PRINCIPAL PETERSON ON "POETRY IN SCHOOLS"

Large Audience Heard the First of the University Saturday Lectures—Reply to Harold Begbie.

Principal Peterson's address on "Poetry in the Schools," at the university on Saturday afternoon took a most interesting turn, and was much more attractive than the little meeting held many to expect. The address was the first of the university course for the season, and Prof. Mavor and his committee always secure an interesting program.

In illustration of his views Principal Peterson read a number of poems. Joaquin Miller's "Columbus," Richard Hovey's "At the End of the Day," and Henry Newbolt's "Play the Game" were the first of these. Dr. Peterson knew Newbolt at Oxford. He thought the poem embodied the spirit of the saying, so long attributed to the Duke of Wellington, that England's battles were won on the playgrounds of Eton. It was a pity it referred to cricket, which had a hard struggle to hold its own among other games, but the spirit of the poem was applicable to them all.

The improvement of sport. He was glad that Toronto and McGill could equally rejoice in the improvement in sport, and when the university teams met they always played a clean game. That was the consolation the defeated team always brought home. Speaking of hymns, it was no disparagement of Moody and Sankey's remark, to say that all hymns are remarkable. He added Addison's "Hymn to Creation" and Katherine Tynan Hinkson's "Singing Stars" as admirable specimens.

Harold Begbie, when in Canada, had professed a high opinion of the curriculum of this country because he could find no Milton-minded men here. It was conscious of a future, but only of the marked place and the wharf. Give Canada Time.

Dr. Peterson asked him to give Canada a little time. It had taken three centuries for Shakespeare for England to produce a Beagle. Dr. Peterson then read Mr. Begbie's poem of Britain overseas, which he described as rather wonderful. In noble verse it concluded: "Shakespeare's tongue for our consolation."

Kelown's heart for our task. "How I envy teachers the chance of instill such patriotism in the hearts of their pupils," was Dr. Peterson's comment. He read Edgar Allan Poe's "To a Student in Paradise," and Emerson's "It is Time to Be Old."

When teachers had access to such treasures they should have no difficulty, he thought, in importing into the curriculum some of the best of England's materialistic or utilitarian tendencies of the day.

25 subjects for study any attempt to bring the pupil in contact with more than eight or nine was bound to fail. He had heard of one authority who thought agriculture was the only subject which should be taught in a rural school. The speaker believed manual training was desirable if it were only to overcome the aversion children have for working with their hands.

Ray Lankester lately advocated the abandonment of literature and history in favor of physics, physiology and biology, but Darwin had regretted that he had not paid more attention to poetry and music, and thus brought into use a part of his brain which had become atrophied. Dr. Peterson had himself found great solace in the recollection of an early poem which called Solomon's idea, how much was he wiser "that keeps his heart, than he who takes a town."

To speak intelligently with a grateful and agreeable cadence was Dr. Peterson's definition of elocution, which he considered to be a greatly neglected art. Poetry should be read in a style, half way between speaking and singing. Poetry was regarded as an artificial subject. The teacher favored arithmetic because he knew there would be no attack upon it, and that people would be lulled by the multiplication table and every figure upon it.

Character First. In the making of a man Dr. Peterson regarded the fine elements of importance, and in their relative order were character, physique, intelligence, manners and information. In examinations information is given first place. Poetry would remedy the prevalent bad English spoken in Canada, of which he gave examples. Among these were the various contortions which had taken the place of "yes." The conversation of poetry was "yes, yes, and 'Nay,' take their place was of evil.

Children, like their elders, enjoy trying to understand things, and even to Scott made the mistake of trying to write down to the child's mind, the child's imagination, free as yet of the domination of the senses, is pure and clear, and may be filled with lovely pictures.

A little boy of 8 years, on hearing the brave ballad of Sir Patrick Spens will open his eyes and cheeks will glow and "The Ancient Mariner" will clear him and he will learn that the proudest boat who loveth best all things, both great and small."

Prof. Alexander and Principal Hutcheon moved a vote of thanks, which was conveyed by President Falconer, who took the chair. There was a large audience.

NATIONALIST MEMBER NEARLY ASPHYXIATED

Mr. Gilbert and His Family Might Have Been Victims of Closed Flue in Furnace.

OTTAWA, Jan. 15.—(Special).—Arthur Gilbert, the Nationalist member for Drummond-Arthurs, was, along with his wife and children, almost poisoned to death yesterday by coal gas in a curious circumstance that the building in which the near tragedy occurred belongs to the Dominion Government. Mr. Gilbert resides at 115 St. Patrick street, and on Saturday the employees of the public works department did some work around the furnaces. Apparently they had shut off the dampers before the gas had been burned out of the coal, for Mr. Gilbert and his family were soon under the influence of the poison.

About 6 o'clock in the evening Mr. Gilbert recovered consciousness, and having reached the door, made an attempt to call help. He fell down in a stupor and passerby thought he was merely a sleeping inebriate. Eventually the situation was understood and the family were got out of the building. Mr. Gilbert, his wife and family and servant were unconscious for some hours, but are now out of danger.

CABBY CUT HIS THROAT

OTTAWA, Jan. 15.—Thomas Walker, a cabman, aged about 45 years, formerly in the employ of Hinton's livery, early in the morning committed suicide early this morning at the Cambridge restaurant, corner Bond and Queen streets, by cutting his throat with a razor. Deceitful, brought on by ill-health, and a hard course of drinking and unemployment, are held to be the cause of the man's rash act. Walker has resided in Ottawa for several years, and was a native of Yorkshire, England.

PREACH HELL OUT OF MEN AND NOT MEN OUT OF HELL

Dr. Chapman Views Problem From the Subjective Side—After Meeting Like Minstrel Show.

It begins to look as if Dr. Chapman's harvest is on its way. Both the Saturday night and Sunday afternoon meetings for men in Massey Hall brought out armies of men, filling most of the seats in both cases. No crowd of football rooters could have been more enthusiastic than the gathering yesterday, every hymn coming with a volition. Mr. Gilbert, who was the speaker that spoke much for the success of the campaign. And in an after meeting in the basement of the hall, where nearly 800 men went at the close of the meeting, at least a quarter of that number gave answer to the appeal and came forward in the resolution to live for Christ. The display of public interest in these meetings is many a prominent man who attend. Lieutenant-Governor Gibson occupied a box yesterday afternoon in a position on the platform sat Robert St. Noble, late mayorally candidate.

Mr. Alexander soon wakes a male audience to a generous way for vocal powers, and prepares the way for Charles F. Allen. "Where is My Wandering Boy To-night?" came lustily from over three thousand voices at his bidding, and if there is not much beauty or art in the results he achieves, there is at least force and enthusiasm. And, anyway, the noise helps one to appreciate the beautiful voice of young Ernest Nafziger.

Is the Young Man Safe? "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," Dr. Chapman began his sermon, taking as a study the story of David and his son Absalom, using the text from II. Samuel, xviii, 30, "Is the young man Absalom safe?" "This story of David's wild and reckless son, and of his death on the bough of a tree at the hands of a soldier of his father is one of the greatest dramas of the Old Testament. I am not going to dwell on that part of it, however; I am going to use it as a burning example of the Biblical warning, 'Whoever a man loveth his mother or his father more than me, he shall be despised.'"

Dr. Chapman broke from the trend of his argument to dwell on the dangers of idleness, and spoke of the many cases that had been traced to it. "You didn't commit the sin that's bearing upon your mind now when you were at work," he said, accusingly, "it was while you were idle, with your mind unoccupied."

A Striking Phrase

"Some kind critic told me the other day," he continued, "that I should preach Christ to make men's lives better, and not only to clear the way into heaven. But that's just what I do." "If I couldn't do that, I'd have no passion in my preaching. I'd have no heaven, but to preach heaven into them, and not to preach men out of hell, but to preach hell out of them." Returning to the original text, he told the story of a girl who had been seduced from a skating rink to satisfy Chapman can, he told how the man came hurrying to where the girl was locked up, how trembling with unholy passion, he had opened the door, and a further appeal by Dr. Chapman, "Mr. Asher, spoke up the singing leader, 'how shall we lead these men to Christ?'" "Bring them anyway, so long as they come," was the reply.

"Certainly," replied Mr. Asher. "Can they come on their heads?" "Angels at all, so long as they come," affirmed Mr. Asher again. Perhaps the evangelists believe the end deserves the means necessary to obtain, but some of the "means" are a trifle overdrawn, and harkbacked at that. It seemed to work all right, however, for after a solo by Dr. Chapman, a further appeal by Dr. Chapman, hands rose and professed their willingness to come and accept their salvation. It was a harvest indeed for the workers, and before the meeting broke up, names innumerable had been added to the lists.

Mission to Lepers

The annual meeting of the mission to lepers will be held in the Bible Training School, 110 College-st., to-day (Monday) at 3.30 p.m.

The chair will be taken by Rev. Dr. Parsons. Miss Harris will tell of her work in Egypt, and reports will be presented.

Like a Minstrel Show

After his sermon, Dr. Chapman asked all who would, to go to the after meeting down stairs, and being a good general, perhaps a quarter of the audience went. As they poured into the basement room, Mr. Alexander and Mr. Asher were awaiting them, and to keep the interest up, handed out a line of talk, something after the fashion of a minstrel show.

nostrils. This combined treatment known as "Father Morrissey's No. 26" attacking the disease from within and without, soon cures.

A Combined Treatment That Really Cures Catarrh.

Canadian weather, with its extreme cold and sudden changes, gives almost every one Catarrh, and makes it hard to cure. Some recommend internal remedies—some external applications. Father Morrissey used both—tablets to be taken three or four times a day to invigorate the system, purify the blood, and help it throw off the disease, and a soothing, healing, antiseptic saline to be applied inside the nostrils.

"Father Morrissey's No. 26"

Mr. A. C. Thibodeau, General Merchant in Rogersville, N.B., writes on Jan. 2nd last:

"A few words as to the merits of your Catarrh Cure. For the last 10 years I have been troubled with Catarrh of the nose and stomach, and during that time have tried all kinds of other remedies with no results, until I tried your Catarrh Cure which I am glad to say has cured me. I highly recommend it to those who are suffering with this disease."

Don't trifle with Catarrh—cure it with Father Morrissey's No. 26. 50c for the combined treatment at your dealer's.

CITY PUBLIC SERVICE AUTHORITY.

Toronto cannot afford to lose much time about appointing the authority which is permanently to control and operate the civic car lines, the city electrical plant, and such services as depend upon it.

It seems clear that there is to be competition between the city and the Toronto Electric Light Company. The company is not likely to accept any reasonable terms that the city could offer.

This being so, the city must be prepared to meet the competition of the company in a businesslike way. This condition alone in the electric light department, not to mention the civic car lines, the general power proposals, and other considerations, ought to be enough to move the city council to instant action.

SPADE WORK IN POLITICS.

Some light is thrown on the lack of influence of the Liberal party in Toronto by the proceedings at the annual meeting of the Reform Association on Friday night.

THE SMOKE TEST.

Application of the smoke test to all plumbing jobs is only a fair and just rule. Every trustworthy workman is handicapped by the possibility of untrustworthy men taking advantage of any slackness in inspection.

CITY PUBLIC SERVICES.

Let any open-minded citizen of Toronto read the quotations made in this week's Sunday World from the bulletin recently issued by the United States department of commerce relative to municipal street transportation in various important European cities, and he cannot but feel satisfied that publicly owned and operated systems are immeasurably superior to those under private company management.

and, as makers of their transportation service, can arrange it to meet their special circumstances.

To hand over public service and utility monopolies to be operated for private profit is bad in principle, and has proved to be detrimental to the common good. Experience has abundantly proven that control over private operation, to be effectual, must be so thorough and detailed, both as regards capitalization and management, as to be really tantamount to public management.

PARTISAN ORGANS.

Canon Tucker made an appeal for more independence and impartiality in the party press the other day, expressing his wish that The Mail and Empire were less dyed-in-the-wool Conservative, and The Globe less dyed-in-the-wool Liberal.

The Globe takes note of the canon's speech in a pitifully weak article, in which it evades the real issue, and tries to make it appear that the praise of personalities is the point in question.

Canon Tucker was perfectly right to couple The Globe and The Mail and Empire together as specimens of party servility. Instead of leading the parties and moulding public opinion, the organs tag along at the end of the procession.

CANADIAN NICKEL.

A bigger market for nickel is in sight than has ever before been contemplated for the manufacture of Edison's new electric storage batteries. Storage batteries are bound to become as common as cups and saucers, and nickel is the leading material required in making them.

Some idea of the wealth of Toronto may be obtained from the fact that it supports 400 master plumbers.

Right Hon. A. J. Balfour and City Engineer Rust will be prepared to sympathize with each other. Each has imperative orders to do the impossible.

In the fact that the Ontario Railway Board found serious errors in the plans for the Don bridge, there is full justification for the examination and costs that some wisecracks complain about.

Some people wonder why the rural population flock to the big cities. These people also wonder why people in the country want a Sunday car service. Anything that helps to maintain a rural population should be supported.

BANK OF NOVA SCOTIA.

Elsewhere in this issue there appears the 78th annual report of the Bank of Nova Scotia, from which it will be seen that this long-established institution continues to maintain its prosperous and profitable character.

CANADA PERMANENT MORTGAGE CORPORATION. We pay interest at 3 1/2% per annum, compounded four times a year, and your money is always available when you want it.

$31,586,794.23. The reserve fund now stands at $5,650,000, as compared with $3,000,000 at the close of 1910. A fact of the remarkable strength of the Bank of Nova Scotia and the excellence of its management.

THE VINTAGE OF 1910.

Messrs. W. & A. Gilbey's Annual Review of the vintage of 1910, which recently appeared in The London, Eng. Times, is a melancholy record of failure, so far at least as the continent of Europe is concerned.

The worst feature of the perfect vintage of 1910, the continuous humidity of spring and summer engendered all kinds of insect pests, which lighted and withered the vines so that, especially in France, the crop was a failure.

LIVE AND LET LIVE.

TORONTO STREET CAR SERVICE.

Editor World: Of late I have noticed in various Toronto daily papers criticisms of the street car service in your city. Kindly permit me to express my opinion in this matter and at the same time to state that I am by no means an unjust and everyday knacker, but am at all times ready to give due consideration for mistakes and unforeseen obstacles.

When in Toronto recently, I boarded a street car bound for the corner of King and Yonge-street. The car was going north, so I entered the car and dropped my fare into the so-called "Pay-as-you-enter" box.

FED 316.

The cold weather on Sunday morning brought a large crowd of hungry men to the free breakfast at Yonge-street Mission, 316 in all. While the men disposed of the hot coffee and beef sandwiches, sweet gospel hymns were rendered by the Alexander Choir and others.

On conclusion of the above, I may say that if this is what is claimed to be the purpose of the street car service, I, if I may use the term, rotten.

SHEARER CHARGES WERE FOR MOST PART CORRECT.

Law Laxly Enforced in Winnipeg, According to Judge Robson's Finding.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 14.—(Special).—The much-canvassed report of Judge Robson on the Shearer "vice charges" was passed on by Acting Premier Rogers to the city clerk to-day. It is a voluminous document, reviewing the original charges published in the newspaper, and the investigation, Judge Robson's findings are as follows:

1. That the charges as to vice in Winnipeg, appearing as headings to the newspaper items in question, are not true.

Segregated Area.

2. As to the charges made by Dr. Shearer, so far as it condemns the report of things in Winnipeg, as regards the proposed segregated area, I have to report that a policy of toleration of the offence in question in a limited area, was adopted by the police, as regards such an area was accordingly established by immoral women; that since October, 1909, there was no attempt to restrict the increase of houses of vice in the city, and that the houses of this class grew from 29 to 50.

Law Not Enforced.

3. That illicit liquor dealing has been general and continuous in the houses in this area, and that it is already particularly shown, the law regarding the same has not been properly enforced.

4. That the result of the above state of affairs has been the disturbance of peace and order in the locality, and menace to morals and great depreciation in the value of property of neighboring residents.

WOMAN MISSING

ST. JOHN, N.B., Jan. 15.—The strange disappearance of Mrs. Douglas Robertson, wife of well-known storekeeper of Norton, about 30 miles from here, is arousing much interest.

The woman came to St. John with her produce, as was her custom, on Wednesday, Jan. 4, and remained with her sister, Mrs. James Clark, St. John West, when she started to return home, her niece accompanied her to the Intercolonial Railway station, but they missed the train, and Mrs. Robertson decided to wait in the depot until the next train should start, about an hour later.

Mrs. Robertson has not been seen since, though her husband and relatives searched in vain for a week, and yesterday notified the St. John police. Mrs. Robertson is 44 years of age, and has a large family of children.

NEW ZEALAND MAILS.

MELBOURNE, Australia, Jan. 15.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier has called Premier Fisher of Australia, regretting that the commonwealth has declined to renew the Vancouver and Australia mail service, which has been discontinued since 1907.

Canada has decided, therefore, to enter into a contract with the Union Steamship Company of New Zealand, of which Sir James Mills is chairman, for a five-years' service between Canada and New Zealand.

Map of Toronto Diocese.

The mission stations being covered a light brown. There is also a pamphlet for the use of the clergy, churchwardens, laymen's committees and others in making appeals for the support of the diocesan mission fund, giving full information, statistics, etc., on the subject.

WANT EARLIER ELECTIONS.

KINGSTON, Jan. 15.—(Special).—Ald. Givens has raised the question of holding the municipal elections earlier in the year, holding that New Year's is a bad time to get the vote out, and the city council at the meeting Monday night will take up the matter. The last week of November or the first week of December is suggested, if the council favors it, the government will be petitioned for the necessary power,

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is rich in the lung-healing virtues of the Norway pine tree. It is a pleasant, safe and effective medicine that may be confidently relied upon as a specific for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Quinsy, and all Throat and Lung Troubles.

Mrs. J. A. Smith, Marshville, Ont., writes: "I had a very bad cough and that distressing tickling sensation in my throat. It was so bad I could not sleep at night and my lungs were so sore I had to give up work."

Our doctor gave me medicine but it did me no good, so I got a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and by the time I had used two bottles I was entirely cured. I am always recommending it to my friends."
