CHAPTER VI
SIX MONTHS LATER.

Olive inclined her head. "Nothing to hurt, you know—just enough to send me into a comfortable snooze. Then they took me home in a cab. Now, I want to have my revenge for both tricks, and you must help me. Look here!" As he spoke he took the bottle of laudanum from his pocket and held it up with a laugh. "I bought the stuff as I came along. There is too much here, of course; see, I'll pour away what isn't wanted." And, stooping down, he poured some of the contents into the fire. "That's enough. Now, I want you to watch for an opportunity; I'll give you the hint when we are at a game of cards, and just drop this into his glass. Ha! ha!" And he laughed. "That will be paying him back in his own coin, and"—he added, with a quick turning of the weak face into the shadow—"help us out of the mire."

He drew a long breath, and looked at her furtively, waiting for her to speak.

There was a silence long enough for the clock to tick twenty, then Olive looked up.

"You mean that he is to play cards with you, and that you are to win his money, and then that I am to mix that with his wine; is that what you intend?"

A miserable attempt at a careless smile flickered for a moment on the weak, malicious face above her.

"Well, that's putting the case rather strongly! The best man will win, of course; but I think I'm a match for him at most games. I've no doubt I shall win."

"I have no doubt also," said Olive. He looked at her with a frown.

"You will tell me when to do it," she said, looking up.

At her words the frown cleared away, and he looked at her eagerly.

"Leave that to me—only do as I tell you; that is all I ask. Come," he said, with ghostly playfulness; "you promised to love and obey me forever."

The rattle of a cab was heard, which stopped immediately outside, and the bell was rung.

"By Jove!" he said, with a sudden pallor; "here he is! Quick; there is no time for dillydallying. Will you do as I tell you or not?"

The beautiful face went pale as death for a moment; then, with a flash of the dark eyes, she stretched out her white hand.

"Give me the bottle!" she said.

CHAPTER VII
A GAME OF CARDS.
OLIVE held it hidden in her left hand, as the servant announced: "Mr. Derrick!"

There are two essentials to the perfect cup of coffee—the right coffee and the right way to make it.

This booklet tells how to have both. Mailed free if you write.

Blenders and Roasters of "Sant Brand" Coffee

The room was in partial darkness, and for the moment he stood motionless, his tall, thin figure outlined against the open door; then he came forward to take Stephen Rawdon's outstretched hand.

"Am I behind my time?" he asked pleasantly. "I made all possible haste."

While he spoke to Rawdon, he kept his keen eyes fixed on Olive's face; and they flashed with the swift light of startled surprise and admiration when, the servant having lit the gas, Olive's beauty was suddenly revealed to him.

"Allow me to introduce you to my wife," said Stephen Rawdon, with a little wave of the hand. "Olive, you have heard me speak often of Mr. Derrick—we are old friends."

Hastley Derrick took the white hand held out to him, noticed its death-like coldness, and bowed over it.

"I hope Mrs. Rawdon may make that same speech for herself in years to come," he said, in the subdued, incisive way peculiar to him.

"There! I told you he was a perfect courtier!" exclaimed Stephen Rawdon, laughing genially. "His first words are a compliment—"

"Something more," put in Derrick, holding his hands to the fire, and talking at the same time his usual inventory of the room.

"Mr. Derrick is very kind," said Olive, in a slow, measured voice, that broke on Derrick's ear with a strange charm; it was the same voice he had heard in Hawthorne churchyard.

"Now, I hope you have brought an appetite with you," said Stephen Rawdon, whose face, flushed with his draft of brandy, was set in a constrained and furtive smile. "Supper is not in your way, I know; but some grilled bones, or something of the sort, is all we shall pledge you to. Is it ready?"

Olive inclined her head. "Let us go in, then," said Rawdon. "Derrick, will you take my wife? It is not a long journey—two of your strides would take you over the whole house."

"A small house, cozy and comfortable, is my delight," said Derrick. "Like the Duke of Wellington's bed, it should be large enough to turn in," he added, giving his arm to Olive.

They entered the small dining room, in which an impromptu supper had been laid, and Rawdon left them for a moment.

"I am my own butler," he said, with a laugh. "Not a very arduous post; but I can give you some Lafite, and a little of forty-seven port. You drink port, I know."

Derrick nodded pleasantly. "I met Mr. Rawdon by chance, by happy chance," he said, as he took his seat. "We used to be great friends in the old student days."

"Are you an artist?" asked Olive, in the same measured tones.

"No," said Derrick. "I wood Art most fervently and patiently, but she would have none of me. I am nothing but a useless idler; but I must not prejudice you against me, Mrs. Rawdon. I am fond of art and all that pertains to it. My friend Stephen showed great promise; I suppose he has been making a name lately!" Olive looked down.

"I do not know," she said. Stephen Rawdon entered with some bottles in his hand.

"Cool, at least," he said cheerfully. "I'll put the claret by the fire for a few minutes. Now, my dear Derrick, what is it to be? A little soup—that is a grilled chicken under that cover, I think. It is humble fare—"

"Fit for a prince," said Derrick. "I have brought an appetite with me; the ride in the cold would make a Catalunian hungry."

Stephen Rawdon did the honors of the table in the most genial manner, talking rapidly, asking questions, laughing incessantly, and plying the Lafite at every possible opportunity; the contrast of his present humor, presented to his gloomy condition of an hour ago, was startling, even to Olive, who was prepared for it.

She sat almost silent, that same set look on her face, her eyes cast down, except when she was answering some question of Hastley Derrick's or sally of the high-spirited Rawdon.

Always Had Headaches.

Liver Was Torpid and Bilious Spells Brought Sick Headaches. Lost Time. But is Now Completely Cured.

Newton, N. B., February 15th. — Here is convincing evidence that however much you may suffer from liver trouble and consequent biliousness there is cure in the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Over-eating is the most common cause of sluggish liver action. You lose your appetite, have distressing bilious spells, usually accompanied by headache and vomiting, the bowels become irregular, constipation and looseness alternating, digestion is upset and you get irritable and down-hearted.

No treatment so quickly awakens the action of the liver and bowels as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. For this reason this medicine is wonderfully popular and has enormous sales.

Mr. Charles R. Tait, Newton, N.B., writes: "I was nearly always troubled with headache and would often have to stop work for a day or two. I lost many a night's sleep every month with bilious headaches, and although I tried doctors' medicines, it was without success. When I had these headaches I would vomit, and could get nothing on my stomach."

"I purchased a box of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills from G. M. Fairweather, Druggist, of Sussex, N.B., and after taking one box I was so much relieved that I continued to take them until I am now completely cured. My advice to anyone is to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and be completely cured."

Mr. A. S. Mace, J.P., endorses the above statement and says: "This is to certify that I am personally acquainted with Charles R. Tait, and believe his statement in every way to be true and correct."

before him. The comedy pleased him, none the less that he could not see, as yet, its motive. That there was something strange in his being there struck him oddly, but the very strangeness pleased him. He leaned back and listened to Stephen Rawdon's incessant chatter, but his attention was riveted on the beautiful woman at his side. Why was she so silent—where had she acquired that strange composure? There was something about her beauty so subtle and powerful that perplexed and troubled him. While Rawdon was talking of one topic and the other, Hastley Derrick scarcely listening, was wondering whether these two were happy.

No, not happy, if he possessed any skill in reading the human countenance. The beautiful, elegantly dressed girl beside him was not happy. He had arrived at that conclusion when Stephen Rawdon said suddenly:

"Olive, will you give us a little music? And while you are playing, perhaps Mr. Derrick would like a hand at cards? What do you say?"

"I shall be delighted," said Derrick. Olive rose, without a word, and went to the piano. Hastley Derrick arranged the stool and turned over the music.

"You play Scotch airs, I suppose?" he asked.

"No," said Olive, bending over the music, "all I play are here. Will you choose something?"

"May I?" he said. "There is a favorite of mine," and he placed "Robert le Diable" on the music rests.

Stephen Rawdon had been wheeling a card table in front of the fire, and had got out the cards and a bottle of claret.

"Come along," he said, with a laugh. "Mrs. Rawdon is rather nervous when any one stands near her."

"She need not be afraid of my criticism," said Hastley Derrick, crossing the room and taking his seat at the table.

"Eccart, I suppose," said Stephen Rawdon.

EARLY ME

LOSS OF TONNAGE HEAVY IN 1917.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15. — Ship tonnage sunk by submarine in 1917 was nearly three times as great as the total production in the United States and Britain during that year.

This was disclosed to-day by the announcement of Mr. Bonar Law, Chancellor of the Exchequer, in the British Commons that Britain produced only 1,183,474 tons of shipping last year.

The output in the United States was 901,223 tons, making a total combined tonnage of 2,084,697, while the sinkings by submarines last year are generally reckoned at 6,000,000 tons.

While the complete figures on construction in Japan, Italy, France and other nations in 1917, are not yet available, officials here don't believe their aggregate equalled the total of the United States. If that is the case, submarine sinkings more than doubled all the net tonnage produced.

Both American and British officials expect a very different story in 1918.

ON ANOTHER MISSION.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15. — The presence of Vice-Admiral Sims at Rome is regarded here as not having to do with any proposed assaults on the Austrian naval base at Pola on the Adriatic as has been stated in some of the published reports, but to be more likely connected with plans for cleaning up submarines in the Mediterranean. Naturally navy officers here are not discussing such plans as they may know of, but the suggestion that a naval drive on Pola is in contemplation meets with a cold reception. The Austrian base is well located and flanked by land defenses of the strongest character. It is very doubtful that the proposal to storm these defenses from the sea without land support would be favored by any power. There seems no doubt that Admiral Sims' visit to Rome was connected directly with plans mapped out by the naval section of the Supreme War Council.

where the healing of skin diseases and injuries is concerned. That is what the Roman gladiators proved when they applied only the essences of roots and herbs to their sores and wounds.

That is why Zam-Buk is acknowledged as superior to ordinary ointments to-day, because it is Nature's Skin Healer—made from roots and herbs like the balsams used by the early Romans, but more scientifically refined, blended and concentrated into convenient form for modern use.

When applied to a skin disease or sore, Zam-Buk's unusual power of penetration enables it to reach the underlying tissues where most of the disease germs are located. These it destroys, and when the diseased parts are medicinally cleansed the healing essences contained in Zam-Buk grow new, healthy tissue which replaces the old and diseased. This is why Zam-Buk cures are permanent. Zam-Buk cures from the root up, leaving no trace of hidden disease to break out again.

Zam-Buk is absolutely pure. It is also free from animal fat and consequently it cannot turn rancid, but will "keep" for an indefinite period. This naturally appeals to careful buyers and in combination with the balm's reliability, explains why Zam-Buk is always found on the medicine shelf of the good housekeeper.

Those who have used Zam-Buk say nothing can take its place for eczema, ringworm, salt rheum, boils, pimples, ulcers, abscesses, chronic sores, blood-poisoning, piles, cuts, burns, scalds and all skin injuries. 50c box, 3 for $1.25. EARLY MESSAGES

LOSS OF TONNAGE HEAVY IN 1917.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Ship tonnage sunk by submarine in 1917 was nearly three times as great as the total production in the United States and Britain during that year. This was disclosed to-day by the announcement of Mr. Bonar Law, Chancellor of the Exchequer, in the British Commons that Britain produced only 13,837,474 tons of shipping last year. The output in the United States was 39,123,233 tons, making a total combined tonnage of 52,960,707, while the sinkings by submarines last year are generally reckoned at 6,000,000 tons. While the complete figures on construction in Japan, Italy, France and other nations in 1917, are not yet available, officials here don't believe their aggregate equaled the total of the United States. WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The presence of Vice-Admiral Sims at Rome is regarded here as not having to do with any proposed assaults on the Austrian naval base at Pola on the Adriatic as has been stated in some published reports, but to be more likely connected with plans for cleaning up submarines in the Mediterranean. Naturally navy officers here are not discussing such plans as they may know of, but the suggestion that a naval drive on Pola is in contemplation meets with a cold reception. There seems no doubt that Admiral Sims' visit to Rome was connected directly with plans mapped out by the naval section of the Supreme War Council.

BRITISH OFFICIAL.
LONDON, Feb. 15.—Early this morning the enemy's trenches at Lens were again raided successfully by the Canadian troops. A number of Germans were killed and a few prisoners and two machine guns were captured. The raiding party returned to our lines without loss. Several other prisoners were brought in during the day by our patrols. On the southern portion of our front there was some hostile artillery activity to-day in the neighborhood of the Souchez River.

BOLO PASHA SENTENCED TO DIE.
PARIS, Feb. 15.—Bolo Pasha was sentenced to death to-day. The court-martial which condemned him to death deliberated only 15 minutes. Darius Perchero, an accused co-defendant, was sentenced to three years in prison. The court-martial was one of the first of the so-called cases of intelligence with the enemy and came up for trial before the third court-martial at Paris, Feb. 4th. Bolo Pasha was then charged with having capitalized the company that bought the Paris paper Le Journal with the money obtained from the Germans. Bolo Pasha was an instrument of German propaganda, one of the first to find exposure in French investigations of 1917, and his name has come to be used as typifying the entire system of Bolshevism by which Germany strove to break down the French morale and instill a desire for peace by spreading the idea that Germany couldn't be beaten, and that it would be well to make the best terms possible with her as soon as they could be arranged. It had been charged that Germany in attempting to bribe French statesmen and leaders, and influencing French opinion by subsidizing papers in France or founding new publications to disseminate the spirit of pacifism or defeat, devoted a sum of money of about 10 million marks. Bolo himself was said to have had the use of a fund of more than $1,600,000 to be used in attempting to corrupt the French press. Darius Perchero, who was sentenced to three years in prison, was a business agent, who was charged with receiving correspondence relating to the affair and as an intermediary of Bolo Pasha. Filippo Cavalline, who was judged by default, and sentenced to death, is a former member of the Italian Chamber of Deputies. He was charged with having introduced Bolo Pasha to Abbas Hilmi, former Khedive of Egypt, and having facilitated negotiations. Capt. Mornet acted as prosecutor for the military authorities. Bolo Pasha was defended by Maître Salles, member of the Council of Albert of the Order of Advocate, while Maître Paul Guillaud appeared for Perchero.

DISASTROUS FIRE.
MONTREAL, Feb. 15.—The lives of at least thirty-eight little children were blotted out shortly after 8 o'clock last night by fire in the fifth story of the west wing of the Grey Nunnery on Guy and Dorchester Streets and its found that the list may run well on to 100. Thirty-eight charred bodies were found by the firemen at 1930, when the fire was under control and its known that while firemen and soldiers were engaged in rescuing the infants they were forced to leave many to die, as the flames and smoke drove the rescuers from the building. The property loss is not excessive as the blaze was practically kept to one floor. Fire started near the tower supposedly from the electric wiring. The top floor was used as a dormitory for infants, being cared for by the nuns, and the lower part of the west wing was occupied by returned sick or wounded soldiers. The ages of the inmates of the nunnery ranged from two or three days to almost 100 years. Many of the bodies whose lives were but a few days or few weeks old. Elderly inmates were housed in another section of the nunnery and were not immediately affected by the fire.

POLISH CABINET RESIGNS.
ZURICH, Feb. 15.—The resignation of the Polish Cabinet, because of dissatisfaction with the terms of the separate peace between the Ukraine and the Central Powers, was officially announced in Warsaw despatches to-day.

SENTENCED TO DEATH.
ATHENS, Feb. 15.—Three lieutenants and two soldiers have been arrested and sentenced to death by court-martial in connection with the mutinous outbreaks early this month at Lamal, which are said to have been engineered by agents of former King Constantine. Another lieutenant has been degraded and sentenced to one year in prison. The military authorities banished eighty-five additional persons, among whom were Alex. Tsoukous, former Minister of Interior, M. Argyropoulos, former Minister of Communication, and Rear-Admiral Danicanos, former Minister of Marine, nine former members of the Chamber of Deputies, several retired officials and two newspaper men.

THE U. S. AND NORWAY.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Norway, in her reply to the proposals of the United States for a food rationing agreement, made public here to-day by Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, head of the Norwegian special mission offers to guarantee that no American products shall go through Norway to Germany, but declines to meet the full American demands for restricted export of Norwegian products to the Central Powers. In her commercial policy, it is declared, Norway can't break off commercial relations with one of the belligerent parties without serious danger arising, that it will not be possible to maintain political neutrality of the country much longer. Norway will, as compensation for essential supplies which it hopes to receive from the United States and their associates, permit for the predominant part of its export surplus to be exported to these countries in order to maintain her economic life. Norway also needs supplies from the Central Powers, and it is therefore necessary that it shall remain in a neutral position to render services in compensation for such supplies.

The War Trade Board which is conducting negotiations for the United States declined to state how far the Norwegian counter proposals are acceptable, but said the negotiations would be continued. For the present the policy of granting no licenses for export of any commodities to Norway will be continued.

THE PRESIDENT'S SYMPATHY.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—President Wilson was informed formally of the death of the late Ambassador in a telegram from the Duke of Devonshire, Governor General of Canada. He sent this reply: "His Grace the Duke of Devonshire, Ottawa—May I now thank you earnestly for the courtesy of your message informing me of the death of Sir Cecil Spring Rice, and beg that you will convey to Lady Spring Rice for Mrs. Wilson and myself our profoundest sympathy for the death of her husband whom we had come to esteem as a friend and admire as a man and for whose loss we personally grieve." Frank L. Folk, Comptroller of the State Department, has been designated to attend the funeral of Sir Cecil Spring Rice as the personal representative of President Wilson.

At the British Embassy the following statement was issued: News of the sudden death of Sir Cecil Spring Rice was received this morning by the British Ambassador and members of the British Embassy with great sorrow and distress. The late Ambassador had endeavored himself to be a member of his staff by his sincerity of character, his spirit of sympathetic consideration, the patience and courage with which he handled the grave problems provoked by the war will cause his memory to be cherished as an inspiration by all those who were privileged to work with him. Earl Reading, the new Ambassador, added a personal touch to the formal expression of the Embassy staff with a similar statement.

MURDERED SURGEONS.
STOCKHOLM, Feb. 15.—The Afton Bladet says that after the massacre, which occurred at Kerara, the Red Guards wired to Helsingfors for surgeons and ambulances. Five surgeons who left immediately, adds the paper, were murdered by the Red Guards on their arrival.

THE SULTAN'S BODY.
AMSTERDAM, Feb. 15.—Advice received here from Constantinople say that the body of Abdul Hamid, former Sultan of Turkey, who died recently in exile, was conveyed by sea from Bengier Bey Palace to old Seraglio Palace. Prayers for the dead were offered in Sophia Mosque.

SECRET PAPERS FOUND.
NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Secret papers containing details of Portuguese shipping, which had disappeared from the Portuguese Consulate in this city, are alleged to have been found yesterday in the Brooklyn home of Joseph C. Moniz, clerk in the consulate, when the police arrested him on the charge of assault and searched his rooms.

In Memoriam.
RICHARD BISHOP BRADSHAW.
By recent American mail the writer of this obituary tribute received sad intelligence from Brooklyn, N.Y., that an old and admired friend had passed to the great Beyond in the person of Richard Bishop Bradshaw, aged 80 years.

The deceased belonged to Jersey Side, Placentia, but for a number of years was attached to the offices of Postmaster and Customs Collector at Gaultois, filling these positions with honor and satisfaction. Mr. Bradshaw was one of the old type, a pioneer in deeds as well as in years, and bringing into every communication with his fellows the environment of that prowess and hardihood of the "so long ago."

To converse with him was to have tendered to one a high intellectual treat, for the man ever spoke from experience and personal knowledge of those primeval days—the heritage of our forebears.

The name of Bradshaw is closely allied with the old firm of "Newman & Co." pioneers in the annals of the West Coast trade and offshoot from far Jersey, and the subject of those lines grew up with the firm, one of its strongest advocates and supporters, knew and was trusted with its business, was admired and liked by the promoters of that business, and received their fullest confidence. For the last several years Mr. Bradshaw had been living at intervals with his daughters at Veron Place, Brooklyn, New York, and it was at their residence that the "call" came to him on February 3rd, after an illness of only a few days. So well known, respected and loved, his passing will be heard of with sorrow by all, and to his bereaved family will go out the sincere sympathy of genuine friends here, of which innumerable circles the writer would humbly ask to be known. May Heaven's reward be given to the soul of this good man, who died full of years, kindly deeds, and honorable memory. A FRIEND.

YOUR GROCER NOW SELLS THESE DELICIOUS FOODS

MADE BY
W.K. KELLOGG CEREAL CO
TORONTO, CANADA

There is nothing more delicious than the REAL Corn Flavor in a thin, crisp flake. Unless you know Dominion Toasted Corn Flakes you don't know how good corn flakes can be. The hearts of the finest corn that grows are cooked and made into thin, crisp flakes, and by the DOMINION toasting process a rich golden color is given to the flakes, and the mild, appetizing flavor of real corn brought out to a delightful degree.

Kellogg's KRUMBLES

is both Wholesome and Delicious

KRUMBLES is made of Durum Whole Wheat—the most valuable food variety grown,—and contains all of the bran, protein, phosphates and mineral salts of the wheat,—just the things needed by growing children. The flavor of KRUMBLES is one that will pleasantly surprise you. All of the flavor of the Durum Wheat is scientifically brought out, and the longer you chew it the sweeter and more appetizing it tastes.

Kellogg's BRAN

Only selected edible bran is used.

By the Kellogg process, the bran is thoroughly cooked and sterilized and the flavor evenly distributed. This eliminates the acrid taste usually found in bran, and gives a uniform, pleasing flavor that is always palatable and satisfactory. You will find KELLOGG'S BRAN makes splendid muffins, etc., and is unusually tasty when mixed with Dominion Toasted Corn Flakes, Krumbles, Oat Meal or other cereals.

DRINKET

Practically everybody has wished, time and again, for a food-drink that adults and children could partake of, without the usual after-effects of coffee. DRINKET has solved the problem. Selected farm grains are the only ingredients of DRINKET—no molasses or artificial flavoring. A skillful blending and roasting of the grains develops the coffee-like taste and satisfaction—but without coffee's usual results. You may give DRINKET to your children; it is a wholesome, satisfying food-drink. DRINKET IS ECONOMICAL. A 25c. tin makes 75 cups. DRINKET IS CONVENIENT. It is prepared in a minute—just add boiling water.

All W. K. Kellogg Cereals are packed with a WAXTITE wrapper, which keeps out all moisture and air, and insures them reaching you in a fresh and appetizing condition. Take a package home with you to-day.

"BABY MINE" TONIGHT.
The Charlottetown Patriot speaks as follows: Last night before a big house "Baby Mine" was staged. This play was written solely for laughter and it has made hundreds of thousands throughout America and England laugh. The story in brief tells of a young married man who just loves children but hasn't any of his own. His wife isn't so fond of them as he is but anything to oblige, so enlists the help of his best friend "Jimmy" and his wife. They decide that the lover of children shall have his wish gratified, and it is decided to "let Jimmy do it." Jimmy does it, and does it so well that in a short time there are more babies in the house than they know what to do with. Babies are secured from a borrowed home, babies are leased, foundling home, and stolen, they are secured in any way possible and the result is that the owners of the babies start in to make trouble and then the fun starts. From the rise to the fall of the curtain, the play was nothing but one hearty laugh.

The W. S. Harkins Players were to have given two performances in North Sydney Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, but owing to ice conditions in North Sydney Harbor, Mr. Harkins has decided to remain here Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, leaving here on Thursday and opening in Sydney February 25th. The play for Monday and Tuesday nights will be "Manselle" a vaudeville comedy of surprises. A Farewell Matinee Wednesday afternoon, and a special bill for Wednesday night. Wedding Bells.
On Feb. 5th, 1918, a pretty wedding was solemnized when Rev. S. O'Driscoll, P.P., united in the holy bonds of matrimony Mr. William Hayward and Miss Theresa Power, of Bay de Verde. The bride looked charming in a suit of blue nuns veiling, and wore a black picture hat. She was assisted by Miss Cecel Fleming, who also wore a suit to match. The groom was ably supported by his cousin Mr. John Hayward. Before the wedding ceremony a reception was held at James C. Gibbons. After the ceremony was performed they drove to the residence of by over fifty. We wish Mr. and Mrs. Hayward many years of wedded life.

Evening Telegram

W. J. HERDER, Proprietor

FRIDAY, Feb. 15th, 1918.

The "Harlech."

The Herald attempts to answer our charges in the matter of the Harlech by the characteristic method of turning the tables and laughing the whole thing away, as if it were a storm in a teacup. Doubtless the Herald considers the loss of the vessel and her cargo and the narrow escape of her crew a most trifling affair, but we may perhaps be forgiven for taking an opposite view. It does not offer to deny the similarity, or may say identity, of its own and the Advocate's account, but insists that the only important question is whether the account is to the point or not. We entirely agree, but that question cannot be answered until the Government divulges all it knows about the matter, a thing which, for reasons of its own, it appears most reluctant to do. None of the information for which we have asked has been vouchsafed, nor is likely to be until the House meets, when it can be compelled. Meantime, the genuineness of the "explanation" can be fairly gauged by the little incident which we have pointed out. If the whole matter were so innocent and so easily defended, what necessity would there be for the editors of both papers to sit down with precisely similar written accounts of it before them, from which to devise the articles, in which they were careless enough not to disguise that fact? The answer is simple: since it was most necessary that the matter should be explained, it was also most necessary that one explanation only should be manufactured, not two or more, betraying discrepancies in essential details. We return to the subject again to-day merely to draw attention to the secret and devious methods of the Tonnage Committee, which have characterized its functions from the beginning. Its mouthpiece, the Advocate, has boasted loudly of its secret and its true representative of that trade, the Board of Trade, has justified the boast by putting on record its opinion that the Tonnage Committee has been guilty of a breach of trust in its dealings, an official record that will be read in other countries and particularly in those with which we have the closest commercial relations. A fine thing to boast of, truly! The deliberate sacrifice of the Harlech and her cargo, will, we presume, be made the subject of similar vaunting. The benefit of the trade, the loss of another fish-carrier is obvious.

Cheer Up!

The cabled news that the Central Powers have effected peace with the Russians need not induce in us a feeling of despondency. True, we would much rather that it had not happened, but when we consider that Russia has been for nearly a year more of a hindrance than an aid to the Allies, we have at least a certain amount of satisfaction in the knowledge that at least the Entente Powers can now throw help from this Government out of the scale of their calculations. And perhaps it is better so. Germany is not all to the good yet. Treaties of peace with any other but established forms of Government are not worth the paper on which they are written, and we know that in Russia to-day there are numerous warring factions each at present against the other, but which eventually may unite in an attack on the Bolshevik element which has for the nonce usurped the functions of the legitimate rulers of the people. The prospect of this means civil war extending over an interminable period, to which will be added all the horrors of anarchy, nihilism and kindred organizations of violence, which ultimately will be likely to prove a thorn in the flesh of the Kaiser and his junkers. Great rejoicing has been made by the Hun over the huge stores of wheat which will now be released from points in Russia for transportation to Germany and Austria, but there are many difficulties in the way ere this wheat can be turned into German flour and then into German bread. Railway facilities are not nearly so perfect with the Hun as they are with the Hun and haulage from points of storage by land will be an obstacle over which it will take the enemy, with all his resources, some time to climb. And he must transport by land. By sea he has no chance. Therefore it will be sane to remember that the Russian peace may not prove to be altogether an unalloyed blessing for Wilhelm & Co. Nor must we be despondent because this, (and we think we are safe in so saying it) patched up peace of the enemy with our late ally, will release a vast number of troops which will be used against us in the other war theatres. The General Staffs have been expecting this for some time and we opine that they have made their dispositions to checkmate any move of this nature. The extensive organization and new alignment of allied forces on the Western Front is evidence that whenever the German offensive begins, it will be met and stopped. They shall not pass. No matter in what strength the enemy attacks we can be assured that he will be met and defeated. The time for peace, unhappily, is not yet. All Germany's proposals in that direction are mere camouflage, and so long as the Russian armies remain in the field, with striking power, so long must the war continue: for Britain has in no wise relinquished her original declarations as to her aims. Restoration, reparation and security. These words sum up specifically all that she is fighting for, to the successful issue of which, the last man, the last shilling and all the resources of the Empire are pledged. Therefore with the sure hope of victory let us not be gloomy. There is no cause for it. To beat the Kaiser, and his deluded followers, and allies, we must put off every approach of despondency and carry on.

NOTES AND COMMENTS. In addition to wheatless and meatless, Canada has been having "heatless" days. Should this order of the Fuel Controller continue in effect, our Canadian friends will be wishing for the speedy exodus of Jack Frost.

The St. John's, N.F., correspondent of the Montreal Daily Star asserts that the effective strength of the Royal Newfoundland Regiment is not above 250 bayonets, with but a small reserve force at Winchester. If this is correct, isn't it time for those in authority to sit up and take notice.

Old King Cole is a strong old soul. "All must help win the war," says he: "A little conservation is requested of the nation. I need more lumps to plug Kaiser B."

When some women cast their bread upon the waters, it comes back in the form of a bread pudding, and not bad stuff, either.

The schoolmaster had been giving a lesson on physical force. "Boys," he said, "can you tell me what force it is that moves people along in the street?" "Please, sir," replied the first boy, "it's the police force."

Board of Trade Meeting. SERVICE OF EXPERT DECIDED ON. Another meeting of fish exporters to consider means to cope with the reddening of codfish was held yesterday in the Board of Trade rooms, Mr. H. R. Brooke acting as Chairman. The meeting was well attended. The arguments followed along the same lines as those taken at the meeting which was adjourned some time ago. It was thought that the reddening of fish was due to lack of salt and that 20 hds. were required to properly cure every 100 qts. The desire to get the fish to market first contributed largely to the improper cure. Every year sees a rush to get the first fish to market on the part of the exporters, and an equal effort on the part of the fishermen to dispose of their catches, with the result that the cure is given only secondary consideration with losses all round. All were agreed that something should be done in order to cope with this question which so closely affected the trade. A resolution was made to the effect that the services of an expert should be obtained whose salary would be paid by the fish exporters. This resolution was unanimously adopted. Hon. J. Harvey and Mr. A. W. Piccott were appointed as a committee to meet the exporters and to arrange for financial assistance.

City Council. At the Council Meeting held yesterday, the President of the T. P. U. wrote that owing to high prices of feeds, etc., the rates for hire of horses and men at city work had increased. This increase will be paid.

The Police Department will be asked to report on the number of lights out from 7 p.m. till daylight, the report to be submitted in time for consideration at each meeting.

Four cases of smallpox and one of diphtheria were reported for the week. The Assistant Health Officer complained that, right and from two houses quarantined with smallpox, had not been removed by the sanitary staff.

The Sanitary Officer reported that the Magistrate's Court had decided that Truckmen living outside the city, who were carting ice to town dealers were not liable to taxation. The meeting adjourned with the passing of the Engineer's report and the granting of requirements.

Judgment of the Court

Deheasing—Gibbs vs. Hiscock. We are helped in construing the shipping-paper, which in part is illegible and at best is ill-drawn, by the construction which plaintiffs and defendant alike attribute to it, namely, that Jerrett was defendant's fishery servant for the season of 1917 at wages not less than $30 per month, but that, if one-twelfth of the fish caught should be found to exceed in value the total of the $30 per month, Jerrett should receive as wages $30, plus the excess. The quantity of fish caught on Labrador (where Jerrett served) was ascertained before it was removed thence to St. John's, and it was sold in St. John's by Hiscock. Jerrett's services continued until that sale, and he became entitled to be paid wages based on the net price obtained at that sale. Such wages are not assessable on the price or value of the fish at the date when it was shipped for St. John's from Labrador. The appeal is therefore dismissed with costs.

Purchasing Abroad.

Mr. E. J. Russell, of the Royal Stores Furniture Department, who is visiting Canada and the States, is at present buying for that department, and reports cold weather in Canada, and very stormy weather since leaving home, making it difficult to travel. He has visited quite a number of factories, and found them all exceptionally busy making different lines of goods. Some very different to what the trade has been handling in former years. He has placed orders to his entire satisfaction and hopes to have early shipments made to St. John's. Mr. Russell expects to reach home about the second week in March.

Two Men Drowned.

The Assistant Collector, Mr. H. W. LeMesurier, C.M.G., received a telegram from the Sub-Collector at Rose Blanche, stating that William Simms, 43, married, of Moose Ambrose, and Samuel Young, 23, single, belonging to the crew of the fishing schooner Effie May, were drowned while pulling their trawls. The bodies have not been recovered.

Thoughts Upon the Times.

(By PATRIOT.) Last week, a correspondent of the Evening Telegram, signing himself "Watchman," called attention to the large profits which were made last fall by fish exporters on all fish sent to Italy and other European countries. He pointed out that if Mr. Coaker and the members of the F.P.U. Party were in Opposition the fishermen would have obtained a higher price for their fish last fall in the local market.

Yesterday we had an article in the Daily Star stating that the fish exported to "Italy" by the steamer Eutenjett, about which there have been so many serious rumors, and in connection with which the Board of Trade charged the members of the Tonnage Committee with a "breach of trust," sold for $6.50, storing or $30.40 per qt., and further that the price paid the fishermen for this fish ran from $7 to $9 per qt. If this statement can be supported by facts, then the fishermen have been robbed of at least $4 per qt., not only on the fish which made up the Eutenjett's cargo, but on all fish sold here last year. And the claim put forward by the Tonnage Committee that they kept the price of fish up to $10 per qt. is absurd. They should have insisted that the price paid to the fishermen be not less than $14 per qt. for No. 1 fish. Let every intelligent young fisherman who may happen to read this article get busy and figure out what profit their President and his new-found friends made on this cargo of fish. We will assume that the price paid the fishermen for the whole cargo was $9 per qt. and that the freight amounted to $3 per qt. and insurance and other charges came to $3-per qt. A simple process of addition and subtraction will give the result in dollars and cents. Thus $9 x 48 x $3—$30 which would be the cost of the fish F.O.B. to Italy. Selling price of 1 qt. fish in Italy—$30.40. Cost of 1 qt. fish to Italy $29.00. Net profit to exporters per qt. $1.40. Who would not be a politician and an exporter of codfish if he could make such a nice little profit like this on 1 qt. of codfish? Think it over fishermen friends, especially you who have no money to invest in the Union Trading Company. Think it over carefully fishermen friends in St. Barbe, Trillivange, Fogo, Bonavista and Trinity Districts, and ask yourselves whether you received proper value for your fish when your President, and his friends Mr. Coaker, and possibly Mr. Reid, received a clear profit of at least $10 per qt. You will lose nothing by giving it a little serious thought. If after you have considered the matter well and you are disposed not to believe it, why just insist on your own Premier, Dr. Lloyd, who holds the key to the whole matter, publishing the despatch which he holds, but which he claims is "confidential." Its contents, it has been stated, were disclosed to Messrs. Coaker, Crosbie and Reid, who not to you? Are you not more interested in the price of your own products than, say, Mr. Reid? During the long winter evenings when you meet in your meeting places to talk over matters which concern yourselves and your country, just give this matter which concerns you immensely, a little consideration. Of course you could follow your President's example, if you choose, and figure up how much 22,000 fishermen would lose on their season's catch of fish at say $4 a qt. These are days when a ready smile and a cheerful disposition are needed to lighten one's work and brace him for the tasks which he has to face in the battle of life. It is no use to be sad and gloomy. It only saps our physical and mental powers. "It's easy enough to be pleasant When the whole world goes like a song, But the man worth while is the man who can smile. When the whole d—n world goes wrong." The man who persists in looking on the dark side of everything becomes a nuisance to himself as well as to his neighbours. Major Sullivan's scathing criticism of the Government for their failure to stand by the Royal Nfld. Regiment is to the point and the gallant Major will be backed up by all intelligent people in the country. This reminds one that the Editor of the Herald promised in December to give the public some "inside facts" in reference to the Regiment beginning shortly after New Year, but so far nothing has resulted. But was it not about that time that the Hon. Mr. Stacker New Year the present Stacker Government was supposed to be dissolved? Has no political air to ground. St. John's, Feb. 14th, 1918.

Ugh! Acid Stomach, Sourness, Heartburn, Gas, Or Indigestion.

The moment "Pape's Diapepsin" reaches the stomach all distress goes. Do some foods you eat hit back—sour, gassy stomach? Ferment, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. Ugh! Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. Never never anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No diarrhoea, how badly your stomach is distressed you will get happy relief in ten minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear. Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not "Pape's Diapepsin" is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back. You feel different as soon as "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructations, undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine. Go now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty cent case of "Pape's Diapepsin" from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

The Inside of the Shoe.

It is not always the outside appearance of a Shoe which justifies its purchase.

INVICTUS SHOES

have all the appearance and style that can be desired to please the eye—to please the sense of fitness—Invictus Shoes have also the qualities which are only apparent during the period of wear—comfort from the first moment to the last—the best of material and thorough workmanship in the hidden places. These are factors which conduce towards real Shoe satisfaction—inside information, as it were, for Invictus Shoe wearers.

BE A WEARER OF INVICTUS SHOES AND GET VALUE FOR YOUR MONEY.

The Golden Mean.

By RUTH CAMERON.

RUTH CAMERON

Of course a reasonable attention to your health is a good thing. As I never eat late in the evening, and I don't believe in drinking more than one cup of coffee a day and I can't digest hot bread. But all these notions that some people have are tommy rot. The thing is to go far enough and not too far.

In other words just as far as he goes.

It Really Is Very Funny.

The naive way in which people assume that the stage to which they carry any line of action is just far enough, would be annoying if it weren't so amusing.

Take the matter of etiquette. Almost everyone thinks that a certain amount of attention to etiquette is a good thing but that too formal observance of all the rules is foolish. As which is good, they vary according to how much they themselves have been accustomed to pay.

They All Think They Go Just Far Enough.

Or take the matter of housekeeping. It is better to make the keeping of your house immaculate the first consideration in life or to make it secondary to other considerations? Women differ very widely on this question and almost always they recommend the course they themselves follow.

"There is such a thing as being too lax on Sunday and there's such a thing as being too strict," says my neighbor. "Now I (with that peculiar and unconsciously self-satisfied accent on the I) believe in going to Church once a Sunday, but I spend the rest of the day doing about as I like."

But Which Follows Which.

Of course you may remind me, it is natural that we should think that what we do is the right thing, since in doing it we are following our beliefs. Granted, if it were true that our course of action was regulated according to our beliefs. But I am inclined to think it is the other way—that our beliefs are regulated by our actions. We find it to our taste to live in a certain way and then we form our opinions of the right way to live upon our own course of action.

No, not all of us. Nor all of the time. But many of us, a great deal of the time.

FOR YOU AND ME.

For you and me the brave boys go to face a grin and deadly foe, to fight in darkness, cold and snow, for you and me. They break off all their good cherished ties, they s a y, perhaps, their last good byes, to suffer under foreign skies, for you and me. They leave the safe and peaceful grind; they go, their country's need in mind and leave their weeping girls behind, for you and me. We are too old, too fat or lame, to climb the war-like Prussian frame, and so our boys must play the game, for you and me. I see them go, in pairs, in fives; I hope each one of them survives; but if they die they give their lives for you and me. That we may count in peace our hoard, the packages in bank vaults stored, our fine young men take up the sword, for you and me. That foreign tyrants may be foiled, that our bright flag may be unsoiled, through weary marches men have toiled for you and me. That we may face the world and cry, "Our country's honor stacks up high," the boys go forth to fight and die, for you and me. For you and me! Are we so small that we would dodge the country's call to help the boys who fight and fall for you and me? Oh, let us buy nine bonds and show just what we think about the foe, about the soldier boys who go, for you and me.

THE MESSAGE.
The message is an attempt to beauty man by giving him the ruddy and ornate complexion of the boiled lobster. Some men are naturally endowed with a bright pink complexion, particularly in the region of the nose and cannot be massaged without resembling the headlight on a Mogul engine, while others leave the chair with the dull reddish hue of the Kikapoo squaw.

When the massage is properly performed by a highly-muscled barber, it is guaranteed to banish wrinkles, crow's feet and sleep at one fell swoop. Nobody ever went to sleep in a barber's chair just prior to a whole-souled massage without waking up immediately afterward with the sensation of being on fire from the Adam's apple up. This is because the massage never does its perfect work unless it is applied at a temperature that would make boiling pitch look as cold as a woman's suface audience in a wet town. After a man has been overlaid with thirty-five cents' worth of hot massage, he will have some new and valuable ideas about the future state toward which he is tending.

It costs money to buy a massage, because it is necessary to expend a good deal of pink saliva and elbow grease, along with four coarse-grained Turkish towels. These towels are applied in rapid succession, after being charged with live steam, and if allowed to settle down on all four feet will raise blisters faster than sliding down a hay rope. It is a heart-rending experience to be massaged by an absent-minded barber who has just come in from the hay field, with calloused hands, and who piles on the towels until the customer has to breathe through his ears, like a fish. This is why it is always better to be massaged by a lady barber, who knows more than to undermine a good, serviceable complexion, which is harder to replace than confidence in a busted stock company.

The barber always knows when a customer is in love, for he wants to be massaged four times a week and he left looking like a peony bud. The courts have held that when a married man has a face massage oftener than once in three weeks it is prima facie evidence that he is living a dual life. If more wives would make a notebook entry of every time their husband has a massage and brandish it in his face, there would be less gallivanting on the part of restless and untamed married men.

Nild. Scotch Curred Herring.

Stocks of Newfoundland Scotch cured herring received here during the past few weeks from St. John's, N. F., have practically been cleaned up in this market among importers, and jobbers are now making inquiries for future supplies. The prevailing quotations of $27 and $28 per barrel of 250 pounds continue to rule, with a fairly firm feeling on the part of the importers. Jobbers apparently are willing to meet these ideas, and it is understood that quantities of herring of this cure now on the way from St. John via the str. Florida have been sold to arrive. The demand for Newfoundland Scotch cured herring according to factors in the trade here, has been little affected by the arrival in this market of stocks of Scotch herring. Indeed, there is a preference expressed in many quarters for the Newfoundland herring. This is particularly true of the Jewish jobbing trade of the East Side of New York. These buyers have expressed a willingness to take on supplies in liberal quantities almost without regard for price. Preferences of a higher and firmer market are expressed on all sides in the trade in New York, and a price of $32 and $35 per barrel is not beyond the ideas of the largest factors in the importing trade. In view of the increasing prices of herring in Newfoundland, it is taken as reasonable to expect that a higher price must come. Offerings from the outports in Newfoundland during the week have shown a range between $22 and $23.50, according to advices received here since last week. It is understood that one of the largest factors in the trade has been purchasing liberal supplies at $22 per barrel. The fishery in Newfoundland is over, and many of the vessels—not all of them—from American ports which have been engaged since the opening of the season last fall have been ordered to return. Reports state that heavy floes of ice in the Gulf of St. Lawrence are being driven toward the Newfoundland shores by strong winds, and it is believed that it is only a matter of a few days before the entire coast of the Ancient Colony will be engulfed and closed to navigation. The winter at Bay of Islands and Bonne Bay has been an unusually mild one up to this time, and up to a few days ago no severe weather had been experienced there. The season has been a successful one for the herring packers, for the fish have brought the highest prices on record. The catch, according to reports, will not exceed Fads and Fashions.

Covert coating is always smart. Winged hats are in great favor. Brown is a good color for spring hats. Tan coats are lined with navy blue. Peanut straw is popular in millinery. Lace ruffles are used in combinations. Linings are generally in dark shades. Gray green is one of the spring shades. Many new models are fastened on the side. Evening gowns show very little décolleté. Checked linings are the fashion for coats. Pargoting is the newest idea in trimming. Chemises are made of lavender Georgette. Sham pockets trim some of the new coats. One-piece dresses are worn with long coats. Young girls' dresses are made of jersey cloth. Beaded bags nowadays have ivory frames. Blue tricot coats have vests of black satin. Belts almost always take the form of sashes. Georgette crepe makes attractive collar and cuffs.

Your Boys and Girls.

The child crippled physically deserves all the help and comfort it is possible to give, but the child crippled morally by lack of training is in a pitiable plight. Often a mother becomes hard pressed by child bearing and the nourishing of her infants, and the children of more mature years are literally pushed into the street, to make room in the home for their seniors.

Children learn by imitation, either in thought or act. The imitation of wrong becomes as much a matter of course as does the imitation of right. In the matter of "taking things," which becomes stealing if indulged in after baby days, the condition is often but the uninterrupted continuance of the baby habit, of reaching out and taking whatever is wanted.

Temper, even more than most tendencies, calls for a careful formation of habit. Each time it is allowed the mastery, it leads to a distant strengthening of future attacks. Many children if they were endowed with a complete understanding of their lives, would pour bitter blame upon their parents for the punishments, unhappiness and hindering of advancement, they endure from outbreaks of temper.

WAR BOND PURCHASES.
LONDON, Feb. 14. (Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.)—The House of Commons Rt. Hon. A. Bonar Law, Chancellor of the Exchequer, stated that to the end of last week £352,000,000 sterling of war bonds had been sold. He had adopted the system of continuous borrowing as a substitute for a loan and now had every hope it would be successful.

COMMONS QUESTION APPOINTMENT.

LONDON, Feb. 14. (Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.)—A Liberal member for Tottenham, asked what were the special specifications of Lord Beaverbrook for the position of Minister of Propaganda and why was he linked up with the Chancellorship of the Duchy of Lancaster, and seeing that the former office affected the United States, whether the Premier could assure the House that Lord Beaverbrook was persona grata in America. W. F. Roche, Liberal member for Pembroke, asked why was Lord Beaverbrook besides the duties connected with the Chancellorship of the Duchy of Lancaster, and whether Lord Beaverbrook was a member of the War Cabinet? Right Hon. A. Bonar Law replied that Lord Beaverbrook will undertake duties in connection with the propaganda which had been performed by Sir Edward Carson prior to his resignation. The Prime Minister offered Lord Beaverbrook the appointment because he thought he would do the work successfully. Lord Beaverbrook is not a member of the War Cabinet. A. F. Whyte, Liberal member for Perth, asked that the appointment created widespread dissatisfaction. Mr. Bonar Law replied that "perhaps Mr. Whyte is a better judge of that than I am."

NO ACTION TAKEN.

MADRID, To-day. A ministerial council was held last night to discuss the sinking of the Spanish steamer Ceferino which recently was sent to the bottom by a German submarine near Ferro Island, one of the Canary group. The ministers decided to seek more information regarding sinking of ships, and no new note will be sent to Germany until the facts are more clearly known. The Cabinet decided that henceforth all Spanish ships must carry war insurance and must be limited to coastwise traffic.

War Rations in Washington and Berlin.

U. S. Food Administrator Hoover has just issued a ration card to be hung in the kitchens of the well-to-do, giving the weekly allowance to which it is hoped each person in the family will restrict consumption. From Berlin comes the news of the food allowance at present dictated to the residents of the German capital. These two rations are given below:

IN UNITED STATES.
 Per Week, Per Person.
 Meat, including beef, salted, tinned, and hashed beef; mutton, lamb and veal—Two and a half pounds gross weight.
 Pork—One half pound.
 Butter—One half pound.
 Cooking and kitchen fats—One half pound.
 Wheat flour, for use in gravies and sauces—One half pound.
 War bread—Three pounds.
 Sugar for table use, cooking, candies and sweetmeats, but not for canning and preserving—Three quarters of a pound.
 Articles of food which may be used "as much as desired" are:
 All kinds of oysters and sea food, poultry and game, corn meal, oatmeal, rice, hominy, barley and rye, milk, fresh and dried vegetables and fruits, and cream or top milk for table use only.

IN GERMANY.
 Per Week, Per Person.
 Potatoes, 7 pounds.

IDEAL FOR ALL BRANCHES OF SERVICE.

AutoStrop SAFETY RAZOR

THE AutoStrop Safety Razor is always in the pink of condition—so perfect that "once over" will remove with comfort every particle of hair.

It is kept in that excellent condition by means of its stropping feature—it is the only razor on the market that sharpens its own blades automatically.

Guaranteed to Satisfy COMPLETE OUTFIT $5.00 AT ALL STORES AutoStrop Safety Razor Co., Limited 23-27 Duke St., Toronto, Ont.

Bread, 4 1-3 pounds.
 Meat, 9 ounces.
 Butter or oleomargarine, 2 1-2 ounces.
 Of these articles only potatoes and bread can be counted upon. Meat is frequently unobtainable, and only on certain days is there butter.
 Milk is allowed only to children and old persons.
 There is little coffee or tea.
 One is entitled to an egg a week, provided he can find the egg.
 Only the soldiers and the very rich are sure of tobacco.
 Almost the entire production of sugar is taken over by the Government.
 German bread at present is made mainly of rye. It is hard and almost black, but not unpalatable.

Milady's Boudoir.

AGE AND HANDS.
 Sometimes we are obliged to wonder where all the "old ladies" are living. In this world of war and woman suffrage. We can no longer find the old lady in the bonnet and shawl in the big cities, even in the smaller towns she is quite a rarity. If women but only realized it they would find that there is more necessity for fussing and caring for ones grooming when one is fading, than when one possesses radiant youth.

The hands need attention most as we climb the years. Neglected hands frequently show evidence of a woman's age before the face, to which latter she gives more attention. To conceal the age line at the wrist, long cuffs or soft lace ruffles should be worn that come well down toward the knuckles. The nails should receive care, especially if one has to do household work, both household tasks and age make the nails brittle, but if one is thoughtful about the nightly rub of oil cream, and the daily use of good soap, the nails will remain young even after their day of youth has sped.

For an exercise to strengthen the wrists and make them supple choose one that works other miracles as well. Those of us who have fat and pudgy shoulders will be glad to know that we can get rid of some of the extra fat while limbering up our wrists. This result is easy of achievement if the following exercise is perseveringly practised.

Stand erect with arms out at sides on a horizontal line with the shoulders. Clench each hand into a fist and stiffen all the muscles. The closed fist will, of course, be toward the floor, the back of the hands up. Now turn each hand until the closed fist is facing up and the back of the hand is toward the floor. In fact, if you can turn the fist a little toward the back after facing it up, all the better for the shoulders, arms and wrist. You should feel a decided strain at the shoulders.

Everyday Etiquette.

"How long should a formal call last and should the caller remove her wraps?" asked Mabel.
 "Formal calls last from fifteen to twenty minutes and one should not remove her wraps as a general rule," answered her mother.

When you want Sausages, why get ELLIS'; they're the best.

M. C. L. I.

The weekly debate of this institution at its room last night was of more than ordinary interest, the attendance being one of the best for the season. The question discussed was:—"Resolved that at this session of the Legislature the Government should enact an eight-hour day for all employees of the Civil Service, factories, mines, mills and mercantile establishments."

The affirmative side was upheld by Messrs. G. F. Grimms, M.H.A.; Joseph Baggs and George Evans, who submitted most exhaustive arguments in favour of the resolution, a summary of which is here given:—
 The 8-hour day has been introduced in many countries and has worked successfully; production has not been lessened but increased on this basis; which means more leisure time in which the workman may improve himself; means more money by giving more men opportunities to work; prevents long hours which break down powers of moral resistance, and stands for an increase of wages.

The negative side was in charge of Messrs. George Peters, H. Wyatt and Messrs. Bowden who submitted the following per contra argument with equally convincing force. (a) This question calls for present legislation, but the time is not opportune because extra shifts are now unobtainable, so many men having gone overseas, and beside factories are now running overtime the demand being greater than the supply; (b) To pass such a bill under existing abnormal conditions would add to the already increased cost of living; (c) Such a law could not be made apply to mills, on account of the many difficulties of logging and driving, the number of hours work being dependent on climatic conditions and not on the clock. Other arguments of the affirmative side were dealt with in an able manner.

Capt. Kean occupied the chair during the debate. Additional speakers were Rev. N. M. Guy, Messrs. J. Moore, S. Woods, H. Bussey, S. R. Feany, W. H. Peters, A. Edgcombe and W. White. The negative won by a small majority.
 When the President took the chair he extended a welcome to Mr. W. A. O'D. Kelly representing the N. I. W. A., who responded in a pleasing manner. Next week's subject will be:—"Resolved that the present European War will be a benefit to mankind."

Bell Island Curlers Coming.

Mr. A. H. Salter, Secretary of the Curling Club, received a message from the Bell Island Curlers yesterday, stating they would arrive in town next week to take part in the "Big Day" in aid of the W. P. A. On Wednesday night the Islanders will play the city team for the Town Cup which was won by the city with a small margin last year. The Iron men have some good material and are in hopes of taking back the trophy this season.

A Night With Moore.

Last night at the Aula Maxima, Mr. P. K. Devine read a very interesting paper on "Tom Moore the Poet." His Grace the Archbishop, Rt. Rev. Monsignor McDermott and Rev. Fr. Conway were among those present. Immediately after the lecture selections of Moore's most popular melodies were sung by Messrs. Leo C. Carter, Jas. MacDonnell and Mr. Dawson, Misses L. Brown, Mary Ryan, A. Aylward, Stella Shea. Miss Mary Devine played some instrumental selections from Moore as an introduction to the lecture. The song accompaniment being played by Misses Brown, Ryan and Williams. Miss E. Morris and Miss Maggie Furlong who were in charge of the entertainment in aid of the Presentation Convent deserve great praise on the success achieved.

Honors and Awards.

The following decoration has been graciously awarded by His Majesty the King:—
Military Medal.
 1733—Private T. A. Pittman, for operations of 20th November.
 Yours truly,
 J. R. BENNETT,
 Acting Minister of Militia.

Doing Well.

The Minister of Militia received the following cable from the Pay and Record Office, London, dated 13th February:—
 "Capt. Keegan called at this Office to-day looking well. Expects to be transferred to Convalescent Home, Wimbledon, in a few days."
 Yours truly,
 J. R. BENNETT,
 Acting Minister of Militia.

Resolution.

At the annual meeting of the Society for Protection of Animals, Feb. 1918, His Excellency the Governor being in the chair:
 It was moved by the President, seconded by Mr. B. E. S. Dunfield, B.A., and carried unanimously:—"This Society records its grateful remembrance of the gratuitous and ever ready services of Lieut. Norman A. Outerbridge, its Honorary Treasurer from the date of its incorporation until—disregarding brightest prospects and all that life holds dear—he heroically took up arms in defence of home and Empire."
 "He was with us at our annual meeting in 1916."
 "When he sailed with his draft we assured him of our certainty that he would follow 'Quo fas et gloria ducunt' (Whither Fate and Glory lead). In full measure has he justified that confidence."
 "Our annual meeting of 1917 sent him its resolution of our warm wishes for his welfare. In the first week of April he sent us kindly acknowledgment of our greetings."
 "Although he was wounded more than once on the 14th of April at Monchy le Preux while leading a charge, and later tidings are uncertain, hope is cherished that he may be with the Prisoners of War."
 "All who knew Norman Outerbridge recognized in him the beau ideal of the British officer."
 "Comely, athletic, chivalrous, a very gallant English gentleman," his was a soul too great to brook surrender, if he were not desperately wounded.
 "And so, hoping still, the Society tenders to Mrs. Outerbridge, his parents, the venerable Doctor Shea, and the family its very sincere sympathy in their terrible suspense."
 (Signed),
 GEO. M. JOHNSON, President.
 CYRIL J. FOX, Hon. Secretary.

N. B.—Within the last few months I have played on Emerson Pianos that were bought here 25 and 30 years ago, and with the exception of a small portion of the centre, which was a bit worn, the Pianos were practically as good as the day they were sold.

The White Ladies of Worcester.
A ROMANCE OF THE TWELFTH CENTURY.
(By Florina Barclay.)

Nora, the leading character in this story, believing she has lost her betrothed lover, Hugh D'Argent, either through unfaithfulness or death, while he is absent on a crusade, enters a Convent. Hugh returns and tries to prevail upon her to leave the Convent but she determines to remain true to her vows. To the Bishop of Worcester falls the task of bringing the lovers together, and Nora at last gives herself to Hugh, persuading herself that she is following God's will. Bound in cloth. Postage 4c.
