the 13th concession line, mostly Canada Co. land in that secat present is the square of land bounded by the 13th concession line, the Mic-Four Rod road. COLONIAL PORTLAND CEMENT CO.

At the solitication of a number of prospective stockholders in the above company Mr. Rathborn secured the services of Geo. Stephens, M. P., and S. T. Martin to visit Wiarton and make a report upon the proposition he intends laying before investors in this city. This report is highly satisfactory and is addressed to the Mayor and Council, and is as follows: Messes. Sulman, Cowan, Waddell and others: Gentlemen,-In compliance with your request dated 13th Nov., we left Chatham on Tuesday the 18th inst., to inspect the resources of the Colonial Cement Company of Wiarton, Ont., and in order to more fully enable us to make comparison we went first to Owen Sound where there are three cement plants in operation. We visited one called the Sun and were very courteously received and conducted through the factory. We saw the Marl and Clay undergo the process of mixing and the various stages of manufacture until it becement.

Mr. Kline, the 'manager of the company, came with us to Wiarton that afternoon and from him we got a very intelligent account of cement manufacturing, its process and requirements. At Wiarton we met Mr. Wright, the scoretary of the company, also Mr. Jackson, the me-chanical engineer, found them very congenial and intelligent gentlemen, ready and willing to assist us in securing all the information obtainable in connection with the business of our visit.

The company owns two Marl beds, one called the Oxendine, and one called Lake Scales. We visited them Armstrong's. Gage and Coryell have both. The first is about three-quart-an outfit drilling on the rear of Geo. ers or perhaps a mile from the spot ers or perhaps a mile from the spot where the factory is being erected and the other may be five miles from there. The factory is being built on the southerly side of Colpoy's Bay in the Township of Keppet, about onehalf mile east of the town of Wiarton, where, with a little dredging, The question of the initerior that pavement then came up. John Kenna, superintendent of the work Kenna, superintendent of the work to the oil rock by Thursday. No wells sugar factory about half-way bethere can be good vacidities for shipare being put down just now south of tween the cement buildings and the the 13th concession line. The land is town with a spur from the G. T. R. mostly Canada Co. land in that sector it. The continuing of this spur tion and the speculators have long to the cement works will afford shipterm leases. The scene of operations ping both by rail and water. There is one large building of the cement factory up and the foundation of andle Road, Jenner's side road and the other built. Foundations are of stone. There are several other buildings to be erected to complete the

Referring now to the material, we think that Eake Scales may for the present drop out of sight, although there is a very large deposit of Co. will begin drilling on the farm of Marl some places to a depth of 27 Leet and clay immediately beneath it and it is a good property to have, but there is the Oxendine Marl bed of 188 acres only one mile distant five feet. This would do for the present generation and be much cheaper than the other to handle. This lies | about 100 feet above the location of the factory and could be easily drained dry if necessary. The company purpose building a railroad track STYES are very attractive—and from the factory to the Marl beds, which would be on a descent until they reach a certain point, then trestle work for perhaps 100 feet or so, this enabling them to deposit the material in hoppers at any desired height, avoiding much expensive labor that the other factories have to contend with.

Now the main, and we may say the only difficulty of much consequence we can see there, is in securing clay, as to the quality and quantity of the Marl there seems to be no doubt. We brought a sample home with us.

The company thought, and we be-lieve they still thank, that the clay under the Marl can be got at in the Oxendine deposit, but we bored several test holes with a testing auger and found that immediately under the Marl there is a considerable depth of gravel and stone before coming to the clay. Even should the clay be of proper quality this depth of material would cost too much to move. This failing, they say that there are several places at no great distance where the clay can be got. This, of course, we do not know. Every kind of clay will not do; it must possess certain chemical qualities. This difficulty of securing clay overcome, we think by comparison that this plant will be in a position to compete most favorably with any we know of.

THE NEW NORTHLAND. How Settlers Make a Living in the Temis kaming District-Work for Everybody Who Deserves it at Good Wages.

The New Liskeard correspondent of The Toronto Globe writes: What is a settler without capital to do to make a living for himself and family during the first couple of years of settlement? is a question asked naturally by every seeker after land who comes into the Temiskaming country. "Go lumbering" is, perhaps, the shortest answer to such a ques tion, but the man on the outside will have a better idea of what he may expect if he is told what the settlers are at present doing, and have been doing for some seasons. It is impossible, of course, for a man without capital to go in and make a living off his farm at once, and it is the amount of outside work offering that ensures him a safe and steady income while clearing up his land.

In this country the man who wants to work need not remain a day idle

There is an instant demand for his services, and for hundreds more like him if only they were here. The settler as an outside source of income can either clear his own land of the timber and sell it to the lumberman, or work for jobbers who are cutting for the lumbermen. He can go into the lumber camps, or obtain steady employment on the Government roads. Wages last winter in the camps ran from $28 to $30 a month, with board, while the Government is paying on the roads $1.25 a day with board, and $1.75 without board. In the camps this winter the rate will run from $25 to $30

When the settler takes up his land he has to do his clearance duties and erect a shanty on it in order to fulfill the Government regulations. After that he is at liberty to work any place he likes. Where the land is haul his timber to the banks of the river and be paid for it there by the umbermen. If the river or road is not accessible he will, have to wait till he obtains the road to make his timber valuable, and in the meantime he works for some of the job pers. The latter make contracts with the lumbermen to bring out pulp-telegraph posts, engage a number of the settlers and put in small camps for the winter. By this means the

There are probably very few settlers in the district to-day who are able to live entirely off their farms.

The country is too young for that,

and there is besides so much outside work going that not as much attention is given to the cultivation of the farms as under different circumstances there would be. It is the exention to see a thoroughly cleared field with all the stumps taken out.

Most of the settlers content themselves with taking out the smaller stumps, and in the meantime sowing among the larger ones. The necessity of earning money to support their families prevents many from working their land, while there are others whose sole business is lumbering, and genuine settler, however, gives all the attention he can to his farm, and early all he consumes, and with the prices prevailing this is no inconsid rable tax on him. Where he has any farm stuff to sell, however, his lot is a happy one. Hay last winter ran as high as 916 to $18 a ton, and for oats 65c. to $1 was paid early, and later on from $1.10 to $1.25 a bushand peas $1.25 a bushel for seed. All roots and coarse grains bring a high price, and while in some lines prices were higher than usual last winter, there is abundant reason to believe that everything that can be grown will for some years to come bring what would be considered in old Ontario big prices. The demand from the lumbermen, from the new railroad while that is in course of construction, and from the farmers themselves as they gather more stock

about them, will always insure a sale at remunerative figures for every-thing produced, and the farmer with cleared land cannot but be prosper-

No benefit can be derived from just eating. That is the condition of many a sickly child. The stomach and organs of digestion and nu-trition are not doing their work, and the body is really starving. It is little use to give fish foods, like cod liver oil or emulsions, in such a case, because these also have to be digested; they may lighten the stomach's labor, but they don't strengthen it. Book Once Owned by James I. A volume once owned by James 1 of England has recently been added to the treasures of the Boston Public Library. The book, given to the libcity, was bought of Dodd, Mead & Co., of New York, It was printed in London in 1603 by Val Sims for Edward Blount. The book is unusually interesting because of the fact that i was the first translation into English of Montaigne's "Essays," and the undoubted source of Sha espeare's inspirations. There is another copy now in the British Museum, which has an autograph that has been attributed to the great dramatist. The copy in the Boston library bears the autograph and signature of the English King, who ordered the revision of the English version of the Bib'e nd was called by his contemporaries "the wisest fool in Europe. book was translated by John Floric, is a literary artist. Chinese were the earliest to practice it. They dipped a plug of cotton or rag in the virus from a pustule and placed it in the nostril. Two ancient English physicians, Gilbertus Angelicus and John of Gaddefden, both speak of smallpox as commonly known, but the Chinese remedy was unknown to them.

The first book on smallpox was written by a priest and physician who lived at Alexandria and wrote thirty books on physic in A. D. 683. He also knew nothing of vaccination, but advised swimming, drinking ice water in large quantities, saffron and warming

The real discovery of vaccination, we are told, was made before Jenner conducted his experiments. In the year 1774 it occurred to Benjamin Jesty, a Dorsetshire farmer, having the old notion about cowpox being an antidote for smallpox, that it would serve as well to be "cut" for cowpox, so accordingly he himself did actually "cut" his wife and children for that disease. But Jesty is unknown to fame. Jenner's name is blessed-and banned-by millions.

Sly Fishermen.

In nearly all streams where the current is swift you will find the nets of the caddice worms tucked down between two rocks or fastened to a flat stone on the brink of a waterfall. These little nets catch stray water bugs and sometimes entangle small fish. They are made of a silken fabric which the worm spins with its mouth and are shaped like a funnel, the larger end being pointed up stream so that the water, rushing past, spreads them out in position. The nets are very strong and quite similar in construction to a spider's web. Close by his net the little fisherman builds his home. Lift up the nearby rocks, and under them you will find a little bunch of pebbles bound together by silk threads. In among these is a small silk tube, in which the worm lives. Were it not for the pebbles attached to it the caddice worm's home would go sailing down the stream. As an extra precaution he oftentimes fastens one end of the silk thread to a large stone.

Kindred Minds.

General Thiebault says that at one time when Napoleon was carrying out an operation which could only be accomplished with absolute secrecy he rode one day to the head of a column, where he heard a soldier say: "Faith, if I were general in chief I know what I should do." "Well," called Napoleon, "what would you do?" The soldier unfolded his plan. It was the very one which Napoleon himself had evolved. "Rascal!" cried the general. "Will you hold your tongue?" After' the battle which had proved

Ap Irish couple whose married bliss as not without a few "squalls" reeived a homely lecture from the spirtual adviser regarding their disgraceut quarrels.

Love Is Not Blind. "Love is blind," murmured Mr. Meekton regretfully.

"That's nonsense," replied his wife. When a girl fails in love with a man, she sees magnificent qualities in him which none of her family can make out and which become wholly obscure even to her in the course of a year or so."

Hopeless. A fat French lady despairingly says, "I am so fat that I pray for a disappointment to make me thin, but no sooner does the disappointment come than the joy at the prospect of getting thin makes me fatter than ever."
