The brute tore her clothes, knocked her down, and inflicted a bad wound on her leg. She was rescued by her husband, who heard her screams and beat off the brute. Mrs. Gubb was seriously injured and her system received a shock which it will take some time to recover from, although WESLEYAN S. S. Pic Nic .- This annual pic nic came off yesterday aftern the picturesque grounds of Mr. H. W. Peterson, and may be denominated as the most successful gatherin held under similar auspices. It is calcu lated some 600 persons were present who enjoyed themselves to their heart's who enjoyed themselves to their heart's content with every species of innocent recreation—base ball, throwing the ball, croquet, &c., being amongst the most prominent of the amusements indulged in. Five or six tables, groaning with every conceivable enticing eatable, furnished the repast, and great was the havoe played by young and old—the former being the first participants of the feast—among the host of good things abundantly provided. The Silver Cornets was there as usual, to the reciprocal advantage of the visitors and of themselves. Mr. Peterson, who was present in the evening, received a very hearty vote of thanks for his kindness in granting his grounds for the occasion, and which that gentleman pleasantly acknowledged. The shadows had darkened into night ere the last of the picnicers retreated homewards.

The Press Excursion.

Notes of a Trip to Muskoka.

(Concluded.)

The farmers who have made clearances of any size are doing remarkably well, and not a few are making money. An immense lumbering business is carried on in this region, and produce of all kinds finds a ready sale at high prices. Last spring hay was $40 a ton, and oats 80 cents a bushel, and farmers could get these prices at their own doors in hard cash. There is no doubt that good prices will be paid for all kinds of farm products as long as the lumber trade continues, which will be for some years to come, as there are immense tracts of good pine timber yet untouched. On the rocky ridges the pine is poor and scrubby, but in the more fertile sections the trees grow to a good size, and the timber is of excellent quality. From all the reports we could gather we are inclined to think that Muskoka is better adapted for grazing purposes than for farming, and it may be in after years that it will become one of the most valuable portions of Ontario, where immense herds of cattle and flocks of sheep will be raised and fed for consumption in the large commercial centres of the Dominion.

The annual meeting of the Association

The annual meeting of the Association was held in the Hall on Wednesday forenoon. After the transaction of routine business the President gave a very able address on the position, duties and responsibilities of journalists. It was listened to with deep attention, and deserved, as it received, hearty applause. Next came a poem, entitled "A Summer Day in Ontario," by Mrs. James Somerville, wife of the President of the Association, who is known to the public already as a poetess of no small merit, and whose theme, a well-chosen one, for the occasion, exhibited true poetic spirit. An able essay, much on the same subject as the President's address, was then read by Mr. John Smith of Elora. At a subsequent meeting, held on the steamer, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—

PRESIDENT—John Cameron, London
Advertiser.

1st Vice-President — James Innes, Guelph Mercury.

2nd Vice-President — V. R. Climie, Bowmanville Statesman.
Secretary — H. Hough, Cobourg World.

Hon, Secretary — J. G. Buchanan,
Hamilton Evening Times.
R. Mathison, recently of the Brantford Expositor, and A. J. Belch, lately of the St. Mary's Aryus, were unamimously elected honorary members of the Association.
The place of meeting and route for next excursion were then discussed, and it was decided, on motion of Mr. Smith, of the Elora Observer, seconded by Mr. Innes, of the Guelph Mercury, to hold the annual meeting and Guelph, to proceed thence by rail to Southampton, by steamer to Kincardine and Windsor or Sarnia, thence by rail to Hamilton.

The following Executive Committee was appointed: Messes, Clarke, Smith, Dunn, Messenger, Hacking and Jackson.
Mr. G. I. Walker was appointed essayist, and Rev. W. F. Clarke poet, for the ensuing year.

A cordial vote of thanks was also passed this is the most valuable work ever issued in explanation of the scriptures for so reasonable a price. Already more copies of this work have been sold than of any work ever published, except the Bible itself, about half a million copies having been sold in the old country, and now it is republished in this, and about 300,000 have been taken in London, Ontario.

It is highly recommended by all leading clergymen. The following are the opinions of the ministers of Guelph in regard to this valuable work.

Will the Tories Explain?
The Tories claim that the Hon. Mr. Scott is still a Conservative, that he is supporting Sir John A. Macdonald in the Dominion elections, and that consequently the Ontario Government is a Coalition.
The Tory organs at the same time, cry out that the Preston outrage is being repeated, and that in Groy, Wellington and other counties land valuators appointed by the Ontario Government are using the official influence against Tory candidates. This action is termed "bribery," corruption," "intimidation," and "an outrage."

The land valuators, being Crown Land official, saust have received their appointment of a noted Orangeman, Capt. Madden, who has been appointed Dominion from the Commissioners of Crown Lands.

Hamilton Nominations.

Owing to the peculiar state of poli-tical affairs in Hamilton, considerable riosity and some little anxiety has en felt with regard to the Reform minations there. The Reform deates appointed at the several Ward meetings held their convention in that city on Wednesday evening. The following gentleman were nom-inated:—Messrs. Charles Magill, Æ. Irving, A. T. Wood, John Proctor, John Stuart. These gentlemen ad-dressed the meeting, and Mr. Magill, in the course of his speech, announced that he was willing to abide by the decision of the Convention. This in the course of his speech, announced that he was willing to abide by the decision of the Convention. This was scarcely expected, and the Tories were consequently fully expecting that Mr. Magill would run on his own hook, and cause division in the Reform ranks. Each one of the gentlemen nominated pledged himself to stand by the Reform party. When the tallot was taken it was found that Mr. Irving had 47votes, Mr. Magill 26, and Mr. Wood 24. The two first were accordingly unanimously nominated to represent the Reform party at the approaching election.

The Reformers of Hamilton will now be able to show a united front to the enemy, and will carry the city by a handsome majority. Messrs. Chisholm and Whitton, the Conservative candidates, are actively at work, but they will have to fight against great odds. Mr. Chisholm is Mayor of the city, and on this account, and because he is well known and in good standing, will make a much better run tlam his colleague, whose mane until now was scarcely ever heard in connection with polities or any public matter whatever. The Tories have evidently taken h'm up under pressure of the nine hour movement, thinking by this means that they will secure the working man's vote for himself and for Mr. Chisholm. Ly this means they hope at least to elect Mr. Chisholm, who will poll a much layer vote among other classes than the season. this means they hope at least to elect Mr. Chisholm, who will poll a much larger vote among other classes than Mr. Whitton, who has been put up for a purjose only to be sacrificed. The contest promises to be a very keen and exciting one.

ELECTION NEWS.

The result of the Cornwall election has had rather a dull effect upon the more sanguine of the Government supporters. Those who, a few days ago, were quite willing to risk their last dollar on H. S. Macdonald's return, are very mute just now.

It is said that Mr. Angus Morri-son's chances in Niagara are waning, notwithstanding all the influence-that the Government is bringing to bear, both publicly and privately.

Mr. J. D. Edgar is quite confident f his election for Monck.

Things are getting lively about St. Catharines. Mr. McKeown held his first meeting on Wednesday night. The coming contest will be the liveliest held in the county for many years back.

Sir Francis Hincks, having run himself out of North Renfrew, is undecided where to go to obtain a seat. Ottawa was especially laid out for him; but as the people of that city distinctly refuse to have a government nominee forced on them, he finds it in vain to look there. The Leader, in one of its telegrams, suggests that Carleton will be his destination, if he can secure a nomination. He is however, anxious to run for Oxford, and is at present maneouveing to be asked to stand for that Riding.

The Bruce Hevald has good authority

NEW

The Bruce Herald has good authority | NEW for saying that Sir John A. Macdonald and other members of the Govern-ment will visit Bruce in the course of a few weeks

The Reform Convention for the South Riding of Waterloo will be held at Doon on the 25th inst., with a yiew to the thorough reorganization of the various local committees, so that should any attempt be made to bring out a candidate in the interest of the Government, such candidate shalf not secure his election through the negligence of the party which has so frequently carried on the contest to a triumphant resuit. There is, however, no danger of any opposition to Mr. Young.

At a large and influential meeting of the Kingston Reform Association held on Tuesday evening, Mr. John' Carruthers of that city was unanimously chosen as the candidate to oppose Sir John A. Macdonald at the coming election.

The accounts from Russell are very satisfactory. Mr. Malcolm Cameron is making great headway, and it is now thought by many of his friends that Dr. Grant will retire.

that Dr. Grant will retire.

Sir John A. Macdonald addressed a meeting at Chatham on Wednesday, supported by Rufus Stevenson. More than half of those present wished to hear some Reformers speak, but this was very rudely prevented by the chairman and the other Government supporters. Sir Francis Hincks, likewise, was the same day spreading himself at Ingersoll, where he met with a cold reception, though Mr. Bodwell was called forward and delivered au effective speech in favor of Free Trade.

ing Dr. Orton, and are attending his meetings. On Monday night a meeting was held at Elora and large Committees appointed one was held in South Pilkington the same evening, and Committees formed to canvass each school section. Dr. Orton held a meeting in Glenallan on Monday night. It was well attended, Reformers being largely in the majority. Quite an animated discussion took place between Mr. Ross and the doctor, in which the latter got the worst of it.

CHAPTER VIII. AN UNEXPECTED ARRIVAL FROM JAMAICA— THE CONSTERNATION OF STEPHEN AND MAL-

When the door closed, their visitor, who still wore his furred overcoat, went up to the blazing fire and held out his hands for warmth.

"Excuss me, gentleman," he observed;

"the climate of this country is so different from that of Jamaica that I feel the cold intensely, and the travelling has chilled me to the bone. Ah, spirits?" he added, seeing the decanters on the table.

"I shall take a glass to promote internal warmth."

chilled me to the bone. An spirits and added, seeing the decenters on the table.

"I shall take a glass to promote internal warmth."

And with the utmost coolness he poured out a glass of whisky and drank it off without a pause. By this time stephen's astonishment had abated so far as to allow him to speak.

"Mr. Garrett, your arrival ia this country is utterly unexpected by me. I certainly expected a letter from you, but did not contemplate a personal visit."

"So I understand by the contents of your letter. And I can tell you it gave both of us no end of surprise to find that you were in ignorance of the truth. Poor thing! Of course she was in no state to think anything about that, the shock of the intelligence came so heavy upon her. But fortunately I was able to see what required to be done, and she did not hesitate to act on my advice."

"Your words are a perfect enigma to me, Mr. Garrett," returned Stephen.

"Why was it necessary i r you to come to this country? A Iull report of my cousin's affairs in Jamacia was what I required, and surely that could have been forwarded by letter."

"No doubt, sir, if things had been as you supposed. But then they are not; and I saw how necessary it was that, when she came, I should come with her."

"When she came, I spould come with her."

"When she came, I should come much.

"Yes, his widow," said Nathan. "Your cousin, Mr. George Morrar, was married, and it amazes me to find that you did not know it."
"If Married!" shrieked Stephen, with a budden frenzied burst. "It is false! he was never married.',

"Never!" roared Malcolm, with equal fury.

"Keep calm, gentlemen; pray, keep calm," said Garrett. "It is natural that calm," said Garrett an learning this you should be excited on learning this flact, seeing that you seem to have had no idea of it, and that it affects you so much; but its reality eannot be altered by your denial, and you might see that. I tell you Mr. George Morrar was married. His wife and child have come with me from Jannaica, and they are in this house, which is their own property."

"Horror!" groaned Stephen, sinking stupified into a chair, and growing livid with dismay.
