WEDNESDAY EVENING, FEB. 19, 1873.

Town and County News.

WHEELS—The merry rattle of wheels is now heard upon our streets. Sleighting has "goin' on."

PROFIC—An eastern paper is responsible for the statement that a young woman of that town has given birth to five children in thirteen months. It is not stated whether the father is doing well or could be expected, but the mother and children are all in good health.

FOUND—The girl who lost herself in the woods on Saturday last, was turned up. She returned home late in the night after having tramped about "through tangled juniper, beds of reeds, through many a fen where the serpent feeds, and man never trod before," and came out half dead and exhausted from her fright.

DISAPPOINTED—An ambitious youth in Toronto, who had marriage in view for some time past, left his earnings for the benefit of his anticipated bride. Imagine his surprise on being aware that she had betrothed another, and coolly informed him that she understood that he had intended her to keep the money placed in her hands by him. The matter is likely to be sifted in court.

CANADA AIR LINE—On Monday morning the Loop Line of the Great Western Railway was opened for traffic from Gloucester to Welland Junction. The whole of the line is laid with steel rails, and the track is represented as solid and smooth.

SOBRIE IN PUBLICATION—A tea meeting will be held in Duff's Church, East Puslinch, on Thursday evening, the 27th inst. Among the speakers expected are Rev. Messrs. Farries, Paris, Goodville, Hespeler, Sutherland, Messrs. Torrance, Wardrop, and Ball, Guelph, and Mr. Strickon, M.P. The Wesleyan Church Choir, Guelph, will be present, and sing some of their finest anthems. Tea at 6.30 p.m. Tickets 25 cents; children 15 cents.

HONOUR TO A GALTONIAN—Dr. John B. Crozier, Silver Medalist of last Spring's graduating class at the University of Toronto, after undergoing a special course at St. Thomas' Hospital, London, England, has been appointed an Assistant Physician in the London Hospital for Women. Dr. Crozier is from Galt, and has not yet attained his twenty-third year. The appointment may, therefore, be considered not only an honour to himself and his Alma Mater, but to Canada as well.

Y. M. C. A.—The Young Men's Christian Association will hold a public meeting in Chalmers' Church, on Thursday evening, 20th inst., commencing at eight o'clock. The object of which is to introduce to the public Mr. Bates, who has been engaged and is about to begin his duties as general Secretary to the Association, devoting his whole time to the work. The ministers of the town have been invited, and will, with some members of the Association, address the meeting, and as the steps our young men are taking cannot but command the sympathy of our people, it is to be hoped that there will not only be a large attendance, but that they will be generously encouraged on their good work. All are invited.

A RARE CHANCE—Mr. W. H. Maroon, Seedsman, has just got out a very fine illustrated Seed Catalogue, which gives a very complete list of all the agricultural, garden and flower seeds, now in use, with directions for culture and much other useful information. Among the flower seeds are many rare and favorite kinds, which are well worthy the attention of florists. The Catalogue is handsomely got up, and will be a great acquisition both to professionals and amateurs. He will supply choice collections of flower seeds containing 25 varieties of annuals for $1. Those desiring of obtaining a collection should apply at once to Mr. Maroon.

KNOX CHURCH S. S. SOCIAL—The social in aid of Knox Church Sabbath School, got up by four young gentlemen of the congregation, was a decided success in every respect. Dr. McGuire occupied the chair. An inviting programme was presented, in which several of the Sabbath School Scholars took part in giving songs and recitations, which were given with admirable taste and feeling, notwithstanding the tender years of several of the children. Recitations were also given by Messrs. Maddock and Taylor, which received merited applause. The singing, led by Mr. Spiers, was beautifully rendered. A solo was given in good style by Mrs. Spiers. Tea was served round by a number of young gentlemen. Altogether the social entertainment was one of a most enjoyable and pleasing nature, and highly creditable to the young gentlemen who were the means of getting it up. After singing the doxology, the meeting dispersed at the door of the Presbyterian hall of ten o'clock.

DO GOOD TO OTHERS—"Who blesses others in his daily deeds, Shall find the blessing that his spirit needs, For every flower in others' pathway thrown Confers its fragrant beauty on his own." If this be true, the proprietors of the Canadian Pain Destroyer must be the recipients of blessings innumerable. It is the safest and most sure remedy for sudden colds, rheumatism, burns, sprains, etc., and removes all kinds of pains almost directly it is applied. 25 cents per bottle. Sold by all medicine dealers.

Interesting Letter from Florida.

We have received the following highly interesting letter from Dr. Brock, of Guelph, who is sojourning for the benefit of his wife's health, in Florida. We are glad to see, by a private note accompanying the letter, that Mrs. Brock's health is rapidly improving. The Dr. expects to be back among his Guelph friends in a short time:—

JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 6th, 1873. To the Editor of The Mercury.

Sir,—Being compelled by illness in my family to leave our climate for the winter, and having chosen Florida as my residence for a time, I thought it might interest your readers to have some account of this now great health resort for inhabitants of this continent. So much has been written about this State, by persons interested in its growth and development, who, having interested motives, were liable on the one hand to exaggerate, and on the other to minimize, the merits of doing so, that it was impossible for a non-resident to form an idea of its capabilities, or to judge of its delightful climate. With regard to its climate, it has, no doubt, the very best on this continent, and from the statement of medical men who have travelled, several of whom reside here (the year round) it is the best, in their opinion, to be found anywhere. I have found it, so far, the most delightful I have ever experienced. I send you with this my thermometer records for this month; which you in Canada, and throughout the Northern States, will find to be a most severe series of storms, preventing railway traffic, impeding navigation, destroying life, maiming hundreds, and causing even the rich, who are surrounded by all the comforts of life, to excrete the climate, what must be the sufferings of the poor? What here I see, even in Florida, is the well-known atmosphere, dressed in summer clothing, and the children of the poor running about barefooted, enjoying the delicious atmosphere. In St. James' Park a base ball club play nearly every day. The trees are green with their usual foliage, and the gardeners are busy in the market every day. I think I have told you sufficient with regard to the climate. I will now give you some statements with regard to this country, which may be new and of interest to some of your readers.

Florida is about 400 miles in extreme length, and an average width of 130 miles. The whole country is extremely fertile, and the soil is principally sandy. The southern part of the State is very low and flat, and a great portion of it is swampy. The part of it which is capable of cultivation is a ridge running parallel with the Atlantic Ocean, from Indian river to Cape Sable. This can be made to yield, by manuring, pine apples, bananas, guavas, oranges, and in fact all the tropical fruits. The Indian oranges are said to be the finest in the world. I can testify of their being delicious. The flavor is much better than those we get north. Unfortunately there are not sufficient of them raised, but I believe this will soon be remedied, as a large number of orange trees have been cultivated in the last three years. The appearance of the soil produces an unfavourable impression on farmers from the North, being a loose sandy one, and making it necessary for any one who intends to try agriculture here to work even harder than he does up North.

The pine lands extend over an immense area, and give plenty of employment to the lumberers. New York, and other capitalists, have invested very largely in this business, and a great number of steam saw-mills are constantly at work, supplying lumber for the West Indian markets, and for shipbuilding purposes.

What is not grown here, but rice, oats and corn are, and these, with sweet potatoes, yams, ground nuts, &c. The cultivation of the vine, peaches, &c. afford a good living to those who are able to capital to invest to make it paying. But the cultivation of the orange is, and promises to be, the most paying and best investment which can be made by any one. A few facts will show this to be the case. Mr. Hart, of Panama, has a grove of four hundred acres in bearing on the St. John river. This grove has yielded him, for years, an annual income of from nine to twelve thousand dollars. Mr. Elwanger, the celebrated nurseryman of New York State, offered, for two acres, the sum of thirty thousand dollars, but was told that double the amount would not purchase it. There are several groves on Indian river, now paying their owners from ten to twenty thousand dollars per annum. Now that the culture of the orange has proved to be such a great success, every one who has the land and the means to do so are planting, but there need be no fear of the business being overdone, as all the oranges that possibly can be raised here can be easily consumed by the growing population of this continent.

The great enemy to the growth of the orange is the frost. In 1857 the oranges were nearly all destroyed by an unusual cold snap, another in 1868 destroyed the orange crop in the northern part of the State. To be perfectly free from this danger, a person would require to go as far South as possible, say Indian River, or down to the Miami region. The climate is a tropical in character, and being the dry, the other wet season. Nearly all the rain that falls does so during the months of June, July and August.

The prevailing diseases here, affecting the inhabitants, are caused by swamp poison, and malaria, and are very prevalent and intermittent fevers are common along the fresh water streams, but do not affect the health along the sea coast. These fevers rarely or never occur in the winter season, but are common in summer. They are not more so than the fevers which affect the settlers in the North Western States, and can be avoided by those who are careful not to expose themselves to the influence of the poison, and are careful with regard to their diet, clothing, and avoidance of the night air during the summer season.

The St. John's river is a magnificent stream, rivaling our own St. Lawrence in its magnitude, but its mouth is hardly one mile in width, and is rendered difficult of access by a shifting sand-bar, leaving about seven feet of water at low tide. After entering the mouth, it widens very much. Seventy miles from the ocean, on the St. John, is situated the city of Jacksonville, the largest in the State, having now about 12,000 inhabitants, and being a very brisk place during the winter. There are situated a number of large steam saw-mills, which keep out a fleet of vessels carrying lumber to all points of the world, while the great number of river steamers engaged in local traffic give the city a very busy appearance.

The greater number of invalids and tourists remain here, there being a large amount of accommodation for such persons, several fine hotels, and a large number of board-houses, being open during the winter months. An immense structure, to be called the National Hotel, is nearly completed, and will be of great advantage to travellers, as it will create healthy competition. The charges at first-class hotels, rather exorbitant, a number of Northern capitalists have just completed the purchase of a fine piece of property, having a large river front, high bluff, and being within a short distance of this city, for the purpose of founding an Invalid Home, to be called the Methodist Home, Church of the United States. This is a great desideratum, and I have no doubt of its success. The more diseases of the lungs are understood, the more will it be conceded, by those who pursue the study, the great necessity of a change, during the inclement weather, which we have up North, by those persons who are affected, to a climate like this, where out-door exercise can be taken for a portion, or every day, during the winter. Here stove heat is abolished. All that is required, when it is at all cold, is a small fire, and a few articles of clothing, which is burnt here principally consist of pitch pine, which makes one of the most brilliant and beautiful fires imaginable.

In ascending the St. John River, (which, contrary to most other rivers, runs north) you will notice the following places: 1st. Mandarin, the residence of Mrs. Stowe, the well-known authoress. She has a fine orange grove which, in another year or two, will give her quite a respectable income. Two or three rather handsome residences are built along the bluff near Mrs. Stowe's, and the place is evidently improving, but is yet a very garden and every article of fruit, and store and some dozen residences. The boat next stops at Hibernia, on Fleming's Island. This place contains but three or four houses. Mrs. Fleming has a handsome house which, during the winter months, is filled with boarders. It is one of the best boarding-houses on the river. A beautiful walk along the river bank, for upwards of a mile, shaded by magnificent live oaks, adds very much to the attractions of this place as a residence. At a distance of about three miles on the western bank is Magnolia. This is owned by a company, and consists of a large building, and every article of fruit, and store and some dozen residences. The boat next stops at Green Cove Springs. This is one of the most celebrated invalid stations on the river. There are, at the present time, two very fine hotels—the Union House and the Glarendon. The last has been built very close to the beach, and is a very commodious one, and is fitted for those who desire to use the waters. The temperature of the water at all seasons is 78 Fah. At about 20 miles from this point is Tocoo, the terminus of the St. Augustine Railroad. This road, when I went over it, was a new one, and every article of fruit, and store and some dozen residences. Startling Revelations.

The usual weekly meeting of the Council of the city of Toronto was held on Monday evening, at which some startling revelations were made. It would appear that the representatives of the late Mr. Furniss wished to come to a satisfactory arrangement with the Council about the water works. The property was decreasing in value, and it would be to their interest to sell it to the City Council at the highest possible price. Being strangers in the city they could not negotiate the sale which they attempted, and were obliged to seek the assistance of some gentleman in the premises. Mr. J. E. Smith, Collector of Customs, was mentioned as an efficient agent for the purpose, and the matter was accordingly broached to him. This gentleman thought he could sell the property to the City Council for $250,000, upon which sum he required a commission of four per cent. The terms were agreed to reluctantly, but there was no help for it. Smith, seeing his advantage, asked for an increased commission, stating that he would be obliged to buy the influence of some half dozen Aldermen of the city, in order to secure the success of the sale. Alderman Bill's influence was cheap at $2,000, owing to his double position, and others were placed at various sums, varying from that amount down to $500. Of course the ratepayers were kept in ignorance of these facts, as were the Mayor and a majority of the Council. It was the wish of every citizen that the water works should become the property of the city on just and equitable terms, but they did not choose to pay a fancy price for the property. Full confidence was reposed in the city fathers, and citizens believed the transfer would take place on the best possible terms. They little dreamt that a dark plot was being laid to rob the public of the property of the city, and to partially satisfy the "itching palms" of certain aldermen, and but as little could they have believed that Collector Smith would be a party to any such nefarious transaction. Of course the cat is out of the bag now, and the citizens are up in arms against such an outrage. We regret to say that it is not now necessary to proceed to New York or Chicago in order to find "ring" or "scrupulous men, ready to undertake any job, no matter how dirty. Some of our Tweed's relatives—cousin Gerrard's name—were to be found within the precincts of the Dominion, and the only way to get rid of them, and save our good name, is to make examples of every man jack of them. Such infamous work is a blot upon our fair-weather, and we trust the people of Toronto will not rest satisfied, day or night, until the full measure of justice is meted out to these agents of the evil one. Let such conduct be nipped in the bud, and we will not be troubled with the fruit.

A return to Parliament shows the cost of the 1870 Committee investigation to have been as follows: Expenses of witnesses, $277.70; serving summonses, $4; reporter in attendance $300; printing and printing paper, $220, making an aggregate of $787.70, all of which was expended in order to blast the reputation of the members of Mr. Blake's Government, but it proved a signal failure. It only served in the end to elevate them higher in public estimation, while their maligners were forced to hang their heads in very shame.

It is probable that the Hon. A. McKellar will to-day introduce a bill to provide for the organization of local municipalities in Ontario. Certain details of the Municipal Loan Fund scheme still remains to be settled, and the introduction of the measure will therefore be postponed for a little time yet. Older and new indebted municipalities will be dealt with on the same basis. The surplus distribution will be based on population, rather than on the number of voters in each County.

A new branch is being added to the Finance Department at Ottawa, to take special charge of the money accounts in connection with the Post Office Savings Bank. Mr. Clayton, of the census Bureau, is to be appointed chief clerk of the new office. Mr. Kavanaugh, District Inspector of Customs, has been sent to Hamilton to investigate certain alleged serious irregularities in the Custom House there.

Backward Correspondence.

On Thursday evening at the usual meeting of the Literary Institute, Mr. Dunlop read a concise and instructive paper on the "Electric Telegraph," illustrating the subject by practical tests on a small line erected temporarily for the occasion.

On Saturday we had a visit from Messrs. Russell & Hamilton, the horse-trainers, when a large number of fat horses were shown to us, and the details of their management explained.

School matters, which are being pushed forward by the trustees, for these past few weeks, have been progressing very favorably, and let the contract of building and furnishing a large school, to be opened by the 1st of August. Now that we have got our fields in this year school question, we think our trustees mean business, and they intend that the community will no longer be behind the times as regards our educational interests.

The trustees on the one hand, and the old united section have also completed their building arrangements, and there will now be some rivalry who will have these new school opened first. To quote a familiar local phrase, "we're getting better and better."

The case referred to by a correspondent last week has caused some excitement in the village, and there is some talk of investigation being held to find out the real facts, so that some official action may be taken upon it.

A law-suit, which has kept six hundred acres of land in the heart of the city of Ottawa idle for years, is at last to be settled by a compromise between the contestants to quiet the title. This will open up for building the most beautiful and valuable portion of the city.

Among the petitions presented was one by Mr. Gow from St. Joseph's Hospital, Guelph, praying for aid.

Hon. Mr. Crooks moved that the Bill to establish liens in favor of mechanics, machinists and others, be read a third time.

After some discussion the third reading was carried—61 yeas; 10 nays.

On motion of Mr. McKellar, a bill to authorize the investment of certain moneys in debenture to be issued for the construction of drainage works by municipalities, was read a third time and passed.

On motion of Mr. Pardee, a Bill respecting institutions for the education and instruction of the deaf and dumb and the blind in Ontario, was read a third time and passed.

Hon. Mr. Crooks moved that the House go into Committee on the Municipal Institution Bill.—Carried.

Mr. Crooks explained the arrangement of the bill. All the clauses which had relation to the same or similar subject matter were to be found together, and arranged first under the proper general head, next under their sub-heads, next under their sub-divisions, and finally under their specific clauses. The synopsis at the end of the bill would serve as an index, and would be a convenient guide to members. The first part referred to the continuation of existing corporations, and treated of the whole mode of creating new corporations. The arrangement was new, and he thought would be found much more convenient than previous arrangements. He moved the adoption of the first clause which related to interpretation of words, which was agreed to. Part 1, relating to municipal organization, was then taken up.

Title 1, relating to incorporation, comprising six clauses, was adopted nem. con. They contained no changes, except in arrangement. Title 2, relating to new corporations, was then taken up.

Mr. Crooks explained with reference to the 8th clause relating to the incorporation of villages, that he introduced a new provision to the effect that the area of streets and public squares might be excluded in estimating the area of a village.

The clause was adopted. The remaining clauses in the division relating to the incorporation of villages were adopted. Division 3, under title 2, relating to the incorporation of towns and cities, was adopted, except clause 15, which the Committee had amended, and which was therefore reserved. Division 3, which treated of the formation of townships, the separation of a junior township, the arrangements of joint assets and debts, the annexation of adjacent tracts and the union of new townships, was adopted nem. con.

It being 6 o'clock the House rose.

After recess the House resumed consideration of the Municipal Bill. All the clauses to which no objection was taken were agreed to pro forma; the other clauses were reserved for future consideration. At 10:30 the Committee rose and reported progress, and the House adjourned.

Mr. Crooks's Bill for the facilitating of agreements between masters and workmen has passed its third reading, and now requires nothing but His Excellency's signature to make it the law of the land.

ANNABEL

THE TEMPTATION.

CHAPTER VI.

EVIL TIDINGS FOR MRS. LANGTON—THE FATAL DISCOVERY.

"You are just in time to help me, dear," she exclaimed. "I shall be so annoyed if I forget any one who should be asked on this occasion; and if you glance over the list you may be able to remember some important name which I have missed."

"What! another party, Augusta?" said the merchant in a sigh of vexation. "I thought we should be free of that for some time to come."

"No, indeed, Mr. Langton. This one is due, and a very principal and special one it must be. But don't be alarmed, I shall take all the trouble of it, for I know you don't care about being worried by these things. Fortunately I don't mind it at all, which you should be thankful for, seeing that it relieves you of the trouble, yet maintains the dignity and display due to our position."

"Could our position not dispense with some of the display?" returned her husband with a grave smile.

"Certainly not," she answered, in a tone of impatience approaching to asperity, and at the same time arching her eyebrows in surprise. "A house such as this," she added, "requires all the company we have. And I am sure, my dear, I don't allow you to have more bother with it than you choose."

"Well, no. I have no reason to complain of that," he returned. "It is the expense I am thinking of."

"The expense!" she repeated, with a look of the utmost astonishment. "The expense, Mr. Langton. Well, really, this is the first time in our married life that I have found you utter one word of that kind. Are you beginning to grow parsimonious? Is that miserable passion—the frightful bane of business-men—destined to lay hold of you?"

"I hope not," he returned, smiling again, though still gravely. "I have no desire for curtailment within the limits of our income, but—"

"How, then, can you explain your late remarks?" she interrupted. "We are not living beyond the limit of our income. Unfortunately we have no family to provide for in the future, and do not require to economize on that account."

"Tranquil, my love; but there are the fluctuations of business—the possibility of losses—heavy losses—crippling losses."

"Are these imminent, then?"

"No, thank heaven; the firm of Langton & Company is strong, solid, and would not be easily shaken; but we have been extending greatly of late, and it may be time ere the results turn in. This may entail a strain upon capital of an embarrassing kind."

"How can you have any such ridiculous fear?" said his wife. "Should the strain on capital, as you call it, become too great, Cousin Seymour would at once relieve it. Really, Joseph, considering that all his money and property will ultimately fall to us, it is perfectly ridiculous to hear you talk of expense."

"My dear, you have just come to the point which justifies me. Probably Cousin Seymour's money will not come our way at all."

"Where on earth should it go? Am I not his heir? Did he not execute a will in my favor years ago? Really, Mr. Langton, you are very provoking to-day."

"Have patience, Augusta; I do speak with reason. I have very important news for you. Mr. Seymour left us, as you know, some ten days ago to return to Backstone."

"He did," rejoined his wife, regarding him with a steady gaze.

"But he quitted Liverpool only this morning."

"Who? Cousin Seymour?" exclaimed Mrs. Langton in utter amazement.

"You may well be surprised," he went on, "but it is indeed as I say. After dinner you remember he accompanied me to the counting-house, which he left in the evening, intending to pass the night in a hotel, and leave town by the first train. The evening was wet, and I wished him to drive to the hotel in my carriage, but he declined. In passing up Woolman's Lane he was set upon by a ruffian, who nearly strangled him, and was in the act of robbing him when a young man, accompanied by a young lady, chanced to reach the spot. The youth fetched the robber a stunning blow on the arm with a stick, which effectually disabled him, and he at once made off. The youth and his female companion then devoted themselves to the assistance of Mr. Seymour, and had him conveyed to the girl's lodgings where he remained ever since in a very critical condition."

"Why, oh, why was he not brought here?" cried Mrs. Langton.

"For the simple reason that he was insensible and unable to give directions as to where he should be taken. It was indeed several days ere he rallied, but he was sedulously nursed by the girl and the landlady, and recovered his strength sufficiently to be able to leave for Yorkshire to-day."

"Why did you allow him, Joseph? You should have brought him here. He should have come the moment he was able. He should have communicated with us whenever his senses returned, and we would have had him brought here and properly attended to."

"It seems to have been properly attended to, for—"

"Impossible," interrupted Mrs. Langton. "What proper attention could be received in a common lodging-house? It was very wrong of him not to acquaint us, and still more so to allow him to go away to-day. You should have insisted on bringing him here."

"My dear, I did not see him. He sent me a letter detailing all the circumstances, and by the time it came into my hands he had gone."

"This is very extraordinary," rejoined Mrs. Langton; "his conduct is really inexplicable."

"Not so inexplicable in the light of the explanation he gives," added the merchant. "He made the discovery that the young girl with whom he was with the youth, and who nursed him so devotedly, is his niece—the daughter of his sister Annabel."

"Good heaven!" cried his wife starting to her feet in consternation, the blood rushing to her face as the possibilities of this announcement flashed into her mind.

A DISTRESSING COUGH causes the friends of the sufferer almost as much pain as the sufferer himself, and should receive immediate attention. Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry speedily cures coughs, colds, influenza, sore throat, &c. It will always relieve consumption, and in many well-attested cases it has effected a perfect cure.

DRUG STORE

Nearly opposite the Old Stand, NOW OPEN.

Mr. PETRIE takes this opportunity to thank the Public for their large and liberal support during the seven years he has been in business in Guelph.

The New Store is the one formerly occupied by Mr. H. Berry, and lately by Mr. J. B. Forde, as a Confectionery Store. The store has been enlarged and refitted, making it a much more desirable place of business than the old stand.

Having secured the new store for a term of Ten Years, I hope, with the assistance of the Public, to prevent in the future as I have done during the past seven years, any monopoly in the Drug Trade in Guelph.

The old store will remain open for business until the first of May.

By conducting my business in the future in the same upright principle as in the past, I trust to receive a continuance of your generous support.

which can be cured by a timely resort to this standard preparation, as has been proved by the hundreds of testimonials received by the proprietors. It is acknowledged by many prominent physicians to be the most reliable preparation ever introduced for the relief and cure of all Lung complaints, and is offered to the public, sanctioned by the experience of over forty years. When resorted to in season it seldom fails to effect a speedy cure in the most severe cases of Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza, Asthma, Colds, Sore Throat, Pains or Swellings in the Chest and Side, Liver Complaint, Bleeding at the Lungs, &c. Wistar's Balsam does not dry up a Cough, and leave the cause behind, as is the case with most preparations, but it loosens and cleanses the lungs, and allays irritation, thus removing the cause of the complaint.

PREPARED BY SETH W. FOWLE & SONS, Boston, Mass., and sold by Druggists and Dealers generally.

The blood is composed of minute particles or discs resembling the scales of a fish. Nervous force is the agent by which these discs are conveyed to the extremities of the muscles. The several members of the body, the muscles are mostly voluntary, those of the heart, lungs, stomach, &c., are involuntary. In order to restore a diseased or enfeebled organ, it is necessary to promote the strength of muscles through the nervous system. We have, therefore, a tonic as one of our reliable and convenient as Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, and we, therefore, gladly recommend it in the diseases of such organs as depend for health upon involuntary muscular action.

IMPROVE NUTRITION.—The central idea in the treatment of all Chronic Wasting Disease, resulting in Nervous Debility, and General Debility, is to carry on a judicious and Assiduous Diet, and the formation of Healthy Blood. Dr. WHEELER'S COMPOUND OF FERRO-CHLORIDE AND CALCEA contains the only agents known that act directly as excitants of nutrition, by imparting tone to the stomach, Liver, and Pancreas, the great triad that prepares nutriment for building up the organs and tissues of the body. The action of this remarkable preparation is extraordinary in strengthening and vitalizing the constitution, whether impaired by exhaustion, or debility, or habit, or run down by old complaints that have resisted all ordinary means. Being a delicious cordial to take, and perfectly harmless under all circumstances, it is eminently adapted to prostrate, anemic women and delicate children.
