BURGLARS STOLE MONEY AND JEWELS

Forced Window of H. O. Weeks' Residence in Daylight and Rifled Drawers, Stealing Money, Jewelry and Other Articles—Waited Until Occupants Had Left the House.

By forcing a rear window, burglars gained an entrance to the home of H. O. Weeks at 299 Sherbourne street late Saturday afternoon and stole jewelry and cash to the value of $1,000.

Shortly after 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon Mr. Weeks left the house, expecting that his wife would be home at any moment. Not long after two well-dressed men called at the house next door and asked for some imaginary person.

The two strangers then stepped into the alley of the Weeks residence. Mrs. Weeks returned about 5 o'clock. She found the window and also the back door partly open.

In addition, watches, links, books, and, in fact, articles of number and variety too numerous to mention were carried off.

It is supposed that the men observed the occupants of the house leaving, and, after assuring themselves that no one was in, committed the burglary.

Several other houses in the city have been entered of late and valuables removed.

When two York radial cars came into a rear-end collision on the Mimico division yesterday afternoon about 4:30, Motorman George Hammett, 13 Fuller street, was seriously injured.

Conductor McIntyre slightly hurt, and several passengers shaken up. The vestibule of one car was demolished.

The accident occurred between Stops 23 and 24, near Long Branch. A Port Credit car and a Long Branch car left Sunnyside on the hour.

Owing to the heavy lumber in the large Credit car it withstood the collision. Motorman Hammett was caught in the vestibule of the smaller car.

3000 Immigrants Coming

LONDON, March 30.—(C. A. P.)—Three thousand immigrants sailed from Glasgow yesterday for Canada and the States.

Shortly after leaving her berth in Prince's Dock at Glasgow yesterday the Cassandra met with a serious mishap. A strong wind sprang up from the east and the ship was driven bow first into the dock wall.

The attack upon the attorney-general has been marked by unusual bitterness and personal animosity, and is now believed to emanate from an organized plan of the old aristocracy to prevent him from obtaining the office of lord chief justice.

The government some time ago made a semi-official statement that Lord Alverstone, the present chief justice, would soon retire and that Sir Rufus Isaacs would succeed him.

The chief justice, on the other hand, serves for life and has a salary of $40,000 a year. He cannot be removed except by the crown, after a joint resolution demanding his removal for just cause has been adopted by both houses of parliament.

The archbishop of Canterbury holds a high office which gives him precedence immediately after the royal family. But his wife remains a plain Mrs., and at dinner parties sits at the bottom of the table, a universe of rank separating her from her husband.

Since William the Conqueror created the office for his half-brother, Odo, bishop of Bayeux, so that he could govern the country during William's visit to the continent, its prestige has been so great that the most exalted personages could accept it.

Many of the chief justices were of humble birth, of course, his wife became a peeress, with a peer, was the son of a barber, who carried the shaving cup for his father in the streets of London.

MADOC FARMER ENDS LIFE. MADOC, March 29.—Isaac Caniff, a farmer of Madoc Township, left home yesterday morning to visit his brother John, about two miles away.

He was found dead this morning by a neighboring barn that was unoccupied, he having hanged himself from one of the beams. For some time recently he had been acting in rather a strange manner.

BITTERNESS IN ATTACK ON ISAACS

Personal Animosity Marks "England's Dreyfus Case," and Organized Plan of Old Aristocracy to Prevent Isaacs From Becoming Lord Chief Justice is Bound to Fail.

Special Cable to The World. LONDON, March 30.—(Copyright.)—"England's Dreyfus case" is the characterization which is rapidly spreading in describing the attack upon the Jewish Liberal statesman, Sir Rufus Isaacs, who holds the office of attorney-general, and who is accused of improper speculation in American Marconi shares.

The attack upon the attorney-general has been marked by unusual bitterness and personal animosity, and is now believed to emanate from an organized plan of the old aristocracy to prevent him from obtaining the office of lord chief justice.

MARGARET TAYLOR, Two Years Old, Found Medicine and Ate it When Mother Was Away.

Three hours after little 2-year-old Margaret Taylor had climbed up and eaten some candy-coated pills from the sideboard at her home, 9 Bradd street, on Saturday afternoon, she was dead.

The little girl's father, John E. Taylor, was away in Hamilton on Saturday, and she and her mother were alone in the house. A box of sugar-coated pills was left lying on the sideboard in the dining room, and while her mother was out of the room the child climbed up on a chair and commenced to eat them.

When her mother returned she saw that the child had been eating something and removed two of the pills with the candy dissolved from them from the little girl's mouth. Thinking that this was all she had taken, the mother paid no more attention, but a few hours later the child became very ill and finally unconscious.

Dr. J. J. Thompson of Dundas street was hurriedly summoned and did all in his power to save the child, but the poison from the pills already swallowed had done their work and the child soon expired.

Dockers Awe Mob in Hyde Park Suffragettes Are Not Molested

LONDON, March 30.—(Can. Press.)—The suffragettes resumed their meetings in Hyde Park and Hanstead Heath this afternoon, and while they were subjected to continuous interruptions, the crowds were good tempered and there was no repetition of the scenes of violence which occurred a fortnight ago.

In Hyde Park a strong force of police was present to protect the women, who also had an escort of stalwart dockers. All the speakers were greeted with the monotonous chant, "Sit down," "Enough of you!" and when one of the women announced that one of the delegates to the international conference to be held in Budapest in June would be a woman member of the Chinese Parliament, there were continued shouts of "Ching, ching," which broke up the meeting.

At Hanstead Heath, besides the police, the women had an escort of residents of the district, who, altho not favoring militancy, were determined to uphold the right of free speech.

MORGAN DESPERATELY ILL ATE NOTHING FOR THREE DAYS AND DOCTORS ARE ALARMED

Financier Has Not Developed Any Organic Trouble, But is So Exceedingly Weak That His Present Condition Must Be Considered Most Critical—He Refuses Food and it is Impossible to Nourish Him.

ROME, March 30.—(Copyright.)—Tonight Pierpont Morgan is desperately ill in confinement in the following bulletin, which his attending physicians issued late tonight: "A week ago Mr. Morgan was persuaded to go to bed and remain there, in order to conserve his strength. Until Wednesday afternoon he did very well under this regimen; he rested and slept without the aid of drugs and took a satisfactory amount of nourishment.

It has been impossible to nourish him. He has lost weight and strength very rapidly. His nervous system is showing this and it has added to the strain seriously. "Mr. Morgan has not developed any organic trouble, but is so exceedingly weak that his present condition must be considered most critical."

When Mr. Morgan landed at Naples, just seventeen days ago, coming from Egypt, The World correspondent called that the financier's appearance gave the impression that the hand of death was upon him. But then and ever since those in attendance have stoutly maintained that Mr. Morgan was in no danger, but that, in fact, he was steadily the slowly improving, his ailment being merely nervous prostration.

But tonight the physicians changed the tone of their comments on their patient's condition and admitted that it is very critical.

At 11:30 p.m. The World correspondent again called upon Mr. Morgan, who said: "This sudden change was quite unexpected. Even today the doctors were well satisfied. They found that his strength had been maintained despite loss of appetite. I saw at once by their expressions after seeing him at 4 o'clock this afternoon that he had taken a sudden change for the worse."

The exact situation. The following is now the exact situation: "Mr. Morgan is losing strength rapidly. His throat refuses to act on account of paralysis of its muscles. Hence nourishment is given artificially. He is only partly conscious, sleeps continuously, occasionally recognizes those around him. His organs still act. The chief danger is his exceeding weakness which might give rise to collapse and render him unable to battle against eventual complications, such as pneumonia or heart failure." Admiralty Will Spend $12,500,000 During Next Five Years, Apart From Army Expenditures.

BERLIN, March 29.—(Can. Press.)—The German admiralty's plans for the establishment of a big aerial navy were published officially this afternoon. The fleet of warships and aeroplanes is to cost $12,500,000, which is to be spread over the next five years. The fleet is to be entirely apart from that connected with the army, on which nearly $25,000,000 is to be spent.

A bill providing for the appropriation of $750,000 as the first outlay on the admiralty's aerial fleet was introduced into the imperial parliament today. It calls for ten naval dirigible balloons of the largest size, of which eight are to compose the active fleet and two to be held in reserve.

Stricken City, Under Martial Law, Begins to Repair the Disastrous Loss—Half Million Needed—15,000 Houses Must Be Rebuilt and 2000 Raised—Sightseers Must Work—100 Bodies Recovered.

Toronto People Safe. The following telegram was received by The World last evening from Ed Smith of Toronto, dated Cincinnati: "Kindly publish report Ed. Smith, wife and son, 644 West Queen street, rescued from Niamsburg flood and are safe. Ed Smith, wife and son, 644 West Queen street, rescued from Niamsburg flood and are safe. DAYTON, O., March 30.—(Can. Press.)—Here is the problem presented at Dayton tonight, as summarized by George F. Burba, secretary to Gov. Cox, and representing the latter here: Forty thousand persons must be fed, clothed and housed for a week or more. Twenty thousand persons must be cared for indefinitely. These are persons who lost their all when their household goods were swept away. They must be provided with a few necessary household articles such as bedding, pots and pans, stoves and a few dollars. A half million dollars could be used in this way by the relief committee.

Fifteen thousand people in Huntington Driven From Homes, and Twelve Are Missing. HUNTINGTON, W. Va., March 30.—(Via Telephone to Pittsburgh, Pa.)—This city tonight is in total darkness; it is facing both a flood and a water famine, 15,000 out of the 40,000 inhabitants are homeless, 12 persons are reported missing and the property damage, according to close estimates, will amount to nearly $1,000,000. At 4 o'clock today the river reached a stage of 66.2 feet, the highest in the history of Huntington, and is now stationary.

The entire business section is inundated, water being up to the second floor of all buildings. Numbers of homes have been wrecked and their occupants have been forced to seek refuge in houses in the surrounding country. Gov. Hatfield arrived here at 7 o'clock tonight on a special train from Charleston. The train brought supplies, motorboats and skiffs. The motorboats and skiffs are now being taken thru the different sections of the city to rescue hundreds who are marooned. The local military company has taken charge of the rescue work and is pushing it forward just as rapidly as conditions will permit.

Gas Supply Cut Off. The electric light plant has been forced to shut down, and this afternoon the gas supply was cut off as a precautionary measure to prevent fires and explosions. The supplies have reached here from Charleston, the city is still in great need of both food and water. Word has been sent to the capital city of West Virginia for more provisions, and it is expected that another special train will reach here tomorrow. Huntington, with the exception of one telephone line, is cut off from the world.

Other Cities Affected. While at a late hour no reports have been received here from Point Pleasant, W. Va.; Cattlesburg, Ky., and Ironton, O., it is believed conditions similar to those here prevail in those cities. Reports received Saturday would indicate that especially at Cattlesburg and Ironton, there is great suffering. William Sullivan, whose wife and children were rescued Saturday, committed suicide by taking poison when he found that his life would not be saved.

It is thought that as soon as day breaks the rescuers will be able to get into the heart of the flooded section by aid of motorboats and save numbers of persons who are marooned in the second and third stories of business houses and dwellings. Just how many lives have been lost will not be known until conditions permit a more investigation of all houses. Twelve, however, cannot be accounted for.

At the Point of Rifles. The telephone system still a wreck, which is a great handicap in administering the affairs of the city. Street cars are unable to run and automobiles are unobtainable for other than relief work, except by bringing them here from Cincinnati at $120 a day. Sightseers in motor cars felt the heavy hand of public necessity when Gen. Wood began impressing machines. The sightseers were ordered from their cars and the latter were pressed into public service. Protesters were unavailing. The more stubborn surrendered at the point of rifles and gave up their cars until released by order of Chairman John H. Patterson.

As the placards placed in their rear, the Sixth Regiment, O.N.G., from Toledo and northern Ohio towns, which has been on duty here, commandeered a train when ordered to Cincinnati and departed before nightfall. The naval reserves from Toledo went on the same train.

Nearly A Identified. Several days ago Detectives Tipton and Archibald started on the trail of Hettzel on information from the United States. They located him on description at a downtown hotel yesterday, and despite the man's strenuous objections he was taken into custody. The Columbus police want Hettzel for alleged fraud in connection with a sum of money aggregating $28,000. The United States Government charges him with fraudulently using the mails, and his presence is also desired at other cities.

Some of the fictitious names by which Hettzel is known are: Bill Matthews, James Blough and Charles Smith. He was registered at the hotel under the name of Blough.

Tracked by private detectives and secret service men and each time slipping from the net which was being wound around him, Charles Hettzel, a man of numerous aliases, was arrested yesterday by Detectives Tipton and Archibald. Many charges of fraud, false pretences and unlawful use of the mails face him in the United States.

GERMAN AVIATOR IS ACCUSED OF SHARE IN CARD SWINDLES

Army Lieutenant, whose Trial in Berlin Sensation, Was Associated With "Baron" Korffkoenig in Fleeing Fellow Officers—Pauli of California, Noted Card Sharp, to Appear as Witness.

Special Cable to The World. BERLIN, March 30.—(Copyright.)—It is a disgrace that men like you should be officers in the German army. Thus did the public prosecutor address Lieut. Niemala, one of the most successful military aviators, who is on trial on charges of serious crime of leading his fellow officers like sheep to be fleeced by card sharps.

Niemala was extradited from London on a charge of swindling in association with the famous card king, "Baron" Korffkoenig, some of whose adventures in many quarters of the globe have been reported in The World.

One of the baron's many dupes was supposed to be a beautiful American girl named Florida. During Niemala's testimony on Wednesday he dragged some more Americans into the case, among them an American banker named Drew or Drea, who is said to have engaged him for a companion on an automobile tour from Argentina thru South America to New York.

The swindling judge was astonished to learn that Lieut. Niemala, then on sick leave, dared to show himself at a notorious Wiesbaden bar. "Why, there were often twenty-five officers of all ranks there," sighed Niemala. Among other characters who may appear in this sensational trial is a man named Pauli, sometimes said to be a Californian, who is accused of being a notorious card sharp.

Of Humble Parentage. Korffkoenig really is the son of a comparatively poor Berlin manufacturer named Stallman. He gained entry into the highest circles of all countries and admitted lived on terms of intimacy with the heirs of several of the smaller German thrones. He asserts that he married the daughter of an Argentine millionaire, whose alleged uncle, the Bishop of Montevideo, said to have arranged for his marriage to perform the ceremony. Korffkoenig says his wife has a revenue of about $100,000 a year.

Relentless Prosecution. It is said that the prosecution will proceed relentlessly to clear up what is believed to be the history of a card sharp gang spread throughout the whole world, and it will not care what names are mentioned. Niemala and Korffkoenig will assist them in bringing big names into the story to show that they could have no hesitation in joining society groups which include princes, every kind of nobleman, relatives of the emperor and the crown princes and the officers of every army in the world. Hence Berlin expects the remainder of the trial will prove a society sensation of the first order, throwing glaring lights upon the gambling habits of officers and the nobility.

CHINESE PLAY WELL RECEIVED

"The Yellow Jacket," by Geo. C. Hazelton, Got Favorable Comment.

Special Cable to The World. LONDON, March 30.—George C. Hazelton's Chinese play, "The Yellow Jacket," had a most favorable reception at the Duke of York's Theatre, but opinion among the newspaper critics is somewhat divided. The Morning Post thinks it "one of the most exquisitely beautiful things ever produced," that "should it fall from being too rare, too delicate, rather than the reverse."

When the official Military Gazette's special edition this morning announced that $19,750,000 of the $25,250,000 for the army increase would be devoted to aeronautics, it was hardly realized that before the day was over the government would promulgate plans calling for the further sum of $12,500,000 for the aerial branch of the navy.

"No details are available concerning the manner in which the army's aerial fund is to be spent. The navy will disburse $12,500,000 between 1914 and 1918 on nine airships and fifty aeroplanes, requisites or garages, sheds, gas plants, repair shops, personnel, etc. Eight million, seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars is earmarked for the airship branch, $2,500,000 for the court and only go there when obliged.

Just autumn the letter sent all their growing boys and girls abroad to school. The remark given was that the crown prince had set a fashion of giving children's fetes where far too much champagne was served. Invitations could not be refused, as it was their future queen might ruin their careers. So it was thought best to send them out to political bent, as court thought of some new form of entertainment.

"The crown prince manages to get her own way in nearly everything, she has not yet succeeded in making her friends cabinet ministers. Last month she asked that Count Stribebe one. The king wavered, she insisted. Then Mr. Majorescu, the dean of the cabinet, said that if Count Stribebe who has no political bent, was made a minister he would have the matter taken up in parliament and see that the whole history of his association with "Princess" Marie came out in answer to an interpellation. The matter was then dropped, but the political world agreed that the crown prince's age—she probably will not live to be under the new king and queen—could take such a bold step.

Those who know the court best declare that Princess Marie and not her husband will reign when their turn comes.

As the king and queen give no fetes, court entertaining devolves on the princess, who degrades the old aristocracy and invites only her own and husband's particular friends of the day. Even cabinet ministers are ignored for months together, while people the crown prince's family have met at the skating palace attend all the social functions, the court set and two-high social sets, the court set and the "exclusive set" composed of old Roumanian families who disapprove of the king's taking of Germany. The statistics of the order decree that it shall not be given outside of England except for the sovereign's heir, but the emperor is very willing to let his daughter's husband have it, which is a tacit recognition of Prince Ernest's rights in Hanover.

The Countess von Waldsee, a resident of Hanover for many years, and sympathetic to the traditions of her people, is said to be bustling about with influence with the emperor and empress to allow Prince Ernest and Princess Victoria Louise to at least live in the old Hanoverian palace.

Romantic Spot. It would be difficult to find a more romantic spot for a honeymoon. The palace lies a short distance from the city and within an enormous park, with an avenue of lime trees a mile and a quarter long and 120 yards wide, which was laid out more than 200 years ago. Such leads up to the palace. Part of the Schloss Herreshaus was removed bodily from a street in the city and transplanted here because it was the site of the execution of Queen Louise of Prussia during the invasion of Napoleon. The main body of the palace, which visitors are never allowed to see, was the favorite residence of George I. and George II. of England. The garden alone, 120 acres, contains a little chateau, where the bridal couple could spend a few idle days away from servants and court attendants; a large theatre fitted up with appliances for opera and dramatic performances, and celebrated fountain, whose waters rise to a height of 141 feet. Then there is a big orangery and an orchid conservatory extensive as any in Germany, while in the palace are one thousand and one souvenirs of the ancient kings from whom Prince Ernest is descended, not only a gallery of family portraits but rooms containing the coaches and harness used by the royal Georges.

Special Cable to The World. LONDON, March 30.—(Copyright.)—The German officials, public and press, warmly commend the British first lord of the admiralty's speech in the house of commons in so far as it is friendly to Germany, and the radical newspapers naturally applaud his renunciation of the increasing armaments of the nations. But his practical proposition that England and Germany stop building warships for one year is considered Utopian.

CARLTON ST. METHODISTS HELD 80th ANNIVERSARY

This Church Has Grown and Prospered as Few in Toronto and Has One of the Largest Sunday Schools in the City—John A. Paterson, K.C., Gave a Graphic Address on David Livingstone.

The funeral of David Livingstone church whose annals run back into the past further than those of most of the Toronto churches, but those who can see far advanced in years, those some of them at in the present fine church on Carlton street yesterday. When the Alice street edifice was burned the present church was built. At that time that part of Carlton street was in the woods.

Steady Progress. Two years ago financial trouble approached, and the trustees, thinking it impossible to maintain the church, called a conference did not approve of the sale of the church property, and arrangements were made by which the church came again into the possession of the congregation. Since that time the progress of the church has been steady and prosperous. The long-cast shadow over the congregation. There is no doubt that a great deal of credit should be given to the pastor, Rev. J. Trevelyan, and next June the congregation will lose its shepherd, for the pastor, who will have ended his forty year at that time, will go to the High Park Methodist Church, where membership of the church has increased greatly during his pastorate, and it has given plenty of evidence that its trustees made an error when they sold the church property fearing that the members could not support it. The church is now quite prosperous. The school is notable for its large membership and its activity even in Toronto, a city of big Sunday schools. It has 400 members. High School inspectors praise its work. Both are very active and useful.

Yesterday morning Rev. Dr. Hincks of Toronto, dia... preached a very interesting and practical sermon. The attendance at both services was very large.

MRS. J. W. LEWIS DEAD. Mrs. J. W. Lewis, for forty years a resident of Toronto, died yesterday morning at her home, 31 Simpson avenue, after an illness of several months. Mrs. Lewis, who was the widow of J. W. Lewis, for many years connected with The Globe, is survived by two sons, Alex. C., secretary of the Toronto Harbour Board, and W. R. Lewis of the city works department, and three daughters, Mrs. (Dr.) J. Teeter, Waterford; Mrs. R. F. McCuaig, and Miss Nina Lewis, Toronto.

The funeral will take place at 3:30 p.m., Wednesday, to Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

COCK FIGHT AT MONTREAL. MONTREAL, March 30.—(Can. Under the pressure of new circumstances and conditions, the United States is again faced with the necessity of readjusting its political and social economy. This is the burden of a calm survey of the situation by Brooks Adams, whose article on "The Collapse of Capitalistic Government" occupies the place of honor in the April number of The Atlantic Monthly.

The latter half of the nineteenth century brought with it a new power—that of moneyed capital which Mr. Adams takes to be "stored human energy." From its character a small number of men can control it in enormous masses and so it has come to pass that "in a community like the United States, a few men, or even, in certain emergencies, a single man may become clothed with various of the attributes of sovereignty."

MARRIAGE LAW REFORM. Hon. Mr. Hanna's proposals for the amendment of the marriage law have probably been well considered, and no doubt a good deal of preliminary investigation was undertaken before the new act was drawn. At the same time there will be a feeling that more time for public discussion might have been given and for the purpose of considering the suggestions that those officially interested in the question in various parts of the province might have to make.

pulsive young people to wait, but it is probably not too long in view of all the considerations, and three weeks' reflection before marriage is more desirable than three weeks' deflection afterwards. There are frequent cases of immigrants coming to be married where the three weeks' notice might work hardships. Of course, if the party resident could give the notice and obtain the license previous to the arrival of the immigrant bride, there could be no objection.

A great deal depends on the character of the licensing officer, and the present system which makes the office a cheap political perquisite is about the worst that could be devised. The issuing of the license is a great deal more important than the marriage ceremony which is contingent upon it. What guarantee can the government have that three weeks' notice will be given in every case for a license? Unless the issuing of licenses be made an official duty of the municipal authority it would be difficult to enforce the law.

HYDRO-ELECTRIC ACCOUNTS. The Globe believes The World to be "hopelessly illogical" because we think the Hydro-Electric Commission should not be handicapped by having to reveal all its business affairs to its rivals, when any who are concerned. The Globe included, can have access when they desire to the books and accounts of the commission.

YOUTH'S INITIATIVE. If The Star refers to Toronto teachers who have been trained under the eye of Dr. Hughes when it denurs to our view that "most teachers" object to recognizing a child's initiative, we are quite willing to agree with it. But we were not talking of teachers in Toronto, but of teachers in general and everywhere. Canada, which gets its population from all over the world, is not merely interested in local conditions, and we have very good reasons to think that the majority of teachers believe in keeping children in the well-worn ruts. It is certainly so in Quebec, as The Star itself took occasion to point out not long since. In Europe, the crystallization of social and educational ideas is one of the causes of emigration.

INDIAN GOLD IMPORTS. India's still increasing absorption of gold continues to attract attention in financial circles. It is discussed in the April number of The Magazine of Wall Street, which quotes a British authority as remarking that the present situation in India "is, so far as currency is concerned, almost as serious as if one-fifth of our gold supply was cut off." The millions taken by India are "literally buried and the banking community have no means to stop the leakage." Many remedies have been proposed, but nothing is likely to be done until after an investigation conducted at the instance of the imperial government.

To Europe Via Bermuda. The Royal Mail Steam Packet Company's steamship Arcadian after a most successful season in the New York-Bermuda service will sail from New York April 19 for Southampton, Callao and Cherbourg. This offers an excellent opportunity for a most delightful voyage to England. The Arcadian is a magnificent steamer, equipped with 500 feet promenade, gymnasium, billiard, and wireless telegraph. All steerage has been redesigned without upper berth. The rates for this special trip are quite reasonable. For full particulars apply to the agents at New York and the North America Steamship Co., 100 Broadway, New York, or to the agents at Toronto, R. M. McNeill & Son.

What form the commission of enquiry will take has not yet been decided. LAKE SHIPPING PROSPECTS. Lake navigation will open this spring with unrivaled prospect for the shipping industry. The elevators are crowded and much grain has yet to be sent forward. Not only will the available vessels be taxed, but they will be insufficient to meet the demand. With the continued extension of the grain growing area a corresponding increase in tonnage will be necessary, and this will react on the shipbuilding and allied industries. The outlook is highly favorable.

NOT AGAINST US. Editor World: Now watch the somersault The Catholic Register will take in dealing (if it does) with your article, "The Jealous Disciple" in your issue of the 27th. He will wiggle out of it as deftly as the Pauline preachers, to non-Catholics in your city, jump the question box. I speak feelingly of the "superior wisdom" evinced by the editor of that journal when converted or opposed in the smallest degree, and I really must congratulate you on the quiet temper shown in the dignified tone of your article, which, in other hands would most probably have conveyed crushing scorn and a well-deserved rebuke. I have verified all your quotations in the A. V. R. V. and have further tested their authenticity in other versions also. I used to doubt the reality of frequent complaints made by Protestants against the journals of the Catholic Register's organs, which I put down to uncharitableness on their side, until I began two years ago to read the papers. Reverend editors of religious journals, as a rule, hard propositions, but for the impossible, commend me to the reverend editor of The Catholic Register. I enclose my card. Retlaw. Collingwood, Ont.

St. Andrew's Church, West King street, was the scene of a wedding at half-past two o'clock Saturday afternoon, when the marriage was solemnized by Miss Annie Gertrude Warnock, daughter of the late James Warnock of Galt, and Mrs. Warnock, to Mr. Edward Sternes Dimock, formerly of Halifax.

The service was taken by the Rev. T. Crawford Brown, the altar being decorated with yellow roses and ferns. Dr. Anderson presided at the organ and played softly throughout the ceremony. The bride, who was carried to the altar by her brother, Mr. Byard Warnock, wore a lovely dress of ivory satin and shadow lace with touches of pink caught in pink French roses. Her veil, which was of lace, was arranged in cap effect, with a wreath of pink roses, and she carried a bouquet of white Killarney roses and lilies of the valley. The groom's gift to her was a necklace of pearls and diamonds. Miss Minnie Perry of Galt acted as bridesmaid in a dainty frock of pale blue charmeuse and shadow lace edged with brilliant. Her hat, which was of mauve, had a wreath of roses shading from mauve to pink, and she carried pink and mauve sweet peas. Mr. Prescott was best man.

After the ceremony the bridal party and guests drove to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Garvin, in Glen road, which was decorated with quantities of receipts, wearing black and French hat and corsage bouquet of violets. Mrs. Garvin wore a white gown, with over-dress of embroidered chiffon and French hat with pale blue wreath and forget-me-nots.

Mr. and Mrs. Dimock went away on the 5:20 train to spend their honeymoon across the continent, traveling in a blue cloth gown, with hat to match. On their return they will reside in the Dovecourt apartments.

CUT ON NEW LINES.

At first sight this waist seems like many already laid aside, but there are new features in it. First, the waist itself is cut in one piece, the material being straight in the back, and slanted over the shoulders in the direction shown by the check. Then the neck is cut quite low and the inner band of the collar is cut on the bias so that there is a continuous closely fitting curve, in place of the angle that the ordinary shirtwaist shows at the joining of the collar and waist.

The turnover collar is straight and under part of the collar, give firmness to the whole. New, also, is the idea of closing the collar and waist alike.

Guinea Pig Used in Test By Friedmann

NEW YORK, March 29.—(Can. Press.)—Dr. F. F. Friedmann, the German physician, today inoculated ten patients, all-pulmonary cases, with his vaccine.

The demonstration, held at the Montefiore Home, was preliminary to a clinic next week at which Dr. Friedmann will treat, in the presence of the government doctors, about 100 patients in all stages of the disease.

Dr. Friedmann announced that during the clinic he inoculated a guinea pig, not with his vaccine, but with pus drawn from an elbow of one of the patients. The Berlin physician explained that a doctor who attended the clinic questioned whether the elbow was infected with tuberculosis, and that the pig was given the injection to settle the question. If the pig dies within three months, Dr. Friedmann said, this will prove that the tubercle bacillus is present.

BROUGHT BACK BODY OF ACTRESS.

NEW YORK, March 30.—(Can. Press.)—The steamer St. Paul, which arrived today from Southampton and Cherbourg, had a rough stormy passage with high seas and westerly gales. The steamer brought the body of Frances Leslie, the actress, who died on board the steamer Oceanic, just before the vessel's arrival at Southampton.

Genevieve Ward Writing The Story of Her Life

It Will Include the Remarkable Love Romance of the New York Girl Who Wedded a Russian Courtier, But Discarded Him and Refused to Adopt the Title Belonging to Her.

LONDON, March 30.—(Copyright.)—In a picturesque house in the St. John's Wood quarter of artists and literary folk, a woman is at work upon her memoirs, which will record the long, eventful life of an international marriage as thrilling and startling as any dime novelist would wish to write.

Genevieve Ward of New York, a tragedienne, celebrated as leading lady with Henry Irving in "Macbeth" and "Richard III," and the only known American woman who married a European title and then refused even for a day to make use of it.

The retired from the stage long ago, making only a yearly appearance as Lady Macbeth in London and Oxford, when she gives her services for charity. But fashionable society flock to her "Mondays" at home, and upon rare occasions some ambassador or prominent hostess succeeds in capturing her as a guest.

Legally she is Countess Guerber, she is the uncorroborated wife of Count Guerber dead if he balked at the ceremony.

At the church door after the service, Genevieve Ward took off her wedding ring and flung it in her husband's face. She never saw him again. He pursued her up and down Europe for years seeking a reconciliation. And when he died he left her all his estates in Russia. She refused to claim them, saying that she had quite enough money of her own for her simple mode of living.

And she has never once allowed herself to be addressed as Countess of Guerber. Hundreds of people who think they know all about her have never heard of her marriage.

HUNDREDS FED AND CLOTHED AT YONGE ST. MISSION THIS WINTER

Mountains of sandwiches, rivers of coffee and thousands of garments have made many hungry and destitute glad at the Yonge Street Mission this winter. Thirteen Sunday morning breakfasts have been given with an attendance of 387. In addition to this 424 extra meals have been given away, and over 800 beds provided for the homeless. Men, women and children have been helped, whole families have been tried over many a Sunday, and in order to clothe many needy-clad, shivering 575 articles of clothing have been given away.

The last breakfast of the season was given yesterday morning when 305 hungry men had all they could eat and drink as usual. In summing up the amount of food consumed at these 13 breakfasts and the free lunches, 1500 loaves of bread and over 40,000 sandwiches have disappeared, nearly 4000 lbs. of meat, and many gallons of tea. Bright singing by Rev. W. F. Roadhouse closed the breakfast.

WILLARD W. C. T. U.

This evening a parlor meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. B. Ford, 612 Palmerston Boulevard, at eight o'clock, under the auspices of the Willard W. C. T. U. Dr. Margaret Patterson will give an address on Health and Heredity. A good musical program is being prepared and refreshments will be served. Mrs. F. C. Ward, the president of Toronto District W. C. T. U., will preside. All are invited to attend.

Make Pots and Pans Spick and Span with GOLD DUST. Pots and pans collect more dirt and grease than any other cooking utensil. The one best way of cleaning them is to use Gold Dust. Gold Dust not only takes off the outer dirt coating, but digs deep after germs and hidden particles, and makes them as spotlessly clean and sanitary as when new. If you want your pots and pans so bright you can see your face in them—will do the work, too, in half the time of the ordinary cleanser—in cleaning. It of your labor. Gold Dust does the bulk of the work alone—you merely assist it. Gold Dust is sold in 5c and large packages. Buy the large package and practice economy. You simply cannot keep house properly without Gold Dust. Made by THE N. K. FAIRBANK COMPANY LIMITED Montreal, Canada. "Let the GOLD DUST TWINS do your work"

Bessie Abbott Hopes To Find Some Good Voices During This Week.

Bessie Abbott, the prima donna of the "Robin Hood" Company, found a large mall for her when she arrived at the King Edward Hotel last night. Aspiring singers who had read of her desire to hear them sing had sent their addresses in the hopes of being called upon. Miss Abbott expressed herself as pleased that her request had met with such a prompt reply, and she promised to hear all of them.

"I have great hopes of finding some good voices here," said Miss Abbott. "I have heard some of your Canadian singers. I have attended concerts of the Mendelssohn Choir, and I have never heard such wonderful choral singing. We have nothing like it in the States. I am arranging with our musical director, Mr. Frank Tours, to have an afternoon at the Princess Theatre, where we can hear all the singers who have requested an audition. Mr. Tours has volunteered to play their accompaniments. I am looking forward to meeting these young singers with pleasure. It is a comfort to be able to do something that will help them. So many singers have their voices ruined by bad teachers, and it will be a pleasure if I can direct some of them on the road to success."

GREAT REVIVAL OF COMIC OPERA

Yeomen of Guard To Be Given for I.O.D.E. Preventorium Fund.

Revolutions of the comic operas are all the rage this year, and the coming performance of "The Yeomen of the Guard" at the Royal Alexandra Theatre will no doubt attract large audiences. There is a very large company of the best amateurs in the city taking part in the production, and everything is being done to make it a very successful week. "The Yeomen of the Guard" apart from the business and wit of its libretto, is full of excellent music, and those who have already had the good fortune to attend some of the rehearsals of the opera say that the chorus is the finest that has ever been put on any stage in Toronto. The performance commences on Tuesday, April 15, and continues for the balance of the week. The names of the principals for "The Yeomen of the Guard" are as follows: Miss Jessica Reid, Miss Mabel Doherty, Mrs. Woodburn and Miss Marion Treblcock, Mr. Arthur Baxter (tenor), Mr. J. J. Kennedy, J. Lorne, Chas.

EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPING BY HENRIETTA D. GRAUEL DOMESTIC SCIENCE LECTURER

The Kitchen Floor.

Kipling said, "A soldier on the march is no better than his feet," and the same thing applies to housekeepers. Floors are covered for three reasons; for warmth, for comfort and for the sake of appearance. As with so many things in our homes comfort is often sacrificed for show in kitchen floor covering. Tiled kitchen floors are the newest and most desirable from the architect's point of view. The best word from the housekeepers who have them is that they are hard on the feet and back of the worker and, the easily cleaned, quick to show the slightest spot and decidedly cold. Linoleum seems to hold first place as the ideal covering for the kitchen. It has infinite endurance for wear and a spring and give that rests the tired worker. It is of two kinds, the printed and the inlaid. The last is more expensive, but it pays to buy it, for the design goes thru the whole thickness, and consequently never wears off. The printed linoleum may have its freshness preserved and its usefulness extended over many years if it be varnished spring and fall, or as often as its pattern grows dull. As there are no seams to this material it must be neatly fitted to the floor, which should be smoothed and covered with an interlining of paper. The method of putting down linoleum is to fit it in place and tack it at but one end. This permits it to stretch and work into shape without forming ridges. After it has been walked upon for ten days or two weeks, it should be tacked in place. The edges should be pushed well under the edges of the base board, else when it is cleaned water will creep under. Floors should not be permitted to become much soiled, therefore choose a light color and wash it often to keep it clean. Strong soap and a scrub brush must not be used on linoleums—a soft cloth, warm water and a little borax or ammonia, is all that is needed to make it like new. When it is impractical to have this ideal covering for the kitchen floor, there is something else that eases the jar of standing and walking on a hard surface. It is rubber heels on the house shoes. Tired feet, aching limbs and back affect the whole nervous system and cause headache and a host of other troubles. It was the little foxes who stole the grapes, remember, and it is just such a little thing as a constant walking over a jarring floor that makes two verticle lines between your eyes and gives a sharpness to your temper. Carpets are not suitable for the kitchen; they hold dust and dirt and are hard to clean. However, a few stout rugs should be deemed indispensable. Have one before the sink, another in front of the table, an extra heavy one to stand on when ironing and others wherever you stand or walk much. The new cork mats, made especially for cold, tiled floors, come in all sizes and are especially nice in the kitchen, because they do not slip about or roll up at the edges. They bear the hardest usage well.

Packer, Don Linden and Mr. Stanley Adams. Very little comment is needed as to the ability of the individual artists, as they are well-known and highly thought of by a host of admirers in the city. Mr. Alfred Bruce will be the conductor, and as he has his forces well in hand it is pretty safe to say that the musical part of it will be well up to the standard. The fact that all the proceeds of this entertainment are for the benefit of the I.O.D.E. Preventorium will add still more interest to the production. INDUCTION AT ST. LUKE'S. Owing to the absence of Bishop Sweeney from the city, the induction of the Rev. G. F. B. Doherty, B.A., which takes place this evening in St. Luke's Church, will be conducted by Bishop Reeve, assisted by Rural Dean Cay- ley, Rev. F. G. Plummer of St. Augustine's, Canon Precentor of St. Alban's Cathedral, will sing the service, and among other clergymen who will take part are Provost Mackenzie and Ven. Archdeacon Ingles. Many of the clergy in Toronto have signified their intention of being present. PRINCE OF WALES TO FLY. FRIEDRICHSHAVEN, Germany, March 29.—(Can. A MAN IN THE OPEN

By Roger Pocock.

(Copyrighted 1912, The Bobbs-Merrill Company)

"Tell me everything, Jesse." "Up at the north end of the beach, there's maybe two hundred head of strange cattle. One pedigree shorthorn bull is worth all of twenty-five hundred dollars, and there's a Hereford stud I'd take off my hat to anywhere. There's Aberdeens or Angus—I get them poll breeds mixed—and a bunch of Jerseys, grazing apart, purty as deer. Anyways, that herd's worth maybe two hundred thousand dollars, every hoof of 'em stolen, and if you raked them all in millions of ranches in California I doubt you'd get that value." "How do you know they're stolen?" "No stock owner needs that amount of stud cattle. We don't raise such in the north, so they've been drifted in here from the States. They're gaunt, with famine and driving, and it beats me to think how many more's been left dead crossing the Buck Pine country. The Bar Y herds 'em waltz. The parties branding 'em waltz with you for pasture. The gent with sad eyes is sent dressed up to fool a woman." "But how could even robbers collect such a wonderful herd?" "Kate, in their western states there's just about four hundred cow thieves working together, which you'll see them advertised in the papers, robbing coaches, trains, pay for mining camps, or now and again some bank. Still that's just vacations, and the main business is lifting cattle. 'Ye see, Kate, they'd collect an occasional stud, such as these here imported thoroughbreds, too good to lose, and they'd know how to sell 'em. They'd keep 'em in some hid-up pasture. But sometimes the people prope the sheriffs to get a move on, or Uncle Sam sends pony soldiers to play hell with the sovereign rights of them holy western states. Then the robbers is apt to scatter down in store clothes, for a drunk in Fresno. This time I seen in the papers that Uncle Sam's rounding up his robbers, so naturally the pick of their stealings requires hiding. They'd drive north for the British possessions, but on the plains there's too much mounted police, whereas this British Columbia has one district constable to a district the size of the old country. Yes, they'd come to this province, and this here range of ours is a sort of north pole to the stock range. Since old man Ponder quit out, and I squatted, only the neighbors know that the ranch is closed. "Now, Kate, his great strong arm closed round me like a vise. 'The hull country knows you're clear air, so there's no shame in leaving. For my sake, dear—' "Do you think I'd leave you in danger?" He sighed. "I knew it. I can't help it, and, Kate, it's the truth, I'd rather see you dead than scared. There's Madam Grizzly, and Senora Cougar, there's Lady Elk, and even Mrs. Polecat, brave as lions. I'd hate to have my mate the only one to run like a scalded cat." "The program, Jesse?" "Do you remember, Kate, how we lost five dollars finding out that Dale and me is signales?" "And Captain Taylor gave us the signals to raise the district one fire for feasts, two for help, three for war!"

"That's it, little woman. By dusk I'll be on top of the cliffs, and make my fires back from the rim-rock, where the robbers won't see the glare." CHAPTER VII. The Round-Up. Jesse's Narrative. While I made signal fires on the top of the cliff, Mr. Robber came to find out from my wife why for I hadn't called to leave my card at the South Cave. He's picturesqu, says she, hair like a raven's wing, eyes steel-blue, sour indigo striped, with orange, shirt black silk, wooly slaps out of a Wild West show, gold and silver fixings, Cheyenne saddle, curling of some foreign breed, or maybe a Krug, manners fit for a king, age thirty-four, height six feet two inches, chest only thirty-eight, and such a smile—all of this will be useful to the police. He tried all he knew to get out of being photographed, which I wisht I'd been there, for it must have been plumb comic, but we all submits when Kate gets after us. That reminds me that if he can't capture the comers and pats, we're apt to be burnt out by accident. She led him on and made him talk. If his boss knew how much Kate has done in her note-book, this guy with the sad eyes would get kicked all round the pasture. When I axed if the robber made love to her, my wife just laughed, turned away, telling me not to be a fool; but the blush came round her neck. I dunno. Perhaps it's my liver, so I'm taking the only medicine I have, which it tastes like liniment. Is it liver, or am I getting to dislike this person?" So happens, while I was writing, Billy O'Flynn comes along with the pack outfit on his way to Sky-line. He wanted to know why I made them fires, so I explained I was making a clearing up thar for Kate's spring chrysanthemums. She spelt that word, which had me bogged down to the hooks. It may be liver, or my squeam inflamed, but my mind ain't easy, and the Sky-line folk may think I'm only joshing with them fires. I can't leave Kate to ride for help. I can't shift her, I can't send Billy to the constable without breaking my contract with the sky-line, and I don't divulge nothing to William O'Flynn, Esquire, who talks to the pack rather than waste conversation. If I make a letter for Dale, and slip it into the pouch, Billy won't know, or gossip if he happens to meet in with stray robbers. I'll get him up and off by midnight to the Sky-line in time for the supper pie, and the boys will be surging down to the ferry before tomorrow midnight. Now I must make up some lies to hasten Billy's tired footsteps along the path of duty. Billy hastened away at midnight to tell Dale that p'eeon's milk is selling at eighty-four and three-fourths. He believes that if he can get that secret intelligence to Iron in good time, he's to share the profits. Fact is, that Iron's late wife made him the laughing stock of the plains over some joke she put up on him connected with pigeon's milk, so that Billy's share of the profits will be delivered on the toe of Dale's boot. He's breaking records for feasts, two for help, three for war!" Nothing happened this morning. (To be continued.)

THE GARDEN CONDUCTED BY RACHEL R. TODD M.D.

Pruning Flowering Shrubs.

There are many gardeners who persist in pruning flowering shrubs at the wrong time. It is not surprising that it is lamentable to see such beautiful subjects as Spiraea Van Houttei, forsythias and mock orange sheared into a symmetrical massiveness that has beauty the shrubs possess after such acts of vandalism passes one's comprehension. Some people are so dyed with the pruning madness that they would seem as if any shrubs which did not have a turned-out-of-the-nould appearance must be subjected to a topiary overhauling. Heavy cutting of flowering shrubs is destroyed when they are not allowed to show their natural forms, which are as variable as they are pleasing, and it is especially to be hoped that when any of this work is done, it be after and not before the flowering season. In case of newly planted shrubs, especially if of large size, a severe pruning is necessary, but with established plants, with a few exceptions, as for instance hydrangeas, the work should be done when they have flowered. In the case of philadelphus (mock orange), it is an advantage to cut out a number of the flowering shoots right to the base and remove weak, dying and in other ways useless branches. This gives the young shoots starting from the base, and the plants every chance to develop. Deutzias can have the flowering shoots cut clean out, and the spiraeas are all improved by some pruning. Honey suckles do not need so much trimming, and only dead or decaying wood need be cut out. Dogwood, snowballs and some other kinds may be similarly treated. Lilacs can be pruned judiciously while in flower, selecting the runaway shoots which, when given the plants a lanky appearance. Also, at that time carefully remove any sucker growths from grafted plants. Speaking of lilacs reminds us that as soon as the flowering season is over the decaying trusses should be removed. If allowed to run to seed they seriously cripple the vigor of the trees for another season.

Flood Damage Report Caused Short-Lived Rally at Opening

CHICAGO, March 29.—Stronger cables and fears of considerable damage to wheat in the Ohio Valley flood belt caused a short-lived rally at the opening of the market today, but under local selling prices recovered. The start was a shade to the higher. May was up 1/4 to 3/4, but soon eased off and closed at 1/4. Advent of spring-like conditions apparently did not have much effect on opening at 5/8 to 3/4, an advance of 1/4 to 3/4. May dropped to 3/4. This advance was due to a shade to 3/4. There was some activity in hard wheat, but the customer of the day is not yet in the market.
