EXPLANATION OF CALENDAR PAGES.

The Publisher of this Almanac, with a view to increase its circulation and usefulness, has adapted its calculations for the whole country. The Moon's changes are given for five different places, viz: Quebec, Montreal, Kingston, Toronto, and London. The rising and setting of the Sun are given for Montreal and Toronto. The rising and setting of the Moon are given with sufficient exactness for all practical purposes. The weather prognostications are again calculated according to the table of the celebrated Dr. Herschel; and for extraordinary accuracy, Miller's Almanac retains its wonderful popularity.

JANUARY.—Considering that, on the whole, Canada has been providentially favoured with a bountiful harvest during the past year, it is well that our farmers should be cautioned against extravagance of expenditure and recklessness of speculation. Many will have difficulty in recovering themselves from the losses of the last three or four years, but others who have been able to get along without incurring heavy debts may be tempted to error in regard to future operations. Now this Almanac whispers words of wise caution to the prosperous. Be diligent, but be careful. It is not possible to foresee what may be the turn of public affairs, or what may be the state of the crops for another year, therefore, do nothing rashly, but steadily pursue an even course, and see that you keep out of debt.

FEBRUARY.—We said something last year about thistles, and the duty of keeping them down. Since then the Legislature has passed an Act concerning this terrible nuisance, which, if faithfully carried out, may prove highly beneficial. But this Almanac thinks it exceedingly strange that the Legislature should be obliged to interfere in a matter of this kind. Surely common sense and common prudence would teach any farmer not to allow the spread of thistle down, but to take time by the forelock, and never permit a single head to perfect itself or propagate its kind. Even supposing a man neglect his own farm and allow a nuisance within the boundaries of his own estate, he has no right so to conduct his business as that his neighbours on either hand will inevitably be injured.

MARCH.—The Irish Farmer's Gazette says: "A native of Russia has discovered a process by which timber, though newly felled, may become so hard as to resist the influences of the most trying climates for an almost indefinite period. The most curious part of the invention is, that it does not involve the use of chemicals of any sort, such as steeping in creosote, &c., and that the process is applied to the tree while growing. The inventor is now making arrangements for the supply of his timber to railway contractors in England, and will not require any remuneration further than the amount which should be paid for ordinary timber. The inventor of the new process of preparing timber asserts that he will supply an article which need not be disturbed for fifty years."

APRIL.—By this time the Reciprocity Treaty between the United States and Canada may, or may not, have been renewed. If it should have been repealed, there is no just ground for supposing that Canada will be ruined, or that the interests of Canadian farmers will be sacrificed or materially retarded. A country like our own, true to itself and governed by wise men, will speedily recover from apparent reverses, and find abundant new channels and markets for its surplus produce. The truth is, it is never best to be dependent for prosperity on any one country. We read in a very ancient piece of History, that "Blastus, the King's Chamberlain, their friend, desired peace, because their country was nourished by the King's country." Yet there are things more valuable even than "peace."

The end of May will be very variable and unsettled, until more rain falls, which will be very favorable for the crops.

Last year many parts of Canada were grievously tormented by the ravages of a worm, which destroyed the sum of more than half the crops deposited on the under side of the leaf, and was little more than one-third of an inch in length. On grass rapidly growing, these worms, in the early stages of their existence, appeared to be gregarious in their habits, herding together, and sometimes migrating together as a body, in a manner leaf-tying, and in this is the most suitable time to destroy them, which can be done by pinching off the leaf, or by the gardener in the field, by thousands, and be destroyed in a few minutes. Those whose roots were infested by this worm last year, will admit the importance of either cure or prevention this season, as serious loss accrues from its depredations. JUNE.—Experience will have taught the farmer or dairy man, that cheese-making is more profitable than butter making during the hot summer months, especially for those who have not a good place to set milk or cream. Let the morning's milk be strained into a kettle with the night's milk and warmed. Pour in as much of the soaked rennet as will produce curdle in fifteen or twenty minutes, then let it stand five or ten minutes. Cut the curd in slices about an inch thick, and then cut again crosswise. Put the kettle on the fire, stir gently, and heat evenly to milk warm. Take it off and let it stand a minute; remove the whey, and pour the curd into a suitable vessel. Salt to suit taste; then cut fine with a knife, put it in a crock and set in a cool place, and next day put to press.

July. Having had something about the experience of 20 farmers' wife, about making a press. A very simple but rude press may be constructed by any farmer's wife in five minutes, which will answer a good purpose. Place where cheese is a piece of board a little finished, and use a fence rail for a lever, placing one end under the press, building on any other structure of sufficient height, and on the other end place a couple of rails, one has a head of a horse of Chease should be pressed nearly hard enough to remove the whey. A little practice will make perfect. While pressing, the cheese should always be kept shaded from the sun. Follow these rules judiciously, and you will have good cheese to use or to sell.

AUGUST.—At the time of this writing, great excitement prevails in England, respecting the disease which has resulted in the death of great numbers of cattle. It is to be hoped that the disease will not reach this country. The symptoms and course of the disease are thus described by the Medical Times:—"The cow, previously quite healthy, is suddenly seized with trembling or rigors; in an hour or two purging of thin fecal matter occurs, soon followed by purging of a thin, watery, brown, serous fluid, sometimes accompanied with a little blood. Of course, the milk is at once suppressed. Soon after a serous discharge takes place from the nose, and the mucous membrane of the nose and vagina are observed to become denuded of epithelium. Sometimes there is tympanitis. Prostration and collapse follow, the extremities become cold, and death speedily follows."

SEPTEMBER.—A writer on the management of Bees says: "Now is the time to feed bees, and not wait until winter. It is bad policy to disturb bees during the winter. A syrup made of common sugar will answer for feed where honey cannot be had; white sugar is equally as good as honey. All stocks that are fed should be carefully guarded against robbers by contracting the entrance, so that a bee or two can only pass at a time. All queenless stocks should now be taken up, or supplied with a queen. Stocks in common hives that are to be taken up should be attended to now, as they will add no more to their stores. Moveable-comb hives may be examined, and if miller grubs are found in the combs, they should be removed.

OCTOBER.—Of calves and colts let us say a few words:—Wean calves gradually; restrict their allowance to one teat per day, then allow them to suck only a part of the milk in one teat. After a few days longer, let them suck only once a day for a week, then once in two days for a week, then once in three days. By this time, with proper management, they may be weaned without injury either to dam or calf. Spring colts as well as calves should be weaned generally in August; confine them in a small, clean enclosure, where they cannot run much, and let them suck twice a day, then once, then once in two days, then once in three days. See that colts and calves do not lack a good supply of clean water and good grass, or fine hay, and a sufficiency of, but not too much salt.

NOVEMBER.—Of salting stock or hay, the American Agriculturist says: "There can be no doubt that the animal economy requires salt. The natural and universal desire for it, the wide spread supply of it by the hand of Providence, and the good effects of its moderate use, demonstrate this. It operates both as a tonic and a gentle laxative, it regulates the stomach and bowels, and gives an edge to the appetite. Still, animals may take it to excess, and hurt themselves when they get access to it after long deprivation. It is the favorite practice of some farmers to salt their stock regularly once in so many days, giving them always a fixed quantity. This generally works well. Others prefer to keep a supply always within reach of their cattle, so that they can go and satisfy their natural cravings whenever they choose.

DECEMBER.—We cannot conclude these notes without again saying a word to the young farmers of our growing country. First then—be content with country life, and do not allow yourselves to suppose that dwellers in cities, clerks and shopkeepers, are much better off than yourselves. They are not so, and there is no calling more honorable and few more productive than that of the farmer. Then lastly, be sure to spend a good portion of your evenings at home, and make a selection of valuable and appropriate reading for the improvement of your minds. Take a good and useful Agricultural Journal, and make a judicious use of its facts and suggestions.

DR. COLBY'S

ANTI-COSTIVE AND TONIC PILLS.

A Canadian Remedy of undoubted merit for DISEASES OF THE STOMACH, BOWELS, & LIVER.

They are not a quack medicine, and not a cure all, but were originated to meet a long and severely felt want of the public, a mild but certain cathartic, at the same time possessing tonic and anodyne properties. That these pills meet this want, is proved by their extensive and rapidly increasing sale, and by the fact that, unlike any other advertised medicine, they have received the unqualified approbation of every medical man to whom the formula has been submitted.

In the year 1821, Dr. MOSES F. COLBY received the degree of M. D., at the Medical Institution in which I was one of the teachers. Since that time I have had professional correspondence with Dr. C., and it gives me pleasure to say, that I have all along regarded him an holding an elevated position among the thinking members of the Medical profession.

R. D. MUSSEY.

571 Tremont St., Boston, Feb. 6, 1860.

WINDSOR, VT., April 6, 1860.

I have personally known Dr. COLBY for about forty years, most of the time intimately. He is a gentleman of the highest standing, both socially and professionally. In the departments of physiology, pathology, and therapeutics, to which he has devoted his life, with a most untiring enthusiasm, he has few, if any, superiors among the members of the profession anywhere. Any medicine having his countenance may be received with the utmost confidence.

ISAAC F. REDFIELD,
 (Late Chief Justice of Vermont.)

BOSTON, Feb. 4, 1860.

Having long been acquainted with Dr. COLBY, I most cheerfully certify to his high standing as a practitioner, and as a gentleman of unexceptionable character.

He has presented a happy combination of therapeutical agents, which is valuable as a cathartic and tonic. Having tried it myself, and knowing the ingredients, I can earnestly recommend it for its excellent qualities.

WINSLOW LEWIS, M. D.

DARTMOUTH COLLEGE, April 6, 1860.

Dr. COLBY, of Stanstead, C. E., is a physician of high standing. He has earned a wide reputation for science and skill, in a long course of dignified and successful practice in his profession. It gives me pleasure to commend him. I judge him to be worthy of perfect confidence, and that any of his medicines or prescriptions would be fully answerable to his recommendations. I doubt not that they would be worthy to take the place of the many unlicensed specifics which are now extensively impairing the public health and swelling the bills of mortality.

N. LORD, Pres. Dart. Coll.

The undersigned Physicians, cheerfully certify to the high professional standing of Dr. Colby of Stanstead, one of the oldest and best physicians, and to the excellent qualities of his "Anti-Costive and Tonic Pills," which we have used in our practice, and highly approve.

RICHMOND, C. E., April 18, 1835.

I have no hesitation in bearing testimony to the high professional character of Dr. COLBY, he having, during the period of his active labors, stood at the head of the profession in the Townships. I have no doubt, from the composition of his pills, that they would do good service in those cases for which they are recommended.

R. N. WEBBER, M. D.

DANVILLE, C. E., March 13, 1861.

Dr. COLBY,

Dear Sir,—I am happy to inform you of the admirable effect of your "Anti-Costive and Tonic Pills" in the cure of my wife. She commenced taking them in July last, when recovering from a severe and protracted sickness, unable to bear ordinary cathartics. Although the pills were taken daily, no objectionable results followed, but under their use she rapidly recovered health and strength.

H. HUBBARD,
 Inspector of Schools Dist. St. Francis.

We personally know M. F. COLBY, M. D., Esquire, to be a person of high standing, socially and professionally. Any medicine offered by him may be viewed with the fullest confidence.

We have personally known Dr. COLBY for many years. He is a gentleman of the highest standing, both socially and professionally.

We have taken the opinion of the first Medical men in the city upon the formula by which these Pills are prepared, and are assured that they are a very excellent remedy for the purpose to which they are designed.

CONSTIPATION, OR COSTIVENESS.

Daily evacuation of the bowels is essential to the maintenance of health. Without due attention to this matter, the entire system will become deranged and enfeebled. Purity of body and clearness of mind depend in no small degree upon the regularity of the fœcal discharge.

TREATMENT. Relieve the bowels thoroughly with full doses of the Pills, and then continue their use in doses of two each morning, for a few weeks, being very particular not to vary the time of taking them, as it is desirable to have the motion as near as possible at the same hour every day. Under this treatment the system will soon fall into natural habits of regularity, and there will be no further trouble.

PILES.

Habitual constipation, long neglected, is, in nine cases out of ten, the cause of piles and fistula. Like many other dogmas, which experimental evidence is daily confuting, the idea that these painful diseases are incurable will soon be obsolete. It is true that cutting and mineral medication have failed to produce the desired effect, but milder measures have proved successful.

TREATMENT. Take one or two Pills daily, as nearly as possible at the same hour every day, (as a good deal depends upon the regularity of the discharges) and apply ointment made by mixture one part finely powdered Nutgalls, with six parts Lard. Two or three weeks will effect a cure.

SICK AND NERVOUS HEADACHE

Is generally brought on by imperfect Digestion, Costiveness, or inaction of the Liver. To cases of this kind, Colby's Pills are peculiarly adapted.

TREATMENT. Begin with a full dose, five of the Pills, which, if necessary, may be repeated three or four days in succession. Then, to complete the cure, and render it permanent, take two Pills every morning for a week, and the following week one Pill in the morning, after which all that is necessary is to take plenty of out-door exercise, and an occasional Pill to keep the bowels regular.

INDIGESTION—DYSPEPSIA.

Almost always accompanied with more or less inflammation of the membranes which line the stomach; some of its symptoms are Headache, Dizziness, Acidity, "all-gone" feeling, and weakness at the pit of the stomach, the bowels sometimes very costive, at others loose, some of the food passing away undigested.

TREATMENT. Take three or four full doses of Colby's Pills, and then take one or two Pills daily, at the same hour each day, eating sparingly of healthy nutritious food, avoiding pastry and soup, and take plenty of gentle exercise in the open air. A few weeks of this treatment will generally effect a cure.

DISORDERED STOMACH.

Much inconvenience is often experienced from a disordered state of the stomach, when there are no symptoms that can be classed with any particular disease. It should be remembered that Dyspepsia, Inflammation of the Bowels, Costiveness, and many other diseases, arise from a disordered state of the system.

Whenever any pain or uneasiness is felt, especially after eating, take one or two full doses Colby's Pills, and one or two daily for a few days, until the unpleasant symptoms disappear.

IMPURE BLOOD

The Blood is the Life of the system, and upon its purity depends the health of the body.

The symptoms of impure blood are dull heavy feelings, headach, loss of appetite, &c.

In cases of this kind, immediate and permanent relief may be obtained by a free use of "Colby's Pills," as by their peculiar combination they restore the stomach and bowels to their proper tone and vigor, and purify the blood.

SUDDEN COLDS

Are, (by neglect) often productive of the most fearful diseases. In all cases of this kind immediate resort should be had to Colby's Pills, as, by regulating the stomach and bowels, serious results may often be prevented. Do not think these Pills have no efficacy because you are not violently purged and sickened. Such purgation and Ailkening are entirely unnecessary, and leave the patient in a far worse state than before. It is one of the principle excellencies of these Pills that such effects are avoided. They are intended to act in harmony with, and to assist nature. By regulating and strengthening the bowels, and by removing impurities from the blood, they impart tone and vigor to the system, enabling the different organs of the body to perform their various functions, thus curing disease without poisoning the system with deleterious drugs.

I have at my command numerous Testimonials from respectable persons, who have used these Pills with great advantage, but I do not deem it advisable to insert them.

Such Certificates from unknown persons are justly looked upon with suspicion.

They are easily procurable by every Quack, and if not procurable, they may be easily fabricated.

It will be at once perceived that these Pills are not recommended as a cathartic. They are simply designed as a safe and reliable family medicine, at once mild and efficacious, which may be taken in all cases where laxatives can be borne, without injury, and which, in most cases will produce exceedingly happy results.

I have no hesitation in saying, that, as a universal Pill for digestive difficulties, they cannot be excelled; and such is the unequivocal testimony of the numerous medical men to whom the formula has been submitted.
