HE first one to the left is Mr. F. I. Weaver, D. P. A. Librarian. He was born in Berlin in 1878 and has been in the stamp and publishing business ever since. It was through his efforts that the Philatelic Advocate was started. He acted as editor for one year, when, owing to other business, he disposed of his share to Messrs. Starnaman Bros. However he could not keep out of journalism and a short time after he commenced the publication of the Boys' Own Philatelist, which was afterwards changed to the Canadian Philatelic Review. This paper was then changed to a weekly. Not having time to conduct a weekly, Mr. Weaver changed his paper to a semi-monthly under the name of Energy. This paper was devoted to sports, general information and philately. Commencing the 1st of January, 1900, Mr. Weaver is devoting Energy entirely to philately. He is now reporter on the staff of the Berlin Daily Telegraph.

The next on the group is W. A. Starnaman, business manager of the Philatelic Advocate and Starnaman Bros. printing office. In September, 1896, in company with his brother and F. I. Weaver lin., Ont. He is foreman of the job department of Starnaman Bros. printing office. This firm has met with phenomenal success since its establishment in May, 1896. The first outfit consisted of a small hand press and a few fonts of type. The proprietors kept adding to their small stock until at present they have a fine Outfit equipped with all the latest machinery and mate ials. They have had an addition 17 x 46 built to their present premises. Their mail order to their present premises, trade reaches all over t trade reaches all over the world. During the busy season they employ from six to eight hands and even then are rushed to keep up with orders.

he established the Philatelic Advocate, the only philatelic paper that has ever been successful in Canada. Mr. Starnaman is Record Keeper of Star Tent K.O.T.M.; Sec. Treas. of the Cana-dian Order of Home Circles and a member of the 'Vaterloo Epworth League. He also has an interest in the firm of Starnaman & Son.

LONDON NOTES.

(W. F. DICK.)

Contrary to expectation the change in the colors of the British stamps has not taken place yet and even the Post Office seems very hazy as to when it will occur

The new German stamps have already been seen here although many peopl. in Germany have stated and still assert that they will not appear until April. At all 100 Mixed Mexico, Japan, etc. events writer has 6 of the values.

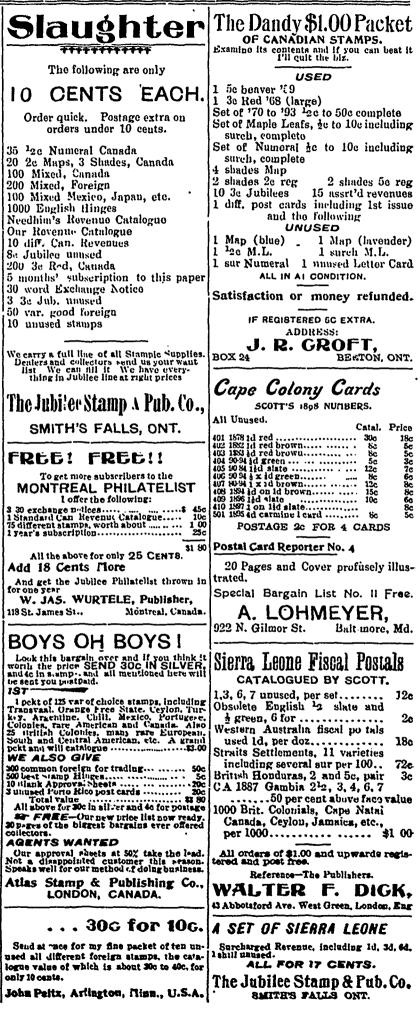

The new Austrian stamps with values in Hellers and Hungarian stamps in Filters are also to hand, the design of the latter being far 5 months' subscription to this paper superior to the previous issue. The 30 word Exchange Notice filler is eq-ivalent to the French centime.

The once well-known magazine, The Stamp Collectors' Fortnightly, has been revived and has been amalgamated with the Stamp Collectors' Guardian. It is much to be regreited that the January number of this latter magazine was never issued as it promised some very starting revelations about the large quantity of rare unused stamps and primers' erro s that a certain gentlemen in one of the University towns has in his poss-ssion, and who a-ks very inflated prices for these stamps. He, at any rate, must be happy at the decease of this journal.

The new 1d Cape of Good Hope stamp does not justify expectations, as the upper and lower portion of the design does not hang together. It is engraved in epargne perf 14 and is carmine in color.

As previously announced the Brazil centenary stamps have now made their appearance. They are only intended for inland postage and will be in issue for two months.

REACHING OUT.

I saw an advertisement of a stamp dealer in one of our Philatelic journals recently that impressed me favorably as being a very sensible plan of reaching out for business that meant good to himself and to the Philatelic world at large for benefit indeed is sure to ensure from a plan of that sort and the plan is a very simple one and can be imitated by all our enterprizing dealers.

The stamp dealer in question offered as a prize a certair stamp or packet of stamps to any collector who would send him a list of names say ten or more of his acquaintances or friends who he thought might become interested in stamp collecting, of course the packet of writing: Personal property, don't stamps or stamp should be of sufficient value to stimulate interest and then action on the part of the young in the box, several G. B's. and collector in securing the names of the willing-to-be stamp collectors, catering to the younger element means much to Philately. There seems to be a growing complaint of there being too many small dealers of too many stamp papers, but the celling the G.B's. How would that fact is as a writer in these columns said recently, that the more the merrier. 'Tis a case of the "survival of the fittest" and if the Stamp dealer or the Philatelic publisher has in him the elements of success, his stamp business or his paper will reach out, and grow despite the murmurings of others.

MONTREAL NOTES.

(BY C. E. A. HOLMES.)

Since my last notes very few Philatelist has appeared and its affair, deserve mention.

No. Mr. Wurtele Sr. has an article (?) bearing the title of "Philatelic Journalism" which attacks Mr. Ma-Gill and myself. Mr. Wurtele does not however mention our names but screens himself by designing me as "the lad" who writes for the Phila-telic Chronicle:--He begins by denying the fact that Mr. Patterson is the possessor of 12 one pence black. I never gave that as a certainity and stated in the P.C. that I "had heard" that James Wurtele jr. himself had told me he had been present at a meeting of the M.P.A. ed a strip of 12p. black.

be ashamed of accusing the young man who is actually bravely fighting the battles of his country. He then makes a regular patriotic statement which is worthy of Wal-ter Scott, Kenny or Jules Verne. As to bravery I don't believe "our friend" Ralph is so very brave according to a letter shown me by Wurtele jr. in which Bach states that during one of the fights he sheltered himself behind a huge rock and awaited the end calmly.

To begin with I have never mentioned Bach's name in any of my articles regarding that ever famous affair although my belief is that he is the guilty party as I have in my possession the cover of the box in which the counterfeits were found on which is marked in Bach's handopen. I also have the copies of Mekell's Weekly which were found Bach's business book in which all transactions about G.B's are entered, and a proof which is irrefutable is a copy of the Montreal Philatelist celling the G.B's. How would that come there in Bach's shop?

Besides young Wurtele showed me cuts which he assured me, were those used to print the counterfeits and he even told me the name of the printer who printed the stamps although he was perfectly ignorant of what they were to be used for.

So Mr. Wurtele mark all that down in your memo-book.

As to calling me a "lad" I can't object, being but 17. TORONTO NOTES.

A local dealer is showing a pair of France 1862, 20c. blue, bluish, Tete Beche, on original cover, showing postmarks distinctly. This is something out of the ordinary for few any? local collectors as very stamps of this kind are turned up in Toronto and it is looked upon by many as a curiosity, the pair has subsequently been sold for $6.00 to a well known collector.

The 6c. Maple Leaf is again on sale at the Toronto General post office as also is the 15c. mauve, 20c. vermillion and 50c. blue of the 1890-93 issues. I understand that high values of the numeral issue will shortly be issued as the high value of the old issues are about exhausted.

Our Philatelic club of Toronto are holding successful weekly meetings every Tuesday evening in their Club rooms, Broadway Hall buildthe membership roll The success of the club is chiefly due to the hard working and painstaking efforts of the president E. A. Davenport and its secretary, E. McGillivray. The club's annual house warming will shortly be held city will be invited to participate.

A local dealer informs me that he did over $500.00 cash trade the past month (January) an increase of $200.00 over the corresponding period of 1899.

I recently made the acquaintance of an old Toronto resident who in his youthful days used to stick 12 penny's on his letter to prepay their delivery to England, he almost took a sumersault when I informed him of their value to Philatelists to-day. Like the majority of "grandfathers" his is quite sure that he can easily get me a few by writing "Ome" and asking his old friends to remove a few from their letters.

The number of "kid" correspondents of the Philatelic press hidden behind "nome de plu ie" is aston-ishing. Among the good people of Berlin, Ont. there is one "would be" and "he knows it all," who is scribbling for Bro. Jewetts, "Era" under the title of "Giller" who has evidently taken an over dose of "Hot Bran" or Mother Seigel's Syrup for his semarks about my notes in this journal is highly amusing. As Illinois is now becoming a popular philatelic state and many stamp papers are making notes from Illinois a leading feature, I have requested the editor of Jubilee Philatelists to also put in a column of notes from the prairie state. If these notes appear in print you will know my request has been granted.

The Prairie State Philatelist which was announced to appear from Chicago on Feb 15 has not yet appeared. Mr. George Dold, the publisher claimed so much of it that we will be rather disappointed if he dcesn't get it out.

In this city (Kankakee) there are two coin dealers. One of them disseminate claims that coins are growing more and more favorable all the time and proves his statement by issuing 10,-000 copies of a 24 page and cover buying list, for which he has been selling for 10c. and claims they are going fast. The other coin dealer claims that coin collectors are selling their coins and taking up s-amp collecting. This dealer proves? his statement by selling his entire stock of coins at auction. The sale has dealers was lately joined in matrimony.

Mr. C. B. Sawyer of Kankakee states that he will publish a new journal for stamp levers sometime during the summer.

For the second sale it was found necessary to have the sale at leading hotel-the Tremont House. I have not got a report of the sale.

In a Montreal daily paper, some weeks ago it was stated that a scheme was on foot to abelish postage stamps. This would be a very unfortunate thing for Philatelists; but it is not at all likely that it will be carried into effect.

How to Collect Stamps Intelligibly.

BY JOHN PELTZ.

The beginner in philately should first procure a lot of common stamps, mixed, then a stamp album and good binges, and last but not least, a copy of Scott's latest catalogue. Equipped with these essentials the novice has a fine opportunity to become a real member of the vast army of Philatelists. Without a copy of the standard catalogue the beginner collector will in the majority of cases collect a few months, or even years, then his interest in things philatelic will relapse or die out ed with the Ohio Philatelist com- altogether. And why is this? Bemencing with the March issue. Cer- cause to excite a lasting interest and tainly stamp papers in Illinois are enthusiasm in philately in the breast of beginners it is necessary to study one's stamps, and without a catalogue to serve as a guide, this is an impossibility. Those collectors who acquire a great deal of information concerning out hobby at the start will remain collectors to the end of their days. I have known of persons who could see 'no sense in stamp collecting" until they learned of the various kinds of stamps, adhesive, unpaid, newspaper, etc.,--then these persons admitted that stamp collecting was, after all, no mere child's play. Advanced collectors should make it their duty to philatelic knowledge among beginners, who in after days will be grateful to them for doing this.

And the beginner in philately can avoid muny mistakes if he has a copy of a standard catalogue to direct him. The novice if he does not possess a catalogue will lose many a good scarce and sometimes even rare stamps the real value of which he is ignorant of because the difference may exist in a watermark or rare size of perforation. And this observation also applies No. 2--Canadian Rev. Cat. to dealers: some stamp dealers either No. 3--Sc Cauada Jubilee, unused not come off yet, but when it does through a mistake or ignorance of its No. 4-1000 English Hinges we expect to see some rare coins real value mark the prive of a stamp No. 5-200 Foreign Stamps put up. I could cite many such experiences in my own case, but have not got the space left to do so.

If the beginner collector is helped and encouraged at the start, by some ager of the Chicago Philatelic advanced collector, he will never tire of this, the most interesting of hobbies and pastimes, or, as the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Science has decreed it "Science of Philately."

ODDS AND ENDS.

BY J. SYDNEY DALTON.

I regret that I had to miss writing my notes last month but from now on I hope to be regular and will do my best to interest the readers of "The Jubilee Philatelist."

An American Stamp paper last month had a note on the war. The person who wrote it was not very well up in the facts of the war, and not very well informed on British History. He spoke of the cruelty of Great Britain formerly in Egypt and India and now in South Africa. He must know that England neverbrought about a war, and never Philatelists at large. fights unless she has to protect her subjects—as in this war—or is forced to for other reasons. It is as well to say nothing when you don't know what you are talking about.

New and Speculative Issues.

BY JOHN PELTZ.

The new issue, or to explain it more correctly, the speculative issue seems to be increasing to an alarming extent during the past five years. I am glad to say, however, that several well known writers of philately have taken up our cause and justly denounced the many new postal speculative untiecessary emissions of various countries who endeavor to refill their depleted treasuries by selling stamps to phil-atelists who buy these "mush-rooms" because they are beautiful? fellow on the lower round, it would and cheap.

Some collectors contend that the new issue attracts many non-philatellsts who eventually become one. But I doubt whether many collec-tors become interested through seeing a "Jubilee" set of stamps, in our hobby. So many old timers give up in disgust at the enormous increase of new speculative issues during the past few years that the few collectors who became philatelists through seeing a handsome beautiful new issue hardly made up what the stamp trade lost in the relapsed interest of the old timers.

Another step that will prove very harmful to our hobby, or science, as you will, is that Scott now lists and prices all speculative issues of every direction. stamps that were formerly assigned to a place in the back part of the often as being only in its infancy. catalogue, under the heading of Philately is full of possibilities, "Speculative Issues," and collectors were warned not to purchase these unnecessary postalic emissions.

Beginnings of things i. e., has become proverbial. Plutarch in speaking of beginnings said: Beginning of things however small are not to be neglected because continuance makes them great and the very contempt that they are held in gives them opportunity to give them strength which cannot be resisted.

The Juvenile collector and our so-called Juvenile Philatelic Journals come in for a good share of unmerited ridicule from the older papers but it must be remembered that these self-same papers play an im-portant part in the philatelic world, while giving the younger collector the support and help and experience which leads him onward to subscribing to and appreciating the older and Conservative journals. If all our Philatelic journals were be as Greek to the younger element CATALOGUE and it is often that they lay aside the paper in disgust, that stamp collecting is something that belongs to a higher order of things and where scientists can only find plea-sure in wondering at the good of the whole thing anyway, then abruptly ends what might have been a promising career in the Philatelic world.

Every new collector to our ranks should be heartily welcomed and given all prssible aid, for it means much to him, pleasure, profit, an instructive pursuit, to the Philatelic dealers at large, more business to what extent who knows, it means increased business and benefit in
